Chapter 591: The Story of the Past (1)

The sword light flashed. Before the Floating Thunder Beast could enter combat mode, its eyeball-shaped body that was wandering in the air was split into two and fell limply to the ground.

Correspondingly, a player below it instantly lit up with a golden light. This was a sign of leveling up.

“Brother Dog, you’re too fierce!”

“He’s already rank 7. Even if he’s placed in the Flame Domain, he should be considered one of the best, right?”

“The Floating Thunder Beast that chased after us back then can now be killed by Brother Dog with a single sword strike. It’s too strong!”

Although the big mutt was happy to hear his underlings praising his man, he still had to maintain his image on the surface.

“Don’t boast. It was just a critical hit. Otherwise, you would have to follow up with another sword strike to die.” His underlings were speechless.

“F * ck, I let this guy pack up the goods! ”

After a round of laughter, the group suddenly sighed.

“Boss, have you been paying attention to the forums recently? The people from the Sacred Flame Guild are in such a miserable state. First, they were killed by monsters several times and their levels returned to zero. Now, they are wanted by the players.

After one of the underlings said this, his companions beside him nodded in agreement.

It's not just the Sacred Flame Guild that is standing against the Thousand Island players. All the guilds that wanted to occupy the Profession Change Stone Stele are now in a miserable state. It's said that several of them have been disbanded and their guild leaders have run away.

"Yeah, who would have thought that such a terrifying monster would suddenly appear at the outer perimeter of the island? Oh my god, did you see the screenshot of the Shadow Hound BOSS that they posted? It's Level 25! It was almost catching up to the level of the witch's pet sparrow... Uh, alright, now that you put it that way, it seems like level 25 is nothing?"

"Hmph, back then, the people from the Sacred Flame mocked us, saying that Boss didn't know how to grasp opportunities. Now, they should know who the real clown is, right?"

"So, Brother Dog really has foresight. He must have predicted that this kind of welfare public resource would definitely be a bad karma for those who want to monopolize it!

What the lackeys didn't know was that their words had fallen into the hands of the big mutt. In fact, their boss still had a lingering fear in his heart.

To be honest, he almost made the same decision as the Sacred Fire Guild. If he had not suddenly remembered the lesson he had learned from Vivian during the closea Deta, ne nugnt not nave Deen aD1e to resist tne temptation.

"Alright, alright. If you have the time to gloat, why don't you hurry up and continue farming..." Before the big dog could finish speaking, its voice suddenly stopped.

That was because...

"What is this?"

Just as the big mutt was about to check the monster's corpse out of habit, he noticed that this time, it seemed to be different from the past. A piece actually dropped on the floating Thunder Beast's corpse...

Stone slabs?

The big dogs exclamation also attracted the attention of the surrounding people. Everyone also discovered this stone slab.

"This... Is this a special drop?"

"What the f * ck! Boss, what's wrong with you recently? Why are you so lucky every day?"

"Brother Dog, eat more good food after you go offline, Sister-in-law... We'll help you take care of Sister-in-law!"

"Get lost!" The big mutt glared angrily at his lackeys who were jeering, especially the one who had a dirty mouth.

When he picked up the stone slab from the corpse with anticipation, thinking that it was something similar to a class advancement tool or a special skill book, the system notification gave him a slight disappointment. [Ding, you have obtained a special item, "Mysterious Slate (1)"]

Mysterious stone tablet?

One?

What was this?

[A mysterious slate of unknown origin. It seems to have recorded a legend on

Sakuragi Island a long, long time ago...]

[Do you want to read the tablet immediately?]

When the dog picked up the slate, two lines of notifications from the game system immediately appeared in front of him.

Without thinking, the dog immediately chose to read it.

[Ding, you have carefully read the contents of the stone tablet. Although these ancient words are very different from the modern ones, making you unable to recognize them at all, these ancient words seem to have some kind of magic power. They still transmit what they record to you, who is illiterate... Secret News]

With this hint, the big mutt suddenly realized that the densely packed small words on the stone slab in front of him began to distort and change. In the end, they actually became the words that the big mutt had written on the blue planet!

This time, even without relying on the game system, the dog could read the contents on the stone slab.

“A long, long time ago...”

It was a chaotic era before the Nine Gods appeared. There were four human families on the Thousand Islands. Three of them started endless wars for power and profit. For a time, the Thousand Islands were in a state of misery. When the war became more and more intense, the fourth family, who had been trying to persuade the three families to make peace, finally chose to give up.

In order to stay away from the chaos of war, they moved their entire tribe.

However, at that time, there was no water god to protect the Thousand Islands. The outside world was the world of demons and devils, and because of the war, countless resentful souls and corpses became food for the devils. They originally thought that it was an uninhabited island in a paradise, but in fact, it had long been secretly occupied by demons.

” The demons didn’t choose to alert these humans immediately. Instead, they used an even more evil method to rear them and obtain an endless supply of food. The Fourth Clan thought that they had finally escaped the war, but they didn’t know that they had just left the tiger’s den and entered the wolf’s den.. “

Chapter 592: The Story of the Past (Part 1)

‘ Just like that, as time passed, the people on the island gradually realized that something was wrong. Unfortunately, it was already too late. The demons had already secretly destroyed their ships and sealed the island with demonic spells, trapping the humans on the island. The demons never exterminated them. They would deliberately leave behind enough numbers for the humans to reproduce, and so on.

‘ Dark Dark clouds of despair enshrouded the humans on the island. ” “Until...

The mutt dog felt a little lost while reading, and so did his underlings who were surrounding him.

However, when they saw the next paragraph on the stone tablet, all of them quivered. All their confusion and puzzlement instantly turned into surprise and joy.

” Until, finally, one day, among the fox demons, there was a young fox demon who was different from the others. She felt compassion for humans. In order to avoid revealing her identity, she disguised herself as a human, put on a mask, and wore human clothing.

” From then on, when the humans on the island fought against the demons, they would always be surprised to find that they suddenly had the help of gods. They were as strong as bulls and as fast as rabbits. Sometimes, the swords in their hands could cut through iron like mud, and the armor on their bodies was as solid as a rock. The bleeding wounds would stop on their own...”

" The humans have always wanted to find the person who helped them behind the scenes. However, to their disappointment, even though they had transformed into human form and disguised themselves, the fox demon never came into contact with humans. This was partly because the fox demon was timid, but also because the fox demon felt guilty towards the humans because of what the other demons had done."

An anxious underling couldn't help but want to say something when he heard this.

But soon, the surrounding people stopped him with their eyes. No one wanted to be interrupted halfway, so they focused and continued to read what was recorded on the stone slab.

" With the fox demon's secret help, the casualties caused by the battle have decreased. The number of humans on the island has finally begun to soar. The fox demon is happy to see this.

However, this state didn't last long. The island was filled with the aura of the evil due to the large number of demons. The pure resources on the island that humans could use were very few. This was also one of the reasons why the demons dared to rear humans."

"As a result, the human race, which had just begun to rise, once again began to die and decline due to famine.

"Just as everything was about to return to the starting point...'

"Shi...

When everyone was reading the high and low, they found that they had reached the bottom of the slate.

"F * ck, what happened after that?"

"Just this, just this, just this?" "I can only say that one day, with a saber in hand..."

“Break, just break, right?”

Screams and howls rose and fell one after another. The big mutt and the others gritted their teeth and cursed non-stop.

After they calmed down, they immediately got up and began to farm monsters crazily in the surroundings.

It was written clearly on the props that if there was a first, there must be a second and a third.

Similar scenes were happening all over the island.

Wolf Cub had prepared a few stone slabs like this, and they were secretly distributed to those players with higher levels or greater influence in the Thousand Islands.

The method was very simple. It was purely physical. For example, the floating thunder beast, the big mutt, was captured by the little wolf cub first and forcefully stuffed into the monster’s body.

As for the use of these stone slabs...

The little wolf cub had always believed in the players’ imagination, and it turned out that the Thousand Islands players did not disappoint him. They had interpreted what he wanted to say.

If there was one person who had the most attention in Thousand Islands, it would be ” Bring an Umbrella on a Clear Day Without a Knife “.

Faced with such a hot topic, how could he let it go? As expected by the wolf cub, a post about the interpretation of the ” mysterious slate ” quickly became a hot topic on the forum.

[I believe everyone has seen the mysterious stone tablet that the monsters dropped on Sakuragi Island recently. Those who have not seen it can click on the teleportation door below my post.]

[Here, I'll throw out a brick to attract jade from my personal point of view.]

[First of all, I don't know if everyone has realized that although the story recorded on the stone tablet is from the distant past, there are many similarities between it and us.]

[For example, at the beginning of the story, was the fourth family in the "Peach Blossom Spring" version of the story similar to us, who thought that we were finally allowed to go to Sakuragi Island by the three courtiers? Full of expectations, but in the end, it was an even more miserable situation?)

[It became even more obvious after that. The humans on the island were massacred by the demon beasts over and over again, just like us when we first landed on the island. The destruction of the ships, the sealing of the island by demon spells, and the so-called rearing of the humans were also the same as the current situation of us being imprisoned on this island, unable to go anywhere. They were carved out from the same mold.]

[After that, the most important thing came. I believe that many of you have only discovered the connection between this legend and us until now. The greatest turning point for the humans in the story was the appearance of the fox demon, and it is the same for us now. Moreover, from the description of the fox demon in the story, it is completely similar to the name 'Fox-faced

Witch.' It can't be said to be very close, but it can only be said to fit perfectly.]

[Closing remark: This is a small suggestion from me. The appearance of the mysterious stone slab is undoubtedly a way for us players who have been waiting for it to appear. Finally, there is a way to unravel the mystery of the " Fox-faced Witch ". It allows us to understand more about the various things behind this NPC. It is also very likely that it has also hinted to us the true main storyline of Sakura Island.]

[Therefore, I hope that if there are lucky players who discover the " Mysterious Stone Slate-Second ", they can post the contents on the forum as soon as possible so that everyone can analyze and speculate!)

It was considered a standard post, and just as the introduction said, it was a piece of cake to attract jade. As there was too little information at the moment, it was not good for this Great Umbrella to say too much as a public figure.

What really interested the little wolf cub was the " jade " that Big Umbrella had lured out under this thread.

Glutinous Rice Xiao Xiao Su: "So Sister Witch isn't a human but a fox demon?]

[Furuikong is so disgusting] , [Fox Demon... Hey hehe...Would she look like a half-human and half-demon after she transformed? Would she have fury ears and a small tail hidden in her witch costume? Pfft... Medic...

Quick... Save him!"

Sleepless Night: "If only there were more content on the later stone slabs, the parts written from the fox demon's perspective would be even better! I really want to know what Sister Witch thinks of us players!]

Black Critical Hit: " If I were a screenwriter, I would definitely add more identity buffs to the fox demon. For example, the daughter of the clan leader, the future hope of the demon race. Despite knowing her identity, she still took the risk to help humans. Her position kept hovering between the two camps. She was constantly confused, suffering, and suffering! Ah... This twisted pleasure!"

Herbicide No. 208: Where can I read your masterpiece?)

[Bullman, die for me!]: "Therefore, the final outcome was that the fox demon

did not please either side. It was regarded as a demon by humans and a traitor by demons. Finally, on a rainy night with thunder and lightning, it was completely awakened and turned into a Shura. It cursed the entire island. Go die, die, all of you die hahaha!]

The replies from the later floors started to go awry. The players all turned into writers and started guessing the follow-up story, and each one was more ridiculous than the last!

After the little wolf cub finished reading each of them, he instantly realized that he had been too reserved and shy in writing the first part. It seemed that the players' acceptance and imagination were really strong, and they were more inclined to write more about the fox demon's perspective. The more excited the fox demon was with the identity of the nesting doll, the more excited it was.

Since that was the case, the little wolf cub's thoughts were immediately opened.

Originally, he didn't know how to write the story about "purifying water source" and "profession stele." Under the inspiration of the idiotic players, the little wolf cub began to write with his claws!

Chapter 593: The Story of the Past (2)

It didn't take long for the players to see [Mysterious Slate (Part Two)].

Just as the players had guessed, the story of the past on Sakuragi Island described in the stone tablet was exactly the same as what happened to them today.

However, what surprised the players was that this time, not only did the "second" come to the fox demon's special show, but the behind-the-scenes story that the players did not know was also very lively and interesting!

"In order to purify the water contaminated by demonic energy and help humans tide over the crisis, the fox demon decided to look for a rare spiritual lotus on the island.

'This kind of spiritual lotus only grows on the peak of a mountain, at the mouth of a volcano, or in the depths of lava. Legend has it that there is a Phoenix Clan that has long disappeared guarding it. The Phoenix Clan is considered a top-notch existence in the entire demon race. Although they are few in number, each of them is incomparably powerful. More importantly, it is rumored that they are full of wisdom. No matter how you look at it, the fox demon doesn't stand a chance. However, the fox demon still resolutely climbed up the mountain peak.'

"Finally, the fox demoness went through many hardships and reached the peak of this mountain. Over there, the fox demoness was happy to see that the spiritual lotus she had hoped for was right in front of her. However, what made the fox demoness tense up was that beside the spiritual lotus, she really saw the legendary...Phoenix.”

” The fox demon asked the divine phoenix if she could share half of the spiritual lotus with her to purify the contaminated water source. However, the divine phoenix shook its head when it heard this and said to the fox demon, ‘If you’re here for the lotus of purification, then it’s not the right time. This is because the spiritual lotus has a total of three growth forms.’”

In the first year, it’s the lotus of purification. It can purify all things in the world, which is what the fox demon wants. However, once it reaches the second year, the spirit lotus will transform into a lotus of strength and lose its purifying power. However, after eating it, it will obtain a hundred years of cultivation power. This state will last for three years, and finally, it will reach the third form of the spirit lotus, the lotus of annihilation.

” At this moment, the lotus is filled with poison. Not only is it unable to purify the water source, but it will also turn the water source into highly toxic water.

Both humans and demons will die from the poison if they drink it. Only after six years will the next cycle begin. The poison will recede and the lotus will become a purifying lotus again. ”

” The Divine Phoenix saw that the fox demon did not come for the Lotus of Power, but for the power of the Lotus of Purification to save the lives of the people, so she had a good impression of the fox demon. She explained that the mission of the phoenix clan was to eat the Lotus of Annihilation after the eleventh year to prevent the spirit lotus from falling into the hands of those with evil intentions and causing a disaster.

‘ When the fox demon saw this, she was planning to leave dejectedly. However, she suddenly sensed that something was amiss. The fox demon secretly calculated that the cycle of the spiritual lotus was one year, three years, and six years respectively. In total, it would take ten years for a cycle. But why did the divine phoenix say that she wanted to eat the eleventh year?’”

‘ When the fox demon explained her confusion to the divine phoenix, she was mocked by the divine phoenix. I heard that the fox demon was considered an intelligent race among the demon creatures, but it turned out that she couldn’t even understand such simple arithmetic. One plus three plus six equals 11. She had specially calculated this several times.’”

' Looking at the Divine Phoenix's intelligent and confident eyes, the fox demon finally realized that perhaps legends and reality are different. However, the fox demon did not question the Divine Phoenix. Instead, she asked the Divine Phoenix to check the state of the spiritual lotus. Under the fox demon's insistence, the Divine Phoenix reluctantly stepped into the lava and approached the spiritual lotus. Then, as expected, it cried out in surprise.

"In the end, the fox demon successfully retrieved the spiritual lotus as she wished. She used the purifying power within to free the humans on the island from the poverty of resources. There was no longer a famine. On the other hand, there was also a small sparrow beside the fox demon. After missing the spiritual lotus cycle, she had nothing to do, so she disguised herself as a divine phoenix..."

" After solving the most basic problem of survival, it doesn't mean that the crisis of mankind has been alleviated. If humans really want to fight against the demons and evildoers on the island, the appearance of professionals is indispensable. However, the demons have long destroyed all the ancient books on this aspect along with the original ship.

"After thinking for a while, the fox demon decided to set off to find a very special ancient existence on the island...Witches."

After the contents of the Mysterious Stone Tablet (Part Two) were published on the forum, as expected by the wolf cubs, it caused a lot of discussion among the players. Moreover, from the effect, whether it was the number of posts or replies, it far exceeded the first one.

Super High School Level Secretary: " So that little sparrow has such a powerful background?"

[White Critical Hit: Sister Witch, she's really...] I cried my heart out and forgot about the rest. In short, she was too gentle!!

Big Mutt: " So what's 1+3+6?"

[Molotov Cocktail 34]:" What an intelligent phoenix. I think I understand why Sakuragi Island has become like this. It's too heaven-defying!"

Hua Erya: Wait a minute! You guys didn't notice, but it looks like there's a third! Moreover, the mention of professionals... Could it be that the profession stone tablets that had suddenly appeared recently were also...

[Illusion Painted Rice] I knew it! Who else on this island would be so kind as to help us other than Sister Witch?

[Lei Lei]: Mysterious slate, Modo Modo!

[Great Demon King Glycogen]: I really can't wait any longer.. I'm about to see the third mysterious stone tablet, right now!

Chapter 594: The Story of the Past (2)

Witch of the Forest: Witches? Are there still witches on this island?

While the players were interested in the stone tablet on the forum, on the other side...

"Ji..."

"Jiji?"

Beside a rock on Sakuragi Island, the fox-faced witch's figure appeared beside a monster's corpse. A small sparrow was now curiously hovering above a exposed stone slab in the monster's corpse.

"This is...?" Vivian, who was under the fox mask, had a puzzled expression.

Recently, she had indeed noticed that outlanders always liked to gather together suddenly. Vivian had secretly observed them out of curiosity and found that these outlanders seemed to be addicted to slates.

Vivian was still worried that the atmosphere on Sakuragi Island was too depressing, causing the mental state of the strangers to have some problems. She did not expect herself to be attracted by the slate.

When the little girl took the stone slab out of the monster's corpse and cleaned it up, she began to read the contents on it. Halfway through, she covered her face with her hands. Even through the fox mask, one could still see the helplessness of the person inside.

She now completely understood why the stranger would hug the slate and watch it all day.

When she thought about how many foreigners had already seen the contents of the stone tablet, Vivian felt a strong sense of shame.

"Xiao Hei!" Vivian could not think of another bad guy who could have gotten the mysterious slate other than her wolf cubs.

Chirp chirp!

Just as the fox-faced witch was about to use her foot to get out of the three rooms and one living room, a certain sparrow that had landed on her shoulder and was reading the second mysterious stone tablet with her was reading it with great interest.

With Vivian's perseverance and Xinyan's own hard work, the little sparrow was no longer illiterate like it was in the Flame Domain.

Now, Xinyan could proudly pat his chest and say that he could read the contents without Vivian's help!

This was not...

"Ji, ji ji! Ji... Ji ji!"

(Sister, the divine phoenix in this story is really stupid, hahaha)

Xin Yan could not wait to discuss the plot with the little girl. He wanted to use this opportunity to show off the remarkable progress he had made in his literacy skills over the past few days. To be able to read such a long essay, she was truly amazing!

However, the praise from the little girl did not appear in Xin Yan's imagination. Instead, the fox-faced witch covered her mask with her hand once again.

"Keke? Huh? Ji..."

(Sister, what's wrong? Ah, I know! Sister, don't worry. The phoenix clan in this story is obviously not pure. They can't be compared to a real phoenix like me! I definitely won't be as stupid as her when I grow up!)

The little sparrow comforted Vivian with its little wings as it spoke, and at the same time, it showed an expression of disappointment.

She seemed to be complaining about why the phoenixes in the story were so disappointing that even her image in Vivian's heart was damaged.

The fox-faced witch was speechless.

"Xinyan, don't you think that this story is similar to ours?"

"Ji... Ji ji!" The little sparrow tilted its head. After a short delay, its eyes suddenly lit up.

(Eh? Sister, now that you say it, it seems true! That fox demon was also wearing a fox mask, and the divine phoenix beside him had also transformed into a small sparrow! It really looks like it!

However, in the next second.

A sharp and impatient voice erupted from the little sparrow.

“Ji... Chirp!” Xinyan flapped her wings and the stream of blood.

(No! No! Sister, do you mean...The little sparrow in this story is me?? ?)

Little Sparrow’s eyes widened in disbelief, her mouth agape. When she saw the fox-faced witch nod at her, Xinyan was completely enraged.

“Chirp!”

(Who wrote it! Who made up such a story! How could I possibly be as foolish as the Divine Phoenix in the story? I, Xinyan, can count with my toes. One plus three plus six equals nine!)

(This is slander! Naked slander!

The fox-faced witch was speechless.

Vivian opened her mouth, wanting to say something, but in the end, she gave up. Everything was in silence. The little girl just used her hand to comfort the little sparrow, who had a wronged and angry expression, and touched her head.

“Yes! Our Xinyan is not stupid, but just to be safe, just to be safe, let’s add a few more math questions every night in addition to reading! ”

(What? Wuuuu... Don’t...

At the same time.

Sakai Risa’s temporary residence on Sakuragi Island.

At the same time, there were two stone tablets filled with words on the table in her study room. The administrative officer Lu Zi looked at them and hesitated for a moment. Finally, she couldn't help but say,"

' Lady Risa, could these be...' It's Lady Vivian, she...' Luzi thought that the slate was a product of the little girl's self-directed performance. But this was too different from the image of Vivian in Lu Zi's mind.

"Her? How could that little girl do such a thing with her thin-skinned Risa pursed her lips.

Compared to Luzi, the Witch Bella knew Vivian better. She also knew that there was a shameless wolf cub behind Vivian.

Therefore, Bella did not even need to think to know where these stone slabs came from.

"Hmph, you are quite smart. Using such a method..."

Bella had already guessed that the wolf cub would not be willing to let Vivian do anything behind her back. The wolf cub wanted Vivian to do anything good. Even if she helped a fallen old lady, she would be praised by the whole world.

"It's quite interesting to write, hmm... You still have some conscience. You didn't forget me. Hmph.
"Sakai Risha naturally also read the second slate.

The reason why she was crossing her legs, curling her toes, curling the corners of her mouth, and occasionally humming happily was because of the end of the second stone slab.

From the description above, the character who was about to appear was himself!

Over the past few days, through the information gathered by her clones around the world, Bella could more and more understand the endless potential of the outlanders.

If the prophecy was true and a new era was about to begin, the outlanders would definitely play an indispensable role in it.

Therefore, while the other major forces on the road had yet to react to this sudden situation and were still vigilant and nervous about the foreigners, it was the best time for Bella to rope in and attract the foreigners.

In fact, she had indeed done so. Each of her clones had secretly taken the initiative to contact the foreigners in various countries, intending to start cultivating their own foreign forces.

Moreover, Bella also noticed that the foreign people seemed to have a unique means of communication, similar to the Adventurer's Association's "Magic Web" ability. No matter where the situation occurred, no matter how far away the foreign people in the world were, they could communicate with each other.

Therefore, Bella could not let go of any place that could increase her popularity among the foreigners.

At the Thousand Islands, Bella had planned to give this opportunity to Vivian, but she did not expect the wolf cub to have a conscience. She knew who had been helping them behind the scenes, so she did not forget Vivian while raising her reputation as a foreigner.

Bella could imagine that when the third stone slab appeared again, the foreigner would definitely be the same as the second stone slab. Other than the fox demon, he would also be interested and pay attention to the supporting roles.

A witch...

To be honest, Bella didn't really like this identity, but she had to bear with it. After all, she couldn't really write it as a witch, right?

Hence, it was like this.

Bella waited and waited with anticipation. She kept going out to collect the third stone tablet.

Finally!

Hard work pays off.

‘ Lady Risa, the third slate...” I found it.”

Roko knocked on the door of the house she lived in, but when she saw Risa Daren who jumped up from Ge You and couldn't wait to reach out to her for the stone slab, Roko's face showed signs of struggle.

“Erm, Risa-sama, I think it's better if you don't look at it.

“Why? Could it be that I'm not written on it?”

“No, it says... It was indeed written, but... I, I'm afraid that after you look at it...

Anger...”

Sakai Risa.

Chapter 595: The Story of the Past (Part 2)

‘ Witch, this is an existence that appeared on this island even earlier than the demons. She is evil and greedy. Legend has it that children who approach her will be eaten raw, men who approach her will be sucked dry, and women who approach her will be... There were many rumors about her true appearance. Some believed that she was an old demon who had lived for thousands of years, while others said that she was an old woman who studied black magic. In short, even the demons on the island avoided this witch. They did not dare to provoke or approach her.

Back then, with Bella's personality, how could she obediently work in her position? She was basically just a manager in name. Other than showing her face in important decisions, Bella basically threw all the other small and complicated tasks to her, the administrative officer.

In the end, it was even more excessive. When Bella realized that not only was Luzi not crushed, but she was also able to do it with ease and had a lot of energy left, she said that she wanted to live with Luzi, but in fact, she just wanted Luzi to take care of her chores such as eating and washing clothes. It could be said that she was undoubtedly exploiting and exploiting Luzi!

"At least...At least I didn't put a collar on your neck and gave you a high salary! Err... Although he couldn't afford his salary after being demoted, it was only temporary!"

Sakai Risa was still trying to defend herself weakly.

Sigh...

On the other side, Lu Zi sighed.

That was why she felt that it was better for Risa-sama not to look at the third stone tablet since she had read it beforehand.

"Lady Risa, why don't we..." Lu Zi suggested again.

Unfortunately, before he could finish his sentence, Sakai Risa interrupted him.

"No, I have to watch it today!"

Sigh...

Just like that, Sakai Risa continued to read the second half of the slate.

Finally, under the guidance of the servants and slaves, the fox demon came to the witch's room. The witch was not the thousand-year-old demon that was rumored to be, nor did she look like an old woman with a hooked nose. Instead, she looked mature and beautiful. However, as soon as they met, the fox demon was shocked by the witch's great evilness. Then, she looked down at herself, which caused a great impact on the fox demon's young mind. She was at a disadvantage from the beginning."

" The fox demon told the witch about his request, hoping that the witch could copy the classics about 'job-holders.' The evil witch had already guessed this. It turned out that the witch had been secretly paying attention to the fox demon when the fox demon first secretly helped the humans. The reason why the fox demon could be so successful was because of some tricks of the witch behind the scenes."

" This doesn't mean that the witch also wants to help humans. The witch never takes sides with any force. She prefers to see chaos, and she likes to see good people or demons gradually fall. Therefore, when faced with the fox demon's request, the witch gladly accepted it, but at the same time, she also put forward a condition. As she spoke, the witch clapped her hands and asked her slave servant to bring over a special costume and put it in front of the fox demon."

"The witch told the fox demon that her only condition was that the fox demon had to wear this dress from now on. The fox demon was surprised at first, but then she heaved a sigh of relief. The fox demon had been prepared to sacrifice a lot, but she didn't expect it to be so simple?]

On the other side, looking at the fox demon's innocent and ignorant face, the witch smiled wickedly in her heart because the clothes she prepared for the fox demon were actually a witch's outfit. The so-called witch was a holy existence in human society who was responsible for subduing demons and eliminating evil. In the old era, she had a high status and was extremely rare. She was a witch who made a demon become a human... Nothing could excite the wicked witch more.."

Chapter 596: The Story of the Past (Part 2)

Sakai Risa was speechless.

"F * ck, f * ck, f * ck! "A series of beautiful sentences came out of the mouth of the exasperated witch Bella.

Lu Zi, who was beside her, had an expression that said she had expected this.

“I made her wear the witch costume? Was I the one who forced her to become a girl? Wasn’t it that little girl who came to borrow it from me? How did it become me?”

“Evil witch...How am I evil? Where?”

While Sakai Risa was shouting, Roko secretly glanced at her boss’s huge chest that was heaving up and down due to anger.

Just looking at it a few times would make one feel dizzy. It had to be said that the adjective ‘evil’ on the stone slab was indeed very vivid to a certain extent.

“Li... Lady Risa, where are you going?”

“Where are we going? Kill the wolf! We’re having wolf meat hotpot tonight!”

Sakai Risa raised her wand and was about to walk out of the cabin.

It was Luzi who persuaded him and tried her best to stop him before he was pulled back.

The more she thought about it, the angrier she got.

That... Stinky little wolf cub!

Bella gritted her teeth and clenched her fists. She was so angry that she couldn’t suppress her anger. At first, she thought that the other party had a conscience and wanted to create an image of a mysterious and powerful teacher in front of a stranger. No matter what, she had to be a reliable and godly teammate, right?

In the end...

What did she get now?

One could imagine that after the outlanders saw the third stone tablet, they would definitely be filled with bad feelings and hostility towards her as the 'evil witch' character. If they knew that this clone of hers was the prototype of the witch in the story, they might start to crusade against her!

It was not like Bella had never seen such a thing before. These foreigners were really bold, perhaps because they were immortal. No matter who you were, they would dare to fight you.

Although the strength of the outlanders was too weak and they were all ants, Bella did not have to worry. However, with the terrifying growth rate of the outlanders, who knew what kind of heights they would reach in the future? If they were to be targeted, Bella would not be able to handle them easily. Moreover, as long as there were enough ants, they could also bite an elephant to death.

As she thought about it, a feeling that had not appeared in Bella's heart for a long time suddenly appeared again.

That was a sour feeling of grievance.

It's alright, it's alright, Lady Risa. I believe that you, the 'witch,' will definitely have a comeback in the future! "Lu Zi hurriedly comforted him.

"Follow-up? What else can I do? The follow-up is over, it's all over!" There was one last point on the slate. Just like the previous two slates, there would be a suspense about the next slate at the end.

"After coming out of the witch's hut, the fox demon immediately began to engrave. It took three days and three nights without sleep and rest before the fox demon finally engraved the inheritance information about the 'professional' on the stone tablet and quietly placed these precious stone tablets around the human settlement."

[Soon, the humans discovered the stone tablet. They were filled with surprise and joy, but they did not know that it was the work of the fox demon. They thought that it was a treasure left behind by the ancestors on the island. The humans relied on the inheritance on the stone tablet, and a large number of professionals appeared one after another. At this point, humans finally had the power to compete with the demon beasts and escaped the fate of being raised.] [The story should have ended here. The fox demon's original intention was to protect humans. Seeing that the fox demon was about to quietly return to the demon race, the evil witch could not sit still anymore.]

" The witch never thought that the fox-faced witch she had carefully designed would never appear in front of the humans. How could she do that? How could she achieve her goal of creating chaos? Therefore, the evil witch planned an unexpected disaster. She planned to use this to force the fox demon to appear in front of the humans..." What follow-up?

What follow-up?

It was obvious that he had already portrayed himself as a villain! How could such a character be famous among the outlanders?

Just as Bella was about to turn her resentment and anger into the motivation to kill the wolf cubs, she did not know that in the player forum that she could not see...

[So Sister Witch suddenly disappeared three days ago to engrave stone tablets for us. I knew it! Sister Witch will never abandon us! Wuwuwu///]

[Damn it! 'You actually used despicable means to make our fox demon sister wear a witch's costume. You cunning evil witch, really, really...' Well done!] [Where is this witch now? I want to see how evil she is!]

[That servant slave girl is so pitiful. She's not like me. I get 996 every day and even get a little rest for six days... Eh? Why were there tears on the screen?]

[Hey, hey, aren't you guys missing the main point? No matter how one looked at it, this witch was a big villain. The ones behind the scenes wanted to cause trouble, so everyone had to be vigilant!]

[But according to the subsequent plot, doesn't that mean that we will finally be able to meet the fox-faced witch under the witch's conspiracy?? ? Is there anything wrong with my understanding?]

This player's post was like a bomb thrown into deep water, waking up the other players who had yet to react. Instantly, the entire forum was in an uproar, and all kinds of replies began to flood the forum.

[F * ck! F * ck, f* ck, f * ck! Really!]

Chapter 597: The Story of the Past (Part 2)

[That makes sense! The story on the mysterious slate happened in the past, and what we are experiencing now might be a replay of the past. So, we can also predict the future through the slate?]

[Who said that witches are villains and we need to be vigilant? Explain to me what the f * Ck is called a villain! What is this called? This is called leading a good person!]

[Evil Witch, Goosettle-Man!]

[Listen to me, thank you. Because of you, the four seasons are warm...] [Quick, everyone, go and find the fourth mysterious slate!]

These past few days, the Lake Witch, who was already as curious as a kitten in the players' hearts, had become more and more curious because of the story in the mysterious stone tablet.

If an NPC was too mysterious and had very little information, it would give people a feeling that they could not reach it, and the enthusiasm of the players would slowly fade.

The wolf cub had obviously achieved his first goal through these few stories. It made the NPC, the fox-faced witch, gradually lose some of her mysteriousness in the players' hearts and gain some intimacy.

When he had hooked enough of his appetite, it was about time for the little wolf cub to carry out his final step. This was also the main reason why he had made the mysterious stone tablet in the first place.

It was impossible for Vivian to meet with the players all the time. The wolf cub respected Vivian's choice and gave her enough buffer time. She even used the slate story as a way for both parties to get used to it. It was believed that not only were the players reading the contents of the slate, but the little girl must have discovered the slate long ago.

Since Vivian did not come to stop him, it meant that the little girl had almost made up her mind.

Then in the end, it was...

The wolf cub looked at the fourth stone slab in front of him.

This would be the last piece of the " Mysterious Slate " series. After all, the players thought it was a story from the past, but in fact, it was made up by the wolf cubs. Since the fox-faced witch would come into direct contact with the players in the future, the effect of the mysterious slate would be gone. She could retire with honor.

The little wolf cub had already thought of how to write the final stroke of this " story of the past " and arrange for the fox demon to meet the humans. The evil witch deliberately lured a demon beast that humans could not defeat even with the blessing of the fox demon to the gathering place of humans. Seeing that the demon beast was wreaking havoc and that a large number of humans were about to suffer casualties, the fox demon behind the scenes could no longer stand by and watch. Finally, she chose to take the initiative to attack.

In the end, the fox demon repelled the demon beast, but the price was that her appearance was also seen by the humans. In an instant, she was surrounded by grateful and excited humans, unable to escape at all.

From then on, the fate of the entire island began to move in an uncontrollable direction, and there was no turning back...

Finished.

It was perfect!

How could an open ending be called a bad ending?

In fact, the little wolf cub used to scold authors who liked dogs when he read novels, but this time, he realized that...Even if he were to refer to the ready-made stories from the old books, it would still take a f * cking long time to write them! It was just four stone slabs, and they had almost shattered his brain cells.

All in all, after the little wolf nodded in satisfaction, it sent its Shadow Hound underlings to place the fourth stone tablet. At the same time, it patted the boss-level monster on Sakuragi Island, the Shadow Beast King, who was currently acting as its wolf climbing platform.

Endure it a little longer, very soon...He would be free..

Chapter 598: The Thousand Islands that Gradually Become the Center of the Whirlpool

Flame Domain.

Fire Code City.

Charm Bar.

After experiencing a series of major events during the closed beta period, even this very famous bar in Fire Code City had fewer customers.

Fortunately, with the arrival of the open beta, a large number of foreigners poured in, undoubtedly adding a lot of fresh blood and vitality to the city.

This could be seen from the bustling Night Charm Bar.

“This wine is so white...Ah, no, this bottle is really big...Uh, what I mean is, I finally understand why Harvey invited us here.

Under the romantic dim light, beside the dim bar counter, Man Man talked while her eyes never left the female bartender in a bunny costume not far away.

Luo Chen, who was sitting next to him, looked at him with disdain.

“Hehe, is this the first person Vivian pushed on the forum? Also, didn’t you say that you like flat-chested women? Why did you change your mind so quickly?”

“Hmph, little brat, what do you know? Lust is lust, feelings are feelings. You won’t understand even if I tell you.” A Long Way To Go curled his lips in disapproval.

Of course, what he got was Luo Chen’s even more disdainful expression.

“Mouth area.”

Speaking of Harvey, you’ve all seen the announcement made by the Fire Law

Knights recently, right? It seems that the Fallen Abyss is showing signs of appearing in the Flame Domain again. Harvey has also been sent out of Fire

Law City to suppress the situation. I suddenly feel a little lonely...”

The last of the three people at the bar spoke as he ate a big watermelon.

They were all players who had been around Vivian during the closed beta period. They were considered outstanding and naturally became friends with each other.

After the start of the open beta, they had experienced all kinds of intense races in the first half of the month. Now, the pace had finally slowed down a little. When they had time, they could gather at the bar and catch up.

Another interesting thing was that none of the three of them were randomly spawned near Fire Code City. They had all come from far away. After Big WaterWatermelon spoke, the two of them nodded in agreement.

“Indeed. Although we can receive many missions every day compared to the closed beta, and many new NPCs appear, but...We met those old NPCs during closed beta, Damir, Chris, Harvey, and...Vivian, on the other hand, was either sent away, in seclusion, or...It disappeared, sigh!”

As Luo Chen spoke, he gulped down another glass of wine. The realistic simulation of “ Fallen God ” and the spicy taste of the wine in his throat were exactly what he was feeling at the moment.

Now, these old people who had experienced the closed beta felt like they had experienced the vicissitudes of time when facing the new people in the open beta.

The majority of the public beta players had already started discussing the new main storyline, new plots, and more and more popular NPCs that were liked by the players. They were popping up one after another like bamboo shoots after a rain.

For example, the most talked about among the players was the Qilin Pavilion

Master, one of the Five Elements. Just by listening to a few keywords about this NPC, such as long black hair, cheongsam, strong woman, and rich woman, it would be strange if she did not become popular among the players.

On Lin Dong’s side, there was an executive officer who secretly helped the players escape from the laboratory and was greatly loved. In Green Maple, there was a bard dressed in green who played cards and drank with the players every day...

Of course, it wasn’t as if the Flame Domain didn’t have new popular NPCs.

For example, the beautiful Countess whose popularity had been soaring recently, and even the white-haired maid with a poker face beside her had many fans of the Flame Domain players.

On the other hand, the older generation of NPCs had not appeared in the game. Even though they had relied on the influence of the closed beta players in the early stages of the game to drive up a wave of popularity and discussion, it was still because of their lack of scenes in the game that they gradually faded from the eyes of the open beta players.

The three of them couldn't help but reminisce about it. Back in the closed beta, every time they opened the forum, they would see that six or seven out of ten posts were related to the "Flame Domain" entry.

Now, even if they wanted to talk about the closed beta with others and talk about the old NPCs they were familiar with, they could only do it like this. They could only chat with each other when these old friends gathered together. The rookies had long lost interest.

The three of them knew that this was inevitable.

After all, a game had to constantly release new content in order to attract players. Players' attention was always limited. Once they were attracted by the new, they would naturally forget the old.

There were only a handful of NPCs that could be used throughout the entire game and that players could not forget about. Most of them would become tears in the version.

"Hey, okay, okay. Don't be so depressed. Didn't we find some clues about Vivian recently?" Long Road said as he looked at the big watermelon.

Originally, when the closed beta ended, the five of them had agreed to gather together. The two people who were missing now were related to the Long Road.

The cause was Big Watermelon's friend, the melee Archmage. Not only was he lucky enough to be born in Vivian's village, but he also got a great opportunity and met a mysterious NPC named "Shirley."

Later, after verification, it was discovered that all high-level players had a chance to encounter this mysterious NPC and receive the quest related to Fallen Abyss that she issued to the players..

Chapter 599: Gradually Becoming the Center of the Whirlpool (2)

If they had performed well at " Shirley's " side, the melee Archmage would have released a screenshot of them receiving a chain quest that was suspected to be the main storyline of the version, hunting the " Fallen Abyss Corruptor " hidden among the higher-ups of the Flame Domain!

This was also the reason why the melee Archmage was absent from the gathering. The other person, Bi Weirong, who was also a staunch Vivian fan during the closed beta, was affectionately addressed as Old Bi by Long Road. He began to deduce along this line.

Since there was information about the Fallen Abyss Corruptor, did it mean that Vivian's assassination of the count in the closed beta plot was also explained and proven?

As for everything else, Bi Wei Rong decided to infiltrate the inner circle and find the key person of the incident, the Countess who was now popular. She wanted to explore the truth of that time, which could also be considered as a clue to Vivian's disappearance.

Sure enough, talking about Vivian made them happy. Just as the three of them were chatting happily and thinking about where to find Vivian next, their little brother suddenly sent a private message.

"Boss, look at the Thousand Islands sub-forum!"

As soon as this news came out, Long Road frowned. When he opened the forum again and took a look according to his underling's report, his good mood was instantly swept away.

When the other two saw this, they also opened the forum and soon found out the reason for Long Road's dark expression.

That was because...

[Live broadcast! The fox-faced witch had appeared for the first time in a historic meeting! Slap the faces of those dogs from the Yan Yu!)

Previously, it was mentioned that there were new stories and new popular NPCs appearing in various countries. Naturally, the Thousand Islands next to the Flame Domain was the same.

However, the reason why the three of them had deliberately avoided Thousand Islands was because the relationship between Thousand Islands and Flame Domain's players was very stiff. They were even hostile to each other.

And the main title of the live broadcast post in front of him...

The Fox-faced Witch was an extremely popular NPC character that had risen rapidly among the Thousand Islands players. It could also be said that she was the source of the great hostility that the Thousand Islands players had toward her for a long time.

Originally, the Flame Territory had mocked the Thousand Islands for their lack of resources. It was the Flame Territory who had made the first mistake. However, the Thousand Islands players later criticized them and even compared the Fox-faced Witch to Vivian. Their behavior of trampling on one and praising the other angered Long Road.

When Vivian mentioned that she wanted to be the biggest player on the Long Road, she was not just talking about it. She was serious. She immediately organized people to attack the fox-faced witch and mocked the Thousand Islands players for a long time. It turned out that they had not even seen her in person and did not know anything. She was still a true love party.

However, as time passed, more and more information about the fox-faced witch gradually surfaced as the storyline of Sakuragi Island progressed. The players of the Thousand Islands slowly unveiled the mysterious veil behind them, and the long road ahead was at a disadvantage.

Previously, he had boasted about how powerful his NPC was, and how he even had a domineering wolf with a Transcendent bloodline as his summoned beast. The Thousand Islands players could only swallow their anger.

However, it was different now.

With the story of the mysterious slate, the players of the Thousand Islands immediately became more confident and retorted, saying that the sparrow beside the fox-faced witch was the divine phoenix in the story. It was unknown how much higher the bloodline was than the wolf beside Vivian!

Before they could conquer the city, they soon found a topic to talk about. They mentioned that Vivian's identity was very mysterious and that she was a legendary witch. In the end, the Thousand Islands sent screenshots of the three "mysterious slates" to prove that the identity of the fox-faced witch was definitely not inferior to Vivian's.

The two sides went back and forth like this, comparing each other's NPCs.

Just as Long Road was still thinking about how to retaliate against the Thousand Islands players, he did not expect that it would be the Thousand Islands players 'turn to attack.

On the other hand, Vivian's biggest weakness in the NPC PK was that she never appeared again after the open beta. Fortunately, the fox-faced witch did not appear in front of the Thousand Islands players, so the two sides were considered to be tied.

However, after the Thousand Islands players excitedly revealed the contents of the fourth stone tablet, they were about to see the Fox-faced Witch's true body!

Now, how could the fox-faced witch's Thousand Islands players not be arrogant?

A few of the top streamers from Thousand Islands turned on the live broadcast. It was hard to say how much of it was there. It was deliberately to show off to the players on Vivian's side.

“Hmph, I want to see what the players from the Thousand Islands have been bragging about for so long. What kind of thing is this fox-faced witch?”

Man Long Road opened the livestream post with a look of disdain. Luo Chen and Big Watermelon, who were beside him, saw this and went over to watch. To be honest, they were also quite curious.

As soon as he entered the live broadcast room, Long Road Man was shocked by the hundreds of thousands of online viewers.

This was a live stream on the official forum of Fallen God. There was no need to fake the popularity. Moreover, this was only a streamer’s live stream room.

From the comments, the majority of the players were undoubtedly from the Thousand Islands. After all, not all the players from the Thousand Islands could come to the venue. Instead, it should be said that only a small number of people could experience the story firsthand.

However, there was no need to worry about not being able to experience it himself. This was because there would be a special [Story Crystal] for players to simulate the scene at that time and watch it repeatedly. This was a common setting in many games.

However, there was no comparison between a replay and a live broadcast, so it was not surprising that so many Thousand Islands players were waiting for the live broadcast. After a long journey, Man Man realized that the second most viewers were all players from the Flame Field like him.

Sometimes, it had to be mentioned that anti-fans were still fans. From a certain perspective, the conflict between the Flame Domain and the Thousand Islands had given this fox-faced witch quite a bit of popularity.

What made Man Man the strangest was that he actually found a part of the audience from “Return” in the bullet comments.

There are so many Guili players, why are you here? Why did he pay so much attention to the Thousand Islands?

At this stage of the game, the players were still in the opening period of the server. There was a huge amount of content in their own country, so how could they have the energy to pay attention to other countries? Of course, Flame Domain and Thousand Islands were exceptions.

A Long Way to Go quickly opened it and took a look at the ion section of the forum. Only then did he understand a little.

It turned out that some of the players had received a chain quest from the Northern Cross fleet in Guili. They thought that it was just a class change quest for sailors and pirates, but who knew that there would be a big surprise for the players? Their big sister told them that the fleet was going to sail across the country to the Thousand Islands!

Although the players didn't know what they were going to do in Thousand Islands, it didn't stop them from rubbing their fists and rubbing their hands. Their eyes were shining. This was a cross-country trip! It was obvious that the follow-up would not be simple.

As a result, even the players who didn't receive the Northern Cross fleet's mission were interested in the Thousand Islands. Coincidentally, they also saw the livestream, so they naturally swarmed in.

This was...

The long road ahead was suddenly filled with complicated feelings.

Unknowingly, the Thousand Islands had attracted the attention of two countries. It seemed that they were about to become the center of a whirlpool.

One had to know that the title "center of the vortex" was not a good term in reality. It meant that there was going to be chaos. However, in the game, it was the complete opposite. After all, the players were not afraid of chaos, but they were afraid that it would not.

Could it be...

Was it really the same as the post by the "most handsome wolf"? The Thousand Islands was actually the main storyline of the server? They chose the Flame Domain and were tricked?

NO!

How was this possible?

Long Walk hurriedly shook his head.

However, when the live broadcast finally began, not only was the long road long, but even Luo Chen, who was beside him, was eating a big watermelon. Even many of the Flame Field players...It was as if something was stuck in his throat..

Chapter 600: Gift Equipment-True Flame Witch (1)

Kacha!

True Opening Lightning Strike.

Purple lightning streaked across the overcast sky of the island, and the rumbling of thunder never stopped.

The ravaged island was filled with the aura of the Evil. As far as the eye could see, it was filled with twisted boulders and deformed vegetation.

It wasn't that the foreign players didn't know about the miserable spawn points of the players from Thousand Islands, but most of them only stayed on the forums and browsed the screenshots of the game taken by the players from Thousand Islands. They only had a vague idea.

And when it was really a live broadcast, from a static picture to a moving first-person perspective, the sense of immersion instantly increased a lot, as if he was really there.

This allowed the foreign players to finally experience the extent of the underworld of Sakuragi Island.

The streamer was carefully observing the rotten ground covered in purple moss while explaining to the audience that every step on Sakuragi Island had to be careful because there was a cursed plant called "Thunder Sakura". If a player accidentally touched its scattered roots, purple lightning would immediately fall from the sky.

Some of the foreign players did not believe it until the streamer personally demonstrated it and saw the streamer being blown away in an instant. Only then did they shut up.

What was even funnier was that the viewers were even more attentive than the streamer. They were all staring at the ground nervously. Whenever they saw something that looked like a Thunder Cherry Vine,, they would send a barrage of comments to remind the streamer.

After that, some Thousand Islands players who were already used to it sent bullet comments to remind them, such as..."Cold knowledge, you can breathe now!" "Hint, you won't be blown up with the streamer outside the screen..." Only after a while did the foreign players recover a little.

However, as the streamer continued to delve deeper, other than the landscape, the monsters on Sakuragi Island naturally appeared in front of the audience.

The foreign players finally experienced what it felt like to see the seemingly ordinary flowers beside them suddenly grow roots and legs, jump up from the ground and attack you. They experienced the feeling of worms crawling around you, and they experienced how your San value dropped crazily when you looked up and saw countless eye-like monsters staring at you.

The live broadcast had yet to enter the main scene, but the bullet comments could not take it anymore. Some of the timid and weak ones even directly exited the live broadcast room, not daring to click on it.

The long journey in Charm Bar also gave him the same feeling. He was so nervous that he clenched his fists. If it wasn't for the fox-faced witch's plot, he wouldn't have wanted to continue watching this live broadcast...No, it was not a live broadcast, it was simply mental pollution!

so...

Were the Thousand Islands players facing this every day?

The long road was long and he looked around himself.

Compared to the live broadcast, what was next to him? There was delicious wine, tempting food, comfortable bar cushions, pleasant bar music, and even a beautiful bartender in a sexy uniform...

At this moment, even though Long Road had indeed been at loggerheads with the Thousand Islands players and had a lot of friction with them, he still felt some sympathy for them.

Finally, as time passed, the streamer finally arrived at the plot trigger.

This place was already crowded with players. As long as the players who were not too far away from this place put down what they were doing and gathered here.

The so-called "plot trigger location" was a convenient name for the players of the Thousand Islands. It referred to the location recorded on the "Mysterious Slate (IV)" that they had discovered. It was a place that had been plotted by the evil witch and where the fox-faced witch had been forced to appear in order to save humans from monster attacks.

The little wolf cub deliberately wrote down this location in great detail, with the goal of guiding the players and...A certain little girl who must have read the contents of the slate.

Now, the players were almost here as promised. As the protagonist of the "plot", the fox witch and the wolf cubs had long sensed that Vivian had been waiting quietly here for a long time.

In that case...

It was time for the "story of the past" recorded on the mysterious slate to repeat itself.

[Host, host, where's the fox-faced witch?]

[Yeah, didn't you say that this mysterious NPC would appear? Why isn't there even a shadow?]

[I've endured for so long and didn't quit just for now. Don't drop the ball!] [Could it be that you Thousand Islands players misunderstood?]

After a long journey, when the streamer arrived at the agreed location, she only joined the waiting army with the surrounding crowd. Many questions immediately floated in the live broadcast room.

The host quickly explained that the location was correct, and the time was most likely today. This was because the frequency of the mysterious slate was basically once every two or three days. It had been exactly two days since they discovered the fourth mysterious slate.

Unless the story on the mysterious tablet would not repeat itself, but there were already many professional players who had analyzed it. The mysterious tablet was the game's plot hint and guide for the players, so they just had to wait patiently.

Another piece of evidence was that the gamers realized that there were no monsters in this place. It was as if it had been cleared by a mysterious force, just like what was recorded on the mysterious slate.

Just as the host finished speaking, a commotion suddenly sounded from the crowd at the front..
