

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 361-366

Chapter 361

Hearing, Stella was not angry either, but raised her eyebrows and smiled.

“Really? When your agent found me, he was looking for a designer. Unexpectedly, Ms. Zhao was looking for another industry. This is the agent’s fault. It seems that this cooperation has been cancelled. Zhao Miss’s agent, you signed the contract at the beginning. Now you have broken the contract. Please remit the breach of contract money to my card as scheduled.”

After finishing speaking, Stella took Jessica’s hand and greeted Zhao Yiru with a smile: “Then I would like to thank you for your breach of contract, Jessica, let’s go.”

Jessica didn’t react to this reversal. When she was dragged out by Stella, she was completely confused.

“What’s the matter?”

Even Zhao Yiru’s agent didn’t come back to his senses. He would never have thought that Stella was so powerful, as if he didn’t care about his reputation at all, and he didn’t put customers in his eyes.

He thought...she would come over and apologize personally, nodding and bowing.

Unexpectedly-he actually underestimated her.

“This is the designer you found for me? How dare you tell me that her work is top-notch?”

“It’s not like that. She is indeed top-notch. Shelly is indeed a very good designer. You can find her work by checking it online. But... She seems to be very casual when she is abroad, I guess... Yiru, could you have a better attitude towards her?”

“Sneer, I’m so ridiculous, I’m a dignified female line who treats her a little designer better? Are you dreaming? Like this kind of designer, I think the design works are not popular! Let her get out early!”

“Are there other designs abroad? You can just find another one? Or just buy the ready-made clothes at that time. Who wants to wear the clothes made by her? I really think I am amazing. People who want to design a dress for Zhao Yiru don’t know. How many, she dared to slap me, I want to sue her!”

“Sue, sue her?” The agent blinked.

“Yes, didn’t she say that you broke the contract and want you to lose money? Then we will take her to court to see if she dares to say that!”

When Jessica was pulled out of the room by Stella, the whole person was still dumbfounded, and it took a long time to react: “That... Stella!”

She grabbed Stella, then opened her eyes wide: “What were you...what were you doing just now?”

“Have you seen all of them?” Stella replied indifferently.

“But in this case, we will offend her. She is currently very popular in China, and she is not the kind of person who will pay the breach of contract obediently! She is not something to provoke!”

“I know.”

“This matter is all my fault. If I were not one minute late, I wouldn’t have done so many things. Originally, I was very angry with her, but seeing the trouble now is like this, it’s nothing to you. Stella of interest, let me apologize to him, even if this matter has passed.”

After speaking, Jessica threw away Stella’s hand and turned and walked towards the room.

Stella stood where she was, with her hands around her chest and said coldly: “I brought you out of it, do you want to go back again?”

“If you don’t go back, is this really the case? This is the first business we took after returning to China. Wouldn’t it be detrimental to your future development if we were so confused?”

“So I am afraid that it will affect my development. Every time you meet such a difficult person, you are willing to whisper, even when she says you only deserve her shoes?”

“Angry!” Jessica bit her lower lip angrily: “But I can’t live with the money even if I’m angry. The other party gave a lot of money, Stella...”

“I’m asking you.” Stella sighed helplessly, “Are you one minute late, right?”

Jessica nodded.

“Then did you apologize to her?”

“Apologized, I said a lot of good things, but... she ignored me.”

“Actually, this is nothing, because I am really late. Even if I only have one minute, I am indeed late. So I recognized my mistake and apologized to her, but I didn’t expect it. ...”

“You didn’t expect that she would not accept your apology, instead she kept hanging you by her side deliberately, even after calling me, she questioned my identity, right?”

“Yeah...but even if I get angry, I don’t dare to face it, you know, I only dare to beep quietly in front of you.”

Speaking of this, Stella couldn’t help herself. She gave an angry smile, then reached out and poked her forehead: “Then you are responsible for the low beep, and I am responsible for those who are not qualified”

“But the list...”

“Are you not ignorant that I have always been very casual with this. If you don’t do this order, you won’t lose much money. What’s more, the other party wants to invite not the designer, but the service person? It doesn’t mean you have to keep your breath down. So, let’s go, Levi is still waiting for you at home.”

After Stella finished speaking, she turned around and walked forward. Jessica had no choice but to follow her, but she was still very sad: “Why do I always feel that this is because of me? I called you, and then things won’t get so bad.”

“Don’t worry, according to her temper, even if you don’t call me, things will only get worse.”

Jessica: “...really?”

The two were walking forward, and one of them stopped in front of Stella.

It was the deputy director who thought they were fans just now. Jessica remembered him and asked quickly: "Associate director, do you have anything to do?"

The assistant director's gaze fell on Stella's face, and his expression at this moment was completely different from his previous serious look. He looked at Stella with a smile.

"I heard you are a designer from abroad?"

Stella raised her eyebrows and nodded, "Hello."

"Haha, you don't need to be so polite. I think you have good conditions in all aspects. Do you want to be an actor? It's just that we are currently missing a female third in this drama. I have not been satisfied with her drama, mainly because the image is too inconsistent. , Would you like to try it?"

For the average person, this kind of opportunity is a pie in the sky.

After all, you just came here to spoil the story. As a result, the assistant director came to see you and wanted you to play the female number three in the play. If you were a young actor, you might feel like you are out of luck.

But for Stella, it was a dumbfounding thing.

"Thanks to the assistant director for his kindness, but... I may not be interested in this business, I am really embarrassed."

Hearingly heard, a look of disappointment flashed in the assistant director's eyes, "So..." But soon he came back to his senses: "Aren't you a designer? I know an actress who happened to be thinking about designing too recently. Master, are you interested?"

Chapter 362

Upon hearing this, Stella and Jessica looked at each other.

When Jessica was about to nod, Stella smiled and prevented Jessica from moving, and then softly explained, "I'm really sorry, I may not have time to pick up other orders in the near future."

"Then...is it okay to leave a business card? You will contact me when you are free in the future?"

The other party knew how to advance and retreat, and Stella couldn't say anything, so she glanced at Jessica.

Jessica immediately took out her business card and handed it up: "Hello Assistant Director, I am the assistant of Shelly designer, my name is Jessica!"

"Well, I'll accept the business card. Are you leaving?"

"Ok."

After bidding farewell to the assistant director, Stella and Jessica went out of the set together. They didn't expect that the driver was still there when the two came out, and he greeted them when they came out.

Stella was stunned for a moment, and then walked over with Jessica.

"Uncle, you haven't left yet?"

"Hey, I want to wait here to see if any actors are leaving just to take them away. I didn't expect you to come out in less than a few minutes after waiting."

Stella thought for a while, and said: “We are going back, if it is convenient, uncle will give us another ride.”

“No problem.”

So the two got in the car, and Jessica hugged her arm as soon as she got in the car: “Hey, this list flew today, and I feel like I am short of a lot of money for the year-end award. That woman is too arrogant in the past, all the stars we saw on the screen were gentle and polite. I didn’t expect it to be this virtue in private. Isn’t she afraid that we will expose her true appearance?”

Stella glanced at her: “Then you should try to expose it? Then see if the netizens believe in you or their idol? It’s not bad if you don’t drown in the saliva of netizens.”

Hearing, Jessica suddenly said angrily: “Hey, this world of looking at faces is really desperate! However, the assistant director said just now, or you should be an actor. Her beauty can definitely blaze a trail in the entertainment industry. When you step on her, she will dare to be arrogant.”

Stella: “...I thank you, but it’s a pity that I am too old to withstand the toss, so let you leave this feat to you.”

Jessica: “You think I don’t want to, but unfortunately I don’t have your face.”

After she finished speaking, she couldn’t help holding her arms and complaining: “People are more angry than people. You say that I don’t have your brain. You don’t have your face. If I take a bit of it, I now... ..No need to be your assistant anymore.”

“Being my assistant, are you wronged?” Stella glanced at her.

Jessica only felt a cold back, and then responded with a dry smile: “It’s okay not to be wronged.”

“But I think that assistant director shouldn’t give up, otherwise he won’t ask me for a business card. I said, you won’t be a designer in the future. It’s not bad to be an actor.”

Stella: “It doesn’t exist.”

“Why?”

“Look at the ages of the actors, all of them are very young. I am a dozen years older than them. Don’t you want to be ridiculed when you enter the show business at this time?”

Jessica: “That’s right, you are an old woman in your thirties. It’s just that...your face deceived them! I know there are many people in the entertainment industry who change their age, you can cheat. Everyone, you are actually very young.”

“Don’t think about it. If you want to be an actor, you can go to the deputy director to recommend yourself.”

Jessica immediately hugged her arm and shook her head vigorously.

“I don’t! I don’t want to enter the big dyeing tank in the entertainment industry, and I will never do anything to sacrifice for the script! Therefore, I will definitely not enter the entertainment industry!”

She said a righteous and solemn remark, and Stella pushed her away: “You don’t want to enter, and you persuade me to enter?”

“That’s different. You look good. Besides, someone wants to pull you in. Once you go, I can be your Scripture writer.”

Stella: “...”

She was really mad at herself if she continued to talk to her. She didn't reply again, and the car quickly arrived at Ruixin Community.

Originally, Stella was planning to return to Beich to go to the Han family in a few days. Just considering that Zhao Yiru would move to Beich for filming in a few days, she did not expect that the business was so fast that she would not go to Beich the goal of.

So she planned to discuss with Victor Han about the postponement of her return to Han's house.

Who knew that Victor Han laughed coldly when he heard this, and immediately gave her a death order?

Asked her to return by car tomorrow with Levi.

Stella: "No, tomorrow is too soon, and I haven't bought a ticket yet."

Victor Han: "I will drive over to pick you up at night."

Stella: "Don't!"

"Anyway, it only takes a few hours to go back and forth, and I can hold it."

Although Victor Han said this, what he revealed in his voice was full of exhaustion.

Stella said it was fake if she didn't feel sorry for him. After all, he was her own brother, and he treated her very well, so Stella could only admit it.

"Okay, I'll get Levi to get up early tomorrow morning and take a car over there, right?"

Victor Han was silent on the other side, and then replied with satisfaction: “I will let the driver come to pick you up.”

Stella: “Didn’t I say that I went there by myself?”

“There will be traffic jams. Come over in the early morning. I will let the driver go as soon as I will. You can prepare after dinner and rest for a while.”

Stella: “Victor Han! You really have an inch!”

It was clearly stated that it was tomorrow, but it turned out to be quietly advanced one night, and she didn’t even let her sleep well.

Victor Han was not angry at being so fierce by her. Instead, he smiled in a low voice: “Be good, and then come over to sleep.”

After hanging up the phone, Stella reluctantly scratched her long hair.

Her elder brother is good at everything, just... sister control.

He doesn’t know if it’s because he has been looking for her for the past 20 years, and then he found the wrong person, and when he found her, he felt guilty. That’s why he treated her so well, or said he was a man himself. Sister control.

But according to Su Jiu, he used to be lukewarm to Karla Han.

Probably this is the power of family affection.

That night, Jessica cooked herself, Levi ate the braised fish that he was thinking of, and finally touched his belly contentedly, and then fell into the arms of her mom.

“Mom, the braised fish made by Aunt Jessica is really delicious~”

Stella took a look at the opposite Jessica, and then joked, “Will you marry Aunt Jessica as your wife?”

Jessica almost choked on the food when she heard it.

Levi shook his head seriously: “No.”

“Why?”

“Mummy, do you seem stupid? Levi is only five years old, and it will take at least 20 years before he can marry a wife. By then, Aunt Jessica will be Jessica’s mother-in-law, not pretty~”

Chapter 363

When Jessica heard this, she immediately raised her eyebrows and cold eyebrows: “Would you like to be so realistic? Even if I know that I will be old, it is not your turn to despise me? Levi, if you didn’t take you down like this, I ate mine after the braised fish, I immediately dismantled my station. Don’t you want Aunt Jessica to cook for you in the future?”

Feeling that the future rice bowl is threatened, Levi immediately changed his words: “Aunt Jessica, I was wrong. Aunt Jessica is a beauty even when she is old.”

This sentence was very useful to Jessica, and she nodded in satisfaction.

“Forgive you, I will make you braised fish next time.”

She didn't notice at all, when Levi said this, she clutched her chest, showing a damaged conscience.

Stella saw it, stretched out her hand and squeezed Levi's cheek, and whispered, “Naughty.”

That night the three of them packed up their things, got in the car sent by Victor Han, and then went to Beich.

Jessica is Stella's assistant, so naturally she wants to go with her. Although she is a bit unfair, it's up to her.

Anyway, Jessica's thoughts are that she is too lonely to stay in the apartment here alone, she has to follow it, no matter what, she will say that Levi likes to eat her own meals, she is cooking with the past On the line.

Thinking of this, Jessica thought happily.

On the other side, Walter would also return to Beich.

Song An came out to see him, “Really don't live for two days anymore? I only stayed for two days after driving for so long?”

Walter glanced at her displeasedly.

“I still have a job.”

“Is work important or is your aunt important? Hey, what an unfilial child, go and drive carefully.”

“Ok.”

“Really, you young people just don’t listen now. The vision of driving at night is not particularly good, but you can’t wait for the day to go.”

Walter’s thin lips pressed tightly, ignoring Song An’s comments, and went straight into the car.

After a while, he said coldly: “No traffic jams at night, smooth.”

“Gone.”

Song An stood on the spot, watching the car leave far away, the street light stretched her figure long, and the night wind blew her silk scarf over her shoulders. Song An couldn’t help sighing.

I don’t know how long it will be before Walter can truly open his heart to accept other women.

Ana...

This name has disappeared in his life for five years and never appeared again.

Song An didn’t know where she went, but for her, she liked that child very much, but...the two children did not have that fate.

That’s it, let everything go.

She was already this age, and she really didn’t have the strength to force anything.

Thinking of this, Song An took the silk scarf on her shoulder, and then turned upstairs.

She thought that driving would go smoothly at night, but she didn't expect that by 12 o'clock at night, there was an explosion on the highway, which completely blocked the road ahead.

Stella and her group were far away from the explosion point and only heard an explosion. After that, the cars in front stopped. Jessica was sleeping on the back of her chair, but when she heard the sound, she woke up suddenly.

After Stella saw a burst of flames in front of her, she was shocked, and subconsciously reached out and hugged the Levi beside her.

"Damn, what happened?" Jessica lowered the car window, then poked her head out, frightened when she saw the flames in front of her.

"My God, what happened before this?" After speaking, she immediately retracted her head and looked at Stella and said, "Stella, should we abandon the car? It feels dangerous here. "

The flame was not far away, and Stella looked back at the car line that stopped behind, and felt that staying here was really not safe.

So she nodded and said in a deep voice: "Uncle Nan, first lock the windows, and then we get off."

Uncle Nan turned off the flame and nodded.

After the group of them got out of the car, the car at the front and back saw them getting off, so they got out of the car together.

People always have an instinct to avoid danger, and individuals will cherish their lives unless they have other ideas.

So a lot of people stood on the highway soon.

“Go back and try to stay away from the explosion.”

Everyone followed the crowd behind, and more and more people joined on the highway.

Soon the horn of the police car sounded.

The police rushed to the scene to investigate the situation before reporting to everyone.

“Don’t worry, the car in front has exploded. Now we are separated, we will do a good job as soon as possible, but the road ahead is temporarily unable to pass.”

Jessica hugged Stella’s arm and said depressedly, “What’s the matter? How can a good car explode? Could it be that it was carrying a strangely inflammable item?”

“There are many reasons for the explosion. I don’t know the situation for the time being. Wait a while.”

Many of the cars got off the station and were on the side of the road, and Walter was also on this road. He also heard the explosion, and soon saw a lot of people crowded on the highway nearby.

He took out his phone and glanced at the time with an indifferent expression. Only then did he get on the high speed, and something like this happened, and a bunch of cars were stuck behind him.

They don’t know how long it will take if they wait for the evacuation, and the car is stuffy.

Walter stretched out his hand and twisted his faintly aching temples, and then he pushed the car door and got out of the car to breathe.

In the dark, the man stood tall and straight out of the car, with slender and straight legs walking steadily. Instead of walking towards the crowd, he walked to the other side of the highway and looked at the scenery in the distance.

This feeling of standing out from the crowd was immediately revealed.

“Wow, look at a handsome man over there!”

A girl in the crowd spotted Walter and immediately exclaimed.

When she said this, the eyes of the crowd immediately looked over there.

“There is only one back, how do you know he is handsome?”

“I saw his face when he just got out of the car! It has sharp edges and corners, not only the face is good-looking, but the proportions are also great!”

“Okay, your husband and I are still here, is your husband not in good shape?”

“Cut, that man has eight abs at a glance? You only have one fat on your stomach?”

“I didn’t take you down like this...”

These conversations all entered Stella and Jessica’s ears without a word. Jessica glanced at her, Stella glanced back, and then Jessica leaned in and said quietly, “I’m really convinced. At this dangerous juncture, I still have the mind to see the handsome guy.”

Hearing, Stella hooked her lips: “People are always interested in beautiful things, and besides... it’s not the moment of life or death.”

“That’s what it said, but today is too unlucky. I would go back tomorrow if I knew I would not listen to your brother.”

“It’s okay.” Stella squatted down and looked at Levi: “Aren’t you tired? Do you want Mommy to carry you?”

Chapter 364

Levi shook his head very understandingly, “Mummy, I’m not tired, don’t need to carry me.”

Stella felt very sorry for him, squatting down to hold his little head, “Let’s lean on Mommy for a while? Sorry, I don’t know that such a thing will happen.”

She blames herself a little, always feels that Levi is always suffering with her.

Although this is not a big deal for Stella, she feels distressed about Levi, perhaps... because of the insufficiency of the family since childhood, she was so sensitive.

Stella didn’t speak, lowered her head and closed her eyes in Levi’s neck.

She knows that Levi has always been very sensible, and many times he would not make her angry, and would have fun in hardship. And in many cases, it was he who consoled her in turn, the more he thought about Stella, the more sad.

Jessica looked down at them and squatted down: “It’s nothing serious. The police said it’s all right. We can pass when we are done, or we can detour back when the time comes. Hey, it’s just... I seem to be a little hungry at night, and there seems to be something to eat in the car. I’ll go get some for you?”

Stella recovered and said softly, "I don't need it, just give it to Levi."

"Then Levi, wait a while, Aunt Jessica will get you some food."

"Thank you Aunt Jessica."

So Jessica went to ask for the key from Uncle Nan and went back to the car to get things. Jessica took some food and water and closed the car door. When she turned back, she looked at everyone's eyes and looked at the other side. Can't help but look over.

Then she saw a tall figure standing in another place.

The man's figure is hidden in the dark, looming, it seems that the proportion of the figure is really good.

If you look good, you can't see clearly with your back to them.

Suddenly, the man leaned his body, his handsome profile is especially deep in the night.

But soon, the man turned around again.

However, Jessica was stunned for only that glance.

He seemed to fly into the face of an old acquaintance in his mind, but soon Jessica shook his head again.

"How is it possible? It's been a long time since that person has been seen, and it is impossible for him to be here now."

Jessica whispered to herself, then reached out and grabbed her hair.

But after that thought flashed through her mind, Jessica couldn't help but look in the direction of the man when she returned, feeling a little hesitant in her heart.

If it was really him, would he meet them in a while, and what if Stella really met him?

Thinking of this, Jessica's heart also became anxious.

"Aunt Jessica, you are back." Levi's call brought back Jessica's sanity.

Jessica recovered and found that she had already arrived in front of Stella and Levi, probably because she was absent, so Stella gave her a concerned look, "What's wrong with you?"

Jessica was taken aback for a moment, and shook her head: "No."

Then she stood forward, directly blocking Stella's vision, and said without a smile, "I brought you some water."

After speaking, Jessica handed Stella a bottle of water, and then handed another bottle to Uncle Nan.

Uncle Nan smiled and said, "Thank you."

"Not so polite."

"Your~" Jessica gave the rest of the food to Levi.

Stand for a while.

"Aunt Jessica, why are you keeping in front of Mommy?" Levi asked suspiciously.

Hearing, Stella also noticed, “You have been standing here since you just came back. Is something wrong?”

Jessica’s complexion changed: “Where is it, I just... I think the air is better and more ventilated when standing here. There are too many people over there, okay? And... I’m afraid of Levi at night when the cold wind blows over there. Dou caught a cold, so she has been standing here deliberately to protect him from the wind. You little conscience, don’t you appreciate your Aunt Jessica?”

At the end, Jessica also stretched out her hand and squeezed Levi’s cheek.

She has always been so innocent, so Stella didn’t care about her anymore.

After a while, Jessica turned to look at the position just now, and found that the man was still standing there. At this moment, looking at his back, she felt extremely strange again. He was not the person in her memory at all.

Thinking of this, Jessica was finally relieved.

The world is so big, it’s impossible to meet him as soon as they return to China, so Jessica is relieved.

After that, everyone waited for a long time. Some people felt safe and went back to the car to wait for news.

Some were still worried, so they kept waiting on the side of the road, and finally sat down on the side of the road, and some even started fighting the landlords. The scene was really lively.

Some even brought self-heating hot pot to eat at the scene.

In short, there are a lot of flavors at the scene, and there are people with good quality who said: “You will have to clean up after you finish eating. This is a high speed. Don’t throw rubbish on it.”

“Of course, we will handle it cleanly.”

As time passed, Levi was a child after all, and a little tired, so he leaned on Stella.

Stella saw his sleepiness, so she hugged him in her arms and said, “Are you sleepy? Mommy will take you back to the car and go to sleep.”

“Um, okay.” Levi did not refuse, he was really sleepy.

Stella squatted down and let Levi lie on her back. Levi cleverly climbed up and hugged her neck: “Mommy, be careful.”

So Stella returned to the car with the millet beans on her back, and Uncle Nan followed suit.

Jessica left a little thought, “You go, I will observe here, and I will meet with you later.”

“Ok.”

Uncle Nan nodded and followed Stella back first.

After they left, Jessica couldn't help but look in the direction of the man just now. Although it didn't look like it from the back, the profile face always made her worry.

In fact, Jessica is quite scared. What should she do if she really meets that person here?

Oh no, what should Stella do?

So Jessica secretly squeezed a cold sweat, and then slowly moved her steps forward, hiding behind the various cars, approaching the man.

He was quite quiet there, but everyone saw Jessica passing by. Several girls thought she was going to strike up a conversation, so they became restless in their hearts, and then couldn't help but walk over.

"Hey, are you going to ask for a phone number? Come with us, everyone has a chance!"

Hearing, Jessica was speechless for a moment: "No."

"No? What are you doing here? Don't be like this. Even if you admit that we won't drive you away, we will share good things together! Besides, whether we have a chance at that time will depend on our individual performance."

Jessica: "..."

Please, she just wants to make sure that the other person is who she thinks is the person who asked for her phone number in the past, okay?

"I really didn't ask for a cell phone number. I just thought he was like someone I knew before, so I wanted to go over and check if it was him."

"Ouch." One of the girls patted her on the shoulder and said with a grin: "Is this the reason you just thought of to strike up a conversation? It seems to be very useful. Then we will say the same for a later time. He told us before. The one in the school looks so alike."

Jessica: "You..."

“Don’t be so embarrassed, let’s go together.” After speaking, the man took Jessica’s arm intimately.

Jessica is going crazy, she feels that her violent temper is a little bit overwhelming, so she said angrily: “Sisters, are we unfamiliar? Can you not hold my arm so intimately? Also, I just its all true. He is indeed like a person I knew before. I just wanted to make sure. I didn’t want to say a word in the past. Please leave me a foot away now, thank you.”

After speaking, the expression on her face also became cold, and she stared at the other side coldly.

Several girls froze for a moment, then let go of her.

“Cut, what’s the air? Don’t you just rely on yourself for being so beautiful? It doesn’t even put us in the eyes.”

“That’s it, I said in a high-sounding manner that I wouldn’t talk to him, who knows, I just want to monopolize it.”

“Regardless of them, let’s go find him first.”

“Yes!”

A few women walked forward together. Jessica originally wanted to go and see it, but after another thought, if I relied on these women’s past to strike up a conversation with that person, it would not have been a chance to see his face.

As long as those people are standing behind, the man will look back.

Thinking of this, Jessica made up her mind to stand on the spot and didn’t go any further, planning to hide behind the car and watch the changes.

Jessica held her breath and watched quietly. The girls shyly covered their cheeks after they passed by, and then asked aloud: "That... handsome guy, you and I are as long as you were before, we are really too Good luck."

Because it wasn't too far apart, Jessica almost staggered forward when she heard what she said.

Should this person... be so fashionable, he really took everything she said and used it, even if the key is used, it still used so badly. No one can tell that you are talking like this on purpose?

Sure enough, the man still kept his original actions, as if he hadn't heard the girl's words, standing there like a mountain, the cold breath of his body merged with the night.

After a period of silence, it seemed that several crows flew by.

Jessica watched this scene and couldn't help but stretch out her hand to block her eyes.

She really didn't even look at her, would she be so stupid?

"Handsome, handsome..." The girl probably didn't expect him to be as if he hadn't heard her, her tall and thin body stood motionless, as if completely treating them as transparent people.

But soon her friend reacted and smiled: "I must think we are not talking to him, let's go ahead."

So a few girls walked around in front of the man, and they all smiled shyly.

"That one..."

Walter frowned, the strong perfume smell on the woman's body came and got into his breath. The pungent perfume smoked the surrounding air to a concentration.

These women.

"Handsome guy, you..."

"Roll!"

Unpredictably, Walter suddenly uttered a word.

He finally spoke as he wished, but what he said was like a poisoned knife, piercing the hearts of several women.

In an instant, the faces of those women turned pale, and they were extremely pale in the night, so they could fight ghosts.

Seeing this scene, Jessica couldn't help but stretched out her hand to cover her lips, almost laughed.

She really laughed at them. In fact, that man has not stood with the crowd, and you see that his character is not easy to provoke. These girls also don't have any eyesight, and they actually want to get his favor.

Hey.

But... the more the man was like this, the more shocked Jessica's heart became.

If it were that person, it would probably be the same reaction.

It's just that... he was in a wheelchair back then, but now he is standing up, and he can't associate the two together.

Jessica lowered her eyes and thought about it, but when she raised her head, she happened to see the man with one hand in his pocket and left with a cold face in the other direction.

He was walking in the direction of Jessica, who happened to be able to clearly see the outline of the facial features on his face, but Walter kept his face cold, his gaze did not move halfway, so he didn't see it at all. There was already a stunned little face beside the car.

After Jessica saw the other person's face, she instantly felt as if a basin of cold water poured down from her head, making her feel completely cold.

Until Walter walked away, Jessica still stared at his back and couldn't recover. The few girls who had been called to roll came over with red eyes. They happened to see this scene, and they were probably embarrassed into anger, so Jessica stunned. Said: "Wipe your saliva, your eyes are about to fall off, you like it to death, and your mouth is still there."

Jessica came back to her senses when she heard the voice. She looked at the women in front of her.

Obviously she was not the one called to go, but her face was so pale that it was even more terrifying than the others.

One of them saw that her face was not right, and asked curiously: "Why are you looking so pale as a ghost? It's not you who was rejected."

Hearing, Jessica took a deep breath, she couldn't hear what the outside world was saying.

All she knew was that the man who walked over just now looked...obviously exactly the same as the one five years ago!

It's exactly the same as...Levi!

How could be???

The fate in this world is too coincidental, right? How long have they just returned to China? Actually ran into him on the highway? She feels incredible no matter how she thinks about it!

Walter!

How could she meet Walter here!?

Could it be that she looks at Levi's face that looks like Walter too much every day? That's why she saw the man in front of her as Walter?

Thinking of this, Jessica didn't care what the girls thought of her, and asked aloud: "Did someone walk by just now? Isn't it?"

Listening, the girls suddenly showed idiots and mentally retarded eyes.

"Are you OK?"

"I think you are poisonous, don't you still stare at others?"

"Really... walked over?" Jessica asked blankly.

So, did she really see Walter?

Chapter 366

“Don’t pay attention to her, I think she has a problem with her brain.”

“I also think that just now I said not to go with us, and then I just stared at the back of the other person. After staring at the back of the person, it’s fine. I actually asked us if someone walked over. This is not a mental retardation!”

Several girls walked away while complaining about her.

Jessica stood there for a long time before reacting, and then she looked in the direction where Walter had disappeared, and found that he had entered a car, and carefully distinguished the license plate number of that car. At the beginning, it seemed to be from Beich. .

It turned out that it wasn’t that she had read it wrong, nor that she had hallucinations. Yes, she did meet him.

fate...

It’s a wonderful and even terrible thing.

Jessica’s face turned white again, and then she quickly turned and left the place.

After Stella returned to the car with Levi, Levi fell asleep in her arms, her small hands still tightly encircling her waist.

This is the habit of Levi. Every time he goes out, if he wants to sleep, he will stretch out his hands and hug Stella tightly, for fear that she will suddenly disappear.

Stella stroked his head while resting on the back of the chair.

They don’t know how long they will spend here tonight.

While thinking about it, the phone vibrated, Stella took out and took a look. It was a message from Victor Han.

[Where is she?]

Seeing Victor Han, Stella suddenly became angry, so she replied.

[Thanks to you, we are now stuck on the highway]

[What happened?]

Victor Han returned quickly. Through these four words, Stella could almost see him frowning while holding the phone. It was really too vivid.

Stella hurriedly sent a message before he called.

[Levi is asleep.]

The head paused, and it took a long time to reply.

[How do you know I want to call?]

[Otherwise I could be your sister? A car exploded ahead. The police are dealing with it. It has been a long time.]

[Why didn't you tell me earlier, I'll rush to pick you up right away.]

Stella could almost see that Victor Han didn't think about anything, so she just got up and went out, and she quickly sent a message.

[No need to come and pick me up, we will leave after a while.]

But the other party did not reply again, Stella was a little helpless, probably he was ready to go out at this time.

Boom!

At exactly this time, Jessica came back. She opened the car door and sat in. By the way, the cold air from outside was also brought in. Stella bent forward subconsciously and blocked the cold air for Levi. .

“Back?” Stella asked softly.

Jessica was terribly scared just now, so her face was still pale at the moment. After looking at each other with Stella, she seemed to have not noticed her face at all, but just nodded blankly.

Stella looked at her for a moment, “What’s the matter?”

“Huh?” Jessica’s voice was a little loud. After she realized that her voice might be noisy to Levi, she quickly reached out her hand to cover her mouth and shook her head and whispered: “No.”

“No?” Stella knew what had happened when she saw her dodging eyes, and raised her eyebrows: “Your face is as white as a ghost, and you still say it’s okay?”

Hearing, Jessica quickly reached out and covered her face.

Is her face white? Bad.

Jessica quickly took out the mirror and took a photo. She really found that her face was ugly. She took out the blush to make it up, but Stella next to her lowered her voice and said, “No need to make up, your eyes have betrayed you. Come on, what’s going on? You have something wrong since just now. What’s wrong?”

Jessica paused, and after a while she closed the blush box, then looked at Stella, and said seriously: "Actually, I have a stomachache and want to shit!"

Stella: "..."

"But where is the toilet in this barren mountain? I can only endure it. I endure a cold sweat."

Stella: "..."

"Hey, I really want to go to the bathroom." Jessica touched her cheek and smiled dryly. God knows that in order to hide her emotions, she was so panicked and so embarrassed.

Fortunately, the male god is not in the car, otherwise... she would never say these words.

Thinking of this, Jessica Pi smiled and pursed her lips.

Stella was speechless for a while, and couldn't tell whether what Jessica said was true or false. After a while, she asked again: "Then what do you do now? Can you bear it?"

"Of course." Jessica nodded vigorously: "I held it back."

Stella silently said for a while, "I don't think you will cook anymore."

Jessica: "Why?"

"After this conversation tonight, I won't be able to look at you directly anymore."

Jessica: "..."

After ten minutes, the car on the highway was notified that it was ready to pass.

So the car drove forward slowly, Jessica became nervous again, lying by the window looking at the surrounding vehicles, wouldn't he bump into Walter?

Think about it maybe not.

But she was still very worried. The journey to Beich was still far away. If she and Stella went to other places, they would have to go to Beich. Although Jessica didn't understand why Walter appeared in Su City for some reason, she l'm really afraid of the sad thing that will lead to Stella.

Therefore, seeing Walter staying overnight, she certainly did not dare to say it in front of Stella.

"What? You can't hold it anymore?"

A faint voice came from her side. Jessica turned her head and saw Stella looking at her with a faint smile on her face. Her cold eyes were like a frozen lake, as if everything could do anything. Reflected from the inside.

Jessica suddenly felt that what she had just said was just making a fool of herself in front of her. In fact, she might already know what she was thinking.

However, this does not prevent her from acting stupid to the end.

Anyway, Stella couldn't think of that person, she simply closed her eyes and sat on one side and stopped answering Stella's words, nor did she pretend.

She didn't want to say, and Stella didn't force her to ask.

After all, everyone has their own secrets, Jessica's secrets, just let her protect them.

The road was crowded at first, but it soon became unobstructed. The car drove very fast in the dark. Gradually, Stella also felt tired, just as Jessica's voice came.

"You can go to bed first. I've slept for a while and I'm not sleepy. I just watch, let's talk about Uncle Nan's presence."

"Yeah." Stella nodded, then leaned back in the chair and fell asleep quickly.

Soon, her breathing became even.

Jessica turned her head to look at Stella's sleeping face, the expression on her face changed a bit.

Alas, she hope she does not run into that guy this time, or else... She really doesn't know what to do.

Perhaps Stella was the one who was the most helpless.

After all, that was the person who had hurt her deeply, but... at the same time, he was also the one that Stella had loved deeply.
