#14 - Chapter 14 The angry yellow-skinned man!

"Clang!"

A dagger struck Lin Tianhao's Thunderclap Bow, sending a series of sparks flying.

"It's you again!"

Lin Tianhao frowned. This was the assassin who had previously tried to steal his boss.

As soon as the Treant Set was equipped, Lin Tianhao's dual resistances increased, and his health also received a significant boost.

At the same time, Lin Tianhao rolled to the side, avoiding the assassin player's attack.

However, just as he avoided the assassin player's attack,

Lin Tianhao was slightly startled.

Because the assassin player had disappeared.

Not stealth.

Lin Tianhao could feel the assassin player was right behind him.

He turned around without hesitation.

However, he still didn't see anything.

If there were bystanders, they would have noticed that the assassin was always behind Lin Tianhao, or more precisely, in his blind spot.

Making it impossible for Lin Tianhao to see him.

"Shadowstep?"

Lin Tianhao's expression turned grim.

Shadowstep wasn't a skill, but a technique.

The method of execution was to use movement to block the opponent's vision, as if hiding in the enemy's shadow.

Hence the name Shadowstep.

Hearing Lin Tianhao speak out the technique he was using, the assassin player was slightly surprised.

But in that instant, Lin Tianhao had already made his move.

"Whoosh!"

An arrow flew through the air. This time, Lin Tianhao didn't turn around, but used his leg to draw the longbow, firing an arrow backward.

This assassin player had combat skills, and Lin Tianhao, as a reborn individual, also had some unique combat skills.

Lin Tianhao's operation was outrageous. Coupled with the assassin player's slight surprise just now, he was caught off guard and hit by Lin Tianhao's arrow.

-1352.

The assassin player was instantly killed by the arrow. Unfortunately, he didn't drop any equipment this time.

"This assassin player is still targeting me."

Lin Tianhao muttered to himself. He originally thought that his conflict with the assassin player was just a small friction.

But he didn't expect the assassin player to launch a surprise attack on him today without saying a word.

Novice Village, within the resurrection altar.

Shadowkill's expression was somewhat solemn, "Fast reaction speed, high damage, good combat skills, and he even knows Shadowstep..."

"Snow Emperor, no matter who you are, you've killed me twice. One day, I will kill you back."

If Lin Tianhao heard his words, he would definitely curse back.

Damn it, the first time was when he tried to steal the boss, and Lin Tianhao only took action to kill him.

This time, he was the one who made the first move.

However, Lin Tianhao didn't know any of this.

He had now found the bard in the Novice Village.

He was dressed neatly, but he had a mustache, which made him look a bit comical.

Bard: Level 15.

Health: ???

Attack: ???

Skills: ???

Note: This is a wandering bard near the Novice Village. Perhaps you can get unexpected benefits from him.

This note made many players think that the bard had quests or was selling something good.

But that wasn't the case.

This was just a humanoid boss with intelligence, not a high rank, only Black Iron.

But his skills were very strange.

Back then, he was defeated by thousands of Novice Village players working together.

This time, Lin Tianhao wanted to use him to relive some of his operations from his previous life.

Just like Lin Tianhao's previous answer to Floating Pagoda Shield Mountain.

Kiting is just the most basic skill for archers.

Before, Lin Tianhao used the Thunderclap Bow for close-quarters combat to block the assassin player's sneak attack, which was also a kind of skill.

Lin Tianhao hid behind a large tree and drew his bow.

When the energy arrow formed, the hand holding the bowstring began to rotate the bowstring, twisting it into a thin braid.

And the direction Lin Tianhao aimed the arrow wasn't the direction of the bard, but the left side.

"Whoosh!!"

The arrow broke through the air.

Not far away, Shadowkill, who was deep in stealth, frowned. He guessed that Lin Tianhao might be hunting the bard, but the direction of the arrow was wrong.

But what happened next left Shadowkill dumbfounded.

The arrow that Lin Tianhao shot out actually turned in mid-air, and finally accurately hit the bard standing in the distance.

-925.

A huge damage number appeared. The bard was also a little stunned by the sudden attack, because Lin Tianhao was behind the big tree and didn't expose himself at all.

This was one of the archer's shooting skills, the Twisting String Arrow Technique!

By rotating the bowstring, the arrow was made to spin and fly out.

By controlling the power and angle, the arrow could be made to turn.

Not only that, the arrow would spin at high speed in the air, so when it hit the enemy, the arrow would have a high penetration effect, dealing more damage.

"Whoosh!"

Another arrow.

"Found you."

When the bard saw Lin Tianhao attack again, although he didn't see Lin Tianhao's position, he saw the direction from which Lin Tianhao's arrow flew.

He leaped up and was about to rush towards Lin Tianhao.

"Whoosh!"

However, while still in mid-air, the arrow had already hit him.

The huge impact brought by the Twisting String Arrow Technique caused the bard's body to be knocked back more than a meter in the air.

Then came the second arrow, the third arrow...

The arrows that followed were all with extremely strong impact.

Immediately afterwards, Shadowkill saw a scene that left him dumbfounded.

The bard was hit by Lin Tianhao in the air and couldn't fall down.

Just as the bard was about to fall, Lin Tianhao broke his fantasy with an arrow, knocking him back again.

Moreover, the position of the arrow was tricky, and while knocking the bard back, it also carried the bard up into the air a little.

"This..."

Shadowkill was an extremely calm assassin, but now seeing Lin Tianhao's operation, he was so shocked that he didn't know what to say.

However, his strong combat experience told Shadowkill that it was very difficult, very, very difficult, to achieve Lin Tianhao's step!

Because when the first arrow hit the bard, he had to consider the landing point of the third arrow.

Otherwise, it would be impossible to achieve such continuous knockback.

Moreover, in Twilight of the Gods, after an opponent is knocked into the air, they will suffer combo damage.

However, generally only warrior-type classes have skills that knock enemies into the air, and then connect other skills to deal combo damage.

But Lin Tianhao, an archer, actually dealt such outrageous combo damage.

"Roar!!"

The bard roared angrily, and his body rapidly swelled, from the original bard, into a creature over three meters tall.

Covered in brown fur... a weasel!

At the same time, the bard's attribute panel also changed.

Raging Weasel (Black Iron): Level 15.

Health: 1012500 / 1253000.

Attack: 813.

Skills: Yellow Mountain Illusion, Teleportation, Super Armor, Berserk, Soul Extraction, Soul Control.
