

Online game: I have super god-level talent

#17 - Chapter 17: Major clubs are vying to win over!

Lin Tianhao had actually noticed the scene happening beside him.

However, he didn't say anything and continued to attack the yellow weasel.

After solving the streamer, Shadow Kill didn't stealth again, but stood not far away watching, seemingly to guard Lin Tianhao.

Eight minutes later...

“Ding, you have killed the novice village hidden boss, the Furious Yellow Weasel, experience +15495.”

...

“Damn, another first kill? What kind of boss is this Furious Yellow Weasel? From the main city?”

“I don't know, there doesn't seem to be this boss in the novice village.”

“Snow Emperor is not on the level榜 yet. I've checked the level榜 for level 10 players, and Snow Emperor isn't there. He's still in the novice village.”

...

Countless players began to discuss it.

At this time, Brother Hu and Brother Jiangcheng, who walked out of the revival altar, also heard the system notification.

He took out his live broadcast replay and was immediately stunned.

“That's Snow Emperor?”

“Awesome, I'm going to make a fortune! I actually have a video of Snow Emperor soloing a boss.”

Thinking of this, Brother Hu and Brother Jiangcheng had already forgotten about being killed.

They quickly edited the video and posted it online.

Title: Snow Emperor solos the novice village hidden boss, super explosive!

As soon as this video was posted on the forum of Gods Twilight, it immediately topped the trending searches.

Most ordinary players were just watching the excitement. After all, they couldn't see the problem with Lin Tianhao's infinite floating technique.

It's like ordinary people watching a nuclear bomb explosion. They probably just look at the mushroom cloud and don't understand the technical content.

But in just five minutes...

This video had already been placed on the big screen in the analysis rooms of major clubs. Major guilds and clubs began to hold emergency meetings.

Chasing Dreams Club!

Chasing Dreams Yanxue went offline to hold an emergency meeting.

In the conference room, three analysts, General Manager Li Haitao, and several high-level archer players were present.

“Cousin, I think Snow Emperor should be using some kind of skill that can continuously knock enemies into the air.”

Li Haitao took the lead in speaking. He knew nothing about the game, so naturally he couldn't see the value of Lin Tianhao's technique.

“You don't know anything!”

Chasing Dreams Yanxue shouted angrily, “Also, call me Boss in the company.”

The three analysts trembled. The server opening time of Gods Twilight was too short, and there wasn't much control over various data.

“Boss, the way he draws his bow is wrong. If you look closely, his arrows are spinning at high speed in the air. He must be using some kind of combat technique.”

“What about you guys?”

Chasing Dreams Yanxue looked at the archer players.

One of them said solemnly: “Boss, this is indeed a game technique. I've seen a hunter use this technique before.”

“He can make a puppet float continuously in the air. According to his explanation, this requires precise prediction.”

“The first arrow must be considered for the position of the third and even the fourth arrow, otherwise, if one arrow is wrong, the floating cannot be continued.”

At this point, the archer player sighed again, “After Gods Twilight opened, I thought about using this technique in the game, but I didn't expect that someone would already be so proficient in it.”

Hearing the archer player's explanation, Chasing Dreams Yanxue nodded, “As I expected, this game is a fully immersive virtual reality, and many real-world combat techniques can be realized here.”

“Even because of attribute bonuses, some combat techniques that cannot be completed in reality can be completed in the game.”

Li Haitao didn't care much, “Boss, no matter how powerful he is, he's only level nine, and he's still far behind you, Boss.”

Chasing Dreams Yanxue glanced at Li Haitao coldly, then looked at the archers.

“If I let you practice this technique, how long would it take?”

Everyone was silent. After a while, the game expert who had analyzed it before said: “With deliberate practice, about five years.”

“What?!”

Chasing Dreams Yanxue was stunned.

Five years?

“Boss, archery skills depend a lot on talent. If you have monstrous talent, you might be able to master it in three months, but that kind of person is rare, one in a million.”

“Moreover, to achieve the level of skilled combo floating boss like Snow Emperor, we might not be able to do it in ten years.”

Chasing Dreams Yanxue said with a sullen face, “Okay, I understand.”

After saying this, Chasing Dreams Yanxue re-entered the game.

In fact, it wasn't just the Chasing Dreams Club.

In Dragon Country, major clubs were analyzing this video intensively.

In the end, they all came to a very terrifying fact.

That is, Lin Tianhao's operation was outrageous, very, very outrageous. It was impossible for a normal person to perform such an operation.

“Server-wide broadcast: Chasing Dreams Club sincerely invites Snow Emperor to join, with an annual salary of 100 million, other benefits are negotiable!”

“Server-wide broadcast: Chasing Dreams Club sincerely invites Snow Emperor to join, with an annual salary of 100 million, other benefits are negotiable!”

...

The voice of the server-wide broadcast is similar to a server-wide announcement, and everyone can hear it.

Because Lin Tianhao had turned off adding friends and private messages from non-friends, it seemed that the only way to find him was through the server-wide broadcast.

However, a server-wide broadcast costs ten gold coins at this stage!

Don't think that Lin Tianhao has a lot of gold coins in his hand, but how many people can replicate Lin Tianhao's model?

However, just as the server-wide broadcast from the Chasing Dreams Club ended, another server-wide broadcast sounded.

“Server-wide broadcast: Asura Guild sincerely invites Snow Emperor to join, with an annual salary of 110 million, and you will be the vice president upon joining, other benefits are negotiable.”

“Server-wide broadcast: Asura Guild sincerely invites Snow Emperor to join, with an annual salary of 110 million, and you will be the vice president upon joining, other benefits are negotiable.”

“Server-wide broadcast: Kuangzhan Guild sincerely invites Snow Emperor to join, with an annual salary of 110 million, and you will be the vice president upon joining, and a luxury villa will be given, other benefits are negotiable.”

The server-wide broadcasts that sounded one after another directly made the entire internet boil.

“Damn, did I hear correctly? The starting salary is 100 million a year. Is this money? Isn't this ghost money!”

“I'm kneeling, a level nine player, what virtue and ability does he have that can make major clubs compete for him like this? Aren't they afraid that he's just a flash in the pan, a meat bun hitting a dog?”

“If you don't understand, don't talk nonsense. It may take some people ten years to perform Snow Emperor's infinite floating operation.”

“Clubs aren't stupid. They are willing to offer this price, definitely because Snow Emperor is worth this price.”

...

Countless people were shocked, but Lin Tianhao was currently looting the corpse to check the rewards.
