

Online game: I have super god-level talent

#18 - Chapter 18 Special Operations Group: Shadow Kill!

"Ding, you have obtained 45 skill books."

"Ding, you have obtained 65 pieces of equipment."

"Ding, you have obtained +500 gold coins."

This weasel was a bard in its previous life, and it has a lot of good things on it.

After roughly scanning the weasel's equipment and skill books, there seemed to be something he could learn... it really seemed to be there.

But not much.

Out of the forty-five skill books, Lin Tianhao picked and chose, and there were three suitable for his class, one of which increased attack power, which was better than nothing.

As for the second one, it increased movement speed.

This was very useful for Lin Tianhao.

His current weakness was movement speed.

Haste: 1 star.

Effect: Increases your movement speed by 0.5 for 10 seconds after release.

Cooldown: 5 minutes.

Consumption: 10MP.

Proficiency: 0/100.

Similar to this kind of proficiency, using the skill once increases the proficiency by one point.

An increase of 0.5 in movement speed was a bit tasteless for Lin Tianhao.

Especially since this was a fixed increase, not a percentage increase.

In other words, learning this skill wouldn't help much, and it would also distract him.

Sometimes, the more skills you have, the better, because if you have too many skills, you may hesitate when releasing them, or even get stuck.

Before, in the online game, there was a game character who could learn hundreds of skills, and players couldn't even figure out how to configure them, or what skills were more suitable for which situation.

Therefore, Lin Tianhao kept this skill and did not learn it immediately.

As for the third skill suitable for him to learn.

Invincible Golden Body: 1 star.

Effect: You will enter an invincible state for 0.5 seconds.

Cooldown: 24 hours.

Consumption: 100MP.

Proficiency: 0/10.

This was definitely a divine skill. Don't think that it only has 0.5 seconds of invincibility. This state can definitely be improved according to time later.

However, the consumption of 100 points of mana made Lin Tianhao a little headache.

His total mana now was only fifty points.

In other words, after he learned this skill, he couldn't release it at all.

Just stare blankly!

It was so outrageous!

Use free attribute points to increase mana?

To be honest, Lin Tianhao was reluctant.

It would be okay to use it to increase movement speed, but increasing mana was always a bit awkward.

In fact, in the early stage of the game, mana has always been a pain for many players, especially mages.

Because mages rely heavily on skills, they naturally have higher requirements for spell power and mana.

However, many mage equipment can increase mana and spell power, but archer equipment mainly increases attack power, movement speed, attack speed, critical hit, and life steal.

There were too few equipment that increased mana.

He also got 10 free attribute points from killing the weasel, but Lin Tianhao didn't directly add them to attack speed.

The current attack speed of 3.63 was enough for now.

His current weakness was movement speed!

And also... he needed mana!

Even if he couldn't use the Invincible Golden Body skill now, he could still increase the proficiency first.

But with insufficient mana, he couldn't even increase the proficiency.

Headache!

But after only a brief hesitation, Lin Tianhao added the attribute points to mana.

Attack speed and movement speed can be improved later. Adding mana not only allows him to use the Invincible Golden Body skill, but he will also have other skills that require MP consumption in the future, so mana is indispensable.

With ten free attribute points, Lin Tianhao added all of them to mana, and his mana increased to one hundred.

Then, Lin Tianhao unhesitatingly used the Invincible Golden Body, increasing one point of proficiency.

At the same time, Lin Tianhao's eyes fell on the assassin player not far away.

At this time.

Shadow Kill took a step forward.

"Let me introduce myself, my name is Shadow Kill, and I am an external member of the Dragon Kingdom War Department."

Lin Tianhao was shocked, Shadow Kill!!

This was a famous god-level assassin in his previous life!

That's right, he was an assassin with a god-level talent. In addition to his high talent, Shadow Kill came from a special department of the Dragon Kingdom War Department. It is said that he used to be a notorious mercenary who had experienced countless battles, large and small. Later, he was recruited and rose all the way.

His combat skills were also very rich. With his god-level talent, he jumped to become one of the strongest assassins.

He actually had a chance to become the strongest assassin, but unfortunately, he obtained a saint-level hidden class, which lowered his height.

If his hidden class was also god-level, then with his double god-level hidden class and his skills, he would definitely be able to become the strongest assassin.

"What's the matter?"

Lin Tianhao asked calmly.

Shadow Kill asked solemnly: "Snow Emperor, our War Department wants to form a special operations group in the game and wants to invite you to join."

Lin Tianhao knew about this special operations group. In his previous life, when the Great Cataclysm came, this special operations group of the Dragon Kingdom became the mainstay in the fight against the Aleta star system.

It was precisely because of the existence of this special operations group that Lin Tianhao and most of the middle and upper-level people were able to live a relatively stable life.

"I need to consider it."

Lin Tianhao did not refuse outright. He was very optimistic about this special operations group.

But if he wanted to enter, he would have to be in the management of this special operations group, or even the leader!

Otherwise, he would not plan to enter this special operations group.

"Aren't you going to ask about the benefits?"

Shadow Kill thought that Lin Tianhao was refusing, so he couldn't help but ask again.

Lin Tianhao smiled and shook his head, "No need, I still have some things to deal with next."

"Moreover, now is not the time for me to negotiate terms with you."

He hadn't shown much of what he had yet, and maybe he could get others to pay attention to him.

But to really gain real power in the War Department, that was far from enough.

"Okay, what I can tell you is that the benefits of the special operations group are much better than those of clubs and guilds."

"Okay."

Lin Tianhao waved to show that he understood.

Shadow Kill turned around and prepared to leave, but Lin Tianhao stopped him.

"Wait."

Shadow Kill turned his head in surprise, "What? Changed your mind?"

Lin Tianhao shook his head, "I understand that you wanted to steal the boss before. Wild bosses are meant to be stolen, but it was wrong of you to try to kill me later."

Shadow Kill's eyes narrowed, "What do you want to do?"

"It's nothing, I'll send you back to the village for free!"

"Whoosh!"

Lin Tianhao shot an arrow.

Shadow Kill raised his hand subconsciously to prepare to fight back, but when he saw the arrow flying over, he finally put down his dagger and was taken away by Lin Tianhao with two arrows.

Before he died, he said: "This should be cleared up, right?"

Lin Tianhao remained noncommittal. After killing Shadow Kill, he took out the task scroll he got from the weasel.

This new task scroll was very interesting.

"In ancient times, the Yellow Emperor's son became a drought demon after his death. He fought for the Yellow Emperor against Chi You, but was sealed by Chi You below the novice village."

"Task requirement: Release the sealed son of the Yellow Emperor."

"Task penalty: All fire attribute attacks you receive in the future will have double damage."

"Task reward: Unknown."

This task was exactly the opposite of the task scroll dropped by the Nine-Headed Serpent Cypress that he killed before.

One was to destroy the novice village, with the purpose of not letting the drought demon come out.

And this task scroll was to release the drought demon. The task requirements did not conflict.

In other words, Lin Tianhao could complete both tasks at the same time.
