

Online game: I have super god-level talent

C 21

Shadow Kill was a little surprised. He had to admit, Lin Tianhao's idea was a bit crazy.

But having seen Lin Tianhao's skills, Shadow Kill knew that Lin Tianhao's method was completely feasible.

"Okay."

"Then let's find Elfus first."

Lin Tianhao sent Shadow Kill a team invitation.

"I'll take you to level up first."

For experience distribution, Lin Tianhao still took ninety percent, there was no way around it, ninety percent was the limit.

Afterward, Lin Tianhao started to kill monsters instantly!

One arrow per Stone Beetle.

Moreover, because of the Lightning Leap, some Stone Beetles were killed by the Lightning Leap before Lin Tianhao even attacked.

Even though Lin Tianhao had an experience penalty for carrying low-level players, he couldn't resist his fast monster-killing speed.

In just ten minutes.

Because Lin Tianhao had already started farming elite Stone Beetles, the experience was naturally higher.

"Snow Emperor, your damage is the most outrageous I've ever seen. Did you awaken a talent?"

"Yes."

Lin Tianhao nodded.

Shadow Kill tactfully didn't ask what Lin Tianhao's talent was.

Because that would be crossing the line.

Talent is everyone's secret.

Even if Lin Tianhao was reborn, he had only heard of many people's talents.

Or roughly knew the level, but the effect of the talent was completely unknown.

For example, Shadow Kill.

Lin Tianhao knew that he had a God-level talent, but they didn't know what the attributes of the talent were.

Just then, Lin Tianhao and Shadow Kill heard a reprimanding voice coming from the depths of the cave.

"Elfus, you ingrate! The master treated you so well, yet you stole the master's ore."

Lin Tianhao and Shadow Kill carefully approached.

In front, Lin Tianhao saw these three NPCs.

Elfus was a slightly short young man, while the other two were strong and sturdy men.

Elfus: Level 10.

Health Points: ???

Attack: ???

Skills: ???

(Note: He was originally a spy planted by the old village chief next to the blacksmith Wang, and carries very valuable things.)

Besides Elfus, the attributes of the other two NPCs were similar.

Health points, attack, skills, were all question marks.

The difference was that their notes were Wang the blacksmith's apprentices, and helping them could get you unexpected benefits.

If it were ordinary players, they would definitely choose to help these two NPCs.

But Lin Tianhao didn't. Although he already had a plan, he still wanted to wait and see if there would be any new developments.

Twilight of the Gods, must not be treated as a simple game.

You have to treat this place as a parallel world, and treat NPCs as people with flesh and blood.

Only in this way can you get more rewards.

Shadow Kill followed Lin Tianhao, still watching from a distance, without speaking.

"Blacksmith Wang has wild ambitions. As a villager of the novice village, I will definitely inform the village chief of his wild ambitions and let the village chief kill Blacksmith Wang!"

Although Elfus was thin, his eyes were unusually firm.

"He actually wants to use the Ice Flame Magic Mine to release that boss that exceeds the limit of the novice village, so our novice village will surely be plunged into misery."

Hearing this, Wang the blacksmith's two apprentices snorted, "Enough, it's not up to you to tell our master what to do."

"The old village chief is 昏庸无能, our master is the only candidate for village chief."

The two sides argued endlessly.

Indeed!

Wang the blacksmith was lying to him!

Lin Tianhao's eyes became subtle.

He took the Ice Flame Magic Mine not for his so-called improvement of his weapon quality.

But wanted to release a certain boss.

What hidden boss is there in this novice village?

Could it be a zombie?

Without giving Lin Tianhao much time to think, Elfus and Wang the blacksmith's two apprentices were already fighting together.

The strength of the three was equal, but because of the difference in numbers, Elfus soon fell into a disadvantage.

"咻!"

The feather arrow pierced through the air.

Lin Tianhao made his move.

His feather arrow cut through the air, hitting Wang San's head with one arrow.

-2512.

A huge critical damage number appeared.

At the same time, a huge damage number also appeared above Lin Tianhao's head.

-1256!!

Reflected damage!!

Lin Tianhao's eyes narrowed, his current life steal was not enough, and he would definitely not be able to withstand this kind of monster with reflected damage.

The opponent was at least a level 10 boss, and even the worst attributes would not be worse than the Twisted Treant King, or even higher.

Being suddenly attacked.

Wang San looked over with gloomy eyes.

"Adventurers? You were sent by the old village chief to meet Elfus, this traitor."

"In that case, you can all die."

As soon as he finished speaking, Wang San raised the big knife in his hand and slashed down.

"咻!"

Lin Tianhao was quick-eyed and quick-handed, and an arrow pierced through the air, interrupting Wang San's attack rhythm.

However, Wang San's fifty percent reflected damage effect made Lin Tianhao's scalp tingle.

This reflected damage was very perverted in the early stage of the game.

Lin Tianhao's current set attributes also had a reflected damage effect, but it was only ten percent.

The gap between the two was obvious.

Shadow Kill also knew that the opponent had reflected damage, which was also a headache for him as an assassin.

"How do we fight?"

Shadow Kill asked in a deep voice.

"Kiting."

Lin Tianhao's expression was indifferent.

Although reflected damage had a significant impact on him, it was not completely without room for manipulation.

After all, their main task was to assist Elfus in the battle.

"Wang San and Wang Si both have reflected damage armor, and the reflected damage attribute is very high, but their health points are not high."

Elfus's voice sounded, he raised his hand, and two clusters of dark light flew into Lin Tianhao's body.

"Ding, you have received Elfus's blessing, and the damage you take is reduced by 10%."

Lin Tianhao's eyes lit up, this blessing was a timely help.

He immediately put on the Jungle Longbow.

For no other reason, the Jungle Longbow could add five hundred health points and two percent life steal effect.

When encountering this kind of reflected damage opponent, life steal became a crucial attribute.

You reflected damage is powerful?

As long as my life steal is more powerful than you, then you can only stare blankly.

Although Lin Tianhao's main weapon did not belong to the Treant Set, the basic health regeneration per second was still as high as one hundred and eighty points.

Adding the life steal of the Jungle Longbow, and the 10% damage reduction under Elfus's blessing, then he might be able to kite with Wang San and Wang Si.

"咻!"

Another high critical damage appeared.

Lin Tianhao's health points dropped by a little over a thousand.

Health regeneration began to appear continuously on his body.

Shadow Kill stood there, he was still waiting, without rashly attacking.

As an assassin.

When encountering a combat environment that is unfavorable to oneself, one must remain calm and find the best opportunity to attack.

"Kill this kid first."

Wang Si roared and rushed towards Lin Tianhao.

Stringing Arrow Technique!

Lin Tianhao used the powerful impact of the Stringing Arrow Technique to force Wang Si back.
