Chapter 49 Release the drought demon and shake the ten directions!

Princess Leona smiled noncommittally. "I know, but so what!"

As soon as she finished speaking,

Princess Leona attacked without hesitation.

In the blink of an eye, she froze everything within a hundred miles!

Village Chief Wang's eyes widened as he was frozen in place, unable to move.

"Snow Empress, open the seal."

Lin Tianhao nodded and stored all his equipment in the guild warehouse. Then, he placed the Iceflame Magic Ore and the mysterious key separately.

In the next instant,

the earth trembled.

The yin-yang fish pattern began to crack, and scorching heat emanated from below.

"I can't die, I'm leaving first."

Princess Leona took a step and disappeared.

Lin Tianhao's scalp tingled.

If you're running away through a spatial rift, take me with you.

What's going on? Leaving me here alone?

Just then, a server-wide announcement sounded.

"Alert, alert, someone has released the sealed Drought Demon. The world boss Drought Demon is about to appear. All adventurers, please be careful."

"What the hell? Am I hallucinating?"

"You're not hallucinating. A world boss? Are you sure the system isn't bugging out? At this stage, we're struggling to fight even a Black Iron boss. How are we supposed to fight this world boss?"

"Hehe, although I don't know how to fight it, I'm sure that if we take it down, the rewards will be very generous."

... ..

Twilight of the Gods was in an uproar.

Major clubs, conglomerates, and the government all convened emergency meetings.

A sudden world boss.

No matter who it is,

whoever can take down this world boss will receive immeasurable benefits.

The government, the War Department!

An old man with graying temples appeared in the conference room.

"You are all the most skilled analysts in our Dragon Country. Our Special Operations team has encountered Black Iron, Bronze, and even Silver bosses. This time, we must take down this world boss."

Hearing this, the leading analyst shook his head.

"Chief, according to our calculations, the world boss's health should be no less than one hundred million, and all its attributes will be extremely terrifying."

"Even if our entire Special Operations team acts together, the result will be a drop in the bucket."

"Is there no way?" The old man frowned.

"There is a way, and that is a human wave tactic. In the core main cities, the number of players is in the tens of millions."

"If tens of millions of players besiege it, there might be a one in ten thousand chance of killing this world boss."

"One in ten thousand?"

The old man almost thought he had misheard.

"Tens of millions of players acting together, and there's only a one in ten thousand chance?"

"That's right."

The analyst nodded. "This is considering the combined efforts of those with hidden classes and high-level talents; otherwise, there's not even a sliver of a chance."

"Alright, I understand."

The old man's expression was not good.

The world boss was a hope, but they were helpless.

Even the War Department was helpless, and the results of discussions among other clubs and guilds were similar.

That is, at this stage, players cannot possibly have the strength to contend with the world boss.

The Drought Demon's emergence!

It wasn't just the players who were alarmed, but also certain beings in Twilight of the Gods.

Starry Kingdom.

Royal Palace.

After hearing the server-wide announcement, Queen Fia Odin immediately looked up towards the direction of the Novice Village.

"After so many years, has it finally come out?"

Beside the Queen was a hunched old woman.

She held a skull staff in her hand, and a somewhat sharp, raspy voice sounded.

"Queen, this might be an opportunity for us."

Hearing this, Fia Odin's eyes flashed with a cold light. "The Starry Kingdom has been too peaceful for too long. It's indeed time for some changes to happen."

"Arrange it. The plan can begin to be implemented."

... ..

It wasn't just the Royal Palace; other people in the Starry Kingdom also began to take action.

The appearance of a world boss could completely change the current landscape.

Lin Tianhao didn't know any of this.

He was currently standing next to the yin-yang fish formation.

Scorching heat was searing his skin.

"Ding, you are suffering from burning damage, and will continuously lose health."

-4000.

-4000.

... ..

Lin Tianhao was numb.

It hadn't even completely broken through the seal, and it was already so perverted?

You need to know.

Lin Tianhao's Purification Jade Pendant could immunize against eighty percent of negative effects.

Burning was also a negative effect.

That is to say.

If he didn't have the Purification Jade Pendant's immunity, he would lose twenty thousand health per second.

In his previous life, he had never fought the Drought Demon, and he didn't know much about its strength.

But now, he had a clearer understanding.

"Boom!!"

A loud noise.

The sky collapsed and the earth cracked.

Lin Tianhao was directly blown away.

-99999.

The damage just grazed him, and his health bar plummeted.

But Lin Tianhao didn't care.

He was seeking death anyway.

As long as he died, he could be resurrected in the main city.

Immediately afterwards.

He saw a figure wrapped in flames soaring into the sky.

Wherever its gaze passed, raging flames ignited.

However.

When its gaze landed on Lin Tianhao, the flames disappeared, and it slowly walked towards Lin Tianhao.

Lin Tianhao also began to check its information.

????: ????

Health: ????

Attack: ????

Skills: ????

Lin Tianhao: ????

How high was this level that even the name was a question mark?

"Did you release me?"

A magnetic voice sounded, soft within the hard, making it impossible to tell its gender.

Moreover.

This person's face was ferocious, and it was equally impossible to distinguish male from female based on appearance.

According to the previous quest prompt.

This person should be the son of the Yellow Emperor.

But Lin Tianhao remembered that in myths and legends, the one who became the Drought Demon was clearly the daughter of the Yellow Emperor.

The quest prompts in Twilight of the Gods were not necessarily entirely correct, so Lin Tianhao reserved his own opinion.

"Yes."

The Drought Demon glanced at Lin Tianhao and sneered: "Didn't you think that releasing me would cause widespread suffering?"

Hearing this,

"I don't think so. You were a good person in the beginning, and now, I still believe in you."

"A good person?"

The Drought Demon smiled noncommittally. "I was indeed a good person once. I helped many people, and even after becoming a Drought Demon, I was still helping people."

"But just because I am a Drought Demon, everyone spoke ill of me and wanted to destroy me. If my origin wasn't immortal and indestructible, I'm afraid it wouldn't have been a seal, but a complete obliteration."

At this point,

the Drought Demon instantly grabbed Lin Tianhao's neck. "I don't want to be a good person anymore. I want to be a great demon, the greatest demon in the world!"
