

O game 51

Chapter 51: My good brother was also abused once!

In the Twilight of the Gods.

Players remain in the game even after logging off.

This is why Lin Tianhao chose to return to the novice village to log off after killing Shadow Kill.

He was afraid of being found and killed while being uncontrolled.

As long as he's offline, he doesn't have to fear being spawn-camped.

Lin Tianhao's lips curled up.

A faint smile appeared on his face.

After logging off.

The sky was just beginning to brighten.

It was still a bit too early for breakfast.

He entered the forum for Twilight of the Gods.

It wasn't the official forum, but one created by prominent players, encompassing all the major servers worldwide.

First, he entered the Dragon Country region.

The Dragon Country region was very lively, with the most discussion revolving around various game strategies.

The novice villages in the Dragon Country region were already abandoned.

Most novice players were discussing how level one players could grind monsters in the main cities.

At the same time, there was no shortage of various greetings directed at the player who destroyed the novice villages.

One post was extremely popular, detailing a strategy for leveling up in Blackwind City without grinding monsters.

In Twilight of the Gods, leveling up isn't just about grinding monsters.

For example, errands like delivering letters, or becoming an apprentice alchemist or blacksmith, etc., can all earn experience points.

If all else fails, you can even work in a tavern; these all have experience point rewards.

Lin Tianhao glanced over the post. Perhaps due to some guilt, he replied below:

"The east city of Blackwind City is repairing the city walls. Applying there can get you three hundred experience points per hour. If you know a bit about bricklaying or carpentry, you can even get five hundred+ experience points per hour."

This should be a task with high demand, generous rewards, and suitable for most novice players.

No need to grind monsters, just carrying bricks for a day can earn a lot of experience points.

"Holy crap, really? I'm tempted. I'll go try it."

Lin Tianhao had just replied when someone with ulterior motives noticed it.

Exiting that post.

Lin Tianhao saw a post whose popularity was soaring.

"Our Dragon Country region has a 【Peerless Good Samaritan】 , a reward of twenty free attribute points and two bronze equipment for killing him once!!"

The flashy title immediately attracted a lot of attention.

Lin Tianhao raised an eyebrow.

He clicked on it subconsciously.

As he expected, he was that 【Peerless Good Samaritan】 .

The person had posted the bounty missions from both Blackwind City and the Starsea Kingdom.

There was also a video of him standing in the resurrection altar being spawn-camped by hundreds of thousands of people.

Lin Tianhao's mouth twitched. This was simply inhumane.

Using himself to farm equipment and free attribute points, and even posting it online.

Damn it!

What kind of reborn person suffers such grievances?

Lin Tianhao exited the post, preparing to go out and get something to eat.

"Doctor, how is my sister's condition now?"

Lin Tianhao found the doctor on duty.

The doctor on duty picked up the latest test report and said:

"Your sister's condition is improving, but as of now, there is no immediate danger to her life, but there is a high probability that she will be in a vegetative state."

Lin Tianhao nodded. As long as they could maintain her vegetative state, that was good.

Because people in vegetative states can also enter the game. As for the rest, they would have to wait and see.

"Then doctor, when will my sister be able to leave the hospital?"

"She had brain surgery, so it will probably be about half a month."

Lin Tianhao sighed. Half a month would put Lin Qingqing far behind.

But it wasn't a big problem, as long as she entered the game, he could carry Lin Qingqing.

Wait...

Lin Tianhao suddenly thought of a very terrible thing!

That was, it seemed like he couldn't carry Lin Qingqing to level up!!

Lin Qingqing was in a vegetative state, so they couldn't communicate offline.

Then.

Even if Lin Qingqing entered the game through the gaming device, her game class, nickname, place of birth...

Lin Tianhao was completely ignorant of all of these!

How would he contact Lin Qingqing?

This was simply a problem of the century.

There was also.

The global server broadcast.

This might be a way for him to find Lin Qingqing.

Lin Tianhao couldn't worry about so much now. He would find a way to contact her after Lin Qingqing entered the game.

There was still half a month.

He had to build an advantage as much as possible in these half a month.

Coming back from the hospital.

Lin Tianhao brought Zhou Xiaopang breakfast.

"Fatty, log off and eat."

Zhou Xiaopang didn't log off, he seemed to be busy with something.

Lin Tianhao wasn't in a hurry. The two bounty missions meant he needed to be killed two hundred times.

He estimated it would take a while before he could finish. During this time, he opened the forum again.

The post about the Peerless Good Samaritan appearing in the Dragon Country region was already the number one trending topic.

Because players from other countries were also paying attention to this post, in addition to the Dragon Country region's own players.

"Axi ba, this is unfair, why doesn't our Great Stick Empire have such a person."

"Nani?! I seriously suspect that the players in the Dragon Country region are cheating. How is it possible for a player with a million red name value to appear at this stage."

"Oh God, please bless us and let a player with ten million red name value descend upon our Great Rice Empire."

.....

Players from all major servers were jealous.

At this stage.

Black iron weapons were already awesome.

This time, the reward was bronze equipment, and two pieces at that.

Not only that, but there were also twenty free attribute points. Even if you only killed him once, you could create a gap between yourself and ordinary players.

Lin Tianhao browsed the forum for a while, and Zhou Xiaopang ran over excitedly.

"Brother Hao, it's a welfare opportunity. Are you in Blackwind City? It's super awesome. Killing that red name player rewards two pieces of bronze equipment and twenty free attribute points."

"I relied on Double Slash to 侥幸 kill him once. With your strength, killing him a few more times definitely won't be a problem."

Seeing Zhou Xiaopang so excited, Lin Tianhao coughed.

"Are those two bounty missions over yet?"

"Not yet, but it's almost over. He's already been killed more than a hundred times."

Lin Tianhao sighed, "Are these people moving so slowly?"

"It's not slow. It's just that those big guilds came later. They are all very cunning, saving their skills to try to steal the last bit of health for the kill."

"Everyone is thinking about stealing the kill and saving their skills, which is actually slowing things down."

Lin Tianhao rubbed his forehead. These people were really treating him like an experience piñata.

"But it's strange. I don't know what outrageous things that player did to incur such public wrath and get a million red name value."

"Maybe he destroyed the novice villages," Lin Tianhao sighed.

"Holy crap, now that you mention it, it seems that's really the reason. Only destroying the novice villages could result in such a high red name value."

Lin Tianhao waved his hand, "Alright, I'm going into the game first."

After hesitating slightly, Lin Tianhao took out his phone again and silently posted a thread.

"The red name player is a great guy, let him go after completing the mission!"

After writing the title.

Lin Tianhao began to write furiously.
