Chapter 68 Zhou Xiaopang's talent!

"Snow Empress..."

"How did he know?"

The Klinfis Bird shook its head. "I don't know, but this is ultimately a scourge. Should we..."

At this point, the Klinfis Bird made a throat-slitting gesture.

"Kill him? Can adventurers even be killed? If he dies, he can just revive."

"Imprison him?"

"Useless."

Fiodina's eyes were deep, and suddenly, she seemed to think of something, and a meaningful smile appeared on her face.

"I know what to do."

Lin Tianhao was unaware of all this.

After sending Leona away, he continued to hunt Bloodback Xuan Turtles.

Lin Tianhao tirelessly farmed them.

His red name value slowly decreased, and his health slowly increased.

In order to farm more health, Lin Tianhao didn't even equip the Tears of the Goddess of Life at this time.

With a 20% increase in health, even elite Bloodback Xuan Turtles couldn't withstand a few hits.

As time passed.

A warrior happily trotted over.

"Brother Hao, I'm here."

This person was none other than Zhou Xiaopang.

He had hidden his nickname, but Lin Tianhao still knew his name.

"I'll add you to the guild first."

Lin Tianhao added Zhou Xiaopang to the Lone Snow Guild.

Zhou Xiaopang exclaimed in surprise, "Brother Hao, you're too awesome. To be honest, I really didn't know you were the red-named player before."

Zhou Xiaopang was still explaining, but in the next moment, when he saw the changes in his attributes, he was completely stunned.

"Holy crap!!"

“Brother Hao, this... this is insane!!”

Lin Tianhao’s Lone Snow Guild was now a five-star guild, and the buffs for guild members were 1% increased damage, +10% crit, +20 attack power, +3 movement speed, +1 attack speed, and +10,000 health.

These six characteristics were definitely considered extremely overpowered at this stage.

Moreover,

because it was a guild characteristic,

all guild members could receive these six attribute buffs, which was the most abnormal part.

One person getting these attribute increases could only be considered so-so.

But if a thousand people, ten thousand people, all received such buffs, then the increase in combat power would be extremely insane.

Especially later on, when there would be guild combat power rankings and national wars.

At that time, such buffs would be especially important.

“Calm down. Take this Saint-Grade Talent Awakening Stone to awaken your talent.”

Zhou Xiaopang widened his eyes. “Saint-Grade?”

“Brother Hao, you’re just giving it to me like that? I saw someone on the forum get a Heaven-Grade Talent Awakening Stone before, and the price was already pushed up to five million.”

Lin Tianhao waved his hand. “Just take it.”

“Hehe, it’s different when you have a strong backer.”

Zhou Xiaopang took the Talent Awakening Stone and began to awaken his talent.

Lin Tianhao knew about Zhou Xiaopang’s talent from his previous life.

Saint-Grade Talent: Soul Binding.

Soul Binding: 1 Star.

Effect 1: You can use soul binding to bind a friendly unit, and you can obtain all of its health, armor, and magic resistance buffs.

Effect 2: The teammate you bind can gain a 10% increase in health, armor, and magic resistance.

Proficiency: 0/10.

(Note: This proficiency is the number of bosses no lower than your own level killed by you and your bound teammate.)

Each time this talent is upgraded by 1 star, you can bind one more friendly unit.

When it reaches full stars, you can bind ten friendly units at the same time.

In other words,

that’s eleven times the attributes!!

If he could find ten strong teammates, then Zhou Xiaopang would take off directly.

“This talent...”

Zhou Xiaopang said with some displeasure after seeing his talent: “Brother Hao, why do I feel like I’ve been ganked by the system? This is it? A Saint-Grade talent?”

Lin Tianhao grinned. “You haven’t realized how powerful this talent is yet. Try binding me now.”

“Ding, player GodlyFattyInvincible requests to establish a soul binding with you. Do you agree?”

“Agree.”

This soul binding had no effect on the person being bound; on the contrary, they would gain health, magic resistance, and armor buffs.

Lin Tianhao’s armor and magic resistance could be ignored now.

A 10% increase wasn’t much.

But Lin Tianhao had a lot of health, so a 10% increase would be tens of thousands, and even more later on.

“Holy crap, holy crap, holy crap, holy crap, holy crap...”

After binding Lin Tianhao.

Zhou Xiaopang was immediately stunned.

He watched his health bar instantly skyrocket from over ten thousand to five hundred thousand!!

“Hiss!”

“Brother Hao, your attributes are too awesome, even higher than the health of a normal boss.”

Lin Tianhao waved his hand and looked at the time.

“I’ll take you to level up first. Add some attack power, and be prepared to kill me later.”

Zhou Xiaopang was taken aback. “Kill you?”

“Yeah, the bounty for the Demon King Grevolut, it’s better to benefit you than to benefit others.”

“Is that appropriate? If you die with that red name value, wouldn’t you drop directly to level one?”

“Just let it drop. Anyway, leveling up is easy.”

Lin Tianhao didn’t care. It wasn’t that he was showing off.

The main thing was that leveling up was indeed very simple for him.

He sent Zhou Xiaopang a team invite, with the experience split 90/10, with Zhou Xiaopang getting 90%.

After all, Lin Tianhao couldn’t level up anymore, so it would be a waste to take it.

After one round, he could kill five Blood-Eyed Xuan Turtles, and after two rounds, Zhou Xiaopang’s talent would level up.

After reaching two stars, he could bind two friendly units.

“Brother Hao, you’re really too awesome.”

Lin Tianhao still had a nonchalant attitude.

“Calm down. Also, don’t consider any job changes below Saint-Grade. If it’s a God-Grade hidden class, change to it directly.”

“Okay.”

Zhou Xiaopang nodded.

Lin Tianhao also knew some strategies for warrior hidden classes.

But there were high-level ones, but only one God-Grade one, and it wasn’t in the Star Constellation Kingdom.

“If it really doesn’t work, just change to a normal class and give up on the hidden class.”

“Because if you change to a normal class, you can change to a hidden class later, but even if you change to a Yellow-Grade hidden class, it’s almost impossible to change to another hidden class without special items.”

“I see.”

Zhou Xiaopang nodded.

He could feel that Lin Tianhao was very familiar with this game.

But he couldn't say exactly how familiar he was.

"Also, I'll promote you to the position of vice guild leader, and you can recruit some experts to join."

"Okay."

While speaking, Lin Tianhao stayed with Zhou Xiaopang to farm monsters.

Before long.

Zhou Xiaopang reached level twenty. He could only continue to level up after completing the job change quest.

"You can go to the main city to change to a normal class first, and then come back to me. The timing should be just right."

The Klinfis Bird said he would come to him tonight. Calculating the time, after he killed the Blood-Eyed Dragon Turtle and cleared the Blackwater Lake dungeon, the timing should be about right.

"Okay."
