#7 - Chapter 7 first kill boss, lightning jump!

Floating Tower Shield Mountain was once again startled. He had been so engrossed in watching Lin Tianhao's movements that he hadn't noticed an assassin stealthily approaching.

After a brief moment of surprise, Floating Tower Shield Mountain instantly reacted, "Snow Emperor, he wants to steal the boss."

Lin Tianhao ignored Floating Tower Shield Mountain and instead looked at the assassin.

His equipment was surprisingly well-equipped, with almost everything in place.

His eyes were sharp and filled with murderous intent.

This person was not an ordinary player.

The murderous intent in his eyes was not something an ordinary player could possess.

Moreover, he had just used his dagger to deflect his feathered arrow.

Such maneuvers were common in the later stages of the game, but in the early stages, especially on the first day of the game...

"Add me to your team, and we'll split the boss's loot evenly."

The assassin player spoke indifferently, his words devoid of emotion.

Lin Tianhao shook his head, "No."

Hearing this, the assassin player said nothing more, but retreated, entering stealth mode once again.

"Damn it, what does he mean? Is he trying to get one over on us? Trying to steal the boss with stealth?"

Floating Tower Shield Mountain was somewhat annoyed, "Kid, let me tell you, I'm from the Floating Tower Guild. I advise you to leave quickly, or else..."

"Careful!"

Before Floating Tower Shield Mountain could finish his sentence, Lin Tianhao had already shouted out a warning.

At the same time as his voice fell, one of his feathered arrows had already flown out.

"Shlick!"

The assassin player appeared behind Floating Tower Shield Mountain. He didn't use the beginner skill 'Backstab,' but instead went straight for the throat.

A crimson critical hit damage number appeared.

-642.

Bleeding...

-90.

-90.

Even with a critical hit, his attack power must have exceeded three hundred to achieve that.

His level was eight.

Even if he put all his points into attack power, it should only be around eighty.

Which meant his equipment or some passive skills were providing him with a high amount of attack power.

Some assassin passive skills provided attack power, movement speed, and attack speed.

To be precise, all the classes had similar skills, with slight variations.

Floating Tower Shield Mountain was resurrected at the Newbie Village revival altar. Seeing that he had lost a level and a level five piece of equipment, he was completely numb.

"What the hell was that? One-shotting me?"

Floating Tower Shield Mountain felt his gaming worldview shattering. He, a tank, had actually been one-shot!

... ..

Back at the Twisted Treant King.

Lin Tianhao coldly stared at the assassin player.

"What? Trying to show off your skills?"

With ten years of gaming experience from his previous life, Lin Tianhao would never agree to a skill-off.

The assassin player beckoned Lin Tianhao with his finger, then once again entered stealth mode.

"Swish!"

Lin Tianhao immediately drew his bow and shot an arrow. He used the skill 'Rapid Fire' right away.

Two feathered arrows cut through the air, instantly forcing the stealthed assassin player out.

"Swish!"

Lin Tianhao didn't let him go. Now that he had been forced out, there was no way he would let him stealth again.

The Twisted Treant King to the side had already started regenerating health.

But Lin Tianhao wasn't worried.

Feathered arrows were constantly fired, and the assassin player used his dagger to repeatedly deflect Lin Tianhao's feathered arrows.

Lin Tianhao remained calm and composed, his attack frequency unchanged. His attacks dealt over five hundred points of damage.

Although the game mechanics allowed for feathered arrows to be deflected, Lin Tianhao's feathered arrows were incredibly powerful, and the dagger's durability definitely couldn't withstand it.

Sure enough.

After deflecting more than a dozen feathered arrows, the assassin player's expression darkened.

Faced with Lin Tianhao's continuous feathered arrows, he didn't continue to block with his dagger. Instead, he performed a backflip, narrowly avoiding Lin Tianhao's feathered arrows.

"Courting death!"

Lin Tianhao sneered, and fired a feathered arrow again, hitting the assassin player in the abdomen.

The impact force of the feathered arrow caused the assassin player in mid-air to be knocked back a short distance.

Immediately afterwards, the second feathered arrow arrived.

-502.

With two arrows, the assassin player died on the spot and returned to the revival altar.

Lin Tianhao's eyes lit up. This assassin player had actually dropped a pair of boots.

At the same time, Lin Tianhao also noticed a problem. This assassin's health was not low.

If it were a regular level eight assassin, he should have one-shot him with an arrow.

Brutal Boots (Elite): Level 7.

Effect 1: Movement Speed +0.5.

Effect 2: Critical Hit +1%.

Durability: 100.

Lin Tianhao's eyes lit up. The attributes of these Brutal Boots were quite suitable for him.

It was just a pity that they didn't increase attack speed.

The attribute he needed most right now was attack speed.

Because with enough attack speed, he could naturally stack more health.

Once his health went up, his basic attack damage would naturally increase as well.

Putting away the Brutal Boots, Lin Tianhao continued to attack the Twisted Treant King.

With no one to stop him, the Twisted Treant King was just a toy in Lin Tianhao's hands.

Originally, the 'Thorn Shield' skill, which could reflect all damage, would have some impact on Lin Tianhao.

But Lin Tianhao, relying on his proficient 'Precise Shot,' prevented the Twisted Treant King from even casting the skill.

This was also thanks to another advantage of the Newbie Village: the bosses in the Newbie Village basically didn't have 'Unstoppable' skills that prevented control.

"Ding, you have killed the Twisted Treant King, exceeding your level, experience +8250."

"Ding, you are the first player to kill the boss. A server-wide announcement will be made. Do you want to hide your name?"

"No."

Having lived through this once, a first kill was not enough to make Lin Tianhao hide his name.

Moreover, he wanted to be famous.

He needed prestige.

Because only in this way could he stand at the pinnacle of power in the future.

To fight against the Alete Star System, relying on the power of one person was like trying to put out a fire with a cup of water.

Therefore, Lin Tianhao wanted to seize power and control the overall situation!

"Server-wide announcement: Congratulations to player Snow Emperor for completing the first kill of the Twisted Treant King. This announcement is to encourage all players to continue their efforts."

"Server-wide announcement: Congratulations to player Snow Emperor for completing the first kill of the Twisted Treant King. This announcement is to encourage all players to continue their efforts."

... ..

"Ding, congratulations, you are the first player in Twilight of the Gods to kill a boss. Reward: Free attribute points +50, class skill book +1, class main weapon +1, gold coins +100."

Lin Tianhao's lips curled up. Sure enough, soloing a boss had extraordinary rewards.

Lin Tianhao added all 50 free attribute points to attack speed.

His original attack speed of 1.13 instantly became 2.13.

This attack speed could definitely be said to be unrivaled.

Lightning Leap (Passive Skill): 1 Star.

Effect: Your basic attacks have a 50% chance to trigger Lightning Leap, which can jump to 10 target units within a 20-meter radius, dealing 10% of your actual damage.

Cooldown: None.

Consumption: None.

Proficiency: 0/1000.

Lin Tianhao raised his eyebrows. This skill was a bit interesting. If the skill level went up, would that mean the damage could be increased to 90%?

Could the range of Lightning Leap and the number of units it could jump to also be increased?

Just imagining it sent shivers down Lin Tianhao's spine.

His damage was already outrageously high, and the only thing he lacked was the ability to farm monsters in groups.

But now that he had this skill, that one shortcoming had been filled.
