Chapter 72 Black Water Lake-Dragon Turtle!

Purification skills are indeed like adding wings to a tiger.

It's just a pity.

This Star Moon Purification cannot remove knockback and curses. For him, it's usable, but not that useful.

"Okay."

Lin Tianhao put away the Star Moon Purification.

In fact, even without the Star Moon Purification, Lin Tianhao would not refuse to bring them into the guild.

This is not only because the Qi family of Tianbow Mountain is a family of ancient martial artists, but more importantly, after the great cataclysm in his previous life.

The Qi family of Tianbow Mountain unhesitatingly made their archer's secret manual, which they never passed on to outsiders, public, allowing all archers to learn it.

The analysis of the high-level players of the Dream Chasing Club before was correct.

Under normal circumstances.

Even if you deliberately practice floating arrow techniques, you won't even be able to get started in five years.

Lin Tianhao is exceptionally talented, and he hones himself between life and death, but even so, these are not the fundamental reasons why he can quickly master so many arrow techniques.

The most core reason is that the Qi family of Tianbow Mountain published their archer's secret manual, which has accumulated thousands of years of experience, allowing him to learn the techniques within.

Lin Tianhao has no reason to refuse such an ancient martial arts family.

The archer revealed his ID, Lin Tianhao added him as a friend, and at the same time pulled him into the Lone Snow Guild.

Shoot Through the Sky!

A name with a bit of domineering spirit in the chuunibyou.

But Lin Tianhao was a little surprised.

Because Shoot Through the Sky was a well-known existence in his previous life.

His talent is not particularly outrageous, it doesn't add damage, it doesn't add movement speed, it doesn't add attack speed, it doesn't add any attributes.

Although the talent level is Saint-tier, it is ridiculed by many people as being inferior to Heaven-tier, or even Earth-tier.

But with that Saint-tier talent, he brought the archer's kiting to the extreme.

Lin Tianhao still knows his talent introduction.

Absolute Slow: 1 star.

Effect 1: Your basic attacks can reduce the opponent's movement speed by 5% for five seconds, non-stackable. This effect is absolute and is not affected by tenacity, super armor, purification, or any CC immunity attributes.

Effect 2: Your basic attacks can reduce the opponent's attack speed by 5%. If the opponent is a spell-type lifeform, it will also increase their skill cooldown time and casting time by 5% for five seconds, non-stackable. This effect is absolute and is not affected by tenacity, super armor, purification, or any CC immunity attributes.

Proficiency: 0/1000.

They only saw the five percent, but ignored that the talent could be upgraded with stars.

And the effect is absolutely established and cannot be interrupted.

Once the talent is upgraded to ten stars, a fifty percent reduction in movement speed and attack speed, and for spell-type lifeforms, it can also increase casting time and cooldown time.

This is terrifying.

It's just a pity.

Such a genius as Shoot Through the Sky ultimately faced the ten vanguard generals of the Alete Star System alone in a battle to cover the retreat of the human race's main force. One person was ultimately unable to kite ten experts.

He was eventually killed after killing three people.

That also became a huge loss for the Dragon Country war zone.

Lin Tianhao thought a lot in that instant.

Shoot Through the Sky is definitely a person worthy of respect.

"I'll give you administrator status, you can bring all the people from your Qi family into the guild."

Shoot Through the Sky nodded subconsciously, because he was shocked by the attributes buffed by Lin Tianhao's guild.

These attributes are of great help to their Qi family.

In the early stage, when free attribute points are completely insufficient, archers generally have very low health.

Even some extreme archers only have the little bit of health that comes with equipment.

However.

Lin Tianhao's guild directly adds 10,000 health.

In addition, attack speed, movement speed, crit, and damage are all improved.

Every attribute is so useful to their archers.

"Snow Emperor, I originally just wanted to get a little attribute bonus, but I never dreamed that your guild's buff would be so much."

Shoot Through the Sky looked at Lin Tianhao with some gratitude.

Although he doesn't play games much, as an ancient martial artist, he is very clear about how much help it is to improve these attributes for combat.

"It's okay."

Lin Tianhao waved his hand, and then took out the Blackwater Lake dungeon key.

"Use."

"Ding, you have used the Blackwater Lake dungeon key, the Blackwater Lake dungeon is open."

"Ding, you have successfully opened the Blackwater Lake dungeon and will be making a server-wide announcement. Do you want to hide your name?"

"No."

"Server-wide announcement, congratulations to player Snow Emperor for successfully opening the [Blackwater Lake - Dragon Turtle] dungeon, specially rewarded with +20 free attribute points, +50 gold coins, hereby announce, I hope the majority of players will continue to work hard."

"Server-wide announcement, congratulations to player Snow Emperor for successfully opening the [Blackwater Lake - Dragon Turtle] dungeon, specially rewarded with +20 free attribute points, +50 gold coins, hereby announce, I hope the majority of players will continue to work hard."

... ..

"Goodbye, I'm going to farm the dungeon."

Lin Tianhao took a step and walked into the light gate of the Blackwater Lake dungeon in front of him.

After coming in, Lin Tianhao first added all seventy free attribute points to his mana.

Letting his original one hundred points of mana break through to four hundred and fifty points.

It's still a drop in the bucket, but it's basically enough.

"Hell difficulty."

After entering the dungeon, Lin Tianhao still chose the Hell difficulty as usual.

"Ding, it is detected that your level is too low, this dungeon's Hell difficulty cannot be entered solo."

Lin Tianhao: ???

He had never soloed a level 45 Hell difficulty dungeon at level 20 in his previous life.

Therefore, he didn't know about this restriction.

"Nightmare difficulty."

"Ding, it is detected that your level is too low, this dungeon's Nightmare difficulty cannot be entered solo."

Lin Tianhao was a little depressed.

Could it be that he can't solo dungeons that are such a large level difference?

In this way, wouldn't his plan to use high-level Hell difficulty dungeons to farm health points fall through?

"Hard difficulty!"

Lin Tianhao lowered the difficulty again, but the result was the same.

"Easy difficulty!"

However, it still didn't change.

"Must I form a team to enter this dungeon?"

Lin Tianhao sent a private message to Zhou Xiaopang.

"Fatty? Have you finished your job transfer quest? Come and help me with a dungeon."

"Not yet, should I come over first?"

"No need."

Lin Tianhao replied, and then sent a message to Shoot Through the Sky, "Have you left? Help me with a dungeon if you haven't."

"I'm right at the entrance of the dungeon."

Lin Tianhao exited the dungeon, sent a team invitation to Shoot Through the Sky, and entered the dungeon again.

After coming in.

Lin Tianhao chose the Hell difficulty dungeon without hesitation.

Shoot Through the Sky raised his eyebrows, but didn't show too much surprise.

After entering.

This is a somewhat dim cave, the cave is very humid, and you can occasionally hear the sound of dripping water... ..
