

O game 73

Chapter 73: No one can enter alone!

Ahead, Lin Tianhao saw more than a dozen Bloodback Xuan Turtles.

Bloodback Xuan Turtle (Elite): 45.

Health Points: 99375 / 99375.

Attack: 1598.

Skills: Bloodthirsty Xuan Armor, Water Ball, Water Arrow, Magic Water Shield.

The difficulty of the Hell-level instance meant there were no ordinary monsters; it started with elites.

Moreover, these stats were much higher than those outside the instance.

Previously, the health bar had almost doubled, and the attack power had also increased significantly.

"Swish!"

An arrow whistled through the air.

Lin Tianhao began his slaughter.

Piercing the Sky also joined in the attack from the side.

-19150.

-1.

The first damage was dealt by Lin Tianhao.

The second damage was dealt by Piercing the Sky.

Seeing his own damage and then looking at Lin Tianhao's, Piercing the Sky was somewhat numb.

Was this still human?

His attacks on the Bloodback Xuan Turtle could only deal a little forced damage.

But how did Lin Tianhao achieve such terrifying damage with a single arrow?

After the Bloodback Xuan Turtle was attacked, a large number of Bloodback Xuan Turtles surged out from behind, densely packed, charging towards Lin Tianhao and Piercing the Sky.

Five Arrows Simultaneously!

Lin Tianhao directly maxed out his output, and with the chain damage of Lightning Leap, Bloodback Xuan Turtles began to fall in piles.

Even with over 90,000 health points, the Bloodback Xuan Turtles were still instantly killed by Lin Tianhao.

"Ding, you have leveled up to level sixteen, free attribute points +5."

The monsters in the first level hadn't even been completely cleared, and Piercing the Sky had already leveled up.

Piercing the Sky was just along for the ride, watching Lin Tianhao frantically output in front, with Bloodback Xuan Turtles constantly falling.

In less than two minutes, all the Bloodback Xuan Turtles in the first level were killed.

Next was the second level.

The layout was similar to the previous Hell-level instance.

Here, a Bloodback Xuan Turtle Chieftain appeared, with stats about five times that of an ordinary Bloodback Xuan Turtle.

Unfortunately, under Lin Tianhao's storm-like output, it still met its end on the spot.

.....

Piercing the Sky did nothing, just watching his level increase like crazy.

On the level rankings,

Piercing the Sky, who was originally relatively far behind, suddenly surged into the top five and was still continuing to climb.

The third level.

Here, the dominant force was no longer elite-level Bloodback Xuan Turtles, but chieftain-level Bloodback Xuan Turtles, and in addition, there were Black Iron-level Blood Eye Xuan Turtles.

The overall combat power increased by a level.

If this were to be replaced by those ordinary players, even if a large team of twelve level forty-five players were formed, it would be almost impossible to clear.

It was estimated that twelve high-level players with Heavenly-grade talents or higher, plus a full set of equipment and some special props, would be needed to clear this instance's Hell-level difficulty.

But Lin Tianhao was now single-handedly slaughtering.

Five Arrows Simultaneously, damage maxed out.

Occasionally, the effect of Death Reincarnation would be triggered, instantly killing monsters.

The third level was slightly more pressure, but it still didn't have any impact on Lin Tianhao.

However, Piercing the Sky died.

That's right, with Lin Tianhao holding the front, he died.

The reason was nothing else.

He was just grazed by a Black Eye Xuan Turtle's area-of-effect skill, and his health bar was emptied.

Piercing the Sky's stat allocation was very extreme, mainly focusing on attack speed and movement speed, with very low health points and resistance.

If it weren't for a full set of level fifteen equipment, he would probably have been completely cooled down.

However, his death in the third level had no impact on Lin Tianhao.

Stepping into the fourth level.

Here was where the ultimate boss was located.

Blood Eye Dragon Turtle (Bronze): 45.

Health Points: 16850000 / 16850000.

Attack: 27590.

Skills: Rapid-fire Water Cannon, Healing Body, Dragon Roar Tsunami, Nine Pillar Impact, Black Water Vortex, Bloodthirsty Dragon Armor, Water Arrow Formation, Blood Eye Poison Mist, Super Armor, Berserk.

Lin Tianhao's eyes narrowed.

It was about what he expected; in the Hell-level instance, the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle's stats had also been greatly improved.

Moreover,

Inside the instance, the scene was limited, and unlimited kiting was not very realistic.

What Lin Tianhao could do was to avoid control skills as much as possible.

"Swish swish swish!"

Lin Tianhao began to attack as soon as he saw it.

-19285.

+9849.

+2000.

Lin Tianhao: ???

This recovery ability was a bit abnormal.

His true damage actually directly healed over ten thousand health points.

But Lin Tianhao was not discouraged and began to output frantically.

"Swish swish swish!"

Arrows pierced the air one after another; because the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle's recovery was very high, Lin Tianhao could only deal about seven thousand damage with each arrow.

According to the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle's sixteen million health bar, he would need over two thousand arrows to kill it.

Currently, each of his arrows could stack three health points; over two thousand arrows could stack seven or eight thousand health points.

Calculated this way, it was still only by fighting such high-intensity Hell-level instances that he could quickly stack health points.

Otherwise, with ordinary monsters being killed with one arrow each, he would need to kill two or three thousand to get so much health.

But the quantity and distribution of ordinary monsters meant that killing them would inevitably require movement and waiting for respawns, which would waste a lot of time.

The Blood Eye Dragon Turtle immediately slapped down at Lin Tianhao with a claw.

Lin Tianhao narrowly avoided it and continued to output.

It was not too anxious, and its huge claws continued to slap down.

Its size was even larger than the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle that Lin Tianhao had killed outside, and its claws were also bigger.

Moreover,

Lin Tianhao discovered that its speed was more than twice as fast as the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle outside.

Pulling away again, Lin Tianhao almost got hit.

But just as he had pulled away, a watermark appeared under his feet.

"Not good."

Lin Tianhao's expression changed slightly, because he knew that this was the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle judging the direction of his movement, thereby releasing the skill Nine Pillar Impact in advance.

Moreover, its Nine Pillar Impact had a larger range than the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle's Nine Pillar Impact outside.

"Boom!"

Pillars of water soared into the sky.

"Mystic Ice Wings."

Lin Tianhao knew that his Star Moon Purification could not remove the knock-up effect, so he unhesitatingly used the Mystic Ice Wings to create distance.

Flying into the air, the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle became Lin Tianhao's living target.

Although the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle's Nine Pillar Impact still had eight pillars that could impact the height of Lin Tianhao's flight in the air,

It was useless.

Lin Tianhao's flying skills were also superb.

These Nine Pillar Impacts all had a delay.

First the watermark appeared, then the impact, which gave Lin Tianhao time to react.

"Swish swish swish!"

In the air, Lin Tianhao's arrows constantly pierced the air, carrying destructive power, constantly taking away the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle's health bar.

Seeing that its water pillar impact could not attack Lin Tianhao, the Blood Eye Dragon Turtle couldn't help but roar angrily, opening its bloody mouth and beginning to charge up a new skill: Rapid-fire Water Cannon!
