

O game 79

Chapter 79 Attribute reset!

Lin Tianhao was stacking them up with enthusiasm.

But just at this moment.

The second Ice Snow Werewolf appeared.

It charged towards Lin Tianhao.

Lin Tianhao's expression changed. One-on-one was still enjoyable.

Now, the appearance of the second Ice Snow Werewolf caused a subtle change in the battle situation.

Lin Tianhao continued to use the String-Twisting Arrow Technique, while also preparing to test whether he could withstand the damage from another Ice Snow Werewolf with his life steal ability.

Swish! Swish!

-3999.

True damage!

Lin Tianhao's eyes narrowed slightly.

-599.

-599.

.....

Bleeding!

Lin Tianhao's pupils suddenly shrank.

The Ice Snow Werewolf's normal attacks actually triggered a bleeding effect.

This was extremely rare under normal circumstances.

However, his life steal ability could still handle it, so he was naturally not afraid.

The feather arrows in his hand were still being fired frantically, and his health was also stacking up bit by bit.

But not long after.

The third Ice Snow Werewolf appeared.

Lin Tianhao knew that he probably wouldn't be able to withstand it.

The Ice Snow Werewolf's attack was true damage and also came with a bleeding effect.

He could withstand the attack of one Ice Snow Werewolf, but more than that was a bit too much.

Sure enough.

Lin Tianhao's health bar began to drop continuously. He couldn't withstand it with life steal alone.

His attack speed was fast, but the Ice Snow Werewolf's attack speed was also not slow.

Coupled with the bleeding and occasional skill attacks, Lin Tianhao couldn't continue to kite them.

But Lin Tianhao didn't care.

Because his health was steadily increasing.

As for levels, he was only level one, so dying didn't have much of an impact on him.

After stacking more than 5,000 health, Lin Tianhao finally couldn't withstand it and died under the claws of the Ice Snow Werewolf.

Just as he died.

Lin Tianhao's pupils suddenly changed.

Because he discovered a very outrageous thing.

That was that his attributes had been reset!

They had returned to the attributes he had when he first entered this instance.

The health he had painstakingly stacked was gone!!

This was too terrifying!

Lin Tianhao gasped.

His talent was god-tier, although it might only be equivalent to a relatively strong divine-tier talent because it wasn't fully awakened, it shouldn't be easily reset by an instance.

"Time reversal?"

Lin Tianhao shook his head. This probability was unlikely. Time reversal was too heaven-defying, even gods might not be able to do it.

If that's the case, then there was only one answer. This instance was demigod-tier, or pseudo-god-tier, or even... left behind by a god!!

It wouldn't be surprising that a god-tier instance could reset his attributes.

Don't think his talent was heaven-defying. No matter how heaven-defying a talent was, it was just a talent.

According to the saying in his previous life, god-tier talent only meant having the talent to become a god. Compared to a true god, there was still a world of difference.

He had still thought of this instance too simply.

Not only that.

Lin Tianhao also discovered that his Death Reincarnation hadn't been triggered even once.

As for the reason, Lin Tianhao also knew that it was likely due to the suppression of the god-tier instance, and...

Level suppression!

In Twilight of the Gods, level suppression wasn't clearly reflected in attribute values, but Lin Tianhao knew that level suppression would be reflected in probabilistic issues.

For example, Lin Tianhao's Death Reincarnation value was one percent, but if he crossed forty-nine levels to fight a level fifty boss, the real trigger probability might be less than 0.01%. In addition, his luck attribute was also a bit low, so this probability would be even lower.

Besides that, grade differences would also form suppression, and the probability would be further reduced.

"If that's the case, then there's no choice. I have to kill the Ice Snow Werewolf."

Or, this instance has other strategies, such as borrowing the power of the natives here.

But no matter which method it was, Lin Tianhao was somewhat worried.

With this in mind.

Lin Tianhao put the equipment into the guild warehouse after resurrecting, and then sent a message to Zhou Xiaopang.

"Fatty, take some equipment from the warehouse and exchange it for money. We're upgrading to a nutrient pod."

Nutrient pods are more expensive than ordinary gaming pods, costing more than 100,000 each.

And they also need to be injected with nutrient solution regularly, so you can stay online for about two weeks.

The price of nutrient solution is also not cheap. Half a month's worth costs almost 10,000 yuan, which ordinary families simply can't afford.

But Lin Tianhao didn't care.

If he didn't change to a nutrient pod, when playing these small world instances later in the game, which would take half a day or even a day at a time, he would definitely not be able to stand being hungry.

As for whether Zhou Xiaopang would sell the weapons Lin Tianhao needed himself.

That wouldn't happen either.

Because only the guild leader can give permission to take things from the guild warehouse. Otherwise, you can only look at them.

After arranging the task for Zhou Xiaopang, Lin Tianhao went offline to eat.

He had to eat his fill first before tackling this instance.

If he got too hungry in the middle and had to go offline and start over, it would be too much of a waste of time.

After eating and drinking his fill.

Lin Tianhao re-entered the game.

He knew that the next battle would be more difficult.

He had to concentrate fully. Only in this way could he maximize the benefits.

Entering the game again, he was still in the instance.

Just like before.

He entered the village, and nothing had changed in the plot.

It was still the window of that family being blown open, and the woman hurriedly coming over to close the window.

The Ice Snow Werewolf appeared and killed the woman with lightning speed.

Lin Tianhao had already made his move when the Ice Snow Werewolf jumped into the air.

Feather arrow pierced through the air.

It was still the String-Twisting Arrow Technique!

While interrupting the Ice Snow Werewolf, Lin Tianhao began to use the Floating Arrow Technique.

"As expected!"

As long as it's an instance, there must be a way to crack it.

There can't be an absolutely unsolvable instance.

In the floating state, the Ice Snow Werewolf didn't regain health.

It only regains health when it lands on the snow.

If that's the case, then it's much easier.

Lin Tianhao's current attack speed makes it even easier than before to keep the Ice Snow Werewolf floating.

The Ice Snow Werewolf lost more than five million health in the air from Lin Tianhao's attacks.

"Roar!!"

The Ice Snow Werewolf roared angrily, activated its super armor, and the floating effect disappeared. It landed on the snow.

At this time, Lin Tianhao also noticed.

The Ice Snow Werewolf doesn't instantly return to full health. It regains health at a rate of 100,000 per second.

In other words.

Lin Tianhao's damage can inhibit its health regeneration.

Lin Tianhao only needs to drag it out until its super armor ends and knock it into the air again.

After landing, the Ice Snow Werewolf turned into a shadow and rushed towards Lin Tianhao.

Lin Tianhao rolled sideways to avoid the attack. At the same time, the attack speed was maxed out, and the attack continued.

Lin Tianhao could withstand the damage of one Ice Snow Werewolf before, and it's still not a problem now.

When the super armor ended, Lin Tianhao used the Floating Arrow Technique to knock the Ice Snow Werewolf into the air without hesitation.

This time.

Without the crowd control immunity of the super armor skill.

The Ice Snow Werewolf could only roar in vain, and was eventually killed by Lin Tianhao.

"Ding, you killed the Ice Snow Werewolf, experience +0."

Lin Tianhao's pupils shrank again.

Damn it!

This was the first time he had encountered such an outrageous instance.

Killing monsters actually doesn't give experience.

In other words.

It's also nonsense for ordinary players to come here and try to increase their combat power by leveling up to leave here.

Lin Tianhao now understood the reason for the changes in the expressions of those nobles in the Starry Kingdom.

And he also understood why Queen Fio Dingyu recommended him to come here.

As long as he was trapped here, no one would know about Queen Fio Dingyu's collusion with the Nether race.

But didn't she ignore a very serious problem?

Adventurers have contact information with each other.

But this was no longer important.

He was now even more interested in this Footprints of the Snow Corpse instance.

There are no experience rewards and the difficulty is so high. What will he get after clearing it?

Only.

Lin Tianhao didn't have much chance to think now.

Because the second Ice Snow Werewolf had appeared.

Still the same.

Lin Tianhao followed the same method.

Knock into the air, infinite combo.

Even after landing with super armor, he could only continue to face Lin Tianhao's crazy attacks to suppress his health.

When the super armor ended, the Ice Snow Werewolf was greeted with another floating.

Now Lin Tianhao's true damage is more than 20,000 per arrow, and the Ice Snow Werewolf has nine million health. He needs more than 400 arrows to kill it.

Counting the time it takes to kite with the super armor, Lin Tianhao needs about 600 arrows to kill an Ice Snow Werewolf, that is, an Ice Snow Werewolf can stack 2,000 health for him!