

O game 80

Chapter 80 The Order of Ice!

And then.

Lin Tianhao seemed to have started a frenzy of increasing his health points.

He consecutively killed nine Frost Werewolves, adding over seventeen thousand health points to Lin Tianhao.

With Zhou Xiaopang's ten percent talent passive and the Tears of the Goddess of Life's twenty percent health point boost.

The over seventeen thousand health points Lin Tianhao gained actually provided him with more than twenty-two thousand health points.

However, this increase in health points was far from enough for Lin Tianhao.

Immediately after.

Something somewhat unexpected happened to Lin Tianhao.

Because when it came to the tenth Frost Werewolf, it wasn't just a single Frost Werewolf that appeared.

But two!

"Is this the difficulty of a hell-level instance?"

Lin Tianhao's eyes became serious.

It was still the same old trick, using Float to kill one, and then pulling the other.

Health points increased by more than twenty-two thousand, accompanied by an increase of more than six hundred in basic attack damage.

With Lin Tianhao's current attack speed, that's more than three thousand more damage per second.

This damage was still a bit strenuous when hitting the nine million health point Frost Werewolves.

But Lin Tianhao was not afraid at all, attacking very swiftly, maximizing his limited output.

Facing two Frost Werewolves.

Lin Tianhao was still handling it with ease.

Because he could withstand the damage, and the lifesteal could restore the health points he lost.

After killing the first Frost Werewolf, it was the second one.

It was still the same old approach, and there were no problems.

Although killing these eighteen Frost Werewolves had added more than forty thousand health points to Lin Tianhao.

Being able to withstand the attacks of two Frost Werewolves at the same time was still somewhat difficult for the current Lin Tianhao.

However.

To Lin Tianhao's relief, no more Frost Werewolves continued to appear.

It was still the same family from before.

The woman inside opened a crack in the window, and after discovering that there were no Frost Werewolves outside, she boldly opened the door.

"Brave adventurer, thank you so much, if it weren't for you, this winter would have been very difficult for us."

Lin Tianhao looked at the person speaking.

Villager Aunt Chen: Level 50.

Health Points: 1000000 / 1000000.

Attack: 985.

Skills: ???

(Note: She is a villager living here, perhaps she can give you unexpected rewards.)

Lin Tianhao was a little surprised.

Not because of Aunt Chen's health bar or attack, but because of the name.

With five years of game experience from his previous life, Lin Tianhao knew very well that in the Star Kingdom, there were almost no NPCs with Chinese characteristics in their names.

To be absolutely clear, it's that Lin Tianhao didn't know of the existence of such an NPC.

In his previous life, some people had criticized this, because other countries' servers basically had some settings similar to their countries.

But Dragon Country.

Apart from the Gods and some existences related to the Gods retaining the characteristics of Dragon Country, everything else was Westernized.

Now.

In this instance.

Lin Tianhao actually saw their Easternized name, which couldn't help but make him a little excited.

And a little... familiar.

"As the saying goes, when you see injustice on the road, draw your sword to help, this is what I should do," Lin Tianhao said with a smile.

"In any case, you have helped me a lot, to thank you, please let me prepare a hearty dinner for you, okay?"

Lin Tianhao was not very clear about the mechanics of this instance, he could only take it one step at a time.

"Okay."

Lin Tianhao followed Aunt Chen into the house.

Aunt Chen's house was a bit simple, with more than a dozen pieces of smoked meat hanging in the kitchen, looking very good, with the appearance of authentic Sichuan Shu-style cured meat.

She busied herself in the kitchen, asking Lin Tianhao to wait a moment.

However, this moment turned into more than half an hour.

Having lived two lives.

Lin Tianhao's patience was better than ordinary people, and he was still waiting quietly.

To see what kind of plot would be triggered.

Before long.

Three dishes and a soup were served.

Cured meat, hot and sour shredded potatoes, egg soup, sweet and sour pork ribs.

Not bad.

"Try it? My cooking skills are average, if it doesn't taste good, please bear with it."

Lin Tianhao smiled and waved his hand, "It looks delicious."

"And in this icy and snowy weather, being able to eat a hot meal is already very good."

Lin Tianhao picked up a piece of cured meat and ate it.

"Ding, Attack + 5."

Lin Tianhao was stunned for a moment, eating something increases stats?

He then tasted a little of the shredded potatoes.

"Ding, Attack Speed + 0.02."

Lin Tianhao perked up, this was amazing, taking off on the spot.

To determine the stats added by these dishes.

Lin Tianhao tried the egg soup and sweet and sour pork ribs again.

Sweet and Sour Pork Ribs!

"Ding, Critical Hit + 1."

Egg Soup!

"Ding, Movement Speed + 0.1."

Lin Tianhao was a little excited, critical hit and attack power were out of the question, attack speed and movement speed were definitely the most suitable for him.

He began to feast.

But very quickly.

He regretted it.

Regretted eating before starting this instance.

Originally, he was worried about tackling the instance on an empty stomach, but now he had messed things up.

Although the food in the game wouldn't really replenish energy, the feeling of fullness was real.

Lin Tianhao tried his best to eat.

He finished all of the shredded potatoes that increased attack speed in one go.

Attack speed increased by a little.

But when it came to the egg soup, Lin Tianhao tried his best, but only managed to drink half of it.

If he drank any more, Lin Tianhao felt like it would come back up from his stomach.

The result of this was that movement speed increased by three points.

As for the rest of the food.

Lin Tianhao really couldn't eat any more, so he had to give up.

What a pity.

Otherwise, movement speed could have been increased a bit more.

However, because movement speed had already exceeded ten points, the bonus was halved, actually only increasing movement speed by 1.5.

"Thank you for your hospitality."

Lin Tianhao wiped his mouth and said very politely.

"You are really a kind adventurer, you even left me so much meat, what can I say."

Aunt Chen was a little embarrassed, seemingly to thank Lin Tianhao, she went to rummage in the inner room for a while.

After a good while.

She came out, holding a token in her hand, "Young man, you are very powerful."

"This is something left to me by a powerful adventurer I once took in, I hope it can be useful to you."

Lin Tianhao subconsciously took the token.

Ice Command Token: Special Equipment.

Equip Requirement: None.

Effect: Your attacks can slow enemy units by 20% attack speed and movement speed, lasting for five seconds.

Durability: 100.

Lin Tianhao's eyes lit up, this was a good thing.

But then.

Lin Tianhao realized a very serious problem.

That was that he seemed to have no use for it at all in this instance.

The reason was very simple, here he needed knock-up or heavy injury stats, or high health point stats.

Slow down? It's useless.