Chapter 86: Mark of the God Slayer!

Lin Tianhao's eyes lit up!

Sure enough.

There were ways to resist divine might in this village.

"Village Chief Li, you're right, that divine might's influence is truly terrifying."

"If not for that, I could easily kill those ice snow serpents."

The old village chief nodded, "In the past, our village had an adventurer who killed a god. He used the body of a mortal to slay the Ice Snow Goddess."

"And because of this, he angered the gods. The Western gods took action and sealed our Eastern Ancient Kingdom beneath this white snow."

Lin Tianhao's pupils suddenly contracted.

If that was the case, then the snow corpses in the Snow Corpse's Footprints dungeon were the Ice Snow Goddess.

"After that adventurer killed the god, he left behind the God Slayer's Mark in the village. I can give you the God Slayer's Mark. Once this mark is bound, it cannot be erased, and you will be hated by the Western gods because of it."

Lin Tianhao's heart tensed.

Village Chief Li continued, "But the benefit is that you will be immune to divine might, and even gods will not be able to see your information."

Lin Tianhao was a little excited.

Divine might was something that even he, with his ten years of experience in his past life, could not contend with.

Even though he would be hated by the Western gods, so what?

In his previous life, almost two-thirds of the Western gods had defected to the Alete Star System.

"Village Chief, what about the gods of our Eastern Ancient Kingdom? Won't they take action?"

In fact, many people in his previous life had wondered why many Western gods appeared.

But the East had no gods appearing.

If it weren't for some players receiving blessings from Eastern gods, they would probably doubt whether Eastern gods really existed.

"Our gods?"

Village Chief Li gave a bitter smile, "I don't know either. It is said that our gods had an unprecedented civil war a long, long time ago, which shattered the heavens and the earth, and distorted time and space."

"The continent we are on now is less than one-billionth of the size of that world back then."

Lin Tianhao narrowed his eyes slightly, "Village Chief, are you talking about the Lich Tribulation of the Primordial Era?"

This was a very ancient legend in Eastern mythology.

"I'm not sure if it was the Lich Tribulation, but in the past, our world seemed to be called the Primordial World."

Lin Tianhao gasped.

Since someone before him could kill a god with the body of a mortal, he believed that he, Lin Tianhao, could also kill a god with the body of a mortal.

"Good."

Village Chief Li looked at Lin Tianhao and said solemnly:

"Brave adventurer, I hope you can bring a bright future to our village."

Village Chief Li pointed two fingers at the center of Lin Tianhao's brow.

A blood-colored mark was imprinted on Lin Tianhao's brow, and then disappeared.

"Ding. You have obtained the God Slayer's Mark."

God Slayer's Mark: God-Tier.

Effect 1: You will be unaffected by divine might.

Effect 2: Each time you kill a god, you can strip away one of their powers.

[Currently Slain God: Ice Snow Goddess (You are immune to Ice Snow-based damage and negative effects)]

After seeing the rank of the God Slayer's Mark, Lin Tianhao was stunned.

Especially after he saw the second effect of the God Slayer's Mark, he was stunned again.

Immune to Ice Snow-based damage and negative effects?

This was even better than cheating.

You had to know that Leona was an Ice Snow-based mage.

Even with Lin Tianhao's current attributes, it would be very difficult to defeat Leona, and it could even be said to be almost impossible.

But now that he had this characteristic, defeating Leona was not a small feat, but at least a medium feat!

Yes, a medium feat!

That was Lin Tianhao's very high opinion of himself.

"Brave adventurer, good luck. I don't have any good things, but the sealed Eastern Ancient Kingdom has many remarkable figures, and they have many good things in their hands."

Lin Tianhao nodded, "Okay, I'll rest and then set off."

He needed to recover some mental strength, after all, it was not easy to get to this point.

If he needed high-intensity battles later, he might not be able to hold on.

He quit the game.

Lin Tianhao comfortably lay on the bed, opened the Twilight of the Gods forum, and started browsing.

Currently, the popularity of Twilight of the Gods was extremely terrifying, and the number of global players had exceeded 2.5 billion.

One-third of the people were playing Twilight of the Gods, which showed how terrifying it was.

His popularity was still there, but not as many people were discussing him anymore. More people were discussing talents and class changes.

You can learn basic skills after changing classes at level 20, but I was tricked. The summoner I changed to can only summon a level 20 ordinary skeleton, whose attributes are only slightly stronger than a level 20 ordinary monster.

Hehe, that's because you didn't change to a hidden class. The class I changed to was the Profound-Tier hidden class Ice Summoner. The first skill is summoning an Ice Bird, a level 25 elite Ice Bird, whose attributes are excellent.

I'm really convinced. Shield Warriors are really stupid. The damage is too low, and the solo farming efficiency is very slow.

Naturally, there were people discussing professions and talents.

I heard that a player with a Saint-Tier talent appeared in the Great Rice Empire. His Saint-Tier talent is so powerful. The attack speed is doubled, one star doubles, it's too outrageous.

Damn, we in the Dragon Kingdom haven't heard of any Saint-Tier talents appearing, but several Heaven-Tier talents have already appeared. The talent effects are really monstrous.

Hehe, I'm not talented, but I awakened a Profound-Tier talent. One star is Attack + 500. I personally think it's still very powerful.

.....

Not much has been shown yet.

Some people don't like to be high-profile, but that doesn't mean they're really weak chickens. Maybe they've already made a fortune in silence.

Lin Tianhao remembered that in his previous life, there was a guy who had the God-Tier talent Double Damage Reflection.

Double Damage Reflection, regardless of physical attacks or magic attacks, he could reflect 10% of the true damage of his armor and magic resistance when he was at one star.

This damage reflection was not based on the damage received, but on his own armor and magic resistance.

For example, if he had 100 magic resistance points, and he received a magic attack, the reflected damage would be 10% of the magic resistance, which was 10 points.

The same was true for armor, but it only needed to withstand physical damage to reflect it.

As a God-Tier talent, he was not limited to damage reflection.

Each time he killed a physical monster, he would permanently increase one point of armor.

Each time he killed a magic monster, he would permanently increase one point of magic resistance.

And then.....

What was strange was that this guy stayed in the novice village and didn't come out.

He kept using low-level monsters to farm armor and magic resistance.

The key was.

This guy didn't feel bored either. He stayed in the novice village for a year!!

He stayed for a whole year before he came out.
