

O game 87

Chapter 87: Ice and Snow Giant, seals the sky and becomes a god!

At that time, its appearance was accompanied by invincible power.

It truly lived up to the saying 'those who stand in my way shall die, be they men or gods'.

Whether you deal physical or magical damage, one touch from him and you can prepare to kick the bucket.

Because his damage reflection isn't based on how much he receives, but on his armor and magic resistance.

Wait!

Lin Tianhao suddenly thought of something.

If this cunning fellow is bound to Zhou Xiaopang...

Damn!

Just thinking about it made Lin Tianhao feel terrified.

Because with his health, plus that cunning fellow's armor and magic resistance, who could possibly damage Zhou Xiaopang in the late game except for true damage?

The key is...

Zhou Xiaopang also has a passive skill like the Bloodthirsty Dragon Armor that recovers health based on damage taken. This is definitely a game-changer.

However...

Lin Tianhao thought of another awkward matter.

The Divine Talent Awakening Stone rewarded for watching the promotional video was revealed by this cunning fellow later in the game.

It's a pity.

Fatty, add a player named 'Goudao Wangu' and bring him into the guild.

Lin Tianhao still understood this cunning fellow quite well. There was nothing wrong with his character, it's just that he was too cunning.

Whenever he had time, he would hide in some corner to farm his armor and magic resistance.

In his belief, as long as his armor and magic resistance are high enough, he will be invincible.

This idea isn't wrong, after all, his armor and magic resistance can be stacked infinitely.

And his damage reflection characteristic is also very abnormal, it's not based on the damage taken.

In the later stages of the game, talents or skills that reflect damage based on damage taken are not popular.

Because even warriors have relatively good lifesteal attributes in the later stages.

If you reflect 30% of the damage and he lifesteals 30%, then the damage reflection and lifesteal become useless.

But Goudao Wangu's damage reflection doesn't depend on the damage taken. Even if he only takes a little damage, he will reflect a certain percentage of his armor or magic resistance as true damage.

This means that his damage reflection may be much higher than the damage taken.

Zhou Xiaopang replied quickly, indicating no problem.

As for Lin Tianhao at this moment...

He saw some unfavorable comments on the forum.

The main point was about worshipping foreign things and fawning over foreigners.

The reason was that the Starry Kingdom born from their Dragon Country players was a Westernized country, and the gods they worshipped were also Western gods.

This caused many people to praise Western countries.

Especially the Great Rice Empire.

Lin Tianhao saw many comments that were almost mythologizing the Great Rice Empire.

Lin Tianhao just smiled at these people who worshipped foreign things and fawned over foreigners.

After all, he couldn't possibly argue with these people, right?

After browsing the forum for a while.

Lin Tianhao did the second set of primary school broadcast exercises before entering the game again.

He still descended in the village.

Lin Tianhao came to the stone tablet engraved with [Eastern Ancient Country, Resting Here] again.

Passing through the stone tablet.

Lin Tianhao once again felt the descent of divine might.

It's just that this time, the divine might didn't have any impact on him.

Even the attack speed and movement speed reduction caused by being in the ice and snow had disappeared.

The Ice Snow Serpent did not appear.

Lin Tianhao went all the way forward, and there was a withered tree in front.

The tree didn't have a single leaf, only some thick branches were still preserved.

Lin Tianhao stepped forward to the tree, and under the tree, it seemed that something was covered by snow.

Lin Tianhao swept away the snow, and under the snow he saw a chessboard.

"This is... Go?"

Lin Tianhao didn't know how to play Go, but he had watched every episode of Go, so it wasn't difficult to recognize that this was Go.

It's just that the chess pieces and the chessboard were frozen into ice sculptures.

There were also words beside the chessboard.

"Heaven as the chessboard, stars as the pieces, seal the heavens and become a god."

Lin Tianhao's fingers rested on the ice-sculpted chessboard, and he couldn't help but be a little surprised.

These words were really a bit domineering.

Seal the heavens and become a god!

This should be a method of becoming a god.

In his previous life, Lin Tianhao knew that the more mainstream methods of becoming a god were becoming a god through incense and becoming a god through merit.

Incense is the faith of others, and merit is one's own good deeds.

However, compared to incense, merit is more difficult.

Because the judgment of good deeds is really difficult to figure out.

For example, saving a person may not increase merit but decrease it, because this person is likely to be an evil person.

But incense is different.

Regardless of good or evil, as long as someone believes in it, they can obtain the power of incense.

Of course, in addition to becoming a god through incense and becoming a god through merit.

Lin Tianhao also knew that there was also becoming a god through enlightenment.

Enlightenment is the literal meaning.

When one's understanding of a certain Dao reaches an extreme level, they can give birth to a corresponding godhead, thereby becoming a god.

Similar to the Snow Corpse's predecessor, the Ice and Snow Goddess, who most likely became a god through comprehending the Great Dao of Ice and Snow.

This sealing the heavens and becoming a god...

Was also the first time Lin Tianhao had heard of it.

Heaven as the chessboard, stars as the pieces, is indeed domineering.

It's just that I don't know if this domineering will be real or fake.

After all, in his previous life, Lin Tianhao had also encountered people who talked big, but were actually just soft-footed shrimp with not much substance.

However, in front of this, the Eastern Ancient Country rests here, Lin Tianhao was still somewhat looking forward to it.

What if he could unlock a new path to becoming a god?

Besides that.

Lin Tianhao also really wanted to know, who was the person who killed a god with a mortal body, and how did he do it?

A mortal killing a god!

Simple words.

But Lin Tianhao knew very well how difficult it was for a mortal to kill a god.

Gods are inherently high above, with heaven-defying strength.

The pressure of divine might is even more terrifying.

In his previous life.

Lin Tianhao had also heard of mortals killing gods, but without exception, they were beings with heaven-defying strength.

And with the help of divine artifacts.

Similar to the Godslayer Mark that Lin Tianhao obtained, the judgment is god-level.

He was thinking about these things in his heart, but Lin Tianhao knew.

He should continue moving forward.

According to his previous experience, after crossing a landmark area, he would encounter new dangers.

This time was no exception.

After Lin Tianhao passed through the chessboard, the snow began to tremble slightly, as if some behemoth was about to break out of the ground.

"Boom!"

With a loud noise.

The snow in front of Lin Tianhao exploded, and a huge fist smashed towards Lin Tianhao's head.

This fist was as big as a millstone, extremely fast, and carried a strong wind.

However, Lin Tianhao was prepared. When the ground trembled, he was already ready to dodge.

Therefore, before the fist reached Lin Tianhao, Lin Tianhao had already rolled away.

After landing, he shot an arrow.

-97315!

A huge damage number appeared.

Lin Tianhao's arrow knocked off nearly 100,000 health points from this guy.

At the same time, Lin Tianhao also saw his attributes.

Ice Snow Giant (Silver): Level 50.

Health: 84,900,000 / 85,000,000.

Attack: 33,359.

Skills: ???.
