

O game 88

Chapter 88: Sweep away the ice giants!

It had a whopping 85 million health points.

Its attack power was even higher, reaching over 30,000.

With these stats, it could completely dominate all players.

Perhaps only someone like Goudao Wangu, who had stacked armor and magic resistance to an extremely terrifying level, or someone like Lin Tianhao, with his thick health bar and high damage, could possibly defeat this ice giant. Otherwise, conquering it would be as difficult as ascending to heaven.

The ice giant missed its attack and roared at Lin Tianhao, sending out a sonic wave that caused Lin Tianhao to lose health rapidly.

-25803.

-25799.

...

Sonic wave attack, two instances of damage.

And the damage value was quite impressive.

However, it was still less than the damage of Lin Tianhao's normal attack, just a drop in the bucket.

“Swoosh swoosh swoosh!”

Lin Tianhao's arrows constantly pierced the air, each normal attack dealing high damage, which was extremely terrifying.

And because he was not affected by Divine Might, Lin Tianhao attacked twelve times per second.

The normal attack damage he could deal in one second alone was as high as 1.1 million.

Lin Tianhao's mouth twitched, because...

The ice giant didn't even last a second before falling.

The Cycle of Death, which hadn't been triggered in the previous hard-fought battles, was triggered this time.

A 1% trigger probability doesn't mean that one out of every hundred arrows will definitely trigger it.

On the contrary.

It's possible that even ten thousand arrows might not trigger it.

Because each arrow has a 1% chance, this probability is really low.

Of course.

But that's not important now.

He now had to wait for the second ice giant to respawn.

If his prediction was correct, it would respawn in half an hour.

So he would have to wait a relatively long time.

Thinking this way.

Lin Tianhao sat down on the spot.

He was going to sort out what he needed to do next.

As it stood, he had been relatively smooth sailing on this journey.

He had basically obtained everything he wanted.

Special skills, equipment, the blessings of the gods.

Most importantly, he had a large number of free attribute points, allowing his attack speed to break through ten early on.

His movement speed had even broken through fourteen.

And this was without a set of equipment that increased attack speed and movement speed.

If he got another set of such equipment, his strength would be very terrifying.

In fact, when he obtained the Transcendent-grade talent, Lin Tianhao had a moment where he wanted to learn from Goudao Wangu.

But he knew it wouldn't work when he was farming Red-Eyed Rabbits.

One arrow per rabbit.

Even though Red-Eyed Rabbits were must-farm monsters for novice players and respawned quickly, his attack speed and number of normal attacks were too low.

And one arrow per Red-Eyed Rabbit, with each only stacking one point of health, was too inefficient.

Putting aside these thoughts.

Lin Tianhao thought about his current situation.

With his current attributes, he was completely confident that he could clear the Snow Corpse's Ruins dungeon.

However, he had to consider how to support Leona in becoming the Queen of the Starfall Kingdom.

In his previous life, Lin Tianhao had some understanding of the Starfall Kingdom's political affairs.

In the court, among the officials, there were mainly three forces: the Prime Minister, the Grand Marshal, and the Commander of the Demon Suppression Division.

These three forces checked each other, and the Prime Minister and the Grand Marshal were often at odds, constantly engaging in open and secret struggles.

Although the Demon Suppression Division rarely participated in the struggles, they would fight wits and courage with the Nightwalkers of the Demon Cave.

The three forces all had great power and were mutually restraining each other.

In addition to this.

Among the royal family, the three princesses need not be mentioned, and the future throne will most likely be born from among them.

As for the Queen, Fiona Dingyu, it was true that she was on Qing Fuyun's side, but she supported Qing Fuyun only to support a puppet.

Furthermore.

The King also had a younger brother, the only Prince of the Starfall Kingdom, who was usually idle.

But Lin Tianhao knew that this Prince should not be underestimated.

This was the general situation of the Starfall Kingdom's court that Lin Tianhao understood.

As it stood, it would be difficult to simultaneously win over the Prime Minister and the Marshal among the officials.

The best choice would be to win over the Demon Suppression Division and the Marshal's side.

That way, there would be two forces among the officials supporting them.

However, what Lin Tianhao could think of, others could also think of.

Therefore.

The one who should be won over the most is probably Prince Sanyun!

Not many people knew the true strength of Prince Sanyun.

If he wasn't a reborn person.

Lin Tianhao would also think that Prince Sanyun wasn't anything special.

But the truth was the opposite.

Prince Sanyun.

Already had the power to rebel!

As for the Queen and Qing Fuyun.

He had her weakness in his hands, so naturally he didn't need to worry too much.

She sent him here, most likely wanting to trap him to death here.

Unfortunately, she wouldn't get her wish.

Win over Prince Sanyun, bring down Di Xuejian, and then deal with the Queen and Qing Fuyun.

Lin Tianhao quickly made a decision.

Half an hour later!

The second ice giant appeared.

Lin Tianhao began to attack casually.

There was no other way.

If he went all out, this ice giant would be killed quickly.

Therefore.

Lin Tianhao could only reduce his attack speed and fight while kiting.

This way, he could make the most of the half-hour respawn mechanism to stack his health points.

Thus.

Killing an ice giant allowed him to stack over eight thousand health points.

Therefore.

Lin Tianhao removed the Tears of the Goddess of Life, reducing his health points so that killing an ice giant would allow him to stack over ten thousand health points.

The following battle would be much smoother.

One ice giant after another was killed by Lin Tianhao.

Because of ice damage immunity, coupled with the Bloodthirsty Necklace's lifesteal ability, Lin Tianhao could ignore the ice giant's attacks.

Lin Tianhao didn't trigger the Cycle of Death on the remaining ice giants, and successfully stacked over ten thousand health points.

Next, two ice giants respawned simultaneously.

The result was no surprise, they were still played by Lin Tianhao.

Moreover, because of the Mind Recovery, Lin Tianhao could now easily use Double Arrow Shot.

Killing two ice giants allowed him to accumulate over twenty thousand health points.

Although the amount of health points he could accumulate gradually decreased as his damage increased, it didn't have much impact on Lin Tianhao.

Even later on, he could still stack over nineteen thousand health points.

When the last two ice giants fell, Lin Tianhao gained a total of 240,000 health points from killing the ice giants.

Because two of the ice giants were killed by him in seconds.

Adding the 10% increase from Zhou Xiaopang's talent, it was equivalent to an increase of more than 260,000.

If you include the increase from the Tears of the Goddess of Life, Lin Tianhao's current health points have reached a terrifying 3.5 million!

At this stage, not to mention players, apart from bosses in secret realms and hell-level difficulty, within level 20, no one should have a health bar as thick as his.