

O Summoner 1001

Chapter 1001

Kanlaon persevered in trying to trap the Tiny Titan using darkness, ice and earth elemental magic. Cersei is supporting him in reducing the magic resistance of the Tiny Titan but even an opponent that powerful would gain resistance to the spells. They could clearly see that the enemy is becoming less and less held down by the spells.

Kanlaon tried to freeze the Tiny Titan once more, but it escaped immediately as its body is now covered in a burning red aura. The markings on its body became even more crimson as if it is reacting to the feelings of the Tiny Titan. The physical power of the Tiny Titan is rapidly increasing and the restraints that kept it from going berserk could be seen cracking.

Cersei is trying to complete her curse when the tray that brought the food to the prisoners is sent flying to her location. Kanlaon immediately used the wind, fire and light dragon balls to block the flying metal cart. The speed of flight of the metal cart shocked Cersei which made her stutter in conjuring the curse which cancelled it.

She is actually inches away of getting slammed against a metallic cart if not for Kanlaon's saving grace. Kanlaon saving her did create an opening for the Tiny Titan to charge towards Kanlaon as it managed to shorten the distance. The Tiny Titan tried to grab Kanlaon, but he used the remaining dragon balls to launch a quick attack.

The Tiny Titan just easily blocked the dragon balls with its two arms that were not bound. The Tiny Titan hit the dragon balls with such force that they wind, fire, and light dragon balls got stuck on the walls. Kanlaon could not pull the dragon balls back to his general area due to this, so he suddenly sprouted his tail.

Just as the Tiny Titan is about to make a crushing grip towards the small Kanlaon, a large dragon tail slammed it away from the side. The strength of the Tiny Titan is apparent but the sudden strike from the side made it trip. With the sudden respite, Kanlaon made his dragon balls that were stuck emit intense energies which loosened the grip of the walls.

The Tiny Titan stood up once more and the chains holding it down started to get looser as it started to crack. The pillory, where the tiny titan's head and two arms are constrained, could be seen to also start breaking apart as the rage of the Tiny Titan is getting to the extreme. Its health is also in the 60% range which means its berserk state is almost upon then.

"We have rescued Papa." Soleil stated as she brought Vayu that is still bound by the chains that prevents him from using his strength.

"Good! We just need to get out of here." Cersei stated as she knew that fighting the Tiny Titan should no longer be their priority.

The group decided that escaping is now the priority, but the Tiny Titan is blocking their exit. They could try the other door from where the Tiny Titan entered but they do not know where it leads to. Just as they thought that all they need to do is escape, a warning from Vepar suddenly alerted Cersei.

"My darling Cersei, a powerful mage is coming to this area." Vepar stated which made Cersei frown.

"The royal mage is coming." Cersei told the group which meant that something happened to Equinox, but they know that he is not dead because no notification about his death arrived.

Just as Cersei told the news of the royal mage coming to them, the chains and the pillory of the Tiny Titan suddenly started to emit a creaking sound. They all looked at the direction of the sound to see that the chains slowing the Tiny Titan broke and the pillory unlocked.

The Tiny Titan emitted a loud roar and charged towards the group with all its might. They tried firing spells at it, but it seemed to have created some sort of shield or barrier that deflected incoming projectiles. The force barrier only blocked the front of the Tiny Titan as the spells released by Kanlaon that hit the back of the enemy still damaged it.

"Regulus!" Soleil commanded as the three meter tall flaming lion met the charge of the Tiny Titan.

They expected that the two will make each other get knocked back but Regulus actually got sent flying. Regulus crashed to the wall as its flames flickered. If Regulus was a normal beast, then it might be dead or unconscious already just from that attack.

Regulus might have been heavily damaged, but a six-layer combined magic circle suddenly appeared in mid-air as a golden smoke is scattered in the room. Kanlaon reverted to his original form albeit in a smaller form to fit inside the prison and blasted the Tiny Titan with its dragon breath.

Numerous elements affected the Tiny Titan, but it did not get any status ailments due to its tenacity. The dragon breath did push back the Tiny Titan, but they could not go to the exit as of yet. Cersei decided to place curses on the Tiny Titan as it is being blasted by the dragon breath.

Soleil collected more fire elemental energy in the surrounding as she tried to make Regulus recover. The amount of energy needed to make Regulus recover is much more that she anticipated. If they were actually hit by the tackle of the Tiny Titan, then they would have been dead because Regulus is resistant to physical attacks.

"Hold onto me!" Kanlaon commanded as his dragon breath ended but the Tiny Titan could still move.

The others immediately did as they are told as Kanlaon fired his dragon breath on the roof of the prison. The Tiny Titan knew that the intruders are going to escape which is why it forced its body to jump high. Kanlaon did not even bother hitting the Tiny Titan as he just flew while biting the enemy.

Chapter 1002

A beam of golden light is seen from the distance as a gigantic golden snake like figure erupted from the ground. The gigantic golden snake like figure had a three-meter-tall humanoid in its mouth while four individuals hugged it tightly in fear of falling down.

"Prisoner 549!" The royal mage shouted as she saw her slave in the mouth of a golden dragon.

When the Tiny Titan heard the voice of its master, it erupted with strength and tried to escape from Kanlaon's mouth. Kanlaon could feel its mouth being opened as he could not bite the enemy. He decided to just let Prisoner 549 go by spitting it out of his mouth.

Prisoner 549 is sent crashing down to the ground which made half the kingdom tremble which is a testament to how powerful the Tiny Titan is. The royal mage is rather distraught though as the constraints that she used on her slave are all broken. Without those constraints, she will not be able to perfectly control her slave, but it will have great power in return.

She is still glad that the slave collar is still in effect on Prisoner 549 as she could at least stir her in the direction she wanted. There might be some casualties on her side though as even she will not be able to perfectly command her slave now that it lost its reason.

Kanlaon immediately flew towards Adrian's location as it heard the command of its master. Kanlaon opened his mouth as six magic circles of different elements fused together in front of its mouth. He then fired his dragon breath towards the Eternal Barrier that contained Adrian, but it remained undisturbed.

"Big Brother! Papa is bound by chains." Soleil stated as she pointed at the chains that bounds Vayu.

Adrian could more or less guess the details and immediately sent his flying spear to cut through the chains. The spear cut through the chains, but it also sapped the remaining strength needed for Adrian to maintain his Primordial Stance. The spear vanished as the chains broke but Vayu is now freed from his restraints.

Torrents of wind filled the area as Vayu could now feel that his abilities are returning to him. Vayu immediately took out his katana from his inventory and held it in a stance. He jumped in the sky, and he could be seen walking in air. Numerous wind elemental energy is collected in his katana as he prepared to do a quick draw.

"Storm Cutter!" Vayu stated as he suddenly vanished from his location and appeared behind the mages that trapped Adrian.

The mages that trapped Adrian did not see what happened but the barrier that protected them suddenly got cleanly sliced into two. When the barrier got destroyed, Kanlaon opened his mouth once more, but he looked at the mages this time around. The mages immediately that their life is in danger, but they could not abandon their duty.

They tried to protect themselves, but the power of a dragon's breath is not something that could be easily blocked. Numerous mages fell from the sky and the Eternal Barrier started to blink in and out of existence. The players that wanted to attack Adrian from the sky all escaped as they did not want to face the wrath of a dragon.

[Your soulbound, Kimat, has been heavily injured.]

Adrian looked below and saw that the Tiny Titan is now attacking Kimat and even Dodu's damage transfer could not transfer all the damage since other attacks are still pouring onto him. Adrian has already got what they came here for which is why he immediately deactivated the Limit Break skill even if only a minute was left.

All his soulbounds that were summoned using the Limit Break skill returned to his Soul Chamber while he also unsummoned Kimat. Prisoner 549 roared as it saw that its target is no longer in front of it. The Tiny Titan then vented its rage on the surroundings instead which made the Royal Mage use her magic to once again restrain it.

"Let us get out of here." Adrian stated as he opened a Dimensional gate that led back to intersection of the kingdoms.

The Royal mage tried to stop Adrian and his companions from escaping but she was occupied with controlling her slave. If Prisoner 549 rampages, then the kingdom that she has on the palm of her hands would be turned to dust. With the severe damages to her kingdom, she needed to recuperate as a number of soldiers are injured while mages are either dead or injured.

The players all frowned as the promised reward that they wanted could never be taken anymore. They released their rage on the forums because the Demon just appeared in the kingdom that they are operating to thrash it. There have been others that defended Adrian though as some learned that a secret prison is located in the kingdom.

Despite some saying what Adrian did is justified, players that view him as a threat could now see how much damage he could do. Even if that kingdom is not that big compared to others that have legendary tier NPCs, he still went and played around with numerous mages. He even made a Royal Mage scared of him to the point of using a Mythical Tier spell.

The guilds that limited in recruiting summoners have now started to greed for an individual like the demon. They thought that he was only powerful because of his race but his soulbounds were actually as powerful field bosses. The synergy of his soulbounds also made it difficult to even kill them.

The top ranked guilds suddenly wanted to get their hands on the summoners of high rank. They wanted a one-man army like Equinox. The summoners in turn got immense motivation to become more powerful when they saw the potential that could be them. They saw Adrian's soulbounds as the future of their very own soulbounds as well.

Chapter 1003

Solstice headed towards the last kingdom, but she did not expect that the current king of that kingdom would be a bastard son of the emperor of the fallen empire. The Shade that escorted her is currently trapped in the dungeon while she is restrained.

Even though she is restrained, she could still move her body because it only weakened the use of her powers. Unlike the fallen empire's royal family, the bastard son actually had the blessing of a sun god. Although it was a god that is not recognize in the central continent because his mother was a maid that hailed from the western continent.

"To think that King Amon would be more powerful than I thought. Even you have played the angels, I am impressed." Solstice stated as she is currently bound by rings made of solar light. She is not harmed by the rings, but it does restrain her abilities. She is also not feeling discomfort because of the armor that she wore.

"You are saying that the angels will just use me for the war. But you did not think that I was only acting weak for the sake of my people. Those pesky winged bastards are the reason why the empire could not move on. I am actually thankful that it got destroyed because living in a hidden room at that place sickens me." King Amon stated.

"Since you have already said your piece, let me and the Shade go. We only came to warn you of the angels, but it seems that you no longer need to. You are actually powerful enough to defeat them." Solstice stated.

"That is true, but I am still interested in the claim that you have said. My people are on the verge of starvation as our food supplies will only last us two more months. I need to invite this demon that you speak of. I want to meet the Lord of Avalon himself." King Amon stated.

"You should have just said it instead of binding me like this." Solstice stated but King Amon will not believe anyone. He already has deep trust issues and the only ones he could truly believe are his family and loyal retainers.

"Your majesty, we have captured some people that sneaked inside the castle." A voice from outside the room stated.

"Who are they to actually dare come in my castle? Is my kingdom a weak one which is why some vagrants just waltz in?" King Amon stated.

"They confessed that they have come for the woman." The voice outside stated.

"Bring them in." King Amon commanded as four knights entered carrying Creepysoo, Awraka and Lycan.

"Looks like big sis is fine. You can stop worrying now." Creepysoo stated as he teased Lycan. He has been enduring the countless raving of that lovestruck man.

"Can you read the room?" Lycan stated.

King Amon then recognized Lycan as he is the son of the duke of the empire back then. The duke would often visit him as he was his instructor back then. He knew that the duke had a son, but he was unable to meet him personally. He has seen him from afar during one of the balls when he snuck out.

"Welcome, Son of Duke Lycaon. It is a pleasant surprise to meet you here. I did not think that you were the sneaky type. Your father would often talk about your un noble like behavior but to think that I will bear witness of it." King Amon stated.

"Do I know you?" Lycan asked.

"I am one of your father's students. My name is Amon. King Amon if you will since I have ascended this throne." King Amon stated.

"Oh! My father often spoke about you. He said that you were a meek and shy brat but very talented. So, you did not die when the Imperial Capital got sacrificed to the dark god." Lycan stated with surprise.

"You can say that it was a blessing as I am not eaten by an abomination unlike my family. Even the demigod old man was no match for such a dark god. They liked to tell people that they are descendants of gods but that is actually far from the truth. Anyways, you can loosen their bonds." King Amon stated.

"Your majesty! It is not safe. They have a filthy undead with them." One of the royal knights stated.

"Hey! Mind you! I am the Prince of the Undead." Creepysoo rebuked as he did not like being called filthy.

"I know of him. We do have our intelligence about the undead." King Amon stated as he knew that the undead kingdom that sprouted does not attack the living recklessly. In fact, some human merchants have already started trading with the undead. With the increasing influence of the Church of the Twin Gods, the undead led by King Arthur are not like other undead that hate the living.

In fact, some countries have even sent their delegations to the Undead Kingdom to ask for labor. They asked for skeleton miners since they do not tire. Some kingdoms that have great mines have contacted them because of this. Even King Amon wanted this labor force as his kingdom also have mines where humans are unable to breath but undead do not need to breathe.

"He is correct. You must give respect to a prince even if he did sneak inside my kingdom." King Amon stated which made Creepysoo embarrassed as he is not supposed to do sneaky things.

"Let me introduce myself one more. I am King Amon Rah of the Kingdom of the Sun." King Amon stated as he introduced himself to everyone present.

"Creepysoo, Prince of the Undead. It is a pleasure to meet the King of the Kingdom of the Sun." Creepysoo stated as he did the vow of what a noble should do when another noble introduces themselves.

"Lycan, Son of Duke Lycaon. It is a pleasure to meet the King of the Kingdom of the Sun." Lycan stated as he also bowed like a noble.

Chapter 1004

"There must be a reason why you did not send us to the dungeons." Lycan stated as he knew that they would have either been executed or sent directly in prison.

"How did you guys got caught anyway? With you three, I doubt that you could get caught." Solstice asked.

"A mage that could use sand caught us. We might have been out of vision, but we still walk on the ground though." Creepysoo stated.

"That would be my wife. She is the greatest mage in this kingdom." King Amon stated.

"Good choice." Lycan stated.

"Thanks." King Amon replied.

"I believe that you need to say what you want then to do my dear. We even made sure that their presence is not known to all of the people in the castle." A female voice sounded as the hourglass on the table suddenly rattled and the sand started to come out.

"My lovely wife, Queen Esett. You are finally here." King Amon called.

The sand from the hourglass suddenly came out while a small sand tornado revealed a female figure. The female that manifested from the sand tornado has black hair and blue eyes while having tanned skin. What made her most alluring is the way she carried herself as if she is filled with grace and majesty.

"Tell them what we need them to do my dear. I am already missing my little boy." Queen Esett stated as she flashed a look of concern.

"We do need the food but what we need now is the safe rescue of our child. The angel took our children and hid him. He said that he would return him when the war is finished which is why we hasten the war preparation, but he suddenly went elsewhere." King Amon stated.

"I have searched everywhere in the kingdom, but my child could not be found. I even used my magic to tap into the very soil of the kingdom, but my child could not be found. He must have been taken somewhere high or a location farther away from the kingdom. I beg you to find him while the angel is away." Queen Esett stated.

"No need to worry about the angel." Lycan stated.

"Why? Is he caught in battle or has been trapped?" King Amon asked as he views either of the two a good sign.

"He has died. All three angels that came to persuade your three-kingdom alliance was killed." Lycan stated.

"It is true. I even helped. Who knew that angels are very weak against darkness attribute magic curses?!" Creepysoo stated as he remembered that his enhancement on the arrow was really powerful darkness attribute magic.

King Amon and Queen Esett then looked at each other with relief but there is also a feeling or worry on their faces. They knew that their son is still in danger because they have yet to find him. In fact, the Shade that they captured along with Solstice was sent on a mission to find their son in exchange for Solstice' release. They also told this to the group which is why they now know why Solstice is still here.

"You could have just said that you need help finding your son. Do you have some of his blood? We also have someone with powerful sense of smell here right now." Solstice stated as she looked at Lycan.

"Why do you need the blood of my son?" King Amon asked as that is a strange thing to ask.

"She is a vampire. A Child of Night. She can follow the scent of a specific blood as long as she has tasted it. You could say that it is a sense of smelling the blood that they have ingested." Lycan explained.

When King Amon and Queen Esett learned that the woman in heavy golden armor is actually a vampire, they are surprised as they are often creatures spoken in old stories. They thought that the vampires have erased from the world as they were hunted for being blood sucking monsters.

"My king! With the angel dead, I fear that our son is in great danger. We might not be able to move because the angels might still have eyes everywhere, but the Shades will be able to safely search for our son. We already sent the other one, having them search with their special abilities would be great help." Queen Esett stated as she desperately needed to see her son but there are many followers of the Church of Light in this kingdom due to King Amon being related to the former empire.

"Well, I will set Solstice and Lycan free with the Shade that you brought. The Prince of the Undead will be at my company while you send back my son." King Amon stated as he waved his hands.

The rings of solar light that bound Solstice, Lycan and Awraka vanished, and they could once again use their abilities. Solstice even stretched as she could finally move her hands around. She then receded her helmet and the king and queen are shocked upon seeing her beautiful face.

She even beat Queen Esett when it came to beauty. King Amon even unconsciously gave a thumbs up to Lycan as respect. Solstice is not bothered by this though because that was also the reaction of his friends in the real world.

"Do you have your child's blood?" Solstice asked.

"We do not have it." King Amon and Queen Esett stated.

"If you do not have then a drop of blood from the king should suffice as he is his son. The blood should more or less smell the same. Although there is some negativity in using that method." Solstice stated.

"What is the negativity? Is there a chance to fail?" King Amon asked.

"Not really. You see, all of those that share your blood will be sensed. Meaning...if you have something like a secret child then she would also sense that, and it might divert her smell." Lycan stated which made King Amon have a chill on his spine.

Chapter 1005

"Not really. You see, all of those that share your blood will be sensed. Meaning...if you have something like a secret child then she would also sense that, and it might divert her smell." Lycan stated which made King Amon have a chill on his spine.

"How effective is this? Can you sense all those that share his blood if you taste it?" Queen Esett stated as King Amon stiffened as he already knew what his wife is thinking.

"Do not worry my dear wife. I am only loyal to you. I have no other woman besides you." King Amon stated with great confidence which managed to save his life.

"I believe your words, but I will believe your blood more." Queen Esett stated as she pricked King Amon's finger and put three drops of blood on a small bowl that she created using sand. She then proceeded to give Solstice the blood with a smile, but the group could clearly sense that it was a smile filled with anticipation.

"I shall start now." Solstice stated as her eyes glowed in red light.

The three drops of blood then floated up from the sand bowl as not even a small speck is left. The three drops of blood then rotated slowly in the air before being sent to Solstice's mouth. She felt a burning sensation from her tongue, but she only felt a small sting as if she ate something spicy.

[You have drunk a drop of blood that has traces of Sun Energy. Your health has been reduced by 1%.]

[You have drunk a drop of blood that has traces of Sun Energy. Your health has been reduced by 1%.]

[You have drunk a drop of blood that has traces of Sun Energy. Your health has been reduced by 1%.]

"Are you fine?" Queen Esett asked as she saw that Solstice' mouth had a small amount of smoke come out.

"I am fine. I just did not expect that the power of the Sun would be potent in King Amon's blood. You are truly blessed by the sun unlike the imperial family." Solstice stated as she knew that the imperial family did not have such blood. It is also the reason why she does not want to come close to King Amon too much as she could feel the radiant warmth of the sun coming from him.

Solstice's surroundings then turned into a hazy red color as her passive skill Blood Sense activated. It is a tracking skill from the vampire line that lets them track the sent of the blood they have ingested. It is a not just through their nose that they can smell but they see a blood red track they could follow when activating this.

When Solstice activated Blood Sense, she sensed three blood paths. One came from King Amon himself while another led outside the castle. The remaining one is strangely pointing in the same room as King Amon himself, but it is quite faint.

"Could you sense him?" Lycan asked.

"I do but there are three paths that I can see. One from King Amon. One that leads to the outside while the last one might be faint, but it is here in the castle." Solstice stated as the whole castle suddenly started to shake.

"You dare!" Queen Esett stated with a smile that could kill anyone.

"No! My Queen. It must be a mistake. I am only loyal to you." King Amon stated as he started to sweat because he really did not do anything.

"Let me see your loyalty when I crush that manhood of yours." Queen Esett stated as she started to build mana.

"Oh! I know where the last path comes from. It comes from you." Solstice stated as the faint path actually led to Queen Esett herself, but she is not blood related to King Amon.

"Me?" Queen Esett stated in a confused voice as the castle stopped rumbling.

"A faint reaction means that the baby has not yet fully formed. Congratulations. You are pregnant." Solstice stated as she already encountered something like this when she was practicing her Blood Sense.

When Solstice brought out the news, every person in the room is shocked. King Amon became incredibly happy while Queen Esett needed to sit down to internalize the news. She is now certain that her dizzy spells are not due to her stress of worrying about her son but due to her pregnancy. She will head to the physician later to verify it as it is big news.

"She is pregnant. I can see the soul of the child." Creepysoo stated as he activated his Soul Sight. He could see a small flame in the belly of the queen. A small flame indicated that a child is present in her womb.

Queen Esett started to breakdown as an undead that could see souls also said it. King Amon held back his utter joy as his son is still out there. Solstice, Lycan and Awraka excused themselves as they now followed the blood path that led outside. Meanwhile, Creepysoo summoned tea out of his inventory as he just waited there. His restraints were already taken off, but he will still not escape to make sure that they stay true to their word.

It did become awkward for Creepysoo though which is why he summoned Voodoo Marie to pamper him. He just laid on Voodoo Marie's lap as he rested and ate some snacks in his inventory. He did not even bother the two lovebirds that are currently hugging in his presence.

"Let me inform Big Brother Equinox. He might worry if we do not send anything, and two hours already passed." Creepysoo stated.

"I am glad that they are fine. But to think that they got a different mission compared to the one that they should have done." Adrian muttered.

"I am sorry. I have been captured because of my incompetence." Vayu stated.

"It is not your fault. We assumed that the three kingdoms were pressured. It should be my fault because it is my plan." Adrian stated.

Chapter 1006

The last path that led to the outside of the castle does not stop within the kingdom. The path leads to the mountain a distance away from the kingdom. Solstice did not know why the angel would bring the child away from their main base, which is the Church of Light, but something tells her that it is not for something good.

Thankfully, the blood path is still a dark red color which means that the boy is still alive. She does not want to stumble upon the worst case scenario and bring the dead body of a child to the parents. Since their group only consisted of Awraka, Lycan and Solstice, they moved fairly quick as Solstice's armor recedes under the effect of Dark Veil.

The mountain is a small one and they managed to evade all the monsters in the area due to their stealth. It is also a good thing that it is already in the afternoon which means the Dark Veil's effects becomes stronger. The blood path sent them to a hidden lair inside the mountain which looked like some sort of temple.

The temple inside the mountain has many statues of gods and goddesses but only one of them is intact. All the other statues of gods and goddesses are destroyed except for the statue that represents the Goddess of Light, Luminaria. It feels as if this temple is only for the Goddess of Light Luminaria and all other followers of gods, and goddesses are not welcome.

"How come a hidden temple like this is not famous? Not even the players in the Kingdom of the Sun do not have an idea about this place." Lycan stated as they suddenly triggered a dungeon notification.

[You have discovered a hidden dungeon called the Temple of Light Hidden in the dark.]

[All experience points gained will be doubled for seven days inside the dungeon.]

[All drops in the dungeon will have a significant increase as well.]

[You have gained 1000 Fame for discovering this hidden dungeon.]

[The Goddess of Light Luminaria looks at you unfavorably for discovering something that mortals like you do not need to know.]

[The curse of the Goddess of Light is casted upon you.]

[Due to being having the power of darkness inside your body, the curse of the Goddess of Light did not affect you as she does not have jurisdiction over children born from darkness.]

"What the heck? Did a Goddess just try to curse us?" Lycan stated.

"You do not need to worry as we are Children borne from Darkness. Even if the veil of the gods has somewhat lessened, the gods and goddesses could no do anything they want from us. We should hurry as the one inside this dungeon has surely known of our presence." Solstice stated.

"Unfortunately, my Dark Veil seems to have become almost obsolete." Awraka stated as her Dark Veil no longer fully functioned, and their figures could be clearly seen.

"I would actually be shocked if it did because this temple is filled with light elemental energy. Our attacks using the darkness element would also be the same." Solstice stated as she pressed forward to go inside the temple. The blood path is getting thicker and thicker which means the boy should be close.

The group entered the main temple and the very interior is not different from the entrance. There are still broken statues of gods and goddesses. This time, statues of angels also decorated the interior with a gigantic statue of the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria statue in the interior is the most pretentious of the statues there. She seems to be looking down upon all the beings that came from the entrance. Even the three people felt that they are under a lot of pressure due to the gaze of the statue.

[You are under the gaze of a statue venerating the Goddess of Light Luminaria.]

[Due to the immense number of prayers sent using this statue, it has gained some connection to the Goddess of Light Luminaria.]

[Due to you being a Child Borne from Darkness, your stats have been lowered by 10% as the statue is gazing upon you.]

Solstice then wandered her eyes in search of the boy and saw the boy lying down on an altar. The kid could be seen breathing but is showing no signs of waking up. It seems that he is under some sort of trance as she could see something glittering on top of the child's head.

Solstice decided to charge towards the child, but the broken porcelain status suddenly came to life. The porcelain statues that came to life then charged towards Solstice. Since Solstice could not take a defensive stance immediately, she just charged at full force. She crashed against the porcelain statues with her golden armor and shattered them with the impact.

The porcelain statues might have become broken, but they did manage to stop Solstice' charge. The sound of footsteps could then be heard from the altar as a blonde female showed herself. Upon seeing the blonde woman, Solstice, Lycan and Awraka could instinctively knew that they are in the presence of someone with light energy present in their body.

"To think that children born from the dirty darkness would find a place willed with the warmth of light. I implore you to go on your way now as I am not in the mood to play with people like you." The blonde woman stated.

"What is an angel doing with a small child? That should be illegal. I shall call the FBI." Lycan stated but the blonde woman does not understand the last part that Lycan said.

"Give us the boy and we will be on our way." Solstice stated with a heavy tone.

"You cannot have the boy because he belongs to us now. A boy with this pure of blood that bursts of light will be the perfect vessel for the great leader of the angels Metatron. Nevertheless, you...filth manage to see through my disguise as an angel. I shall be gracious and let you go on your way while my mood is still good." The blonde woman stated.

"Why not give us the boy to return to his family and we will not pluck your feathers from your body." Solstice stated.

When the blonde woman heard the threats of the filth before her, she narrowed her eyes and could see this repulsive aura covering both Solstice and Lycan. She instinctively knew what that is upon seeing the aura surrounding them because that is the aura of an Angel Killer.

"I have been gracious to all of you despite you being beneath me. If you had taken my offer, then you would have come out of this temple alive. Now that I could see that two of you probably killed a weak angel, I shall bring upon justice to my fallen people. Remember the name Mishiel as it will be the angel that brings you to your grave." Mishiel stated as two pair of wings sprouted from her back.

The porcelain statues got covered in light elemental energy as they fused together to become golems. Mishiel did not move from her location but the number of golems she instantly created numbered in the fifties. She did not even break a sweat trying to create them as it felt like she considers it the same as breathing.

"Prepare for battle." Solstice stated as she immediately used the puncturing mechanism of her armor to create a blood sword. Lycan transformed his hands as well as he will deal more damage with claws than just his bare fists.

"I actually do not have a skill that can destroy numerous enemies." Lycan stated but even Solstice did not have such a skill as well. Both of them are front line fighters that excelled at duels. The ones that could clear numerous enemies for them would either be Equinox or Peridot.

"I shall handle the rocks. The two of you should immediately head up and attack her." Awraka stated as some sort of aura started to build inside of her. She also too out her weapons which are two golden claws. These golden claws only have the middle finger covered instead of three fingers.

"Dance of the Flash Goddess: Butterfly!" Awraka stated as her body exploded with an aura that felt as though lightning itself manifested onto the world.

Solstice and Lycan are already familiar with Awraka's skills as she is a top notch assassin that is extremely fast. What they did not know is that she actually had a skill that can take out numerous enemies. A rough figure of a lightning butterfly outlined the entire temple as the porcelain statues filled with the light element shattered in just a few seconds.

Solstice and Lycan did not doubt Awraka as they immediately charge to Mishiel's location but two three meter tall angel statues blocked their way. It seems these statues are different compared to the numerous ones. Mishiel could be seen to focus on these two more than the others.

Chapter 1007

A butterfly lighting pattern emerged in just a split second which devastated all the porcelain statues surrounding them. The porcelain statues are not really alive as they are considered golems by the system. In fact, the porcelain statue golems are even measured with durability instead of health.

Monster: Mixed Porcelain Statue Golem

Level: Unknown

Durability: 80%

Description: A temporary golem created using the scattered porcelain statues in the surrounding. It is currently given autonomous action by injecting it with great light elemental energy. The light elemental energy in the porcelain statues is not stable which is why durability falls easily.

Name: Mishiel

Tier: Legendary

Title: Heavenly Governor: Virtue

Health: 100%

Mana: 98%

Description: An angel that is of the Second Heavenly sphere and is close in command with Pristina. She might look like she is obedient to Pristina, but she is actually only loyal to the leader of the angels, The Seraphim Mikhail. She wants to partially open a rift into the Silver City so that the leader of angels descends into this plane of existence.

Status: Slightly Annoyed

Solstice and Lycan are supposed to hit Mishiel, but she blocked the attack by using two huge angel golems. The huge angel golems that she is controlling manually are different than the other ones. The two angel golem's attacks are more precise and more powerful than the small golems. What is even more terrifying is the fact that the durability of those two golems is not decreasing.

The golems created by Mishiel would easily lose durability if they hit something even if it is ground. The two angel golems are covered with denser light elemental energy which made it difficult for Solstice or Lycan to attack. They are also weakened due to the whole room being filled with light elemental energy.

"This is why I told you to go back. You should have accepted my request when I was being reasonable. It is just one human child anyway. They can make more of them." Mishiel stated as she clearly has no sympathy for human life. She does not even consider the humans as important as they are just meant to venerate the angels.

Mishieli is then focused on the battle with Solstice and Lycan as she made sure that they will not reach her. The golems might be heavy and easily shattered but the golems become more powerful with her Virtue. The Virtue of Light Possession is her main ability that evolved from her Powers.

She is trying to call for the Seraphim Mikhail into the mortal plane as she wanted to serve her leader once more. She will also be rewarded handsomely if she were to call their leader here and she might increase her ability to a Dominion.

She will be one step closer to becoming the pinnacle angel when she becomes a Dominion which Pristina is also a part of. What Mishieli did not take note of is the assassin that they are in a party with. A Shade unnoticed is a dangerous threat even if they cannot use Dark Veil effectively in an area filled with light elemental energy.

Mishieli suddenly felt terrible pain to her lower back as she noticed that the Shade, she disregarded appeared behind her. She did not even notice her presence as if she teleported right behind her. The golden finger claw punctured Mishieli's back and a black mark of a flower in bud called the Oleander appeared behind her.

Mishieli suddenly felt sluggish for a moment as her golems also became sluggish after. Mishieli immediately used a light elemental magic spell called Light Ray to try and kill Awraka, but she vanished with a flash of light. Mishieli used a healing spell on herself, but the mark is still present on her back.

Mishieli is a great spell caster and knows bodies well due to her Virtue. She knew that if the flower behind her buds, then something terrible will happen to her host body. She painstakingly searched for a body that is completely compatible to her which is why she will not surrender it easily, but the mark cannot disappear even if she used Cleansing Light.

"What did you do to me?" Mishieli stated as she sent the two angel golems to attack Solstice and Lycan once more. She also did not stay idle as she used a spell called Light Dome that will damage anyone that comes close to her. It will also warn her of Awraka's presence when she suddenly appears behind her.

Mishieli does not know why a Shade could move that quick, but she will not let her guard down again. In her knowledge, nothing is faster than light. They are the best when it comes to speed, but Mishieli is not one of the angels that can move at the speed of light because only high-ranking angels could do that feat.

"Tch! Two more hits and I could have taken out half of her total health." Awraka muttered to herself as she failed to land the next two hits. She might be fast on her feet, but she has yet to increase her attack speed which is why her hands could not catch up to her feet. She remembered that the Flash Goddess could do that easily, but it seems she is not yet strong enough for that.

Awraka could no longer become sneaky as Mishieli is now paying attention to her movement as well. Solstice and Lycan are already having difficulty fighting the two golems as their stats are decreased. Solstice and Lycan could not muster all of their strength as well because of the numerous light elemental energy present in the room.

Awraka then used her keen observation while dodging the light attribute spells. Her ability to observe and deduce information increased when under the care of the Shades. It is also a good thing that she has prior experience in data gathering albeit it is most of Equinox.

The most suspicious thing about this temple is the statue of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. They immediately became weakened just because of its gaze. Mishiel is also making sure that they do not reach the top by creating spells that will always push them back down.

Awraka decided to test that theory as she activated Shunpo: Second Stance – Lightning Weasel. She suddenly vanished from her location and reappeared on the wall behind Mishiel. She started to traverse the said wall by climbing it up vertically. She wanted to destroy the head of the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

Mishiel noticed this and immediately infused light element into the numerous javelin weapons. She then aimed all the light porcelain javelins towards Awraka's location making sure that the statue of the Goddess of Light Luminaria is not chipped in any way.

Awraka found this odd as she would only get pushed away when she is about to walk on the statue of the Goddess Luminaria. Mishiel even started to fly as she is now focused on Awraka instead of Solstice and Lycan as her golems can take care of them easily as she shifted the threat priority to Awraka.

"Babe,I am a bit angry that she is not paying attention to us." Solstice stated as she parried the attack of the angel golem.

"I am as well but we cannot do much in a room filled with the light element." Lycan replied as he kicked the angel golem but only a small crack appeared.

"Awraka is also doing something which made her the priority target. I will stall the two golems while you save the child. We will choose to escape when we get the child. He is our objective here. We do not need to defeat her, or should I say that we cannot defeat her under these conditions." Solstice stated.

"Understood." Lycan stated as he pushed all that he could to transform his feet into wolf's.

Solstice receded her armor and a sizzling sound could immediately be heard in the area as light smoke is rising up from her body. She is getting hurt by the light elemental energy in the surroundings even though she could take on the natural light of the sun outside. This just means that the temple is filled to the brim of light elemental energy.

"Blood Field!" Solstice stated as she lost 20% of her health and the ground that she stood on became blood.

She then used all her concentration to create blood chains to bind the two angel golems. Lycan pushed his feet and created a crater on the ground he previously stood on. He is about to reach the boy when he could see that a light barrier protecting the boy.

"Night Claw." Lycan stated as his two claws became filled with all the darkness elemental energy he could muster.

The clash between the light and darkness elemental energy happened when Lycan came in contact with the barrier. This made Mishiel look towards the altar as she must also not lose the boy but Awraka made use of her slight confusion.

Chapter 1008

Mishiel felt the clash of light and darkness elements near her. She looked back and saw that the werewolf is actually trying to pierce the barrier she created to ward off external factors to the boy. She has yet to start the ritual and needs the boy for her plan to succeed.

She has been trying to open a crack to the Silver City by collecting lots of light elemental energy. She would have only needed two more days to succeed but the arrival of the three hindered her operation. She also has trouble trying to purify the body of the boy with her light elemental magic because it is being repelled by an unknown force.

Mishiel became incredibly frustrated as the three might be weakened but they are becoming a nuisance to her. She also needs to dodge any attacks made by them because they could taint her light element with darkness element which would weaken her.

"A chance! Shunpo: Third Stance – Flash Sparrow." Awraka muttered as she once again vanished from her location.

Mishiel felt someone behind her and instinctively knew that it was Awraka. The assassin is trying to target her back where the mark is again, but she already prepared for that. A magic circle made appeared behind her and blasted a Light Ray. Awraka would have been hit but the figure behind Mishiel became an afterimage.

Awraka's Shunpo: Third Stance – Flash Sparrow is a skill that lets her move freely in the air for a given period of time. It is only meant for mobility and evasion than for attacking. She could then be seen traversing the neck of the Goddess Luminaria statue which provoked Mishiel as well.

She could take being tormented but any disrespect towards her creator goddess is not to be tolerated. She created more Light Rays and fired it towards Awraka, but the latter easily dodged it due to the increased mobility that she possessed.

Awraka then increased her speed for a moment as she jumped from the neck to the face of the statue. She collected all the momentum that she built up on her right hand to punch the right eye of the Goddess Luminaria statue. Something like a light spirit escaped the eye and a notification suddenly popped up.

[You have destroyed the right eye of the Goddess Luminaria statue that looks down on all those not created by her.]

[The effect of the statue has decreased. Your stats are now decreased by 5% instead of 10%.]

Awraka then looked at the other eye of the statue, but beams of light prevented her from going to the other one. She immediately dodged by stomping the face of the Goddess Luminaria statue to push her away from the Light Rays. A crack also appeared on the face of the Goddess Luminaria statue which made Mishiel even more enraged as the beauty of her creator goddess got tainted.

Mishiel is about to unleash her most powerful spell, but she heard something crack in the distance. The that she created to isolate the little boy is finally broken. Lycan finally pierced the barrier when his stat reduction only turned to 5%. He immediately took the boy and made a run for the exit.

"You dare!" Mishiel shouted as the light elemental energy in the surroundings started to shake.

Numerous light elemental magic circles appeared all around the dungeon. All the magic circles are of the spell Light Ray, and it is pointed in all different directions. The Light Rays fired which filled the entire hidden dungeon with numerous blinding rays of light.

Solstice immediately let go of her hold on the two angel statues to cover for Lycan and the boy. She immediately covered them with the blood field as she has no way of protecting them. They looked like parents trying to protect their child from the dangers of the world.

Awraka could only trust her ultimate technique by being faster than light itself. She does not have any defensive spell that could make her immune to anything, but she does have a skill that can make her burst into great speed for three seconds. Three seconds is enough time for her to do what she needs to do.

"Advent of the Flash Goddess!" Awraka stated as her whole body became overcharged with kinetic energy to the point that sparks of electricity could be seen manifesting around her.

The blinding light that illuminated the whole dungeon subsided and the scene of Awraka stabbing her golden claw middle finger on the back of Mishiel. Mishiel could not believe that she got attacked when all the light element in the surroundings were under her control. She puked blood as her health immediately dropped to 50%.

Mishiel also got stunned in the process as she dropped to the ground. Awraka immediately made her way to the three to check on their status. The blood sphere that protected them got unsummoned which showed the damaged bodies of Solstice and Lycan. Even though both of them were injured, they managed to protect the boy as even a strand of hair is not damaged.

"Let us go to the exit." Solstice stated as they immediately ran for the exit.

The three did not need to kill Mishiel as they only needed to bring the boy back. Awraka's that decreases an opponent's health to 50% immediately only works every 72 hours. She will not be able to use it again on the same opponent in succession or else she would have easily killed any enemy slower than her.

Just as the three are a few seconds away from the exit, a huge pillar of light exploded to where Mishiel dropped down. A scream of pure frustration echoed in the hidden dungeon as a bloody dressed Mishiel rose to the sky. She then burst into pure light energy as two halos emerged from behind her.

The statues in the hidden dungeon suddenly gathered towards her as she made use of every light element in it. The broken statues circled around her and created two pairs of wings made of rubble. It is not only wings that are created as three pairs of arms are created as well. Mishiel is now in full rampage mode as she is incredibly angry.

"You vile vermin! Face the wrath of light!" Mishiel shouted as the six arms made of rubble are sent flying towards the group.

Solstice then stabbed herself with the blood sword she created to sacrifice 30% of her health to create a shield made of blood. The six rubble arms collided with the blood shield which made Solstice grunt as the blow is incredibly heavy. The force of the punch of the six rubble arms overpowered Solstice eventually which blew the group towards the exit.

Lycan managed to protect the boy, but he got sent flying by the punch. Solstice almost died as she blocked the next hit as well. Awraka is also stunned as she lost a lot of health immediately even though she only got hit by the force of the impact. Luckily for them, they were blown out of the hidden dungeon, but they should not sigh with relief just yet.

The three thinks that they are now safe since Mishiel is the boss of the hidden dungeon which means she could not leave. Just as they thought that they are now safe, the mountains started to rumble which made them lose color on their faces. Mishiel is much more powerful than them as one of her hits could easily kill them, but she was also a glass cannon type of enemy.

Even though she was a glass cannon type of enemy, it is difficult to even damage her. She is not the type to get hit easily and Awraka even made use of her most powerful skill to just reach her. The figure of the four winged and six armed Mishiel could be seen rising from the mountains. She even destroyed a part of the mountain just to make a point that she is powerful.

[Hidden Dungeon Boss: Mishiel has transformed into a Field Boss.]

"What the heck! That can happen?" Lycan cursed as he has yet to experience that.

This phenomenon only happens when the boss monster chases the invaders. They usually do not leave their territories, but they can when they are capable. The boss monsters will not lose any stats by becoming a field boss, but it will lose its home court advantage.

"Awraka! We will stall as much time as we can. Carry the boy to the kingdom." Solstice stated as she decided that she will sacrifice her life.

Lycan then forcibly limped towards Awraka to give the boy to her. She has recovered from her stunned state, but she is still slowed down due to the aftereffects. This did not deter her from steeling her resolve as she carried the boy and proceeded to start running despite her legs starting to spurt blood.

Chapter 1009

Solstice and Lycan faced the enraged Mishiel with their remaining life. Solstice could not even use any of her skills anymore as she lost lots of blood. She is not a good match against opponent that do not bleed. If the opponents could bleed, then she would have dominated this battlefield.

Lycan could not transform anymore either as he used it to destroy the barrier earlier. It is actually a miracle that he could still stand up as he is only on 10% health. He is already pushing his limits as he is also weakened from the effects of the forceful transformation.

"Die, pitiful insects!" Mishiel shouted as she used all six arms to rain down on the two of them.

Solstice and Lycan used their remaining strength to reach Mishiel. Solstice even made use of her last bit of control of blood to damage Mishiel with her own blood. In the end, she could only make a dagger worth of blood to try and puncture Mishiel, but it got blocked by a barrier.

Mishiel got enraged even more as one of her three protective barriers vanished because of a cheap trick. Lycan made use of his last strength as well to jump up high and destroy another one of the barriers. Before Lycan could land, two of the hands made a clapping motion and killed Lycan like a mosquito.

The other two hands made a slamming motion on Solstice which ended her life. The two died but they have distracted Mishiel for quite some time so Awraka should have made some distance. Awraka could be seen pushing her body as well while carrying the boy. She is losing health every half a mile, but she could see the shining giant body from the distance.

"How could such a huge thing be so fast!" Awraka cursed as she pushed her body to the limit. She will reach the kingdom in thirty minutes as long as nothing will block her.

Just as Awraka is focusing on running away, she could sense something is amiss. She immediately did a sidestep to the right as if she had a sixth sense. The next thing that she has seen and felt is a scorching ray of light passing through next to her left. If she did not instinctively dodge, then she might have died, and the boy would have died as well since she is carrying him.

She once again felt that foreboding feeling and sidestep to the left, but she made a mistake in the calculation of the landing. She tripped and fell but she made sure that the boy is unharmed. She dropped down on the ground face down but that is also what saved her.

A beam of light passed about three inches above her head. If she just sidestepped, then she would have died with the boy being the unlucky one caught. She could not imagine if her unluckiness brought her luck, or she was just extremely lucky to begin with.

Just as she crawled to the boy, the loud sound of trees falling down could be heard. She could also feel the light element becoming thicker in the surroundings. She looked at Mishiel with all the confidence and toughness that she could muster.

"I have finally caught up to the disturbing cockroach. You should praise yourself for getting this far from me. You shall carry this honor to the afterlife." Mishiel stated as she brought down one of her arms towards Awraka.

"I guess this is it. I did not become useful to my idol in the end when he believed in me." Awraka thought but a golden beam of light suddenly shot towards Mishiel from above the clouds.

Mishiel's remaining light barrier got dispelled which also knocked her back. The attack heading towards Awraka got cancelled as a mighty wind suddenly blew towards her direction. Vayu suddenly appeared next to Awraka which made her tear up as she tried so hard to put up a tough front.

"Who dares!" Mishiel shouted but no one answered.

The only answer she saw is a gigantic axe heading towards her face. Due to the gigantic axe headed towards her, she used four of her giant arms to block it. A figure in an armor of dark purple and silver could then be seen descending to the axe.

The figure was not as big as the axe, but he immediately took the handle and swung it once again towards Mishiel. The figure is none other than Adrian that has fused with Kimat. He is currently activating the Silver Thunder Armor while fused with Kimat.

[You have fused with your soulbound Kimat.]

[Kimat's stats will be added to you temporarily.]

[You have unlocked the skills Silver Thunder Armor and Metallic Body.]

Adrian's current form looks like a heavy armor knight that has demonic horns and tiger ears. He looked fearsome and incredibly charismatic in this form which even made Awraka's jaw drop. She then proceeded to capture the moments so that she could send it to the fan club.

"Regulus! Pyro Breath!" Soleil shouted as a giant flaming lion striding on the sky released a flaming tornado from its mouth.

The other two arms that Mishiel did not use blocked this hit along with her four wings made of statues. An expression that is full of uneasiness suddenly filled her face as she cannot maintain this form forever. She already used up most of her stamina just trying to kill Solstice and Lycan.

In fact, she could not use anymore spells along with her current form due to exhaustion. She might be an angel, but her body is still that of a mortal. Mortal bodies tire out eventually and hers is already running out. Lycan and Solstice' sacrifice was not in vain because they are the reason why those that just arrived can push Mishiel back.

"Sirius! Use Samael's Domain and then follow up with Nether Rush" Adrian commanded as the light element in the surroundings suddenly trembled.

Chapter 1010

Sirius activated Samael's domain in the area and created a field filled with darkness elemental energy. The light elemental energy that Mishiel is continuously gathering suddenly trembled as the surroundings changed. An illusion of a world filled with darkness is the new setting due to the effects of Samael's domain.

Sirius stats doubled as he activated Nether Rush. He became nether mist and attacked Mishiel in her blind spots with swipes. He would have use biting attacks, but he noticed that the angel will definitely catch him if he lingers for more than one second.

Scratches and swipes are enough for Mishiel though as Sirius is activating continuous stacks of the Poison of God on her. Mishiel could see odd patches of darkness on the areas where she got scratched. She immediately calmed down after this realization as she often gets tunnel vision when she becomes enraged.

She is not just fighting any other being right now but a demon and two half elementals. There is a reason why the angels fear the demons as they are a race that was created from destruction itself. The old angels know of this which is why they do not dare provoke the demons carelessly.

"This cannot be a coincidence. They are working together. Those three! Where are they when you need them?" Mishiel thought as she is now planner her escape. She cannot keep up with the attacks of her opponent because of exhaustion.

She started to look around in hopes that at least one of the three angels will notice what is happening in the distance. If they were at least sensible, then they would have checked this area already, but she has been rampaging for quite some time, yet no one is coming.

"If you are looking for the other three then you better lose hope because they are dead." Adrian stated as he once again launched the giant axe towards Mishiel.

"Attacks like that will not work!" Mishiel stated as she once again blocked the attack with the four arms, but she failed to detect the energy applied to the axe.

Adrian smiled as he applied all his stacks of Primordial Energy and Nether Energy on the axe. The axe will not be the same as before when he just casually threw it. The smile on Mishiel's face soon turned into a frown as her light elemental energy got erased by the axe. She hurriedly used the other arms and even her wings to block the attack.

She managed to block the axe halfway, but the blade almost reached her face. Mishiel sighed as she is once again protected but she suddenly coughed up blood. She looked down on her chest and she could see a sharp hand piercing it that also gouged out her heart.

She looked behind her and saw the face that she does not want to see the most. She saw a devil taking out her heart which is the greatest humiliation for her. The devils were their disgraced form but to die in the hands of one is a spit on her face.

The light on her eyes faded as she turned into particles of light. The statues that she controlled came crashing down on the ground as no one could control them anymore. A dragon with a beautiful lady riding it came flying down from the clouds.

"Thank goodness! I never thought that I needed to chant for that long." Cersei stated as she lost 30% of her health and 50% of her mana to summon an aspect of Vepar to the mortal plane.

A few moments ago, when Adrian rescued Vayu from the royal mage of the second kingdom, he suddenly felt a foreboding sensation when Creepysoo said that his sister is looking for the prince. He immediately summoned Kanlaon to travel to the Kingdom of the Sun to help as if he had a gut feeling something terrible will happen.

Just as they entered the area of the Kingdom of the Sun, Adrian suddenly saw that Lycan and Solstice' chat icons become gray. That only happens when they either logout or they die in game. He knew that it was the latter which is why he commanded Sirius to scout ahead.

A few minutes later, Kanlaon suddenly reported that an area has a lot of light elemental energy being pulled. He followed his gut and told everyone to start preparing for battle. That is when he fused with Kimat and summoned his Primordial Armament Axe which is followed by the Primordial Stance: Axe.

It is also the time when Cersei suddenly got the order from her contracted devil god to summon his aspect. Vepar instinctively knew that an angel of the Heavenly Governors is using all their powers. This is the current result of the gut feeling.

The aspect of Vepar immediately got unsummoned due to using the skill Life Sacrifice. The aspect of Vepar dealt great damage by exchanging all the life of his temporary vessel. Cersei also gained the Angel Killer title that also upgraded to Angel Nemesis because of her contract with a devil god.

"I apologize that we came too late." Adrian stated as he could not save Lycan or Solstice. He could have revived them with Rewind, but he arrived a little too late.

"No worries. We held on to the last of our breaths. If we were not mismatched, then we might have won. She was an angel that could destroy that part of the mountain. I am proud that we actually pulled it off even though we just rescued the boy." Awraka stated as she laid down on the ground.

Adrian then summoned Saena to heal Awraka and also wake up the boy. The little boy woke up and got scared that he was not inside the castle grounds where he usually slept. He is also around individuals that did not feel human, but he did not back away. He felt something tell his subconscious to trust the ones before him.