

O Summoner 1241

Chapter 1241 The Dragons Celebrate I

[All Dragons in the world are celebrating the arrival of their mother.]

A simple notification became all the rage as it even buried the upcoming guild war that will happen. The fact that the roars of the dragons echoed in the world is such a huge deal. Players from all over the world reported that monsters were lesser in count that day.

The roars of the dragons also made all kingdoms go in high alert as they thought that the dragons have gone mad. The roaring of the dragons lasted for an hour until it died down. Players even reported that six massive dragons have been seen flying in the skies that day.

Six Dragon Kings flew the skies that day with representing an element. A Fire Dragon King flew the skies and every place that he passed through experienced scorching heat. He left a trail of fire as he passed through the area and his large shadow can cover a large castle.

A Water Dragon King flew the skies and every place she passed through created rain clouds. Each area she passed through is blessed with rainfall and even the area that had the harshest drought was sprinkled with her blessing. She also made the temperature cooler in the hot areas which made the people rejoice.

An Earth Dragon King flew the skies and the earth trembled despite him just flying above. His massive figure that resembled crusted earth casted a huge shadow that dwarfed the Fire Dragon King's shadow. Each place that he passed blessed the earth beneath him with good quality soil which helped plants grow quicker.

A Wind Dragon King flew the skies and summoned turbulent winds. All the places that she passed through is hit by a terrifying storm. All the plants in the fields bent down to the intense wind that she created when she passed through. She also blown through the area in such a quick fashion that some windows cracked due to the pressure.

A Dark Dragon King flew the skies and summoned the darkness with him. With just his presence, light became absent, and night was summoned. People even became confused as they thought that night arrived early, or the moon devoured the sun, but it was just the Dark Dragon King passing through. All lower lifeforms hid in their hideouts in fear of the passing dragon king.

A Light Dragon King flew the skies and brought her brilliance to the world. With just her presence, darkness is pushed back as if she was a star that came down from the skies. She blessed the area with light as if guiding them to their dreams by giving her own light to the world.

All six elemental dragon kings are reported to be flying to one direction. They do not know where they are flying but they are sure that all of them will meet at some point. All of the players wondered where the six elemental dragon kings are going but they will soon get their answer.

====

Adrian and the others are in front of a human sized dragon egg that is pulsing in energy. They do not know what to do next, but a special barrier is protecting the human sized dragon egg. Adrian turned to look at the projection of the Goddess Tiamat, but she already vanished when Kanlaon had to use his dragon ball.

"Should we do something?" Ark asked.

"Nope. All we need is to make sure that she completes her metamorphosis. She will probably transform into a dragon now as the Goddess Tiamat is sending her Arcana directly." Adrian stated as Kanlaon told her what was happening to Basil.

"The brat is correct, but it is fascinating because this is the first time that I have seen a human actually evolve. This is a very interesting discovery, but we are expecting guests." Pann stated as he could already detect the six powerful presences flying towards Avalon.

"I thought that you have become a rusty old man, but you are still sharp as ever. Should we welcome them?" Adrian asked Pann.

"We should or else they will always come here unannounced and that is not a good precedent. People will think that your territory will be easy to visit without any repercussions." Pann stated as he suddenly called upon Bessy. The gigantic space whale suddenly manifested on top of Avalon which made all the people gasp in awe.

Bessy is as big as an island, but Adrian did not want to easily give up the spotlight. Adrian told Kanlaon to greet the guests coming to his territory as he is the best deterrent to any dragon-related threat. Kanlaon's very bloodline can easily suppress those that are not in his same level. Pann and Adrian suddenly vanished from the ranch as only Ark and Pana are left to look after the human-sized egg.

====

All six elemental dragon kings arrived at Avalon's outskirts and all of them wanted to land on Pann's ranch. They are being drawn to the energy there as the Goddess Tiamat's energy could be felt in that location. The six elemental dragon kings knew that Avalon is demon territory, but they did not care.

All they know is that they needed to go to the source of the Goddess Tiamat's energy. When the six elemental dragons are about to enter the air space of Avalon, they are suddenly greeted by Pann and Adrian. The six elemental dragon kings did not stop when they saw the two, but they did when a gigantic golden dragon suddenly pierced through the dark clouds above Avalon.

Kanlaon's true form is already quite large, but he can use his magic to grow even larger temporarily. He also made use of his newly upgraded Tempest Dragon Orb to summon storm clouds to make his appearance even more overbearing. The blood of the six elemental dragon kings could feel the oppression when they saw Kanlaon as this was the Genesis Dragon. A progenitor of the dragon species especially the elemental dragons.

Chapter 1242 The Dragons Celebrate II

"Halt!" Kanlaon announced while exuding his draconic might.

The six elemental dragon kings suddenly paused as their bodies became stiff from the sudden pressure. Although Kanlaon is a Genesis Dragon, he is not at the same level as the six elemental dragon kings that are apex of the dragon clan.

The six elemental dragon kings are level 350 which is a hundred levels above Kanlaon which is why the pressure bearing upon them became manageable. The six elemental dragon kings are still oppressed by Kanlaon's bloodline which weakened them by 30%. The percentage that the elemental dragons are weakened made them weak enough to not barge in Avalon because it still has one more defender.

Saena suddenly transformed to her real form as a Simurgh. The cry of a Simurgh could be heard in the territory as a mix between a bird, a wolf, and a lady. Saena's real form is something beautiful and shining that she can be mistaken as a sun in a stormy sky like it is now.

A gigantic bird shining of sunlight with rainbow feathers and a massive golden dragon that covered the skies could be seen in Avalon. All those that wanted to enter Avalon from below using the teleportation circle could see eight giant monsters flying across Avalon's skies. The six elemental dragons that caught the attention of the player community immediately became viral when players learned that they headed to Avalon.

Many speculations appeared in the forums and even live video feed of the event is being posted in news sites. When professional players that were invited appeared in the telecasts to discuss what is happening in Avalon, they guessed that it might have something to do with the world message about the arrival of the Mother of Dragons.

What the people on the telecasts are fighting about is where the Mother of Dragons is a player. All of the reporters online and is on Avalon wanted to find out but they cannot move their characters. Dragon Fear has been afflicting all the people that are not affiliated with Avalon. For the beings living in Avalon, they are protected by Saena.

"State your business, dragon kings." Adrian stated as he flew in the air.

"A young demon dares to talk to us. You who has yet to stop drinking from their mother's milk." The earth dragon king stated.

"Mind your manners, Terrian Quake. He is the Champion of the Twin Gods. You should respect the warrior of the two primordial gods." Fracas Zephyr, the wind dragon king, stated as she knows that champions are warrior representatives for their gods.

"Respect should be earned not given out entirely. He actually dares to block us on our way?! As expected of demons, they always want to hinder us in important moments." Volcanius Ignim, the fire dragon king, stated as his temper is just like fire that is easy to explode.

"Calm yourself as well. You must be like water that flows freely and gently. If you want to have a good conversation with the other party, then being like water is essential." Eichtuo Loch, the water dragon king, stated as she calmly assessed the situation.

"All of you, behave!" Lumen Isens, the light dragon king, stated as she exploded in light to stop the squabbling of the other dragon kings.

"We are in the territory of the Champion of the Twin Gods, and you will respect him as this is his domain. If he acted like all of you in your own domain, then will you not act the way he is acting?"

Drakness Tenebrosus, the dark dragon king, stated in a stern tone as he is the leader of the six elemental dragon kings.

"Seeing that all of you have resolved your petty bickering and calmed down, why do you come here? If I remember, we have an agreement to not carelessly enter each other's territory. I remember that clearly because it was the Council of Six that proposed that to the Daemos. Are all of you now going back on your word?" Pann announced as Adrian already knows this agreement.

Adrian was told that the Daemos should never traverse the territory of the six elemental dragon kings under any circumstance. This is what kept the peace between the rivalry of the dragons and the demons that have a duty to protect the world. Although, the dragons could care less about others that are not dragons.

"Apologies for the sudden visit, Pann of the Great Wild and Champion of the Twin Gods Equinox. The Council of Six has detected the mana signature of our mother goddess. She also provided us with an oracle that she incarnated a part of her." Lumen Isens stated.

"No wonder, I can feel that dominant and wild energy from the egg. That must be what they are also sensing." Adrian muttered.

"You are correct in assuming that because it was us that helped your mother goddess incarnate a part of her. I think all of you can see the human sized dragon egg on the island even if you do not get close to it. I have told you what you came for. You can now leave this place as you have seen what you want to see." Pann stated which made the six dragon kings speechless.

"You dare sully us with that attitude." Volcanius Ignim stated as he erupted in anger and flames.

"If you want to be sent to the far side of the universe then I can easily accommodate your request. It has been a long time since I sent a dragon there. I believe it was your grandfather that was sent there because he really pricked my kind heart with his bad attitude." Pann stated which made Volcanius Ignim suddenly shut up.

"We come bearing gifts." Drakness Tenebrosus stated which immediately made Pann ease up with the threats.

"Why did you not say so?! If you brought gifts, then you are respectable guests that thinks about the ones you are visiting. Turn into a humanoid form and come in then. Leave the gifts to him." Pann stated as he pointed at Adrian.

Chapter 1243 The Dragon's Gifts

"Seriously, this old man is really a sucker for gifts. If dragons were not the ones giving the gifts, then he would have turned them back." Adrian thought as he did not want to voice his opinion.

Adrian also thought that the six elemental dragon kings coming to Avalon is not a coincidence. The Council of Six was called here and Adrian could guess why. The egg that swallowed Basil has no signs of hatching despite being full of life energy.

"She needs sustenance or some sort of trigger." Adrian muttered as he returned back to the island.

All the dragon kings turned into humanoid forms, but the essence of their draconic lineage could still be seen. The Fire Dragon King still has his horns and red dragon tail while in human form. The Water Dragon King has her gill like ears and slender tail while in human form.

The Earth Dragon King has marks of his crusted dragon scales and his club like tail. The Wind Dragon King has her feather like wings on her back and the winged ears that she sported in her real form. The ones that do not have their draconic traits when transformed into a human are the Light Dragon King and the Dark Dragon King.

The thing that made the Light Dragon King and Darkness Dragon King special is the fact that they have this aura around them that manifests. The Light Dragon King has a light aura that manifests as small crystals that glitter when light touches upon her. The Dark Dragon King has this swirling shadow like aura around him that makes him look menacing.

All of the dragon kings look very beautiful and handsome in their human forms. One will definitely say that they are not humans because they have an otherworldly but dangerous beauty. They also gave their gifts to Adrian the moment that they landed on Avalon.

[You have obtained the Scale of the Fire Dragon King.]

[You have obtained the Scale of the Water Dragon King.]

[You have obtained the Scale of the Earth Dragon King.]

[You have obtained the Scale of the Wind Dragon King.]

[You have obtained the Scale of the Light Dragon King.]

[You have obtained the Scale of the Light Dragon King.]

Item Name: Scale of the Fire Dragon King

Tier: Mythical

Type: Material

Effect:

- When used in creating a weapon, grants 100% increase in Fire Elemental Damage to attacks or spells that deal fire elemental damage.
- When used in creating armor, grants 80% resistance towards any fire elemental damage with a 10% chance of nullifying any damage from the fire element.

Description: A scale of the Fire Dragon King, Volcanius Ignim. It is imbued with the scorching fire element which even the holder can feel with just touching the scale. The Fire Dragon King is said to be fire incarnate which means a scale from him grants anyone the Blessing of Fire.

Restriction: Only Grand Master Blacksmiths can attempt to create weapons or armors out of this material.

Item Name: Scale of the Water Dragon King

Tier: Mythical

Type: Material

Effect:

- When used in creating a weapon, grants 80% increase in Water Elemental Damage to attacks or spells that deal water elemental damage.
- When used in creating armor, grants 90% resistance towards any water elemental damage with a 5% chance of nullifying any damage from the water element.

Description: A scale of the Water Dragon King, Eichtuo Loch. It is imbued with the deep water element which even the holder can feel with just touching the scale. The Water Dragon King is said to have come from the deepest oceans which means a scale from her grants anyone the Blessing of Water.

Restriction: Only Grand Master Blacksmiths can attempt to create weapons or armors out of this material.

Item Name: Scale of the Earth Dragon King

Tier: Mythical

Type: Material

Effect:

- When used in creating a weapon, grants 120% increase in Earth Elemental Damage to attacks or spells that deal earth elemental damage.
- When used in creating armor, grants 70% resistance towards any earth elemental damage with a 40% chance of nullifying any damage from the earth element.

Description: A scale of the Earth Dragon King, Terrian Quake. It is imbued with the hard earth element which even the holder can feel with just touching the scale. The Earth Dragon King is said to be from the very bedrock of this world which means a scale from him grants anyone the Blessing of Earth.

Restriction: Only Grand Master Blacksmiths can attempt to create weapons or armors out of this material.

Item Name: Scale of the Wind Dragon King

Tier: Mythical

Type: Material

Effect:

- When used in creating a weapon, grants 90% increase in Wind Elemental Damage to attacks or spells that deal wind elemental damage.
- When used in creating armor, grants 85% resistance towards any wind elemental damage with a 20% chance of nullifying any damage from the wind element.

Description: A scale of the Wind Dragon King, Fracas Zephyr. It is imbued with turbulent wind element which even the holder can feel with just touching the scale. The Wind Dragon King is said to have been born from the nine winds which means a scale from her grants anyone the Blessing of Wind.

Restriction: Only Grand Master Blacksmiths can attempt to create weapons or armors out of this material.

Item Name: Scale of the Light Dragon King

Tier: Semi - Transcendent

Type: Material

Effect:

- When used in creating a weapon, grants 150% increase in Light Elemental Damage to attacks or spells that deal light elemental damage.
- When used in creating armor, grants 80% resistance towards any light elemental damage with a 15% chance of nullifying any damage from the light element.

Description: A scale of the Light Dragon King, Lumen Isens. It is imbued with the brilliant light element which even the holder can feel with just touching the scale. The Light Dragon King is said to have manifested when the first light touched the world which means a scale from her grants anyone the Blessing of Light.

Restriction: Only Demigod Blacksmiths can attempt to create weapons or armors out of this material.

Item Name: Scale of the Darkness Dragon King

Tier: Semi - Transcendent

Type: Material

Effect:

- When used in creating a weapon, grants 100% increase in Darkness Elemental Damage to attacks or spells that deal darkness elemental damage.
- When used in creating armor, grants 95% resistance towards any darkness elemental damage with a 40% chance of nullifying any damage from the darkness element.

Description: A scale of the Dark Dragon King, Drakness Tenebrosus. It is imbued with the abyssal darkness element which even the holder can feel with just touching the scale. The Dark Dragon King is said to have manifested when the first darkness was pushed to the depths of the world which means a scale from her grants anyone the Blessing of Light.

Restriction: Only Demigod Blacksmiths can attempt to create weapons or armors out of this material.

Adrian trembled when he saw the item descriptions because all of the items are Mythical Tier or higher. He unconsciously asked the Cube of Paradox if he needed these scales to upgrade itself, but it answered that it did not.

Chapter 1244 The Mother Of Dragons Descends

If the Cube of Paradox was an elemental ego weapon, then it might have some use, but it uses Arcane Energies. Although the scales will not be useless, but it will not help in upgrading. Adrian can only sigh with an exhausted expression as he is in front of priceless treasures but does not have much use for them.

Adrian actually wanted to get at least one scale for himself so that he could use it to upgrade his armor. He is missing the wind element to complete the elemental resistance of his armor. Then again, these are Pann's items not his, but he might get something if he behaved well.

The Council of Six looked at the egg with wonder and excitement because they could feel the energy of the Goddess Tiamat within it. The Goddess Tiamat is actually called the Mother of Monsters because she is said to have given birth to monsters but she actually only gave birth to the dragons. It was her subordinate gods that have birth to other monsters while some monsters were works of the dark gods that settled in Pandemonium.

"Master, the Goddess Tiamat said that the elemental dragon kings need to give some of their energy to the egg in order for it to hatch." Kanlaon stated as the Goddess Tiamat gave him some parting words before parting earlier.

"The Goddess Tiamat wants all six of you to give a part of your energy to the egg." Adrian stated but the dragons did not easily believe him. They did not openly antagonize him, but they are wary because he is not the Champion of Tiamat but the Champion of the Twin Gods.

"If you are doubting me then believe in this mark that is placed on my hand." Adrian stated as he showed the Mark of Tiamat that was temporarily given to him.

The Council of Six are in great shock because the Mark of Tiamat is only something that the goddess gives to those she trusts. The fact that she gave the mark to a demon means that she trusts him with a command of the dragon race.

"It is not that shocking when I see that he is connected to a Genesis Dragon which is also our progenitor. He has earned my respect for that as he is also the one that taught us on how to evolve into one. Albeit the method is not always going to be applicable to every elemental dragon in existence. Still, it helped us raise some hundred-year-old young ones to get two elements." Lumen Isens stated as she knows of Adrian.

"I agree with her as that mark is not fake. All of us can feel the pull of that mark to our souls. The Goddess Tiamat has given Champion Equinox his blessing which means we should trust what he says." Drakness Tenebrosus stated to which the other four cannot contend as he is their leader.

"I bet the Festival of the Dragon King that will be held in the next coming months will be special then." Fracas Zephyr stated as she started to gather her energy to pass through into the dragon egg.

"I am only following your lead because half of us has already agreed." Volcanius Ignim stated as he poured in his elemental energy as well.

"I will go with the flow." Eichtuo Loch stated as she also poured in her water elemental energy.

"Let us just get this done because I want to go back to sleep in my deep earth bed." Terrian Quake stated as he poured in his elemental energy as well.

Lumen Isens and Drakness Tenebrosus channeled their energies to the dragon egg as well. When all six of the elemental dragon kings poured in their energy, the egg started to pulsate as if life is being energized. The human sized dragon egg could be seen wiggling about as cracks started to form.

The human sized dragon egg suddenly stopped movement when it no longer absorbed the energy that the six elemental dragon kings were giving. The six elemental dragon kings then stepped back as the surroundings suddenly started to be filled with mana that has high purity.

"She is finally hatching." Pann stated as a loud crack suddenly echoed which is heard in all parts of the territory.

The human sized dragon egg suddenly hatched and emitted a dazzling light. From the light, a massive silhouette of a winged being with five heads emerged but it suddenly miniaturized into a human form. The light died down and a newly formed Basil emerged from her own egg. She still looked the same, but some things were added to her body.

Basil was fully human earlier when she was not yet turned into an egg but now, she has dragon horns and a tail. The most noticeable feature of her horns is that they are ram like horns that is covered in dragon scales. Even her tail looks powerful as it is also covered in dragon scales. She now has something called living armor which is her own personal armor made from her own dragon scales.

A cool thing to note in her skintight dragon scale living armor is the fact that it shows five dragon heads. A dragon head for each of her shoulder which acts as shoulder guards. The three acts as some sort of skirt that acts as her lower armor. The skintight dragon scale living armor covers her entire body and barely shows skin, but Basil exudes a sexy vibe with her new armor.

"To think that the reptile loving freak could be this stunning. I bet you are drooling right now." Ark stated as he looked at Pana, but the latter is already mesmerized.

When Basil's figure could be seen, all the six elemental dragon kings bowed towards her. Adrian could also feel that it was not Basil that was in control of her own avatar but the Goddess Tiamat herself. She descended to the world using Basil's body but that is only temporary as Basil is still newly born.

Chapter 1245 Basil, Mother Of Dragons

"Rise my children." The voice of the Goddess Tiamat echoed with Basil's voice.

"I cannot maintain the descent for long as it will strain this body. Basil is my will on this world personified. She will be my anchor to the mortal world, and she will act as my intermediary. Make sure to give her the keys to your homes as she will sometimes visit you in my orders.

She contains a part of my soul which is why it is not farfetched to say that she is a part of me. My children, I have seen what you are doing in the world, and I am a bit disappointed. You have been lazing about and what have that brought us? The Dragon of Revelation managed to escape from its prison." The Goddess Tiamat stated.

"It was all the mortal's fault! They were the ones that released the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Terrian Quake argued but the Goddess Tiamat looked at him.

The Goddess Tiamat then flicked her two fingers and sent Terrian Quake flying to a nearby wall. The wall broke his fall and did no damage to him, but he was hurt emotionally. He did not think that their mother goddess will punish him for saying such a thing that he deems true.

"Do not place all the blame in the humans! I know for a fact that you told one our descendants to use the God Slaying Sword. You know that unlocking one will cause a chain reaction and the greed of man can almost rival the greed of dragon kind." The Goddess Tiamat stated.

"Apologies for wronging you, mother goddess. I was the one that sent a young dragonoid to fetch the sword, but I only did so due to a partial descent of a dark god. We managed to quell that dark god before it descended but it came with a heavier price later on." Volcanius Ignim stated as he bowed to the ground.

"We apologize as well because we were not proactive enough in stopping the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." The other elemental dragon kings followed up.

"The past is the past, but the future is unknown which is why I am already telling all of you to become proactive. If all of you were active, then all the young ones would have been born before the Festival of the Dragon King. Do I make myself clear?!" The Goddess Tiamat stated.

"We promise to never fail you again, Mother Goddess." The six elemental dragon kings stated unanimously.

"One more thing that I will add. I would not have succumbed to this if all of you did your best, but it has come to this. Champion Equinox, the Champion of the Twin Gods, will need one of you to aid him against the angels. He has my blessing to command a Dragon King and his kin for a day. Do I make myself clear?!" The Goddess Tiamat stated.

"It is clear, Mother Goddess." The six elemental dragons stated.

"Who shall you pick, Champion Equinox?" The Goddess Tiamat stated as she asked Adrian.

"If the angels use light, then we will need darkness to counteract them. I need the strength of the almighty Dark Dragon King, Drakness Tenebrosus." Adrian replied.

"My child! The Champion Equinox will call upon you when the time comes. Make sure to talk with him for the arrangements. I said what I can say with the time that I am given. Remember that I have eyes on all of you which is why you must behave!" The Goddess Tiamat stated as the aura coming out of Basil suddenly shot back to the sky.

Some of the dragon kings wanted to retort but they cannot go against the decision of their Mother Goddess. At the very least, they will be commanded for only a day and the Champion of the Twin Gods. They will not face humiliation from the Elder Dragons for such servitude.

"I can finally control my own body again!" Basil stated.

"Come disciple! You will need to rest." Pann stated as the other dragon kings except for Drakness Tenebrosus followed. Ark and Pana also followed Pann for refreshments and to ask Basil what skills she got.

"You have requested for my aid, Champion Equinox. I will answer the call, but I must know what grudge do you have against the angels? They might have been delinquents back then, but they have become milder now." Drakness Tenebrosus stated.

"If mild is what you describe this then I bet you would want to kill them." Adrian stated as he showed summoned a demon eye from the observation room.

Adrian then played the recorded events that the angels did such as slaughtering people they call as heretics. He also showed the angels killing other angels that wanted to live alongside the humans. He showed other atrocities that were hidden from the eyes of others but not the demons.

"Those acts might be questionable, but this world is always about survival of the fittest. It is also the reason why the Daemos do not fight against the course of life and avoid taking sides." Drakness Tenebrosus stated as he found the acts of the angels despicable but a part of the cycle of life.

"I know but this last one that you will hear might anger you. I am just giving you the perspective that they are not reformed as you think that they are." Adrian stated as he pulled out a demon eye that is cracked but still working.

"Mistress Pristina! We have successfully lured all the other humans in obtaining the remaining God Slaying Weapons." A voice from the demon eye stated.

"Very good. The only thing left now is to release the Dragon of Revelation to make this world's dimensional barriers unstable. If we do that then the gate to the Silver City shall open." A voice coming from the demon eye with the image of the Angel Pristina stated.

There was a bit more to the recording but the video being shown suddenly got hit by a blast of light. At that part, Pristina noticed the demon eye and destroyed it with a light elemental spell. It took a while for this broken demon eye to be fixed which is why Adrian only got the footage now.

Drakness Tenebrosus trembled in anger as the aura of a dragon king suddenly burst but he controlled it immediately. He thought that the angels have reformed because they were undergoing peace talks with the dragons. One of their own is even a friend of one of their descendants. He did not think that they were actually being blindsided.

"Please enlighten me, did the dragons give the information about the Dragon of Revelation to the angels? From how the Goddess Tiamat reacted earlier, she does not want the Dragon of Revelation to resurface back to the mortal world. Even the Daemos have few information on where the four god slaying weapons were sealed." Adrian stated.

Drakness Tenebrosus fell silent and that was what Adrian needed to confirm his suspicions. The dragons could care less about the dark gods because they see themselves as more powerful. The fact that the angels devised a plan to make a dark god descend to trigger the dragons into revealing the locations of the god slaying weapons is very ingenious.

"We only knew the location of two of them. The other two's location must have already been known by the angels. Still, this is a grave accusation against the angels. Are you sure that your biases did not affect this accusation?" Drakness Tenebrosus stated as he did not fully believe everything yet.

"You are actually asking that to a demon? If we had actually known that the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse can summon the Dragon of Revelation, then we would have killed them far earlier. We did not immediately meddle because humans were the ones that released them, and it was their problem as well.

To think it would escalate like this, even we know what our faults is. Let me ask you this then...where were the angels when we were fighting the Horsemen of the Apocalypse? If they really wanted to protect mankind like they say they would then where were the angels when the world was almost destroyed?" Adrian stated but Drakness Tenebrosus also fell silent.

The dragons actually questioned the angels as well, but they replied that they helped the humans from the effects of the horsemen such as monster hordes. Drakness Tenebrosus know that the angels outnumber the dragons, and they would have easily pacified the monster hordes for the humans to recollect themselves. The Dark Dragon King knew that deep down that something was not right with how the angels acted starting that day.

"Anyways, I could care less about your reluctance because I command you to prepare the dark dragons. You shall attack the gates of the Silver City in a week from now at my behest." Adrian stated as he infused that command in the Mark of Tiamat.

Chapter 1246 A Week Before The Infiltration

"I, Drakness Tenebrosus, hear the command of the one that has been blessed with the Mark of Tiamat. With my conviction and loyalty to her, I shall make sure that the command of Champion Equinox shall be done by his will." Drakness Tenebrosus stated.

Adrian could no longer answer all the questions that the Dark Dragon King asked him. This is a command and not a suggestion which is why he already issued the command when he already gave the important bits of information. From the Dark Dragon King's expression, it seems that one of the dragons have close ties to the angels.

Adrian already has a battle plan in mind, but he also needs a few days of preparation. He told Drakness Tenebrosus to come back in Avalon with his dark dragon army a day before the attack date. He will need to brief them in order to make the plan a success.

Adrian did not explain what his true objective is to Drakness Tenebrosus as he is only bound to serve for a day. His mouth is not sealed which means he might leak what Adrian is really after should he say his objective. A sneak operation will no longer be possible if the angels know what to expect.

Drakness Tenebrosus and the other elemental dragon kings left after Adrian issued his command. Basil saw them off as they are now calling her mother without the Goddess as she is not a deity. What Adrian did not expect is that the trio also wants to help him in his operation.

"Can you let us join, Equinox!? Please!" Ark stated as he wanted to repay Adrian for helping his friend in getting the unique job class called Mother of Dragons.

"I also want to help. A dragon egg is not a small favor which is why I want to be helpful with this. My presence itself will strengthen the dragons." Basil stated as she told Adrian two of her passive skills that could turn the tides of battle.

Skill Name: Tiamat's Incarnation

Tier: Unique Growth Type

Type: Unique Passive

Effect:

- 50% chance to nullify any elemental attribute spell that hits the skill holder's body.
- 50% damage reduction against elemental attribute attacks and spells that hit the skill holder's body.
- You gain the Dragon Goddess Scale Living Armor which substitutes your armor being used. In this state, the armor that you have equipped will have infinite durability and 20% increased defense.
- If the skill holder loses mana, then the Dragon Goddess Scale Living Armor lose effect.

Cast Time: Instant

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: 1 Mana Point per Hour

One passive skill that Basil got is called Tiamat's Incarnation. This passive skill basically gave her 50% damage reduction in all elemental attacks. She also said that this skill can also grow which means 50% damage reduction for elemental attacks are not the cap.

Another factor of this skill is elemental spell nullification which basically gave her the prowess of a tank. Add to the fact that a bonus 20% defense of any armor she equips is also in effect. She is much tankier than Ark who is their team's tank.

A summoner's weakness is usually their bodies, but she has surpassed that. The only downside of her skill is the fact that she needs mana for the defense buff to always operate. The mana requirement is not even that strict which is why she can always activate the Dragon Goddess Scale Living Armor.

Skill Name: I am the Mother of Dragons

Tier: Unique

Type: Unique Passive

Effect:

- Increases the damage of all Dragon soulbounds and allies by 40% and 20% respectively.
- Decreases the damage taken by all Dragon soulbounds by 20% and 10% respectively.
- You exude the Dragon Might and Dragon Fear passively.
- Dragon Might and Dragon Fear will increase in effect per unique type of dragon that you have contracted.

Cast Time: Instant

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: None

The next passive that Basil showed Adrian basically will buff the army of dark dragons as long as she is present. Adrian could not believe that such a character is possible, but he is also like Basil, but she has her niche. Adrian does not have a contract requirement for his soulbounds, but Basil can only have dragons for the buffs to work.

"If I let all of three you join, you must always stay behind the dark dragons. Facing angels at your level is dangerous which is why Ark and Pana's duty will be protecting Basil. She will most likely become a target if the angels know that she is strengthening the dragons." Adrian stated as he worried for the three of them.

Adrian could see the fire in their eyes and them yearning to repay him even though he already received a lot. It seems that these three will not stop pestering him unless he agrees. Although, he has to admit that having Basil with the dark dragon horde will be a good buff to them. It will also be a good experience for the three.

"Since all three of you are raring to go, I must see your capabilities. You can also call what we are going to do as a training session. Old Man Pann! I am borrowing these three for a while." Adrian stated as he looked at Pann but the latter held out his hand.

"It seems that you are forgetting something important?!" Pann stated as he waited in anticipation.

"I do not have money plus I do not owe you money." Adrian replied.

"I meant the gifts that are meant for me. I will use those to replenish my Hatchery's energy. Unless you will aid me in other ways then you can keep those dragon scales as you still owe me for using it. If you give the gifts, then you do not owe me anything anymore." Pann stated.

Adrian sighed and gave all the dragon scales to Pann as he really does owe him for hatching Kanlaon. All Pann got was his curiosity being sated back then but Adrian did not know that it cost the old man much. Adrian might be greedy, but he knows how to owe a debt of gratitude. Still, his hands were being particularly sticky as the dragon scales seemed to have a difficult time leaving his hands.

"Paradox, open a portal to the north." Adrian stated as the Cube of Paradox suddenly exploded into tiny pieces to create a stable portal.

"Cool!" The three stated as Adrian unceremoniously sent the three inside the gate. He then controlled the gate to pass through him as he followed the three.

====

"Is this the northern continent?!" Ark stated in excitement as he has never travelled outside the central continent before.

"It is and this will be your new training ground. I will need to see how you three conduct yourselves in a fight. I transported us in the Frosted Wastelands where Ice Ghouls appear. I figured I will give you three a leeway by having at least one of you getting an elemental advantage." Adrian stated.

"We will show you, our might!" Ark stated as he wanted to energize the three. All three of them are pumped up as Ark is the vanguard with Pana being in the middle while Basil is at the back. Adrian looked at their formation and it is very stable.

"Greater Summon: Wisteria" Adrian stated as he summoned his weakest summon that is at the same level as the three.

"So cute! I shall also summon my babies!" Basil stated as he summoned Pyro and Shock.

Pyro looked like a raptor that is crusted with lava. Shock, on the hand, could actually be mistaken for a bug that has draconic blood. The lightning dragon is still a baby, but it has faint distinction of being a dragon. Nevertheless, Adrian can feel that it is a dragon but the unique thing about it is its wings.

The lightning dragon's wings have the skeletal frame of a dragon but the film like a dragonfly's wings. The lightning dragon did not have front claws as it is already its wings, but this is balanced by its serpentine head structure. It is also emitting cute sparks as if telling its mother that it will protect her.

"He is so cute!" Basil stated as she hugged the lightning dragon. She was not shocked because she had resistances that made the damage negligible.

"I think that should be enough preparation. Show me what you are made of." Adrian stated.

"Will I need to draw aggro from the Ice Ghouls?" Pana asked as he is usually the one that baits enemies for the group.

"Nope. I already have that handled. Just make sure that all of you are prepared. I mean really prepared as this will take all of you into consideration. Wisteria, use Floral Therapy." Adrian stated as his soulbound suddenly released a fragrant floral scent in the air which buffed the three. What they did not expect is that the Ice Ghouls suddenly rose from the snow and charge towards them in droves.

Chapter 1247 Training The Three

"Will you help us?" Ark asked Adrian.

"Nope. I did summon Saena so she will heal you guys when you are about to die. Best of luck!" Adrian stated as he flew in the air and chilled.

Adrian wanted to know the capabilities of the three and it is also his attempt in making them back off if they are not able to do this. He wanted them to at least experience what they are going to be doing in a week from now. An army of angels will try and attack them, and they should at least be prepared.

Adrian observed how the three moved and they actually impressed him. Ark would be the dedicated tank of the group and he moved as expected of a tank. He did not have great skills and movements, but he can accurately do what he needs to do within the given time. He remained calmed and observed the enemies with great timing.

"He is not a bad tanker as he is a mix between a damage dealer and a tank. He mainly uses spells to create distances and block attacks. He uses the Magic Swordsman class in such a flexible fashion but was it due to their party characteristics which is why he uses that playstyle?"

He is not bad, but he is not the best. It seems that he is suppressing his real abilities in order to flow easily with the team but that is not good in a game such as Pandemonium. He will not always be with his group members which is why he needs to hone himself before thinking of teamplay." Adrian thought as he examined Ark's playstyle.

Just like what Adrian said, Ark is supposed to be more aggressive than passive. The strength of a magic swordsman deals with the fact that they can execute magic and swordsmanship together. Ark's playstyle is basically making use of magic and swordsmanship separately to act as the tank.

If Ark fails to protect them, Pana will step in and provide cover fire. He is also proficient in using arrows that creates traps which is ideal for crowd control. All the enemies that slip up will be caught in traps or dead from the combination of Pana and the dragon Pyro.

Adrian could see that they have been playing for a long time already as they have this synchronicity that only friends who have played a long time can have. Adrian is even a bit jealous because they work better than he and his friends, but they are also far weaker individually. The weakness of this team comes with the fact that they are not strong individually.

The first problem appeared when Ark became surrounded and is unable to draw aggro from the other mobs. Pana and Pyro were left to fend for themselves in the situation which is also not ideal. Pyro might be a dragon, but he has yet to fully grow into an adult. Dragons have different maturity stages depending on their species and Pyro seems to be somewhat special.

"Their playstyle will have to change now though. She is not the same fragile summoner as before." Adrian muttered as he looked towards Basil.

Just when they thought that they will fail in looking cool, five mobs suddenly got hurled. Basil suddenly emitted a fearsome aura from her body that left all the Ice Ghouls. She emitted the majesty of a dragon which suddenly increased Pyro's fighting ability along with Shock.

The juvenile lightning dragon might not have done great damage in this area, but his first skill is actually a defense mechanism. It is a skill that releases a powerful area lightning attack that does no damage but stuns all enemies for a minute. This made all the Ice Ghouls charging towards Basil become stunned to the point that she swept them with her tail.

Basil at first thought that she will die because she is a summoner with weak defenses as that is what she was used to. She only snapped out of that delusion when one Ice Ghoul managed to reach her to bite her arm. She thought that at least half of her health will vanish, but she was surprised when only 5% was shaved off.

Although not intentionally, Adrian chose an area where monsters deal elemental damage. Ice Ghouls deal frost damage which Basil has great resistances to. Her own dragon scale living armor plus her resistances makes her a monster of a tank against elemental attacks. The only way to truly kill her would be to attack her physically or a skill that can penetrate resistances.

Basil suddenly saw a way to win against the odds and decided to use her newly found skills. One of her abilities is to have the ability to use spells for each element of dragons that she owns. It seems that the elemental dragon kings given her spell books as gift. She also has the True Dragon Tongue skill which helps her bypass the spell's incantation in exchange for more mana cost.

"Heat Wave!" Basil shouted as a powerful wave of heat is created with her as the center.

The heat wave swept across the battlefield which melted the Ice Ghouls that surrounded them. With just one spell, Basil managed to dispose of half the monsters that were lured. She did empty out her mana pool though which deactivated her living armor.

When Basil lost her dragon scale living armor, one could say that she suddenly turned into a bikini model for a bit until her mana regenerated back again. Pana could be seen blushing from what he saw while Ark is shouting for help as he still has the aggro for Ice Ghouls. In the end, the three managed to defeat all the Ice Ghouls that Wisteria lured.

They did not die because Saena healed them up whenever they are dropping to red health levels. Adrian also made sure that they will not get flooded with enemies by teleporting an Ice Ghoul or two. Still, this horde fight gave their group the realization that they have never been confronted by a Monster House or a horde which they know is incredibly lucky.

"Thanks, Basil!" If it were not for you then we would have been toast." Ark stated as Pana is still remembering glimpse of the figure he saw.

"The two of you did well and managed to divert attention until we can defeat them all. If Pyro did not have an elemental type of advantage and Shock for his crowd control, then we will have difficulty." Basil stated but Adrian suddenly interjected.

"Nope. He is correct with the assessment because you would have been able to handle this horde by yourself." Adrian stated as he descended to the ground.

"But they did the aggro pulling." Basil added but the two boys looked down when she looked at Ark and Pana.

"Even they know that they were really not needed because you would have wiped out the whole horde by yourself if you had realized earlier. Your job class puts you in a league above others and that is not a bad thing. Even in you genuinely believe that the others did a great job, they, in their core, know that they took a backseat." Adrian stated the harsh truth which is now the reality of their group.

"Did you guys think so as well?" Basil asked as she looked at her two team members, but their silence proved what Adrian said is correct.

"I am not telling you this to demotivate you but to wake you all to the truth. All of you are strong as a team but take that aspect out then only Basil will be able to fend for herself. It seems that you three have been playing with each other for too long that you have forgotten personal growth.

If you are playing casually then that is fine but if you are playing to earn something or make of something, then that is another discussion. I will wait for your deliberations to see what path we are going to next because I cannot let you join the fight if you are still like this after a week." Adrian stated as he gave the three time to talk to each other.

"I hate to say this, but he is correct. I realized earlier that I would be weak if not for Pyro." Pana stated.

"I also agree because I was not able to defend myself when a swarm of enemies were in my way. I was too focused on defending you guys that I forgot how to defend myself." Ark stated as he played this game to actually earn something and might have stray away from that path when he enjoyed playing with Pana and Basil.

"I guess he is right that we actually neglected personal growth and it only stuck out like a sore thumb when I changed my job class to a superior one." Basil stated as she also knew that they are lacking when alone.

Chapter 1248 Personal Growth

Adrian did not want to be the one to tell them that, but it had to be said. He actually thinks that they take it quite well as he always receives the ire of people when he becomes blunt. This characteristic actually made him be avoided by most people since a majority of people do not like people that tell the problem straight.

This trait might limit the people you really have a connection with but those that do will forge strong bonds with him. Even Adrian is not afraid of others telling him what he did wrong as long as it was not told for malicious reasons. If it was just an honest criticism, then he would take it and reflect if that really happened.

As of now, the three seems to be reflecting on what they are doing and knew that Adrian's words hold some truth. They might not want to hear it, but they knew that they lacked individually from the way they handled the horde. They decided that they need to strengthen their own power to make sure that this blunder does not happen again.

The three then signaled Adrian that they needed to talk with him. Adrian went down and saw the dedication that the three has in this game. He believed that they will definitely reach greater heights with this type of mindset.

"Can you give us direction on how to better ourselves?" The three stated simultaneously as they wanted to become stronger.

"I can but I can only help one of you. I can teach Basil some of the tips that I picked up but the two of you need to be taught by others. For Ark, I will let you choose! Will you pick a woman or a man to teach you? For Pana, you need to have better control of your traps and I can point you to someone who behaves like you do." Adrian stated.

"Can I get taught by the woman?" Ark asked as the male teacher might be very harsh on him, but Adrian smiled so genuinely that it was almost demonic.

"You just want to be around a beautiful woman. Just admit that." Pana and Basil stated as they teased Ark but only Adrian could feel that he drew the short straw.

"For Pana, I already called upon your mentor. For Ark, I will have to personally deliver you to her as she is quite busy but agreed to teach you if you chose her." Adrian stated as a rift in space suddenly appeared in their location.

The famous Temporal Wraith Du'an appeared with Creepysoo in the rift. Adrian picked Creepysoo as Pana's mentor because they both use status ailments or conditions to hinder their opponents. Creepysoo also has an undead knight called Robin Hoodie which was actually a Legendary Archer when he was alive.

"I am here, big brother! You said that I need to help the archer with his control, right? I was getting bored anyways and now I can finally become motivated to do something. They did say that sometimes one encounters inspiration as they teach." Creepysoo stated as he suddenly snapped his fingers and a skeletal hand suddenly clutched Pana to carry him to the rift.

"Make sure to learn a lot!" Adrian stated as he bid farewell to Pana and Creepysoo.

"Now, Ark and I will go to his mentor. You can come with us if you want." Adrian stated as he also invited Basil.

"Sure! I want to see who his mentor is." Basil stated as she also followed them inside the portal that Adrian created.

When the three stepped inside the portal, they were sent to a medieval looking castle that has a chic but gothic look. Their eyes would wander, and they will feel something creeping in their skin. They felt like they are being watched despite being alone.

"Welcome, young master." A voice suddenly is heard near them which spooked Ark and Basil.

The two looked around and saw that there was no one around them. They even looked up but all they could see is the stained-glass roof that depicted a being made of darkness with a werewolf and a vampire. Ark and Basil then looked below and saw that their shadows are actually facing the wrong way.

The shadow of Ark and Basil are facing towards the light source instead of away. This cannot be a glitch as this is still the mortal world and not a world where everything is in reverse. Ark and Basil suddenly came closer to Adrian as they are not a fan of scary stuff, and the location is a certified horror show.

"It is nice hearing your voice again, Nosfera." Adrian stated to the wind, but he was actually saying that to the shadow beneath their feet.

"I have already been informed of your arrival, young master. Her highness shall be with you in a minute. Bastian has already called for her when you arrived. Pardon me, it is quite rude for me to not show myself to guests." Nosfera stated as he suddenly came out of the shadow which returned of Ark and Basil to the correct orientation.

Nosfera will never try and go inside Adrian's shadow because he is afraid to anger Sirius. Even he is not confident against a being that dwells in the abyss despite being a child of Erebus. Even the werewolves actually revere Sirius for he is an Abyssal Fenrir.

Nosfera showed himself which made Ark and Basil have a good look at him. He was a tall and lanky butler has a bald head. He is also a bit of hunch which makes him look creepy, but his butler clothes made him look dependable. The most notable thing that Ark and Basil saw in Nosfera's face is his fangs.

"Is her a vampire?" Basil asked softly.

"Why yes, beautiful madam with the delicious smelling dragon blood. You have been transported to Castle Romania which is the prime residence of the soon to be Blood Queen Solstice." Nosfera stated.

"Vampires are actually real! I thought Solstice was a player that knows blood magic." Ark whispered.

"Yes, human with an interesting smelling blood. Your blood smells both good and bad. But not all vampires know how to use Blood Magic. Only a special family from all vampire lineages can use it with ease. Mistress Solstice is part of that family, but I advise you to never spread that word." Nosfera stated as his calm black pupils suddenly turned red and released a small bit of bloodlust.

"Do not mess with them Nosfera. You would scare the children." A female voice stated as the doors suddenly opened by themselves which revealed a rugged old butler and a beautiful woman with crimson hair on the other side.

"Nice to see you, Big Sister. Where is your guard dog?" Adrian greeted and his last question referred to Lycan always hovering over her.

"Hello, little brother. To think that the chick picked me as his mentor for a week. He definitely picked well from the fighting style that you described. About Lycan, he had to do something in the dutchy that his father is handling." Solstice stated.

"Wow! She is very pretty up close compared to just in video!" Basil stated as she is actually a big fan of Solstice for her fighting prowess and beauty.

"Sir Equinox, is she really your sister or you just call her that?" Ark asked as he was curious.

"She is my sister in real life. She may look pretty to you now, but I know that will change later. Have fun as we will also go now. See you after a week in hell!" Adrian stated as he teleported with Basil.

"Why did he say at the last part? Anyways, my name is Ark. It is a pleasure to meet you, Teacher Solstice." Ark stated with a bow, but he would later regret his decision of choosing a female teacher. Screams of anguish could be heard again in Castle Romania which made others steer clear of it.

====

Adrian and Basil appeared back in the Frozen Wastelands as this will be the perfect training ground for dragons. Adrian instructed Basil to summon both Pyro and Shock as they will need to have a growth spurt if they are to be useful to her. Adrian could see that Basil cuddled Pyro too much which is why it is not as ferocious as other dragons.

"Kanlaon, teach your juniors the ways of being a dragon. Make sure to ingrain the ferociousness of one when they are in battle. For you Basil, you know that dragons are powerful apex predators which means you must raise them like that.

I believe I am not wrong when to say that you are the reason why Pyro has yet to reach early adulthood. You are the Mother of Dragons now and mothers are not always caring because they also need to push their children to become the best. To do that, you must also become the best version of yourself. I hope that you are ready." Adrian stated.

Chapter 1249 Day Of Infiltration

Adrian and the other three returned back to Avalon when the destined date of the plan is at play. Ark, Basil and Pana could be seen to have improved and even raised their level. The training they underwent is not simple especially for Ark. The poor dude looked like the soul left his body.

Adrian asked his sister, Solstice, and Creepysoo if they would join the attack, but they suddenly got busy. It seems that Adrian is not the only one with the angel problem as the Erebian (both the werewolves and the vampires) found out that it was the angels that manipulated them in fighting. For the undead, angel players have been wreaking havoc near the citadel of the undead which made them hunt down angels.

It seems that the human cities near the undead citadel are not doing anything in fear that the angels will retaliate against them. In the doctrine of the Church of Light, the Goddess of Light Luminaria hates undead the most. Even the ones that the God of Deaths have given their blessing because she has a history of defeat from the undead.

"If that is the case then the angels are spread thin. This will make my job very easy." Adrian thought.

Adrian still has one problem as there seems to be a thin film at the entrance of the Silver City. This thin film is actually a barrier that prevents beings that do not have light energy in their bodies from passing through. Adrian thought a way to prevent that and that would be combining with Saena.

Saena's sun energy is at the same wavelength of light energy. With her and Adrian combined, he will definitely be able to pass through the barrier. If he cannot pass through easily then there is also the option of deleting the barrier using dark elemental magic.

Since it lets low level angels pass through, the spell that maintains the barrier is not strong as the gauge is not high. The only thing needed to pass through would be to have light elemental energy in the body but is not known by how much. Adrian then looked at the three that have determined faces as if they are ready for war.

"You three should relax a bit as being too stiff might lead to mistakes. You should always believe in your abilities. You guys are support for this operation which is why do not make hasty decisions. The dragons will be on the offensive." Adrian stated as a flock of fifty dragons could be seen flying on the horizon.

Ark could be seen more confident with his spells and swordplay. Solstice taught him how to wield magic and the sword more efficiently. She also taught him to not use all six elements even though he has affinity for them. He now focused on light and dark elemental magic which is his greatest elemental affinity.

Solstice asked him why he had affinity for opposite elements but all he could say is that he may have been blessed by the sisters in the starter town. Ark could clearly feel that the two old nuns gave him this elemental bonus when he satisfied them with his cleaning of the church. Nevertheless, he is grateful for that because light and dark elemental magic affinity are difficult to obtain.

Solstice is actually glad that Ark has affinity for the darkness element because vampires are of the darkness element. They are children of the Asmodian that was the incarnation of the God of Darkness Erebus. She made sure that Ark can wield dark elemental magic like the back of his hand.

Pana underwent training with Creepysoo which increased his knowledge on situational crowd control. He also learned from Robin Hoodie, the legendary undead knight archer, and increased his bow skills for midrange and close combat. Since Pana was also with the Prince of the Undead, he learned some death elemental spells and skills that could increase his strength.

Adrian could see that Pana is covered with a thicker death elemental energy than before. He could even use the death energy to momentarily slip out of the mortal plane to the spirit plane. It seems that Creepysoo was not the only one that trained him during his stay at the undead citadel.

Basil did not change much but her soulbounds have greatly change over the course of the training. Pyro has finally transformed into an adult from the harsh training that Kanlaon made it go under. The flightless fire dragon has finally sprouted its wings and could now carry Basil towards the skies.

His flight speed might not be fast but his sturdy scales that looked like hardened lava made him very tanky. Shock, on the other hand, has turned into a juvenile lightning dragon. He was only the size of a chicken at first, but he is now the size of a lion.

Shock is not as big as Pyro, but he made up for speed and his powerful blasts of lightning energy. He also has a horn that can act as a lightning rod to redirect lightning towards him. All of Basil's soulbounds actually got the rare ability where they can devour their element to restore themselves.

====

The horde of dragons are all of the darkness element that is led by Drakness Tenebrosus. The Dark Dragon King complied with Adrian's request to summon all of their dragon horde. Adrian saw the horde and even the dark dragon king, but he could feel that Drakness was reluctant.

"It seems that he told them of what is going to happen. This is why I never tell my plans to people unless I have their trust. Something will happen later when we arrive near the gates to the Silver City." Adrian thought as he greeted the dragons as courtesy.

The dark dragons did not seem very reluctant to follow Adrian, but he does not care. All he needs is a distraction and they will be sufficient for that. The angels seem to be spread out at the moment because of their haughtiness but Adrian will make full use of that.

"As explained to your king, we are going to confront the angels for their crimes for releasing the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse. No questions shall be heard from you because this is a command not a request. Prepare for battle as the angels will not admit their faults due to their narcissistic natures." Adrian stated as he opened a gigantic gate where the dragons could freely pass through.

Adrian commanded the dark dragons to go in first as he would be last to arrive by closing the gate. Basil then looked at Adrian and nodded as if they have agreed upon something. Ark and Pana are already briefed with the plan and all they need to do is to protect Basil. Drakness tried to make Basil stay but Adrian showed him who is in charge and the dark dragon king could only agree.

"Perfect Assimilation: Saena" Adrian stated as he fused with Saena in his Aetheros form.

"I have not used this spell for quite some time, but I missed it. Spirit Form Manifestation!" Adrian added as his body turned invisible as he passed through the gate.

When Adrian passed through the gate, a sizeable horde of angels seemed to greet them, but he is not seen by Drakness. The Dark Dragon King could be seen to be in a panic as he told the angels that the Champion of the Twin Gods will demand to pay for their sins against the world.

"Where is the champion?" Drakness asked Ark.

"He will not be with us as he entrusted this task to me. Your commands are still valid and that is to make sure that the angels pay for their crime. The only thing that changed will be the one demanding the punishment and that would be me." Basil stated but she is already trembling inside from anxiousness.

"Keep it up and just go by the script that we practiced. It took me quite a great deal of strength to get the props that we need." Adrian stated via a whisper to Basil. Basil took a deep breath and suddenly exploded with the dignity of the Mother of Dragons.

"Angels! Do you confess for your crimes of releasing the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse and releasing the Dragon of Apocalypse!?" Basil shouted as her aura shone.

"I, Gabriel of the Seven Supreme Angels, say that is just a baseless accusation against us." Gabriel stated as he spread out his three pairs of white wings. He wanted to at least equalize the dignity shown by Basil. He made sure that he did not overshadow her as the dragons will not take that lightly.

Gabriel knew of the Mother of Dragons and need to be careful with her as she is the pride of the dragons. He thought that he would face Equinox, the Champion of the Twin Gods, which is why he prepared to outshine him, but he did not think of this happening.

Chapter 1250 Infiltrating The Silver City I

"You say that the things we accused you are not true, but we have proof in this crystal!" Basil stated as she took out the recording crystal that Adrian gave him.

When Basil took out the recording crystal from her inventory, it suddenly shattered into a thousand pieces. She did not know how that happened because it did not do that when she was practicing. She was flustered for a moment, but she regained her composure as they also have a backup plan.

Adrian clearly saw what happened to the crystal as it was suddenly blasted with a thin beam of light. The thin beam of light was perfectly angled to make sure that it only hit the crystal. The recording crystal immediately shattered to pieces before it could present the material imprinted on it.

"It seems that the thing that you will show us is a fake or broken. Does the Mother of Dragon's have any other evidence for the claims against the angels?" Gabriel stated in a calm and composed manner.

Adrian kind of expected this to happen as he knew that the dark dragon king will not keep his mouth shut. He is not loyal to Adrian anyways which is why he expected the destruction of evidence. It just happened way sooner than what Adrian predicted.

Adrian then started to move as he will need to act fast if Plan B is to take effect. He immediately went near the gates to the Silver City where two angels are stationed to be guarding as of the moment. He will enter once Plan B starts as this will take a sharp turn.

"Since that crystal cannot be replicated easily without the help of the demons, I would need to hold that accusation for a minute. This time it will be personal because this is directly related to me. Do the angels admit to their attempted murder against me!?" Basil stated which shocked the Drakness Tenebrosus to his core.

The Dark Dragon King looked at the angels with bloodlust as he did not expect that they would do something like that when they clearly informed them of her. The angels were explicitly warned to not attack her under any circumstance. If the angels do attack her then they would have to bleed for the wrath of the dragons to subside.

Adrian could feel the sudden drop in the atmosphere of the conversation. He made sure to use all the cards that he has been given and one of those is Basil. She will be the core reason why the dragons will have to move despite the first evidence being destroyed. He made sure that she will have evidence of her supposed attack.

"That is a very heavy accusation, Mother of Dragons. We explicitly told all the angels that you are untouchable. If one has attacked an important person such as yourself then I shall ask for forgiveness." Gabriel stated.

"If you need proof then I shall give you proof." Basil stated as she pulled out a two pairs of angel wings from her inventory.

The anger of the angels could be seen as they treat their wings as beauty given to them by their creator. The fact that someone is sullyng their symbol of beauty means that they do not respect the angels. If Gabriel was not keeping his rage inside his mind, then the other angels might have attacked.

"This are the wings of the poor bastard that attacked me while I was training in the north. She did not even try any form of conversation as she suddenly attacked me with spells. Champion Equinox was there to protect me and when we were interrogating her, she said that this was the will of Mikhail or whoever that is." Basil stated.

The reality of the situation is actually an angel was observing them from a distance. Adrian knew that this angel was sent there to spy on Basil, but he made sure that he can benefit from that situation. They did not attack first of course but made sure to badmouth the Goddess of Light while the angel was listening in on them.

The result was what Adrian expected and the angel attacked them when she could no longer bottle up her rage. Adrian smiled like a villain at that point and pulled out the wings of the angel while on the fight. They were about to interrogate her when she made herself explode and the last phrase she said is "For the Will of Mikhail!".

"How should we believe you when you could have attacked her when she was just passing by!" Gabriel shouted as he slipped up a bit but calmed back down.

"You say that I speak lies?! You dare accuse me when you have no proof! I was the victim here of an attack." Basil stated.

"That demon must have polluted your mind and placed a hex on you to make you believe that you were attacked! Any being that trusts that demon is lower than pests for they are foolish enough to believe their sweet words! Do you agree as well, Dark Dragon King Drakness?" Gabriel stated but Adrian could be seen smiling with great glee.

"YOU DARE, WINGED BASTARD!" Drakness shouted as his powerful energy spread out in the area.

Gabriel does not know why Drakness suddenly erupted in anger as they already have a plan in mind to brush this issue aside. What Gabriel does not know is the fact that Adrian has the Mark of Tiamat, and he insulted the latter and those that trusted him. Since Adrian has the Mark of Tiamat, he is trusted by the Mother Goddess of the Dragons.

The Mark of Tiamat means full trust to that entity and Gabriel just insulted Adrian and those that trusted him. As such, Gabriel inadvertently called the Goddess Tiamat lower than a pest for trusting Adrian. This was the thing that Adrian needed to happen as a wrath of dragon is difficult to quell.