

O Summoner 1501

Chapter 1501 The Snake's Descendant II

"Why has been my life a living hell? Am I really born under an unlucky star?" The vessel of Apophis, Thueban, thought as she stifled her cries of desperation since she wanted to live.

She had always thought that she brings misfortune unto others as her parents were killed but she was still alive. All the slaves in the mines were killed and she was still alive as well. It seems that the ones that killed the slaves were looking for someone, but she does not want to take any chances as they might kill her as well.

There could be a chance that they were looking for her, but she did not want to take the chance. They might be looking for her in order to kill her as well. She wanted to pray but she knows full well that the gods do not even look at her way as she is always unlucky.

"It seems that the person that we are searching for is hiding like a rat." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she released some small balls of flesh that turn into small creatures.

"Careful what you say, witch! That is the vessel of our master." The followers of Apophis stated.

"Oh! Please! Your master has yet to possess the vessel. That is just a walking meat sack until your master gets into it." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated.

"Careful Edora. You know that the western continent temples are zealots. They will attack you if you are not respectful to their deity." Grandmaster Lason stated.

Just as the group of the Followers of Apophis are searching, a sudden rush of loud screams echoed inside the cave. The followers of Apophis that were keeping the entrance hidden are now screaming as they came deeper inside the cave. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora could not believe that those fools are causing a ruckus when they need to have their senses heightened for searching.

"What is the problem?" One of the leaders of the followers of Apophis asked one of the people that came down.

"Intrud..." The follower stated before a hole is suddenly pierced on his stomach.

A spear that looked like a thorny rose suddenly pierced the stomach of the follower. A group of twenty people came inside the cave as sounds of battle echoed inside of it. It seems that the expert force of the Briar Rose guild has come to the mines when they heard of the news.

"How did they reach here!?" The head of the followers of Apophis questioned.

"They came at us as if they already knew that we were here." One of the followers of Apophis stated.

"If none of you left a pile of corpses in our wake then this would have been discreet!" The head of the followers of Apophis stated as she looked angrily at the two demigods.

==

A few minutes before the Briar Rose guild raided the mines, Frey was flying around with her mount as she held the scale. She was focusing on whether the scale gets a reaction or not, but she suddenly stopped when she sensed the stench of death in the horizon. As a Valkyrie, they are considered Judges of Death as they also have some connections to death due to the Goddess Freyja being a minor goddess of death.

Frey descended towards the ground, and she suddenly saw the scale of Apophis reacting to something. The scale was glowing a faint red which means that the vessel could potentially be in the location that she is currently in. Frey did not immediately land on the ground where the signal is coming from but alerted all of her allies.

In just three minutes, all of the Briar Rose guild elite members gathered at the entrance of the mine. Although, all of them already saw a gruesome scene even before entering the cave as they saw bodies of numerous beings scattered about. Some had their faces dissolved, some are sliced into pieces while some are unrecognizable.

Just as they were about to enter the mines, the Briar Rose guild suddenly saw the Followers of Apophis. The guild was sure that the beings they encountered at the entrance were Followers of Apophis because of the distinctive snake tattoo on their bodies. Without even giving a signal, Frey suddenly charged towards the followers and killed them with her spear.

The blood of the followers of Apophis are absorbed by the thorns of the spear as the red roses became deeper in color. Frey charged inside while all of the guild members of Briar Rose followed behind her. Frey slaughtered those that are in her way while the Briar Rose guild cleaned up after the ones that Frey is not able to kill.

Frey did not even know what came over him, but she felt the sorrow of all the poor souls that have been in these mines. She could feel the anguish of the dead that were killed just because they were powerless. The inner Valkyrie within her just screamed out as she rampaged and killed the Followers of Apophis blocking her way.

==

Frey did not know when, but she suddenly encountered two beings that are immensely powerful inside the mines. She believed that they are demigods because she has encountered beings of the same level of power as them when she was with the other Valkyries. She is confident that she could handle one as long as she is prepared but that is the caveat. She is not prepared to go against a demigod and now she has to go against two.

The guild leader of the Briar Rose guild also knew that they cannot go against two demigods even with Frey with them. The two demigods are also not alone because there are still Followers of Apophis with them. They are now certain that these two demigods are cooperating with the Followers of Apophis to search for the vessel.

The guild leader of the Briar Rose guild immediately sent the coordinates of their location to Equinox. She hopes that the guild leader of the Pantheon guild would be able to even the fight. Just as both groups were about to clash, they suddenly heard a high-pitched cry of resistance from a dark corner of the mines.

The small flesh critters that the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora created has managed to find the vessel of Apophis, Thueban. She tried to flick off the small flesh critters but all of them stuck to her body and started to mold into flesh ropes that bound the vessel so that she will not escape. A lot of flesh critters gathered to her and started to cover her whole body.

As soon as Thueban came to them, the scales of Apophis glowed in an intense red which signified that she is the vessel that they have been looking for. Thueban stretched out her arms as if trying to signal that she needed help before she was covered up completely like a cocoon by the flesh critters. A brief silence suddenly entered the area, but it is soon shattered when Frey tried to make her move.

"I am sorry, pretty girl. That will not do!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she suddenly parried Frey's spear with her flesh blade.

"Get her! She is the vessel!" Frey shouted as she suddenly burst into rainbow-colored lights.

The elite team of the Briar Rose guild sprang into action as they tried to reach the vessel of Apophis. They were unsuccessful as poisonous miasma suddenly blocked their way. Grandmaster Lason made sure that no one from the other side will get the vessel. They are now in control of the vessel but that does not mean they can get her out as the exit is blocked by the Briar Rose guild members.

"I guess I need to take this seriously or else I will not get paid. Come out, my lovelies!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he threw out three flasks with green colored liquid.

As soon as the three flasks shattered upon hitting the ground, the bright green liquid inside suddenly started to grow. Three Plasma Golems are suddenly created on the spot as a powerful force by Grandmaster Lason. Each of these Plasma Golems are expensive to create but the blood of the vessel of Apophis is much more important to Grandmaster Lason.

"Create a path!" Grandmaster Lason commanded as the three Plasma Golems became larger and melted anything that gets in their way.

"Winter's Wind!" One of the mages of the Briar Rose guild casted as a blast of cold air and ice swept across the three Plasma Golems.

She wanted to either slow down or freeze the Plasma Golems as they are weak to the cold. What she did not expect is that the cold did not even bother them. The three Plasma Golems' bodies suddenly mutated or changed to become something akin to magma.

Chapter 1502 The Snake's Descendant III

==

Monster Name: Plasma Golem

Tier: Legendary

Level: 300

HP: 98%

MP: 95%

Description: Plasma Golems that are created by one of the greatest yet most sinister grandmaster alchemist. It is said to have been created with the blood of a hundred people and bones of a thousand monsters. It is made using peak alchemy which is why it is said to be almost invulnerable to attacks as they could change their elemental states.

Status: [Magma Form] [Everchanging]

[Magma Form] – Turns the creature's body into magma that is immune to the cold.

[Everchanging] – Turns the creature's body into the opposing elemental weakness of the most recent elemental attack that hits its body. The creature will utilize the most suitable form to change in order to counter the damage it has received. This has a cooldown of five minutes.

==

[The Plasma Golem has been hit by an ice elemental spell. It has changed to its Magma Form.]

[All fire type spells, and ice type spells will not affect it.]

The three Plasma Golems roared as they suddenly changed into a molten lava form as they tried to attempt to swallow everything in their path. One of the guild members then slammed her staff to the ground as the actual floor suddenly morphed. The floor suddenly rose and stopped the actions of the three plasma golems.

"Earth Wave!" A member of the Briar Rose guild stated as she elevated the floor which blocked the three plasma golems from swallowing them up.

The three plasma golems were already a great hindrance to the elite team of the Briar Rose guild because they are of legendary rank. When the remaining followers of Apophis joined in the battle, all of them could be seen getting pushed back. To make matters worse, Frey and Rose could not hold back the two demigods on their own.

"We already have the vessel. Stop playing around and let us leave here. The others shall be glad of their sacrifice for the master as they will join our god in the skies!" The leader of the Followers of Apophis stated as she has gotten what she came here for. She sounded like a fanatic that made Grandmaster Lason and the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora laugh at her fanaticism.

"As you wish!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she suddenly melted into the ground.

"The Flesh Witch' Domain!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora shouted as the area suddenly started to morph.

As soon as the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora has integrated with the soil, she could either do feeding or activate her domain. This time, the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora used the latter which means everything inside the mine and the mine itself will turn into flesh. One could visibly see the rocks starting to turn into pink flesh that pulses like it is alive.

"What is happening!?" Frey and the others thought as they could visibly see the whole area transform quickly.

The whole mine turned into the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora fleshy body as she activated her domain. Everything inside her domain is now under her control which means she has free reign. Witches are not an existence that should be overlooked as they are not merely female magicians.

Being a witch is also some kind of title that one is given when they are recognized by a number of people. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora was already powerful before she gained the title of witch but her power is almost doubled because of it. The title of a witch also has some drawbacks as it comes with notoriety and your other spells will not have the same bonus with the one that is linked to their title.

"Let me show all the cute little things here on why I am the Witch of Flesh and Carnage!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as her voice could be heard everywhere.

Numerous flesh golems popped out from the ground that had the same humanoid shape as the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora. The only difference is that these flesh golems are faceless and deformed because their hands and feet are literally bone blades. Numerous flesh golems charged towards Frey and the others as the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora wanted them dead as a bonus feast.

"Edora, we need to get out. We need to deliver the package as promised so that we could get our rewards." Grandmaster Lason stated.

"I know, alchemist. I shall now open up a path for you. Take the package with the fanatic and deliver them to the port. You already know that I will remain here to take my time as the reward will be given after the delivery." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she opened up a hole in the flesh cave.

Grandmaster Lason left the Plasma Golems only came with the leader of the Followers of Apophis to the surface. The other followers of Apophis were left behind or rather choose to be left behind because it is the will of their god. Grandmaster Lason paid no heed to this as he only needed to bring the leader with the vessel to the port in order to succeed.

Grandmaster Lason was already very happy and imagining the vials of the blood of the vessel of Apophis on his hands. He only needed to deliver the vessel to the hideout in the western area port where Eldritch is currently guarding. Just as he was about to takeout a mount, Grandmaster Lason suddenly created a powerful miasma barrier to protect him, the vessel of Apophis, and the leader of the Followers of Apophis.

"Who dares!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he looked at the direction of the attack.

He was attacked by two opposing elements of fire and water which he needed to deflect as the vessel is not as durable as he is. When he took out his barrier, he could see five individuals looking at him with the scales of Apophis glowing red on their hands. Grandmaster Lason immediately knew that they were not their people as he could recognize one of the individuals of the five.

"To think that you would deliver yourself to me, Faekin." Grandmaster Lason stated as he looked at Levin Cloud.

"You know this old guy?" Peridot asked.

"That is the demigod that I encountered earlier that I am telling you about. The one that handles miasma and is obsessed with alchemy." Levin Cloud stated.

"He does not look that strong though. Are you sure he is a demigod?" Creepysoo asked as the power radiating from Grandmaster Lason is equal to the undead knights under the Undead King Arthur.

"He should not be that powerful since he is an alchemist demigod." Vayu stated which suddenly ticked something inside of Grandmaster Lason.

"Grandmaster Lason! Do not fall for their provocations as we need to go to the meeting place as soon as we can." The leader of the followers of Apophis stated and Grandmaster Lason almost agreed when he heard something from the other group.

"See! I told you he is not a true demigod! He is trying to runaway with his cloak all clean. He is already scared of facing us when we are not even demigod status like him." Creepysoo stated.

The current group facing Grandmaster Lason are Levin Cloud, Peridot, Creepysoo, Vayu and Soleil. The words that they are saying are words that came out from Adrian's brains as they did not think of it. Demigods are powerful existences that hid from the world as they wanted to ascend to godhood without attracting the attention of each other.

Even though they are discreet, demigods are also very proud individuals as they reached such a powerful state despite the restrictions. It also means that they have an inflated ego that everything is beneath them which is why they ignore the plights of mere mortals. Bruising that ego means that they will focus their attention on you and will ignore everything else.

Of course, there are some demigods that will not be provoked easily but Grandmaster Lason is not an ordinary demigod. He is a demigod and a Grandmaster Alchemist which is why he has often received the sneers that he has heard. He often heard that he is not a real demigod because he attained that state with his alchemy or the use of medicines and not his own innate strength.

This made Grandmaster Lason take revenge on any demigod that dares to mock him as his enemies are often seen being poisoned then begging the alchemist to cure them. With this heinous reputation among the demigods, no sane demigod has ever said things like that to his face or behind his back every again.

"To think that mere ants are insulting me! I shall make sure to have your bodies deteriorate over and over but also be healed just to the point of restoration. I will make you experience that hellish pain!" Grandmaster Lason shouted as he actually took off the cloak hiding his body.

Chapter 1503 The Power Of Demigods I

Grandmaster Lason revealed the body under the cloak which is very rugged which is a complete opposite of his very old looking face. The rugged body is not the only thing under the cloak as there were actually magic circles inscribed on Grandmaster Lason's body. The magic circles were not usual ones as the runes written were most likely alchemy formulas.

"I shall show you what a demigod is really capable of! Peak of Alchemy: Body Regression!" Grandmaster Lason stated as all the magic circles on his body suddenly started to grow.

Grandmaster Lason's face that was old suddenly started to reverse as if time itself was de-aging him. The old face of Grandmaster Lason suddenly transformed into that of a man his thirties. Even the hair on his head became full and a new set of clothes manifested on his body.

Grandmaster Lason's body was reversed back to his prime, but he still retained the power of the demigod that he has gotten from all the years that he has lived. He wore clothes made of a synthetic material that he crafted, and it covered his whole body. He now looked like a steampunk gentleman that is of the highest peerage.

"This is the peak of Alchemy! The ability to rewind time on the body itself without sacrificing power!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he laughed.

Levin Cloud and the others might not want to agree but that is very cool indeed. One usually needs sacrifice to obtain the peak body, but Grandmaster Lason achieved that with just his mastery of alchemy. Being the most renowned and sinister Grandmaster Alchemist is not a title that is given to anyone after all.

"We should attack." Levin Cloud stated as he buffed his friends.

Peridot already stealthily prepared spells beforehand as well and is just waiting to launch them. Creepysoo, on the otherhand, started to chant his hexes and curses towards the demigod. Vayu and Soleil were the ones in the front line, and they did not waste time as they used the upgraded version of their strongest skill.

"Elemental King Transformation!" Vayu and Soleil shouted as they knew that a demigod is not someone that they should be underestimating.

"Why are you letting them gain power, Grandmaster Lason? Kill them before they can even attack us." The leader of the Followers of Apophis stated as she thought that they could have killed the others easily as she was with a demigod.

"You think that it would be easy going against the Envoy of the Twin Gods? Do you know what they call the Envoy of the Twin Gods?" Grandmaster Lason stated.

"What do they call him?" The leader of the Followers of Apophis asked.

"In the olden times that have been forgotten, the Envoy of the Twin Gods is known as the Elixir of Life as they were beings that could overturn life and death of their allies. One could even say that no one is at death's door as long as the Envoy of the Twin Gods is standing tall." Grandmaster Lason stated.

"If that is the case then why are you not killing him?!" The leader of the Followers of Apophis stated.

"That is only the case for the Envoy of the Twin Gods that has reached the status of a demigod. This one has yet to even evolve into the third Persona but that does not mean that they will not be easy to handle. We are against a dragon, the Prince of the Undead and two elementals. It would be fun to see their faces get crushed in the face of absolute power." Grandmaster Lason stated as his face suddenly grinned.

The leader of the Followers of Apophis then remembered that the two demigods that they were escorted with are not normal. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora was a full-on narcissistic freak that is a cannibal. Grandmaster Lason is a sadistic freak that loves to see the reaction of others under his poisons.

"Do make haste though as we would like to return to the master as soon as possible." The leader of the Followers of Apophis stated as she already resigned to the whims of the demigods that were escorting her.

"Good. At least, you know where you stand. Do not worry because I will protect you. Here take this!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he gave the leader of the Followers of Apophis a pink stone.

"This is!" The leader of the Followers of Apophis exclaimed in shock.

"That is a Pseudo Philosopher's Stone that I have created. It might not be as powerful as the real one, but it can create powerful barriers that can expel any attack under Mythical Tier. Use that while I torture these young brats." Grandmaster Lason stated as he now looked at Levin Cloud's group.

==

"My hexes and curses that are of epic tier are not even working at him. It seems that the synthetic thing that is now his clothes have a special property that could wave any low rank curses." Creepysoo stated.

"Change of plans then. Defeat him with all we got but make sure to get the vessel when you see the chance." Levin Cloud stated in their group chat.

Vayu and Soleil have finished absorbing the essences of the elements that they need as they already prepared beforehand. They made sure that they are ready even before the battle as Levin Cloud did tell them that they might be facing demigods. Vayu and Soleil only needed a minute in order to fully transform into their Elemental King forms even if it was still the lowest of mastery.

Vayu's whole body changed as his hair flowed freely into the wind and seems to have started to become one with the wind itself. His body fades in and out of existence as if he is a ghost while his clothes looked like they were made from clouds as they also vanish at the tips. The most noticeable change is that his katana is now made of pure energy.

Soleil, on the other hand, also changed as her hair is now glistening like flowing lava. Her goth like red dress also has this shine to them as if they are made of rubies while her skin tone has a tinge of red. The most noticeable change is that she now has Regulus beside her as he circled around her like a protector.

"Have you finished children? I do not want this to be boring after all." Grandmaster Lason stated as he could see that the two half elementals are now true elementals. He could even feel that they have the same aura and strength as a newly born Elemental King.

"Elemental Apocalypse!" Peridot shouted as six spheres of different elements suddenly descended towards Grandmaster Lason and exploded in six elemental bursts at the same time.

The group watched as the six elemental attacks swallowed Grandmaster Lason and the leader of the Followers of Apophis. They knew that this attack will not be enough against a demigod even if it is a surprise attack, but they believed that he should be damaged. When the smoke cleared, a powerful barrier was invoked by Grandmaster Lason and the Pseudo Philosopher's Stone that he made to protect both of them.

"Tch! Not even a scratch." Levin Cloud stated as he could see that the health bar of Grandmaster Lason was not even decreased.

Vayu did not waste anytime as he performed a slash that created three small twisters that headed towards Grandmaster Lason. The three small twisters also released wind blades that also dealt additional damage to barriers. The three small twisters clashed with Grandmaster Lason's barrier, but the latter did not even feel the need to strengthen it.

Soleil waved her hand and created fifty fireballs that have the shape of lion cubs. All these fifty lion cub flames charged towards Grandmaster Lason as well. It was only this time that Grandmaster Lason actually felt pressure as he took out a bottle of clear liquid.

Grandmaster Lason threw the bottle with clear liquid upwards as it broke. The broken bottle suddenly released the clear liquid which was actually created a raging river that swept across the flaming cubs. Vayu and Soleil were disappointed that their joint attack did not work as they have always done.

"Amazing! As expected of elementals! The two of you understand the natural process of the world like us alchemists! If those two attacks actually combined, then it would be powerful enough to destroy my barrier and that one! I shall enjoy this thoroughly as it has been a long time since durable people actually angered me!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he suddenly held out his hands.

On the palm of Grandmaster Lason's hands were two different magic circles. He then slapped these two hands together which automatically created a magic circle out of nowhere. He then slammed his hands onto the air as if it was solid. It even created a loud slapping sound as if he slapped the earth itself.

Chapter 1504 The Power Of Demigods II

A magic circle suddenly appeared on the air as Grandmaster Lason actually used alchemy on the air itself. A powerful burst of water streams suddenly manifested out of nowhere as air became water. He was able to transmute the elements which greatly shocked Vayu and Soleil.

What Grandmaster Lason did is not something an ordinary alchemist can do. The thing that he did was already in the realm of a somewhat powerful elemental king. He was able to change the elements of the things around him which is only possible if they are in possession of the Philosopher's Stone.

Vayu and Soleil combined their attacks to deflect the powerful beams of water that suddenly appeared out of nowhere. Vayu created another twister that swept through two water streams while Soleil vaporized the rest until steam is released. Creepysoo made use of the sudden steam and created spears of undead miasma that went straight towards Grandmaster Lason.

"Death Spears!" Creepysoo chanted as five spears made of undead miasma shot towards the demigod.

"Futile." Grandmaster Lason stated as the barrier is up once again.

The barrier blocked all of the attacks that was about to hit Grandmaster Lason without any problems. The undead miasma spears dispersed before they could even deal any sort of damage to the enemy. Creepysoo already thought about that though as he has also secretly summoned Robin Hoodie at the forest below.

"Now! Use Phantasm Arrows!" Creepysoo commanded via telepathy as he is connected to his undead knights.

Robin Hoodie suddenly manifested at a blind area below the flying enemies and charged an arrow with a pale white flame. Robin Hoodie fired this arrow from his bow, and it suddenly vanished from existence. The demigod was very confident on his Elemental Transmuting Barrier which is why he would always deploy it to deflect attacks.

"Agh!" The pained sound of the leader of the Followers of Apophis stated as she suddenly has an arrow stuck on her leg.

The leader of the Follower of Apophis was also confident on a demigod's barrier, but she suddenly felt her instincts flare up. She suddenly moved her body away as if something possessed her and she suddenly felt searing pain on her left thigh. She screamed in pain which caught the attention of Grandmaster Lason which the group used to cover the distance immediately.

Vayu immediately closed the distance as he swept his blade towards the neck of the demigod. Grandmaster Lason was caught unguarded for a moment, but he was able to recover immediately. Grandmaster Lason's clothes suddenly turned into a malleable liquid that blocked the katana from reaching his neck.

When the katana collided with the malleable liquid, a loud ring could be heard as if two metals collided with each other. Just as Grandmaster Lason thought that he would be safe, a red flower suddenly appeared below him.

"Fire Flower!" Soleil stated as the red flower suddenly exploded.

The scene of the flesh covered vessel of Apophis falling down to the ground could be seen. Peridot immediately changed to her dragon form and grabbed the vessel. The explosion of the fire flower created a puff of smoke which also blinded the enemy.

The group thought that Grandmaster Lason would have been damaged but he was perfectly fine when the smoke cleared. The only one with some light bruises was the leader of the Followers of Apophis. Soleil made sure to also send a fire flower at her as well. Peridot thought that she would be able to escape with the vessel, but she suddenly felt a powerful pressure bore down on her.

"To think that you were able to make me feel irritated. I am no longer playing with all of you. Domain of the Poison Alchemist!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he suddenly exploded in power which changed the terrain of the skies.

[Grandmaster Lason has activated his Domain of the Poison Alchemist!]

[All enemies will receive a 50% decreased resistance to poisons.]

[All poisons that are afflicted while this domain is active shall be increased by one stage.]

[Doubles the chance of decreasing the durability of equipment that are afflicted with corrosive acid.]

[All enemies will have 10% decrease in all of their defenses.]

[Doubles the damage of all poison alchemy spells and skills.]

The skies suddenly turned green as poison miasma covered it. The trees that were below them also melted into liquid as if everything inside the domain is powerful acid. Peridot felt the powerful pressure coming down from her double when Grandmaster Lason activated his domain.

Grandmaster Lason slapped his two hands once again and a pair of poison miasma arms suddenly manifested in the air. These two hands would then be used to grab Peridot who was frozen in the air due to the pressure falling down on her.

"Let go!" Levin Cloud shouted as this is the only way he thought of to save Peridot.

Peridot did exactly that as she let go of the vessel of Apophis. She then transforms back to her humanoid form as Vayu and Soleil saved her from being attacked. The vessel of Apophis went straight down to the acidic river that Grandmaster Lason created with his domain.

The group did not care if the vessel lives or dies which is why they thought that the vessel dying in that acidic liquid will make sure that they have done their job. The acidic liquid did not dissolve the vessel of Apophis though as it suddenly turned into a hand and gave back the vessel to the leader of the Followers of Apophis.

"I admit that I have been underestimating you, but it seems that all of you are making a fool out of me as well. This time...all of you will die a painful death. Grand Poison Apocalypse!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he slapped his hands once again but the whole terrain suddenly trembled as he made sure that his domain is the thing that he transmutes. An alchemist that can transmute his whole domain is a very powerful one.

Chapter 1505 The Power Of Demigods III

All of Grandmaster Lason's domain suddenly trembled as he transmuted all of it to his most potent and most powerful poison. The poison that he transmuted it to was not even known to the world as he only used this one to kill off demigods. He called this Poison by the number Zero as nothing would remain when one is doused with this.

Poison tides suddenly started closing in on the group. Creepysoo even saw a notification saying that Robin Hoodie died which mean it is a poison that could easily kill an undead. If Robin Hoodie died quickly then that means all of his body was melted into nothing by the poison.

"Eye of the Storm!" Vayu stated as he suddenly swung his blade in a circle and created a powerful storm with them at the center.

"Supernova!" Soleil stated as Regulus suddenly turned into a sun that increased in size with the group also in the center.

"Wall of Bones!" Creepysoo chanted as he created a spherical bone wall that protected all of them.

"Earth Wall! Wind Wall! Flame Wall! Tidal Wall!" Peridot chanted as she reinforced the Wall of Bones with her elemental walls.

"Bramble Wall!" Levin Cloud casted as a wall of thorny vines held together all of the elemental defenses.

"Pathetic and futile." Grandmaster Lason stated as he clapped his hands once more.

The huge pillars of poison tides suddenly slammed towards all of the spells that the group created. The poison tides did not even have difficulty breaking through the storm. The huge flaming sun was also no match as it fizzled out. The poison also melted the bramble and the bones easily as if they were rice paper dissolving in liquid.

"Protect Levin Cloud at all costs!" Peridot stated as she turned into her dragon form and coiled around them.

Vayu turned into a storm cloud and covered Levin Cloud. Soleil turned into a flaming liquid that surrounded the storm cloud. Creepysoo chanted continuously and created another barrier made of his own undead miasma to protect Levin Cloud. The poison tides then crashed on the elemental barriers and broke them one by one.

It did not take long for the poison tides to reach Peridot as it dissolved her instantly. Soleil, in her flaming liquid form, could not offer any resistance as well and died. Vayu, in his storm cloud form, tried to resist but he was not able to deter the advance of the poison tides. Creepysoo held on with everything he has and even expended all of his mana to block as much as he can before dying.

The poison tide finally stopped when it hit Levin Cloud, but he did not die. He did get splashed by the poison tide as well, but he is still alive. Levin Cloud healed himself back to full and glared at Grandmaster Lason. The demigod was about to smile and laugh but his instincts suddenly flared as he took out a flask and turned around.

The moment Grandmaster Lason turned around, the flask that he held collided with a scythe. The scene of the leader of the Followers of Apophis and the flesh cocoon being severed in two could be seen. Grandmaster Lason was not able to counterattack immediately but it did not take long for him to process everything that happened.

Grandmaster Lason took out another flask and bashed the being that suddenly appeared behind him. Adrian was not able to dodge as the reaction speed of a demigod is vastly different from that of another being. Adrian was sent flying away and crashed down on the ground below.

"That was just a dummy." Adrian muttered as he stood up and wiped the blood of his face.

Adrian was a bit shock when he severed the leader of the Follower of Apophis and the flesh cocoon that he thought was the vessel of Apophis. There was no resistance when he severed the body of the two as if they were made of pure flesh. The two did not even spray out large amounts of blood when he did that.

"We have been played! The vessel might no longer be here!" Adrian followed up as he alerted all of the guild members of what has transpired.

==

A few minutes earlier, Adrian and the others transported themselves to the location that the guild leader of the Briar Rose guild gave them. He made sure to teleport a few meters away as they wanted to attack by surprise. Adrian sternly told all of his guild members to kill the vessel of Apophis upon sight as they cannot take their time when against demigods.

Adrian immediately summoned his scythe armament and used Universal Threat. Adrian became invisible and told his members that he will hunt down the vessel and kill them with one strike. The others were also part of this plan, but they suddenly saw a demigod and what seems to be a follower of Apophis carrying a cocoon.

They were told that vessel of Apophis was trapped in the flesh cocoon which is why the five that Adrian gathered attacked them. Adrian waited for his chance as he will not be detected even by a demigod while using his current skill. When the flesh cocoon dropped, Adrian wanted to take that chance and kill off the vessel, but he stopped when a powerful pressure suddenly bore down on Peridot.

He waited for another chance, and it came when his other guild members died from a powerful skill from the demigod. Adrian could see that the demigod became weaker in stamina as he started to pant. Adrian went closer as he suddenly activated Cosmic Cull.

Adrian swung his scythe in a circle and severed the leader of the Followers of Apophis and the flesh cocoon. He thought that he was successful, but he suddenly felt that he cut through paper. He expected that on the vessel, but the leader of the Followers of Apophis should be slightly sturdier. It was only when he took a closer look that the two were actually flesh golems.

Chapter 1506 The Power Of Demigods IV

Frey reacted to the severed body of the vessel and the leader of the Followers of Apophis. She thought that the poor girl has already been killed but she did not see any squirt of blood from both their bodies. The flesh domain that the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora created started to giggle.

When the bodies of the severed person dropped to the ground, one could see that they started to transform into meat bags. These severed bodies were not real people, but an illusion created by the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora. One thing that people should understand that demigods have been far too patient in ascending to godhood.

Grandmaster Lason and the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora would actually forego any type of animosity between them. They would even work together to the point that they will make sure that everything is perfect. They even acted out in turn to make sure that they would fool the beings trying to stop them from delivering the vessel.

"Did you really think that we would waste any time with you ants when we have already finished our objective? All of you are not even worthy of our attention but the plan is already out. We will just have to kill all of you now since we no longer needed to act." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she created more flesh golem clones of herself.

"Did you really think that I will not have a backup plan just in case we did not win against the two of you?" Adrian muttered as Frey and the others suddenly realized that three people were not with Adrian and the others.

Adrian made sure that their expert trackers will look for any anomalies in the area. Adrian even made sure that Sirius will work with Lycan, Solstice and Kabrakan. They were the last attempt in killing the vessel should the advance team does not succeed.

Adrian sent the message to the three that the vessel is no longer in the area. They might have escaped via the flesh domain of the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora. She must have used her mastery of creating flesh golems to make it look like the Followers of Apophis were still in the area. If one looked closely then the Followers of Apophis that remained are not all human as some were replaced by Flesh Golems.

"Rose! I shall search for the vessel. Can you hold them down?" Frey stated as she really wanted to save the girl as she saw the pitiful state of what happened to her.

"You got it. I can deal with the demigod while you search." Rose stated as Frey immediately left as she gave a nod of goodbye.

"Where do you think you are going? I shall have a taste of Valkyrie! They say that all of you are the best meat." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as twenty flesh golems suddenly rushed towards Frey.

"Do you think that I will let that happen? Palace of Thorns!" Rose stated as she suddenly slit her palm and her blood dropped down on the flesh domain.

The flesh domain that made even soil look like flesh suddenly burst out in thorny vines. A large magic circle was created instantly when Rose' blood touched the floor. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora could not believe that a part of her domain suddenly got infiltrated but she immediately knew why.

"To think that there was someone here that has the blood of another witch." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she recognizes blood sorcery when she sees it.

Blood Sorcery is different from Blood Magic that the vampires use. Blood Sorcery is an innate magic that is passed down from the bloodline of another witch. If a witch produces a female heir, there is a chance that the innate magic of that witch that comes from their title to be passed down to their daughters.

"To think that a daughter of a witch is here. From the magic that you are using, you are a descendant of one of the ancient witches. Magic that can pierce another that has the property of a thorny rose palace. You are a descendant of the Witch of the Thorny Blood Rose Briar." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she is now focusing all of her attention on Rose.

When Rose summoned the Palace of Thorns, she managed to capture all of the flesh golems that were rushing to Frey. She also helped all of her guild members that were having a difficult time against them. The flesh golems that were captured by the Palace of Thorns are squeezed by the thorny vines as they are also sucked for blood or any life force.

Rose sacrificed half of her health in order to summon the Palace of Thorns. She has yet to be recognized as a real witch as she has yet to get that title. She might have the peculiar magic of her lineage called Thorny Blood Sorcery, but she does not have perfect control. All of the spells used in this magic uses her health and blood as a catalyst which is why she rarely uses it.

"You are correct in what you said. Using the sorcery that I inherited, I shall stop your right here!" Rose stated as she commanded everything inside the Palace of Thorns.

"Pathetic little fake witch! I shall devour you and get that Blood Sorcery for myself!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she went to attack the Briar Rose guild.

==

"Do you now realize how foolish all of you have been? Your comrades died for nothing! How pitifully magnificent!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he looked forward to the face that Levin Cloud would make but his smile suddenly became a frown.

Levin Cloud did not show any type of emotion after being shocked to learn that it was flesh golems that Adrian severed. He immediately collected himself and started to chant a hymn that could please anyone's ears. Grandmaster Lason thought something was amiss which is why he knew he had to take action.

Grandmaster Lason slapped his hands once more and created pillars of earth that are aimed towards Levin Cloud. The pillars of earth would have endangered Levin Cloud if not for the timely assist of Adrian. Adrian stood in front of Levin Cloud and hacked on the pillars of earth to make sure that the latter is safe.

"I am feeling pretty pissed right now because I thought it would be over. I will take all of my frustrations out of you." Adrian stated but even he is not confident going against Grandmaster Lason.

"Greater Summon: Kanlaon!"

"Greater Summon: Charon!"

Adrian summoned Kanlaon and Charon as his soulbounds for battle. Adrian is banking on the idea of Charon's chains slowing down the enemies. Charon immediately sent lots of chains towards Grandmaster Lason but the latter was able to destroy them which shocked Adrian.

"Master...that man's soul is strong and cannot be dominated easily. We would need to weaken him in order for my chains to connect." Charon stated.

This is the first time that Adrian saw Charon's chains being ineffective which means that their enemy is the real deal. Grandmaster Lason was very wary of the chains when it suddenly rushed towards him which is why he used his soul strength to destroy them. He suddenly looked a bit concerned since he is now against a dragon and an undead with strange abilities he has never seen before.

"I am done. Blessing of Great Life: Grand Revival!" Levin Cloud stated as a holy magic circle suddenly appeared on the sky.

A silhouette of the Goddess of Life Gaea suddenly appeared and blew a sweet kiss towards the area that Levin Cloud designated. A calm and soothing breeze that carried a powerful effect swept through across the area. It even reached the ground below where the Briar Rose guild is located.

[You have used Blessing of Great Life: Grand Revival.]

[All allied units in the area will revive from their death as long as they did not die for more than an hour.]

[All revived units will have 50% of their health back.]

[All revived units will have their stat reductions cleansed.]

[All revived units will have their status ailments cleansed.]

[All allies that are in the area but are now revived will be healed back to full health.]

[All allies that are healed to full health will have their status ailments cleansed.]

The sight of people reviving could be seen as a golden flower blooming as they return back to the mortal realm. Even the undead that Creepysoo summoned were revived which as well means the cooldown for summoning them was not used. All the deceased members of the elite team of the Briar Rose guild have also revived which means they are now back to full fighting capacity.

Chapter 1507 The Power Of Demigods V

"Took you too long." Creepysoo stated as he stretched his undead body.

"I thought that we would not be able to revive." Peridot stated.

"We are back in action!" Soleil shouted.

"Just be calm as the enemy is still there." Vayu stated.

Grandmaster Lason could not take the rambling of these brats as he tried to use his domain once more, but he has taken too much of his strength to even use it the first time. He was about to use another lesser version of the skill when a scythe is suddenly closing in on his neck.

Adrian tried to at least get a shot at the demigod, but he was evaded. He did learn something though as there was no barrier blocking any attacks for Grandmaster Lason. Adrian was about to attack once more but a powerful pulse of energy suddenly blasted him away from the enemy demigod.

"Alchemy: Flames of the Corrupted!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he clapped his hands once more.

Flames suddenly manifested on Grandmaster Lason's body that made it look like his body is burning. The flames suddenly became alive as if they became possessed by a spirit. Grandmaster Lason suddenly created a flame golem out of nowhere. The fire took in the form of a horned being that has a bulky body.

"Alchemy: Tides of the Damned!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he clapped his hands once more.

Rushes of water covered the demigod's body as it detached itself as well. The water came alive and took the form of a large serpentine carp. It even has detailed scales that are sharp and cut any being with just a brush of their skin.

"Alchemy: Earth of the Scorned!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he clapped his hands once more.

Grandmaster Lason suddenly slapped the ground below as the earth rumbled. The rocks came alive as a being that looked like a cross between a troll and a shark, but its body was made of earth and rocks. It was even bigger than the flame golem that was summoned by the Flames of the Corrupted.

"Alchemy: Wind of Fury!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he clapped his hands once more.

Grandmaster Lason's body is covered with harsh winds that suddenly turned into a bird monster. It was something like an elemental, but it was a golem made of pure wind. The wind bird golem is the biggest of the four that was summoned as its wingspan was enough to cover the earth golem.

"Kill all of them!" Grandmaster Lason commanded as all four elemental golems charged towards Adrian's group.

Vayu and Soleil could feel it when the golems were summoned. They were not ordinary golems that were just summoned out of nowhere but beings that were spawned using the heart of an elemental.

These four golems were actually made from elementals, and it seems to have been High Elementals as well.

The blood running inside of Vayu and Soleil jumped as they could feel the anger of their kind burning inside of them. Vayu knew that he needs to take the lead which is why he decided to deal with the eagle shaped elemental golem. Soleil took on the flaming horned golem as she can withstand its flames that even has poison coating it.

The earth elemental is being handled by Creepysoo as he could subdue it with the help of his undead knights. The water elemental is being handled by Peridot as she could manipulate the water on its body although she is having difficulty with that. All of them are being aided by Levin Cloud and his heals would bring them up to health.

Adrian would face Grandmaster Lason but even he is finding difficulty in having to land attacks. If his attack were to land, Grandmaster Lason would dodge if he can. He would then use his barrier for attacks that he cannot even dodge. Adrian could use another armament, but he knew that he must keep the two demigods at bay.

Adrian has full trust that his sister and the others will be able to track down the missing vessel but that would be difficult if the demigods are following the vessel of Apophis. Adrian knew that he needs to keep the two demigods here as they will definitely try and protect the vessel. All they have to do is stall the two demigods with whatever methods that they can muster.

Adrian thought that they would have at least an hour of time bought but his fears are realized when his eyes lingered at the scene below. Rose was being choked by the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora as all of her elite guild members turned into particles of light.

"How did this happen!?" Rose thought as things happened far too fast for her mind to register.

Rose summoned the Palace of Thorns using her innate Blood Sorcery and it should have been easy to strengthen her guild members, but something changed after a few minutes. The Palace of Thorns that she was proud of suddenly started to wither as it was swallowed by the domain of the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora.

The Palace of Thorns that she was proud of suddenly became the Palace of Flesh. All the bonuses that her Blood Sorcery has given to her members were instantly erased. The elites of the Briar Rose guild are suddenly incapacitated in an instant. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora also manifested her true body in the Palace of Flesh as she killed all of the elite members of the Briar Rose guild.

To say that the battle was one sided is not an understatement because that is what truly happened. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora is not like Grandmaster Lason despite them being the same level as demigods. The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora's job class is actually a Battle Magus which is a magic related job class that excels in combat.

Grandmaster Lason, on the other hand, is a Supreme Alchemist. He does not have powerful spells and skills that he can toss but his repertoire of poisons and golems make him unrivaled. Also, Adrian's group is mostly immune to poisons which means his main source of damage has lessened. It is also the reason why Adrian and his friends can keep up with the demigod alchemist.

"I have told you that it is futile. You are ants going against an apex predator. It is in your greatest pleasure to be killed by a demigod." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she destroyed Rose' head with just clenching her fist and the latter turned into particles of light.

Adrian saw the scene of Rose dying and he immediately knew that they needed to let some people go against the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora. Adrian wanted to go against the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora but she was already starting to move. As he was about to descend, blasts of poison miasma started to bombard Adrian. To make matters worse, he received a message from his sister.

Solstice: We are going against the Followers of Apophis holding the vessel but Eldritch and some of the Followers of the Dark Gods also came. We need reinforcements as Frey and us are not enough against ten of them.

"I shall head to the vessel. Have fun with the younglings!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she collected her domain and started to walk towards the direction where Solstice and the others are.

"Paradox! Seal the space." Adrian commanded as half of his mana suddenly vanished as he sealed the space in the area.

The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora looked at Adrian with an expression full of contempt. She did not like being at the mercy of a being that is not even stronger than herself. She would have been able to forcefully destroy the sealed space if not for her using her domain. She might not show it, but she is also weakened.

"All of you. Go and follow my sister and the others. Eldritch and some followers of the dark gods. If we do not stop them then the vessel will reach the western continent where the Shadow of Apophis itself will definitely be at the shores. I shall hold the two of them down and buy as much time as I can." Adrian stated to which the two demigods laughed.

Adrian did not care for the laughs of the two demigods as he ejected his friends from the sealed space. He made sure to strengthen it even more by using some of his essences. Even the elemental golems that Grandmaster Lason created could not escape the confined space. All of his friends did as they were told as they blitzed towards the location of Solstice and the others.

"It seems that demons are very confident of themselves. We can easily get out of this cage that you created by killing you." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated with an annoyed smile.

Chapter 1508 Against Two Demigods I

Solstice, Lycan and Kabrakan managed to catch up to the fleeing leader of the Followers of Apophis. They were a few hours away from the original position and it would take at least four hours to catch up to them given the speed that they traveled. The group was able to intercept the Followers of Apophis due to Lycan transforming into his full wolf form.

Sirius had to carry Kabrakan with him which is why he was not able to intercept the enemy. When Solstice and the others were able to stop the fleeing Followers of Apophis, Sirius needed to return back to his master as he cannot be separated this far from him or else the link between them will become unstable.

The only ones remaining to handle the Followers of Apophis were Solstice, Lycan and Kabrakan but they were enough against the five enemies. They were able to pin the Followers of Apophis down, but Solstice noticed that the other side was not attacking them at full power.

The Followers of Apophis would use spells as smokescreen or the power of their attacks to move ever so closely to the western port. Solstice immediately dyed the area in blood as she wanted to kill all of them in one swoop. She was about to kill every enemy when one of the most powerful players suddenly descended upon them.

Eldritch was able to block all of her deadly attacks that was about to kill the Followers of Apophis and the Vessel of Apophis. The Followers of Apophis sighed with relief as reinforcements have suddenly arrived. They were incredibly grateful for their master, the Distorted God Apophis, in alerting the Followers of the Dark Gods.

"Please have our utmost appreciations, Master Eldritch!" The leader of the Followers of Apophis stated as she now knows that the tides will turn in their favor.

Solstice, Lycan and Kabrakan thought that they would lose as Eldritch came with four other players. Eldritch was even able to bypass some of Kabrakan's defenses which is very solid even against boss monsters. Eldritch prepared a powerful spell called Dark God's Dominance which summoned an eye of an unknown dark god to peer into the mortal realm.

All beings that the eye sees would then be stunned or rooted in place with their stats getting lowered. Solstice, Lycan, and Kabrakan were stunned as Eldritch prepared a powerful spell called Star Burst. They were about to be killed when Frey suddenly appeared and cut the spell effects of the Dark God's Dominance spell.

"Eldritch!" Frey stated as she glared at him.

"Frey." Eldritch muttered as some bit of hatred suddenly rose from his mind. He still remembers how Frey hunted him down like some prey to be slaughtered.

After being released, Solstice immediately informed Adrian of what was happening. She knew that they cannot defeat ten enemies with just the four of them. Even if Frey is one of the high rankers, the other side also has Eldritch.

==

"It seems that having immunity to my poison has made you think too much of your standing in the world, demon!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he is seriously offended.

He does not want to admit it but the bugs that he was handling were much more troublesome compared to the ones that the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora were fighting. The most troublesome ones were the Champion and Envoy of the Twin Gods as they have a synergistic effect when they are together.

"You did not trap us here little demon, you are trapped here with us." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as she licked her sharp bladed claws.

"I thought demons were supposed to be strong on their own, but a Demon Summoner is a first for me. Release all of your summons to make this at least fun for us." Grandmaster Lason stated as he still has all his elemental golems.

"I know that I might not be able to defeat both of you even with all of my soulbounds out but that is for later. I will have to rely on myself first to see the limits of my own strength. Be glad because this is the first time that I am showing this form to the world. The fact that both of you will be able to witness it should be a proud moment for both of you." Adrian stated but he was incredibly scared inside.

Adrian is actually faking his bravado because he knows that that is all he has. The two demigods might be weakened as they used their domains but that does not change the fact that they are still demigods. Adrian is betting everything on the skill that Paradox has received when it evolved.

"Do not be afraid, master. I have calculated that this skill will be the most optimal way of handling the both of them. All hidden conditions for the usage of the skill have been completed. The master will not receive backlash even if he uses it now." Paradox stated as the icon for the Chaos Pierrot skill is glowing.

Adrian could actually use this skill as long as he has more than half his mana, but Paradox actually told him that he would suffer backlash if he does not fulfill the hidden conditions. The hidden conditions of this skill were that both his domains should not be in cooldown. Even his Netheros True Form or Aetheros True Form should not be in cooldown as well.

Paradox informed him that if these hidden conditions are cleared then he would be able to use the skill without any sort of damage to his core or body. Adrian has yet to use the skills that satisfies the hidden condition which is why he is confident that he can still summon his soulbounds after using the Chaos Pierrot skill.

"All bravado. Do it now while we are waiting for you. We do not want any rumors saying that we defeated the Champion of the Twin Gods at his weakest. Use your true forms that we have been told." The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated.

Chapter 1509 Against Two Demigods II

Adrian smiled as both of the demigods are giving him a chance, but he knew that they were also recuperating some of their energy as well. Despite hiding from the world, the demigods are well-informed of some of the major events that have transpired. All the demigods are also watching out for the Champion of the Twin Gods as he was the fourth Arch Demon that appeared in the world.

"Make sure that both of you will not regret killing me as fast as you can. Chaos Pierrot!" Adrian stated as a clown mask suddenly appeared in front of his face and attached itself to him.

As soon as the clown mask attached itself on Adrian's face, his whole world started to shake as if he had an out of body experience. His two forms which are his Netheros and Aetheros form also appeared beside him, but they were wearing masks. The Netheros Adrian wore a black clown mask that has a smiling face while the Aetheros Adrian wore a white clown mask with a sad face.

The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora and Grandmaster Lason suddenly felt something odd about this transformation. Adrian did tell them that he will show them a new form that the world has yet to know. The two demigods looked at each other because they did not expect something of this magnitude as they were actually being suffocated from the pressure.

The sudden suffocating pressure was not the only thing that the two demigods noticed as the whole sealed space started to twist and turn as well. The entire area was morphing into a bizarre wonderland that is akin to a semi-complete domain that a demigod can create. In fact, the two demigods trembled as the domain that was created is more powerful than what both of them can create.

The Netheros masked Adrian and Aetheros masked Adrian would then spread their wings as they covered Adrian in a cocoon. The two masked forms created a bizarre cocoon made of a powerful foreign energy that made the two demigods quiver in fear. The two demigods are not beings that can easily be scared but something inside of them told them to escape.

"Kill him immediately!" Grandmaster Lason started as he commanded all of his elemental golems to charge at the cocoon.

The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora also instinctively moved since her whole being told her to kill the being in front of her as soon as possible. The elemental golems and the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora almost reached the cocoon, but Adrian released a powerful shockwave that knocked all of his enemies back.

The shockwave did not only knock back his enemies, but it also transported all of them into a strange pocket dimension. The strange pocket dimension is filled with a lot of dying stars and space debris. The laws of physics are even lessened here as it is also crawling with monsters of unimaginable forms. This special space is none other than the Void or at least a special pocket dimension of it that was breached due to Adrian's new form.

[You have used Chaos Pierrot.]

[You have transformed into the Chaos Pierrot.]

[All soulbounds will be unsummoned in this form.]

[All stats of your soulbounds will be transferred to you while in this form.]

[All enemies that have been in the sealed space has been transferred to the Void Pocket Dimension along with the Chaos Pierrot.]

[All active skills cannot be used while in this form, but passive skills are still in effect.]

[You have gained five new skills while in the Chaos Pierrot form.]

[You have gained the skill Mischief.]

[You have gained the skill Prankster.]

[You have gained the skill Trickster.]

[You have gained the skill Mad World.]

[You have gained the skill Chaos Incarnate.]

Adrian's new form is vastly different from any of his forms now. His new form has all the colors that are present in his Netheros and Aetheros true forms. He also has both the horn placements of his true forms as he has two horns going upwards while the other two horns are facing downwards.

His horns are also different as they were mixed gold and black color while they burned in gray and gold flames. His horns looked like the hat of a pierrot which may have been the reason why this form was called Chaos Pierrot. Adrian's hair was like a white flame freely burning on top of his head which added to the overall look.

On Adrian's face is a clown mask that is porcelain white that has the appearance of a smiling face. The eyes on the mask were just two arches that has a vertical slit on the middle of both. The mouth is nowhere to be found while the porcelain white mask suddenly started to change in color. The mask suddenly transformed from porcelain white to a cosmic looking color filling it up as if Adrian woke up.

Adrian's clothes changed as well as he now looked like a royal jester that has the color schemes of black, white, gray, gold, blue and green. The interesting thing about his clothes is that the colors are not constant as they shifted from one color to another. The clothes looked chaotic, but it only added to the aesthetic of his new form.

Adrian's Chaos Pierrot Form could be described as slick and chic as it did not look gaudy. He looked like a mysterious clown that are spoken about in fantasies. When the two demigods looked at Adrian's new form something inside of them screamed at them to escape with every fiber of their being.

[You have fused Nether Energy and Aether Energy perfectly in your current form. You Nether Gauge and Aether Gauge has fused to become the Chaos Gauge.]

[All attacks enhanced with Chaos Energy will have an unknown effect but it will always be harmful to enemies or helpful to the Chaos Pierrot.]

Chapter 1510 The Chaos Pierrot I

The last touch to his transformation is the Chaos Paradox Soul Astrolabe or Paradox fusing with his body. Adrian immediately checked all of his skills as his new form beguiled his enemies. This is his first time in using this form, but he could feel great power from within him.

==

Skill Name: Mischief

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Active Area Damage

Effect:

- Select an area of five meters that is within your sight and create a powerful explosion that deals 200% of your total damage.
- All enemies that are inside of the explosion will get affected by Chaos Energy (As long as the Chaos Gauge is not empty).
- All allies within the blast radius will also be affected by Chaos Energy (As long as the Chaos Gauge is not empty).

- Regenerate one Chaos Essence per unique enemy hit. (10 second cooldown)

Cooldown: 2 seconds

Mana Cost: 2,000 Mana Points

Cast Time: Instant

==

Skill Name: Prankster

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Active Area Manipulation

Effect:

- Choose an area where everything just reverses.
- All attacks or spells that will be affected by this skill will deal damage to both enemies and allies if they are hit.
- You are also able to freely shift space around you without any delay.
- All enemies that are damaged by attacks or spells affected with this skill will get affected by Chaos Energy (As long as the Chaos Gauge is not empty). The effect will be detrimental.
- All allies that are damaged by attacks or spells affected with this skill will get affected by Chaos Energy (As long as the Chaos Gauge is not empty). The effect will be beneficial.

Cooldown: 5 seconds

Mana Cost: 5,000 Mana Points

Cast Time: Instant

==

Skill Name: Trickster

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Passive Dodge

Effect:

- This skill activates when the Chaos Pierrot gets hit by an attack or spell that deals more than 5% of his maximum health.
- Creates a clone afterimage that receives the damage that the Chaos Pierrot is supposed to receive.
- The Chaos Pierrot will only receive damage that is equivalent to 5% of his maximum health.
- The clone afterimage will then explode that deals 500% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.
- All enemies that attack the clone afterimage will get affected by Chaos Energy (As long as the Chaos Gauge is not empty). The effect will be detrimental.

- The Chaos Pierrot will become invisible for ten seconds after the Trickster skill is triggered.
- The Chaos Pierrot's next damaging attack will critically strike when the Chaos Pierrot is invisible.

Cooldown: 30 Seconds

Mana Cost: 10,000 Mana Points

Cast Time: Instant

==

Skill Name: Mad World

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Domain

Effect:

- Swallow all allies and enemies in the vicinity of the Chaos Pierrot and send them to a special pocket dimension called the Void Pocket Dimension.
- All enemies inside of the Mad World will have their stats reduced by 10%.
- All enemies inside of the Mad World will be afflicted by Paranoia.
- All allies inside the of the Mad World will have their stats increased by 10%
- All allies inside the Mad World will be afflicted with Clairvoyance.
- This domain will not be destroyed regardless of the other side's power and will only end when the duration of the Chaos Pierrot skill ends.

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: None

Cast Time: Instant

==

Skill Name: Chaos Incarnate

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Domain Collapse

Effect:

- The Chaos Pierrot becomes one with the Mad World and uses all of his power to collapse the pocket dimension.
- All enemies inside of the Mad World will be dealt with 1000% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.
- All enemies inside of the Mad World will receive five detrimental effects of Chaos Energy.

- All allies inside of the Mad World will receive five beneficial effects of Chaos Energy.
- This skill collapses the Void Pocket Dimension and ends the effects of the Chaos Pierrot skill.

Cooldown: None

Mana Cost: 20,000 Mana Points

Cast Time: Instant

==

One might think that the damage modifiers of the skills are not that high, but ones must remember that all of Adrian's soulbounds stats are added to him. Adrian has seven soulbounds worth of stats which makes him equivalent to a demigod in this form. In fact, even the two demigods before him are quivering in fear when facing him which means he is now more powerful than them stat wise.

"Have a good look. This is the last thing that both of you will see as I will kill you here." Adrian stated as he actually believed that he could kill them. His voice echoed in three octaves that have different pitches.

"Do not underestimate us demigods!" Both the Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora and Grandmaster Lason shouted as they recovered from the shock that they are experiencing.

The two demigods could not believe the being in front of them as they could feel the energy of a god from Adrian. They could not believe their eyes as a mortal was able to send two demigods to another plane of existence against their will.

"Domain of the Poison Alchemist!" Grandmaster Lason stated as he once again activated his domain since he was able to generate enough strength from waiting.

"The Flesh Witch' Domain!" The Witch of Flesh and Carnage Edora stated as her body started to expand.

The two demigods firmly believed that they will be able to win once their domain is set up, but they did not expect something awry to happen. The domains of the two demigods were able to activate but it could not stretch five meters away from them. Their domains that could cover a one-kilometer radius is now limited to five meters.

"Did I forget to tell both of you that your domains are severely limited when in my presence? Chaos has already descended, and I will make sure that both of you have a good taste." Adrian stated in an extremely confident tone but it cannot be distinguished since it echoed in three different octaves.