

O Summoner 1621

Chapter 1621 Odin's Descent I

"Apologies as it was not easy defeating thousands of frost giants with just the aid of Huginn and Muninn." The God Odin stated.

The fight against the frost giants were still not finished but the God Thor was already leading the warriors of Asgard to victory. When the God Odin saw that the warriors of Asgard can now fight against the remaining frost giants, he decided to focus on another problem that they have encountered. The God Odin immediately sent one of his ravens to the location of the escaped convicts.

Even if the God Odin descended onto his raven, it does not mean that he has descended fully because the body still belongs to the raven. The God Odin's clothes and armor could be seen to be made of dark feathery adornments to keep with the raven theme. He has grayish hair with one of his eyes covered with an eyepatch.

Even if it was not the God Odin himself, Adrian and the others could feel the pressure that was exuding from him. Even Adrian could feel that the God Odin in front of him could take all of them down. The power emanating from a descent should not be this powerful but it is the leader of the gods of Asgard they are facing.

"Run!" Adrian shouted as he immediately called upon Sirius to activate Samael's Domain.

Sirius immediately howled as the entire area is filled with an immense power that morphed the land around him. Inside Samael's Domain, all illusions could become a reality depending on the mastery of the domain. Adrian made sure to hide all his allies as running away would be the best option for them.

"Do you think that this trick would actually stop me from keeping all of you here?" The God Odin stated as he also released a powerful aura that joined in with the energy from Samael's Domain.

A thousand spears suddenly came down from the heavens as it created a ring around the God Odin as the center. As soon as the spears descended, all forms of escape were cut off as it locked them inside the area that the God Odin decided. This was the domain of the God Odin called the All-Father's Cage which is said to be impossible to escape from.

[You are inside of the All-Father's Cage.]

[All forms of movement ability will be sealed when attempting to move outside of the range of the All-Father's Cage.]

[Healing will be reduced to 50%.]

[Weaken the God Odin or his representative in order to dispel the All-Father's Cage.]

The God Odin is very much a powerful god that has mastered the runes. In fact, he is also one of the unique gods that could actually use his own domain when he descends to a host. This makes him one of the most powerful gods that could shake the foundation of the world, but such ability is also limited.

The perfect host would be needed in order for the God Odin to use such powerful runes. He tried using mortals as hosts before, but they all ended up dying after just one full descent. Since no mortal could easily bare the brunt of his power, the God Odin create the two ravens, Huginn and Muninn.

He created the two ravens so that he can descend whenever he is needed if he is not present in the battlefield. This was a great strategy by the God Odin as it made him able to be present at three battlefields at the same time. This feat made conquering the nine worlds much easier as he could just split himself into three.

"What do we do?" One of the Valkyries asked.

"What else can we do? We must fight." The Goddess Freyja stated as she carried a sword despite some of her strength still sealed.

The Goddess Freyja knew that fighting right now would be the only option because they have no way of escaping. If they had, then they would have already used it but even she knows that being locked inside Odin's cage is not easy. The God Freyr also braced himself as he mounted Gullinbursti as he planned to fight as well.

"If all of you plead and beg for mercy then I might spare you. Well, I might spare Freyja and Freyr, but the others will have to die." The God Loki stated.

"You speak as if you already won. Just like that son of yours when I ripped his jaws in half." Adrian stated which made the God Loki almost charge at him, but the God Odin stopped the latter.

"Do not be rash, brother. The demon will definitely have something up his sleeve which is why he is actively provoking you." The God Odin stated as he stopped the God Loki.

Adrian almost got what he wanted because he could definitely seal the God Loki for a few minutes and have the other bombard the God Odin. The All-Father must have seen through Adrian which is why he stopped the God Loki. Adrian needed to do something because they will lose if they prolong this fight.

"If the God Thor also joins this fight, then it will all be over. We must either escape or defeat these two.? If we do not do that then we will definitely die while the two gods with us will be imprisoned." Adrian thought as his brain started working in overload.

"Nether Domain!" Adrian shouted as he activated his domain to try and corrode the domain that the God Odin has set up.

Adrian thought that his domain would be unable to corrode the domain of a powerful god, but he could actually feel it working. He felt the nether energy slowly disintegrate the spears that surrounded them, but it was not fast. Still, a ray of hope could be seen in such a dark and ominous battle.

"Watch out!" Frey stated as she immediately went in front of Adrian and defended him from a spear made of light that was aimed for his heart.

Chapter 1622 Odin's Descent II

Adrian and Frey were pushed back as the power that was in that spear of light was something that they cannot take without preparation. The God Odin released that spear as soon as he saw that his domain was being corroded by an unknown energy. The God Odin is somewhat familiar with this energy as he must have touched upon it but must have backed off when it was dangerous even for him.

"Brother, do you know this ominous energy that is eating our energy?" The God Odin asked as he left all information gathering to the God Loki if it was about Midgard.

"The mortals call it Nether Energy and it is something that even the Gods of Pandemonium are wary of. This energy is poisonous to gods as even the foreign gods have made sure to avoid the Champion of the Twin Gods." The God Loki stated as he spent the better time of about two centuries in Midgard going back and forth from Asgard.

"As you have told me brother, he is very dangerous. We must destroy his core while he is still weak." The God Odin stated as he knows of a weakness that the Daemos possess and that is the destruction of their cores.

It is true that the Daemos could be killed if their core is destroyed but it is not something easy. Since the two of them are gods, they believed that it will be possible. Even with the help of the God Freyr and the weakened Valkyries, Adrian will not be safe as long as he is caught off-guard.

"Cover me, brother. I shall aim for his core." The God Loki stated as he suddenly vanished and left another clone to act like him.

"Hrafn Kveykva!" The God Odin chanted as numerous runes started to materialize in the air.

The runes then took the form of numerous ravens that shot out beams of light from their mouths and aimed towards Adrian's group. Adrian summoned Charon as he knew that the beams of light were magical and nature. Charon's chains formed a barrier around them that protected them from the beams of light.

"Hrafn Leggja" The God Odin chanted as he knew that the magic beams were not enough to stop his current opponents.

Runes once again manifested in the air and created ravens once more. The ravens did not shoot beams of light from their mouth but instead flew towards a draugr. When the raven was near the draugr, the ravens would possess the undead and transform into a different breed of undead.

==

Monster Name: Draugr Raven Revenant Knight

Monster Species: Undead

Level: 290

HP: 100% / 100%

MP: 100% / 100%

Description: A draugr that has been enchanted by the God Odin to do what he wants. The enchantment not only empowers the undead but also increases its thirst for life by several fold. This undead has great physical and magic resistance due to the influence of the magic that the God Odin used.

==

Monster Name: Draugr Raven Revenant Magus

Monster Species: Undead

Level: 290

HP: 100% / 100%

MP: 100% / 100%

Description: A draugr that has been enchanted by the God Odin to do what he wants. The enchantment not only empowers the undead but also increases its thirst for life by several fold. This undead has great magic resistance and can cast spells using runes that makes the spells five times more powerful.

==

Monster Name: Draugr Raven Revenant Archer

Monster Species: Undead

Level: 290

HP: 100% / 100%

MP: 100% / 100%

Description: A draugr that has been enchanted by the God Odin to do what he wants. The enchantment not only empowers the undead but also increases its thirst for life by several fold. This undead has great agility and speed that it could fire ten arrows in a span of a second.

==

Adrian and the others could not believe that the God Odin was capable of such a feat because he just empowered a group of spawning undead. The amount of power needed for such a feat would not be scarce and very taxing even if one is a high god. The God Odin is also using this while he is descended which means he is using two times more resources to keep this up.

The undead still looked like their previous appearance but now they are wearing raven armor or raven cloaks. One could easily distinguish which undead was enhanced and which was not. Even if they could distinguish the difference, the sheer amount of undead being empowered is crazy.

"We will take care of the undead. Freyr and you two should deal with the two of them." The Goddess Freyja stated as she prepared to create a pathway for the three of them.

"Me and the God Freyr will deal with the God Odin. You can deal with the God Loki as you are the one that can see through his illusions." Frey stated which Adrian agreed upon.

Just as Adrian nodded his head, a smirk came from the darkness as the one that he was about to face was actually right behind him. The God Loki suddenly appeared as he stabbed through Adrian's chest. The God Loki started laughing as he thought that they finally won because he managed to hurt the demon.

Adrian could be seen clutching his chest as he fell down the ground. The God Loki relished this moment as he could not take his time. He waited for the perfect moment to get inside the gaps of what Charon's defense was. He also made sure to bide his time to strike in a moment where all of their defenses were down.

"Equinox!" A lot of the Valkyries shouted as Adrian could be seen lying on the ground.

"Get away from him Loki!" The God Odin suddenly shouted.

"Too late." Adrian whispered as he suddenly appeared behind the God Loki and struck his scythe upon the bamboozled god. It was not just the God Loki that was shocked but also everyone else.

Chapter 1623 Odin's Descent III

A few moments before the situation where Adrian vanished...

Adrian already knew that he will not be able to land a killing blow on either of the two enemy gods unless he makes himself easy to target. He knew that the God Loki would want to kill him first as the enmity between them is at its peak. He needed to create a chance where he would be vulnerable to any tricks and deceptions.

Since Sirius' domain is still active, Adrian knew that he could still use the effects of the illusion as long as he perfectly timed it. He started by activating the Nether Domain to make it look like he is giving his all. He then summoned Dodu at its smallest possible form and immediately swapped with his scythe weapon.

Adrian then commanded Sirius to make concentrate the illusion of everyone inside of Charon's defensive sphere. This is where the swapped happened instantly as Adrian activated Universal Threat and had Dodu transform into him. He also made it look like they are having a difficult time defending themselves against the attacks while he is at it.

Adrian made sure that even his own allies will not know what he did to make sure that the plan is fool proof. After all, one needs to also fool their allies for such a risky plan to succeed. If his allies knew what he was planning, then they would have acted differently.

Adrian did not expect that the God Loki would immediately take the bait. He thought that he needed to make Dodu look even more vulnerable, but it seems that the blood rushed too much into the God Loki's head. The God Loki stabbed Dodu in the chest where Adrian's core should be located.

[Your soulbound, Dodu, has been dealt with catastrophic damage.]

[Dodu's health has been reduced by 50%.]

[Dodu was not stunned by the drastic loss of health due to its racial characteristics.]

Adrian is a bit stunned because Dodu is immune to physical damage unless its opponents have skills that could negate that. The fact that a large chunk of Dodu's massive health was removed means that blow could kill Adrian should it connect. There were also traces of poison in the short swords which means that if the attack did not kill you then the poison definitely will.

Adrian then told Dodu to act like it was dealt a powerful blow. Dodu took Adrian's memories of 'acting' and pretended to fall down on the ground like a lifeless corpse. The God Loki rejoiced upon seeing Adrian's lifeless body (Dodu) that he made an error in his own surroundings by not making sure that everything is safe.

Adrian's scythe hit the God Loki's body or so he thought because a shield made of ice suddenly manifested in front of the latter. The shield was made of ice, and it shattered upon being hit by Adrian's skill called Universal Threat. The God Loki was shocked upon seeing his Mythical Tier Relic shatter like glass, but he did not stop to find out why.

The God Loki immediately swap places with the ice clone that he created earlier and managed to escape the follow up attack that Adrian did. The God Loki suddenly felt fear in his heart as that scythe was directed at his very soul. The God Loki already knew that Adrian's weapons are soul level weapons that could destroy the souls of even gods when Nether Energy is applied.

"Tch!" Adrian clicked his tongue as he missed his perfect chance.

Adrian's hands feel numb as a layer of frost could be seen covering it. This was the effect of the ice shield that he destroyed earlier. His hands were stunned for five seconds, and his health was reduced by 10%.

Adrian thought that he had the God Loki, but it seems that he also forgot that he was against a Trickster God. They would definitely be unconventional unlike the other gods that are straightforward in thinking. The rebound of the ice shield also destroyed the mana formation of the scythe armament which is the first time something like that happened.

[Your Primordial Armament: Scythe has been disabled for a moment as the mana structure that is maintaining its form has been frozen.]

[You can use your Primordial Armament: Scythe once more again after ten minutes.]

Adrian actually received an attack that could be labeled as a Soul Shock. It is basically the phenomenon where the abilities of a soul weapon were imbued on a relic. An attack that targets the soul is a very rare ability because it could potentially kill the enemy if they did not have a strong soul.

The fact that Adrian, who has a soul stronger than any ordinary being, was damaged to the extent that his hands were stunned, and scythe armament nulled then that attack could kill a demigod. A Soul Shock that could kill a demigod is no laughing matter as that item would be something a lot of beings would want.

"It could also have been degraded because of the world limitation. It might actually be a Transcendent tier relic. I lost my chance because I was not prepared for that defense." Adrian thought as he knows that the Transcendent tier would only be possible if the world would let High Gods appear and walk freely.

"Are you alright?" Frey stated as she poured a healing potion on Adrian's hands as she could see that it was covered with frost.

Frey thought that Adrian was also killed earlier but her brain started to process once more when she saw Adrian materialize behind the God Loki. She could see that the Adrian that was hit by the short sword on the back might have been Dodu. If Adrian was really killed earlier, then he would have transformed into particles of light.

"I am fine, but I missed my chance. Dodu, are you fine?" Adrian stated as his hands started to recover.

"I am fine, master!" Dodu stated in its own cute and childlike voice which was vastly different from Adrian's own voice.

==

"I told you to be careful, brother. You almost died once more. If your physical body were to die here, then recreating it would be difficult as it would be tainted by the wild magic in Niflheim." The God Odin stated as he checked the state of the God Loki's body.

"I actually saw my life flashing before my eyes. That demon actually possessed an attack that can destroy the Frost Shield of Niflheim. He coated his attack with the disturbing energy that is fluctuating around us. I can no longer attack carelessly brother as it would take a month for the Frost Shield of Niflheim to charge a life-saving stack." The God Loki stated as fear has been planted in his brain.

"Seeing as you were serious, I think I should no longer save any of my strength and kill that demon. He poses a threat that could derail everything that we have worked hard for. I do not mind sacrificing Huginn as I could just create another one when my strength returns." The God Odin stated as the energy from his body started rising.

Adrian and the others suddenly felt the spike of the energy that the God Odin contained. It was no longer an energy level that aligned with the world's restriction. Adrian could even see the world's restriction forcefully trying to stop the God Odin from releasing such strength.

"This is the true... Gungnir!" The God Odin stated as he summoned a gigantic spear that was the size of the moon in the sky.

It is not just Adrian and the others that saw such a horrific scene as even the frost giants that were observing from afar could view the giant spear materializing. Adrian knew that he needed to transport everyone out of this world now or else they will die because that spear is pointed directly towards them. The Goddess Freyja and the God Freyr tried to do what the God Odin did, but they were not strong enough to go against the world's restriction.

"Sisters! It has been nice knowing all of you. Frey! Make sure to live and create new sisters to be with you." Brunhild stated as she knew that even they cannot defend against such an attack and accepted their fates.

"Chaos Pierrot Form!" Adrian stated in a tone that could be described as not amused.

Adrian's soulbound suddenly returned back to his soul chambers while both nether energy and aether energy started going wild as it is released from Adrian's body. The nether energy and aether energy then became still and fused within Adrian's body. He revealed his Chaos Pierrot form into the world, and it made the whole world tremble.

[The Chaos Pierrot Form is resonating with the users unmatched frustration and resentment.]

[Your Chaos Pierrot Form has gained an additional perk and has been transformed temporarily.]

[You are currently in Chaos Pierrot Form (Havoc).]

Chapter 1624 Chaos Pierrot Form (Havoc)

[All your stats are doubled for the duration of the transformation for the Chaos Pierrot Form (Havoc).]

[You are now able to release powerful burst of Chaos Energy that has different effects.]

[You can choose to release Chaos Energy (Status Ailment).]

[You can choose to release Chaos Energy (Mark).]

[You can choose to release Chaos Energy (Piercing Damage).]

[You can choose to release Chaos Energy (Spatial Augment).]

==

Skill Name: Chaos Energy (Status Ailment)

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Unknown

Effect:

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Paralyze an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Stun an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Poison an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Bleed an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Petrify an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Blind an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 15% chance to Root an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 10% chance to Confuse an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown that has a 10% chance to Fear an opponent regardless of their immunities and deal 100% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage.

-? All status ailments could stack and there is a guaranteed chance of inflicting a status ailment if five daggers hit the opponent.

Restriction: Can only create ten daggers at a time using Chaos Energy

Cooldown: None

Cast Time: Instant

Mana Cost: None

==

Skill Name: Chaos Energy (Mark)

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Unknown

Effect:

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown at an opponent that marks them.

-? All opponents that are marked will be always visible to the Chaos Pierrot.

-? Deal 1% of the opponent's maximum health per dagger that has been hit.

-? The Chaos Pierrot can activate Reave which activates all the Chaos Daggers on a marked opponent and make it explode.

-? If there are five daggers attached to a target, then 10% of their maximum health will be dealt as damage. Any two succeeding chaos daggers will deal 1% of the target's maximum health.

Restriction: Can only create ten daggers at a time using Chaos Energy

Cooldown: None

Cast Time: Instant

Mana Cost: None

==

Skill Name: Chaos Energy (Piercing Damage)

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Unknown

Effect:

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown at an opponent that shreds all of their defenses by 1%.

-? The daggers deal 150% of the Chaos Pierrot's total damage and is multiplied depending on the percentage of the armor that has been shredded.

-? Every 10% of the target's armor that has been shredded will multiple the damage of the skill by 100%.

-? The damage multiplier will take effect even if the target has already had their defenses shredded.

-? If the target already has reduced armor or magic armor, then the armor and magic armor shred will increase by 50%.

Restriction: Can only create ten daggers at a time using Chaos Energy

Cooldown: None

Cast Time: Instant

Mana Cost: None

==

Skill Name: Chaos Energy (Spatial Augment)

Skill Tier: Unknown

Skill Type: Unknown

Effect:

-? Create small daggers that can be thrown at any given location or target.

-? The Chaos Pierrot can transfer to the location of chaos dagger which will consume the chaos dagger.

-? The Chaos Pierrot can also pull the targets that have been tagged by the chaos dagger.

Restriction: Can only create ten daggers at a time using Chaos Energy

Cooldown: None

Cast Time: Instant

Mana Cost: None

==

Adrian immediately checked all the skills that he received in his new form because he cannot use the other skills from his standard form. It seems that Chaos Pierrot Form (Havoc) is a variant of the Chaos Pierrot that can create untold amount of chaos and destruction. He is also limited to creating ten of each chaos daggers which means he can create forty in total.

This might have been challenging if one did not have training like Adrian by controlling numerous mirrors before. If a newbie or even a veteran might get this skill, then they would have no idea on what its full potential could be if they did not use a weapon that can multiply like Adrian's mirror armament. Adrian is in a state where time froze because he used Time Stop just before he turned into the Chaos Pierrot Form (Havoc).

Adrian is quite pleased that Time Stop affected the God Odin and the God Loki as he thought that they would be unaffected. It seems that even gods can be affected by Time Stop as long as the gap in strength and the world restriction is still in place. Adrian made sure to prepare all forty daggers immediately as soon as he got the chance.

[Time Stop has finished in duration.]

[Time will normally flow once again in Niflheim.]

As soon as the world started to move once more, the God Odin and the God Loki is shocked to see Adrian's form. He looked like his normal Chaos Pierrot Form but the aura around the Havoc Variant is not the same. A dark and eerie aura could be sensed from Adrian which is even more sinister than that of a dark god's aura.

"Let us begin the demonstration of Chaos!" Adrian stated as his voice echoed in eight different intervals.

"Even with your new form, you will not escape under my spear's wrath!" The God Odin stated as the gigantic Gungnir still came crashing down from the sky.

Adrian did not panic as he immediately used all of the chaos daggers that can use spatial movement towards his allies. He immediately created more when it was not enough, but this is not the only thing that he did. Adrian immediately shot numerous daggers in all directions.

Some of the chaos daggers landed on the God Odin and God Loki. The ones that landed on them were the chaos daggers that marked them which are incorporeal in nature. The chaos daggers that inflicted status ailments were all deflected by the God Odin's Raven Coat.

The giant spear, Gungnir, has yet to descend but Adrian did not stop releasing numerous daggers which made the others think that he has lost his mind. Frey, on the other hand, believed Adrian as he was not the type of person to do something useless at such a crucial time. The God Odin created a shield to make sure that the dust that will rise from the impact of his attack does not dirty his cloak.

A powerful impact could be heard all throughout the planet as the God Odin's attack released such powerful energy. The impact of Gungnir was even felt even at the opposite side of the world of Niflheim. The God Odin could be seen smiling as he knew that no being would be able to defend against that attack that he used.

"They are dead at last. The fact that I needed to break the world restriction using my own Rune Magic meant that they were at least decent opponents." The God Odin stated.

"Truly... well done, brother." The God Loki stated as the smoke cleared, and they could only see a large crater and a giant spear made of light fading out of existence.

"I admit that it is truly a powerful attack." A voice stated behind the God Odin and the God Loki.

The God Odin and the God Loki tried to immediately escape but fifteen daggers could be seen suddenly buried deep in their backs. The God Odin tried to shake those daggers off, but they were stuck to him as he started to bleed through all his orifices. The God Loki, on the other hand, could be seen unable to move his body or even speak as he was stunned.

"As expected of gods! All of you are indeed very capable but it seems being too arrogant has made all of you blind on the capacity of mortals." Adrian stated in his weird voice as he smiled deviously which made it look menacing because of his current form.

"Inso!" The God Odin stated but his body was once again pierced by daggers that dealt status ailments which is the same for the God Loki.

Chapter 1625 The God Thor Arrives

[You have inflicted the status ailment, Stun, on your opponent for two seconds.]

Frey and the others did not know when they were transported as they did not even feel the space shift. They would usually feel a tugging sensation in their whole body whenever Adrian would transport them but this time there was no sensation at all. Frey and the others did not even know that they already switched places until they saw the giant spear crash to the ground.

Adrian's control over space in his Chaos Pierrot Form is so fine that even a large shift in space would not have such obvious changes. Even the God Odin, who is famed for being incredibly sensitive, could not detect what happened as he thought that they already died. Adrian just smiled at them widely, but it is in fact not all of him because the only thing that he can actively control is the body movement.

[Your personality has been affected by your current form.]

Adrian read the notification earlier and he did not think much about it because it did not affect how he moved. What he did not know is that the personality of his Havoc Form is vastly different from him that is always reserved. If the normal Adrian was reserved and will not show what he really thinks then the Havoc Form is the opposite of that.

Anything that Adrian thinks of will automatically be spoken aloud by his current form. It is a form that lets the intrusive thoughts win if one were to summarize it. Even with that, this current form is incredibly dangerous because it has too much destructive power.

Adrian already planted thirty or more daggers onto the enemies. If he wanted to kill them then they would have been killed already but his current form says otherwise. Adrian's current form is basically enjoying the moment of misery of the two gods that are before him.

If the status ailment wears off, then Adrian would just continue on striking chaos dagger onto the bodies of his enemies. This image is actually so drastic that even the Valkyries could not bear to look at what he was doing even though they really liked it. The Valkyries are actually enjoying the torture that the God Loki is currently experiencing as they were also subjected to other forms of torture before they were transferred to Niflheim.

"I think it is time to end it. The God Thor might arrive." Frey stated as there is still one more god that is present in this area that they should look out for.

"I already had my fun. Let see what happens when a raven croaks." Adrian stated as he snapped his fingers.

When Adrian snapped his fingers, the embedded chaos daggers that marked the God Odin suddenly activated. The God Odin thought that something was going to happen like space overturning, but it did not. Instead, the sight of the chaos daggers exploding into numerous spikes made of chaos energy erupted in his body.

The God Odin did not have enough time to even scream as his divine descent suddenly ended as his divine energy exploded from within. Adrian clapped upon seeing such a wonderful scene as if he was a mad clown or something. The God Loki saw this and started to crawl down on the snow as he wanted to escape.

The God Odin's connection to Huginn is no more as the raven returned to its original appearance. The raven, Huginn, or what is left of it as its whole body exploded could be seen sprawled out on the snow. The dead eyes of the raven that once looked down and observed every living creature is now lifelessly staring at the God Loki.

[You have gained a stat to your Divinity.]

The head of Huginn landed directly near the God Loki as if showing what his fate would be. The God Loki could still revive as he only used a body clone for this expedition. His real body is still in a deep sleep state in Asgard as he is not in a state of divine descent.

Just as Adrian was about to snap his finger to kill the God Loki, a powerful boom of thunder suddenly exploded. The God Thor suddenly descended before Adrian and the others in a heroic manner. The God Thor saw what happened to the raven Huginn and does not want his brother to suffer the same fate.

"I beg you to spare him as I will..." The God Thor was speaking when Adrian just snapped his fingers and made the God Loki explode.

[You have gained a stat to your Divinity.]

"You were saying?!" Adrian stated in a taunting manner as he already knew that the God Thor would descend.

Adrian wanted to kill the God Loki immediately, but his current form seems to have other ideas. It was only when the God Thor descended where his command of killing the God Loki came to pass. The Chaos Pierrot (Havoc) relished on the shocked face of the God Thor.

The God Thor was speechless as he did not think that someone that will rescue the Valkyries would be so disrespectful. A warrior like him would have at least heard the plead of the other side before he enacted but the demon before him waited for him to descend. This increased the rage of the God Thor as a powerful thunderstorm is suddenly summoned in the skies.

"You have no honor as a warrior!" The God Thor stated.

"Honor?! Is the honor you are speaking off to sacrifice the lives of numerous mortals just for the gratification of you Gods of Asgard? You speak of honor, yet your own honor has already been gone the moment that you have agreed to what they wanted to do to the main world." Adrian fired back.

The sudden spike in the power levels of the monsters and gods that could descend is not helpful to the people of the main world. Monsters grow with the change in their environment, but the people of the main world grow from killing monsters. If the monster's level suddenly jumped with the others not being able to catch up, then it will only be a matter of time before the main world is overrun by powerful monsters.

The God Thor could not rebuke Adrian's claim as what he said is true. He mainly prioritized the needs of the Gods of Asgard before the needs of the many. He is no longer the god that honors and protects the weak because that vanished the moment, he agreed to accelerate the merger with the main world.

The people of the main world would have had at least a century more to produce talents that could match the rising power levels of the monsters. Since this escalated quickly, reports of many villages and towns being raided by monsters have been flooding the world. This was on top of what is happening in the world currently such as the Dragon and Angel war.

The main world became increasingly chaotic due to the nature of what is happening. This is the result of the things that both sides did as they were now feeling the effects of what they did or rather the people of the main world are feeling. This left the God Thor speechless as he knows that he has burned bridges to get what they have now.

"Champion Equinox might have been too blunt but what he speaks is true. The Asgard that I know is no longer the Asgard that I have helped build. I, the Goddess Freyja, leader of the Vanir officially breaks ties with the Gods of Asgard!" The Goddess Freyja stated as her voice echoed throughout the nine worlds.

"I, the God Freyr, a member of the Vanir also breaks ties with the Gods of Asgard!" The God Freyr announced proudly as his announcement also echoed within the nine realms.

As if their announcement was not shocking enough, it was not only the two gods that broke free from Asgard. All the members of the Vanir cut ties with the Gods of Asgard as soon as their queen, the Goddess Freyja, broke off her ties.

==

The God Odin returned to his body and woke up from his sleep prematurely because of the damage that he received from Adrian's attack. It seems that he lost some of his divinity as his divine soul was damaged by Adrian's attack. He immediately stood up and checked on the God Loki when the God Tyr suddenly burst into the palace.

"Great All-Father! The Vanir Gods have started to leave us!" The God Tyr stated which made the God Odin panic.

The Vanir Gods immediately left Asgard as soon as they heard the announcement from the Goddess Freyja. They have already created divine realms that are annexed to the main world which is why they can go to Midgard, but they did sacrifice some of their divine energy from doing so.

Chapter 1626 The Vanir Gods Leave Asgard

The God Thor is shocked with what the Goddess Freyja and the God Freyr has done that his mind was filled with great confusion. The bloodthirsty aura that the God Thor was emitting earlier was suddenly cut off and the large storm clouds that gathered before them has stopped gathering. It seems that the concentration of the God Thor was shattered upon hearing that two of the gods that he was close was gone.

Adrian did not attack the God Thor while the latter was shocked and instead took all of his allies with him to the location of the Bifrost. They vanished before the God Thor that was still shocked and processing of what just happened. The guards of the Bifrost that were tired and celebrating the victory of their war against the Frost Giants were shocked to suddenly see numerous beings standing on top of the Bifrost.

Adrian gave them a smile as he activated the Bifrost before the guards of Niflheim could even react. All of them left for Midgard as soon as Adrian instantaneously activated the Bifrost, and none complained. Even the other Valkyries are already shocked that their esteemed Goddess Freyja has left the comfort of her own home.

The Valkyries thought that the Goddess Freyja would fight against the God Odin if it came to her decision, but they did not think that she would abandon her whole pantheon. The Goddess Freyja knew that the Valkyries are no longer welcomed in the eyes of the God Odin. She could at least suffer the fate of being destroyed by the All-Father because she is useful in his eyes but that does not extend to her followers.

The Goddess Freyja ultimately made a decision that impacted the decision of the Vanir Gods as well. They were just waiting for the return of their leader as they were also worried what happened to the Goddess Freyja. The Vanir Gods knew that the Goddess Freyja was subjected to punishment because of her disregard for the God Odin's decision.

The Vanir Gods were already discontented with the Aesir Gods because of this. The Vanir Gods knew that they partially lost some of their voice in the council of gods in Asgard when the Goddess Freyja lost some of her power. They thought that this would be overturned as they formed a vital part of the society of Asgard as gods that maintained balance and increasing life, but they were wrong.

The Aesir gods slowly made sure that they were the ones that are in charge in one way or another. The Vanir Gods could not raise their voice as they were not as powerful in battle when it comes to the Aesir gods. They had to keep their mouth shut and make concessions even if they knew they were blatantly being disrespected.

The Vanir Gods knew that they will only get their respect back if the Goddess Freyja returns to her peak strength. They also know that it is the Goddess Freyja that has followers in the main world unlike the other gods of Asgard. The Vanir Gods have already made preparation to leave Asgard behind as they swallowed the disrespect while creating a connection to the main world.

The Vanir Gods were already planning to move away when their patience breaks and this was the signal for them to leave Asgard. They already planned to move away, and the Goddess Freyja just escalated the process even further. The Goddess Freyja also knew of the plans of the other Vanir Gods as they are very loyal to her.

==

"Great Odin! The mortals of Asgard are falling apart as the Vanir gods have left all of their duties." The God Tyr stated.

The God Odin scrunched his head and rubbed his temples as a major headache ensued. The Vanir Gods were the ones that were handling all of the process when it comes to making food and necessities. If they abandoned their all of their duties, then that means that the society that Asgard is having now would crumble from the inside.

"Call the Aesir gods that are not doing anything and have them replace all of the gods that left! We should not let our society crumble within the inside. If the mortals are unhappy then they will no longer bring us the faith that we deserve!" The God Odin announced to all of the Aesir gods.

The God Odin knew that if the mortals are unhappy then they would increase their demands to the gods and faith would start to be questioned. Forget about a hundred years, the society of Asgard would stop functioning in just a decade if they did not solve their current predicament that they are facing right now.

"As you command, Great All-Father!" The God Tyr stated as he hurriedly looked for gods to replace the Vanir Gods in their duties.

"Brother!" The God Loki stated as he called the attention of the God Odin.

"Are you alright?! Do you need some tonic to help you move?" The God Odin stated as he was worried at the God Loki looking even paler than usual.

"That demon stole some of my divinity. My divine soul would have been caught by him if Thor was not at the location. Go and save Thor as he might be in trouble as he landed before my avatar was destroyed by that demon bastard." The God Loki stated.

"Do not worry, brother. I already sent some gods to help Thor as I also do not want him to perish as he only uses one body unlike us." The God Odin stated as he connected his eyesight with Muninn.

==

Adrian transported all of them back to the main world at the expense of his body breaking apart. Adrian kept his current form as long as he can even though it is hurting him. He needed to make sure that they were safe before he cancelled his transformation.

"We are finally at Midgard." Brunhild stated as they arrived at the Bifrost portal that is located in the northern continent.

"I shall let all of you deal with the things here then." Adrian stated as he fell down after returning to his original form.

Frey caught Adrian in her arms and is about to carry him back to the base of the Valkyries when a portal suddenly opened before them. The three Daemos Elders suddenly appeared in front of them in their true forms. Adrian bypassed the portal and actually brought with him gods which alerted all of the Daemos elders because they have the power of lesser gods.

"Please handover the brat and state your purpose for being in the main world, Goddess Freyja and God Freyr." Ascalor stated as he snapped his fingers and Adrian appeared in his arms.

"We are no longer tied with Asgard and will ascend to our divine realms shortly." The God Freyr stated.

"I cannot ascend as I am currently sealed using these chains. I will ascend as soon as I find a blacksmith that will be able to destroy this." The Goddess Freyja stated as she knew what the duty of the demons are in this world.

"We would appreciate it if you got any idea where my sister can get help. We shall look at this as a debt of gratitude which we will repay someday." The God Freyr stated.

"For matters regarding a blacksmith then you should ask your followers regarding something like that. The boy told us that he encountered the Valkyries back then when he visited the Demigod Blacksmith that is residing in the northern continent." Koronn stated as Adrian reported what happened back then to him.

"As a matter of security, you will be escorted by a member of our race while you have yet to ascend." Bronx stated as he called upon two Greater Demons that will escort the two gods.

"We thank you for your consideration." The Goddess Freyja and the God Freyr stated as they know why they were being monitored.

The two gods were transported via a portal capability of a demon. They were able to somewhat bypass the restriction as the two gods have the strength of a greater god but was restricted to that of a lesser god due to the world restriction. They still kept their divine bodies that has the strength of a greater god which means that any attacks against them will not affect them right now.

"We shall keep observing you for the time being. We will now leave and thank you for handing over our youngest. He is currently a sought-after individual right now." Ascalor stated as they vanished from the northern continent.

==

Adrian's soul is currently floating in a soft pillowy bed that felt so comfortable that he wanted to lie down forever. He was being observed by two gods with a smiling expression that looked like a parent being happy that their child is resting properly. They did not bother him or wake him at all as they waited for him to open his eyes.

Chapter 1627 New Gods of Life

"I think he is taking too long to wake up, sister." A dark male voice stated.

"You should never wake up a sleeping child, brother." A beautiful female voice stated.

"He has been sleeping for over an hour already, sister. His soul should already be healed enough for us to return him." The dark male voice stated as he is worried that Adrian was staying too long.

"He is slumbering like a cute baby, brother. Do you have in your heart to wake up such a child that is resting peacefully. One of your children is even the God of Sleep." The beautiful female voice stated.

"My child is the God of Sleep. Not me." The dark male voice stated.

Adrian squinted his eyes as he woke up from the ruckus of the ongoing debate that was happening. Adrian thought that he would be in Avalon once he woke up as he saw the image of the Tree of Life and Death, but he was wrong. He thought that he would be greeted by Vitae and Mortem but the ones that greeted him were actually the Goddess Gaea and the God Abaddon.

"It seems that you had such a sweet dream, Champion Equinox. It looked like you did not want to wake up which means my son is doing too much of a good job despite him being a slacker." The God Abaddon stated.

"I must be hallucinating." Adrian told himself as he slapped his face, but he was still in front of the Twin Gods.

"I greet the Twin Gods." Adrian stated as he now believed that this was not a hallucination but something that is happening in real life.

"You might be wondering why we summoned your soul in the realm once more." The Goddess Gaea stated.

"I know that the Twin Gods will not summon me if there is nothing urgent." Adrian stated.

(Author's Note Translation: I know that both of you want to order me to do something bothersome, but I will still do it because you two support me.)

"We have to tell you that some beings that are troublesome for dimension have started to take notice of this universe. Both of us tried our best to make sure that they are destroyed but we think that there might be traces of them that slipped pass us. We are tasking you to track them down as they should not be present in this world." The God Abaddon stated.

==

Quest Name: Find Traces of the World Eater

Quest Tier: A

Quest Description: The Twin Gods have fought a World Eater and fended it off using their own abilities and powers. They fear that some parts of the World Eater might have dropped down on the main world. Find the Traces of the World Eater and destroy them using your Nether Energy.

Clear Condition: Find Traces of the World Eater (0/2) and destroy them.

Clear Reward: Mythical Tier Rune Stone

Failure Condition: Unable to Destroy the traces within the given time.

Failure: The Traces of the World Eater could gain sentient life and transform into World Eaters.

Duration: 1 week

Restriction: You are able to share this quest with others, but they would only get 10% of their experience point bar as a reward.

Note: You can only share this quest to a maximum of ten users.

==

Adrian already read the quest and he already find it to be bothersome because it is another finding quest. He already has quests to look the for the item that could create demons but now he needs to find traces of a World Eater. He wanted to complain but he could see that the Twin Gods looked extremely tired which meant that they just finished the battle.

"We did not call you just because of that, Champion Equinox. We have seen what you have done for the main world. You have brought numerous Gods of Life to the main world albeit indirectly. For that, I, will thank you for all of my heart. The current size of the world was becoming difficult to sustain with just the previous number of gods and goddesses of life.

Your contribution has eased the burden of the gods and goddesses of life. For that, we reward you with the one-time special service of healing your damaged soul. We also gave you something extra as well because you have increased our numbers." The Goddess Gaea stated as she sprinkled gold dust on Adrian.

[Your damaged soul has been repaired back to normal.]

[You have gained one level as a bonus.]

[You are now level 300. You have achieved your Third Awakening.]

"I know that the reward might not be too flashy for your liking, but your soul was heavily damaged to the point that every god or goddess of life had to step in to heal you." The Goddess Gaea stated as Adrian's soul was tattered but still functioning properly despite the damage.

"You pushed your soul's limit by transforming too long into that special form that you have. You should never do that or else your own soul might get extinguished. Your soul might be stronger than any other mortal but that does not mean you can abuse it." The God Abaddon stated as he also gave aid when Adrian's soul was damaged.

"Even if you can house the foundation of Chaos Energy in your body, you must remember that it is not yet True Chaos Energy. One can only attain that when you have combined and understood the fundamental energies in the universe." The Goddess Gaea stated as she was observing what Adrian did in Niflheim.

"Do you have any idea of the form that I took?" Adrian asked as he was also quite shocked of his Chaos Pierrot Havoc Form.

"We have an idea, but it stems from the fact that Chaos Energy is volatile to the one that has it. One must control their emotions so that they will not lose control like what happened with you. You are lucky that you had partial control of your body or else you might have killed your allies as well." The God Abaddon stated.

Chapter 1628 Be Careful Of Chaos Energy

"Your body has yet to be fully optimized to handle Chaos Energy. You might have transformed into a being that can handle it but that does not mean that you will be safe always. Do not overexert yourself when transforming or else your existence might get erased." The Goddess Gaea stated.

Adrian knew what they were saying because he had numerous warnings when he was facing the two gods that he was overusing his body. He did not mind these warnings because they must defeat two god clones or else all their allies will die. Adrian promised that he would help Frey and he must deliver on that promise because she became weaker due to helping him.

"I understand. I will not strain myself when I use Chaos Energy. Thank you for the kind consideration of healing my soul from its damage." Adrian stated as he bowed as he is grateful.

"We are not telling that you cannot use your form that utilizes Chaos Energy, but we are warning you that you should only use it within the confines of its limitations. You should also make sure that you do not exude too much negative emotions when you transform as that will also affect your psyche." The God Abaddon stated.

"Other than that. You did a great job, my dear champion. You managed to deliver some wounds on the gods that aided in the divine barrier getting thinner. We cannot do anything to them because of some rules but you have punished them for us as well.

Do not worry if they come to the other gods to report your activities. We will stand with you as long as you did something for this world. Let me ask you, my dear champion. Do you love this universe?" The Goddess Gaea stated.

"I do. I really love this world." Adrian answered immediately.

Adrian did not even think about his answer as he already knew what he needs to say when asked that question. He has created so many memories in Pandemonium and also formed a lot of meaningful connections. There are also enemies that were formed along the way, but he does not think of that as a bad thing.

The world will not be fun or colorful if all of the people will conform to one thing. Differences are needed to create a society that is functional. If everyone is all the same, then there would no longer be a need for emotions or feelings.

"Thank you, my dear champion. That is all that I needed to hear." The Goddess Gaea stated as she smiled happily towards Adrian.

"You have already spent too much time on this realm. You should now go back to your own realm as there are others that are worrying about you as well." The God Abaddon stated as he patted Adrian's head.

Adrian felt the cold hands of the God Abaddon but to him that hand felt warm. Adrian smiled at the Twin Gods as his vision suddenly darkened. His soul returned back to his body which is now located at Avalon.

==

"Will he even wake up? His existence looks like it is tattered." Ascalor stated.

"He will be fine. Unlike an old fogey like you, his soul is stronger and mightier. He surpasses us in that regard." Koronn stated as he maintained the spell of constant time freeze on Adrian.

"He will be fine, Ascalor. You worry too much for the kid as you already know that he has faced a lot more things than you think." Bronx stated.

Koronn made sure to freeze Adrian's physical body using magic which is incredible because the Daemos should be impossible to handle using time magic. The fact that Koronn can freeze the body of a Daemos in time is something unprecedented even back then. The only ones capable of this back then were the Asmodian Daemos but the best they could do back then was only slow time.

"It seems that the boy's soul has stabilized. His existence does not look like it will fade." Koronn stated as he saw the powerful burst of energy that spread out on Adrian's body.

The three Daemos Elders saw that Adrian's existence was no longer waning as he was filled with life energy with a hint of death energy as well. They know the feeling of life and death energy because they could detect it every day in Avalon. All of three of them sighed with relief when Adrian's state returned to normal.

"It seems that the gods have intervened." Ascalor stated as divine energy was the thing that spread throughout Adrian's body.

"They must have rewarded the boy because numerous Gods and Goddesses of Life joined this side after all." Bronx stated as they knew that a lot of gods joined the faction of the Twin Gods.

"At least he is now stable, I can now stop the Time Freeze." Koronn stated as he cancelled the effects of his spell.

Adrian's body returned back to the flow of time while Koronn could be seen exhausted. It seems that doing a spell that could freeze the time of a Daemos also has great repercussions. Koronn's vast mana pool almost got exhausted when all he did was freeze Adrian's time for half an hour.

Adrian woke up in the company of the three elders as they looked dumbfounded at his expression. Adrian wondered why they look like they have seen a ghost but the three suddenly told him that he was asleep for half a day already. They actually thought that he would not wake up as Ascalor was ready to slap his face.

"Thanks for not slapping me, I guess." Adrian stated as he proceeded to relay the information that he was told by the Twin Gods.

Adrian told them that he must have spent too much time in the divine realm of Paraiso. He also told the elders regarding the matters of the World Eater which made them immediately jump into full alert.

Chapter 1629 Avalon Territory Quest 1

"Why did you not wake up earlier if there were important things like a World Eater on the loose." Ascalor stated.

"Gee! Thanks for actually staying alive, Equinox." Adrian stated to himself as satire.

"Forgive him if he is too tense but a World Eater is not something that we can handle with our current strength. They devour worlds when they grow gargantuan, and their power is proportional to their own size as well." Koronn stated as all of them hurried towards the observation room.

"The Twin Gods said that only parts of it were sent down to the mortal realm. There are two to be exact that we need to find." Adrian stated which made all the three elders drop their jaw.

"I thought it was only one and he was wrong when he said parts but to think there was two. This is not something that we should overlook. Recall all of the Daemos right now! We shall spend all the efforts to look for the parts of the World Eater!" Ascalor stated.

"I will lead the Daemos Corps to start scouring the area near Avalon immediately. Notify me if you get anything." Bronx stated as he vanished from the room.

Adrian now realized that the three Daemos Elders are actually internally panicking. The fact that they are rattled with just parts of a World Eater means that it is a being that could overturn the world. Adrian thought of it lightly as the Twin Gods did not really tell him to focus on it right now, but the reaction of the elders tells him otherwise.

"Can someone explain why parts of a World Eater are dangerous?" Adrian asked.

"The parts themselves are not dangerous but it is a different matter when these parts come in contact with a living being. We would be lucky if all it did was stuck itself on a tree or a mountain but if it was devoured by a monster, is a whole other matter." Ascalor stated as he continued his search.

"The parts of a World Eater are like a parasite or virus. It will incubate in a living being if it gets in contact with it. If a World Eater should be defeated, then all of its body must be eradicated with fire until ashes are left.

If the Twin Gods were the ones that gave you the mission, then they must have defeated a World Eater that evolved into a Universal Eater or something close to it. If a World Eater knows that it will die, it would actually release parts of itself in order to create another being like itself." Koronn explained.

"How long does the World Eater incubates in a host then?" Adrian asked.

"The parts of the World Eater will incubate for seven days inside its host." Koronn stated.

"If it can inhabit a host then looking for it would be impossible then." Adrian stated.

"Not really. Beings that have the World Eater Parasites would have a strange mana signature. They would also have the same things that are happening to their bodies just like Wanderers. They would flitter in an out of existence as if they are static." Koronn added to make sure that Adrian knows how to look for the World Eater Parasites.

"The World Eater Parasites would be defenseless as long as they do not take over the host. It would take at least one month for them to grow to the size of a small hill which means we have time. You should start looking for the World Eater Parasites as well as it is your mission." Ascalor stated as he told Adrian to move his butt.

==

"I will not be able to find those two parts immediately with just my guild. I guess I should rely on that function that I did not even bother using before." Adrian stated as he opened the Territory tab.

"Create a Territory Quest!" Adrian stated as his screen suddenly changed.

[You are now creating a territory quest.]

[Please enter the details of the quest for it to be evaluated.]

Adrian then proceeded to create the quest and filled in the details needed by all the players. He wanted to do this quest on his own, but the Daemos was actually told to prioritize this above all else. If the elders themselves are afraid of the World Eater, then Adrian should also be afraid.

[You have created a Territory Quest that is evaluated as Grade A difficulty. Please enter the rewards for the quest.]

==

Quest Name: Avalon Territory Quest 1

Quest Tier: A

Quest Description: The Lord of Avalon is needing help in investigating and finding suspicious parts of an unknown being that is not seen in this world. Find the clues or the traces of these parts and report back to the Lord of Avalon. You can also capture the unknown being and present it to the Lord of Avalon for an even greater reward.

Clear Condition: (Any of the things below.)

- Present Traces of the Unknown Being (0/2)
- Capture the Unknown beings and present it to the Lord of Avalon. (0/2)

Clear Reward:

- Reward for Option 1: (100 Territory Contribution Points, 10 Return Scrolls, 1 Absolute Defense Talisman.) (Can be given to two people.)
- Reward for Option 2: (200 Territory Contribution Points, 15 Return Scroll, 1 World Teleportation Scroll, 1 Absolute Defense Talisman.) (Can be given to two people.)

Failure Condition: None

Failure: None

Duration: 1 week

Restriction: Can only be taken by people in the Avalon Quest Bulletin Board.

Note: The Lord of Avalon will announce the method of finding the Unknown being after two hours in Alpha Island.

==

Adrian immediately posted the mission thinking that it would take at least two hours to gather at least a hundred or so people. What he did not expect is that the players in Avalon were actually like hyenas ready to strike when a new quest is posted in the Avalon bulletin board as the items given as rewards there were superior.

Chapter 1630 The Enthusiastic Players Of Avalon

Adrian thought that it would take at least three hours for the people to get the mission in the board. He thought that he could extend the waiting time to three hours after the posting, but he suddenly got bombarded with notifications of the players that got his request. He had to actually turn the notification alert because it was bombarding him.

What Adrian did not know is that the players in Avalon were actually just waiting for the chance to get territory contribution points. Adrian does not know that the players would want to get his extremely rare Pocket Dimension Homes. Players that reside in Avalon basically want to have something that they can decorate themselves as their personal place.

It actually came to the point that Adrian's Pocket Dimension Homes became something that can be flexed because of the difficulty in getting one. Players in Avalon are hungry for territory points as the quests given in the quest board are only giving one point. This is the first mission that rewarded players a hundred points and two hundred points.

The players in Avalon cheered as they waited for Adrian in Alpha Island. The players arrived one after the other and they saw the Demon himself at the island. Some of the players have not yet seen Adrian before and they were amazed as most of the players that actually came to Avalon are his fans.

"Thank you for arriving earlier than expected and it seems that we already have a sizeable crowd with us." Adrian stated as he suddenly used a Memory Stone to project images of beings that fade in and out of existence like static.

"As you can see, these are the unknown creatures that I want you to look for. They are beings that are needed to be brought here to Avalon as they do not belong to this world. Some of you might think that this would be a good opportunity to tame such creatures, but they cannot be tamed.

Also, I would like to say that these creatures come with a risk as they could be incredibly powerful. They could also delete your characters if you are not careful enough which is why report it immediately to any Daemos should you find clues for it. Does anyone have any question?" Adrian asked.

"Where do we start the search?" One of the players asked.

"Anywhere in the Central Continent." Adrian replied which made the excited crowd suddenly go quiet.

The players did not expect that the places that they would search would be the central continent. Adrian further explained that these beings will not be in dungeons but be in open fields. The players suddenly started to think if this mission was worth it but the rewards that are to be given is not something that they can overlook.

"Since I would be sending all of you to different parts of the central continent, you will be given three Return Scrolls initially. There are also some Daemos that are stationed at different parts of the central continent that are also searching. You can ask them to bring you with them for free as this is a priority for us as well." Adrian stated which made the players suddenly burst out with joy.

"Are there any more questions? If there are none then I would like to thank those that will participate." Adrian stated as he bowed to the other players which made them feel special.

The players enthusiastically marched out of Avalon and asked for the services of the Daemos. Adrian told the Daemos Portal Guards to give free access to the central continent to any player that accepted his quest. One would think that Adrian is extremely gracious for giving the players a chance to teleport to different parts of the central continent freely, but he also had another agenda behind it.

Adrian made sure that the players have this free round of teleportation so that they would be more enthusiastic in using it. Players usually pay One copper coin to a max of Five silver for the teleportation in the central continent. He wanted the players to have a taste of what the super convenient transportation feels like so that they would get used to it.

This is like a newly built rail system being launched for free on the first two months after its completion. He also made sure to give a consolation of Return Scrolls to make sure that they would return to Avalon should their search not become fruitful in the area that they chose. This would make the player return to Avalon and use the portals once more as they would need to look in another area.

The free return scrolls that Adrian gave them would definitely be easily consumed and they would buy more in the process. The losses that he created now would be a way to generate his income even more in the future. Adrian did not even need to have his sister help him with this way as it was him that thought of this.

"It is also a great way to advertise Avalon to other players. They would want to go to Avalon to use such portal services." Adrian thought as he imagined himself rolling in gold coins.

It is also the reason why Adrian actually went above and beyond in the rewards for the territory quest. He made sure to bump up the rewards so that the people would want to participate. He even debated if he should add a Pocket Dimension Home in the rewards, but he decided not to as that would be too much.

"I will think about it if they can produce a result within a day or two. I could add that reward for the one that gets me that trace easily." Adrian thought as he returned to the observation room to ask if there are any updates on possible location sightings. Even if the players moved that does not mean that they would produce results easily and there could also be a chance that they do not find anything at all.