

O Summoner 1701

Chapter 1701 Castle of Beauty II

"Destroy the wings!" Numerous guild masters shouted as their guild members that could fly suddenly charged fearlessly towards the Castle of Beauty.

"It seems to be charging much slower than before which means that it has yet to be fully energized." Adrian observed as the light elemental mana particles were not getting collected at the previous fast pace.

Players that could not fly chanted spells that could reach great heights as they needed to stop the Castle of Beauty. The players knew that another attack from the Castle of Beauty might destroy more durability from the Hell Gate as there were almost no devil nobility left to defend it. The players of the devil side army will be on their own should all the devil nobility die.

"Greater Summon: Charon"

"Greater Summon: Kanlaon"

"Greater Summon: Dodu"

Adrian summoned three of his soulbounds and flew on Kanlaon's back. Just like the other players with the ability to fly, he went straight for the wings. The angels that were already flying saw Adrian charging towards the Castle of Beauty and specifically aimed for him.

All of the angels heard the cursing of their goddess towards the demon as he was able to consume of her divinity. The angels instantly knew that they would get praises from their beloved goddess if they killed the demon. They were still unaware that Jorikiel will never be alive again as the angels thought that he would get blessed once he fully revives.

"Charon, make sure to create a web of chains that lock all of the angels flying about." Adrian commanded as he could see that the angels flying towards him were only those with one pair of wings.

"As master, wills." Charon replied as he suddenly reverted to his original size and released numerous chains around.

The chains that hit the angels made them lose part of their momentum. Charon's chains apply a slow that becomes more powerful with the more time that the chains are attached. The angels that could not become fragments of light are all caught and were easily dispatched by the players that were also flying.

Jophiel could see everything from the eyes of the Castle of Beauty as they knew that the demon is aiming for the power source of the castle. Jophiel wanted to go out and kill Adrian at this very moment, but the Castle of Beauty is also relying on her power right now as they used their mana to fire another Holy Light Cannon.

"Are the preparations not finished?" Jophiel asked the angels around them as the target is already before them.

"We can fire it now, but it will not be as powerful as a fully charged blast." One of the angels replied.

"I do not care! Fire!" Jophiel shouted as they wanted to kill Adrian as fast as possible.

Adrian saw the Castle of Beauty fire off its cannon and smiled because that is what he wanted. He only summoned his other soulbounds to make it seem like he no longer uses his mirrors. He wanted to fool the angel players into thinking that he did not have the power to reflect the attack that he absorbed before.

Adrian immediately transformed into his mirror demon form which the angel players noticed. The angel players wanted to warn Jophiel about the incoming danger, but everything was too fast. Adrian feuded all of his mirrors together back again and fired off the powerful energy that it had absorbed earlier when he tried to defend the Hell Gate.

"Have a taste of your own medicine!" Adrian stated as his large mirror released the energy that it absorbed earlier.

The beam of light that came out of Adrian's mirror almost equaled that of the power that came out of the Castle of Beauty. Seeing that it was not enough as he only absorbed parts of it instead of all of it, Adrian commanded Kanlaon to fire off his breath attack as well. A golden beam of light came out of Kanlaon's mouth as it fused with the beam of light coming out of Adrian's mirror.

The Holy Light Cannon from the Castle of Beauty and Adrian's attack aided by Kanlaon are now completely equal. The angels could only push more power into the Castle of Beauty as they used more than before. The beam of light coming out of the Castle of Beauty suddenly started to grow much more powerful.

"We are slowly reaching maximum output!" One of the angels reported as they could see that Jophiel was actually the one exerting more light elemental mana.

Seeing their leader exert more, the other angels followed suit as they used more light elemental mana. The beam of light soon reached the maximum power output that was released earlier, and Adrian could no longer hold out. The other players saw this and aided Adrian with magic once more to fortify barriers around him.

The angels thought that they could win but they suddenly heard an explosion from one of the wings. The explosion actually came from one of the wings that are located below the Castle of Beauty where visibility is not that pronounced. They were now looking at the cause but only saw what it was when one of them directly checked.

"A slime monster is deteriorating the Castle of Beauty's wings!" One of the angels that checked reported immediately as the angels bent light to get a view of Dodu eating the white marble.

The Holy Light Cannon that grew big suddenly started to become smaller by a bit as the magic system integrated into the Castle of Beauty started to fail. The Castle of Beauty's magic circle system was set up to follow symmetry which makes any attacks from it be very lethal. The only downside would be that the entire system fails should one part become destroyed or misaligned.

"Destroy the annoying parasite!" Jophiel announced but another loud explosion could be heard as another of the wings was destroyed.

"Another wing has been destroyed! The chained undead is responsible!" Charon stated as he actually helped but the ones that destroyed it was Solstice and Lycan.

Charon used his chains as a way for the vanguard units on their side to reach the top. This does not mean that all the devil army side knew what the intention was but Solstice and Lycan knew. The moment Charon's chains reached the ground and connected to one of the Castle of Beauty's wings was the sign.

Solstice and Lycan immediately started raising towards the sky with the chains as a foothold. The other players that saw this feat was amazed because they looked like anime protagonists. The other players soon followed as they saw more chains being attached to the Castle of Beauty as they wanted to deal with the annoying flying fortress.

"Checkmate!" Adrian stated as he teased Jophiel.

The beam of light that was coming out of the Castle of Beauty started to weaken and it was now time for the devil side army players to counterattack. It was no longer just Adrian attacking but the mages on their side used powerful blast spells as well. Adrian's attack that was only pushing the Holy Light Cannon back started to go forward even more.

Adrian's attack plus the attack of the mages on their side managed to overpower the Holy Light Cannon as four of the angel wings were now destroyed. A loud explosion could be heard as the Castle of Beauty started crashing on the ground. Adrian thought that they have at least killed some of the angels inside the castle, but he was wrong.

A powerful barrier was wrapped around the control room as numerous angels shot up into the sky. Angels with four wings were the majority of those that were inside the Castle of Beauty but there was one that had six angelic wings and possessed great beauty. The angel that had six wings opened their wings wide as if to flex their pristine white color.

[You are before the Angel of the Chastity Virtue Jophiel.]

[You have resisted being infatuated due to your bloodline.]

"Everyone! Look away!" Adrian warned but it was too late because they have already gazed unto Jophiel's body.

Jophiel smirked as they could see that the blessing that was given to him was extremely effective even against those that were tempted by demons. They knew that no lower being would be able to resist the charms and allure that they possess. They did not want to do so as making lower beings stare at their body is not beautiful in their vocabulary.

"Beautiful!"

"Marvelous!"

"So breathtaking!"

"Eh? The enemy is not that beautiful."

Words of affirmation of Jophiel's innate beauty could be heard but there was one that broke it. It was none other than the Prince of the Undead Creepysoo. Gazes of anger could be seen piercing through his undead body, but he did not find Jophiel even the least bit attractive.

Chapter 1702 Angel of Chastity Jophiel

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel was made when the Goddess of Light Luminaria found inspiration from the word beauty. The Goddess of Light Luminaria wanted to make a perfect angel that can exceed the limits of what beauty can be regardless of if it was a man and a woman. Due to this reasoning, the Goddess of Light Luminaria took a piece of power from a celestial being called Gemini.

The celestial being called Gemini are twins that are actually considered as one being and that they are a boy and a girl. The Goddess of Light Luminaria thought that she would be able to create a powerful and beautiful being if she could fuse the twins instead of having them be separate. In the end, the Goddess of Light Luminaria was successful as the Angel of Chastity Jophiel was born.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel was born incredibly beautiful that it even enamored the Asmodians that is said to be only attracted to their own race. The Goddess of Light Luminaria thought that she actually failed when she created the Angel of Chastity Jophiel as the latter was born as a female. It was only when the Angel of Chastity Jophiel displayed signs of morphing into a male body where the Goddess of Light Luminaria knew that she succeeded.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria was able to create the most beautiful man and woman in one go and that they are one being. This is also the time when the Angel of Chastity Jophiel managed to sprout their talent of becoming untouchable by those that view them as beautiful. It was then the plan of the Goddess of Light Luminaria came to be as she wanted a being that has Asmodian blood in it.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel was used to procure the Asmodian blood which led to the creation of Mikhail and Samael, but it was the latter that had purer concentration mixed with angel blood. When the Goddess of Light Luminaria managed to create the two most powerful angels, she no longer paid attention to the most beautiful being that she created which led to the Angel of Chastity Jophiel thinking that they must exceed the beauty of other even more.

"I shall be the most beautiful being in the entire universe!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel thought as they buried it deep and internalized it.

The ethereal beauty that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel made all of those that gaze upon them be enamored. The allure that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel targets both male and female as they have the ability to be viewed as the most beautiful being. There is a special way for this type of allure to be cancelled and that is for beings to either be blind or have a specific preference.

Creepysoo falls into the category of specific preference as he prefers the undead more than the living in the game. He saw the form that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel took but he was not ultimately enamored. Adrian was only able to not be infatuated because of his ability to negate status ailments.

"Not that pretty!? A bug like you dares?! Kill him for me my lovelies!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as they changed to a male form as if to respond to the intense feeling of anger that he is releasing.

"Purify the status ailment!" Adrian stated as he slapped Levin Cloud on the cheeks to make sure that he snaps out of being infatuated.

Adrian's slap somewhat worked as Levin Cloud was not fully infatuated in the first place as his body is not that full of emotion. Leshies do feel emotion but not the kind that could incapacitate them. They are more plant than humanoids after all since they only take humanoid form to appear more benevolent.

The players that were infatuated by the Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly looked like horde of lifeless zombies and charged towards Creepysoo. The human army on the side of the angels were confused why the enemy suddenly turned on each other but even they became infatuated when they had a peek at the Angel of Chastity Jophiel' form.

The players that could not resist charged like mindless zombies, but they were still able to use their skills. They walked like mindless zombies, but they were using skills to actually cleave the way towards Creepysoo. Adrian suddenly saw this as strange because having all of your enemies be at your command would have made the fight an instant win.

"Why is he not commanding the infatuated players to kill themselves?" Adrian thought as he found it odd because that is the best way to defeat the enemies if you are in control of the enemy.

Adrian could more or less guess that the power to infatuate also has lots of restrictions. If Adrian remembered completely then the Asmodian Abel was controlled to kill his brother Cain, but the latter was not being controlled. Adrian could only give a conclusion that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel cannot command those infatuated with her to kill themselves.

"Mass Purification!" Levin Cloud shouted as Adrian also sent out Saena to purify the area that he could not cover.

All of the players that were infatuated suddenly snapped out of their status ailment. The players suddenly felt weird as they were conscious, but they have no control of their body. Some of them experienced being puppets of another powerful being for the first time.

"Thank goodness that I was not overrun by a group of fanatics that think that that thing is beautiful." Creepysoo stated which made the Angel of Chastity Jophiel incredibly angry once more.

"I shall end you personally myself!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as she suddenly changed to a female physique.

Two rings suddenly appeared that is as large as the body of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel. These two rings were actually large chakrams. At first the two rings looked like halos, but Adrian was able to see it clearly as soon as the light dissipated.

The two chakrams were incredibly sharp to the point that it would injure anyone by just touching it, but it seems to create handles when the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is holding onto it. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel's wings also seem to become a bit smaller when the two chakrams were being handled. With a powerful swing, the Angel of Chastity Jophiel tossed both chakrams towards Creepysoo with the intention of killing him.

Frankie suddenly stepped in front to defend Creepysoo, but he was suddenly turned into slices as the two chakrams were incredibly sharp. Mummie stepped up as soon as Frankie fell and used his bandages to stop the two chakrams but even that is not able to stop the two weapons. Mummies' bandages became sheared strips of paper in just a matter of seconds.

Robin Hoodie then fired multiple arrows towards the two chakrams which managed to hit the weapons accurately. The path of the two weapons then deviated by a slight margin but that margin of error was enough to spare Creepysoo from becoming sliced ham like Frankie. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel saw that her attack was blocked which is why she called for her Heavenly Weapons: Chakrams back into her hands.

Description: An angel that has been created by the Goddess of Light Luminaria to embody the word beauty itself. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel is also one of the Seven Virtues which are the highest of all angels and act as their leaders. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel views anything beautiful as justice and anything hideous by their standards to be subject to purge.

"Our Great Beauty, you do not need to kill these lower beings. We shall dirty our hands for you! Please command us to do so." The angels around the Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as their fanatic worshipping eyes could be seen as they stared at their leader.

"Very well, my cute little birds. Kill them for me so that my anger will somewhat subside." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as all the angels that were inside the Castle of Beauty were not your common angels.

The Castle of Beauty might be in a whole wreck due to it crashing to the ground but the angels that powered it up were still present and able to fight. About fifty angels were inside the main tower of the floating castle while the succeeding wings had fifteen angels each. There was total of a hundred and forty angels inside of it that had four wings.

All the angels that piloted and powered up the Castle of Beauty were all powerful in their own right. One could even say that these angels were the real core of the fighting force that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel has. All of the hundred and forty angels are covered in a bright golden light as they created their armors from light elemental magic.

Chapter 1703 Angel of Chastity Jophiel II

The angels under the Angel of Chastity Jophiel have started to go into war themselves. All of them conjured up their golden armors that actually looked the same as if to say that they are a homogenous race. The only difference that the angels in armor are the wings on their back.

"Kill them all. I shall deal with the demon." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated which shocked the other angels.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel rarely participates in fights as they view it as barbaric and ugly. The angels knew that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel must see the demon as a great threat for him to warrant the special attention of their leader. They all bowed to the Angel of Chastity Jophiel as they knew that their leader will not lose.

"We shall await the news of your victory and offer the heads of those that dare to defy you." The angels stated as they now led the battle against the devil side army.

"Defend against them!" The players shouted as they are now fighting against the most powerful angels present in the battlefield.

The angels that are the main guards of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel are not the same as the angels that they have fought earlier. All of the angels under the Angel of Chastity Jophiel are powerful warriors in their own right and that they are actually beings that spar with their masters. The angels that are under the direct command of the Seven Virtues are warrior angels that they have trained personally.

Since these angels are under the Seven Virtues, some of them also opted for the weapon that their master uses. Most of these angels used chakrams as weapons but they can only handle one compared to their master. Still, they were incredible warriors that turned the battle to the side of the angel and human army alliance.

The angels under the Angel of Chastity Jophiel aimed at the guild master's that were issuing commands. Some were killed while others managed to survive but are locked in battle with them. Due to the guild masters being locked in a heated battle, the chain of commands in the devil side army started to dwindle.

The angels under the Angel of Chastity Jophiel also aimed at the key people on the devil side army. One could see that there are ones facing Levin Cloud and Solstice. There are several people that the angels find utterly troublesome on the devil side army.

Two of them are Levin Cloud and Solstice due to their aptitudes. They find Levin Cloud troublesome because he can revive the dead as long as he is given enough time. The angels viewed him as a menace since some of the angels have died due to him reviving his allies.

The other one that they find troublesome is Solstice due to her being a vampire. They also find Lycan troublesome, but he does not utilize darkness elemental magic like Solstice. She was on par with an angel with four wings by just physicality alone and she was still under the effects of the sun.

The angels could sense that Solstice was a Child of Night or a vampire which means that she would become more powerful during the night. Since the sun is already setting, a vampire would easily defeat angels in darkness. She also uses darkness elemental magic on her blood weapons which are fatal to angels.

Adrian could see that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel was observing for now, but he could feel the killing intent directed at him. Adrian actually smiled because the Angel of Chastity Jophiel was still haughty despite their army losing at first and the Castle of Beauty crashing down. He knew that angels that powerful are indeed incredibly full of themselves that they would wait for their opponent to grow in power.

"I guess that angel is still looking at Creepysoo because of the way she got insulted." Adrian stated as the killing intent directed at him was also directed at Creepysoo.

"I know what would really push that angel's buttons." Adrian stated as he smiled widely and gave Creepysoo a message.

"Asmodian Prowess!" Adrian stated as a throne suddenly manifested behind him which caught the attention of all the people.

A sudden powerful surge of unknown mana spread out as it also reverberated a powerful oppressive force. Adrian sat on the throne with an expression that was stoic and bored with the world as if he is looking down on it. As soon as Adrian sat down, all of the energies present in his body suddenly started to affect the surroundings.

The heavy suppressive energy that Adrian released was able to make the humans that tried to attack him kneel down. The angels that were not that strong were all sent crashing to the ground, but they still had their ability to walk with restrictions. All the angels that tried to attack Adrian while he was seated could not fly near him as they would go crashing to the ground.

"Such a haughty insect!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as she aimed at Adrian with her weapons.

"AGHRGH!" The shout echoed in the distance as one of the angels that just recently died was being subjected to a spell.

All the angels noticed this shout as it was filled with light elemental mana. Even the Angel of Chastity Jophiel stopped what she was doing and looked at the direction of the cry. All the angels are looking in horror at what was happening to their own kind.

"Rise and serve me as an undead! Forced Undead Rise!" Creepysoo stated as he gripped the skull of the angel that just died and tried recreating what the King of the Undead did.

"Stop his blasphemy!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly shouted as they instinctively feel what was about to happen.

All the angels were attacking the undead because they are impure in the eyes of their goddess. What they did not thought would happen is that they would lose. The angels knew that the undead was weak to light, but they were incredibly wrong when they clashed against one another.

A powerful winged general even fell in battle as his body was captured but he was not revived in the Silver City. It was only a few weeks when the angels found out what happened to their winged general. The famous and powerful winged general was suddenly revived as an undead angel.

The angels saw this as an act of defilement to the eyes of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. They launched even fiercer attacks against the undead, but they were actually defeated by the undead angel that they swore to get revenge. In the end, more angels died in the clash, but they made sure to not let the undead recover a body.

The angels that were attacking Levin Cloud and Solstice immediately shifted their complete attention to Creepysoo. They wanted to fly away but Adrian already gave them the idea that he has come up with. The angels wanted to stop Creepysoo because it would reveal something that the angels were keeping from their human followers.

The angels always presented themselves as the messengers of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. They also told the humans that they are not like them as death does not come for them since they are eternal. This made humans view the angels as gods as well that are just under the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

"What do beings with a god complex hate the most?" Adrian muttered as he saw the Angel of Chastity Jophiel frantically flying towards Creepysoo as if he was the devil gods themselves.

"Stop that undead!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted.

"They hate that they are not really gods and that they would do everything in their power to keep that illusion. Time Stop!" Adrian stated as he snapped his hands.

All of time suddenly froze as Adrian stood up from his throne. He then flew towards the Angel of Chastity Jophiel and created tons of spatial fractures. These spatial fractures are not that harmless as they focus more on repulsing those that come near them. Adrian wanted to see the Angel of Chastity Jophiel bounce back into the sky.

Adrian still had time left and did so for the other angels that wanted to stop Creepysoo. Adrian smiled as time started to flow once more. As soon as everything was moving once again, the Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly saw Adrian beside them with a smile on his face. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel looked at the throne that was dematerializing in shock.

BOOM!

Multiple explosions happened and all the angels that collided with the fractures were sent flying back. The angel that Creepysoo was holding started to change in color as she was started to be covered in darkness. Creepysoo, on the other hand, could be seen struggling but he was smiling because he was finally succeeding.

Chapter 1704 Angel of Chastity Jophiel III

The angel's last cry was heard as it suddenly became silent for the light that glowed suddenly became dim. The armor that was once golden started to turn black with etches of silver. The wings that were proud to be white has finally turn pure black and the sword that burned with golden fire turn pale blue.

[All undead that are summoned will have their stats increased by 30%.]

[All spells in the Necronomicon will now consume 10% lesser mana.]

[You have gained one level for your achievement.]

Creepysoo did not think that he would be able to create a Dark Angel just like his father the Undead King, but he was able to succeed. Granted that he used 80% of his total mana to do so but he was successful in the end and that is what matters. He may have used a lot more mana that is akin to summoning a Bone Dragon, but the achievement brought him something that cannot be bought.

One of the chains that is surrounding the Necronomicon shattered as to signify that a seal has been lifted. The Necronomicon also changed in color as the sigils around it now lit up in a deep red light. Creepysoo also gained one level which is quite difficult now that they have reached level 300 and above.

The Dark Angel that Creepysoo created is an undead utilizing the body of an angel that has been transformed by undead miasma. It is at the level of a death knight since the body that was used was not even an angel with two pairs of wings. Still, Creepysoo always wanted the authority to summon one as he saw how the one the Undead King created fought against enemies.

[You have successfully raised a Dark Angel from the dead.]

"I have done it! Dark Angel, I order you to protect me!" Creepysoo stated as he realized that multiple light elemental spells were now heading towards him as the angels are now extremely angry at him.

"Understood, my dear prince. Undead Saving Grace!" The Dark Angel stated as he used the second skill available to it.

The Dark Angel's wings suddenly became massive and created a powerful barrier that surrounded Creepysoo. All the attacks that were supposed to hit him vanished upon touching this barrier that was created using the black wings of the Dark Angel. All the angels screamed in frustration as they were not able to kill Creepysoo or the Dark Angel.

The angels might be incredibly angry but there was a group of humans that stared at the Dark Angel and could not believe their eyes. An angel was corrupted to become an undead which was supposed to be impossible as the humans were told that angels were made of light which will return to the Goddess of Light Luminaria should they fall in battle. The humans that were taught that the angels were the absolute beings that cannot be tainted are now in shock.

"An angel has become an undead!" Many of the members of the human army shouted as they could not believe that an angel with black wings have arrived and aided the other side.

The clergymen of the Church of Light that were promised the life of an angel could not believe their eyes. They were promised that they would be transformed into angels upon their death. If they were to be captured by undead even when they become angels, then they shall also become Dark Angels.

The shock of seeing a Dark Angel made the human army's morale collapse as the ones they believed in actually lied to them. The angels could not look at the leaders of the human army as they were also led to believe that angels cannot become undead. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel glared heavily at Creepysoo because their servants no longer view them as absolute.

One of the secret abilities of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is the power to get energy from admiration. They made sure to look like godlike beings in order to get the admiration of the humans that they deem below them because it makes them powerful. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel could slowly feel their energy being drained as the humans are losing admiration or faith in them.

Adrian smiled and could see that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is slowly getting weaker. He already asked about the angels from the Daemos Elders but even they could not tell him the exact criteria of their abilities. Adrian luckily encountered one of the seven virtues which Bronx had seen before in a fight.

Bronx told Adrian that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel was not that powerful on the first encounter, but they suddenly became more powerful the second time. Bronx was still a Daemos Corps member back then as it was his superior that fought the Angel of Chastity Jophiel. The sudden weakening of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel now proved Bronx' theory as the former brought followers on the second fight.

"Guys! Help!" Creepysoo shouted as the protective area was about to vanish.

"On it." Adrian stated calmly as he created a portal below Creepysoo where him and his undead flew.

The area where Creepysoo was before was rained with light elemental spells and attacks. The angels thought that they succeeded but Creepysoo and his undead appeared beside Adrian. The Dark Angel still following the Prince of the Undead as if it was a loyal protector.

"Demon! This is your doing! Only a demon could think of something so heinous!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted in fury.

Adrian smiled like an innocent child which can make anyone's heart flutter but there was an incredible deviousness behind that smile. Adrian then whispered something to Creepysoo before pushing the latter inside another portal. Creepysoo and the Dark Angel were transported directly in the middle of the human army alliance.

The humans that did not have a clear view of what was happening before thought that an angel appeared before them, but they suddenly sensed something wrong. The angel before them was completely inverted to the ones that were leading them earlier.

"Dark Angel! Kill all of those that are in my way and do not show them mercy!" Creepysoo commaded.

"As the great Prince of the Undead wishes! Dark Angel Wrath! Dark Flames of Purgatory!" The Dark Angel shouted with pride.

The Dark Angel suddenly burned in dark flames as its sword is covered in it. The unsuspecting humans were then bathe in the Dark Flames of Purgatory as one of the angels started massacring them instead of helping them. Panic has started in the human army alliance, and it was created by one demon with the help of the Prince of the Undead.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel burned with rage as the faith and admiration that was aimed at them is no longer as strong as it was before. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel knew that they must destroy the beings before them in order to restore the faith of the people. They also planned to kill all the people in the human army should they fail to do so and just blame it on the devils.

"I can deal with the human army later! I need to deal with that demon first!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they were no longer playing any games.

"Holy Armor of Beauty!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as a powerful light descended from the heavens and hit their body.

The armor that covered the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is form fitting as it accentuated the shape of their body. The armor is still gold in color, but the helm was more of an open helmet so that the face of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel can still be seen. The armor that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel wears seem to give a more refined type of beauty for the angel.

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel has summoned the Holy Armor of Beauty.]

[All of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel's stats will increase by 20%.]

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel's defense will increase by 100%.]

[All light elemental attacks towards the Angel of Chastity Jophiel will heal the angel instead.]

"Die, demon scum!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as they suddenly came at Adrian like a shooting star.

The speed at which Adrian's eyes could follow the movements of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is no longer easy. He could not see the Angel of Chastity Jophiel's figure as he could only see a streak of light. Adrian immediately called upon Sirius to transport him as he could not process the attack of the enemy on time.

Shadows swallowed Adrian and a loud crash could be heard on the area he was in. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stood tall as they landed on the ground. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stomped the ground so hard that it cracked as they thought that they would have at least damaged the demon.

"Get the angel!" Devils that were near Adrian's previous location shouted as they sprung up to try and kill the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.

"Filthy descendants of traitors!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they performed a spin.

As soon as the spin ended, all the devils that were about to hit the Angel of Chastity Jophiel became sliced in parts. The souls of the devils flew towards the Hell Gate as they were going to be revived in Hell. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel knew of this which is why they were tasked to destroy the Hell Gate.

The destruction of the Hell Gate meant that the devils would not be able to return to Hell. Any devil trapped in the main world would permanently die when they are killed as well. The Silver City would also be expanded even more once the Hell Gate closes as their energies opposes each other.

"Where is that demon!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they looked around but the enemy that they marked could not be seen.

"Vortex!" Adrian stated as he snapped his fingers.

A large black hole suddenly appeared in the middle of the human army which led to even more chaos. The black hole swallowed a large portion of the human army and even the angels tried to stop Adrian, but they were also sucked inside by the force. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel used their wings to fly towards Adrian, but the latter just got transported once again by Sirius.

"Face me, coward!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted in frustration.

"Why would I when I know that I am clearly disadvantaged? I am not dumb." Adrian whispered which the Angel of Chastity Jophiel could hear.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel flew in rage as they started to cut down the devil army side. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel could easily kill players that have the buffs applied to them. Adrian personally witnessed how the chakrams actually ignored the defenses of the armors.

"As I thought. We cannot win against that unless we work together." Adrian muttered as he observed everything.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel is already at the level that the Daemos Elders are. A level 400 NPC is not something to be taken lightly as they have awakened once more. He knew that dealing with this type of enemy will not be easy and he would need the help of the other guild masters.

"Sirius, we need to fuse if I want to have a chance to go and beat that angel." Adrian muttered as he knew that hiding in the shadow realm is not viable.

If Adrian hid in the shadow realm, then it would not take long for the Angel of Chastity Jophiel to aim at the Hell Gate. The devil nobility guarding the Hell Gate might be able to buy some time, but they would not be able to defeat the Angel of Chastity Jophiel. Only a devil nobility on par with Furfur could deal with someone like Jophiel.

"I already sent word to the other guild master's that I am friends with. I just hope that they could deal with the angels that are fighting on their end." Adrian stated as he prepared himself.

"If you are not going to show yourself then I shall do what I came here to do." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel muttered as they now looked at the Hell Gate.

"Holy Light's Dance!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as the two chakrams were imbued with powerful light elemental energy.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel tossed the two chakrams in an arc and they flew in a trajectory towards the Hell Gate. The devil nobilities that were left there immediately deployed darkness barrier to try and defend against the attack.

The devil nobilities tried their best to defend against the two weapons, but they were getting overpowered. The two chakrams were not ordinary weapons as they were crafted using Pure Luminium. Pure Luminium is a special ore that rivals orichalcum but has increased conductivity to light elemental mana.

The two chakrams were equivalent to a legendary tier spell on their own damage but it is amplified when light elemental mana is injected into it. The darkness barrier that the devil nobilities casted could be seen cracking. Seeing their barrier no longer holding up, the devil nobilities planned to use their bodies to defend the Hell Gate.

"I shall aid you. Pure Darkness!" Peridot stated in her dragon tongue as she took out an extremely black colored gemstone and destroyed it.

A large curtain of darkness suddenly came down on the two chakrams. The glowing chakrams suddenly lost their light as the light elemental mana imbued on it was washed away. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel could only collect the chakrams back as the attack was no longer doing anything.

"I am already irritated by a demon and now a dragon is also messing with me. Did you think that the angels have fallen so low that you inferior beings can look down upon us! I shall let you taste the power of the beauty of light." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as she spread her six wings and flew towards the sky.

"All light will chase away the darkness! Throne of the Light of Chastity!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as they finally used one of the most powerful skills in their arsenal.

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel has summoned their authority which is the Throne of the Light of Chastity.]

[All angels that are in the vicinity will have their stats increased by 50%.]

[All Light Elemental Spells will deal 100% more damage (+50% more to devils) to enemies of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.]

[All Darkness Elemental Spells will deal 20% less damage and has a 5% chance to be dispelled.]

[The Throne of the Light of Chastity is now accumulating light elemental energy.]

[When enough light elemental energy has been gathered, a powerful skill will be available to the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.]

The Throne of the Light of Chastity looked like numerous golden rings spinning in an axis. It does kind of remind Adrian of a Fallen that he has seen once. The only difference is that the golden rings did not have eyes but a small sun in the middle of it.

The small sun created a powerful bright light and is also absorbing the light elemental energy in the surroundings. The small sun could be seen getting bigger and bigger as it fed on the light elemental energy. The last notification worried the devil army side even more as they did not want to know that powerful skill that the leader of the group of angels will unlock.

Adrian is also amazed by the sudden burst of light elemental energy that he was ejected from the shadow realm. All shadows in the area were gone due to the Throne of the Light of Chastity that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel has summoned. This skill was equivalent to a domain skill since angels under the Goddess of Light Luminaria cannot have domain skills since that is a sign of becoming a god.

"Found you, you heathen!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they flew in such a fast speed that Adrian was not even able to react until the former was already near him.

The two chakrams slammed towards Adrian with such a powerful impact that it shattered all the shields that he had. Adrian's health was also reduced to 50% with just one hit which made him grit his pain. Without even batting an eye, Adrian used Enhanced Blink to escape towards Levin Cloud.

"Let me heal you!" Levin Cloud stated as he immediately casted a healing spell to recover most of the health that Adrian lost.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel did not stop as they appeared next to Levin Cloud this time. The two chakrams were about to aim decapitate Levin Cloud when Krabranken activated his taunt just in time. The two chakrams that were supposed to slice Levin Cloud's neck were directed towards the two large shields that Kabrakan is holding.

"Another annoying Asmodian descendant is also joining. It seems that those vagrants we had a deal with did not keep their end of the bargain in eliminating all of you." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated which made Adrian and the others' ears perk.

Adrian and the other Asmodian descendants wanted to know more but they were at a battle that could easily cost them their life if they are not alert. Adrian stood up as he recovered back to full health. Adrian told Kabrakan and Levin Cloud that he is counting on them as he knows that he cannot do this on his own especially against the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.

"Primordial Armament: Sword"

"Perfect Assimilation: Beast Form, Sirius!"

Adrian summoned the sword primordial armament and it appeared on his hand. He then proceeded to assimilate with Sirius as he was the one that can deal great damage to the Angel of Chastity Jophiel since he has the darkness element. Instead of the humanoid form, Adrian opted for the beast form which has more stats but incredibly different to control.

Adrian and Sirius started to fuse together to form a monster that has never been seen before in the world. An Abyss Demon Fenrir was born as this form utilized Sirius' body more but with Adrian's demon horns and wings. The thing that is different is that there is a sword on his mouth as if a large wolf is using a large sword as a weapon.

Adrian's form was something that even the Angel of Chastity Jophiel did not expect. One thing that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel could sense is that the monster in front of him carries a powerful darkness element.

Chapter 1707 Angel of Chastity Jophiel VI

[You have used Perfect Assimilation: Beast Form.]

[Your soulbound, Sirius, and you have perfect understanding of one another.]

[Sirius' stats will be added to you for the duration of the transformation.]

[You have temporarily gained the passive skill: Poison of God.]

[You have temporarily gained the skill: Realm Ender.]

"Just like a beast, I shall put you down like one!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as they charged towards Adrian in a melee standoff.

Adrian did not stop with just his transformation as he knew that he needed to add another skill on top of it in order to match the current Angel of Chastity Jophiel. Adrian released a sword wave towards the Angel of Chastity Jophiel by slashing in front of him. A black sword wave filled with the darkness element and primordial energy is sent flying towards the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel reinforced their two chakrams with light elemental energy. With the reinforced chakrams, the Angel of Chastity Jophiel slashed at the sword wave that was released by Adrian. The sword wave might not have damaged the Angel of Chastity Jophiel, but it was able to stop the enemy as a result.

"Galactic Titan!" Adrian stated but only a fierce howl was heard for the others around him.

Armor suddenly started to cover the current Adrian in his wolf beast form. Adrian's wolf body is covered with dark silver armor that radiated primordial energy. He suddenly became overly protected against attacks and such compared to his previous form that was all beast with just a sword on his mouth.

[You have used Galactic Titan.]

[You have increased your size by two-fold.]

[You have increased your stats by 30%.]

[Your defense has increased by 50% since you are in your singularity form.]

Adrian is now a gigantic sword wielding armored wolf that exuded a powerful dark elemental aura. The sword in his mouth also increased its size as well which made it almost as big as him. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel saw this change and suddenly felt that it would not be easy to defeat Adrian in his current state.

"The throne has yet to accumulate enough light energy. I need fifteen more minutes. I shall deal with the demon for as long as I can while buying enough time." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel muttered as the body that was female changed to that of a man.

The change in the Angel of Chastity Jophiel also changed the weapon that they were holding. The chakrams suddenly turned into spinning axes that burned light elemental mana. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel tossed one of the spinning axes directly towards Adrian as if it had the heat of a small sun.

Adrian easily evaded the attack and jumped in the air as he was actually able to run on it. The shock of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel seeing a wolf beast running on air was present, but they were able to snap out of it easily. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel threw the other spinning axe towards Adrian as the first one that landed on the ground is retrieved.

Adrian had to evade sideways as the first spinning axe suddenly flew from behind him. He then evaded another time as the second spinning axe tried to decapitate him next. The two spinning axes would then be recalled by the Angel of Chastity Jophiel as they looked at Adrian with an expression of seriousness.

Adrian could see that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel has two different fighting forms and techniques. When the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is in their female form, the attacks were quick, and they were more involved. When the Angel of Chastity Jophiel in his male form, the attacks were stronger but more controlled.

Adrian could see that he cannot just run towards the Angel of Chastity Jophiel and attack them in a melee format. The male form of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is more focused on keeping enemies at bay and harassing them when they do not pay attention to the surroundings. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel did not move from their spot as well which means that they need more focus when in the male form.

"Yuki!" Adrian shouted as a white fox suddenly appeared in front of him and created a powerful but swift snowstorm that blasted the Angel of Chastity Jophiel in the face.

Yuki returned back to the soul chamber after the attack, but Adrian kept going. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel used the spinning axes as a way to shield themselves from the damage of the sudden snowstorm but that also meant that their vision of Adrian is gone. Adrian suddenly appeared next to the Angel of Chastity Jophiel and used his sword to try and cut the angel down.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel hastily changed to their female form and parried Adrian's attack. One would think that the Angel of Chastity Jophiel would be able to easily handle Adrian's attack but there is a lag in terms of stat changes in a quick change. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel have different stat distribution depending on their form and it takes two seconds for the distribution to finish.

Since Adrian was able to catch the Angel of Chastity Jophiel off guard, the stat distribution on the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is still on their male form. The male form is not that great when it comes to physical contact or melee combat hence the Angel of Chastity Jophiel was sent crashing to the ground. Adrian also used a lot of essences to strengthen his own body which is why he managed to overpower the enemy.

All the angels were worried as the Angel of Chastity Jophiel was actually sent crashing to the ground. They wanted to stop what they were doing and help their leader, but their enemies were not pushovers. The human army is also dying at a faster rate than before which is why the angels are the ones that were really doing all the work.

"Finally! It is done!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated.

Chapter 1708 Throne of the Light of Beauty I

"Finally! It is done!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as their form is revealed to be all dirty due to the dust that tainted their armor upon crashing to the ground.

The voice of the Angel of Chastity Jophiel could be heard as all the angels suddenly celebrated that the throne of their leader has fully charged. The golden rings that were circling on the sky were no longer visible as a miniature golden sun is now present. Adrian felt something horrible is about to happen if he did not destroy that vast energy which is why he tried to go towards it.

"You are too late, demon! I have done what I must, and this will kill all of you heathens!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel announced as if they proclaimed that all their enemies will die in that area.

"Activate Holy Judgement of Light: Brilliance!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as the golden sun suddenly expanded to five times its size.

The golden sun that was only ten meters in diameter suddenly became fifty meters instead. The intense heat that it radiated actually damaged all the demons that flew near it and burned them. Adrian was not immune to this damage as parts of his body could be seen smoking as his fur is starting to singe.

"I cannot let this be! Realm Ender!" Adrian howled.

A wolf's howl could be heard in the horizon as the golden sun exploded into a large inferno that swept across the area that it was in. All the demons and even the humans in the army were swept away. All beings that were damaged and that did not have resistances against light and fire all burned to ash.

The people who were quick on the response was able to use their skills that negated any damage. Some managed to use barriers but that is not enough to fully stop all the damage that the explosion contains. The pained cries of all the players that experienced being burned could be heard.

The fire did not touch the angels though as they were even empowered by it. The angels that were hit by the explosion were enhanced by fire instead as their weapons suddenly started to burn in golden flames. The one that has changed the most was the Angel of Chastity Jophiel as they have transformed into another form.

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel has activated the Throne of Beauty.]

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel will enter the Light of Beauty form for ten minutes.]

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel will have their stats increased by 10% for the duration of the Light of Beauty Form.]

[The Angel of Chastity Jophiel will deal additional 100% light and fire elemental damage for the duration.]

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel is now covered in flames as the wings on their back is burning in golden flames. The chakrams were burning in golden flames as well with the armor that they are wearing turning into actual golden flames instead of metal. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly became the embodiment of the sun.

[The Hell Gate was damaged.]

[The Current durability of the Hell Gate is 60%.]

"The demon is dead, and the Hell Gate is close to breaking. My lovely angels attack the remaining ones and present their heads to me!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as they could see that a lot of enemies were still alive despite the attack activating.

"It is strange that there are not a lot of casualties, but I am still in my most powerful form. I shall personally kill all the devil nobility." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they and the other angels charged towards the Hell Gate.

While the angels charged towards the Hell Gate, Charon suddenly appeared in the sky as his chains suddenly opened another dimension. From the other dimension, Adrian came out in his demon form as the assimilation ended when he used Realm Ender. He was suffering from some burns, but he is still alive and kicking.

Adrian was able to hit the golden sun earlier with Realm Ender, but he was a split second too late. He was able to reduce the damage of the explosion with the darkness element that his skill carried but it also exploded right in his face. Just before Adrian would be swallowed by the golden flames, Charon showed up and pulled him to another dimension.

"That thing is more durable than the Hell Gate." Adrian muttered as he looked at the Throne of the Light of Beauty.

Adrian actually felt his body vibrate as a result of his sword clashing with it. He knew that destroying that thing would be near impossible in his current level. He also believed that he did not have the proper element to deal with it as it was made using pure light elemental energy.

"I should focus on that instead." Adrian muttered as he looked at the devil army being cornered towards the Hell Gate.

"Is there really no other way? I do not want to use my Chaos Pierrot form but defeating the Angel of Chastity Jophiel is not easy with my current setup." Adrian muttered to himself, but he could still see that he might be able to win just by using the other domains.

"Thank goodness you are still alive." Solstice suddenly stated via the chat.

"That is harsh. How is your situation?" Adrian asked.

"It is not easy as my armor is not receding due to that floating thing. It acts like a sun which is why darkness is not falling in the area." Solstice stated as the Throne of the Light of Beauty was making sure that no darkness falls in the area even when it was already night.

"No wonder it is still bright as day despite the time being nighttime." Adrian stated.

"I need you to do something about that then I can release all the stored blood that I have." Solstice stated.

"I think I can do that." Adrian stated as he changed his form.

Chapter 1709 Throne of the Light of Beauty II

"Charon, cover it all up in your chains." Adrian stated as he wanted to see if Charon could do something.

Charon's chains tried to envelop the Throne of the Light of Beauty and it was successful for about a few seconds. The chains suddenly melted as if they were physical manifestation even though they are spiritual. The Throne of the Light of Beauty is actually something like a powerful relic that deals holy light magic that even rivals the power of Charon.

"I guess only I can deal with it." Adrian stated as he immediately covered the Throne of the Light of Beauty with thousands of mirrors.

Adrian created thousands of small mirrors in order to cover the Throne of the Light of Beauty. In just a minute, the golden rings that were pulsating light like a sun has finally been put to a stop. The Throne of the Light of Beauty could no longer push away the darkness and night has finally arrived.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel saw the sudden shift in the time of day as night has enveloped the surroundings. The angels that were not bright earlier are now like lamps that burned bright on a dark cold night. The devils that were weakened suddenly started to grow stronger as there was no longer holy light that was making them weak.

"Finally! I can now stretch!" Solstice stated as her armor has finally receded into blood as it was now the turn of her shadow armor.

"The demon is still alive! I guess it is true that they are the equivalent of cockroaches as they do not die even when a powerful energy explosion hit them!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they wanted to charge to Adrian and kill him to restore the Throne of the Light of Beauty.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel would have left the other angels if not for the sudden explosion of the darkness element. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel thought that it was a devil that has become stronger, but they were wrong. The one with the intense darkness element or rather the two people that had intense darkness element was a man and a woman.

The man looked incredibly buff, but he suddenly started morphing into a more beastly appearance that was a bipedal wolf. The man, Lycan, also howled into the dark night as he can now finally release all the energy that he was storing. His claws and fangs are suddenly covered in a red and black aura which made him look particularly dangerous.

The woman looked incredibly beautiful that even the Angel of Chastity Jophiel could admit it. The woman was wearing a dress made of pure shadows while numerous crimson crystals floated near her. The woman, Solstice, smiled as her fangs could be seen and her alluring red eyes made even some angels almost fall for her beauty.

"A vampire and a werewolf!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel muttered as they looked up to see a vast dark sky with no moon.

[There is a new moon on the horizon.]

[All stats have been increased by 50%.]

[All spells and abilities will cost 50% less resources to cast them.]

"Sorry, babe. But I am the lucky one this night." Solstice stated as she winked towards Lycan.

"Children of the Night!" The angels shouted as they were actually one of the worst matchups when it comes to combat them.

One would think that the angels' archenemy were devils, and they would be correct as they are polar opposites of each other. Vampires and werewolves, on the other hand, are the bane of the existence of angels as they are beings of pure darkness. The vampires and werewolves were born from Erebus who was said to have been created when light was separated from darkness.

The attacks of vampires and werewolves towards angels are something akin to poison. It is a given that vampires and werewolves are afraid of light but that is true because they are a being of pure darkness. Even the Fallen are wary of the vampires and werewolves for their immense power of darkness.

"Form a group! One of them shall go after the demon that is inhibiting the light from the Throne of the Light of Beauty and the other one shall be with me in killing the vampire and the werewolf!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel commanded as they were now ready for battle.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel wants to use the blessings from the Throne of the Light of Beauty while they still have it. If the blessing runs out and they were hit by the attacks of the two beings of darkness, then even they might fall. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel never thought that a vampire and a werewolf would be on the devil army as the angels did manage to scheme into making the two factions fight one another.

"Does this mean that they have already resolved their differences?" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel thought but did not think further as the defeat of the Children of Night are the first priority right now.

"Kill the vampire first!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel shouted as they rushed towards Solstice since they thought that the latter was a mage due to the numerous blood crystals around her.

Solstice grasped one of the blood crystals and created a blade with one of them. Her blood blade made contact with the Angel of Chastity Jophiel's chakrams and both weapons were actually equal. The only thing that was not equal are their stats which is why Solstice was getting pushed back.

"I can win. This vampire is not that strong compared to me. I shall finish her up first and deal with the dog after." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel thought but they were too optimistic.

"You great beauty! Look out!" One of the angels shouted as they used their body to block an incoming weapon towards the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.

"Agh!" The angel exclaimed as she fell to the ground with a loud thud.

Chapter 1710 Throne of the Light of Beauty III

"It hurts!" The angel that blocked the attack that was aimed for the Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as blood dripped from her wound.

The angels that did not feel much pain even from a limb getting cut off is actually shouting in pain. Angels only feel great pain when their wings are torn off which means that the blood weapon puncturing her stomach was able to give her that same sense of pain. Solstice clicked her tongue as the blood weapon was supposed to have hit the Angel of Chastity Jophiel on the back.

"Might as well kill her then." Solstice stated as she suddenly created tens of blood weapons to kill off the angel that defended the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.

The angel was not even able to defend herself as she was killed with numerous weapons puncturing her body. The blood that came out of the angel formed a blood crystal which then formed into another blood weapon. Solstice then directed the blood weapons to hit the Angel of Chastity Jophiel, but it was not easy.

As soon as the angel under her died, the Angel of Chastity Jophiel kicked Solstice on the stomach which made the latter get knocked back by a few meters. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel gained some distance and changed to their male form. The blood weapons that were supposed to hit the Angel of Chastity Jophiel were then blocked by the spinning axes that they used.

"Of all the vampires that I have to face today, it is someone that is the closest to their first progenitor. I can still win as she does not have the same number of powers that the first progenitor had." The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they clearly remember the first progenitor of the vampires and she was a being that wielded blood like a weapon.

"I hope you are not underestimating me." Solstice stated as she suddenly appeared next to the Angel of Chastity Jophiel.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly reacted reflexively and blocked Solstice' attack using a spinning axe. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel was able to block the attack, but it was not completely. One could see a part of the flaming armor that they used being bent.

"That armor is tougher than it looks. It seems that attacks that are not in full power will not be able to cut it." Solstice stated as she could see that her attack did not damage the Angel of Chastity Jophiel in the slightest.

"You are weak compared to your ancestor. Do you think that you would be able to defeat me? A being that was older than your ancestor itself!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated.

"I think that I am getting close to it. All your underlings are dropping like flies." Solstice stated as she was not really attacking the Angel of Chastity Jophiel in full force because she was buying enough time.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel did not notice that the angels that were around them were suddenly decreasing. It was not the four-winged angels that were dying but the two-winged ones. The culprit for the death of the angels with two wings is none other than Lycan as he started a killing spree when he transformed.

Lycan's claws that was bathe in the power of darkness sliced right through the angels. The four-winged angels tried to stop him, but they could not follow him due to his immense speed. Even if the stats of the angels were buffed, they could not catch up to a werewolf that becomes almost invisible during the night.

"What are those angels that attacked the demon doing!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they looked up to see a gigantic dragon coiling up a giant disco ball.

Adrian could not defend it all by himself which is why he already used Limit Break once it was no longer in cooldown. Adrian summoned all of his soulbounds and that was not the end of it. Seeing that the angels were getting weaker and weaker, Adrian immediately summoned the Nether Domain.

All of his soulbounds except for Sirius (he is still recovering from the effects of Realm Ender) are summoned in their nether forms. Large monsters made with nether mist occupied the skies which deterred the angels from destroying the mirrors surrounding the Throne of the Light of Beauty. The four-winged angels were able to destroy some mirrors, but Adrian easily restores them a few seconds after breaking.

"This cannot be! I will not fall here!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they burned with anger.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly spread out their wings and activated the golden flames on their body. The golden flames suddenly erupted as a powerful surge of energy suddenly came from the Angel of Chastity Jophiel. An explosion of golden flames came from the Angel of Chastity Jophiel as if it was the same explosion that the Throne of the Light of Beauty used.

All the beings that were around the Angel of Chastity Jophiel are hit by the powerful explosion as even Solstice was swallowed inside of it. When the explosion ended, the Angel of Chastity Jophiel could be seen standing on scorched earth. The Angel of Chastity Jophiel thought that they have killed the vampire as that was the most powerful attack they could do in that form.

The Angel of Chastity Jophiel suddenly prepared themselves for flight as their next objective was the demon blocking their source of power when two blood swords suddenly pierced their stomach and back. The vampire that they thought had died was perfectly safe standing in front of them.

"How! That should have killed you. I might have weakened due to having been sealed for so long, but I am not that weak to not kill a weakling like you!" The Angel of Chastity Jophiel stated as they could not believe what happened.

"You have forgotten that I have been killing beings since earlier." Solstice stated as the numerous blood crystals were now reduced to three.
