

O Summoner 1801

Chapter 1801 The Huur

?1801 The Huur

Uriel was busy fighting off the six dragon kings while her subordinates tried to fend off the smaller dragons. She was gaining momentum and getting used to the dragons when she saw a pillar of light burst from the ground. Uriel's control of the barrier suddenly faltered for that moment when she saw the pillar of light emitting from the ground that some of the dragon breaths hit the Silver City. She immediately flew towards the Resurrection Room when the beam of light did not seem to disappear.

Zadkiel and Gabriel were fighting against Bronx when they saw that beam of light. They were not getting pushed back but Bronx was not an easy opponent. Visible damage could be seen on their bodies and weapons. The moment they saw the pillar of light erupt from the ground; Gabriel lost focus which made him easy to get hit by Bronx.

Gabriel was sent flying while the Angel Raphael suddenly showed up near him to heal him. The two angels locked eyes with one another and noticed that they were incredibly tense. They needed to know what was happening in the Resurrection Altar.

"Go! I will stall him!" The Angel Zadkiel stated as she collected as much light elemental energy that she can to seal the movement of Bronx.

"Do not get killed as we do not know what is happening at that 'ROOM'!" Gabriel stated as he immediately flew towards the signal.

Mikhail and Camael were in the highest point of the Tower of Babel. Mikhail was creating a ceremony to have the Goddess of Light Luminaria descend while Camael protected him. Camael switched with Gabriel when she reported that Zadkiel could not defeat the Arch Demon alone.

"Mikhail! Something is happening!" Camael stated with a panicked tone while she shouted it to focused Mikhail.

"I told you to not bother me when I am busy preparing the ceremonial magic circle that can help the Goddess of Light Luminaria descend for a brief period of time." Mikhail stated as he was bending light to create the magic circle.

"A pillar of light erupted from the ground where the Resurrection Room is located. I think Pristina is in trouble or another demon might have invaded that place. Even if we created barriers there that utilized some of our life force, we must head over, or the resurrection of the angels will only come to a screeching halt." Camael stated in a panicked tone.

"Follow me immediately!" Mikhail shouted a reply as he bolted out of the highest floor to head towards the Resurrection Room.

Five of the Six Virtues headed towards the Resurrection Room at their fastest speeds, but they were not fast enough. A powerful explosion is suddenly created near the center of the Silver City which shook it entirely. All Six Virtues then coughed out blood as the barriers that they tied with their life force were destroyed.

Not only that but the lower chunk of the Silver City has started to fall off. The floating island territory started to become unstable as a part of the magic crystal that kept it afloat suddenly got destroyed. The Silver City started to fall down at a terribly slow pace, but it is still falling to the ground.

Adrian managed to recover from his attack which even he did not know that it would be that catastrophic. All the barriers that were cast on the praying angels were destroyed while he even killed all the praying angels in the process. Pristina could be seen heavily injured as two of her wings were heavily damaged while she was imprinted on the wall while bloody.

Flap...flap

Adrian suddenly heard a noise from the rubble as Adrian also destroyed the entire Resurrection Magic circle. He looked at the direction of the noise and saw a large a large bird that looked like a falcon but emanating death energy. Adrian knew what this bird was as it is one of the unique beings that can live in the underworld and pass through the mortal realm.

"They captured a Huur. How is that possible when even death gods have a difficult time catching them." Adrian stated.

A Huur is basically a large bird creature akin to a falcon that radiated death energy or rather is made up of entirely death energy. It is also a very famous pet for the death gods because it can be trained to deliver messages. It was often called as the Bird Messenger of Death due to the death gods liking it sending their messages to each other.

"Kaw!" The Huur shouted as it finally regained freedom after such a long time being imprisoned.

"Stop that bird from getting away!" Mikhail commanded as the Huur scowled at him.

The Huur no longer wants to be in the mortal realm as it has only become a slave here. It wanted to see the mortal realm for a short time back then, but it was captured instead. It was also made to be the power source of death magic which it can naturally gather from the underworld. It would have been able to escape if it could muster enough death energy, but it was always sucked in by the magic circle it was trapped in.

[The Huur thanks you for freeing it.]

[The Huur has given you the right to be its master in the underworld. If you have any message for any death god, the Huur will deliver it in your stead as long as you call for it.]

The Huur then bowed to Adrian before unceremoniously exploding itself using death energy. It managed to return to the underworld without anyone capturing it. Adrian heard the system prompt that he was able to complete the mission.

"NOOOO!" Mikhail shouted as he suddenly erupted in pure anger as he searched for the one responsible for destroying such an important magic circle.

[The Resurrection Room of the angels have been destroyed. All NPC angels can now be killed permanently.]

Chapter 1802 The Despair of the Angels

?The angels felt something inside of them suddenly get cut off. Some did not understand but those that were familiar with death could. The NPC angels that were haughty and proud suddenly started to run from battle. This is very true to the angels that were going against the armies sieging the kingdoms that they conquered.

The players did not know why the angels suddenly started to flee but they did not care as they are now retrieving the kingdoms that were conquered. Some players managed to know the reason why the angels started to flee as they managed to kill one. The killed angels screamed in agony with the realization that they will no longer get revived back in the Silver City.

[You have successfully completed the quest: Investigate and Destroy.]

[You have received your rewards in the form of a sigil.]

[You can now summon the God Ah Puch for ten minutes into the mortal realm. His power will be restricted to that of a Greater God as the mortal realm can only a Greater God's power.]

[You can now summon the God Hades for ten minutes into the mortal realm. His power will be restricted to that of a Greater God as the mortal realm can only a Greater God's power.]

Adrian could not believe that he was able to get a ten minute summon time for the Gods Ah Puch and the God Hades. They are basically High Gods that rule a specific death realm and also a major death god. Still, Adrian knew that a reward such as this means that something might happen that will push him to use two summoning spells at the same time.

"Let us just hope that I can save these two summoning spells for something important in the future." Adrian stated but he suddenly felt an intense bloodlust come to his direction.

Adrian immediately vanished from his location which was the correct decision. The place that Adrian was at before is suddenly hit by a powerful blast of light energy that scorched it thoroughly. He remembered that Pristina was still in that hole stuck to a wall, but he does not need to bother with her.

"I did not get a notification for killing her which means that she is still alive there... somewhere." Adrian stated as he reappeared inside the Silver City.

Adrian saw the five of the Seven Virtues looking at him with disbelief and pure hatred. The five Virtues could not believe that their secret place that was even isolated from the common angels is now destroyed. The culprit for such a thing is none other than a demon and they know this demon as he is the Champion of the Twin Gods.

"You shall die today demon!" Uriel shouted as she blasted a powerful light cannon towards Adrian.

"Do not kill him! We need to capture him alive so that we can have the demons rewind time to fix the broken resurrection circle." Mikhail stated as he suddenly snapped from his intense anger and became more logical.

"I know that Uriel will not be able to kill him immediately as she is not yet in her purest form." Gabriel stated as he suddenly charged towards Adrian's location.

Adrian knew that he needed to evade but light is not easy to dodge just because one sees it. Adrian snapped his fingers and time suddenly stopped. His Chaos Pierrot Form already ended, and he is safe from backlash since he did not overexert himself. Adrian would have pushed himself further if the resurrection magic circle was not destroyed but he was able to with one powerful attack.

The picture of time stopping could be seen by Adrian's eyes as almost every being in the Silver City stopped. Almost every being as Bronx and the other Diabolons continued their rampage. Bronx could even be seen gripping the neck of the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel. Adrian thought it was only them demons that can move but he saw Mikhail actually moving albeit as slow as a sloth.

"Light Fist!" Mikhail stated in a slow motion as he released a skill.

Mikhail's fist glowed in a golden light and released a fist made of golden light. The golden fist of light that is supposed to target Adrian paused in mid-air as it was also frozen in time. Adrian knew why this happened as the phenomenon that made Mikhail move does not make it possible for his long-range attacks that are no longer connected to his body be affected just the same.

"Sorry but you need to refresh your knowledge on temporal aberrations." Adrian stated as he summoned his mirror armament and created numerous ones to absorb every attack.

Time flown once more as the light elemental spells hit the mirrors which Adrian made sure to absorb everything. Some mirrors were destroyed but that was fine as long as Adrian can just make another one. Still, Adrian got some damage due to being hit by the backlash from absorbing too much, but he was alive.

"Please! Have Mercy!" A wailing female voice could be heard which made all the angels stop attacking Adrian.

The Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel could be seen getting choked by Bronx with one hand. She is seen incredibly beat up to the point that even her wings are twitching as if they are broken. She could not even muster any spells or seals as her opponent is basically immune to her special abilities.

"Release her or we will annihilate all of you demons!" Mikhail threatened Bronx.

"You say that you will annihilate us? You see... there is a loophole in that very agreement that we have with the World Order. Should one demon die then we can be appeased but three gives us the right to commit a massacre of the race that has done it. This is just the start because all of you will die just like her." Bronx stated in a rage filled tone as the sound of a snapping neck could be heard.

Chapter 1803 The Demon of Force

Adrian always asked the three elders the question of 'who is the most powerful of the three?'. Adrian heard from Ascalor that he is the most powerful, but he knows that he just liked to brag. Koronn answered with a more scientific answer in which that anyone could win depending on the circumstances. Bronx also answered him, but his answer was more akin to the fact that three of them are equal.

Despite Bronx saying that all of them are equal, Ascalor and Koronn actually admitted that they will win if it was just sparring. If it was a life and death match with each of them filled with rage, then it would be Bronx that will be the winner. Ascalor and Koronn know that Bronx will topple them both over if he was serious as he has the most magic resistance among them.

"If it was a death match then Bronx would win because he is a Diabolon that focused on the power of force itself. He is like living energy and power to the point that my spells will just bounce off of him. Not all of my spells but a majority of the spells will be ineffective against him." Ascalor answered.

"Bronx is a living nightmare when he is fueled with rage. He calmed down when he became a father, but he was very hot headed and reckless when he was young. Did you know that he destroyed a mountain without him fully knowing because he was filled with so much rage that it clouded his eyes and mind? It is also the reason why we always calm down when talking to him as he is also very sensitive." Koronn stated.

"There is one thing that can trigger the young Bronx' anger though. Any death from us might make him go ballistic as he did with his first child. He annihilated an entire kingdom when his first child was taken advantage of and killed. It is also the reason why all of the Daemos are incredibly protective of his remaining son, Onyx." Old Man Pann stated as he was also asked by Adrian.

The scene of Bronx snapping the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's neck could be heard loud and clear. A crisp sound was emitted which reverberated throughout the Silver City as if it was amplified. Adrian knew who amplified the sound and it was none other than Bronx himself. He is taking revenge on the Daemos that were killed as he called every member of the Daemos Corp as his family.

"Zadkiel!" The Five Virtues shouted as one of their own has been killed.

Bronx let go of Zadkiel's body as he knows that he has already finished the job. The Angel Zadkiel plopped to the floor like a deflated balloon as she died just like that. Camael, Uriel and Raphael screamed in grief while Gabriel and Mikhail could be seen forcibly stopping their tears.

"Kill that demon while I deal with the Champion of the Twin Gods. We must not let Zadkiel's sacrifice be in vain as the others must be able to revive so that we can win." Mikhail commanded as he needed Adrian to have a chance in fixing the Resurrection Magic Circle.

A pillar of light then shot out from the ground from behind Adrian. It was actually the Angel Pristina trying to grab at Adrian's neck. She waited patiently so that she can capture the Champion of the Twin Gods. Just like Mikhail, she thought that she can bargain with the Twin Gods if they take their champion as a hostage.

"Sirius, Realm Ender." Adrian stated as he already predicted it.

Adrian immediately summoned Sirius but let him hide in his shadow when the light bomb hit the resurrection magic circle area. Sirius also cleverly moved in the shadows underground to search for Pristina as well under the orders of Adrian. He already found Pristina acting like she was dead and notified Adrian of her location. Adrian knew that Pristina would definitely try and kill him which is why he just waited.

Sirius suddenly came out of the shadows and bit Pristina by her left shoulder as she was able to reflexively dodge by the last second. Adrian was amazed that her instincts kicked in even though the attack was fast. Pristina was not the only one that is a problem as the Angel Mikhail set his sights on Adrian.

"Kanlaon, use your Genesis Dragon Breath." Adrian stated as he partially summoned Kanlaon's magic circle.

Kanlaon's head suddenly popped out of the magic circle and blasted the Angel Mikhail with his dragon breath. This was not that effective against the might leader of angels, but it was enough to stall him. Adrian then created a mirror portal and pushed Pristina and Sirius inside of it. He then created six large mirrors which the Angel Mikhail noticed and felt the presence that was coming out of them.

"Dragon Express Delivery!" Adrian stated as the six mirror gates were portals for the six dragon kings to pass through.

"Thank you, Champion Equinox. We shall take it from here." The Darkness Dragon King Drakness Tenebrosus stated as he released his dragon breath towards the Angel Mikhail.

Adrian then entered the same mirror portal where he sent the Angel Pristina to. Adrian vanished from the battlefield and also the hope of the angels in recreating the Resurrection Magic Circle. The battle between the Arch Demon Bronx with the aid of the Six Dragon Kings against the remaining Five Virtues is now starting.

In a kingdom where two Greater Light Gods defended, a battle has ended with the loss of the coalition. The God Magec could be seen carrying a familiar figure which has the wings of an angel and a devil. The God Magec was able to capture Ark even though five demigods were fighting with him against the former.

"This is bad! We must inform the guild master." Basil stated as she was in a terrible state.

Chapter 1804 The Hidden Dimension of Babel

"Where have you taken me?!" The Angel Pristina asked as she was suddenly tossed in a different dimension.

"Welcome to the hidden dimension of the Tower of Babel. A place that was created to be a sanctum against the gods themselves. It is also one of the places that your kind have stolen without even knowing all its capabilities." Adrian stated as he found this place when he first snuck inside the Tower of Babel.

"Impossible! We have known everything about this tower." The Angel Pristina stated as she tried to heal her wounds, but she noticed that a foreign substance is preventing all her wounds to heal fully.

"Do you like the Poison of God? It is one of Sirius' special abilities which makes healing quite difficult even for an angel that can heal wounds that might be fatal. Then again, your halo is losing its color already. Out of juice?" Adrian stated as he could see that the Angel Pristina's halo is starting to lose its shine.

When an angel of Pristina's caliber or those of the Six Virtues use their Thrones, the halo that they have will burn bright with golden flames to signify that they are using all of their energy. This signifies the Thrones aspect since it does not have a physical seat that manifests. It is also an indication of the remaining energy that a powerful angel has which is why their halos are sacred.

"Do you think that you can defeat me just because you have cornered me? Think again! You are just a fledgling Arch Demon! You cannot stop me even if I am weakened." The Angel Pristina stated as she gripped her staff tightly.

The Angel Pristina held her staff, but she can feel her strength slowly leaving her body. She is incredibly exhausted and damaged since she was also hit by the spell that Mikhail used earlier. She was not able to dodge because of the remnant chaos energy still affecting her. In fact, most of Pristina's stats are still lowered as an effect of chaos energy.

"I am not killing you immediately because I am here to interrogate you. Did you think that I will kill you immediately when I know that your little brain could not have formulated the plans that led to the situation now? I have been watching you move and command, but you are not the type to think deeply and plan five steps ahead. I am letting you have a chance to say it so that your soul will not be tortured as much in the afterlife." Adrian stated.

"Did you really think that my soul will go to the afterlife? The Goddess of Light Luminaria will raise my soul up to her divine realm so that I can serve her forever." The Angel Pristina stated.

"Bu...wa..HAHAHA!" Adrian suddenly started to laugh uncontrollably which made Pristina a bit disturbed.

"Laugh all you want, demon! I shall be sent to paradise even in my death." Pristina stated but there is a faint uneasiness in her voice as if she was making herself believe that the thing she speaks will happen.

"That was a good laugh. That really made my day because you believe such foolishness." Adrian stated.

"I am not foolish! The Goddess of Light Luminaria will come for me when my mortal body serving her is no more." Pristina stated.

"Please shut up. Do not make me laugh again because you believe such foolish notions. If that were true, then why did she not even retrieve the soul of the Angel Zadkiel when she died. She ranks higher than you and is more important, but her soul was dragged all the way to the depths of the underworld to be tortured." Adrian stated.

"Impossible! Her soul ascended just like what the Goddess of Light Luminaria told us. It is why we angels are fighting even if we can no longer revive in the mortal realm. We shall be with our goddess like the followers we are!" Pristina stated but there is not doubt that is mixed with her statement.

"Do you remember what I am? I am the Champion of the Twin Gods. A being that can see the souls of the dead and where it goes. I did not even reach out to the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul in fear of it being claimed by the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

I do not want to have a soul pulling battle with her after all since her soul ranks higher than mine. To my surprise, she did not even attempt to pull the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul. Her soul looked up into the heavens only to be dragged to the pits of the underworld by Thanatos himself. It really lightened up my mood when I saw that scene." Adrian stated with a smile.

Adrian remembers that scene vividly as it was just earlier, and he even made sure to look closely at it. As soon as the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul left her body, the soul tried to ascend to the heavens where the Goddess Luminaria's divine realm is located but it failed. The Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul was not given entry to the paradise of her own goddess that she served with everything she has.

"Liar! You are a demon that speaks lies!" The Angel Pristina shouted but her head faintly believed Adrian as he was not faking his emotions.

"Hence the reason why I dragged you here. This dimension is a special one because it can show memories of those that are inside of it. I will show you that beautiful sight of the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul being rejected." Adrian stated as he tapped on his forehead.

Adrian injected a small amount of mana into his finger, and it retrieved something from his head. He then flicked the mana off his finger, and it took the form of a small amount of liquid that dropped to the floor. The liquid memory as Adrian calls it suddenly created a ripple on the floor which showed the scene that he chose.

Just as Adrian described, the view of the memory is from his perspective which is why he saw Bronx snapping the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's neck. A golden wisp coming out of the dead body of the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel which tried to float up into the clouds, but it hit an imaginary wall. The golden soul tried to break that imaginary wall, but it was useless since it was caught by bony hands.

The Aspect of Death Thanatos gripped the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul as she was not being claimed by her goddess. The Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul could be seen forming a head and crying out in agony without sound. The Aspect of Death Thanatos then dragged the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul to the depths of the underworld for her punishment.

"Did you enjoy the scene? That is what happened to the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul. Only those that have the ability to see death and souls can see such a spectacle." Adrian stated with a smile.

Pristina refused to believe that the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's soul was not taken by the goddess she loved so much. The Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel was someone that strictly followed the Goddess of Light Luminaria to a fault. She was the most zealous out of the Seven Virtues since she is the avid rule follower.

"This is all an illusion! This did not happen!" Pristina stated.

"You are already losing your mind. Please do not. I need a stable mind if I am to extract the memories out of your head. A broken mind would be difficult to navigate inside of." Adrian stated as he already summoned two more soulbounds.

"What do you mean?!" The Angel Pristina stated as she tried to summon some strength into her body, but she realized that she could not.

"Did you really think that I would send you here just to kill you? I sent you here to see your memories without me waiting for you to speak. Did you really think that I expected you to tell me everything willingly? Even if you confess now, you will still be tortured in the depths of the underworld as you did too much heinous things." Adrian stated.

Chains could be seen covering the body of the Angel Pristina while shadows also bound her. She could not move because she was already bound before she even realized. Pristina suddenly had the realization that all the plans she made would be brought out if her memories get read which is why she tried to kill herself.

Pristina tried to destroy her own soul via a forbidden spell activated by words. Adrian already thought of such a possibility which is why he had Dodu wait. A small slime suddenly shot towards Pristina's mouth as it prevented her from talking. She did not need air since light is the only source of power for angels like her.

"Now let us see what happened over the course of a few years... shall we?" Adrian stated as he gripped Pristina's head.

Chapter 1805 Ark is Captured

The guild, Pantheon, was doing well in their designated location for the war against the angels and the gods of light. They were situated at the southernmost area where the angels have conquered which meant that they can easily take down the gods of light and angels there. The ones guarding that kingdom were two lesser light gods, but they had three demigods with them.

Solstice took the lead against the war with the angels, and she did a splendid job. They were cornering the angels and the gods of light to the point that they are about to kill all of them. A sudden unknown wave of energy swept across the area which made all the angels panic as they started to run away from battle.

The three demigods and the Pantheon guild members along with other army members thought that they had won as the enemy were fleeing. Just as the angels were about to totally run away, the bodies of the scared angels suddenly turned towards them. The angels that were afraid suddenly looked like they were emotionless and no longer able to control their bodies.

The angels suddenly robotically moved as if someone was controlling them. The emotionless angels then used all their remaining life and burned it away by making themselves more powerful. The angels suddenly materialized a golden armor around them that covered their entire body as their halos burned in a bright golden flame.

The emotionless angels were burning up their life force and started attacking the rebel army consisting of the demigods, the recruited soldiers, and the Pantheon guild. The fight became a stalemate as the angels that were losing suddenly had a major power boost as they were burning up their own souls. To make matters worse, two pillars of light suddenly erupted from the heavens and came crashing down on the location of the battle.

The God Magec and the Goddess Prende arrived at the scene and locked eyes with Ark. The two Greater Gods of Light joined the battle and the stalemate suddenly shifted to the side of the angels winning. The two Greater Gods of Light were incredibly powerful to the point that it takes three demigods to even contend with one of them.

The God Magec was fierce as he could basically create unlimited bombs of light that exploded a large area. He can destroy anything with his light magic as it has defense penetration abilities. The demigod side started to get slaughtered which prompted Solstice to force herself to summon the Sea of Blood.

She was able to go and battle the God Magec at an equal state or at least she thought so. The God Magec was not even serious as he was looking out against the other demigods that the Goddess Prende was battling. Since Solstice could not defeat the God Magec alone, Ark and the others decided to support her.

The other people had to deal with the angels while the Pantheon guild aided Solstice on her battle with the God Magec. All of the guild officers even joined the battle with all they had. Levin Cloud revived everyone until he was out of mana and divine energy. Peridot ran out of energy from overusing her dragon tongue. Kabrakan died multiple times from having to tank nuke like attacks for a prolonged duration.

Creepysoo even summoned the God Baron Samedi to his body but the undead he summons were just blown apart easily. Lycan fully transformed himself but even he cannot contend with a Greater God with his full transformation and the sun still being up. Vayu and Soleil fully transformed themselves into elementals, but they were also killed by more powerful light elemental attacks.

The other guild members like Apolaki, Arsenal, Pana, and Basil also did their best as well but all their attacks barely reached the God Magec. Ark fared fairly well because his magic could counter the light elemental magic of the gods of light but even his attempt barely made a dent. The Greater Gods exist on a different plane compared to the lesser gods.

To make matters even worse for the Pantheon guild side, the God Magec and the Goddess Prende were also summoned with holy relics which meant that their strength will not continuously be fading away like the gods that Adrian killed before. The two Greater Gods of Light were basically fighting at their full power against mortals that have yet or barely touched the divine.

The Greater Gods of Light also overturned the time of day as night never came with the two of them present. Since the God Magec is a sun god, he can basically rewrite the time of day to always be daytime. This made it difficult for the Erebian, Solstice and Lycan, to deal significant damage to the greater gods.

Solstice and Lycan tried to summon the night, but the God Magec implemented his domain which destroyed all magic that forced the darkness to come. In the end, Solstice, Lycan, Kabrakan and Levin Cloud were killed by the two greater gods as they were the most threatening. The demigods managed to live but they were severely injured to the point that they might die if they do not get treated.

As soon as Levin Cloud was killed, the revival stopped which made it possible for the God Magec to capture Ark. Ark was knocked unconscious while a powerful blast of light akin to a nuclear explosion was cast on the area of the battlefield. Levin Cloud managed to revive due to his passive, but he was faced with a powerful skill and team members who are at the edge of death.

Levin Cloud summoned the Tree of Life and Death in such a hurry and fused with it. He scattered his roots to protect the rebel army members that are struggling to live. The last scene that the Greater Gods of Light could see is the war area being enveloped in the magic spell that the God Magec has done.

Chapter 1806 The Gods of Light Unite I

The Goddess of Light Luminaria saw every bit of destruction that her proud angel army was experiencing. Each loss was a great hindrance to her grand plan, but she did not bat an eye when the angels are killed. Her pawns that she created were a necessary sacrifice for the great plan she has thought of.

Even when the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel was killed, she did not exert any effort in extracting her soul to her divine realm. If she caught the soul of Zadkiel, then she would lose a moderate amount of divine energy for transforming her angel soul to one filled with divine energy. She must not lose any divine energy now when her plan is about to come into fruition.

When the resurrection circle for the angels were destroyed, she was incredibly furious as some of her pawns became scared. They were so scared that they had to turn tail and flee the battle that they were in. Due to this, the Goddess of Light Luminaria activated the seals on the angels that still serve her.

All the angels that were running suddenly became stone cold and killing machines. They burned their souls for the glory of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. The goddess thought that she could just make more of them once her grand plan succeeds. She did not care about the captured gods of light as well since she still has parts of their divine souls when she subjugated them.

"All I need is the Spark of Samael! Where is that Nephilim!?" The Goddess of Light Luminaria shouted in her divine realm as she scoured the entire mortal realm to see where the Nephilim with Samael's blood is.

She started to use divine energy just to search for Ark because he was the most crucial piece for the plan to succeed. She had made deals with dark gods and even the Aesir just so she could descend unto the world. Her ultimate plan is to descend unto the world so that she can rule humanity as a goddess in the flesh.

She tasked Mikhail to create the special magic circle that can transfer the special case of an entity called the Singularity. Ark is a singularity in this world as he is a Nephilim descended from the most powerful angel and the most powerful devil. A being like him is a living antithesis of oneself which means there can only be one like him in the world.

Ark is needed as the sacrifice for the magic circle as his special entity title as the Singularity needs to be transferred to the Goddess of Light Luminaria. He will switch places with the Goddess of Light Luminaria via the magic circle that Mikhail has already created. Should the Goddess of Light Luminaria become the new 'Singularity' then the rules of the universe will no longer affect her.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria will be able to descend unto the mortal realm with her full power despite the world barrier only allowing Greater Gods to descend. She will also be able to freely move around without the need of a holy ground or a holy relic. She will be truly free from the influence of the world barrier.

As soon as the Goddess of Light Luminaria saw Ark, she crushed one of the soul pieces of the captured god of light as a power source. She was suddenly filled with divine energy and directly used that immense energy to transfer the God Magec and the Goddess Prende. She commanded the two gods to capture Ark even if they had to use all their power in doing so. The Goddess of Light Luminaria even summoned their holy relics in that place as well just so the two greater gods of light can succeed.

Summoning the two holy relics of two greater gods needed more divine energy which is why the Goddess of Light Luminaria crushed two more soul pieces. She might have weakened the captured gods by destroying their soul pieces that she held captive but at least they were useful to her. She knew that those captured gods will no longer be useful to her which is why she made sure to use everything that can be useful from them.

She might have lost control over them since she no longer has their soul pieces subjugated but she knows that they cannot get revenge on her. The gods with their soul pieces broken will definitely be weakened for at least ten years. By that time, the Goddess of Light Luminaria believed that she has already taken over the entire mortal realm and ascended to an even greater power.

The God Magec was able to capture Ark and immediately went to the direction of the Silver City. The Goddess of Light Luminaria was thrilled beyond her wildest imaginations, but she knew that things might go awry if she does not take action again. The Goddess of Light Luminaria felt something which prompted her to destroy the remaining soul pieces she had.

With the divine energy of the soul pieces filling her body, she directly sent all the gods of light that were still alive to the Silver City. A powerful beam of light hit all the gods of light which transported them instantly. All the supercharged divine energy that she had vanished as interfering with the mortal realm takes quite a lot of divine energy.

"I was this close on saving that poor lad." A voice stated as a crack in space suddenly revealed Koronn.

Koronn was observing the fight as soon as the two greater gods of light arrived. He wanted to join in, but he was actually too late. He wanted to seal the two greater gods of light in time for at least a day or two while saving Ark in the process, but divine energy cut off his spell. Unlike most believed, temporal magic is delicate and slow acting. It only looks fast because one can literally freeze time, but a temporal mage needs to be meticulous.

"I should at least help the survivors of that attack. I have faith that the youngest will be able to support Bronx, but I will head there as soon as possible." Koronn stated as he headed to the Pantheon guild's location.

Chapter 1807 The Gods of Light Unite II

Streams of memories started flooding the hidden dimension of the Tower of Babel. Adrian could clearly see the start of Pristina's memories as soon as she became the Pope of the Church of Light. She was able to possess the body of a female human that was a brunette but the body changes to host the soul. Any body that Pristina possessed had become a beautiful blonde maiden with amber colored eyes.

Unlike what people have thought, she did not force herself to become the Pope of the Church of Light. She would possess a different body every time the mortal one expires as she does not have a completely compatible body found at the time. She worked as a nun, a warrior, or a priest depending on her need for information.

When she finally knew all the things that she needed to know of the newly formed mortal realm, she finally found her perfect vessel. A saintess of the Church of Light was born which made her want the body of the budding saintess. She managed to completely possess the body of the saintess and felt different compared to the bodies that she has inhabited before.

She perfectly fused with the body of the budding saintess and absorbed the real soul of the owner of the body. She also became able to control the aging of her mortal body due to the perfect assimilation that they had performed. As soon as the perfect vessel was secured, Pristina aimed to become the Pope of the Church of Light.

She had many rivals when becoming the Pope of the Church of Light, but she was the one that reached the top due to her saintess body. She was the most powerful of all the Pope Candidates as she was also able to manifest the silhouette of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. What the normal humans of the Church of Light do not know is that it was all a plan by their goddess and the angels to take control of the church.

All the highest authorities were angels that have possessed their perfect human vessels. They preached that the Goddess of Light Luminaria only grants eternal youth to those that she loves the most. This made all the angels become the real power of the Church of Light and initiated the plans for the Goddess Luminaria to descend.

When the Church of Light was first established, the church itself was only small and it was only until Pristina became pope that the expansion happened. The world needed a major enemy and the Church of Light made that being appear. Pristina was seen talking to the head of the Followers of the Dark Gods to create chaos.

The deal that they made is that the Followers of the Dark Gods will be given free reign, but they must terrorize the citizen. They must also flee upon the sight of the banner of the Church of Light. Pristina made a deal for them to do this only ten times. The Followers of the Dark Gods would then take some humans or any demihumans for sacrifice to their gods.

"Humans are off the table. We need them to worship our goddess. You can take any demihuman as we have no use for those that worship more than one goddess." Pristina stated to which the Followers of the Dark Gods agreed.

The plan of Pristina became an instant win for the Church of Light. The humans were flocking at them in droves as the terror that the Followers of the Dark Gods has reached even small towns. The demihumans retreated even further from human civilization as a result because the vast number of disappearances were from them. There were some human abductions from the Followers of the Dark Gods back then, but Pristina knew that they cannot fully control hooligans.

Pristina would ignite their deal with the Followers of the Dark Gods every five or ten years so that humans will never forget. One thing that she learned when she was possessing humans is that they can forget terror if it is not repeated. It is also why there is a human saying that 'History tends to repeat itself' as it serves as a warning to be vigilant of the problems of the past.

The faith of the Church of Light grew exponentially as it became the major religion in the central continent. There were other major religions, but the Church of Light became the strongest which made the Goddess of Light Luminaria praise Pristina for her devotion. When the Church of Light reached its pinnacle, the true plan of the Goddess Luminaria started.

The first part of their plan was to poison the World Tree that the elves protected. The Tree of Death was already destroyed by the angels back then before their sealing which is why the Tree of Life remained. The Tree of Life or the World Tree supported the world barrier as a firm pillar which meant that the world barrier will not be easily destroyed as long as the World Tree stands.

The poisoning of the World Tree was easier than Pristina thought as she just employed the services of the Followers of the Dark Gods. The elves that formed the Elders of the Church of Life were also fighting to become the pope. The divide within the Church of Life made the destruction of the World Tree very easy.

As soon as the World Tree was destroyed, Pristina moved on to the next phase of the plan. She was given aid by a mysterious being that has been in talks with the Goddess Luminaria. The mysterious being looked familiar to Adrian as this was the form that the God Loki used when he was in the mortal realm. Adrian was shocked that the God Loki back then had already descended as a demigod.

The God Loki created havoc by making the Followers of the Dark Gods succeed in partially summoning their gods. The activities of the God Loki were fully backed by the Church of Light in the shadows. When the dark god is partially summoned, the Church of Light will be there to quell it which also boosted the faith of humanity towards them.

The Followers of the Dark Gods did not know that they were being used. Even if the dark god is partially summoned, the summoning destroys parts of the world barrier. The destruction of the World Barrier also made the Daemos move to close the unexpected rifts that open. This made sure that the Daemos are busy and that they cannot pay attention to what the Church of Light have been plotting.

Everything fell into place as Pristina had wished but there were two beings that greatly interfered with her. One is Equinox that became the Champion of the Twin Gods and a Daemos. The other was the emergence of Eldritch as the followers of the dark gods became much more difficult to control upon his arrival.

When Eldritch arrived, the partial summoning's of dark gods have suddenly become full summoning. Due to the full summoning, a lot of clergies from the Church of Light died which she does not want as that would be a waste on their resources. Pristina could no longer destroy the summoning of dark gods with just the Church of Light which is why she also employed the help of the other churches. She also employed the adventurers that suddenly started to pop up as they were able to revive due to the blessings of the gods of life and death.

Eldritch's presence made the stakes higher, but it also immensely helped in weakening the world barrier. Still, it was not time for the goddess to descend with just that. The revival of the chosen Nephilim was the signal that they were waiting for as a prophecy of the revival was already given back then. It was a prophecy against the angels and the gods of light, but the Goddess Luminaria did not believe that she will ever lose.

As soon as the chosen Nephilim appeared, the last phase commenced and the start of that would be the gods of light destroying the world barrier themselves with the aid of the Aesir gods. The destruction was earlier than anticipated as the Vanir gods suddenly betrayed the Aesir gods, but it was welcomed. The Silver City has also prepared the goddess descent magic circle which would sacrifice all the treasures in the Tower of Babel.

Adrian saw everything that he needed to see in the hidden dimension and made sure to make a copy of all the events in a memory crystal. Only a fool would not create a copy as no one would believe the words of a demon easily without solid proof which he had learned the hard way. Pristina could be seen laughing hysterically as she believed that Adrian is too late.

"You are too late to stop it. Centuries of planning has started to become fruitful. The Goddess Luminaria shall descend and rule over all living beings!" Pristina stated pitifully as she has no more energy left in her voice.

Chapter 1808 The Gods of Light Unite III

Adrian finally saw the real plan and that was the descent of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. A major part of what happened was all orchestrated by the Church of Light. There were some instances that they were not involved in that may lead to further problems, but Adrian focused on the task at hand.

The Angel of Faith Pristina laughed wildly to the point that she has lost her mind. She was weakened and greatly distraught but there is a faint mania hidden in her eyes. She knew that they had won because all the preparations were in place even if there were some complications along the way. She was the greatest help to the Goddess of Light Luminaria, and she was proud of that.

"I have done everything that my goddess has given me! She will welcome me in her arms as one of her divine spirits!" The Angel of Faith Pristina stated as she laughed uncontrollably as if she has gained immense pleasure.

"Let me break that fantasy of yours then. Should the Goddess of Light Luminaria descend unto the world, who will be there to take your soul to her divine realm?" Adrian asked which suddenly made the Angel of Faith Pristina flinch.

"What are you saying!? The Goddess of Light Luminaria is all powerful! She will be able to retrieve my soul even if you kill me which is why I am unafraid of death! You can kill me now and I will not care because I know that I shall be taken care of in her divine realm!" The Angel of Faith Pristina stated as her voice kept trailing off.

The Angel of Faith Pristina believed that the Goddess of Light Luminaria will make way or rather make her an exception for her. She has served the goddess for far too long compared to the Seven Virtues when the new world came. She possessed mortal bodies to create the perfect plan to make sure that the ultimate plan of the Goddess of Light Luminaria comes to pass.

"You have sacrificed so much of yourself that you no longer even remember your own. Tell me, does the Goddess of Light Luminaria even think of the things you did as something significant? Or is everything that you did something that was like a breeze to her that just comes to pass because she thinks that it is expected?" Adrian stated which suddenly made the broken mind of the Angel of Faith Pristina even more deranged.

On the room, the images of the Goddess of Light started to flood as the memory that the Angel of Faith Pristina started to seep out. She would report proudly to the Goddess of Light Luminaria about her achievements for the grand plan and all she received was a pretty shower of light. The best thing that she got was some aid by calling upon the power of the goddess but even that was just a detached spiritual entity.

The memories of the Angel of Faith Pristina that were seen using a colored lens started to unravel. The real happenings of the rewards that she got suddenly flashed. The Goddess of Light Luminaria looked happy whenever the Angel of Faith Pristina reported but that was only in the view of the latter. What really happened is a bored expression from the Goddess of Light Luminaria that wanted to end the conversation with the Angel of Faith Pristina.

The Angel of Faith Pristina knew that her goddess that she revered so much did not even utter a word of thanks to her. It was all made up in her head so that she can push herself further to please the goddess. She made the preparation, and everything went according to plan, but the real Goddess of Light Luminaria never gave her praise.

"AS EXPECTED." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated in a nonexcited and bored tone.

The Angel of Faith Pristina suddenly started to go into more laughter as her mind has been completely broken. Adrian suddenly felt an explosion of power from the outside as he can still sense energy even if he is in an alternate dimension. She knew that the entire Tower of Babel is starting to get sacrificed to make the goddess descend and it also activated his worries.

"Ark! Do not tell me he has been captured!" Adrian thought.

"It has started! The Goddess is descending!" The Angel of Faith Pristina shouted.

"She is but you will not be alive, nor your soul will be here to see it. Sirius!" Adrian stated as a large shadow blade suddenly sliced the Angel of Faith Pristina in half.

A burst of light came out from the severed body of the angel as it burst out into light like what happened to the Angel of Righteousness Zadkiel's body after Bronx no longer applied temporal magic on it. The Angel of Faith Pristina's soul escaped the body and floated upwards as if she was trying to ascend to the divine realm just like what Zadkiel's soul did, but she could not. An invisible barrier suddenly stopped her from ascending any further.

It was not long until hands made of shadows and darkness suddenly grabbed towards the soul of Pristina. The soul struggled with all her might, but she cannot resist the pull of death. With an empty scream, the soul of Pristina was dragged to the underworld just like Adrian had told her. There was not even an attempt from the Goddess of Light Luminaria to take Pristina's soul.

"Such futile worship to the point of madness. I wanted her to be really mentally present when I killed her for all that she did but there are more important matters to attend to. She did all of that only to be ignored and treated like a speck of dust. I mean at least dust needed to be swept but she was treated like she was invisible." Adrian stated as he created a gate that leads to the outside.

Pillars of light suddenly descended upon the Silver City as the gods of light have finally arrived to aid the angels. The arrival of the gods of light also made the current battle pause for a moment as immense divine pressure came crashing down. If there were normal players in the Silver City right now, then they might have passed out on the spot from the numerous pressures exerted by godly beings.

Bronx along with the dragon kings halted their fight against the angels upon the arrival of the gods of light. It seems that both sides were at a stalemate as Mikhail and Gabriel were more powerful with the fight dragging on. Along with the gods of light was none other than Ark. He was still trapped in a prism of light that even he cannot escape from, but he did regain consciousness.

"The Nephilim!" Mikhail's eyes glowed as he knew what the arrival of the Nephilim meant.

The Angel Mikhail thought that he could use the powers of the Nephilim instead and absorb it into his body. He would be able to rule all of world and even the Greater Gods will not be able to stop him. This has been his hidden agenda all along but his body that was reaching out for the Nephilim suddenly stiffened.

"Did you really think that I would not be able to look into your mind just because I act like I do not hear it?" A voice so beautiful rang inside of Mikhail's ears but he could feel a lady formed of light hugging him from behind.

"My Goddess!" Mikhail stated as if he was suddenly caught in the act.

"I know about your secret plan to use the Nephilim instead of helping me, my dear Mikhail. Did you really think that I will be that dumb? You should have guessed it ever since you saw what happened to that failure." The Goddess of Light Luminaria whispered to the Angel Mikhail.

The failure that the Goddess of Light Luminaria mentioned is none other than the Angel Jophiel. The Angel Mikhail believed that nothing was tampered with his body, and it was perfect. Even the Goddess of Light Luminaria said that his body was perfect and that was his hubris.

"I would not even dare to disobey the goddess." The Angel Mikhail stated.

"Do as what you are told if you ever want to maintain control of your body. I might think of your wish to be by my side even though I was the one manipulating all of your fantasies." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated which triggered something inside Mikhail as he did not know that everything that he wanted was a lie.

"If you are not going to do it then I shall control your body myself to do it." The Goddess of Light Luminaria stated.

All of a sudden, the body of the Angel Mikhail burned in a fiery might to the point that all three of his halos and six of his wings looked like light itself.

Chapter 1809 All Thrones are Activated

"Throne of Humility!" Mikhail stated as he was controlled by the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

Mikhail suddenly exploded with power as he transformed into his full angelic glory. His golden armor changed to become a great mixture of fabric made of white light and gold. His wings grew five times as large while his halos became akin to light magic circles.

Mikhail also got a golden helmet that has the design of six wings made of light. On his hands, there were two swords that materialized that had different appearances. The sword on his left hand was made of light while the sword on his right hand burned like golden flames. His full power could be felt as the only Seraphim has already summoned his Throne.

Mikhail then dropped his two swords and it melted into the floor which activated the magic circle. He made a grasping motion towards Ark which controlled the cage made of light to float to him. The God Magec was a bit surprised that Mikhail was able to override his control of the light element. It made the God Magec's pride a bit damaged since he was basically undermined by an entity that cannot become a god.

"Mikhail? What are you suddenly doing?" Gabriel asked as this was not part of the plan, but he noticed that Mikhail was not listening to him.

Adrian suddenly appeared beside Bronx with a very tired expression. Adrian thought that he would be able to easily get out of the hidden dimension, but it was difficult. He ran into a problem since all the magic artifacts and even the Tower of Babel was filled with immense light energy that distorted space. He had to try getting out of the hidden dimension for quite some time and expended most of his mana in the process to breach the dimension.

"Stop him! Get Ark or else they will summon the Goddess of Light Luminaria down to the world! She must not descend!" Adrian stated hurriedly as he drank some mana potions to recover the mana that he has lost.

Sirius and Charon suddenly came out of Adrian's shadow and attempted to save Ark from them. The other dragon kings also charged towards Ark to destroy the light cage as they could see that the magic circle was reacting to the Nephilim. Bronx also charged towards Ark as he has full faith that Adrian will not lie to him about the danger.

"Make sure that they do not disrupt the ceremony." A voice suddenly echoed to all the heads of the angels.

"Throne of Patience!" Gabriel suddenly stated as a powerful and sturdy light exploded upon his body as well.

Gabriel is suddenly clad in full silver and gold armor with a large shield. He looked like a heavy warrior but the wings on his back that also had armor made him look exactly like a holy angel heavy warrior. The halos that he had also became small shields that flew around him which acted as auxiliary shields to protect him.

"Throne of Kindness!" Raphael stated as he also burst in a powerful but gentle light.

Raphael is suddenly transformed into a true priest cloth armor, but the cloth is weaved from light directly. Golden circlets covered him to the point that he looked more like a saint than an angel but the wings on his back say otherwise. Raphael's wings became pure gold in color while his halo became floating rings that are covered in golden flames.

"Throne of Diligence!" Uriel stated as she burst into a powerful brilliant light that was as hot as the sun.

Uriel is covered in cloth armor made of light as well but hers is tighter than what Raphael is wearing. The wings on her back became golden flames with each flap releasing a heat wave. The halos that she has become miniature suns that revolved around her and exuded such potent light energy that even the lesser light gods had to take a step back.

"Throne of Charity!" Camael stated as she also burst into a dazzling and powerful light, but it was softer to the feeling.

Camael is suddenly covered in light robes as well, but she is decorated with golden accessories that are in the form and shape of eyes. She even has a circlet on her forehead that has a golden eye which is situated on her forehead while her face is covered by a veil. Her wings became made of light that has patterns of eyes as well. The halos that she had become golden rings with a flaming eye on the center.

Gabriel was the first to charge against Bronx as the two of them are the most compatible in strength. As soon as the two of them clashed against one another, the two of them created a powerful shockwave that pushed the air and even gravity backwards. Still, one can see the clear distinction of who is stronger since it was Gabriel that was pushed back but this was just the start of the fight.

Gabriel is the Angel of Patience, and he becomes stronger as the battle rages on. Bronx could see the difference with each clash that the two of them had. Gabriel is no longer getting pushed back at the same distance than the start of their fight. Gabriel is not the only one that moved as Uriel also started raining golden flames on all of her enemies.

The dragons could not withstand such holy flames that they had to evade them. Adrian tried to use sneak attacks as a way to retrieve Ark, but Camael saw through everything. Her halo eyes picked up the places that Sirius and Charon hid even though they were not touching the light. She blasted the areas that they were hiding in which pushed them out to the material realm.

Gabriel is damaged with each clash, but Raphael immediately healed him back to full. He not only healed all his allies back to full health but even the status reductions were cleansed. The team work of the remaining angels of virtue was something that is not easy to defeat.

Chapter 1810 Ark is Sacrificed

It was only after Adrian got out of the hidden dimension that he started receiving messages again. His guild chat was full of questions on where he is, and that Ark was taken. Adrian immediately answered them that he has seen Ark, and he is in grave danger as he will be sacrificed.

The remaining guild members that were alive immediately told Adrian that they will come as soon as possible. They knew that Ark must never be used as a sacrifice since Adrian told them that he is a key person for the descent of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. All of the Pantheon members knew that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has a grudge against Adrian for humiliating her.

"This is bad! We need to get to the Silver City as soon as possible!" Levin Cloud stated as he tried to revive his fallen comrades, but he is still recovering mana and getting Adrian's message.

"I guess I should help all of you then. So much death created by the gods. It is also the reason why it was decided to separate them in a different realm since they are incredibly powerful." Koronn suddenly stated as he appeared before the Pantheon guild members.

"Koronn? Why are you here? Ark was taken and Equinox said that he is needed for the descent of the Goddess of Light Luminaria." Levin Cloud stated as he knew that Koronn was the one defending Avalon since Ascalor was bedridden.

"The Old Man Pann is already defending Avalon which is why I came to help after closing several rifts, but I was too late. I had my doubts but to think that they would indeed use the singularity to make a High God descend is pure madness. Even if they succeed, the burden on the world barrier will be immense." Koronn stated as he analyzed what Levin Cloud said.

"We tried to stop them here, but we failed. There were demigod reinforcements that came but they were killed protecting the others." Levin Cloud stated as he could see their spirits still lingering as demigods can reform their body slowly as long as their souls are not dragged to the underworld.

"I guess I should also thank the angels and those gods for destroying a part of the barrier. Some of my strength returned because of that. I should be able to easily do this! Temporal Shift: Golden Hour!" Koronn stated as he suddenly morphed to his real form instead of his default old man form.

Koronn became younger while a cloud of mist became his lower half that had the image of gears and clockwork. Koronn summoned a golden hourglass to appear and he flipped it with his mind. As soon as he did so, time in the area that he was in suddenly started to reverse for all the living beings and even those that just died.

One could see skeleton and muscle suddenly reforming backwards until a human being is completed with clothes. Even the demigods that lost their bodies suddenly got their souls pulled back on the area where they died. All the bodies that were lost were reformed while those that died came back to life.

One could even see Solstice reforming from a huge pool of blood. Even those that died earlier in the battle regardless of it being a player or an NPC were revived on the spot. Koronn truly reversed time which made the area rumble a bit as if he was messing with the flow of reality.

"Should you be doing that? That was not a natural earthquake." Levin Cloud stated as he knows when an earthquake is naturally occurring since he is a Leshy.

"That was just the world realigning the time in the area so that it flows naturally. It was difficult to pinpoint all those that died as some had their body disintegrated which is why I reversed the time on the area. Do not worry as there would be no repercussions like before since I have improved thanks to my special journey back then." Koronn stated.

"Thank you so much!" The demigods that died suddenly expressed their gratitude as it will take them at least a decade to reform a body.

"No worries because I am bringing all of you to another battlefield. We shall directly go to the Silver City to destroy those angels." Koronn stated as he created a portal for them to enter.

"I bet she will kill me immediately if I do not stop her descent." Adrian stated but Sirius and Charon were seen through.

The Thrones of the five Angels of Virtue were fully summoned and each of them had unique effects. Adrian does not know what Mikhail's throne does since he was not fighting as he was activating the magic circle. Gabriel's throne made him so sturdy that even Bronx cannot deal high damage when they clash. The shields that are floating also deflected any long-range attack as well.

Uriel was another problem as she was blasting all of them with golden flames in the size of heat waves. She was casting each of these attacks without breaking a sweat as if her mana pool was unlimited. Camael is also troublesome as she could see everything even if Sirius was hiding in the Shadow Realm or Charon was in between the floor. She had True Sight which can pierce any area and even her attacks are granted this effect as well.

Next is the most troublesome of all the angels and he is located at the back protected by Uriel and Camael. Raphael was easily healing all of the injured angel and cleansing all their disabilities as well. The Angels of Virtue will not die as long as he is alive. Adrian is then extremely thankful that the previous ones were not moving in groups which is why they were easily defeated.

"The process is finished! Dea Lux Vocans!" Mikhail suddenly stated as numerous chains of light shot towards Ark's cage.

"Help!" Ark shouted as he could feel his body becoming extremely heavy as a golden gate suddenly appeared on top of the Silver City.
