O Summoner 1901

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was one of the first dark gods to invade the world of Pandemonium with her army. She was called the Pure and Holy Womb of Light as she was the one that gave birth to light in her ruined universe. She was also the one that killed the original God of Light that graced the universe of Pandemonium.

She was the basically the vanguard of the dark gods as she suddenly attacked without warning with her army of tentacled light monsters. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could create numerous monsters as she gives birth to them as long as there is light. She sucks in a huge amount of light energy in the surroundings and transform them into life forms.

Her form is akin to a humanoid, but she does not look human. Her head is a large ball of light where tentacles of light are protruding. These light tentacles sway around as if they are live as they can also be used to grab onto things. Her upper body is like a mannequin that is dried up but with porcelain skin while her stomach is where her 'womb' is located.

Her womb is like a large sun connected to a porcelain lower body. Her arms are also porcelain in texture as if she was a porcelain doll with a sun as a womb and a ball of light with tentacles as a head. Just her presence alone is akin to that of a sun as she emits powerful heat.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was indeed defeated by the original God of Light back then, but he sacrificed himself along with his other disciples. The only disciple that was able to survive due to her sly nature was the deceased Goddess of Light Luminaria. When the battle was over against the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete back then, the Goddess of Light Luminaria held funeral rights for her deceased master and co-disciples.

What she really did is absorb any power that her deceased co-disciples had and took the fragments of the original God of Light. In the wreckage of the battle, the Goddess of Light Luminaria found the womb of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. She immediately hid this divine essence as by directly absorbing it.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete managed to save her will in her womb as she was the womb herself. She was just incredibly weak to the point that she could not combat the Goddess of Light Luminaria in the mental domain. The Goddess of Light Luminaria made use of the power that she got from the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. With her newfound power, the Goddess of Light Luminaria created the first set of angels which were the Fallen.

Due to the Fallen being the first and created with the parts of other gods of light that died in battle, they resembled beings that did not look humanoid. The Fallen actually took more resemblance from the beings created by the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. Still, the Fallen were acknowledged by the universe as existences of Pandemonium which made the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete think of a plan.

Instead of hurriedly reclaiming her body, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete hid in the deepest parts of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. She hid in the evil desires of the Goddess of Light Luminaria since that is the part of her that the goddess does not show and hides. Slowly and surely, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete started to take some of the faith that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has gotten. If not for her then the Goddess of Light Luminaria would have become a more powerful High Goddess. Still, she was amazed by the Goddess of Light Luminaria because her savageness was actually greater than her who was a foreign goddess.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete cares for all her children that are born from her, but the Goddess of Light Luminaria does not. There were even instances where the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete interfered so that some angels do not get killed. Still, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete cannot control the Goddess of Light Luminaria because she is also trapped in her.

In order for the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete to be free, she needed to have the Goddess of Light Luminaria killed. She did not think that the Goddess of Light Luminaria would gain partial control of her womb. If not for that then the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete would have been able to free herself from the grasps of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. She was basically a parasite that could not escape from its host nor kill it.

Finally, the chance came when the first Nephilim was born that has the true powers of an angel and a devil. Unfortunately for the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete, the Chosen Nephilim was killed even when it was just a child, but she knew that it would revive. A Seraphim Angel and a Devil King sacrificed themselves to make sure that the soul of the child reincarnates.

All the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete had to do was wait once more and waiting is no problem for her. She waited and she waited until she learned that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has learned of the birth of the Chosen Nephilim. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was actually lucky that the world itself restricted the Goddess of Light Luminaria from descending which is why she implanted an idea to her.

The idea to use the Chosen Nephilim as a sacrifice for the Change of Fates spell. Just like that, the Chosen Nephilim was able to be connected to the Goddess of Light Luminaria. He was ultimately able to destroy the mental barrier that trapped the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete from escaping the Goddess of Light Luminaria. She was the being that Ark saw when he managed to destroy the last mental block of the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

Chapter 1902 The Fallen Arrive

"Just as it was prophesized, the Goddess of Light was destroyed by the Child Chosen by Light and Darkness. I thank the Chosen Nephilim for freeing me. You have freed your great mother." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated.

"We are not your children!" Ark stated as he stood up since he was somewhat healed back up.

"Child do not kid yourself. The Goddess of Light Luminaria was only able to create all of the angels because of me. I am the reason that all of you were born because she absorbed me into her body which granted her the ability to create life! Only the Gods of Life could create intelligent life as that is the rule even in other universes." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated.

What the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete said is indeed true because she is classified as a goddess of light and life. She leans more into the goddess of light variety, but she does indeed possess the powers of a goddess of light. If not, then she would not be able to create intelligent beings such as the ones that are spawning from her womb.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was not just idling by, but she was actually waiting. She needed time to acclimate herself from the light energy in the surroundings in order to create children. She has already been familiar with the light energy because the Goddess of Light Luminaria did use her womb to create the angels, but this is her first time in the mortal realm.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete may be a High Goddess, but she was not a goddess that is great in battles. It is also one of the reasons why she was defeated by the original God of Light back then. She thought that she would be able to conquer the world with her powerful godlike creations, but she was wrong.

"She is stalling for time! Kill her before she spawns her monsters!" Ark shouted as he was also somewhat connected to the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete when he was in the mental space of the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

Ark was able to see what the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete planned which made him slightly go crazy because the entering the minds of two goddesses is not safe for mortals even if their souls are strong. In fact, the last mental protection that the Young Samael gifted Ark was destroyed trying to protect his mind from going insane due to seeing the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

"The war is not yet done! Charge!" The Goddess of War Bellona shouted as she squeezed whatever divine energy that she has left.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was floating in the sky which made it difficult for the other players to attack her. Seeing this, the gods of water suddenly called upon the waves to shoot out. They manipulated the waves to create a reliable footing and then freezing the water using a powerful Mythical Tier spell. In the blink of an eye, a usable platform could suddenly be used by the melee players as they were scattered all around the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

"I may not have lots of life due to just reviving but I am still a High Goddess!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted as multiple rays of light suddenly shot out from her womb.

The light rays that shot out were actually monsters created by the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. They looked like deformed angels that has little intelligence as the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete did not have much time creating them due to the beings trying to kill her. She would have escaped but the space in the area was heavily distorted due to the battle amongst the gods. She has a large enough chance to get caught in the dimensions and get sent to who knows where.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete believed that defeating the gods were her best choice. She might not be a great combatant goddess, but she was still more powerful than gods that have the strength of greater gods. What she needed was a way to stall the mortals beneath her as they would become dangerous even to her if given time to chant their spells.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was incredibly wary of the demon, but he was currently weakened to a great degree from summoning a Devil God. She waited for the Devil God Beelzebub to be unsummoned before she gets out so that she will not die just like the Goddess of Light Luminaria. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete is smarter than the being that she parasitized.

"Come my Dovelings! Destroy the mortals!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated as the angel abominations emitted an unintelligible grunt before charging towards the players.

The remaining gods all combined their efforts to attack the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete but she was easily defending against their attacks. In fact, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete even made use of her womb by sucking up their powerful spells. After a few seconds, a Doveling with both light and water was born which was created from absorbing the powers of the gods of water and mixing it with her powers of light.

Seeing that the gods could not easily defeat the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. Ark took out an emblem that is an eye with ten wings on it and injected his blood. He then threw the emblem out in the sky, and it created an ancient circular bronze gate. Ark knew that this was the best time to now use this item even though he only has one use of it.

Seven beings came out of the gate, but they were not humans or even demi humans. They were not even demons because they were the Fallen. The remaining Fallen came to aid the Chosen Nephilim and destroy the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

Chapter 1903 Sacrifice of the Fallen

The Fallen, the first created angels, were all called by Ark with the relic that he was provided. This was a one time use relic that summoned all of the Fallen that are battle ready while those that cannot move would use their energies to create a gate. A direct gate created through light magic that even the Goddess of Light Luminaria could not create.

"You have called upon us, Ark." One of the Fallen stated.

There were six Fallen that came out of the gate and a beautiful woman that looked like she was in her late teens. A woman that had angel wings, but the color was not white, silver, or gold. The wings on her back were dark gray as if darkness mixed into it. She was none other than Lilith, who is the soul sister of Ark.

Ark is shocked that even Lilith came out of the dimension, but he knew that only meant the opponent being incredibly powerful. Lilith was in a different league of her own when it comes to magic as she was different from the other angels. Lilith herself is an angel but she is able to also wield other elements although not with the same mastery as light.

The angel players and even some NPCs that have defected to Ark's side looked at Lilith bowed down unconsciously. All of the angel for the first time felt the presence of an angel with the presence of royalty. Lilith is indeed different from the other angels as she was also born from a devil, but she took more of the angelic side.

"The Child of Disaster has come." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated as she remembers Lilith.

The reason why the chosen Nephilim was killed by the Goddess of Light Luminaria back then is due to Lilith being born first. She was incredibly powerful to the point that angels would bow down to her presence as if the Queen of Angels was born. The Goddess of Light Luminaria did not want this which is why she started the purge of the angel born or Nephilim.

Due to the massacre that the Goddess of Light Luminaria has created, Lilith was dubbed as the Child of Disaster as she brought disaster to the angel born. This was not the fault of Lilith though as she was just born chosen by the world. Just like any being in the universe, a unique and powerful individual would always be born to create evolution to any other race.

"Such is the title given to me by that accursed goddess, but she is gone now. My father and mother have told me about you because that accursed goddess did not shut up about you. This time, we shall put you to eternal rest as we know of what you did to your universe when you have grown bored." Lilith stated as she knows of the story behind the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete did come from a different universe, but she did not come because it was destroyed by other gods but because she herself destroyed it. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete became bored of all the things in her universe and sucked up all the light back into her womb. With no light, all of the living beings that was not her creation died while the other gods below her had to flee.

"I merely needed to recreate them, but it seems that I broke my universe in an accident." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete replied as she created more dovelings.

"An accident does not result in the destruction of a universe. We shall make sure that you will be destroyed this time for real." Lilith stated as all of the six Fallen vanished and surrounded the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

The six Fallen did not have forms of humans as they are basically like amalgamations of eyes and wings. Some are just a mass of wings gathered together, one is a flaming wheel with eyes and wings, another is a bunch of faces combined with wings, and other strange combinations. Still, the power that they held was much primal since they were created using the fragments of gods of light that have perished.

"I am your real mother! I am the reason why all of you are created!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated but the Fallen did not listen to her.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete knew that an incredibly intelligent being would be stronger, but they would also not listen to their creator. Even she would avoid creations like the Fallen or the Angels unless she had a seal for them like the Goddess of Light Luminaria. In that regard, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete is the same as the Goddess of Light Luminaria as control freaks.

"You are not the mother of the angels. You were merely used to have us created. You would rather absorb all of us as light and recreate us in your image." Lilith stated as she took out a black staff and created a hexagon magic circle.

All of the Fallen took up their spots as their bodies started to get eroded by the magic circle. The Fallen called upon by Ark were now sacrificing their bodies in order to weaken the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. Ark looked at Lilith, but she has already bound him as he would definitely stop their resolve.

"What are you doing?" Ark asked Lilith.

"What we should have done to the Goddess of Light Luminaria if you had been able to call us earlier. This is the resolve of the Fallen as they have chosen this path. The others have also done this to make sure that all of us pass through the gate. Do not worry because they will just be like you and sleep until they are reborn." Lilith stated but the tears she was shedding could not be hidden from Ark.

"Should I also help?" Gomory asked as she finally recovered from the damage she got from the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

Gomory is still one of the Fallen, but Lilith told her to protect Ark at the moment as the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could potentially use his soul as a power source. If Ark is refined, then there would be no telling what would happen to the world with a powerful Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. Gomory could only watch as her fellow Fallen turn to dust and await their reincarnation into another body just like her.

[The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete is affected by the Supreme Magic: Light Enfeeblement.]

[The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete would have all her defenses decreased by 80% for one hour.]

"Make sure that our sacrifice will not be in vain." The six Fallen stated as their bodies vanished and turned into particles of light while their souls returned to the reincarnation cycle.

"Let me go. I want to fight." Ark stated as Lilith undid her restraining magic.

"I shall fight with you, little brother." Lilith stated as her trembling hand tried to reassure him that they will not let the sacrifice of the Fallen be in vain.

"I got you covered as well." Pana stated as he appeared next to Ark.

"Of course, all of you should not count me out. I am the one that created this team after all." Basil stated.

"Thanks guys." Ark stated as he rubbed his eyes to get rid of the tears and glare at the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

"A touching story but do you think that would be enough to defeat me?! Even if my defenses have been reduced greatly, all of you will not be able to kill me! The gods that you have are weakened to the point that one attack from me would be their deaths! Only a Chaos Borne will truly be able to kill me as even the original god of light from this world is unable to!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated.

"WOMB OF RUINOUS LIGHT!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete suddenly contorted her body with her womb now pointing upwards. The large sun in the womb then exploded into numerous light showers that covered the entire area. It was akin to a volcanic explosion but with a sun exploding instead.

"Defend!" The exhausted gods commanded as they also protected the mortals.

"Time Overlord!" A voice suddenly resonated in the skies above as a peculiar one horned demon with clocks around him suddenly appeared. All of a sudden, the light showers turned to a halt as the gods and mortals see three beings up in the sky.

"This is why gods should know the meaning of having their feet on the ground or else they will grow too haughty. Space Reversal: Gravity Bomb!" Another familiar voice stated as a large compacted space suddenly slammed on top of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete and sent her crashing to the ground.

Chapter 1904 The Arch Demons Arrive

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete crashed to the ground as gravity suddenly become so intense that the physics that made her float vanished. A powerful gravitational field suddenly came down on her to the point that she hugged the ground itself. The distortion of the gravitational field was so unique that even a goddess with a body made of light crashed to the ground.

"Impossible! I am not affected by space!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete muttered as even her speech is a bit impeded due to suddenly suffering from the powerful gravitational pull from the ground.

"Atomic Smash!" Bronx shouted as his body suddenly expanded even more to the point where he was almost the same size as the gigantic gods.

A powerful purple meteor that was Bronx suddenly started its descent and the target was none other than the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could not escape as she was pinned down. She tried to turn her body into light beams, but she could not do so as if the gravity field that she was in is distorted to the point that light does not disperse.

"How! I am a goddess! The laws of this world should not affect me! Demons! Such anomalous beings should not be able to exist here! Do not tell me! You came from the V…" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete stated as she was actually not one of the dark gods that have fought an Asmodian since the one she mainly fought back then was the original god of light.

Before the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could even finish her statement, Bronx already landed on her with such overwhelming force that he created multiple cracks on the ground that spanned the entire battlefield. The force of a star is the only way to describe the power that Bronx has used as the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could barely stand up. Still, the dark goddess is not easily killed or defeated just like she said.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete suddenly fired a powerful beam of light from her sun womb that sent Bronx flying to the skies. A small layer of burns could be seen on Bronx' arms and legs but he was fine overall. He was a bit shocked that his barriers were not able to lessen the blow from the opponent, but he surmised that it is due to her being a High Goddess.

"Still, she is already at half health already. All we need is to make sure that she dies here." Ascalor stated as he suddenly spread his wings that looked like portals.

[The space around the battlefield has been reinforced thoroughly. All beings inside cannot escape without defeating the Arch Demon of Time Ascalor.]

A notification suddenly popped up on all the players as they could not believe such raw power. The ones that were not yet totally dead from the previous attack of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete suddenly floated slightly above ground. The torn limbs of the injured suddenly started to regrow or rather started to return as if time is being rewound.

[The Arch Demon of Time Koronn has restored the time for all allies in the area.]

"More people to help would be nice which is why restoring them should not be taboo right? They are not dead yet, so it is doable. Prayers for those that died as they will be remembered." Koronn stated as he casually flipped his hands to restore all of the injured back to the state of their prime.

"I was not able to kill her. I guess our powers are still not completely unsealed even if the world barrier has weakened once again." Bronx stated as he suddenly emitted a power shout.

[You have been affected by Demon's Primal Shout.]

[Seven succeeding spells or attacks will have 50% more damage.]

[Energy based spells or skills will have double the boost.]

[You have been temporarily blessed by the Arch Demon of Force Bronx.]

A powerful energy suddenly surged towards the players as they felt the immense buff that Bronx have given them. This was the most powerful attacking buff that any player has ever witnessed as it flatly increases any attack or spell by half. It would then be double the damage if the spell or attack was energy based which all players would at least have one or two in their arsenal of skills or attacks.

"Attack!" The Gods of War shouted as they were also buffed by the damage boost since they are still considered allies although their damage multiplier was lower.

"Did you think that I would allow all of you to destroy this body! Even if you managed to defeat me, I am eternal since no one present here could ever destroy me! I shall be a parasite to another host once again even in my defeat!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted as she was bombarded with lots of spells from both gods and mortals.

"What took you guys so long?" Adrian asked as he teleported near them.

"We actually had to fight those pesky gods of light that tried to destroy the dimensional stability to go to another world. Some of the gods of light are wreaking havoc around which is why there could be no reinforcements sent here. One even tried to attack Avalon, but Old Man Pann was there so that god became beast food." Ascalor stated as even they themselves have hurried here to aid.

"We have yet to relax as well, and we are not in full capacity. We have been mending the dimensions ever since that accursed goddess forcefully destroyed it. Good job for killer her but even I did not expect another one to suddenly sprout out from her body. A pain the behind even in her death." Koronn stated.

"Still, that goddess there is telling the truth. Gods from other dimensions cannot be destroyed unless a being with chaos energy destroys her soul. Some select Asmodian Daemos had such power and even a small minority of other Asmodian species but there are none now. The best we can do is seal the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete." Bronx stated.

"Who said that we do not have one?" Adrian stated as he suddenly showed something interesting to the Daemos Elders.

"What should we do?" The Goddess of War Bellona asked the other gods.

"Seal her as that is the only way to ever get rid of her." The God of War Virtus stated.

"If the Twin Gods are able to descend then they would be able to destroy her, but they would utterly destroy the world barrier should they do so." The Goddess of Life Freyja stated as even she is not privy to the situation that the Twin Gods are having.

"Attack her to the point that her divine essence is thoroughly exhausted!" The Goddess of War Bellona shouted as she looked at the other gods of war to give their final blessings.

[The Gods of War have united against the enemy and expects you to defeat her!]

[All beings that are allied to the Gods of War will have 30% increase in all of their stats.]

A powerful aura surged towards the players once more as they attacked the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. The dark goddess wanted to achieve flight once more, but the Gods of Water used their perfect control of the element to hold onto her. They even froze the water beneath the dark goddess to ensure that she will be rooted on the ground.

"AARGAHH!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted as she thrashed about. She even created more light tentacles which exploded from her sun womb.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could not escape as her porcelain limbs were frozen to the ground. She could not turn into light rays due to the odd nature of the space around her which is due to the demon flying above. Even if she wanted to hit the demons flying above to create a way for her to escape, the gods that she believed to be weak are now rallying the mortals to kill her.

"IT IS FINE! I am a being that is eternal now that there are no Chaosborne. The only one left of the Chaosborne is the entity that hides in the deepest part of the Void. I shall just wait once more as this is not the time for me to arise. Once the other gods and goddesses that allied with me descends, I shall rise once again." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete though to herself.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete believed this to be true as she did not even flinch at the beating that she was receiving from the gods and mortals around her. It was only when something from deep inside her suddenly twitched. A feeling that she has forgotten for a very long time suddenly surfaced and that is fear. She looked up and immediately started to generate as much divine power that she could.

Chapter 1905 Nether Meets Aether

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete looked up and felt the power of a Chaosborne from the skies above. She does not know which one among the demons had that faint aura of a Chaosborne but she did not want to stay and find out. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete definitely knows that the combinations of gods and mortals attacking her would definitely weaken her to the point that she might die of that Chaosborne attacks her.

"I must escape!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete thought to herself as she tried to protect herself from most of the attacks that are landing on her body.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete tried to melt the ice that bound her to the ground. She needed a chance to run away but she must not give the other gods the idea that she wants to escape. She knows that she only has one chance to escape once she finds a way to escape. Even if the demons are sealing the space in this area, there should always be a small loophole.

"I will escape even if I have to sacrifice my divine energy." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete thought as she used another attack.

"Ruinous Light!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted as the small sun womb suddenly exploded into light once again.

The light that exploded was not that powerful, but it did cover the entire battlefield. All of the players managed to defend themselves as some of the gods used more of their divine essence to protect them. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete did not care if her attack was defended against by the mortals or gods because that is not the real intention behind it.

The omnidirectional magic spell that the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete used was intended to scope out the sealed dimension. Her attack bounced off the sealed space and she was able to immediately know the weakest locations of the area. She was also able to see a faint weak link in the space which should be the hidden door that all distorted space has.

"I found it. I will be able to escape. Even if I have to destroy this current body and become as weak as a lesser god. I must run away." The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete thought to herself as she started the process of slowly creating a small clone hidden from the sight of the mortals and the gods.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was just biding her time while she created the small clone where her divine soul would reside. She also acted like she was struggling against the continued barrage of attacks from the gods and mortals. She was also making sure that the descended gods become weaker and use more attacks on her so that she will be able to escape easily later.

Adrian showed the Daemos Elders what happens when Nether energy gets combined with Aether energy. A powerful energy of unknown depth suddenly flared up for a moment before vanishing. Adrian was able to create what he calls Chaos Energy, but he could not sustain the two energies combined for a long time. He was only able to sustain it for a second if he does not have full concentration.

"How did you do that?!" Koronn asked as he was genuinely shocked.

"Impossible but I should not expect any less from you." Ascalor stated.

"We should at least expect that for him. He was always the wildcard in the entire Daemos Race. We should just be thankful that he did not go to the dark side." Bronx stated.

"I do not know if you are praising me or telling me that I was someone that could have brought the downfall of our entire race. Anyways, I need help if we are to destroy the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete." Adrian stated as he knew that only the Daemos Elders will truly be able to stop a god for a few seconds.

"What do you need of us?" Ascalor asked as he also needed to finish this battle as soon as he can.

The Daemos Elders intervened because they also needed to destroy the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. She was creating more rifts just by continuing to exist as a High Goddess in the mortal realm. A High Goddess should not be able to freely move in the mortal realm at this moment since it puts burdens on the world barrier.

"I need all of you to use the Combined Spell: Chained Reality." Adrian boldly declared which made the Daemos Elders raise their brows.

The spell that Adrian has told them is something that can hold a High Goddess in place for a maximum of one minute. One minute might not seem long but the fact that such magic could hold a High Goddess in place for that amount of time is nothing to scoff at. The Daemos Elders did not want to show that spell as that was actually for emergency situations, but they knew that such is the only way at this point.

"Prepare to destroy the goddess then. We will use the spell." Ascalor stated as Koronn and Bronx nodded as well.

The three Daemos Elders suddenly vanished from their place as they appeared at three different corners of the battlefield. The three Daemos Elders suddenly released a powerful wave of energy that has all of their respective elements. The gods and players could even feel the energy that the Daemos Elders released which actually shocked the gods as this was almost on par with lesser gods.

"I am the Incarnation of Time!" Koronn stated as a magic surge suddenly happened.

Time suddenly slowed down to the point that even light traveled slowly. The players could even see that the released attacks of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete is so sluggish. Only the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was slowed down due to the effects of the spell, but the players and the gods could move freely.

"I am the Incarnation of Force!" Bronx stated as another magic surge happened in his area.

As soon as Bronx used his spell, all the magic spells and even the attacks of the players and gods exploded with power. The power that they held suddenly became more powerful for a brief moment. Even the energy that the players needed became more vibrant and powerful to the point that they felt their body become livelier.

"I am the Incarnation of Space!" Ascalor stated as he used the last spell and the last magic surge that happened.

The space around the area suddenly became firm which resulted in the increase in movement speed of all the players. They felt that the world itself was much easier to move in and that gravity was lessened. Some people even stumbled as they were not used to the sudden shift of the space since their bodies are now lighter than before.

"We are the Guardians of Reality! You, Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete, has defiled the world for far too long. Punishment is a must. Supreme Magic: Chained Reality!" The three Daemos Elders stated as a large magic circle suddenly etched itself into the world itself.

All of a sudden, the world became a stand still as it fractured. The fractured reality held the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete in place as she felt that her entire body could not move. Try as she might but she could not even move her light tentacles that swayed freely. It was as if she was frozen in place by reality itself and it came as a shock even to the gods because they know that spell since the Asmodians often used it to calm to gods fighting.

[The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete has been frozen in place for a minute and thirty seconds.]

"Warriors! This is you time to destroy the goddess!" The Goddess of War Bellona shouted as she used all of her remaining divine energy and infused it onto her spear. All of the gods did the same as this was the moment that they needed to weaken the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. They only needed half a minute to seal her once she is weakened which meant that they have enough time.

"Alright, let us do this. Paradox, help me." Adrian stated as regulated both nether energy and aether energy in his body.

"We have approached the necessary levels, master. It is now time for you to use it." Paradox stated as he monitored the levels of energy that Adrian has in his body.

Adrian had a theory that his transformation of the Chaos Pierrot was affected by his control over Nether energy and Aether energy. He can perfectly control both energies when in his respective forms but that is not the case when both are mixed. This time, Adrian made sure to consolidate both energies before transforming and he felt a large amount of difference.

"Chaos Pierrot!" Adrian stated as his entire bodywas swallowed by an immense and unknown energy.

Chapter 1906 Chaos Mirror

Adrian felt a very different sensation than ever before as he was enveloped in a mysterious energy. He knew that the combination of nether and aether energy could produce chaos energy, but it was not exactly stable. His Chaos Pierrot form was indeed powerful, but it was too unpredictable.

Adrian's body is suddenly wrapped in what one can call clothes that is of a jester. It was the combined colors of aether and nether energy with a tinge of dark violet. His form is just like his Chaos Pierrot form but the only difference this time is that his face was missing.

Instead of a face, Adrian has a mirror as a mask unlike the usual clown mask that he wore. He also has six hands that freely float around space with mirrors that looked like black holes. This was a different form of the Chaos Pierrot once more which is quite peculiar for him, but he has no choice but to accept it.

[You have transformed into the Chaos Pierrot: Mirror Jester Form]

[All stats have been doubled and adjusted to fit your current form.]

Adrian looked around and could clearly see everything in full detail. He has the same omnidirectional sight when he is in his Mirror Demon form. The only difference is that his sight now covers up to ten times the range. His mirrors also take on the form of black holes as they do not entirely look like mirrors.

"What can I do?" Adrian thought as he suddenly created four black holes in a large size near the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

Adrian would then press his extra hands inside the black holes in his side. Upon doing so, the hands came out of the larger black holes in a much larger size. Adrian smiled but the others could not see it because he has the face of a mirror. Each of the large hands were not really enlarged physically but a manifestation of chaos energy.

Each of the four hands gripped the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. Upon having contact with her body, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete screamed in intense pain. The mere touch of Adrian's hands started to corrode the true body of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. The dark goddess would not have felt this much pain if she did not revive with her true body, but she did.

"AH! Unhand me!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted as her limbs could not move due to the powerful spell that the Daemos Elders used on her.

Adrian did not stop as he tried crushing the limbs of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. He felt great resistance as if he himself was gripping the large limbs of the dark goddess. Seeing that he needed to exert more pressure but could not burst the body of the goddess, Adrian used another method and that is pulling the body of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete from different directions.

The horrific scene of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete's body being pulled in four different directions could be seen in full view. Some could not even endure the sight and looked away, but Adrian was incredibly determined. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete is also determined as well but she was determined to get away alive.

Seeing that her body could not be able to hold on for much longer due to the bombardment of the gods, mortals, and even dragons, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete decided to quickly execute her plan. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete suddenly stopped fighting against the force that was pulling her apart. As soon as she did not fight back, Adrian was able to tear the limbs of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

Seeing a torn goddess is not for the faint of heart but golden blood sprayed forth. All the demigods that were waiting for divine energy made sure to get hit by the golden blood of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete as this would make their divinity stronger. Adrian was glad that the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was broken down, but he felt that it should not have been as simple as that.

Adrian noticed a subtle beam of light suddenly eject from the body of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. He thought that this would just be a natural reaction from a body of a goddess of light being pulled apart, but he sensed a soul in that beam of light. Adrian trusted his instincts and made sure to not cut any corners as there was no notification that he has killed the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

"Chaos Mirror!" Adrian shouted as this was the only skill that was available to him in his current form.

As soon as Adrian used the skill, reality itself started to bend which was even more trippy than the spell that the Daemos Elders used. Light became bent to the point that it does not even refract, and the sky became the ground. Everything in the entire battlefield became distorted as if everything was in chaos.

"What is happening?!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete thought as she was headed to the door of the sealed space.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was about to get out and be free as she was degraded to the strength of a lesser goddess. She even made sure to create other light beam clones to hide the fact that she was escaping. Before the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could head to the door, a large eye with a galaxy inside of it suddenly looked at her. The eye was as big as a small house which is considerably large.

"Found you!" Adrian stated as his mirror face suddenly reflected the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

The entire battlefield was filled with numerous eyes with galaxies inside of them as if the entire area became a god's domain. This was not a god's domain though as this was the power of an Arch Demon chosen by the Twin Gods.

Chapter 1907 Wail of a Goddess

One might think that Adrian's new form was just the jester but that was only the manifestation of his body. Adrian's true body itself was the entire mirrored reality that was created when his body became full of chaos energy. He fused with the small part of reality itself and his true body manifested for a brief moment of time when he found the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete.

As soon as Adrian saw the true body of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete, he suddenly emerged from the large mirror eye. Two black holes suddenly appeared next to the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. Emerging from these black holes are hands made of pure chaos energy which tightly gripped the dark goddess. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could no longer escape the grasp of the being in front of her.

"Impossible! Chaos should not have any creations! What did the Twin Gods do!?" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete cried out, but her words started to stutter as more and more chaos hands materialized to grip her.

Adrian suddenly muttered in a language that was not understandable to other gods and even the other mortals. Only the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete understood her as that was the language that her first civilization ever had. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete knew that should have been impossible because she has destroyed all of the beings in her universe.

"No! How!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete cried as Adrian used his main hands and created small black holes in front of him.

Two additional black holes appeared beside the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete and the chaos hands that manifested are now Adrian's actual hands. With a powerful grip, the powerful and eerie cry of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete started to echo in the distance. The cries of pain of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could be heard by the entire world as a High Goddess was dying once again.

The world first heard the sharp but fast cry of the Goddess of Light Luminaria, but they are now hearing the long and pained howls of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete started to utter words that could not be understood. She did manage to let out one last sentence before she was thoroughly put out.

"Chaos…is…back!" The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete shouted with all her might as if she was warning something before ultimately succumbing to the strength that Adrian used.

Adrian then used all of the chaos mirror eyes as it is called to create numerous hands that crushed the body of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete. With a powerful pop and an explosion of light, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was finally destroyed in her entirety. A powerful wave of divine energy became abundant in the area which made the demigods go crazy in collecting them.

The gods witnessed the death of a High Goddess, and it was not a simple death where their created body is destroyed. A real High Goddess was killed and erased by a being that possessed such fearsome energy. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was not killed like the Goddess of Light Luminaria as she was crushed by this overwhelming energy to the point that she could not even fight back.

Adrian could be seen laughing at the sight of the defeated goddess which made a chill in the hearts of the gods. It was not just the gods present that became scared of Adrian but also the gods that peeked on what was happening. Adrian suddenly looked up as if he was meeting the gazes of all the gods that looked down from their divine realms. As soon as Adrian looked up, all of his chaos mirror eyes suddenly manifested briefly and looked up as well before vanishing.

[The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete has been defeated.]

Adrian's form change was undone, and he fainted on the spot. The power that he used was not something that normal beings could use because that was already in the realm of the divine. The Daemos Elders immediately appeared near Adrian and whisked him away. The Daemos Elders were glad that the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was dead, but the stares of the gods were not something that they welcomed.

The somber and quiet atmosphere was a great shock because no one celebrated the defeat of two High Goddesses. The gods that were summoned were still in shock until all the mortals finally erupted in cheers. It was only the cheers of the mortals that woke up the gods from their stupor. The gods knew that they should give word to these mortals as they sacrificed so much to make sure that the world was safe.

"I am proud of you mortals! You all are recognized by the Goddess of War Bellona!" The Goddess of War Bellona shouted as all the mortals cheered loudly.

The players and even the mortal NPCs cheered as a power rushed towards their bodies because they received a title called Recognized by Bellona. All of those recognized by the Goddess of War Bellona have their damage increased by a 5% amount which is huge. Since the Goddess of War Bellona blessed the mortals already, the other gods used minor blessings as well which either healed those close to death or relieved the pain of their bodies.

The most shocking fact is that all of the players, mortals, and even dragons that participated in the battle earned bonuses on either their Luck stat or gained the Divinity stat. Although only a chosen few got the Divinity stat with a value of one, the fact that they unlocked this meant that they would be more powerful than ever when battling divine beings. Still, all of the players wondered what the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete meant in her last words before she exploded into light.

"Thank you once again, mortals. We shall now return back to our divine realms as we have stayed for long enough." The gods stated as they vanished and left their holy relics in their place.

Chapter 1908 Chaos Starts

"The fight to defeat the High Goddesses were much faster than we had expected." The Followers of the Dark Gods stated as they have just finished gutting a god that shined like the light of dawn.

The Followers of the Dark Gods did not participate in the subjugation of the Goddess of Light Luminaria. Even they were actually surprised that the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete was still alive inside the Goddess of Light Luminaria. The initial plan of the followers of the dark gods were to induce the Goddess of Light Luminaria into madness in order to turn her into a distorted goddess.

The sudden descent of gods using holy relics put a halt on that plan because they were unable to get close to the Goddess of Light Luminaria to inject the blood of a distorted god into her system. Seeing that they cannot do so, they opted to not take the risk as that would just alert the other gods on what they were planning to do. The followers of the dark gods started the hunt for the escaped gods of light.

The followers of the dark gods managed to hunt the number of gods that they needed in order for the ritual to succeed. This was one of the grand plans of the distorted gods in order to make the mortal world easier to descend. They would use the divine souls of the gods as catalysts in order to descend without fail. They have already proven the spell that the Goddess of Light Luminaria used, and they would just need some time to change it.

"Let us just hope that the others have finished their business. It is quite difficult to evade the eyes of the demons. Some of the gods of light were trapped in other dimensions because they caused quite a ruckus. Some gods of light managed to escape to other dimensions, but the others are still hunting them since extra divine essence is a must." One of the players that is a follower of a dark god stated.

"Chaos…is…back!"

[The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete has been defeated.]

The dying words of the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete could be heard in the entire world. Even the depths of the earth and the depths of the sea manage to decipher her words. The players did not know what this means but the sleeping primordial beasts that did not bother to wake up suddenly became active.

Huge storms and massive tidal waves were created in the areas where large bodies of water are. Inactive volcanoes that were said to have been sleeping suddenly started to explode in fire and ash. Lands that did not even have any fault lines started to shake and tremble as the earth beneath their feet opened up.

[The Primordial Beasts have awakened.]

[The Dawn of a New Age has begun.]

[The Gods that have gathered in Pandemonium has started to stir.]

[The world is changing once again.]

The players that were celebrating the defeat of the two high goddesses suddenly stopped as the sky suddenly became dark. They did not know what was happening, but the world barrier started to weaken. The players and even the people of Pandemonium do not know what is happening.

"Sacrifice it to me!" A voice suddenly called out to all Followers of the Dark Gods.

This voice was not familiar with any of them but one. Eldritch looked at the sky as he offered the two heads of the gods that he has slain. As soon as he did so, the heads of the gods that contained their divine essence vanished. All the other divine essences were sacrificed as well as if the being had full control over all of the followers of the dark gods.

"I shall give all of you… deliverance." An archaic voice that was filled with unknown power and chill echoed in the world.

The world barrier that was protecting the world from the dark gods suddenly started to get pierced by a sharp claw. The being that was on the other side was ripping the world barrier apart as if it was made of tofu. This even was seen in all parts of the world as a large being that was indescribable peeked into the universe of Pandemonium.

[The world barrier has been pierced by the God ?z??t??t?]

The world barrier that protected and also shield the universe of Pandemonium from the eyes of the foreign gods is suddenly pierced. As soon as the world barrier was pierced, the huge being that peeked made all those that saw its form faint on the spot. Those that were on the edge of being insane started to lose their minds as they saw the true form of the god that pierced the world barrier.

"Unforgivable!" A male voice suddenly shouted as a being of pure death manifested with great black armor and a terrifying aura.

"Leave!" A beautiful voice that has the symphony of the greatest songs could be heard as a being that was of verdant green with a beautiful rose veil appeared as well.

The large monstrous god looked at the two beings with its numerous eyes and started to attack them. The two gods of opposing nature were none other than the God of Death Abaddon and the Goddess of Life Gaea in their true form. The true form of the twin gods was revealed to the world as the veil that separated the mortal and divine realms is partially destroyed.

"Go back to sleep! Blind Idiot God!" The God of Death Abaddon shouted as he manifested his sword of pure death energy and slashed at the monstrous god that appeared.

A loud shriek could be heard as the monstrous god was hit by an energy that is foreign to its own body. The death energy that the God of Death Abaddon used is the nether energy that he managed to gather from the Nether Realm. The monstrous god did not stop just because it was attacked but it started to retaliate by sending numerous tendrils towards the mortal realm.

Chapter 1909 The Gods of Pandemonium Unite

The numerous tendrils that shot out from the divine domain of the monstrous god were countered by the Goddess of Life Gaea. The Goddess of Life Gaea made use of her powerful life energy and created numerous vines from her own divine realm to meet all of the tendrils. The monstrous god created an unknown noise as if it was dissatisfied and annoyed at the Goddess of Life Gaea.

"Gods of Pandemonium! Unite as one!" The Twin Gods shouted as they used the Rule of the Absolute.

The Rule of the Absolute is the way for the Twin Gods to make all the gods of Pandemonium obey them without question. Although, they cannot use this again as they can only do it once every thousand years. All of the Gods of Pandemonium heeded the call of the Twin Gods as they appeared at the ripped sky.

Gods of different sizes and shapes appeared in their true forms and attacked the monstrous entity. All of the gods used powerful spells that all hit the body of the monstrous god that has the form of numerous tendrils and eyes. All of them united under one banner and the world itself witnessed the power of the gods.

All the mortals and even the players that were still awake started to pray. All they could do was pray because the power of mortals would not be able to reach the power of that monstrous god. Even the gods themselves were having great difficulty in pushing back the monstrous god back to its own divine realm.

"Stop it! Its presence would summon the other distorted gods! We must not let it open the world barrier anymore than this!" The Twin Gods commanded as even the gods knew that the world would be destroyed and created anew if this monstrous god arrives in the mortal realm.

Even the gods that had fights and offences against one another made sure to unite. If the mortal realm is destroyed and recreated, then they also have a high chance of vanishing. Some gods die or vanish if they are forgotten which is why the gods are basically fighting for their lives. The Twin Gods did not know why this was suddenly happening as this monstrous god should not have been able to even see this universe as they have hidden it quite well.

"Its that darn dark goddess that was just killed. She uttered forbidden words that made our universe visible for a split moment!" The God of Death Abaddon stated as even he was able to hear those words despite being in the Nether Realm.

"Brother! We have no choice. The gods are still weakened and have yet to recover. We must do it!" The Goddess of Life Gaea stated as she called upon all of the gods and goddesses of life.

"As you said sister! That thing has already attached itself to the dimensional walls. We must do it." The God of Death Abaddon stated as he also called upon all the gods of death.

The gods of life and death looked at each other and nodded to one another. All of them took the burden that the Twin Gods had when the monstrous god appeared. As soon as the gods of life and death managed to hold down the entrance of the monstrous god to the mortal realm, the Twin Gods suddenly clasped hands with one another.

"We, the Twin Gods, call upon the might of the creator. Give us the power to push back the entity that should not be." The Twin Gods stated as both of them looked at the direction of the Tree of Life and Death that has already taken root in the mortal realm.

The Tree of Life and Death that looked like an entwined dead and full of life tree suddenly started to unravel. Adrian, who was already in Avalon, suddenly woke up as he was taken to the twin prophets to get healed. He managed to see the sight of the grand tree of life and death uncoil itself and split apart.

A shard of pure cosmic energy that resonated deeply with Adrian could be seen inside the Tree of Life and Death. Adrian felt a trance as if the shard was calling to him, but he stopped his hand because he was not powerful enough to handle it. The cosmic shard suddenly flew up high into the sky and headed towards the twin gods.

The monstrous god saw the cosmic shard and its tendrils started to go crazy as if it was agitated to the highest degree. The monstrous god wanted to destroy the Twin Gods as soon as possible as they were the ones that called upon the cosmic shard. It was a power that even the powerful monstrous god that even hundreds of gods could not defeat is afraid of.

"Chaos Cosmic Shard! Come to our aid!" The Twin Gods shouted as the shard suddenly appeared between them.

As soon as the Chaos Cosmic Shard is activated, the Twin Gods suddenly became pure energy and melted inside the shard. A powerful energy suddenly exploded as the shard started to become bigger as it started to grow limbs to create a humanoid body. If the monstrous god was an entity that was powerful, the being that emerged from the combination of the Twin Gods were almost equally as powerful.

[The Personification of Pandemonium has arrived.]

[The Demiurge has arrived.]

A being that has both the traits of the God of Death Abaddon and the Goddess of Life Gaea was created upon their fusion. This was true fusion as both life and death energy seamlessly flowed around the Demiurge. The monstrous god tried its best to kill the Demiurge, but a powerful wall of life and death energy suddenly filled the area.

"Turn Null!" The Demiurge stated as a powerful energy suddenly escaped its body and created a powerful beam of energy that pushed the monstrous god back to its own divine realm.

"Recreation!" The Demiurge stated as the ripped world barrier was fixed and all the gods vanished from the sky as the mortal and divine realm is separated once again.

Chapter 1910 Server Upgrade: Epsilon

As soon as the gods were no longer in view, the people managed to get back their breaths as they held it for far too long. They were either too engrossed or too afraid of the fight that was happening in the heavens above them. The Gods of Pandemonium had literally fought another godlike entity from another universe.

The players that were able to witness the fight and even those that streamed the fight against the light goddesses were able to capture everything. They were able to glimpse at the true bodies of all the gods of Pandemonium. Although some were faraway from view, they were able to see their outlines which showed just how much gods there are in the universe.

The most amazing thing that happened is the fusion of the Twin Gods via a strange shard of cosmic energy. The Twin Gods formed into a being called the Demiurge which looked incredibly cool and graceful at the same time. The players that managed to see the outline even started to paint the form of what they saw from the Demiurge.

Some painted a veil of pure darkness that resembled the death energy while some created a version of a vined armor. Although each have their own interpretation of the Demiurge, they were able to see the core of the being that was born from the fusion of the twin gods. A core was present in the body of the Demiurge which had an interstellar galaxy inside of it.

What the players do not know is that the Demiurge does not look the same to all those that have gazed upon it. To those that know of the Twin Gods and is of a good soul, they would see the Demiurge like a godlike entity that combines life and death. To the ones that bring harm to the world like the evil gods, they would see the Demiurge as a being of pure destruction that would erase their existence.

[Attention all players! There will be a server update for the next 72 hours real time.]

[The game will be shut down for the next 72 hours.]

[All players will be logged out of the game in 10 minutes.]

[Players that are inside dungeons will be able to save their progress and continue after logging back into the game. (As long as they are not in battle with bosses)]

[Players that are in battle with bosses will automatically defeat the boss and clear their respective quest or dungeon, but the rewards taken from the boss will be randomized.]

After the sudden show of gods fighting in the skies above, numerous system messages popped up for all of the players. The next server wide update is about to commence and told the players to make sure that their progress is done. Adrian is also one of those players as he could see the Tree of Life and Death intertwine once again to reform its body. He was about to ask the Tree of Life and Death what the shard in its body was, but the game immediately froze.

[You will now be logged out in 10 seconds.]

Adrian's gaming pod opened up as well as his sisters and cousins. All of them looked worn down as they fought as soon as they dove in the game. The sudden return back to the real world made them sleepy as all of them slept which made them skip dinner. The nagging of the parents came the morning after as all of them were too hungry by the time that breakfast arrived the next morning.

Adrian and his family spent leisure time with their extended family. Since the game was upgrading for three days, he and his cousins managed to look around the ancestral home and found other things to enjoy. Adrian was able to enjoy the last days of his stay in their ancestral home before going back home. He also learned of the personalities of all his cousins and other family members.

"Thank you for being warm to us, grandpa." Adrian stated.

"Yes, thank you very much." Mina added.

"Well… come and give your grandpa a goodbye hug then." Adrian's grandfather stated as he hugged him and Mina.

"We have to go now but make sure to always keep in touch." Adrian's mother stated as she has finally softened up to her father.

"And you! Make sure to make my little girl happy or else that neck of yours will go rolling down." Adrian's grandfather stated to Adrian's father.

"Dad! Do not joke around like that." Adrian's mother stated.

"I do not think that he was joking, honey." Adrian's father mumbled as he has learned some things upon staying for a long time here in his wife's ancestral home.

"Just make sure that she is happy and healthy. That is all that I am going to require of you." Adrian's grandfather stated as he looked softly at Adrian's parents.

"I will even to my last breath." Adrian's father stated as he shook the hand of Adrian's grandfather.

"Bye!" Adrian and his family stated as they entered the van and returned back home.

In the headquarters of Atlas, all of the employees could be seen checking all of the data needed for the next server update. This was a server update and not a patch as there was too much that happened. The employees were monitoring everything that happened during the fight with the Goddess of Light Luminaria.

They were making sure that every possible scenario would happen, but they always prayed that one scenario does not come to pass. But it seems that they were unlucky because the scenario that they did not want to happen has come. The Goddess of Light Luminaria truly died due to the Chosen Nephilim bypassing her divine soul.

If the Chosen Nephilim was not captured and taken hostage, the Goddess of Light Luminaria would have only descended via a created body. She would be much easier to defeat without the death of numerous demigods and mortals. The descent of the true body of the Goddess of Light Luminaria was the start of the events that the Atlas employees dreaded.

The descent of numerous gods also made their hearts beat fast as that is not a scenario they wanted to happen as well. The descent of numerous gods meant that the Goddess of Light Luminaria would fight with all that she has. The High Gods in the game are not controlled or rather they were independent of the game developers since they became like that independently.

The AI that controlled the High Gods are very intelligent as they have thousands of years' worth of story data embedded into them. The developers could intervene somewhat via a third party, but they could never control a High God or those above that rank. The developers actually prayed that the Goddess of Light Luminaria would escape and recover her strength.

Unfortunately for the developers, the Goddess of Light Luminaria refined her entire divine realm which led her to not even escaping. The battle would have ended if she just quietly accepted the fate of being sealed back into her divine realm, but she did not. She heard the prayers of the mortals thanking other gods in sealing her back and what a terrible goddess she was.

The Goddess of Light Luminaria became mad which the developers used as a term for AI becoming unpredictable. In the end, the Goddess of Light Luminaria was killed due to her anger and pride. Due to the true death of the Goddess of Light Luminaria, the Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete emerged from her dead body.

The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete should have been another powerful boss monster if she was given another year feeding from the faith that the Goddess of Light Luminaria acquired. The Dark Goddess of Light Zehirete would have devoured the Goddess of Light Luminaria or fused with her to create a powerful goddess of light hybrid that will become an ultimate boss that will destroy the world barrier permanently.

The destruction of the world barrier would have prompted the next server update with another code instead of the one now. The Server Upgrade: Epsilon pertains to the coming of the Primordial Beasts as they have risen from the world. It also pertains to the other worlds slowly fusing to the main world. The already large main world is now expanding tenfold due to the sudden appearance of the god they call A.

"To think that Server Upgrade: Epsilon actually happened. This would make the world even more harsh for players as they are no longer just sharing the world with gods but also the Primordial Beasts." The head developer stated but he was weirdly happy.

"Please do not smile just because your creations are now rising. It has already become tiring for all of us to cope up with all the updates that would happen in three days. The overtime is already killing my soul even though my wallet is becoming fat." The sub lead developer stated as he tried chewing on the takeout that he ordered while he worked.
