

O Summoner 1971

Chapter 1971 Battle with the Venti I

All of the Venti that they were battling were hit by the Star Dragon's Strike. A starry dragon silhouette passed all of them that is also empowered by nether energy. All of the Venti experienced pain for the first time in their lives as nether energy is actually poisonous to them. The Five Venti that were fighting with great vigor suddenly screamed in pain.

The Nubeshumana thought that the onslaught would be done but Adrian did not let up. Another combination of Star Ascends and Star Descends which made his spear glow with the silhouette of a starry dragon. He once again used Time Stop but he could only get a trajectory of three of the five Venti.

Adrian kept attacking until the Nubeshumana got destroyed. In a powerful blast of dark clouds and lightning, the Nubeshumana got destroyed due to Adrian's persistence. The monsters might have been powerful but repeated attacks empowered with nether energy would destroy them in mere minutes. They were named monsters, but they were not on the level of a dungeon boss monster that has large pools of health.

[You have killed the Nubeshumana.]

[You have received experience points for killing the monster.]

[You have killed a named monster. You will receive bonus experience points.]

"Let us deal with the next." Adrian stated but all of the remaining Venti became angered.

[You have killed one of the Five Venti that is part of a family.]

[The remaining four Venti will have their stats increase by 5%.]

[You have been tagged as the Mortal Enemy of the Nubes Venti Family. You will receive additional 10% damage from any member of this family.]

[As a result of being a target of great natural monsters, you will receive a permanent bonus to your Wind Resistance by about 5%.]

"Oh! I think that would be a bit difficult now." Adrian stated as he suddenly felt thousands of gazes towards him.

It was not only the remaining four Venti that has locked on him as a target. He is also targeted by all of the storm spirits around him. The storm spirits are all following the commands of the Venti which meant that Adrian has already poked the hornet's nest and he is in the middle of it. He has all the wrath of the enemies that attacked his territory.

"I guess I should not hold back as well and transform. Summon Primordial Armament: Bow! Perfect Assimilation: Kanlaon!" Adrian shouted as he knew that he cannot stop the attacks by himself or even tank it by himself.

Adrian's form suddenly changed to that of an archer and also fused with Kanlaon. The Demon Dragon archer is present in the battlefield and his entire body is bursting with all of the elements. The dragon balls floated around Adrian while his nether energy coated his body. Primordial energy is also present in his bow which also emits a different kind of pressure.

All of the storm spirits that were supposed to charge towards Adrian suddenly stopped as he roared. Adrian released his dragon roar that is not only filled with dragon might but also his Asmodian might. The might of two powerful existences made the entire battlefield be put to a stop.

"Really effective." Adrian stated as he prepared the skill that he already started to use.

All six of the dragon balls suddenly floated above his head and circled around it. The dragon orbs created the same magic circle that Kanlaon creates when he fires off his dragon breath. Adrian pulled on the bow hard as powerful mana surged and created a large mana arrow.

"Stardust Rain!" Adrian shouted as he released the arrow upwards into the sky.

The arrow flew towards the skies and created a large golden magic circle. The magic circle would then get destroyed as it scattered multiple small stars to the ground. All of the stars that rained down were enchanted with the elements that formed the dragon orbs. There was even a golden aura that coated all of the stars which increased the power of the attack.

"I should not stop! Meteor Star!" Adrian stated as he aimed at the enemy that Kanlaon was facing earlier.

Adrian's target is none other than the Nubesalata which is none other than the humanoid with dark cloud wings. The Nubesalata was able to detect the killing intent and defended itself after protecting itself from the falling stars that Adrian has created. The Nubesalata created a magic circle in front of it which released a powerful blast of lightning.

The Meteor Star arrow that is supposed to hit the Nubesalata is easily destroyed. Adrian did not think that it was possible since his stats are also boosted greatly when he is fused by Kanlaon, but the enemy is not weak. The Nubesalata was the greatest spell caster in the battlefield when it come to lightning magic. Even the other storm spirits would avoid its lightning spells due to the fear of getting destroyed.

"Let us see if you can defend against this!" Adrian stated as he flew up high and used all of his energy for the next attack.

"Andromeda!" Adrian muttered as he surged with powerful energy once again, but the focal point was his bow.

The Nubesalata tried to stop Adrian from casting the skill as it knew that the mana fluctuation that its enemy created is very unnatural. The Nubesalata felt the danger and casted more spells towards Adrian but there was a dragon orb that can absorb lightning. Even if that dragon orb cannot absorb light all of the lightning magic, the earth dragon orb could easily absorb the rest.

"Too bad." Adrian stated as he finished channeling all of the power and released the arrow that looked like a starry universe.

As soon as Adrian released the arrow, it only flew by a few meters because it already hit one of the storm spirits that charged towards him. A powerful explosion of energy that not only contained primordial energy but also the other elements occurred. The power of the explosion affected a large area that actually destroyed the storm spirits in a fifty-meter radius.

The explosion radius would have been much bigger if not for the Nubesalata. The Nubesalata created a powerful lightning barrier that managed to suppress some of the explosion but that also come at a cost. The Nubosalata used most of its own natural energy that made up its body to empower the barrier which resulted to having its wings destroyed.

The Nubosalata looked like it was in a sorry state because it is not just its wings that were destroyed. Parts of its body like its head and an arm were no longer getting regenerated even though it was made of lightning. The Nubosalata tried to even conjure spells, but it was unable to do so easily. Just as it was about to try and regenerate its body, Adrian appeared behind it and slashed it with his sword.

[You have killed the Nubosalata.]

[You have killed a named monster. You will receive bonus experience points.]

[You have killed one of the Five Venti that is part of a family.]

[The remaining three Venti will have their stats increase by 5%.]

Adrian has already transformed to a different form and made sure to finish off the opponent. He knew that the Nubosalata might regenerate which is why he slashed it down before it could. The remaining three Venti suddenly became more agitated as two of their family members are killed without even a chance of being reborn.

All of the three Venti that took the form of monsters suddenly emitted a powerful burst of lightning that also rained down on the area. Charon and Sirius tried their best to destroy the lightning burst attack of the Venti that they are facing but it was not enough. The players around them were turned to dust by the lightning burst.

Only Kimat was able to destroy the attack of the Nubesequus since he can devour lightning itself. The Nubesequus looked at Kimat with disdain and anger as it made its revenge useless. Since Sirius and Charon were unable to control their respective Venti opponents, the two Venti were able to charge towards Adrian. In just a few breaths, Adrian is now sandwiched between the Nubesursi and the Nubesaquillae.

"Charon! Hide me in the pocket dimension!" Adrian shouted as the two Venti suddenly released burst of lightning where he is located.

Charon suddenly appeared near his master and abducted him inside the pocket dimension. The lightning blasts that were supposed to kill Adrian hit nothing. The Nubesursi and the Nubesaquillae were incredibly angry that they were unable to hit their intended target. Since the target was gone, the Nubesursi and the Nubesaquillae wreaked havoc on the players below them.

The Nubesaquillae flew close to the players and created supersonic bursts that destroyed their bodies. The Nubesursi charged at the players with its body coated with thick lightning and anyone that touches it would turn to dust.

Chapter 1972 Battle with the Venti II

Adrian got out of the pocket dimension to see the carnage that the Nubesursi and the Nubesaquillae has done. Both of the named monsters managed to kill a lot of players, but they were able to be saved thanks to Dodu's effort. The newly revived players were suddenly wrapped in a slime film and hastily carried over to the area where Saena's heal, and Wisteria's Cleanse takes place.

The number of players might be getting decreased, but they were never getting killed unless they are super unlucky. The super unlucky ones were the players that revived but also got killed immediately when a storm spirits self-destructs with them. Fortunately for the super unlucky ones is that there are Priests from the Church of the Twin Gods.

If the players were not revived on time via Resurrection, then they would be revived as undead to continue the fight. This made some players continue the fight and even get sturdier as they have become undead. The players that had to use stamina as a resource were the ones overjoyed as they can spam their skills.

The storm spirits were the ones decreasing but the players kept getting revived in one way or another. Adrian saw the Nubesursi and the Nubesaquillae wreaking havoc in different directions which is why he called upon Charon and Sirius to get their attention. Both of his soulbounds managed to get the attention of the two but they were still in different directions which is why Adrian needed to decide.

"Let us kill that pesky bird first as it deals sonic booms. Primordial Armament: Twin Daggers! Perfect Assimilation: Sirius!" Adrian stated as he changed his form seamlessly.

[You have perfectly assimilated with your soulbound Sirius.]

[All stats have been adjusted.]

Adrian's form changed to that of a ninja like demon wolf humanoid. He also got twin daggers that gleamed like the stars in the sky with wolflike features. Adrian suddenly vanished from his location as he appeared behind the Nubesaquillae.

"Primordial Surge!" Adrian muttered as he jammed his two daggers behind the Nubesaquillae.

Adrian would have not easily hit the Nubesaquillae, but he also applied Time Stop to accurately hit the named monster. The Nubesaquillae was not able to evade nor become gaseous when the daggers hit because Adrian also enchanted it with nether energy. One could see the Nubesaquillae screech in pain as it and Adrian started to crash to the ground.

The Nubesaquillae screamed its commands to the storm spirits and all of them came to catch the falling named monster. Adrian smiled but his face cannot be completely seen as he has a lower face mask because he can now attack an area. Adrian activated all of the energy within his body as he can always get more once he attacks a target.

"Veiled Rush!" Adrian shouted as his body suddenly vanished as a thin coat of mana is scattered in a large area.

Adrian rarely used this skill in his twin dagger form as it is incredibly flashy. The area that Adrian has chosen is suddenly filled with countless slashes of one-meter sizes. The slashes were incredibly flashy because they would literally rip the fabric of space. Any enemy that gets caught with also get additional damage and also bleeding.

The bleeding effect did not trigger thought as the storm spirits do not bleed since they are made up of natural gas and lightning. Since the storm spirits cannot bleed, Adrian's slashes need to hit at least three times to kill the storm spirits. The most important thing is that the Nubesaquillae is still getting hit.

The Nubesaquillae could be seen getting numerous rips and tears as Adrian's onslaught continued. The storm spirits that obeyed his command to catch it were all dissipated due to Adrian's attack, but some still stood strong. Still, the Nubesaquillae could not keep up with the regeneration as Adrian's attack contained neither energy enchanting it.

"Truth Seeker! Primordial Surge!" Adrian stated as all of the enemies around him suddenly became like a skeletal frame in his eyes.

The bodies of the enemies around him have all their weaknesses revealed. Adrian did not care about the other storm spirits because he has chosen the Nubesaquillae as the target. Adrian once again appeared behind the Nubesaquillae but struck his daggers at its head where the weak point is.

All of Adrian's hits destroyed 10% of the health that the Nubesaquillae had. The Nubesaquillae screamed with each of Adrian's hits, and it disappeared in a puff of smoke on the fifth hit. He was able to kill the Nubesaquillae because he activated the instant kill ability of the Truth Seeker skill.

[You have killed the Nubesaquillae.]

[You have killed a named monster. You will receive bonus experience points.]

[You have killed one of the Five Venti that is part of a family.]

[The remaining three Venti will have their stats increase by 5%.]

[The remaining Venti shall evolve into the next stage due to their immense wrath that they have for you.]

[The Nubesursi and the Nubesequus have temporarily evolved into Maius Venti.]

As soon as the notification was received, the Nubesursi and the Nubesequus suddenly changed color as they were no longer pure blue. Both of them were tainted with red lightning with an added effect of an aura that deals percent health damage. The two named monsters became enraged and entered another phase despite them not being boss monsters or field bosses.

"Tch! It is due to the influence of the Eye of the Storm." Adrian stated as he saw the transfer of energy to the two remaining Venti from the middle of the large dark cloud where the Eye of the Storm hides.

Adrian would have targeted the Eye of the Storm first, but it seems that this territory defense has stages. The Eye of the Storm is also incredibly hidden that even Adrian and Paradox' combined perception could not detect it unless it shows itself. Adrian once again looked at the two remaining Venti that are now Maius Venti.

The Nubesursi not only became bigger, but its figure became more solid. Its armor is now more prominent as red lightning coursed through its body. With each of its roars, lightning would rain down on the battlefield and strike a random enemy. Due to its bigger size, even Dodu could not save the allies that are caught in its area.

The Nubesequus also changed as its main that is made of sparkling lightning turned red as well as its body. The entire body of the Nubesequus became so powerful that it actually out sped Kimat. On Kimat's body, one could see a red scar that was done by the empowered Nubesequus.

"Hang on, Kimat! I shall aid you!" Adrian stated via their soul link, but the Nubesursi suddenly dematerialized into lightning and appeared next to Adrian.

"What the heck!" Adrian exclaimed as he tried to escape via blink but the arm of the Nubesursi was too fast to evade compared to before.

Adrian got sent flying backwards, but he was able to use blink to change his trajectory. He reappeared a few meters away from the Nubesursi with a new armament on his hands. Adrian summoned his scythe armament. Due to using Perfect Assimilation, Adrian could not resummon both Sirius and Kanlaon, but he did not stop.

"Rewind!" Adrian muttered as he once again made sure that his skill would take off the cooldown from the Perfect Assimilation skill.

Adrian chose Charon for the target this time and they easily fused together. The sight of a chained demon wraith could be seen floating in the area Adrian was before. Adrian felt that the transformations that he chose this battle were spot on as they were like the perfect matches for each of his soulbounds.

[You have perfectly assimilated with your soulbound Charon.]

"Destroy him!" The voice of the Nubesursi shouted as he released a powerful surge of lightning mana in the area that also empowered the storm spirits in the area.

All the storm spirits around the Nubesursi turned red and became more powerful but they also became violent. The players were also alarmed as all of the storm spirits that they were fighting turned around and charged towards Adrian. The hood that Adrian prevented any being from seeing his face but if one could see it then they would see that he is extremely calm.

"Anti-matter!" Adrian stated with a rough voice.

Adrian suddenly released a powerful aura that is actually a wave of anti-matter that was actually incredibly dangerous for beings made of natural energy which is filled with matter. All of the storm spirits that charged were turned to literal dust which should not happen, but it was the result of the collision. All of the enraged storm spirits could be seen to snap out of their state as fear is planted into them. As they were about to turn back, chains suddenly spread out from points in space that pulled them towards the anti-matter wave.

Chapter 1973 Battle with the Venti III

Dust scattered in the area which is the residue that appears when matter and anti-matter collide. All of the storm spirits were now afraid of getting close to Adrian, but he was not. Adrian can clearly see what Charon feels or senses in his current form. He could feel all the life force of every being in the area which can greatly his senses.

"Cosmic Cull!" Adrian stated as he used the first skill of the scythe armament, but something happened while he was doing that.

Thousands of chains suddenly came out of Adrian's body and also the area around him as if the chains came from another dimension. All of the storm spirits in the area were suddenly linked to the chains as they were forcibly dragged towards Adrian as well. He used the principle of force to pull all he enemies that he has linked with him.

With a large swing of his scythe, Adrian destroyed thousands of storm spirits with one attack. Unlike the ones before that turned into dust, the storm spirits that he destroyed turned into a puff of smoke. They were all sent to the underworld as they have lost all vitality in the mortal realm. They may be a force of nature, but they also possess souls since they have gained sentience.

The Nubesursi was also linked to Adrian, but it was able to repel the force and stayed safe. The chains might not have been able to pull it, but it was still being subjected to the health and mana drain that the chains possess. Adrian could see his health slowly getting filled to the brim as the excess became a life shield. If it was overflowing, Adrian would share the excess to all the players around him via the chain link.

[You have managed to singlehandedly destroy 5% of the total forces of the supernatural storm.]

[The strength of the Supernatural Storm has decreased by 3%.]

[You will gain 10% more damage while the siege is still active.]

[You now have become a target of the Supernatural Storm.]

Adrian welcomed the buffs and other things, but he did not welcome the last notification. He thought what the last notification meant but he did not need to do so. The Eye of the Storm suddenly appeared for a split second before releasing a blast of red lightning towards Adrian which he easily avoided. The players or storm spirits behind him were not that lucky though as they turned to particles of light.

[The Eye of the Storm will now attack you every minute with a lightning blast that will deal 5% of your health if you get hit.]

As if trying to say that the attack earlier was just a welcome attack, another bolt of red lightning surged towards Adrian, but this one was smaller than the previous attack. He did not evade the attack this time but tested the strength of the chains that he can conjure. Adrian sliced the air with his scythe as it opened rift where chains suddenly poured out and defended him from the red lightning bolt.

The Nubesursi used the distraction that the lightning bolt did to suddenly scatter its body into lightning once again to appear behind Adrian. Unlike before that Adrian did not easily sense the Nubesursi, he was able to follow the life force that Charon can easily sense. Chains suddenly appeared behind Adrian as it came out of nowhere, but it was able to give him enough time to gain some distance.

"Fortunately, I have just the skill that can defeat you. I am lucky to have this one added when I transformed. Ghogiel's Domain!" Adrian stated as the entire area is suddenly covered in a thin film of unknown energy.

[You have used Ghogiel's Domain.]

[You are lucky as all enemies in the domain are stunned for 2 seconds.]

[All enemies inside the domain have been applied a 90% movement speed slow for the first ten minutes that the domain is active.]

[All of your stats will be doubled for the duration of the domain.]

The Nubesursi felt something that he has never even felt before as it is suddenly stunned by an unknown force. Adrian's form also slightly changed a bit as Charon changes form when the domain activates. The entire area suddenly had a red fog swirling which is not due to the Supernatural Storm, but it was made by Adrian.

Adrian also looked half a meter bigger as his body grew due to the domain. Chains suddenly started to be heard and even silhouettes of it can be seen around them. The entire area around Adrian could be seen to be locked by these chains. He held out his hand and chains suddenly bound the Nubesursi immediately which made it unable to escape the next attack that he will do.

"Cosmic Cull!" Adrian stated as he slashed at the Nubesursi.

"Anti-Matter!" Adrian added immediately as he has recently affected it with the first skill.

[The targets affected with Cosmic Cull will have their stun duration increased.]

The Nubesursi could no longer move as it has been trapped and now it has been stunned for five seconds. All of the chains that struck its body actively sucked the life force and mana inside of it until only a portion of its health is lost. The Nubesursi tried to find the being that turned in into this pitiful state, but it was unable to find Adrian.

"Universal Threat." Adrian muttered as he appeared behind the Nubesursi.

With one powerful swipe, Adrian cut off the head of the incredibly weakened Nubesursi. The decapitated head rolled down before turning into a puff of smoke. The domain that Adrian summoned has lost its effectiveness as the Perfect Assimilation has been cancelled. Just like his other soulbounds, he cannot summon Charon for a specific time.

[You have killed the Nubesursi.]

[You have killed a named monster. You will receive bonus experience points.]

[You have killed one of the Five Venti that is part of a family.]

[The remaining Venti will have their stats increase by 5%.]

Chapter 1974 Battle with the Venti IV

[There is now only one remaining Venti left in the battlefield. Defeat it and all the remaining storm spirits will scatter.]

[The Nubesequus will have all its stats increase by 10%.]

As soon as the notification was given to all the players, a pure violet lightning hit the Nubesequus. The pure violet lightning changed the color of the red Nubesequus to red violet. The aura around it became intense that just one stomp of its hoof can create a sonic boom. Kimat, who was facing it, did not back down but even showed off his prestige.

"Last one!" Adrian stated in a cocky tone which made the Nubesequus furious.

"Die, demon scum!" The Nubesequus stated as its voice was deep.

The Nubesequus charged towards Adrian at incredibly speed which he actually failed to catch with his own eyesight. Kimat had to roar and turn into a bolt of lightning that came down in front of Adrian. The Nubesequus turned into red violet lightning while Kimat turned into silver lightning and clashed with one another.

An incredibly burst of light that blinded everyone could be seen in the area where Adrian has been. Adrian's ears started ringing as it was only the blinding light that he was subjected to but also two loud sounds created by two powerful beasts. Kimat could be seen having a bit of char on his fur while the Nubesequus could be seen having a claw mark on its body.

In that split second, Kimat and the Nubesequus was able to exchange blows, but no one was the winner. They were now at the same power level with one another which actually shocked Adrian. Kimat is a divine beast and is also boosted in power when he is inside of Adrian's territory. This is also the reason why no guild would even be brave enough to challenge Adrian to a defensive war as he is more powerful in Avalon.

"Let us quickly kill him as the storm is starting to consolidate its power." Adrian stated as he can feel that the supernatural storm is now condensing its own power.

A random lightning bolt surged once again to Adrian, but Kimat was there beside him. The lightning bolt did not hit Adrian but is redirected towards Kimat as he acted as his master's lightning rod. Kimat did not even feel the lightning bolt hit him as he just brushed it off like air hitting his fur.

"I also want to fight with master. The other brothers had their turn." Kimat stated while he looked at Adrian cutely even though he was a large tiger monster, but Adrian is weak when it comes to his soulbounds requests.

"You are lucky that I can now freely use Rewind." Adrian stated but he still had to pay an exorbitant amount of mana to use it. Just like earlier, Adrian turned back the cooldown of Perfect Assimilation.

"Primordial Armament: Axe! Perfect Assimilation: Kimat!" Adrian stated as he started to fuse with Kimat.

Adrian's form this time is quite different than before, but he still has the aesthetic of a demon tiger beastman. He has full heavy armor with the aesthetic of a silver tiger with lightning bolts as stripes. He also has a large axe that has the silhouette of the head of a tiger which is close to Kimat's face. The noticeable difference is that Adrian's aura that already made everyone want to bow to him has increased. A crown of lighting could even be seen on top of Adrian to signify that he has fused with a divine beast that has the title of emperor.

[You have fused with Kimat.]

[You have gained the Lightning Emperor Skill.]

[You have gained the Gha Agsheblah Domain skill.]

[You have gained the Disturber of All Things skill.]

"I guess I am really lucky today." Adrian stated as his current appearance exuded the presence of a great ruler.

"Impossible! There is only one King of the Skies, and it is him that proudly sits on the throne of Olympus!" The Nubesequus shouted as it almost bowed down to Adrian.

"Why is that the god that created this mess? The one that released you from your prisons so that you can run wild once again. Only a foolish god will release all of you Venti as you are forces of nature that were born to just destroy." Adrian stated as the knowledge that Kimat has is also transferred to him.

The knowledge about the Venti was not researched by Kimat but is rather inherited from his bloodline. A divine beast that rules over lightning would definitely have knowledge of beings that use the wind element. Kimat could not easily say this to his master, but he is glad that the knowledge was given when they fused together.

"How do you know the secret of the winds! Did that blasted feline tell you?! Needless to say, you shall die today as commanded by the God of Skies that freed us! Brothers! I shall avenge you with the strength that you have given me!" The Nubesequus shouted as the entire area suddenly had red violet lightning rain down.

"A feeble last cry before your expected demise!" Adrian stated as he just raised his axe upwards to absorb all the red lightning that came surging towards him.

"Star Splitter!" Adrian shouted as all the energy that he has absorbed using the axe is added unto the powerful strike he did which headed towards the Nubesequus. The Nubesequus was hit by the powerful shockwave which even contained its own lightning and it staggered.

"Impossible!" The Nubesequus shouted as it cannot believe that lightning itself would damage it.

"I will end this. Gha Agsheblah Domain!" Adrian stated as the entire area was once again filled with an unknown energy.

[You shall now transform to the Disturber of All Things due to the activation of the Gha Agsheblah Domain.]

Adrian's humanoid form suddenly started to shed as his silver armor suddenly turned darker. The single tiger demon head suddenly multiplied into three heads. The energy in the area all dissipated regardless if it was enemy or ally.

Chapter 1975 Supernatural Storm I

[You have become the Disturber of All Things.]

Adrian's current form made mana itself unstable which created a sight to behold against creatures made of pure mana. The storm spirits that were in the area near Adrian looked like they were choking as if they were suffocating. The suffocating storm spirits clenched their throats or appeared to struggle before they ultimately turned into a puff of smoke. Adrian was able to kill the storm spirits just by his presence alone.

[You are receiving great stress on your body.]

[The longer you have your transformation will create more stress on your body.]

"I better finish this quickly." Adrian stated as he knew that he needed more help since he cannot easily move his current body.

He could exert his body but moving too much would endanger his own body as the power that he holds is not something anyone can just wield. Adrian reached the power of a demigod about to become a lesser demigod with just a transformation. Such transformation would not come without a backlash.

"I need your support." Adrian sent a message to his shadow unit members.

Just as he sent the message, numerous chains made of shadows or darkness element magic suddenly got sent flying towards the Nubesequus. Adrian made sure that the spells his allies used were not affected by his aura which actually took quite a great deal of concentration that he even needed Paradox' help. The storm spirits that were not near him could not create any type of magic, but the players have regained theirs.

The fierce onslaught of the players against the storm spirits started once more as the enemy has basically become powerless. The Nubesequus is not like the other storm spirits that died due to Adrian's aura, but it was not entirely safe from it. It can only properly maintain its current form but is unable to control the wind elemental mana around it easily. Adrian's presence disrupts mana to the point that only a demigod or a god would be able to cast magic.

The shadow magic used by the shadow unit members have created a net that rooted the Nubesequus in place. The Maius Venti felt the enormous killing intent that Adrian was letting out as his axe has started to glow with great power. The Nubesequus tried to escape from the trap, but it could not easily move due to Adrian's aura that has become stronger and stronger.

"I shall let you meet your family on the other side. The Great Divide!" Adrian shouted as he slammed his axe towards the Nubesequus.

The Nubesequus could not dodge or even attempt to even if it burns all of its mana. The incoming axe filled the power of the current domain disrupts mana to the fullest that the Nubesequus became a sitting duck. The Nubesequus could only scream with indignation for it has not gotten revenge for its family members that died at the hands of the demon in front of him.

"We should have never agreed to the deal with that arrogant god! My family perished because of him!" The Nubesequus stated as its last message before it got cleaved in half and all of its body made of mana turn into a puff of smoke.

[You have killed the Nubesequusi.]

[You have received experience points for killing the monster.]

[You have killed a named monster. You will receive bonus experience points.]

[You have killed all of the Five Venti that is part of a family.]

[You have gained permanent 1% increase in your wind elemental resistance.]

Adrian's attack did not stop with the Nubesequus as the shockwave went all the way towards the Supernatural Storm. The powerful energy that could dispel mana hit all of the storm spirits that were used as protection, but they can also only turn into a puff of smoke. As the energy wave traveled, a large rift in the sky could be seen as Adrian was able to tear apart the atmosphere itself.

The sight of the planets and the stars above the sky could be seen for a brief second before it closed back up. The Supernatural Storm felt the oppressive energy that Adrian infused on his attack and defended with all its might. It even used the energy present in its eye itself to defend itself against the attack.

The Supernatural Storm released numerous lightning attacks against the shockwave that Adrian created to protect itself. It burned through all of the energy that it has gathered just to protect itself. The Supernatural Storm knew that it would dissipate if its own core would get hit by this anomalous energy attack. Adrian could see the notification of the energy of the Supernatural Storm getting smaller and smaller.

[The Supernatural Storm has weakened until it only has 30% of its original power left.]

[All of the Nubes Venti Family have been killed. All of the storm spirits that they have gathered would start to runaway.]

As soon as the Supernatural Storm weakened, all of the storm spirits used this attempt to escape from the battle as their commanders were all killed. Their commanders have truly left the mortal plane as there was no trace of their mana. The fear that the storm spirits have gained from Adrian have finally peaked to the point that they are bursting with dread. All of the storm spirits ran away from the battlefield as there was no point for them being there without their leaders.

"Weaklings that only know how to bow to those stronger than them!" A voice that was deep and brash suddenly came from the Supernatural Storm.

Adrian looked towards the direction of the voice, and it saw the Eye of the Storm in clear sight. The Supernatural Storm that was just a large storm that has an ego started to no longer hide its eye from the world. A large eye full of lightning could be seen looking down on all living beings as it has decided to step in since the army it amassed is now escaping.

Chapter 1976 Supernatural Storm II

"Since not one of you are useful, give me your body for my sustenance!" The voice of the Supernatural Storm stated as it started to rain down lightning in the entire area.

The players immediately gathered to the protected place where the Daemos Corps created a barrier. The only beings that were not protected were the storm spirits that were running away. One of the lightning bolts hit a storm spirit and one could see its energy getting sucked by the lightning bolt. In just a mere matter of two seconds, the storm spirit dissipated in a puff of smoke as its entire body vanished from the mortal realm.

All of the unlucky storm spirits in the area were all hit by the lightning bolts and absorbed by the Supernatural Storm. One would think that the Supernatural Storm would use the storm spirits energy to grow more powerful and larger, but it was the opposite. The Supernatural Storm started to condense its energy to the point that it is creating a body for itself. The Supernatural Storm knew that its current gaseous form would be an easy target for the enemies before it, but it did not know that it acted due to a command implanted on it.

The Supernatural Storm could be seen creating a body just like what the storm spirits have done but it is not merely plain energy of the wind element. Adrian could feel it as there was some sort of divine energy that was mixed inside of the Supernatural Storm, but it was not connected to any god. It was none other than a fragment that was broken off and implanted by the god that wanted to destroy Avalon.

"Destroy it before it creates a body!" Adrian commanded as all the players released attacks towards the Supernatural Storm.

It is not just Adrian and the players that released attacks as any inhabitant of Avalon that is fighting did so as well. All of the attacks could be seen going towards the body that the Supernatural Storm was creating but a barrier suddenly erected to defend it. Adrian felt the clear energy of the divine in that barrier, but it was not the energy of the god that he offended. The energy that Adrian felt was more akin to what a goddess would possess.

"He did have a wife, but she is not protective of her husband unless it comes to other women." Adrian thought as he has read on the myth regarding them, and it also helps that he can converse with a death god that is related to them.

The attacks that the players and Adrian did were all nullified. It was a perfect barrier that absorbed any attack that is below the Mythical Tier. Still, Adrian knew that the barrier would not last long as barriers that powerful cannot be maintained unless a very powerful spell caster is nearby.

[The Supernatural Storm has started to condense its final form.]

[Prepare for the final battle!]

[Defend your territory!]

The notifications have given Adrian a hint and news that this would be the last battle. He could not summon the other soulbounds that he used for fusing as he has severely stressed them. A two-hour cooldown was needed before he could summon the other soulbounds, but he is confident that he can deal with what the Supernatural Storm has planned.

"All shall tremble because of my lightning!" The voice of the Supernatural Storm shouted as a large lightning bolt hit it and showed its final form.

When the lightning subsided, a human looking being could be seen floating in the air. The Supernatural Storm has taken the form of a robust old man that is in his fifties. It has flowing gray hair and robust body features as if it is a body builder. One could also see that its eyes were pure white as it is not really human but a humanoid form of the Supernatural Storm.

Monster Name: Juppiter

Monster Type : Supernatural Storm (Humanoid Form)

Monster Tier: Mythical

Level: 350

HP: 100%

MP: 100%

Description: A monster born from a storm achieving sentience and also being empowered by an unknown god of the skies. It has taken the form closest to the god that has given it enhanced power and also named itself close to that god. It might look human, but it is actually still the Supernatural Storm condensed in a human shape.

"All of you shall be sacrifices for me! Lightning Hammer!" Juppiter stated as its voice is now that of a slightly older man with a deep and sultry voice.

Juppiter raised its hands up in the sky and made a downward motion. As soon as he did this, a powerful blast of lightning suddenly slammed itself on the barrier that was created by the players and the Daemos Corps combined. The outburst of lightning was so fierce that it easily destroyed the barrier created by the players. Fortunately, the barrier created by the Daemos was sturdy enough to protect them, but one can see that the barrier also shook violently.

"I am already sick and tired of beings that call upon lightning! Saena!" Adrian shouted as he changed into his mirror demon form.

As soon as Adrian changed to his mirror demon form, Saena was already done with collecting energy from the sun. Saena's tail glowed like the rainbow and fired a powerful beam of light towards Adrian. Adrian created a mirror that absorbed the beams of light that Saena fired and created ten more that appeared around Juppiter.

The ten mirrors that appeared near Juppiter released the beam of light that Saena fired but in ten different directions. Adrian carefully created more mirrors to bounce the beams of light that pierced through. Adrian created more and more mirrors until the entire surroundings of Juppiter was filled with mirrors. All of the mirrors bounced the light beam to the point that Juppiter is now trapped inside a house of mirrors where the light beam got reflected.

Chapter 1977 Juppiter

"A feeble attempt!" Juppiter stated as it released a powerful burst of lightning in the shape of a sphere.

The light that Adrian reflected and refracted were all destroyed with an equal amount of force. Even if the attack came from Saena, the power should not be underestimated since it is an attack from Saena that is boosted by the Tree of Life and Death. The Daemos elders did not attack Juppiter as they were all looking at Adrian to resolve this issue.

The Daemos Elders want to see the progress that Adrian has made since their initial training. Even if they will not attack Juppiter, they will make sure that the territory is not harmed. The players that are able to fight are still participating in the quest as contribution points are at stake. The players are also looking at Adrian on what his next course of action would be.

"Have all of you realized my greatness! I, who has transcended from a mere storm, am able to conjure a physical body! I shall become a god!" Juppiter stated with a laugh that made thunder rumble.

"It does have the strength of a lesser god with its current power level, but it only has a small fragment of divinity that is so minimal. I am actually shocked that no demigod did not think of stealing it." Adrian stated.

What Adrian said is true, but he did not know why a demigod is not stealing the small fragment of divinity that was present in the Supernatural Storm. Even if the demigods are a bunch of divinity hungry beings, they would not dare to offend some gods that have a bad reputation. One of those gods is none other than the owner of that small fragment of divinity which is why they did not dare to take it.

"I shall show you the wrath of a Lightning God! Giga Storm!" Juppiter shouted as a large black cloud vortex suddenly appeared above the skies of Avalon.

An enormous amount of energy could be felt gathering above them which made Adrian's skin tingle. All of his senses are warning him of the powerful attack that is about to hit but they are fortunate that the spell needs to charge up. Adrian told all the players to attack Juppiter while it was busy conjuring up the Giga Storm.

All of the players released spells and attacks towards Juppiter and they expected those to hit him but they were too optimistic. An orb that looked like the Eye of the Storm suddenly appeared on Juppiter's chest as if it was another living being. The Eye of the Storm conjured up small storm spirits that became the defensive barrier that Juppiter deployed.

"Storm Servants! Make sure to destroy the insects!" Juppiter stated as more and more storm spirits came out of his own body to protect him from the attacks of others.

"Defend yourselves!" Adrian shouted as he created numerous mirrors that saved some of the players that were too deep.

Adrian and the other Daemos immediately teleported those that were almost killed by the tidal wave that is made of storm spirits. Juppiter could not be easily reached unless one can use teleportation. Only Adrian and the other Daemos can do any damage to him, but the latter is occupied with defending the territory.

"Wait?! Flesh?!" Adrian suddenly thought as the being that is raging is now made of flesh due to it using the divinity it was injected.

Just as Adrian was about to turn his plan into fruition, the Giga Storm spell has finally activated. The large storm cloud vortex rumbled and released a large curtain of lightning that hit all of Avalon. Saena and Wisteria combined their might and created a powerful barrier that made sure to defend against the attack. The curtain of lightning could not be defended with just the two soulbounds which is why the elders also joined in.

A powerful barrier is erected and scattered the lightning in different directions. The lightning either got absorbed by a black hole, returned back to the skies as if time is reversed, or is absorbed by a barrier which enforced its power even more. Avalon was not damaged in the slightest which made Juppiter look at it with great disdain.

"If one Giga Storm does not affect all of you then I shall make five times of it!" Juppiter stated as it started to gather the energy inside of its body once again. Even the eye of the storm came out of its chest as it also needed to absorb more mana in the air.

"Dodu! I trust you!" Adrian stated as a mirror suddenly appeared above Juppiter and Dodu dropped from it.

"Dodu!" Dodu stated as it suddenly extended its body and covered the body of Juppiter.

"This infernal slime! Arghh!" Juppiter shouted as its physical body started to get burns due to Dodu touching it.

The five Giga Storms that Juppiter was about to release is suddenly destroyed as it could not form or condense mana due to the pain. A feeling that is foreign to the previous Supernatural Storm has been introduced since it could not feel pain before. The slight feeling of pain that affected all of its sensory nerves since its creation. Juppiter's newly formed brain could not handle the sensory overload that it is now feeling.

"Dodu use your domain!" Adrian commanded.

[Your soulbound, Dodu, has activated Gharab's Domain.]

[The enemy Juppiter has been stripped off its defenses.]

"No!" Juppiter wailed as the pain intensified as all of its defenses were robbed for a brief moment that the domain activated.

Not only is the physical body of Juppiter getting slowly destroyed by Dodu but it is also slowly dying due to the corrosion that is applied to it. As Dodu corrodes the body of Juppiter, Dodu will increase in defense even more which would make it difficult to shake off. The storm spirits released by Juppiter are also getting disoriented as the eye of the storm that is controlling them could not focus.

"Nether Domain! Netheros True Form!" Adrian stated as the entire area is now covered in nether mist.

Adrian transformed himself as Dodu also changed form with him. Dodu, who already has a lot of corrosive capability, also got bonuses from the nether mist and doubled its power to corrode. The wail of Juppiter could be heard as its body started to disintegrate. Even the Eye of the Storm that is hiding inside its chest started to get corroded by the power of both Dodu and the nether energy that infused it.

"I shall not die like this! I am a god!" Juppiter shouted as it is not really a god since it has not ascended or even had a ritual of ascension but the divine fragment inside its body says otherwise.

Juppiter conjured up powerful lightning to once again fill the area with dread and screams but it was mainly to get rid of Dodu that is clinging onto its own body. Unfortunately for it, Adrian has already created numerous mirrors that covered the skies like a ceiling. All of the lightning that came down were absorbed by the mirrors and is used to fuel the next attacks that Adrian did against Juppiter.

Adrian made sure to turn all the absorbed energy from Juppiter's attacks into powerful beams of light that have compressed nether energy inside. About ten mirrors revolved around Juppiter while Dodu was attached to it. Adrian released the light beams and made sure to continuously fire at Juppiter. Dodu is still attached to the enemy's body but is not affected by the light that Adrian fired as it is made of nether energy.

Dodu's body is currently made of pure nether energy due to the fact that it has transformed with Adrian as well. A peculiar thing about nether energy is that it does not harm beings with the same energy inside their body. Any attack made of nether energy will not harm another being with nether energy in their body. This made it possible for Adrian to rain down attacks continuously until the enemy's body looked like it was full of holes.

Juppiter might have a humanoid and physical body, but it is not human which is why it is still alive even with its body mostly destroyed. Still, Adrian could see that defeating it would be incredibly easy right now as it can no longer create lightning. All forms of attacks from the enemy have ceased while its eye of the storm could be seen blinking as it is losing energy.

Adrian condensed one last powerful burst of light and completely destroyed the eye of the storm with it. Upon his final attack, Juppiter disintegrated into particles of light while the divinity that was used to create it flew towards Adrian and is absorbed by his body.

[You have gained Divinity +1.]

[You have defeated a named monster. You will have bonus experience points.]

[You have leveled up.]

Chapter 1978 I Need to go to Olympus

[The Supernatural Storm has been completely defeated.]

[All rewards have been distributed for the players that helped the territory lord in defending Avalon.]

[You have successfully defended Avalon against an A level threat.]

[The territory, Avalon, will have increased 10% productivity for about a month.]

[There is an extremely small chance that something wonderful might happen in the territory.]

[The people of the territory have felt peace of mind since the Supernatural Storm was defeated. All beings in the territory will have an increased chance of fertility.]

[The residents of Avalon praise the territory lord for his splendid valor in protecting the people and the territory.]

Adrian smiled upon seeing the notification as he can finally say that the disaster has been averted. All of the people that evacuated in the pocket dimension have come out to see the result of the damages in the territory. Fortunately, the damage was minimal as only a few trees toppled down, and a few stalls were destroyed but no one died.

[The Territory Lord of Avalon, Equinox, has lowered the taxes by half for a month in order for those that need to recover.]

Adrian's act of lowering the tax made all the people cheer which includes the NPCs and players alike. Adrian did not have high tax rates to begin with but lowering it for a month to alleviate the damage seemed to be the best for him. What he did not know is that was the start of the epic war of goods that sparked something like the crazy black Friday sale in the real world.

Adrian told the elders to monitor the overall recovery of the damaged territory. He even gave them the budget for the recovery as he needed to do something else. Adrian not only received a small divine fragment and absorbed it, but he also got some memories with it.

"Now, it is time for me to think of more pressing issues." Adrian stated as his face became dark because he was able to find fragments of memories in the divine fragment that he was able to absorb.

Adrian went towards the Tree of Life and Death and resummoned his soulbounds as they also deserve a rest. Once he is satisfied that his soulbounds did not get any adverse effects from him fusing with them and going through the limit, Adrian told them to do anything that they want. Adrian sat cross legged as he touched the tree of life and death because he needed to speak with it.

Adrian opened his eyes, but it was all white and his vision is not of the tree in front of him but a being that is a humanoid version of the Tree of Life and Death. Adrian bowed with courtesy and Yewdrassil did as well. It has been some time since Yewdrassil has picked out a humanoid form as conversing with Adrian in this form was more convenient.

"Why is the Champion of the Twin Gods here in my own subspace? Do you wish to speak to me about something?" Yewdrassil asked.

"I want to know where Mount Olympus is located." Adrian stated.

"Do you have a death wish now, Champion Equinox? You do know that God Kings have the power to destroy even the source of your very soul." Yewdrassil stated.

"I need to go to Mount Olympus because one of the Fragments of Chaos is there. I need to retrieve it or else something bad might happen if it falls unto the wrong hands." Adrian stated as he saw the memories attached to the divine fragment.

Adrian was able to clearly see everything that happened or at least everything that happened that he was involved with. He saw the God King Zeus hold the head of a god that has long perished. It was the head of the God of Transitions Janus. The Head of the God of Transitions Janus has become a relic to interfere with the balance of time and space.

The God of Transitions Janus died during the war with the dark gods, but his head could still be used to easily bypass the law of time and space. The God of Transitions Janus was a greater god that could manipulate both time and space which was incredibly rare. He might not have been the most proficient in combat but his power over time and space is slightly above a Noblesse level Daemos.

One thing about the God of Transitions Janus is that he was actually a being created by Chaos and entrusted a fragment of its body. The God of Transitions Janus might have died but the Fragment of Chaos still lives on in his head that the God King Zeus uses like a toy. Adrian is afraid that the head of God of Transitions Janus would explode and reveal the Fragment of Chaos. The worst ending being it opening a rift directly towards the Void.

Adrian did not need to explain everything to Yewdrassil as it could easily read his mind. Upon learning of such a thing, even Yewdrassil could not fathom what to do next. The Tree of Life and Death is like the parent of the God of Death Abaddon and the Goddess of Life Gaea. The other gods that fall under their genealogy could be said to be like grandchildren to it even if some deserve to rot in the gutter.

"Mount Olympus is not like any other divine realm that one can easily traverse in. Almost everything inside of it is monitored by the God King that holds absolute power over it. Do you not know why the God of Death Hades would rather stay in his own death realm?" Yewdrassil stated.

"I thought he just likes the peace and quiet because his family that lives there is not really peaceful. Even I do not want to get caught up in that drama. You know... I only got like a week's worth of memory from that divine fragment and even I am already tired of it." Adrian stated as he was able to see other memories despite it not being that vivid.

"Do not get me started. The Titans were much easier to deal with compared to those man childs." Yewdrassil agreed as it might have some experience.

"So... are you not going to help me? This is a fragment related to Chaos after all." Adrian stated.

"It seems that you have already learned of Chaos. Still, it is too early for you to face them. You are but a mere speck of dust should you go in their divine realm. Gods are more powerful in their divine realm than in the mortal realm." Yewdrassil stated.

"Is there no way for me to evade the eyes of the spoiled God King?" Adrian asked.

"I might be able to show you the way, but I will not be able to help you in that regard. Only other gods of Olympus might know how to become stealthy inside of their own divine realm. Fortunately, you have acquaintances that are from Olympus. You just need to ask them yourself on how to get inside. Once you have a way to sneak inside without getting caught, I shall make sure that you will arrive in Olympus." Yewdrassil stated.

"Thank you." Adrian stated as he returned his subconscious back to his body with a loud gasp.

Adrian checked his body to make sure that he can still move it. He would feel incredibly sluggish sometimes when he does that. Sending his subconscious inside of another being is like sending his soul inside as well. At the very least, Yewdrassil has promised him passage to Olympus once he finds a way to go inside undetected.

Adrian vanished from his location as he went to the death realm Hades to meet the god that might be able to help him. Adrian appeared in the gates of Hades where the souls of the dead are forming a line. Upon seeing Adrian's form, all of the souls made sure to get some distance from him. The energy that Adrian was radiating made the souls of the dead tremble.

A three headed dog suddenly came up to Adrian as the Guardian of Hades sensed something happening. Adrian saw Cerberus and petted the Guardian of Hades. He even gave each head a snack which is made from the meat of a Cockatrice. Each of the heads licked Adrian as they were delighted with the treat, but he was now smelling like underworld dog saliva.

"Calm down there, boy. I need to talk to your master. Do you think that you can get someone that can guide me there?" Adrian asked and Cerberus happily complied. Cerberus dashed towards the large gates and appeared with a being that made all the souls tremble in fear.

"Greetings, Champion Equinox. I am Megaera. I shall be the one to lead you to the abode of the God of Death Hades." Megaera stated as she bowed with grace and beauty.

Chapter 1979 Underworld Duty I

Adrian is escorted deeper into the levels of the castle in Hades. Just as Adrian surmised, the entire castle is made of Stygian Ore that repels the passage of the dead souls. This is to make sure that the dead do not wander around and hide inside of the castle or escape to the reincarnation cycle located inside the castle. Even Adrian does not know where or how the stygian ore is harvested due to it being an extremely kept secret in the underworld.

Due to the nature of stygian ore, the halls of the castle are obsidian in color, but they have this dark gleam that creates light that will illuminate the halls. It is not only the stygian ore that is noteworthy as there are numerous treasures that can be seen in the castle. Some are precious art or precious ores that would make any king or queen salivate from seeing them.

One often depicts the God of Death Hades as a god that is evil or corrupt, but he was actually the most decent among his family members. He is also the one that could be said as extremely loyal to his wife. This bad depiction is actually due to adaptations of popular media, but he is actually the most chill among the gods of his genealogy. Of course, even the calmest being would become the fiercest beast when their loved ones are in danger.

The reason why the God of Death Hades being relaxed is that he is content with his kingdom. He is the famed God of Death that rules a vast underworld and all the things hidden in the ground. Back then when the Church of Light has yet to get influence, miners would often pray to him to get good harvest for ores that they will dig up. It is said that he is the god that gives treasures that can be found hidden in the earth.

In other words, the God of Death Hades does not only have a bigger kingdom compared to his other brothers but also incredibly rich. He is not jealous of his brothers as he is confident and content with what he got. Even now, the most revered and known among them is him as he is a God of Death that other gods fear more than his god king brother.

"Greetings, Champion Equinox." A boy that looks like the same age as Adrian suddenly appeared before him.

"Your majesty, do you not have any other duties? Does your esteemed father know that you are here?" Megaera stated as she did not expect the Son of Hades to suddenly appear before him.

"Greetings, God of Rebirth Zagreus." Adrian stated as he now has knowledge of all gods that are associated with death and life.

"You know me! That is good! So, can you do me a favor and help me escape from here? I want to experience the mortal world! Wait! I remember that my father can be summoned. Do you think that you can summon me as well?" The God of Rebirth Zagreus stated.

"Unfortunately, I cannot do that as summoning Gods of Death is already related to great taboos that I can only negate due to the immense mana in summoning. If I try to summon you then I fear that I may die after a few seconds. You are not just a god of death after all as you are also a god of life." Adrian stated honestly.

"Please pay no heed to the whims of the young master. He always tries to escape from Hades, but he always dies after five days in the mortal realm. I am sure that you know of it as you have become the mediator in charge of the Gods of Death." Megaera stated.

Adrian nodded as he has learned the brief summary of the God of Rebirth Zagreus from a memory. The God of Rebirth Zagreus is different compared to a God of Death or a God of Life as he is both and stuck between worlds. Still, he cannot live long in the mortal realm as he actually died there when a war between the Titans and the Gods of Olympus occurred. Due to his unique nature, he was actually revived in Hades where he was born and thus, he became the God of Rebirth.

A unique god that can negate causality as even gods should die when all of their essence is destroyed but not him. The God of Rebirth Zagreus is actually the one that fixed the reincarnation cycle of the mortals as it was not perfect when it first created. Due to this, he is actually the favorite great grandchild of the Goddess of Life Gaea.

"I am doing my duty of looking for ways to escape the underworld so that we can solidify security. This is for my great duty as the son of the God of Death Hades!" The God of Rebirth Zagreus stated as he has been trapped in the underworld for five years already.

"Alecto, please come and collect the prince." Megaera stated and another fury suddenly appeared behind the God of Rebirth Zagreus.

"Since the prince wants to go to the mortal realm, you should be prepared when the chance comes. We shall now go and proceed with your training." Alecto stated as she easily picked up the God of Rebirth Zagreus and vanished.

"Apologies for that display that the prince has shown you. Please erase that in your memory if possible as we need him to maintain his dignity." Megaera stated.

"No worries as I actually found it entertaining. I always wondered what gods do to pass the time as they are immortal beings after all. I guess each god is quirky in that way which widens my perspective." Adrian stated as he knew that gods are beings that need to be quirky or have things to do or else they might go mad. If a god goes mad, then they might destroy the world itself.

Chapter 1980 Underworld Duty II

"I should say the same about the champion. You are vastly different from the past ones that were chosen by the Twin Gods." Megaera stated which made her smile as she finds Adrian's attitude both amusing and heartwarming since he views them just like normal human beings with passions.

"We have arrived. Please enter the audience hall as the Esteemed God of Death Hades shall be waiting there." Megaera stated as she bowed to Adrian.

"Thank you." Adrian stated as he reciprocated the bow before entering.

One might not know this, but Megaera is actually a goddess. She is part of a group of goddesses called the Erinyes. They are a group of goddesses that is related to Vengeance. They are actually one of the most powerful goddesses of vengeance, but they pledged their services to the God of Death Hades. They are the goddesses that punish the sinners in Hades or as the dead call them, the Torturers.

"Greetings, Champion Equinox. Your visit is a surprise as I know that we do not have any planned meeting." The God of Death Hades stated as he could be seen wearing his kingly robe that is embroidered with gems and gold.

"Apologies for the sudden intrusion as I am in great need of help. I believe only the God of Death Hades can explicitly help me." Adrian stated.

"And what would that be? I am incredibly intrigued as it is something that only I can help you with. I know that you are in talks with my mother-in-law. If she cannot help you then it should be something incredibly difficult." The God of Death Hades stated as he looked incredibly curious.

"The Goddess of Life Demeter simply had our goals aligned which is why I helped her create her holy relic. Also, I do not trust her fully since we are new acquaintances after all. One thing that I learned is that never to fully trust gods because they always need something that can help them in return." Adrian stated truthfully which made the God of Death Hades laugh out loud because what the former said is true.

"Truer words have never been spoken with such a straight face. You even told it to a god directly which is incredibly bold. Now I know why grandmother has chosen you. Please tell me what you need my services for?" The God of Death Hades stated with a hearty laugh.

"I guess saying it directly is the way to go then. I need your help in order to sneak inside of Olympus." Adrian stated which suddenly made the God of Death Hades look at him with discerning eyes.

"Please elaborate, Champion Equinox. I might not have many interactions with my brothers and sisters, but I am the eldest. I have a duty to protect them from threats and I believe that you know how dangerous you are. The only reason why there are no gods that dare to touch you directly is due to the fact that you are the Champion of the Twin Gods, and you are not antagonistic in nature. Although, I heard news of the pain scream of my brother. Is that something that you have done, Champion Equinox?" The God of Death Hades stated as his presence suddenly increased as he talked to Adrian.

"I might have punished him a little because he was acting to haughty and idiotic. Sorry for the word but that is the best word to describe what he did." Adrian stated with a calm demeanor as he also did not hide his aura to protect himself from the powerful aura emanating from the God of Death Hades.

"Please elaborate." The God of Death Hades replied, and Adrian explained it carefully with a version that does not include the words 'fragment of Chaos'.

Before Adrian left for the underworld, the Tree of Life and Death has warned him that he should not say anything regarding the fragment of Chaos to other gods. A fragment of Chaos is not something that other gods should possess as it is a fragment of the creator of this universe. It is akin to giving any god with great power to the point that they could take over the world itself.

"Your brother's meddling in the stability of space and time should not be encouraged. He is using the Head of Janus to create or modify the laws inside dungeons. It might not have happened, but time and space are incredibly delicate right now due to the fact that the dark gods are now giving their full attention.

If they find the anomaly of time and space inside a dungeon then they might use that as a way into this world. The god king does not understand the laws of time and space that he is messing with. He should not be in control of a relic to do so. If the elders actually knew of this then they might storm Olympus themselves for the Head of Janus." Adrian stated.

He made sure to put the emphasis that the relic is doing damage to time and space. He made sure to not say anything about the fragment of Chaos. He also mentioned the Daemos storming Olympus themselves should they learn the information of a relic that can manipulate time and space. The Daemos are the ones that were given the duty to manage relic that can manipulate time and space as they are the only ones that can contain it.

"I do not believe that the Daemos have the capability to do so." The God of Death Hades stated as he does not believe Adrian's veiled threat.

"I believe you know of the spell called Inverse Realm." Adrian stated.

"I know of that accursed spell that you demons can use but you cannot do so..." The God of Death Hades stated but he suddenly looked at Adrian and noticed that he is in front of an Arch Demon.

"Yes. We have five Daemos members that have at least the power of an Arch Demon." Adrian stated as he knew what the God of Death Hades was thinking when the latter fell quiet.
