

O Summoner 2021

Chapter 2021 Totem of the Deep

Altum is able to go to the location near the Leviathan as he is able to teleport using the magic circle that the elders have created. Adrian has given him premium access to the magic circle as he was the first player to use it. The other players are still waiting for the actual start of the magic circle activation, but some of the members of Adrian's guild have already arrived early.

"Are you sure that you can complete the totem?" Peridot asked as she also came with Altum as he needed some form of protection.

Adrian has informed his guild members that dark gamers might attack them as they also bear the guild crest. The dark gamers might have some of them stalk the area in hopes that they could assassinate Adrian. Altum, on the other hand, did not bother looking around or checking the perimeter as he knows that he will be able to handle anyone. His confidence stems from the fact that he is near the sea which increases his stats just by being near it.

"I am sure as the Totem is simply a physical artifact that will be created via worship. This boulder would be perfect for the part." Altum stated as he started to change his appearance to become more like a deep one.

Altum's humanoid appearance suddenly changed to become more fishlike. He suddenly had a large fish head with sharp teeth and even getting a fish tail. Altum still has a humanoid body, but he now has more fishlike features to resemble his patron god. Altum then touched the boulder and injected all the power that the God Dagon has given him.

Altum asked the God Dagon on how a totem could be created and he was told that he just needed to imagine the likeness and power of his patron while channeling it to a boulder. As soon as Altum channeled his power of the boulder, the changes are becoming apparent. The boulder looked like it was made of some sort of liquid that can be easily formed.

The features of the boulder started to change, and the likeness of the God Dagon started to appear. The boulder started to have a serpentine fish like lower body coiled up and an upper body that is a bit humanoid. The head looked like that of a fish and a dragon combined to produce a rather fearsome yet protective aura. The totem was fully formed, and it had the blessing of the God Dagon infused within it.

[You have created a Totem of the Deep.]

[The God Dagon has blessed this totem to give protection to any being that prays upon it before they go into the water.]

[You have created a totem for your patron god. You received +1 to all of your stats due to the accomplishment.]

Altum's body returned to his more human appearance as all the power that was pumped into his body has already been used. It seems that the God Dagon has given him so much energy to the point that his body almost broke down, but he was able to use it to create the totem. It is a good thing that Peridot was also there to monitor him just in case something happened.

"You actually did it once! I know some beings that cannot even do that with their initial try. I guess he really does have a good eye for people. I want to try its effects to see what it can give me!" Peridot stated as she remembered that Adrian has a really good eye for people. She proceeded to touch the totem as she prayed to the God Dagon.

[You have touched the Totem of the Deep.]

[Pray to the Totem of the Deep in order to be blessed by the divine being tied to the deep.]

"Please give me the blessing of the deep. I ask the protection of the god that is tied to the deep." Peridot stated as she got a message notification on what to say in order to get a blessing.

[You have been given the Minor Blessing of the Deep.]

[You have been given the ability to breathe under water for one hour. This is activated once you dive into water.]

[The water pressure when divine will be lessened by 20%.]

[You can strengthen the blessing by giving an offering.]

"The blessing is nothing to scoff at! The initial offering is just a hundred mana points, but the blessing is incredibly useful! This will be useful for all of those that cannot do anything in water. A minor blessing already gives an hour of water breathing! Do you know the tiers for the blessings?" Peridot stated. n/o/vel/b//in dot c//om

"The tiers should be Minor, Lesser, Greater, and then Major. The effects increase by 25% per tier increase but the last blessing tier can only be given to those that have at least prayed for thirty days to the God Dagon." Altum stated.

"If that is the case then all of the players would be able to fight underwater." Peridot stated.

[The God Dagon has become an honorary member of the Council of the Gods of Life and Death.]

"Oh! The guild master has accomplished it but what is an honorary member?" Altum wondered but players that looked shady suddenly encircled them.

"Are you all here to pray to the totem to get a blessing that will help in water?" Peridot asked but her expression showed a sharpness that could cut her enemies.

The shady players did not even answer Peridot as the mages suddenly fired off spells, but a barrier has already been setup. The elemental spells clashed with the barrier, and it did not even crack. The shady players saw the reaction and immediately switched to melee combat. It seems that they learned that the barrier only defended against elemental spells as the arrows passed through and forced Peridot to use a wind elemental spell to blow them away.

"Be careful! She is like Hou Yiwei!" One of the enemy players shouted.

"I guess I should show you the difference between me and Hou Yiwei because we are vastly different!" Peridot stated as she suddenly shed her humanoid form to show what she really looks like.

As soon as Peridot changed her form, the entire area suddenly looked like it was basked in a pink mist. The pink mist enveloped the entire area, and the enemy players are suddenly lost in the magic.

A powerful storm of elements erupted in the area and the screams of the enemy players echoed. The silhouette of a dragon appeared for a moment after the dying screams of the enemy players.

The pink mist subsided, and Peridot has returned to her humanoid form. The only thing that can be seen in the area is a shocked Altum, the totem, and the particles of light that was the bodies of the enemy players. Altum could be seen almost having his eyes pop out from the shock as he never seen a massacre of player up close.

"You seem shocked? They were quite easy to handle as they were mostly players that have low health. Even you can do something like that when you are always in the threat of assassination. The NPCs are actually much more difficult to deal with compared to them. Anyways, we should create a guide on how to get more powerful blessings. You should create a signboard on the instructions as there are no words to say how to get more powerful blessings." Peridot stated.

"I guess that makes sense. It is a good thing that I have a signboard in my inventory that I can use." Altum stated.

"You have a signboard in your inventory?" Peridot commented at the sudden random item inside of Altum's inventory.

"I actually have Carpenter as a Sub Job class. I actually needed to get it since houses do not build themselves in this game. Even the Deep Ones want a cozy place to sleep as we still have humanoid bodies." Altum replied.

"Never thought that I would equate fish to carpentry, but you do you. Do you build underwater homes?" Peridot asked as she chatted with Altum as he made the signboard with shaking hands.

"The gods of life seem to hate you now. Levin Cloud stated.

"Correction. The lazy gods of life hate me now. I actually do not care much as you already got what you wanted right now." Adrian stated as he smiled and looked at Levin Cloud.

"Yes. Those gods actually raised requests from me to get items that can create their holy relics. They were the only ones left that have yet to give me a request. Antagonizing them proved to be quite effective which is actually shocking." Levin Cloud stated.

"I have the backing of the gods of death and also the gods like to gossip." Adrian stated as it is not just the gods of death that he talks to since the gods of life that are close to him would sometimes talk about other gods.

Chapter 2022 Kill The Leviathan I

"We need to prepare for that day. I have this bad feeling that it would much closer than we think. The other gods that have their interest have started to move as well. Peridot told me that the Eastern Continent is now a war zone. Only the cities held by the Four Cardinal Beasts are peaceful because they can protect them." Adrian stated.

"I know which is why I am doing my best in the training. Due to this, I cannot join the raid of the Leviathan. I have an urgent quest right now that needs to be completed in five days. I can join after that timeframe but even I do not know if the Leviathan will still be alive by then." Levin Cloud stated.

"You do not need to worry as this World Boss will respawn even if it gets killed. We can raid it again once you are available. Good luck on your quest." Adrian stated.

"Thanks! Good luck as well." Levin Cloud stated as he vanished from the imaginary plane.

Adrian left the imaginary plane as well but did not immediately teleport to the area near the Leviathan. He walked towards the Church of the Twin Gods, and he met the two Prophets. The two kids that he has saved back then are now older and bigger than they were, but they still had their personalities.

"Big Brother!" Vitae and Mortem shouted as they were excited to see Adrian as the two are now busier compared to when they are small kids. n/o/vel/b//in dot c//om

"It is good to see you as well, but do you have the item that has been given by Altum." Adrian stated.

When they heard the name of Altum, the twin prophets gave Adrian a small totem that is about ten inches in height with the same specifications that Altum created when he crafted the boulder. He looked at the totem and could feel the aura of divinity in it. He asked the Twin Prophets to get the totem as he needed to see if the item itself does not have any negative effects.

Adrian also chose this as a test to the God Dagon if there are no tricks when it comes to items filled with divinity. Since the totem given by the God Dagon does not have any negative effects, Adrian entered the church and placed the totem among the other totems of the gods of life. Inside the Church of the Twin Gods, there are numerous totems of the gods of life and death to symbolize that they are under the banner of the Twin Gods.

One could also see the Twin Gods' large statue watching over the smaller totems to signify that they are part of the gods of life and death of Pandemonium. Having a totem or figurine in this hall meant that they are recognized by the Twin Gods as part of the family. As soon as the figurine of the God Dagon is placed, the divine power circulating in the church increased a little bit and a notification was sent to all the believers of the Church of the Twin Gods.

[The Totem of the God Dagon has been added to the main church of the Twin Gods.]

[You can now pray to the God of the Deep in any Church of the Twin Gods in order to receive his blessings. You can also pray to any totem of the God Dagon to receive his blessings.]

The notification also has a note attached to it on what kind of blessing the God Dagon can give. There is also a small tidbit on who the God Dagon is and his origins as a god. The players that have prayed in any Church of the Twin Gods almost fainted when they saw what kind of blessing the God Dagon can give. The blessing that the God Dagon could give was so helpful to the current world boss that they thought that this was all a ploy by the developers to kill the Leviathan.

The smarter players could piece the puzzle together and know that it is due to the Pantheon guild on why such a blessing is given. The players thought that Equinox would just look in the sidelines as he barely takes actions on world bosses since his guild rarely hunt one. Unlike other instances, Equinox released announcement that he will make magic circles that teleport directly to the Leviathan.

The players speculated that Equinox wants the Leviathan to be killed but they do not know why. They can only speculate as they will never know the real reason, but they are still thankful for the teleportation magic circle. The fact that it is set up in Avalon and it is free on the first use is such heaven sent to players. Even weak players would use the first chance to see the battle closer.

The top guilds also thought the same, but they cannot determine what Adrian's real intention is. All they know is that Equinox is taking an active role in the subjugation of the Leviathan. Some top guilds actually hate him for creating the magic circle as more guilds will be able to join the raid. Nevertheless, the guilds prepared their best because this is a world boss that is at the level of a Greater God in strength.

After Adrian finished setting up the totem, he already announced in the guild chat that they should convene and attack the tail of the Leviathan. His other guild members have already gone first while he returned to check on Elder Koronn and Elder Bronx. He needed to check up on them because they will be part of the combat once the Daemos Corps are prepared.

"Is everything ready?" Adrian asked.

"We will need one more day of preparation as we have called the best warriors this time. A primordial beast is not a being that will be defeated with normal spells and force." Elder Bronx stated.

"Ok then. I will be the advance team with my guild." Adrian stated.

"Good luck and make sure to not get hurt as we do not know the capabilities of the Primordial Beast as it is different from its previous incarnations." Elder Koronn stated.

"I will make sure that the teleportation magic circle is stable and working. Do your best, brat." Elder Ascalor stated as he was already counting the tax revenue of the teleportation magic circle.

Adrian vanished and appeared at the area where the teleportation magic circle is located. He was still battle ready as he does not know when dark gamers would plot their revenge but there was no killing intent directed at him. All of the players that saw him appear were looking at him with different gazes but most of them was awe. Since there are no enemies currently, he decided to go to where Altum and Peridot are currently since that is the location where all the guild members would gather.

When Adrian arrived at the location, he was a bit shocked to see a line and a small stall. What is more shocking is that there is a Deep One NPC selling something. He went closer and saw that the Deep One was actually selling small trinkets that has the image of the God Dagon doing a V sign. He looked to the side and saw three more deep ones carving the trinkets.

"What is happening?" Adrian muttered.

"Oh! You finally arrived." Peridot stated as she looked extremely refreshed as if she released all of her stress.

"Is that a devotion stall?" Adrian asked.

"Yeah. You were taking too long to arrive and Altum learned that he can create trinkets with the deep ones that can extend the blessing by 10%." Peridot stated.

"Maybe I should also do something like that. Then again, my trinket would be blessed by death. It might give unsavory effects so nevermind. Anyways, the scouting team have given their report. I think we can now start the raid in destroying the tail." Adrian stated.

"About that, it seems that a lot of guilds have already started in attacking the tail. The only problem is that the chaos ensuing since a lot of spells are flying in the battlefield. The area around here is a total combat zone which means there are no distinctions in friendly fire." Peridot stated.

"Do we have an allied guild in the area?" Adrian asked.

"The Evergreen Guild is present in the area, and they are led by Anastacia." Peridot stated.

"I guess we could ask for support from her since our lead healer Levin Cloud is not here." Adrian stated.

"Your sister has actually already solidified the terms of the agreement. The Evergreen Guild will cooperate with us, but the loot will be divided equally among the two guilds." Peridot stated.

"Thanks! I guess I should praise my sister." Adrian stated as he really appreciated that the guild could function when he is out in other arrangements.

"Let us proceed then. Altum, it is time to go." Peridot stated as a more humanoid looking deep one woke up from his sleep.

Chapter 2023 Kill The Leviathan II

Adrian met up with his other guild members that were available. Not all of them are able to respond on such short notice as some are doing quests. The main ones that could attend are Peridot, Kabrakan, Solstice, and Lycan. Vayu and Soleil cannot attend as they are busy with a quest given to them by the Elemental Kings as the latter learned of the world merging and they need preparation for that as well.

Creepysoo cannot join as well since the undead are now consolidating their power due to the fact that their territories were attacked by other beings more compared to other settlements. Adrian did not think that his guild members only numbering to twenty is small as he works better with a smaller team. He is just making sure that the rules that he established in the guild are getting followed such as freedom to not join raids when one is busy with an important event.

"It is good to see you again, Equinox." Anastacia stated.

"It is good to see you as well. It has been long since we actually physically interacted with each other." Adrian stated.

"Well, you did not tell me that taking care of a world tree is difficult work. I am thankful for the powerful buffs but the number of beings coveting it is a problem. Even gods from other factions wants to claim our territory because of it. It is a good thing that Levin Cloud helped us solve that problem which I am still grateful for him." Anastacia stated.

"You should be thanking him and not me as even I did not know that he helped you that much. I only learned of it when he already completed the quest. Anyways, we will be imposing on you today as we do not have him as our main healer." Adrian stated.

"Such a shame that he is busy. If both of us were in the field, then all of our guild members could just focus on dealing damage as they will never die." Anastacia stated as she believed that this is a fact.

Anastacia is now more confident that she has mastered all her skills and spells relating to life magic. Even Levin Cloud's mastery has skyrocketed from their last interaction with one another. It is not delusional to say that both of them combining their abilities would create a powerful synergy of a creating team that will never ever die. Both Levin Cloud and Anastacia are the best healers in the game but there might be others that have yet to be known.

"How should we start the plan? The Leviathan's tail might be an easy target but the health on that thing is not ordinary. Some guilds have started attacking it, but the regeneration is on par with my heals. The only way to actually stop its massive healing is to continuously attack which is difficult to do." Anastacia stated.

"We just need to do as much damage as we can as the heavy hitters will come soon. The way to defeat the Leviathan completely is to destroy all three parts that are seen. The real body will not fully emerge as long as the three parts are not broken." Adrian stated.

"I assume you have a plan." Anastacia stated as Adrian and Peridot looked at each other.

"Naturally. Please make sure that all of your guild members will be ready when we give the signal as our guild members will be ready as well." Adrian stated.

"What about the other guilds?" Anastacia asked.

"They can join on the damage galore if they want as long as they do not aim their spells and attacks at us. There are contributions after all since each part has a separate leaderboard." Adrian stated.

"Ok then. Do you need anything from us?" Anastacia asked.

"Not much. I just need all of you to continue attacking and distracting the tail for a minute." Adrian stated.

"We can do that much. Let us go, Evergreen!" Anastacia stated.

The Evergreen and Pantheon led the charge against the tail of the Leviathan. Kabrakan was the main tank in this battle as he changed his armor to its aquatic mode. Due to this change in armor, he was able to physically walk on water which became the envy of all the players. Other players can only swim or attack near the shore, but Kabrakan literally walked on water as if it was solid ground.

"Pleasure working with you." Solstice stated as she greeted Cersei.

"I feel the same as well. Fortunately, I am at my element since I am a contractor of the Devil God Vepar. Do you need assistance from me? I can assist you in walking in water for at least ten minutes." Cersei asked.

"Maybe you can do that for my hubby here. It is already noon which means I can already let loose." Solstice stated as her golden armor started to turn to shadows to reveal a beautiful woman inside.

The looks of the players could be seen as tantalized. They looked at Solstice and Cersei and can only nod their heads in agreement that they are the best-looking older females in the area. They had this aura of sexiness around them that would make any person drool as it seems their beauty transcends gender.

"We must remain focused, brothers!" One of the unknown male players shouted as they suddenly saw the tail swinging towards the shore.

As if the male players suddenly felt revitalized and energized by such a scene, all of them actually perfectly timed their skills to block the swinging tail. The Leviathan's tail that was supposed to knock away all the beings in the shore was actually repelled. The female players that were there could only shake their heads, but they must admit that picturesque scene does indeed create such an enticing image.

"Greater Summon: Kanlaon! Make sure to time it perfectly with Peridot." Adrian stated as he and Peridot started to prepare.

Adrian also changed to his mirror demon form as well and scattered numerous mirrors in the area as soon as he could. He then created a small star, but he did not stop there as he made it larger and larger to the point that it grew to the size of a basketball. Anastacia, who this happening, could determine that Adrian used his infamous Vortex skill, but this is the first time that she saw it that large.

Even the other players that were observing what Adrian created are shocked because they did not know that this is possible. In fact, not many players know that magic in Pandemonium is not fixed as it is still left to the mastery and imagination of the wielder. There is a default image of a magic spell but that means that it would only deal the intended damage while improving magic can make it double or even triple the set damage.

"This should be enough." Adrian muttered as Peridot saw that as the signal.

Kanlaon roared as his frost dragon orb suddenly fused with Peridot's own gemstone. The gemstone that looked like a clear-cut crystal suddenly transformed to a dragon's head devouring an orb. The frosted dragon jade looked powerful as it emanated a chilly presence that actually created an ice field below Peridot's feet.

"Freezing Dragon Breath!" Peridot shouted as her eyes turned to become like that of a dragon since she used Dragon Tongue to release the spell.

The frost dragon jade suddenly created a powerful a powerful blast of coldness in front that directly hit the Leviathan's tail. The powerful magic spell created an ice field that is about twenty meters wide and a hundred meter long. Not only did they create an ice field where players could freely walk but they also afflicted frost to the Leviathan's tail. The only problem is that the sea is turbulent, and waves are still flowing towards the shore which would destroy the ice field quickly. Nôv(el)B\\jnn

"Vortex!" Adrian stated as he created a large mirror that covered the sky by fusing the thousands of mirrors he initially created.

He then created a smaller mirror in front of him and passed the star that he created. As soon as he plunged the star in the smaller mirror where the other side is the large mirror, the scene of a gigantic star at least ten meters in diameter appeared in the sky along with six gigantic hands. He then proceeded to rip the star apart with his six gigantic hands and a large black hole suddenly appeared above the skies just above the Leviathan's tail.

The large black hole created has a powerful suction force, but Adrian can perfectly control it. The waves that carried large amounts of water to the shore suddenly got sucked inside of the black hole. The scene of numerous water pillars getting sucked by a large black hole suddenly became a hot topic in the player forums. The players that thought that they can never get surprised by Adrian's antics can only gulp in disbelief.

Chapter 2024 Kill The Leviathan III

"Attack!" Solstice shouted as she started to create numerous blood weapons by sacrificing her own health.

Solstice already created at least five swords orbiting around her while also holding swords of her own. She started to attack the Leviathan's tail while the others started as well. When the other players saw the Pantheon and Evergreen guild attack furiously, all of them started to join in as well. The health of the tail started to go down at a quick pace as numerous players have attacked it in the spur of the moment.

Adrian, on the other hand, was already burning through his mana as all he was making sure that the black hole would stay active. The water that he absorbed actually already made the shore dry up and it made all the melee players start to easily deal damage to the Leviathan's tail. The sands were still a bit wet which made movement difficult, but they can negate this with the blessing of the Deep.

Lycan did what he did best and that is to destroy the defenses of the enemy. The scales that were tough as steel were scratched to the point that his sharp claws became dull. As soon as he destroyed the scales, Solstice used her blood swords to pry open the scales, but it was still coated with a powerful energy.

The Leviathan's tail was powerful when it started to get slowly destroyed. The energy surged within the tail then slammed down on the sand which scattered all of the players along with them. Adrian also got blasted with a shockwave which made him falter for a bit when it came to concentrating. This made the black hole collapse which created another powerful explosion, but it did damage the Leviathan's tail in the process. n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

The explosion of the black hole that was large also affected the players as they were all blown towards the inner forest or pressed down on the sands. Fortunately for the players, the explosion did not affect them directly, but they were still damaged. Anastacia led the healing of the players while Adrian summoned Saena to make sure that the allied players will not die.

The Leviathan's tail was also pressed on the ground but there was this golden light suddenly covering it. The Leviathan's tail started to heal as no one was attacking it as it would start to heal quickly when it is not being damaged. Sirius immediately jumped from Adrian's shadow and created numerous shadow tendrils that damaged the Leviathan's tail. The golden light covering the Leviathan's tail vanished as soon as Sirius dealt some form of damage.

Adrian recovered as well and actually made a bit of a blunder as he used primordial energy. He was not supposed to use primordial energy as the Leviathan would detect it and pour heavy killing intent. Adrian was sure that the bloodlust would come but it did not. He then asked in the guild chat what was happening on the other areas, and they reported that other players were also attacking the head and the body.

The Leviathan was no longer just making sure that a part of it is protected as all parts of it is being attacked. The other parts of the Leviathan are also under siege which meant that it had to split up its intent since there are numerous beings trying to attack it. Adrian is actually quite glad that the use of primordial energy did not make the Leviathan learn that he was the one taunting it earlier.

The Leviathan was no longer just making sure that a part of it is protected as all parts of it is being attacked. The other parts of the Leviathan are also under siege which meant that it had to split up its intent since there are numerous beings trying to attack it. Adrian is actually quite glad that the use of primordial energy did not make the Leviathan learn that he was the one taunting it earlier.

"I should make sure that all primordial energy is just used to enhance myself and not to use it in enhancing attacks." Adrian thought as he used all six hands and plunged them into the mirrors.

Six large mirrors appeared while six large hands came out of them to pin down the Leviathan's tail. Adrian started to burn his nether energy in the process as well as he tried to inject it inside of the tail to see what will happen. He knew that nether energy can be fatal to beings with divine energy more, but he does not know what will happen when a being with primordial energy is injected with it.

Adrian tried to inject nether energy into the Leviathan's tail, but the body is actually incredibly protected by primordial energy. He could not penetrate the Leviathan's body even it had some scales that are broken. In the end, Adrian just enhanced his hands with nether energy instead which transformed his hands into gigantic nether energy gauntlets.

The other players were finally able to recover as well from being knocked away. As soon as one of the players tried to hit the Leviathan's tail, the scale that protected the part they hit suddenly cracked as nether energy actually weakened the outer part of the scales. When the other players saw this, all of them became crazy as they saw a way to deal great damage since contribution are important to a raid.

What the players attacking the tail did not know is that there was now an imbalance on the damage being dealt to the three parts. When the raid began, all players more or less started at the same time in attacking the three parts. The damage was balanced among the three parts, but it all changed when Adrian's interference came to play. The scattered attention of the Leviathan suddenly got focused on the tail as she felt the intense pain in that specific part of her more.

[The Leviathan has enhanced its tail.]

Adrian suddenly felt a powerful force burn his hands which destroyed the enhancements that he used on them. He could no longer hold onto the Leviathan's tail and receded all of his hands from the mirrors as they were also destroyed when it swung. The Leviathan's tail suddenly started slamming into the area as if it has gone berserk. All of the players that were unable to run fast were all squished to death.

"Get behind me!" Kabrakan shouted as he suddenly appeared to the next area where the Leviathan's tail will slam.

"Power Parry!" Kabrakan shouted as he perfectly timed the clash between his shields and the Leviathan's tail.

A metallic sound rung out as the Leviathan's tail that easily squished other players to death was now sent back with the perfect parry done by Kabrakan. He was not able to be unscathed since he was against a primordial beast after all. Kabrakan could be seen to be buried chest deep in the sand. He would have been buried by the force that the tail released by Peridot was able to harden the sand beneath him on time.

"Continue attacking! The scales are starting to fall off!" Anastacia commanded as the Leviathan's tail also became weaker as it used more powerful attacks.

The more that the tail attacks then the more damage it gets as nether energy is still coursing outside of it. Adrian might have failed injecting nether energy inside of the Leviathan, but the outside was fully immersed, and he did not skimp out on the usage. The tail became more violent in attacking as well, but the players have found a way to parry it as the tankers formed a unified front.

"Just a bit more!" Adrian stated as he shifted to his Aetheros form since he pushed his Netheros core too much that he cannot produce nether energy.

He was still in his mirror demon form, but he can now increase the defense and healing of the allied players instead. He now worked with Anastacia in saving any player they could from certain death. He scattered Aether dust which made all of the player become tougher and also transport them when the Leviathan's tail does a slamming motion. A mirror would just suddenly form below them which will send them twenty meters away.

Name: Leviathan's Tail

Health: 21%

"Just a few more and we will be able to destroy the tail." Adrian stated.

The players saw the health bar of the tail be in the red zone and they no longer cared for the drops. Solstice created a large blood sword by fusing all of the swords that she has initially created. When the gigantic blood sword plunged towards the Leviathan's tail, the health of the tail finally dropped to 20% and a large fin of it got sliced through.

[The Leviathan is enraged as its tail has been almost destroyed.]

[Escape from the Leviathan's tail reach!]

All the players that were attacking the tail suddenly got a notification to escape the area. Adrian did not overlook the notification as it gave them a warning for a reason. Adrian could not tag all of the players that were in the attack zone of the tail. He saved about 85% of them but the remaining 15% were killed as the Leviathan's tail suddenly turned into a sword like tail that did a sweeping motion. With a clean swing, the players that remained in the attack zone were sliced in half.

Chapter 2025 The Tail Breaks

Adrian clearly saw the damaged tail suddenly retreat into the deep sea, but he tried to pull it up. He used a powerful gravitational pull, but it seems that the strength of the tail is greater than he anticipated. He could not perform such a heavy task with the remaining mana that he had. He had to accept that this was the only result of the fight.

They were able to destroy the tail, but it retreated when it dropped to 20% health which means that there are only two more Leviathan exposed parts that needs to be destroyed. Adrian thought that they would actually cut the tail itself, but they only need to destroy it until the Leviathan's tail retreats. This news also reached the players attacking the other body parts of the Leviathan as they knew that it is incredibly difficult to destroy.

All the players can only do is celebrate that they succeeded in destroying the tail and get all the drops. The drops of the Leviathan's tail were mostly scales which were actually in the Legendary Tier which means that it can be used to create weapons and armor of the same quality. The only thing that dropped with the Mythical Tier is none other than the Large Fin Tail of the Leviathan.

Item Name: Large Fin Tail of the Leviathan

Item Tier: Mythical

Item Type: Consumable / Crafting

Item Use:

This item can be used to craft weapons and imbue them with the skill called Leviathan Tail Slash which creates powerful water blades that contains the primordial energy of the Leviathan. This item can also be used to create armors or upgrade them, but the results will vary depending on the skills of the craftsman.

Description: A tail fin that was dropped by the Leviathan when its tail was heavily damaged. Even though it has already fallen off, the power of the Leviathan is still infused on this item. Using any item crafted from parts of the Leviathan while fighting the primordial beast itself will undoubtedly make them the subject of its hatred.

Drop Owner: Pantheon guild (Given to the one that has the most contributions)

"Wow! A Mythical Tier ingredient! As expected of the Pantheon guild." A random player stated as they were still picking up the dropped items that were given to them by the lucky dice roll.

"This is why you need to be in a powerful guild at least. You can pool all of your contribution points to get priority on an item." Another player stated but they were not as salty since they knew that the real contributors are Pantheon and Evergreen.

"Do any of your guild members need the fin? I do not think that my guild members need it. We may have gotten it, but we do not have an active use for it. As stated in our agreement, we will be diplomatic about it when it comes to materials that are Mythical Tier and above." Adrian asked Anastacia.

"For now, please keep it. If we get a mythical tier item from the succeeding raids, then it will be up to that time to decide." Anastacia stated as she does not know if there might be an even better item that drops. She has one of her guild members that can really use the Large Fin Tail of the Leviathan, but they should wait as there might be something better.

"I think that is also a sound decision. Shall we head to the middle body of the Leviathan then?" Adrian asked.

"We could but can you open a gate there?" Anastacia asked.

"Nope but the reinforcements finally arrived." Adrian stated as twenty demons suddenly teleported to his area.

There are also a group of players currently trying to attack the head of the Leviathan. The only problem for this is that the head of the Leviathan is located at a place where there are no land masses. The only way for the players to even try to stand on the sea itself is by getting an item that can help them easily swim or by freezing the water surface. Fortunately for the players, the items are abundant and there is a player that can easily cast ice magic in the group of players.

The one heading these players is none other than the recognized ranked one player, Hou Yiwei. They call Hou Yiwei as the recognized ranked one player due to the fact that he is currently the only one with the highest level but not the one with the best combat ability. Some players even say that Equinox is the one that should be considered the first ranked player as he can easily defeat Hou Yiwei even though the former is only lagging behind by five levels.

This is not unknown to Hou Yiwei which is why he is making sure that he is performing better feats compared to Equinox. He surmised that the only reason why the players think of Equinox as the strongest is due to his ability to fight gods, but Hou Yiwei can also fight them. His fights might not be as famous as Equinox' fights now as he mainly had to do other things while the latter fought against gods. Even in the fight against the Goddess of Light Luminaria, Hou Yiwei was tasked to kill all other gods of light that escaped.

He would argue that he had more work to do than Equinox that just defeated the Goddess of Light Luminaria with the aid of other gods. All Hou Yiwei had as backup is none other than the dragon kings. Still due to his accomplishments, Hou Yiwei was finally able to fully tap into the powers of a dragonoid and is now one step away from becoming a dragon himself.

As his guild along with other guilds that wanted to raid with him are attacking the head of the Leviathan, a notification suddenly popped up for all of them as the tail of the Leviathan has been destroyed. Not the entire tail but the protective layer of the tail was destroyed, and it proceeded to run away. Hou Yiwei clearly knew who was attacking the tail and it was none other than Adrian's group.

In fact, he has a designated team in his guild to monitor the other two parts of the Leviathan. He was given information about the team attacking the tail and even he cannot easily believe it. A large black hole that sucked most of the sea water and even six gigantic hands that pinned the tail in place. Even if Hou Yiwei knew that Adrian is a demon race player, he cannot believe that he can do such feats that should only be doable to demigod level individuals.

"KURAAHH! Who dares! Such pesky insects!" The Leviathan's head shouted as its tail was suddenly destroyed.

Hou Yiwei is suddenly brought back to the fact that he was still in battle with the head of the Leviathan. He did not expect that the Leviathan to be capable of speech since all it did was attack them earlier with spells. He already expected that Primordial Beasts are intelligent, but they might be like the dragons. Some dragons think of other lesser beings like humans as insects which is why they do not talk to them even if they are capable of speech.

Ten powerful waterspouts suddenly manifested around the Leviathan's head as it sent it all to destroy the players attacking it. This is not only happening in the area of the Leviathan's head but also the area of its middle body. Unlike the head area, only five waterspouts manifested in the middle part as there are fewer players there compared to the head.

"Hurry up and destroy the head shield! The players that attacked the tail will head to this location if we do not hasten our progress!" Hou Yiwei shouted as he knew that the other players would start to come to them.

Adrian felt the resonance and disturbance in space as twenty demons arrived in the area. They were the elite force of the Daemos Corps along with Elder Bronx and Elder Koronn. Even the players were shocked that the demons would suddenly appear, but they are also a bit wary. It is not that they are afraid that the demons would kill them as they interacted with some of them already, but they fear that the raid would become more difficult.

Even Adrian already has a feeling that something is not ordinary in this raid. The fact that it was the Daemos Elders themselves that volunteered to help him means that there is an enemy that is equivalent to them. Adrian actually fears that there might be gods that interfered which is why they presented to help him in this predicament. Nevertheless, Adrian can only accept the help since nothing else even matters at this moment.

"I would rather have the help of the elders and have difficulty than not have any at all." Adrian thought as there is something strange with the Leviathan as the energy that he found familiar is actually the same as that of a chaos fragment.

Chapter 2026 Advance of the Demons I

"So, will these be the people that we are going to transfer?" Elder Bronx asked.

"I am not sure. Please give me a bit of time to ask them." Adrian stated as announced that the Pantheon guild and the Evergreen guild will move to the middle part of the Leviathan. He also asked them if they would like to join as well. This shocked the other players as they did not expect that someone would share loot willingly.

"We would like to join!" Some of the players that only pay as groups and not as guilds shouted which also made the others voice out their desires.

"If that is the case then we will modify the teleportation magic circle there as well. You will be able to teleport to the location when you all return to Avalon. You can ask the demons to send you to the second location." Adrian stated as he and the other demons would use too much mana if they brought all the players here.

As soon as the players heard that they will be able to join on the next battle, they suddenly shouted in excitement. A lot of the top guilds would not even do such a thing, but the Demon was such a magnanimous person. If they actually knew that Adrian just wanted them to come, then they might have thought otherwise. Still, this type of thing is not common even if guilds look at others as cannon fodder.

"We need to kill the Leviathan faster as I have a bad feeling that something dangerous would happen if we do not do so immediately." Adrian thought.

"We can easily modify the magic circle to tag another coordinate. They also return to the territory so they can heal and get essentials again for raiding. Although, they should hasten once we tag the location." Elder Koronn stated.

"Let us go." Adrian stated as his guild and the Evergreen guild members suddenly vanished from the location.

"They have left. We could not even assassinate the Demon. He has too much battle sense as I felt his eyes when I was about to use a skill to try and damage him. Does he have amazing sense to the point that he could pinpoint bloodlust?" A dark gamer reported as he retreated after the Leviathan's tail was destroyed.

== n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

The Valor and Infernum guild were slowly destroying the middle part of the Leviathan. There were still some small islands scattered around which made it possible for them to have a foothold. Still, this type of thing made it difficult for them to deal catastrophic damage to the middle part of the Leviathan. They were holding on because most of the players they recruited were using some sort of jetpack.

The Gnome Kingdom has become able to create the best jetpacks as they called since it was just a prototype when the game started. The fact that a stable jetpack was only created after years of research and development is a testament to how difficult it is. Still, the Infernum guilds was able to get their hands on this because they are in an alliance with the Gnome kingdom since one of their main guild members is a hero in the place.

Even though the Infernum guild members have the jetpack, it does not mean that the duration of flight is infinite. The jetpack is only able to be functional in proportion to the magic crystal that is inserted into it. The most basic magic crystal can gain a person at least an hour before it goes into emergency mode and uses the mana of the flyer. The Infernum guild members are burning money in order to destroy a part of the Leviathan.

They were able to maintain a certain battle status, but it all changed when the tail's barrier was finally destroyed. Five waterspouts suddenly got created and made it difficult for those flying in the air. Some even plunged to the water and died as the Leviathan has full control of the seas where the middle part of it is. This is not like the tail that is close to the shore which made it easy to counter when Adrian sipped all of the water.

"Destroy the waterspouts with magic spells!" Faust shouted as he also called upon great power using his Greater Fire Elemental.

Faust was able to destroy one of the waterspouts by creating a powerful fire explosion inside one. Another was destroyed by Sigfried using pure force, then the third is destroyed by Ain using a martial sage art that reversed the rotation of one. The remaining two were supposed to be destroyed by the mage group of the two guilds but the sudden arrival of people made them actually halt. Time suddenly froze as Elder Koronn froze time for a second before resuming it.

"Such troublesome water twisters." Elder Koronn stated as he easily destroyed the two waterspouts with a snap of his finger.

Elder Koronn easily destroyed them by stopping the force in the middle by isolating the time inside. As soon as Elder Koronn arrived, he finally let go as it seems that it has been quite some time since he was outside of his laboratory. He immediately resumed time for all the others that were affected by his skill and froze the middle part of the Leviathan which made it unable to dive or move about.

"Well, what are you youngsters doing? Destroy the thing so that we can move towards the head." Elder Koronn stated as he also started to create a magic circle that links to Avalon.

"You heard the elder. Attack!" Adrian shouted as well and summoned Wisteria.

Wisteria landed in the waters and assumed her real size. She became a large moving water ship that made it easy for the long-range attackers to hit their spells. The melee players had to use the stepping ice field that Kanlaon created in order to deal damage to the frozen middle part of the Leviathan.

"Why did it suddenly change to become so easy?" Both Siegfried and Ain grumbled as they were having a difficult time earlier.

"That was an entrance that I never expected." Ain stated as he sighed but felt relieved.

Ain and Siegfried might now want to admit it, but they were barely had any stamina left. They were the ones that are making sure that their guild members were alive from all the damage. When the waterspouts appeared, they thought that they will actually be defeated. They knew that the middle part of the Leviathan is more durable compared to the tail.

"Sorry about that. We did give a heads up that we will be arriving." Adrian stated.

"We received the message, but I did not think that you will arrive after a few seconds that you sent the message." Ain stated.

"Still, I am thankful for this. Such a sight is actually such a perception breaker. The fact that the enemy is frozen in place via time manipulation is making me shudder in fear. I am actually thankful that the Daemos are not evil." Siegfried stated but Adrian can only laugh dryly because there were one's demons that became evil.

"Let us hope that they will not be released from their seals that are hidden in pocket dimensions." Adrian thought.

The appearance of the Pantheon and the Evergreen guild made it easy for the health barrier of the middle part of the Leviathan to drop to a great degree. Any mysterious power or spell released by the Leviathan were easily suppressed by Elder Bronx as well. The other players finally followed them to the second location and started attacking the Leviathan as well.

"Death to the Leviathan! This is thanks to Equinox!" Shouted the players as some of them suddenly became fanatic followers of Adrian.

"It seems that your fans are rampaging as they like. I should join in as well or else the contribution of my guild would plummet." Siegfried shouted as he was already healed by Anastacia.

"Thanks, grandma. I am fully healed as well. I should also go into the battle or else the old man would get all the great rewards." Ain stated which made Anastacia smack the back of his head before he returned to battle.

Adrian did not participate in this battle, but his guild members did. He was assessing the area for any unforeseen threats as discussed by the other two elders to him. The Daemos Elders knew that Adrian was a skilled fighter, but they needed someone who could see through falsehood. They believed that some gods might have interfered with the Leviathan, and they needed him to be on the lookout.

The two elders might be able to detect them, but Adrian was much better when it comes to detection. They even told him that he was the best demon with such precise detection that would make all of them envy him. Even Old Man Pann told them that he was better than him when it comes to presence detection.

Chapter 2027 Advance of the Demons II

[The middle part of the Leviathan has dropped to 20% health.]

[Getaway from the immediate area.]

Before Adrian has realized it, the middle part has already been destroyed. A sudden surge of powerful torrent of water came from below. All of the players caught in the sudden explosion of water were tossed upwards. Adrian suddenly saw a powerful killing intent from behind which the tail of the Leviathan is suddenly surging towards them.

"Elder Koronn, please help me." Adrian calmly stated.

"I know what you need." Elder Koronn stated as he suddenly snapped his fingers which made time stop for the others except for the Daemos that are unaffected.

Adrian transformed to his mirror demon form and tagged all of the players that were sent flying upwards. He pooled all of them in groups and created mirrors that transferred them to the islands below. When time finally flowed, the players were only dumbfounded that they were in the air one time and then on land the next. The sharp tail of the Leviathan swept across the skies, but it did not kill any of the players due to the intervention of the Daemos.

[The Leviathan's middle part and tail has fled! Follow it to the last location and destroy the last protected part to summon the Leviathan in the last confrontation.]

"We destroyed it!" The players shouted as they finally destroyed the middle part and started to catch the loot.

Some of the loots were dropped to the sea but they were able to fish them out due to the blessing of the deep. The mages that can control water used their spells to bring up the loot that dropped to the seafloor. Once all of the loot was collected, some of the guilds boarded their airships to fly towards the location of the head. Pantheon and Evergreen guild teleported directly to the head area of the Leviathan.

One of the Demons stayed to create a teleportation magic circle that led to the beach. Upon the arrival of the Pantheon and the Evergreen guild to the location of the head of the Leviathan, Adrian worked with the two elders to create a portal that directly led to the area. They can only set up the portal at sea because there were no islands in the vicinity.

Fortunately for the players that teleported there, they already had the blessing of the deep and easily traversed the waters. The airships were still ten minutes away as the distance was still a bit far even though they had a head start. Adrian wanted to offer to teleport the Valor and the Infernum guild, but they declined.

The Pantheon and the Evergreen guild saw that the battle to destroy the barrier of the head of the Leviathan has almost reached a conclusion. The guild led by Hou Yiwei saw the arrival of the Pantheon and the Evergreen guild, but they also saw that the latter did not join in the fight. The reason for the Pantheon and the Evergreen guild not joining is due to the fact that they know the guild etiquette.

It is guild etiquette to not suddenly kill a prey that a group has already started unless they agreed. Anastacia actually asked them if they could aid them, but they were declined which is why Adrian also told the other Daemos to standby. It did not take long and the barrier that protected the Leviathan's head has been destroyed. Hou Yiwei has powerful attack which easily destroyed the barriers, and he also has great support as well.

[The Leviathan's head has dropped to 25% health.]

[The Leviathan calls for the storms and waves to wash away all of the area.]

[Be careful of the things around you.]

A large wave suddenly washed towards all of the area in a circular area. The powerful wave will crash to all of the players that arrived. Adrian could immediately see that all of them were in panic mode as they did not have any procedures to deal with such natural disasters. Adrian smiled and nodded his head to wards Elder Koronn and Elder Bronx.

"Reverse Gravity!" Adrian, Elder Koronn, and Elder Bronx stated as a powerful force suddenly reversed the force that kept all of the players on the ground.

All of the players in the large area suddenly floated upwards until they were fifty meters away from the sea. The powerful wave crashed, and no players were harmed by the natural disaster. Still, the powerful wave is not the only problem as parts of the body of the Leviathan surged across the water. The tail of the Leviathan that was broken suddenly formed into a water blade that surged towards the players that were floating in the sky.

"I will deal with that." Elder Bronx stated as he suddenly transformed into his true form and clashed with the Leviathan's tail.

The Leviathan's tail was sent flying back into the ocean, but a strange scene suddenly formed. The strength of the tackle that Elder Bronx used was actually enough to destroy the tail, but it suddenly turned into water when it crashed into the sea. The head of the Leviathan that is also heavily damaged suddenly melted into the water as well as if it was not actually a real body part.

"Such arrogance for mere humans! Even if you have the support of the Daemos, you will never truly kill me!" A voice that came from the deepest part of the sea stated as it made the sky rumble, and seas shake.

The Leviathan finally showed its full body as it rose from the deepest parts of the sea. The three parts that all the players attacked is actually a powerful projection that the Leviathan has created. The real Leviathan is actually gathering energy in the deepest parts of the seas by absorbing the Chaos Shard Fragment that it was given by the God Loki. It used a projection of itself to protect its body from any harm from the outside.

A powerful pressure broke through the seas and the Leviathan looked different to the entity that it projected earlier. When the Leviathan showed itself, Adrian shuddered as his line of sight suddenly trailed to the shard that is embedded on the forehead of the Leviathan. He looked incredibly mesmerized as if greed sprouted in his heart and another being is whispering to him to take that shard.

"I finally see you again, demon brat!" A voice that is filled with malice is suddenly heard behind Adrian which made him snap out of his trance.

"Master!" Sirius shouted as he jumped out of the shadow and used his claws to parry the incoming dagger aimed at Adrian's neck.

"Did you think that I did not detect you earlier?" Adrian muttered as he initiated Time Stop.

The two elders were also made aware of the unknown presence in the area. Adrian already told them that there was a god hiding in the shadows of illusions. He was not sure which god it was, but Adrian made sure to tell the elders to be in alert as they might be the targets.

"I did not think that it was you, but tricksters are the most troublesome of gods after all. Still sending a clone? I guess you really are a coward as the other Vanir gods said." Adrian stated as he could feel the power of the God Loki in front of him.

The clone of the God Loki became infuriated as this clone only had the power of a lesser god, but it was still connected to the main body. What hurt the God Loki the most is the fact that he was called a coward. Still, the God Loki knew that it was all a trick for him to lose composure which might lead him to this clone's death. n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

"You are making too many enemies, mediator. Even if you are chosen by the Twin Gods, you cannot be protected by them now that they have fallen into slumber. I will make sure to showcase your head once I separate it from your body. I will leave for now." The God Loki stated but it seems that he underestimated the abilities of all the elders.

"Chrono Field Domination!" Elder Koronn stated as the area suddenly got enveloped in a thin barrier where time became aberrant.

The God Loki clone that was supposed to use a scroll that connects to the Bifrost suddenly failed in activating the scroll. The scroll activated but the magic inscribed in it got destroyed as soon as Elder Koronn activated the spell that changed the flow of time in the area. The God Loki clone could only use physical means in order escape rather than magical.

"What did you do!?" The God Loki clone shouted as he could feel that there was a slight shift in the time flow in the area.

"God Loki, you are charged with crimes of destroying the dimensional barriers." Elder Bronx proclaimed as he suddenly appeared behind the God Loki clone and smacked him towards the sea.

Chapter 2028 Evolved Leviathan

While Adrian and the two elders were busy with the God Loki, the other players that gathered saw the new form of the Leviathan. The Leviathan still had the same shape as it had before, but the scales of its body glowed in a mysterious energy that is combined with primordial energy. It was now stronger than before as it has already absorbed some of the energy within the Chaos Shard Fragment.

[You are in the presence of the Khadasha Leviathan.]

[All beings in the presence of the Khadasha Leviathan will have their stats drop by 10%.]

Monster Name: Khadasha Leviathan

Monster Tier: Transcendent

Monster Race: Primordial Beast

Monster Species: Aquatic Primordial Beast

Monster Level: 450

HP: 100%

MP: 80%

Description: The evolved form of the Leviathan after it has become acclimated with a strange shard that contained energy that is said to have shaped the world. It has evolved into a more powerful primordial beast and is still getting more powerful as long as it can draw power from the mysterious shard. It can control the wrath of the seas as it now has the power level equal to that of a Greater God. Only the world itself is restricting it into becoming a more powerful primordial beast.

"All of you insects shall perish for even trying to kill the Mother of the Seas!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as its voice made the sky reverberate with power.

"How can we even battle against that!" The players uttered as they could feel the intense power that emanated from the Khadasha Leviathan.

The pressure that emanated from the Khadasha Leviathan is akin to that of a greater god which the players that came could somewhat withstand. The only difference is that there was a strange aura that covered it which made all of the stats become lower. All of the players could also see the large figure of the Khadasha Leviathan which made them shudder realizing that they could get killed by just one bump from it.

The sudden appearance of the Khadasha Leviathan made all of the players present in the area tremble. This is the effect of being in front of a primordial beast as they are beings created by the world ever since it has been formed. They are true forces of nature that will revive even if they die as they are an essential part of the world. The only problem now is that the Khadasha Leviathan has undergone an evolution that shakes the foundation of the world itself.

[The world has sensed the anomaly that the Leviathan has experienced.]

[The world itself is blessing all of the beings trying to kill the Leviathan to revert it back to the natural being that it once was.]

[All of the players or beings facing the Khadasha Leviathan will have their stats increased by 50%.]

[All of the cooldowns will also be refreshed for beings fighting the Khadasha Leviathan.]

[Health and Mana will be restored for all beings that are fighting the Khadasha Leviathan.]

[The world has blessed all of the beings in battle with the Khadasha Leviathan with the special Skill Buff: Water Walker due to the aid of the God Dagon.]

As soon as the players saw the notifications, a powerful natural energy suddenly filled their bodies. All of their skills that were on cooldown were refreshed and all of them also got healed back to full health and mana. The players rejoiced but the most useful blessing was given by the world with the help of the God Dagon. Players already knew who the God Dagon was, but this was the first time that they learned that the world could get aid from gods to give buffs to players.

Skill Buff (Water Walker): Enables the skill bearer to walk on water as if it is ground. In order to dive in water, the skill bearer must envision themselves sinking in water.

All of the players that were unable to fly suddenly rejoiced as they were now able to freely walk on water without the need for mana or even a time limit. The blessing of the deep was useful but they all know that it has a time limit. The fact that the world itself is rejecting the Khadasha Leviathan means that its transformation is unnatural and goes against the laws of the world.

"So, even the world itself is rejecting me!? Does striving for power would mean that we, the primordial beasts, will be exiled by the world that has birth us!? No matter! Once I ascend to a higher being, I shall be free from the restraints of the world and become the new god that rules the waters of this world!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as a powerful roar made all of the players get knocked back by a few feet.

"I shall kill you myself, large snake!" Hou Yiwei declared but he was also wary of one of the players.

Hou Yiwei declared that he would fight the Khadasha Leviathan, but he is also looking at Equinox' direction. He was wondering why the Demon was not attacking but it seems that they were caught up in something. Seeing that Equinox was preoccupied by another arrangement, Hou Yiwei made sure to deal as much damage as he can. He was the ranked one player and will show the world that he is the most powerful as well.

"Such an arrogant, half dragon! Water Cannon!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as six pillars of water suddenly blasted towards Hou Yiwei while he was flying.

The six columns of water all concentrated towards Hou Yiwei but he did not even flinch. Instead, the six columns of water were all blasted away as Hou Yiwei has already transformed to his Dragon Warrior form where he held two large flaming swords. The Khadasha Leviathan looked a bit amused as she was still getting used to her new and growing powers. She was pleased that there were insects around her where she could try her new abilities.

"All of you insects shall die with the force of the seas! Mega Wave Crasher!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as she summoned a gigantic tidal wave that actually dwarfed her current size.

The players that were attacking her could only pray and dive into the sea while the players that could fly tried to go higher than they ever been. The large tidal wave was such a terrifying sight that some players wanted to use their teleportation scrolls to leave the battle. All of the players that thought that they could defeat the Khadasha Leviathan suddenly felt that what they thought was only a pipe dream.

"Fear not. We shall aid you!" Time Reversal!" Ten Daemos Corps members shouted as they casted Time Reversal simultaneously.

The gigantic tidal wave that would have swept all of the players away suddenly started to back down as time was sent back. The passage of time for the tidal wave reverted to the point that it turned into a calm sea once again. The Khadasha Leviathan looked incredibly enraged as its powerful spell was countered like that and the players cheered that they have become safe. The only problem is that the Daemos Corps members that casted that spell looked tired. Nôv(el)B\\jnn

"We must hold on until the elders can help us." The temporary leader of the Daemos Corps stated, and it was actually the son of Elder Bronx, Onyx.

"Make sure to attack the beast with all you got. Remember that we prioritize survival over doing killing blows. We are not heroes that must sacrifice their lives. We can aid the blessed children as per the instructions of the elders." Onyx commanded.

"All of you shall feel my wrath! If magic is not effective, then I shall devour and destroy all of you myself!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as she plunged her entire body into the water.

Just the act of diving into the water created small tidal waves in the area but the real danger is that the Khadasha Leviathan has started her hunt. Her long slithery body might look large and unable to move but she was incredibly agile inside the water. She would dive and then resurface where groups of players are located. The unfortunate ones are devoured while the lucky ones end up losing a limb or two.

"Scatter everyone!" The players shouted as they all tried to hide but hiding was already not possible.

They cannot hide in the vast ocean, but they can all run away due to the fact that they all of them can now walk on water. The Khadasha Leviathan did not stop in her relentless pursuit in killing off the players, but they panic soon dissipated. A player that looked like a seductive witch suddenly chanted in the language of the devils as her entire body shifted from a woman to a devil mermaid.

"You are not the only sovereign of the seas!" Cersei stated as she was now possessed by the Devil God Vepar.

Chapter 2029 Devil God Versus Primordial Beast

[The Devil God Vepar has descended.]

[The control over the waters has been split between the Devil God Vepar and the Khadasha Leviathan.]

Cersei has fully embodied the Devil God Vepar as she now has this dark aura around her while still looking like a seductive mermaid. The Khadasha Leviathan saw Cersei and glared at her because there was another being trying to usurp her throne as the ruler of the seas. Both Cersei and the Khadasha Leviathan met eyes as both of them wanted to assert dominance against each other.

"You dare, devil fish!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted towards Cersei.

"Bring it on, oversized loach!" Cersei stated but it was actually the Devil God Vepar talking through her.

The Khadasha Leviathan and the Devil God Vepar prepared for their clash. The waves surged behind the Khadasha Leviathan and the Devil God Vepar. The Khadasha Leviathan has water that is natural green in color while the Devil God Vepar's controlled water became tainted with darkness as he enhanced it with his own mana. The two waves controlled by the two beings clashed against one another which resulted in water splashing everywhere.

The two beings that freely controlled the sea could be seen having a stare down once again. They were evenly matched when it came to controlling large tidal waves. The Devil God Vepar knew that he will not win in this exchange as he still has a weakness. It was Cersei that is still mainly controlling her body and the Devil God Vepar is only making up for what she is lacking.

n/ô/vel/b//in dot c//om

"Cersei, we need to change the strategy. We are smaller than her which means she will be hard pressed when it comes to attacking us." The Devil God Vepar stated.

"Tell me what we need to do." Cersei stated.

Cersei sprang into action with the support of the Devil God Vepar. She utilized her current devilize form and glided through the water as if she was flying in the air. She did not even have any resistance as if she was sliding without any sense of friction which made her move swiftly. The Khadasha Leviathan saw Cersei swimming at a fast speed and releasing pinpointed aquatic spears enhanced by devil magic.

The black water spears hit the body of the Khadasha Leviathan and started to taint the scales of the proud primordial beast. Each scale that Cersei hits with her black water spears would decrease in defense by 3%. This did not deal much damage to the Khadasha Leviathan, but it was steadily weakening its defenses. The best thing result is the fact that the Khadasha Leviathan could not cleanse the defense reduction that Cersei is inflicting.

The Khadasha Leviathan could not take such insult and started to attack Cersei. The Khadasha Leviathan tried to bite Cersei's head off, but the latter was too fast for the former. The Khadasha Leviathan almost had the chance, but Cersei just blasted its eyes with black water which made it screech in pain. Seeing that the Khadasha Leviathan was now somewhat blinded, the players that have finally recovered started to attack the primordial beast as well.

The players did not even need to attack the Khadasha Leviathan via the head as its large body was the perfect punching bag. The players found the parts of the Khadasha Leviathan that did not move as much when it is swimming and proceeded to attack them. Some even attacked the scales that Cersei already weakened and dealt critical hits.

"Insolent, water bugs!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as it finally recovered from its blind status effect.

"You shall experience the Wrath of the Sea!" The Khadasha Leviathan shouted as it created hundreds of powerful twisters instantly.

Some of the unfortunate players were caught up in these twisters but the Khadasha Leviathan seemed to have forgotten that she was also in the presence of the Daemos. All the players that were caught in the twisters were all teleported to safety with all seventeen Daemos working together. They may have exhausted more mana in the process, but no player was killed by the Khadasha Leviathan.

"Blessing of Mother Nature!" Anastacia shouted as she released a powerful healing pulse that healed all of the injured players in the entire area.

[The area has been blessed by Mother Nature.]

[All allies have healed by 20% of their maximum health.]

[All allies will have their health regeneration be increased by 400% for ten minutes.]

[All allies will have their mana regeneration be increased by 100% for ten minutes.]

Small flowers could be seen spawning as soon as Anastacia used the skill as it has a special effect of leaving a health and mana regeneration field. A sweet scent filled the salty air which made it more breathable as the pressure emitted by the Khadasha Leviathan was lessened. The Khadasha Leviathan suddenly changed her aggro towards Anastacia as she healed too many players for a large value in a short amount of time.

The Khadasha Leviathan turned its tail into a water blade and aimed it towards Anastacia. The motion was quick and precise that the tail would land in under a few seconds. All of Anastacia's guild tank members huddled but they were all blown away by the initial hit. Anastacia tried to cast a protection spell, but she was not around a tree or ground which meant that she will not have any instant barrier.

"Repelling Tides!" Kabrakan suddenly shouted as he got transported directly in front of Anastacia.

The tail blade and the towering shields of Kabrakan clashed against one another. The force of the collision created a strange illusion of two tidal waves clashing against one another. The excessive force that Kabrakan repelled created two tidal waves behind him, but he was able to withstand it. The Khadasha Leviathan saw that a small being was able to withstand her full force which made her miserable because that meant that she was weak.

"You are too preoccupied beast!" Hou Yiwei stated as he was finally near the Leviathan's head.

Chapter 2030 Dragonoid Versus Primordial Beast

Hou Yiwei was finally able to get close to the Khadasha Leviathan. He had difficulties earlier as he could not easily follow it when it dove into the sea. His flames were weak when it comes to a being that controlled the seas, but the Khadasha Leviathan's head is now above water. As soon as he had a clear target area, Hou Yiwei performed his most powerful attack that he can use in his Dragon Warrior mode.

"Dragon Crushing Slash!" Hou Yiwei shouted as his blades turned into white flames and slashed two times at the face of the Khadasha Leviathan.

The Khadasha Leviathan felt the powerful energy of that attack and knew that she would be endangering herself if she would get hit in the eyes. With a swift motion, the Khadasha Leviathan tilted her head, but she was not fast enough. The white flamed swords were able to make contact and the cheeks of the Khadasha Leviathan were seared by the heat. A loud painful cry echoed in the surroundings which made the waters suddenly blast upwards.

Hou Yiwei smiled as he turned back to his humanoid form as he would lose his Dragon Force when used that skill. This did not mean that he would be safe though as the Khadasha Leviathan suddenly surprised him. The Khadasha Leviathan's head pierced the water curtain and accurately found where Hou Yiwei was located. The large fangs of the Khadasha Leviathan are now at an arm's length towards him.

"Is this my limit?" Hou Yiwei thought as he did not expect that he would die like this.

Hou Yiwei knew that he was sturdier than most players due to being a dragonoid but he will definitely die when caught by the jaws of the beast. He saw full health tank players get easily crushed to death when they were caught by the Khadasha Leviathan. He will not be safe, and he cannot rely on the demons to teleport him to safety.

"I guess this is the end. No! I must live no matter what!" Hou Yiwei uttered to himself as he forcefully tilted his body and used his wings to try and evade the jaws of the Khadasha Leviathan.

Hou Yiwei was able to tilt his body, but he felt the incredible strain it felt. He felt his body tense up and he suddenly froze but he was able to slightly evade the jaws of the Khadasha Leviathan. Still, he could only save his body but not his left wing as the Khadasha Leviathan bit down and tore it like it was paper. Hou Yiwei stifled his pain as a dragonkin's wings are extremely sensitive, but it is actually the sturdiest part of their body.

The fact that his wing tore like paper meant that the jaws of the Khadasha Leviathan is its strongest body part. Fortunately for Hou Yiwei, he still had a guild member that is an excellent healer. He got bathed in holy light as the angel White saved him. She immediately flew towards Hou Yiwei and caught him then sent him to safety.

"Healing your wing might take longer than I think." White stated as healing lost limbs took a longer time now compared to before as it was recently patched by the developers.

"I am fine. I might not have my left wing but that does not mean I cannot participate in battle." Hou Yiwei stated as he joined his two blades to form a bow.

"Buff me!" Hou Yiwei stated and White already knew what he was casting due to his position.

"Greater Attack! Greater Crit! Light Elemental Damage Buff!" White shouted as she easily casted three epic ranked buff spells towards Hou Yiwei.

"Taste the wrath of the suns, loach! Seven Sun Breaker!" Hou Yiwei shouted as he launched seven flaming arrows towards the sky.

[You have been buffed due to the presence of the Mother of the Dragons.]

[All attack has been increased by 15%.]

[You have been buffed due to the presence of the Genesis Dragon.]

[All attack has been increased by 10%.]

Hou Yiwei did not think that he would get buffs due to the presence of two beings, but he was not the only one. A horde of angels, devils, and even Nephilim arrived with other players. One of those players was none other than Basil and she was the Mother of Dragons. Her presence alone gives a powerful buff to all allies with dragon blood running in their veins.

A golden dragon is also spotted in the skies and blasted the Khadasha Leviathan with its breath attack. Hou Yiwei knew who the owner of that dragon is, and it was none other than Equinox, but it seems that he was not yet entirely present in the battlefield. It seems that Equinox only summoned his soulbounds to help his guild members.

"Nevertheless, I got some help from him, but it does not mean I will thank him." Hou Yiwei stated as he finally saw seven large balls of fire resembling suns crashing towards the Khadasha Leviathan.

"Kill the Leviathan!" The players shouted as they were more invigorated due to the effect of the powerful skills that landed on the Khadasha Leviathan.

The players were invigorated but the players could clearly see that the Khadasha Leviathan is not a normal raid boss. They used most of their strength, but the health bar has yet to even drop to the 75% mark. The large pool of health that the Khadasha Leviathan has makes it difficult to kill even with the number of players present. This was truly a raid boss that was difficult to kill with just one or two guilds cooperating with each other. n/ô/vel/b//jn dot c//om

"Are you tired?" Ork asked Hou Yiwei.

"I can still go on. I think you should also start your rampage if I were you." Hou Yiwei stated as he knew Ork was taking more on the leadership role of the guild when he deals high damage against raid bosses.

"Let us show the pride of the Number one guild under the rank one player!" Ork shouted as all of their guild members charged towards the Khadasha Leviathan.
