

O Summoner 2131

Chapter 2131: Spatial Transfer

Adrian and the Black Fairy Mavros met gazes, but the former laughed smugly as the latter sensed what was wrong. A large magic circle of great energy appeared below the Forest Swamp Abomination. The Black Fairy Mavros could feel the pull of the dimensions as her senses went into overdrive.

"See you on the other side." Adrian stated as the entire Forest Swamp Abomination along with those inside of it suddenly vanished from the location.

The Forest Swamp Abomination got transferred to a place where heat was boiling from below the earth. The Forest Swamp Abomination got transferred inside the mouth of an active volcano. A painful scream could be heard as the Forest Swamp Abomination's lower area is subjected to intense heat and magma. The corrupted dryads and corrupted leshy inside of the Forest Swamp Abomination could not help it as even they are afraid of the intense heat of the volcano.

If there is one thing that could severely damage the faekin then that would be natural energy. Since they are beings of the natural world, they are more susceptible to the dangers of the natural world as well. This is one of the reasons why the fae would often build their homes in places where it is hidden from the world or completely safe from natural disasters.

The Black Fairy Mavros became enraged as she was woken up too early. She would have gathered back some of her strength to at least 80% but the interruption made her strength only return back to 45%. She was not even half into her peak power and her entire plan to consume the world tree is already going into rot. The Black Fairy Mavros created a large magic circle made of pure miasma and actually transformed the magma that was hurting the Forest Swamp Abomination into mud.

"My queen, I am sorry." The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn stated even though she had half her body almost nonexistent.

"What happened while I was inside the chrysalis? I made sure that we will not be tracked as I used a concealing spell on the Forest Swamp Abomination." The Black Fairy Mavros stated.

"They had a demon in their ranks, my queen. A shadow person was also in their ranks, and she had a weapon that could even kill fae. It seems that the world tree has called upon all of the beings that might be able to help it." The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn stated.

"All of you have become pathetic." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she looked at her underlings with great disappointment.

"We are sorry that we have failed you, our queen. What shall we do? With a demon amongst them, we might not be able to move forward. He sent us to the nearest active volcano in the general area. What is to stop him from doing it again." The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn stated.

"To think that demons were still roaming about freely. To think those winged birds failed in doing their end of the bargain." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she seems to have also interacted with the angels of the past.

"What shall we do, my queen?" The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn stated which frustrated the Black Fairy Mavros even more.

The Black Fairy Mavros could no longer stand the idiocy of the one that hid her Grafts. She knew that the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn was incapable of leadership but to think that she failed this horribly. Everything was supposed to be easy for the Black Fairy Mavros as she believed that she was the chosen one. She even revived with all her memories intact which already filters her from the rest of the fairies.

"Keep quiet or else I shall abandon you as well." The Black Fairy Mavros stated which made the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn shut up and almost burst into tears.

"If she was not this dumb then I would not have any use for her. She was as gullible as the day that I picked her up. If I did not mold her to be good at stealth and running away, then I would have sacrificed her for my return to power." The Black Fairy Mavros thought as she tried thinking of a way to reach the world tree.

The Black Fairy Mavros did not pick up and train the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn with honest intentions. She needed a backup plan in case she ends up being defeated. She knew that destroying the current monarchy of the fae will be difficult and she might need numerous tries. Hence, she created a tool for her to use that will be incredibly loyal to her and would always sacrifice herself to make sure that she is not in harm's way.

"That demon used a powerful transfer spell by himself. He will not be able to do so again in such a short amount of time. He must be incredibly tired about now which means that the other operation must succeed. Did you instruct the Foliage Scouts to plant the miasma flowers just as I had commanded you to?" The Black Fairy Mavros stated.

"I have done so, my queen. They should have already planted the seeds near the world tree as we speak as they are the only ones that could move as stealthily as I could when passing through the earth." The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn replied.

The Black Fairy Mavros used a spell to scan the surroundings and immediately got a response. She feared that the demon would prepare an ambush for her inside this volcano. Contrary to what she believed, Adrian and the others did not set a trap for the Black Fairy Mavros here in the volcano as they would already be stretching themselves too thin if they do so. The Black Fairy Mavros smiled as she sensed that there were no hostile beings near them.

"It might be a different case when we climb out of this crater, but we will not be doing such a thing." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she pulled on the miasma reserves of the Forest Swamp Abomination.

The Black Fairy Mavros used 10% of the total miasma reserves of the Forest Swamp Abomination in casting the spell that she has now. The Forest Swamp Abomination became smaller in size due this as its body is maintained by miasma. Using this miasma reserve would mean that its entire being will be used up as well.

"I can already feel the miasma flowers being planted in the ground as they are made from a part of me. The Foliage Scouts have succeeded in their task of getting near the world tree. Be ready as I will transfer us to that location now while the enemy thinks that we are climbing this crater!" The Black Fairy Mavros stated as a large miasma magic circle got created with them inside of it.

The Black Fairy Mavros is actually a bit thankful to the spatial transfer spell that was used on them as this would make her enemies be unaware of what she had planned prior. She utilized the spell called Bloom as her miasma flowers that were planted near the territory of Neo Alnheim started to bloom. She was making a passageway or a fairy path using these miasma flowers.

Fairy Paths are basically unique passageways that fairies of higher class can create. Unlike demons that can defy space easily, the fairies use natural worldly energies and manipulating it using methods that they know of like planting seeds. Such process would end up creating a fairy circle which is popularly believed to be passageways to the realm of the fae.

"Let us conquer that world tree before that demon arrives at our location. Activate the Fairy Path!" The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she activated the spell.

A fairy circle was indeed created around the Forest Swamp Abomination. It was a ring of strange ugly flowers that dictates that is filled with miasma. The entire Forest Swamp Abomination, along with the other fae, vanished despite it being such a large monster. Adrian was actually already there and was observing what the Black Fairy Mavros would do. "They did not climb out the crater, but I already accounted for that happening. It was a good thing that I could freely talk to the Fairy King and Fairy Queen." Adrian stated as he flew down.

Adrian summoned Kimat, Dodu, and Kenos and commanded them to destroy the fairy circle. Adrian was told that the fairy circle was a passageway that can be freely used by the fairy that created them. He also asked the Fairy King on how to destroy one. The Fairy King told him that destroying one part of the fairy circle would mean it would be unusable. Although, destroying one will not be easy as the magic used in one was incredibly powerful and potent. "Let us see if a fairy circle is as sturdy as they are said to be. I wanted to see the face on the Black Fairy Mavros when she is surprised though." Adrian stated as he watched as his soulbounds that can destroy anything started to ravage the fairy circle.

Chapter 2132: Sudden Invasion?

"We have arrived at the expected location!" The Black Fairy Mavros shouted as she could see the large world tree only a few kilometers away.

"They really did arrive at the expected location as said by the fairies." Ain stated as he was in one of the locations that was pinpointed by the fairies that have come to their aid.

"A sage? What is a hermit like you doing here? Run along now fake immortal while I am still in a good mood." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she appeared before Ain.

"It seems that you are mistaken, evil fairy. I am friends with the person protecting that world tree which is why you should retreat and become good instead. Fighting against us will just be your own demise." Ain stated as he did not want to be outshone by the Black Fairy Mavros arrogance.

"What can your small army do against me? If you do not wish to get out of the way, then you shall become fodder for my own power." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she could see that the number of individuals that are under Ain's command was only less than a thousand. "Did you think that we are not prepared for your arrival, evil fairy?" Ain stated as he shot a talisman upwards into the sky and it created a beautiful firework.

"What do you hope to achieve with your lights?! Kill them!" The Black Fairy Mavros shouted as all of the corrupted dryads, corrupted leshies, and even the Foliage Soldiers that were remaining charged towards Ain and the ones under his command.

The armies that the Black Fairy Mavros has created already numbered to about ten thousand. Her army is also growing slowly as the evil spirits that she used to create the Forest Swamp Abomination are also being used to create more Foliage Soldiers. The Forest Swamp Abomination has already done its job of transport which is why she now needs it to become soldiers.

"Your arrogance still has no bounds, sister." The Fairy Queen stated as she suddenly appeared along with a number of her royal guards.

It was not just the Fairy Queen that has arrived as numerous magic circles that were hidden suddenly started to get activated around the Forest Swamp Abomination. The magic circles were none other than teleportation magic circles that was installed by Adrian earlier on. The sudden arrival of reinforcements and being surrounded by them made the Black Fairy Mavros click her tongue.

"It seems that you have anticipated my arrival, sister. You must have thought of what I wanted to do. No matter... I can just bide my time and think of another way to restore my power. Return!" The Black Fairy Mavros shouted as she expected the fairy circle to activate. The fairy circle beneath the feet of the Forest Swamp Abomination suddenly lit up as the Black Fairy Mavros expected it to activate and return them to their previous destination. She had this smug look on her face as the flowers glowed, but this suddenly turned into dread when the lights that the flowers emitted dimmed down. The magic that she poured into the fairy circle suddenly vanished and returned back to her as this is a sign that the spell was cancelled.

"Going somewhere, sister?" The Fairy Queen stated as she conjured up a spear made of beautiful vines and a sharp leaf.

"You managed to control Misteltein?!" The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she immediately conjured powerful barriers to protect herself.

"I waited so long for this day. I thought that it would not come as I wished that you were dead, but I can now have my revenge." The Fairy Queen stated as she smiled beautifully but the deadly aura around her could make anyone shiver in fear.

"Pay for your sins, sister." The Fairy Queen stated as she targeted the Black Fairy Mavros with the magic spear that she could control.

The Misteltein spear is a powerful fairy artifact that is of the Transcendent tier. It is currently in its Mythical Form as the Fairy Queen can only control part of its power currently. She was training for this moment in time as back then she could only control it in its Epic tier form. The Fairy Queen believed that she would be protected as she believed her family was always harmonious.

Little did she know that her sister would betray her and even killed some of her children. She swore on that day to harness the power of the powerful fairy spear that is said to be the weakness of all natural and unnatural things. The Misteltein resonated with the Fairy Queen's regret and desire to no longer be weak and would seek the heart of the Black Fairy Mavros.

"Cursed Shield!" The Black Fairy Mavros shouted as she immediately used a powerful curse spell that would weaken anything that touches it.

The Misteltein clashed with the cursed shield that the Black Fairy Mavros created but it was not enough. All the barriers and shields that the Black Fairy Mavros were all pierced through and destroyed as if they were paper. The Misteltein responded to its owner's request and shot straight through the Black Fairy Mavros. One could see the right arm and wing of the Black Fairy Mavros getting destroyed instantly.

"Ugh! I missed her head." The Fairy Queen stated as she suddenly became weak as the toll of using such a powerful artifact is not low.

The Fairy Queen utilized everything in her power to perfectly use the spear, but she still lacked a bit. She wanted to destroy the head of the Black Fairy Mavros, but she failed as she does not have perfect control when she uses all of her power. The Misteltein also vanished as soon as the Fairy Queen became weak as its power is tied to her own stamina. She is bonded with the weapon which means any strain on it would also transfer to her.

"You should have aimed for my head, sister. It was a good thing that I have a few cannons fodder around me." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she was not fazed by her broken wing and missing arm.

The Black Fairy Mavros did not actually dodge the spear by coincidence because she bought herself time. The five bodies of the corrupted dryads conjuring a barrier covering the Forest Swamp Abomination could be seen lying beneath her feet. The Black Fairy Mavros used her own followers as a shield to protect herself even though she still got hit.

"Dorn, if you want to be useful, devour those five and kill my sister for me." The Black Fairy Mavros commanded the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn as she shivered in the corner.

The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn could not believe what she just witnessed. She always believed that the queen that she served would never harm her followers. Back then, she saw how devoted they were to her as they even declared war against the fairy kingdom with their lives. She did not expect the queen she respected so much would use the bodies of her followers as shields to protect herself.

"Dorn! If you want to become like them then be my guest. I am trying to think of a way for us to leave here and you are there shaking in a corner. Their sacrifice was necessary for us to live on which is why you should steel yourself. They are the true enemies because they are getting in the way of my... our happiness!" The Black Fairy Mavros stated as she was actually thinking of a way out, but she was only thinking of a way out for herself.

The Misteltein has a special property and that is the ability to kill the Faekin when struck in their core. The bodies of the Fae are not their real bodies per se as dryads and leshy have a tree as a real body. The bodies that they have roaming about are merely avatars that they use but they can also fuse with their true bodies. The fairy artifact, Misteltein, could bypass this and truly kill any Fae if their avatar's core is directly hit as it has a special power that will transmit the damage directly to the true body of the Fae.

"I will not abandon you, my queen!" The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn stated as she suddenly stopped shaking and devoured the lifeless bodies of the other dryads.

The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn started devouring the dying bodies of the dryads as they were currently fused with their true bodies as well. Still, it is actually taboo among the Fae to devour each other as doing so would make natural magic run wild. There have been Fae in the past that had the ability to absorb the essence of other Fae, and they were all driven mad as devouring another of their kind would transform them into something different. Something so sinister that another Fae would never want to interact with them ever.

Chapter 2133: Do Not Abandon

The Dryad Dorn remembered that she was always been called ugly the day that she was born. She clearly remembered that she was always been different. Unlike the other dryads, the very tree that she had looked like a bush instead of an actual tree. Even the flowers that grew from her tree to signify her coming of age were insulted by the others.

The only thing that the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn had as a good memory was the fact that the Black Fairy Mavros always treated her well. What she did not know was that her core memories have long been manipulated by the Black Fairy Mavros that she no longer remembers anything from her past life. The Black Fairy Mavros have modified her memories to such an extent that she could not even remember her childhood clearly.

The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn remembered the Black Fairy Mavros as her savior and mentor, but all of those memories were fake. If the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn had her memories fixed, then she would have remembered that she was controlled from the very beginning. She would have remembered that she was the one that drove away the other dryads and leshies from ever talking to her as she was the unlucky one chosen by the Black Fairy Mavros.

"For the queen, I shall gladly sacrifice my life!" The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn stated as her mind finally started to shatter because her body started to break down as she consumed others of the same species. Tears could be seen as her humanity vanished from her being and transform her to a monster that is not of this world.

The humanoid body of the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn suddenly started to unravel itself as the effects of the taboo started to appear. The feminine and beautiful body of the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn suddenly grew larger and larger until it exploded into a collection of thorns and vines. A growl that is otherworldly and cold was emitted by this collection of thorns and vines as it finally merged into a wormlike body.

A monster that looked like it was a collection of thorns and vines in the shape of a worm was create. The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn has transformed or rather has been cursed by the taboo to become a being known as a Fairy Eater. A large worm plant hybrid that feeds upon other Fae in order to continue living. If a Fairy Eater were to stop eating other Fae, then it would inevitably die from starvation.

"Die... protect... the... queen. Do... not... abandon." A voice that seemed like numerous Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn were talking is suddenly heard from the Fairy Eater.

The Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn might have lost all reason, but the Fairy Eater seems to have loyalty to the Black Fairy Mavros engraved upon it. The miasma that was used to turn the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn to what she has become is still apparent as it was a magic that manipulated even the soul of a living being. In fact, the Black Fairy Mavros had attempted this magic on another Fae that were quite close to her back then, but they all fell sick and died.

The only one that managed to survive the spell was Dorn who was chosen based on a simple whim of the Black Fairy Mavros. The Black Fairy Mavros smiled as she could feel that she could control this mighty beast that the Corrupted Elder Dryad Dorn has become. A Fairy Eater that is the symbol of terror among the fae is almost following her every command. A Fairy Eater is also a being that has great magic resistance which is why it is a monster that any fae would fear.

"What have you done, sister!" The Fairy Queen shouted as she was terrified to see another Fae become a Fairy Eater.

"I did nothing wrong, sister. Dorn is merely loyal to me and would do everything to save me. Kill my sister, Dorn!" The Black Fairy Mavros stated as her head suddenly exploded into bits.

"Bullseye." Silent Ghost stated as he was currently about two hundred meters away and perched on a tall tree.

He was able to cleanly hit the Black Fairy Mavros with his Evil Piercing Bullet. He even managed to do a headshot and dealt great damage. He thought that he was able to kill the Black Fairy Mavros, but it seems that having her head blown off was not the way to kill her. The lifeless looking body of the Black Fairy Mavros suddenly levitated once again as the miasma stored from the Forest Swamp Abomination was used to restore her form back.

"Do you think that destroying this vessel will kill me? This is not even my real body at the moment. Dorn! Kill everyone around us! Do this for your queen!" The Black Fairy Mavros stated as the Fairy Eater Dorn started attacking all those around her.

The Black Fairy Mavros almost forgot that she was not just against her sister but numerous beings that protected the world tree. She was too focused on her sister and the battle with her that she overlooked her revived army and foliage soldiers succumbing to death. The Black Fairy Mavros' army that she raised is now getting decimated by the guild alliance as even their recovery could no longer cope up from the damage they are receiving.

"The fairy circle is destroyed which means that it might have been the demon's doing. The enemies suddenly appearing around us must have been his doing as well. Still, the fact that he is not here means that he must have been tied up dealing with the protective measures of the fairy circle. I can win as long as the demon does not return yet. I do not care even if I have to sacrifice all the others as long as I am victorious." The Black Fairy Mavros stated as her body started to exude such powerful miasma.

The Black Fairy Mavros vanished and returned to where she created the core of the Forest Swamp Abomination. She decided to use everything that she could to destroy all of the beings that stand in her way. The core inside of the Forest Swamp Abomination was peculiar as it was a heavily cursed object that is sealed in the depths of the forest swamp before. She believed using this powerful cursed object to increase her power to the extreme.

The Black Fairy Mavros touched this heavily cursed object and started to absorb the miasma inside of it. While the Black Fairy Mavros' power started to recover, her army was left to fend for themselves. All the regeneration that they had were from the miasma being released by the Forest Swamp Abomination, but the Black Fairy Mavros is now using all of it to make herself more powerful. Any hope of recovering is blocked by the queen that they serve as she has abandoned the once again just like last time.

The corrupted dryads and corrupted leshy remembered how they were abandoned just like last time. Their memories that have been controlled has cleared up as they slowly died from the attacks of the guild alliance. Their souls that have been tainted by the Black Fairy Mavros slowly started to get purified as they once again died because of her manipulation. They who were sacrificed are now repeating the same mistakes they did when they first lived. "Curse... you... Mavros!" The corrupted dryads and corrupted leshy shouted as their bodies turned to ashes.

The corrupted fae might be dying but the other creatures created by the Forest Swamp Abomination is still there. The Fairy Eater Dorn is still wreaking havoc upon the army as her magic resistance made her incredibly resistant. As the dying corrupted fae cursed the Black Fairy Mavros, the one being cursed has almost absorbed the powerful curse of the core that the Forest Swamp Abomination had.

The large monster that was moving and fighting back against the guild alliance army suddenly stopped as a powerful pillar of dark light shot out from the middle of it. The Forest Swamp Abomination lost all of its power as a large black winged fairy is revealed to be the source of that dark light. The Black Fairy Mavros has almost regained her entire power, but she was still in an unstable state. She needed the natural energy of a world tree to solidify her existence.

Chapter 2134: Amidst the Cursed Battle

The allied army of the guilds are nothing to scoff at as they were easily fighting against the Foliage Soldiers and the numerous versions of them. They were able to surround the Forest Swamp Abomination and thought they would be fighting it, but it was different from what they expected. The Forest Swamp Abomination did not fight but would create numerous Foliage Soldiers.

The Foliage Soldiers all came from the body of the Forest Swamp Abomination as they were being recycled. Every time they kill one Foliage Soldier, the body of that monster would then be sucked back to the Forest Swamp Abomination to be recreated to another monster variant of the foliage series. They thought that this would once again be a battle of attrition, but they noticed that the production of these monsters started to slow down with the more they kill.

The Foliage Soldiers were fighting against the normal guild members. They can easily kill them as they are merely mindless plant beings that are obeying the simple commands of the Black Fairy Mavros. All of the guild members of the alliance knew what they needed to do as they are to protect the world tree. Even now, they can feel the powerful buffs that the world tree has given them albeit it being in its growing state.

The guild army alliance was easily steam rolling the Foliage Soldiers, but this is not always the case. Powerful corrupted dryads and corrupted leshy have already infiltrated and blended into the Foliage Army. Some were even hidden so well that they are inside of the large, bodied Foliage Soldier. This became apparent when a coordinated group of the guild army alliance suddenly fell.

The one administering commands and spreading information to the guild army alliance is none other than Mariposa herself. If one clearly looked at the battlefield then they would spot small bees that would zip around the area. She was using the Hive Mind ability of her queen bee soulbound as she can see everything that the bees could see. She would then report everything to the others as information to make sure that the battle will always be monitored in case of sudden changes.

She was looking into a group of twenty players when she saw a fast blur decimate all of them. The monster was actually so fast that the bee was not able to see it even if her reconnaissance bees have the ability to slow down what they see. She thought that her bee would be safe, but the surveillance was suddenly cut off. The bee that was observing the battlefield is suddenly killed with such precision that the killer was not caught in sight.

She might not have been able to see the killer of the bee, but she was able to deduce some of its abilities. She gave this information to someone in the area that will be able to combat a being that is quick and nimble. Mariposa called Ain and designated this monster to him as he is the only one that is fast enough to combat it. She also called upon Lycan to aid Ain as the enemy might be more powerful than expected.

This is not the only bee that was destroyed as she also got another one destroyed in a different area. Unlike the first one, this bee was able to see what destroyed it. The bee was destroyed by a large leshy monster hybrid as it emitted a powerful aura that would sweep the area around it. This was one of the more powerful corrupted leshy that is in the battlefield. She also reported this to all of those that are in that certain area.

The player near this area is none other than Siegfried and he was the one designated to fight this monster. The happy voice of the Guild Leader Siegfried could be heard as he learned the qualities of the enemy that he is about to face. He was already getting bored of killing off lowly Foliage Soldiers in his general area. Just in case, Mariposa asked Apolaki to support him just in case there was another enemy of the same caliber.

The other being that destroyed one of her surveillance bees was a corrupted dryad that has a disturbingly monstrous lower body. It seems that this dryad has a host body of an Alraune which was already a plant monster that has an upper body of a woman. This corrupted dryad is a bit different now as the singular woman upper body has become two due to fusing with an Alraune. The lower body of the two is a large pumpkin that has numerous teeth that can easily devour other beings.

The one facing this dryad monster hybrid is Solstice along with the support of the Vice Guild Leader of Valor Aisha. One could see that they were already engaged in battle against one another as this dryad monster hybrid is incredibly voracious in its appetite and always hungry as it now needs to eat for two. The dryad monster hybrid seems to also hunger for females more as it seems to be able to maximize its charm as long as it eats beautiful females.

Mariposa was observing everything when she suddenly had a severe headache due to a psychic attack. Her connection with her bees suddenly became disconnected as a powerful mental force suddenly slammed into her head. The mental force was so powerful that it killed off the surveillance bees she had connected with her. The surveillance bees were monsters that could easily be killed as they are rather weak in exchange for their small and nimble bodies. "What was that?!" Mariposa stated as she almost fainted and lost a quarter of her health. "I was late in fully protecting you, master. It was an enemy that could use mental magic. There seems to be an enemy that can hijack the mental connection. All of the children that I have deployed were killed because of it." The queen bee soulbound of Mariposa reported via their soul link.

"Were you able to at least get the location of the attacker?" Mariposa asked.

"I have and she is now heading towards our very location as we speak." The queen bee stated as the hidden area that Mariposa was located is suddenly filled with a bed of flowers. "They are here." Mariposa stated as numerous enemies burst out of the ground. Mariposa is suddenly surrounded by Foliage Soldiers that had different variations. Amongst the Foliage Soldiers was a large elephant monster plant hybrid with a woman's upper body sprouting from its back. The woman was none other than a corrupted dryad that has taken possession of a Mental Elephant. The corrupted dryad rooted itself on the body of a powerful monster that uses mental magic to catch prey.

"An Insectoid?! To think that your pitiful race is still alive to this day." The corrupted dryad stated in a mocking tone, but Mariposa could be seen smiling.

"Says the pitiful dryad that is hanging by a thread sapping the life of a monster." Mariposa stated which angered the dryad.

"I shall give you the honor of knowing my name before your destruction just like the other insectoids I have killed before. I am Psy! The Dryad with great mastery over mental magic!" Psy stated.

A dryad that has the ability to use mental magic is extremely rare as it is a rare talent in natural magic. Psy is considered one of the most talented dryads when it came to mental magic, but she also became a sadistic being due to it. She joined the Black Fairy Mavros because she could destroy other beings using the powers of her mind. Now that she is fused with a Mental Elephant, the talent that she had is now amplified even more.

"I care not for monsters like you. Attack them, my lovelies." Mariposa stated as a magic circle appeared behind her where three meters big soldier bees charged towards Psy.

"Do you think that I did not come to you knowing your power? I also know what commands you sent to your allies as well. They will meet the same fate as you which is food for us." Psy stated as she laughed maniacally while emitting a powerful mental wave that incapacitated the soldier bees.

"Be careful." The queen bee soulbound of Mariposa stated as she showed herself via the magic circle.

The queen bee soulbound looked like a humanoid bee monster that is dressed in a black and yellow regal robe that is made of heptagons. She was also using mental magic to block the mental attack that Psy used to kill of the soldier bees that she sent to attack her. The queen bee then commanded her bees to shoot their stingers towards Psy to prevent her from attacking Mariposa, but it was deflected by an invisible force field.

"She is already a higher realm in mental magic than me. This will be difficult, master." The queen bee stated.

Chapter 2135: Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid

Mariposa knew that the enemy that is now facing her is at the level of a normal mid boss if she likens it to a dungeon boss. Psy was incredibly big and might be an easy target due to her size but the power that she holds and mastery over mental magic was too formidable. There were other guild alliance army members around her, but they were currently battling against the Foliage Soldiers that the dryad has brought with her.

"This should be of no problem as long as we are careful, right? Summon the entire hive to kill her." Mariposa stated as she also summoned two more soulbounds.

She summoned her beetle soulbound that is now in a more humanoid form as well. The beetle soulbound looked like those superheroes that children watch when they transform using a gadget. Another soulbound that Mariposa summoned is her mantis soulbound that is now in a humanoid form as well. She managed to evolve all of them to a humanoid form which helped them gain greater intelligence and battle might.

"Children, Attack Order!" The queen bee commanded as thousands of bees suddenly came out of a magic circle behind her as she is connected to the hive that is currently placed near the world tree.

The bees that the queen bee summoned had powerful stingers on each of their arms. Each of these stingers are laced with powerful poison that will cause severe paralysis that could even stop another being's heart. Each of these bees mean business as they are powerful soldier bees that guard the hive and deal with intruders should the queen command them. The queen bee also summoned some bees that could continuously fire off their stingers as projectiles.

All of these attackers charged towards Psy but the enemy dryad did not seem to be fazed. She fired off a powerful beam of mental energy that slightly disrupted the flight patterns of the soldier bees. She then created a large wall of bramble that caught the flying soldier bees while blocking the launched stingers with a psychic barrier. She even managed to find a way to counterattack by sending some of the stingers towards Mariposa.

The stingers did not reach Mariposa though as her beetle soulbound stood in front of her and created a barrier using its own energy. All the stingers turned to dust as the barrier that was created is made of a powerful electric current that the muscles of the beetle soulbound has generated. Mariposa then used a spell that summoned a flurry of spectral butterflies to try and deal damage to Psy but she was able to block them as well.

Psy's attitude of being haughty has ended when the mantis soulbound almost severed her head if not for the constant mental barrier around her. The mantis soulbound's sharp claws almost reached but it did not have the capability to destroy barriers. This, however, made an opening that Mariposa used to spread pollen all over that decreased the stats and gave random status ailments to Psy

Psy might have put up a mental barrier that protect her from direct attacks, but indirect attacks proved to be more effective. The pollen that Mariposa scattered managed to poison Psy and even lower her stats. Unlike ordinary magic that does not diminish in power when it is already cast, mental magic is heavily reliant on the intelligence stat of the user. The sudden drop of her stats made the mental barriers weaker as a result which made Mariposa smile.

"Did you really think that I have not encountered beings like you? There are incredibly powerful mental magic users even in the Insectoid Race. Unlike them, your body is not immune to the poisonous pollen that my wings can scatter. I have been scattering it ever since the fight started and it is only now taking effect. Is it because you are part plant which is why it is effective?" Mariposa stated as her invisible butterfly wings can now be clearly seen as it sparkled in the light.

On the other side of the battlefield, Ain along with Lycan have reached the position where it was reported that the team was wiped out. They did not see anything in the area except for fallen trees and branches which is why both of them have entered danger mode immediately. Their battle instincts made them face each other back-to-back as an almost silent vibration passed them.

Ain followed his battle instincts and created a powerful chi wall in front of him that shattered in an instant. Ain and Lycan were knocked back, but the latter were able to soften the blow. Lycan suddenly sensed this intense bloodlust directed at them and immediately slashed his claws forward. One would think that he would only be hitting air, but he clearly saw a being that resembled an insectoid.

"Were you able to see it?" Ain asked as he was only able to take a glimpse of their opponent.

"I saw a head that looked like a dragonfly but that was it. It suddenly turned invisible or something." Lycan replied as both of them went back-to-back again as it proved to be effective against their opponent.

"It might not be invisible. It might just be incredibly fast to the point that our eyes could not easily follow it. We can sense it in the area, but we cannot see it which is a testament that it is indeed speed incarnate. At least, we can be sure about one thing." Ain stated.

"Its defense must be trash, and its attack power is normal. If it was incredible powerful, then it would have already killed us the moment we stepped inside of its area." Lycan stated.

"Correct. Still, knowing will not really help us defeat it." Ain stated.

"I can become faster but that would need the moon to be full and I do not know if I can match its speed. Also, you might be in danger if it becomes dark as the Fae can easily see even in the dark." Lycan stated.

"I have a technique that will let me match its speed, but you need to protect me for ten minutes. Can you do that?" Ain asked.

"Can you do it a bit faster?" Lycan asked as he is not entirely sure that he can do so as the opponent might become more powerful as the fight goes on.

"I can shorten it to five but that will also cut its duration by half." Ain stated.

"Done. All we need to do is catch it or incapacitate it and then we can easily kill it." Lycan stated as he transformed his body to his werewolf form.

"Alright. Protect me." Ain stated as he suddenly went into a meditative state and a mandala briefly appeared behind him.

The enemy that they were facing suddenly sensed that something is amiss as all the bloodlust is now directed towards Ain. The enemy felt a dangerous power that is getting collected by Ain and aims to kill him before he finishes. The bloodlust emitted by the enemy was so thick that Lycan easily perceived it as he is more sensitive to such things in his werewolf form.

"Got you!" Lycan shouted as he once again slashed at air, but a faint silhouette of the enemy could now be seen.

Lycan thought that his attack would only stop the advance of the enemy, but he did not think that it would actually connect. He felt a slight resistance from his claws as if he only scratched something, but the sensation was like scratching a tree. He looked at his claws and there seems to be wood shavings on them. The attack connecting briefly showed the enemy that he was facing, and it was leshy that fused with a body of a dragonfly monster.

The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid looked twisted, but Lycan could feel its power and twisted personality. The enemy vanished once again as it went to a state of hyper speed once again. Lycan clearly felt it as the enemy has weak defenses. He might not have seen it, but he could deduce that the enemy twisted its body to evade his claws. The enemy knew that it would get significantly damaged if it gets hit by the claws that Lycan used.

"I might be able to kill it without waiting for Ain, but I must not get too conceited." Lycan thought as he once again sensed the movement of the enemy.

Lycan stretched his claws once again to try and kill the enemy, but he did not get any resistance. The thing that Lycan touched was not the body of their enemy but a powerful sound wave that dealt damage to his hand. He felt a tingling sensation as if sound itself became blades that slashed away at his claws. One could see that his claws were now full of cuts as if it was slashed by numerous blades in different angles.

Chapter 2136: Sage Arts: Fox God

"Tch!" Lycan exclaimed as he immediately tried to use his other claw in an attempt to damage the enemy, but it was ineffective as well.

Lycan thought that he had already pinned down the movements and attacks of the enemy but is surprised by how powerful the vibration that hit him was. The attack was almost silent, yet it pierced through a layer of his skin. This is an incredible feat as Lycan's skin is protected by sturdy fur whenever he is in his transformed state. The attack basically bypassed his fur and dealt direct damage to his skin and muscles.

"Fortunately, it seems that the attack does not have any piercing capabilities which means Ain is safe as I block it with my body. The question would be is how long I can protect him when only a minute has passed since that exchange." Lycan stated as he could see that Ain was still meditating.

Ain is in a state of perfect trance that anything outside will never alert him or bother him. He could be woken up from this state, but he could also be instantly killed while doing it. This is the reason that he does not like using this move as he would be vulnerable to attacks of others. The longer his meditation then the stronger and longer the duration of what he is about to do.

Lycan made sure to not wander too far from Ain as he made sure that they have at most a distance of one or two meters. Being farther than that would make Lycan unable to defend Ain from attacks of the enemies. Lycan is actually telling himself that they are fortunate because there are no other enemies other than the one that they are trying to kill. Then again, Lycan could see why there were no other enemies around them.

"Its vibrations are so powerful that even its allies will explode with just a small contact. It also needs lot more space in order to move about without obstruction. Having allies around will just make it more difficult to maneuver especially if it moves like a dragonfly." Lycan thought as he knows about the unpredictability of a dragonfly's flight.

Just as he is now defending Ain, the enemy does not attack the same way as it would easily halt its charge and maneuver to another way. The flight pattern was so jumbled that it was difficult to hit but that also meant that it is not adept at dealing with targets that stay stationary. Lycan no longer circled around Ain as a way to protect him but stopped in a specific spot.

Just as Lycan froze in place, he felt the killing intent of the enemy that is still locked onto Ain. The difference this time is that Lycan easily reached the path where he thinks the enemy will attack. He empowered his claws with darkness and slashed in that specific direction. The killing intent of the enemy suddenly diminished, and his body is hit by a sonic wave, but he laughed.

When Lycan empowers his claws with darkness, it will also send out a slash projectile in the shape of his claw attack. He laughed not because he was damaged, and his insides felt funny, but he was able to clip a part of the tail that the enemy has. A foot long tail that has the look of a vine could be seen dropping to the ground as the enemy finally revealed itself as it hissed at Lycan.

Monster Name: Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid

Monster Tier: Legendary

Monster Species: Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid

Monster Race: Plant Insect Hybrid

Health: 89%

Mana: 93%

Description: A monster born from the failed fusion of a Leshy and a dragonfly monster. It might have been born as a failed hybrid but its abilities in combat have been heightened while having the powerful regeneration of a Leshy. It has some intelligence, but it only accepts commands from beings that are connected to the Black Fairy Mavros. Its special wings vibrate at a fast speed that it will damage anyone that is near it.

"No wonder you look ugly." Lycan stated but the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid hissed at him as if it was offended by what he said.

The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid picked up its sliced tail and devoured it which would make anyone puke at the sight. Lycan did not even believe what he is seeing but the tail that the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid recovered when it did so. The health it had only recovered by 1% but its body has returned to normal. Lycan immediately knew why the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid did this.

The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid cannot fly at its top speed without its tail as this would make it unable to balance properly. He has encountered monsters like this as they have a specific sense of physiological balance. Any changes to this balance would destroy the movement of their body which results in them dying easily.

"Shahash!" The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid hissed once again at Lycan as it suddenly used its arms to pierce its back.

Lycan did not stay idle for what will happen next as he knew that this was a perfect opportunity, and he also felt scared when the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid tried slashing at its back. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid looked like it was trying to free something from its back and Lycan will not stay still while it does this. He morphed into a more wolf like appearance and coated himself in darkness as he charged towards the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid.

The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid saw what Lycan did and immediately went into defensive position. It vibrated its four dragonfly wings at such a fast speed that it released sonic blasts that directly hit Lycan's body. The power of the sonic blasts chipped away at the darkness that covered Lycan's body, but he endured it. When Lycan was closer to the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid, he morphed to a bipedal form and used his two claws to try and rip apart the enemy.

Lycan thought that he would be able to destroy the enemy's head, but the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid suddenly rolled back, and his claws landed on the back of the enemy. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid emitted a weird noise as its back was almost destroyed by Lycan, but an uncomfortable buzzing sound is suddenly heard. Lycan looked horrified at what he has unleashed despite dealing great damage to the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid.

Two more sets of wings emerged from the slashed back of the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid. It was already a pain to deal with when it had four wings but now the number doubled. Lycan sensed danger and was about to gain some distance, but he was far too slow. All eight of the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid buzzed and created a powerful shockwave that hit Lycan all around. "Argh!" Lycan exclaimed as his entire body was hit by numerous soundwaves.

Lycan's body felt like it was pounded and if his bones were not sturdy then he would have become a meat paste. He was even bleeding from all of his orifices, but he pushed through due to the powerful regeneration of a wolf. Lycan suddenly felt the powerful bloodlust of the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid as if it was a tidal wave. He thought that he would actually die now because the enemy is not a good match for him, but a sudden humming sound exploded from Ain.

Lycan and even the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid actually forgot about him for a second because of their intense match but he was finally finished meditating. A humming sound erupted from Ain's body as it is suddenly coated in a blue fearsome aura that terrified the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid. The power that erupted from Ain's body made him the prime target of the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid as it blindly charged towards him.

[You have activated Sage Arts: Fox God.]

Ain's clothes that was tight on his body which accentuated his built body is suddenly clothed with flowy robes that are made with silver and gold silk. His face is suddenly covered with a fox mask as his eyes burned in a blue flame. One could even see the silhouette of nine fox tails behind him before it disappeared.

"Sage Arts: Fox God - Kitsune No Tsume." Ain stated calmly but his arms were suddenly covered in dense aura.

Ain made a gentle pushing motion, but a silhouette of a fox suddenly clawed at the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid. This simple motion from Ain actually stopped the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid on its tracks and pinned it to the ground. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid hissed furiously as it bombarded Ain with sonic blasts as its wings could still vibrate at a high speed.

"Sage Arts: Fox God - Kitsune No Shippo." Ain stated with a voice so calm.

The fox silhouette behind him suddenly used nine of its tails to create a barrier that defended Ain from the sonic blasts. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid tried to escape from Ain's paws, but it could not. It can only release powerful blasts of sound in an attempt to escape.

Chapter 2137: Heavy Beast Leshy

Tails made out of blue aura protected Ain from the powerful sonic vibrations that were being directed at him by the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid tried to escape from the grasps of Ain's aura claw but the powerful energy pouring down towards its body made it unable to. The blue aura that Ain released moved as fast as the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid even when it was able to release its other set of wings.

The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid might be incredibly fast for the eye could see but it was incredibly weak in terms of body constitution. If not for the fact that the body of a corrupted Leshy could recover using miasma, the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid might have been torn apart by its own powers. The sonic attacks that it could do was intensified when it transformed into a hybrid. The only problem was is that it is a failed hybrid as there was complications during the fusion process.

"Hurry! I cannot maintain my form for any longer." Ain stated as he already used up two of the five minutes of his current form.

"I got you! Blood Hunt!" Lycan stated as he suddenly overflowed by bloodlust that was actually felt by everyone in the vicinity.

Lycan's red aura exploded as his stats and attack power doubled for the duration. Blood Hunt also made sure that his first attack will be a critical hit. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid felt death looming over it as the being of blood and darkness has come for it. The Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid tried its hardest to escape from the clutches of Ain, but it was ultimately unable to. The next thing that the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid is its head rolling away while its wings were destroyed beyond belief.

[You have defeated the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid.]

Ain and Lycan was finally able to relax a little as the enemy that they fought is now dead. Ain's sage god form dissipated as his body could be seen to be injured a little bit. The aura tails might have been able to defend against the initial blasts of sonic attack, but it seems some have pierced through to deal some damage. He did not worry though as he just drank a potion in order to recover his wounds.

"To think that a health potion could be this refreshing. I guess the potions from Avalon are such a different brew after all." Ain stated as his injuries healed.

"They have a very strict Grandmaster Alchemist there that wants quality over quantity. Also, Levin Cloud and another alchemist from our guild created those potions. They have seemed to be working under that Grandmaster Alchemist. If you want potions like that then you would need to buy it from them." Lycan stated as his body is also a bit tattered when he changed to a more humanoid form as well and also drank a healing potion.

While the two were talking, a powerful blast of cursed energy is felt pooling inside of the Forest Swamp Abomination. Both of them suddenly felt this and tried to investigate further into enemy territory. They would have already infiltrated the area, but numerous Foliage Soldiers and its variants popped out to greet them. Now that the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid, the enemy mobs can now move easily against them.

In another area, two proud warriors could be seen having difficulty against an opponent clad with armor. The armor is not made of stone or any processed metal but of organic material. A Leshy was able to integrate with a Heavy Beast. A Heavy Beast is a monster that eats metal and hard stone to reinforce its organic armor that plated its shell. A heavy beast is like an armadillo and a rhino combined.

If only the organic heavy plated armor is its special feature, then both Siegfried and Apolaki would not be having difficulty against it. The Heavy Beast is a monster that can also create tremors with each step it takes. These tremors were usually small as this was just an extra ability, but it is now different when a Leshy is involved.

Unlike the Leshy Dragonfly Hybrid, the enemy before Siegfried and Apolaki was a perfect fusion. The Heavy Beast became akin to a steed to Leshy that could be seen growing out of its middle shell. Not only did the Heavy Beast gotten the powerful regeneration of a Leshy, but the enemy was also able to amplify the power of the beast to create tremors.

Monster Name: Heavy Beast Leshy

Monster Tier: Semi-Mythical

Monster Species: Heavy Beast Leshy

Monster Race: Plant Insect Perfect Hybrid

Health: 90%

Mana: 77%

Description: A monster born from the perfect fusion of a Heavy Beast and an Elder Leshy. The Heavy Beast no longer has any control of its body apart from its instincts as the massive superior intellect of the Elder Leshy has taken over. The property of the Heavy Beast is perfectly amplified due to the perfect fusion that has happened between the two. It can also recover health by consuming miasma from the surrounding but at a slow pace.

"Such pathetic warriors! As expected of the human race! All of you will die like insects if we do not take over. Bow down to my queen and I might even spare both of you as you have proven to be capable warriors against me." The Heavy Beast Leshy stated as it was impressed by the skill and tenacity that Siegfried and Apolaki have shown.

The Heavy Beast Leshy can create powerful tremors that not only spread to the ground but also to the air around it. It is basically able to create a tremor barrier that both defends itself and deal damage around it. These tremor barriers are also the reason why a lot of the guild army alliance were defeated as it was an attack basically related to force. If Adrian was here, then he might have gotten an idea of creating a force spell with the tremor barrier as the basis. "How are we going to reach it? Only attacks that are fast and can pierce through that annoying barrier could reach it." Apolaki stated as he even set up the sword grave but not one sword could be used to reach the shell of the Heavy Beast Leshy.

"Even our mages will have difficulty piercing through that barrier. You saw that tremor barrier managed to destroy long range spells with ease. The Heavy Beast Leshy could even time its barriers perfectly to the point that almost all attacks are negated. If not for your timely attacks and battle sense, then we might not have damaged it to this extent." Siegfried stated as he was incredibly amazed by the power that Apolaki has as he felt that he was a great fighter even in real life.

Siegfried believed that Apolaki might be a soldier in real life as he could feel his bloodlust and warrior's spirit when he fights. Siegfried himself is a retired soldier in the real world and he can definitely see that Apolaki was a trained fighter. He even believed that he will not necessarily win against Apolaki in the game without buffs from his guild members. "Where did that monstrous kid find someone like you?" Siegfried blurted out as he was amazed by how Apolaki fought.

"By kid, you mean, Equinox? He is my cousin which is why I joined his guild." Apolaki casually answered which made Siegfried almost drop his jaw.

Siegfried already encountered Equinox and Solstice enough to deduce that they were definitely trained fighters when in combat. In fact, Siegfried deduced that Equinox was the most dangerous out of the three because he did not look like someone trained for battle at first glance. An unsuspecting threat is the most dangerous threat after all.

"Any ideas on how to defeat the enemy then?" Siegfried asked as Apolaki might be someone like Adrian that has outrageous ideas on defeating enemies.

"I am not like my cousin that uses his head even in battle though. I prefer to have my instinct take over when I am in battle, but I think I can reach that thing." Apolaki stated as the Heavy Beast Leshy was being attacked by their other team members.

Unlike Ain and Lycan, Siegfried and Apolaki are supported by other players as the Heavy Beast Leshy is also surrounded by Foliage Soldiers and its variants. The Heavy Beast Leshy also acts like a commander of a cavalry unit as there were other Leshy that have fused with quadruped monsters. The Heavy Beast Leshy might not show it, but it is actually quite wary of Siegfried and Apolaki.

The Heavy Beast Leshy felt it when it clashed with Siegfried as it actually felt some resistance against him. The Heavy Beast Leshy is also wary of Apolaki as this human warrior is blessed by a divine being that empowers all of his attacks. The Heavy Beast Leshy is actually afraid of Apolaki as it could feel that he was still hiding some of his strength.

Chapter 2138: God Weapon Descent: Bathala

"Any idea on how to win?" Siegfried asked as he knows that only defending against the Heavy Beast Leshy will not lead them to victory.

"I have a way to pierce that annoying tremor barrier but that would mean I will not be able to use it during the actual boss fight." Apolaki stated.

"What do you need for me to do?" Siegfried asked.

"If you can fight it by yourself and possibly destroy its defenses then I might be able to kill it in one shot or at least decrease half of its health in an instant." Apolaki stated as he immediately activated the talisman hanging from his neck.

"I will trust you, kid." Siegfried stated as he jumped incredibly high into the air.

"Futile attempt, human." The Heavy Beast Leshy stated as he created a tremor barrier to protect itself from the falling Siegfried.

The giant axe that Siegfried held in his hands burst into flames as he was blessed by none other than a being that Adrian has encountered before. A being of infernal flames and as high as the sky itself. The flames that wrapped around Siegfried's body but also his axe exploded into a powerful energy that actually made the Heavy Beast Leshy nervous. The Heavy Beast Leshy created two more powerful tremor barriers to ensure that it will never be damaged.

"Let us see how you defend against this! Flames of Muspelheim empower my body! Fire Giant Incarnate!" Siegfried stated as his body became enveloped in flames in the shape of a fire giant.

"Did you really think that this will affect me?!" The Heavy Beast Leshy stated as it transformed its arm into a sharp spear and attempted to kill Siegfried while he was still dealing with the tremor barriers.

The Heavy Beast Leshy tried to pierce Siegfried's heart while he was in mid-air. Siegfried is currently in a clash with the powerful tremor barriers that the Heavy Beast Leshy used. The spear created from its body would have damaged Siegfried but the flames that covered his body protected him. The wooden spear created from the body of a Leshy burned easily as a corrupted Leshy's body is dry.

The body of a corrupted Leshy will easily catch on fire unless they are prepared. This is also the reason why a lot of the corrupted dryads and corrupted leshy panicked when they were bombarded by flames. Fortunately for the Heavy Beast Leshy, the flames surrounding Siegfried did not combust or extend out from his body. This made it easy for the Heavy Beast Leshy to cut off its spear hand to regrow another one.

Siegfried tried his best to destroy the tremor barriers, but he could not get past the third one that the Heavy Beast Leshy created. He managed to at least know that the Heavy Beast Leshy could create three tremor barriers simultaneously but cannot make a fourth one immediately. Siegfried was able to pierce through until the second tremor barrier, but he was pushed back as numerous Foliage Soldiers suddenly supported the Heavy Beast Leshy.

"I pray to the god above. The god of the gods! Give your Champion the strength to vanquish the foe that is before him!" Apolaki prayed as the skies suddenly darkened and lightning crackled.

A sword suddenly fell from the skies that had immense power and divinity. All of the beings that sensed this sword could feel the power emanating from it. It was a large sword that has depictions of the land, sea, and skies as if it was a world itself etched into a blade. Apolaki held the sword, and he immediately knew his was heavy as it was not only because of what it is made of but also due to burden.

[You have equipped the Sword of Bathala: Langit]

As soon as Apolaki held the sword, the Heavy Beast Leshy suddenly felt a chill in its core as if the being that received the sword is the most dangerous being in the world. It was not just the Heavy Beast Leshy that felt this as even the mindless Foliage Soldiers did so as well. All of the enemies that were fighting against other players were now charging towards Apolaki at an incredibly fast pace as they wanted to kill him.

As soon as Apolaki held the sword given to him by his patron god, the hand that held the sword is suddenly covered with golden armor that is protected with sigils. The golden armor not only covered his hand, but it also reached until his elbow. Apolaki looked like a demigod that is out to slay monsters as his already heroic look became even more majestic.

"The First Stance: The Sky!" Apolaki stated as his blade suddenly absorbed high amounts of mana from the area.

As soon as the entire mana from his general area was absorbed, Apolaki did a powerful horizontal slash that released a powerful sword wave. This sword wave covered the entire area in front of him and decimated all the enemies that were charging towards him. This powerful sword wave even swept towards his allies, but they were not damaged instead they were buffed.

[You have been blessed by the Sword of Bathala: Langit.]

[Your movement speed will be increased by 10% while your attack speed will be increased by 20%.]

An attack that not only killed all of the Foliage Soldiers and their variants but also buffing the allies. The Heavy Beast Leshy saw how all of its underlings were destroyed by one swipe of the sword. The Heavy Beast Leshy is even more shocked when one powerful attack destroyed two of his tremor barriers with ease. If it was not able to create the two that Siegfried destroyed, then Apolaki's attack might have reached the Heavy Beast Leshy.

"Where do you think you are looking at?!" Siegfried stated as his axe once again blazed with flames as he destroyed the remaining tremor barrier that the Heavy Beast Leshy created. "The Second Stance: The Sky Above the Sky!" Apolaki shouted as he activated the second powerful skill that was attached to the divine weapon of his patron god.

The skies above him parted ways as if it was blessing the sword with energy. With a powerful horizontal slash, Apolaki sent an incredibly sharp and fast sword wave towards the Heavy Beast Leshy. The Heavy Beast Leshy tried to dodge but it was already too late as the slash was faster than its reflexes. The heavy beast monster was also not famed for its speed because of its incredible durability.

The Heavy Beast Leshy received incredible damage, but it looked at its body and it was still there. It was afraid that the powerful slash that Apolaki did would kill it, but it must have been a fluke. The Heavy Beast Leshy did not notice its own health bar drop immensely by 50% as its body is suddenly cut horizontally in half. The Heavy Beast Leshy could only see its own body suddenly going limp as it was cleanly cut in half.

If one looked clearly on the path of the sword wave, then they would see a slit on the ground that was clearly cut. It was so cleanly cut that it only cracked when Apolaki stepped back on the ground. This was also the time when the Heavy Beast Leshy's body fell on two different faces. Still, the Heavy Beast Leshy was not killed by this exchange as it has proven that it has amazing vitality.

The Heavy Beast Leshy is about to use some miasma to recover itself when it suddenly realized that there was no miasma around it. Siegfried and Apolaki did not look at the struggling Heavy Beast Leshy as their attention is suddenly caught by the fact that something inside of the Forest Swamp Abomination absorbed a large quantity of miasma. The Heavy Beast Leshy tried its best to piece together its sliced body as it extended some vines.

The vines came out from the two different sliced parts and tried to pull each other together. Siegfried noticed this and immediately pounced on the Heavy Beast Leshy to burn everything. The vines that tried to pull the Heavy Beast Leshy together became cinders as the flames coming out of Siegfried were not normal but divine flames.

"You are like a cockroach! Giant of Flames, bless me with the eternal fire that can even burn the world!" Siegfried shouted as all of his mana suddenly got used up and his body exploded into powerful flames of different colors that burned the Heavy Beast Leshy to a crisp.

The Heavy Beast Leshy could not even scream in pain as it was immediately reduced to ashes. Apolaki smiled as he let go of the sword that his patron god has sent him. The sword shot back to the skies while leaving an extremely weakened Apolaki. Both of them stood up as the new source of their fears is the being that gathered all the miasma.

[You have defeated the Heavy Beast Leshy.]

[You have gained experience points.]

Chapter 2139: Double Trouble

"Finally, we were able to destroy them all." Adrian stated as the inside of the volcano is almost destroyed, and lava started to flow once again.

Adrian was able to easily destroy the fairy circle that was created but he did not expect the next events to happen. Attacking or trying to destroy the fairy circle activated the defense mechanisms that were in place. It seems that the Black Fairy Mavros has created these fairy circles with great miasma as the magic circle actually attacked Adrian with it. He is blasted by a powerful spell of pure miasma, but he was able to easily fend it off via the use of aether energy.

Adrian's aether energy is basically the highest form of life energy and it feeds off negative energy. Miasma is basically a type of negative life or death energy depending on who is using it. Since the blast of miasma was not enough to deter Adrian from trying to destroy the fairy circle, the second defense mechanism activated. The flowers and mushrooms that were around the magic circle became monsters that attacked him.

Adrian easily defeated the monsters that were created but the problem was what came after. The gods of life that were monitoring him suddenly alerted him of the miasma spores that these monsters have spread upon their defeat. The gods of life told him that more twisted monsters could arise if the miasma spores were not taken care of. Adrian had to seal off the crater of the volcano using wind magic that Kanlaon created.

He then used most of his time destroying the fairy circle and cleansing the entire area of the miasma spores. He thought that he would only take at least an hour, but he used up two hours of his time. He only learned that he was done when he could no longer feel miasma in the area. Adrian also returned the volcano back to its active state as lava once filled its crater.

"I should return to help them now. I have a bad feeling that something crazy is going on since they have become silent." Adrian stated as he started to create a portal when a player suddenly appeared before him and attacked him.

Adrian was able to defend himself, but all of his barriers shattered due to the surprise attack. He looked to see who the powerful player was as there are not a lot of mage players that can pull off such an attack. He is rather shocked to see the player that attacked him as it was none other than Eldritch.

"Greetings, Equinox. Come for a little chat?" Eldritch stated as he conjured up a twisted looking throne from somewhere.

"Where is my brother?" Solstice asked the other guild members around them as she was fending off the attacks of the corrupted dryad before her.

"He has yet to return and any messages to him are being blocked. It seems that he might have been caught up in something. The important thing is that he already destroyed the fairy circle." Aisha stated as she fired off arrows filled with toxins towards the corrupted dryad.

"Such dastardly and ungraceful barbarians. As expected of those blood sucking insects of the night." The Corrupted Dryad Camellia stated.

Unlike the other corrupted dryads or corrupted leshies, the Corrupted Dryad Camellia was not turned into a monster. She managed to be a pure corrupted dryad, but it also came with a twist. She perfectly fused with the Alraune that she parasitized. One can even say that she achieved perfect mutation as the genes of the Alraune lined up perfectly with hers. Now, the Corrupted Dryad Camellia has achieved the lower half of an Alraune which is a monstrous pumpkin and another body which is the female upper part of the monster.

The consciousness of the Alraune is no more as all of it has been overtaken by the Corrupted Dryad Camellia. One could even say that her own mind has been split into two because she can cast spells twice by using two different bodies. This is also the reason why Solstice and Aisha could not easily defeat the corrupted dryad before them as she is too good. The first Corrupted Dryad Camellia will attack using powerful nature spells while the other will focus on defending their body from attacks.

The second Corrupted Dryad Camellia is in charge of commanding their monster lower half. This made it possible for the Corrupted Dryad Camellia to also effectively command the Foliage Soldier Army that she is surrounded by. A lot of the guild army members were also gathered in this area as a huge number of Foliage Soldiers is present here. Solstice is also not a good match against the Foliage Soldiers because of one reason.

"It is so annoying that they cannot bleed." Solstice stated as she mainly used her own health to conjure up weapons for herself.

Solstice is not that great when her opponents are nonhuman entities like the Foliage Soldier since they do not bleed. Even if she cuts them straight through the Foliage Soldiers would spew water instead of blood as they are not natural living beings. Aisha is also a bit helpless in that regard as her attacks are mainly arrows that deal status ailments, but she has a short sword that could hack into her enemies.

"I guess there is no choice as something is already brewing inside of that huge thing." Solstice stated as she could clearly feel the increasing miasma energy inside of the Forest Swamp Abomination.

"Queen of Blood: Lake Sanguina!" Solstice stated as she receded her golden armor to that of her shadow armor.

Solstice slit her palms as blood started to gush out of it nonstop. This was a skill she got when she killed another of the evil blood queens. She was able to create a blood lake in the area by sacrificing half of her maximum health. The blood lake was so large that it encompassed the area where the foliage soldier army was.

"Pitiful bloodsucker! What can this blood lake do?! It is not even a true lake." The Corrupted Dryad Camellia stated as both of her faces laughed loudly since the lake did not even damage her in the slightest.

Just as the Corrupted Dryad Camellia said, the skill that she used only covered the entire area in knee deep blood but did not do any damage. Solstice did not fall for the taunt because she knows that the Corrupted Dryad Camellia is now limited. If the Corrupted Dryad Camellia knew Solstice clearly then she would not have let her finish the spell because a lake made of blood is basically something akin to a domain for Solstice.

"It is now time to prune a plant. Let me see if it can regrow back." Solstice stated as she tapped the lake.

Solstice redirected some of the blood from the lake to create a beautiful flowy crimson battle dress. Her crimson hair paired well with the sudden change of her outfit as her beauty even mesmerized her own allies. If the Foliage Soldiers could feel emotions, then they too would have been captured by her beauty. The Corrupted Dryad Camellia never liked Solstice as she could feel that she was beautiful even when inside the armor.

When Solstice showed her true appearance, the Corrupted Dryad Camellia got even more jealous as she prided herself being the most beautiful and seductive female ever. Now that she has two upper bodies, the ego that she had also doubled as well and also her own passion for hating other beautiful beings. She never liked Solstice as she basically emanated more appeal compared to her.

"Die! Blood sucker!" The Corrupted Dryad Camellia shouted as one of her upper bodies released a spell that fired off sharp leaves while the other used the vines she can create to strike at Solstice.

"Dance of the Blood Maidens." Solstice calmly stated as she suddenly created two swords from the lake.

The two swords were not the only things that popped out of the lake as maidens that resembled Solstice's silhouette were created. Each of these maidens also carried two swords of their own and charged elegantly towards the Corrupted Dryad Camellia. The maidens were copies of Solstice as they soon resembled her and attacked the Corrupted Dryad Camellia.

Each of the maidens looked like they were dancing as each of their sword stances resembled such elegant swordsmanship. The Corrupted Dryad Camellia is able to defend against the flurry of attacks that came from the blood maidens, but her defenses were not solid enough. It did not take long for numerous sword slashes to reach the body of the Corrupted Dryad

Camellia.

"I just need to kill the original!" The Corrupted Dryad Camellia shouted as she sent her vines to kill Solstice but the body she hit suddenly turned into a pool of blood.

"Such arrogance is your downfall. You should not have let me summon the blood lake." All of the blood maidens stated in Solstice's voice as she has turned the tables.

Chapter 2140: Lady of the Blood Lake

Ten different Solstices attacked the Corrupted Dryad Camellia. Each of them targeted a different part of her body and sliced each one. With each slice, the body of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia did not bleed but it did get cleanly sliced off. The resistance from slashing was not even there as the Corrupted Dryad Camellia did not care if parts of her body were sliced off.

The only part that the Corrupted Dryad Camellia did care about are the two heads that she has. She would use a defensive move or spell to make sure that at least one of her heads will stay intact. This also assured Solstice of a way to defeat the Corrupted Dryad Camellia as she has already shown her real weakness.

The sliced off parts of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia were all gathered by the vines coming out of the mouth of the giant monster pumpkin that is her lower half. Once the vines gathered her sliced parts, the monstrous mouth of the monster pumpkin would then devour them. The devoured parts that were severed are then restored back to their original places. She even restored a bit of her health as a bonus to restoring her severed limbs.

"You will never win, blood sucker!" The Corrupted Dryad Camellia shouted as thorny vines came out of the monstrous mouth on her lower half.

All of these vines attacked the numerous blood maidens that were a copy of Solstice. The Corrupted Dryad Camellia thought that she would win because she managed to destroy all of them, but the blood lake was still present. The real Solstice was once again not in the group of blood maidens that the Corrupted Dryad Camellia destroyed.

Ten more blood maidens appeared and severed multiple body parts of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia. This time, the blood maidens used piercing attacks as they plunged their swords inside of the lower half of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia. The Corrupted Dryad Camellia screamed in pain unlike when parts of her were being cut. It was then Solstice learned that the lower half of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia is where most of her nervous systems were.

The pierced holes of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia actually bled which made Solstice happy. For the first time in battle, she was able to taste blood. The blood of the Corrupted Dryad Camellia dripped towards the blood lake which made it ripple. The Corrupted Dryad Camellia that did not call upon any Foliage Soldier suddenly called all of them to deal with the blood maidens.

"Why can I not escape!?" The Corrupted Dryad Camellia panicked as she should have been able to use the ground beneath her to burrow through and escape.

"Do you wish to know, ugly flower?" A mouth with fangs suddenly manifested on top of the blood lake with the same voice as that of Solstice.

"You! You are the blood lake itself!" The Corrupted Dryad Camellia finally noticed that Solstice was the in fact the blood lake.

This explains why she was not part of the blood maidens that attacked Corrupted Dryad Camellia. The swap was actually carried out the moment Solstice managed to summon the blood lake. She becomes one with the blood lake once it has been fully summoned. The body that the Corrupted Dryad Camellia saw earlier was just a decoy that is created via the blood lake itself.

"You are already too late. I have already tasted your blood and marked you. You will never be able to leave this lake unless you kill me." Solstice stated as she made twenty more blood maidens.

"Soldiers! Protect me!" The Corrupted Dryad Camellia shouted but all of the Foliage Soldiers that rushed to her aid were all destroyed by Aisha.

Aisha skillfully dispatched the incoming Foliage Soldiers and made sure that they will not reach a twenty-meter distance from the Corrupted Dryad Camellia. She did it quite skillfully as well as all of her arrows would destroy the Foliage Soldiers while her slashes would cut up their bodies. The combination of the two were incredible given the fact that they have just teamed up.

"Please bleed for me." Solstice stated as a smile with fangs could be seen on the blood lake. All of the blood maidens attacked the Corrupted Dryad Camellia relentlessly. No matter what she did, she could not destroy the entire blood lake because that is her weakness. She has no powerful area of effect skill that can destroy an entire area which is why she is also commanding the foliage soldiers. In the end, the Corrupted Dryad Camellia died to the continuous onslaught of the blood maidens.

"No! My beautiful self cannot die." The Corrupted Dryad Camellia as her health was already on the red.

A beautiful woman with skintight shadow armor rose up from the blood lake. This one was different from all the blood maidens as one could see the intelligence in her eyes. The blood maidens also looked at her with reverie even though they look the same as her. Solstice reached out her hand towards the blood lake and a crimson bladed sword manifested from it. "This is the end, but I do admit that you made me use one of my more powerful skills. I would have used this on your leader but killing you is priority for now." Solstice stated.

"Did you think that I can measure up to the queen? If you think that she is as powerful as me then you are mistaken." The Corrupted Dryad Camellia stated as her pale complexion starts to darken.

"She might be strong, but we have the perfect counter. Let me tell you something." Solstice stated as she whispered something to the Corrupted Dryad Camellia.

"No! My queen! You must..." The Corrupted Dryad Camellia shouted but Solstice already swung her sword towards her. The Corrupted Dryad Camellia suddenly got cut up into multiple pieces and exploded into meat paste or plant paste. The relieved and satisfied look on Solstice made others both allured and terrified of her.
