

O Summoner 2211

Chapter 2211: Feeding the Inner Chaos

[The Avatar of the Goddess Freyja has bestowed upon you the mightiest blessing a Valkyrie could give in battle.]

[All beings that died in this battlefield will have their power transferred to you for a single attack.]

[You will receive all of their power, but majority of your health will be used in exchange for the empowered attack.]

"Use all of my resource and energy on the next attack! Diffracting Cosmos!" Adrian stated as the entire dimension suddenly shattered and formed to look like the mirror dimension.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi is shocked upon seeing a pocket dimension overlap with another dimension. He could guess that this is the dimension where they were hiding earlier but that did not intrigue him in the slightest. The enemy before him could never defeat him as he is a greater god. The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi noticed that the demon before him looked a bit more holy as if the light that was shining from the Valkyrie earlier is now applied to the demon's body.

"Let all of it be diffracted!" Adrian stated as he suddenly lost a lot of his health but that did not bother him.

The chaotic dark claws and spikes that aimed for Adrian were reflected in the mirror dimension. As if the reflections came alive, claws and spikes of the same element are released to combat the things that are approaching him. It was not just the things reflected that came out of the mirror dimension as all of his soulbounds and fallen allies came out of it. Not exactly them but a mirror version of them came out as if they wanted revenge on the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi.

"Do you think copies could defeat me?!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi as he released more and more of his energy and fully activated his domain which lowered his divine energy to the maximum.

"You will cease to exist here today!" Adrian shouted as he drank a mana potion that restored his mana back to the brim and used more of it to empower the attack.

[Mana Circuits are being overloaded due to the stress of pouring vast amounts of mana and controlling powerful energies.]

"Master, please calm down or your body will not be able to take it." Paradox reported but Adrian did not answer.

Adrian pushed through despite the warnings and Paradox seemed to have caught that his master will not back down. Seeing that his master is being stubborn, he made sure that everything would flow smoother and minimize the risk that could affect Adrian. Paradox is created to aid his master and not to stop him which is why it pulled more and more energy from its secret dimension.

All the items in the secret dimension are then emptied out as it was used as a powerful source of energy for Adrian's core. If Adrian could go inside the deepest parts of his subconscious, then he would have seen the inner Noblesse demon in a cage and another being gorging on the energy of the precious items inside the secret dimension. The inner Noblesse demon tried stopping this being, but it was the core of the soul. An inner demon cannot compete with the core of the soul as this represents the true shape of the body.

"If you eat anymore, then the body will shut down!" The inner Noblesse demon shouted towards the entity clad in unknown energies.

"Hungry... need more..." The entity that is clad in unknown energies stated as it suddenly vanished from the depths.

Meanwhile, Adrian is busy dealing with the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi as not one of them are giving up. The empowered Diffracting Cosmos is still in equal terms when it clashed with the pure energy of the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. Adrian actually felt that he will lose but he suddenly felt a powerful surge of energy from his very soul. He looked to his right and saw Paradox emitting a powerful energy and he immediately knew that it was his ego weapon helping him.

"Break for me!" Adrian shouted as he suddenly clasped his six hands.

All six hands simultaneously clasped as Adrian squeezed the mirror dimension towards the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. The enemy felt the dimension suddenly shrinking but he could not escape. Adrian started to vomit out blood as he was adding another layer of complex spell. He was using the spell that he saved which is Dimension Crusher.

"Even a destroyed dimension will not stop me!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi shouted as he tried resisting even more as numerous things popped out of his own domain that is also being folded by Adrian.

Adrian thought that he might fail but he suddenly saw the mirror counterparts of his fallen allies and soulbounds gang up on the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. All of them charged towards the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi without any care if parts of them started to break off or get destroyed. All of mirror counterparts knew that they needed to stop the enemy no matter what it takes. This made the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi lose focus as he needed utmost precision to destroy a spell as powerful as Dimension Crusher.

"Just a little more!" Adrian stated as his health suddenly fell to the 5% mark because he was definitely pushing himself over the limit.

"This cannot be! Pesky reflections!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi shouted as all the mirror counterparts started attacking him which made him lose focus.

In the end, Adrian managed to fully use Dimension Crusher, and a powerful explosion was released that actually punched a hole in the Myriad Miles Rivers and Mountain's painting. A scream of pure agony sounded as the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi is directly hit by a powerful combination of spells. Adrian could no longer hold his form and flight which is why he crashed to the ground. He did not die but he could not move due to overexerting his body. "To think that it was not enough!" Adrian stated as he did not see any notification that the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi died.

"Argh! To think that I had to use my most prized treasure to save myself!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi stated as his body looked incredibly incomplete, and his health was not just 3%.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi could also be seen holding an ominous piece of stone that Adrian is familiar with. It was none other than a Small Fragment of Chaos, but it was no longer usable. All the energy inside of it has been drained and transferred to the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. He used this just before he was about to die which enabled him to live with 3% of his health.

If the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi did not use this treasure, then he might have really died. Since he is using his true body, he will get a true death and cease to exist. The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi had no other choice but to use this since ceasing to exist is not something he wants to experience. The pitiful state of the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi could be seen as most of his true body are filled with holes and his mask only has a quarter left.

"I was supposed to use this fragment when I have the Orb of Order in my hands, but you pushed me to save myself by devouring the energy inside of it." The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi stated as the best he could do is create a humanoid figure to lessen the energy usage.

"Argh!" Adrian exclaimed as the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi pinned the former down using his leg.

"Still, killing you will grant me the Orb of Order. It will not be too late to use the ritual once I get it. You also punched a hole in this pocket dimension which I am thankful for. I have everything that I need to rise in power!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi stated as he laughed weakly.

"I do not want to lose! Is there no other way?!" Adrian thought as he was thinking of any other way to win.

Adrian looked at Paradox and it was trapped by the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. It seems his enemy also learned that Paradox is an ego weapon that can be autonomous. Adrian could feel that Paradox is also drained from what he did. No response could be heard even if they are connected spiritually.

"Any last words, demon?" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi stated as he turned his leg into a sharp object and pierced Adrian's chest which left him with less health than before.

"Hungry..." Adrian or rather a voice that is dark and deep suddenly came out of his mouth. "What?!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi exclaimed in shock as Adrian's body suddenly transformed into pure energy.

[Skill: C???s I?c?r???? has been forcefully activated.]

Adrian's entire world became dark as he thought that he died but there was no notification. He felt like he floated in space, but he learned where he was when he looked around. The place that he as in is deep inside his subconscious where an entire cosmos is located.

Chapter 2212: Chomp Chomp

"Where am I exactly?" Adrian muttered but his mouth did not open.

He heard his voice, but it was like he was hearing himself from inside of his brain. The area he was in was incredibly terrifying and beautiful at the same time. He was in a place deep inside his subconscious that even the Noblesse inner demon could not reach.

This place looked like he was at the deep vast space as he could see stars of different colors twinkling. He could even see some of them exploding and creating powerful black holes that sucked in everything around them. Adrian himself found himself at the center of a black hole, but he was unaffected by it. He was freely floating at the very center of it and protected from the exploding stars.

"Am I inside of my subconscious? But why am I here? If I died, then I should have been sent to the afterlife." Adrian asked himself but he felt that it was the correct answer.

Adrian could only look around as his entire body was heavy. He thought that this might be something like a passing dream because he died. He often would drift somewhere when he dies as he does not immediately enter Limbo. Seeing that he could not do anything other than enjoy the moment, Adrian looked around him as he could only turn his body around and not move.

"Strange?" Adrian stated as he noticed something strange when he looked at the cosmos around him.

The cosmos around him looked like it folded, or it is a meeting of two large entities. He could not point a finger on what it is, but he could make out the shape of a tree or rather two trees. He looked above and it felt like the tree that formed due to his imagination is made up of aether energy. He then looked down to see an imaginary large tree emitting energy akin to nether energy.

"A place in the middle where the roots collide. It feels like this place is a real place, but it must be inside my subconscious. How many layers are there? I asked my friends, but they said that they do not have subconsciousness like I do. The only ones that have something like it are Levin Cloud and Creepysoo, but they said it looks different for them.

Adrian deduced that beings that are related to life or death have a subconscious. Still, each of the subconscious are different depending on the trait of the person. Levin Cloud has a subconscious that is a large forest where half of it is teeming with life while the other is dead and dry. Creepysoo has one as well but his is just a graveyard with a large mausoleum.

"Is having different forms the cause why my own subconscious has layers? It is incredibly strange if that is the case." Adrian muttered as he suddenly felt an unknown presence enter his subconscious.

He was inside of the black hole when he felt a foreign entity enter the depths of his mind. The body that was almost immobile suddenly jolted awake as if he was an eager white blood cell attacking viruses. Adrian did not know why but he felt that he needed to destroy whatever entity this was that entered his mind.

Adrian looked up as a shadow-like entity appeared before him. This shadow-like entity looked like a phantom where it only has an upper body with sharp claws. The head is not even present as only the upper body could be seen, and it did not even have eyes. Adrian felt that this entity must be eliminated at all costs which is why he transformed his body into a miniature version of his Netheros True Form.

Unlike in the real world, the world of the subconscious can do anything as long as you have the mental capacity for it. Inside of the subconscious, the most powerful entity would be the owner of the body unless they are mentally unstable. The shadow-like entity faced Adrian and charged towards him as if it discovered that he was a threat. Adrian did not panic as he just tore the shadow-like entity into shreds with ease.

"That was easy, but I should have kept my mouth shut." Adrian stated as the shadow-like entity exploded into nothingness when Adrian shredded it but then he noticed more of them appearing.

In the pocket dimension of the Myriad Miles Rivers and Mountains painting...

Adrian could be seen almost at his last breath, but he uttered that he was hungry. The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi thought that this was strange as a last sentence, but he suddenly felt an incredible danger that made his body turn cold. As if his body instinctively knew that he must flee, the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi tried to run away and even ignored killing Adrian. He tried to flee but he was too late because the sleeping entity within Adrian's subconscious awakened due to smelling the energy that the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi devoured.

"Hungry!" Adrian stated once more but his body that looked humanoid suddenly turned into something different.

Adrian's body suddenly turned into a glowing humanoid cosmos. He no longer had eyes but only a mouth that had sharp teeth. The hands that looked human suddenly turned into claws that pierced through the body of the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. Adrian's clothes even turned into something like a cosmic fog that flickered in and out of existence. The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi felt it as the being in front of him now had the same energy as the Fragment of Chaos.

"Hungry!" Adrian stated as he suddenly took a bite of the leg that pinned him down.

"Argh!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi shouted in pain because he really felt his body being broken down.

"Stay back!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi shouted as he suddenly created numerous spikes to trap Adrian.

"Still hungry... you smell good. You smell like me." Adrian stated as his head looked towards the direction of the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi felt a chill looking at a being that had no eyes. He also had no eyes, but this is different compared to him. Adrian might look like he had no eyes, but it felt like a million eyes were staring at the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi and thinking that he was prey. The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi knew that this was no longer the demon he was fighting before. This was an entity that should never be born into the world or beings like him will never be safe.

"I must escape while he is obstructed." The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi muttered to himself, but he suddenly heard harsh chewing noises from behind him.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi looked behind and saw Adrian munching on the spikes that pierced his body. The creepier thing is that he transformed the pierced parts of his body into mouths that devoured the spikes inserted in that area. It was not just one munching sound but at least ten of them chewing simultaneously.

"I must get out of here!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi thought to himself as he quickly found the hole that Adrian punched through earlier.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi looked around to find the area where the pocket dimension was pierced. He located the area where the space was weakened and prepared to fly with all of his remaining strength. He turned around for one final time to see if the being that the demon became is still occupied and it was.

"Time to go." The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi thought to himself as he turned to look at the direction of the hole, but he suddenly jumped in fear.

"Hungry!" Adrian stated as he suddenly appeared in front of the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi and proceeded to try and bite the head of the latter.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi used every remaining ounce of strength that he had to twist his head away and succeeded. He succeeded in saving his head, but his shoulder was the area bitten instead. The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi flinched in unbearable pain as he finally knew why he feels the pain. His very essence was being devoured by the thing that the demon became.

"No! This cannot be the end of me! I am the shadow of a High Goddess! A being created from the dark chaos energy that circulated inside of the Void. I will never succumb to being devoured by an accursed being!" The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi thought but he could not move as they crashed to the ground.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi suddenly felt his body become powerful as if it was his last-ditch effort. He even created a powerful field of spikes that impaled the accursed being. He laughed as he picked up the Orb of Order as the demon died but that was all in his imagination. With Adrian's head suddenly becoming incredibly large and his jaw becoming the same size, a loud crunch could be heard as he ate the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi entirely.

Chapter 2213: Somehow a Victory

"What just happened?!" One of the developers asked as this was not in the story line that they have envisioned.

"You saw what happened. Even we are puzzled that a scenario like this is possible." One of the watchers replied as they did not expect this development as well.

The people at the headquarters are looking directly at Adrian or rather his transformed self as he ate the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. They did not expect that a greater god would suddenly be an easy target to the point that he became lunch to a player. This is not something within their scope as they even prepared to release patches when the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi won.

The development team actually predicted that Adrian and the others will not be able to defeat the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. The Goddess Nuwa was not enough to help them as she was restricted by being the owner of the Myriad Miles Rivers and Mountains painting. The scenario that the developers envisioned is Adrian's group losing.

When Adrian's group loses, the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi will also be severely weakened that will be enough for the Goddess Nuwa to trap inside the painting for at least a year. The Goddess Nuwa would then be sealed in a sleep cycle as she would sacrifice her life force to seal the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi. This would in turn result in the faction of the Goddess Izanami to become greater in size and strength in the eastern continent.

The Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi would then use the one year that he was trapped to devour the orb of Order and become a being that is an amalgamation of chaos and order. This would then lead to him trying to destroy the gods that belittled him and trapped him for eternity which are the faction of the Goddess Izanami. This scenario was even projected to be the thing that would happen at a 90% rate of happening.

With the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi being devoured completely by the entity that came out of Adrian, the predictions are now leading them to an unknown scenario. This event was supposed to have the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi become an independent god that will go against the Goddess Izanami. The power that the Goddess Izanami amassed in the eastern continent is now difficult for the Four Divine Beasts to contend.

"The Goddess Izanami suddenly collapsed!" One of the observers stated as they were also looking at the Goddess Izanami was doing.

"Why?! What happened?!" One of the head developers asked as she could see that the Goddess Izanami was not in battle nor poisoned.

"If you can see in this graph, her divine essence suddenly dipped." One of the observers stated as he presented the downward spiral of the divine essence that the Goddess Izanami gathered.

"The death of her shadow inadvertently affected her as well." The head developer stated as she managed to deduce what happened.

"What does this mean?" One of the developers asked as they were still in the dark of what could happen in the future.

"This means that the hidden faction of the Goddess Izanami would be incapacitated for months or a year at most. It also meant that the scenario could change and the other gods in the faction might make their moves. Still, the biggest player in that faction is suddenly out of commission which means that they will likely slow down the operations." The head developer stated as she suddenly held her head as she already knew where this is going.

"Please! No!" The other developers shouted as they know that they would need to craft scenarios and other possibilities now that their predicted scenario has vanished.

"He really is a demon! A demon that overworks us!" The developers shouted but they could not hate Adrian because they enjoyed his content the most.

"Will he not exceed the level limit and become the highest-level player? He basically killed a greater god on his own in technical terms." One of the observers asked as she could not be bothered with the image of the wailing developers.

"He did not kill him legitimately as that is not a form that even I know of. Was there someone that coded that? If it is not coded by us or known by us, then there would be no rewards given for defeating. The best he could get is a plentiful source of divine energy which is also disappearing now." The head developer stated as she looked at the charts for Adrian.

"Look at that!" One of the observers stated as Adrian suddenly stopped eating and looked at Paradox.

"Need more! Hungry!" Adrian stated but he already devoured all the parts of the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi.

"Inner master must return back. Your very essence has yet to stabilize and has yet to fully fuse with the main master." Paradox stated as Adrian suddenly looked at it as if he knew the floating ego weapon.

"Still hungry!" Adrian shouted as his form shifted for a split second to something that cannot be described as even humanoid.

"You have already had your fill, inner master. My reserves have all been devoured by you. If you return now, then you might be able to eat more of your delicacy." Paradox stated as if it is a robotic nanny or butler.

"Really!?" Adrian stated as if he suddenly became excited.

"Affirmative. Paradox does not lie." Paradox stated which made Adrian excited as he slowly shifted to his normal humanoid form.

Paradox seemed to know this entity inside of Adrian and even called it inner master. This means that the entity that came out of Adrian is him but just in another form. Adrian's main self suddenly opened his eyes as he recognized that he was now transported back to the real world. He still found it odd as he was busy fighting with shadow monsters inside his subconscious.

Adrian successfully exchanged with his inner self and the latter should now be enjoying a buffet inside the subconscious. Adrian looked around to see that his armor was slowly getting regenerated while his entire body became sore. Paradox swirled around him silently as it often only responds when he asks it a question.

"Where is the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi? And why does my mouth taste like I ate a rubber tire?" Adrian stated as he felt that he wanted to vomit.

"Master defeated the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi." Paradox replied to which shocked Adrian and made him check the logs.

[You have defeated the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi.]

[No experience will be earned because of the effects of Blessing of Valhalla and the unorthodox way of defeating the enemy.]

"The logs tell me that I defeated a greater god, but it did not mention how. How did I defeat the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi?" Adrian stated as he looked at Paradox for answers.

"The master devoured the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi." Paradox replied which made Adrian even look more puzzled.

"How can I even devour a greater god? If that was possible then I would have received a title like God Eater!" Adrian stated as he chuckled out of jest, but several notifications suddenly appeared before him.

[You have devoured the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi.]

[You have received the title God Eater.]

[The gods of Pandemonium are unaware that you have devoured a god as you are inside of a special dimension hidden from their eyes.]

Title: God Eater

Effects:

- Able to devour parts of a god to gain their divine energy more efficiently.

- Able to also restore useful energies that you have devoured.

- Deal 10% more damage to divine beings. This is doubled if you devoured a part of that divine being.

Description: A title given to an ominous being that can devour a god entirely. Be careful not to suddenly blurt out that you have this title, or all of the gods would bring their pitch forks and hunt you down, you animal.

"It is true!?" Adrian muttered as he shivered upon reading the description.

"Paradox does not lie, master." Paradox stated.

"How?! I do not even have the mouth to fit in a god! Do not tell me that it happened when I blacked out?!" Adrian stated.

"Master devoured the Greater God Amatsu-Mikaboshi entirely." Paradox stated.

"Show me footage of what happened." Adrian stated as he took a deep breath.

"All recording functionality has yet to become operational as the system overheated. No data has been recorded for the past hour." Paradox replied.

"Then did I look different?" Adrian asked Paradox.

"Master is master." Paradox replied.

"I mean did my physical form change?" Adrian asked but he suddenly remembered that Paradox does not recognize the physical form of others but their energy signatures which meant that it is useless asking it.

"There have been no changes to the master except for a spike of combined aether and nether energy." Paradox stated which piqued Adrian's interest.

"Small demon child, are you alright?" The voice of Grand Mistress Nu Wa could be heard from above.

Chapter 2214: Halt Operations

The being that they call the Goddess Izanami could be seen sitting in front of Tai and the others. Tai and the others reported what happened and they were getting some uncomfortable stares from the other higher ups. All of the higher ups were called upon as an entire battalion was wiped out. Vixen pointed the blame towards Amatsu-Mikaboshi going on a rampage, but they were still looking at them as if they have committed a crime.

"If Amatsu-Mikaboshi did rampage then the young ones are not to blame. I have expected that it might happen because of his personality but to think that he sacrificed an entire battalion. Prepare to send our elite guards along with my daughter.

Amatsu-Mikaboshi would have devastated the Ryujins by now and might be weakened. We will need to seal him again for a few centuries to make sure that he repents. Tai will lead them to the location of the battle. Are there any voices that wish to oppose?" The Goddess Izanami stated as she looked at everyone.

The imposing gaze of the Goddess Izanami quelled the eyes of those that wanted to pin the blame on Tai and the others. Even if they wanted to voice their opinions, they are not going to speak because they would just be ridiculed instead. This faction is where those at the top are the absolute which meant that they have no right to ridicule Tai and the others if one of the leaders are not saying anything.

"We apologize for our incompetence." Tai stated as he proceeded to bow.

Vixen wanted to not bow her head, but she just clenched her fists as she imitated Tai. Even she knows that losing the entire battalion is a huge loss for the organization. They might be a large organization but there is a clear division when it comes to leaders. Each faction only has a number of fighters, and they lost a lot of them today.

"If I may speak, do you really think that Amatsu-Mikaboshi will be able to defeat the Goddess Nuwa?" One of the higher ups of their faction asked.

"He will be able to do that my child. I already felt the essence of the Goddess Nuwa even if it is faint. She might be trying to hide it to the entire eastern continent, but the old ones should have picked up on it. If she already assumed her divine form, then I can say for sure that Amatsu-Mikaboshi is already winning." The Goddess Izanami stated.

"Will the presence of a demon and a Valkyrie not hinder Amatsu-Mikaboshi from achieving victory?" Another of the higher ups asked as he was in a more neutral position as he listened to the events from Tai's perspective.

"A demon and a Valkyrie will not be able to defeat Amatsu-Mikaboshi as he can grow his strength to that of a greater god. He might look weak, but that thing is still my shadow... Argh!" The Goddess Izanami stated as she suddenly clutched her chest as if she felt an immense pressure pouring down on it.

"Goddess!" All of them suddenly panicked as they saw the Goddess Izanami fall down and faint.

"Did somebody poison her!?" One of the higher ups shouted as if they were looking for someone to blame for the current situation.

"Is there an assassin?! Check every place inside this pavilion!" another higher up shouted which made all the guards mobilize.

"All of you should settle down." An imposing male voice suddenly stated which displaced the panic that exploded into the room.

"Lord Izanagi!" All of them shouted in unison as they bowed deeply.

"My wife was not poisoned nor attacked." The God Izanagi stated as he picked up and caressed the Goddess Izanami.

"If she was not attacked then what happened to her, my lord. Apologies for my question as I am deeply worried for the goddess." One of the higher ups asked and the others were also waiting for an answer.

"It seems that the prediction was wrong. Amatsu-Mikaboshi was not able to defeat the Goddess Nuwa. It seems there were beings that influenced the future that we saw. Instead of the death of the Goddess Nuwa, it is Amatsu-Mikaboshi that has died." The God Izanagi stated as he created a silk bed for the Goddess Izanami to rest upon.

"Does that mean that vile thing actually lost?! We can just interrogate him once he reforms in the Cave of Repentance." One of the higher ups stated.

"Amatsu-Mikaboshi has died permanently. He will never be able to reform from parts of his divine body as he got killed using his true divine body. The divine part inside of the Cave of Repentance should either vanish or become a relic by now." The God Izanagi stated which shocked all of them.

The higher ups in the faction are basically former gods that reincarnated into mortal bodies. The fact that Amatsu-Mikaboshi, who retained his godly essence due to his unique nature, died meant that there was a being that could kill them permanently in the eastern continent. This suddenly placed fear in their hearts as their plan to rise back into their divine selves might fail as well.

"All of you are correct in feeling some fear as even our oracle was unable to predict that the Goddess Nuwa is that powerful, but it also means that she would also have become weakened.

If the Goddess Nuwa pushed herself in defeating Amatsu-Mikaboshi and even destroying his true body, then it is a good cause for us. A weakened Nuwa would make it easier for us to proceed with the next plan of killing the four divine beasts." The God Izanagi stated.

"Uhm... my lord. May I speak?" Tai suddenly stated as he raised his hand, but it seems the other higher ups did not want him to speak.

"You are Tai, am I correct? The one Chiyou entrusted to do some of his work, am I correct?" The God Izanagi asked but his imposing voice made Tai tremble.

Tai wanted to look directly onto the eyes of the God Izanagi, but his entire body was screaming at him to just speak bowing down. If the instincts of his body are basically telling him to bow down, then he did not even gather the curiosity to look up. He knew that the being before him is not fond of him unlike the Goddess Izanami.

"Yes, my lord. This humble one is the representative of Lord Chiyou while he is resting." Tai replied.

"Speak then, child." The God Izanagi stated as he lessened the pressure he was emitting as if intrigued by what Tai is about to say.

"What if it is not the Goddess Nuwa that defeated Amatsu-Mikaboshi?" Tai stated which made the others become unruly because they know that a god cannot be defeated by those lower than them.

"All of you calm down and listen to the words of the child. Just because you are a god does not mean you cannot be killed by a demigod or a primordial beast." The God Izanagi stated as he emitted his aura to quell the voices of the others since he wanted to hear what Tai wanted to say.

"Thank you for your benevolence, my lord. The question I asked earlier is due to the fact that there were three individuals to note that were not Ryujin there. One is a Leshy, the ones they call the forest guardians, and he was chosen by the Twin Gods as a representative. Another is a Valkyrie that is also chosen by the Goddess Freyja as her avatar. Lastly, there is a demon that is the Champion of the Twin Gods." Tai stated as he did not leave out any detail that he knows. When Tai stated the titles of the three beings that were not Ryujin, even the disrespectful higher ups had to tone down. The ones that they thought that just aided on the sidelines might have actually been the ones that truly defeated the Amatsu-Mikaboshi. All three of them have connection to powerful divine beings and even the Twin Gods. This also made the God Izanagi ponder on what truly happened.

"Even if they are beings that represent gods, they are still mortal. Amatsu-Mikaboshi is not a normal god that can be defeated as he was created from the chaotic darkness." One of the higher ups stated.

"I have asked our oracle to look into what happened. Has she given us a response?" The God Izanagi asked the servant that just came in.

"It seems that she fainted from shock, my lord. She tried peeking into what happened, but she screamed that the Fates have sealed it off. She has yet to awaken since earlier as we believe she will be in a coma for a few days.

"Halt operations while we are not yet entirely sure of what is happening. All resources should be focused on verifying what truly happened with the Goddess Nuwa. Once we have determined it, we will reconvene and hopefully my wife will awaken by then as well." The God

Izanagi stated.

"As your will, my lord." All of them stated with a bow.

Chapter 2215: Destroying and Restoring

"To think that you managed to defeat a greater god. You really are fearsome." Levin Cloud stated as he did believe that Adrian might be able to pull it off, but he would think that his best friend might use forbidden spells.

"All of you participated greatly in the fight even if all of you died. The Blessing of Valhalla was incredible which is why I was even able to defeat him in the first place. The way he died is what is bothering me because the prompts said that I devoured him." Adrian stated.

All of the revived quite early as they managed to shorten the respawn timer due to missions in Limbo. They were able to return back to the game easily in just a day and a half of in game time. They are now gathered in the pavilion as they helped in restoring the destroyed areas.

"You ate a god? Is that even possible?" Peridot whispered.

"You do not need to whisper here in the eastern continent. Also, this place has a barrier that deflects any eavesdropping from gods." Adrian stated as he asked what the effects of the barrier are when he asked to help in restoring the damaged areas.

"Still, such important and dangerous thing might be heard by the goddess." Frey stated as she is still the Avatar of the Goddess Freyja and is perpetually connected to her.

"The Goddess Freyja is trustworthy. I know that she will not gossip this to the other gods and goddesses as she is not someone that does something shameful like that." Adrian stated and the Goddess Freyja, in her divine domain, quietly scratched her ears as she diverted her attention elsewhere for the moment.

"So, does that mean if we eat parts of gods then we might get that title as well? Dealing bonus damage to gods is incredible as they are descending in a lot of areas. Even demigods are affected by that title which is why it is incredibly powerful at this point in the game." Levin Cloud stated.

"I think the way to get it is to devour a god that is still alive and kill that god by devouring." Adrian stated which made Levin Cloud deflate as that kind of thing is basically impossible.

"That is in the realm of impossibility. What kind of godlike entity would just offer themselves like a dish? There might be strange gods but even they will not do something like that." Peridot stated.

"Also, what is up with your hands?" Frey stated as her gaze always dropped down towards Adrian's hands as it was now different.

"I thought it was just some sort of decoration, but I guess Frey needed to point it out as well since it looks strange." Peridot stated.

Adrian's hands that were already had a blue tint because of his Daemos skin tone became pale sky blue. They also looked more like claws as well that is flickering in a pale blue flame with the way they glow. Adrian did not notice his hands have changed to a great degree until Grand Mistress Nu Wa pointed it out. Even he was shocked and even plunged his hands onto the small pond to see if it would return to normal, but it did not.

"I do not know exactly what is different about it, but it just feels like my normal hands. It is radiating Chaos Energy though as Paradox told me it when I asked. It seems that this is a side effect of me suddenly transforming into that strange being that devoured the greater god." Adrian stated.

"What I want to know is why there are no traces of it? Even the playback file did not pick it up as if it should not be shown to you. Did you file a ticket to the developers?" Levin Cloud stated.

"I did but they told me that nothing is wrong with the recording function. They also said that the content that I want to see is for something in the future or something." Adrian stated as Levin Cloud suddenly touched him like a sacred relic or artifact.

"What are you doing?" Peridot asked as it looked like Levin Cloud was praying while touching Adrian.

"I am praying to our almighty content totem. He is lucky in regard to getting good stuff. This might increase the chances of me getting rare drops from treasure chests." Levin Cloud stated but he was smacked by Peridot.

"Is there something you need?" Adrian asked as Frey suddenly touched his sleeve. "Nothing." Frey stated as she blushed because she actually believed what Levin Cloud said earlier and wanted to try since there is nothing lost.

"Cute..." Peridot stated as she looked at Frey being shy because of what she did.

"Why are the treatments different?" Levin Cloud stated but he was hit once again. "Anyway, did you destroy that orb something? Did you not have a quest that told you to destroy it?" Peridot stated which made Adrian remember that he did have a quest like that. "Thanks for reminding me! I will take it out now and ask for your help in destroying it." Adrian stated as he could not destroy it earlier with just his normal strength.

Adrian then took out the Orb of Order from his inventory to show to his friends, but it suddenly turned to dust upon getting exposed outside. All of them suddenly paused as they did not know why that suddenly happened. It took about a minute or two for them to return back to normal, but they still looked at the dust as if it was special or something.

[You have destroyed the Orb of Order!]

[You have completed the quest Punish the Destroyer of the Dragon Veins.]

Title: World Punisher

Effect:

-Increases all damage dealt by 15% when in the main world and reduced by 5% when off world. The extra damage that you deal with this title is dealt as true damage.

Description: Only those that is loved by the world can get this title. Even the world has favoritism, and it uses that same favoritism to punish those that dare to harm it. It will unleash the punisher for daring to defile its body.

"Care to explain what suddenly happened?" Levin Cloud stated as he did not see Adrian even using any strength earlier.

"I do not know. It just turned to dust when I took it out of the inventory. Let me check the logs." Adrian stated as he scrolled to all the logs and found an interesting one.

[The Orb of Order in your inventory has been subjected to a powerful radiation of Chaos Energy. Its durability has decreased greatly.]

"I think I also accidentally destroyed it when I transformed. It seems to only turn to dust when I took it out of the inventory as the magic could no longer maintain its form." Adrian stated.

"Does that not mean it would be destroyed anyways even if it drops upon your death? The enemy would still lose out even if you did lose." Frey stated.

"I guess so. Anyways, I already got my new title. I guess it is time for Levin Cloud to get his." Adrian stated as he snapped his finger to transport all of them to the location of the destroyed dragon vein.

"I hate the fact that I am already used to him suddenly shifting space. I feel like he could just sweep us away even when we are asleep." Levin Cloud stated as he no longer feels dizzy when being teleported.

"Enough yapping and more restoring." Peridot stated.

"Ok! Let me do my thing!" Levin Cloud stated as he suddenly plunged his hands onto the ground and started to scream.

Levin Cloud exuded a powerful blast of life energy that it made the area luscious. All the trees that were destroyed looked like they were revived while flora and fauna started to grow. He suddenly stopped shouting and became solemn as if he was in an incredibly focused state.

"Did he succeed?" Frey asked Adrian.

"Did you succeed?" Peridot asked excitedly.

"I... just... screamed a lot but nothing happened." Levin Cloud stated as he looked like he wanted to cry.

All of them suddenly looked at him with judging eyes as he looked extremely cool earlier. It would have been cool if he succeeded as he even transformed the area around him but that was all flair and no substance. Adrian could only laugh at the attempt of his best friend as he thought that he knew what he needed to do.

"Do not laugh. You are hurting my pride." Levin Cloud stated but all of them laughed because of the face he was making.

"Sorry about that. You should ask the Gods and Goddesses of Life on ways to restore the Dragon Vein. I thought you already knew it but let me remind you that your quest is far more difficult than mine. Creation is more difficult than destruction which is why I believe you can do it." Adrian stated as he patted Levin Cloud on the shoulders.

Chapter 2216: Creating a Dragon Vein

Levin Cloud agreed with what Adrian told him as there was no instruction manual in fixing a destroyed dragon vein. He did feel the ground being hollow from energy when he tried infusing it. He legitimately tried to activate the dying sparks of the dragon vein, but it was all in vain. The sparks that he felt on the ground were nothing more than remnants of the original dragon vein, but they could not be used to recreate it.

"I need to create a new one as it seems there is no other choice. Can you guys make sure that I am not bothered or disturbed while I am communing with the Gods and Goddesses of Life?" Levin Cloud stated.

"Do not worry as we have your back!" Peridot stated while Adrian and Frey nodded.

Seeing that his friends will never let him down, Levin Cloud took a deep breath and let go of all feeling. He slowly transformed to his real form and the area around him suddenly felt serene. Adrian and the others saw what happened as Levin Cloud looked like he perfectly assimilated with nature. Just looking at him made him illusory as if he is not there because of blending in perfectly with nature.

Levin Cloud closed his eyes and envisioned the networks of energies that is present in the dragon veins. He envisioned himself becoming roots that crawled to the depths of the world. He could clearly see the pathways of energy which is none other than the dragon veins. He also noticed a blank part in the section and immediately knew that this was the thing that he needed to fix.

Levin Cloud already knew what section to fix but the problem is how to fix it. As soon as he became determined, he concentrated even deeper as he wanted to commune with the gods and goddesses of life. If Levin Cloud does not know how to restore a dragon vein, then the gods and goddesses of life will definitely be able to. Levin Cloud focused on the divine realm where the gods and goddesses of life often spend their time.

Levin Cloud opened his eyes to check if he really arrived at the divine realm, but he was not. He was sent or rather he sent his consciousness to a realm closer to the world than to the divine. When Levin Cloud opened his eyes, he felt the life energy of the entire world at the tip of his fingers. He felt the power coursing to his body as if he became the world itself.

"You are here." A figure that is made of light stated.

The figure made of light looked neither male nor female but there is something odd with it. The upper portion of its head where the eyes and forehead should be is cut off. The voice that Levin Cloud heard also felt a bit like static as if the being is not stable. Still, there was no malice felt when that being talked to him which is why he decided to converse with it. "Who are you?" Levin Cloud asked.

"I think you know who I am." The being stated as it smiled.

"Are you the will of the world?" Levin Cloud asked as he found no other being that could talk to him in a place where the entire life force of the world is flowing.

"You can call me that, but you can also say that I am the soul of this world." The being stated.

"Why is your form like that? Is it because the dragon vein was destroyed?" Levin Cloud asked with worry.

"I am in this form because I am still incomplete. I think you already know why as you might have heard it from the Demon of Vengeance." The being stated.

"You mean Equinox? When did he get that title? Anyways, your current appearance is due to the fact that you are still in a fractured state. Does that mean you are incredibly large as a world?! How much bigger can you get!?" Levin Cloud stated in shock.

"My current state is far from perfect and more than half of me is still missing. I do not know if all of me will return as you do know that even smaller worlds get destroyed occasionally. I believe that some of my parts have already perished as well. Still, you are not here for that. You are here to restore the dragon vein that was destroyed." The being stated as he pointed to a network that looked like nerves.

"Why me? I know that I am the Apostle of the Twin Gods, but I am not really that good in manipulating energy. Equinox would be much better for this task as he has great senses and specializes in using energy." Levin Cloud stated.

"I would not have chosen you if you were not the perfect one to do it. Also, the Demon of Vengeance already has a part as my sword. A sword cannot be used to restore as it is made to destroy. Another thing would be that he might do more harm than good. The energies present in his body is not something that this current world could contain." The being stated which made Levin Cloud take note of the words.

If the literal representation of the world itself is calling Adrian dangerous then you best believe that he is. The world has been looking over Adrian as he has brought about lost races and even created new ones. Bringing back the lost races and creating new ones strengthens the world itself which is why it values Adrian but even it is wary of him. The energies that Adrian carry are not things that should be present in this dimension.

"I guess... I am sorry. I was unable to restore the dragon vein." Levin Cloud stated as he slumped his shoulders.

"Like I have told you, you are the only one amongst the millions living in this world that could help. Believe in yourself as I am always here to guide you." The being stated as he gestured towards the representation of the entire dragon vein system of the world.

Levin Cloud walked towards the dragon vein system and touched it upon the gesture of the being that represented the world. As soon as his hands touched the dragon vein system, flashes of all living beings entered Levin Cloud's mind. He started having an incredible headache, but he also felt incredibly connected to the world itself.

Levin Cloud felt and understood all living beings as if he lived their lives. All of the lives he experienced it in just under a few seconds. He wanted to relive that moment once again as the rush was incredible. It felt like he rode the fastest roller coaster ten times in under a minute.

"You should focus, World Restorer. If you experience that again then you might go insane. Even if you are a Leshy and your neural system is different than that of a human, you will still become insane if you experience that surge of information a few times." The being that represented the world stated.

"Sorry. I just felt excited as I never felt anything like that. How do I focus?" Levin Cloud stated.

"Just take it slow, World Restorer. I perceive that this will not be your last time doing this. The world... I am always in great risk as powerful beings are now able to descend. I wish to have you alleviate some of the problems that I am encountering. For now, we will focus on the problem of the destroyed Dragon Vein. You will create a new one in its place." The being that represented the world stated.

"Create one?!" Levin Cloud exclaimed in shock.

"Yes. This is not your first time creating things after all. You also know it yourself as you are a welcomed anomaly to the Leshy. A Leshy that can control both life and death energy that is the essence of a world. You can do this just like when you practiced creating something from nothing." The being that represented the world stated.

Levin Cloud once created a sprout that contained both energies of life and death as practice. He did not know how he did this, but he knew the feeling. He felt a certain euphoria when he perfectly fused the energies of life and death. He even modeled it to resemble the Tree of Life and Death which is an impossible feat. If he really did succeed, then Levin Cloud would have been the first mortal to create a seed of life and death.

"I will try." Levin Cloud stated as he remembered that feeling.

Levin Cloud recalled that sensation and imagined the missing part which is a dragon vein to just manifest itself. He focused all of his mental strength in this specific part of the dragon vein system. At first, nothing was happening, but he changed perspective.

"If it cannot be restored then just make a new one that is better!" Levin Cloud thought as the being that represented the world smiled.

Chapter 2217: World Healer

Creating something from nothing is not an easy feat that this is already in the realm of gods. Even if Levin Cloud is able to handle both life and death energy which are the spark of creation, he is still a mortal that lives in the rules of the world. Such a thing would be impossible but what if the world itself was supporting you.

The being that represented the world smiled as parts of its body suddenly assimilated to Levin Cloud. He did not know that he was now in full control of the world itself like an administrator. If he chooses to destroy this world by killing off all the dragon veins, then he could do so. The world itself chose wisely as it knew that the only being that could generate the spark and stay true to their promise is none other than Levin Cloud.

"I can feel it. I can make it!" Levin Cloud stated as he created layers of magic circles around him unknowingly.

If Levin Cloud looked at the magic circles, then he would have a glimpse at the power of creation, but he was so focused on creating the dragon vein to even look around. The energies of life and death fused together inside of his body as another form of energy mixed in due to the aid of the world itself. The empty area where the destroyed dragon vein was suddenly sprouted a small bulb of light.

This small bulb of light represented the spark that Levin Cloud created. Upon seeing the spark, Levin Cloud focused more and more until he could no longer concentrate. He even thought that his mind was blanking out in one point, but he continued because he did not see the spark turn into a dragon vein. Levin Cloud called upon all the forces of nature both natural and unnatural to aid him.

"I can do it! Grow for me!" Levin Cloud shouted as he even poured in his own unique natural energy.

The small bulb that looked like it would die down suddenly exploded in power. The power of both life and death which shocked even the will of the world itself. A dragon vein was created using the power of a mortal. A dragon vein that is different from the rest as it glowed in a platinum gold color instead of the usual white.

[You have created a special Dragon Vein.]

[You have awakened the latent Asmodian Faekin Talent within you called 'Matter Creation'.]

[You have completed the quest Restore the Dragon Vein with flying colors and exceeded the expectations of the world.]

[Due to exceeding expectations, all of the lost experience and levels upon dying earlier are restored. All of your stats that were lost has also been restored.]

[You have gained the title: World Healer]

Title: World Healer

Effect:

-Increases all healing received and given to others by 15% in the main world and reduced by 5% when off world. This cannot be reduced by healing reduction effects.

-Has a 0.01% chance to heal any target back to full health when using healing spells on a target or a wide range of allies.

Description: Only those that is loved by the world can get this title. Even the world has favoritism, and it uses that same favoritism to select a being that it trusts to heal its injuries back to normal. The chosen healer of the world is said to be one of the beings that can bring the dead back to life with ease.

"I did it!" Levin Cloud shouted weakly as he fainted on the spot.

"You have done well, healer. I thought that you would only be able to create a spark but to think you created a more powerful dragon vein. Your contribution to the world will never be left unnoticed." The being that represented the world stated as it gave another reward to Levin Cloud.

[You have been chosen by the world. All beings in the world will think of you favorably.]

[You have received the World Favor hidden stat.]

Stat Name: World Favor

Type: Hidden Stat

Current Points: 5

Description: A hidden stat that is connected to how beings in certain worlds view you. It is unknown what this stat really gives as it is very intangible and difficult to ascertain. The effect of this hidden stat also affects beings of the fragmented worlds as long as you hold favor for them.

"Sleep and wake up as you have done a good job." The being that represented the world stated as it sent Levin Cloud's consciousness back to his body safely.

The being that represented the world suddenly shifted its form to become more whole. The missing parts of its body that Levin Cloud saw earlier became filled. The upper head that was missing is now showing a bald head. The overall appearance is still that of a humanoid silhouette, but it is now a complete humanoid silhouette.

"I shall watch over you, my chosen two. Even if the gods themselves cast you out... I shall always be here with open arms to embrace you even in the dangerous times." The being that represented the world stated as the humanoid form scattered into millions of particles of light along with the special realm.

"Are you alright?!" Adrian stated as he kept poking Levin Cloud's face.

"Why is he not responding? One minute... he was in a deep trance then the next he is sleeping?" Peridot asked.

"Does poking his cheeks work? Did you not say that his body is made up of tree parts? Maybe a small flame might trigger his danger senses." Frey stated and Adrian actually thought it was a good idea.

"Why are you both looking at me?" Peridot asked.

"You are the only one that could create flames amongst all of us." Adrian stated.

"Are you crazy! I will not do that. What if I burn him and he suddenly fails his quest?! What if he is not sleeping but is just in a deep meditative state?" Peridot stated but they suddenly heard snoring.

Chapter 2218: Mutated Dragon Vein

"ZZZ... zzzz... Yes!... zzz" Levin Cloud exclaimed as he was suddenly heard snoring and even talking while he slept.

"Pass me his face." Peridot stated and Adrian gently laid Levin Cloud down on the lady's lap.

"Uhm... maybe we should just shake him awake." Frey stated as she could see that Peridot looked fierce.

"I think it is better for us to step back for a moment." Adrian stated but he was actually looking at his inventory if there is anything that resembled popcorn.

"Wake up." Peridot stated in a calm voice with a smile on her face.

"No... five more minutes. Ehehe... you smell good. Oh! This place is so soft." Levin Cloud stated as he mistakenly poked Peridot's tummy.

"WAKE UP." Peridot stated as her smile is still there, but the aura of death could be felt and Adrian even tried to nudge him awake.

"I can handle it." Peridot stated as she fiercely looked at the approaching Adrian.

"Yes. I was just thinking of trying the fire option. I can summon Kanlaon if you want but you said that you can handle it... so... go for it! Fighting!" Adrian stated as he retreated like a good child.

"Why is it so noisy?! Ehm... so soft. Ehehe!" Levin Cloud stated as he buried his face near Peridot's tummy because it felt soft.

Adrian could only pray for his friend in the afterlife as he is definitely going to be dead. The fierce aura of a tigress erupted from Peridot, but Levin Cloud did not even wake up. He was basically in dreamland and even continuously poked and told that the belly of Peridot is soft. When people hear that, they will not tell thank you but would even curse at you. It was a roundabout way of saying to someone that you are fat.

"Should I contact the God of Dreams? Maybe he can wake up Levin Cloud." Adrian thought but he suddenly heard or imagined the response of the God of Dreams Morpheus.

"I am the God of Dreams not the God of Waking up."

"Yeah. That would be his response." Adrian stated as he suddenly saw the hand of justice come down upon the cheek of the sleeping Levin Cloud.

"Ah! We are under attack! Everyone, group up!" Levin Cloud stated as he was jolted awake by the slap.

"You are finally awake." Peridot stated as she smiled but there were no happy emotions that could be discerned from her face.

"Was I asleep? I was in a special realm where I met the being that represented the world like a manifestation of it. I think I fainted! Did succeed in creating the dragon vein?!" Levin Cloud asked immediately as he had no time to actually read his notifications earlier.

"Yes... ehe... you managed to complete it. Ha..." Adrian replied as he tried to stop himself from laughing. Frey could even be seen pinching him as she was also trying to stop herself from laughing.

"I did it! Wow! I never thought that I would actually do it. I even restored all of the lost levels and stats I sacrificed when I used the forbidden spell." Levin Cloud stated with a smile, but Adrian and Frey had to turn around as they laughed.

"Is there something wrong? Why are both of you laughing?" Levin Cloud stated while he scratched his head.

"Ehem. Sorry about that. We were just caught off guard by something. You did great! I can even feel the dragon vein that you restored." Adrian replied as he clearly looked at the palm that etched itself onto the face of Levin Cloud. He really tried to not laugh but a smile could be seen leaking on his face. It took Adrian's business poker face to make him stop laughing as Peridot was already glaring at him.

"I did not restore it. I created it per the instructions of the being that represented the world." Levin Cloud stated which made all of them forget the huge palm on his face and become intrigued by what he said.

Adrian told him to elaborate, and he used up about thirty minutes to explain and tell everything that he could remember. Levin Cloud made sure to tell him that the world called him the Demon of Vengeance. He also told them about the world telling him that he was chosen specifically. He also told them about creating the dragon vein before passing out. "No wonder I got a title that does not have any effect." Adrian stated as he looked at the prompt that suddenly popped up while he was observing Levin Cloud.

[You have gained the title: Demon of Vengeance.]

"Fitting." Frey stated as she looked at Adrian and smiled.

"Anyways, the dragon vein seems to have been restored and we are now done. Let us return back to the pavilion so that we can report and also continue our vacation. You were really great! I never doubted you." Peridot stated as she made sure to dismiss what Levin Cloud did when he was sleep talking.

"I agree but is it normal for a place to suddenly be bursting with energy? Adrian asked as he suddenly could see the landscape changing rapidly.

"Is that also normal? The mountain is crumbling." Frey stated as she pointed out that the mountain is suddenly crumbling apart.

"We need to go and check it immediately!" Peridot shouted as she is suddenly worried because the entire mountain sanctuary was crumbling down.

"Can you teleport us directly?" Levin Cloud asked.

"Let me try." Adrian stated but the entire space in the area was distorted. He tried creating a gate that directly leads to the pavilion, but it dissipated. The space around them was not stable because of the powerful energy that the dragon vein was giving.

All of them can only observe as the mountain crumbled down and a large lake suddenly sprung out from the ground. Peridot was about to fly above in haste, but she suddenly saw all of the Ryujin flying and started doing some sort of ritual.

Chapter 2219: Lake Biwa

All of the Ryujin did not panic as the mountain started to crumble. In fact, all of them flew in the sky and started to perform a beautiful dance. The skies are filled with serpentine dragons that created clouds with each graceful step that they take. The skies filled with numerous rain clouds that scattered in every part of the eastern continent. This was not just a simple dance but also a declaration to the eastern continent that the Ryujin are back.

The normal people of the eastern continent started to dance as well as rain poured down from the skies above. Rain signified that there will be abundant harvest as it has been quite long since ample rain fell from the skies. The eastern continent is not really a place where rain visits a lot which is why the Ryujin were the ones that made it rain. Hence, rain became a symbol that the people of the eastern continent are being watched over and protected.

"What is going on, mother?" Peridot asked as the Grand Mistress Nu Wa descended and turned to her humanoid appearance.

"The dragon vein that was revived has also empowered the core of our sanctuary that it is now returning to what it was once." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated with excitement.

"The mountain is not your original home?" Levin Cloud exclaimed in confusion.

"No. The mountain is what our home became when my husband was sealed. It is some sort of beacon that harnesses the energies of the other dragon veins to slowly wake him from his seal. Now that the dragon vein that replaced it became more powerful and robust, the seal that was placed on my husband is finally getting unleashed. My child, be ready to meet your father." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as they could see the sanctuary sink into the large lake that is created below the mountain.

"I feel another dimension below the lake. How is that possible? There was nothing like that earlier." Adrian stated as he suddenly felt another dimension sprouting from beneath the newly created lake.

"The dragon vein managed to pierce the seal that my husband is affected by. This also meant that he was isolated from the world by being in another dimension. The mountain is like a spell that I created to slowly tear away the seal that kept him from being revived. I thought that it would take another hundred years or so, but it was accelerated because of the new dragon vein." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated with excitement.

[You have witnessed the emergence of the forgotten Lake Biwa.]

"Lake Biwa?" Adrian and the others muttered simultaneously which caught the attention of the Grand Mistress Nu Wa.

"This is our original home that is connected to a sealed dimension in the eastern seas. Lake Biwa is the real lake where the Ryujin emerge. It is also where the legends of the dragons were born back then." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as she recounted the story of how the first Ryujins emerged to the world.

The Ryujin did not maintain their dragon forms back then and actually opted to transform into a carp for blending into the area. It was then they saw the towering waterfall connected to Lake Biwa and they all played around it. The Ryujin that transformed into carps would traverse the perilous waters of the waterfall in their weakened forms.

When the Ryujin rises above the waterfall, they would be allowed to slowly shed their carp forms and use their dragon forms. This became the origin of the story of a carp turning into a dragon by climbing a waterfall. Many mortals saw this and created a story about it which led to lots of normal carps being captured then trained to swim upwards a waterfall.

The husband of the Grand Mistress Nu Wa found this hilarious but also gave the courageous carps a chance. The husband of the Grand Mistress Nu Wa created a law with his own divinity that any carp that rises above dragon gates as they call it would have a chance to be reborn as a dragon. The law he made did not mean that any carp that swims up a waterfall will immediately transform into a dragon, but it would have a chance to become a dragon upon rebirth.

In more ways than one, the legend that the mortals created did become true. The husband of Grand Mistress Nu Wa is powerful as he was able to remain as a deity despite the world becoming fragmented back then. The only problem is that he also fell to the schemes of others. The husband of the Grand Mistress Nu Wa had to be sealed in a special dimension that he created himself to heal him.

"Come and wake me when the eastern continent is descending into chaos. You are the only one that could do that, my wife." The husband of the Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as she saw how her own husband sealed himself to recuperate.

"I do not want to be doom posting or anything but are we sure that he is alive?" Levin Cloud asked.

"He is very much alive as both of us are connected by this." The Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as she lifted her finger to show a thread that directly leads to the lake.

"How romantic! The red string of fate!" Peridot stated.

"If he sealed himself then why did it take so long? I know that dragons do not age a lot which make their sense of time skewed, but he was sealed in a lake. Where did the mountain come from?" Adrian stated as he pointed out that the red string that the Grand Mistress Nu Wa had is connected to the lake itself.

"He was about to awaken back then about three hundred years ago, but an organization stopped it. They tainted the lake itself which led me to create a mountain to suppress the tainted energy of the lake." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated.

"You used the tainted energy to create the barrier along with the energy of the pervious dragon vein. It functioned both as a way to cleanse the energy and also a way to defend the new area the Ryujin needed to reside." Adrian stated which made the Grand Mistress Nu Wa pat him on the head for being smart.

"Now, I need your help." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as she looked at Equinox.

"Me? Why?" Adrian stated.

"The hidden dimension of Lake Biwa is not easy to enter. Even I would need to spend at least a week to decipher the way to summon the gate. You, on the other hand, would be able to brute force yourself and reunite me with my husband faster." The Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as she looked at Adrian like he was some sort of treasure or miracle worker.

"No need to brute force it when finesse can be done." Adrian stated confidently as he walked towards the center of the lake.

Adrian then looked at Paradox as they started to work. A gentle breeze of energy swept across the entirety of Lake Biwa that even caught the attention of the Ryujin that were celebrating. They were now looking curiously on what Adrian was doing as he cannot summon rain like them. Adrian did not mind the stares because his eyes are filled with the complex magical formula that created the pocket dimension.

"It is straining to focus all the time. Paradox, use some of my mana to manifest the magic circles." Adrian stated.

"Affirmative, master." Paradox stated as it shot towards the sky and released some form of energy that looked like a faint starry sky enveloped the area.

The layers upon layers of magic circles appeared for all the people to see. It was a beautiful array of magic circles that formed a sight to behold when all of them moved. To the untrained eye, the magic circles are merely beautiful shiny things, but it is a headache to beings that know of formations and arrays. There were at the very least a hundred magic circles present just to open the dimension.

"I think I might have pushed a task that is impossible to the mediator. A hundred magic circles would be difficult even for a Formation Grand Master." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated.

"How long will it take a Formation Grand Master?" Peridot asked and the other two also listened in as they were curious.

"A year at most. They would need to disable all of the magic circles in order for the door to the pocket dimension to open." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated.

"I think he already knows how to do it. Look, he is doing something." Frey stated as she was eagerly watching what Adrian is doing.

All of them then observed Adrian as he created another magic circle to layer on the existing magic circles. This magic circle was large and powerful enough to cover the hundred. He then slammed his hands together and destroyed all a hundred and one magic circles.

Chapter 2220: Coral Palace

"Reporting... All magic circles have been detected and numbered in the hundred. Do you wish to proceed with analyzation?" Paradox asked.

"How long would it take if we analyzed the magic circles?" Adrian asked.

"Paradox can finish the job in a week due to the connected knowledge from the master. If the master also participates then Paradox believes that it will only take about three and a half days." Paradox replied.

"Three and a half days are not good. If you look at that magic circle." Adrian then pointed at a specific magic circle that glowed in a different light compared to the others.

"Analyzing type of magic circle... Restoration Magic Circle. Potential magic circle that can rejuvenate all of the magic circles that were previously destroyed. It is the 50th magic circle that needs to be disabled." Paradox stated.

"Correct. If that magic circle is not destroyed in under ten seconds, then it would activate a spell that will restore the previous forty-nine that was analyzed and decrypted. It will not strengthen the magic circles but only revert them back. The Restoration Magic circle will then lose all power and become an ordinary magic circle, but it would have done its purpose." Adrian stated as he actually needed to stop time to perfectly see all of the runes in the magic circles.

"How does the master propose to decrypt all of the magic circles?" Paradox asked.

"We need to do what they call an All Delete." Adrian stated as Paradox became quiet as it needed to search its database of the process that its master told it.

"Found the data of All Delete. A magic circle that has all of the details of the magic circles and encases them inside of it. As it assimilates all of the magic circles inside of it, destroying the All Delete will also destroy the magic circles encased in it." Paradox stated.

"That is correct. Let us start then." Adrian stated as he highlighted all of the unique identifier runes present inside of all the magic circles.

Identifier runes are basically the core of a magic circle if they do not use a conduit. Identifier runes are runes that do not have a copy inside the magic circle. It is the only thing truly original, but it is sometimes mixed in with other runes to make sure that it does not stick out like a sore thumb. Still, one would need the ability to freeze time as magic circles move around.

Adrian created a simple magic circle that he can easily destroy. It might be simple, but it must be sturdy enough to hold the weight of all the other magic circles that it will encase. Each of the Identifier Runes glowed and etched themselves onto the magic circle that Adrian created. All one hundred identifier runes were perfectly fitted into the magic circle.

"Finishing touches." Adrian then created a unique identifier rune for the magic circle that he has created.

Once Adrian created the finishing touches for the 'master magic circle' that he created, he began to overload it with mana. Adrian activated the magic circle and made it explode into pure energy. All of the encased magic circles were destroyed and turned into harmless mana that dissipated like specks of dust. All of them actually thought that the magic circles would go wild, but they were all amazed when it just turned to beautiful particles of light.

[You have achieved a great feat when it comes to being a Scribe as you flawlessly performed All Delete.]

[You have gained a large amount of experience points for your second job class.]

[You have the makings of a Grand Master Scribe.]

[You have destroyed all of the magic circles that locked the Coral Palace.]

[The entrance for the Coral Palace is now open.]

"Wow! What did you do?! That was so cool!" Levin Cloud stated as he excitedly ran towards Adrian.

"I merely destroyed all of the magic circles in one go since decrypting them one by one would take a week at least. The entrance to the Coral Palace has been opened. We should actually check it since I can feel a mysterious force inside of it." Adrian stated which made the Grand Mistress Nu Wa speechless.

"Shall we go in then, mother?" Peridot stated as she looked towards Grand Mistress Nu Wa. "I guess we should. Guards! Make sure to not let any mortal enter the pocket dimension. There might be some security measures in place that could be fatal." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated.

"Will we be fine going inside then?" Frey asked as she prepared her armor and suddenly switched to her battle stance.

"All of you will be fine as I will be able to protect you. The security measures inside should be able to detect me and let us pass through unscathed. I hope... I think." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated as she suddenly took out her tail to grab all four of them as she jumped inside of the lake.

All of them felt the splash of water on their faces but they did not become wet. Instead of the image of a lake, all of them suddenly found themselves in a wormhole that took the form of water and bubbles. A bright light suddenly made them squint as they were now at the end of the tunnel.

[You have reached the Coral Palace.]

All of them recovered their sight and was amazed by the grand structure that greeted them. It was a large eastern palace made up of red and white corals. The walls itself shined greatly as the corals reflected the light that shined upon them. Adrian could feel the majesty of the pocket dimension as it was one of the most intricate ones that he ever entered. It was a palace that is under water but all of them were able to breath smoothly as if they were above ground.

"Welcome to the real sanctuary of the Ryujin. The Coral Palace." Grand Mistress Nu Wa stated.
