

O Summoner 2431

Chapter 2431: Incoming Snowstorm I

Levin Cloud brought the Ice Queen Elona to her quarters in the castle and proceeded with the treatment. He actually created a magic circle using his own blood as a way to treat the queen as the poison in her body is from divine origins. The dagger that was used to stab her might be a relic that a dark god is sealed or from a body of a fallen dark god. Either way, Levin Cloud already told them that it will take one day in order to heal her completely and another day for rest.

Levin Cloud even reverted to his original form and called upon the powers of the forest to aid him. A soft viny chrysalis covered the Ice Queen Elona and sapped the poison out from her body. Nature itself responded to her call as if they felt gratitude for her taking care of them. If one looked outside the doors of the castle, the balance of nature and urbanization is well taken care of.

The surrounding nature itself was helping the Ice Queen Elona by taking the burden from her. The poison on her body did create a powerful corrosive effect though as the vines would wither and die after a few seconds. Levin Cloud had to regenerate and orchestrate the healing with full focus as breaking the process meant starting over. When Adrian left the quarters of the Ice Queen Elona, a large man that has the body of a Jotunn appeared before him.

"Hello, old man. It is nice to see you doing well. Grumpy and mad but still doing well considering." Adrian commented which made some of the guards near Aurgelmir become nervous.

The guards of the Ice Queen Elona already know of the relation between the queen and the divine blacksmith. The guards even treated the divine blacksmith with respect because the latter upgraded all of their weapons and armor. You can say that the kingdom of the Ice Queen Elona is the most heavily equipped fortress in all of the northern continent.

The guards are nervous not just because Aurgelmir created their armors and weapons but also due to the immense pressure he exudes. Only someone with a powerful soul like Adrian can casually talk to him as the voice of the divine blacksmith actually tests the fortitude of their soul when he speaks. The fact that Adrian talks casually to the Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir shattered the worldview of the guards as they only seen the queen do that.

"Will she be alright?" Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir stated in a calm voice, but Adrian could hear the fear and anger hidden between the lines.

"I managed to reach on time because of some special help but she would need to rest for a few days at least. It is a bit difficult because we now lost one of the best people, we have that can deal with the primordial beasts." Adrian replied.

"You still treat her like a warrior when she has already bled this much?" The Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir asked with a bit of anger in his tone.

"The queen is a warrior, and she will protect her citizens if she could. This is the reason why I told my friend that she would need to be given a powerful sedative to make sure she does not skitter about when she recovers. All the poison in her body will be flushed within the day but the primordial beasts will arrive tomorrow. I think you know what she will do once she regains consciousness." Adrian added.

"That is fine. Give her a sedative for now and gather all of your people to the workshop in this kingdom." The Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir stated.

"Why is that?" Adrian asked but he already know the reason why.

"I will upgrade the materials of all your people so that you can at least die with good gear." The Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir stated with his grumpy attitude.

"I can do that, but I need to clean up other people first. There are some rats that are hiding in the kingdom, and my special friend has located them. I already let some of my people handle them, but some are more difficult to lockdown, so I have to personally take action. Also, please take care of the granny once she wakes up and make sure to force her to rest." Adrian stated as he vanished while holding two daggers.

Adrian: Good news! All Pantheon guild members and guild alliance members! Please head to the main forge of the city and have your gears upgraded. This is a once and a lifetime opportunity because the Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir himself will help us. You only have this one chance for now and he did agree to give us a 50% discount so go crazy!"

The news about the gear upgrade that will be personally done by the Divine Blacksmith Aurgelmir made a scene to all of the people there. The players already know that there is a divine blacksmith in the northern continent as they have visited this kingdom before, but they have never seen him or interacted with him. The news that Adrian knew the divine blacksmith exploded as a lot of the players hounded the main forge where they met a Jotunn.

The guild masters of the alliance that were preparing to depart made sure to hasten their preparation. This was a once and a lifetime opportunity to power up your gear. No blacksmith has yet to attain a divine title after all. Most of the players that focused on being a blacksmith were grandmaster at best as they need to have the guidance of a divine blacksmith to become one.

Adrian also used this chance to help one of their guild members that is a blacksmith. She is actually a guild member with the name of Brigid who is actually being observed by a goddess with the same name as her. Adrian promised to help her gain an audience of the divine blacksmith and he did. Adrian just wishes that Brigid will gain the attention of that prickly old man.

"One down. About three more to go." Adrian stated as he stabbed an old man in broad daylight which alerted the guards.

Adrian then proceeded to unmask the old man to reveal that it was just someone wearing the skin of an old man. When the guards saw this, they did not make a fuss as they were given instructions by their queen that Equinox will have the same status as her. Adrian effectively became the next highest authority in the kingdom due to the queen's ailment. Some nobles did not like it, but they cannot oppose the will of the queen that protected them for so long.

"So, he managed to get a favor from the divine blacksmith. As expected from Adrian. I would like to know how he did it, but I am not in a position to return immediately." Frey stated as she looked at the Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi.

"Are you tired already, Child of Freyja? We have just started the battle, and you are already tired? Valkyries are known to last until the end of the battle because of their stamina that never ends. Are all those legends about your sisters just made up?" The Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi stated as she provoked Frey.

"I am merely in awe of your mastery over battle, great goddess. I did not know that you actually use a spear as you were often depicted as using your bow." Frey stated as she looked at the beautiful ice spear that the Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi uses.

"I am also the goddess of the hunt after all. The bow is what I mainly use but that does not mean that I do not use other weapons. If a hunter only knows to use one weapon, then they are not a true hunter. A real hunter is prepared for all cases be it melee or long ranged attacks. A hunter must evolve with the surroundings and adapt to it accordingly." The Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi proclaimed as she charged towards Frey.

"I agree as well." Frey stated as she charged as well.

Frey's spear and the Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi ice spear clashed against each other and created powerful shockwaves. Both of them have the same stats as the Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi actually copied the same stats that Frey has. If the Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi were to use her own power, then the fight would end in seconds. The true warrior's trial is beating the goddess when she has the same power as you.

Frey could be seen doing her best against the Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi, but all attacks are being nullified. The Goddess of the Winter Hunt Skadi was not doing her best while Frey is already losing stamina with each of their clash. The mountain peak would rumble as they exchanged blows.

Chapter 2432: Incoming Snowstorm II

As the kingdom prepared to go to battle, the tension could be felt by all of the people inside of it. All the people are already evacuated to the shelters while all preparations have been made. Adrian and the players were all prepared to fight against the two primordial beasts outside of the castle walls.

"Thank you for your help in cleaning up." Svalr stated as he could be seen in an extremely tired condition.

"Maybe get checked out. Better yet... Saena, please alleviate his symptoms." Adrian stated as he summoned Saena to heal Svalr back to normal.

"Thank you. I was just heavily affected by what happened to Elona." Svalr stated.

"So... what now?" Adrian asked as he wants to check if the former Primordial Beast of Icy Abyss has a way to defeat the enemies approaching them.

"Honestly, I can only pray that all of you can defeat them. You will be going against two primordial beasts if what you told me is correct. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is already a force of nature that can destroy anything in its path. I do not even know what another primordial beast could do." Svalr stated.

"I can only hope for the best then. I guess it is good that one of them is a force of nature as that one would be the destructive one. The other one is an emotional force so it must operate under different things. If the Primordial Beast of Gluttony is something like the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra, then both of them would have charged towards this area if they are working together." Adrian stated.

Adrian received reports from his stationed shadow unit members that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is the only one charging towards the kingdom. They have observed some people following behind it which might be the members of the secret organization. He believed that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony is not transforming because it is not good in combat like the Primordial Beast of Greed.

"The Ice Queen Elona cannot participate in this fight. Do you have any way of helping? Can you not use your heart to create a powerful explosion or something?" Adrian asked.

"If you want this kingdom to be eternally frozen in abyss ice and then be my guest. Maintaining the barrier is already using half the power of the heart. Also, why are you asking help from a child?! Have some dignity as a mediator of death." Svalr stated as if throwing a fit.

"Yeah. Sorry about that. You are a child now and your help earlier was merely within your means. We will do what we can and hope for the best. If there really is nothing, then sacrificing a few levels will not hurt. Please head to safety as your family might be looking for you now." Adrian stated.

"I pray that you are successful as the lives of all the people will be in your hands." Svalr stated as he was escorted to the shelter upon Adrian's instructions.

The day finally ended but the night was not silent. The tension of the incoming monster is not something that one can sleep soundly on. Adrian had no choice but to call upon the aid of the God of Dreams. Thankfully, the God of Dreams answered his prayers and made all the tensed and weary soldiers get a good night's rest. The next day came, and good news actually reached the castle walls.

Some of the nearby warriors that the Ice Queen Elona asked for help have already arrived. They arrived faster than expected as they were told to come as soon as possible. The food and other things were to be provided so they only needed to bring themselves. Adrian thought that everything might work out as he saw some powerful NPCs amongst the mix.

Some of the powerful NPCs even had the blessings of gods on their bodies. Some know they are blessed while some do not know as they may just have got the attention recently. Still, Adrian is thankful that powerful NPCs are coming but that also made him a bit anxious. Powerful NPCs coming means that the enemy is powerful enough that that much firepower is needed as reinforcements.

Thankfully, the other guild masters have arrived via the teleportation scrolls but they cannot bring all of their people. Only the elite squads of the guild alliance were present as some needed to look for clues about the other primordial beasts. Adrian was checking the group chats when the sudden noise from the gathered army caught his attention.

The screams of fighting could be heard as there was suddenly a brawl that happened. It was a brawl that was made by two village chiefs that did not get along with each other. The other village chiefs dared not to make a fuss as they were weaker than these two. Adrian's hope of winning suddenly started to slowly plummet down as he saw the discord being done.

"With the Ice Queen unable to lead, I should be the one holding the reigns! It is only right as I am the most powerful one here!" One of the village chiefs with a mammoth helmet shouted.

"You?! You are weaker than me! I should be the one leading all of us in this fight against that mighty beast! My ancestors were present in that fight and the Ice Queen can even attest to that!" A village chief with a large bear hide cloak announced.

The two looked at each other and proceeded to brawl as if this was the way they needed to see who was in charge. There would not have been a problem if their brawl was all about themselves, but they inconvenienced the others around them. The tents, crates, and even the food that was meant to be served got caught in the crossfire. The two did not care as they were trying to be better than the other.

"Who made this mess?" Adrian announced in a firm tone.

Chapter 2433: Incoming Snowstorm III

Despite his announcement, the brawl of the two village chiefs did not stop. The guards wanted to stop them, but they know that they are not as powerful as the two and needed to reserve their strength. Seeing that the two were not listening or rather ignored him, Adrian prompted to do this the heavy-handed way.

One would think that a demon would suddenly join in and then the brawl will become a three person fight but Adrian is not like that. At least he is not like that when his battle junkie side does not kick in. Adrian proceeded to create a portal beneath their feet and proceeded to open the other end about two hundred meters up in the sky. All of the village chiefs saw the two unruly ones vanish from the floor and shivered as they looked at the demon before them.

"AAAHHH!"

The sound of two large men shouting at the top of their lungs while falling from a height did not sound pretty. The two of them thought that they could ignore the demon as the winner between the both of them could just battle him later. What they did not expect is that both of them being caught in a spatial anomaly and transported to the skies above. The people of the north rarely interacted with the Daemos and only stories of them circle about which led to them not believing their powers as much.

"Harsh but effective." Ain stated as he stood next to Adrian.

"The only way to tame two muscle brained idiots is to make sure that they cannot use their muscles." Adrian answered casually as he turned his head back towards the two falling village chiefs.

"Are you not going to save them? They are still our allies!" One of the people related to one of the village chiefs shouted.

"He is right!" another person added.

"So, now all of you have voices? What happened to using those voices earlier and stopping such childish feuds against your village chiefs? Do you not know what we are facing against? We are facing against a primordial beast. Not one but potentially two of them at the same time." Adrian stated which made all the rowdy warriors calm down.

"We are going to die!" The two village chiefs shouted as they could not control their body in the air as much as they thought.

Adrian shook his head and then proceeded to snap his fingers as the two suddenly stopped just before they crashed to the ground. They were about two meters above the ground when they were frozen in time. Adrian held his hands and absorbed any remaining force that the two village chiefs have before snapping his fingers again. When Adrian snapped his fingers, the two village chiefs crashed to the ground with a light thud.

"What just happened?!" The village chief with a bear cloak stated as he touched his body to make sure that he was still in one piece.

"I am actually alive." The village chief with a mammoth cloak shouted in joy.

"I hope that is enough of a lesson for both of you." Adrian stated and was about to walk away when two powerful bursts of energy came from behind him.

A blast of aura suddenly headed towards Adrian's face when Ain intercepted it with his palm. The two village chiefs did not learn their lesson and actually shifted their anger towards Adrian. They were utterly humiliated, and they wanted to humiliate Adrian in return. The two village chiefs even riled up their warriors to deal with Adrian as well.

"You dare humiliate me! Warriors, with me!" The mammoth cloaked village chief shouted.

"I will make sure to break your bones! I was only caught by surprise, but it is different now! Teach the demon a lesson, my warriors!" The bear cloaked village chief added.

The two village chiefs and warriors got riled up and thought that they would be able to take down Adrian. What they did not know is that they were surrounded by his guild members. As soon as Adrian was disrespected, the killing intent of all the Pantheon guild members that are still in the kingdom skyrocketed. Ain suddenly felt chills in his skin as this was the first time that his special skill Fox Instincts told him to actually run away.

"I am the one in charge here so all of you have to follow what I say." Adrian announced without any pretense.

"Do you think we will listen to you just because those guards tell us you are the one given the authority!? You were only given authority because we were not present earlier! If we were then the Ice Queen will definitely give it to one of us." The mammoth cloaked village chief stated as he attempted to also have the other village chiefs to rally under him.

"I have no time for this." Adrian stated in an exhausted tone as his presence suddenly shifted from nothing to extremely heavy.

All of a sudden, the killing intent of the Pantheon guild members were cancelled out as Adrian released his own aura that he usually keeps sealed. All the people before him suddenly kneeled not because of reverence but their bodies suddenly became ten times heavier. There was no distinction against this overbearing force as it affected both friend and foe. The two village chiefs in question were basically kissing the ground as Adrian targeted them specifically and the others around them were just collateral damage.

"I can arrange a very comfy icy prison for the both of you if you want. I can have the Ice Queen deal with you once she wakes up but until then I am in charge." Adrian's voice sounded the same, but the intent felt like an entire planet was crushing down on you.

"Keugh! I... surrender." The mammoth cloaked village chief stated with great difficulty as he felt his body getting squashed meanwhile the bear cloaked village chief already passed out from the pressure.

Chapter 2434: The Snowstorm Arrives I

"Are we clear?" Adrian asked as he did not even stop in making use of his aura.

"Yes. You are crystal clear." The mammoth cloaked chief stated with a grunt as he was having difficulty in getting up.

The mammoth cloaked chief could force himself to stand up, but Adrian was not just applying pressure on him in an aura sense but also in the literal sense. Adrian is increasing the gravitational field of the mammoth cloaked chief to send him a lesson. Sometimes the only way to drill into a muscle brain's head is strong arming them.

"It is good that we are on the same track. Make sure to check on all of those that passed out. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has almost the same aura as me in terms of pressure. Mark them down and let them be in the supply unit team." Adrian stated as he casually vanished from his location.

"You heard the demon. All those that passed out cannot battle against the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra directly as they would just turn to ice sculptures. To those that were able to withstand his pressure, you guys are very good and have promising futures." Ain stated as he felt his knees about to give out.

Ain managed to stand up because the direct pressure was not aimed at him, but he cannot believe how fearsome an aura that Equinox has. Ain is already considered as an aura grandmaster which means that auras rarely affect him but Equinox' was a different caliber altogether. The aura that he held is something only demigods should possess but he has yet to reach that realm.

"Even that arrogant Hou Yiwei or Eldritch cannot match to him in terms of aura, how the hell are they spreading rumors that he lost to those two? I do not even want to go against him and that is just in terms of presence alone." Ain muttered as the NPCs became more obedient because of Adrian's performance.

Adrian appeared inside the tent where the strategic minds of the alliance are located. Adrian's sudden arrival even spooked the person that stood next to him and the latter almost had a heart attack. He apologized and looked at the current drafted defense plan that they are cooking up.

"Wow! This defense plan is basically almost empty." Adrian stated in amazement.

"Even I am not that confident when engaging with the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. You suddenly said that there is another primordial beast that is joining up which is the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. I do not think that we can win this after all, and the Ice Queen Elona is even out of commission." Faust stated as he is not optimistic of their chances.

"I have also called in some reinforcements from the other clans that I know of in the north. The ones that can wield weapons made of the coldest ice. The only problem is that they are arriving two days from now. If we can hold on for that amount of time, then winning is not a problem. Also, Frey is handling the problem that is the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. She is on a mission that might give us a fighting chance." Adrian stated.

"To be honest, I am not even sure if we can survive a day against the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The good thing is that the monster wave is basically nonexistent as the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra destroyed all the monsters that it passed through." Faust stated.

"You should trust our alliance more, Faust. I think I can have a squad of elves that handles fire elementals as attackers. We also have a squad that handles the rare ice elementals, so we have a good chance at both offense and defense. Coupled with the buffs that Equinox' dragon and the dragon princess can provide then we are fortified. You are also partnered with a fire elemental, and we also have a literal fire elemental on our side." Cersei stated.

Cersei knew that elemental attack spells and defensive spells are very effective when Kanlaon and Peridot are in the area. Both of them could basically buff their elemental effects by 200% when working in tandem. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is a force of nature which meant it is almost an elemental as well. This also means that it is heavily damaged by the element it is weak against.

Cersei also factored in that they have Faust that is in a contract with a high fire elemental and also a Grand Magus Pyromancer. He can create powerful flaming spells in an instant which can be lethal to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. They also have Soleil in their side who is a literal fire elemental. She might have difficulty in creating flames as they are in the northern continent, but she is the natural predator of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

"Even if we have fire, I can barely make it as the northern continent is not shining brightly at me. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra literally summons a snowstorm which covers even the sun. If we want to win the elemental war, then we need to destroy the snowstorm that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra can create." Faust stated.

"Should we have a way of getting rid of the snowstorm, by how much will the chances of us winning go up?" Adrian asked.

"It should give us about 48.5% chance of victory." Faust answered as he predicts their winning chances via numbers as he is actually a math teacher in real life.

"Our odds were that low to begin with?" Adrian exclaimed in shock.

"Our odds actually skyrocketed by 20% because of the snowstorm vanishing. The snowstorm weakens fire elemental spells but also gives us decrease visibility. I factored that in when I made my computations of us winning." Faust replied which made the room silent a bit.

"The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is coming! A massive snowstorm is on our way!" One of the scouts from the walls suddenly shouted and the players taking watch also gave the news via the chat.

[The Great Snowstorm of the Northern Continent is heading towards your location.]

A notification suddenly appeared before all of the players which signaled that it was time to go into their battle stations. This notification appears when the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is about ten kilometers away from your current area. Along with the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is a powerful snowstorm that already blanketed the area in ice and snow.

"Alright! Let us go and win this!" Adrian shouted but the morale is still not high enough.

"Let us do this!" The others replied with anxious voices.

"I will now prepare for the artillery." Faust stated as he rushed out of the tent.

"Will you shock us with a performance? I can feel the presence of two divinities from your soul." Adrian stated as he looked towards Cersei.

"Nothing can really get passed your eyes. Do not get too cute now or I might eat you alive, but I will give it my all if need be. I will go to my station as well." Cersei stated as she playfully waved goodbye.

"Okay then. Let us go against a force of nature." Adrian muttered as he vanished and appeared on top of a tower to see the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is as massive as it was, and one might say that it became bigger than before. The size of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra seems to have bulked up as it absorbed more ice and snow as it travelled to this location. Adrian summoned his three soulbounds that can give preferential buffs at the moment which are Kanlaon, Saena, and Charon.

ROOAARRR!

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra let out a furious roar that actually made the entire area shake just from the noise. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra also added its own might in the roar which made some of the people afraid. A negative debuff was suddenly applied to the entire area which Adrian already took account with.

"Saena, proceed." Adrian commanded as Saena enlarged herself to her real size.

The guardian of the Tree of Life and Death suddenly released warm light with each flick of her wings. The light touched the hearts of all the people inside the kingdom and vanished the fear that they were inflicted with. Saena even made use of the buff that Adrian gives her when he is in Aetheros form. Along with the light that cleared their fears, a small buff that is triggered due to Aether Dust giving a small enhancement to the light and wind that Saena releases.

[You have gained 30% increased health regeneration for five minutes.]

[You have gained 30% increased mana regeneration for five minutes.]

[You will be immune to minor status ailments for ten minutes.]

Chapter 2435: The Snowstorm Arrives II

"Good job, Saena. Let the fireworks begin!" Adrian stated as the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is now in firing range.

A large airship with a large flaming dragon elemental rose up in the sky as well as Kanlaon. Kanlaon did a serpentine dance that enchanted the entire airship with increased fire power. The heat of the flames could be seen increasing in size but that is not the end. Peridot floated on the walls and destroyed a flaming red stone that she possesses.

Peridot chanted something in dragon tongue and created a large flaming magic circle flying on top of the heads of everyone. As if that is not the end, Soleil also boarded the same airship and boosted the high elemental that Faust has a contract with. The flames that Soleil generated enabled the high elemental Salamander to generate flames with streaks of gold.

The High Elemental Salamander started to increase the heat that is able to generate but it is not yet firing because the real signal has yet to happen. Adrian smiled as he vanished from his previous location and appeared on top of the walls with his wings in full view. The view of an Arch Demon is something that not all people have seen as there are currently only four of them in existence at the moment.

"Meteros!" Adrian shouted as the sky suddenly parted and a large magic circle created a rift that showed the stars and planets in a different galaxy.

From the sky, large meteors suddenly started to bombard the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The fearsome primordial beast roared and created a powerful barrier of ice and wind to protect itself from the large meteors that rained down on it. Adrian performed all of this in his Aetheros form which does not deal much added damage, but his current form has a special property.

If the Netheros form can dish out large amounts of additional damage and is very destructive, the Aetheros form is different and actually strengthens everything. The strengthening effect is not just for living beings but also for non-living things that Adrian himself created such as weapons or in this case the meteors. Adrian might not have created the meteors himself but summoning counts as a 'created' thing which enhanced the hardness of the meteors by a lot.

Adrian already knows that he cannot deal large amounts of damage to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra even in his Netheros form but there is something he can crack. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is surrounded by a barrier made of ice and snow which is its snowstorm. The meteors might deal fixed damage but that does not account for the blunt force that will hit the enemy. Right now, the meteors that Adrian summoned have the hardness that is almost comparable to that of a diamond.

The large area where the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra exploded into numerous ice geysers as the barrier of the enemy started to get hit. The sheer calamity that the Arch Demon before them has been etched once again. Even the village chiefs that still had grudges against Adrian could only erase those emotions as they do not want their villages to become memories of the past.

RAOOAARRAGH!

The loud roar of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is followed by a powerful slam of its large hooves to the ground. The snowstorm that surrounded the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra could be seen to have lessened as a result of Adrian's attack, but it retaliated. The powerful slam sent a shockwave that created glaciers towards the walls of the kingdom. Kabrakan jumped from the walls himself and landed in front of all the vanguards positioned just outside the wall.

"Vanguards! Repel!" Kabrakan shouted as he also summoned his astral copy.

One thing that the guild alliance learned is that they needed a powerful defensive team that can block powerful attacks of the enemy that deals massive damage in areas. As a result, the Vanguard team was form where Kabrakan is the shield leader and Siegfried as the heavy warrior team leader. Kabrakan and the other players with a shield raised all of their weapons and used the Repel skill.

The Repel skill might only be a Rare tier skill but the power of it cannot be underestimated as it can negate one instance of damage. With a large number of tanks using the skill, the retaliation of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra became nothing. The ice glaciers slammed into the large mana shields that the tank players created, and the attack was dissipated. They were able to time it perfectly as Kabrakan was guiding all of them and the walls only shook a bit as the damage may be negated but the power of the impact was still there.

"Fire now!" Adrian stated with a smile as that was the perfect timing.

As soon as the attack of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra failed, the artillery strike team has taken action. Faust used all of his mana and empowered his high elemental as they cast powerful Giga Plume Bombs. Salamander fired off ten large orbs of flames that are enhanced by all of the beings inside as well as the flaming magic circle that Peridot created. All ten of those Giga Plume Bombs looked just like a hot flaming ball but the impact is where it is at.

As soon as one of the Giga Plume Bombs hit the barrier of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra, a powerful steam explosion happened as a sea of flames erupted upon impact. The Giga Plume Bombs are literally gigantic fire grenades that explode on impact. All of the attacks hit, and the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly staggered backwards after the first four initial hit. The next three shattered the snowstorm completely and the last three dealt 15% of the health that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra had.

Chapter 2436: Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra I

"Out of mana!" Faust stated as the mages that they call the Battery Unity started chanting.

All mages of the Battery Unit as they are jokingly called are those that can use the Mana Transference spell. They are essentially the batteries for the airship as they were already ready for the mana transference. A bluish light shot towards the airship and supercharged Salamander once again which prevented them from landing.

Salamander is once again preparing for another round of attacks as it is basically supercharged right now. The Battery Unit rested as Mana Transference also drains a lot of stamina from the casters. All of the Battery Unit was drained of 50% of their mana and stamina. They rested as Mana Transference cannot be used continuously despite having no cooldown.

"Everybody, get ready for the next set of attacks!" Faust commanded as the smoke made it impossible to see the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

A thick white smoke covered the large Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which made it impossible to see but Adrian can make out what is happening. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has parts of its icy body melted due to the attacks they released. The snowstorm also vanished as the barrier has been shattered by their joined efforts.

ROAHHARRR!

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra roared once again but it did not attack them. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra opened its mouth wide and then started to suck in the ice and snow in its vicinity. Since the ice and snow were not as prominent in its current area because of the bombardment, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra looked towards one of the ice mountains and absorbed all of the ice and snow present there.

Monster Name: Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra

Monster Tier: Semi-Transcendent

Monster Species: Avalanche Scourer (Mutant Variant)

Monster Race: Primordial Beast

Health: 86%

Mana: 91.2%

Description: The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is said to have been a mutated primordial beast. A primordial beast is not known to mutate but the possibility is not closed off as there is now a clear example. It has devoured a powerful power source which enabled it to become stronger. This power source is unknown, but it also makes the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra crave more power as it loses control from time to time.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is known to feed on ice and snow in order to create snowstorms and seal the raging power within it. It is said to devour an entire icy mountain in order to regain some of the ice and snow that melts of its body. It can slowly regenerate as long as it can devour ice and snow.

The description of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is very accurate as it is now devouring the ice and snow in its vicinity to regenerate the parts of its body that melted off. Seeing this, Adrian called upon the mage unit that they have. Peridot and Cersei led this unit and all of them released the spells that they have prepared.

Peridot did not cast a spell, but she enhanced all of the abilities of the unit by buffing them to the utmost. Cersei also buffed them as well by attaching some hexes onto the spells that the mage unit will cast. All of the mage unit's staves crackled in blue sparks as all of them used the powerful spell called Storm Tyranny. The mage unit sent their mana to the skies which immediately darkened.

The spell would have needed to collect power for ten minutes or so, but they have a cheat code in the name of Peridot. She used her dragon tongue to negate the long brewing time of the spell which drained her mana by a lot. Still, the lost mana was worth it as the dark clouds began to show their might as lightning rained down from above. A curtain of lightning covered the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which made it stop devouring the ice and snow around it.

"INSOLENT INSECTS!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra shouted as it now deemed it necessary to talk to the people that dared to offend it.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra always looked down on beings that are not its size as ants. It did not want to talk to the ants that it deemed insignificant but the damage it was getting is hard to ignore. The roars of terror that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra was basically ineffective against the ants because of a being that it saw flying inside the kingdom. The white bird that brought light and gentle wind dispersed the effects of its fearsome roars like it is nothing.

"A perfect wife for me when I destroy them all!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra thought as it deemed Saena as beautiful.

"Why do I want to suddenly destroy the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra even more?" Adrian stated as he felt like a dad or older brother protecting his younger sister from a toad craving swan meat.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra decided to go full offensive and return the things that were hurled at it. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra commanded the power of ice and wind and lifted the large rocks that came from the sky. The meteors, that have now become solid rocks as some did not explode on impact, are now launched towards the walls of the kingdom via large ice tornadoes.

"Incoming!" One of the scouts shouted as the mages wanted to prepare a barrier, but they cannot cover the entire thing. The large rocks would not hit the walls though as the barrier should be able to protect them.

"Let us not rely on the barrier for now." Adrian stated as he suddenly changed form in the air and summoned ten large mirrors that absorbed the large stones before creating another ten more that redirected them back to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

Chapter 2437: Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra II

"I will just return everything back to you!" Adrian stated as all of the large boulders were sent back to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The mirrors also increased the speed by double but that also affected Adrian's own mana usage. Still, Adrian only lost about 25% of his maximum mana and he already returned the attack of the enemy. A good investment when it comes to both defending and attacking indeed. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra slammed the ground once more and created a large ice wall that blocked the boulders that Adrian returned.

The ice wall shattered but all of the boulders were turned to smaller rocks in the process as the wall is enhanced by the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra looked directly at Adrian as he was now the target even though he barely did any damage to it. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra or rather other primordial beasts do not have a dedicated aggro system like other raid monsters or boss monsters.

The primordial beasts have something called a prediction mechanic where they determine the most troublesome of the people attacking them. This includes all of the players that are in the raid which means the support players are added as well. If the primordial beast determines that a priest or support player is the most troublesome then they will focus on that player until they are dead. This time, Adrian is the one that has been tagged as the most troublesome hence he became the primary target of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra proceeded to grow ice spikes from its large body and release them all at once. The ice spikes did not go into different directions but were actually controlled by the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra itself. All the ice spikes flew towards Adrian at a fast speed that he needed to enter his mirror to escape. The mirror that he entered was shattered before it could be unsummoned, but he manages to dodge the attack.

Adrian appeared in another mirror a few meters away and the ice spikes actually turned around to hit him. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra did not stop with just the ice spikes though as it once again summoned ice twisters that swirled towards the walls. It seems that even if Adrian became the primary target of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra, the enemy has the mental capacity to aim for its true goal.

"Let us take this to the sky then!" Adrian stated as he entered a mirror and vanished from his location.

Adrian did not close the mirror that he entered through which meant that all of the ice spikes that were aimed towards him also entered with him. As soon as all of the ice spikes entered the mirror, the air became silent, and they feared that Adrian got killed inside the mirror dimension. Since Adrian himself was not leading, Anastacia assumed command as she is part of the priest group, and the next commander should Adrian become unable to lead.

"Mages! Counter the ice twisters!" Anastacia commanded as all of the mages once again channeled their mana for another spell.

Since they are in the northern continent, using fire elemental spells cost more mana than in the central continent. The mages did not care much though as they are both an offensive and defensive group. The mages did not even stop with their chanting as their mana ran dry. Those that needed more mana chugged the special mana potion that came from the Pantheon guild which is created by Brew himself.

[You have restored all of your mana using the Special Mana Concoction 2.3.]

[You have triggered the special effect of Special Mana Concoction 2.3 and gained a 50% chance to have no mana cost when using spells for the next 10 minutes.]

"We are filled with power!" The mages shouted as some of them triggered the special effect of the potion created by Brew.

"All with me! Flame Vortex!" Peridot shouted as she enhanced all of the spells once again.

A large flaming tornado then swept forwards which destroyed the ice twisters that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra created. The power of the ice twisters was no match against the combined might of the mage unit. The flame vortex continued on until it reached the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra, but the beast merely created another ice wall that blocked the flaming vortex.

As if on cue, a large mirror once again appeared on top of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. Adrian then flew downwards while being chased by hundreds of thousands of ice spikes. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra felt the presence of the demon, but it could not look up due to its sheer size and anatomy. Adrian unexpectedly found a weakness of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

Adrian then reverted back to his normal form and released his wings in order to fly faster than ever. When Adrian flew faster, the ice spikes also flew faster in response which he actually liked. Adrian applied Chrono Shift Max to his own body, and he almost broke the sound barrier. Adrian then reached the top of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra's body and looked up as the ice spikes followed.

Adrian smiled and activated Time Stop just before the first ice spike hits his face. He then proceeded to teleport away from the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. Time flowed once again, and all of the ice spikes hit the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra as those projectiles cannot teleport away like Adrian. He purposely sped up the ice spikes as he knows that the physical aspect of the attack will deal more damage to the enemy than the elemental aspect of it.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra growled in pain as a hole is suddenly carved onto its back. The ice that covered its back is also cracked as a result of the redirected attack from Adrian. This is extremely effective, but it also cost a lot of stamina as Adrian flew quite a bit and also used numerous spells so that the ice spikes cannot keep up.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra turned towards Adrian's direction and proceeded to open its mouth wide. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly proceeded to try and devour Adrian whole as the suction force was enhanced by wind magic. The pulling force is as powerful as the black holes that Adrian could create. He suddenly had an idea that he thought of as a way to counter the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

"Dodu, I hope you can forgive me if you cannot survive this." Adrian stated.

"Dodu, understands! Dodu will do its best for master!" Dodu replied via their soul link as Adrian proceeded to summon this soulbound.

Adrian summoned Dodu is its true size which shocked the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra was about to close its mouth, but Adrian pulled Charon from the ground and released chains. He already activated his limit break earlier while he was being chased by the ice spikes. He did not summon all his soulbounds though as he did not want them to be lost in the mirror dimension.

"Dodu! I trust you!" Adrian shouted as Dodu entered the mouth of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The chains that Charon released were able to open the mouth of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra for a moment and have Dodu enter the body of the enemy. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra proceeded to cough as Dodu entered its body. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra tried to spit Dodu out, but the latter clung to the esophagus of the enemy like a nasty phlegm that cannot be excreted out.

Dodu safely entered but it lost half its health on the way. Thankfully, Adrian used Revitalizing Glow which healed Dodu back to full health. He then commanded Dodu to wreak havoc in the insides of the enemy and break down the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra from within. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra tried to expel Dodu once again and it managed to actually spit out some pieces, but Dodu can easily split itself apart.

[You soulbound, Dodu, has reduced the defenses of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra by 1%.]

Adrian smiled as soon as he saw the notification as the gamble actually paid off. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra wanted to expel Dodu out, but it needed to focus on that instead of attacking Adrian. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly felt that it must freeze itself entirely in order to defeat the enemy that has entered its body.

"Do you think I will let you do that?!" Adrian stated as he shifted back to his mirror demon form and summoned mirrors once again. This time, the mirrors carried the second round of Giga Plume Bombs.

Chapter 2438: Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra III

Faust commanded his Salamander to release another volley of Giga Plume Bombs. Although, these ones are not enhanced by Peridot anymore as she needs to save some gems for the upcoming fight. Adrian merely redirected them as he pleased since he saw some of them veering off course. The sudden appearance of the Giga Plume Bombs alerted the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

With no snowstorm protecting it, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra will definitely be hit hard by the Giga Plume Bombs. Adrian vanished by entering a mirror as he would be subjected to splash damage if he is near the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The players thought that they might be able to weaken the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra with the incoming attack but something unexpected happened.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra roared and actually sacrificed some of the ice and snow that is protecting its body to create an instant snowstorm barrier. This snowstorm barrier was able to negate most of the damage that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra received from the Giga Plume Bombs. Still, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra used considerable mana and stamina to create this which made it more susceptible to the attacks from the inside.

[Your soulbound, Dodu, has reduced the defenses of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra by a total off 5%.]

The more they push the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra from attacking then the more weakened it will be. The players thought that they would be able to actually defeat the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra but some of them forgot that the latter is not the only enemy. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony finally made its move.

Adrian saw it clearly as not all ten of the Giga Plume Bombs hit the snowstorm barrier of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. Three of them would have directly hit the body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra but the Primordial Beast of Gluttony interfered. A robed eunuch appeared before the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra and partially transformed its body to a beast. This beast was none other than the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony looked like a mix between a man and an orange pig. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony proceeded to open its mouth wide which actually created three phantom mouths in the air. Each of these phantom mouths devoured the three Giga Plume Bombs that was supposed to hit the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. As soon as the Primordial Beast of Gluttony devoured these three Giga Plume Bombs, the stomach area of its body suddenly glowed like flames.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony would then proceed to regurgitate the three Giga Plume Bombs and aimed it towards the kingdom walls. Adrian created mirrors to try and redirect the three plume bombs back to the enemies, but the Primordial Beast of Gluttony began to move earnestly. Phantom mouths suddenly appeared where Adrian's mirrors were created. Each of these phantom mouths crunched the mirrors and destroyed them in the process.

"Defend!" Adrian commanded them as the vanguard unit became prepared as he locked onto the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony has yet to fully unleash its form as the aura that it releases has yet to affect the surroundings. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony looked at Adrian with hunger in its eyes as the demon before it actually felt familiar. Just like the Primordial Beast of Greed, the Primordial Beast of Gluttony could feel a small sliver of it present in the body of the demon that it is fighting.

"You dare try and devour the great devourer!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as it felt deeply offended that someone actually dared to devour a part of it.

"Can they actually feel it even though it has already been incorporated completely?" Adrian thought as the pig beast hybrid charged towards Adrian in a speed that he did not expect.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony lost its self-reasoning for a split second as it the offense of its own power getting devoured by another is great. Adrian did not care though as this was the perfect chance to try and kill the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. Adrian used the mirrors and fired off beams of light, but the Primordial Beast of Gluttony devoured all of them in return.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony was not limited to devouring physical things but also mana. This was the perfect way to devour everything as the Primordial Beast of Gluttony has different stomachs for different things. It can devour everything entirely and return it back to the attacker which happened to the Giga Plume Bombs. It can also devour mana and convert it to health and mana of its own.

This is the inherent skill of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony called Over Gluttonous which lets it devour everything as long as it is capable. There are some limitations to this skill though, but Adrian has yet to find this out as he only knows that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony can devour spells as easily as breathing. What the Primordial Beast of Gluttony cannot devour though are pure physical attacks.

Sirius suddenly came out of Adrian's shadow as he was summoned earlier as well. Adrian did not even bother to hide it as he let Sirius activate its domain to make sure its presence is well concealed. Sirius also got the command to activate Realm Ender and appeared in its largest form to bite off the neck of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony saw the large wolf coming at it suddenly and felt the danger. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony issued some sort of command, and an ice pillar suddenly appeared just below it. Sirius was unable to devour the head of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony, but he managed to take out an arm. The Poison of Samael also seeped into the body of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony as a result of the fearsome bite.

Chapter 2439: Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra IV

"I admit that I have been careless, but you also became careless as well, demon!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony stated as it did not even bother that its vessel has one arm left as it continued to attack.

Adrian did not even notice it or rather he was unable to notice it, but a phantom mouth suddenly appeared below his feet. The phantom mouth was about to give a powerful bite towards his left foot when Kenos pulled Adrian away into its pocket dimension. The phantom mouth was unable to damage Adrian in the process which irritated the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

"Did you think that you will be safe for threatening the master!" Sirius shouted as he turned into a wave of shadows and attempted to destroy the vessel of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony completely.

"You should be a good dog and wait for your master!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as it made another command that was not audible.

Sirius was about to tear the Primordial Beast of Gluttony to pieces when the entire area suddenly exploded in ice. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra released a powerful spell that actually made the entire area covered in numerous glaciers. Sirius was about to be hit when Kenos saved him as well by pulling him into the pocket dimension.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony laughed out loud as he looked towards the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has already lost the battle of wills against the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony could covertly command the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra to use its skills for its own benefit. The only problem that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony have now is that he cannot penetrate the heart or core of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony managed to tamper the mind, but he was unable to tamper with the heart. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony did not stop the rampage of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra because it wanted it to devour the Heart of the Icy Abyss. He wanted the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra to become stronger so that it becomes easier to devour.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony wants the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra to go in a state of evolution where the heart or core is not protected. A beast evolving will make it easier for the Primordial Beast of Gluttony to devour. When the Primordial Beast of Gluttony devours the evolved Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra then it could or rather it will attain absolute power as well.

"This is getting nowhere! Rampage! Destroy everything in your path! I do not care if you ram your body to the walls! Get what you want! Devour the Heart of the Icy Abyss that you desire the most!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony commanded as he used the full force of control it has on the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has entered an enraged state.]

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra will now transform into its second form.]

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly emitted a powerful roar and also lifted its head onto the sky. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly absorbed all the cold energy from the area which crystallized its body to the fullest. This also meant that Dodu was not safe inside the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra as the cold is a detriment to beings like it.

"For the master!" Dodu shouted internally as it forced the split parts of its body to go into each crevice it can find.

Some of the parts Dodu had been frozen inside the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which heavily deteriorated its health. Adrian wanted to recall parts of Dodu, but the little guy was determined. Dodu himself actually resisted the command as it pushed through. In the end, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is encased in ice and snow which made it look like it became a large ice mountain.

[Your soulbound, Dodu, is in a critical state.]

[You cannot recall your soulbound, Dodu, as it has been afflicted with the Frozen status ailment.]

"Dodu!" Adrian worried but at the very least the little guy was safe but in a state of suspended animation because it was frozen.

Name: Dodu

Health: 10%

Dodu was alive but cannot respond or free itself which broke Adrian's heart a little. Adrian knew that each of his soulbounds have high affinity towards him that they would chase victory at any cost for him. Even though this should always be the case as this is a game, Adrian still felt a bit empty if the victory sacrificed his soulbounds as they cannot share the glory. He might have been a little attached, but this also made Adrian determined.

Adrian's eyes suddenly turned sharper than before while having a hint of madness in them. He looked at the large ice mountain that is now the body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The ice mountain suddenly cracked as a powerful beam of frozen light is fired up into the sky.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has entered its Fury Mode.]

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has released its domain, Eternal Snowstorm.]

[All ice elemental damage is increased by 30%.]

[All elemental spells or skills except for ice elemental spells or skills are reduced in damage by 50%.]

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has increased its overall stats by 20%.]

The blast of frozen light that came from on top of the ice mountain which was the mouth of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra made the entire area covered in ice and snow. The sun is blocked out while the winds became forever cold. Not even a shred of sunlight pierced the clouds as the entire northern continent was blocked from ever seeing the warmth of the sun.

Chapter 2440 Eternal Snowstorm I

[The Eternal Snowstorm has blocked the sun and its warmth.]

[All beings that have less than 20% ice elemental resistance will be afflicted by Frostbite and lose 0.001% of their health per second.]

[Beings that get damaged while afflicted with Frostbite will get double the damage.]

[The Eternal Snowstorm will continue to brew unless the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is afflicted with a powerful crowd control that can stop the beast for more than ten seconds.]

"KUWAAHH!" The roar of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly changed as its form no longer looks like it did before.

The ice mountain that could be said that became its cocoon for a moment suddenly burst out. The shards of ice scattered in all directions and destroyed everything around them. Some of the shards even went straight towards the barrier which the mage unit managed to defend against. The new form of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra could be seen as it is no longer the massive ice monster that it was before.

If the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra looked like a bundle of ice and snow with the silhouette of a stag like monster, then the new form is visibly different. The size visibly reduced by about a third of its original size, but the new form exuded power unlike before. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra now has a silhouette of a large, spiked lizard with a large ice horn.

The new form of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is no longer the bulky ice-covered armored body. It felt like the form of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra earlier was a sealed version of itself as it was heavy and more defense oriented. The form of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is like its battle form as large ice spikes littered its silver scaled body.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra also has a thick robust tail that is actually as thick as its own body. The tail itself is also covered in large sharp ice spikes that can easily kill a person if they get hit by them. The arms and legs of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is also covered in bladed ice armor that can slice anything that gets swept up by it.

The most unique part of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is that its heart actually glowed in a pure blue and silver light. The energy brewing inside that heart has become so immense that even ordinary players can detect the power within it despite being not as sensitive to energy as Adrian. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra did not only increase in power but also increased in overall lethality as well.

"No choice. Everyone, we can no longer wait for the Primordial Beast of Gluttony to move. All units must destroy the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra as soon as possible." Adrian commanded as the people that can defend against the current Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is close to nonexistent.

As soon as Adrian issued the command, the units that were lying in wait for the Primordial Beast of Gluttony to go all out has appeared. The units that showed up were none other than the Angel and Devil Unit that is led by Ark, the dragonkin unit that is led by Basil, the Assassin Unit that is led by Pana, and other smaller elite units from the other guilds. The problem they need to erase now is the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra because if they do not then they will be the ones erased as they will get buried in ice and snow.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra did not bother to actually talk because its instinct has already been overtaken by the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. The senses of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra can only see and feel the Heart of the Icy Abyss hidden inside the kingdom in front of it. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra did not even care of the numerous players that suddenly appeared to surround it.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly opened its large mouth as a pure white light gathered in its throat. The air that was already cold suddenly turned colder as a result. The wind became so cold that a slight touch in the skin felt like your blood became frozen. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra did not even wait for a minute before it released this powerful frozen beam that froze everything it passed through.

The frozen beam that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra ran through the ground and it immediately froze everything that it collided. Froze is actually an understatement because the entire path became solid ice and large sharp glaciers. The vanguard unit that is led by Kabrakan that shielded against the attack were all suddenly afflicted with the Frozen Status.

Some of the shield unit even died as a result but their bodies were still frozen. The frozen beam did not stop with the vanguard team as the mage unit had to create its most powerful Flame Barrier to counteract it but the barrier that is literally made of flames were frozen as a result. They were able to block the frozen beam that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra released but all of them used their mana in the process.

The mage unit cannot even call that a successful defense because they barely made it out alive while also losing almost all their mana in the process. For mage players, losing their mana to the utmost degree is basically a death sentence. They could get inflicted with Mana Overload and have their mana circuits get damaged which could potentially kill them.

"I guess I can finally show off." Anastacia stated as she waved her hands where her bracelet made of vines from the world tree activated.

"World Tree's Warmth!" Anastacia shouted as a powerful warm light scattered throughout the front where all of the frozen players were unfrozen.

"Let the light of salvation be given by the Gods of Life! Grand Revival!" Anastacia added as a powerful divine force descended upon the dead unfrozen players and brought them back to life.

All of the players that were frozen has recovered and all those that died were brought back to life. This power actually also became possible for the NPCs as well as those that were frozen alive were brought back from the dead. It would have been impossible to revive the NPCs if they were dismembered though so this can be called a stroke of luck.

"All mages and support unit members! Buff all of allies with the Thermal Protection Buff!" Anastacia commanded as the priests behind her started to cast the buffs.

All of the players suddenly felt that the effects of the cold became almost negligible as the temperature of their bodies stabilized. They were only protected from the cold though and not the powerful attacks of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. Seeing the powerful blast of ice still not destroying the walls, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra once again pulled all of the cold energy around it but the players that surrounded it will not let it.

"Attack!" The specialized units of the alliance charged towards the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The large beast was unable to move while it powered up its frozen beam of destruction. This made it possible for all the players to start attacking it. The Angel and Devil Unit led by Ark was the fiercest one of them all as they basically used their specialized magics that are either coated with light or darkness element. The angel and devil players have a mix of midrange to ranged spells which is why they are effective when using aerial combat. The dragonkin unit led by Basil is also powerful as they are boosted by her just being the Mother of Dragons. Basil could boost any dragonkin in her party by 100% if the enemy is more powerful than her. She also has four dragons under her which boosts the elemental damage of all spells and attacks of the same element. The four dragons under her are also the same level as her and is also boosted by another 100% when with her.

Another powerful unit by themselves are the Summoner Unit that is led by Echidna. Just like her moniker of Mother of Monsters as the players call her, Echidna released all of her soulbounds and they are gigantic. All of her soulbounds could almost rival Adrian's soulbound's sizes in their full forms. She also has a Blazestone Chimera which is a mythical tier soulbound that is said to be a combination of three demigod level flame beasts.

Each of the specialized units attacked the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. It was not just them as Adrian's presence became more pronounced. All of Adrian's remaining soulbounds also joined in on the attack. The other soulbounds did not come to play as they unleashed their attacks bravely even if they were stationed in front of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra themselves.
