

O Summoner 2441

Chapter 2441 Eternal Snowstorm II

Frey and the Goddess Skadi suddenly felt the changes in the environment as the northern continent that already has very little sunlight became sunless. The changes in the environment also rattled the wolves that are watching the two fight as they can feel the energy of the Primordial Beast of Tundra. A domain that covered the entire northern continent has also made all the monsters that lived there become afraid.

"It seems that beast has already woken up completely." The Goddess Skadi stated.

"I can no longer waste my time!" Frey thought as her resolve became even fiercer because she feels that her allies will not be able to endure if they really go against two primordial beasts.

"You should focus on the fight!" The Goddess Skadi stated as she thrust her spear towards Frey.

"I am. More than ever." Frey calmly stated as she crossed spears with the Goddess Skadi and this time the latter was actually pushed back.

The two continued their battle with Frey getting more determined as the fight grew longer. Frey did not know that she was awakening something inside of her. She was becoming a High Valkyrie at this very moment, and she is using the fight against the Goddess Skadi to achieve it. The Goddess Skadi felt the shift on her opponent which is why she also became much more serious.

In the room that is heavily guarded by guards of the kingdom, the Ice Queen Elona could be seen covered in gentle vines that glow in clean green energy. The vines were restoring her strength back to normal even if it is slow. The castle itself is protected from the gates until the quarters of the queen, but three shadowy beings managed to sneak inside.

These three shadowy beings used an artifact that turned themselves into shadows which made them evade the surveillance efforts of the guards. Once the artifact lost its power, the shadows that covered their bodies vanished without a trace. They made sure to also use another artifact that made others unaware of their movements.

These three beings were assassins sent by the Primordial Beast of Gluttony to kill the Ice Queen Elona. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony managed to learn of the legends regarding the Ice Queen Elona and speculated that she acts like a seal so that the power of the Heart of the Icy Abyss does not rampage. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is correct as the Heart of the Icy Abyss will explode and destroy the kingdom with it should the Ice Queen Elona unexpectedly dies.

These assassins were ready and the best stealth unit that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony can command. They are the elite scout members of Kami which is the secret organization that wants to take the Heart of the Icy Abyss as well. They gently pushed the door and proceeded to enter the room where they saw the Ice Queen Elona in a sleep like state.

They also noticed the sudden foliage in the room as they felt the air inside of it is invigorating. The Ice Queen Elona was indeed heavily damaged as they were told by the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. All three of the assassins took out their daggers that were made from the fangs of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. This type of weapon would be able to kill the Ice Queen Elona, but it also freezes the hands of those that use it.

"Guests?" A voice that is deep and disturbing suddenly stated.

"Who is there?!" One of the assassins suddenly shouted but they did not see where the voice came from.

"Do not mind that voice! We are here to kill the Ice Queen Elona!" Another assassin stated and all of them agreed.

The three assassins jumped towards the Ice Queen Elona, but they did not expect that she also has a protective measure in place just in case of these things happening. The necklace of the Ice Queen Elona suddenly shined as it created a powerful blast of freezing energy that froze the bodies of the three assassins.

The three assassins suddenly crashed to the floor as parts of their bodies became solid ice. The unlucky one even got their leg broken as a result and lost it forever. The three assassins did not care though as they knew that they will definitely getaway as the protective charm of the Ice Queen Elona did not kill them.

"It matters not! All we need to do is warm ourselves enough so that we can unfreeze ourselves. Focus on doing that so we can kill the Ice Queen Elona!" The third assassin stated confidently because he is not as heavily frozen as the others.

"I actually needed some nourishment because the Ice Queen Elona took most of what I have." The voice that is deep and disturbing stated once again, and the assassins finally learned that they were not hallucinating.

A large group of vines suddenly descended from the ceiling and opened up to reveal a monstrous like entity with skeletal features in the head. This was none other than Levin Cloud in his raw form as this is what really the Leshy looks like when they do not move. Leshy usually take on a humanoid form, but their very true form are parts of nature itself. Levin Cloud's real body takes the form of a large bundle of vines that are healthy and dead at the same time.

"Perfect. All three of you will be useful for the Ice Queen Elona. Your deaths will not be in vain as all three of you served a higher purpose." Levin Cloud stated as his vines grabbed the three assassins and started to pierce their skins. The screams of the three assassins were muffled as Levin Cloud inserted numerous vines into their open mouths. The three assassins that were supposed to kill the Ice Queen Elona are suddenly used as nourishment to heal her faster. The three assassins could be seen suddenly becoming thin as all the blood in their body is being sucked dry.

When the blood of their bodies was emptied out, a bunch of red roses suddenly sprouted from the vines that covered the entire room. Seeing that the energy was not enough, Levin Cloud pushed even further and drained whatever vitality that the three assassins have left. When he was done with all three of them, they were like extremely thin paper as even their bones turned to dust as they were broken down.

"It seems that even trash can be useful. The Ice Queen Elona might be able to recover in a few hours because of this." Levin Cloud stated as he once again entered hibernation to focus on healing the Ice Queen Elona.

Levin Cloud would not have woken up if not for the sudden life signals that entered the room. He thought that they were maids or guards, but they were actually assassins. It was a good thing that the Ice Queen Elona has a protective charm that repelled her attackers. He then felt another powerful life force coming but he knows who this is.

"It's the queen's lover. I guess it is time to sleep again or else it will become awkward once more." Levin Cloud stated as he entered his mental world to focus on healing the Ice Queen Elona. Aurgelmir also entered the room as he rushed here when he felt some foreign presences that dared to enter the chamber of his beloved.

"Tch! That annoying thing is destroying half of our projectiles!" Ark stated as he looked towards the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

"The most annoying thing is that he can redirect our attacks back. It feels like I am fighting against the guild leader." Basil grumbled.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony might not have the ability to attack openly but it has an annoying way of redirecting attacks. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony can absorb attacks using a special ability and store them inside its stomach. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony can also release the attacks that it has absorbed back to the attackers. It also has the ability to mix the elements of the attacks and release the combined elemental attacks to deal huge amounts of damage.

If it was just the Primordial Beast of Gluttony, then the players would have it easy but there is also the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is incredibly deadly as its attacks were heavy and powerful. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra swung its tail earlier to try and swat the flying players but failed to kill any of them.

What the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra was successful is sending all the flying players crashing to the snow. One swing of the tail of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra could create a powerful blast of wind that can easily blow anyone away. Even those that were further away felt the powerful air cannon that the tail created.

Chapter 2442: Against Two Primordial Beasts I

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is vastly different from all of the primordial beasts that they have encountered. It was incredibly sturdy in its enraged form as its defenses skyrocketed despite shedding the chunky ice armor it has. The real armor beneath all those ice and snow must have become crystallized and hardened because of constant pressure. It is better to say that the ice shards scales in its body are made up of diamonds and just look like ice.

All of the players wanted to use long ranged attacks, but the Primordial Beast of Gluttony is protecting the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. About half of the ranged attacks are being absorbed by the Primordial Beast of Gluttony and the other half of attacks that does reach the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra barely do any damage. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra and the Primordial Beast of Gluttony must be separated from one another.

As such the Primordial Beast of Gluttony needs to be separated from the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra, the secret unit is finally utilized. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is currently located at the back of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. This is a strategic place as the intense cold will easily prevent anyone from moving easily. The back of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is basically a negative zero-degree area due to the ice spikes radiating its own unique cold attribute called Subzero energy.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony seems to be able to ignore this cold using some sort of connection to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. Even in the alliance, there are only a handful of players that can withstand this kind of temperature which is why they are the ones in the secret unit. The secret unit are basically players that can dish out great damage against the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra even in the coldest of climates.

One of the people in the secret unit finally made their move as a streak of crackling wind swept through the body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The damage might not be great, but this was the first melee attack that hit the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. This was done by Vayu himself as his body looked like a wind and snow elemental fused together.

"Aiming for the Primordial Beast of Gluttony as reported." Vayu stated as his katana got coated with pure lightning and charged towards the location of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra felt the tingle of electricity that passed through a small scratch on its body. It would have ignored the being that created that scratch as it barely did any damage to it, but the Primordial Beast of Gluttony sent a command to get rid of Vayu. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra roared and released small ice spikes that scattered in every direction again but some of them followed Vayu.

The homing ice missiles were launched once again but Vayu is the target which made him do evasive maneuvers. Instead of increasing the distance between him and the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra, Vayu bravely charged forward towards the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony could barely react in time which is why it suddenly expelled all of the attacks it absorbed.

The explosion of combined attacks caught the Primordial Beast of Gluttony off guard which also made it damage itself. Vayu managed to scatter into wind which is the way he avoided the attack of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony and the homing ice shards. The homing ice shards hit the Primordial Beast of Gluttony instead as Vayu vanished into air just before his katana could reach the enemy.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony or rather its vessel became heavily damaged because of the ice shards that hit its body. Some of the ice shards were destroyed as the sudden elemental explosion did destroy some of them, but a good chunk of the ice shards hit the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony suddenly cursed out the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra for not being able to block or stop its own skill when the enemy already avoided it.

"Useless chunk of ice!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted which actually triggered the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra a little as the former has yet to actually have full control of the mind.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony controls most of the mind of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra but that is only on the level of strong suggestions. Even the Primordial Beast of Gluttony is limited in its brainwashing capabilities if it is not using its true form. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly roared at the Primordial Beast of Gluttony for being obnoxious. Still, the anger subsided faster as there were still players attacking the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

A piercing howl suddenly reverberated as another member of the secret unit finally reached the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. Lycan in his full werewolf form finally climbed up the body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. His decked-out arms with armored claws reached for the neck of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony was unable to quickly react as its current body is not really known for speed.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony was able to actually tilt its body a little which resulted in its arm getting almost detached. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony did not feel any pain at all as the current body it has is only a vessel for its true self. It made sure not to share senses with its human vessel because it perceived it as useless. The only problem now is that its current vessel is now heavily damaged and mangled.

"I have an hour at max with this type of vessel. Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra! Use your most powerful move!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony commanded which made the eyes of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra became more crazed than ever.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is about to use Subzero Atomica.]

[All beings must get away within 500 meters from it.]

"KUWAAHHH!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra roared as its entire body actually absorbed all of the cold energy in the area.

If the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra used its mouth to fire off the frozen beam before then this attack used all of its entire body. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra actually got rid of all the coldness in the 500-meter radius around it. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is actually able to turn the cold northern continent into a normal place without ice and snow if it used this ability. The entire body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra glowed in a pure bluish white light.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly exploded with pure ice elemental energy. The explosion from its body created a freezing shockwave that turned all beings and surroundings into a frozen paradise. All beings inside the radius of explosion became frozen in ice and no one was spared. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony was the only exception as it protected itself by absorbing the shock that was supposed to hit it.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra will enter a weakened state for three minutes and be unable to move for the duration.]

"All of them should have died!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as the cold mist lifted from his view.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony expected that all those beings that were attacking it and the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra should have died. The powerful explosion of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is quick to the point that even the Primordial Beast of Gluttony needed to time its skill correctly or the latter would have been frozen as well. When all of the cold mist finally vanished, the Primordial Beast of Gluttony is shocked to find that the two assailants that wanted to kill it suddenly vanished.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony looked around and all beings that were attacking them were not encased in ice. In fact, there was no being encased in ice as the only being that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony could see is a strange amalgamation of a beast carrying a mirror that generates a wormhole. A strange insect beast with demon horns that have thirty-six sharp arms with four carrying a wormhole mirror each.

Adrian sensed the sudden danger that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra emitted even before the notification appeared. Before the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra could explode with its powerful raw elemental energy, he already transformed into his mirror demon form to save all of the players, but he also learned his limitations. All of the players were far apart, and he cannot do it on time and quickly with his current power level.

"I need to use a domain." Adrian decided but Kenos suddenly called upon him for a different strategy.

Chapter 2443: Against Two Primordial Beasts II

Adrian fused with Kenos and optimized it using the beast form. In the beast form, Adrian's senses heightened to a great degree, but he also lost almost all combat capabilities. Kenos has yet to get any type of damaging abilities or spells, but it does have great ability to move things. Adrian immediately froze time before the spell of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra hit.

When time was frozen, Adrian's fused brain with Kenos made him able to process and locate all of the players that are in danger. Even the NPCs that would get hit by the attack are all tagged in his eyes. In Adrian's mirror demon Keno's beast form, the number of arms and mirrors that he wields is multiplied by a great degree. Each of the hands are holding a wormhole mirror where one can see space being twisted inside.

Adrian immediately activated his increased perception to create numerous mirrors that transported all of the beings that would get hit by the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. When he is sure that all the beings are safe, Adrian immediately made time flow once again. When time is no longer frozen, the powerful burst of cold energy from the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra happened. All the area became encased in ice and any living being that is caught will also be frozen in the process.

"Impossible!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as no one actually died from the sudden blast that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra created.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is now in a weakened state and cannot move for the set duration.]

The notification that all have been waiting for finally appeared as this was the time where it is good to strike. Adrian waved all of his mandibles and created numerous wormhole mirrors where the other beings came out from. All of the players that he saved also came out of it and he even delivered the airship that is also done with refueling.

"Get up you freaking frosted lizard!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted but the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra cannot move when it released such powerful energy in such short notice.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra would have been able to move quickly if it did not use some of its stored power to generate the blast. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra was forced to use most of the cold energy stored in its body as some of the ice spikes on its back could be seen becoming crystal clear. The ice crystals on the back of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra are also a way to determine how much mana capacity it has.

Right now, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has barely any blue colored spikes as it became clear. It was the mana of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra that generated the deep blue color of the ice spikes on its body. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra crashed to the ground due to the sudden exhaustion and the glowing chest could be seen blinking faster as if it was generating as much mana as it could.

"Go forth and kill that thing! I just need to take a breath that is all." Adrian muttered as he was clearly out of mana.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony could no longer stay put as it would definitely become a target. In fact, there were already individuals charging towards it at this very instant. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra will not die from the sudden bombardment of attacks from these ants, but the Primordial Beast of Gluttony cannot be said to have the same ability. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is not famed for its defense as that would be the Primordial Beast of Greed.

"Kill him!" Lycan shouted as he charged with his sharp armored claws to rip the neck of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony's vessel.

Before the Primordial Beast of Gluttony could react, a sudden slit has already appeared on its neck. The katana slice was fast and almost invisible, but it looked like Vayu was not satisfied. The cut on the neck of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony's vessel was shallow. Vayu wanted to aim for the neck which is why he asked Adrian to create a portal that is extremely close to the Primordial Beast of Gluttony, but he failed to do the finishing move.

"Kek, mongrels! You will pay!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as its vessel suddenly started to grow bigger and bigger.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is starting to show its true form as its size suddenly ballooned with its vessel becoming destroyed in the end. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony knows that it cannot tank and recover hits like the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which is why it believed in helping its newly acquired pet. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony might need to take care and feed its pet in order for it to benefit the owner.

"You should have just focused on the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra instead of me!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as his form shifted to that of a large orange pig.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is actually a large, orange fanged pig that can sit upright. There are also five sets of mouths on all parts of its body with the largest located at its belly. The real terror of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony bloomed on all of the beings that is in the northern continent. The power of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony soared as all attacks that were about to head towards the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra was eaten.

[You are in the presence of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.]

[The Primordial Skill, Gluttony is not a Sin, is now activated.]

[All beings that have a low Persona level will have all of their spell cost increased with a variation from 10% to 50%.]

[All beings around the Primordial Beast of Gluttony will have their Satiety get taken by a value of one per minute.]

[When the Primordial Beast of Gluttony has collected a total of 100, 000 Satiety from everyone around it, it will launch a powerful attack called Voracious that deals 100, 000 Health as True Damage.]

[All beings around the Primordial Beast of Gluttony will have their hunger amplified and craved more food and use more resources in spells and attacks.]

[The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is the embodiment of Gluttony itself. All Satiety that is restored in its presence will be reduced by 20%. The excess satiety percentage will be owned by the Primordial Beast of Gluttony as it claims all the hunger around it.]

[The Primordial Beast of Gluttony also reduces the effects of food by 10%. All food beneficial effects that have been reduced will be applied to it instead.]

[The Primordial Beast of Gluttony also takes 0.001% of additional Satiety of all beings around it every minute. When it reaches its maximum capacity of 200, 000 Satiety, the Primordial Beast of Gluttony will enter the Food Frenzy state where it will eat everything around it and convert it to its own energy.]

It was a good thing that they were in the northern continent where it is cold, and people usually expends less hunger when its cold climates. Still, this is not a good thing because the players would need to fight against the Primordial Beast of Gluttony on the brink of hunger. If they do not do so and always recover their Satiety, then they will trigger the Primordial Beast of Gluttony to become more powerful by entering a berserk state.

The downside with fighting on the brink of hunger is that attacks are more likely to miss. The attacks are also weaker when in comparison to attacking with a full stomach. After all, they did say that no one can win a war with starving soldiers. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony banked on this idea, and it already started to take the Satiety of all the players.

"I shall eat everything! Devour!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted with all of its mouth and actually absorbed all of the attacks that they released. Only long ranged attacks were absorbed but that is still a large part of the player attacks.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony could be seen having its stomachs glowing with the energy it ate up. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony then did a sudden jiggle with its large body as if it mixed all of the energy up. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony followed up the jiggle with explosive color vomit as it did combine all the elemental attacks.

All mouths of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony fired off a beam of elements that were a combination of all the attacks its absorbed. Adrian knew that he must stop the beams of light which is why he forced himself to use the created mirrors to try and reflect the powerful beams of elemental light.

Chapter 2444: Against Two Primordial Beasts III

Adrian created numerous mirrors that absorbed the elemental vomit that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. He then reflected it back even though he forced himself in doing so. Adrian managed to reflect the attack of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony, but it also cost his transformation and Kenos returning back to the Soul Chamber for an hour.

Adrian thought that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony will just eat the beams of light once again, but it could not. When the beams of light which is an attack that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony created was redirected back towards it, the Primordial Beast of Gluttony was unable to devour the attack again. The beams of light accurately hit the Primordial Beast of Gluttony and sent it back by a few meters.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony is finally separated from the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which made it easy for the others to rain down attacks on the latter. Faust was the first one that bombarded the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra with his elemental. The airship passed by a wormhole mirror earlier and brought the fight to them.

The bombardment of Faust actually deeply hurt the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony wanted to help the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra but there were other enemies that faced it. Vayu no longer held back and summoned his Susanoo Form. He summoned a large apparition of the Lightning Elemental King, and it manifested behind him.

Since the Primordial Beast of Gluttony cannot devour constructs, the large lightning katana that struck it managed to damage the body of the primordial beast. It is not just Vayu that did this but also Soleil as she summoned the Sun Elemental King apparition as well which is in the form of a large mirror. The elementals that she has with her also changed forms into their maturer forms as High Elementals.

Vayu attacked the Primordial Beast of Gluttony while Soleil attacked the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The power of the elementals that have never been seen in the northern continent has been brought by the half elementals as they turned themselves into High Elementals as well. Seeing the sudden rise of power from the players, the Primordial Beast of Gluttony knew that it must become more active than before as the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is still unable to move for a few minutes.

"Great Devourer!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra shouted as all of the mouths in its body suddenly moved and fused into one large mouth. This large mouth actually inhaled the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. All of them were shocked to see this happen because they did not think that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony would devour the only thing that could give it a fighting chance.

"It did not devour the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra! It is protecting it inside of its stomach!" Adrian pointed out as there was no notification given to them that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra was devoured and killed.

All the players knew why the Primordial Beast of Gluttony did this as the time for the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra to be active again is only one minute more. Once that minute is up then the powerful beast that could literally freeze the entire world will once again be active. All the players need to have the Primordial Beast of Gluttony spit out the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra.

The players knew that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is more lethal than the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. This is the reason why most of the players that Adrian brought attacked the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra instead of the primordial beast that they really wanted to kill. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has the potential to wipe all of them if left unchecked.

All of the players shifted their attention to the Primordial Beast of Gluttony and attacked it instead. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony did not even bother dodging as it just devoured the other attacks that is meant for it. The number of stomachs that the Primordial Beast of Gluttony has is close to a hundred in its real form. Each stomach can hold another hundred attacks each which means it can devour ten thousand elemental attacks or spells.

"All of you will die once my pet can move once more!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted with glee as it basically tanked all of the hits that it received as it knows that the beings before it cannot do any lethal damage to it within that timeframe.

Everything started to become hopeless as the players knew that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra could just use another Subzero Atomica and all of them will be wiped out. They can see that Equinox could not move because of the backlash which means if the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra attacks using that powerful skill, then all of them will be frozen to death. Just as fear and dread is about to creep into the hearts of the players and the people of the north, a small frozen spear suddenly flew across the sky.

This frozen spear is actually the same as a spear that a player wields but it is like a toothpick when viewed from the size of the primordial beasts. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony initially paid the ice spear no mind, but it suddenly felt a bad premonition from it. The ice spear looked like a decent spear made of ice and it looked like it was perfectly crafted but the energy it gave off was divine.

The Primordial Beast of Gluttony suddenly combined all of its mouths once more to try and devour the ice spear and redirect it, but the ice spear just cleanly pierced through the body of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. A large hole appeared on the stomach of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony because the ice spear was made for the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The Primordial Beast of Gluttony was the unfortunate as it also got swept up by the attack.

"ARRHGH!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly spilled out from its stomach.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has been stunned for ten minutes.]

[The Everlasting Winter has been broken due to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra being stunned.]

[All experience points received from the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra will be reduced as the Goddess Skadi participated in the battle.]

[The Primordial Beast of Gluttony has been struck by a powerful blow and all of its devouring abilities has been suspended for ten minutes.]

[All experience points received from the Primordial Beast of Gluttony will be reduced as the Goddess Skadi participated in the battle.]

The notifications appeared but the players did not care for the reduced experience points. Once the players saw the two primordial beasts in a stunned state, all of them let hell loose as the battlefield suddenly became chaotic. All of the players no longer cared about what might happen to them or what they need to do in order to survive. All of them just attacked the two primordial beasts and kept attacking them as long as they were still breathing.

Adrian is no exception to this case as he even activated the domain of Kimat and let the latter transform into its destructive form. He also pushed himself to activate the domain of Charon as this was the perfect chance to absorb the health and mana of the two primordial beasts as they cannot fight back. The players did not care where the spear came from, but they did know that it was done by a goddess.

The chaos of the battlefield literally made the quiet northern continent into a noise filled area. The owner of the ice spear soon appeared as well when the howl of a hundred or so wolves reverberated in the area. The direction of the howl was above as a large sled that is pulled by a hundred large wolves travelled across the skies as they produced snowflakes. In the sled is none other than the Goddess Skadi and another player that they know of, and it is none other than Frey.

"I did it!" Frey announced in a cheerful tone which was not what she usually looked like, but she was not announcing it to all of them. She announced it cheerfully towards Adrian as her gaze did not change in direction as soon as she saw him.

"You did it!" Adrian replied with a smile.

As if all the players felt the cold of the north, some of the players attacked more fiercely for some reason. All of them even shouted with their souls as if they wanted to bash someone's head. They all felt this burning sensation that wants to create destruction and carnage. This was the feeling of jealousy that some of the players that admired the Valkyrie felt.

Chapter 2445: Against Two Primordial Beasts IV

The two primordial beasts could only endure the damage that their bodies are being assaulted with. The reason of their current predicament is none other than the Goddess Skadi that pierced their bodies with just her spear. The two primordial beasts could not feel pain which is why they did not care as much but they felt this foreign sensation when a large undead and a three headed black tiger attacked them.

The two primordial beasts experienced pain for the first time as their bodies are engulfed in a burning energy that has three colors. The chains that clung to the bodies of the primordial beasts burned their flesh and also slowed them down. The powerful resistances against status ailments of the primordial beasts are all rendered useless as their speed got sapped along with their health and mana.

Charon delivered all the excess health and mana towards the players which boosted them even further. All the damage they get from being cold are negated while the mana that they are burning is being replenished. The skills of the players increased more and more as they became unhindered in using their skills that have high mana costs. Adrian also benefited from this as well as his mana started to get restored back to full.

The Goddess Skadi retrieved her ice spear with a wave of her hand. When the ice spear returned to her, the pressure of the ice spear is visibly reduced as if all the power that it held has vanished. The Goddess Skadi could also be seen to have some parts of her body become faint as this was just a body she constructed from ice and snow. The ice spear was a conduit for the Goddess Skadi to remain in the mortal realm, but it lost most of its power which is why her created body is also fading as we speak.

"Hah! I was about to berate you that a goddess tried to interfere, but it seems that you will not last long as well." The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as it rose and swatted all of the players that were near it.

"Foreign beasts should not interfere with the north. You are the reason for the destruction of the balance of power. If you did not come here, then I would not have interfered. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra would have stayed sealed, and the north would have recovered." The Goddess Skadi declared.

"You are the one that sealed me!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra shouted as its eyes became red and blasted a powerful beam of frozen light towards the Goddess Skadi.

The beam was powerful and fast that almost no one was able to react. Frey charged without any fear as her armor suddenly changed as the wolves howled as if they were venerating her. Frey's armor that is usually made with silver and platinum suddenly transformed and had layers of ice with wolf motifs. The spear that Frey held also changed as if it evolved with her as it became a large polearm with a blue flag that has the crest of a wolf.

[Frey has activated the Blessing of the Divine Wolf Lupa.]

"All of you! Rally to me!" Frey shouted as she raised her flag high and a million silhouettes of wolves came out from it.

Some of the wolves charged towards the frozen beam and met it head on. The spell was blocked when half of the wolves were used up. The other wolves went inside the bodies of her allies and gave them a massive buff. All the players that were possessed by the wolves suddenly felt all of their senses magnify by a great degree.

[You have been possessed by a blessed wolf.]

[All stats will be increased by 20% for the remainder of the battle and as long as the Lupa Emissary is in the battlefield.]

[All of your senses are magnified by 100% for the duration.]

[Stamina consumption will be reduced by 50%.]

Like a real heroine in a story that aims to vanquish the demon king, Frey led the troops in battle as they were basically infected by her charisma. All of them fearlessly charged towards the two primordial beasts even though both of them have already recovered. The two primordial beasts started to feel even more danger as all the beings in the battlefield were out to kill them. The bloodlust of the players reached an all-time high that even the primordial beasts became pressured when they felt it.

"Tempest Crusher!" Vayu shouted as his katana wielded by the apparition behind him got clad in pure lightning.

The katana then charged towards the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. Soleil, on the other hand, made the mirror blaze as if she created a sun that descended into the world. The Primordial Beasts of Gluttony commanded the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra to tank the hit from Vayu while the former will absorb the flames that Soleil created. This would have been the perfect strategy, but they forgot that the Goddess Skadi was still in the area.

The created body of the Goddess Skadi might be disappearing but that does not mean that she is long power. The Goddess Skadi tossed her ice spear, and it suddenly turned into a large wolf made of ice. This ice wolf went straight for the neck of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which made the latter unable to defend the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

The large lightning katana pierced the Primordial Beast of Gluttony while the flames of Soleil burned the body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. The power of the elementals is something that can hurt primordial beasts as they also pull natural energy from the world. The pained screams of the two primordial beasts echoed as Adrian smiled because he used all of his nether energy to buff his two team members.

"I will leave this to you brave warriors!" The Goddess Skadi stated as her created vessel finally lost all mana.

Chapter 2446: Emissary of the Wolf

[The Goddess Skadi has blessed all of the warriors trying to protect the northern continent.]

[All warriors that is acknowledged by the Goddess Skadi will now be protected from the cold.]

[All damage from ice elemental attacks and spells will be reduced by 10%.]

"Defeat the beast for me, Emissary of the Wolf." The Goddess Skadi told Frey before her body turned to normal snow.

The Goddess Skadi truly helped all of them as she was the reason why the Everlasting Winter stopped. She managed to stun the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra for a long time. Still, her assistance meant that the body she used to maintain form in the mortal realm also dissipated. She basically destroyed 50% of the health of two primordial beasts at the same time.

The power that she used surely exceeded the upper limit of the world as of now. It is also the reason why the vessel she created for a long time suddenly crumbled with one attack. Frey realized the favor that she was granted by the Goddess Skadi and made sure that she does not waste it. Frey called upon the might of all her sisters and summoned their silhouettes as well. The silhouettes of the Valkyries charged with her along with the wolves she also summoned.

"Do something, frozen lizard!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted as it tried to overload the mind of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra with its commands.

"No more!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra shouted as it suddenly did something that no one ever expected.

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra turned to the Primordial Beast of Gluttony and held its body before ripping it apart. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra could no longer bear the commands of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony. The white light on the chest of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra glowed brighter as it was now less than 30% health. The innate power that the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra absorbed back then suddenly burned bright as the will to live was strong.

"I want to LIVE! I want more power!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra shouted in an audible sound as the white flame suddenly started to burn on its chest.

Adrian shuddered as the white flames were something that his body could clearly feel because it was almost the same as him. The white flames that burst out from the chest of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra is the power of an Asmodian. The white flames then covered the body of the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra which made it look like an ice beast being covered in flames.

The white flames is not the only thing that is added to the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra. Two large horns suddenly grew from its temples. These horns were demonic horns as it was the same kind as Adrian's. As if that is not enough, the Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly sprouted large wings that is made of white flames. The powerful primordial beast suddenly forced its evolution.

"Hungry!" The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra stated as it then turned around to look at the Primordial Beast of Gluttony that it tore apart.

"What are you doing stupid lizard! Get away from me!" The Primordial Beast of Gluttony shouted in desperation, but it was all in vain.

CHOMP!

The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra devoured the Primordial Beast of Gluttony which made its body become forged in white flames. Those white flames did not burn but freeze as the players that were splashed with it got frozen. The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra suddenly roared as it flapped its wings to head straight to the kingdom.

[The Primordial Beast of Frozen Tundra has forcefully evolved into the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.]

"Stop it!" Adrian commanded as the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast wanted to fly towards the kingdom to devour the Heart of Icy Abyss.

Adrian's instincts are telling him that this form of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is not yet the final form. If it devours the Heart of the Icy Abyss, then they might really have a primordial beast that can rival the gods themselves. They have to kill it while it has yet to fully mature and its energies have yet to settle. This is just the same as stopping a monster by preventing its evolution.

Charon, Kimat, and Kanlaon led the charge as they used all of their power to block the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. Both Charon and Kimat were in their full power and all the other soulbounds supported them. One would think that all of Adrian's soulbounds combined would manage to knock down a beast that just learned to fly but that is not what happened.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast suddenly coated its body with white flames and rammed to each of Adrian's soulbounds. All of Adrian's soulbounds got frozen while some died as they were in the primary direction of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. Out of all the soulbounds, only Saena and Wisteria were left as they were tasked with supporting the players instead of actively participating in the attack.

Kanlaon managed to survive because Basil used magic that prevented any dragons from being killed. Sirius, Charon, and Kimat were not lucky though as they took the brunt of the hit. All of them were sealed back inside of Adrian's soul chamber. Adrian himself is not safe as well as he got some backlash from two of his soulbounds with active domains were killed. His health suddenly took a great hit as he was already forcing himself in maintaining the domains of his soulbounds.

"Wall protection team!" Anastacia shouted as she stood tall on top of the wall, but she is actually a bit scared.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast roared as it coated its body with white flames once again. The enemy charged straight towards the barrier of the wall and instantly broke it as if it did not have any form of resistance. Still, the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast was pushed back a bit as some of the force it used in breaking the barrier got reflected back to it.

Chapter 2447: Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast managed to position itself back to normal and charged towards the kingdom. The players could only use what they could and launched spells and attacks at it. Those spells and attacks barely scratched the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast though as it has a white flame barrier that protected it from some damage.

"I will hold it down!" Anastacia shouted as she clasped her hands and vines rose to the sky from the ground.

The vines that Anastacia created tried to grasp at the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast, but the beast was flying too high. Fortunately for Anastacia, there was a demon that no longer cared to what happens to him. Adrian directly teleported towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast and increased gravity to the point that veins appeared on his face.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast suddenly fell down as it did not know why it could not fly easily. This was the first time that the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast flew which is why it does not know what increased gravity does to beings that are flying. As soon as the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast dropped to a certain degree, Anastacia pushed her mana to the fullest and controlled the vines to grab the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

The vines that Anastacia commanded got frozen by the white flames but that was enough. The frozen vines still managed to hold onto the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. This made it easy for the other players that can fly to launch their attacks. The ones that became proactive are the Angel and Devil Unit and the Dragonkin Unit.

The Angel and Devil Unit practically bombarded the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast with spells of light and darkness. The Angels used high heat flames that burned even the tough skin of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The Devils used dark flames that are made of flames from the depths of Hell.

The Dragonkin unit led by Basil released all of their breath attacks that are enhanced by Basil's draconic magic. Basil's dragons rampaged to the point that they were breaking down the scales of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. Most of the dragonkin players were also those that can survive the cold which is why most of them were sired from Flame Dragons.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast raged on as it destroyed the frozen vines that held it down. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast thought that it would have the chance to press on as the attacks it received barely hurt it but a powerful beam of light that is split in a spectrum hit it. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast screamed in pain as the searing light actually pierced its defenses directly.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast then looked towards the source of that searing light and it was a large white bird monster. Saena could now collect as much sunlight as she could because the sun now shined on the northern continent. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast released a powerful blast of its frozen white flames, but another powerful attack erupted from below it.

Wisteria used Geothermal Burst which released the heat from hidden in the depths. Since the northern continent has volcanoes underground, the powerful eruption of heat intensified more. The attack hit the underside of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast which made it react strongly. The white flames it was about to spew towards Saena got cancelled instead and it exploded from its own mouth.

The explosion of the mouth of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast triggered a backlash which made it crash to the ground. Before the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast could stand up, Siegfried and Ain already appeared next to it. Siegfried exploded in power as his large axe burst into powerful flames. Ain's fists created a large aura hand that slammed towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

Both of the guild leaders made sure to aim for the eyes as they know how to fight against monsters larger than them. As soon as the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast was incapacitated, they aimed for the eyes which is usually the softest part of a monster's body. The axe and the fist of two guild leaders respectively managed to reach the eye of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast but a thin barrier actually stopped their attacks.

The large eyes of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast suddenly looked at them which made them initiate retreat immediately. Vines started to crawl once more towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast as Anastacia is once again attempting to root the enemy. The vines froze before they could even attempt to grab onto the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast, but Wisteria roared and imbued more spiritual energy into the vines.

The vines that stopped growing suddenly sprouted stronger and thicker than before. Layers of vines grasped at the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast, but they were still frozen under the influence of the white flame barrier. The frozen vines did offer some restraining power, but the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast became angrier than before.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast expelled out a powerful force that created a shockwave that sent all those near it flying. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast thought that it would be able to take flight once more as the annoying flies have been sent away.

"You like the cold but let us see if you can deal with the Black Sun!" Adrian stated in calm fury as he tossed the large Black Sun that he summoned.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast saw the large Black Sun descending towards it and knew that its barrier will not be able to protect it from that attack. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast absorbed the cold aura of the entire surroundings as its white flames blazed. With a powerful explosion of white flames, the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast rammed the Black Sun. A powerful explosion that shook the walls of the kingdom ensued but Kabrakan managed to absorb some of the impact which still kept it safe.

Chapter 2448: The Ice Queen Awakes I

A powerful explosion of white flames and the Black Sun made all of the players near it experience the shockwave. The shockwave swept across the area and sent those that do not have steady footing to be sent flying backwards. The smoke has yet to lift but the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast suddenly came out from it with its large claws aimed at Adrian.

"Did you think that I would not be prepared for you?" Adrian casually stated as he summoned the six elemental dragons and the silhouette of the Vermillion Bird.

The seven flying entities met the face of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast and slammed towards it. All seven entities managed to momentarily blind the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast which made Adrian able to summon the white swan to escape. The claws of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast missed Adrian, but the latter was not done.

"Galactic Titan! Increase the gravity!" Adrian shouted as he summoned his sword and transformed immediately.

Adrian slammed his giant self towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The increased in gravity helped him a lot and also his increased weight. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast suddenly lost balance in the air as Adrian did not stop in applying the increased gravity.

"Let me take one eye for now." Adrian stated as he infused his sword with the maximum amount of nether energy.

The white flame barrier of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is still actually in effect. One could see that Adrian's legs have a layer of frost on them, but he did not care as the damage was minimal. Adrian even applied gravity on his own arms as he plunged his sword towards the eyes of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast suddenly roared out loud in immense pain as it never felt such a thing before.

The eye of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast burned in nether energy as Adrian made sure to use all that he has. The nether flames also damaged the eye of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast that it cannot regenerate fully. The immense pain actually triggered a reaction from the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast as it used its own cold energy to make an explosion of white flames.

Adrian got ejected from the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast as the white flame explosion hit him directly. He got sent flying towards the walls of the kingdom as a result. Adrian knew that he needed to transform back as he might greatly damage the wall if he does not revert. He changed back but that also meant he will feel the crash even more.

"This will hurt." Adrian thought as he crashed into the wall and even imprinted his shape on it.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast also suffered greatly from the sudden explosion of white flames as it was an involuntary action of itself. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast crashed to the ground while it squirmed in pain due to the effects of its eye being destroyed. It managed to recover though as rage filled its heart and it is all directed towards Adrian.

ROAR!

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast roared and charged towards the demon that is still stuck at the wall. It coated its body with white flames to stop all the players that attempted to block it. The anger has already clouded the judgement of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast as it headed towards the wall.

"Ouch!" Adrian stated as his health suddenly dropped to 10%.

If Adrian did not have any barriers that covered his body, then he would have died. He suddenly felt the bloodlust directed at him and looked at the direction of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The enemy was targeting him exclusively because he took out one eye which made him laugh dryly. He channeled some mana into his body as he needed to take himself out of the wall.

"You seem to be struggling there." A voice stated near Adrian as vines appeared from the cracks on the wall.

Levin Cloud suddenly appeared before him and proceeded to heal him back to full health. Adrian thanked his friend even though it was clear that he has yet to recover from all the things he did. Healing a powerful NPC like the Ice Queen Elona would drain even the best healers in the world.

"Why are you not tired? You look perfectly healthy that I am doubting that you actually healed the Ice Queen Elona. Do not tell me that you actually left her and stopped healing her!" Adrian stated as his mind started to think of scenarios of why Levin Cloud suddenly appeared in the front lines.

"Are you actually questioning me? I am hurt. I already finished healing the Ice Queen Elona." Levin Cloud replied.

"That is good. At least we just need to stall that thing for a few hours. Dying once will not hurt because I can still revive myself." Adrian stated as he took Levin Cloud's hand and unstuck himself from the wall.

"You do not need to worry because the best ally has already recovered." Levin Cloud stated as Adrian looked towards the powerful presence that arrived in the battlefield.

The Ice Queen Elona was back to full health and already pushed herself to the battlefield. She did not even look like she was heavily injured. She even looked younger than before which was strange which made Adrian look at Levin Cloud to ask what kind of healing that he did.

"Focus. We are still in the battlefield." Levin Cloud stated which made Adrian look closely at the former as well.

"He looks too healthy and not tired at all. I will question that later because that thing needs to be killed. It actually managed to take in the power of an Asmodian even though it is but a fragment of it." Adrian thought.

"Foul beast! Leave my kingdom alone!" The Ice Queen Elona exclaimed as she created numerous ice spikes that ravaged the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

Chapter 2449: The Ice Queen Awakes II

"Proud warriors of the North! Do not falter as your queen is here!" The Ice Queen Elona announced.

"For the north!" All of the soldiers of the northern kingdom rallied.

[The Ice Queen Elona has rallied her troops.]

[The Prestige of the Icy Witch is applied to the entire battlefield.]

[All beings that stand with the Ice Queen Elona will receive the Blessing of the North.]

All the soldiers and warriors under the Ice Queen Elona suddenly got covered in armor made of abyss ice. The warriors and soldiers of the northern continent are finally looking like the mad barbarians that they were described as in the stories about them. The ice armored soldiers advanced towards the Ice Queen Elona in order to stop the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

"I shall lead us to victory!" The Ice Queen Elona declared as her form also changed to an armored version of herself. She became layered in elegant armor made of abyss ice.

The Ice Queen Elona stomped her foot on the ground and the abyss ice suddenly snaked its way towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The ice shards that she fired earlier were unable to truly stop the charge of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The abyss ice traveled in the icy ground and then erupted when the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast came near.

A dark glacier suddenly burst out from the ground and directly hit the jaw of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The Ice Queen Elona then waved her hand and created an ice chariot with matching horses made of abyss ice. She charged towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast without fear and all her warriors came forward with her.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast managed to recover and even snorted out a puff of cold air when it finally noticed that the Ice Queen Elona is charging towards it. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast actually liked that the Ice Queen Elona is coming towards it. The energy of the Heart of the Icy Abyss is charging straight towards it which delighted the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast opened its mouth and forgot the anger that it had for Adrian as its hunger for the energy of the Icy Abyss is far stronger. The Ice Queen Elona did not care that the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast looked at them with hunger in its eyes. The Ice Queen Elona only cares for victory and this time she will kill this primordial beast.

"I was away from my kingdom back then monster, I am here now!" The Ice Queen Elona announced as she created a large ice lance that is made of pure ice with Icy Abyss energy.

The Ice Queen Elona gathered the will of all her army as they are also the source of her strength. The strength of all the warriors that are clad in Icy Abyss Armor got etched onto the ice lance that she created. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast roared as its excitement peaked and started to empower its body to the fullest.

The chest where the white flames erupted burst out in power as it resonated with the desire of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The Ice Queen Elona and the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast charged against each other and their powerful ice energies created a powerful explosion of white flames and icy abyss. White flames and dark ice exploded, and the entire area became quiet.

When the icy mist lifted, the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast could be seen pierced by the large ice lance of the Ice Queen Elona. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is pierced directly on its mouth by a half-melted ice lance. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is still alive, but the life force of the primordial beast started to slowly slip away. The Ice Queen Elona's side is not safe as well because almost all of the warriors behind her fainted.

The charge that they have done summoned all of their strengths to support the Ice Queen Elona. Even the Ice Queen Elona herself looked tired as she resisted the white flames. Her warriors only fainted because the Ice Queen Elona protected them using some of the energy that they have shared. If the Ice Queen Elona did not protect them then they might have been able to kill the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast but half of the warriors that charged with her would die.

The silence of the battlefield could be heard as no one made any sound due to the shock. When the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast started to move and tried to remove itself from the ice land, all of the players started to snap from their daze. The loud war cry that Adrian did woke the others that were still looking straight.

"Attack!" Adrian shouted as he recovered completely.

[You have activated Nether Domain.]

[You will now transform to your true form.]

The players were given the signal, and they did not disappoint. All of the players knew that this was the moment of truth. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is weakened to a great degree that it could not move its body. Adrian even activated his domain and spread his energy to all of the players. He also summoned his scythe and teleported towards the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

Adrian looked small compared to the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast, but he did not need to aim for the head. He teleported directly to the glowing white flame chest of the primordial beast. With a powerful sweep and activation of the first skill of the scythe, Adrian cut through the thick chest of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast cried out as the pain it felt is the same pain it got when its eye was destroyed.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast used its claws to try and destroy Adrian, but pain surged through all of its body. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast used its remaining eye to see the ones that dared to harm it. It could only see the ants that are clad in nether flames.

Chapter 2450: The Fall of the Tundra

All of the players were enchanted by Adrian using the nether flames and all of their attacks became critical hits. The power that Adrian shared was also pushing his body to the limits as he was producing more than what he could maintain. In theory, the nether energy should be infinite in the domain, but he only summons a part of it and only a part that he can control.

Before, the players that he imbues with nether energy were those that could only use it for enchantments like stronger attacks but the ones here are different. All of the players that are in the battlefield right now are masters at using their mana. All of them adapted in using nether energy as a way to boost all of their skills, body, and even normal attacks.

"Damn! They are draining me dry that I almost ran out for my own use. This is the difference between high level and low level." Adrian thought as the white flames suddenly attacked him as he already opened up the chest of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast screamed in pain as its chest was its most vital part. The energy of the white flames is what makes up most of its body. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast roared at Adrian when the latter cut open its chest. The white flames spewed forth as it baptized Adrian with its cold embrace, but he was not alone.

[Your soulbound, Wisteria, has died due to her absorbing damage that is meant for you.]

Wisteria used their connection and absorbed all of the damage that Adrian is being dealt with. This resulted in her also dying from the powers of the freezing flames. Adrian did not lose this chance as it was made using the sacrifice of his soulbounds. Adrian pierced the chest of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast with his scythe as he intended to harvest the soul fragment of Abel.

"Come to me!" Adrian shouted as he finally felt the soul fragment when he pierced his hand.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast exploded in white flames or was supposed to do so as it made the actions it usually does when it casts its attack. The only problem is that the attack that was supposed to destroy all of the beings attacking it has fizzled out. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast could not summon the white flames as the demon that pierced its chest was somehow interfering with it.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast lowered its head and attempted to bite off the demon that stuck its claws inside of its chest, but a dark shard of ice suddenly pierced its jaws. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast stumbled but the demon still looked dazed as its hand was inside of its chest. Adrian suddenly blanked out which was unusual which is why all of the Pantheon Guild Members that were silent started to also join the battle.

Kabrakan suddenly used his Wind Breaker Armor to turn his shields to wings and ram the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast on the face. This was successful as the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast only looked at Adrian. Peridot imbued a red gemstone with potent fire magic and sent it directly at the mouth of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The explosion of flames prevented the from closing its mouth.

"I finally done it! This place is empty of corpses, but I somehow summoned it finally!" Creepysoo shouted as he could now contribute to the fight as he only used curses and death magic earlier.

Creepysoo managed to gather materials for an undead and summoned it. He wanted to summon the large skeleton giant again and he succeeded but things did not go the way he expected it to. The only thing that Creepysoo summoned is a large skeletal hand. The good thing is that this skeletal hand could grab onto the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

The skeletal hand grabbed onto the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast and prevented it from flying once again. This prompted all of the players to focus on just dealing damage to the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast as it can no longer move. The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast tried its best to wiggle free and destroy those that tried to pin it down, but the demon is somehow preventing it from doing what it wanted with the energy in its body.

All of the players attacking the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is making its large health pool get reduced at a visible degree. They also received some notifications that the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is losing its defense somehow. They do not know who or what is causing the defense loss, but it is a welcomed occurrence.

The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is on its last leg when Adrian finally moved again. Adrian used all of his nether energy and made it explode on the spot as he used Nether Explosion. All of the nether energy gathered inside his body, and it exploded with a powerful burst of energy.

[You have used Nether Explosion to its fullest degree.]

[You cannot use nether energy for a whole day.]

[You have defeated the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.]

[The Primordial Beast of Gluttony has been killed as well.]

[Experience points have been collected.]

[All beings that participated in the subjugation of the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast will receive the title, The North Will Remember.]

Adrian finally moved again, and all of the players were excited as they actually defeated the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast. The battle was full of twists and turns, but the good thing is that they have protected the kingdom. The experience points and the loot that they got might have been lessened but they were still able to defeat the Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast.

[The Cocytus Primordial Demonic Beast is defeated and can no longer revive.]

[The northern continent will have a change in climate and seasons due to the disappearance of the anomalous primordial beast.]

[The warmth of the sun can now touch all beings in the northern continent.]
