

O Summoner 2461

Chapter 2461: World Alliance II

The meeting has resumed, and Adrian came with Elder Koronn which gained the attention of all the people. Adrian is widely known in the kingdoms as he is the Champion of the Twin Gods. Any known champions of gods are known because they are basically the problem solvers of their respective denominations. Also, he is said to randomly bless areas when he favors the people which is what some kingdoms want to happen in theirs.

It is not just Adrian that is in the watch list of individuals as Levin Cloud is also the same. Levin Cloud is actually higher in ranking when it comes to people that you need to please or show respect. The people of other kingdoms and countries know that Levin Cloud can legitimately revive a dying land if he feels like it.

"Good day, once again. This time... I have brought our youngest Arch Demon to explain the situation as he was present in the front lines when it came to the Primordial Beasts of Sin." Elder Koronn stated.

Adrian got introduced and bowed towards everyone which Elder Koronn nodded to as it seems that his fears and worries were nothing. What Elder Koronn did not check is whether Adrian himself was in a good mood. He did encounter Adrian and Elder Ascalor in a playful banter which he thought that meant that the former was in a good mood, but he thought wrong. The next words that came out of Adrian's mouth shook the entire assembly.

"Those that do not want to die and have their kingdoms overrun by monsters will need to raise their hands." Adrian bluntly stated.

A good amount of silence happened, and the people could not believe what they heard. Some even tried to register what came out of Adrian's mouth as some of them have yet to know how his mouth or attitude works. The races and kingdoms that know how he is as a person suddenly laughed and raised their hands. These were the beings that have already encountered Adrian and how he operates.

The other people in the Assembly looked at each other's mana projections and followed the ones that raised their hands. It did not take long before all of the people gathered has raised their hands as if they caved into the pressure. Adrian looked around and saw that no one was dumb enough to not raise their hands which is why he gave a beaming smile as if all his stress flew away.

"It seems that everyone is in favor of their territories being saved so why did this took longer than expected. Anyways, I will now give all of you the data on why the Primordial Beasts of Sin came to be. We need to move fast people as they are getting stronger by the second. The world is so large that the energy they need is being fed to them at an alarming rate. If we do not put a stop to them then we can kiss our territories goodbye." Adrian stated which did not sound like what a champion should be saying but it worked.

Adrian proceeded to tell them how the Primordial Beasts of Sin have all been sealed before due to what they have done. He also said that a secret organization from the eastern continent was the one that released them from such seals and also enslaved them. The reason why there are no Primordial Beast of Sin that appeared is due to the fact that they needed to getaway from that secret organization.

One would say that Adrian should not have told the others of the secret organization but that also makes his job easier. Peridot wanted revenge on those members of the secret organization. She had told him that they did not only use eastern magic but also magic from all parts of the continents. They were well versed in magic of different origins that it makes it difficult for even a dragon to destroy their spells.

It also effectively gives Adrian some tip offs from each of these countries regarding their trades to suspicious eastern merchants. Since a representative of the merchant guild was also present in the call, Adrian told the story of the Eastern Continent Guild Master and that he was actually the Primordial Beast of Greed. He also told them how they defeated the Primordial Beast of Greed which eased the anxiety that some of the people were experiencing.

Adrian also proceeded to tell them about the Primordial Beast of Gluttony and how they defeated it as well. He told them that they received the help of a goddess as Adrian wanted to prompt the churches that could summon their gods to aid them in battle. He particularly wants the Church of War to summon their gods as they would be the most powerful combat force should that happen.

Adrian knew that the unsealed Primordial Beasts of Sin are more powerful than the ones he defeated. He knew that the game basically gave them time to rally members in taking them down which meant that all the help will be needed. Also, Adrian was wary of one primordial beast based on the memories of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony.

Based on the memories of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony, the Primordial Beast of Pride is also dead. Adrian wanted to believe the memory of the Primordial Beast of Gluttony but there were no announcements of the death of the said Primordial Beast of Pride. He knew that there must be some sham that is at work or else the other primordial beasts of sin would not believe that the Primordial Beast of Pride.

"The Primordial Beast of Pride must be using something to hide its presence but how is it able to do that? Based on the Primordial Beast of Gluttony, the Primordial Beast of Pride is a show-off and would rather be theatrical or putting on a performance when it is in the mood. The fact that the Primordial Beast of Pride suddenly became demure is not a good thing." Adrian thought as he listened in on the action battle plan.

The World Alliance Meeting easily got finished thanks to Adrian's words that pushed them to see how dangerous it was. Adrian did not spare any details in showing how dangerous the primordial beasts of sin are. He told them that a full power attack of a goddess was not even enough to kill them. This statement would have been heresy or blasphemy to the ears of others, but it was the Champion of the Twin Gods speaking and not some random person.

Adrian's credibility is incredibly high and each of the people inside this assembly knew that Champions cannot speak recklessly of gods unless what they said is true. Adrian did not lie as even the Goddess Skadi told Frey that her most powerful that she could muster at that time cannot or will not kill the primordial beasts. The gods can descend but that does not mean they can fully muster all their strength in the mortal realm.

The fact that there were no raging church officials berated what Adrian said means that even their respective gods are agreeing. Gods and goddesses are very magnanimous to their followers, but they are like thorns to their disbelievers and heretics. They also do not like to get bashed as faith is a powerful energy for gods which gets decreased if someone doubts them.

"We must go in this fight with the knowledge that our gods cannot fully defeat our enemies. In the end, this is still the mortal realm, and the gods are still restricted to ensure that they do not destroy the entire world should they rampage. The destruction of the Primordial Beasts of Sin will still be a heavy burden on the shoulders of the mortals." Adrian stated and all of them acknowledged his statement.

This was not a time for flowery words or nice to hear adjectives. This was a time where they could die with just a sneeze of a primordial beast. This was a time where people need to be united more than ever or else they will be prey and stuck in the bottom of the food chain.

"All of us must put aside our differences for now because the fate of the world is at stake. We will not sugarcoat the words and be honest with you. If the Primordial Beasts of Sin grow more powerful than the limit of the world then the world barrier could possibly shatter. It also means that gods of unknown universes will be able to easily come to our world without any resistance." Adrian stated as the other elders prompted him to tell everyone this fact.

"The dragons will stand with you on this fight." The Ancient Dragon Indrajala stated with great haste which made the other Daemos Elders show respect for the rapid response. Since it was an ancient dragon that raised the first move, the others soon followed as dragons are not beings that make alliances lightly.

Chapter 2462: Yewdrassil's Leaf

"As all have agreed to enter this fight with us, the Daemos will give their best efforts to maintain the lives of those that will fight alongside us." Elder Koronn promised which Adrian nodded.

"For the World's Stability!" Adrian shouted.

"For the World's Stability!" All members of the assembly shouted in response.

Since Adrian has already done his job, Elder Koronn told him to prepare the special potions needed for the upcoming fight. When Adrian heard that, he immediately exited the room and let Elder Koronn deal with the battle plans. Adrian was told that the Daemos will handle the transport of all the troops while the other kingdoms just need to prepare for their warriors to join.

Adrian left for the Tree of Life and Death where the Twin Prophets could be seen sleeping at the bottom of its trunk. The elven elders do not dare to wake the twin prophets when they are asleep in the embrace of the Tree of Life and Death. They are in a state that is said to commune with the Tree of Life and Death itself when they are asleep.

"Those two. I cannot believe that they have already grown yet they still like to escape their duties and studies. Yewdrassil must be playing with them right now in Paradiso. Then again, those two did not have a normal childhood so I can at least let them have it longer than others." Adrian muttered as the Tree of Life and Death noticed his presence.

"I have come asking for your aid, Universal Tree. I, Champion of the Twin Gods and Mediator of Death, has come to ask for your blessed leaves that could give life and hold off death." Adrian stated as he bowed to the Tree of Life and Death.

The elven elders saw that Adrian bowed to the Tree of Life and Death and did so as well. They thought that the Champion of the Twin Gods was performing a prayer of some sort which is why they copied him. The Tree of Life and Death then created a figure of a person made of its long vines and leaves.

"You have requested my aide, child. This is the first of many requests, but this request is something that you know the consequences of." The Tree of Life and Death's medium stated which even the elven elders heard the voice that spoke.

The elven elders could not believe that the Tree of Life and Death actually created a medium to speak with the Champion of the Twin Gods. They always thought that the Tree of Life and Death was just there to observe as it is the origin of all life as they say because it is the origin of all trees of life in every world. The voice of the Tree of Life and Death is like a combination of a prestige old man and old woman. One can hear the meaning of true dignity from its voice.

[The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, has heard and is willing to answer your prayers.]

[The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, asks you to sacrifice a maximum of 10 levels in order for you to get the Mythical Grade Yewdrassil's Leaf.]

[Do you wish to accept the sacrifice that is needed of you?]

"I am willing to accept." Adrian replied without batting an eye as the Tree of Life and Death's medium raised its right arm towards Adrian.

"The sacrifice is accepted. May you use our blessing to help the greater good." The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, stated as Adrian suddenly floated from the ground he bowed on and had his life force extracted.

The elven elders suddenly panicked when they saw Adrian float and have his life force extracted by the Tree of Life and Death. They thought that he was getting punished or something which is why some wanted to jump in and save him. Adrian immediately gritted the pain and told them to stand down as this was necessary.

"All of you stand down! I am not being hurt or punished. This is a sacrificial ritual needed for the greater good." Adrian stated but he is actually not speaking about how it definitely hurts a lot.

"Damn it! I knew that having your life force extracted is not painless, but this is something that I did not expect. You would think that willingly parting away with ten levels will not hurt but I feel like ten thousand needles are prickling every part of my body." Adrian thought as he endured the pain.

"The price has been paid. You shall be given what you ask." The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, stated as it finally retracted its hand and created a leaf with both powers of life and death.

The right hand poured Pure Life energy while the left hand poured Pure Death energy. The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, slowly materialized a leaf with golden sheen but the veins made of ghastly green. It was a leaf that is filled with both the properties of the Tree of Life and Death which meant it held the balance of life and death energy in its midst.

"Beautiful!" One of the elven elders shouted.

"My eyes have never been beholden by such beauty!" Another elven elder exclaimed.

The sudden burst of life and death energy made the other elven elders that were busy in the church swarm towards the Garden of Life and Death. All of them saw the Blessed Leaf from the Tree of Life and Death and started to sing praises to it. They were so taken aback that some of them started to actually cry as if their gods have descended to cleanse all sickness in the world.

"I have given you my leaf as you have wanted. Make sure to never use it as a weapon to destroy but as a catalyst to protect. Should you not use it for the meaning that I have given you, then I shall curse your body to wither while getting back what was mine to give." The Tree of Life and Death, Yewdrassil, stated with a firm tone which made it seem devoid of emotion as the lack of warmth from its voice vanished for some time.

"I shall use it to benefit those that will purge the sins of the world. You have my promise." Adrian replied as he accepted the item wholeheartedly.

Adrian did not expect a title come in when he was just getting an item that will be used to brew a potion to help all of the warriors that will come to battle. He graciously accepted the title and bowed towards the Tree of Life and Death. The medium that the Tree of Life and Death has created withered away with a smile as it already knows what Adrian will do with its leaf. The warning was merely formality to the champion and also a reminder.

"I guess Jianna and Brew will definitely be happy with what I need to bring them. I will need the other things though." Adrian muttered as he also took a vial and took water from the Holy Spring.

Chapter 2463: The Sins Know

In the shared mental space of the Primordial Beasts of Sin, all of them have suddenly gathered as the cries of negative energy overflow into it. The Sin Energy that they all gather and use as a power source also carry the numerous emotions of those that have it. They merely filter what type of energy they need or rather the specific component of Sin Energy that they use.

"It seems that all of the insignificant ants have started to move against us, my siblings. They are very envious of our rise to power that they want to snuff us out. That is very cute for such insignificant beings like themselves." The Primordial Beast of Envy stated as it savored the taste of the energy of envy.

"I can feel all of their desires to destroy us and keep this world alive as our energies are reaching the maximum. I know that one should not be thankful to the deaths of one's siblings, but I am glad that I can savor such delicious energy." The Primordial Beast of Lust stated.

"I await their challenge as I want to destroy everything in sight, but I cannot move out of my territory for now. Once I change the sands of the western continent then I shall perform my rampage! If they enter my territory, then that would be good exercise for me!" The Primordial Beast of Wrath stated as it exploded with laughter due to excitement.

"Why are you giving us the silent treatment now, Sloth! You were the one that told us that we would be able to rule this world if we go along with your plan. Tell us that what you saw is still in effect or else I will wring you out and force you to stay awake for daring to fool me!" The Primordial Beast of Envy shouted at the sleeping Primordial Beast of Sloth.

"Huh?! Did they attack yet?" The Primordial Beast of Sloth stated as it suddenly opened its eyes.

"Do not dare to play dumb our cute lazy beast. We know that you must have seen it with your vision." The Primordial Beast of Lust stated.

"I only saw us being the most powerful in the world and regaining our freedom. Is that not enough to say that they are not going to defeat us? Also, why are all of you doubting me now when my visions have never failed us? Did I not tell you that we will be released once again into the world?" The Primordial Beast of Sloth stated with a groggy tone.

"Your vision never told us that we will trap by those fallen gods and become their slaves for a while!" The Primordial Beast of Wrath shouted as it never liked being bound to the will of others.

"I already told all of you that I see glimpses of the future, and did it not help all of us in the end? I did not foresee the death of our other siblings as I mainly saw all four of us becoming powerful beings in the world that even a god cannot easily defeat." The Primordial Beast of Sloth stated.

"Then have you gotten any visions then? I would desire to know of the future events that shall happen moving forward." The Primordial Beast of Lust stated as it was somehow uneasy.

"How can I see the future when all of you keep bothering me and not letting me go back to sleep!? I can only peer into the future when I asleep and I cannot do that because all of you are very noisy!" The Primordial Beast of Sloth exclaimed in a tantrum.

"Go back to sleep as fast as you can then! Tell us anything that you get as the alliance as they call it has already planned to attack us." The Primordial Beast of Envy stated as they can get glimpses of the thoughts of living beings from the energy they devour.

"I will all tell you once I am able to see anything in my sleep. Goodnight!" The Primordial Beast of Sloth stated as it really did fell asleep in just a few seconds.

"What are we going to do?! That idiot is not seeing anything from the future which means that we are in the dark!" The Primordial Beast of Envy told the Primordial Beast of Lust.

"We would just need to survive and crush all opposition, darling. Do you not remember who we are? We are the Primordial Beasts of Sin that are fragments of a Universal Calamity. Even death bends to our will because we will revive no matter what. The other siblings will merely sprout up again without memories so we must eat up while the voracious eaters are not here." The Primordial Beast of Lust stated as it took more and more of the Sin Energy flowing in their shared mental space.

"If that is the case then I just need to strengthen myself to the point that even five gods will not be able to challenge me!" The Primordial Beast of Envy shouted as it devoured more Sin Energy as well.

Adrian managed to get Jianna and Brew in one room and presented the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death. Both of them saw the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death and were suddenly entranced. They could not take their eyes off the leaf even if Adrian moved it as their heads and eyes would move in synch with his hand motions. They even had their mouths open which made them salivate if not for Adrian pointing it out.

"I need you to..." Adrian stated.

"Yes!" Jianna shouted.

"MINE!" Brew exclaimed as he made a grab for the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death.

"Behave!" Adrian stated as he pulled out a water spray bottle from his inventory and used it to squirt at the faces of the two that acted like rabid dogs.

Chapter 2464: Miracle Pill

"Not again." Adrian muttered as the scene that unfolded before him is very matching to the first few times, he asked these two to craft things with the items that he gets.

Adrian thought that these two would act civil when presented with rare and exotic materials that can be used for alchemy. Adrian handed one of the leaves growing from Wisteria's back as it has some sort of properties that could soothe the soul. As soon as he took out Wisteria's leaf, Jianna and Brew became rabid dogs that fought each other for the right to use the material.

Jianna's shop turned into a mess and Brew's cauldron even got some dents as a result of their brawl. The fight got so out of hand that the Daemos Elders had to step in, and Adrian was forbidden to give them any material to use for alchemy for one month. Adrian then waited for the alchemy material ban to lift before heading towards them and giving them one of Kanlaon's scale.

Adrian thought that the two would be civil as they have already been reprimanded by the Daemos Elders. What Adrian did not know was that a cold war was started when he showed Kanlaon's scale. A dragon scale of a dragon that could wield all of the elements is not something that any alchemist can obtain.

Adrian thought that nothing was happening but the two of them actually started to fight over sales instead. They started selling potions and pills to the point that even their rare stock started to get depleted. Piggy Bank cried out to Adrian that the premium potions he was selling was now circulating in the market for 50% less than the marked price.

Adrian then learned that Jianna and Brew fought on who gets to use the dragon scale using sales metrics. When Adrian was about to recall the dragon scale until they stopped their petty fight, Jianna and Brew actually hissed at Adrian which both shocked and scared him at the same time. Adrian then remembered something he watched from one of those training channels.

Adrian left for a moment and returned with a spray bottle in tow. He managed to get this one from the florist for almost free, but he paid her a gold coin for it. Adrian then went to retrieve the dragon scale and the two hissed at the former once again. Seeing that they acted like animals, Adrian basically treated them as such and sprayed them with water on their faces.

As soon as they were sprayed with water, Adrian took the dragon scale back and returned it to his inventory. The two tried to hiss at him again and was about to attack him but Adrian was faster. With a quick push of the nozzle, Jianna and Brew got sprayed in the face which made them stumble to the ground.

"It is surprisingly effective!" Adrian commented.

"I do not think you should use that on human beings." Piggy Bank added as he was in disbelief.

"I saw it in a channel once that the spray bottle method could be used to tame bad behavior." Adrian stated.

"You saw it?" Piggy Bank asked.

"More like overheard it a bit as it was my mother that was watching it. I only heard the explanation from the TV." Adrian stated with Piggy Bank giving him the judging stare.

Back to the present, Jianna and Brew suddenly froze when they saw the mighty spray bottle in the hands of Adrian. They did not know why but that spray bottle might be able to stop a rampaging god if they were sprayed in the face. It was very effective on the two that they actually got trauma from seeing Adrian's hands carrying a spray bottle.

They are not afraid of a spray bottle, but it becomes terrifying when it is in the hands of Adrian. Both of them became calm and collected but their eyes are still glued to the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death. It is not just the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death that they are seeing but also their might enemy that is the spray bottle.

"I need your help to make medicine that will help all of the people heading to fight against the two primordial beasts. Can you create a potion or a pill that can increase their overall stats as long as they are alive?" Adrian asked Jianna and Brew.

As soon as Adrian asked what potion or pill that he wanted, the two of them started to brainstorm and even took out some documents. They also started to make a mess of the place in search of the needed recipe for such a thing that can boost the stats of the beings as long as they are alive. Adrian saw that they were getting messy which is why he nudged at the spray bottle which made them freeze.

"Sorry. I think my question's phrasing was a bit wrong. I meant, are you confident enough to make a pill or potion that can increase the overall stats of beings as long as they are alive? I have the recipe right here which was given to me by the Twin Prophets." Adrian stated as he presented a piece of paper to the two of them.

Jianna and Brew looked like mad dogs as they rushed towards Adrian for the recipe. Seeing that they would crash if they went at that speed, Adrian pulled the nozzle of the spray bottle as a warning. As soon as the spray bottle was activated, Jianna and Brew became civil and walked slowly to take a look at the piece of paper that Adrian was holding.

The two of them suddenly started murmuring to themselves as soon as they saw the recipe as if they were creating the potion in their minds. Adrian waited for them to answer as they were in a trance like state. This is how masters work as they would sometimes simulate it in their minds.

Chapter 2465: Miracle Pill II

"Any news would be good if there are any." Adrian stated as he dangled the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death.

"The recipe is accurate but..." Jianna stated as she sighed.

"But what?" Adrian asked.

"It seems to have been tailor made for a god or goddess to create. We do not have divine energy here as the instructions said that we should use divine energy to activate the medium." Brew stated.

"If it is just divine energy then I can help you with that. Levin Cloud is already back in Avalon and will be enough to stimulate the required divine energy. Do you need lots of it?" Adrian asked.

"Not really. The divine energy needed is something that can be regulated by someone like Levin Cloud. He is basically brimming with it and has yet to master hiding it like you do." Jianna added.

"That is good then. I already contacted Levin Cloud to come here. So, do you need anymore ingredients that are not available here?" Adrian asked.

"Most of the ingredients are already present in the territory because this place is a paradise for alchemists. The real thing that needs to be properly manipulated is the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death. We only have one of that right... which means we cannot afford to screw up." Brew stated but Jianna suddenly nudged the former's elbow as if she needed to tell him something.

Brew then noticed what Jianna was implying and both of them started whispering to each other. They were speaking at a fast pace that Adrian could barely understand and all of it were alchemy terms that he barely focuses on. Adrian then suddenly felt a chill on his spine as the two of the alchemy freaks looked at him as if he was a precious ingredient.

"I think I need to head out now. Please contact me when you will need to start the creation process as I will need to check on the other things we need to do for the raids against the Primordial Beasts of Sin." Adrian stated as he tried to slip away while both Jianna and Brew were talking.

"Wait, just a minute, cutie!" Jianna stated as she firmly held Adrian's right shoulder.

"Please spare some of your bl... I mean time, guild master." Brew added as he gripped Adrian's left shoulder tightly.

"What are both of you trying to do?" Adrian asked with a pained smile as he already know what they were talking about.

"This recipe calls for a Binding Agent called the Tears of the Gods but that can be substituted with something more potent. Tears of the Gods is just another name for holy water after all. It is just water blessed by the gods or any god for that matter." Jianna stated.

"If that is the case then let me get some for you. There are a lot of stock in the Church of the Twin Gods. We have the best quality holy water available there. Let me just fetch it for a moment." Adrian stated as he struggled to break free from the clutches of the two.

"You see, guild master. The Tears of the Gods only provides an 80% chance of the recipe to succeed. We need something stronger and more potent as a binding agent. Blessed water is not going to cut it if we are to succeed with our first and only try." Brew added.

"If I ask the Gods of Life and Death then they can all bless the holy water that we need! I can just ask them to do so as the fate of the world is at risk." Adrian explained as he really tried to get away from the two of them.

"You see, guild master. Even with a lot of gods that blessed the water, it is still holy water in the end. The success rate will not increase any further, but it will stabilize the holy water as it will be purer. Anyways, we need the cheat code! The holy grail amongst all of the holy grail!" Brew stated with a fierce and fanatical gaze.

"We need your blood! The ultimate cheat code when it comes to powerful binding agent!" Jianna added as her gaze also became a bit crazed.

"I mean... will that not ruin the recipe?" Adrian stated weakly.

"We already deliberated, guild master. If we use your blood, then we are sure to succeed!" Brew proudly declared.

"If we use your blood then the success rate will skyrocket to 99%! My calculations are not wrong on this one as I simulated everything and even peeked into the future!" Jianna stated as she actually used Future Sight to check the success rate.

"Okay then but please be gentle. I am only doing this to increase the chances of us winning." Adrian replied weakly as if he is agreeing but protesting at the same time.

"BLOOD!" Jianna and Brew shouted in a craze which scared Adrian that he used up all of the water in the spray bottle. The spray bottle became empty but the two of them still looked like maniacs.

"AHHH!" The stifled screams of Adrian resounded that day, but no one heard it as the shop was soundproof.

A few minutes later, Levin Cloud managed to arrive at Jianna's store and stumbled upon a scene. He saw Adrian trying to spray Jianna and Brew with water. The faces of the other two are soaked to the point that they needed a towel in order to dry them.

"What is happening?" Levin Cloud asked and Adrian immediately dragged him when the latter saw his best friend.

"If they needed your blood then you should have just given it to them. They only took one small vial after all, and you are already this abrasive." Levin Cloud stated.

"Do you not see the scary glint in their eyes while looking at that small vial! You can clearly see the crazed look into them as if my blood is the most important item in this operation. You can even hear their thoughts trying to see if they can skimp on it so they can use it on some other potion or pill." Adrian stated as Jianna and Brew were shocked as the two looked at each other.

"How did he know!?" This was the thoughts of Jianna and Brew when they heard Adrian's statement.

"Anyways, do you need some preparation? We can step out if there are somethings that both of you need to prepare." Adrian stated.

"No need as we need to start right away as it will take hours to produce the numerous pills needed to give. I am assuming that you will give these potions or pills to the normal warriors and not the blessed ones." Jianna stated.

"Yes. You can say it is to make sure that they do not die without any fighting chance." Adrian stated as he knew that many NPCs will definitely die if they do not get buffed.

"Let us just hope that the effect that you desire will manifest." Brew stated as he jumped out of his cauldron.

Adrian looked at the cauldron and immediately knew that this was no ordinary item. It looked old and banged up, but Adrian could feel the power hidden inside of it as this was a sealed divine item. The cauldron needed divine energy to fully unlock its full potential which is why Levin Cloud is needed.

"Please proceed with igniting the cauldron with divine energy, vice guild master." Brew stated as he gestured Levin Cloud to his cauldron.

"Okay." Levin Cloud replied but he thought that request was not ordinary as he never seen Brew create potions before.

"Do you need a burst or steady stream of divine energy?" Adrian asked as Brew is not one to discuss things.

"A steady stream would be good as we would need to activate the cauldron for hours." Brew replied.

"How will I know when it will be enough?" Levin Cloud asked.

"There would be changes." Brew answered and Levin Cloud nodded as the latter inserted divine energy into the cauldron.

At first, the cauldron did not have any changes but flames suddenly sparked when Levin Cloud increase the intensity by one. Seeing that golden flames burst forth below the cauldron, Levin Cloud maintained the intensity of divine energy and the cauldron started to return back to normal or back to when it was first forged.

The golden flames reverted the cauldron back to peak performance and aesthetic. The darkened handles suddenly became shinier as it revealed diamond rings that acted as handles. The black metal used also glistened to the point that it could reflect light.

"Your master is truly extraordinary!" Jianna stated as Brew's master was indeed not a normal alchemist.

"You could even say that she was a hidden goddess that acted like a crazy alchemist." Adrian stated as he is amazed by the unsealed divine item.

Chapter 2466: Fighting in Two Fronts I

The World Alliance has already formalized and prepared what they needed to do. Most of the kingdoms and races will send at least half of their best fighters in the front lines. This made it easier to give the number of people that will go into battle which Adrian needed. The number of people that signed up ballooned in just two hours as the raid will happen after two days.

Due to the threat of the Primordial Beasts of Sin, the Daemos had no choice but to use all hands-on deck. All of the Daemos scattered in the world had to be recalled back to Avalon but the observation for all parts of the world was still ongoing. They may have left their stations but the efforts for observing doubled which meant double work for the observers.

"Being a Watcher right now is not the best job that I feel bad for them. They are literally very cranky right now and they even asked to only be served with the premium Alamid Coffee beans. One gram of those beans' costs one gold coin." Elder Ascalor stated as he was overseeing the Watchers.

"Please do not remind me of the cost because it is all coming out from my own pocket." Adrian replied as he and the elders have convened.

"You, young ones, do not have any sympathy for an old man like me. I am already a bag of bones and yet you still want me to work. It would have been better if you just left me to tend to my farm." Old Man Pann stated.

"The world is at the brink of destruction, old man. We need your help now more than ever and you will stay here to protect this place anyways. We will be the ones that will join the battlefield." Elder Koronn stated as he also did not want to do anything and just immerse himself in research but duty calls.

"Can we please focus right now? We are going to make waypoints that are present in all the vast kingdoms and places in the continent. This cannot be done with just one of us." Elder Bronx stated.

"I can do it by myself though." Elder Ascalor stated with a haughty laugh.

"You would be in a coma for two years because of magic circuit strain. We do not want to handle the work that you are doing." Elder Koronn added.

"You little! I thought you were concerned for me, but you actually just want to evade duties being passed to you!" Elder Ascalor stated.

"Quiet down as I can back to what I was doing after this. Let us proceed!" Old Man Pann stated which made the two bickering Daemos elders quiet down.

"On it." Elder Ascalor and Elder Koronn stated as they behaved and went to their respective places in the magic circles.

"Let us begin." Adrian stated as all four of them suddenly transformed to their true forms as their glamour magic became erased since they need to focus all their magic and attention for this.

"What are we going to do with these pills again?" Creepysoo asked.

"These pills will be given to all living NPCs. The undead do not have a use for them and it would take a lot of pills if we were to even count the undead that will join in this raid." Kabrakan replied.

"When do you think that they will start the portals?" Creepysoo followed up with a question but all people living in Avalon suddenly felt a powerful tremor for a split second.

The tremor was not because of an earthquake as that is impossible to happen in a floating island. Also, if the floating island did tremor then that would be a sign of something bad is going to happen. The tremor was a result of the four high ranked demons activating the spell that they have prepared.

The four high ranked demons could be seen floating on top of Avalon as a magic circle of unknown language is created in the sky. The four high ranked demons are also in their true forms which is a rare sight to see even in Avalon. Many players actually liked the fact that the high ranked demons have cooler forms.

Some even voted on who was the coolest among them but Adrian took that spot because he had two forms instead of one. In the sky, Adrian is actually showing two of his forms as his right half is that of his Aetheros form while the left half is his Netheros form. The other elders are in their true forms as well as they channeled their mana into the magic circle.

"What is happening?!" The people of Avalon and all the territories marked by the Daemos are all experiencing a wave of heavy energy as if parts of their territory are being ripped apart.

"It is starting!" The appointed generals of each army shouted as they were told what would happen or what the signal would be when everything gets connected.

"Portalis Stellarium!" All four high ranked demons stated in unison as their immense mana crossed space, time, and force.

In a blink of an eye, a large rift was created on each of the territories marked and all of them were connected to the rift that was created below Avalon. The soldiers that were stationed in the area where the rifts occurred could not believe their eyes as they all see Avalon when they peek into the rift. The land that was said to be floating in the sky could now be seen in almost all parts of the world.

The singular rift in Avalon was not yet finished as Elder Ascalor moved inside the middle of the magic circle and controlled it directly. He used his mastery of space and split the large rift that appeared in Avalon into smaller rifts that are consistent to the number of places the territory is connected to.

[You are currently connected to the Portalis Stellarium. 10% of your maximum mana will be locked to maintain his spell.]

"The portals have been created! All of you go and distribute the medicine!" Levin Cloud shouted as the guild members were tasked to give the pill that Jianna and Brew created to all of the NPCs.

Description: A pill created that transcends any pill that has been created today as the materials used to make this is not something a normal alchemist can ever obtain. It was made using the Blessed Leaf of the Tree of Life and Death and other materials that can rival the rarity of the former. This pill was made with the combined effort of Alchemy Grandmaster Jianna and Alchemy Grandmaster Brew. This pill was also created due to the help of the Champion and Envoy of the Twin Gods.

"I still cannot believe that they were able to create such a powerful pill in just one try. It was insane to the point that Brew overcame his bottleneck of being a Master Alchemist." Levin Cloud thought as he continued his inspection of the guild members entering the portals.

As soon as the Pantheon guild members showed up, the Grand Mages or any magic master of the respective kingdoms or races came up to meet them. As soon as they all saw the pills, the Grand Mages salivated as they wanted it all for themselves as they inspected the pill. As soon as the Grand Mages told what the pill could do, almost no one believed them.

"Please fall in line as only one can be taken per person." Adrian stated as he was in Avalon speaking in front of the numerous gates created before him.

"Is it truly safe?" One of the kings asked as he did not want to have his men die from poisoning and such.

"Are humans really this fragile and afraid? I shall test it for myself then." Elder Koronn stated as he walked inside one of the portals and took a pill in one of the crates.

Elder Koronn swallowed the small pill with ease and exhaled a breath that smelled like the first day of spring. At first, the changes of his body were minimal, but he suddenly felt all of his body pains vanished and a powerful burst of energy suddenly exploded from him. The burst of energy was enough to actually create a small shockwave that made the other soldiers stumble.

"It tastes divine! There are you happy now? I am not poisoned and my power increased by a lot." Elder Koronn stated as he walked back to Avalon via the gate.

Even if Elder Koronn already did a live demonstration, the others were still not at ease with what they are presented with. The ordinary soldiers were not convinced but the Grand Mages could not stop themselves. If there is anything that can make Grand Mages crazy, then that is the pursuit of higher magic, and they just found themselves the most powerful doper to ever exist.

"I volunteer as tribute, your majesty!"

"I volunteer as tribute, my chieftain!"

"I shall be the first to try, my lord!"

The Grand Mages all became incredibly determined to be the first ones to receive these pills. They can smell something filled with potent magic power when they see one. Their eyes that could detect even the most hidden mana is basically glued to those pills. Adrian chuckled as he knew that those mages would be the first ones to succumb.

It did not matter what race or kingdom they belong to as mages are all the same in the end. One can say that mages are either self-serving or dedicated to their countries, but Adrian always labels them only one personality type. Mages are beings that want to transcend their understanding of the world or anything inside of it which is why they bury themselves in research.

"Please calm down as we need to tell you that you can only have one. Any more than one could make your body explode if you cannot hand the energy, it will give you." Adrian stated but the Grand Mages did not care as their hands were still hovering on top of the pills to get the one they need.

"Are you done?" All of the grand mages asked simultaneously which shocked all of the ruling classes as they have never seen their Grand Mages this determined.

"Sorry if I was keeping you. Please get one and swallow immediately." Adrian stated as the Grand Mages all gulped at the same time when they received their pill.

As soon as the Grand Mages devoured the pill, all of them exploded with powerful energy and made their bodies burst with mana. Almost all of their entire body became a man a circuit that effectively used even the mana around them. This was the realm of a Magic Emperor as those that attain this realm can wield the mana that is around them with ease.

Chapter 2468: Fighting in Two Fronts III

"My Mana is over 900, 000!" One of the Grand Mages shouted as his body overflowed with mana as it increased his threshold to such a vast degree.

The Grand Mages all had the same effects on their bodies, and it seems that they managed to get the full 50% increase effects. The bodies of the Grand Mages are very in tune with the miracle pill that they unlocked the effects that is equivalent to that of a Magic Emperor. The Grand Mages relished such effects that they immediately tried to form the magic circles that they can only write on paper before.

"This! This is the state of Pure Mana Body!" The Grand Mages shouted with joy as they could now experience what it is like to be a Magic Emperor.

Mages always dreamed of this state as it is the point where they are in the peak of magic wielding. When one could use mana from their surroundings and molding it without any issues then they can be considered as a Magic Emperor. A normal mage will not be able to do such a thing and even a Grand Magus experiences great resistance from the mana around them.

Becoming a Magic Emperor is basically having the same privileges as that of a dragon when it comes to the mana around them. Unlike dragons that have some elemental restrictions, Magic Emperors may be able to wield spells of all attributes if they trained well in their Grand Mage stage. This meant that Magic Emperors will have access to all attribute magic without using their own mana to perform the spells.

"Please do not become so happy and start releasing Mythical Tier spells as if they are basic spells. We still need to have the others ingest the pill to boost their odds of winning and survival. If you have verified the effects, then please instruct your fellow country men or race to ingest the pill as well. Thank you." Adrian stated to which the Grand Mages happily reported that there was no issue with the pills.

Seeing that their Grand Mages become more powerful than before, the generals were the ones that followed. Mages tend to use mana while the generals of each army will use what they call as sword energy or sword aura. The effects on the famed generals were as potent as that of the Grand Mages as their strength basically almost doubled as they attained great enlightenment as well as a body that is incredibly difficult to damage.

The heights that the generals felt that they had no way of knowing suddenly became clear to them as they obtained an insight on how they can become stronger. In fact, it is not just the generals that had this but all beings that ingested the pills somehow had rare awakenings. Some of the beings awakened hidden skills that they had no idea that they had. Some had been shown the way they need to train in order to become stronger.

The pills presented by the Champion of the Twin Gods was not a mere pill that could buff you but a sacred elixir that awakens one's potential. Upon seeing some of their comrades awakening abilities that they have never seen before, the willingness to ingest the pill became even more apparent. Even some of the chiefs and royalty went in line as well because they might obtain an awakening as well.

Adrian did not stop them from going in line as he also counted the royalties and other higher authorities of each race in the count. He does not know what will happen to them hence he always counted them when thinking of the people getting the buff. It was their choice whether they will ingest it along with the others as Adrian was not forcing them to do it. He did tell that he will not be responsible for those that are weak in the upcoming fight.

There is also an incredibly noticeable effect on the body when someone ingests the pill. The impurities in the body are actually turned into mana and makes the skin better. This made those that are obsessed with cleansing their bodies eat the pill as well. Also, any sickness was cured upon ingesting the pill which made it something desired by those that were afflicted with curses or irreparable damage.

Some even regrown their lost limbs and even scars faded when they ingested it. The most prominent effect on women is that their skin became soft and glistening. For the men, the ones that suffered from bald head have now seen the light of day. Even minor colds got wiped out clean from their bodies as every sickness is cured by the pill. This will remain true as the pill literally cleansed and reformed their bodies to peak performance.

All the women and men that were blessed by the pill suddenly prayed to the Twin Gods for giving such a blessing. The eyes filled with vigor could be seen piercing through Adrian's back. Adrian just made sure to stand straight and smile even though he knows what those stares meant. He just waited for everyone to get all the pills they need.

"There are still a handful that are left since we did make a couple extra. Those of Avalon have already eaten their share which meant that we can use the others to heal." Adrian muttered as he looked at the crowd.

"I know this is quite selfish but those that have valiant warriors that have lost a limb or limbs, succumbed to sickness, or even old age! We have a hundred or so pills that we can use to revive them to their former glory. You can even use them to cleanse curses applied to them as well. Call upon them so that there will be no waste when it comes to these pills since they will go bad after a few days. It is better to use it than to let it rot." Adrian stated which melted the hearts of the people since the rest can be used to help those that really need it.

Chapter 2469: Fighting in Two Fronts IV

Hearing Adrian's declaration, the ones that know of people needing such miraculous pill made their moves. Some called upon great warriors that were heavily injured and some called those that were heavily cursed. The ones that were heavily injured suddenly experienced such a miraculous body reconstruction. Their pale and skinny bodies actually reverted back to their peak form which made them cry.

Some of these people were actually demigods that were heavily injured for protecting their people. They were some of the hidden demigods that waited for their deaths while being the guardians of their families and countries. Seeing demigods return back to their former glory ignited the morale of all the people. Powerful demigods that lost their glory now rose up and returned to their peak to drive away the impending doom.

"To think that even those pills will work on demigods. We now have more fighting power than we ever thought. They basically pledged their allegiance to you since you were able to return them to their prime. Also, will the pills go bad if we hide them in our inventory or if you place a time freeze spell on them?" Levin Cloud stated as he went next to Adrian.

"The pills are too potent that even temporal magic cannot affect them. I even had Elder Koronn try to use the spell to see if he could store them indefinitely, but he also failed. I am just glad that we did not need to waste the others and gained powerful allies along with it. Please tell all that we will now proceed with the fight as I will need to tell the elders that we are now ready." Adrian stated as he vanished.

"Always so busy." Levin Cloud commented as his face turned serious before looking at all the people in the other side of the rift.

"Preparations have already been completed! We shall now commence the initial attack on both the primordial beasts that are plaguing our continent! Are all of you ready!?" Levin Cloud asked them.

"We are ready!" The cheers of all warriors reverberated as they no longer cared if they had differences as they all live in the central continent. The enemy does not even care about whether they are human, dwarf, elf, or any other race. The enemy only cares for destruction and the fall of civilization.

"For the central continent! For the world!" Levin Cloud shouted.

"For the central continent! For the world!" The others shouted in response.

"They are ready. Let us begin." Adrian stated as he and the elders returned back to the large magic circle that is on top of Avalon.

"Forming the gates. Connecting space and stabilizing it with time and force." All four high ranking demons stated as all of them exploded with mana to create large portals that led to their designated locations.

Each of the countries were already assigned what Primordial Beast of Sin they are going to fight which is why no one is not uninformed of who they will end up fighting. The portals created led directly to the claimed territory of the Primordial Beasts. As soon as the portals were opened, Levin Cloud led the charge towards the Primordial Beast of Sloth while Anastacia is asked to lead the one against the Primordial Beast of Envy.

The guild alliance agreed to have both of them split up as they can revive other players in a large area if needed. They are also the only ones that could basically call upon their respective divine trees for aid. The guild alliance also placed Levin Cloud with the Primordial Beast of Sloth as they have learned that it is the most powerful among the current four that are rampaging.

Adrian still has memories that are useful that he extracted from the two primordial beasts that he took energy from. Adrian also planned to be against the Primordial Beast of Sloth but will assist with the Primordial Beast of Envy if needed. The guild alliance also agreed with this as they learned that he could extract information from souls which they will need against the remaining two should they need to act against those as well.

The two claimed territories of the two primordial beasts are vastly different. The claimed territory of the Primordial Beast of Sloth became a vast wetland that has numerous foliage that are overgrown. The area is also thick with this pungent smell that can irritate the nose. Fortunately for those that ingested the pill, they are immune to the smell as their noses purifies it as soon as they inhale.

The claimed territory of the Primordial Beast of Envy is a vast green jungle. This vast jungle is also home to numerous reptilian monsters that are poisonous. The air of this jungle is also incredibly poisonous as well but the pill that the people ingested made them immune to the minor poisonous gas that is spread throughout.

As soon as the gates were stabilized, the four high ranked demons nodded at each other as they will separate as well. Old Man Pann was the only one left and will be the guardian of Avalon for the time being. Adrian is paired with Elder Koronn while Elder Ascalor and Elder Bronx are paired with each other. This was to ensure that they have their bases covered as Adrian tends to fight in melee or midrange.

[You have entered the territory of the Primordial Beast of Sloth.]

[You are affected by Grand Lethargy.]

[A powerful mystical force is protecting you from the effects of Grand Lethargy which is why you became immune to the effects for the time being.]

"The gates are stable. Thankfully, all of the areas they have claimed are filled with nature. Also, the debuffs that they apply actually start at the very edge of their territory which is crazy. Thankfully, we are prepared and there seems to be no problem with this. Okay then! Faekin and Elven units, please go into position!" Adrian stated as the next phase of the plan is now in session.

Chapter 2470: Power of the Fae

The portals have already been created to the territories that the Primordial Beast of Sloth and Primordial Beast of Envy have claimed. As expected, or rather as it was already observed a few days prior, the areas were covered in thick natural foliage that seems to somewhat reflect the state of the primordial beast that claimed it. It is not just the ones living in the world that will help them in this fight as Adrian also recruited the Faekin.

Adrian reasoned that the Faekin are also living in the main world through one of the floating islands. Also, a lot of the Faekin players also signed up to fight in the upcoming raid. The caring nature of the Faekin elders became their weakness and easily agreed to Adrian's request to help in clearing the area.

"Will it be difficult to clear?" Adrian asked Elder Danaya as she was the one leading the Faekin on his side.

"The land is vast, but it is not impossible. How do you want us to change it?" Elder Danaya asked.

"Make it so that even horses can easily traverse through the land. If you can restore it back to its original state, then that would be good." Adrian replied.

"Let me check." Elder Danaya stated as she proceeded to hug the wet land, but her body did not become dirty with mud at all.

"Please tell me good news." Adrian muttered.

"Well, I can say that the influence of the Primordial Beast of Sloth has seeped deep into the land itself. Still, the Primordial Beast of Sloth is not doing it actively as I tried changing a small area earlier and it did not even show any reaction. If it is as lazy as you have told me then we may be able to change the land for a day." Elder Danaya stated.

"A day is enough to reach the real enemy which is the Primordial Beast of Sloth. We cannot afford to make any other mistakes or wait any longer. The Primordial Beast of Sloth grows more powerful with more sleep it gets. If it gets too much, then the Primordial Beast of Sloth by itself can destroy the central continent as it is." Adrian replied.

"Let Elder Danaya fix this for you. I treat you like an adopted son after all. Fae and elves, swarm around me!" Elder Danaya stated as she called upon the escorts that she arrived with.

"What is happening on the other side?" Adrian asked as he looked towards the other gate.

Adrian saw that it was the Fairy King that facilitated the checking on the claimed territory of the Primordial Beast of Envy. Unlike the Primordial Beast of Sloth, the Primordial Beast of Envy is actively tainting the land with its energy. The Fairy King grumbled but he shouted that he will never be defeated.

The Fairy King gathered twice the number of Faekin that Elder Danaya called upon. He also had the help of most of the Fairy Royals and Nobles. The world alliances were wondering what was happening as they were still on standby. They thought that they would charge right in and destroy any enemy they faced but they were shocked and bewildered when they saw the Faekin.

Any being would be shocked when seeing a Faekin as they are beings that are treated like nature spirits by almost all races. They are also considered good in the legends as they are the ones that created the elves. Also, the elves were a major race in the world prior which is why the Faekin are not hated compared to the Daemos.

"Let us begin the dance!" Elder Danaya and the Fairy King stated simultaneously as the gathered Faekin started to dance.

The dance of the Faekin was incredibly alluring as they hummed and produced sound with their wings as well. It sounded like a beautiful melody that is upbeat and lively which could make anyone break into dance. Some even started to move their bodies unconsciously but a lot are wondering why they suddenly danced.

The mages and even the elves that were present in the area could feel it though as they were incredibly sensitive to mana. Even the generals that do not handle mana at all could feel the power suddenly pulsating into the ground. The Fairy Dance as they call it was a way for the Faekin to restore a land back to its prime as a collective. They also created the Fairy Dance so that restoring land will be fun.

"Is that why you do not do it? I do remember that you have two left feet." Adrian whispered to Levin Cloud which prompted the latter to smack the former's arm due to the insult.

"It can only be performed in a group. If I am by myself then I would look like a lunatic dancing on my own." Levin Cloud replied.

"Whatever floats your boat. Anyways, we should get ready as the changes are starting." Adrian stated as he looked below his feet.

The wet and muddy soil suddenly started to become a bit dry as fresh grass started to grow. The excess moisture of the soil started to be absorbed by the grass and the heavy atmosphere of the land has been lifted as well. This is not just happening to Adrian's location but the other location where the Fairy King is located as well.

The dancing of the Faekin also created a bizarre phenomenon of moving nature itself. When Elder Danaya gestured her hand to the right, the thick foliage also moved to the right as well. All movements that the Faekin did were deliberate as they created a path for the world alliance to take.

The Faekin were changing the landscape of the area with their dancing and singing. It did not take long for the one-hour performance to stop and the land before them completely changed. The wet soil became stable ground that will not cave in even due to heavy load.
