Chapter 7 - Amulet Of Chaos

Adrian pondered what to do next since he did not know what just happened. He slapped his face and took a deep breath and inspected the item since it's already in his hand. The necklace has a violet colored gem in the middle while two demon-like claws are grabbing it forming a crown-like aesthetic.

Name: Amulet of Chaos(Character Bound)

Tier:???

Description: A mysterious necklace said to have been forged by the Alpha God from the chaos energy the universe produced during its birth. It was given to the Asmodians to use for unknown purposes.

Effects: (a) Increased MP regeneration by 100% (b) ???

"Huh, that's odd its my first time encountering a Tier ??? item" Adrian pondered.

He recalled the tier list of items in game which are common, uncommon, rare, epic, legendary, mythical and transcendent. He never encountered this tier on the forums or rather maybe it was not discussed because it was supposed to be a unique item. " Good thing it's character bound or else someone might steal it" Adrian whispered while looking sideways. He equipped the necklace and started heading outside the town to grind some exp.

Looking from above him was the mysterious old woman but her visage turning into a beautiful lady that could attract even the gods.

"Finally, after a millennia an heir is born. I can now rest knowing the future is in the hands of another. Will this world turn to ruin or will it flourish? It is amusing to foretell" Lucretia said as her figure slowly dissipates.

In the plains outside of town. Adrian is wandering about in search for enemies with Sirius as the puppy can be seen as eager to battle. The plains just outside of town are crowded with newbies leveling themselves to reach level 5 so that they can leave Genesis and really start their adventure since the first town is basically like a tutorial.

As Adrian with Sirius went a little further away from the plains and into a nearby forest, they encountered their first foe.

Name: Rabbit

LVL: 1

HP: 20/20

Description: A wild rabbit commonly seen at plains and forest. Commonly hunted for their fur and meat. A very agile creature especially when it perceives danger.

"Sirius use Bite" Adrian commanded.

Sirius lunged at the rabbit. The rabbit perceived the danger and tried to run but Sirius was faster than it a little bit. Sirius managed to bite its leg thereby immobilizing the rabbit and finishing it off consecutively with bite. The rabbit dropped some fur and meat. Adrian picked this up and continued finding prey since he only has limited time playing.

The duo finished their hunt when Adrian was level 4 with 99% exp and Sirius now level 5. In order for players to reach level 5 and leave the town, they needed to accept a quest in subjugating a level 5 Alpha Wolf which is the boss of the plains outside of town thus ending the quest and receiving the teleportation scroll from the Town chief when a player gives the quest item of wolf heart.

The duo then started walking back to the town to receive the quest.
