

Obsessed CEO Throws Himself at Me Chapter 1813

Chapter 1813 Kicked Out Of The Company

“Since you’ve discovered everything, I have nothing else to say. What will you do?” Oswald asked after he shut the file. I might have done many things behind his back, but he won’t get rid of me for his father’s sake.

“You’ll be dismissed from your position and Nightshire Group won’t pay you for your services anymore. If you’re willing to sell your shares, I will buy them from you. If you’re not willing to sell them, you will receive dividends according to the percentage of your shares every year. However, you no longer need to attend the annual general meeting,” Vinson revealed as he stared Oswald in the eye.

Oswald’s eyes turned as wide as saucers. He worked hard his entire life for Nightshire Group but ended up getting kicked out of the company.

“You are welcome to state your disagreement,” Vinson added nonchalantly when he realized Oswald was staring at him incredulously.

Resentment brewed deep within Oswald. All I did was use my position to gain profits for my company. So what if I took a few million from the company? Is there a need to fire me?

he dared not voice his objection out loud. He was afraid that any objections.” With that said, Oswald slammed the file onto conference room in embezzled from the company, so please don’t dismiss me,” landed in the darkest pit. My reputation is destroyed. I've wronged the company and Vinson. Most importantly,

have to repay

Vinson could finish, Patrick cut in, "Are you insisting on firing me?" He then lowered his head despondently. It was my fault. I shouldn't have gotten deserve to be punished for what I did. Getting dismissed from

for Mrs. Chance's

gazed at him in disbelief. He promptly heaved a sigh of relief