Chapter 1101: Chapter 10100, the cautious No. 76

Translator: 549690339

No. 76 did not leave his address. He only kept in touch with No. 55 on the chat app.

Before Yu Tian arrived at dusk city, he first contacted No. 55 and asked No. 55 to inform No. 76. Then, he waited for No. 76 to call him.

It could be imagined that No. 76's current situation was not safe.

Other than Yu Tian, he would not reveal his location to anyone else, nor would he pass on this information through anyone else.

Even to Yu Tian, he did not leave his contact information. Instead, he asked Yu Tian to wait passively for him to contact him.

After Yu Tian entered dusk city, No. 76's call came in time.

On the other end of the line was a very hoarse voice. "Hello, is this number 1?"

"It's me.

“I’ll be waiting for you at Alice’s Cafe on Yolanda Street.”

“Okay.

The other end of the line quickly hung up, as if afraid of being tracked.

“Alice’s cafe on Yolanda Street... Kobe, do you know this place?”

Yu Tian asked Kobe.

Kobe scratched his head. “I think... I should know.”

Although Kobe was from wind country, he didn’t live in Twilight City before, so he wasn’t familiar with this place.

He still had to ask for directions like those foreign tourists in order to find the place.

Yolanda Street was still easy to find. Kobe casually asked a passerby and soon found the place.

But the Alice Cafe, those passersby were not too clear.

The two could only follow Yolanda Street all the way.

After searching for a long time, finally at a fork in the road, the sign of Alice Cafe could be seen in the distance.

The cafe was hidden in a narrow street, and there were not many pedestrians on the road.

The Fork in the road could be driven into, but after dozens of meters, the street came to an end.

In fact, the end of the street could still be moved forward, but the road had become a few alleys in different directions, and cars couldn't pass through.

The sign of Alice's Cafe was hanging at the end of an alley.

Kobe couldn't help but complain, "This damn place is really well hidden... "

"Let's go."

Yu Tian stopped his car at the end of the street, and then got out of the car to walk with Kobe.

It felt like a small square at the end of the street, but there were no pedestrians on the square. They walked slowly along the roadside.

The square was surrounded by residential buildings, and there were small alleys between the residential buildings. It looked like a courtyard house.

This kind of terrain felt like a trap. It seemed like they would be surrounded and killed in this small square at any time.

Kobe's expression was normal, but he was secretly on guard.

Yu Tianyi was a bold person. He didn't care about the ambush at all. He strode toward the direction of the cafe.

The two of them walked all the way to the entrance of the cafe. Nothing Strange happened.

The door of the cafe was an old-fashioned glass wooden door. When Yu Tian pushed the door open, there was a creaking sound.

Behind the door was a large hall. The space was bigger than Yu Tian had imagined. There were more than twenty seats in total.

The decoration in the hall was simple and old, but the lights were still bright.

There were many customers in the cafe. It was hard to tell from the outside that business was so good here.

Yu Tian felt that No. 76 should be an easterner, but he roughly looked around the cafe's hall and did not find any easterner.

This made him a little confused.

Could it be that... No. 76 hadn't arrived yet?

This no. 76... was indeed very cautious!

Yu Tian didn't say much and signaled Kobe to find a seat to sit down.

It was still breakfast time, and most people in the coffee shop were here for breakfast.

Yu Tian and Kobe had already had breakfast, but in order to appear more normal, the two of them still sat down, ordered coffee and sandwiches, and pretended to eat slowly.

While drinking coffee, Yu Tian also observed the few staff members in the coffee shop.

These waiters were all locals, and there wasn't a single easterner.

Yu Tian originally thought that this might be a private hideout for No. 76. Since No. 76 wasn't among the guests, it might be the owner.

But now it seemed that the possibility wasn't very high.

An easterner-run coffee shop would usually hire some easterner workers.

Especially as a secret hideout for himself, No. 76 should arrange some trustworthy employees.

These trustworthy employees were usually his compatriots. Only his compatriots would keep secrets for their boss at the critical moment.

Of course, if they met someone unkind, their own countrymen would also be the easiest to betray their boss.

These were the two extreme characteristics of their countrymen. The exact situation would depend on the boss' judgment.

Yu Tian really could not guess where No. 76 was hiding. He could only eat his breakfast slowly while waiting for No. 76 to contact him.

Not long after, No. 76 called him.

“Boss, I'm outside the coffee shop. A black car...”

Yu Tian was slightly stunned. This time, No. 76's voice was no longer hoarse, but a woman's voice.

Was she playing a thousand-face trick?

Wasn't No. 76 a little too cautious?

After finishing their coffee, Yu Tian and Kobe went to pay the bill and then left the cafe.

There was an extra car beside the small square, an ordinary black sedan.

Yu Tian and Kobe slowly walked to the side of the black sedan and looked at the driver's seat.

A woman was sitting in the driver's seat, wearing a pair of large sunglasses.

The woman took off her sunglasses and revealed a pretty face. She smiled at Yu Tian and said, "Hello, boss. Pm No. 76."

Yu Tian sighed. '(So it really is a woman...

The second time No. 76 contacted him, he used his real voice.

Yu Tian suddenly recalled a detail.

When No. 76 first contacted him with his hoarse male voice, he asked if he was No. 1.

When he arrived at the coffee shop, No. 76 contacted him again and called him boss.

This meant that No. 76 could not confirm his identity before, so he used his hoarse male voice and the code name No. 1 to communicate with him.

When he arrived at the coffee shop, No. 76 immediately confirmed his identity.

Then, not only did he call him boss, he didn't even continue to conceal his identity.

Yu Tian suddenly understood. "You know me?"

No. 76 smiled slightly. "Yes, I saw your photo at Uncle Long's place.

"Oh..."

Yu Tian came to a realization, but he also felt a little surprised..

Yu Tian's identity was a secret in the DONGLONG company.

Although the senior management of the DONGLONG company knew that there was another boss behind Uncle Long, many people did not know the boss, nor did they know the specific identity of the boss.

For example, number 55, who had personally dealt with Yu Tian and guessed his identity, was only an exception. That was the contact person that Uncle Long had specially arranged for Yu Tian.

The other members of the DONGLONG company had no chance to get in touch with Yu Tian's identity.

No. 76 had never had any contact with Yu Tian before, nor had she done anything for Yu Tian. Uncle Long had no need to let her see Yu Tian's photos at all.

Therefore, No. 76 had seen Yu Tian's photos. It was definitely not through any proper channels.

This was a very unruly behavior.

In an underground organization like the DONGLONG company, unruly behavior was a very serious matter.

However, Uncle Long did not seem to have noticed the leak.

Or perhaps, although he discovered No. 76's unruly behavior, he did not punish No. 76. Instead, he tacitly let No. 76 know the confidential information.

Either way, it meant that No. 76's ability was extraordinary.

Yu Tian looked at the buildings around the small square and asked No. 76 curiously, "So, where were you hiding just now to spy on us?"

No. 76 shrugged. "I wasn't hiding anywhere. I was in my car... I saw you through the surveillance camera in the cafe."

"The surveillance camera in the cafe..."

Yu Tian remembered that there was indeed more than one surveillance camera in the cafe.

He was careless. These small details could sometimes kill people.

He sighed. "So, are you the behind-the-scenes owner of this cafe?"

"No, not only the owner can see the surveillance camera. It's just hacking into a civilian surveillance system. It's a very simple job... It's also my specialty."

"You're... A Hacker?"

("You can put it that way." No. 76 sighed. "I'm not a fighter, and that's all I can do. "If I hadn't seen you through the surveillance cameras and confirmed your identity, I wouldn't have dared to show my face and come into contact with you."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "It seems that you don't believe No. 55.

No. 55 had already told all her colleagues that he had contacted the boss. She had also secretly informed No. 76 that Yu Tian would come to dusk city to look for her.

Now it seemed that No. 76 also had some reservations about No. 55's trust.

No. 76 narrowed her eyes and said, "This is not a matter of trust. Anyone can be held hostage and coerced, and there is also the possibility of betrayal..."

unless I see you with my own eyes, boss, I won't completely trust anyone."

"Hahaha... "yu tian laughed and said, "That's right, you can only trust me. I'm the boss. The boss won't betray you.

No. 76 also laughed and said, "That's right... get in the car, boss. Let's go back to the safe house and talk.

"We're driving. You lead the way. "

Yu Tian did not get in No. 76's car. Instead, he drove his own car and followed behind No. 76's car with Kobe.

No. 76's safe house was not nearby. Yu Tian followed her car and walked around Twilight City for half an hour.

Finally, they walked to the edge of the city, a remote street that looked like a wealthy district.

It was full of single-family villas and small courtyards. Every family had a small garden and a small two-or three-story villa.

There were many choices for safe houses. Some people would choose to live in a chaotic slum, while others would choose to live in a quiet wealthy district. These choices had their own advantages.

In the movies, the safe house is exaggerated. For example, there are a lot of weapons, a lot of money, and a lot of gold bars hidden in the house. As soon as the Secret Service agents return to the safe house, they can immediately arm themselves to the teeth and gain great power.

But in fact, the safe house is just an ordinary house. It is only used for hiding. What it needs most is enough food reserves, so that the hiding people do not have to go out.

Then, there are some necessary defense weapons and communication tools.

The quantity can not be exaggerated like an arsenal, because it is not necessary.

The safe house will usually have transportation tools, and there should be a better traffic environment around, so that agents can move at any time.

Another important point was that when the agents suddenly moved in, they would not arouse the suspicion of the neighbors.

A creature like the people in the morning sun could exist in every corner. If a few strange strangers suddenly appeared in the community, it would easily arouse the suspicion of the surrounding residents. Then, the police would come to the house to inquire and verify.

Therefore, when choosing a safe house, one had to pay special attention to this point.

The key to choosing a certain slum was to find a mixed slum with all kinds of people, and they were all floating people.

Everyone did not know each other, and they would see countless new faces every few days. No one would care about who lived here.

The key to choosing a rich area was to have the neighbors ignore each other and pay no attention to the affairs of the Community Streets.

Everyone closed their doors and lived their own lives. No one disturbed anyone.

This was difficult to achieve in foreign countries, especially among the middle class.

Because foreigners were very meddlesome, they liked to call the police for trivial matters. It was as if the police took their taxes for nothing and did not work.

The safe house No. 76 chose naturally didn't have this problem,

The nearby villas and campuses were far apart, so there wasn't much interaction between the neighbors. Many residents didn't even live here often. No. 76 had lived here for a few days and hadn't been harassed during that time.

She could basically confirm the safety and privacy of the house.

However, in case of harassment, especially from the police because of the color of the occupant's skin, No. 76 had specially notified an assistant to come to the villa in the morning.

The assistant was from the windy nation, and her skin color and face would make the safe house much less troublesome.

The biggest advantage of this community was that the police force was very abundant, and there were even police cars patrolling frequently at night. But the worst thing about this neighborhood was that there were too many police officers.

If a white assistant didn't show up, No. 76 was worried that she and Yu Tian, two Easterners, would move into the villa and be easily questioned and investigated by the police.

Of course, in the morning, No. 76 didn't know that Yu Tian also had a white man with him.

So now it seemed that this move was a little unnecessary.

No. 76 drove into the yard and opened the garage with the electric key..

Translator: 549690339

Two cars could be parked in the garage. The garage of such a villa was usually provided for the male and female owners to park one car each.

No. 76's garage only had her own car, and the other spot was left for Yu Tian.

The two entered the garage one after the other, and No. 76 used the electric key to close the garage door.

There were a few small steps in the garage. On the top of the steps was a small door that led to the living room of the villa.

This kind of villa was usually half a meter above the ground. Only the garage was slightly lower and located on the horizon.

After Yu Tian got off the car, he heard a slight noise coming from the living room next door.

He frowned and said softly, "Is there someone else in the safe house?" Number 76 also replied softly, "There's still one of my assistants."

Yu Tian continued to whisper, "One person?" "One person."

Number 76 started to feel a little nervous.

Yu Tian's meaning was that he had noticed that there were at least two people in the living room next door. Otherwise, he would not have asked such nonsense like "One person" after knowing that number 76 had an assistant.

It was impossible for there to be outsiders in the safe house. If there were, then they must have encountered danger.

No. 76 did not have any fighting strength. She could only take two steps back quietly and lean against the wall.

Yu Tian looked up at the ceiling of the garage.

There was also a camera in the garage, and it was a wide-angle camera. It could bring the entire garage into view.

If the enemy had invaded the safe house and waited for No. 76 to come back, then it was very likely that they were already observing them through the camera.

Therefore, it was not very meaningful to act stealthily.

Yu Tian sighed softly in his heart, then swaggered up the steps, pushed open the small door, and walked into the living room.

There seemed to be no one in the living room, but Yu Tian had already heard the sound just now.

He took a few glances at the living room and instantly had an idea.

If there were people hiding in the living room, it would be behind the sofas, wine cabinets, and the doors that led to the dining hall of the other rooms.

Playing this kind of game, could you guys be my opponents?

Yu Tian sneered, then suddenly jumped up.

His qinggong had long surpassed the limits of human sports. This jump directly swept across the entire living room and flew towards the stairs leading to the second floor of the villa.

The instant he swept past the sofa and the wine cabinet, Yu Tian could clearly see that there were indeed people hiding behind these two things.

These were two white males. One was half lying behind the sofa, while the other was half squatting behind the wine cabinet. Their hands were tightly holding pistols.

Even a fool could see that these two people were definitely enemies.

Without thinking, Yu Tian casually threw out two flying needles.

Although he already had a godly skill like the six meridians divine sword, this thing was too destructive and consumed a lot of internal energy.

If it was not necessary, he felt that flying needles were more convenient.

He carried two kinds of weapons with him. One was the flying needles that he needed, and the other was the big revolver that he got from Faraday.

It was not safe to carry weapons with him. If he was searched by the police, it would easily cause trouble.

However, Yu Tian had some tricks to deal with the police searching him.

It was like a magician hiding something. As long as he was fast enough, no one would be able to find anything on him.

The reason why he still carried the big revolver was because Yu Tian felt that the big revolver was very intimidating at times.

Although he had the six meridians divine sword, the enemy did not know how powerful his six meridians divine sword was.

Using a finger to point at the enemy was naturally not as effective as using a large revolver to point at the enemy.

This was also a very helpless situation.

Of course, under normal circumstances, the large revolver would not be used.

Especially in this situation, flying needles were more practical than any other method.

Two flying needles flew over. and the two white males fainted on the spot-

But Yu Tian did not stop his movements.

After practicing the nameless mental cultivation method, he felt that his ears and eyes were particularly sharp, and his senses were much more sensitive than before.

He could feel that there were two more people hiding in the kitchen, and there were two people hiding in the corridor around the corner.

Needless to say, these sneaky guys were definitely enemies.

Yu Tian continued to look at the position of the stairs and flew over, conveniently knocking down the two guys hiding in the corridor.

The remaining two guys in the kitchen finally made a move.

Perhaps it was the sound of their accomplices collapsing in the corridor that made them suspicious, but they actually quietly poked half of their heads out of the kitchen.

This was enough for Yu Tian.

There were many acupuncture points that could cause a person to faint, and the acupuncture points on the head were usually the best.

The enemy took the initiative to poke their heads out, so Yu Tian did not stand on ceremony at all. He casually threw two more needles at them.

These two guys lay down silently.

No. 76 followed behind Kobe and entered the living room together.

She saw a few people lying limply on the floor in the living room, and her eyes widened in surprise.

In just one or two seconds, the boss had silently taken care of so many people?

Kobe smiled proudly and said with a suppressed voice, "Our boss is a super killer... uh, the boss is not a killer, the boss is... Is it, Wargod? Soldier King?"

No. 76's eyes lit up. No wonder the boss dared to come to dusk city with only one follower.

She originally thought that the boss brought a secret force, but she didn't expect that the boss himself was the biggest secret force.

Yu Tian didn't pay attention to Kobe. He stood at the stairs and listened carefully

The first floor seemed to be empty.

As for the second floor, there seemed to be the sound of two people breathing.

The more enclosed and narrow the space was, the more sensitive Yu Tian's perception of sound was.

The area of this villa was still slightly larger, so he did not dare to be very sure about the subtle sounds he heard.

However, this did not matter.

Any ambush in such a complicated environment would be meaningless to him.

If he wanted to hurt Yu Tian, the best way was to use a sniper rifle to deal with him from afar.

In these small and complicated spaces, most people were not his match. As soon as they saw him, they had to lie down obediently.

With a light leap, he ignored all the stairs and quickly flew up to the second floor.

No. 76's jaw dropped in shock again.

Kobe also thought to himself, the boss is getting stronger and stronger.

When he went up to the second floor, Yu Tian saw two people sitting on the sofa in the living room.

One was a man, and the other was a woman. They were both Caucasian.

Neither of them had any weapons in their hands. They were both resting leisurely on the sofa.

Yu Tian's sudden appearance immediately caused their expressions to become extremely shocked.

They did not seem to have expected Yu Tian to be able to walk up to the second floor and jump up the stairs in such a strange way.

The strangest thing was that there was still no movement on the first floor. It was as if Yu Tian had appeared out of thin air.

After the man was shocked, he hurriedly reached into his clothes on his chest..

Translator: 549690339

The chest was also a place where guns were often hidden. The man's action was obviously to touch the gun.

However, Yu Tian did not give him the chance to take out the gun. He casually threw two flying needles and knocked the man and woman down.

It was necessary to knock the man down because the man's actions and reactions had already proved his hostile identity.

As for taking down the woman together, Yu Tian had his own reasons.

After taking down the two men, Yu Tian quickly searched the second floor again.

After confirming that there was no one on the second floor, he went down to the first floor again.

Kobe and No. 76 were still in the living room on the first floor. Kobe took the pistol from the unconscious enemy, but he did not search the other rooms.

He was not confident that he could kill all the enemies as quietly as Yu

Tian. Moreover, No. 76, a non-combatant, was still with him. If he left No. 76 to act alone, it was very likely that No. 76 would have an accident.

Therefore, Yu Tian could only do it himself and check the other rooms on the first floor.

Soon, he was sure that there was no one else in the entire villa.

At this time, he brought the man and woman on the second floor to the living room downstairs.

“Who is this woman?”

Although Yu Tian was asking No. 76, he already had a guess in his heart.

No. 76 said in surprise, “Why did you... This is my assistant.”

“She betrayed you,” Yu Tianyi said simply, “She should be the one who brought these gunmen here.”

No. 76 did not say anything. After discovering that there were still enemies in the house, she was already suspecting her assistant.

Yu Tianyi was even more certain that No. 76’s assistant had defected.

This was because this assistant had just been on the sofa in the living room on the second floor. She did not look like she was being held hostage or coerced at all.

Under normal circumstances, if the enemy had kidnapped and held this assistant hostage, even if they did not tie her up, they should at least use tape to seal her mouth to prevent her from shouting and giving No. 76 a warning, they would destroy their own ambush plan.

Not to mention pointing a pistol at her, they would sit on the sofa opposite her and stare at her.

Instead of holding hands with her side by side... They would lean against the sofa side by side and relax.

These abnormal phenomena could only prove one thing No. 76 ‘s assistant had defected.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and said, “This place may not be safe anymore... When did you move here?”

No. 76 said, “I moved here last night because I heard from No. 55 that you were coming to the headquarters to deal with the company’s matters, so I moved to this safe house...”

“With your assistant?”

“No, I only informed my assistant to rush to dusk city yesterday. “I only informed her of the location of the safe house this morning... because I felt that the two of US easterners living here would be easily investigated by the police, so I called her over to cover for me... “This morning? You had already left this villa by then?”

“Yes, when I informed her, I was just about to go out to pick you up.”

Yu Tian rubbed his chin. “So, this assistant of yours should have betrayed you a long time ago. “Then, after getting your location information this morning, she immediately rushed over with her people... but at that time, you had already left the villa, so they could only ambush you and wait for you to return home.

No. 76’s expression was a little solemn. “I didn’t think that she would betray me... because she’s not from the East Dragon Company, but my privately hired work assistant... I thought that she wouldn’t be involved in the matters of the East Dragon Company, so she should be an absolutely safe and reliable candidate...

Speaking of which, No. 76 couldn’t help but sigh deeply.

Most of the employees of the DONGLONG company had a cover identity on the surface, and there were very few people who were purely unemployed.

No. 76 had a few small companies of her own, all of which were in the computer and internet industries. This could also be considered to be in line with her professional abilities.

Normally, other than uncle long, her colleagues in the company would not be clear about her identity.

Even if someone had seen her in the headquarters, they would not know her name or personal information.

Other than the code name No. 76, she did not leave anything in donglong company.

Logically speaking, it was unlikely that the enemy would find out about her small and unknown company, much less be interested in the insignificant companies under her name.

After all, these companies were used to conceal her identity.

But now, the enemy had actually bribed all the employees in her company who had nothing to do with the affairs of the East Dragon Company.

This was simply pervasive.

Was this the work of a traitor of the East Dragon Company? Or... was it the work of the Kronin Society?

Yu Tian walked to the window of the villa and looked at the situation outside.

Outside the villa was a small courtyard. There were two small lawns in the courtyard, and in the middle was a small path for vehicles to pass through.

The fence of the small courtyard was a white wooden fence that was only as high as an ordinary person's waist.

The outside of the small courtyard was a wide street, and both sides of the street were empty land.

The nearest neighbor was also 100 meters away. This was a block that had not been fully developed yet. There were not many residents, and there was more empty land.

After simply observing the outside for a while, Yu Tian judged that there was no one outside to monitor the villa, because the surroundings were empty and no one could be seen.

It seemed that the enemies were hiding inside the villa.

They might think that it was not difficult to capture a non-combatant, but it was enough to ambush them inside the villa.

If they were to ambush them outside the villa, they might be seen by the patrolling police, which would only cause trouble for them.

"Although it is no longer safe here, it seems that... we still have time to interrogate the criminals. "

Yu Tian pondered for a moment, then said to Kobe, "Let's start. I'll leave it to you.

Interrogation was Kobe's specialty.

Kobe rubbed his hands. "No problem, boss. Who should we start with? I suggest we start with this woman. She'll definitely be very obedient... "

Yu Tian said, "You decide."

"Yes, Boss."

Kobe swiftly pulled the flying needle from the female assistant's body and wiped it clean. He respectfully handed it to Yu Tian.

He turned around to look at the female assistant, who didn't seem to have woken up yet.

Kobe walked back and gave the female assistant two tight slaps on the face.

The female assistant finally woke up a little.

She sat up in a daze and looked around. She saw No. 76 and the gunmen lying around her.

She opened her mouth in shock and was about to scream to vent her anger..

Kobe hit her on the chin with his fist and made her lie down again.

Then, Kobe laughed weirdly. "Are you awake? If you're awake, then behave yourself. Otherwise, if I'm not careful during the interrogation, I might kill you...."

Translator: 549690339

The female assistant was dizzy and could not speak for a long time.

However, she also realized the current situation and knew that she had become a prisoner.

Kobe brought a wooden chair from the restaurant and threw the female assistant on the chair, letting her sit.

Then, No. 76 brought some tools that he had prepared for Kobe, including scissors, a pair of pliers, a hammer, a screwdriver... and other labor tools, there were also rags, socks, paratroopers, rope, tape, gauze, medical first aid kit, and other miscellaneous items.

No. 76 had prepared a lot of miscellaneous items, most of which were common household items that would not attract suspicion even if they were kept in a safe house.

As for whether or not Kobe would use them, that was up to him.

Kobe first picked out the thin straps and began to tie up the female assistant.

The way he tied her up was a bit special. Not only did he make the female assistant make a very shameful pose, but he also tied her up so tightly that the straps almost got into her flesh.

Although the female assistant's butt was sitting on the chair, her hands were tied behind the back of the chair.

Her head was also tied back, and her mouth was covered by a big cloth. She could hardly breathe.

Her legs were split apart,

Kobe finished his art binding and laughed proudly. He pulled the rag out of the female assistant's mouth.

The female assistant immediately cried out, "Boss, save me..."

Of course, she was referring to No. 76, but No. 76 had no right to make a decision now, so she couldn't save her.

As for a traitor who betrayed her, no matter how soft-hearted number 76 was, she could not let her go.

Although number 76 looked like a weak woman, she was still a senior executive of the East Dragon Company. Even if she had not participated in those bloody incidents, she could not be as soft-hearted as an ordinary woman.

Kobe glanced at number 76 and smiled as he patted the female assistant's face. "Don't worry, we haven't started yet. "

The female assistant continued to sob. "Boss, I was forced by them. I didn't want to betray you..."

Obviously, the female assistant knew that she couldn't hide what she had done, so she could only defend her motives.

Kobe grabbed the female assistant's throat. "I don't want to teach you a lesson, but that's not important. You've done your thing, and now it's my turn to do my thing..."

"No, don't do this to me..."

"Don't worry, I'll be very gentle with you..."

Kobe suddenly used a rag to cover the female assistant's mouth, and then took out a pair of scissors. In front of Yu Tian and No. 76, the female assistant's whole body trembled in pain.

Unfortunately, her mouth was already covered, and she couldn't scream. She could only make a pig's cry in her throat.

"Ha, let's see... Ah Ya Ya... I hate you..."

Kobe tore off the rag in the female assistant's mouth aggressively and waved the scissors in his hand crazily. "I can't love you properly anymore..."

The female assistant who was torn off immediately burst into tears. Her snot and tears flowed out. Yu Tian and No. 76 were also dumbfounded.

Kobe, who had been fine just a moment ago, suddenly became like a lunatic.

To be more precise, he was now like a pervert. Whether it was his expression or tone, it was similar to the perverted villains seen in movies.

Needless to say, his behavior was even worse. He actually held a pair of scissors and wanted to hit the female assistant.

The female assistant was so scared that she was trembling. She hurriedly shouted, "Boss, save me. I'll do whatever you want. Please don't let him hurt me..."

"Kobe."

Yu Tian stopped Kobe just in time.

However, Yu Tian knew that Kobe was not crazy. He could feel from Kobe's breathing and heartbeat rhythm that Kobe was just performing.

Although Kobe's performance was crazy, he was actually very calm inside.

Yu Tian's shout made Kobe stop his actions naturally. He pretended to be very dissatisfied as he waved the scissors and said angrily, "Boss, this B * Tch betrayed me. I must make this B * tch..."

"Kobe, we still have to interrogate her." "I won't kill her..."

"This will cause too much blood loss. " "It won't. I will stop the bleeding! " "Kobe, don't waste time. I'm very busy." Yu Tian gave Kobe a look.

It would be fine as long as the performance was almost done. Too much nonsense would waste time.

The enemy had already found out about the safe house they were in. When the enemy realized that something was wrong, they would definitely send more people over.

The longer they dragged it out, the more unsafe it would be.

Yu Tian didn't really care about it, but he still had No. 76 by his side. If he really encountered any dangerous situations, he might not be able to guarantee that No. 76 would be unharmed.

"Alright boss, if this bitch can change her past, I can forgive her for cheating on me. I can still play with her happily in the future..."

Kobe calmed down a little, but he still acted like a seriously ill mental patient. He was still the kind of patient who had been cuckolded and suffered extreme psychological trauma.

He grabbed the female assistant's hair and said fiercely, "You B * Tch, what else do you have to say to me? !"

The female assistant cried bitterly, "What do you want to know? I can tell you anything..."

What happened next was logical. The female assistant immediately explained everything clearly.

This was just an ordinary person. Although she had participated in such a dangerous thing, she had never experienced any cruel situation.

This kind of person did not need to be tortured at all. She only needed to be scared and she could take the initiative to confess.

Her reason for betraying No. 76 was also very simple. It was for money and men.

As early as a few months ago, a handsome and wealthy man came to her. Not only did it satisfy her physically, but it also made her a small windfall.

More importantly, the man gave her the promise of her future life.

For example, getting married and having children, as well as a happy future.

Women are easily fooled by this kind of rhetoric, especially after a man shows his financial strength..

Translator: 549690339

However, the female assistant's dream of a lifetime was no longer possible.

She had become a captive, and her Prince Charming was lying on the floor beside her.

She could betray her boss without any scruples, and No. 76 could also destroy the body without any psychological burden.

The female assistant only wanted to keep her life.

However, Kobe was not satisfied with her confession.

Kobe spat and scolded, “You Bitch, these things you said have no value at all. You Can’t even tell me the identity of this son of a B * Tch Wild Man...”

“I know his identity. He has a company in the capital. He has a very high income. He is a rich man...”

“What company?”

“A pharmaceutical company. I think it’s called... it’s called Doug Creature...”

The female assistant struggled to remember the matter.

Kobe stared at her and said, “I think? That son of a B * Tch didn’t even tell you these things? You Don’t even have a thorough understanding of his situation, and you dare to betray me so easily?”

“I know him, but I didn’t deliberately talk about his company. These things are things that I know occasionally when I get along with him...”

The female assistant looked at No. 76 pitifully and begged, “Boss, I’m just pursuing love. He promised me not to hurt you. He just wants to ask you something...”

“Betrayal is betrayal. There’s no need to find so many excuses. These things have nothing to do with you...”no. 76 said faintly, “Since you’re already involved, then play your current role well. “What else do you have to tell me about this man?”

“I don’t know. I only know that he has a company and the address of his villa in the capital. I haven’t seen his family. I’m not too sure about his other situation...”

The female assistant knew very little, so she couldn’t provide any more valuable clues, she could only plead with no. 76, “Boss, please let me go. I’ll leave Windy Nation, and I won’t tell anyone about what happened here...”

“You really have a lot of nonsense to say... rest well!”

Kobe didn’t listen to the female assistant’s nonsense anymore and knocked her unconscious.

Next was the main point. He was going to start interrogating the seven men lying on the ground.

Of the seven men, the one sitting on the sofa on the second floor was obviously the leader. He was also the key person who lured the female assistant into defecting.

The other six gunmen should be his subordinates. They were all low-level operational personnel.

Bryant planned to start interrogating these gunmen first. Although these gunmen might not know much, they could still provide him with some information.

With a certain amount of information, it would be more convenient to interrogate key people.

However, the only problem now was that they might not have enough time.

It had been almost half an hour since they entered the villa. This was a relatively dangerous time.

The gunmen should have been in contact with their superiors. Whether they did not wait until No. 76 came back or had caught No. 76, they should have reported the news to their superiors in a timely manner.

Yu Tian did not know how often they contacted each other, but it would definitely not be too long.

In fact, the best way now was to move all these people and find a safe place to slowly interrogate them.

However, Yu Tian did not have enough people with him at the moment, and No. 76 might not have a suitable place to interrogate them. They could move so many people in broad daylight.

Even if they wrapped the gunmen in bags and then carried them, it would still look suspicious.

In addition, to transfer so many captives, they needed sufficient vehicles, which was also a very troublesome matter.

The Big Guy, Cass, and the others would not rush to the wind country so soon. No. 76 was basically alone now, so it was indeed troublesome for them to do anything.

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment, then said to no. 76, "I'll send you away first. Do you have a safe hiding place nearby?"

"Yes, I rented a house in a nearby apartment under the name of my other assistant."

"Okay, I'll send you there first."

“Then you guys...”

“I’ll come back later to continue with Kobe’s interrogation of the captives.

“Alright.

No. 76 shrugged and did not reject Yu Tian’s suggestion.

She was a non-combatant to begin with. At this time, it was indeed better for her to retreat to a safer place.

Kobe woke up one of the gunmen and continued with the interrogation.

Yu Tian and No. 76 left the house. They drove the broken-down car that he drove and quickly left the block.

The apartment that No. 76 rented was not very far away. Because of the low population density in dusk city, the traffic was very smooth, so it only took the two of them about ten minutes to reach the apartment.

This place was much more prosperous than the small villa, and there were all kinds of shops and malls.

No. 76 asked Yu Tian to park the car by the side of the road, and then brought Yu Tian through the streets and alleys. Only then did they arrive at an unremarkable apartment building.

There was also a manager in the small hall below the apartment building. However, after No. 76 took out his keys, he did not ask any more questions.

This was a manager who did not like to meddle in other people’s business. He was a sloppy uncle who was only interested in fine wine.

In fact, the general manager was very familiar with the residents.

However, there were also some residents who did not usually live here. The manager had not seen them many times.

For example, some married people would occasionally come here to date with other married people.

Or there were all kinds of strange people.

The reason No. 76 chose this apartment was that there was a very good apartment manager here, who basically left the residents alone.

Yu Tian accompanied No. 76 upstairs until they entered the room.

The size of the apartment was not big. It was similar to the compact small apartment in the country, and there was only one bedroom.

However, the rooms were relatively clean, but they had not been occupied for a long time, so some dust had settled down.

There were not many things prepared in this safe house. No. 76 had only prepared some food and water, as well as a spare cell phone and SIM card.

There were no weapons prepared here.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment, then took out his big revolver and handed it to No. 76.

“Before I come back, take this gun for self-defense... do you know how to use a gun?”

“I know how to use it. ”

Although he was a non-combatant, No. 76 was fully qualified to receive some self-defense training.

This includes training in common skills such as shooting, fighting, and driving.

Compared with ordinary people, No. 76 is considered a heroine..

Translator: 549690339

What non-combatants lacked was not combat skills, but combat experience and psychological quality.

Yu Tian was also a little hesitant. Handing over the big revolver to No. 76 might be a good thing, but it could also be a bad thing.

Non-combatants who had the ability to resist might be in even more danger.

But no matter what kind of danger it was, Yu Tian still hoped that the people of the DONGLONG company would be more ferocious and not become soft-hearted people who would be easily bullied.

The recoil of the big revolver was very strong. Yu Tian gave No. 76 a few careful instructions before leaving the apartment.

After taking a long turn through the winding alleys and streets, Yu Tian finally found a car parked by the roadside.

Yu Tian had just breathed a sigh of relief when he realized that trouble had finally arrived.

There were two police officers standing beside his car, and a police car was parked behind it.

The two policemen seemed to have their eyes on his car and were waiting for the owner to return.

Yu Tian suddenly had a headache. The journey had been smooth and smooth, but now he was finally harassed by the police.

This kind of situation seemed to be unavoidable.

The two policemen saw Yu Tian at a glance. They immediately went up to him and asked bluntly, "Sir, is this your car?"

Yu Tian thought about it and felt that this car should be registered under his fake passport, so he nodded helplessly. "Yes, is there a problem?"

"You're not allowed to park here, don't you know?"

"Oh? is that so? I'm not too sure..." Yu Tian shrugged. "Then, are you going to write a Ticket?"

"Of course..." one of the policemen said with a straight face, "Take Out Your ID first. Passport, driver's license..."

Yu Tian did not want to cause any trouble. He obediently took out his ID and seriously cooperated with the two policemen.

The two policemen were not anxious at all. They slowly checked Yu Tian's ID and then contacted the headquarters to verify Yu Tian's identity.

Of course, there was no problem with Yu Tian's identity, but the two policemen seemed to be very unhappy with his oriental face. After verifying his identity, they did not immediately return the documents to Yu Tian. Instead, they continued to interrogate Yu Tian.

"You're not a local?"

"No. "

"What are you doing in Dusk City?"

"Of course I'm here to play! "

“Play? Play what? Travel?”

Due to cultural differences, the two police officers felt that Yu Tian’s use of the word was somewhat baffling.

Although the language of the Wind Nation was also a large language, Yu Tian was not proficient in it and there would be some problems with the description.

The two police officers looked at Yu Tian in confusion and asked, “Did you come to Huanghun city alone?”

Yu Tian was suddenly a little impatient. He said slowly, “What’s wrong? Why do you have so many questions? Are you interrogating me?”

“Of course not. These are just some ordinary questions.

“Then can I refuse to answer?”

“Of course not.”

“Because you broke the law. Your car was parked in a place that shouldn’t have been parked. We have to ask your identity...”

“You have already verified my identity! “Yu Tian’s tone became more serious. “If you want to write a ticket, write a ticket quickly. Don’t ask me those messy questions, or else I will definitely file a complaint against you! ”

“File a complaint against us?”

A policeman seemed to be a little angry. “Oriental Man! Do you think this is your oriental? Do you think that by threatening us with a complaint, you can let a damn criminal like you escape justice...

These words were obviously discriminating against oriental people, and even subjectively treated Yu Tian as a criminal.

The policeman next to him was a little worried that the situation would escalate, so he hurriedly stopped in front of his colleague, he handed Yu Tian’s documents to Yu Tian.

“Alright, sir, don’t be too nervous. We are only carrying out some routine inquiries and investigations for the safety of the city...

Yu Tian did not want to waste any more time. He took the ID card and put it back into his pocket, then, he said, “I suggest that you guys go and chat up some pretty girls who are asking for directions when you have time, or go to the roadside for a cup of coffee... no matter what you do, it’s better than wasting your time here with me.”

“Your idea is not bad.

The policeman in front of him shrugged and said, “Before that, I’d better give you the ticket first.

His colleague behind him wanted to say something, but he was pulled aside by him.

The policeman finally started to fill out the ticket. Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. He felt that the trouble this time was finally over, and he did not delay for too long.

The longer he delayed, the greater the possibility that Kobe would encounter danger. The enemy’s reinforcements might arrive at the villa very soon.

Although Kobe was also an extraordinary assassin, bullets were not something that could be seen. No matter how extraordinary an expert was, there was a chance that he would be killed with a single shot.

Even Yu Tian could not guarantee that he would be completely safe in battle. Therefore, when he chose to practice ancient martial arts, he specially chose a golden bell cover and iron shirt.

Only when he reached the stage of bronze head and Iron Arms did he dare to act recklessly.

Kobe’s skills were far inferior to Yu Tian’s. Moreover, he had to interrogate and keep an eye on the captives. It would be even more troublesome to deal with the enemy’s attack.

If he was killed by the enemy before the interrogation was completed, or if he was beaten away, then Yu Tian would suffer a loss.

Therefore, Yu Tian did not say anything else. He did not want to waste any more time by angering the police officer who discriminated against his skin color.

The two police officers quickly wrote a ticket. Just as they were about to give the ticket to Yu Tian, the communication device in the police car behind them suddenly rang.

“All patrolmen, please pay attention. The headquarters is looking for a black DS car. There are two easterners in the car. The license plate number is...”

The two policemen from wind country looked at Yu Tian in surprise and then looked at Yu Tian’s broken-down car in surprise.

Without a doubt, the license plate number mentioned in the communication device was Yu Tian’s car.

Yu Tian was wanted.

“Haha! Kid... You’re done for!”

The police officer of wind country who had skin color discrimination immediately became excited. He touched the gun on his waist with one hand and shouted, “Damn oriental man, quickly get down and accept the punishment of the Law! ”

The Communicator in the police car continued to broadcast.

“Attention, the owner of this car is extremely dangerous. Police officers who have found the target car, please do not act rashly. Please contact the headquarters immediately...”

The two police officers of Feng Nation were slightly startled. Extremely Dangerous?

How long had it been since they had heard the term ‘extremely dangerous Q This was a major incident!

The two police officers immediately pulled out their pistols as fast as they could.

They then looked at Yu Tian’s appearance.

Yu Tian did not seem to have concealed any weapons on his body. Moreover, he seemed to be calm and unruffled. He did not seem to be extremely dangerous no matter what..

Translator: 549690339

The two policemen relaxed a little.

They felt that the police reports might be a little too exaggerated.

The so-called extremely dangerous people sometimes just had a gun in their hands.

The police’s definition of extremely dangerous did not depend on a criminal’s combat ability.

In terms of combat ability, most criminals were inferior to a policeman or soldier.

Not only did they not receive professional training, but they also did not have rich shooting and combat experience. Even their weapons and equipment were inferior to the police and the army.

The reason why these criminals were considered extremely dangerous was mainly because of their actions.

Some criminals could kill people with a single shot in order to rob a few thousand dollars. Just because he had a pistol, he could easily take the lives of others.

This kind of reckless attitude and behavior was the main reason why they were deemed to be extremely dangerous.

In addition, some criminals were too random and did not follow any pattern. They were smart and good at hiding their tracks.

They either hid and lurked down and did not make any movements for a long time.

Or they suddenly appeared and killed a few ordinary people for a few hundred Yuan for a meal.

The police were in a terrible state, and it was difficult to track them down and catch them.

They could not be caught for a long time, and the harm they caused to society was getting greater and greater, so they were labeled as extremely dangerous.

The two Fengguo police officers felt that Yu Tian should be one of the criminals who committed crimes on the run.

His extreme danger was only a danger to ordinary people.

Facing the two police officers who were aiming their guns at him, no matter how dangerous the criminals were, they had no chance of turning the tables.

This was not a movie, so there were not that many magical operations and reversals.

After the two Fengguo police officers took out their guns and pointed them at Yu Tian, their hearts became even more relaxed.

Yu Tian did not make any unusual movements. He did not take out his guns and shoot at each other. He did not run away.

The most dangerous moment had passed. The two Wind Nation police officers had already taken control of the situation.

Even if Yu Tian was armed, he would not have the chance to take out his weapon now.

"I told you to get down, did you hear me? You son of a B * Tch!"

The Wind Nation police officer roared angrily again.

The other police officer wanted to return to the car and report the current situation to the headquarters.

But there were only two of them. If he went back to the car, it would be easy for accidents to happen to his colleagues.

So, he decided to handcuff Yu Tian with his partner first and then report to headquarters.

At that time, he could arrogantly say, "We have caught this extremely dangerous person. Hurry up and get your bonuses, medals, and promotion badges ready..."

While dreaming, the policeman reached out and took out his handcuffs.

His colleague was still roaring, "Bastard! Are you tired of living? Get down on the ground and put down your weapon, or I will shoot you!"

"Put down your weapon? What Weapon?"

Yu Tian finally came back to his senses.

He was just thinking about how to deal with the current situation.

He had only set foot on wind country's land for a few hours, and he was already wanted by the authorities.

Why were the authorities wanted for him? And how did they find out his identity and license plate?

Yu Tian recalled the report on the police car's communication device. The police knew that there were two easterners in his car.

Obviously, they were referring to him and No. 76.

It seemed that something had happened at No. 67's villa.

Perhaps the enemy's reinforcements had arrived and had mobilized official forces to deal with him.

Or perhaps someone had just called the police and something had alarmed the police.

The police were searching for them because they had seen through the street surveillance cameras that they had driven away from there.

However, because the street surveillance cameras were not perfect, or because it was difficult to check the surveillance cameras of the various streets, the police had not yet found their location.

The police had not even figured out their identities, and they did not even know their faces.

Yu Tian sighed. It seemed like they had to make a big fuss in wind country.

Assaulting a police officer?

This did not seem like a big deal.

Two wind country police officers were slowly approaching him. One of them had handcuffs in his hands, and it seemed like he was planning to handcuff him.

The other police officer was aggressive, and it seemed like he was looking for an excuse to shoot him.

“Put down your weapon? What Weapon?”

Yu Tian smiled lightly and spread his hands.

The aggressive policeman suddenly opened fire.

This was because Yu Tian’s action of spreading his hands could be regarded as a dangerous action. Even after the investigation, his action of shooting could be considered justifiable.

I already told you not to move. Why are you still moving around? Is this a challenge to the policeman’s mental sensitivity?

I’m not going to shoot you? Is it because you’re Handsome?

This police officer was already very unhappy with the eastern people’s skin color. Now that he found an opportunity, he couldn’t wait to shoot.

However, Yu Tian had already planned to make a move on him. He was constantly on guard against his every move.

Seeing the police officer raise the muzzle of his gun, Yu Tian immediately dashed out.

This time, he did not use a flying needle.

Because the distance between the two parties was very close, it was much faster to pull out the needle.

The two police officers only saw a blur before Yu Tian disappeared in front of them.

Before they realized what had happened, the two of them lost consciousness.

This time, Yu Tian was deadly. Not only did he want to attack the police officer, but he also wanted to kill the police officer.

He used two fingers to lightly poke the fatal points of the two police officers.

The two police officers died instantly without leaving any scars on their bodies.

The ancient martial arts of the eastern country was a mysterious and bizarre thing to foreigners. Many foreigners had never even heard of the art of Acupressure.

The cause of death of the two police officers was probably something that ordinary hospitals would not be able to figure out.

However, this was not important. Even a pig would know that these two policemen were definitely murdered.

Yu Tian did not care about the messy murder scene, nor did he care about the few pedestrians around him.

He gently dusted off the dust that did not exist on his body, and then drifted into the alley.

Of course, he would not let go of the policemen who wanted to shoot him.

The police of wind nation hated him, an Easterner, and he also hated these arrogant white men.

A white man who served him honestly was a good white man.

Of course, the reason why Yu Tian killed was not because he could not get over it.

The main reason was that these two policemen had already met him and had seen his passport.

Only by silencing them could he reduce his trouble.

As for how serious the crime of killing a policeman was, Yu Tian didn't care.

After Uncle Long's accident, the people of the Donglong Company were all arrested by the twilight city officials.

This matter was the work of the Kronin Association behind the scenes, but the twilight city officials were also involved.

They might have been bribed and used by the Kronin Association, but it was also possible that the twilight city officials had people from the Kronin Association..

On the not-so-busy street, two policemen were lying motionless on the roadside.

Someone curiously came over to take a look, and then quickly walked away.

Foreigners liked to meddle in other people's business, but they would never cause trouble for themselves.

There were also people who were not afraid of trouble. For example, a sneaky black young man sneaked to the side of the road and picked up the two policemen's guns.

His ancestors had once fought for the Windy Nation as a Foreign Legion. What was so great about him taking two pistols today?

However, in the end, someone still called the police.

The shrill sirens sounded in the surrounding streets. Countless police cars rushed to the scene of the crime.

At this time, Yu Tian had already passed through the alley and walked to another exit.

It was impossible for him to drive that car again, so he could only take a taxi.

However, he soon realized that it seemed impossible to take a taxi, because there were hardly any taxis on the streets, and there were not even many private cars.

It was said that there were not as many taxis in foreign countries as there were in eastern countries. If one wanted to take a taxi, they had to call for a taxi, and they even had to make an appointment in advance.

This rumor seemed to be true.

Yu Tian turned around and looked at the alley. There were a few black youths chatting near the entrance of the alley. One of the youths was leaning against a bicycle.

There were many black-skinned people in wind country. It felt as if they had come to Hei Zhou.

Yu Tian strode forward and greeted the few black youths, “Hey, Buddy, is this bicycle yours?”

The black youths immediately stopped their conversation and turned their attention to Yu Tian.

One of the big guys took two steps closer to Yu Tian, almost touching his body, and then said loudly, “Yes, Foreigner, what do you want?”

Yu Tian shrugged, “As you can see, I’m a foreign tourist, and I’m looking for a practical transportation tool... can you sell this bike to me?”

“Of course, brother!”

The Big Guy immediately became more enthusiastic. (‘500 Yuan, it’s yours! Since you’re a tourist, this is a very reasonable price!

“500 yuan?”

Yu Tian frowned slightly. This price was obviously like killing a pig.

But he didn’t have time to care about this now. He casually took out a stack of change from his pocket and prepared to pay.

This was the change that Xiao Wang had prepared for him.

To Yu Tian, change meant that it was not too thick when squeezed together. However, their denominations were basically 100,200,500... of which, 500 was the most.

As it was impossible for Yu Tian to carry a very thick wallet on him, in order to prevent him from running out of money, Xiao Wang had prepared a total of 10 to 20 thousand change for him.

Among them, there were more than 20 pieces of paper currency with a face value of 500, which was more than 10,000.

Generally speaking, it would not be a problem for him to spend more than 10,000 in the wind country for a month.

A few black youths saw the stack of large notes in Yu Tian ‘s hand, and their eyes instantly lit up.

Yu Tian took out a piece of paper currency with a face value of 500 and handed it to the big guy, then stuffed the rest of the paper currency back into his pocket.

“Hey!

The big guy immediately shouted, "Brother, you gave me too little! Yu Tian's expression was half-smile. "Too little?"

The big guy said, "Of course it's too little. I said 5,000 yuan! Can you understand 5,000 yuan? It's just 10500-yuan notes... "

As he said that, the big guy pointed at the 500-yuan note in his hand and said, "10 pieces, do you understand? 10 pieces of these notes... Do you understand?"

Can you understand our language? 10 pieces is just like that. One, two, three...

At the end of his sentence, the big guy even started to bend his fingers for Yu Tian.

Yu Tian smiled. "So... You Want to rob me?"

"Rob? Rob What? Do We look like people who Rob?"

A few black youths beside him immediately became excited. They clamored and surrounded Yu Tian.

Someone even pushed Yu Tian, he cursed, "Oriental man, aren't you guys very rich? Don't you like to help us black brothers? Why Can't you help us poor brothers? Take out all your money. Your Death God will add a few years to your little notebook..."

This black youth might have heard of the legends of the King of Hell and the life and death book, but he actually knew how to use the death God's little notebook to persuade Yu Tian to do a good deed.

The rest of the black youths had already started to do it themselves, reaching into Yu Tian 's pocket.

The Big Guy smiled as he patted Yu Tian's shoulder and said, "Oriental man, today, you only need to spend a very small price to learn the truth of the world from US never let a hungry black friend see the large amount of paper money in your hand..."

Black friends did not discriminate against Oriental people less than white friends, or even more.

Unfortunately, these black friends made a mistake in the target of the robbery.

They deserved to die.

This kind of person deserved to die.

Yu Tian smiled coldly..

A second later, a few black young men were lying on the ground, dead.

They were also acupuncture points, but their cause of death looked different from the two police officers.

One was suspected of sudden cardiac death, and the other was suspected of cerebral infarction.

Since he had already killed the police officers, Yu Tian simply turned on the killing mode.

In any case, there didn't seem to be any good people in this unlucky city. He felt that the world could no longer stop his killing.

After killing a few of his black friends, Yu Tian smoothly got the bicycle. He also got a large pullover shirt, dressed like those sneaky young men.

Then, he found out that the bike didn't belong to these black guys at all.

Because there were some feminine accessories on the bike, such as helloKitty.

Would black friends like HelloKitty?

Of course it was impossible, Yu Tian would rather believe that they really liked fried chicken.

Yu Tian got on the bike whose owner he didn't know, and started to run.

It was actually faster to use Qinggong, but it was a little too shocking.

The bicycle was slightly better, and foreigners also liked to race on bicycles.

After a few turns, Yu Tian saw a familiar street.

He immediately found the direction and rushed to the villa at No. 76.

One of the careless things he did when he set out today was that he didn't give Kobe a cell phone.

When they were in the country, the mouse team would usually use a mini-walkie-talkie. Because cell phones often had no signal in the country, they were not interested in using them.

After arriving in wind country, Yu Tian had not thought of splitting up with Kobe, so he had neglected this matter.

Because of this oversight, he could not contact Kobe for the time being. He did not know what had happened at the villa and what kind of danger there was.

However, Yu Tian still decided to make a trip to the villa personally. After all, normal danger was not a threat to him..

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian was lucky that he didn't run into a police car.

If something happened in the villa, there should be a lot of police gathered there.

If a policeman died on the street, some of the policemen in the villa might rush over.

Yu Tian was walking on this road, so it was very likely that he would run into a police car.

But strangely, he did not even see the shadow of a police car.

Soon, he was close to the villa's block.

After entering the main road, Yu Tian slowed down a little.

The main road was still very quiet, as if nothing special had happened nearby.

After continuing forward, Yu Tian finally saw Villa No. 76 in the distance.

The situation outside the villa was the same as when he left. It seemed that nothing special had happened.

Yu Tian could not help but feel a little puzzled.

After hesitating for a moment, Yu Tian suddenly changed his direction.

He took a turn and turned to the back of the villa.

Behind the villa was a small forest. Behind the forest was a meadow and an empty land. Behind it was another villa.

The route Yu Tian took looked like he was going to another villa.

When he passed by Villa No. 76, Yu Tian suddenly had a feeling that something was on his back.

This was a very magical feeling, just like a sixth sense.

The saying of a sixth sense was somewhat magical, and Yu Tian did not know where this feeling came from.

He sensed that someone was spying on him, and this person was in Villa No. 76, hiding behind a window.

Whether this feeling was correct or not, Yu Tian felt that he should be more cautious. This villa might not be safe anymore.

After going around to the back of the woods, Yu Tian suddenly turned back and was ready to ride his bicycle into the woods.

But he immediately discovered that there seemed to be someone spying on him in the villa behind him.

But this time, the peepers did not have much intention of hiding.

They were lying on the edge of the balcony, quietly but openly peeping in this direction.

Yu Tian turned around and saw that there were only a few children on the balcony.

When he saw Yu Tian turning around to look at them, one of the children even waved at Yu Tian.

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. He stepped on the pedal and immediately rode over to the children.

When he arrived at the villa, Yu Tian waved at the children and said, "Boys, what's the matter?"

"Shh..."

One of the children gestured at him to keep quiet and then said, "Don't go over there. There were shots fired just now."

"No, it was a gunfight. They fired a lot of shots."

The other children immediately interrupted to correct him.

Yu Tian immediately knew that something had happened to Villa No. 76.

The inexplicable feeling he had just now was real. There was really someone in the villa spying on him.

He pretended to be nonchalant and said to the children, "Did someone shoot? How long ago was it?" "It's been a long time..."

“At least half an hour!”

“We’ve been waiting for a long time, but we haven’t seen a police car pass by here…”

“Maybe the police car went in another direction.”

“No, even if the police car went in another direction, there should be sirens.

Beep, Beep…

The children started to discuss.

The situation was already clear. Someone attacked the villa and exchanged fire with Kobe.

But no police came after the incident. This meant that the other party had already communicated with the police, or some other deal or agreement. In short, the police were in cahoots with them, otherwise, it was impossible for them not to send the police under such circumstances.

Were these enemies members of the Kronin Society?

Yu Tian felt that it should be. Other than the Kronin society, he could not find any other enemies.

Then, Let’s face it.

Yu Tian waved his hand at the children. “Since it has been so long, it should be fine… you should hurry back to your rooms. The Sun is so bright, aren ‘t you guys excited?”

“Oh, yes, we are excited…”

The children started to play.

Yu Tian didn’t waste any more time. He immediately rode his bicycle and rushed into the forest.

After entering the forest, Yu Tian casually threw the bicycle down. Then, he immediately used his qinggong and rushed toward Villa No. 76 like a ghost.

There was no ghost in broad daylight, but when Yu Tian used his qinggong, his figure was really like a ghost.

He was not afraid of being seen, so he directly jumped onto the rooftop of the villa.

Half of the rooftop was a swimming pool, and the other half was a few rooms. It was also set in the living room and bedroom mode.

Yu Tian went forward and pushed the glass door of the living room, and the door was easily pushed open.

Perhaps it was because the security in the neighborhood was too good, or perhaps it was because the rooftop was very high, so many of the roofs of the villas did not have the habit of locking the doors.

Actually, locking the door was not enough to prevent thieves. As long as there was no one in the house, thieves had a lot of ways to break in.

Yu Tian quickly went down to the second floor, and then listened carefully for a while at the staircase entrance.

There was no one on the second floor, but there seemed to be a lot of people on the first floor.

Yu Tian did not hesitate, and immediately jumped down to the first floor.

He did not hide his figure, and directly jumped over the stairs and into the middle of the living room.

“Gan...”

Someone cried out in surprise, but immediately, there was no sound.

With the blessing of his internal energy, Yu Tian’s flying needles technique became more and more handy.

He fired left and right, shooting rapidly. In an instant, he had knocked out all seven or eight people in the living room.

Then, another group of people dashed out from the back of each room.

These people not only had pistols in their hands, but also those mini submachine guns with very short bodies.

However, Yu Tian did not give them the chance to shoot.

With a sudden dash, he suddenly disappeared from the sight of these people, and then a pile of flying needles was thrown out.

In just the time it took to catch his breath, these people had all fainted.

Yu Tian did not stop. He immediately searched all the rooms on the first floor.

Soon, he checked the first floor and confirmed that there were no enemies standing there.

There were only a dozen unconscious gunmen in the room and blood stains in the living room that had not been cleaned.

Kobe was not here, and the gunmen and female assistants that they had previously captured were not in the villa.

Yu Tian looked at the blood stains in the living room. These blood stains were all on the positions where the previous captives were lying.

The area of the blood stains was very large. It was not the kind of blood stains that only had a few drops of blood flowing.

This was the scene of a person lying on the ground after death. The blood continued to flow and then filled the ground.

Yu Tian suddenly realized that this was probably Kobe's doing.

The enemy wanted to attack the villa, but Kobe knew that he could not stop them, so he simply killed all the captives.

Then..

Did Kobe escape?

There were more than a dozen people unconscious in the villa, and Yu Tian could not figure out who was the leader.

He simply crippled everyone's limbs, woke them up, and threw them all into the living room.

These captives could only speak, but they could not move their bodies. They were all panicking.

“Now, I will ask, and you will answer. If anyone dares to talk nonsense or doesn’t answer my question... I will let him meet his God. ”

Yu Tian looked at the captives coldly and went straight to the point, “First, who will tell me... who is your boss?”

The captives did not speak. They were still thinking about what had happened just now and why they had suddenly fainted.

This matter made them a little scared, especially when they found out that there was only one enemy.

The living room was silent.

This was within Yu Tian’s expectations. Being a traitor also required overcoming some psychological obstacles.

Yu Tian pointed at a guy who looked like a small lackey and asked, “Tell Me, who is your boss?”

The small fry wanted to say something but hesitated. In the end, he chose to remain silent.

Betraying his boss in front of so many people seemed to be a very shameful act.

Yu Tian had already guessed this result. The first person to be questioned would definitely not open his mouth.

so..

The six meridians godly sword!

Yu Tian stabbed him to death across space with a finger.

The effect of this move was quite shocking. The small Fry’s head suddenly lost half of its body. Even the floor on the floor had a big gash.

Yu Tian suddenly realized that this six meridians divine sword was really sword qi. His finger moved slightly, and a wide cut was immediately made on the floor.

Therefore, he took the opportunity to cut the minion’s body into two pieces.

It was the vertical two pieces, not the horizontal two pieces.

The Assassins in the living room all widened their eyes in horror, but their mouths were like ducks whose necks were strangled, and they could not make a sound at all.

The six meridians godly sword was really a sword!

It was just that this way of playing consumed too much internal energy, and Yu Tian could only play it a few times.

He withdrew the sword qi and hurriedly circulated the internal energy in his body while snorting coldly, he then casually pointed at another gunman beside him. "He has already gone to meet his God... do you want to see if your God...

looks like his God?"

This little underling stuttered and didn't know what to say.

Yu Tian said coldly again, "The same question... who is your boss?"

As he spoke, Yu Tian waved his finger as if he was demonstrating his power.

The Little Underling quivered and immediately said, "It's him, it's him, our leader is him..."

Perhaps some people were not afraid of death, but the way they died was not something they could bear.

If they did not fear death, they had to have a firm belief.

It seemed that God was not enough.

Following the gaze of the underling, Yu Tian finally found the leader of this group of gunmen.

It was a middle-aged man who did not look good.

Yu Tian immediately pointed at him and said, "Tell me, what happened here just now?"

The middle-aged man sighed and slowly said, "We just broke into this villa and lost a few people..."

"I'm not interested in your loss!" Yu Tian interrupted him and said, "Where are the people in the Villa?"

"In the villa... that person ran away. The rest of the people... are all our people.

They were all killed by him..." "Didn't you guys chase after him?"

"We did, but... We lost him."

The middle-aged man's expression was a little wooden, he continued to speak slowly, "Then we came back to collect the corpses... we originally planned to retreat, but the higher-ups told us to continue guarding here. I thought that no one would come here again, but I didn't expect..."

He didn't expect that it would be a monster.

The middle-aged man didn't continue to say this. He felt that he was going to be finished today.

Regardless of whether he confessed to Yu Tian or not, he was bound to die.

He only hoped that he could die in a dignified manner. He didn't want Yu Tian to whip his corpse and cut it into two pieces.

After knowing that Kobe had successfully escaped, Yu Tian finally breathed a sigh of relief.

He sat down on the sofa and continued to ask, "Tell me about your organization... it seems that the Kronin Society has quite a lot of influence in wind country."

"I... I'm not too sure."

The middle-aged man tacitly agreed to the name of the Kronin Society. Yu Tian finally confirmed that all of this was indeed the work of the Kronin Society.

He continued to ask, "Where is your headquarters?" "I don't know... In short, it's not in wind country."

"How many branches do you have in Wind Country?"

"I'm not too sure... in short, there shouldn't be any in twilight city. We all came to Twilight City at the last minute because of the DONGLONG company incident."

"Where did you come from?" "The capital of wind country."

"Be more specific."

"The capital..." the middle-aged man sighed, he said helplessly, "We are just ordinary low-level operational personnel who live in different places in the capital. Other than our own residences, we are not clear about the other strongholds of the organization..."

This explanation was reasonable.

Yu Tian's expression did not change as he continued to ask, "You should have a temporary stronghold in dusk city, right?"

“Yes. ”

“Where?”

“In...”the middle-aged man hesitated for a moment, and finally said slowly, “The temporary stronghold is in an apartment building behind the Dusk City Police Station. ” Yu Tian nodded. “Who’s Your Superior?” “Mr. Tours.”

“What’s his identity in the Kronin Society?”

“I’m not too sure... he’s the person-in-charge of this operation, and our operation personnel directly follow his orders. ”

“Is he in your temporary base?”

(‘I don’t know... He went to the temporary base before, and then we contacted each other over the phone...

At this point, Yu Tian knew that he had pretty much asked everything he could.

It was impossible for the operational personnel at the bottom level to know too much about the situation in the organization. They usually had one-way contact with the higher-ups. Other than their own superiors, they basically knew nothing about the other personnel, colleagues, and structure of the organization, information... basically nothing.

Sometimes, they did not even know who their superiors were. As long as someone said the password, they would follow the orders.

Now that he could ask about a “Mr. Tours “and a temporary stronghold, Yu Tian finally had some clues to continue his investigation.

He found a cell phone from the middle-aged man. There was only a communication record of a cell phone number on it.

Obviously, the cell phone number belonged to Mr. Tours.

The question was, should they go to the temporary stronghold of the Clone Society first?

Or should they go to the headquarters of the East Dragon Company and take care of the traitors?

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian had more than one or two problems.

Kobe was missing. Yu Tianping didn't talk to him much, so he couldn't think of a way to contact him.

Maybe when Cass and the mouse team arrived, they would have a way to find Kobe.

Thinking that Kobe wasn't in danger, Yu Tian felt that this matter could be put aside for the time being.

There was another problem, which was the current situation of the DONGLONG company.

Was there anyone in the company headquarters? Was it under official control? Where were the traitors..

He could only ask No. 76 about this specific situation.

This was supposed to be the first thing he should do after arriving at dusk city. However, from the moment he arrived at No. 76's villa, the members of the Kronin Society came knocking on his door.

After that, the situation continued to escalate. Yu Tian did not even have the time to sit down and have a good chat with No. 76.

Therefore, Yu Tian had to find No. 76 now and figure out the current situation of the East Dragon Company. Then, he would decide whether to deal with the traitors or the clone society first.

Yu Tian did not leave any of the dozens of captives in the villa.

However, he did not use the six meridians divine sword to cut them again. It was not because he felt cruel, but because he did not want to waste his internal energy.

He sent the captives away with flying needles. The middle-aged man finally died in satisfaction and quietly.

After returning to the small forest, Yu Tian got on his bicycle and began to walk back.

When he reached the vicinity of the apartment, Yu Tian's head started to hurt again.

The streets in the vicinity had been cordoned off by the police. The streets were filled with armed police with loaded guns.

Armed police officers were a little different from ordinary police officers. They were special police forces used in counter-terrorism and combat operations. For example, special forces, Commandos, intervention forces..

This kind of police force could be pulled onto the battlefield, especially in the complicated environment of the city. They were even stronger than ordinary troops.

Yu Tian was not stupid enough to go against an entire army.

The police did not set up a blockade line or completely restrict the movement of the surrounding citizens. However, they set up checkpoints all over the streets to check on the passing pedestrians.

In addition, Yu Tian also saw a whole team of armed police officers entering the surrounding buildings with the cooperation of patrol officers.

Judging from the pace, they were going to search every building in the neighborhood.

It was only a matter of time before they found the apartment where No. 76 was.

Yu Tian stopped at a street corner far away and cursed in his heart.

It was said that the police of wind country were as slow as turtles. How could they seal off the entire neighborhood so quickly today?

What benefits would the twilight city officials get from taking the Kronin? Or were there really members of the Kronin Society among the officials?

Then, what should they do now?

Find a way to sneak in and find No. 76? Or let No. 76 find a way to sneak out?

It would definitely not work to swagger in and out of these streets because the skin color and facial features of the easterners were too obvious.

Now, as long as these police officers saw the Easterners, they would definitely check them carefully from head to toe.

If they did not repeatedly check and confirm for an hour, they would not let them go easily.

Yu Tian did not know if the evening city police had obtained a clear photo of him and No. 76, but it should not be difficult for the police to find things like their passports and id photos.

After all, both he and No. 76 had a lot of flaws, which gave the police clues to track down their identities.

For example, the car he drove and the Villa No. 76 lived in were all unavoidable traces of human activities.

He and No. 76 had basically become street rats, and it was already very dangerous for them to show their faces in public.

However, the situation had not reached the worst point. There was still no arrest warrant for them.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment. It was basically impossible for No. 76 to walk out of this block on her own.

She was not an operational personnel, so she did not have the relevant ability and experience.

Yu Tian could only go and meet her personally and think of a way to bring her out.

Looking at the policemen who were on the streets as if they were facing a great enemy, Yu Tian could not help but sigh in his heart. If only he had learned the art of disguising.

Or the makeup techniques used by modern spies, or the makeup techniques used by some internet celebrities.

As long as he disguised himself as a white or black skin, then there would be no trouble.

Unfortunately, he was not good at this kind of technique. At the moment, the only skill he could rely on was qinggong.

Yu Tian looked at his surroundings.

Most of the surrounding buildings were low-rise buildings with only two or three floors. Only the apartment building where No. 76 was located had a few buildings that were slightly taller.

However, these high-rise buildings were not very tall either. The highest one was less than ten floors.

What was beneficial to him was that these high-rise buildings were mostly concentrated. and most of the buildings were not too far away from each other.

The adjacent high-rise buildings were usually only separated by a small alley, which was only a few meters wide.

Those that were slightly further away were separated by a street, which was only a distance of more than ten meters.

With Yu Tian's current lightness skill level, he could easily jump more than ten meters high.

It was needless to say that he could jump a long distance. Twenty to thirty meters did not require much effort on his part.

Yu Tian felt that he could jump all the way from these rooftops, then carry No. 76 on his back and jump all the way from the rooftops.

This should be called taking the upper-floor route.

Carrying a person on his back would be slightly heavier, and it would also have some impact on his jumping effect.

However, considering that No. 76's small body weighed at most a hundred kilograms, this little weight did not have much of an impact on him, a martial arts expert.

The only troublesome thing was that there were no high-rise buildings next to

Yu Tian.

The high-rise building closest to him had to go to an intersection.

In other words, if he wanted to carry out his plan of flying in the sky, he had to go through a police blockade.

This was another very easy task.

The police on the street were not just for show. It was impossible for Yu Tian to swagger across the street and successfully reach the high-rise building. Unless..

Yu Tian scratched his head and rode his bicycle to the side of the street.

He wanted to see if the police cordoned off the streets and included all the high-rise buildings.

After turning two corners, Yu Tian was a little disappointed.

The police cordoned off the area was too large. The few high-rise buildings were all within their cordoned off area.

Yu Tian's trapeze plan couldn't even find an entrance.

It wasn't like there weren't any high-rise buildings outside the police perimeter. Yu Tian circled around and found a small high-rise building. But this high-rise building was only five stories high.

What was worse was that the high-rise building next to him had a total of nine stories, and there was a street more than ten meters wide..

Translator: 549690339

Jumping from a five-story building to a nine-story building was not a problem.

However, there was still a street more than ten meters wide between the two buildings. The difficulty of the jump was a little ridiculous.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and felt that his lightness skill was not good enough. He could not jump over under such conditions.

He was not willing to give up. After thinking about it for a while, he decided to go to the roof of this five-story building to have a look.

This five-story building was also an apartment building. It looked a little shabby.

In fact, the high-rise buildings around here were basically apartments. They had been built a long time ago. They all looked a little shabby, so much so that the entire neighborhood looked like a slum.

This was a very common phenomenon in developed countries.

High -rise buildings had been gradually phased out, reduced to poor people's houses, and even ghost buildings that were unoccupied.

The reason for this was difficult to explain in a few words, so let's not talk about it for now.

Yu Tian casually threw his bicycle in the corner next to him, and then walked straight to the foyer of the five-story apartment building.

There should have been a caretaker in the foyer, but perhaps there was too much excitement to see outside, so there was no one in the foyer at the moment.

This was convenient for Yu Tian, and he did not need to be questioned by the caretaker.

He pulled down the hood of his hoodie a little and pressed the elevator button.

The elevator door opened very quickly, and it was empty inside.

Yu Tian entered the elevator, and the elevator could only reach the fifth floor.

Yu Tian pressed the button on the fifth floor.

When he reached the fifth floor, there was a long corridor outside the elevator.

Generally speaking, it was impossible for an elevator to reach the roof of every building. One had to take another flight of stairs.

Yu Tian looked around and found that there was no stairwell or fire escape next to the elevator entrance.

He recalled that he did not see any stairs in the lobby on the first floor. There was only a corridor that led to the back of the building.

It seemed that the stairway should be in the direction of the back door.

The two directions of the corridor looked similar. Yu Tian did not know which direction led to the stairway, so he could only choose a random direction and walk there.

The corridor was a little narrow, and there was only one light left in the corridor. It looked a little dark.

There were some messy garbage bags on both sides of the corridor. Some empty cans and bottles were randomly thrown in the middle of the corridor.

The floor was messy, as if the caretaker had died many years ago.

Yu Tian looked past the garbage and quickly reached the end of the corridor.

There was a corner at the end of the corridor. Yu Tian looked at the corner and saw a simple iron gate not far away. Behind the gate was a staircase that led up.

It seemed that he was heading in the right direction. There was indeed a staircase that led to the rooftop.

He walked quickly to the front of the Iron Gate and pulled it slightly. However, he found that the gate was not pulled. It seemed to be locked.

He was a little puzzled because from his direction, the door was not locked.

There was a lock on the door, but now there was only a hole where the lock was. It was impossible to lock the door.

Yu Tian looked at the back of the lock curiously and found that there was a bolt behind the lock. Moreover, the bolt was tied and the lock was hung.

This made him a little confused.

Generally speaking, the door lock leading to the rooftop had to be opened from the inside.

If there was a bolt on the door, it should be placed inside the building, not outside.

Yu Tian looked at it carefully and found that the bolt on the outside was not the original thing on the iron door, but someone else had welded it on.

Someone had locked the door from the outside, which meant that there should be someone on the rooftop.

This situation was like someone monopolizing the public space on the rooftop and blocking all the other residents from going up.

Yu Tian could not help but laugh. Could there be a building bully in the free and democratic world?

Or was there a homeless person who came here to take over the place?

Although he was not a police officer of the windy nation, under the current situation, it was inevitable that he would have to uphold justice for the residents of the apartment building.

Yu Tian did not care about the unreasonable building tyrants or the lawless vagrants.

He reached his hand through the fence of the iron door and pinched the lock behind the door. He exerted a little inner strength and gently twisted the lock off.

Then, there was an ear-piercing sound of friction. Yu Tian casually pulled the broken iron door to one side.

The noise made by the broken iron door was a little loud. The people in the rooms on both sides of the corridor seemed to have been alerted. Soon, someone opened the door and rushed out of the room.

“Hey! Kid! What are you doing!

There were more than one or two people who rushed out of the room. Seven or eight people actually rushed out of the three rooms at the corner.

Yu Tian turned around and took a look. Wow, all the people in these rooms were black friends.

What a coincidence.

“What are you looking at? I’m asking you what you’re doing! ”

The black friends surrounded him aggressively. Their tone was fierce as if they wanted to eat him.

The light in the corridor was very dim. Yu Tian could hardly see the faces of these black friends.

In fact, even if the light was a little stronger, it would be useless. These black friends were all fighters among the black friends. They belonged to the type of surveillance cameras that were completely ineffective against them, the photo on the photocopy of the ID card only showed a group of black figures.

Yu Tian was too lazy to identify the faces of these people. He had already guessed that this iron door was locked by these people.

Hence, he smiled calmly. “As you can see, I plan to go to the rooftop... to take a walk.

“Are you courting death?”

The black friends suddenly became restless. They actually took out all kinds of guns and daggers from their bodies and pushed them towards Yu Tian’s head.

Yu Tian did not know whether to laugh or cry.

He had seen many people who played with guns, but he had never seen anyone who would surround the other party and push the muzzle of the gun towards the other party’s head like this.

Guns were very dangerous things, and the way one held a gun and used it was very particular.

Casually holding a gun with one hand and putting the muzzle of the gun on the other party’s head, and standing so close to the other party, and with so many people crowded together..

This situation... was this a movie?

When the gangsters were arguing with others, there would be this kind of scene. The two parties crowded together, and it was almost as if their noses were pressed against each other’s noses, and their faces were pressed against each other’s faces.

Then, everyone would bump into each other with their chests to boost their reputation..

But that was still filming a movie.

Yu Tian was a little curious about the identity of these gangsters. could they be local gangsters?

Wind country was a country that banned guns. Although it was not difficult to get a few guns, if one wanted to have a gang with guns and everyone had one, it was basically only the gangsters.

Yu Tian suddenly happy..

Yu Tian suddenly thought of a good idea.

He planned to use these gangs to attract the attention of the police, create chaos, and then take advantage of the chaos to enter the nine-story tall building opposite.

Yu Tian immediately raised his hands and slowly retreated to the stairs behind him, muttering, "Hey! Hey! Guys, what are you doing? Relax, I just want to take a walk on the rooftop..."

When the black friends heard this, they became even more agitated.

"Do you think we're Idiots?"

"He's insulting our intelligence. He thinks that we black guys don't have that kind of thing! "

"We can't be deceived by these sons of B * tches anymore!" "He must have been sent by Adams. This is a conspiracy!

"D * mn it, there are so many cops outside. It must be them."

"This kid is playing tricks. He will definitely bring the cops to our building. "

"Tie this kid up. We need hostages!

"Let's kill him!

"We can't shoot him!

"Why can't we shoot him? I bet that the son of a B * TCWs cops are already in the elevator!

The black friends were all talking about it, as if they were quarreling.

Yu Tian didn't expect them to imagine so many scenarios, and he didn't know what to say for a moment.

But it was also good, so he didn't have to think about how to create chaos for these black friends.

At this time, he had already retreated to the middle of the steps, looking down at all the black friends.

The black friends didn't feel that they were at a disadvantage, and they were still arguing at once.

Yu Tian simply pushed the black friends in front of him down the stairs with all his might.

Although he did not push with much strength, this force was far from what an ordinary person could withstand.

The black friends could not stand steadily at all. They immediately fell backward into a ball.

Subsequently, Yu Tian found that a pistol had mysteriously appeared in his hand.

A certain black friend had dropped the handgun in Yu Tian's hand when he fell.

Yu Tian did not know how to complain about such a blunder. He could only sigh that the quality of the black gang was really worrisome. It was rumored that they had lagged behind in their evolution.

Yu Tian had just lent No. 76 his big revolver. Now that someone had given him a handgun, he might as well accept it without any thanks.

It was still a very big pistol. The silver-white body of the gun was particularly eye-catching in the dark corridor.

Yu Tian did not know much about pistols, but he was very satisfied with this heavy pistol.

With a gun, it would be easier to attract the attention of the police, and it would be easier to create a riot.

Yu Tian held the gun and immediately ran up the stairs.

Among the black friends at the bottom of the stairs, someone immediately screamed, "Damn it, this son of a B * Tch snatched my gun!"

"F * ck! Kill this son of a B * Tch!"

The rest of the black friends immediately followed suit and roared in anger.

It was said that black friends were very united because only when they were united would they not be bullied by their white friends.

Yu Tian did not know how united the Black Friends of wind country were, but these gang members were so noisy that it felt like they were a gang.

So he casually fired a shot at this gang.

This shot did not hit anyone, because Yu Tian felt that only a living gang could create more chaos.

He needed these gangs to fire at him.

As expected, the black friends who saw Yu Tian fire immediately became angry. They did not even care that they had yet to get up from the ground, and immediately raised their guns to shoot back at Yu Tian.

The sound of gunshots rang out in the air. The black friends seemed to want to shoot out all the bullets in their magazines in one go.

However, Yu Tian had already run up the stairs and made a turn. The black friends' bullets could only regretfully shoot at the wall, leaving deep bullet holes in the wall.

There was still a turn to go up the stairs before the small wooden door that entered the rooftop could be seen.

This wooden door was still closed, and it might even be locked.

However, this was not important. Yu Tian raised his foot and kicked it up.

The wooden door shattered and was kicked away by Yu Tian, leaving only a broken door frame.

There were people on the rooftop, and they were guarding near the door.

The gunshots had long alarmed these people. When they saw the broken wooden door and Yu Tian who had rushed out of the door, they were instantly dumbfounded.

However, they quickly reacted and immediately pointed their guns at Yu Tian. They shouted, Stop, bastard! Who the Hell Are You? Quickly take off your damn hat!

At this time, Yu Tian was still wearing the hoodie that he had snatched. The people on the rooftop were on both sides of him, so his face could not be seen at all.

They did not dare to shoot recklessly, so they could only let Yu Tian take off his hat first.

How could Yu Tian pay attention to them? He took a look at the situation on the rooftop and found that there were actually quite a lot of broken furniture piled up on it.

This was a very suitable place to hide and have a gunfight.

He immediately jumped behind a large wardrobe at the side and fired two shots at the black friends next to the wardrobe.

The black friends on this side were immediately shocked and quickly hid their heads.

Although Yu Tian's two shots did not hurt anyone, it still gave them a shock. The black friends behind Yu Tian no longer held back and shot at Yu Tian's back.

However, Yu Tian had already displayed his amazing ability to move and Dodge. Like a wild dog that had learned parkour, he disappeared in just a few moves.

These black friends immediately became anxious and chased after Yu Tian in a chaotic manner.

However, just as they went around the wardrobe, Yu Tian suddenly popped out from behind a broken sofa in the distance and fired two more shots at them.

The black friends were shocked again and hurriedly stopped and retreated. A few of them fell into a mess again.

This fall made them feel very ashamed. Then, they immediately started cursing angrily.

Amidst all the foul language, they hurriedly got up, then raised their guns and shot at the sofa where Yu Tian was, turning the broken sofa into a sieve.

However, Yu Tian was no longer behind the sofa, and he had once again disappeared without a trace.

The successive gunshots had already attracted the attention of the police. The surrounding police confirmed the direction of the gunshots and immediately surrounded the apartment building.

Yu Tian did not waste any more time, because the black friends on the fifth floor had all rushed to the rooftop and were besieging him.

The rooftop was not big, leaving little space for Yu Tian to maneuver around.

He fired a few shots at the nine-story building opposite him, shattering the glass of one of the windows on the ground.

The sound of glass shattering attracted the attention of some of the police officers downstairs, but they quickly determined that these were just a few stupid stray bullets that had shattered an innocent piece of glass..

Translator: 549690339

When the time was right, Yu Tian felt that it was time for him to leave.

He made a circle with his black friends on the rooftop, and then floated to the edge of the rooftop like a ghost.

He exerted force with his feet, and Yu Tian leaped up, abruptly jumping toward the building opposite.

This jump was so fast that even his shadow could not be seen clearly.

Like a sharp arrow, he shot straight into a window on the fifth floor. With a bang, the glass on the window was smashed into pieces. Yu Tian had already entered the house safely.

The police officers downstairs looked up blankly and saw that another unlucky window had been hit by a stray bullet, and a small amount of glass debris fell down.

“Evacuate the citizens immediately!

A commander shouted loudly, and the police officers downstairs were once again in a flurry.

The armed police officers had already taken the lead and rushed into the apartment. They did not even take the elevator, but directly charged towards the rooftop.

The black friends had already fallen into a frenzy. They did not realize that Yu Tian had already disappeared from the rooftop, and was still crazily shooting at the tattered furniture, it was as if Yu Tian was hiding behind the tattered furniture.

Some of the more sober ones were shouting loudly, “The cops are coming up. The cops are coming up! ” “Let’s fight the cops!

“Block the door! They can’t come up! ”

“We should go back to the room to get our weapons. Our Big Guy is still in the

“Yes, we have to have big guys. We have to let the son of a B * tch cops have a taste of our power! ”

“The war has begun, guys! Go back to your rooms! Let’s kill them!

“Let’s face jil-poong!

The black friends were extremely excited. They did not care at all about the huge number of police forces downstairs.

Perhaps it was because the combat strength of the wind country’s police force had always been too rubbish, so they had long lost their respect for the police force. Even the armed police force did not pay attention to them.

Some of the black friends ran back to the fifth floor and began to strengthen their armed forces.

Then, they collided head-on with the charging police force, and the sounds of gunfire in the corridor suddenly became a mess.

Yu Tian also encountered a little trouble at this time, and the room he jumped into just happened to be occupied.

This was also an apartment, but this time Yu Tian encountered a white friend.

The white friend was very fat, weighing about 400 pounds.

He was wearing a fat and cheap t-shirt and pants. He was sitting on his single sofa and eating fried chicken and hamburgers seriously.

There was a small TV in front of the sofa. The white friend’s attention was all on the TV, and he turned a deaf ear to the gunshots outside the window.

When Yu Tian jumped in, the white friend was a little surprised, but he quickly raised the hamburger and said incoherently, “Don’t kill me, I’m just a fat guy who won’t threaten anyone...”

Yu Tian was speechless.

Judging from the decorations in the room, Bai Friend’s life was also very poor this was probably the reason why he liked fried chicken and hamburgers.

The poor people in developed countries were so poor that they could only eat meat.

And obesity had long become the hallmark of the poor.

Yu Tian sighed. He didn’t expect Bai friend to be so poor. It seemed that the future of the entire windy nation was bleak, and it would fall into the hands of the black friend sooner or later.

With a casual tap, he made his friend Bai faint.

Then, he suddenly realized that he was a little hungry.

He didn't know if it was because he had exercised too much this morning, or because his friend Bai had eaten too much fried chicken just now.

Fortunately, there was a lot of food on the small table next to his friend Bai.

Fried chicken burgers, hot dogs and potato chips... and a big bucket of steaming hot instant noodles.

The instant noodles were obviously made by white friend before, but he hadn't had the chance to eat it yet. At this time, Yu Tian was lucky.

He grabbed a bag of fried chicken and put it under his armpit. Then, he picked up the bucket of instant noodles and swaggered out of the room.

After leaving White Friend's house, Yu Tian entered the corridor.

The corridor was empty. Although the gunfight across from them was raging, the apartment here was quiet.

This was supposed to be work hours. Normal people would not stay at home.

Other than the gangsters across the corridor, there was also that fat white friend..

Their situation was quite special. They either did not want to find a job, or they did not want to find a job.

However, in these developed countries, whether it was working hard to eat or living on welfare, they would not starve to death.

Therefore, in the apartment buildings where these poor people lived, there would inevitably be a few idlers staying at home.

In order to avoid meeting more people and to move faster, Yu Tian did not take the elevator, but went straight to the stairs.

He ran and ate instant noodles, and soon ran to the rooftop.

Yu Tian found that the taste of this cheap food was really good.

He took a sip of the noodle soup and jumped to the opposite rooftop with ease.

Then, he jumped several times.

As long as the distance of the building was not too far, the difference of two or three floors was not a problem for Yu Tian.

After choosing the route of the jump, Yu Tian quickly jumped to the rooftop of No. 76's apartment.

On his way to No. 76's apartment, Yu Tian also met a couple of neighbors on the same floor.

However, he didn't look like a bad guy as he walked and ate instant noodles. The neighbors only glanced at him and didn't pay much attention to him.

Yu Tian stood at the door of No. 76's room, but he didn't knock.

He took out his phone and called No. 76. No. 76 picked up the phone very quickly.

"I'm outside your room. "

After a few seconds, the figure in the peephole flashed, and the door opened.

No. 76 let Yu Tian into the room, then immediately closed the door.

"There seems to be a gunfight nearby. The gunshots are very intense... " No. 76's expression was very calm, as if he did not know what was happening outside.

Yu Tian shrugged. "It's not just a gunfight. The police have... sealed off the entire block. "

No. 76 was immediately shocked. "Sealed off?"

She hurriedly went to the window, pulled up the curtains, and looked down at the street a few times.

There were no police downstairs. The police were still at the periphery, and the search had just begun.

When the gunfight over there was resolved, the police would search the buildings one by one.

They still had time to prepare to leave, but they certainly did not have much time.

Yu Tian drank the noodle soup in two or three gulps and casually threw the bucket on the table.

Then, he handed the bag containing the fried chicken to No. 76. "We should leave... Give me my big pistol.

The gun that he had just snatched had already been emptied, and Yu Tian casually threw it away.

No. 76 put the big revolver in Yu Tian's hand, but did not take the bag of fried chicken..

Translator: 549690339

No. 76 brushed her hair and said indifferently, "I don't eat this... because it's easy to get fat.

Everyone had a heart for beauty, especially women.

Yu Tian shrugged. "Then... help me hold it first. I have to carry you later, so it's not very convenient. "

"Carry Me? How do you plan to leave here?" No. 76 was a little puzzled.

Yu Tian said, "Carry you and walk on the roof. "

"Can this work?"

"It has to work... Let's go, we have to hurry."

Yu Tian put away his big revolver and took the lead to walk out of the room.

This time, he did not return the way he came.

The apartment just now was already in a state of chaos, so the police nearby would definitely be the most crowded and densest.

Yu Tian decided to choose the opposite direction to leave. It should be safer that way.

Although there were no police officers downstairs at the moment, Yu Tian felt that there was no need to try his luck on the streets. It would be safer to leave from the rooftop.

When he reached the rooftop, Yu Tian bent down slightly and said to no. 76, "Come up. "

No. 76 looked at the building across from him. It was one floor higher than his.

He was a little hesitant. "Boss, are you sure you can really jump over on my

"Do you think I would joke about such a thing?"

"Well, if you're sure... I'm honored to be able to jump with you. "

No. 76 climbed onto Yu Tian's back helplessly.

Although this woman looked thin and weak, she was very capable. The heavy weapon weighed down on Yu Tian's heart.

This kind of thing had a lot to do with eating habits, nutritional structure, and the way the body exercised.

A little rich woman like No. 76 was obviously willing to spend money, time, and experience in this area.

No Wonder Donglong Company failed miserably after Uncle Long's accident. The thoughts of these high-level personnel had gone to God knows where.

Yu Tian felt that he had to go back and properly reorganize the Donglong Company. The biggest problem with having a large business was that these high-level management personnel were easily arrogant and complacent. They always thought that they were invincible and that no one dared to provoke them.

Sighing, Yu Tian carried No. 76 on his back and suddenly jumped over to the rooftop opposite.

No. 76 only felt the sound of the wind whistling by her ears, as if she was facing a gale.

She resisted the urge to scream, but she still broke out in a cold sweat.

She felt that her psychological quality was pretty good among non-combatants, at least she didn't pee in fear.

She even felt that she could try bungee jumping next.

After Yu Tian jumped over a few buildings consecutively, No. 76 finally completely relaxed and began to enjoy the feeling of riding on the clouds.

Unfortunately, this trapeze game ended very quickly.

After Yu Tian jumped to a rooftop, he finally put No. 76 down.

"Alright, we've already left the police cordon. Now, we just need to go downstairs normally... do you still have a safe house?"

Yu Tian took his fried chicken bag from No. 76 and began to eat it slowly.

No. 76 had yet to recover from the pleasure of riding on the clouds. He muttered, "Safe house... Ah, there's one more. That's the last safe house I've arranged in Dusk City."

Dusk city was not far from the headquarters of Donglong Company. No. 76 was already very cautious to prepare three safe houses in dusk city.

The so-called cunning rabbit had three burrows.

Yu Tian carried the fried chicken bag and walked downstairs. "Let's go quickly. Let's go back to the safe house first... where is your safe house?"

No. 76 quickly followed and said, "It looks dangerous, but it's actually a very safe place..."

Yu Tian chewed on the fried chicken and said, "Are you trying to tell me that the most dangerous place is often the safest place?"

"That's right!"

"You're not trying to tell me that your last safe house is in the police station, are you?"

"More or less." No. 76 looked pleased. "This safe house is near the police headquarters in dusk city..."

"Very good..."

Yu Tian smiled helplessly.

The temporary base of the Kronin Society was near the police headquarters. This time, they had bumped into each other.

How safe was this last safe house?

After going downstairs, they chose to walk.

It would take some time, but it was the safest way to go.

They couldn't call a taxi, or go to a shop or a person to buy a motorcycle or bike, when they were probably wanted.

They had no intention of making contact with anyone in order to minimize the possibility of accidents.

They just kept their heads down and kept quiet, trying not to attract the attention of passers-by.

In fact, there were many benefits of walking, and the probability of being found and stopped by the police was lower.

They could walk freely through all kinds of remote streets and alleys, avoiding all the places that felt dangerous and unsuitable for passing by.

The walking speed seemed slow, but after passing through all kinds of shortcuts and alleys, the time spent was not much longer than driving.

When the two of them walked to the vicinity of the police headquarters in dusk city, it only took more than half an hour.

The street where the police headquarters was located was a little remote, and there was not much traffic in the vicinity.

Perhaps because most of the police forces had been sent out to search for Yu Tian, the entire police station seemed a little quiet. There were not even many people coming in and out of the police station.

The house number 76 rented was on the street behind the police station. It was only about 100 meters away from the back door of the police station it was basically diagonally opposite.

As expected, this was the most dangerous place as the safest place.

At the door of the house number 76 rented, Yu Tian looked at the sentry post at the back door of the police station and could not help but say to number 76, "Your Guts... are really quite big.

No. 76 said embarrassedly, "Actually, when I just rented this house, I didn't think that the police station would become our enemy. At that time, I felt that the vicinity of the police station should be safer. At least, under some circumstances, the police station's surroundings would be safer...

The more dangerous a place was, the safer it would be. This statement was not unreasonable.

However, if it was not because there was no other choice, there was no need to do such a life-or-death gamble.

The world was so big, where could there not be a place for people to hide? Was there a need to deliberately go to dangerous places?

Wasn't he afraid that he would backfire and really put himself in danger?

Did he really think that he would not be able to discover the situation just because it was dark under the lights?

When No. 76 chose the safe house near the police station, it was not because she felt that this place was dangerous, but because she felt that this place was safe.

However, the current situation was a little..

She knew that there was a tiger on the mountain, but she still chose to walk on the Tiger Mountain..

The last safe house in No. 76 was not an apartment, but a shop.

But the structure of the shop here was similar to that of a residential house, or rather, these shops had just changed the residential house for commercial use.

These shops were basically two-story or one-and-a-half-story structures the so-called half-story, which was that kind of small attic.

The shop rented by No. 76 has such a small attic.

The attic is the kind of traditional sloping surface, with a small window that allows people to climb to the roof.

The Attic doesn't look big, but it is enough for servants to live in.

But according to the local law, shops are not allowed to live in.

Even if the shop has two floors of space, and only one floor is used for business.

This was not quite the same as the habits of the eastern countries.

Many small two-story shops in the eastern countries liked to use the first floor for business, and the second floor for living.

This was more convenient for businesses to work and live, and it could also save a lot of additional rent expenses.

But this kind of model was basically not allowed in western countries, if these shops did not use the second floor as a place of business, then they could only be empty, or piled up with sundries and work supplies.

At night, the Commercial Street would be quiet.

When the shops closed and the customers went home to sleep, the entire street was quiet, and even the entire block was quiet.

This was a completely different world from the bustling, densely populated eastern country.

Such a place was actually very suitable for Tibetans.

However, the slightest movement would easily attract the patrolling police or nervous passers-by to call the police.

Therefore, hiding in such a safe house was definitely a “Hiding” method.

The shop on the 76th was a clinic on the surface, and it was also an eastern medicine acupuncture clinic.

The medicinal herbs and acupuncture skills of the eastern countries were basically not recognized in the world.

Because these traditional medical theories did not conform to the logical consistency of modern science, there were many contradictions, and it was difficult for westerners to understand these theories based on syndrome differentiation and treatment.

Therefore, some eastern medicine clinics abroad could not be called real clinics. They could not even practice medicine and sell medicine.

Eastern medicine clinics basically only had acupuncture and massage. They did not have medical qualifications. They only belonged to the health care industry and did things like giving massages to their customers.

Most of their customers were eastern people. They had fewer white and black friends.

Such a clinic was naturally deserted, and there were not many guests.

Moreover, according to the business habits of the west, most of the guests came by appointment.

In other words, before the guests came, they would call to confirm if the shop had time. After confirming that they could arrange for treatment, they would drive for a long time and come for treatment.

This was a very common pattern in the west. Even if they went to a restaurant for a meal, they would often make a reservation.

Therefore, it was actually a relatively easy and comfortable thing to be a self-employed person in western countries.

The less populated the place, the easier it was to work.

Moreover, because everyone was generally wealthier and the level of consumption was higher, the income of these self-employed people was generally good except for the terrible craftsmanship.

No. 76 clinic was usually closed, looking like it was about to close down.

This showed that the doctors' workmanship was indeed terrible, so there were pitifully few customers.

If there were no patients' appointments, the doctors would not be necessary to come to the clinic to work.

In fact, No. 76 had previously hired two doctors and signed a long-term lease here, intending to use a normal eastern medicine clinic as a long-term cover.

Unfortunately, the skills of the two eastern doctors were really unsightly. Even their compatriots were unable to support them, and the business situation gradually became like this.

The two eastern doctors were too ashamed to continue hanging around here, so they voluntarily resigned and disappeared without a trace.

No. 76's clinic was left empty just like that.

She had originally considered whether to return the shop, but after thinking about it, she felt that the vacant shop was more suitable to be used as a safe house.

Therefore, she still paid the rent on time and planned to renew it indefinitely.

There must be a reasonable explanation for this kind of foolish and rich behavior.

Her explanation to the landlord was that she was still recruiting doctors and wanted to continue running the clinic.

This made a lot more sense.

Based on these circumstances, it was unlikely that the safe house would be exposed. As a temporary hiding place, it should be safe for the time being.

Taking advantage of the fact that no one nearby was paying attention to the clinic, Yu Tian and No. 76 sneaked into the clinic and quietly closed the door.

No. 76 turned on the light. The light was soft white.

The curtains were drawn in the room, so there was no need for the light to leak out and attract the attention of the outside world.

Because they hadn't opened the doors and windows for a long time, the air in the room was a little stuffy.

The two simply went to the attic and sat by the window. They opened the window a little to get some air.

In the attic, No. 76 had prepared some dry food and bottled water. Although the food was simple, it was enough to satisfy their hunger.

No. 76 would rather eat these dry biscuits than the fried chicken in Yu Tian's hand.

Yu Tian did not comment on her eating habits. He only urged her, "Let's hurry up. Tell me about the current situation in the company's headquarters first so that I can decide what to do next. "

No. 76 ate the biscuits, she said, "Actually, I don't know much about the situation... at first, I didn't know that something had happened to uncle long. That morning, No. 15 suddenly sent out an alarm saying that the headquarters had been raided by the police. All the members were immediately put into hiding and temporarily suspended their contact with the headquarters to maintain vigilance and ensure their own safety..."

('Who's number 15?')

"Number 15 is... number 15. I only know that his surname is Liu. We've met a few times.

"Where is he now?"

"He's already been arrested by the dusk city police department, but after I hacked into the Dusk City Police's information system, I didn't find any information about them after they were arrested..."

Number 76 said hesitantly, "Maybe the police didn't record this information into the system, or maybe they handed the person over to other secret departments..."

"Is there a way to trace this information?"

"I can try. Some of the security departments that invaded the wind nation might be able to find information about No. 15 and the others.

"Okay, you check as soon as possible. "Yu Tian nodded and said, "How many members of the company were arrested by the police this time?"

"I'm not too sure about the specific data, but more than a dozen middle and high-level oriental people have gone missing...."

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian leaned against the wooden wall of the attic and said slowly, "In other words... these people should have been arrested by the police?" No. 76 said, "According to our judgment... they should have been arrested."

"So... The donglong company has completely lost control and fallen into the hands of Traitors?"

"That's not the case. Many of the things in the DONGLONG company are still in the hands of US Easterners."

No. 76 quickly explained, "For example, most of the important industries are registered under the names of US Easterners..."

"Only uncle long knows the hiding places of various materials and the capital accounts..."

"Some of the branches scattered around the world are still under our control..."

"There are also some of the lower-level operations personnel, which are also under the control of the middle-level cadres of US Easterners..."

Number 76 counted his fingers one by one and began to explain in detail to Yu Tian.

Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. "So, the losses are only for some unimportant industries?"

"Losses... we can only say that there aren't any serious losses at the moment, but... it something happens to those arrested members, the losses would be huge..."

No. 76 revealed a helpless expression. "They are the upper and middle management of the headquarters, and they have a lot of resources in their hands..."

Every middle and upper management held a portion of the resources in their hands. In the case where Uncle Long had already gone missing, many of the resources would disappear into thin air if something happened to these people again.

Therefore, if they wanted to play Donglong Company for a long time, they had to save these key members of the middle and upper management.

Yu Tian had a headache and said, "First, look for their information and find the place where they are being held. As long as there are any clues, you can tell me. I will personally investigate it."

No. 76 nodded. "Okay."

Yu Tian said again, "What about the traitors in the company? Are they in the headquarters now?"

No. 76 thought for a moment. "The headquarters should still be operating. If the traitors want to control the entire company, they must continue to keep in contact with the various branches and adjust the personnel arrangements..."

"That's good. Then I'll go to the headquarters to deal with these traitors first.

"Boss, do you want to go directly to the headquarters? This doesn't mean much. Those who remain in the headquarters should be small characters. The leaders of those traitors shouldn't dare to work in the headquarters now..."

"Oh? Do you know who the leaders of these traitors are?"

"This... It's difficult to completely distinguish them. "

"Why can't you tell? "Yu Tian was a little displeased. "Don't you even know who the traitors are?"

No. 76 quickly explained, "Some of them might have been coerced..."

"I don't care if they were coerced. As long as they're helping the traitors rob the company of resources, they're all traitors and should be dealt with. "Yu Tian waved his hand and said, "I'll go directly to the headquarters. First, I'll take care of those small fries, and then I'll force them to ask where their boss is..."

"But... If you attack the headquarters, the Dusk City Police will definitely take action again. When that time comes, our headquarters will be completely sealed off by the authorities, and many branches might lose contact with us..."

No. 76 hurriedly explained to Yu Tian.

Donglong company had many branches, and the division of labor was very detailed.

These branches used to exist in regions, and there were basically not many opportunities for contact and contact between them.

It could be said that the branches and branches basically didn't know each other, except for a few special cases.

After Uncle Long's bold and decisive reform, this situation became even more extreme.

The regional branches were split into more branches, and each branch was responsible for their own industries, directly under the leadership of the headquarters.

In this way, the headquarters was equivalent to completing the reform of the centralized power model.

The power of the regional distribution leaders had been greatly reduced. Their forces had been divided into many small branches and handed over to the headquarters.

Although these small branches were all in the same region and country, they were no longer related to each other.

For example, the companies that did business and the companies that sold arms were all in different directions.

Those in charge of making money and those in charge of operations were no longer under the unified management of the regional leaders.

Those in charge of intelligence were in charge of intelligence, while those in charge of buying and infiltrating were focused on being officials.

The personnel of the branch had undergone a large-scale transfer and change, and the entire company had been transformed under the commercial operations of various equity swaps and sales.

As a result, these low-level colleagues, who were not familiar with each other to begin with, were even more unable to identify each other.

Even if they guessed that the other party was their colleague, they did not dare to be certain, nor did they dare to casually interact with each other.

In the end, the person in charge of the region had also carried out a post transfer, causing the situation to become even more serious.

These adjustments had a great impact on the operating efficiency of the East Dragon Company, including some operating income.

However, because of Donglong company's own strong strength as a backer, the operations of the various regions did not have too much trouble, and the operating ability was also restored with the support of abundant funds.

This was originally a good situation for the headquarters to centralize power, but now that the headquarters was suddenly wiped out, the control of the branches below began to have problems.

Because a large number of higher-ups were arrested, the branches they controlled also lost contact.

Not to mention that the branches below were in a mess, if they wanted to get in contact with the headquarters, they could only personally rush to the headquarters.

If the headquarters was controlled by a traitor, the heads of these branches might mutiny, or they might feign subservience and pretend to be willing to obey the leader of the traitor.

In this way, Donglong Company could still retain a lot of strength.

However, if the traitors in the headquarters were all slaughtered by Yu Tian, the twilight city officials would of course accept this big case. At that time, the headquarters would be completely taken over by the officials, and the headquarters would be locked down or put under martial law..

No matter what the twilight city officials would do, those branch leaders would definitely not dare to get close to the headquarters.

At that time, some branches might lose contact with each other and break away from Donglong Company.

At that time, unless the arrested heads were able to reorganize these branch members, it would be difficult for others to take over.

The legal enterprises on the surface were better. After all, the assets of the company did not belong to the heads of the branches in the legal sense.

However, those businesses that could not be seen in the dark might divide up the remaining resources and disperse in a hubbub, or they might find a new owner.

In short, this would be a very chaotic situation. It would be a mess that was difficult to clean up.

Yu Tian's actions determined the future of Donglong Company..

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian also had a headache.

It was easy to carry out a bloody massacre at the headquarters of the East Dragon Company. However, if they could not control the headquarters in their own hands after the massacre, the East Dragon Company would very likely fall apart.

Even if uncle long and the other higher-ups returned in the future, the strength of the East Dragon Company would be greatly reduced.

However, if they didn't deal with those traitors in the headquarters, Donglong Company would be slowly controlled by those traitors.

By the time they cleaned up all the branches, Donglong Company would most likely be theirs.

Perhaps Uncle Long would be able to take back some things when he returned.

For example, some of the assets on the surface, the company that legally belonged to them..

But that was no longer meaningful.

Donglong company was gone. At most, they could only be rich men.

Even without the support of Donglong Company's powerful strength, their companies and assets could not be preserved. It was a good result for them to be tortured by their competitors until they went bankrupt.

These two results put Yu Tian in a dilemma.

It did not seem feasible to wash the headquarters of the company with blood. It was also not feasible to leave the traitors alone.

There was only one way. After wiping out the headquarters, they would take control of their own headquarters.

But the problem was, would the twilight city officials let Yu Tian open the doors and receive customers at the headquarters?

Even if the twilight city officials didn't have anything to do with the traitors, they wouldn't let such a bloody massacre go unchecked.

Moreover, there was kroni behind this.

Even if they completely destroyed Donglong company, they would not let Donglong company return to the control of Yu Tian and the others.

Yu Tian pondered for a while and felt that he could put the bloodbath of the headquarters aside for now.

As the saying went, "To catch a thief, one must first catch the leader. "As long as he found the leader of the traitors who controlled the headquarters, the matter would be much easier to resolve

Therefore, he asked No. 76, "Do you have any information about those traitors? For example, their photos, addresses, and their current location..."

No. 76 hesitated and said, "I can track down some information about some people, but I don't have the list and information of all the members of the company. Some people don't even know them... if I can get the overall list, I should be able to find the traitors based on the information.

"Where is the list?"

"Uncle Long has the list... No. 8 might have a copy.

"Can't you get the list by hacking into the network?"

"This list is not on the internet, or even on the computer... hacking technology is not omnipotent."

"Then... where is No. 8?"

"No. 8 has gone missing. She should have been arrested along with the others.

No. 76 gave a terrible answer.

Yu Tian felt even more troubled.

Things were back to square one. He still had to save the upper and middle-level executives of Donglong Company.

He rubbed his head and said helplessly, "Then you should go hack into the various systems of the dusk city officials first and find out where they are hidden.

No. 76 immediately went to work.

There was a communication tool in the safe house, so naturally, there was no lack of the professional tool she used to do her work the computer.

Her professional tool looked like an old and worn-out laptop. There was even the sound of the hard disk turning after the computer was turned on.

But in reality, it was just a disguise and a disguise.

The performance of this broken laptop far exceeded that of a normal top-equipped computer.

The attic was very quiet, and no one would disturb them.

No. 76 could work in peace, and soon immersed himself in the endless network data.

Yu Tian leaned against the wall and began to think of a solution to the problem of Donglong Company.

He felt that he needed a strategist, or else he wouldn't know how to deal with the mess now.

He was not good at this kind of thing, and he could not even find a clue.

If there was really no other way, he could only muddle through.

He did not care if the East Dragon Company still existed in the future. He had to kill all the enemies in front of him first.

But if that was the case, it would become unusually difficult to deal with Kroni in the future.

Even if he could fight, even if he could pull out an army from the F * ck, it was impossible for him to lead these armies to fight all over the world.

Not to mention money and logistical support, he couldn't even get hold of basic intelligence.

If he were to pull out an army filled with murderous intent, he wouldn't even know who he was going to fight.

Not only did donglong company have to be saved, it would also have to strengthen its intelligence construction in the future.

Although Uncle Long was quite good at management, he wasn't good at fighting and intelligence.

This time, Uncle Long had fallen into the enemy's conspiracy.

This meant that Uncle Long was only suitable for normal business operations and not for all kinds of conspiracies, tricks, and struggles.

He needed a dog head military, and so did the DONGLONG company.

However, Yu Tian found that he did not seem to have any talents in this field around him.

General Caro looked a little shrewd, but he was actually an ordinary military general. Other than being slightly more experienced and having seen some big scenes, his abilities were not particularly outstanding.

What Yu Tian needed now was a schemer, a schemer who was good at intelligence analysis and planning.

His heart suddenly moved. Why not ask the eastern country?

Such a large country definitely did not lack all kinds of talents. Wouldn't it be easy to find a few schemers?

Yu Tian took out his satellite phone and did not disturb No. 76's work. He carefully walked down from the attic and began to call Old Wang.

Although Little Wang had said that he could contact him for all matters in wind country.

But now, he did not want to do anything in wind country. Instead, he wanted to seek help from the eastern country in terms of talents. Of course, this was not a problem that a person in charge of a region could solve.

Old Wang picked up the phone very quickly.

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment before saying slowly, "That... Old Wang, I want to ask you guys for a favor.

"Mr. Yu, feel free to say it."

"That's right, I'm lacking some manpower by my side..."

"No problem, I've already prepared it." "I've already prepared a special battle team on the territorial sea near wind country." "They're all the most outstanding eastern warriors, and they've long canceled their eastern identities. They also don't carry any items that can prove their origins..."

"Thank you, I salute these warriors who sacrificed their personal interests... but I don't need this kind of assistance..."

Wang was a little surprised. "Then you mean..."

"Do you have... wise men there?" "Wise Men?"

("They are what people call think tanks.

"Think tanks? You Mean Military Staff?"

"No, I mean someone who is good at intelligence analysis and strategic planning... I need a dog-head military advisor!"

"Dog-head military Wang could not help but laugh. "I think I understand what you mean..

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. "It's good that you understand what I mean. Then... is there such a talent? Can you lend it to me?"

Old Wang was silent for a moment before asking again, "Is the situation of the East Dragon Company very complicated?"

Yu Tian said, "It's not very complicated, it's... very complicated. Just tell me if you have a dog-head strategist there. Send him over to help me analyze the situation and see how to solve my current problem."

"You can tell me about the current situation of the DONGLONG company. I'll get someone to help you analyze it."

"These things are too complicated. I Can't explain it clearly over the phone. I need someone to come to the wind country and make a specific plan after understanding the entire situation of the DONGLONG company based on the intelligence information I provided him."

"If that's the case... I'm afraid it'll be very troublesome."

"What kind of trouble?"

"I might have to send an entire think tank to your place. Moreover, all of them are non-combatants, and there are even old people. The safety issue can not be guaranteed..."

"An entire think tank? You Don't have to be so polite. Just give me one person."

"No one..."

Old Wang sighed softly, "We have never advocated individual heroism, especially in the field of intelligence analysis and planning. No matter how outstanding an individual is, there will be times when they will slip up. Only collective wisdom can make a plan as perfect as possible."

"This... is really a pain in the ass. An entire team..."yu Tian said helplessly, "It seems that this idea of mine can't be realized..."

Old Wang was silent for a moment, then, he said, "That may not be the case... I have a friend who is quite good at this. I can help you ask him in a personal capacity. If he is willing to help you over there... a monthly salary of over ten thousand should be enough."

"Monthly salary of more than ten thousand? Are you kidding me?"

Yu Tian did not know what to say. What kind of request was a monthly salary of more than ten thousand?

As long as there was a suitable candidate, Yu Tian would gladly accept this condition even if it was a hundred times higher.

Old Wang said quietly, "My job is not suitable for joking."

Yu Tian was stunned for a moment, then said seriously, "Then I'll have to trouble you."

"You're welcome. I'll ask this friend first. If it's possible, I'll ask him to contact you directly."

"Okay, thank you."

Yu Tian hung up the phone and began to wait in peace.

He didn't wait for long. After about ten minutes, his phone rang.

He picked it up and took a look. It was an unfamiliar phone number from the eastern country.

It seemed that the caller was the friend that old Wang had mentioned.

Yu Tian quickly picked up the call. "Hello."

"It's me."

"I heard that you need an assistant?"

"Yes, but I don't need an assistant. It should be called, uh..."

Yu Tian didn't know how to describe it.

"I know. "The other party interrupted YU Tian's description and said calmly, "I used to work in the same unit as Old Wang."

"Oh..."

Yu Tian understood.

Old Wang was a high-level leader of the security department. Naturally, his colleagues in the same unit as him were also engaged in national security work.

If they were not operational personnel, then they were definitely people who collected and analyzed intelligence and planned operations.

This was a professional, the type of pillar of the country.

However, Yu Tian was slightly curious. "You used to work in the same unit as Old Wang? Why did you come out again?"

"Personal reasons. That's not important.

"After leaving your department, don't you have any confidentiality requirements or security restrictions?"

"No... at least I won't have any. You can hire me without worry.

"Alright, as long as you think there's no problem... I hope you can come to me as soon as possible."

"I don't have any other problems, but I hope to talk about my treatment first."

"Treatment isn't a problem. You can pay yourself."

"I want an annual salary of one million.

"No problem. " "Bonus, benefits, and overtime pay will be counted separately."

"No problem.

"Then I don't have any problems either. You can ask Old Wang and the others to arrange my schedule."

The other party was straightforward and prepared to hang up the phone.

Yu Tian suddenly thought of something and hurriedly said, "Wait... I still don't know your name." "My surname is Zhu. Because I'm older, people usually call me brother Zhu..."

"Brother Zhu?"

Yu Tian was stunned for a moment. This name seemed to have a bad feeling.

Brother Zhu continued, "And because I'm more handsome, my former colleagues all like to call me brother Zhu..."

"Zhuge Liang? Brother Zhu Tian couldn't help but smile bitterly. "You're not joking, right?"

Brother Zhu Liang suddenly laughed. “Just take it as a joke. Actually, I don’t really like others to call me Zhuge Liang. That would be a little too ostentatious, and it wouldn’t be in line with my usually low-key and mysterious style...

Yu Tian was instantly speechless. He suspected that the person he had invited wasn’t a wise man, but a joker.

However, there would not be any problems with the talent recommended by Old Wang.

Now was the time when he needed the help of the dog-head military advisor the most. Even if a joker wise man came, he could only make do with it.

After hanging up the phone, Yu Tian immediately contacted Old Wang and asked him to send brother pig to him as soon as possible.

As for Brother Pig, when he arrived in wind country, he could leave him to be escorted by the Big Guy and the others. This way, there should not be any safety problems.

After hanging up the phone again, Yu Tian sat down to rest.

This closed-down clinic still had a few treatment beds. They were the kind of small beds that could only allow a person to lie down like a corpse, unable to turn over, roll over, and move. Otherwise, they could only fall under the bed.

Yu Tian simply laid down like a corpse.

He hadn’t slept for the past two days, and he didn’t even get over the jet lag.

Although his body wasn’t tired, he was still mentally unwell.

Just like those legendary figures who abstained from grain, when they saw delicious food, they couldn’t help but want to take a bite or two.

Yu Tian just wanted to lie down and rest, and at the same time, practice his internal strength.

No. 76 was still busy in the attic. It wasn’t difficult to hack into the official system, but it would take some time.

Then, it would take even more time to find clues from the massive amount of system data.

This kind of thing also required professional intelligence analysts. Only they could find anomalies from all kinds of trivial things and then summarize and deduce all kinds of intelligence.

This was definitely a very deep professional knowledge.

No. 76 was a hacker, not an intelligence analyst.

Although she was very smart, she also had a certain analytical ability.

But her professionalism, analytical ability, logical thinking style, and patience were still a little worse than a professional..

No. 76 could only take all kinds of information into his hands first, and then slowly think and analyze it.

This would take a lot of time.

Fortunately, Yu Tian had plenty of time now, because he didn't know what to do next.

Before Piggy Liang rushed over to help, he could only stay idle.

Night finally fell slowly.

No. 76 stretched his back and slowly walked downstairs.

Yu Tian slowly sat up from the treatment bed and asked, "How is it? Did you find any useful information?"

No. 76 slowly shook his head. 'C I checked. There are no relevant records from the police and the prison. I've also checked the street surveillance, but I also didn't find a large number of prisoners being escorted... maybe I haven't checked it carefully enough. I'll continue to work overtime tonight."

"Take a rest first. Eat something. If you're too tired, your work will be very inefficient.

Although Yu Tian was a little anxious, he didn't urge No. 76.

Slow work leads to fine work. This was a matter that could not be rushed.

The two of them casually ate some dry food and then rested on the treatment bed for two hours.

Then, No. 76 continued to work late into the night.

Yu Tian also accompanied her to meditate and practice.

In the early morning, another unfamiliar phone number called Yu Tian 's satellite phone.

Yu Tian picked up the call and heard brother Pig's voice from the other end.

"Boss, I've already arrived in wind country. I'm with your bodyguards now. " Yu Tian let out a sigh of relief. "Okay, pass the phone to my bodyguards.

Brother Pig handed over the phone and Cass's voice came from the other end. "Boss."

Yu Tian said in a deep voice, "I'll give you an address. You guys hurry to dusk city as soon as possible. You must protect brother Pig's safety and send him to me...

Cass promised, "Don't worry, boss. Even if we're all dead, we'll still send Piggy Liang to you safely..."

"Don't exaggerate. You 're all experienced killers. What accidents can happen when you sneak into a city? It's just that the police in dusk city are a little irritable now. Just Don't take the initiative to cause trouble."

"Uh... boss, you're right. We'll definitely arrive smoothly."

"I'm currently wanted by the police in dusk city. After you arrive in dusk city, think of a way to settle down first. Then, bring brother Pig Liang over to look for me alone." "Okay, Boss."

"That's all.

Yu Tian hung up the phone.

It was still early in the morning. According to Xiao Wang's operating procedures, at least after daybreak, Cass and the others would be able to apply for fake passports before they could set off for dusk city.

He still needed to wait patiently for a few more hours.

There was nothing much to say, so Yu Tian could only continue to wait.

Time finally slowly dragged on until dawn. Yu Tian had practiced the nameless internal strength for an entire night. He felt that if he continued like this, he would soon be invincible.

He was prepared to wash his face and eat a terrible breakfast.

But at this time, he suddenly heard the sound of a car coming from the door. A car stopped at the door of the clinic.

Following that was the sound of a car opening and closing the door. Someone was slowly walking towards the clinic.

Of course, it wasn't the police.

Faced with such a vicious criminal like him, the police couldn't possibly allow a police officer to act alone. Then, who was it that came?

A patient?

What kind of patient would come to this clinic that seemed to have closed down?

Yu Tian didn't dare to be careless and hurriedly jumped into the attic.

No. 76 was still busy. Yu Tian thought for a moment and didn't disturb her.

No matter who came, they could just hide in the house and not make a sound.

If there was an accident, Yu Tian could totally deal with it himself.

He waited quietly in the attic for a few seconds, and then he heard the sound of someone opening the door with a key.

A thief?

It didn't seem like it.

A thief wouldn't be so calm. Moreover, he parked the car outside so brazenly, leaving such an obvious clue for the police.

Yu Tian was a little puzzled, but he didn't continue guessing.

The person downstairs had already opened the door and walked into the clinic openly.

Then, the person walked around the rooms downstairs and walked straight up to the attic.

Yu Tian sighed secretly.

He had no choice. No matter who came, he could only mock the man out and control him.

At this critical moment, he could not let anyone leak his whereabouts.

The man finally walked to the attic and saw Yu Tian and No. 76 at first glance. Yu Tian also saw the appearance of the man. It was a white middle-aged man who looked a little fat.

The middle-aged man looked a little surprised. He stared at No. 76 for a long time before he said a little awkwardly, "Uh... Ms. Kalina, you're here too..."

No. 76 turned his head and glanced at the middle-aged man before continuing with his work. He casually greeted him, "Mr. Joseph... are you here to collect the rent?"

Yu Tian immediately understood the identity of the person who had come. This Mr. Joseph was the landlord of this place.

The landlord's appearance was somewhat inexplicable.

No matter which country's law it was, after the landlord's house was rented out, he had no right to enter as he pleased.

Although the landlord had the ownership of the house, the right to use it was in the hands of the tenant, so the house temporarily belonged to the tenant's private space.

The landlord's casual intrusion was strictly an illegal act.

An Easterner might be able to argue over this matter, or even laugh it off.

But a Westerner was different. This kind of situation would definitely be treated very seriously.

Mr. Joseph was a little embarrassed, he hurriedly explained, "I just felt a little strange when I saw that your clinic had not been open all this time... uh, I was just worried about the safety of the house, so I came over to check it out..." This excuse was a little forced.

Even if the landlord was worried that the tenant had damaged the house, he had to first obtain the tenant's consent before he wanted to carry out some inspections on the house.

Surprise inspections and trespassing were not feasible in the west.

No. 76 chuckled and did not reply.

She knew that the rest of the matters were Yu Tian's matters and did not need her to worry at all. She only needed to do the work at hand.

Joseph saw that No. 76 did not speak, he quickly said, "Oh, Miss Kalina, actually, I have been planning to waive part of your rent recently because your business situation is really terrible. I hope that you can operate here for a longer period of time. Of course, you will have to pay a small price for this..."

Speaking up to this point, Joseph's expression became much calmer. "Yes, it is indeed a small price.... "

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian was a little curious and could not help but ask Joseph, "What do you want to say? What is a small price to pay?"

Joseph glanced at Yu Tian and asked in return, "Who are you to Kalina? Your Boyfriend?"

"No. "Yu Tian shook his head and said, "We are just ordinary friends.

"Oh, that's easy. "Joseph smiled. "Actually, my proposal is very simple. I just...

Hope that Ms. Kalina can become my romantic lover. "According to the rules of Your Easterners, as her lover, I can also bear a part of the rent for her..."

Yu Tian was suddenly stunned. After a long while, he said hesitantly, "Are you kidding us?"

This proposal made Yu Tian feel extremely ridiculous. Could it be that the 76th was short of a few Yuan for rent?

And according to the rules of the Easterners?

Didn't they know how much it cost for an Easterner to contract a mistress?

How could an ordinary person afford such a beautiful mistress!

Were all western men so stupid and stingy?

And they even paid part of the rent? What was the difference between this and free prostitution?

Even if he gave the whole house to No. 76, No. 76 would not be interested in his proposal.

Yu Tian almost peed himself laughing.

But Joseph said very seriously, "I'm not joking with you. I'm serious. I've always hoped to have a beautiful oriental lover. Ms. Kalina fits my criteria very well. From the moment I met her, I was already moved by her beauty...

Yu Tian didn't know what to say. Joseph wasn't kidding.

He was really coveting No. 76 's beauty, as could be seen from the way he looked at No. 76.

This was a strange phenomenon, because Oriental men had always been unpopular with Western women, but Oriental women were very popular with Western men.

Some people think that this phenomenon can be explained by the biological instinct, because the biological instinct is to reproduce, so they will pursue a stronger and healthier mate.

Western men look stronger, so it is more likely to be favored by the opposite sex, including Eastern women.

This argument basically devalues the eastern men, as if they are the most unsuccessful group in the history of biological evolution.

But this absurd theory does not consider that Western women are also more active than Eastern women and have better physiques than Eastern women.

If considered from the perspective of reproduction, western men should choose Western women, rather than inexplicably interested in weak eastern women.

The reason why Eastern women are popular does not need to be explained by biology.

Humans were intelligent creatures. It was impossible to choose a mate based only on the strength of their muscles.

Otherwise, the coolies on the construction sites would be the most popular target for Oriental women, and not those western men who were covered in long hair and had an extremely strong body odor.

When humans wanted to choose a strong mate, it was not because of the strength of their muscles.

Those humans who stood at the top of the human class definitely did not have the strongest muscles.

The things that determined the strength of humans were IQ, ability, personality... even talent and beauty.

The average IQ of easterners was obviously higher. Many high-level talents in western countries were from Easterners.

Logically speaking, easterners should be the most favored by the opposite sex.

The reason why such a strange phenomenon was caused by the choice of a spouse was actually very simple. It was racial discrimination.

Because of racial discrimination, western women looked down on oriental men from the bottom of their hearts, so they would not have any sexual interest in oriental men.

Western men also looked down on oriental women from the bottom of their hearts, but this did not affect their interest in oriental women.

Men were so shallow, the desire to mate could make them ignore all discrimination.

In any case, Westerners did not have that much sense of responsibility and psychological burden. It was normal for people in the west to break up peacefully when they were tired of each other.

Such discrimination seemed to hurt the Easterners' self-esteem, but it was not necessary.

Just a few hundred years ago, when the eastern civilization was still at the peak of its prosperity, the easterners also discriminated against the westerners and called them barbarians.

In the past two to three hundred years, the West had suddenly taken a step ahead and naturally began to be arrogant, thinking that they were the most outstanding race and people in the world.

Perhaps this was called the turn of the tides, because the banker would soon turn to the east.

However, in the future, there would not be too big of a gap between the civilizations of the various countries. After all, it was already an era of globalization, and all kinds of exchanges were inevitable.

Yu Tian sighed and asked Joseph, "Mr. Joseph, are you single now?" "Of course not. How could an Outstanding Man Like Me Be Single?" "Then are you planning to betray your marriage?"

"Of course not, I just want to find a lover. Marriage also needs some small adjustments. This is a very romantic thing... isn't it?"

"Hehe..."

Yu Tian was speechless.

He did not discriminate against people of different races, but it was very easy for him to dislike foreigners.

This was because most foreigners always thought that they were superior to others, and they thought that they were smart, stubborn, ignorant, and ignorant.

This had something to do with the western education system.

The western world only needed a small number of elites, and most of the commoners were raised like pigs, cows, and sheep. They could not enjoy a valuable education.

They could only serve as the lowest level of labor, happily living their ignorant lives.

Joseph was obviously the fighter plane of this kind of idiot.

His expression was even one of almsgiving, as if he had paid a great price. And No. 76 had the opportunity to become his lover, which was a very lucky thing.

No. 76 didn't have time to deal with Joseph. She had a lot of work to do.

It was impossible to reason with these stubborn and ignorant westerners, and Yu Tian had no interest in saving their intelligence.

He chuckled and knocked Joseph out.

Knocking Joseph out was a very simple thing, but how to deal with it next was a bit troublesome.

It was not necessary to kill Joseph, but Yu Tian would not let him go easily, or the safe house would be abandoned again.

But if Joseph went missing, the safe house would be implicated.

It was possible that Joseph's family would call the police, and the police might come here to conduct some routine investigations.

This was almost an unavoidable situation, and Yu Tian did not have any good ideas.

He could only try to delay things so that Joseph's disappearance would not be discovered too soon..

Translator: 549690339

The first thing to deal with was the car outside the door.

If the car was allowed to stop at the door, it would soon attract the attention of the police, even without waiting until night.

Joseph could have hidden it under the table, but the clinic did not have a garage, and Yu Tian could not hide the car in the clinic.

He had to get rid of the car and find a suitable place to dump it.

Joseph drove a "Luxury car" , one of the more high-end models commonly used by the people of wind country.

Do not think that westerners do not like to show off their wealth. Showing off wealth is a common disease of mankind, regardless of country or nationality.

People who do not show off their wealth are simply not rich enough.

This "Luxury car" was a little eye-catching. Yu Tian did not want to be flashy, but there was nothing he could do.

After putting Joseph away in the storeroom, Yu Tian took his car keys and left the house.

It was best to leave the car as far away as possible. This way, it wouldn't be easy for Joseph's family to connect him to the clinic, and he would be able to buy as much time as possible.

Yu Tian suddenly had an idea. He thought that he could leave the car in the neighborhood where the police force had cordoned off today.

In that case, if Joseph's family found out that he had gone missing, they might think that he had accidentally run to the scene of the gunfight and gotten into an accident during the chaotic gunfight.

In this way, it would take some time to investigate these things, which would give Yu Tian even more time.

Having made up his mind, Yu Tian immediately turned the car around.

The flashy luxury car sped along, and Yu Tian soon approached the block he had been to before.

Not far ahead was the apartment where he had “Fought” with his black friends, but the gunshots had long since subsided.

There was no need to visit the scene. The result of this battle would definitely be the black friends ‘complete defeat.

No matter how trashy the wind nation’s police were, it was impossible for hundreds of armed police officers to not be able to defeat more than a dozen gangsters. Even if all of them ran over to take bullets, they would still be able to bankrupt the black friends.

Yu Tian searched for a suitable parking spot along the way.

He felt that he could not hide his car too well now, because if Joseph’s family found out that he was missing and could not find his car, it would be easier for them to prioritize finding a rental house like a clinic.

Letting the car be easily discovered by them would be easier to attract their and the police’s attention to this side.

However, parking on the side of the road was also not good.

Because a random parking will attract the police to write a ticket, which will quickly expose Joseph’s disappearance.

Let Joseph ‘s family find out Joseph ‘s disappearance by themselves, at least until the night.

Then the police would dilly-dally investigate, and perhaps drag it out until tomorrow.

So much time, enough for Yu Tian to find a safe place again, and smoothly move.

After walking for a while, Yu Tian finally found a street with parking spaces.

Fortunately, there were plenty of parking spaces. Yu Tian successfully found a parking space and parked his car.

After getting out of the car and locking the car door, Yu Tian realized that he had attracted the attention of some people.

This was all the trouble caused by the “Luxury car”.

Another group of black friends had their eyes on Yu Tian.

Yu Tian was a little puzzled. Could it be that the streets nearby were all the territory of the black friends 'gang, so there were these black gang members everywhere?

It was not a good thing to be targeted by a gang. What Yu Tian was most annoyed about now was all sorts of trouble.

However..

Yu Tian had an idea. The car keys fell out of his trouser pocket casually and very conspicuously dropped in the middle of the sidewalk.

However, he seemed to be completely ignorant as he continued to swagger forward.

The eyes of the black friends behind him immediately lit up.

At this moment, two policemen suddenly appeared at the corner of the street behind them and slowly walked over.

The black friends looked at each other and immediately followed Yu Tian's direction.

Then, one of the black friends suddenly slipped and fell to the ground, as if he was dancing in their black continent's special dance.

The black friends beside him quickly went to help him, and the ground instantly became a mess.

Yu Tian accidentally "Lost" the key, so it naturally disappeared from the road.

Yu Tian turned a corner in the alley in front and was gratified to see this hardworking scene.

It was also a good idea to let the car be stolen.

Because the car had already appeared on this street, it was enough to attract the police's attention.

In order to not let the police miss these important clues, Yu Tian even deliberately ran a red light under the traffic surveillance.

This kind of illegal record, which was photographed, did not require the police to go through the tedious surveillance video of various intersections. They could easily retrieve it from the system.

This helped the police locate the last missing car as fast as they could.

But then, the car was stolen. The police would have to spend more time tracking down the car.

Yu Tian was impressed by his sudden inspiration.

He quickly went through the alley and was ready to return to the clinic.

But after passing through the alley, he found that the place looked familiar.

On closer look, the street was directly leading to the apartment where he and his black friends were fighting.

There were still police officers at the entrance of the five-story apartment. They had cordoned off the entrance and the entrance of the apartment with armed police officers.

There were some plain-clothes police officers and ordinary police officers coming in and out of the apartment door. They were probably doing some investigation and collecting evidence.

Yu Tian also saw his bicycle, which he had ridden over, being left alone on the roadside not far away.

He was instantly delighted. This broken bicycle had not been stolen yet?

Was the bicycle so worthless? Or were the people of wind country so rich that even vagrants had the right to say, "What bicycle do you want?"?

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment and decided to ride that bicycle.

Having a bicycle as a means of transportation would make his movement much easier he could not run to a speed of dozens of miles per hour and run for half an hour in one go.

The bicycle was diagonally opposite the entrance of the five-story apartment building, and it happened to be outside the police blockade.

Yu Tian pulled the hood of his hoodie, quietly approached the roadside, and then slowly walked toward the bicycle.

His clothes were taken off his black friend's body. This kind of attire was very popular among local black friends. There was a kind of low-key, mysterious, introverted, religious, defensive, and fashionable... he couldn't make it up anymore.

In short, the biggest advantage of this kind of hoodie was that it was cheap. There was also a hat, which was very suitable for some sneaky black guys.

If one didn't look at his face, Yu Tian's current appearance was similar to that of a black friend.

This image was very common among black friends in the neighborhood. Yu Tian kept his head down and didn't attract the attention of the police officers across the street..

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian arrived in front of the bicycle very smoothly.

He did not hesitate at all. His movements were very smooth as he jumped onto the bicycle, stepped on the bicycle, and left.

A policeman on the opposite side looked at Yu Tian suspiciously. He originally did not want to pay any attention to him.

However, he had a feeling that something was wrong.

Hence, the policeman shouted at Yu Tian, "Hey! That Kid... "

Yu Tian ignored him and pretended not to hear him. He immediately sped up and dashed forward.

Soon, Yu Tian turned a corner and disappeared from the sight of the policemen.

The policeman behind him was a little stunned. He did not know if he should drive to catch up with Yu Tian.

The colleague next to him walked slowly to his side and asked absent-mindedly, "What's Wrong?"

"That guy just now... I feel like something's wrong.

"Oh? You mean that kid riding a bicycle? Do you think he's a bicycle thief?" "Maybe... but he could also be the wanted criminal we're looking for. "

"Ha, wanted criminal? Why would a wanted criminal come to our blockade from outside? Just to steal a bicycle? Stop joking! "

"That's hard to say. You Can't imagine the madness of such a criminal.

"Yeah, so he crazily stole a bicycle parked by the roadside and then began to flee frantically...

"I'm not joking with you.

“I’m not joking either. I think we’ll soon receive a case of bicycle theft, hahaha...”

The two policemen’s idle chatter quickly came to fruition.

Yu Tian had only left for less than two minutes when the little girl who had lost her bicycle finally realized that she had lost her bicycle.

The streets nearby were filled with policemen, so it was naturally very convenient to call the police, so the little girl conveniently called the police.

With so many policemen around, it was still possible for a theft to happen under the nose of so many police officers. The higher-ups of the police felt disgraced.

As the theft happened in this neighborhood, the commander in charge of the search operation asked on the channel to see if the police in the neighborhood had found anything.

Yu Tian’s whereabouts were quickly reported. After the police officers confirmed, the bicycle that Yu Tian was riding on was the same color as the stolen car.

Basically, it was confirmed that Yu Tian was the thief who stole the bicycle.

The commander immediately flew into a rage.

The thief dared to commit such a brazen crime even though he clearly knew that there were a large number of police officers operating here. This was simply disregarding the incarnation of Justice in Dusk City!

“Investigate!

The commander gave the order and the technicians immediately began to track the surveillance cameras on the streets.

Bicycles were also considered a relatively rare means of transportation. It was easy to distinguish them from the blurry surveillance cameras, so the technicians quickly tracked Yu Tian’s location.

At this time, Yu Tian was shopping in the supermarket because he felt a little uncomfortable eating biscuits all day.

He had left the bicycle at the entrance of the supermarket, which happened to be exposed to the surveillance cameras on the streets.

There were not many street surveillance cameras in Fengguo. Generally speaking, it was difficult for the police to track down the criminals through a few scattered surveillance cameras.

This time, the commander happened to find the location of the criminals. He was inexplicably excited.

“Go after them! ”

Most of the police and armed police in the city were concentrated in the vicinity of this block. It was rare for the commander to have such an adequate police force. He immediately made the decision to hunt down the car thieves.

Dozens of police cars quickly set off and sped toward the supermarket where Yu Tian was.

Yu Tian did not expect the police to make such a big fuss over a bicycle theft case.

He did not take the matter to heart at all, nor did he think that the bicycle parked outside the supermarket would be discovered by the police.

He was still leisurely browsing the supermarket, choosing the right food.

The food in the supermarket was a little monotonous, or in other words, most of the things did not suit his appetite.

He did not consider fresh vegetables and meat. The high price was not a problem, mainly because the clinic did not have the conditions to cook.

Yu Tian could only choose some fruits and some cooked food.

However, these foreign cooked food were also very few. They were basically biscuits, bread, cakes, sandwiches, oatmeal, chocolate candies and so on.

These were all sweets, and could even be called snacks. Yu Tian did not like them very much.

The rest of the food was basically some frozen semi-finished ingredients that needed to be heated up before eating. Yu Tian could not even understand what they were.

There were also some non-frozen foods that did not need to be heated up. They were basically all kinds of ham and canned food.

He could still barely accept these things. They could also be mixed with bread and other things to deal with a meal.

There was no need to mention the condiments. The place was basically filled with cheese, butter, tomato sauce, salad sauce, sesame sauce, peanut sauce... and they were all foreigners' sweet tastes. Yu Tian felt extremely tired of eating these things.

Didn't they say that dried lady chili sauce was popular all over the world? Why was there not even a bottle of dried lady chili sauce in this damn place?

If it was just junk food like this, he might as well eat fried chicken and hamburgers.

Yu Tian walked around the supermarket and finally found instant noodles in a corner. He even saw a few brands that he was familiar with, and tears immediately welled up in his eyes.

There was nothing much to say. He immediately carried over a dozen buckets of instant noodles and brought a few canned meat and fruits with him to end his purchasing process.

With instant noodles, he could at least treat Pig Bro Liang to a passable lunch.

Thinking of this, Yu Tian began to think about when Piggy Liang and Cass would arrive at dusk city.

It didn't take long to arrive from the seaside, but considering that so many people needed to get passports and arrange transportation, this delay might be even longer than Yu Tian's time.

However, Yu Tian had to hurry up and return early.

He pushed the shopping cart and quickly rushed to the checkout counter to settle the bill. Then, he pushed the shopping cart and walked out of the supermarket.

However, two supermarket security guards suddenly stopped in front of him.

Yu Tian couldn't help but frown. He glanced at the two security guards and asked, ("What are you doing?"

The two security guards, one black and one white, were tall and sturdy. They looked like a black and white duo.

They stared at Yu Tian as if they were staring at a prey.

The black security guard chuckled. "What? What do you think we're going to Security guard Bai continued, "Oriental Man, we suspect that you've stolen something! Take off your coat and accept our inspection!"

Yu Tian broke into a smile.

He looked at the two security guards' pretentious expressions and immediately understood what was going on.

There was nothing to explain. This was the red fruit's racial discrimination.

He suddenly felt a little angry.

These black-skinned and white-skinned people, what right did they have to discriminate against the Easterners?

These ignorant and ignorant people, don't they know that we easterners are on the road to great rejuvenation and are rising up at an incredible speed?

Where did their confidence and courage come from?

Translator: 549690339

In the thousands of years of human civilization history, the Easterners had always stood at the peak of world civilization.

It was not the best in the world, but it had always been a first-class civilization.

Moreover, this kind of civilization had always been passed down, and it was the only civilization and nation that still existed in the entire world.

Although the inheritance of the eastern civilization occasionally had tens of hundreds of years of decline, each of them had times of prosperity and destruction.

However, the entire civilization had not been destroyed. Once it weakened, it would quickly revive and be reborn, suppressing the barbarians.

Such an outstanding civilization and nation, how could it be the turn of the Barbarians to discriminate?

Where did these black-skinned and white-skinned people get their sense of superiority from, to actually have so much mysterious confidence in their own race and country?

Did they not watch the international news?

Yu Tian wouldn't let these self-righteous idiots get away with it. Anyway, he had caused a lot of trouble in dusk city, so he didn't care if he caused more trouble.

He was just a wanted man. Would the dusk city police let him go?

He casually pushed the shopping cart to the side, then took a step forward and stuck himself in front of the white security guard. He said coldly, "What did you call me, you son of a B * Tch?"

“Oriental Man “was a somewhat ambiguous term. It generally referred to the yellow-skinned people of the entire eastern region.

Security guard Bai was a little surprised by Yu Tian’s reaction. He had never seen such a temperamental oriental man who dared to speak to his white friends in such a tone.

However, security guard Bai was much bigger than Yu Tian.

Although he was a little surprised, he still held his head high and said even more arrogantly, “I called you an oriental man. Aren’t you an oriental man?” Yu Tian snorted and said, “I’ll give you a chance to apologize.”

“Apologize? Haha...”security guard Bai was happy. “Why should I apologize?

Are you crazy?”

The black security guard at the side also took half a step forward and stuck close to Yu Tian. He said fiercely to Yu Tian, “Damn Oriental thief, take off your clothes! I want to check if you stole anything! ”

As he said this, the black security guard gave Yu Tian a fierce push.

However, Yu Tian did not move at all.

The black security guard was a little surprised, but he still did not understand what this meant.

Yu Tian said coldly, “It seems that you don’t need this opportunity to apologize?”

“Stupid oriental man, you must be crazy...”

The two security guards were overjoyed. “Save Your Chance for yourself! If you kneel down and accept the inspection now, we can consider forgiving you for your theft...

“It seems like you guys don’t know that sometimes... people die when you talk nonsense...”

Yu Tian was ready to take action. He wanted to kill someone now.

It was wrong to kill someone, and it was not good to kill someone, but... So What?

Yu Tian was not some kind man or woman, so he did not care about this.

Just then, the black security guard lifted his leg and kicked him in the knee. He even cursed, “F * Ck you...”

Of course, this curse was a translation.

Yu Tian could not understand the black security guard's original words. He did not know which tribe language it was from.

He casually slapped him.

Before the black security guard's toes touched Yu Tian, his neck was broken by Yu Tian's Slap.

That's right, his neck was broken, and he could not be more dead.

A slap that sent someone flying was actually not the most serious injury.

That was because the most important part of sending someone flying was the pushing force.

A blow that truly had explosive power would only shatter the head and break the neck. It would not send the person flying at all.

The black security guard fell backwards with his back straight.

Beside him, security guard Bai was shocked. He hurriedly turned his head to look at his partner, but at a glance, he saw the black security guard's strange twisted neck and half of his face.

Security guard Bai was sure that his partner was dead.

He was completely dead, and it was an ugly death.

Unless god himself was involved, no one would be able to save him.

Security guard Bai suddenly felt a chill on his back. He felt like he had watched a horror movie in a movie theater when he was a child.

This strange but familiar feeling made him involuntarily take a few steps back and collapse on the ground.

Yu Tian sneered. Just as he was about to get rid of this security guard Bai, he was suddenly attracted by the commotion outside the supermarket.

This supermarket was on the first floor of the basement. There was a few meters wide staircase at the exit, and there were long elevators on both sides of the stairs.

A flurry of footsteps could be heard from the stairs. Then, a large number of police officers appeared at the entrance of the supermarket.

Such a huge police force immediately attracted the attention of other customers in the supermarket.

They were originally watching Yu Tian's excitement, but at this time, they were shocked by the huge police force and retreated to both sides of the entrance.

Yu Tian was a little surprised. These police officers had created such a big scene. Could they be coming for him?

However, how did these police officers lock onto him so quickly?

With such a big scene, it couldn't be for the bicycle just now, right?

Groups of policemen walked down the stairs and met Yu Tian at the exit.

At the same time, they also saw the black security guard lying in front of Yu Tian and the white security guard who was slumped on the ground.

Although they didn't know what had happened, the policemen still quickly took out their guns. While shouting that they were not allowed to move, they surrounded Yu Tian.

Yu Tian would not listen to the police. He jumped back and instantly jumped over the cash register. In the blink of an eye, he was behind the shelves and disappeared before the eyes of the police.

The customers in the supermarket could not help but exclaim in surprise. Even the police who had just rushed down the stairs were shocked.

There were still police officers shouting, but everyone knew that it was useless.

Yu Tian quickly went through the shelves and ran to the back door of the supermarket.

He had just walked around the supermarket and found out the direction of the back door. He ran to the back door in a few steps.

The back door was the supermarket's goods transport corridor, and next to the corridor was the warehouse.

The corridor was very spacious, but at this time, there were many boxes of goods piled up in the corridor. A few staff members were lazily counting the number.

This kind of passage was generally not provided for customers to use, unless it was a special or emergency situation.

But of course, the staff members here could not stop Yu Tian.

Yu Tian did not even bother to say a word. He directly knocked the people and goods over and then rushed out.

There were no stairs at the end of the passage, only a wide slope, which provided access for vehicles.

Yu Tian was about to run up the slope in one breath when he found a large number of police officers running down the slope and running into him head-on.

Yu Tian immediately felt a headache..

Translator: 549690339

When the policemen saw Yu Tian, they were all stunned.

Then, someone immediately shouted, "It's him! Catch Him!"

With this shout, all the policemen immediately raised the guns in their hands and aimed them at Yu Tian.

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment.

He was considering whether he should charge forward, but he quickly gave up the idea.

Most of these policemen were armed, and they all had automatic weapons in their hands.

If he failed to pass the test, he might be shot into a sieve.

Moreover, there were more than a dozen policemen in front of him, and there were even more footsteps behind them. These were just the first group of policemen.

If he were to charge forward, he would definitely be shot.

Yu Tian suddenly felt like he was caught in a trap by the police.

However, he had no choice. He could only quickly retreat into the supermarket and avoid this wave of police officers.

"Catch him! He killed someone!"

The police officers immediately roared, but they were not in a hurry to chase after Yu Tian.

Yu Tian had just killed a supermarket security guard at the front door, this matter has been notified to the entire police force.

In addition, he was killed by a slap. And in front of the police and supermarket customers, showed a magical oriental parkour.

Therefore, he was naturally listed as an extremely dangerous person by the police.

In addition, the police also learned a very important fact from the White Guard:

the murderer was an Oriental Man!

This was completely consistent with the image of the wanted criminal that they were searching for.

The police commander almost did not need to check the photo with the White Guard and immediately confirmed Yu Tian 's identity.

This was the person they were looking for, an extremely crazy and dangerous murderer!

This kind of danger was not the mentality of an ordinary criminal. Although the police felt that Yu Tian's mentality was also very dangerous, the most dangerous thing was still the powerful force that Yu Tian displayed.

The police commander was very nervous. He repeatedly reminded the police officers who participated in the operation to be careful and not to underestimate the enemy.

Criminals who needed to be arrested by hundreds of armed police officers were certainly not to be taken lightly.

The police did not dare to rush into the complicated supermarket. They could only seal the front and back exits of the supermarket and then slowly arrest them.

This gave Yu Tian some time to be safe. He quickly retreated into the supermarket and began to think of ways to escape.

Seeing the customers in the supermarket who still did not understand what was going on, Yu Tian decided to capture a group of hostages first.

No matter what, he needed hostages to confront the police. Otherwise, he could only have a head-on confrontation with the entire police force.

Yu Tian would not do such a crazy thing, no matter how powerful he was, to confront an entire city's police force head-on.

He took out his big revolver. This thing was finally put to use.

He did not need a pistol to deal with ordinary people, but to threaten them, a pistol was more useful than martial arts.

“Gentlemen, ladies... ”

Yu Tian jumped onto a freezer and shouted loudly, attracting the attention of the few customers in the supermarket.

Someone stopped and looked at Yu Tian inexplicably.

Some people had already noticed that something had happened in the supermarket. When they saw the big revolver in Yu Tian’s hand, they immediately realized something and hurriedly ran to the exit of the supermarket.

Yu Tian hurriedly fired a shot in the direction of the exit.

With a bang, a few beverage bottles on a pile of shelves exploded, and fragments and juices flew in all directions.

Although the power of the big revolver was great, the visual effect it produced was still slightly inferior to that of a shotgun.

However, the sound of the gunshot was still very loud, and it gave the customers in the supermarket a fright.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Yu Tian immediately announced loudly, “Gentlemen, ladies... Robbery! ”

“AH –

Immediately, some people cooperated and screamed, but more people abandoned their shopping carts and ran to the exit of the supermarket. They cleverly circled behind the shelves.

Yu Tian immediately had a headache.

The supermarket was already very big, and there were shelves everywhere. It was almost like a maze that extended in all directions.

These customers scattered in a hubbub and ran for their lives. Yu Tian did not know who to chase.

He wanted to shoot two customers to scare the others.

However, these customers were all running away. Even if he shot one or two people, it was unlikely to scare the others. They might not even be able to see him.

Although he had the ability to kill all these people, it was meaningless to do so.

To control an entire supermarket was not something that one or two people could do. Even if one or two people were powerful, it was useless.

It seemed that it was unrealistic to try to control a large number of hostages and negotiate with the police.

It was already good enough to control a few hostages.

Thinking of this, Yu Tian immediately ran toward the back door of the supermarket.

There were several offices near the back door of the supermarket. In addition to the staff near the warehouse, he could more or less capture a few hostages.

Sure enough, before Yu Tian could run to the office, he saw more than a dozen staff members running toward the exit in a panic.

The customers habitually ran to the front cashier exit. These people who ran to the back door were all staff members of the supermarket.

Their identities were easy to identify because the staff members of the supermarket all had the same uniform.

The biggest advantage of the staff members was that they were more unified in their actions.

This saved Yu Tian a lot of trouble, and it was also much more convenient to capture the hostages.

He took a step forward and blocked in front of these staff members. Then, he waved the big revolver in his hand and shouted, "Hey! Don't run anymore, guys. You're captured!"

The supermarket staff were shocked by Yu Tian's sudden appearance. They looked at the big revolver in Yu Tian's hand and did not dare to act rashly for a moment.

Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief and then said, "Very good. Gentlemen, ladies, be a good hostage. I can guarantee your safety."

There was still a need to appease them. The more stable the emotions of the hostages were, the easier it would be for Yu Tian to control them. The chances of an accident happening would be less.

These supermarket employees did not dare to make a sound, nor did they dare to resist.

Being taken as hostages was a very helpless thing. They could only huddle by the wall and obediently stare into space,

“Very good... Now, line up your team. We’ll go to your boss’s office together...

who will lead the way?”

Yu Tian shook his large revolver and commanded the group of supermarket employees to move.

The office space was narrower, making it easier for him to control the hostages..

Translator: 549690339

When the hostage arrived at the office, the office was already empty.

Yu Tian felt a little regretful. He originally wanted to capture the boss of the supermarket. The negotiation value of this kind of capitalist was higher.

But there was no other way. Behind the office was the warehouse and the back door of the supermarket. It was very convenient for the people here to escape.

If Yu Tian did not grab the hostages and ran directly to the office, he might be able to stop the supermarket management staff in the office.

Now, he could only make good use of the dozens of hostages in his hands.

The police had already entered through the back door. More than a dozen people were poking their heads into the supermarket.

They soon found Yu Tian and the group of supermarket staff in his hands.

The police immediately became restless. Yu Tian casually fired a shot in the direction of the police.

The loud gunshot shocked all the police officers. Some of them even fell to the ground in a panic.

This shot did not hit anyone, but it cut off a large part of the wall around the corner. It fully demonstrated the powerful might of the big revolver.

“Listen to me, the policeman on the opposite side. Do you see the hostage in my hands? I want to see your boss. I want to negotiate with you. Let your boss come out and talk to me! ”

Yu Tian was like a real kidnapper. He made a request to the police and chased the hostage into the office like a duck.

These offices were not big, because a supermarket did not need too many managers to sit in the office.

Other than the boss 'office and the employees like the treasurer who needed a desk, only the security department's monitoring room was slightly bigger.

The reason why the monitoring room was bigger was that the employees' lockers were all placed here.

Usually, the employees changed into their work clothes here including the security guards. They also changed into their uniforms here and took rubber sticks.

The monitoring room was divided into two parts. One part was the monitoring room that was protected from the surveillance cameras, and the other half was the changing room, which was about thirty square meters.

Yu Tian chased the hostages to the changing room and sat down at the door.

There was a glass window beside the door. The security guards could see what was happening in the supermarket through the glass window, and Yu Tian could also observe the movements of the police through the glass window.

This time, it was like catching a turtle in a jar.

However, Yu Tian did not panic. He felt that if the police entered the complicated supermarket, he might have a better chance to kill his way out.

The more complicated the environment was, the more advantageous it would be for him.

If he rushed into the crowd, the police would not dare to shoot at will.

At that time, he could rely on his kung fu to become the Master of the battlefield.

Of course, it did not matter whether he was the master or not. He just needed to escape in the chaos.

Soon, the police gathered outside the surveillance room.

But the police didn't dare to come close. They hid behind the shelves and aimed their guns at the door of the surveillance room.

After a while, someone started to shout from outside with a loudspeaker.

“Listen Up, I’m director Henry of the police headquarters of dusk city. I want you to ensure the safety of the hostages. Our negotiator will be here soon. You can tell our negotiator your request!

Yu Tian opened half of the door of the surveillance room, then he shouted to the outside, “I can not hurt the hostages, but don’t play tricks! If you dare to trespass into my territory, I will kill all the hostages... I have explosives in my hands!”

After saying these words, Yu Tian began to feel like a kidnapper, the kind who failed to rob a bank.

Of course, he did not have any explosives in his hands, but the police had to believe in this kind of threat.

Director Henry immediately replied, “Mr. Kidnapper, please don’t act recklessly. We can completely resolve today’s matter peacefully!

Yu Tian smiled and said, “As long as you don’t act recklessly, I won’t act recklessly!

This was great. Now that he had entered the negotiation stage with the police, it seemed that he would have to delay quite a bit of time.

Yu Tian was still thinking about the schedule of brother Zhu, Cass, and the others. He looked at the time and decided to make a call to ask them where they were.

In addition, he had to tell them about his current situation so that they would not be anxious if they rushed to dusk city.

In the meantime, he also wanted to ask brother Zhu what good ideas he had in his current situation.

Yu Tian took out his satellite phone and realized that there was no signal at all.

The situation was a little bad. If Piggy Liang and the others arrived at dusk city at this time, they would find that he was completely out of contact.

The satellite phone might not have no signal in the room, but in this supermarket on the first floor, there was absolutely no signal at all.

He could only look for an ordinary mobile phone now.

After taking a look at the employees in the supermarket, Yu Tian let out a sigh of relief.

With so many people here, how could he be afraid of not having a mobile phone to use?

“Take out your mobile phones...

Yu Tian began to confiscate the mobile phones. Other than using the phone himself, confiscating the mobile phones was also the usual practice of the robbers.

This was to prevent the hostages from passing on information to the outside world. For example, to tell the police how many people there were in the robbers, how many hostages there were, the position of the kidnappers, what weapons they had, what they looked like, or what special features they had..

These things had nothing to do with Yu Tian.

He was just fulfilling the duties of a kidnapper, fulfilling the duties of a qualified kidnapper.

The employees of the supermarket had their cell phones on them. There was no requirement for them to keep their cell phones in their lockers during workin hours.

After getting his cell phone, Yu Tian started to call brother pig.

They had talked on the phone before. The satellite phone had the number that brother pig used in wind country.

Brother Pig picked up the phone very quickly and said with a smile, "Boss, did you run into any trouble?"

Yu Tian asked curiously, "How did you know it was me?" "Only you know this number. Who else could it be but you?"

"Aren't you afraid that it's the wrong number?"

Brother Pig said with a laugh, "Boss, this is a satellite phone. The probability of calling the wrong number is almost zero. Besides, even if it's the wrong number, it doesn't matter. Could the other party trick me into transferring the money..."

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Alright, let's not talk about this. I have indeed encountered some trouble now. I want to ask if you have a solution.

("Tell me about it."

"I'm currently surrounded by hundreds of police officers in a supermarket's office. I have more than a dozen hostages in my hands... well, there are only two exits to the supermarket, but they should be blocked by the police..."

"Ha, Boss, you 're playing a big game! How did you get targeted by hundreds of police officers?"

"It should be because I picked up a bicycle..." Yu Tian said helplessly, "Let's not talk about this. Hurry up and think about how I'm going to kill my way out."

"I can't think about it."

Brother Pig was resolute and decisive..

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian paddled with all his might, not caring about the commotion he caused.

Even if those genetic warriors removed their equipment and jumped into the water to chase after them, it would still be difficult for them to see their positions clearly under the water.

When Yu Tian appeared to take a breather, they discovered Yu Tian's position again. It was already too late for them to chase after him.

After he discovered that he had internal energy, the time he spent in the water had also increased.

This might be what the Taoists called the circulation of internal energy.

However, there was a drawback to this. He did not know how long Michelle could last.

There was a time limit to drowning. If it was too long, Michelle would suffocate to death in the water.

After paddling for a while, Yu Tian estimated that the distance was enough, so he brought Michelle up quickly.

After emerging from the surface of the water, Yu Tian turned his head around to take a look warily.

At the edge of the cliff in the distance, there were no longer any traces of people. These genetic warriors seemed to have felt that things were getting out of hand and had quietly dispersed.

On the surface of the water, they did not seem to see anyone chasing after them. Perhaps they knew that they would not be able to catch up to Yu Tian in the water, nor would they be able to defeat Yu Tian.

Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. Then, he gave Michelle a few tight slaps.

However, Michelle did not choke on the water. His breathing was temporarily stopped by Yu Tian.

Furthermore, due to Yu Tian 's relatively fast swimming speed, he did not lack oxygen for too long.

A few slaps from Yu Tian woke Michelle Up.

After taking a few heavy breaths, Michelle regained some consciousness.

Following that, with a terrified expression, he said, "Damn it. Why would these bastards send so many people to kill me? I'm just a small branch manager..."

"You're thinking too much. The one they want to kill isn't you..."

Yu Tian sighed. So many genetic warriors were obviously coming for him.

Could it be that Kronin had confirmed his identity? Or did he just think that he was an important figure of the Eastern Dragon Company?

To mobilize such a huge force, it shouldn't be just for an important figure, right?

However, when did he reveal his identity?

Yu Tian was puzzled. He decided to contact Piggy Liang to report this situation.

However, he suddenly realized that the communication device beside his ear had already fallen off.

Perhaps it had fallen off during his fight with those genetic warriors, or perhaps it was due to the strange movement of the Lingbo microstep, or perhaps it was due to the large steps he took, or perhaps it was due to him jumping into the sea..

In short, he definitely wouldn't be able to retrieve his communicator.

Yu Tian hurriedly reached for his phone again.

His phone had a waterproof function, so even if he jumped into the sea, there wouldn't be any damage.

However, after he took out his phone, he realized that his phone had somehow broken down. Even a portion of the phone's shell had cracked.

This could be due to some collision during the fight, or it could be due to the limbo micro-step..

Yu Tian sighed. He was really unlucky.

Losing his phone meant losing all his phone numbers. Even if he found other phones and phones to use, he would not be able to quickly establish contact with others for the time being.

Now, he did not have time to complain about his bad luck. He pulled Michelle and continued to swim to the beach in the distance.

Michelle said with a trembling voice, "Are we still going to swim back? is the beach safe?"

"Do you want to stay in the sea to feed the fish? There are so many tourists on the beach, what are you afraid of?"

Yu Tian no longer had the patience to scold Michelle. He grabbed Michelle by the neck with one hand and pulled him toward the beach.

The two of them quickly swam back to the beach.

There were quite a few people gathered on the beach, curiously looking in the direction of the cliff.

Although the gunshots on the cliff were not loud, with so many rifles gathered together, the noise created was not small either. In the end, it still attracted the attention of a portion of the citizens.

Those genetic warriors should have already retreated from the cliff. However, they did not show themselves on the beach. Instead, they went around the back of the cliff and left.

The citizens on the beach did not know what had happened. They were curious. Some of them walked towards the cliff to watch the show.

Yu Tian was confused.

Didn't Piggy Liang say that he was going to call the police? Why was there not a single police officer here?

He looked out of the beach and soon found the police station on the roadside.

The police station looked quiet and there was no sign of any police action.

Perhaps, Kronin had bribed these police officers?

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and then ordered Michelle, "Follow me."

Yu Tian took off his wet shirt and walked to the back of the beach with Michelle.

Michelle, who looked like a drowning dog, was somewhat eye-catching. Yu Tian, who was only wearing beach pants, was much better.

However, this did not affect them much. The two of them quickly passed through the crowd on the beach, left the beach, and walked to the roadside.

When Yu Tian came over, he was in Emily's car.

Emily's car was still on the roadside, but Emily's people had disappeared.

Yu Tian did not have the car keys, so it was impossible for him to drive Emily's car back to the hotel.

So he asked Michelle, "Where Did You Park Your Car?"

Michelle said with a bitter face, "My car was parked... but the car keys were on my bodyguard..."

This was the same situation as Yu Tian.

Yu Tian suddenly felt a little helpless. He touched his pocket and asked

Michelle, "Do you have any change on you?"

Michelle took out the change from her pocket. "I still have some."

Yu Tian took the change and said, "Let's go and take a taxi."

The two of them continued to walk towards the entrance of the beach.

There were more cars and taxis on the other side of the street.

Yu Tian could not find Emily and the executioner now, so he could only go back to the hotel.

Soon, the two of them approached the police station.

Logically speaking, even if there was no one standing guard at the entrance of the police station, there should still be some voices inside.

At least in the hall facing the main door, there were more or less a few people walking around.

But now, he saw that there was no one in the hall.

Yu Tian's heart stirred, and he turned around and walked straight into the police station.

Michelle was slightly stunned. She did not know why Yu Tian wanted to walk into the police station.

Could it be that he wanted to call the police?

Call the police..

Calling the police seemed like a good idea.

Michelle thought that if she asked the police for help, she might be able to escape from Yu Tian's control and take the opportunity to escape..

This thought made him a little excited and a little nervous.

Forcing himself to remain calm, Michelle quickly followed Yu Tian's footsteps.

The two of them entered the police hall one after the other, but found that there was no one in the police hall.

Yu Tian immediately felt that something was wrong.

It was working hours now, how could there not be a single police officer on duty in the Police Hall?

Translator: 549690339

The corridor was next to the hall, and there was an office next to the corridor.

There was an iron door at the end of the corridor, and it seemed to be a place for temporary detention of prisoners.

Yu Tian Strode to the front of the office and knocked heavily on the door a few times.

After waiting for a moment, there was no response from inside the door.

Yu Tian did not wait any longer. Without any hesitation, he grabbed the door handle and used his extremely skilled Strong man push the door".

With a click, the door lock was scrapped.

After pushing the door open, Yu Tian sighed. He saw that the office was littered with the bodies of a few police officers.

The Kronin Society had indeed bribed the police. However, their method of bribing was a little special. They had bought the lives of the police officers.

They were also a world-class secret organization. The Kronin Society's strength was not inferior to the East Dragon Company at all.

Hence, the degree of boldness in their actions and the degree of arrogance in their actions were also no weaker than the East Dragon Corporation.

Yu Tian dared to hire Xi Yang Yang Yang to attack the Secret Service Team of the police, and the clone society also dared to send their own genetic warriors to attack the police station.

If both parties were anxious, it was not impossible for them to engage in a real battle in the mini bull market.

As long as there was a need, no one would care about making things big.

Closing the office door, Yu Tian immediately brought the dejected Michelle out. He had to rush back to the hotel and organize his men to prepare for the battle with Kronin Society.

In addition, he had to inform Ge Liang immediately about this matter.

The Kronin Society had come with great momentum this time. They had dispatched so many genetic warriors. Such combat strength couldn't be underestimated.

With the strength of these few operations in the mini bull market, they were still not a match for the Kronin Society.

Genetic warriors were the core combat power of the Kronin Society. They could be considered the imperial guards of their headquarters.

If the East Dragon Company wanted to fight against this power, they would definitely need the headquarters to transfer and organize elite personnel.

This was definitely a headache for brother pig. This was because the East

Dragon Company had never put too much effort into the combat department.

Under Uncle Long's management, Donglong company was more like a profitable company than a powerful secret organization.

Especially after being affected by the rebellion, Yu Tian did not know if Donglong Company could still organize a force to fight against the genetic warriors.

They brought Michelle to the street entrance smoothly and quickly stopped a taxi.

There were more taxis in the mini-bull city than in the evening city, and it was much more convenient.

Yu Tian gave the address of the hotel directly, and the taxi sped away.

It was a ten-minute journey, and they arrived almost in the blink of an eye.

After getting off at the side of the road, Yu Tian could see smoke rising in the direction of the hotel from afar, as if a fire had just been put out.

His heart sank.

Did Something Happen to the hotel?

How did Kronin find this place?

They had just moved into the hotel at midnight. How could kronin move so quickly?

Yu Tian composed himself and led Michelle slowly toward the hotel.

From a distance, he saw the police cordoned off the street, as well as a large number of police cars and police officers.

There were many citizens who were watching the commotion nearby. There were a few fire engines and ambulances parked in front of the hotel, and there were a large number of firemen and medical personnel around them.

At the same time, there were also reporters who were in high spirits in such a lively place, and they were carrying out live broadcasts of joy.

There was indeed a fire at the hotel, and the entire building had basically been burned to the ground. The neighboring buildings had also been affected, and more than half of them had also been destroyed by the fire.

The fire had long been put out by the firefighters. The surrounding buildings had a dusty feeling from the smoke, and the nearby streets were full of flowing sewage.

Yu Tian did not believe that this was a natural fire. There were so many people living in the hotel, and there were people living in every room. How could they not have noticed the fire when it happened.

Moreover, the hotel must have had fire equipment. With so many people present, it was not difficult to put out the fire. It was not necessary to let the fire burn like this.

This was definitely arson, and it was definitely arson after the attack by the Kroni Society.

Considering that he was attacked, Yu Tian was absolutely sure that the Kroni society was the one who did the hotel thing.

To attack two locations at the same time, it must have mobilized at least a hundred people.

This was a big deal. The Kronen's counterattack was no weaker than the DONGLONG company's.

Perhaps they felt that the donglong company's actions in dusk city were too arrogant and domineering, the Kronen would also start to use such extreme violent means to counterattack, regardless of how bad the consequences would be in the city.

The conflict between the two sides seemed to be getting more and more intense.

Yu Tian did not care about facing more intense conflict and fighting. Right now, he only wanted to go over and check the situation in the ruins, but he knew that the police would definitely stop him outside.

It was impossible for him to run up to the police and say, "This is my territory. All of you, move aside and let me see what happened..."

The police would have detained him and asked him to assist in the investigation.

It was a joke, and Yu Tian was not in the mood for such a joke.

All he wanted to know was what was going on at the hotel, where the mouse squad and other operational units were.

He took Michelle and began to circle the streets around the hotel.

He wanted to see if the police had cordoned off other directions, if there was any other way to get into the ruins of the hotel.

Unfortunately, the police had set up a tight cordon, and there were also police at the back of the hotel. It was also impossible to get in through the back door. The firefighters had already evacuated and began to get into their cars to evacuate.

This meant that the fire had been completely extinguished and not a single spark was left.

The ambulances at the scene also began to evacuate, which meant that there were no living people in the hotel.

There were no bodies near the entrance of the hotel, but that did not mean that there were no bodies in the hotel.

The police usually did not begin to collect the bodies until they had finished investigating the scene.

Yu Tian looked at the roof, then looked at the surrounding buildings, and then sighed.

If he had followed the previous pattern of action, he would have found a quiet corner, jumped on the roof of the buildings next to him, and then followed the roof all the way to the hotel.

But now there were too many people around to watch the show, especially in the surrounding buildings. There were many people crowded in the upstairs windows to watch the show.

There were many buildings around, and some of the buildings were even higher than the hotels.

If Yu Tian jumped on the roof, even if he were to bend over and sneak on the roof, he would be easily discovered.

Then, he would be surrounded by people, and the video would be uploaded..

Translator: 549690339

Being filmed and uploaded to a video was still a small matter. Yu Tian could even cover his face so that he would not expose too much of himself.

However, with so many people watching, there would definitely be some people who would watch the commotion. That would definitely attract the attention of the police.

Yu Tian police would not let him off. At the very least, they would catch him and ask him about his identity. They would ask him why he had sneaked into the fire scene.

Yu Tian did not want to cause any trouble for the time being, especially with the police.

Moreover, he had brought Michelle with him. He could not act alone without Michelle. That was equivalent to releasing Michelle.

It was inconvenient to bring along a burden. Yu Tian decided to get rid of Michelle first.

After looking around once more, Yu Tian was sure that he could not find any information here. He then brought Michelle and left in a hurry.

He had to find a place to lock Michelle up temporarily and have someone keep a close eye on him.

But now that he couldn't contact headquarters or his teammates, Yu Tian could only think of one person that he could trust.

Mina.

It wasn't that this old classmate was trustworthy, but Mina had no interest in this matter.

He could have handed Michelle to Barr and had Barr and blue underpants keep an eye on Michelle.

But Michelle had been the Big Boss Behind Blue Underpants, and now Blue Underpants had put him in their custody. It didn't make sense.

What if Michelle convinced Blue Underpants 'men to get away?

There would have to be a few people who cared about their old relationship?

Or maybe blue underpants just rebelled with Michelle?

It was troublesome just thinking about it.

Yu Tian took a taxi and arrived near Nicholas' apartment.

He didn't know where the red dragonfly's nest was, but he had seen Mina here last night. Mina had also said that this was the red dragonfly's territory.

So, he could just ask any passerby.

Yu Tian dragged Michelle and began to wander the streets.

It was not easy to find a random passerby. If he were to find a kindergarten child or a woman buying vegetables, there was an 80% chance that he would not know where the red dragonfly was.

Yu Tian felt that he should find some professional women or professional massage parlors.

After wandering the streets for a long time, Yu Tian did not see any massage parlors.

Perhaps it was because the massage parlors in wind country were different from those in China. They did not have the obvious characteristics of flashing red lights.

Of course, it was also because it was only noon and it was not their business time yet.

Thinking of this, Yu Tian suddenly felt a little hungry. He remembered that he had not even eaten breakfast before.

There was a fast food restaurant by the roadside. Yu Tian pulled Michelle and walked in.

They queued up and ordered food.

This was a western-style fast food restaurant. It sold some simple food such as bread, hamburgers and sandwiches. Business seemed to be good.

After waiting in line for half an hour, it was finally Yu Tian and Michelle's turn.

Yu Tian was not familiar with the food here, so he let Michelle order something that could be eaten immediately.

After a few minutes, a pile of paper bags appeared in their hands.

This restaurant did not even have a plate, but at least there was a dining table.

The dining table was smaller than a normal restaurant's dining table, and it was bigger than those foreign fast food tables in China.

Yu Tian was not picky. He found an empty seat and sat down. Then, he began to cook.

After waiting in line for so long, Yu Tian was already hungry.

He did not care whether the food was to his liking or not. He just opened the paper bag and stuffed it into his mouth.

As for the drinks, he did not care whether it was coffee or coke. He also gulped them down.

A fat young Caucasian man on the seat next to him laughed when he saw Yu Tian wolfing down the food.

"Ha, brother Dongfang, how long has it been since you've eaten? Which Country did you just escape from? Nothing seems to have happened to your Dongfang recently..."

Wind country was a famous refugee shelter. The locals had seen quite a number of refugees, but they had never seen a refugee from the east. This was a very strange thing.

Yu Tian glanced at the little fatty and found that this guy looked very funny.

Most Westerners liked to call yellow people eastern men. This was more or less a form of discrimination.

Whether it was white or black men, they were proud of discriminating against eastern people.

Most people were the same.

This was the first time Yu Tian had heard someone call him eastern brother in wind country.

Yu Tian naturally did not dislike this kind of “Friendly person”.

He immediately replied, “Brother, do you know where I can find a professional woman?”

“Huh? “The little fatty almost choked to death on his hamburger.

He hammered his chest hard twice, then stared at Yu Tian with a resentful gaze and said, “This question of yours is too sudden. I thought we would talk about refugees or things in the east...”

“Refugees also need professional women to appease them. Can’t you see that I’m very horny now? Let’s talk about the professional women here. Do you know where they do business?”

Yu Tian talked nonsense as he ate.

He just asked casually and didn’t expect to get an answer.

Because this little fatty seemed to be harmless. Perhaps he didn’t know anything about gangs or flesh businesses.

However, the little fatty did not casually answer his questions. Instead, he wiped his mouth, he enthusiastically introduced, “Professional women... There are quite a lot of them in our neighborhood. I just know a very good place. The Price is fair and the service is considerate...”

“Where is it?”

“It’s just behind this street. It takes a few minutes to walk... if you think it’s far, you can call them. They are very willing to deliver goods to your door, but you have to add some shipping fees...”

The little fatty seemed to be very interested in this topic as well. He even began to introduce some special services to Yu Tian in detail, as well as some excellent service providers.

Yu Tian finished the food in his hands in a few bites and casually wiped his hands with the packaging, then, he said to the little fatty, “Cut the crap. There’s an old saying in the east, C it’s better to see it than to hear it. ‘Don’t introduce it to me. Take me there to have a look... I’ll treat you to a free prostitute.

“AH? Free prostitute? Oh no no no... I don’t need this. I’m not interested in this kind of thing. Pm a pure virgin. I’m still an otaku...

The little fatty quickly waved his hand to reject Yu Tian’s good intentions.

Yu Tian was suddenly baffled. “You’re an otaku? Virgin? Are you kidding me?

Why does an otaku know so much about this kind of thing?”

“Why not? This is the specialty of our neighborhood. I think it’s necessary to recommend them to our friends from outside. This is also for the prosperity of our neighborhood...”

The little fatty explained confidently..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1131 - Chapter 1231: Chapter 1,230, Red Dragonfly Hotel - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1131 - Chapter 1231: Chapter 1,230, Red Dragonfly Hotel

Yu Tian was not interested in arguing with the little fatty about how pure he was, nor was he interested in listening to the little fatty’s explanation.

He immediately changed the topic and said, “Alright, I believe you. Then can I trouble you to bring me to see the Special Services of Your District and let me contribute to the development of Your District?”

The little fatty immediately beamed with joy. “Of course, Brother Dongfang... I know you’re not familiar with the streets here. No problem, I’ll bring you there personally!

“Then what are you waiting for? Hunger and thirst are always the most urgent problems. I Can ‘t wait any longer.”

“Alright, I’ll bring you there immediately.

The little fatty stood up and carefully wrapped up the sandwich that he had not finished eating. He held the wrapped paper bag in his hand.

“Let’s go.”

The little fatty carried his lunch and picked up the large Coke Cup. He was the first to walk out of the fast food restaurant.

Yu Tian did not have time to continue eating and drinking. He pulled Michelle along and followed him out.

The three of them walked along the street for some distance before turning into an alley.

After passing through two more alleys, they arrived at a somewhat quiet street.

Not long after, the little fatty brought everyone to the entrance of a small hotel.

Yu Tian looked at the signboard of this small hotel and was at a loss for words.

Red Dragonfly Hotel.

Needless to say, this was definitely the property of the red dragonfly.

Mina had previously said that this street was the territory of the red dragonfly.

Even the dumbest person would not randomly use the name red dragonfly in this street.

If he had known that red dragonfly had such a high -profile business, Yu Tian would have directly called a taxi to find them. He would not have bothered to ask around.

The little fatty took the lead and walked into the Red Dragonfly Hotel with familiarity.

There was a service desk in the hotel lobby as usual, and two young men sat at the service desk.

“Hey! Philip, Pierre, are you guys okay?”

The fat boy greeted the young men at the service desk warmly, as if they were very familiar with each other.

“Oh, Danny...”

The two young men also responded to the fat boy, Danny. They were neither warm nor cold.

Danny did not mind their attitude. He leaned on the service desk cheerfully, he continued, ('I brought two guests for you. They are from a foreign country, and this is their first time in our They said that they are verv thirsty...")

Yu Tian did not let Danny Nag anymore. He directly walked up and asked the two young men at the service desk, "Is this the red dragonfly?"

The two young men glanced at Yu Tian. "Of course. Isn't there a signboard outside the Red Dragonfly Hotel?"

Yu Tian helplessly reorganized his words. "I mean... are you people from the Red Dragonfly?"

The expressions of the two young men immediately became serious. They looked at Yu Tian very seriously and then said, "Who are you? Why are you looking for the Red Dragonfly?"

"So, you guys are from the red dragonfly.

From the attitude of the two young men, Yu Tian had already gotten the answer. He heaved a sigh of relief and then said, "I'm looking for Mina."

"You're looking for Mina?"

"You're looking for Mina?"

The two young men at the service desk weren't the only ones who were asking questions. Danny, who was standing next to Yu Tian, was also asking questions.

The two young men only sounded a little confused, but Danny's tone contained even more surprise.

However, Danny soon seemed to have understood something. "Oh, yes, you're also an Easterner. You should know Mina...

Obviously, Danny also knew Mina. At least he knew that Mina was an easterner.

Yu Tian shrugged. "That's right. I am Mina's friend. If you can contact Mina, please help me inform her immediately. I have something very important to ask her.

"Let me help you contact her.

Danny volunteered to accept the mission and then excitedly took out his cell phone.

Yu Tian was a little surprised. If he had known that this fatty knew Mina and had her phone number, he wouldn't have gone through so much trouble.

The call was quickly picked up. Danny said excitedly, "Mina, I'm your good friend Danny! Are you okay? is your dog okay..."

As Danny spoke, he shook his head rhythmically as if he was very excited.

Yu Tian saw his expression and immediately understood. This kid was probably a admirer of Mina, or a secret admirer?

No wonder an otaku like him was so interested in the red dragonfly. He must have done a lot of research and understanding on Mina, and he was well-prepared for his homework.

"Oh, Mina, it's like this. You have an oriental friend who came all the way from the east to our neighborhood. I just met him in a fast food restaurant, and we had a very pleasant conversation. Oh, he also ate an extra-large hamburger. He only used three mouthfuls..."

Danny was still nagging, but Yu Tian reached out and snatched his phone.

Danny seemed to have not reacted. He continued to mumble, "Wow, your oriental friend has a great appetite..."

Yu Tian turned his head helplessly and put the phone to his ear. "Mina, it's me, Yu Tian..."

"Yu Tian? Why are you..."

It was indeed Mina's voice on the other end of the phone.

Yu Tian did not explain and said, "I'm at the Red Dragonfly Hotel now. Where are you? I have something to ask you for help. "

"The Red Dragonfly Hotel... Alright, wait for me. I'll be there right away. Mina hurriedly hung up the phone. Yu Tian returned the phone to the dazed Danny.

"Did you hang up? Oh, I wanted to ask her when she's free..."

Danny came back to his senses and felt a little regretful.

Yu Tian shrugged. "She'll be here soon. You can ask her slowly then."

There was a sofa in the hotel lobby. Yu Tian casually found a seat and sat down, quietly waiting for Mina's arrival.

Michelle also sat on the sofa next to him, wondering why Yu Tian was looking for the red dragonfly.

Because of his work, Michelle was quite familiar with the underworld in the mini-bull market, but he did not know much about the red dragonfly.

He had never paid much attention to small gangs that had been entrenched in a territory for many years but still could not develop.

His attention was either on the big gangs in the mini-bull market or on those street thugs with potential.

Moreover, he was only the big shot behind the scenes. He did not have to be responsible for the specific matters of the development of the gangs, so he did not have the opportunity to understand the other small gangs.

Danny still could not stay idle. He continued to lean on the service desk and chat with the two young men.

But the two young men were not in the mood to chat, there is a sentence without a sentence of perfunctory..

Translator: 549690339

After waiting for about ten minutes, Mina finally appeared at the entrance of the hotel with her people.

"Yu Tian."

Mina

Yu Tian was slightly stunned. He saw that Mina was wearing a very formal black suit, including her entourage.

This was usually a dress for a funeral, and there were no colorful decorations on the dress.

Yu Tian could not help but ask, "What happened to your outfit?"

Mina smiled bitterly. "It's not a big deal. It's just that... one of my brothers was killed. "

"Brother?"

“One of my stepfather’s sons...” Mina sighed. “Let’s not talk about this. Why did you come to me?”

“It’s not a big deal. I just wanted you to help me imprison someone... but now it seems that you’re in a lot of trouble yourself.

“Yes, I did run into some trouble here, and I wanted to ask you about it... take care of your business first. Who are you going to imprison?”

“It’s the guy next to me. I need him to stay in a safe and hidden place and cut off all contact with the outside world.

Yu Tian turned around and looked at Michelle.

Michelle smiled bitterly. He could roughly understand a few sentences of oriental language and basically understood what Yu Tian meant.

Fortunately, it was just a simple imprisonment. It was better than being chased and scared outside.

Mina glanced at Michelle.

She did not know the boss behind the blue underpants, so she said calmly, “This is simple. I will arrange the place and the guards... Should we send him away now?”

“There’s no rush. Let’s Find a quiet place to talk first... Get Someone to buy me a phone. My phone was broken just now.

“Okay. ”

Mina replied crisply and immediately arranged for her attendant to buy a phone.

Then, she said to Yu Tian, “Let’s find a room here to talk?”

“Okay.

Yu Tian gestured to Michelle, and then said to Danny, “Thank you, Danny. If you didn’t show me the way, I would have wasted a lot of time to find my friend.

Danny said happily, “You’re welcome, My Oriental Brother. It’s my honor to be able to help Mina’s friend...

“Then, Danny, Mina and I still have some important things to discuss, so Pll have to excuse you for now... I’ll definitely treat you to a free prostitute later.

“Free prostitute? Oh no no no... I’ve already rejected you just now. I’m not a free prostitute, Mina knows my character...”

Danny hurriedly waved his hand. He knew that a free prostitute was a very immoral behavior in the eyes of Oriental women, and he did not want Mina to misunderstand him.

Mina sighed and said to Danny, “Okay Danny, I believe you won’t treat me like a free prostitute. Thank you for bringing my friend here, but I have some important business with my friend right now... you should go back first.

It was said that men were ruthless, but in fact, men who women were not interested in themselves were even more so.

Otherwise, they would not be able to lick house and would eventually lose everything.

In Mina’s eyes, Danny was a completely worthless suitor, not even a spare tire.

If it were not for her good manners, Mina would not even bother to talk to Danny.

Although Danny had helped Yu Tian a little, now was the time to send him away.

Danny was indeed a qualified licking dog. Facing Mina’s arrangements and requirements, he had no complaints.

He was still full of smiles. “Okay, Mina. I know that you must have important gang affairs to deal with. Then I’ll go back first. If you need help, please let me know at any time...”

“Okay, thank you, Danny.”

Mina did not mind using a few cheap polite words to win his heart. She even gave Danny a sweet smile.

Then, Mina nodded to Yu Tian. “Follow me. ”

There was a side door at the back of the elevator in the lobby. Mina led Yu Tian and the others to the side door.

Behind the side door was a corridor. There were rooms on both sides of the corridor.

However, the rooms on the first floor were not guest rooms. Instead, they were staff rest rooms and utility rooms.

There was a stairwell at the end of the corridor, which could be considered a fire escape.

Next to it was the back door of the hotel, which led to the alley at the back.

There was a room next to the stairwell. Mina opened the door and led Yu Tian and the others into the room.

The room was decorated like a small living room, but there were still a lot of things piled up in the corner, such as hotel supplies.

The others were left outside the room. Only Yu Tian brought Michelle, and Mina brought a female assistant into the room.

“Tell me about your situation. What happened to Red Dragonfly?”

Yu Tian had plans to recruit Mina into the East Dragon Company’s organization, so he obviously couldn’t let any accidents or dangers happen to her now.

Moreover, red dragonfly was also considered Mina’s team. With its own team, it would be much more convenient to do anything in the future.

Of course, Yu Tian would not let the red dragonfly suffer any major losses.

Mina stroked the hair beside her ear and said slowly, “Actually, nothing major happened. It’s just that one of my brothers was killed...”

“Alright, your brother was killed. It’s not a big deal. ”

Yu Tian shrugged helplessly. He could tell that Mina did not have any feelings for her brothers.

He did not ask any more questions about Mina’s brothers and said directly,

“Then tell me what kind of trouble you have encountered?”

“About this matter... let’s start with the situation of our red dragonfly.

“Our red dragonfly is a small gang. We haven’t developed much over the years, and our territory has always been stuck in such a small neighborhood.

“Because there are still a few small gangs in our neighborhood, and their strength isn’t too different from each other, we don’t have the ability to swallow each other

“Moreover, not only can we not fight each other, but we also have to cooperate in order to avoid being swallowed by those big gangs

“Actually, this mode of cooperation has been going on for many years

“Small gangs like us all have different ways of making a living, so we can all do business in each other’s territory as long as we don’t get involved in each other’s main business.”

“This is a very good cooperation rule. It can allow everyone to develop better, but it won’t harm each other’s interests.

“When small gangs like us join forces, we have a certain degree of self-protection ability. We can stop other gang forces from going outside and protect our land...”

Mina’s expression was serious as she said, “That’s why we have a very important agreement between us. That is to jointly stop foreign forces from developing in our territory..”

Translator: 549690339

(‘This is a very important agreement. It can guarantee our status and interests in these streets, and ensure the long-term survival of Our Gang.”

Mina said seriously, “Even if it’s some street thugs, we won’t leave them any room for survival and development. Any small force that wants to appear in our territory will be strangled to death by us in the Cradle. ”

Yu Tian nodded silently, “So, there’s a problem with this agreement?”

Mina said, “Yes, there’s a small gang called big wave that deals in the small pill business. Their business has never been big, and they haven’t had much manpower. But recently, they seem to have suddenly gained a lot of manpower, and there are also a lot of black men...”

“It should be normal for them to expand their manpower, right?”

“No, this is very abnormal for us. “It’s actually very difficult for us to expand our manpower, because the income of our districts is very limited, and we can’t support more people. “It’s basically impossible for us small gangs to expand our manpower in large numbers...”

“So you think that there’s an external force that used the name of this small gang to enter?”

“That’s right. At first, we thought that the big wave had recruited some refugees, but soon, someone recognized some of the black gang members...

they’re from Ice City Hell.”

“Ice City Hell?”

“Yes, Ice City Hell, a big gang with the same strength as blue underpants...” Mina’s expression was grave.

Although in the eyes of Yu Tian and the East Dragon Company, these gangs were like ants.

But in the eyes of Mina and the other small figures, large gangs could be called a nightmare.

For the forces of Ice City Hell to enter their territory, this was definitely a great threat and challenge.

In the past few years, the reason why Ice City Hell did not attack these small gangs was mainly because they were worried that the losses from the gang war would be too great, causing them to lose their strength in the competition with other big gangs.

It could be said that the coexistence and mutual restriction of the big gangs also left some room for the small gangs to survive.

However, this peaceful state was only an illusion. It was only equivalent to giving alms.

When the hell of ice city really wanted to attack them, even if these small gangs were all united, they might not have the ability to fight against them.

Especially when there were traitors and spies among them, there was even less hope of fighting against the hell of Ice City.

The situation that Mina and the others were facing now was that big wave, this small gang, was taking the initiative to lure the wolf into the house. This was definitely a very fatal thing.

This was because these small gangs had been working together for many years. They did not know each other well, but at the very least, they were very familiar with each other’s situation.

If big wave really wanted to cooperate with ice city hell to attack other gangs, then he would be a very excellent and qualified guide.

Ice City Hell could completely attack suddenly and wipe out the headquarters of these small gangs in a short period of time.

This was a very dangerous situation.

Mina said worriedly, “The reason why they did not directly attack small gangs like us is that they need an excuse, an excuse to explain to the authorities and other organizations...”

“An Tian was puzzled. “Is this thing very important?”

“Of course it’s important. Unless you’re a criminal gang that’s running around committing crimes, you might be able to commit all kinds of violent crimes without any scruples. “But if you want to survive and develop in calf city for a long time, you have to abide by the unspoken rules of the underground world. “Otherwise, whether it’s the government or the underworld, they will do their best to encircle and suppress you...”

The underworld also had rules, especially in a city where social order was very stable. Every gang would abide by the same rules of the game and maintain the stability of the entire city.

If there were no rules of the game, then these big gangs would fight together and use guns and explosives unscrupulously, turning the city into a battlefield.

Small gangs also had their own fighting strength. Although they were weak, they could still organize their own fighting teams and enter guerrilla warfare mode.

If they couldn’t defend their own territory, they would break all the rules. with the principle of “Everyone stop playing” , they would wreak havoc in the territories and places of other gangs.

For example, they would run into casinos to rob, entertainment venues to throw bombs, financial companies to prevent fire..

An underground world without order was absolutely not allowed to exist by the authorities.

With order, everyone could make money and enjoy themselves.

Therefore, even if ice city hell had the power and ideas to annex these small gangs, they still needed to find an excuse, an excuse to start a gang war.

“That brother of mine should be the breakthrough point they chose.

Mina sighed. “That brother of mine had some disputes with big wave before. That was during the meeting of the leaders of the local gangs. He and the other gang leaders questioned big wave about why he joined forces with Ice City and Hell to betray the interests of this region...”

“When did that happen?” “A few days ago.”

“Nothing happened at that time?”

“No, no matter how much they argued during the meeting, they were not allowed to fight. This is the rule...”

“And then?”

“Yesterday, he was suddenly killed by someone. When he was found, he was already dead on his bed in his apartment.

“What about the murderer?”

“I don’t know who it was, but someone saw the black gang appear nearby. “Mina said with certainty, “This was done by big wave. Or rather, this was done by the hell of Ice City.”

This kind of thing basically didn’t need evidence. It was enough to have suspicions.

Yu Tian rubbed his head. “Then. what is their DurDose for doing this? Your Brother’s death doesn’t seem to give them any excuses, right?”

Mina said, “I don’t know what their purpose is either, but there must be a conspiracy behind this. “Our neighborhood has been peaceful for many years, and even ordinary murders rarely appear. “Now, my brother was suddenly killed... This is a sign that the ice city hell is about to invade.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and asked, “What did the rest of you red dragonflies say?”

Mina smiled helplessly. “What else can those trash say... the one who died was my stepfather’s eldest son. The remaining youngest son and daughter couldn’t come up with any ideas other than clamoring for revenge.

“Who do they want to take revenge on? Have they found the murderer?”

“No, but they all think it was big waves...”mina spread her hands helplessly. “But without evidence, we can’t act brazenly, we can only....

Translator: 549690339

Mina hesitated for a moment, then lowered her voice and said to Yu Tian, “They plan to assassinate the big waves.

“Assassinate... ”

Yu Tian sighed. It seemed like the mini-bull market was in chaos. Assassinations seemed to be done without anyone noticing, leaving no evidence behind.

However, the parties involved must have known what was going on. They did not care about the evidence, only thinking about how to fight back.

Thus, assassinations would come, assassinations would go, and in the end, it would become a fight on the surface.

The conflict between the East Dragon Company and the Kronin Society was already hot enough. With a group of gangs fighting, the mini bull market might soon enter a state of lockdown like dusk city.

Mina said worriedly, "They originally planned to hire professional killers to do this, but... They weren't willing to fork out the money, so in the end, they decided to hand this task over to the people in the association..."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "Isn't that equivalent to a clear kill?"

Mina sighed and said, "Yes, that's why I'm very opposed to this plan. This will only make the situation more chaotic and let the Ice City Hell find an excuse to intervene... but I don't know what to do now. We can't do nothing."

After saying that, Mina looked at Yu Tian with anticipation. She hoped that Yu Tian could find a way to resolve these matters.

If Yu Tian was really like what he said, the Big Boss Behind Blue Underpants.

Yu Tian scratched his head, "I'm not very familiar with the way you gangsters fight, and I have something very important to do right now... Michelle."

Michelle sat on the sofa at the side in a daze for a long time. When she heard Yu Tian call his name, she immediately sat up straight. "Please tell me what to do, sir."

Yu Tian sighed softly. "Call the people from blue underpants over. I want to meet them here."

Michelle replied hurriedly, "Yes sir... is it all of them?"

"What do you think? How many more people do you think can sit in this room"

Yu Tian glared at Michelle.

Michelle quivered and quickly said, "I understand. I'll call their leaders over right now... Miss Mina, please give me a phone that can access the Internet."

Michelle's phone had also been scrapped. However, due to work, he had also backed up a lot of relevant information on the internet, including the information and contact information of the main characters of blue underpants.

Mina did not hesitate to hand her phone to Michelle. As soon as she heard the words "Blue Underpants, she knew that things had turned for the better."

Michelle found the phone information on the internet and immediately began to make calls.

He contacted several high-level leaders of blue underpants, including Barr, and gave them the address of the Red Dragonfly Hotel, telling them to gather quickly.

Although it was strange to gather in someone else's territory, the leaders of blue underpants did not question Michelle's orders.

Other than Barr, he was very curious as to why Michelle, the traitor, still dared to give him orders.

However, after Yu Tian spoke from the side, Barr quickly followed the order and rushed to the Red Dragonfly Hotel.

It would take some time for everyone to arrive, so Yu Tian was free for the time being.

He began to think about how to establish contact with the headquarters.

He did not remember any of the phone numbers, so the only way to contact the headquarters was through the Internet.

He picked up Mina's phone and logged into his social media account. He did not use many of these social media apps because he did not usually use them.

Therefore, he didn't have many friends in his social media app, including Liang Zhu and the mouse team.

However, because he had exchanged some emails with No. 76, he saved his email address.

So, he immediately sent an email to No. 76.

This was the only way he could think of to establish contact with headquarters. Fortunately, No. 76 seemed to have been waiting for him to contact him. Soon, he replied to his email and sent him a bunch of social media accounts and phone numbers.

No. 76 complained in the email that he was too unreliable and didn't leave anyone any contact information other than his phone number.

Yu Tian sighed and then greeted Mina. He walked to the room next door and avoided Mina and the others before dialing No. 76's phone number. "Yes. "Piggy Liang's voice immediately sounded on the phone.

"How are you?"

"I'm fine... I was ambushed by dozens of genetic warriors. They were all very powerful fellows. I only managed to kill two of them before I had no choice but to run away."

"It's good that you managed to escape. I knew you would be fine."

"The hotel was also attacked. That place has already been sealed off by the police. Have the others contacted the headquarters?"

"No, I was going to inform them to support you, but I haven't been able to contact them... now I don't know their situation. 'h "But don 't worry, I've sent people to the mini bull market. I Won't let you fight alone."

"That's not important. I don't care if I'm fighting alone... Have you located the mouse team?"

"I've already tried to locate them. Their cell phones and other communication devices have lost their signal. It could be damaged, or it could be blocked by some means. In short, their current situation is definitely not good... "

Brother pig sighed.

All the devices had no signal. This was definitely bad news.

In this situation, either everyone had died in battle and all the equipment had been destroyed.

Or everyone had been captured and the equipment had also been destroyed. Or, they had been centralized and managed by someone and had been blocked.

In short, the situation of the mouse squad and the other operation branches was definitely not good.

Yu Tian was silent for a moment, then, he said to brother Pig Liang, "Continue to search for their tracks. I am now dealing with some other matters. If you have any information, immediately inform me. You must remember that as an operation member, I am definitely the strongest."

"Alright, I got it... In addition, I have to remind you. According to the current situation, that person called the executioner is very suspicious. I think that he might be the one who leaked your whereabouts."

Piggy Liang analyzed very carefully, "The Kronin society should have gathered the operation team long ago, and they have already rushed to the territory of wind country. "However, they didn 't have time to catch up with you in dusk city, so when you arrived at the mini bull market, they immediately followed you..."

Yu Tian sighed. "That's right. If it wasn't for the mole, they wouldn't have arrived so quickly and even found the hotel where we gathered so accurately..

Translator: 549690339

Piggy Liang continued, "More importantly, they also accurately attacked you. "How long have you been at the beach? They caught up in time and immediately surrounded and attacked you... this is a real-time grasp of your whereabouts. ('I think the executioner has already guessed your identity, which is why they used such a large force to launch a sneak attack on you.

"It doesn't matter. So what if I let them Tian shrugged. "If I were to act alone, I wouldn't care about their ambush.

"No matter what, you should be more careful. They might already be very familiar with your combat style. If they are prepared to target you, you will at least suffer a little. "

"They are already targeting me. Those genetic warriors...

Yu Tian suddenly realized that these genetic warriors were truly a problem that targeted him.

His flying needles were basically ineffective against genetic warriors, unless they hit a vital organ like the eye, directly destroying the brain.

However, the genetic warriors were all wearing bulletproof vests and helmets. This made his flying needles feel as though they had nowhere to attack.

Twisting one's neck was a good method to deal with bulletproof vests. However, among these genetic warriors, there was actually a portion of experts.

This was somewhat troublesome.

More ants could kill an elephant. If Yu Tian were to be entangled by these genetic warriors who did not care about their lives, he might be in danger.

If these guys were to tie bombs to their bodies, there would definitely be a chance for them to embrace him and explode.

The neck-twisting technique was too time-consuming. To break a neck, it would take about one second to get close to the enemy.

If those genetic warriors were to tie a bomb to their bodies, one second would be enough for them to detonate the bomb in time and perish together with Yu Tian.

Yu Tian had a headache.

He had to have a more powerful and faster method to destroy the enemy.

The six meridians divine sword was not bad, but it consumed too much of his true qi and could not last long in a battle.

Moreover, his internal energy was still a little chaotic. It was better when he controlled it carefully, but in a battle, he could not concentrate on controlling his internal energy and then use something like the six meridians divine sword, it was very likely that he would go mad.

He did not want to achieve such a high-level achievement.

Therefore, it was best if he had some weapons, some weapons that could easily destroy the bulletproof vest.

For example, a peerless sword, a divine weapon, and so on.

But these were only things in legends. It was very difficult to find cold weapons that could destroy the bulletproof vest in the real world.

It was not that the bulletproof vest could not be destroyed. There were many weapons that could easily destroy the bulletproof vest, such as anti-material rifles.

However, those bullets were all disposable items. After piercing through the bulletproof vests, the bullets would usually be deformed or burst.

Cold weapons could not become such disposable items. After one slash, the entire knife would be scrapped and thrown away, right?

It was more troublesome to find weapons. Yu Tian could only temporarily throw it aside.

After ending the call with Piggy Liang, he still had to deal with the red dragonfly in front of him.

An hour later, the big bosses of the Blue Underpants finally arrived.

When the big bosses went out, they naturally had to bring a group of five or six people along with a large number of bodyguards and underlings.

Especially when they went to other people's territory, they had to pay even more attention to their own safety.

They could not rely on their own power to not put those small gangs in their eyes.

One had to know that many big bosses in the martial arts world had fallen into the hands of some small gang's small figures, becoming the stepping stone for others to make a name for themselves.

Therefore, on this afternoon, the Red Dragonfly Hotel was packed with people. There were forty to fifty people gathered inside and outside the door. All of them were fierce-looking gangsters.

Such a big lineup would easily scare the children. The Big Shots in blue underpants also found it too eye-catching, so they chased most of their underlings back into the car, only a dozen bodyguards were left in the corridor behind the Red Dragonfly Hotel.

There were only six leaders in the room, including Barr, and the nominal boss of blue underpants, Baptiste.

Mina had already let her female assistant leave the room, and now the rest of the people in the room were all important figures in her mind.

Baptiste and the others were a little strange. They did not know why Michelle had summoned them here, and there were two oriental men in the room.

Only Barr knew clearly that it was time for Michelle to show her cards.

He slightly bowed to Yu Tian and then sat on the sofa next to him, quietly waiting for a good show to start.

Baptiste noticed Barr's small action and immediately started to Grumble in his heart.

But he didn't say anything and just sat down opposite Michelle.

Michelle waited for everyone to sit down before she slowly stood up. With a serious expression, she said to everyone, "I've called everyone here today to introduce a very important person to everyone... Mr. Dongfang Bubai!

This name made Mina burst into laughter.

Although she had left Dongfang when she was very young, she had heard of such a classic movie character.

However, Blue Underpants and the others did not understand the joke of Yu Tian. They still sat up straight with a serious look on their faces.

Michelle nodded slightly. He was very satisfied with the calm behavior of these big shots.

Before he could finish his words, any sudden movements and whispers would cause him to lose points in his heart. After that, he would send those unstable guys to carry bricks.

Unfortunately, these operations with power in his hands had nothing to do with him anymore.

It was already a very good result for him to be assigned to be a handyman.

It was impossible for him to even think about ordering these gang bosses around.

Any one of the gang bosses' subordinates had the guts to beat him up until he was looking for teeth on the ground.

Michelle sighed in her heart, she braced herself and continued, "Everyone should have been guessing whether there 's a secret organization behind me. Everything Pve done for Blue Underpants was done by this secret organization..."

After a pause, michelle strengthened her tone and said, "That's right! I can tell you this answer today. Your guess is right! "Behind me, there is indeed a very powerful world-wide secret organization. "And I am just... a small branch head in this organization. "

"Perhaps in your eyes, a branch head like me is already a big figure. But in the organization, there are thousands of branch heads like me... "

"The strength of the organization is beyond your imagination."

"This Mr. Dongfang Bubai is the person in charge sent by the organization. He will take over my work and lead you forward..

Translator: 549690339

After saying what he needed to say, Michelle sat down on the sofa.

Blue underpants would no longer have anything to do with him. He was a little disheartened and did not care about the reaction of these gang leaders.

The room was silent for a moment because Michelle's words were really shocking.

Not only Mina was sherpants were also shocked.

They felt that Michelle's words were a little too exaggerated, and that she was bragging too much about the strength of her organization.

The Big Shot Behind Blue Underpants was already considered a big shot, but Michelle said that a branch manager like him had thousands of people in the organization.

So how powerful was the secret organization behind him?

Was it going to rule the world?

In fact, this number was not exaggerated.

The donglong company was divided into eight regions, and each region included a number of countries.

Each country had a few big cities that were worth investing a lot of manpower and material resources to develop, including the capital and some important provincial capitals.

In this way, each major region would have at least a dozen or so major cities, and the total number of major cities in the world would be over a hundred.

These major cities would have at least a dozen branches, and some of them even had dozens of branches.

In addition to the branches of some small cities..

It was not an exaggeration to say that the East Dragon Company had a total of a few thousand branches.

“Cough cough...”

Yu Tian lightly coughed twice, causing everyone to come back to their senses.

Then.., he said unhurriedly, “Everyone will slowly understand the matters of the organization in the future. Because the organization is undergoing reform, there will be a lot of changes in the structure in the future. You may have the opportunity to learn more about the organization. “But in front of us, we will not discuss these issues. I need all of you to cooperate with my work now...”

“I object!

Someone suddenly interrupted Yu Tian.

Yu Tian glanced at this person. This was a burly man with a valiant aura. One look and one could tell that he was a professional fighter who liked to fight and was ruthless.

For such a person to be able to climb to a high position, he must have relied on his own strength and made some contributions.

Yu Tian said calmly, “What do you object to?”

The Big Man sat on the sofa and did not move, he said loudly, "I object to you taking over our blue underpants! Our Western world is a free and democratic world. What we need is a manager who shares our values, not an oriental! If Mr. Michelle is going to leave, we hope that the organization can assign us a suitable leader. There seems to be a lot of big shots in the mini-bull market who are part of the organization, right? Why Can't we find a big shot in the mini-bull market to lead us? Why should we send a Westerner, who we have never seen before, to be our leader? I strongly object...

The Big Man was spouting off one of his articles, and Baptiste took the opportunity to sneak a glance at Barr.

Barr's face was filled with a smile of pity.

He had witnessed Yu Tian's powerful combat strength. When Yu Tian had captured Michelle, he had personally seen Yu Tian jump from the cliff onto Michelle's speedboat. That speedboat had not even swayed once.

Such strength was not something that a human should have.

He dared to provoke Yu Tian? He was courting death.

Putting aside Yu Tian's own strength, just Emily's submissive attitude towards Yu Tian was enough to prove how powerful the operational force that Yu Tian could mobilize was.

Barr was not stupid enough to oppose Yu Tian.

Baptiste saw Barr's expression, he immediately said, "I follow Mr. Michelle's wishes and support the decision of the organization. Blue underpants was originally able to develop to this extent through the power of the organization... so, I will obey all the decisions of the organization." Barr cursed in his heart, Old Fox.

The other big shots in the room immediately looked at each other.

In fact, they didn't really like being told what to do by the Orientals, but Baptiste's attitude made them somewhat hesitant.

Could it be that this old Fox had already heard about it?

Was that why he immediately expressed his attitude in front of such an important decision?

The big shots kept quiet as they watched the burly man talk non-stop.

This burly man was the leader of the combat operations in blue underpants. He had the most underlings, and his combat strength was also the strongest.

In addition, he was also relatively good at fighting. He could even exchange a few moves with professional fighters in the ring.

It was very suitable for such a person to step forward and provoke.

Everyone was waiting to see Yu Tian's reaction.

Yu Tian sneered and turned back to look at Michelle. "Is this the kind of thing that you have nurtured?"

Michelle wiped the cold sweat from her heart and said with a bitter smile, "This is the old man in blue underpants. He is also very famous in the mini bull market. Everyone calls him..."

Just as Michelle was about to introduce Yu Tian, Yu Tian waved his right hand gently.

This action made Michelle shut her mouth immediately. He thought that this action meant to shut him up.

But he guessed wrong.

An invisible sword aura suddenly shot out from Yu Tian's finger.

This was Yu Tian's biggest killer move, Shang Yang Sword.

As Yu Tian lightly waved his arm upwards, the sword Qi at the tip of his finger also swept upwards from below.

The burly man was still making his speech, and the sword Qi swept straight from his crotch to the top of his head, without any hindrance or delay.

In the blink of an eye, the burly man was cut into two halves by the Sword Qi, and it was the most miserable left and right halves.

All the flesh and organs spilled out with a splash. Along with the sofa that was split into two halves, they fell all over the floor.

There was a moment of silence in the room, and Mina immediately vomited. The Big Shots in the blue underpants were not any better. Their expressions were as if they had eaten shit.

Although they had seen a lot of blood, they had never seen a person cut into two halves like that.

The reason why they could not vomit was not because they were mentally strong, but because they were so shocked that they forgot to vomit.

Sword Aura?

This was something that only appeared in movies, but now it appeared in Yu Tian's hands. This simply made them feel terrified.

The mysterious ancient martial arts in the east was actually so powerful? So powerful that it went against the common sense of physics?

Everyone's back was covered in cold sweat.

What kind of organization was behind the Blue Underpants? How could there be such a terrifying human existence?

These so-called big shots of the gangs, the people who were famous in the mini-bull market, didn't even dare to fart in front of Yu Tian at this moment.

They even began to breathe carefully, afraid that Yu Tian would feel that their breathing was too loud and conveniently cut them off.

Everyone was silent for a long time, and Barr was the first to stand up..

Translator: 549690339

Barr's vest was already drenched, but he still pretended to be calm.

He said with a serious expression, "Mr. Dongfang Bubai is a high-ranking member of the organization. I've had the honor to meet Mr. Dongfang Bubai before, and I've also met the people in charge of the other branches of the organization. "Mr. Dongfang Bubai's position is far above Mr. Michelle's. It's our great honor for him to be able to take over our blue underpants..."

Everyone suddenly understood and cursed Barr in their hearts. Didn't you say so earlier, you son of a B * Tch? You're just waiting for something to happen to us, aren't you?

Barr continued, "As for this... this idiot, Mr. Dongfang Bubai doesn't even want to know his name. If he dares to disobey the orders of the organization, it's equivalent to treason. It's also reasonable to execute him..."

Everyone nodded repeatedly. Just now, before Michelle could say the name of this burly man, Yu Tian had already made his move.

This meant that Yu Tian did not care about knowing the name of this burly man. Executing him was like crushing an ant, without any psychological burden.

Barr continued, "Now that Mr. Dongfang has personally executed the traitor, I don't think anyone will have any objections to the organization's decision, right?"

"I firmly support all the decisions of the organization. "

Immediately, a big shot expressed his stance.

Then, the other two immediately echoed, "Everything that Blue Underpants has is given by the organization. The organization 's decision is the highest will of blue underpants! "

"I will absolutely obey Mr. Dongfang undefeatable's leadership. Mr. Dongfang Undefeatable's will is my mission. "

Batiste immediately concluded, "To be able to work under Mr. Undefeatable of the east is truly an honor for all of us. Everyone, please give a round of applause and welcome...

Clapping sounds immediately rang out. Mina, who was watching from the side, was dumbfounded.

This was the highest level of leadership in blue underpants?

It seemed to be similar to an ordinary person. The level of flattery was just so-so.

Yu Tian waved his hand lightly. "Alright, let's cut the crap... Let's continue with the meeting. "

His wave of his hand made everyone's hair stand on end. It felt as if there was a sword aura on his fingertips.

However, Yu Tian requested for the meeting to continue, so everyone could only sit down in the room that was filled with the stench of blood and obediently listen to Yu Tian's lecture.

Yu Tian also felt that the room was quite smelly. It was just like killing a pig or a chicken. After being disemboweled, there would always be all kinds of stinky odors coming out.

This included blood, organs, undigested food in the body, and feces..

All kinds of odors were mixed together, and it was really smelly.

F * ck, I miscalculated. There wasn 't even an air conditioner in this broken room.

Yu Tian grumbled in his heart, but his expression remained cold.

"Let's get down to business... to the organization, Blue Underpants is indeed a small and insignificant business, so I'm not interested in accepting management. "

“How you operated before will continue to operate according to the original model for the time being. ”

“As for how the company will be reformed in the future, there will be someone else to guide and arrange it for you... I don't care about that. ”

“The reason I called you all here today is that there is a small matter regarding the underworld that needs your attention. ”

“Miss Mina from red dragonfly is my good friend. She is currently facing some trouble that is related to the hell of Ice City. ”

“I originally planned to directly go over and kill all the people of the hell of the ice city... of course, I know that this is not feasible. ”

“Your Gang has its own rules and means of doing things. If I wantonly kill, it will definitely destroy the ecosystem of the entire mini bull market... ”

“I don't want to flip the table for the time being, nor do I want to ruin everyone's jobs. After all, Blue underpants can also provide some small profits for the headquarters.

“So, I'll leave the trouble of the Red Dragonfly and the Ice City Hell to you... Now, let Miss Mina tell you the general situation.

After Yu Tian finished speaking, Mina finally stood up with a complicated expression.

Facing these big shots in blue underpants and Yu Tian, this unfathomable old classmate, Mina's feelings were very complicated. She was nervous, pleasantly surprised, and terrified..

“Mina, just sit and talk.”

Yu Tian chuckled, he comforted mina, “Don't feel any psychological pressure. These big shots in blue underpants are just ordinary people. Since our organization can support a blue underpants, we can naturally support a red dragonfly...

Mina's heart shook slightly, “You mean...

Yu Tian said calmly, “I think that the red dragonfly can also grow into a large-scale gang. Of course, it has to be the red dragonfly that is led by you. All the leaders are your people. “Then... you should be my people.

Mina hesitated for a moment and then said decisively, “I think this idea is very good. If it can grow to the level of blue underpants, I don't care about being a worker... such a worker is much better than an individual.

Yu Tian smiled and said, "You don't have to worry too much. Our organization is not an evil organization. The reason why we develop the gang's power is mainly to create an additional income for the organization. The organization doesn't have much interest in the management of your gang itself... you can completely become a vassal of a region without too many restrictions. "

Mina let out a sigh of relief. "That's even more perfect... as the ancient saying goes, it's good to enjoy the shade under a big tree. It's definitely better to rely on a powerful organization like yours than to rely on a large gang."

Yu Tian said, "Yeah, it's also much freer... Let's talk about this matter slowly in the future. There will be people in the organization who are specifically responsible for the gang's affairs. "Now, I'll help you solve the problem in front of you first... Let Blue Underpants help you solve the problem in front of you. You can introduce the situation to them. "

"Okay..."

Mina relaxed a little, then sat back on the sofa and began to explain her current situation to the big shots in blue underpants.

The red dragonfly was now facing a fundamental survival problem. If the Ice City Hell invaded these streets under their control, the red dragonfly would have no power to resist at all.

As for Mina's brother who was killed, it was really not a big deal.

Although this brother was the nominal boss of the red dragonfly, three of their siblings were still alive. Their control over the red dragonfly was not a problem, and it would not cause any chaos or division in the red dragonfly.

This was perhaps an advantage of the small gang. They really did not have the strength to fight among themselves.

Under the heavy pressure and threats from the outside, the small gang could only unite internally.

Or they could simply break up.

Although Mina did not like her two brothers and sisters, she did not have any intention of fighting with them. Now, they were still united against the outside world, only thinking about how to let the red dragonfly survive..

Translator: 549690339

The red dragonfly wasn't very strong.

The Big Shots in blue underpants had brought 40 to 50 bodyguards with them today, and that was all the red dragonfly could do.

Of course, the red dragonfly had more than that, but the others could only be considered external members.

For example, those professional women, like the other men who provided services and support to the sex trade, like the two guys in the hotel service desk..

The peripheral members were the guys who relied on the red dragonfly's name to eat together.

They worked for the Red Dragonfly and received a salary.

If they performed well and were loyal, they could be absorbed into the core members of the red dragonfly.

But most of the peripheral members only treated this as a job. If the red dragonfly fought with other gangs, they would basically go into hiding.

After the fight was over, if the red dragonfly continued to exist, they would continue to work for the red dragonfly.

If the red dragonfly had become the dust of history, they would have to find a new boss.

These peripheral members could only run errands for the red dragonfly during normal times. When faced with a life-and-death situation, when they needed to fight desperately, the only people they could use were the core members.

The red dragonfly only had forty to fifty core members, which was quite a lot in the small gangs nearby.

This was mainly due to Mina's dead stepfather.

The Red Dragonfly's business had been relatively stable over the years. There hadn't been any internal trouble, and they hadn't offended any enemies on the outside.

core members the gang were basically old people. They were all old gangsters who had followed Mina's stepfather. It was unlikely that there would be any problems in terms of loyalty.

The problems they were facing now were all external problems the pressure from the ice city hell.

As for Mina's brother who had been killed... This issue came up again. This matter was really insignificant.

"This is clearly a conspiracy of the Ice City Hell.

Barr was the first to speak. "They assassinated your brother. No matter what your red dragonfly does next, one of the leaders of big wave will definitely be killed.

Mina was stunned. "Big wave... They killed their own people?"

("There's no such thing as their own people..." Barr sneered. Then, he realized that his attitude seemed to be a little disrespectful to Mina, so, he immediately said seriously, "If ice city hell really wants to annex your few blocks, big wave is just a chess piece that he uses."

The other big shots in blue underpants also echoed, "That's right, this is a very simple trick. They want to make these few blocks chaotic first, and then take the opportunity to step in. When the time comes, they can use any excuse to swallow your place. "

"Yeah, your red dragonfly's boss was killed, and then big wave's boss was also killed. This is the beginning of chaos. You will soon start a war, and no one can stop it.

"Ice City Hell and big wave won't just be a simple partnership. They will definitely have a mole in big wave, and when that time comes, they will definitely start a war between big wave and red dragonfly.

"The boss was killed, and the underlings want revenge. This is a very good excuse to start a war. But once the war starts, all the gangs in your few blocks might be involved..."

"This is inevitable. If I were from Ice City Hell, I would definitely create more chaos here. 'h "When the time comes, let the police arrest a group of them. Then, in the name of maintaining order and organizing negotiations, I will come to these blocks as a middleman..." "

"This is just the beginning. As long as people from Ice City Hell come in, they won't leave in the future. A middleman has to take some benefits. Otherwise, who would do such a stupid thing?"

"The middleman is still considered civilized. If he eats a little unsightly, he can directly become an emissary of justice and wipe out all the small gangs that are harming the city... that would be even more direct."

"That's right, I think this operation is very likely.

The Big Shots in blue underpants expressed their opinions and chatted for a while. It was not until Yu Tian coughed twice that he finally shut his mouth.

Yu Tian waited for everyone to shut their mouths before saying, “You guys are talking too much... Let’s talk about how to deal with this situation.

Everyone was silent for a while before ba ER spoke first.

“Actually, it’s not difficult to solve the red dragonfly’s problem. As long as we, the people of Blue Underpants, show up a few more times in the Red Dragonfly’s territory, or... we might as well appear in public together with Miss Mina and form an alliance publicly. Then, Ice City Hell will definitely not dare to attack the red dragonfly.”

“That’s right.

Immediately, a big shot chimed in, “Ice City Hell’s strength is slightly weaker than ours, especially in terms of combat strength. If they really want to fight us, they’ll definitely lose in the end. ”

Baptiste also chimed in, “That’s right. Actually, we’ve already considered whether or not we should annex ice city hell and a few other large-scale guilds. It’s just that we feel that the losses from the war are too great and the time taken is too long. “When we attack one gang, it’s very easy for other gangs to take advantage of the situation... ”

Rnrr impdi*tplv c:nid WP t*lcp ndvnntn?p of the qitll*tinn and take advantage internal problems of one of the large-scale gangs to devour them as quickly as possible before the others can react.

Baptiste shook his head. “Such an opportunity is very rare. These large-scale gangs are already deeply rooted in the mini-bull market. It’s very difficult for problems to arise internally, and their position is also very difficult to shake...

Barr smiled and said, “But now... Perhaps this is a good opportunity.

Baptiste sighed. “Actually, the reason why we don’t annex other large gangs is because we have bigger considerations... Mr. Michelle has already explained these problems to us in the past.”

Barr said, “But the situation now is different...”

Yu Tian turned to look at Michelle. “Is there any other reason for these things? Is It related to the company’s strategy?”

Michelle quickly sat up straight. “Yes, the company has considered the situation of the mini-bull market before. This city is not allowed to have a completely unified underground world. That is not in line with the official interests...

Yu Tian was puzzled. "Wouldn't a unified underground world make the social order more stable?"

"That depends on where," Michelle explained. "There are too many people in the mini-bull market, and the underground forces are also very powerful. "If all the gangs are unified, perhaps the public security cases will be reduced. "But the major crimes, such as small pills, smuggling, and trafficking of women... will be even more serious. Moreover, this is a port city and a tourist city. The tentacles of the criminal gangs can extend further and have a greater impact on the image of the city....

Translator: 549690339

Every city's situation was different, and the official attitude toward the underground world was also different.

Yu Tian remembered that in the movies he had seen before, some police officers even requested the underground world to unify order. They even intervened and personally selected a boss of the underground world.

Once a crime problem appeared in a city, the police would only question the boss.

This would save the police a lot of work and reduce a lot of workload.

However, this also had a lot of shortcomings. Once the boss died, there would be a vacancy in power, and the Order of the entire underground world would collapse immediately.

Those gangsters would immediately fall into chaos in order to fight for power and profit, creating a bloody storm in the underworld.

This would soon become a good subject for making movies.

In fact, the unified underground world did have a lot of problems. Many movies also had godfather level characters who were so powerful that they could do whatever they wanted. Even the authorities could not do anything to them.

The mini-bull market would not allow such a situation to happen. They would not even allow one gang to be too powerful and completely trample over the other gangs.

That was why the current situation in the mini-bull market was like this. There were several large gangs coexisting, and no one could do anything to each other.

Michelle explained the situation in the mini-bull market, and Yu Tian immediately frowned again "Tn that casp_ it's imnn?ihlp for mp tn cnmnltply unify underground world the mini-bull market. "

Michelle said, "Yes, it's very difficult to change the underworld situation in the mini-bull market. "Currently, there are a total of five large-scale gangs in the mini-bull market. Three of them are the strongest, including blue underpants.

"The other two are slightly weaker, but the difference is not big. One of them is Ice City Hell..."

Yu Tian nodded. "Ice City Hell wants to annex the few blocks where the red dragonfly is located because they want to raise their strength to the first-class level.

Michelle said, "Yes, a bigger territory means more business, which also means that they can support more people. "Actually, the way blue underpants operates is more reasonable than the other gangs, and we have more wealth. However, all of this income has to be handed over to the company..."

At this point, Michelle hurriedly changed her words. "Of course, even if we don't hand over this income, blue underpants will not be able to continue expanding in the mini bull market. Its territory has almost expanded to its limit. If it continues to expand, it will only be able to fight with other large gangs."

Yu Tian pondered for a moment. "What if there are only two large gangs left in the mini-bull market? Blue underpants and red dragonfly will each take half. Everyone will be able to face each other on the surface..."

Michelle hesitated. "This... It's hard to say. It depends on the official attitude. ". "Now, the five large-scale gangs have basically divided the five city districts of the mini bull market. "If it's divided into the territory of two gangs... It still feels a little too powerful.

Yu Tian glanced at Ba er, Baptiste, and the others.

BA ER quickly said, "I think we can give it a try. Instead of asking us to protect the red dragonfly, we might as well take this opportunity to let the red dragonfly swallow up the Ice City Hell.

Baptiste also said, "Yes, even if we can make the ice city hell hold back and leave a small block like the red dragonfly behind, the Red Dragonfly won't have much room for development in the future. In fact, their business will be much smaller now. "We might as well take this opportunity to target the ice city hell. "

Yu Tian rubbed his chin and said, "Small fish eat big fish... do you have any good ideas?"

Barr immediately said, "We can make the neighborhood where the red dragonfly is located... become the empire's graveyard.

Yu Tian was amused. "Empire's graveyard? That's a good analogy... how do we

Barr said, "We, blue underpants, can support them from behind. Then, we can get the red dragonfly to encourage other small gangs to unite and launch an attack on the forces of Ice City's hell..."

"What kind of support do you plan to provide from behind?"

"We will provide weapons, operational funds, and a safe place for them to stay in our territory. "Their operational personnel can launch a sneak attack on the forces of Ice City Hell. After retreating, they will hide in our territory to preserve their strength. "Ice City Hell will definitely not dare to come to our territory to hunt us down, and we will not allow them to engage in a fight here. "In this way, the hell of ice city would become very passive. They would only be able to defend and take a beating, and have no chance to fight back..."

"Then, what's the specific plan to stop the hell of Ice City?"

"There's no specific plan. I think the main plan would be to attack their gang members. "Depending on the actual situation, the target of the attack would be decided, and the time and location would be flexibly chosen. In the early stage, they would attack the members who had entered the red dragonfly's territory, and in the later stage, they could also attack the Ice City Hell's territory. As long as enough people were killed, the ice city hell would naturally collapse.

"Not only would there be no one to use them, even the settlement fees would make them bankrupt..."

"If this goes on, won't the authorities intervene?"

"Of course they will, so this is the best chance for the Red Dragonfly to annex

Ice City Hell!

BA ER explained excitedly, "When the time comes, we'll first think of a way to get rid of the leaders of Hell in ice city. Their gangs will naturally lose a lot of official protection. "Then, we'll bribe the police and use the other gangs as scapegoats. We'll make them take the blame together with Hell in ice city, and they'll all be finished together... Finally, with our support, the red dragonfly will swallow up the surrounding streets and Swallow Up Hell in ice city's Territory! "

"Is it easy to annex the territory of other gangs?"

"It's not difficult to say. As long as we have enough manpower and money, with the threat of force, money, and promises of benefits, those remaining forces will easily surrender.

"So, the key is still to execute the leader of the gang?"

“Of course we have to kill the leader of the gang, but we also have to clear out most of the backbone of the gang. Otherwise, it’s easy for them to have the illusion that they are still powerful and that they can continue the war and even obtain the final victory...”

“It seems that a bloody storm can not be avoided.

“Yes, but this doesn’t affect us much. We have already found the person who will take the blame. ‘(As long as the red dragonfly doesn’t perform too eye-catching on this battlefield, let the other small gangs become the nominal alliance leader...”

“Finally, we’ll kill the Alliance leader and the enemy together... “Yu Tianle turned to Mina and asked, “What do you think of this plan?”

Mina’s eyes reflected light. She jumped up and said excitedly, “I think there’s no problem.. I’m confident that I can convince the other gangs to temporarily give up on their business and go all out with Ice City hell!

The crime rate in dusk city was not high, especially when serious crimes such as murder cases were rare.

It was not that there were no murders, but those things happened in some hidden corners. There were not many people who knew about it, and it would not cause too much of a stir in dusk city.

However, these two days were suddenly different. Not only were there frequent murder cases, but many of them happened in public places without any scruples.

There were even more than a dozen people who died, such as the operations personnel that Yu Tian had killed in the villa.

In addition, these murders seemed to have spread to the surrounding cities, and even the number of vicious cases in the entire state and province had increased.

This was the clone society and the traitors of the East Dragon Company, who were hunting down the loyal members of the East Dragon Company.

For example, the lucky ones like No. 76 who had not been arrested, as well as some middle-level and low-level people that the traitors knew about.

Of course, there were also some counter-attacks from the East Dragon Company.

Some of the middle-and upper-level people, after finding out that the headquarters had been wiped out, secretly sent operatives to Twilight City to investigate, which inevitably led to some conflicts with the traitors.

These things made Edward realize that something was wrong. Twilight City seemed to have stirred up a hornet's nest.

But these things were not under his control. Councilman Leon seemed to have also intervened in these cases and started to interfere with some of the police actions. This was definitely not a simple business competition.

Edward wanted to benefit from the misfortune of Councilman Leon and the others, but he was also worried that he would get into more trouble if he got too deeply involved in these things.

Piggy Liang observed Edward's expression and naturally understood Edward's concerns.

Just some benefits were not enough to make Edward obey them, and it was not enough to make Edward work for them wholeheartedly.

What Piggy Liang wanted was not an equal partner, but a chess piece that was under his control.

Just the inducement was not enough; they had to threaten him.

Piggy Liang said indifferently, "Mayor Edward, you should have noticed that there are some unusual circumstances these two days..."

"But this is just the beginning. Next, we will have more armed personnel arrive at dusk city and take more military action..."

"All the enemies will be killed by US physically. No one will be spared! "

"Now, it's time for you to make a decision. Do you want to be our enemy? Or do you want to be our friend?"

Edward was silent for a long while before he finally sighed and said, "Alright,

I'll cooperate with you. This might be a very good choice..."

Although Edward did not know the power behind Yu Tian and the others,

Brother Pig's actions today were enough to prove that Yu Tian and the others were a group of lawless fanatics.

This was not a power that Edward could resist.

Not to mention a small mayor like him, even the president who controlled absolute power could not defend against the assassination of these desperadoes.

Edward originally did not want to get involved in these dangerous things, but he did not seem to have the right to choose now.

He could only surrender, at least for now he could still keep his life.

If he could really survive the chaos in Twilight City, he could still reap a lot of benefits, and even gain power.

As for what to do in the future, Edward felt that these matters would at least wait until he was free from the control of these bandits.

After Edward relented, the atmosphere in the living room seemed to have eased up a little, and the gazes of the bodyguards staring at Edward also became less guarded and hostile.

Piggy Liang knew that Edward would not be willing to serve them wholeheartedly, but it did not matter. He just needed someone who could appear justifiably after the chaos and clean up the mess.

As for whether Edward would listen to them in the future and bite back, he felt that this matter was only related to his own strength.

As long as they showed enough strength, Edward would not dare to betray them.

Thus, brother pig showed a cordial smile, he warmly held Edward's hand and said, "Then, mayor Edward, from now on, we will be dear comrades-in-arms. Believe me, you will reap benefits that you did not expect..."

Edward also smiled stiffly and shook hands with Brother Pig. "You can call me Edward..."

"You can just call me Edward..."

Piggy Liang continued, "Then, you need to disappear from public view for a few days and get the police to release the news that you have been kidnapped by bandits... do you have anyone you can trust in the police station?"

Edward hesitated for a moment. "If it's the police station... There is indeed a deputy chief who can be trusted, but if you just want to reveal the news of my kidnapping to the outside world, this can be done through some news and the media, right?"

"Do you have a reliable friend in the media?"

"Yes."

"Good, you can give us his information and the information of your deputy chief friend..."

“There are no problems with the media, but as for the police station... with Chief Henry around, my deputy chief friend might not be able to provide much help to you.”

Edward helplessly spread his hands.

Although the deputy director also had some authority, if the director was very strong, the deputy would not be able to play a role in many matters.

Especially in the past two days, the situation in dusk city had become more chaotic. Councilman Leon and director Henry would definitely not let others interfere with their arrangements and operations.

Even if it was a matter of no importance, they would personally ask and command, and the deputy directors would not be able to interfere.

They could only stand on the side and watch, or obediently execute the tasks assigned by the director.

Therefore, Edward felt that contacting the deputy director's friend right now would not be of much use.

Brother Pig rolled his eyes. “We don't need his help right now. With our powerful strength, we don't need his cooperation to carry out any operations in Twilight City. “Even if there are hundreds or thousands of armed police forces in Twilight City, they won't affect our operations...”

“Then what do you need him to do?”

“We need him to bring his capable subordinates to rescue you, the kidnapped mayor, from the hands of the bandits... This will happen in a few days, but we need to arrange it in advance and communicate with him.

“I understand, I'll give you their phone number now. ”

“The phone number is not the point, nor is it a safe way to contact them. I need their address. ”

“No problem.

“Also, Congressman Leon, director Henry, and other people who should be dead... I also want their detailed information.

“No problem, I can give you the information of all the relevant people... my secretary has very detailed information in her hands, and she only needs a computer to pull it out..”

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1141 - Chapter 1141: Chapter 1,140: Good Communication - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1141 - Chapter 1141: Chapter 1,140: Good Communication

Of course, the computer was not a problem. No. 76 carried it with him all the time.

In fact, No. 76 could also find some personal information and information in the official archives, but it was far less detailed than what Edward had arranged in private. It even involved some personal private information.

No matter how powerful the hacking technology was, it still needed a clear target to attack.

If the information was stored in some completely unrelated network storage space or packaged in some mailboxes, it would be difficult for No. 76 to find any trace of the existence of the information.

With the assistance of Edward's secretary, Dusk City's officials basically did not keep any secrets from Yu Tian and the others.

After getting the information of these important people, Edward was invited back to his room to rest.

Brother Pig checked the name list and said to Yu Tian, "We need to prepare for action. "

Everyone in the room immediately became excited again.

Yu Tian said calmly, "You can arrange it.

Since Brother Pig already had a plan in mind, Yu Tian finally felt a lot more relaxed.

He did not know if Brother Pig's plan was good or not, but the most important thing now was to act quickly.

As night fell, the members of the mouse squad appeared in every corner of Twilight City and began to move.

Their skin color would not attract the attention of the police, so it was much more convenient for them to move than Yu Tian.

Luc was the deputy director of the police headquarters of Twilight City. After dawdling around in the headquarters for a whole day, he finally returned home "Physically and mentally exhausted.

A major incident had happened in Twilight City today. Not only did it cause a large amount of property damage, but the entire police department of Twilight City had also been tormented.

But this had nothing to do with him.

Chief Henry was in power, and he had the support of a large number of members of parliament behind him. They had been acting on their own for the past few days. Luc could not get a word in edgewise, and he would not take any responsibility.

He knew very well what he had to do to avoid being blamed.

Just like he was doing now, he went home early from work and turned off his cell phone.

Luc walked into the house. He had just greeted his wife and children when there was a leisurely knock on the door behind him.

Luc had no choice but to turn around and open the door.

Outside the door stood a strange white man wearing a dirty jacket. He looked like a poor vagrant.

Of course, there were no such people among Luc's friends. In fact, such poor people should not even be in their neighborhood.

Luc frowned. "Who are you looking for?"

"Director Luc? "The man smiled slightly. "I'm Looking for you.

Luc was a little surprised. "You're looking for me? Who Are You? Do We know each other? Why are you looking for me?"

"Hehehe, chief Luc, don 't worry... Edward asked me to see you. "Edward? Which Edward are you talking about?"

"The mayor, of course. "The Man took out a cell phone, pressed the dial button, and handed it to Luc. "Let the Mayor explain it to you. " Luc took the cell phone in confusion and put it to his ear curiously.

The phone rang twice, and then it was picked up.

"Hello...

Edward's familiar voice came from the other side. The confusion in Luc's heart didn't disappear, but became even more intense. Why did Edward use such a sneaky way to contact him?

"Mayor..."

"Oh, it's Mr. Luc..."

"Is there something you want to talk to me about?"

"Yes, but it's a long story. I Can't explain too much to you. I hope that you can completely trust this gentleman in front of you and cooperate with him in all his actions and fulfill all his requests..."

"I don't understand..."

"You don't need to understand too much now. I Can't explain it to you. You just need to know that this is related to our future... This is very important!"

"Edward, aren't your demands a little too outrageous? You want me to cooperate with all of his actions and satisfy all of his demands? Such an important matter, I think you should come over and explain it to me in person."

"It's not suitable for me to show my face now... Don't you know what happened at City Hall Today?"

"Did something happen at City Hall?" Luc asked curiously, "I don't know."

Edward Sighed. "It seems that they are still covering up this news... I was kidnapped from the City Hall."

"Uh... You 're not joking?"

"Luc, we don't have time to joke right now."

"Since you've been kidnapped, how can I be sure that you're not being coerced? Pm not even sure if the person Pm talking to is you. You know, the voice can also be imitated..."

"Alright, I knew it... you're a cautious person. Let me video chat with you."

The call ended, and the other party sent another video invitation.

These two phones were both from the mouse team, so there was no need to add any communication software accounts. It was also very convenient to change the way they talked at the last minute.

Luc picked up the video call and finally saw Edward in person on the phone.

“Luc, this is very important.” Edward did not waste time to be polite, with a serious expression, he continued, “This is not only related to our safety, but also our future. “I have a very big plan now. I can get Leon and the others... in short, you must cooperate with the gentleman in front of you and follow his plan... ”

“Okay, I will communicate with this man.

Luc reluctantly agreed, but he was still full of doubts about the homeless man in front of him.

He didn't think that the homeless man in front of him could decide his future and fate, because a small figure could never change the world.

The homeless man didn't care about his attitude. He put away his phone and said slowly, “Then, chief Luc, let's Find a quiet place to talk?”

“Let's go to my room.

Luc looked at the street outside the house, then invited the homeless man into the house and closed the door.

The same thing happened in the home of a media editor, a famous reporter, a member of Parliament who was close to Edward, and an inconspicuous official..

That night, Edward's friends all received a strange visitor.

And they were all told a very absurd news dusk city was going to be in chaos.

If this kind of thing happened in some small war-torn countries, people might not be surprised.

Because many war-torn countries had local forces and civilian armed forces that were not weaker than the official regime.

But this is the wind country, who dare to do evil?

Translator: 549690339

The Wind Nation was a world -class power. Although its economy had weakened in recent decades, its scientific and technological level and military strength were still leading the world.

Moreover, the wind nation's regime was stable. There were no local armed forces or rebel forces, and it was impossible for internal problems to occur.

In addition, as long as a strong and stable country like the windy nation did not become the world 's police and cause trouble everywhere, it would not create any external enemies, much less provoke any terrorist organizations.

The only thing that could cause chaos in the windy nation was their own internal affairs, such as the protests and demonstrations triggered by certain policies or events.

Just some criminals simply did not have the ability to create chaos in a city.

Even if there were some gangsters who got into a fight or something like that, the armed police force was not just for show. They had the ability to clean up these disobedient scum.

This was the power of the state machine. They would not allow criminals to disrupt the order of a city, and they would not allow criminals to create chaos in the city.

Edward's good friends were skeptical of these words.

However, this did not prevent them from cooperating with the East Dragon Company's actions. For example, they would report the news of the Mayor of dusk city being kidnapped by the bandits. These simple things would not cause them any trouble.

Piggy Liang would not ask them too much for the time being. He only gave them a warning so that they could be used in the future.

If he really wanted Edward's people to cooperate with him, he had to let them see the strength of the East Dragon Company first.

His own strength was the foundation of everything.

As for how to show his strength and how to reverse the terrible situation of the East Dragon Company, Piggy Liang had his own arrangements. He even had his own channels to contact some helpers.

For the time being, he did not give Yu Tian too many explanations for these things.

Yu Tian did not ask about the specific operations of this dog-head military advisor in the spirit of not doubting the person he was using and not doubting the person he was using.

The thing that Piggy Liang needed Yu Tian's support the most was financial support.

As the saying goes, before the army moves, the provisions go first.

Everything required money, especially wars.

What Pizzv Liane wanted to do now was not much different from starting a war.

Yu Tian still had a sum of one billion yuan in his hands, but this was the war funds he had prepared for the MOTHERF * cker.

For a country's war, a mere one billion yuan was not enough to fill the gaps between their teeth.

It was not enough to fill the gaps between their teeth to begin with, so Yu Tian naturally could not casually use it, even though Piggy Liang did not ask for a lot of money.

Yu Tian had originally planned to mobilize another batch of funds from within the country to support wind country's operations, because Chu Qing and the others also had a lot of assets in their hands.

However, number 76 just so happened to have a temporary amount of over a billion in public funds in his hands, which was more than enough to support their operations in Twilight City.

Therefore, Yu Tian directly asked number 76 to cooperate with Piggy Liang and act as a temporary finance and cashier. He and Piggy Liang would stay in this abandoned residential building and be in charge of commanding.

The members of the rat squad were assigned tasks by Piggy Liang. They were sent to every corner of dusk city. Only two people were left in the room to "Protect"Edward.

Yu Tian, of course, was not willing to stay idle. It was a waste to be idle with such a strong combat strength.

Although Piggy Liang did not think that Yu Tian's oriental face was suitable for showing up everywhere, he felt that he would not be particularly eye-catching if he put on a pullover and covered his face with a hat.

Most importantly, Yu Tian felt that he would be more at ease if he acted personally on certain important actions.

The most important action tonight, of course, was to target the most important person.

Yu Tian's target was councilman Leon.

According to information provided by a friend of Edward's, Councilman Leon would have a small gathering with his friends tonight.

This kind of private gathering of friends did not seem to be special.

Because there would always be a few days a month when councilman Leon would have some ordinary gathering with his friends. Everyone would drink, chat, and play poker..

But in this troubled time, their gathering would certainly not be so simple.

Piggy Liang thought that this would at least be a small secret meeting. Councilman Leon and his friends would discuss the unexpected events that happened today, as well as the next plan of action.

It was all obvious, and even a fool could guess it.

However, Piggy didn't care what conspiracy they would secretly discuss, since they wouldn't have a chance to realize it.

For Piggy, this was a good opportunity to catch all his main enemies in one fell swoop. He couldn't miss this great opportunity tonight.

Yu Tian couldn't miss such an important occasion either. He wanted to do it himself.

Councilman Leon's meeting place was in a small club, which was like a private club and also owned by Councilman Leon.

This club was a place where they often met. It was not a secret in the upper circle of Dusk City.

And their meeting was not a secret, because party activities were normal in the windy nation.

Councilman Leon and his friends were on the same side, and Edward and his friends were on the same side, which was a legal party organization.

This kind of legal action was not covered up, and it was more convenient for Yu Tian's action.

Only Yu Tian and the big guy participated in the operation, and in addition, there was a small car that the mouse team had stolen for them.

When night fell, the two of them quietly drove to the vicinity of Congressman Leon's club.

When they arrived at the place, Yu Tian realized that this place was actually a residential area.

There were villas of all sizes around. Some people lived here, while others treated the villas as some sort of business place, such as a pub or bar.

Although this place was not as bustling as the city center, there were still many cars coming and going. It was not as remote as some private clubs.

“We seem to be a little early...”

Yu Tian and the big guy sat in the car, staring at the brightly lit club from afar.

The club’s door was open, and there were a few security guards and service personnel waiting to welcome the guests.

This seemed to indicate that not all of councilman Leon ‘s friends had arrived.

In order to confirm the location of the club, Yu Tian had deliberately passed by the entrance of the club just now. Coincidentally, he also bumped into a black car and was walking leisurely to the entrance of the club.

This proved that Yu Tian and the big guy had indeed arrived a little early. Councilman Leon’s party had not started so soon..

Translator: 549690339

If they wanted to catch all of Congressman Leon ‘s men, they had to let all of them enter the area of the net.

Therefore, Yu Tian and the big guy could only wait far away, waiting for all of the other party’s members to arrive.

The way to judge whether they were all here was also very simple. Because this was a private club, as long as the club closed its doors and refused visitors, it meant that all of their members had arrived, and that was when Yu Tian made his move.

In order to avoid attracting the attention of the security guards at the entrance, Yu Tian and the big guy did not dare to get too close to the club. They could only park their cars far away at the corner of a street.

They waited until nine o’clock in the evening. The villa where the club was located finally closed the main door. The lights at the entrance were also turned off, and the light became much weaker.

This immediately attracted the attention of Yu Tian and the big guy. The two carefully observed and confirmed that the main door of the villa had indeed been closed.

“Looks like everyone is here. It’s time for us to move out.”

Yu Tian had been using this time to practice his inner strength cultivation method. At this time, he finally stopped practicing.

The Big Guy rubbed his fists and was already impatient.

The two of them were about to get out of the car when the big guy saw a police car from the rearview mirror.

The police car drove slowly to the back of their car and stopped at the roadside.

The Big Guy was slightly startled, then he quickly reminded Yu Tian, "Boss, the police are here.

Before Yu Tian could say anything, Zhu Ge Liang's voice came out from their earphones, "Police? How many police are there?"

Zhu Ge Liang had been maintaining an audio connection with them, monitoring their movements.

If they encountered any accidents, Zhu Ge Liang could also provide timely advice to Yu Tian, such as the current situation.

The Big Guy looked at the rearview mirror again and said in a low voice, "One police car, two police officers... that's it."

"Two police officers? Then let's kill them. "Piggy Liang smiled indifferently and said, "Don't forget what you're here for. As long as you can do it, you can make the matter bigger.

The big guy chuckled and said, '(I like this operation! Then let me start with these two police officers. I haven't killed anyone for a long time, and I feel a little uncomfortable all over. "

Piggy Liang asked curiously, "How long has it been since you've killed someone? Don't Tell Me You're Rusty?"

"I haven't killed anyone in a few days... I'm a little rusty, but I'll feel better after killing these two policemen..."

The Big Guy was very modest. Compared to those mercenaries who fought and killed all day long, it was indeed easy for him to lose his composure.

Piggy Liang's side immediately fell silent.

The Big Guy opened the car door and got out of the driver's seat.

He and Yu Tian both brought pistols. Although their main means of fighting were not guns, sometimes guns were indeed more convenient.

“Don’t use guns. ”

When the Big Guy got out of the car, Yu Tian timely reminded him.

“I know.

The Big Guy understood.

Before entering the club of Councilman Leon, they would not make too much noise.

In order to avoid alerting the snake and scaring away the big shots in the club.

Two policemen were approaching Yu Tian and the big guy’s car. When they saw the big guy get out of the car, they were a little surprised.

This was because when ordinary people saw the police approaching, they would stop all their actions and obediently wait for the inspection and interrogation to avoid any misunderstanding.

The Big Guy’s actions were really unlike those of an honest and honest ordinary person.

In addition, the Big Guy was really quite big, and it was very easy for people to feel some psychological pressure.

The two police officers seemed to have sensed a hint of threat, and they both pressed their hands on the pistols on their waists.

“Stop, sir. Stop all your actions and lie down on the roof of your car.

Although they hadn’t drawn their guns, the two policemen were ready to draw their guns at any moment.

The big guy shrugged and obediently placed his hand on the roof of the car according to the instructions of the two policemen.

This action made the two policemen slightly relieved.

One in front and one behind, one on the left and one on the right, they approached the big guy.

“It’s so late. What are you doing here? Did You Bring Your ID? Passport and driver’s license...”

The two police officers began their questioning.

It was not surprising that this kind of situation could provoke the police. Because they had always parked their car at the street corner, it was equivalent to being near someone's house. Naturally, this caused the family by the roadside to be on guard.

Especially when they found that there were people in the car, the residents by the roadside would naturally call the police, claiming that they had found a suspicious person and asking the police to come over to check on the situation.

This was considered an accident, but it was also within reason. To Yu Tian and the big guy, this accident was nothing more than an extra move.

"Passport..."

The Big Guy turned his head and grinned at the two police officers.

This smile was a little strange, but it was also a little creepy.

The two police officers suddenly had a bad feeling, but before they could react, the big guy suddenly crashed into them.

The Big Guy was tall and sturdy, and the range of his arms was much larger than that of an ordinary person.

The two policemen were pulled into his arms and then crashed into each other. They were so dizzy that even the pistols they had just taken out fell to the ground.

The Big Guy did not give them any time to breathe. He grabbed the two policemen's necks with his two big palms, and with the strength of his iron-like fingers, the two policemen's necks were snapped alive.

Then, he held the bodies of the two policemen and asked, "What should we do with the bodies of these two policemen?"

"There's no need to deal with them. Just leave them here."

Yu Tian didn't get out of the car. He urged the big guy in the car, "Let's go.

Let's move quickly. We don't need to care about the bodies anymore. "

There was no point in dealing with the bodies. The police would soon realize that the two policemen could no longer be contacted.

Moreover, there might be a few pairs of small eyes hidden behind the window of the house by the roadside, observing the movements on the road.

The fact that they killed two police officers could not be covered up at all.

Instead of wasting time on disposing of the bodies, it was better to seize the time and kill Councilman Leon and the others.

The Big Guy threw down the bodies of the two police officers, then quickly got into the car and started the car.

They were only one to two hundred meters away from the club. The Big Guy only stepped on the gas pedal fiercely, and the two of them arrived at the place.

Pulling Open the car door, the two of them got out of the car elegantly and closed the car door with a bang, as arrogant as if they were shooting a movie.

There were still security guards on duty in the courtyard of the club. Seeing Yu Tian and the big guy stop at the gate of the courtyard so arrogantly, they couldn't figure out their identities for a moment.

"Sir, this is a private club. Please Drive...

The Big Guy knocked open the Iron Gate of the courtyard without hesitation..

Translator: 549690339

Although the hollow iron gate was beautiful, it was not strong enough to withstand the brute force of the Big Guy.

The Iron Gate was not designed to prevent cars from crashing into each other. Even if an ordinary person used a little brute force, they might be able to free the gate from the wall.

The Big Guy knocked down the leaves of the two iron gates. He did not stop. With the two gates in his hands, he pounced on the security guards in the courtyard.

The security guards were caught off guard and could not dodge the two large iron doors at all. They were instantly knocked over by the Big Guy and fell to the ground.

The Big Guy threw the door page and immediately jumped over, giving the security guards a few more kicks.

He was very strong. With a few kicks, the security guards who were pressed under the door were immediately killed, even their intestines were stomped out.

The commotion in the courtyard was not small. The people in the villa must have been alarmed as well.

Yu Tian did not waste any time. He leaped up and directly jumped onto the balcony of the second floor of the villa.

After the big guy stomped a few security guards to death, he continued to crash into the main door of the first floor of the villa.

The two of them split into two groups and launched a surprise attack on the first and second floors of the villa at the same time. This was a plan that had been decided from the start.

The balcony of the villa was very spacious. Behind the balcony were the old-fashioned floor-to-ceiling glass doors and windows, and thick curtains were hung.

Yu Tian jumped onto the balcony and kicked the glass doors and windows into pieces.

Then, he ignored the curtains and directly rushed into the room, pulling down the entire curtain at the same time.

The room was filled with chaotic, low cries. It sounded like there were quite a number of people.

Yu Tian threw the curtain in front of him and the unlucky thing that blocked his view was thrown over the heads of the people in the room.

The room became even more chaotic. The smarter people immediately ran to the back.

However, after only two steps, the gunshots behind them were heard.

Yu Tian had already taken out his brutal big revolver and shot wildly at the fleeing people.

He did not have many opportunities to use his gun, so his marksmanship was passable.

However, this kind of close-range shooting did not require too precise aiming. What tested the gunman was mainly the stability of the gun, as well as the speed of firing and moving the muzzle.

This was not difficult for Yu Tian. Even many professional gunmen were not as stable as his grip on the gun.

The recoil of the big revolver was extremely strong, and its power was also extremely great.

A few huge bullets were fired, and the few people who were escaping were immediately hit until their limbs flew out, turning into a pile of broken parts.

This kind of death was extremely tragic. Not a single piece of the body was left behind.

When the curtain fell, the remaining people in the room did not dare to move.

The sound of gunshots could be heard from the first floor. The Big Guy seemed to have met the security guards or bodyguards with guns and was engaged in a gunfight with them.

Yu Tian did not need to worry about the safety of the big guy, because such security guards or bodyguards usually did not carry heavy firearms.

Especially in the country of wind, which prohibited guns, those who could carry pistols were considered special security guards.

The Big Guy had even withstood the bullets from the machine gun. A mere pistol was no threat to him. It was only a matter of time before he could take care of the security guards on the first floor.

Yu Tian unhurriedly loaded the bullets on the big revolver and sized up the people who did not dare to move.

The room behind the balcony was a hall. The size of this hall was much larger than the hall of an ordinary house.

Because it was used as a club, the walls and boards of the neighboring rooms were removed to form a whole space.

This saved Yu Tian the trouble of going from room to room to find people.

There were some cards, tables, and chessboards in the hall. There was also a sofa and a wine cabinet in the corner.

These decorations were not complicated. Everything could be seen at a glance.

Everyone was gathered around a big card table in the middle. Except for the few who were shot into minced meat by Yu Tian, there were less than ten people left at the table.

Yu Tian recognized Congressman Leon from the crowd at a glance and could not help but laugh.

He originally thought that after breaking into the second floor, he would have to go to all the rooms to look around, and only then would he have a chance to capture the leader, Congressman Leon.

However, he did not expect them to gather in the first hall by the balcony. Yu Tian did not even need to bother to look for him anymore.

“Councilman Leon, I found him...”

Yu Tian was talking to Piggy Liang and the big guy. Councilman Leon was the focus of their operation this time. Once they found councilman Leon, the operation would be more than half successful.

As for how to deal with him after they found councilman Leon, it did not matter.

Piggy Liang said that he would just kill him directly, but Yu Tian felt that he could bring councilman Leon back and interrogate him properly.

He thought that councilman Leon must have a direct relationship with Kronin, or that Councilman Leon was a secret member of Kronin.

Otherwise, he couldn't have done it himself and spared no effort in attacking the East Dragon Company.

Therefore, councilman Leon had the value of an interrogation.

Zhu Gelang did not deny Yu Tian's judgment, but he felt that councilman Leon, who was basically a chess piece on the surface, had no chance of an interrogation. There was no need to go to so much trouble to kidnap him.

Trouble?

Yu Tian did not think so. The Big Guy could carry him back with one hand.

As for the others, they were all eliminated.

Piggy Liang had said that the bigger the matter, the better. These important figures were all dead. Only then could they cause enough commotion and make Edward's friends feel reverence for them.

"Who are you?"

Councilman Leon's expression was very ugly. He shouted at Yu Tian with a fierce look but a weak heart.

Yu Tian had shot and killed people as soon as he started. This style made him feel that something was wrong.

This was definitely not an ordinary kidnapper.

Yu Tian smiled as he picked up his big revolver. "The East Dragon Company sends its regards to you!"

Councilman Leon's expression changed, and Yu Tian's big revolver rang again.

This kind of powerful handgun could penetrate several people with one shot, and it could easily break everyone in a straight line into pieces.

The few people left in the hall were treated as a pile of straight line targets by Yu Tian, and they were all killed with a few shots.

Only one member of Parliament, Leon, was left.

Leon's face was ashen. The identity of the sole survivor did not make him feel any sense of relief.

Especially after hearing the name of the East Dragon Company, he had a more premonition that his end would not be too good.

It was not that he did not think of being assassinated, kidnapped, and attacked, but he did not expect someone to jump in directly from the balcony on the second floor.

Could it be that the security personnel in the courtyard and downstairs were all dead?

Translator: 549690339

The security measures of the club were not bad. In addition to some necessary security facilities, there were also a lot of security personnel.

Not only did they arrange security guards in the courtyard, but there were also a large number of security personnel on standby in the house.

It was just like the headquarters of the gangsters in the movies. After entering, they were all filled with people, filling the doors and corridors of each room.

Although the security force of this club was not that exaggerated, in terms of the number of security guards, it far exceeded the needs of normal clubs.

And unlike normal security guards, the security guards here were all equipped with guns.

For a country that banned guns, this was already considered a considerable privilege.

In addition, these big shots also brought their own personal bodyguards with them. The quality of these personal bodyguards was naturally higher than that of the ordinary security personnel.

Especially the personal bodyguards of Councilman Leon. They were the fighter jets among the bodyguards, and their professional level was far above that of ordinary people.

With such a security force, it could be said that they could rest easy.

However, because of the secret meeting just now, Councilman Leon and the others had left the bodyguards on the first floor of the club.

He did not expect someone to barge into the second floor directly. At least, it was impossible for someone to barge into the second floor so suddenly that the bodyguards did not have time to react.

This was equivalent to the assailant breaking into the second floor right after the courtyard made a commotion.

He was a little confused as to how the assailant had managed to run up to the second floor so quickly.

Yu Tian had fired many shots in the hall on the second floor, but his personal bodyguards had not shown up.

This meant that their bodyguards were being held up on the first floor.

The sound of gunfire from the first floor confirmed this. There were indeed enemies on the first floor, and there was a fierce gunfight with the bodyguards.

However, councilman Leon was very confident in his bodyguards.

He believed that his bodyguards would soon solve the problem on the first floor and come up to save him.

Therefore, he had to stall for time as much as possible now.

Yu Tian had no intention of killing him on the spot, so as long as he was not taken away by Yu Tian immediately, his bodyguards would still have a chance to save him.

Councilman Leon began to think quickly in his mind about how to stall for time.

The gunshots on the first floor had stopped, but there was still the sound of banging, as if someone was fighting and breaking a lot of things.

Councilman Leon was secretly happy because his bodyguards were better at fighting.

If both sides gave up guns and entered the stage of hand-to-hand combat, then his bodyguards would have a better chance of winning.

Councilman Leon decided to delay Yu Tian's pace of action as much as possible until his bodyguards returned victorious.

So he coughed twice and tried to find something to say to Yu Tian, “Are you from the East Dragon Company?”

Yu Tian was immediately amused. He could see that councilman Leon wanted to delay time.

But it didn't matter. He didn't care about this little bit of time.

In any case, he had to wait for the big guy to finish off the enemies downstairs before leaving together.

As a living person, councilman Leon also had to wait for the big guy to shoulder the responsibility. Yu Tian didn't need to do this kind of thing himself.

Therefore, Yu Tian didn't mind chatting casually with councilman Leon so that he could get more information.

So he said with a smile, “Yes, Pm from the East Dragon Company.”

Councilman Leon asked again, “Are you really from the East Dragon Company?”

Yu Tian rolled his eyes. This kind of nonsense was too obvious. He was treating people like fools.

He did not answer councilman Leon's question. Instead, he asked, “What is your identity in Kroni?”

He did not ask if councilman Leon was from Kroni. This question did not give councilman Leon the opportunity to deny his identity.

Councilman Leon did not seem surprised. He knew that his identity could not be concealed, so there was no point in quibbling.

Therefore, he said indifferently, “What identity do you think I have? What identity do you have in the East Dragon Company?”

Yu Tian smiled.

He suddenly flashed and rushed in front of Councilman Leon like a ghost.

Before councilman Leon could understand what was going on, he was slapped by Yu Tian. Suddenly, he felt dizzy and his gums were tilted to one side.

When he regained some consciousness..., yu Tian said slowly, “Old man, you have to figure out your identity. You are just my captive now. Who gave you the courage to speak to me in such a tone?”

Councilman Leon shook his heavy head gently and did not speak anymore.

He sneered in his heart.

That's right, he was indeed a captive now. In front of Yu Tian, this violent villain, he was like a fish on the chopping block.

But as long as it dragged on, when his bodyguards reached the second floor, everything would be reversed.

Councilman Leon was full of confidence in this.

At this time, the sounds of fighting downstairs finally stopped. Councilman Leon was secretly happy. This must be the final victory of his bodyguard.

This bodyguard was indeed extraordinary. He had dealt with the enemy who had invaded the first floor so quickly.

Then, he heard heavy footsteps coming from outside. Someone was rushing to the second floor.

Congressman Leon heaved a sigh of relief and calmly said to Yu Tian, "I think we can actually have a good talk."

Yu Tian smiled. "You want to have a good talk? Sure. As long as you obediently answer my question, I won't beat your mouth."

"I think you might have a misunderstanding. When I said we should have a good talk, I didn't mean this. I just feel that... you can totally surrender to us."

Congressman Leon looked calm, he spoke with assurance, "You should be very clear about the current situation. Your leader and high-level personnel are all in our hands, and the East Dragon Company is also under our control. "The original East Dragon Company is finished, and your momentum is gone..."

"You're thinking too much. Do you think the East Dragon Company is that kind of small-time gang? "Don't you know... How Rich the East Dragon Company

IS? "If you want the East Dragon Company to be finished, I'm afraid that your Kronin Association doesn't have such a big ability.

Yu Tian's expression was very disdainful, and he sneered again and again.

Councilman Leon also sneered twice. "The power of the Clone Society is far beyond your imagination."

Yu Tian laughed. "Powerful? Those operational personnel you sent over are not my match at all. What right do you have to boast about your strength?"

Councilman Leon said indifferently, "Those people are just peripheral members. Their combat strength is only at the level of ordinary people. (If they are the operational personnel of our headquarters, Humph Humph Humph... you will soon see it."

At this point, Congressman Leon suddenly shut his mouth and looked in the direction of the door in surprise..

Translator: 549690339

At the entrance of the hall on the second floor, a big guy was carrying a corpse.

He glanced at the two people in the hall and then threw the corpse on the ground.

"Boss, take a look at this. "

The Big Guy kicked the corpse on the ground as if he was showing off.

Councilman Leon's expression became a little ugly because the corpse on the ground was the bodyguard he had high hopes for.

Yu Tian also took a few glances at the corpse. There were many wounds on the corpse, but there wasn't much blood.

He immediately understood that this was the corpse of a genetic warrior.

Seeing a genetic warrior, it would only prove that Congressman Leon and the others were related to the Kronin order.

Yu Tian took another glance at Congressman Leon. At this time, he was no longer as calm as before.

Congressman Leon had originally hoped that the genetic warriors would be able to save him. However, he had never expected that the genetic warriors would be killed so easily by the enemies.

From the moment the enemies had entered this house until the battle had completely ended, only one or two minutes had passed.

If the genetic warriors were the ones who killed the ordinary people, one or two minutes would be more or less the same. However, the others had only used one or two minutes to kill the genetic warriors. This kind of strength was no trifling matter.

Congressman Leon forced himself to remain calm and said, "I admit that your strength is indeed stronger than I imagined. However..."

Bang

Before he could finish his words, the big guy knocked him unconscious.

Yu Tian turned his head and walked toward the balcony.

"Let's go. Since this guy likes to talk so much, let's bring him back and let him have a good talk.

Yu Tian walked to the balcony and jumped down.

The Big Guy carried councilman Leon on his shoulder and jumped down after

Yu Tian.

It might be a little difficult for him to jump up to the second floor, but jumping down from the second floor was not that stressful.

The Big Guy jumped the entire floor until it shook a little. Then, he took big heavy steps and carried councilman Leon to the side of the car.

They didn't need to guard against such ordinary people. They just threw Leon in the back of the car and drove away.

A few minutes later, the police siren finally sounded on the street.

But the club was empty, leaving only a room full of bodies.

It was a headache for the police.

What happened here was not just a horrific murder, nor was it just a major case in which dozens of people died.

The point was that the dead here were all important figures in Twilight City, a group of leaders from all walks of life who could cause a major earthquake in twilight city.

Whether or not the case could be solved and the murderer caught, an earthquake was inevitable in the police station. Director Henry is to blame, the blame is mine.

But this is only the beginning.

Piggy Liang's plan is not just to kill a few people like councilman Leon.

He wants to kill all of councilman Leon's henchmen and subordinates, as well as all those lackeys who participated in the DONGLONG company incident.

He wants to kill in the evening city, Donglong Company's prestige to be forcibly killed out.

Yu Tian didn't make much comment on Piggy Liang's plan.

Yu Tian was already used to killing people, especially after he got used to living in such a lawless place. He felt that human lives were like data.

As long as Piggy Liang felt that these killings were necessary, he wouldn't oppose wantonly killing.

His main concern was that if Zhu Gelian created too big a scene, it would be difficult for Edward to clean up.

For Edward, the best way would be to carry out assassinations on the members of Parliament Leon and others.

The social repercussions would not be particularly sensational, and it would be convenient for his friends to smoothly take over power.

But if it was purely naked killings, and the elimination of more than half of the members of Parliament Leon's faction, the intention would be too obvious.

This would create a lot of obstacles and trouble for them to take over power. They might even face some murder charges.

However, Piggy Liang did not care. Any consequences would not affect his decision.

In his words, when Ban Dingyuan was on a mission to the western regions, he had also encountered such a headache. How could Ban Dingyuan care about the consequences?

If he encountered a problem, he should first kill the person who created the problem.

As for the consequences, that was after he had eliminated the enemy.

Therefore, Ban Dingyuan made a prompt decision back then and killed the Xiongnu diplomatic mission completely.

The final result came. The other party could do nothing about this predetermined situation.

Therefore, those who achieved great things did not care about small details.

They were cautious and timid. No matter how good the cards in their hands were, they had to play until the entire game was lost.

Therefore, Piggy Liang's way of doing things was to destroy all the enemies he knew before they could cover their ears.

If the enemies didn't even have the manpower to do things, what plan could they carry out?

In this way, the development of the matter could be controlled in their own hands.

Even if there was any trouble, he would be able to deal with it calmly. He would no longer need to worry about the enemy's obstruction and destruction.

The greatest advantage that the Kronin Society had now was to take advantage of his infiltration and control of the Twilight City authorities to launch a surprise attack on the headquarters of the East Dragon Company.

When the East Dragon Company was completely unprepared, they used the authorities' power to arrest the top management of the East Dragon Company.

This caused the east dragon corporation to be leaderless, and even the remaining forces couldn't find the right target to counterattack.

What Big Brother Pig wanted to do now was to cut off all the hands and feet of the clone society that had infiltrated Twilight City. He wanted to kill as many as he could.

In the case of insufficient intelligence, if he killed the wrong people, he wouldn't let them go.

In this way, the clone society would lose its control and advantage in twilight city.

As for how chaotic the situation would be, and whether Edward and the others could successfully take over the power of Twilight City... that was not the point.

In any case, no matter what the situation would be, it would be better than twilight city being controlled by the Kronin Society.

This kind of reckless massacre was indeed likely to cause a great sensation, and it might even startle the higher-ups of wind country.

However, this was exactly what Piggy Liang wanted to do.

If he couldn't win at the poker table, he would flip the table. No one would be able to continue playing in Twilight City. He wanted to turn Twilight City into a place where terror would breed.

He wanted to let the enemy know the determination and courage of the East Dragon Company to fight to the death, just like how the old Russians would always bring up nuclear bombs.

This point of view and Yu Tian's appetite. He felt that although the East Dragon Company was rich, their killing intent was too weak.

Therefore, in Zhu Gelian's plan, killing was the first priority.

As for capturing and interrogating the captives, he did not care at all.

If Yu Tian wanted to capture two captives, Zhu Gelian did not object.

As long as they could ensure their own safety while carrying out the mission, it did not matter if they kidnapped a few captives along the way..

There was nothing wrong with Piggy's plan, but there was a big problem with tonight's operation, which was that the mouse team was not adequately staffed.

The first task of the team members was to contact Edward's good friends.

After this task was over, they had to go to the next target location and prepare to attack the residences of some big shots overnight.

Brother Pig had already prepared a list for them. All of Congressman Leon's henchmen, as well as the key people who were involved in the East Dragon Company incident, were on the list.

However, because the mouse team was short of manpower, these people had to be divided into two or three groups to be cleaned up.

The Important People's visiting order was at the front, and the small characters were at the back.

The mouse team members had a lot of work to do tonight. Each of them had to travel to at least three target locations in a row.

However, there were not many situations that required them to kill each other.

Most of the targets on the list were gathered in Congressman Leon's club. They had already been killed by Yu Tian.

The identities of the remaining people who did not appear in the club were certainly not very important, because they did not even have the qualifications to participate in the secret meeting.

This kind of non-core personnel had nothing to do with the Kronin Society.

Therefore, the pressure on the mouse team wasn't high. They only needed to act quickly and not pay too much attention to the results of the operation. Even if a target accidentally escaped or wasn't at home, they didn't need to pay too much attention to it.

This wave of attacks was only to expand the scope of the killing and create more panic and chaos. They didn't have any particularly important targets. Their main task was to search the homes of the important people and get back the computers and USB drives.

Brother Pig hoped to find some clues about the clone society so that he could take the next step.

The important people had all died in Leon's club, leaving only the elderly, the weak, the women, and the children in their homes. They had no power to resist the professional killers of the mouse team.

Perhaps they had one or two bodyguards, but they were no match for the mouse squad.

The mouse squad only needed to break in easily and kill everyone they saw. Then, they could search as casually as they did in their own homes.

This was an indiscriminate killing mode. It was also a relatively safe mode of action for killers.

There was an old saying in the east, "Disaster does not affect family members.

This kind of operation of killing the target's family members and entering their home seemed a little excessive.

However, Brother Pig felt that a family was a whole, and they should rise and fall together.

Since they had enjoyed the benefits and benefits brought by their family members, they naturally had to bear the disasters brought about by this.

Therefore, when the rat squad carried out indiscriminate killings, they did not need to feel any psychological burden.

There was another benefit to doing so. It was that the "Death of a whole family”would bring a greater sense of shock. It would be easier to cause panic and chaos in Twilight City, and it would also be easier for Edward’s friends to be in awe.

While the rat squad was wantonly killing, Yu Tian also began to set off for his second target.

His second target was the temporary base of the Kronin Society in Dusk City, which was located near the police station.

This was the information that he had already obtained.

The significance of the temporary base was actually not very big, because this kind of place was usually concentrated with some low-level operational personnel.

Any big shot with a bit of status and status was unlikely to live in such a group dormitory.

However, Yu Tian didn’t mind taking down this temporary stronghold. At least, he could show kroni his muscles and let them experience the powerful fighting strength of Donglong Company.

This temporary stronghold was an old-fashioned apartment, next to the police headquarters. It was not in the same direction as the clinic on No. 76.

According to the information that Yu Tian had gotten from the interrogation, the entire apartment was bought by Kroni. There was no outsider in it.

Even the apartment manager was a member of the Kronin Association.

The Kronin Association would never allow outsiders to appear in their temporary stronghold.

This situation was much less worrying. After Yu Tian entered the apartment, there was no need to distinguish who was the enemy and kill whoever he saw.

The best way to deal with this entire building was to use explosives to blow it up.

Blow the whole building down or start a fire.

However, Yu Tian and the others did not have these weapons. They only brought pistols when they sneaked in.

Therefore, Yu Tian could only take the trouble and kill them one by one.

Because he had captured MP Leon as a captive, the big guy could only stay behind to watch the car in case anything unexpected happened.

Yu Tian had to do the killing himself.

The Big Guy wanted to do it for him, but Yu Tian felt that it might not be appropriate for him to do it.

His style of action was completely different from the big guy's.

The Big Guy relied on his tough skin to force his way in.

Although no enemy could stop him, there was a high chance that the enemy would run away.

Yu Tian's method of attack was much gentler. He would silently kill his way from the first floor to the sixth floor, one room after another, quietly killing his way up.

This way, he would not allow the enemy to run away.

According to Brother Pig's request, the more he killed, the better.

The scene of the crime with corpses strewn all over the place would have enough impact.

In order to ensure that there was enough blood, Yu Tian also used a cold weapon this time, a short-handled axe shaped like a kitchen knife.

The Big Guy parked the car at the entrance of the apartment. Yu Tian got out of the car with the hatchet.

The apartment used the old-fashioned revolving door. Yu Tian pushed the door open and walked in.

After entering, there was still a hall. On one side of the hall was the service desk of the manager.

The manager was sitting at the service desk drinking, but he was not alone.

There were two other men drinking with him at the reception desk.

The three of them were stunned when they saw Yu Tian enter.

It was obvious that Yu Tian was a stranger to them.

It was impossible for outsiders to visit friends in this apartment, and there was no vacant apartment for rent.

It was enough to arouse their vigilance when strangers walked in.

Moreover, Yu Tian had an oriental face.

Although the three of them were drinking, they were not drunk. They immediately saw the axe in Yu Tian's hand.

Without any consideration, they reached out to touch the pistol on their waist.

Whether it was the apartment manager or the two men who were drinking with him, they all carried pistols with them.

For the operational personnel, pistols were just a basic configuration.

There were more heavy weapons in the room upstairs, but they were not convenient to carry around.

It was enough to have pistols with them..

Translator: 549690339

Unfortunately, these people were not ordinary people.

Yu Tian casually waved his hand, and Shang Yang sword slashed out like a machete, cutting the three men into six pieces.

The sword aura was not a bullet, and the effect was more bloody than a bullet.

Yu Tian was very satisfied with the effect of the sword aura.

Next, he began to walk towards the corridor with an axe in his hand.

There were rooms on the first floor of this apartment. Yu Tian 's killing spree started from the rooms on the first floor.

When he reached the first room in the corridor, Yu Tian reached out and touched the door lock.

The door lock was locked from the inside. This was not an accident.

The door lock was not an obstacle to him. He only needed to use a little inner strength to directly cut open the door lock.

Then, he had to use his internal energy sparingly.

He gently pushed open the door without the door lock and saw a few men sitting in the living room, watching TV in boredom.

Seeing Yu Tian come in, these men were a little confused.

There was no unusual movement in the hall outside. They did not expect the enemy to come in.

By the time they realized that something was wrong, it was already too late.

Yu Tian waved his hand and threw out a flying needle.

All the men in the living room were killed on the spot.

This proved that Yu Tian's flying needle skills were getting better and better, and he could attack more and more targets at the same time.

Yu Tian listened for a while at the door. Other than the television, there was no other sound in the room.

There was no sound of anyone's heartbeat or breathing, including the two bedrooms next to them.

Yu Tian was too lazy to verify it with his own eyes. He walked directly to the men and pulled out his flying needles.

Then, he raised his axe and chopped at the corpses.

There was nothing he could do. Although he did not have any interest in flogging corpses, according to Brother Pig Liang's request, the bloodier the murder scene, the better.

Even though the flying needles were also very shocking, the visual impact wasn't very good, and it wasn't easy to create fear.

After chopping up the corpse, Yu Tian's body was already covered in blood. He didn't have time to tidy up his appearance, so he continued to move on to the next room.

The second room was slightly more troublesome because the people inside were sleeping in different rooms.

There were seven people sleeping in one living room and two bedrooms. Yu Tian relied on his speed advantage and chopped at each of them with an axe.

This axe directly chopped at their necks, killing them instantly.

There was no need to make a last cut. Once Yu Tian chopped down with his axe, the heads of these people were basically chopped off. It was already cruel and bloody enough.

He wiped the blood stains slightly and then continued to the next room.

The operation went smoothly.

Perhaps because the apartment building was next to the police station, the operation staff in this temporary base were not on guard.

Yu Tian had estimated that there should be a monitoring room upstairs to monitor the movements in the hall on the first floor.

Then, after he started the operation, he would soon be discovered by the enemies in the monitoring room.

However, when he finally found the monitoring room after killing his way to the top floor, he realized that there were no on-duty personnel inside.

These low-level operational personnel finally paid the price for their arrogance and negligence. Not a single person in the entire building escaped.

Before he left, Yu Tian conveniently destroyed the monitoring room and left a spark in it.

A spark could start a prairie fire. In a few minutes, the fire in the monitoring room would attract the attention of the police station on the other side. But by then, everything in the monitoring room would have been burned.

At most, the police could only preserve a bloody murder scene.

Yu Tian swaggered back to the car and completed his task successfully.

The Big Guy stepped on the gas and the two quickly left the scene.

Yu Tian did not waste any more time. He quickly returned to the safe house and prepared to interrogate Congressman Leon.

When he thought of the interrogation, Yu Tian could not help but think of Kobe.

Kobe had previously been ambushed and fled the villa in a hurry. He had temporarily lost contact with Yu Tian.

However, Yu Tian did not have to worry about losing Kobe. It was not easy for a living person who was in his twenties to get lost.

The mouse team had already left a message on the internet for Kobe. As long as he could find a computer to surf the internet or get a smartphone, he would be able to quickly contact them.

For now, Yu Tian had to rely on himself to interrogate Councilman Leon.

He had the big guy throw councilman Leon to the second floor. Then, he sincerely invited Piggy Liang, "Are you interested in interrogating that Leon with me?"

"Not interested."

Piggy Liang refused without thinking.

Yu Tian asked curiously, "Why? Don't you think you can get more information from Leon? It's much more efficient than you going through the huge amount of information."

Piggy Liang said indifferently, "It's more efficient for me to go through the information because that's what I do. As for the interrogation... I don't think there's anything valuable from this kind of population."

Yu Tian shrugged and said, "How would you know if you don't try?"

"Then I wish you success... This kind of people should have been trained to extort confessions. The effect of torture may not be great, and it will also create screams and other noises that will affect the surrounding neighbors. You have to pay attention to this point."

"I'll pay attention."

Of course, Yu Tian knew that the extortion of confessions by torture could cause a lot of noise. When people screamed, their voices were especially loud. This kind of residential house was not suitable for interrogation, because there was not even a basement here.

However, Yu Tian naturally had a solution.

After he went to the interrogation room on the second floor, he first injected a few needles into councilman Leon.

This operation created an obstacle for Councilman Leon, which was equivalent to turning down the volume of the television.

Then, he woke councilman Leon up and allowed him to not carry out a formal interrogation.

Perhaps due to his age, Councilman Leon was a little slow and difficult to wake up.

After opening his eyes for a while, councilman Leon gradually regained his consciousness.

Looking at his surroundings, councilman Leon realized his situation.

He said slowly, "Where am i...

Yu Tian ignored his nonsense.

Councilman Leon found that there seemed to be something wrong with his throat. He coughed twice, but found that the discomfort in his throat did not ease.

So he continued to ask, "What's wrong with my throat?"

"You have so many questions.

Yu Tian sneered. "Do I need to remind you of your current situation? "You have become my captive and are now in my interrogation room. "As for your throat, I will temporarily turn it down to prevent you from disturbing my brothers'rest when you scream later...."

Councilman Leon fell silent and began to think about how to face the current situation.

Yu Tian snorted again, "Don 't let your imagination run wild. You have no chance to escape. I have dozens of brothers here. Any one of them can easily crush you to death... "

"Also, don't expect anyone to save you.

('I can generously tell you what we're going to do tonight...

"Your temporary stronghold is the apartment next to the police headquarters. I've already gone there."

"You'll understand if you look at the blood stains on my body... that apartment has six floors and a total of 28 rooms. The remaining 70 to 80 low-level operational personnel were all killed by me, including the surveillance room at the innermost part of the sixth floor..."

"By the way, the location of your temporary stronghold is really good. It's right next to the police station. I can 't even use my gun. I can only use an axe to chop them one by one. Even the axe has curled its mouth...

"Also, your accomplices have all died in the club. You saw it with your own eyes. They were all turned into minced meat. They couldn't be more dead..."

"Don't expect your subordinates from the government to save you. Pll show you a list. Almost all the people on it will die tonight..."

"Oh, I forgot to tell you. The person who gave us this list is resting in the next room.

“You must be familiar with him. He’s mayor Edward. ”

“He’s familiar with you too, including your closest subordinates and your favorite secretary...”

“Your Clone Society’s influence in dusk city is finished. Perhaps there are some omissions, or perhaps you have hidden some people. “But that has nothing to do with the overall situation. No one can save you. Even if you run away from here, it won’t change the general situation...”

Yu Tian calmly attacked Congressman Leon’s psychological defense line, but he found that Congressman Leon’s expression did not change much.

It was unknown whether this kid was pretending to be calm, or he was really indifferent to life and death.

Therefore, Yu Tian stopped the foreshadowing of wasting time and directly entered the overall situation.

“Alright, Congressman Leon, if you don’t want to suffer now, then tell me about your matters properly. ”

Congressman Leon raised his eyelids indifferently. “What do you want to know?”

Yu Tian said, “Of course, everything related to the Kronin Society.”

Councilman Leon shook his head gently. “Do you think I will tell you these things?”

(‘You really don’t have the self-awareness of being a captive...’Yu Tian sighed. “I forgot to tell you that I am also a doctor, a doctor who is called a godly doctor! ”

“so What?”

“I have countless ways to make you feel extreme pain, and then you can’t Live or Die... do you understand the meaning of this sentence?”

Yu Tian slowly took out a few silver needles and said indifferently, “It’s okay if you don’t understand. I can let you experience it personally now.

Councilman Leon narrowed his eyes and glanced at the silver needles in Yu Tian’s hand, then said indifferently, “So, you’re very good at interrogating and extorting confessions?”

“No, I’m good at inflicting pain on humans. As for whether you want to confess or not, that’s your own business...”

Yu Tian decided to cut the crap and gave councilman Leon a needle.

Councilman Leon did not see where Yu Tian's needle had pierced his body, but he soon began to feel an itch all over his body.

This itch was no different from the usual itch, but the degree of the itch was within Yu Tian's control.

At the beginning, the itch was not particularly uncomfortable. It was the kind of itch that could be endured without being scratched.

Yu Tian wanted councilman Leon to experience this process step by step.

The methods of torture were usually gradual, from light to heavy, and not severe at the beginning.

Because after experiencing extreme pain, the human body's senses would become numb, and the ability to withstand torture would become stronger.

This was also a form of self-protection of the body.

At that time, mild methods of torture would not work.

Severe methods might still have some effect, but if they were used continuously, it might lead to the death of the victim.

In addition, some people with professional training also have methods to deal with torture.

If the pain is severe, they will easily pass out.

For a person who has passed out, there is no point in torture, and there is no possibility of interrogation.

The interrogator can only wake the person up and continue the torture.

But the professionals will quickly pass out again, making these methods completely meaningless.

Therefore, those torture instruments and methods that purely created physical pain could only be used against some ordinary people.

The confrontation between real professionals was not as simple as whipping a few times, putting on a piece of iron, or sticking a few toothpicks into one's fingers.

This was a university knowledge, involving all kinds of physical and mental confrontation methods.

Yu Tian admired the police's tired and bombarded interrogation method. They would point a headlight at the suspect from morning to night and not let the suspect sleep.

Then they would have people work 24 hours a day, asking the suspect repeated questions until the suspect had a mental breakdown.

Yu Tian felt that this method was very civilized and effective.

The only drawback was that it was too time-consuming and was not suitable for him to use now.

He was now going to use his acupuncture technique to create a unique torture experience for councilman Leon, which was a set meal that could not be experienced outside.

The itchiness was more unbearable than the pain. Although councilman Leon did not say anything, his body began to twist involuntarily.

Yu Tian did not speak or ask any questions. He wanted to wait for councilman Leon to be unable to bear it and speak on his own.

The itch came and went, and its position was not fixed.

Congressman Leon was tickled for a while, and then there would be a period of relief, which would make the itch even more unbearable for him.

After enduring for a few minutes, Congressman Leon finally spoke.

"Your methods are indeed a bit special... I'm very curious, where did you, the remnants of the East Dragon Company, get such courage to create so many bloody cases in Twilight City? "Aren't you afraid of being targeted by the wind country's security department for wantonly killing the officials of Twilight City? "Do you want to make an enemy of the entire wind country?"

"You don't have to worry about these questions. In fact, I don't care about these questions either. My actions are only a small part of all the plans. Other things will naturally be done by others..."

Yu Tian suddenly realized that this councilman Leon was quite good at chatting.

He had chatted so much nonsense with councilman Leon, but councilman Leon did not seriously answer his questions. Instead, he asked him a question instead..

Yu Tian suddenly laughed.

“Councilman Leon, it seems that you still don’t understand your identity... you should answer my questions and not keep asking me questions. Otherwise, I will lose my patience.”

“I know my identity. Isn’t I captured by you? But this doesn’t mean anything. A captive doesn’t necessarily have to confess anything.

“That’s right. Then let’s see how long you can hold out.

Yu Tian injected another needle into congressman Leon and said slowly, “Actually, I’m interrogating you here outside of the plan. I didn’t plan to get any information from you in the original plan... “Then why did you torture me?” “I just wanted to see what kind of unexpected gains.”

“Then you might be disappointed.

Yu Tian shrugged. “It doesn’t matter. Our plan was to kill all of you and all of your men in Twilight City.”

Councilman Leon said calmly, “It’s a very bold plan... but the consequences of such an unscrupulous massacre are definitely not something you can bear.

Yu Tian smiled and said, (‘You don’t have to worry about that... I don’t even have to worry about these things.

Councilman Leon resisted the itch, he continued, “Your actions will make you the Public Enemy of the world. These remnants of your East Dragon Company will never have a chance to make a comeback. You will become rats crossing the street and can only hide in those dark corners in the future...

“You are really a warm-hearted person. You like to worry about other people’s business...”

Yu Tian pulled out a chair and sat down in front of Congressman Leon.

He felt that this congressman Leon must have received some kind of special training, so his endurance was much stronger than ordinary people.

However, judging from Congressman Leon’s age and physical condition, it did not seem like he could receive professional training.

Unless it was injected directly with some kind of drug, just like how Kronin would transform those genetic warriors, it did not require hard training to allow ordinary people to obtain powerful abilities.

If this was the case, the effect of torture would be greatly reduced.

Congressman Leon did not open his mouth to beg for mercy, as if this level of itching was still within his tolerance range.

Yu Tian did not torture councilman Leon anymore. Since councilman Leon liked to talk nonsense, he decided to accompany Councilman Leon to have a good chat. Perhaps there would be some gains.

Therefore, he said casually, "I don't care about what you said. So what if I become the Public Enemy of the world? "It's just a dusk city now. We will continue to attack the Kronin Society in the future. "Next, there will be a second dusk city and a third dusk city. "We will destroy all the forces of the Kronen Society. No matter which city you are hiding in, no matter how many important officials there are... "

"What good will it do you?"

"What good will it do you? This is revenge. The donglong company will not let go of any enemy, including those traitors.

"I'm asking about your benefits, not the East Dragon Corporation's.". "The East Dragon Corporation is finished. What else can the rest of you do besides revenge?"? "What benefits can you and your subordinates get from these revenge operations?"

"My benefits..."

Yu Tian was amused. He pretended to think for a moment and then said, I can get more funding, get a higher position in the organization, have power, power, and money..."

Councilman Leon smiled. "Your pursuit is really simple."

Yu Tian said disdainfully, "Everyone in this world is pursuing these things, money and power... are you not doing things for the Kroni Society for Profit?"

Councilman Leon chuckled. "Of course there are profits, but that's not the point. "If it's just for money and power, I have many ways to achieve my goal, and I can live peacefully. I don't need to join the Kroni Society to bear these risks."

Yu Tian was suddenly curious. "Are you still doing it for some lofty ideal?"

Councilman Leon said proudly, "Of course. This is the difference between me and you martial artists. You are only doing it to earn a few small money, while we have a more ambitious goal."

"Tell me, what kind of ambitious goal do you have?"

"I can't tell you about the current situation unless..."

"Unless what?"

"Unless you are willing to surrender to me, serve me in the future, serve our clone society..."

At this point, Councilman Leon actually started to persuade Yu Tian to surrender.

This made Yu Tian admire him. This councilman Leon was really good at chatting.

After interrogating him for a long time, he didn't manage to get any useful information out of him. Instead, he secretly changed the entire topic.

Yu Tian thought back to the time when Zhu Geliang had no interest in interrogating councilman Leon. He couldn't help but feel a little puzzled.

Could it be that Zhu Geliang already knew about councilman Leon's situation? Or had he already known about the situation of the Kronin Society?

Yu Tian could not help but want to go downstairs and ask Zhu Geliang how he knew that his interrogation would not yield any results.

However, Yu Tian now had a new idea. If he continued to chat with councilman Leon on this topic, he could actually consider surrendering.

Of course, the boss would not surrender.

However, Councilman Leon was not only the behind-the-scenes boss of the East Dragon Company, because the boss could not personally take part in the front-line fighting operations.

In addition, there were many easterners in the East Dragon Company. They all said that the core and backbone of the East Dragon Company.

There was nothing special about Yu Tian's identity as an easterner.

However, Yu Tian certainly would not surrender and defect so easily. At least, he would not be changed by a few words from Congressman Leon.

That was too unreasonable.

Yu Tian could only laugh out loud. “Surrender to you? Are you kidding me? Let’s not talk about the fact that you are now in my hands. Even if we compete with the strength of the entire organization, our East Dragon Company is not something you can compete with... What benefits can you give me? I’m afraid that it can’t even be compared to a fraction of the East Dragon Company,

Councilman Leon chuckled. “Then, what benefits did you get from the East Dragon Company?”

Yu Tian began to boast proudly.

“Every year, I can get hundreds of millions of campaign funds. I can totally spend freely, support my own brothers, and cultivate my own forces...

“In addition, every time there is a mission that needs me to carry out, there is a large amount of special funds...

“For example, during this operation in Dusk City, I received 200 million.

HMPH, HMPH, HMPH...”

“Do you clone societies have such good welfare benefits? Do you have such generous funds?”
