Mary's expression changed as well.

Mina really didn't need to care about Mary's life or death. Even after Mary died, Mina could become the leader of the red dragonfly even more smoothly.

Using eliminating the spies as an excuse to kill Mary and Dominic together was the most suitable.

Dominic couldn't help but take a step back in fear. The hostage in his hand seemed to have lost its effect all of a sudden.

Yu Tian laughed, then took another step forward and said to Dominic, "Do you want me to give you a chance?"

"What Chance? "Dominic was full of expectation.

Yu Tian said calmly, "Well, I can give you a chance to stab Lady Mary First... because you will die later. After you die, you will never have a chance to stab Lady Mary again.

Dominic was dumbfounded, and the leaders beside him were also dumbfounded.

Mary's eyes were wide open, and she cursed, "You bastard... Mina, is this what you mean?"

Mina knew that Yu Tian was joking, so she smiled and said, "Yu... Mr. Invincible of the east means what I mean."

Mary became even angrier. She grabbed Dominic's arm that was holding her neck, and continued to curse, "Let go of me, you idiot. Do you think that you don't have to die if you hold me?"

"Don't move, you B * Tch, you..."

Dominic held Mary tightly while trying to push the small fruit knife into Mary's neck.

However, he was horrified to find that his knife-wielding arm could not move.

“Do your best.

Yu Tian was still smiling and encouraged him, “Try your best to raise the knife and stab it into Miss Mary’s neck. This is your last chance.

Dominic looked terrified. Beads of sweat immediately appeared on his forehead.

He tried to move his arm as he muttered, “What’s going on? What’s going on? What did you do to me...”

Yu Tian smiled and said, “I’m just cheering for you... Don’t act like you haven’t eaten yet. Try Harder. Don’t disappoint me.

“What on Earth did you do, You Devil...

Dominic was about to cry because he realized that he couldn’t move his legs.

If he couldn’t move his legs, then he definitely couldn’t run. Even if everyone gave way to him, he wouldn’t be able to run.

Dominic knew that this was definitely Yu Tian ‘s doing, but he didn’t know what the hell was going on. He was a little desperate now.

Mary and the other leaders beside him also began to feel that something was wrong.

Dominic’s body seemed to have become very stiff. He maintained a motionless posture and looked very uncomfortable.

“It seems that you still haven’t worked hard enough...”

Yu Tian sighed. “Actually, if you stimulate a little potential, you can still break through this kind of control. Unfortunately, it seems that you don ‘t have any potential anymore. You Can’t even use your full strength...”

At this point, Yu Tian no longer had any interest in torturing Dominic.

After all, they were just ordinary people. Not a single one of them could fight.

He strode close to Dominic and Mary and took Dominic’s stiff arm off Mary’s neck.

Just like that, Mary inexplicably gained her freedom and stood aside in a daze.

“Look, I said I would kill you today.”

Yu Tian patted Dominic's well-defined face. "Remember, the one who killed you is an oriental man. You can continue to challenge the Oriental Man in your next life and try all kinds of magical methods of US Oriental men..."

After a pause, Yu Tian patted his head again. "Oh, right, I forgot that you westerners don't have a next life. You can only go to Heaven or hell. Then, you must go to Hell... have you thought about how to go on the Road?"

Dominic did not say anything. He was speechless because of excessive fear.

The fear of dying was not something that ordinary people could bear.

Yu Tian could understand Dominic's current feelings, and he did not blame him for not saying anything.

"It seems that I have to help you choose the way to die... Yu Tian thought for a moment. "Then, I'll let you die a more heroic death. "

Dominic was so scared that he peed his pants.

However, Yu Tian did not step back because he disliked the smell of urine on his body. Instead, it was because he was about to have his flesh and blood splattered all over his body. It was easy for him to get his clothes dirty.

Mina also immediately took a few steps back. She knew what Yu Tian was going to do.

The smarter leaders also quietly took a few steps back. Only Mary was still standing foolishly not far away from Dominic.

Yu Tian extended his right index finger and calmly displayed it in front of everyone.

Then, a sword aura shot out.

Yu Tian was very willful as he drew a few small circles with his finger.

The sword aura also followed his finger and drew a few small circles. Dominic did not even have the time to scream before he was immediately cut into pieces.

Before these pieces of meat could land on the ground, they were stirred into a ball by the sword aura. Immediately, blood and flesh flew everywhere.

Mary, who was standing not far away, was covered in blood. After being stunned for a moment, she immediately stepped back and cursed, "F * Ck..."

The leaders standing in the distance were dumbfounded. They could not understand what Yu Tian had done.

Someone wiped the cold sweat off his forehead and sighed in his heart. It was too bloody, too brutal, too uncivilized... were the easterners always this brutal?

Westerners had always liked to flaunt their own civilization and accuse other civilizations of being barbaric.

But now, in front of Yu Tian, they didn't dare to make a sound.

Yu Tian's six meridians divine sword was very intimidating, and the onlookers felt their hair stand on end.

Imagine if such a method fell on their heads, it would make people shudder.

Death was only one aspect. Not everyone could accept the death of a thousand pieces.

Everyone looked at Yu Tian with respect.

Dominic's body quickly turned into a pile of minced meat, emitting an indescribable stench.

Fortunately, the ventilation system in this large living room was not bad. As long as they were a little further away, the stench would not be so obvious.

After Yu Tian killed Dominic, he did not ask Mina to arrange for people to clean up the corpse. Instead, he walked straight to the conference table and sat down, he patted the table and said, "What are you all standing there for? Let's continue with the meeting! Do you really intend to hold this meeting until tomorrow?"

"Oh, right, the meeting, the meeting..."

The leaders seemed to have woken up from a dream. One by one, they came back to their senses and returned to the conference table.

Mary hesitated for a moment, then slowly walked to the conference table and sat down..

Chapter 1252: Chapter 1,251, strong support

Translator: 549690339

This time, Mary did not sit at the head of the table. The meaning was self-evident.

She had given up on competing with Mina.

The reason was not only because Yu Tian had just saved her, but also because Yu Tian had displayed his powerful personal force.

The most important reason was that she had doubts about her previous judgment.

Because her previous judgment and plan had been influenced by Dominic, the spy, it was very likely that she had been misled.

According to Dominic, the gang organization in the mini-bull market had formed a generally recognized and stable underground order for many years.

The sphere of influence of all the large gangs had been fixed. No one could easily expand, and no one was allowed to expand.

Therefore, the hell of ice city could not openly invade the red dragonfly's territory.

At least, they could not personally go down and show their fangs to this small gang.

At most, they could only secretly support big wave and give some financial assistance.

Therefore, the enemy that the red dragonfly actually had to deal with was just a big wave that was richer than before.

This was Dominic's analysis, and Mary felt that there was no problem.

This situation and environment made Mary feel that the red dragonfly had a complete chance of defeating its opponent.

As long as she could love to quickly destroy the big wave, all the crises could be easily solved, and the ice city hell would have no choice but to withdraw its claws.

Therefore, Mary advocated an immediate war to nip all the crises in the bud. She had always thought that her idea was not wrong, but the premise was that the enemy only had big waves.

But now, looking at Yu Tian's analysis, she found that things were not that simple.

The plan of Ice City Hell was indeed not that simple. The purpose of all these things could not be just for a small red dragonfly.

Mary suddenly had a feeling that a storm was coming.

The red dragonfly was not only facing a crisis, but a person... crisis!

If she was not careful, the red dragonfly would die together with the small gangs in these streets.

Mary did not clamor to start a war against the big waves. Her mind was a little confused. She could only obediently sit beside the conference table and wait for Yu Tian to continue analyzing the situation for everyone.

Yu Tian waited until everyone was seated, only then did he slowly say, "The Ice City Hell's plot is not small. I believe that everyone can easily understand this. As for what exactly they will do, I don't know, nor do I need to know. Because now, we have already made a perfect response plan, and... I have already found powerful assistance for Mina! "

"Powerful assistance?"

All the leaders were suddenly curious, and they were nervously waiting for Yu Tian's next words.

Mary asked generously, "What kind of powerful assistance? Do you still want to keep it a secret? Is it convenient for you to say it out loud?"

Yu Tian glanced at the people on the conference table and said indifferently, "Of course this kind of thing needs to be kept secret, but... your red dragonfly's high-ranking leaders can still know some of it."

After a slight pause, Yu Tian said, "Assistants, please leave the conference room.

Most of these leaders did not bring their assistants, but there were a few who brought their assistants.

For example, Mina, Mary, and a few older leaders.

Mary hesitated for a moment. "My assistant can be trusted. I have a lot of work that I need her to help with..."

"Dominic is also worthy of your trust before today.

Yu Tian rudely interrupted Mary's words, he said seriously, "This is not just a matter of trust. All confidential information in the meeting needs to be kept confidential. The fewer people who know, the better. As an assistant, there are some things that are not necessary to know, so not knowing these secrets is also a form of protection for themselves.

"Alright.

Mary could not find a reason to refute, so she could only wave her assistant away.

Soon, only a group of leaders were left in the large living room.

This time, the atmosphere of the meeting suddenly became much more serious.

Yu Tian glanced at the leaders at the conference table again and slowly said, "The leaders here should be the elders of the red dragonfly, right?"

Mina replied, "Yes, they are all elders from my father's era. They have been serving the red dragonfly for at least ten years.

Yu Tian nodded slightly. "That is to say, everyone here can be trusted... " These leaders had helpless and bitter smiles on their faces.

They all felt that they could be trusted, and they also felt that their old friends would not betray the red dragonfly.

If there were traitors among such elders, it meant that the red dragonfly really had no future.

Either there was a problem with the system, or there was a problem with the quality of the members.

In that case, Yu Tian might as well support Mina to start from scratch.

After confirming the identity of the people in the large living room, Yu Tian slowly opened his mouth and said, "Alright, the following matters will be considered relatively confidential... I've found a very strong support for your red dragonfly. You should all know about blue underpants, right?"

"Blue Underpants?"

All the leaders were shocked. "You're saying that blue underpants will interfere in our matters? And will support us?"

Yu Tian said indifferently, "More or less. Blue underpants isn't supporting you, it's fully supporting and assisting you.

All the leaders looked at each other. Someone asked in disbelief, "This... Mr. Dongfang Bubai, you're not joking, right?"

Yu Tian said helplessly, "How bored do you think I am to come here and joke with you?"

"But... This kind of thing is too unreasonable. Why would blue underpants support us?"

The leaders still could not understand-

Mina spoke at this time, "You don't need to doubt Mr. Dongfang Bubai's words. I have already confirmed these things. "Furthermore, I've personally spoken with the leaders of blue underpants this afternoon and confirmed the plans for future cooperation..."

"Whoa..."

The leaders were in an uproar. Since Mina had said that she had personally met with the leaders of blue underpants, then this matter would definitely not be fake.

"So you went out this afternoon to be busy with these things?"

Mary was also in disbelief. She realized that she seemed to have misunderstood Mina.

Mina seemed to have left the venue irresponsibly, leaving the red dragonfly and the family matters behind. However, she had quietly reached an agreement with blue underpants.

This was definitely a crucial move for the red dragonfly, a move that would determine its life and death.

Mary's attitude immediately turned to respect for Mina and Yu Tianbian.

The fact that they were able to form a partnership with blue underpants was proof enough of Yu Tianbian and Mina's abilities..

Yu Tian gently knocked on the table, bringing everyone back to their senses, then, he said, "With blue underpants backing you up, Red Dragonfly doesn't have to worry about survival in the future. "Even if you lose this war, Blue Underpants will still allow you to maintain your most basic territory..."

Mary was a little confused. "War? You mean... even if we have blue underpants backing us, we still have to face war?"

Yu Tian said, "Yes, you have to face your own war, unless you want to live under the protection of Blue Underpants forever, or become a affiliated gang of Blue Underpants... of course, that might make your lives more stable, but it definitely won't be as comfortable as it is now, and there won't be any development..."

One of the leaders immediately said, "Of course we can't live in such a sullen state. Waiting to die isn't our red dragonfly's style. With the support of Blue Underpants, we'll definitely be able to have a good fight with ice city hell! "

The other leader also echoed, "That's right, our red dragonfly isn't weak. Everything we have now is the result of our own fighting!"

Yu Tian chuckled, "Since you all have this awareness, it's easy to handle. We have already made a plan for the war. This war will not only allow you to protect your own territory and business, but it will also allow you to become even stronger in the future..."

The leaders' eyes immediately lit up.

In fact, the lives of the high-ranking officials of red dragonfly were not as comfortable as outsiders thought.

Just as Mina had said, everyone was just trying to make a living.

Of course, as small self-employed people, the lives of these gang leaders were still more comfortable than ordinary people, but the comfort was limited.

Their standard of living was probably equivalent to some small bosses in the eastern countries. They had houses and cars, and they did not have to worry about food and drink.

However, it was definitely impossible for them to live a luxurious life, spend money like water, and spend money like water.

Even their wives couldn't be like those rich women who dressed like jewels and played cards and bought famous brands all day long.

This made the wives complain a lot.

Their living conditions were still far from that of the rich.

Therefore, these guys all wanted to earn more.

This was human nature. No one didn't want to earn more money and live a better life.

Even if the leaders wanted to live a life where they would spend a lot of money for their lovers, that was still their pursuit.

Yu Tian felt that this kind of pursuit should be encouraged. Greed would always be the driving force of human progress. Only those who had aspirations would work harder.

"You will live a better life in the future, just like those big shots in blue underpants... Red Dragonfly will develop into a large-scale gang like Blue Underpants."

Yu Tian drew a big picture for everyone.

The leaders immediately felt a little excited. "This kind of thing... is it possible? Will we become a big gang like Blue Underpants?"

Yu Tian smiled but did not say anything.

Mina interrupted at the right time, "There's nothing impossible. Blue underpants originally developed to its current level with the support of Mr. Undefeatable East. Now that Mr. Undefeated of the east has decided to support us, we can naturally develop to the level of blue underpants.

The leaders were immediately dumbfounded.

Mary could not help but ask, "Mina, is what you said true? Blue underpants was such a big gang, but it actually developed under the support of Mr. Undefeated of the East? Why do I feel that... This kind of statement is too ridiculous and unreal..."

Mina sneered, "What's unreal about it? Don't you remember what Blue Underpants used to look like? "They used to be a bunch of street hooligans. It was only in recent years that they rose to power and swallowed the territory of the previous Mordor family..."

"Yes, that's right. The rise of Blue Underpants was indeed very sudden! "

A leader slapped the table and said excitedly, "I was wondering how they could develop so fiercely. It turns out that they have a big financial backer backing them up!

Another leader frowned and said, "Blue underpants has risen so quickly. Pm afraid that just having money is not enough... Mr. Dongfang should have provided them with other support, right?"

A leader agreed, "There must be other support at least official support.

("Legal support is also necessary. The legal team of Blue Underpants is also very famous. Ordinary gangs have no way to get such a high-level law firm to provide services for gangs. "

"They also have a source of high-quality weapons. When they wage war, their firepower is really fierce..."

"I feel that their combat team is not quite the same as other gangs. Those people feel like mercenaries on the battlefield. Their combat strength is really too strong!

"Could these be the support of Mr. Undefeatable Dongfang?"

The leaders' faces were full of anticipation and doubt. They all looked at Yu Tian.

Yu Tian smiled lightly. "I won't tell you the specific details because I'm not too sure either. However, the support that Blue Underpants received, all of you will receive..."

The leaders were suddenly indescribably excited.

Mina calmly added, "Mr. Dongfang undefeatable is a person who does big business. Blue underpants is just an insignificant small business among all his investments. Mr. Dongfang undefeatable doesn't have much interest in running a gang, nor does he pay much attention to it. "Therefore, I will be the one to discuss the details with the people from blue underpants. Mr. Dongfang undefeatable will not be too involved..."

One of the leaders immediately said, "We naturally do not dare to disturb Mr. Dongfang with such a small gang matter. "As long as we have the support of those resources, we will definitely work hard to develop. Very soon, we will be able to develop to the level of blue underpants.

Yu Tian chuckled twice and then looked at these leaders with interest.

The leaders were completely attracted by the beautiful future that Yu Tian and Mina had described. The entire living room felt a little high in morale.

This included Mary, who was not on good terms with Mina, and Fernan, who was just a bystander.

Yu Tian coughed twice again, he said, "However, there is a prerequisite for all this support. That is, the red dragonfly must be under Mina's leadership, and Mina must have absolute control over it. "Because this is my gift to Mina, not for you red dragonflies

"I support Mina to become our leader, and I am willing to follow Mina's lead in the future!

"Me Too! I am willing to offer my loyalty to His Majesty Mina!

"I am honored to join Miss Mina's side, I am willing to go through fire and water for Miss Mina and red dragonflies!

"From now on, Mina is my boss, I will kill anyone who disagrees!

Chapter 1254: Chapter 1,253

The leaders of the red dragonfly quickly expressed their loyalty to Mina, including those who had supported Mary and those who were neutral under countan.

All of them swore their loyalty to Mina, as if the westerners were used to this process.

In the end, only Mary and Fernan remained silent.

Everyone's eyes were fixed on the two of them.

Fernan felt a little uncomfortable being stared at by everyone, he could only helplessly shrug his shoulders and say, "I have no objections. You guys decide who the boss is. In short... I am a member of the Madan family, and also a member of the red dragonfly. As long as you choose a leader, I will definitely obey the leader's orders.

This statement was within the expectations of the leaders. Fernan had always been a buddha-like character who was aloof from worldly affairs.

Everyone turned to look at Mary.

Mary sighed. "Since Mina can make the red dragonfly stronger, I'll naturally support Mina as well... After all, we're all members of the Madan family."

Yu Tian said indifferently, "Whether it's a family or not isn't important. Whether it's a red dragonfly or not isn't important either. (I hope that all of you understand that everything in the future is a gift that I have given to Mina. It has nothing to do with the Madan family or the red dragonfly. "If all of you can properly assist Mina in her work, you will naturally receive your share of the reward in the future. I might even hand over the entire red dragonfly to all of you..."

Mary was slightly taken aback.

Yu Tian continued, "However, if you want to use the name of your family and the red dragonfly to kidnap Mina, or take away her power, then I can guarantee that the red dragonfly will have nothing left. It will become even worse than the most trashy small gang.

Everyone's enthusiasm immediately cooled down.

Yu Tian's attitude was very serious, and his tone was very confident. No one suspected that he was joking.

After a long while, a leader said, "No one can take away Mina's rights. The leader of our red dragonfly is a lifelong leader.

"Yes, we will abide by our duties and be loyal to our leader... This is the red dragonfly's rules and tradition."

"We have already sworn. Mina is already our boss. We are very clear about our position and will definitely not act rashly."

The leaders expressed their stance one after another, Mary also said seriously, "Yes, since we have already decided on a leader, we will not have any other thoughts. Mina is a member of the family, but she is also the leader of the family now. The family members will not kidnap her, they will only obey her orders..."

"That's good. It's best that you are clear about your position."

Yu Tian stood up from the conference table. "Let's call it a day for today's meeting. Mina will make arrangements for the rest of the work..."

Speaking up to this point, Yu Tian looked back at Mina and asked, "Mina, do you plan to start tomorrow, or..."

Mina also stood up. "There's no time to lose. Some work can start now... Everyone, please submit the family names of your core members to me tonight."

"Family names?"

The leaders were a little puzzled.

Mina said, "That's right. The family members of all the core members must leave the mini bull market as soon as possible. I will draw funds for everyone according to the name list to use for the family members 'relocation and living expenses."

"Are these family members going to move to other places?"

"It's not considered moving. They're just temporarily leaving. The war was about to begin. The Flames of war might affect everyone's family members. The mini-bull market could not guarantee absolute safety, so everyone's family members had to leave the mini-bull market as soon as possible and hide outside..."

"With so many family members, the cost of settling them down is quite a lot."

"Just think of it as letting everyone travel for a month. It's not much money... Blue Underpants has already transferred a large amount of operational funds to my account. There's no need for everyone to worry about the cost."

The leaders immediately heaved a sigh of relief and beamed. "That's good... then let their families travel for a while."

Red Dragonfly's funds were not abundant, but with blue underpants' true gold and silver support, everyone immediately felt at ease.

Fernan smiled and said from the side, "With a big gang backing you... This feeling is really great. You Don't lack money for anything you want to do... can I go out and travel for a while?"

Mina glared at him. "You can't. You're a man of the Madan clan, and you'll inherit the bloodline of the Madan clan in the future. So you have to start learning to fight and grow up as fast as possible so that you can take on the big responsibility in the future..."

Fernan said helplessly, "I don't want to take on any big responsibility... I thought the Madan clan had already become history."

Mina said indifferently, "I won't let the Madan family become history. I will only make the Madan family stronger. "I will marry someone in the future. According to our Easterners' rules, I may become a member of my husband's family... but I will keep the red dragonfly as the support of the Madan family." Fernan was stunned.

Mary said with a complicated expression, "If you get married, are you going to give the red dragonfly to the Madan family like this?"

Mina said calmly, "I'm not giving the red dragonfly to the Madan family. In the future, the red dragonfly will be the property of Mr. Dongfang Bubai. The Madan family can only get some dividends and be responsible for the management of the red dragonfly... This is enough to let the Madan family have a higher status and develop even stronger."

Mary sighed, "I understand... I've already seen the rise of the Madan family. Thank you very much... Mr. Dongfang Bubai's support for the red dragonfly."

Just with blue underpants as a backer, red dragonfly would definitely have a place in the mini-bull market in the future.

Even if they lost the war, they would still be able to survive under the protection of Blue Underpants.

Mary was already very satisfied with this situation where there were no worries.

Of course, what they needed to consider now was how to win the war and how to develop and grow.

Since blue underpants could develop to such an extent with the support of the invincible east, the red dragonfly naturally had a great chance to develop.

The leaders of the red dragonfly were all full of confidence.

Mary pondered for a moment and said, "I'll get my assistant to prepare the list and information for you later. Do you have any other instructions?"

Mina said, "Not for the time being. Everyone, make arrangements for the family members first. With no worries, we will be able to fight better. I will temporarily keep the specific action plan for the time being a secret. You just have to follow my arrangements... Do you understand?"

“Understood, Boss!”

The leaders immediately replied loudly, “We will immediately go and settle the family matters.. “

After the meeting, the leaders left in a hurry.

The organization structure of the red dragonfly was a bit like that of a feudal lord. Other than the leaders, there were a total of eleven leaders, including Mary and Fernan.

Each leader actually didn't have many core members. There were only a few of them.

The so-called core members were those who could really accompany the leader in fighting and killing.

This was similar to the street thugs that they usually met. There were dozens of them who were usually noisy.

However, if they really encountered a desperate situation, most of them would be the first to flee. It was already good enough to have a few people to share life and death with.

These few people were considered a small core group.

This was the red dragonfly's core combat strength.

Of course, there were also some who dared to fight for their lives. If they performed well and passed the test, they would be absorbed into the core group of the leaders.

However, the red dragonflies had been in a peaceful state all these years, waiting for death.

Hence, the number of core members did not increase, and the leaders did not recruit any new members.

Now that the gang war was about to start, it was a good opportunity for the outer circle members to rise to the top.

In some eastern movies, many punks used this opportunity to rise to the top, becoming the core members of the big shots.

In the plan that Mina and Barr had discussed, the peripheral members were also a force that could be used. As for how useful this force was, they would only know after the war started.

The work had temporarily come to an end. Mina now had to start preparing dinner for Yu Tian.

It was rare to see an eastern restaurant in wind country. Even if one found an eastern restaurant, the taste was basically not eastern.

Therefore, if Yu Tian wanted to eat oriental food, he could only let Mina cook at home. This was a big project.

Eating had always been a big deal for Easterners. Easterners spent a lot of time preparing three meals every day, which was several times, or even more than ten times, than Westerners.

Most of the time, Westerners would buy some frozen food from the supermarket. When they brought it home, they only needed to heat it up to eat it directly.

Or they could simply process it, such as putting butter or jam on the bread this was considered cooking.

If one could also put an egg, lunch meat, and vegetable leaf on the bread, and sprinkle it with some inexplicable spices, then he would be a true master chef.

This was a joke in the eyes of the Easterners.

According to the standards of Western cooking, there was at least one master chef in every Eastern family. and he was a god-level master chef in the eyes of the westerners.

Mina was such a god-level chef in the eyes of the westerners, even though the eastern dishes she cooked were just ordinary home-cooked dishes in Yu Tian's eyes.

"Don't underestimate my cooking skills..."

Mina was very satisfied with her cooking skills. At least the westerners around her were full of praise for her cooking skills, which also brought her great confidence.

As she busied herself, she told Yu Tian about her glorious achievements in cooking.

"A few years ago, my stepfather invited the leader of the gang to a meal at home. I used the leftover ingredients in the fridge to cook a pot of hodgepodge..."

“After the meal, those aunties from the gang came to me for the secret recipe. They even said that they wanted to treat this hodgepodge recipe as a secret of the red dragonfly.. ”

“But, I even forgot what I put in the mixed dish. In any case, I put whatever I have in it. As long as the dishes don’t clash in taste, I put it in and stewed it into a pot...”

“Alright, try my mixed dish. This is what they call Heaven’s Soup!”

The main dish that Mina prepared for Yu Tian was chaos stew. There was pork and beef in it. Perhaps it could be called pork stewed noodles, but there were no noodles in it.

Yu Tian did not know why the Westerners called this thing soup, or was it God’s heaven soup.

These westerners might have been looking up at the starry sky and eating too much.

Logically speaking, there was quite a lot of food in the windy nation, and the cooking was quite exquisite.

However, the taste of those things was passable. The main effort was spent on styling. A few vegetable leaves could be placed on the table for half an hour.

Therefore, the western cuisine, including table manners, was because there was nothing good to eat, so they could only work on styling and etiquette to enhance the grandeur of the dining ceremony.

A ham or a steak was usually picked up with bread and eaten directly. It was the kind of hamburger and hot dog in the poor people’s fast food.

However, when it was served to the rich, they had to use knives and forks to cut it into small pieces and eat it piece by piece. Even the bread could be cut into pieces.

In Yu Tian’s eyes, this was like adding a snake to a snake. He was full.

The eastern cuisine was naturally different. The production process was so complicated that the westerners could not remember what they had done.

The hodgepodge was considered a relatively simple dish.

Yu Tian tasted Mina’s hodgepodge and felt that the taste was passable. It didn’t have the sour and sweet taste of the westerners. It was just slightly salty.

“Uh, it might have been cooked for too long, so the soup is too dry... I’ll add some boiling water.

The god-level chef, Mina, was about to rework awkwardly, but she was stopped by Yu Tian. "There's no need to add boiling water. The soup is just enough to soak the rice... hurry up and stir-fry the other dishes.

The taste of the stir-fried dishes was just so-so. The main reason was the problem with the heat.

There was no open stove here. They used electric cookers, electric cookers, and induction cookers. The taste was naturally very different from the domestic ones.

However, Yu Tian finally had some oriental food. It was much more comfortable than the bread and hamburgers he had been eating these days.

The meal lasted for a few hours until evening.

After the meal was rest.

Mina's residence was very ordinary, and it did not have any special decorations like a normal girl's boudoir.

This was perhaps the reason why the gangsters did not feel safe in their own residence.

Yu Tian returned to his room, took a shower, and then called Brother Pig to ask for information about the mouse squad and the operation branches.

Unfortunately, there was no news about the mouse squad from the headquarters, nor could they find their location.

But there was another important matter. Even if the operation personnel who had been transferred from other places had already arrived at the mini bull market.

This time, there were more operations personnel who had been transferred over. Almost all the operation branches in wind country had been mobilized, with a total of about 200 to 300 people.

This was because the clone society had also mobilized a very powerful force in the mini-bull market.

They now had at least a hundred personnel, and it was possible that all of them were genetic warriors..

Chapter 1256: Chapter 1,255, the most important thing

This number could be confirmed with certainty.

The number of genetic warriors that had attacked Yu Tian at the seaside numbered 40 to 50.

The number of militants that had attacked the hotel also numbered in the dozens.

This was something that many witnesses near the hotel could confirm.

Furthermore, these militants were dressed in the same attire as the genetic warriors at the seaside. They were all fully armed and wore full sets of bulletproof equipment.

With this calculation, the clone society had at least prepared over 100 operational personnel in the Mini Bull market. Furthermore, all of them were probably genetic warriors.

This force could not be ignored. Their combat power was much stronger than that of ordinary humans.

The 200 to 300 operational personnel that Donglong company had transferred over might not be a match for these genetic warriors.

Therefore, Piggy Liang did not plan to go head-to-head with Kronin.

The operational personnel that had come to the mini bull city this time all had an open and aboveboard identity, and that was the wild fox secret service team of dusk city.

Originally, there was a wild fox secret service team in dusk city, but it had already been almost wiped out by the sheep mercenary group.

Hence, chief Luc established a new Wild Fox Secret Service team and openly recruited police personnel from the citizens.

Originally, no one would do such a fatal task, but chief Luc announced that the recruitment situation was very hot. Many people sent their resumes through the internet, and soon the quota was full.

Then, he announced that the Wild Fox Secret Service team had been formed, and the new police officers began to receive training.

Now, this Wild Fox Secret Service team, which was ('Receiving training, "had arrived at the mini bull market fully armed.

They naturally needed a reason to appear openly in the Maverick city.

This reason was very simple. The mouse team and the others also had the identity of the police. They were attacked by unknown armed men in the hotel. The Nogitsune Secret Service team was here for this matter.

Edward was already negotiating with the Maverick city officials on how the police of the two cities would cooperate to capture and fight against those terrorist and illegal armed men.

With a large amount of money to open the way, the bull market gave the green light to the Wild Fox Secret Service to participate in the Bull Market Hotel attack.

In addition, Edward also obtained some investigation information about the hotel incident through official internal channels.

There were traces of fighting inside the hotel, and a large number of non-lethal weapons were used.

For example, stun grenades, tear gas, anesthetics, and so on.

There were not many shell casings left at the scene, which meant that the battle did not last long. The attackers quickly won and took control of the scene.

There were only a dozen bodies left at the scene. They were all charred black, and it was difficult to identify them.

This meant that the mouse squad and the operation branches might have a lot of people captured.

And the merchants under their control should have fallen into the hands of the clone society.

The East Dragon Company headquarters were currently searching for their whereabouts.

They could have used the surveillance video from the nearby streets to see what was happening on the hotel side.

But the surveillance facilities in the surroundings had been destroyed and there were basically no clues left.

As such, they could only rely on the mini bull city police to search for witnesses, hoping to find valuable clues.

Piggy Liang said to Yu Tian, “The main point is our enemy the Clone Society. “If the genetic warriors are really as powerful as you described, then this team of over a hundred genetic warriors is probably not something our operational personnel can defeat. ”

Speaking of this, Yu Tian felt a headache coming on.

It would definitely not be a problem for him to fight the genetic warriors one-on-one. It would not be a problem for him to fight a few genetic warriors one-on-one.

However, if he were to encounter such a large group of genetic warriors, he would probably have no choice but to flee.

Perhaps this was a qualitative change caused by quantitative changes.

The reason why the Kroni Society was researching such an anti-human project like genetic warriors was probably because of the current situation.

In a city where humans lived together, there was practically no opponent for such a force.

Unless they were on the battlefield, with tanks, planes, and cannons, the advantage of genetic warriors would be greatly reduced.

Brother pig continued, "To deal with these genetic warriors, it's not enough to rely on our strength alone. "Although we have a lot of operational personnel in Wind Country, the Donglong company didn't nurture any top-notch combat strength in the past..."

Yu Tian sighed, "Just tell me your plan."

Brother pig said calmly, "First of all, we obviously need top-tier combat strength like the sheep mercenary group. I plan to hire a few more excellent mercenary groups to participate in the battle..."

Yu Tian said, "No problem, we still have to spend the money we need. "

Brother pig smiled, "Second, and most importantly... that thing you mentioned. "

"What is it?"

"You said before that you have a good relationship with the higher-ups of the Wind Nation..."

"It's not that good, but we can contact them and communicate with them."

"That's more or less it. I need you to communicate with their higher-ups and classify the clone society as a terrorist organization." "Then, we will join forces with the authorities and openly attack the Clone Society. 'h "This way, the pressure on us will be greatly reduced, and we will have an advantage in the war against the Clone Society. "This model will also be extended to other regions of the world. We will make the clone society become a rat crossing the street...”

“Okay.

Yu Tian did not hesitate and immediately agreed.

At this time, it was indeed necessary to join forces with the government.

Donglong company was not a company that focused on developing combat power. It was truly disadvantageous to fight against a terrifying army like the genetic warriors.

Rather than fighting alone, it would be better to leave the issue of the Clone Society to the other big countries.

If the information and actions of the Clone Society were released, it would not be difficult for them to turn the clone society into a street rat.

The official organizations of any country would not tolerate the existence of such anti-human research.

With the official support of the major countries, it would be much easier to eliminate the clone society.

At least the eastern company’s operational personnel could openly appear in various prosperous cities around the world and launch attacks on the various branches and members of the Clone Society.

Moreover, their main task in the future would be to conduct investigations and collect evidence to find out the hidden branch forces of the Clone Society. In terms of operations, they could completely rely on the power of the authorities.

Now that the headquarters of the Eastern Dragon Company had begun to operate normally, communication with the higher-ups of various countries could also be put on the agenda.

The higher-ups of the wind country were the first targets to be communicated with.

If the cooperation with the wind country’s officials could be concluded quickly, the DONGLONG company would have more energy to deal with the traitors..

Yu Tian agreed cleanly, and Piggy Liang seemed to immediately relax a lot.

He paused for a moment, then he said, "Actually, my main task these few days is to reorganize the internal affairs of the East Dragon Company as soon as possible, re-establish the Order of the East Dragon Company, and make it operate as quickly and steadily as possible. "Only a strong donglong company can have a say in the world..."

Yu Tian nodded and said, "That's right."

Piggy Liang added, "On the other hand, I have already contacted and communicated with the official higher-ups of the eastern country. I have also received support from the higher-ups and have reached an agreement and cooperation on the matter of eliminating the clone society..."

"Oh? This seems to be good news. "Yu Tian was surprised. "Then, the eastern country should provide assistance to us in terms of operational strength, right

Piggy Liang sighed. "Assistance in terms of operational strength is not convenient in other countries. Unless you have also reached an agreement with other countries... So, what you need to do is the real focus."

Yu Tian shrugged and said, "I understand."

Piggy Liang said again, "I've already sorted out the relevant information of the Kronin Society in the past two days. It's more detailed and convincing now. "I think you can put aside the trivial matters at hand now and hand over those combat tasks to our operational personnel... you're the leader of the Donglong Company, so don't neglect your proper job."

Yu Tian smiled helplessly and said, "Alright..."

Brother pig said again, "The combat matters are actually trivial matters. You're a big shot, so you should take the upper-class route. Contact the higher-ups of the wind country and the leaders of those big countries..."

"Alright, Alright, I got it."

"In addition, if you can reach an agreement with the big countries earlier, Uncle Long's matter might be easily resolved. We can use those big countries to pressure the SANMAO country and make them take the initiative to hand uncle long over. "

"That's a good idea. but... are you sure uncle long is in the hands of the Sanmao Country?"

"I'm not sure. Maybe it's the SANMAO country, or maybe it's the coal country... in short, as long as the DONGLONG company cooperates openly with the other countries and fight against the clone society together, then Uncle Long's matter will naturally be solved.

"Alright, I'll immediately start contacting the high-level leaders of the wind country.

("In that case, I'll send you the assistants and translators for the meeting. At the same time, I'll ask them to give you the information I've prepared... I'll be there in the morning."

"Alright.

Yu Tian felt that he had been properly arranged by Piggy Liang. There was no room for him to refuse.

However, he could indeed play a greater role in these matters. There was no need to fight the enemy like a small fry in the area of a city like the mini-bull market.

The next morning, Mina got up very early and began to work.

The list of Red Dragonfly's core members had been submitted to Mina. She began to arrange for female assistants to transfer money to these members so that their families could take the money and leave the mini-bull market as soon as possible.

After that, the leaders also had to take their core members and leave their own territory.

Blue underpants had already arranged for more than a dozen safe houses, all in Blue Underpants' territory. They could basically guarantee safety there.

These were all plans that Mina and Barr had agreed on previously. They would place their war strongholds in Blue Underpants' territory, which would be more advantageous for the battle.

If they wanted to fight, they could go out. If they didn't want to fight, they could hide back.

As for the businesses on Red Dragonfly's territory, usually, the peripheral members were in charge of the specific operations.

So now, even if the core members left, it wouldn't cause much of an impact.

Of course, now that Red Dragonfly was about to enter a state of war, no one's mind was on those businesses.

Especially with the support of sufficient funds, even if all the businesses were to stop, the red dragonfly would still be able to continue to survive. Those peripheral members and professional women would still be able to get a passable income.

War was not only the work of the core members, but also the entire red dragonfly.

The peripheral members were also given weapons and ordered to be on high alert.

In theory, the ice city hell and big waves would not be interested in these peripheral members, and there was no need to attack them.

Attacking these peripheral members would not bring any benefits. Instead, it would attract the attention of the police and cause a worse impact in the city.

However, they could not rule out the possibility of using these peripheral members to vent their anger when they could not find the core members of the East Dragon Company. They could also attack the red dragonfly's business and income.

Therefore, the peripheral members of the red dragonfly still had to remain vigilant and try their best not to do the delivery business, especially to some distant and unfamiliar places.

Mina and the leaders could command the actions of the peripheral members through remote control.

There was no longer anything on the territory that Mina had to personally handle, so after Mina arranged these tasks, she also prepared to evacuate from her family's apartment building.

She only had a female assistant and a team of bodyguards made up of two core members by her side.

She originally had two bodyguards, but they were sent to guard Michelle.

So she no longer had the power to fight by her side. She could only go to Barr's territory to seek protection and command the entire war remotely.

Yu Tian did not plan to leave with Mina. He still had to wait for the assistant team sent by Piggy Liang in the apartment building.

Mina was not too worried about Yu Tian's safety. She repeatedly asked Yu Tian, "Are you sure you don't want to leave with us? It's too dangerous for you to stay in our headquarters apartment alone."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "It's the safest time for me to stay here alone. To be honest, if anything dangerous happens while staying with you guys, I still have to think of a way to take care of your safety..."

Mina said helplessly, "Just say it directly. We'll only drag you down."

Yu Tian spread out his hands and said, "It's good that you understand. That's more or less what I mean."

Mina said, "Then we'll take our leave first. When you're about to leave, just close the door. You Don't have to worry about downstairs. Our peripheral members will close the door of the apartment after you leave."

Yu Tian nodded and said, "Okay, after I finish what I'm doing, I'll see if your war has been won."

"Then it will definitely be won."

Mina solemnly hugged Yu Tian. Just as she was about to leave, the door was suddenly pushed open.

"Oh, I seem to have disturbed you..."

Fernan stood awkwardly at the door and helplessly spread his hands. "Why don't I go down and wait for You?"

Mina calmly let go of Yu Tian and asked Fernan, "What's the matter?" Fernan shrugged. "Nothing major... There's just a new situation.."

Translator: 549690339

Although the Red Dragonfly's evacuation plan had already begun, Mary and the other leaders had yet to leave the headquarters' apartment so quickly.

They had received another piece of news. The boss of heavy firepower had also been killed.

Heavy firepower was also a small gang in the vicinity. Their territory was close to the red dragonfly's territory, and they usually had many small conflicts with the red dragonfly.

Heavy Firepower's boss was killed, and this incident had nothing to do with the red dragonfly.

This incident at most meant that the Ice City HelPs target was not just the red dragonfly. They wanted to attack all the streets here.

However, there was a line of bloody words on the wall of the murder scene: Blood for blood.

This smell did not feel right.

In connection with the matter of Kang Tan being killed the day before yesterday, the meaning of blood for blood seemed to be inescapably linked to the red dragonfly.

In the eyes of outsiders, this seemed to be the red dragonfly's revenge.

And the boss of heavy firepower was the mastermind behind killing Kang Tan.

The red dragonfly had killed the boss of heavy firepower to avenge Kang Tan.

This was a very reasonable explanation.

But the people of red dragonfly knew very well that this matter had nothing to do with them.

This was someone pretending to be red dragonfly and causing trouble.

Yu Tian and Mina returned to the meeting room downstairs. Mary and a few leaders were already waiting there.

"This must be the work of Big Waves! "

One of the leaders immediately expressed his opinion. "They want us to fight with heavy firepower first. "

Mary said with a serious expression, "I'll immediately contact heavy fire and explain this matter to them. "Our enemy is obviously big wave and the ice city hell behind Big Wave. "Even if we want to take revenge for Kangtan, it should be to assassinate big wave's people... I believe heavy fire should be able to understand this easily."

One of the leaders said, "Yes, it's still necessary to explain to heavy firepower. Whether they believe it or not, we should tell them about ice city's HelPs conspiracy... and inform the other gangs as well.

"Heavy firepower's people should call us soon to question us. As long as we explain in time, they shouldn't start a war with us... at least there won't be any conflict for the time being.

"Now is the time to unite the surrounding gangs. We should think of a way to show our sincerity..."

The few leaders discussed animatedly.

Mina lightly knocked on the table, causing everyone to quieten down. "Everyone, don't worry. This might not be a bad thing..."

Mina's expression was very relaxed, and there was even a slight smile on her face.

In the plan that she and Barr had discussed, there was already a very bold idea and decision.

It was to have blue underpants assassinate the leaders of the other small gangs.

That's right, this was a small plan that they had agreed upon.

Although they could be sure that the matter with Cantan was done by big wave, they did not decide to take revenge on big wave. Instead, they decided to assassinate the leaders of the other small gangs.

Of course, the assassination did not have to succeed, but it would definitely cause chaos among the other small gangs.

The benefits of doing so were obvious.

First of all, no one would think that the assassination was done by the red dragonfly, because the red dragonfly definitely did not have the ability to provoke so many gangs at the same time.

Therefore, everyone would only think that there must be someone else behind the scenes, and that it was a very powerful gang organization.

Under such circumstances, if red dragonfly were to reveal everything, it would be easier for other small gangs to believe that there was a conspiracy behind the Ice City Hell.

This was because there were indeed people from the Ice City Hell who had appeared in big wave's territory, and big wave had recently increased their manpower.

Combined with these circumstances, the small gangs would immediately unite and resist the invasion of the Ice City Hell together.

This was Barr's plan.

No matter what tricks Ice City Hell had up their sleeves, they could use this trick to muddy the waters and make all the small gangs enter a state of war. They could also take revenge on Ice City Hell and Big Wave.

At that time, Ice City Hell's plan and rhythm would be completely disrupted.

As long as the war started, it would basically not stop.

Many small gangs attacked big wave and ice hell, so Ice Hell was forced to fight

Everyone fought until the end, and red dragonfly could come out to pick peaches.

With the support of Blue Underpants, they could accept all the spoils of war as the victors.

Including the defeated Ice Hell and the small gangs that were almost wiped out.

Therefore, the boss of heavy firepower had been killed. This was originally part of Mina and Barr's plan.

Mina smiled and said, "Mary, I'll leave this matter to you. You're more familiar with the leaders of the various gangs. You'll be the one to explain to heavy firepower and explain the matter of Hell of ice city to the other gangs... Mary did not decline and nodded. "Alright, Mina, I'll take care of these matters.

Mina continued, "In addition, you'll also have to tell the gangs in the alliance that our red dragonfly has entered a state of war, and we really need everyone's unity and support. We also need a leader... I think the red man gang is pretty good. "

Mary was a little hesitant. "You mean... to let the red man gang lead our war? We have the support of the blue underpants behind us. Why should we let others lead us?"

Mina smiled. "That's just a nominal leader of the alliance. We need a shield to stand in front of us... do you really think that these gangs will... really unite like a gang?"

"Of course it's impossible. "A leader said, "Even if we unite in the name of the alliance, we're still an independent gang. "We can carry out some of the missions assigned by the Alliance, but we can't completely obey the orders of the alliance. "Especially some missions that have too great a loss and are too difficult. No one will go and die. "

Mina smiled. "So... for this war, let's keep a low profile... let them go first.

Mary's face gradually revealed a smile. "I understand what you mean. I'll be more humble.

Mina nodded. ("Yes, Be Humble. We're just a small gang with no help. Blue underpants has nothing to do with us. We really need everyone's help, as well as the help of the red men gang. So... Go and ask for help, Mary. "

"Okay, Mina, I will take care of this mission."

Mary gladly accepted the order.

Mina nodded slightly, and then said, "If there is nothing else, then everyone should disperse. Leave the headquarters as soon as possible and go to the safe house to wait for orders.."

Chapter 1259: Chapter 1,258, International Conference

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian still stayed in the apartment, waiting for the assistant team to come to his door.

The apartment was empty, leaving only the two young men guarding the door. However, they would not stay in the apartment for long. After Yu Tian left, they would lock the apartment door and enter a half-vacation state.

The red dragonfly did not assign any additional tasks to the peripheral members. Other than keeping their vigilance and continuing to run their business, they only needed to gather information and pass on information to Mina.

After all the core members had left, these peripheral members were like their eyes and ears, mainly providing support and support outside of combat.

Now that the war had not really begun, the arrangements of the red dragonfly were still very calm.

Therefore, Yu Tian did not need to worry about safety in the apartment. The possibility of an accident was very funny.

He waited in the apartment until 10 o'clock in the morning when the assistant team finally arrived at the apartment building.

There were two cars and six people.

Two assistants, two translators, and two drivers. They were all unfamiliar faces that Yu Tian had never seen before.

Of course, this was not important. There were many Donglong Company members that Yu Tian had never seen before.

Yu Tian wanted to go directly to the capital of the Windy Nation, Dawn.

This journey started at dusk and ended at dawn. This was a very good moral.

Yu Tian hoped that he could get everything done in Dawn City and lay the biggest foundation for the final victory.

He used the telephone to contact several high-level officials of the Wind

Nation to express the news of his upcoming visit and his purpose of coming. At the same time, he asked the high-level officials to prepare a cyber conference room so that he could establish contact with the leaders of other countries.

He planned to take this opportunity to inform all the major countries in place and explain the issue of the clone society to all the major countries in one go.

Yu Tian remembered that the last time he summoned so many leaders to a meeting was before he retired.

Now that these leaders were basically all changed, it was still quite difficult for him to contact the new leaders of all countries.

Fortunately, Zhu Geliang had already communicated with the high-level officials of the eastern country. The high-level officials of the eastern country also participated in the meeting and would be responsible for contacting the presidents of all the countries.

With the endorsement of the eastern country, Yu Tian's identity became even more important, and the importance of the meeting was also extraordinary.

The high-level officials of the wind country immediately informed the president of the news and arranged the venue properly to welcome Yu Tian at any time.

A few hours later, Yu Tian finally arrived at dawn city.

The officially arranged venue was in a conference room in the presidential palace.

This place was heavily guarded and the security measures were of a very high level. There was no need to worry about leaks and the like.

After Yu Tian arrived, the preparations for the meeting had not been completely completed.

The main reason was that the people participating in the meeting were all dignitaries of various countries. They were all important figures and busy people. It was not possible for them to find time to hold a meeting at any time.

For a meeting like Yu Tian's that did not have an appointment half a month in advance, they would usually ignore him under normal circumstances.

Even if everyone gave Yu Tian and the Dongfang kingdom face and were willing to find the time to attend this meeting, it would still be somewhat delayed.

Anyone who dawdled for a few minutes or was a few minutes late would have to wait obediently.

After half an hour, the video conference was finally ready.

The big screen in the conference room lit up one by one. Familiar or unfamiliar faces sat down in front of the camera.

Not only were the presidents of various countries participating in the conference, there were also former presidents who were more familiar with Yu Tian, as well as some high-level officials, think tanks, secretaries, assistants, translators..

Although not many countries were participating in the conference, there were quite a number of people who participated in the conference.

Of course, most of them were only qualified to be part of the background.

“Hi, Yu, long time no see!”

“Yu, you’ve gained weight.

Those who knew Yu Tian were mostly former high-ranking officials. These people had basically retired, but in reality, their power was not small either.

The meeting between the heads of state in private was not as serious as they had imagined. Moreover, there were no reporters and no cameras in this place, so everyone seemed much more casual.

(‘Alright, let’s begin immediately when everyone is here. I feel that everyone must be very busy.”

The first to speak was not Yu Tian, but the president of the coal country.

He knocked on the microphone in front of him rather impatiently, he grumbled, “As far as I know, the organizer of this meeting is only a civilian, and it seems to be the head of some illegal organization. I really don’t understand what kind of major event can happen in such a meeting...”

The secretary and assistant behind him laughed lightly.

Yu Tian’s expression did not change much.

If this was not a video conference, he might have gone up to give the old man a slap.

Anyway, the coal nation and the Easterners had never been on good terms, and Yu Tian did not care that he would offend them.

The hardest to convince in this meeting was the coal nation people.

This was because the coal nation president had always liked to disagree with others. He did not care whether the matter was right or wrong, but he especially liked to disagree with others. He felt that being rich meant that he should be willful.

However, the people of the coal nation should be persuaded the most. Their attitude could affect the attitude of most countries towards the KLONI society.

The eastern country could be considered as the convenor of this meeting. They were somewhat dissatisfied with the attitude of the president of the Coal Nation, but it was not convenient for them to say anything.

After all, the eastern country had always cared about the image of their country. Their words and actions were not as casual as those of the Westerners.

They could only pick up the microphone and cough a few times to attract everyone's attention.

Then, they said, "Alright, thank you very much for taking time out of your busy schedule to participate in this meeting. I think everyone should know that since our eastern country has so carefully informed everyone to hold this meeting, there is naturally a very important matter. Moreover, it is a matter related to international security... Alright, since everyone is here, let's ask Mr. Yu to explain the specific situation to everyone."

These words seemed to say that the president of the coal country did not know the gravity of the situation, but he did not say anything explicitly.

However, the president of the coal country did not understand the essence of it and was still feeling smug.

('Ignore that idiot. Just take out your manuscript and read it.

Piggy Liang's voice sounded in Yu Tian's ear.

The assistant brought Yu Tian new communication equipment, but the communication equipment was cut off after entering the meeting room.

Therefore, Yu Tian was now using the communication equipment in the conference room. This earphone connected to the microphone of the translator, who then connected to Piggeliang through the network of the conference room.

Yu Tian was not in the mood to pay attention to that idiot, the president of the coal country.

In the Western countries, the president was just a spokesman, and his power was not as big as people thought..

Chapter 1260: Chapter 1,259, private dinner

The president of the coal country might be a difficult person to convince. With his personality, he was very childish about his work.

However, as long as he could convince the seemingly unremarkable representatives of the officials behind the president, even if the president of the coal country did not cooperate, their Congress would eventually let him participate in the cooperation plan that Yu Tian requested.

Therefore, Yu Tian could ignore the attitude of the president of the coal country and directly carry on with his speech.

Yu Tian picked up the microphone and began to read the manuscript that Piggeliang had prepared for him.

This was the bilingual version, which had both Oriental and international languages.

Yu Tian directly read the oriental version because it felt smooth.

Anyway, the bigwigs of each country had translators, and this speech would also be sent to them in a text version, which was equivalent to a meeting record.

At the same time, the representatives of the Eastern countries would also send a copy of the information on the clone society that Brother Pig had arranged to each country.

Yu Tian also had the same copy in his hands, which was used to display it at the meeting..

In short, all the content of the speech, as well as all the information on the clone society, would be properly sent to every participant in the meeting, without leaving out any details.

Yu Tian's speech wasn't long. He only gave a brief description of the situation of the clone society, emphasizing how inhumane the evil biochemical research they were conducting was, as well as the terrifying applications of genetic warriors.

Genetic warriors weren't very suitable for the battlefield. Their individual advantages weren't of much significance on the battlefield.

In this era, the battlefield mainly relied on weapons and equipment.

The most important ability of soldiers was not the strength of their muscles, but the wisdom and knowledge in their brains.

The ability to operate and use weapons and equipment, as well as the degree of understanding and mastery of strategies and tactics, these were the requirements of a qualified soldier.

When genetic warriors entered a large battlefield, they might not necessarily be stronger than ordinary soldiers.

If there was a slight mistake in their command, no matter how strong the genetic warriors were, it would be as easy as shooting a cannonball.

Therefore, none of the big countries participating in the meeting would have any bad ideas about this genetic technology.

They might be attracted by the technology of the Clone Society and want to cooperate to obtain the technology of the Clone Society.

Even if they obtained the genetic technology of the clone society, their soldiers would not be willing to accept this genetic modification.

No one knew if the genetic technology had any side effects. If the soldiers' physical conditions were to be affected, it would be a disastrous accident for the country and the army.

After all, they were an official government, not an evil organization hiding in the gutter.

The genetic technology would at most have some research and reference value for them.

Therefore, the major powers were focused on how far the Clone Society had used this technology and what bad things they had done.

Yu Tian explained his personal experiences, including his experience with the genetic warriors and the encounter of the mouse squad at a certain hotel in the Mini Bull City.

The damage caused by the genetic warriors in the city was indeed huge. This was because it was impossible for the army to enter the city, and it was also impossible for them to use heavy weapons in the city.

The police force with light equipment would definitely not be a match for genetic warriors.

After Yu Tian's detailed introduction, the teams behind the heads of these large countries could not help but start whispering among themselves.

Yu Tian's speech ended.

The representative of the eastern country took over the microphone. "Obviously, the clone society is a terrorist organization. "The genetic warriors that they have developed are definitely the cancer of the human world. "This is a very inhumane research. The purpose is not even for war, but just to destroy our stable social situation... Therefore, I feel that we should unite and launch a worldwide attack on the Kroni!

This was the eastern country's stance. They clearly supported Yu Tian. This could be seen from the fact that they had gathered and organized this conference with all their might.

The eastern countries were also one of the top powers. Their attitude had a lot of influence on the other powers in the world.

However, the other countries did not immediately speak up.

After all, the eastern countries had already understood the situation of the KLONI society through Brother Pig. They had already held a meeting and discussed it internally, so they had already come to a consensus.

However, the other countries had only just heard the news. They still needed to hold a meeting to digest it. They even needed to hold a discussion for a few days.

Some countries could even hold a meeting for a few months if they made a decision.

Of course, this kind of thing did not need to be discussed on a large scale at the moment. The process would also go faster.

The high-level leaders of these countries had passed the resolution. The entire country had basically passed the resolution.

Yu Tian was already mentally prepared . It was impossible for these leaders to ?make a decision immediately today. He still had to stay in Dawn City for a few days and wait for the outcome of the meeting.

The next step was to ask for details. The representatives of the various countries started to ask Yu Tian various questions while looking at the information.

They had to confirm the authenticity and accuracy of the information.

Fortunately, the information prepared by Zhu Geliang was very sufficient, and the process was quickly over.

Finally, the meeting had to be temporarily over.

The leaders of the various countries expressed their initial views. It was a consensus that they must spare no effort in combating terrorist organizations.

But as for how to cooperate and what specific actions to take, they could only wait for the next time.

After the first day of the meeting, the officials of the wind nation had already arranged a hotel for Yu Tian.

This meeting might last for several days. Yu Tian would also stay in Dawn City for several days.

There would be a dinner party in the evening, and it would be a private invitation dinner.

The person who invited Yu Tian to dinner was a retired high-ranking official of the windy nation named Victor.

Victor lived in Dawn City, so he personally attended the meeting and invited Yu Tian to his home for dinner after the meeting.

Out of courtesy, Yu Tian naturally agreed.

The dinner was scheduled for 7 p.m. , and Yu Tian still had plenty of time to prepare.

Such gifts naturally had to be expensive.

And as a retired person, Victor did not have any psychological burden to accept a few expensive gifts.

Piggy Liang said that problems that could be solved with money were not problems.

For a wealthy organization like Donglong company, this logic was absolutely correct.

Retired high-ranking officials also had a lot of power. Piggy Liang felt that he had to use Victor to break through the high-ranking relationships of the entire windy nation.

This would not only be good for attacking Kroni, but it would also be good for dealing with those traitors in the windy nation.

Therefore, it was necessary to attend such a private banquet, and it was necessary to spend some money to send some expensive gifts..

Yu Tian was not close to Victor at all. He was not close to all the high-level leaders.

But since both sides were interested in each other, they could naturally develop a good friendship.

At seven o'clock in the evening, Yu Tian went to the banquet on time.

Alone, he brought a small gift prepared by his assistant.

A man must have something to ask for.

Yu Tian did not know what Victor wanted from him, but Piggy Liang said that it was not important.

Coincidentally, donglong company did not lack money.

The two parties exchanged pleasantries at the door and talked a lot of nonsense.

Yu Tian praised the other party's wife for being very elegant and young, his daughter was very fashionable and beautiful, and his son was very steady and intelligent..

Victor naturally also praised Yu Tian for his youth and achievements. He was one of the few young talents in the world..

Yu Tian felt that he was right.

There was no other important figure in the world who was younger than him. None of the important figures who attended the meeting today were younger than forty years old.

Those secretaries and assistant translators did not count.

Next was the meal.

Easterners paid attention to food without speaking, and sleep without speaking.

But that was an ancient custom. Modern people liked to drink and blow at the same time.

The same was true for Westerners, who liked to chat while eating.

The main thing was that their food was really boring, so they could only distract themselves by talking.

Victor's family had a professional chef, so Yu Tian could be considered to have tasted authentic Feng Guo cuisine.

Unfortunately, he didn't feel much about the taste of these special foods. He just felt that they were more exquisite than fast food restaurants.

There was no serious business to talk about at the dining table. The time to talk about serious business was after dinner, when they sat in Victor's small courtyard.

There were only Yu Tian and Victor in the courtyard. Victor's family didn't need to be instructed, so they left by themselves. After chatting for a while, Victor went straight to the point.

"Yu, the things in Dusk City were all done by you guys, right?"

"You might have some misunderstandings. Those were all done by the Kronin Association. Some traitors of the East Dragon Company were also involved. The official organizations of dusk city have already been infiltrated by the Kronin Association..."

Yu Tian didn't hesitate to shirk his responsibility. "You know, the things that the East Dragon Company has been doing have always been just to make money. "We have no interest in creating chaos in any country. Even if we want to fight against a terrorist organization like the Clone Society, we will not casually create destruction.

Victor smiled. "Actually, I know about that small winery of yours. The location of your headquarters is not a secret. Also, the President of the East Dragon Company, long... He had an accident in San Mao Country. " "Oh, do you know about Uncle Long? who has him now?"

"I'm not too sure about that... maybe the coal nation knows about it. They seem to be involved in this matter.

“I know about the methods of the coal nation. They like to arrest the higher-ups of those companies, then buy and annex those companies...”

“Your companies are all small businesses. The coal nation may not be interested in these things... but I’m interested in these small businesses.

“Oh? What business do you have?”

Yu Tian knew that Victor was going to make a request.

His request was nothing more than money, but it could not be cash. It could only be those legitimate businesses.

Yu Tian did not care about these things.

Therefore, when Victor proposed to buy some companies, Yu Tian readily agreed.

Then, he found that the operations and operations of the East Dragon Company were really a failure.

Not to mention that the commercial departments in the region had basically defected, even the identities of many companies had been exposed.

Even a retired veteran cadre like Victor knew which companies might be under the ownership of the East Dragon Company or were related to the East Dragon Company.

Although most of them were just guesses, they were definitely not groundless. It could only mean that the authorities had some clues.

Therefore, what Piggy Liang said was right. In a legitimate business, one should do it openly and openly. It was meaningless to do it secretly, and it would not be successful.

It was not that small businesses were not profitable. It was mainly because the management of small businesses was troublesome and the cost of management was too high.

Moreover, if they were all small businesses, Donglong Company’s influence would not be so great.

A truly large group or enterprise could control the economic lifeline of a country.

If all the industries were integrated, it would definitely be better than those fragmented industries, and its influence would also be greater.

Yu Tian generously gave away those small companies.

To be more precise, it should be called selling, but it was cheaper.

The specific operations would be handled by the East Dragon Company's headquarters, so Yu Tian and Victor naturally would not pay attention to the detailed process.

After getting the benefits they wanted..., Victor was full of smiles. "The wind country is also considered a first-class big country, so they definitely won't allow terrorist groups to wreak such havoc within our borders. "Donglong Company is a legitimate company that has promoted the rapid development of various industries in our country. It has brought a large amount of tax revenue to our country. We should also protect it well..."

Yu Tian remained expressionless. Other than nodding his head, he did not say a word.

Anyone could say pretty words. He just wanted to see what Victor would do after he received the benefits.

Satisfying!

Ever since he retired, it had been a long time since he had said so much nonsense.

After he breathed a sigh of relief, Victor slowly said, "No matter what decision the presidential palace will make in the end, the vicious case that happened in the Mini Bull Market will definitely be dealt with... Our Military Intelligence Bureau is very interested in this case. It is also their duty to crack down on these terrorist groups and military forces that are hiding in the country..."

Yu Tian's eyes lit up. "Are you saying that the military will intervene in this matter?"

The Military Intelligence Bureau was the military organization of the windy nation. Its functions were somewhat similar to that of the Central Intelligence Agency, but there were some differences.

The Central Intelligence Agency mainly did intelligence work. It was the kind of work that most people were familiar with recruiting spies, catching spies, and recruiting traitors..

Then there were also some special agent stories like James Bond 's.

Occasionally, there would be some incidents of fighting and killing.

However, those were usually cases where foreign agents had no choice but to do so in order to pass on information and escape capture.

Their main job was not to fight. Even if they were to capture spies in the country, there was no need for the special agents to personally charge to the front line.

As for the super special agents who fought fiercely in the movies... it could only be said that the movies were a little too exaggerated.

Chapter 1262: Chapter 1,261, introducing some friends

Translator: 549690339

The Military Intelligence Bureau of the Windy Nation was an intelligence unit that belonged to the military.

It was a unit that was going to the battlefield.

Originally, the Windy Nation didn't have a military intelligence bureau. Its predecessor was only an intelligence department attached to various military ministries. Later, it became independent and formed a professional intelligence agency.

Its functions were similar to the famous M16 of the United States. It was mainly responsible for collecting intelligence on a global scale, mainly targeting terrorist groups, weapons proliferation, and the possible threats posed by some war-torn countries.

The windy nation had many colonies and many troops stationed overseas, so the role and power of the Military Intelligence Bureau were very big.

They were not only in charge of intelligence investigations overseas. If there were enemy country militants, terrorist group militants, and spy agents in the state of wind, they would also be within the scope of their attack.

The definition of this thing was relatively vague.

For example, gangsters. This was usually not something that the military intelligence bureau should be involved in.

But if the gangsters started to fight with weapons, the nature of it would be hard to say.

The Military Intelligence Bureau could think that this was a terrorist group or a military force of a foreign force, causing destruction and chaos in the windy nation.

Then, they could get involved.

The gangsters that they targeted would definitely be considered unlucky.

No matter how good the local relationship of these gangs was, no matter how many protection umbrellas they had, the military intelligence bureau could not give them face.

The power structure in foreign countries was rather strange. Generally speaking, the president did not have the right to interfere in the local government affairs.

Those governors, provincial governors, mayors, and town mayors... they could not give face to the president.

But when they encountered the national intelligence agencies and security agencies, these local officials would have a headache.

These intelligence agencies and security agencies would not give face to the local officials. They would arrest whoever they wanted to arrest. If they were not satisfied, they could only meet in court.

Even the courts of some countries might not be able to control these intelligence agencies. Complaints would be useless.

In short, in the Windy Nation, the Military Intelligence Bureau had great power and was very independent.

Moreover, as a military agency, their operational strength was also very strong.

Their operational forces were all drawn from the military. Their combat style and mode were completely different from the police. Their weapons and equipment were also different. Their combat strength was definitely much more ferocious.

Yu Tian felt that it might be a good idea to let the Secret Service of the Military Intelligence Bureau deal with the genetic warriors of the Kloni Association.

Of course, whether the Military Intelligence Bureau would fight in the country of wind would depend on whether the "Military funds" given by Yu Tian were enough.

As long as the money was enough, they could even tell them that the terrorists were hiding in the presidential palace.

They would definitely dare to launch an attack on the presidential palace. At most, they would inform the president that there were bad people hiding in your house, and they would attack to save you!

Victor obviously belonged to the military faction, and they had a good relationship.

He smiled and said to Yu Tian, "These things are within the jurisdiction of the Military Intelligence Bureau. Of course, they have to carry out their duties."

Yu Tian laughed, "That's good... I was preparing to send people over from outside.

Victor immediately smiled bitterly, "You really treat wind country as your own living room... I know what you've done in F * Ck land. Don't bring people from F * Ck land here. There are already too many black men on our wind country's land...

Yu Tian sighed. "You know all this..."

Victor said, "You've done such a big thing in F * Ck country, and you still want to hide it? Do you really think these countries' intelligence agencies are fools? In short, don't bring the F * Ck country's people to wind country, or there will be big trouble. As for the one you arranged in the mini bull market... What's his name, the Wild Fox Secret Service Team?"

Yu Tian said helplessly, "You know about it again?"

Victor said, "Of course I know. The Wild Fox Secret Service team will be like this. You can use the name of the police to participate in the operation. "However, it's better to focus on the military when dealing with the Kronin society. Otherwise, if there's any trouble, you won't be able to clean it up.

Yu Tian stretched out his palm. "Then it's settled... actually, fighting against organizations like the Kronin society will be more beneficial to your government. Our East Dragon Company is really meddling in other people's business.

Victor smiled and held Yu Tian's palm. "That's why I said that your Donglong Company is a legitimate and just organization.

Yu Tian smiled. "Then let's work together for world peace.

Victor also smiled. "Tomorrow, Pll arrange another dinner party and introduce you to some friends from the military."

"Okay, I'll be very happy to attend your dinner party.

Yu Tian knew that tomorrow would be another good time to spend a lot of money.

It was very common in the west to smash a country's high-ranking officials to the ground with money.

If a country was powerful enough, it could even cause a country to start a war for the consumption of arms.

Therefore, it was very important for Brother Pig to reorganize the East Dragon Company now.

After saying goodbye to Victor, Yu Tian returned to the official hotel to rest.

The next day, there was still a meeting, but the meeting did not officially start until the afternoon.

For this meeting, Yu Tian did not need to give a long speech. He basically became a bystander.

Other than occasionally answering a few questions, he basically watched the eastern countries representatives speak the entire time.

This was exactly what Yu Tian wanted. He did not like this kind of meeting where there was too much nonsense. Moreover, the nonsense in this kind of meeting still needed to be explained and conveyed through a translator, which was very time-consuming.

That was why Piggy Liang had communicated with the eastern countries in advance and asked them to arrange a professional verbal team to accompany the representatives of the various countries here.

This also made Yu Tian feel much more relaxed.

After the meeting ended, Yu Tian had to prepare to attend the dinner party. This was the most important thing for him today.

The assistants naturally prepared a large number of small gifts. All kinds of jewelry that were given to the wives cost several million. All of them were hard currency that could be directly sold for money.

A few million sounded like a small number, but for some high-level officials in the windy nation, taking a bribe of more than one million was already an exaggeration.

Even a businessman like Victor, who had quite a lot of assets, could only take advantage of a few million from Yu Tian.

This time, the banquet was arranged in a small club.

This place could also play billiards, bowling, table tennis..

Victor introduced the guests to Yu Tian one by one.

These people were all from the military, so they didn't bring any family members to the party.

Yu Tian began to send small gifts, and soon he met a weirdo..

Chapter 1263: Chapter 1,262, don't be a fat sheep

you already know, so I won't make any more introductions.”

Victor introduced a strong man to Yu Tian, and he was panting in his military uniform.

In the entire club, only General Hugo was still wearing his military uniform, as if he was afraid that everyone would not know that he was a soldier.

Yu Tian shook hands with Hugo and then gave him a small gift that he had prepared.

Hugo did not accept his gift. Instead, he smiled and hooked his arm around Yu Tian's shoulder. He pulled Yu Tian aside and said, “I don't like the jewelry these women use. Can you give me a bank card...

F * ck!

Yu Tian liked this kind of brazen bastard.

People who dared to ask for cash directly were usually strong people with strong backgrounds.

They dared to ask for bribes brazenly, and they did not even bother to hide it in front of others. They were not afraid of any integrity investigation at all.

General Hugo was obviously this kind of brazen B * stard.

Piggy Liang immediately reminded Yu Tian in his ear, “Ask him for his bank account number.

Yu Tian was attending the banquet, and the team behind him was not idle either.

Every person who appeared at the banquet would be checked by the technical department of Donglong Company.

Piggy Liang had already made a list of some important people in the military.

Piggy Liang knew which person was more important and was more worth Yu Tian building a good relationship with and making good use of.

General Hugo was on the list that Piggy Liang paid attention to. As soon as he heard this name, Piggy Liang quickly dug out his information.

Yu Tian followed Piggy Liang's instructions and asked for General Hugo's bank account number.

General Hugo quickly reported his account number, and Piggy Liang immediately transferred five million yuan to him.

This was more than the value of all the gifts that everyone had received.

General Hugo looked at his phone for a while and immediately beamed. He happily put his arm around Yu Tian's shoulder and said, "F * ck, I knew you would be a good friend.

Victor laughed not far away and said, "Our Dear Yu, not only is he a good friend, but he is also a very smart friend.

General Hugo said with a smile, "I like to be friends with smart people.

Yu Tian felt that these guys seemed to treat him as a fat sheep.

So he also said with a smile, "Not only am I smart, but I am also powerful. People who are friends with me usually have benefits."

Victor slowly walked over and said with a smile, "Mr. Yu is indeed powerful. To be able to gather the leaders of the world for a meeting is not something that an ordinary person can do.

General Hugo was clearly aware of what had happened to Yu Tian. He also knew that Yu Tian had come to dawn city to hold a meeting with the leaders of various countries.

He said with some envy, "Having a powerful company is much better than having an army..."

Yu Tian said with a smile, "My strength is not only because I have a company, but also because of my own strength."

General Hugo asked curiously, "My own strength? in which aspect exactly?"

"In which aspect..."

Yu Tian glanced at the billiard table next to him, then picked up a billiard ball from the table and gently cut it with his finger.

Immediately, the hard stone billiard ball was split into two halves, neatly cut in half.

Using Shang Yang sword to cut a billiard ball neatly was much more difficult than cutting a person's body into pieces.

The main thing was the precise control of the sword aura, which was more taxing on the mind.

However, the effect was very good. General Hugo took the billiard ball from Yu Tian's hand in surprise and carefully observed it for a while. Then, he asked in puzzlement, "Are you performing a magic trick?"

Yu Tian laughed and said, "Haha, you can think that this is a kind of magic, a magic from the Eastern world.

Victor sighed and said, "Hugo, I might have forgotten to tell you. Mr. Yu is also a powerful eastern warrior... you should go and learn some information about him. "

General Hugo suddenly understood, "Eastern warrior? Martial Arts?"

Yu Tian still smiled and said, "Yes, martial arts... you can also think of it as magic. The effect is almost the same anyway.

General Hugo picked up another billiard ball with interest and said to Yu Tian, "Can you perform it again? I want to see how the Magical Oriental Kung Fu does this kind of thing. "

"Of course, I'm happy to share these smiles with my friends."

Yu Tian once again split the billiard ball into two halves.

Then, he smiled and handed the two halves to General Hugo, thinking to himself, "Let's see who dares to treat me as a fat sheep.

General Hugo's face was full of surprise, and his attitude toward Yu Tian suddenly became much warmer.

A capable person would be respected wherever he went.

Especially in the eyes of military personnel like General Hugo, no matter how rich a gigolo was, he was just an ordinary person.

Therefore, the communication between General Hugo and Yu Tian became much more sincere, and they no longer talked about friends and friends.

Piggy Liang couldn't help but whisper in Yu Tian's ear, "I suddenly realized that a martial arts master like you... has a lot of advantages in social interactions. "

Yu Tian couldn't help but feel a little proud.

There were rich people everywhere in the world, but there weren't many martial arts masters like him.

So seriously speaking, the real martial arts masters had a much higher status than those rich people.

Otherwise, how could they be called unworldly masters.

Yu Tian gave money to these higher-ups so that they could work well for the East Dragon Company, not make them feel like they could kill a fat sheep.

According to Yu Tian's character, he had never been interested in giving money and gifts to others.

If it weren't for the fact that he wanted to save Donglong Company and find allies to deal with the Clone Society, he wouldn't have wasted his time dealing with these rotten bureaucratic systems.

All of this was because Donglong company wasn't strong enough, and he himself wasn't strong enough.

If donglong company had been strong enough, there wouldn't have been such a mess. He wouldn't have been defeated by the Clone Society and the traitors.

If he had been strong enough, he wouldn't have needed to find helpers to deal with those genetic warriors.

He could have killed the clone society by himself.

Therefore, after returning to the hotel, Yu Tian couldn't help but ask brother Pig about East Dragon Company's current progress.

"East Dragon Company's morale is high," brother Pig said with a smile. "I recorded the video of your meeting over the past two days and sent it to all the members of East Dragon Company..."

Yu Tian said inexplicably, ("What are you doing?"

Brother pig said calmly, "Let the employees know how high their leader status is and how capable they are. This is very effective in stabilizing the morale of the Army...."

Translator: 549690339

The donglong company, which had just experienced a rebellion, had a very serious situation. Its morale was very low.

The divisions in the various regions, in particular, lacked confidence in the abilities of the headquarters' members.

After all, the headquarters had been wiped out once. It really didn't look like a powerful organization.

Therefore, Brother Pig had to cheer for all the members.

The video of Yu Tian meeting with the world leaders was a good cheering material.

The members of the East Dragon Company would find out that their boss had such a high status and status. They would have more confidence in the future development of the company.

The effect of this operation was very good. Brother Pig Liang had released the video yesterday, and the company's internal response was very good.

"Of course, there's a flaw in this operation. It exposed your appearance in front of tens of thousands of people in the company. "Brother Pig Liang did not feel guilty at all. "I'm really sorry... But you don't care anyway."

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Yes, I don't care... It's best that you guys don't follow me around in the future and don't send me assistants. "I'm still not worried about any danger on my own, but it's hard to say if I bring you guys along.

Brother Pig Liang said, "It's alright. If I want to go out with you, I can bring more guards.

Yu Tian said, "That would mean that you would be exposed.

Pig Bro Liang said, "It's okay if Pm exposed. In any case, I will basically only stay in the eastern country in the future. "Even if I go abroad, I will only go to those public places where there are many people. I will meet with the officials of various countries, the top management of various consortia, and bring enough guards..."

After a pause, Piggy Liang said, "I hope that more people from the DONGLONG company will appear under the Sun. We will run the company openly and use fair and square means to crush the enemy's conspiracy.

"Whatever you want to do... How are you organizing the company?"

"The Dongfang kingdom has already arranged for the location of our headquarters on the Big Island in the south. It's a second-tier city, and there happens to be a unfinished building there..."

“Uncompleted building?”

“Yes, uncompleted building. Don’t worry, it’s the kind of uncompleted building that stopped construction due to a break in the capital chain. The quality isn’t a problem, and the price is very cheap.”

“The price isn’t a problem... is that place suitable to be the headquarters?”

“Of course it’s suitable. It’s a commercial building in itself, and I’ve bought quite a lot of empty land around it. It can be turned into an entire park, and a large number of supporting facilities can be built...”

“When can we get the headquarters ready?”

“Very soon, the main structure of the building has been capped, and we can start renovating it very soon... right, we’re preparing to return to China in the next two days, and the headquarters will officially set up a home in China.

“This is good news.”

Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. After the headquarters had officially been relocated, Donglong company had basically stabilized by more than half.

Piggy Liang continued, “Next month, I will have all the people in charge of the various regions go to the eastern country to report to the headquarters and hold a plenary meeting...”

Yu Tian asked in surprise, “Everyone?”

Piggy Liang smiled and said, “Other than the members of the two major regions who may not all be present, there are basically no problems with the other regions. If there’s anyone who doesn’t go to the eastern country to participate in the plenary meeting, they will all be regarded as traitors. “I feel that after watching the video of your meeting, the group leaders of those major regions don’t dare to rebel anymore... of course, it doesn’t matter even if there are some traitors. After the reorganization, the Eastern Dragon Company will develop better than before, and its strength will quickly recover to its peak.

Yu Tian said, “I mean... for example, the operations department and Intelligence Department. Are they suitable to hold meetings with other

Brother Pig Liang said, “Don’t worry, I’ll arrange for the personnel to be placed separately. For those who are not suitable to show their faces, I’ll prepare a mask, sunglasses, and a cap for them...”

Yu Tian sighed. "It's up to you... is there still no news from the mouse squad?"

Brother pig said, "I've found some clues. The witnesses have seen the cars of the Kronin Society. The police are still tracking the whereabouts of these cars.

"Unfortunately, there are still too few surveillance cameras on the streets of wind country. If they were in our eastern country, these rats would definitely have nowhere to hide..."

Yu Tian was speechless. "Nonsense. If these rats were to run to the eastern country, just the color of their skin would make it so that they would have nowhere to hide.

Brother pig smiled and said, "That's why it's definitely the safest if the headquarters is in the eastern country.

Yu Tian sighed and said, "Then you should act quickly. I need the Eastern Dragon Company to stabilize as soon as possible and then become stronger. Also, remember to inform me when you have news of the rat squad. I want to make a trip personally."

Brother pig said, "The Ancients said that the son of a thousand gold would not sit in the throne, the son of a hundred gold would not ride the balance, and the Saint Lord would not take advantage of the danger and be fortunate. The Ancients also said that the dangerous country would not enter, and the chaotic country would not live..."

"Where did so many ancients come from? With my abilities, what kind of accident can happen?" Pig Bro Liang said with a smile. So many genetic warriors ambushed me, yet they were unable to do anything to me. If I were to attack them instead, it would definitely be a piece of cake. "Moreover, if we were to take action against Kroni, I would definitely not be the only one taking action... we now have the Military Intelligence Bureau as a huge helper. "

"Alright, I know I can't Stop You, but you should still pay attention to your identity and not do everything yourself. "

After ending the communication, Yu Tian decided to start practicing.

The East Dragon Company needed to be stronger, and he himself needed to be stronger as well.

The problem of the two internal forces in his body had to be solved as soon as possible.

Otherwise, if he were to face a high-intensity battle, he would not be able to use his internal force to his heart's content. The six meridians divine sword would only become a decoration, used to execute and scare people.

According to his previous plan, he needed to fuse two different types of internal force, so that the new internal force would have two attributes and be able to absorb the internal force cultivated from two different internal forces. This was theoretically possible, but Yu Tian did not know if anyone had succeeded before.

In the novel, the carefree sect also had the beiming divine technique. This thing could absorb different internal energy and merge them together.

This thing happened to be a perfect match for Lingbo's micro-steps, and it was also very suitable for Yu Tian's current situation.

In the original novel, the protagonist used this thing to suck the Tubo monk dry and immediately became an expert. The six meridians divine sword was always successful..

Unfortunately, Yu Tian did not have the beiming divine art in his hands, so he could only blindly figure out a way to merge his internal energy..

Chapter 1265: Chapter 1,264, stone internal strength

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian spent the whole night trying to combine the two types of internal strength.

He extracted a little bit from each of the two types of internal strength, and then tried again and again.

He tossed and turned until the middle of the night, but there was still no sign of success.

It was clearly the same essence of internal strength, but it had different attributes. It was completely unable to fit together, which puzzled Yu Tian.

What was the problem?

It would be great if he had a powerful master.

Yu Tian wanted to log into his mailbox and look at the martial arts information that he had saved. He wanted to find out if there was a solution to this kind of problem.

Unintentionally, he touched the spirit stone that the expedition team had given him.

This was a good thing.

Back when he was practicing the nameless internal strength technique, he couldn't feel anything after practicing for a long time. Fortunately, he had absorbed some inner strength from the spirit stone, and he was immediately full of urine.

Later, it was the same when he practiced the Lingbo microsteps. He couldn't feel anything even after walking around. Similarly, he absorbed some inner strength from the spirit stone, and the Lingbo microsteps began to be mastered..

Yu Tian suddenly had a thought. Wasn't the energy in this spirit stone the most original and most primitive inner strength energy?

Moreover, it was omnipotent and did not conflict with any internal energy.

Why couldn't he convert all of his internal energy into the state of the energy in the Spirit Stone?

Yu Tian immediately took out the spirit stone and began to experiment.

In order to convert his internal energy into the energy in the spirit stone, he had to first understand the nature and state of this primitive energy.

Yu Tian injected a little bit of internal energy into the spirit stone. When the energy in the spirit stone began to surge out, it immediately stopped.

The amount of energy that surged into his body was not much. He began to carefully feel the state of this kind of primordial energy.

If color was used to describe this energy, the primordial energy in the Spirit Stone was transparent. The internal energy produced by the nameless internal art and the gentle steps of the soaring waves were colored and more turbid.

Yu Tian wanted to try to transform his internal energy into the pure state of the original energy, but it seemed that he was unable to complete this operation.

He felt that he had yet to understand the characteristics of the original energy, so he did not know the principle behind the formation of this pure state.

Perhaps it was because there was too little of this original energy, so it was difficult for him to notice its characteristics.

Therefore, Yu Tian decided to increase the extraction of the energy from the spirit stone.

According to the previous operation, the more energy was input, the more energy should be returned.

Therefore, Yu Tian hardened his heart and decided to do something big.

He gathered the energy and poured it into the spirit stone.

However, a strange thing happened. The spirit stone actually stopped giving him energy.

Yu Tian was baffled.

Could it be that the spirit stone did not give him any energy because he had put in too much energy?

Why did it feel like he had met a swindler?

First, he would give you some benefits to seduce you and attract your investment. When you increased your investment to a certain extent, the swindler would immediately run away.

Yu Tian tried to put in a little bit of inner energy again, but the spirit stone started to give him feedback again.

Fortunately, the spirit stone was not a liar after all. It was just a dead object.

Yu Tian felt that the spirit stone was like a strange battery, with two modes of charging and discharging.

When the voltage was at a certain level, it began to discharge. When the voltage input exceeded a certain level, it began to charge.

Out of curiosity, Yu Tian began to increase his internal energy again, continuing to input the spirit stone.

As he continued to input it, he found that he could still control the internal energy that was being input into the spirit stone, and he could feel its movement inside the spirit stone.

The inside of the spirit stone was extremely vast, far from being as small as the spirit stone in his eyes.

It was like a Super Dantian inside, and the amount of internal energy that could be contained inside was millions of times more than his dantian.

Yu Tian continued to inject his internal energy and controlled his internal energy to rampage inside the spirit stone.

He walked around inside the spirit stone for a long time, but he still couldn't find where the energy inside the spirit stone was hidden.

He finally gave up searching and decided to withdraw his internal energy again.

After all, it took time to recover the internal energy, and Yu Tian didn't want to waste it.

Soon, he controlled his internal energy to return to his body.

However, he immediately realized that something was wrong.

The internal energy that he had traveled inside the spirit stone had actually changed.

It was already very close to the state of the origin energy in the spirit stone, but after all, it was the internal energy in his body, so it still had some characteristics of the original internal energy.

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. This internal force was the internal force converted from the nameless internal force. If he were to send the internal force of the Lingbo microstep into it and rotate it once, what would it look like?

Thus, he immediately controlled the internal force of the Lingbo microstep and began to travel within the spirit stone.

After traveling once and returning, the internal force of the Lingbo microstep also changed, and it also became close to the state of the Origin Energy.

With this, the two internal forces had the same characteristics. It seemed like there was a possibility of merging.

Yu Tian immediately tried to merge the two internal forces.

Very quickly, the two internal forces successfully merged together. Yu Tian finally succeeded.

The new internal force was still in the pure state close to the origin energy, but it also had some characteristics of the two internal forces.

Yu Tian was overjoyed. He was really the chosen one. He had solved the problem of merging the two different internal forces so easily.

He immediately began to practice the nameless internal force and merged the newly trained internal force with the new internal force.

Similarly, the internal force with the same characteristics easily merged together.

Then, he tried to practice the gentle steps of the waves, and merged the internal force of the gentle steps of the waves into the new internal force.

With this, all the problems were solved. In the future, whether it was the nameless mental cultivation method or the gentle steps of the waves, the new internal force could completely absorb them.

The internal force in his body finally gathered into one body and began to flow through his meridians.

He felt that he should give his new internal energy a name, or the nameless micro steps, or the Lingbo internal force..

They were all very awkward names, not as powerful as the beiming divine technique.

However, the beiming divine technique was able to absorb any internal energy. His current internal energy could only absorb these two types of internal energy he practiced.

Therefore, it was not appropriate to call it the beiming divine technique.

Yu Tian weighed the spirit stone in his hand and thought of the expedition team that had given him this treasure.

How about, in order to commemorate the friendship of the expedition team, the new inner energy would be called the expedition divine art?

This sounded even more awkward.

Forget it, it would be better to call it the stone inner energy. It was simple and practical. Moreover, the credit would be given to the spirit stone.

Yu Tian finally gave the new inner energy a terrible name. Then, he began to train hard.

He was afraid to practice because of inner strength conflict, but now he wanted to make up for it all in one breath..

Chapter 1266: Chapter 1,265, there were some good things

In the next few days, Yu Tian practiced hard.

He still went to the meeting during the day, but there was no need for him to speak at the meeting. All the work was done by the representatives of the Eastern countries.

So he only needed to concentrate on practicing, sitting in a daze like a mascot.

Yu Tian originally didn't want to go to the meeting, but Piggy Liang asked him to be there.

Because he represented the East Dragon Company, his presence at the meeting symbolized that the East Dragon Company was also involved in this international cooperation. This was very good for the image of the East Dragon Company and the future of establishing a group company openly.

Therefore, Yu Tian could only attend meetings on time every day and soak in the meeting for two hours.

When he returned to the hotel in the evening, he continued to practice. Yu Tian found time to call Mina and asked about the current situation of the red dragonfly.

In the past few days, the situation of the red dragonfly had not changed much, and the war had not completely broken out.

Mary had already discussed the issue of the Ice City Hell with other people, and the small leaders seemed to be panicking.

After all, for them, the Ice City Hell was an opponent that was almost impossible to defeat.

Therefore, there were also people who wanted to surrender, but the red dragonfly stated that the path of surrender was not realistic.

The leader who surrendered would be worse than a dog in the future.

Therefore, most of the leaders said that they would fight to the death with Ice City Hell.

The Red Dragonfly was now trying to promote this war alliance and urged the red man to lead the alliance.

At the same time, Blue Underpants hired two more killers and killed one of the leaders.

This made everyone even more anxious.

Mina estimated that these small figures would not be able to withstand the pressure and would soon join forces to launch a counterattack against Ice City Hell and the big waves.

Yu Tian did not need to worry about the red dragonfly. Mina and Barr already had a comprehensive plan and had arranged everything properly.

Yu Tian also felt that he did not need to care too much about these small matters. If he had the time, he might as well train hard and improve his limbo micro-steps.

When he received news of the mouse squad, it would be time for him to show off his skills.

During the day, other than having meetings, Yu Tian was free.

Other than training, he had nothing else to do.

However, early one morning, while Yu Tian was still practicing his micro-steps, the door of his room was slammed.

Of course, this kind of high-end hotel had a doorbell. Yu Tian could not figure out who would be so silly as to smash the door.

Of course, it was definitely not the staff of the hotel.

There was no need to worry about safety in this kind of hotel, so Yu Tian directly put on his underpants and went to open the door. Chief Hugo was standing outside the door, which surprised Yu Tian.

“Oh, Yu, you’re not even wearing pajamas...”

Yu Tian stepped aside helplessly. “I don’t have pajamas... Why are you looking for me so early in the morning?”

“I’m not looking for anything. Pm here to play with you.

Chief Hugo swaggered into Yu Tian’s room, as casually as if he was walking back to his own room.

Yu Tian was puzzled. “Play? What do you want to play?”

Chief Hugo said casually, “Of course it’s a man’s game.”

Yu Tian didn’t know what a man’s game was, but Hugo didn’t make him puzzled for long, and soon gave him an answer.

Two hours later, chief Hugo took Yu Tian to a place he called “A man’s playground.

This place was actually a shooting range, a shooting range built in the training field of a military base. Yu Tian saw some soldiers playing in the training field along the way.

These soldiers were different from common soldiers. Their training uniforms were black, and they looked more like the secret service of the police.

Yu Tian guessed that these were probably the operational personnel of the Military Intelligence Bureau.

A military base like this was usually not open to the public.

To be able to bring an outsider like Yu Tian into a military base at will, this proved that chief Hugo was very capable.

The game that Chief Hugo wanted to bring Yu Tian to play was naturally shooting.

Yu Tian was actually not very interested in this thing. On the battlefield in Damadi, he had plenty of opportunities to play with guns. It was much more enjoyable than this shooting range.

Seeing that Yu Tian was not interested, Hugo laughed and said, "I know you 've played with guns before, but you definitely haven't played with my guns before. "

"What's different about your guns?"

"Of course there are some good things. That's why I called you here.

Chief Hugo ordered the soldiers to bring their weapons up. Yu Tian took a closer look and saw that there were two exquisite miniature submachine guns.

Chief Hugo smiled as he picked up a mini submachine gun. He said to Yu Tian proudly, "Do you know about anti-material rifles?"

Yu Tian was slightly stunned. "Of course. Anti-material weapons are very common on the battlefield.

"Yes... but have you ever thought about using anti-material weapons in the

"Is there a need to use such a powerful weapon in the city?"

"Of course. For example, when we meet those genetic warriors you mentioned... "

Chief Hugo smugly winked at Yu Tian.

Yu Tian immediately understood. "This thing in your hand... could it be an anti-material weapon?"

Yu Tian looked at the short and sturdy thing in chief Hugo's hand in astonishment. He had never imagined that there would be such a mini version of an anti-material weapon.

The name of the anti-material weapon was very strange. In fact, it was a new type of large-caliber rifle.

With a large caliber, it was naturally powerful, and the recoil was even greater.

In terms of power, Yu Tian's large revolver could be considered half an anti-material weapon, but it was clearly not as good as the real anti-material weapon.

Generally, anti-material weapons were very heavy. Even the heavy ones were not convenient to carry. They could only be disassembled first and assembled on the battlefield.

Yu Tian looked carefully at the mini submachine gun in chief Hugo's hand and found that it did not look like an anti-material weapon, except for its large caliber.

Chief Hugo chuckled and did not explain. He immediately began to demonstrate the shooting effects of the weapons in his hand to Yu Tian.

He was ready to shoot in a few seconds, and then aimed at a target more than a hundred meters away.

This target was not the usual round training target, but the kind of solid concrete wall.

Bang! Bang!

A muffled gunshot rang out. Yu Tian felt that even the air seemed to be trembling.

His eyesight was very good. He could clearly see a few clouds of smoke and dust on the concrete wall in the distance. The bullets left a few deep holes in the wall..

Chapter 1267: Chapter 1,266, business

The concrete wall was very thick. The bullet did not pierce through the wall, but it left a deep hole the size of a bowl.

Yu Tian did not know how strong this wall was, but the fact that General Hugo's micro-wash could leave such a deep mark on it meant that it was not something an ordinary weapon could compare to.

Hugo put down the micro-wash in his hand and said proudly, "The power is not bad, but the bulletproof vest will definitely not be able to defend against it. It can also be used against small armored vehicles. Even if any genetic warrior were to be shot, they would also be smashed into minced meat..." "Is this gun mass-produced?"

Yu Tian also picked up a mini-gun in his hand and studied it carefully. This guy's weight was quite heavy. It seemed that the average gun was a little heavier.

However, due to the short body of the gun, it would be very convenient to use it in the city, especially in narrow spaces such as indoors.

General Hugo said with a smile, "It can be mass-produced, but it has been discontinued. We don't have much in stock either. As there aren't many cases of using this kind of weapon, the weapons dealer has no intention of continuing to produce it." "How much stock do we have now?" "More than a thousand..."

"Give me five hundred.

"Five hundred? Haha... Your Appetite is really big. This is the National Army's stock, and the arms dealer only produced a total of more than a thousand.

"Then how much can you give me?"

"Two hundred. "

General Hugo stretched out a palm, and then felt that something was wrong, so he quickly withdrew a few fingers.

Yu Tian blinked. "Then let's make it four hundred.

General Hugo quickly shook his head. "I'll give you three hundred at most. This is all the inventory I have.

Of course, Yu Tian did not believe his nonsense, but he did not continue arguing. He said straightforwardly, "Then let's make it three hundred. I'll get someone to collect the goods later and have them transfer the money to your account.

General Hugo smiled and said, "No problem. I'll get someone to prepare the goods and give you the delivery address.

The deal was quickly settled.

Yu Tian was rich and generous. He did not even ask about the price when buying things. General Hugo naturally liked to do business with such a good friend.

Of course, he was able to sell this anti-equipment micro-wash to Yu Tian not only for the sake of money.

If Yu Tian had not shown his true abilities and allowed him to recognize Yu Tian's strength, he would not have taken out these trump cards.

For people whom he thought were sissies, he would usually only take out some defective products and trash.

After the deal was settled, General Hugo began to pull Yu Tian to play target shooting.

“Guns are a weapon that we men must master. No matter how strong your bare-handed fighting ability is, you should practice your shooting skills. “In many cases, using a weapon is much easier than using your bare hands...”

General Hugo explained his theory to Yu Tian seriously, “The reason why we humans are stronger than all the living things on Earth is because we humans are good at using tools. “We have created countless tools and weapons, so we stand at the top of the biological chain...”

Yu Tian smiled and said, “Biological? You mean animals... but I don’t really like to use guns. This thing is too noisy and inconvenient to carry. Most importantly, we need to carry a lot of ammunition...”

“Guns are very necessary weapons for us to carry. If you think it’s inconvenient to carry too many bullets, you can also consider bringing a dagger. “When the bullets run out, a dagger is also a good self-defense weapon...”

“A dagger...”

A dagger was not as lethal as his hands. To him, a dagger was purely a burden.

Previously, when it was inconvenient to use internal energy, he had thought of finding a cold weapon.

However, his standard was at least that of a divine weapon.

Only a divine weapon could be used as a substitute for the six meridians divine sword. It was worth using it when he needed it.

An ordinary dagger was not as good as his flying needles and fists. It was meaningless to him.

Yu Tian had a thought and said, “I am willing to bring a cold weapon, but I am not interested in an ordinary dagger. Unless it is a legendary divine weapon...”

do you have it here?”

“What’s the standard of the legendary weapon you’re talking about?”

“Not to mention that it’s as sharp as blowing hair or cutting hair, but at least it has to cut iron as hard as mud...”

“Cut iron as mud? Is this how you easterners describe it? I think you’re not talking about cold weapons, but high-tech labor tools, such as laser cutting equipment. “But to reduce these things to portable cold weapons... I’m afraid that this can only be seen in science fiction.”

General Hugo spread his hands. “I can’t get my hands on this kind of thing. Not to mention that the current level of technology can’t produce this kind of weapon, even if there is such technology, no one would bother to use it on a cold weapon...”

For ordinary humans, as long as they could use guns to knock down their enemies from afar, they would not use cold weapons to fight their enemies in close combat.

Therefore, it was completely meaningless for people to spend a lot of effort to develop cold weapons.

No matter how powerful a cold weapon was, it was not as convenient and efficient as an ordinary hot weapon, and it was almost useless on the battlefield.

Unless it was in the era of science fiction, where the technology of armor and shield was so powerful that even guns and bullets could not hit it, then they would consider developing a powerful close-combat weapon.

However, in this era, the idea of Yu Tian wanting to get a godly weapon was very unrealistic.

General Hugo’s words made Yu Tian feel very bored. The scene of him holding a long sword and slaughtering everyone on the battlefield was completely gone from his mind.

He said helplessly, “The current level of technology isn’t bad. Isn’t there a type of cold weapon that can cut through bulletproof vests?”

“Theoretically speaking, there are cold weapons that can destroy bulletproof vests. “As long as you have enough strength... there are still many alloy materials to choose from. As long as the weapon is harder than those bulletproof steel plates and ceramics, it will be fine. “However... why do you have to challenge the bulletproof vest?”

“Bulletproof vests are not omnipotent. There are many ways to deal with them. “Other than anti-material weapons, I feel that things like flashbangs and poison gas bullets will also have a certain effect on them. “If you want to engage in close-range combat, you can also use techniques like wrestling and grappling to avoid their bulletproof vests...

“I know, I’ve broken their necks before, but I hope to have a more efficient method, such as directly splitting them with a knife...”

“Well... It’s not like you don’t have the kind of weapons you want..

Chapter 1268: Chapter 1267, custom-made cold weapons

Yu Tian’s interest was piqued. “What weapons?”

General Hugo said slowly, “That’s a bit too much.. if you want to find cold weapons, you have to look at the ancient battlefield. The ancient people were the experts in using cold weapons. “They used many weapons to deal with heavy armor. In the west, we mainly use nail hammers, war hammers, page hammers, chain hammers, heavy axes...”

Yu Tian immediately came back to his senses.

That’s right. If bulletproof vests were used as armor, then they could only use heavy weapons that could break through armor.

He frowned and said, “Modern bulletproof vests are much sturdier than ancient heavy armor. can things like hammers and axes have an effect on

(‘You can’t compare them like that. The strength of bulletproof vests is divided into levels, and the heavy armor of the ancient people is also divided into levels. Whether heavy weapons can have an effect depends on how strong you are...

“Then wouldn’t I have to carry a guy that weighs tens to hundreds of pounds with me?”

“That’s not necessary. The weapons of the ancient people are not that heavy. Otherwise, they would die of exhaustion after only a few hits on the battlefield. “They mainly rely on the impact of the horse’s impact, and then with a gentle swing of the hammer, they can create a very lethal effect... so as long as you have enough strength, a weapon that weighs a few pounds is enough.”

“Enough strength... although I do have some strength, it’s still a little difficult to break the bulletproof vest.

“There’s no need to break the bulletproof vest, don’t keep thinking about breaking the bulletproof vest. The ancient people used heavy weapons to kill their enemies, but they might not be able to break the enemy’s armor... As long as they kill the enemy hiding in the armor, isn’t that enough?”

General Hugo patiently explained, ('Think about it, will those people wearing bulletproof vests also be injured? "Although bullets can 't penetrate their bulletproof vests, they can often break their ribs and shatter their internal organs..."

Yu Tian smiled. "Yes, I can hit their heads with a hammer. Their bulletproof helmets might not be able to withstand the impact, so it's not bad to hit them into a concussion..."

General Hugo also smiled. "Yes, you're right. Even if their bulletproof helmets can withstand your attack, their necks can't. If you hit them with so much strength, their necks will definitely break..."

Yu Tian smiled. "That's right, so I only need a hammer... do you have this kind of cold weapon here?"

General Hugo said, "I don't have it here. I'm in the army, so I don't have so many strange cold weapons... but I can make one for you."

Yu Tian said, "Then make one for me... how long will it take to make this

"It won't take long. Hammers are very simple..."

General Hugo hesitated for a moment and said, "Actually, I think that a weapon-type hammer is too big. If you want to carry it with you, you'd better get a smaller weapon."

Yu Tian was puzzled. "A smaller weapon? Is it heavy enough? Can it have the same lethality as a hammer?"

General Hugo said, "The problem of weight is easy to solve. I can get you some special high-density metals. They're not big, but they're surprisingly heavy..."

"What kind of metal?"

"It must be good stuff." General Hugo D0inted at the top of his head mysteriously. "The metal from the Moon..."

"Oh..."

Yu Tian came to a realization.

It was not unusual to get metal from the Moon. The major countries in the world had already landed on the moon and started to develop and research on the Moon.

Even some small countries had the ability to land on the moon, but they were limited by their financial and financial ability and did not take action.

The major countries had already started to mine the Moon's minerals and had discovered some new elements.

The high-density metal that General Hugo had mentioned had already been discovered, and it was first discovered by the eastern countries, so it was directly named the key.

The key was a polyphonic word in the eastern countries. It could read the Moon or the key.

Because the cost of mining on the moon was too high, each country did not have much of the key metal in their hands, so they could only use it for research work.

General Hugo said that he could get the key metals, and Yu Tian suddenly had a headache.

It was not for other reasons, but because the key metals were too expensive.

Not to mention the cost of mining and smelting on the moon, even transporting these things back was a huge project.

Even if a rich ore was found, the metal content of the ore was extremely high. A kilogram of key metals would at least bring back more than ten kilograms of ore.

For space flight, an extra kilogram of weight would cost an unknown amount of money.

Using key metal to forge weapons, even if it was mixed with a little key metal alloy, the cost would be ridiculously high.

Yu Tian doubted the necessity of spending so much money just to forge a cold weapon that was not necessary.

But he soon felt relieved.

Anyway, Donglong company was not short of money. As a boss, he did not spend much on personal expenses. It was not an excessive thing to spend a lot of money to buy a toy for himself.

So Yu Tian said straightforwardly, "I want it! Help me get a key metal hammer!"

General Hugo smiled, "No problem, but this thing is a little expensive. I estimate that it will cost hundreds of millions..."

"Money is not a problem. "

"It's so good to have money..."

General Hugo sighed with envy and said, "Actually, I don't think you need to forge a hammer because it's too strange to carry a hammer around with you. It feels a little like a psycho killer..."

"Then what kind of weapon do you want to forge?"

"Didn't your eastern country have many types of heavy weapons in the ancient wars? Whips, Mace, Hammer, club... There are many styles. Moreover, things like whips, Mace, and club look like a stick, or rather a walking stick. It's not strange to carry them on one's body..."

"Are you saying that at my age, it's more suitable to carry a walking stick?"

"That's not necessary. It's enough to make it as long as an ordinary police baton. If it were made as long as a walking stick... I'm afraid it would weigh nearly a hundred pounds.

"Then make it according to the length of the baton. It should be enough."

"It's definitely enough. The key metal alloy that is as long as a baton should weigh at least twenty to thirty catties. An ordinary person wouldn't be able to use it at all... Are You sure you want this thing?"

"I'm sure. Hurry up and help me make it."

A weight of twenty to thirty catties didn't pose any pressure to Yu Tian at all.

Those ordinary generals in ancient times could even lift a weapon of over 10 Jin to fight. As a martial arts expert, it was naturally not difficult for him to use a weapon of 20 to 30 Jin.

Actually, Yu Tian could still use a heavier weapon, but there was no need for it..

Chapter 1269: Chapter 1268, attitude of a great country

Imagine what it would feel like if an ordinary hammer were to hit your body, and those labor tools would at most weigh one or two catties.

Even the hammer used to forge iron would only weigh a few catties.

On the ancient battlefield, weapons weighing 20 to 30 catties had basically reached their limits, and not many people knew how to use them.

It was not that those generals could not carry a weapon weighing 20-30 jin, but that few people could carry such a heavy weapon and continue fighting on the battlefield.

Not to mention the modern society. The weapon that Yu Tian had customized was probably unique in the world. Other than himself, no one would be interested in such a weapon.

The next day, Yu Tian's new weapon was delivered to his hands.

The anti-material submachine guns were also taken by the Wild Fox Secret Service team that rushed over from the mini bull market overnight.

The guns and ammunition cost five million. The price of a single gun was more than ten thousand, which was slightly more expensive than those anti-material sniper rifles.

In addition, there were all kinds of accessories, such as red-point sights, accessories that were mounted on grenade launchers, and so on

With sufficient ammunition, five million was not too expensive.

Yu Tian's weapon was a little expensive. The price was 100 million.

In fact, such a small amount of key metal alloy was not worth 100 million, because the weapon was not made of pure key metal. It also needed other metal materials to be combined to make it tougher and sturdier.

General Hugo did not want this thing to be deformed after Yu Tian knocked it a few times.

The reason why it was expensive was that this alloy was hard to get, and it was also very difficult to process.

The final product looked ordinary. It was a short stick with strange patterns engraved on it, disguised as an antique piece of art.

Carving patterns was the most difficult part of the process, but General Hugo felt that this disguise was very necessary. At least when Yu Tian carried this short stick with him, it looked more like a totem relic that had been unearthed from some civilization ruins.

This suited his identity as a tycoon, carrying an antique with him to play with.

In addition, these rough and strange patterns also had a skid-proof effect. It was not so easy for Yu Tian to get rid of it when he was waving the short stick and beating people.

Yu Tian began to adapt to his new weapon. He had never been in the habit of using this kind of weapon.

This thing was not as long as an arm, but it seemed to weigh more than 30 pounds.

General Hugo said that this was a gift from him out of friendship, and he would not increase the price.

Yu Tian tried waving his pole a few times. It felt rather smooth, and the weight was completely acceptable.

He could not wait to find a few genetic warriors to try out his new weapon.

However, he still had a meeting to attend. The afternoon was the final meeting of this international conference, and all countries would make the final decision during this meeting.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Yu Tian arrived at the venue on time.

As usual, he dawdled for more than half an hour before the leaders of the various countries got online at a leisurely pace.

Yu Tian still did not need to speak. The task of presiding over the meeting was handed over to the representatives of the eastern countries.

The eastern countries did not dawdle. After a simple opening speech, they once again expressed the eastern countries' attitude.

As the other convenor of the conference, the eastern countries' attitude had always been very clear. They wanted to list the clone society as a terrorist group and launch an all-out attack on it.

Today was the last meeting. Yu Tian needed to wait for the other countries to make a final statement.

Actually, it was not very difficult to list the clone society as a terrorist group. It was much easier than making other policy decisions.

The trouble was what measures these countries would take against the KLONI Society after this.

Yu Tian not only needed other countries to identify it as a terrorist group, but also needed everyone to work together to launch a siege against the KLONI society.

This was a matter that required the help of people. It was not just a matter of shouting a few slogans.

The Big Boss of Old Mao was the first to express his stance. "We have carefully analyzed the information of the KLONI society... There is no doubt that this is a terrorist group, and they are conducting very inhumane biochemical research. This kind of evil is not tolerated by our society... Therefore, our old Mao country will publicly declare the KLONI society as a terrorist group. And in the fight against the clone society, we will spare no effort to cooperate with other relevant parties, including the state and non-governmental organizations."

Non-governmental organizations naturally referred to Yu Tian and the Donglong Company. This meant that old Mao would also cooperate with the Donglong Company and give the Donglong company some convenience in many aspects.

Old Mao's attitude was also within Zhu Geliang's expectations.

Because Old Mao had been getting closer to donglong over the years, as long as Donglong agreed, they would basically agree.

In addition, Old Mao also needed the investment of large group companies. The development of many industries in their country required a large amount of foreign capital.

Therefore, they had already had preliminary communication with Zhu Geliang in the past two days. After the reorganization, Donglong Company would increase its investment in old Mao, and both sides would do a mutually beneficial deal.

This result was not surprising. Yu Tian was slightly relieved and continued to wait for the other countries to express their views.

However, the attitude of the other countries was somewhat ambiguous. They seemed to be waiting for the coal country's opinion.

The coal country's president waved his hand casually. "I've discussed it with my advisers. The evidence we have at the moment is not enough to determine that the Kronin Association is a terrorist organization. "Moreover, we've never heard of the name of this organization before, nor have we found any signs of their activities or existence... so, we still have to continue our investigation and collect evidence. When we can really prove that they are carrying out terrorist activities, our coal nation... of course, we will be the first to kill them! Yu Tian frowned. It was obvious that the people of the coal nation did not intend to get involved in this matter.

He did not believe that there would be no traces of activity in the coal country. The coal country was known as the richest country in the world. That should be an important position for the people of the coal country to obtain funds.

The reason why the president of the coal country expressed such a stance was probably purely to oppose the eastern country and the old Mao country. This was one of his few remaining hobbies.

Everyone knew about the dangers of terrorism. However, the president of the coal country did not seem to be in a hurry as there were no planes crashing into their heads.

He just wanted to take a good look at the eastern and old Mao countries.

The coal nation president's attitude made the other countries' attitudes more subtle.

The president of the United States immediately scratched his bird nest-like hair, he pretended to say, "The United States has the same opinion. We Can't confirm whether the organization known as the Clone Society really exists. After all, they have never appeared in public or announced their existence. "If we identify a non-existent organization as a terrorist group... that would be hilarious..

Chapter 1270: Chapter 1,269, the protection of the DONGLONG company

I'm laughing at you, Motherf * cker..

Yu Tian knew that there was no hope for the United States anymore. This kid had already gone to watch the show with the coal country.

Piggy Liang said through his earpiece, "It's fine. Their attitude is within our expectations. '(I don't know what the demands and purposes of the clone society are, but they definitely didn't create so many genetic warriors for peaceful demonstration. "When the clone society starts to cause trouble and sabotage in the territories of these countries, these countries will definitely come and beg to cooperate with us and share our information...

Yu Tian muttered softly, "I'm afraid that we'll have to wait for a long time. Other than earning money to do research, the Clone Society hasn't done anything noteworthy.

Piggy Liang said, "That's hard to say... In short, even without the involvement of these countries, we already have the support of the two big bosses, the eastern country and the old Mao country. "We will continue to fight against Kroni, and we will definitely be invincible.

Yu Tian nodded silently. "That's right, these two big shots are already considered half the power of the world..."

Piggy Liang said, "Not only that, the best investment market in the world is currently in the eastern country. "Therefore, in the future, not only will we place our headquarters in the eastern country, we will also place the focus of the business sector in the eastern country. This place will take up at least half of our investment..." "

Yu Tian suddenly understood and said, "Then we will really be in an invincible position..."

Brother pig said, "That's right. The situation in the eastern country is stable and the people are pure. It will be very difficult for external forces to blend in. "Our business investment in the eastern country can basically guarantee our safety. We don't have to worry about being attacked by armed forces. We also don't have to worry about the situation of the winery being suddenly arrested by the authorities..."

Yu Tian nodded. "At least at this stage, our relationship with the authorities of the eastern country is still very good.

Brother pig said, "Yes, because we have this value and have made great contributions and contributions to the country... I've read some confidential documents of the DONGLONG company in the past. The donglong company imported a large amount of technology from overseas, including some military technology, and secretly sent it back to China..."

In fact, the foreign countries had been keeping a technological blockade on the eastern country. This situation could be seen by ordinary people. The situation of the foreign countries suppressing the eastern companies had always been very serious.

The foreign officials had almost reached the level of hostility toward the eastern country. They restricted the trading of goods related to the eastern country, restricted the sale of shares, and restricted all legitimate and legal business activities.

As long as the east could buy things with money, they would stop it by any means. They would never let the east acquire advanced technology in related industries.

Even if the East wanted to buy a retired aircraft carrier that was like scrap metal, they would stop it by any means.

They felt that the east should be a cheap exporter of raw materials and then import some expensive technological products and luxury goods at a high price.

Fortunately, the Oriental people worked hard and independently developed a lot of new technologies over the years, which gave them the capital to communicate and trade with foreign countries, as well as the ability to counter and blackmail.

In earlier times, many key technologies were actually stolen through some patriot organizations.

Don't think that this is shameless, this is how the competition between countries is.

Every country had spies who were spying on each other's secrets and technologies.

When the enterprises of the eastern countries were subject to various restrictions, Donglong Company's foreign-registered enterprises played a big role.

They used the names of local enterprises to purchase high-tech goods, or to acquire some unremarkable enterprises, and then secretly send the acquired technology back to the country and sell it for a few small sums of money..

This behavior was called funding the enemy to foreigners, and meritorious service to the Easterners.

Therefore, Donglong company was a very important patriotic organization in the eyes of the Easterners'high-level officials.

There were actually many such patriotic organizations and individuals. For example, during the war years, there were many overseas Chinese who gave their all to support their motherland.

For example, during the Easterners 'peaceful development era, there were businessmen who supported domestic construction through smuggling, as well as overseas gangs who did everything they could to help the country.

These organizations and individuals would receive special treatment from the authorities. Just because their contributions were not made public, it did not mean that they did not exist.

The reason why the Eastern Dragon Company was valued by the authorities was not because they were rich.

There were many rich companies and bosses, such as some real estate businessmen.

With the organization of the Motherland in mind, the motherland would naturally take care of them accordingly.

Not to mention the distant ones, just the fact that Yu Tian had sent an ancient extraterrestrial relic to the eastern country in the middle of the country alone, the value of the scientific research in it was hard to estimate.

As for the spiritual stone that the scientific research team had feedback to Yu Tian, in the eyes of the eastern country's higher-ups, it was really insignificant.

The donglong company quickly obtained the address of the headquarters in the country, and then carried out the transfer of assets and the head. This was all given the green light by the government's higher-ups.

Therefore, the assets of the Donglong Company in China would definitely be safe and secure. There would not be any sudden incidents where the local government would come to the rescue.

With these guarantees, the DONGLONG company would have no worries in the face of the war with the KLONI association.

Even with the support of the government in China, there was no need to worry about the capital and manpower.

At the current meeting, if they could get the support of various countries, it would only be icing on the cake.

Even without the support of other countries, Donglong Company could win the war against the Kronin Association.

What Piggy Liang needed was only a little time. He needed to wait until Donglong company was slightly more stable.

Yu Tian secretly cursed the United States in his heart, but then he felt relieved.

If you want to support me, then support me. Even if you don't support me, I can work with Kroni myself.

Next was the speech of the president of the windy nation.

Yu Tian had already spent a lot of money on Victor, and he had established a good relationship with the military of the windy nation through Victor. Therefore, the decision-making of the high-level officials of the windy nation would be somewhat affected.

Therefore, the speech of the President of the windy nation was a little vague.

He had to follow the coal nation's attitude and stance, and he also had to show some friendliness to the east dragon company.

The wind nation's president could only say slowly, "From the evidence we know, there are indeed some signs that some criminal groups are conducting criminal research against humanity... of course, we will not allow such acts to exist, and we will definitely crack down and ban them according to the law, so that these criminals will be punished..."

He did not mention the KLONI society, nor did he state that he wanted to cooperate with Donglong Company.

Just fighting crime seemed to be something that every normal country should do.

“There shouldn’t be any problems with our actions in the wind country,” Zhu

Geliang said indifferently in Yu Tian’s ear

Yu Tian was too lazy to bother trying to figure out what these politicians were thinking. After all, he no longer cared about the attitudes of other countries.

The war between the Donglong Company and the Clone Society had already begun. Regardless of whether there was support or not, it had to continue.

A person like Yu Tian, who had great personal strength, was somewhat similar to a technical person who was arrogant because of his talent.

They preferred to rely on their own ability to make a living, rather than relying on their connections and connections to seek external support and help. Yu Tian was the same.

If it weren’t for Piggy Liang’s request, he would at most have the patience to waste two days at the venue.

If the big countries didn’t have the intention to work together with him, he would have to leave on the third day.

He preferred to use his own powerful force to eliminate his enemies, rather than dawdling here to look for allies.

His favorite allies were allies like General Hugo, who could be easily dealt with with just a few words and only needed to spend money.

The attitude of the wind nation wasn’t particularly satisfactory, but Piggy Liang felt that it was enough.

Although the wind nation didn't openly support the Donglong Company and agree with the eastern and old Mao countries, they at least made a promise to fight crime.

From the current situation in the mini-bull market, the genetic warriors of the clone society were obviously criminals, and they were also very bad armed criminals.

Yu Tian had spent so much money in the wind nation, especially on the Military Intelligence Bureau and military personnel. Of course, they had to help the Donglong Company fight crime.

Therefore, Zhu Geliang said that the windy nation just did not express its position on the surface.

This was also quite common in western countries. It was a set of words, but who knew what the actual actions would be.

How to fight against the Kronian faction of the windy nation, how much effort to fight against these forces, these things depended on how much money the Donglong Company was willing to spend.

The President and Congress did not have a clear attitude, but they would not interfere with what was done locally.

The wind country was a multi-party republican system. Although it was also centralized, there were different factions within it. Some things could not be unified.

In addition, the powers of the various regions and provinces of the wind country were also very large.

They used to be highly centralized. Later, through reforms, they delegated their powers to the local councils. They removed the central custody of the local governments and strengthened the autonomy of the local councils.

Therefore, the local authorities could make their own decisions on certain matters.

Just like the various continents in the coal country, even the laws were not the same.

If donglong company wanted to deal with the Kronin Society, it did not necessarily have to convince the president and the Parliament of the windy nation.

As long as the President and the Parliament remained silent, they could completely strike deals and cooperate with the local authorities.

If the local parliament was willing to support them, they could also mobilize official forces to encircle and attack the Kronin Society's forces.

Of course, the name wouldn't be anti-terrorism. It could only be used to fight crime.

Piggy Liang felt that this outcome wasn't too bad. At the very least, their actions in the mini bull market would be more justified.

With the support of the Military Intelligence Bureau, the hundred or so genetic warriors of the clone society would be much easier to deal with.

After confirming this information, Yu Tian no longer cared about the nonsense that the president of Wind Country had said. Instead, he turned around and glanced at Victor.

Victor nodded at him with a slightly smug look on his face, as if he had contributed a lot to this matter.

Wind Nation had always been part of the Coal Nation's circle of interest. It was not easy for them to have such a vague attitude.

It could be seen that Victor had played a role in this.

Following was the speech of some other second-rate countries.

There were also some countries that were stronger, such as some economic and military powers.

Although they were not on the same level as the first-rate powers, they had the strength to arm-wrestle with the first-rate powers.

These countries were also places where secret organizations were active. If they wanted to carry out a global attack on the clone society, they naturally had to participate.

Unfortunately, the attitude of these countries was rather vague. At most, they only said that they would not allow criminals to carry out illegal activities in their own countries. They did not say that they would join the team to fight against the Clone Society.

This situation was quite helpless.

Because these second-rate countries were basically the underlings of the Coal Country, they naturally had to follow in the footsteps of the Coal Country.

The Dongfang Country and Old Mao Country also had underlings, but unfortunately, their strength was relatively weak. They were basically third-, fourth-, and fifth-rate countries.

Therefore, the Dongfang Country did not invite them to participate in this kind of meeting. If there was really a need for their cooperation, they could directly communicate in private.

Those small countries basically would not go against the will of the Dongfang country and old Mao country.

Therefore, the meeting basically ended here.

The five first-rate big countries were basically divided into two groups. One group expressed support for the DONGLONG company, while the other group only wanted to watch the show for the time being.

The wind country was considered half a supporter. They would not participate in the cooperation plan between the eastern and old Mao countries, but they did not oppose the DONGLONG company making a big fuss in the wind country.

As for those second-rate countries, Zhu Gelang did not think their attitude was important.

They would naturally not be together with the east on the surface, but as a normal country, they would also not allow the clone society to cause trouble on their territory.

This meeting at least made them aware of the existence of the clone society. If the clone society really wanted to show its tracks on their territory, Zhu Gelang did not believe that they would let it go and let it go.

Therefore, no matter what the outcome of this meeting was, they had the need to convene it.

As long as they convened it, it could be considered a victory. At the very least, they had exposed the secret organization of the Clone Society.

The next step was to take action.

The most important thing for Piggy Liang now was to reorganize the Donglong Company's industry and complete the relocation of its headquarters.

In addition, he planned to join forces with Dongfang and old Mao to pressure Sanmao to find out Uncle Long's whereabouts first.

Yu Tian had no interest in doing these things personally, and brother Pig did not give him any arrangements in this regard.

Therefore, Yu Tian had nothing to do for the time being. He could only continue his battle in the mini-bull market.

He could not wait to get to the front line and use his club to taste the taste of those genetic warriors' brains.

On the night after the meeting, Yu Tian set off for the mini-bull market.

Before he left, he only greeted Victor, General Hugo, and the others.

Donglong company would send someone else to take over the work of maintaining relations with the high-level officials of wind country, including selling some companies to Victor. They would also send people to carry out specific operations.

When Yu Tian returned to the mini-bull market, it was already early in the morning.

He did not look for Mina. Instead, he asked his assistant to send him directly to the base of the Wild Fox Secret Service Team..

Translator: 549690339

The Wild Fox Secret Service team had their own base. The bull market officials had arranged a police base for them. It was a semi-military enclosed barracks.

When the assistant sent Yu Tian to the base, the main leaders of the Wild Fox Secret Service team were already standing at the door to welcome him.

Although it was already early in the morning, the time when people were most sleepy, these leaders did not dare to be negligent. No one would still be hiding under the covers at this time.

After knowing the news of Yu Tian's upcoming arrival, these people in charge all had an inexplicable feeling of excitement.

After all, it was rare for a big shot to be able to hold a meeting with the world leaders. Yu Tian's identity could also be considered as standing at the top of the world's circle.

To be able to work with such a big shot, everyone would feel somewhat honored.

Looking at the members of the DONGLONG company standing neatly in a row at the door, Yu Tian suddenly felt that this trip to the meeting was quite valuable.

He had gone to Dawn City for a meeting. Apart from the support of the Dongfang and old Mao countries, many of the high-ranking officials of the wind country had also been thrown to the ground by him with money.

But more importantly, the morale of the DONGLONG company had also improved greatly.

In the words of Zhu Ge Liang, Yu Tian had now become the spiritual leader and the living signboard of the DONGLONG company. He could unite the hearts of the people of the DONGLONG company.

This was very beneficial to the reconstruction of the East Dragon Company.

Yu Tian's car had just stopped at the entrance of the base when a few people in charge immediately came forward and opened the car door for Yu Tian.

"Hello, boss. Welcome to the base of the Wild Fox Secret Service team. I am No.

When the leader saw Yu Tian, he immediately straightened his body and reported his identity to Yu Tian.

Yu Tian raised his eyebrows. "No. 12? Is he a senior manager of our Donglong Company?

No. 12 was a little embarrassed. "No, I'm a middle-level manager. According to the new internal position system, I should be called a level three manager... I just happened to draw No. 12.

"Then your serial number will attract a lot of hatred...

"That's not true. The enemy knows that our internal serial number is irregular. They won't decide their attitude toward us based on our serial number..." A group of people escorted Yu Tian into the base.

This base was not particularly big. There were only three dormitory buildings, which looked like ordinary apartment buildings.

There was an open-air training ground outside the dormitory building, some training equipment, a shooting range, and common obstacle training facilities.

This camp was in the suburbs, and there weren't many residents nearby.

Under the late-night lights, the training ground looked a little deserted. Except for some sentries who walked around the camp from time to time, there weren't many people around.

Yu Tian followed the group into the dormitory building at the front, and only then did he know that the office area was on the first floor of the dormitory building.

There was a large conference room on the first floor, but it was the kind of combat conference room. There were no large conference tables in the conference room, only neat rows of small chairs.

In front of the conference room was a podium. There was a projection screen hanging on it, and there wasn't even a stool.

As a police force that belonged to the military, they weren't as long-winded as ordinary organizations when they held meetings. This kind of combat conference room was basically used to assign tasks and issue orders.

There were offices on both sides of the corridor, but they were not big enough to accommodate more than a dozen people.

Therefore, Yu Tian simply walked into the combat conference room.

Number 12 hesitated for a moment and then asked, "Boss, don't you need to rest now?"

"No need. Since all of you have already woken up, then accompany me to chat...

tell me about your current situation.

Yu Tian casually pulled out a chair in the conference room and sat down in the direction of the podium. More than a dozen members of the Wild Fox Secret Service team also took their seats opposite him.

After everyone sat down, Yu Tian asked unhurriedly, "How many people do you have now?"

Number 12 hurriedly stood up and said, "The current Wild Fox Secret Service team has a total of 266 people..."

Yu Tian waved his hand and said, "You're not a real soldier. There's no need to be so serious. Sit Down and talk."

Although the operational personnel were mostly used as an army, the East Dragon Company did not treat them as an army for training.

Other than the training of combat skills, there were no infantry drills like the military salute.

This was because these operational personnel had always been considered illegal existences and carried out secret missions.

If they were like soldiers, and their every movement carried heavy traces of training, it would be very easy for others to see through them and see through their identities.

When No. 12 sat down, Yu Tian asked again, "This is the entire operation branch of wind country, right?"

“Yes, all the operational personnel in wind country are gathered here. According to the headquarters ‘plan, Our Operation Department will be under the management and command of the headquarters in the future...”

No. 12 introduced to Yu Tian seriously, “In the future, we will no longer divide the regions. Instead, we will set up teams based on the countries we are in and accept the leadership of the headquarters directly. “Each team will be divided into teams, and the teams will be used as units to hide. “In the future, the operational teams will be screened and trained again. Members who do not meet the requirements of the headquarters will be transferred to other departments...

“Other departments?”

“Yes, for example, the business department...” (“Business Department? What does it do?”

“UH, it does those smuggling businesses...”

Yu Tian came to a realization. The business department sounded quite formal, but he didn’t expect it to be a department that did illegal business.

Donglong company had a lot of illegal business, but it was mainly smuggling.

Arms smuggling was just one of the more dangerous ones. In fact, there were many things that could be smuggled. In particular, some small countries that were still developing rapidly had a great demand for all kinds of commodities.

Smuggling was an import that avoided taxes. It earned benefits that should belong to the government. It was a part of the state’s financial revenue.

It was easy to imagine how big the profits were.

No. 12 continued, “The headquarters has already informed us that in the future, the managers of the gangs will be merged into the Business Department. This will make the work of the business department more convenient...”

Yu Tian nodded silently. Gangs were originally engaged in illegal business. Allowing the international smuggling groups to cooperate with the local gangs would naturally make their business more smooth.

Transferring the eliminated operational personnel to the public affairs department was equivalent to giving the public affairs department the power to mobilize their own forces.

When these smuggling syndicates and gangsters ran into trouble that they could not handle and needed to take action with force, they no longer needed to deploy manpower through the headquarters, when they took various actions and measures, they would be much more efficient..

Chapter 1273: Chapter 1,272, Clues

Translator: 549690339

Brother Pig had already mentioned this reorganization plan to Yu Tian. The operations department would be greatly reduced.

In the past, the DONGLONG company did not have many enemies, and there were very few times when they needed to use force. Therefore, the operations department was not used very often.

The operations department basically received salary for nothing. They did nothing and let the other departments of the Donglong Company live like masters.

However, the East Dragon Company was not a government of a country. There was no need for them to raise their troops for a thousand days and use them for a short period of time.

For a gang conflict like the Blue Underpants, there was no need for the professional operations department to be so exaggerated.

Using a military organization to beat up some hooligans was like using a butcher's knife to kill a chicken.

This was a job that could be done by a few gangster thugs.

The operations department was used to deal with crisis situations. For example, when the Eastern Dragon Company encountered a major change, they had to deal with powerful enemies like the clone society and powerful armed opponents like genetic warriors.

Therefore, the operations department of the Eastern Dragon Company had to be streamlined.

They had to be stronger, more elite, and more professional. They had to become existences that truly had combat strength and were comparable to elite mercenary groups.

And those jobs of being thugs for gangs and smuggling criminal groups would be left to the eliminated operational personnel in the future.

These eliminated operational personnel would become a second-tier combat force, not a full-time combat team.

Their income and treatment would also have some changes, and they would be distributed according to work by their respective departments.

According to Zhu Ge Liang's plan, it was enough for a country to have a team of 100 people.

Within the scope of a country, a military organization that only retained 100 people was already considered a very strong force.

Even if it was a confrontation with the local police force, these 100 people could still hold a considerable advantage.

If their level of expertise and training could reach half the level of the sheep mercenary group, then they would basically be able to run amok in a country.

Even the official police force would not be able to do anything to them.

Such a team was enough for Donglong Company.

If they encountered a special situation, such as the opponent being a team of over 100 genetic warriors, Donglong Company could also transfer personnel from other countries to assist them.

It was just that it was slightly more troublesome to transfer people across national borders.

The reason why the operations departments were grouped according to the countries they were in was also because of this reason. It was more convenient to transfer people within the same country.

Therefore, out of the current two to three hundred members of the Wild Fox Secret Service team, about two hundred people would be eliminated in the future.

The eliminated operational personnel would also be divided into different levels.

The more outstanding ones would basically become the armed escorts of smuggling groups and travel around the world, enjoying high-risk and high-reward treatment.

Occasionally, they would get involved in some gang disputes and fights under the arrangement of the Business Department, and they would also receive a generous bonus.

The income would not be less than the current operations department, and it might even be a little more.

However, their work would also be more and more tiring.

There would also be a portion of operations personnel who were really too weak, and they would be sent to the Ministry of Commerce to work as security guards for those companies that had serious businesses.

In many unstable regions and countries, the security guards of normal companies would also need to carry guns and weapons, and occasionally there would be fights.

The probability was not high, but it could not be said that there was no danger at all.

It was very appropriate to let the weakest operational personnel do the security work.

Yu Tian was not very clear about the future structure of the DONGLONG company. Now, he had a rough understanding through the conversation with No. 12.

In the future, the Department of Commerce and the Department of operations would be under the direct management of the headquarters.

The Department of Commerce would be an open department, while the Department of operations would be a secret department.

In addition, there was an intelligence department that was being built with greater efforts. In the future, it would also be under the direct jurisdiction of the headquarters.

These were the three most important departments that Zhu Geliang had mentioned. Business, operations, and intelligence.

In addition, the previous public relations department was directly merged into the Department of Commerce. The donglong company would appear in front of the world as a whole and become an international group company.

The business of the Ministry of Public Affairs, which was done in secret, was divided into several branches and was managed independently.

Piggy Liang would replan the regions and divide the eight regions into five branches.

The illegal business of the Ministry of Public Affairs and some local gangs operated independently in the form of branches.

The headquarters would only supervise and collect money.

This structure had basically been confirmed, and there would be a lot of adjustments in the future.

After understanding these things, Yu Tian began to ask about the work of the

The Wild Fox Secret Service team now had an official identity, and they had joined forces with the police force of the mini bull market to investigate the case of the mouse team being attacked.

This matter had a great impact in the windy nation, and it was also considered a big case in the mini bull market.

Before this, the Nogitsune Secret Service team could only be considered to be assisting in the investigation. They didn't have the power to enforce the law, nor did they have the right to go directly to the streets to investigate the case.

But these two days, they suddenly received permission to carry out law enforcement and investigation in mini-bull city.

This was the result of ?Donglong Company's high-level operation in wind country, as well as the result of sending a lot of benefits to mini-bull city's city hall.

So the Nogitsune Secret Service began to search the streets for witnesses, and searched everywhere for a few surveillance videos.

With such a large-scale investigation, they also found some clues.

But this clue was not very good.

The evidence showed that the genetic warriors of the Clone Society had been evacuated from Maverick.

And they suspected that the genetic warriors had been evacuated from the sea.

On that day, there was a large number of small cargo vehicles that could be transported from the city to the port.

These vehicles stopped at the port for less than half an hour before returning to a certain transportation company in the city.

Generally speaking, it was impossible for the cargo vehicles to finish unloading at the port in half an hour.

For some heavy cargo that required mechanical unloading, it would take a lot of time to arrange forklift trucks.

Even if there were only some light cargo that could be easily discharged by manpower, it would be difficult to complete it in half an hour.

This had to do with the efficiency of the western workers. They would not tire themselves just to earn a few wages.

So the small cargo vehicles are very suspicious.

The Nogitsune Secret Service checked the ownership of the cargo vehicles, found that the vehicles belong to the transport company.

As expected, the cargo vehicles were rented out in the last few days..

Chapter 1274: Chapter 1,273, more investigative methods

Translator: 549690339

At this point, the results were obvious.

In order to avoid leaving any more traces, the Kronin Society rented a small cargo vehicle directly in the Maverick market for the transportation of people and weapons and equipment.

The rental vehicle only needed to leave the passport information, as well as enough money, and there would be no other clues that could be investigated.

However, the passport wasn't worth investigating because the members of the clone society would definitely use fake identity information.

Therefore, the Nogitsune Secret Service team could only get surveillance footage from the transport company and find the video of the rental car owner. Then, they could perform facial recognition on the rental car owner. However, the facial recognition result didn't yield any results because there was no information about this person in the wind country's identity system.

Obviously, the person who rented the car had entered the country illegally and did not have any identity registration in the wind country.

The clues stopped here.

On the 12th, someone was sent to the dock to investigate, but the cargo dock in the Mini Bull City was too big. Moreover, most of the area on the dock was not covered by surveillance, and many places were blocked by the containers.

It was impossible to find out where the minivans had unloaded their cargo and which ship they had delivered it to.

The Nogitsune Secret Service investigation could not be said to have yielded no results, but the results were not meaningful.

So far, they still did not know the whereabouts of the missing mouse team.

Kroni would sail from the port of the mini bull market, and he could send the missing people to any corner of the Earth.

Even if they were in a hurry and didn't want to go too far, there were still many countries nearby to choose from.

Whether it was sending people in container containers or smuggling them in, it was very convenient.

Now, the Wild Fox Secret Service team was also helpless. They could only aimlessly search for witnesses and insiders on the dock, hoping that someone could provide some clues.

The Kronian unloading process was very short. It was basically moving some weapons and equipment, plus the hostages of the mouse team.

However, no matter how long the unloading process was, it was not necessarily impossible to be seen by others.

If there were other dock workers, or other companies unloading the cargo, they might also notice them, and perhaps remember which ship they were on.

This might be the only way to break through.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team had been doing this all day, searching for the dock workers and other companies that were loading and unloading the cargo at this dock that day.

However, they did not have any new clues for the time being, and Yu Tian was helpless at this time.

After chatting for half an hour, Yu Tian ended the conversation.

After letting the people in charge go back to rest, he went into the bedroom that he had already arranged and started to practice.

Yu Tian basically didn't need to sleep now. His sleep was to lie on the bed, close his eyes, and then practice the nameless internal strength.

This was a process of rest for him, and he entered a state of half-sleep.

Within two to three hours, he had achieved the effect of a normal sleep, and his mental fatigue was swept away.

At this time, Yu Tian began to practice the gentle steps of the wave.

In terms of the speed of internal energy cultivation, the gentle steps of the wave was more efficient. Moreover, after familiarizing himself with the strange steps of the gentle steps of the wave, he had an advantage in battle.

The next morning, the Wild Fox Secret Service team was mobilized again. They were divided into dozens of teams and sent out to continue searching for clues.

Yu Tian called Brother Pig and asked if brother pig could find out the whereabouts of the mouse team.

Brother Pig was also helpless. "Boss, Pm very busy, okay. "I've returned home safely with the headquarters team, including some important people scattered around the country. "I'm still busy building a new organizational structure. How can I have time to deal with the mouse team... If I do everything myself, won't I die of exhaustion like Zhuge Liang?"

Yu Tian scratched his head and said, "Then can you find some professional investigators to help investigate this case?"

Brother pig smiled and said, "It seems that you still care about the mouse squad. "

Yu Tian sighed and said, "After all, you've been with me for so long, and you've been on the battlefield together. What do you mean, you've carried guns together..."

"You don't have to worry. There will be professional investigators. ". "That General Hugo has done so much business with you. Their Military Intelligence Bureau should be moving soon. 'Y . "You can wait for another two days. If there are still no new clues, you can also hire a private detective.". "Private detectives are usually much more efficient than the case-handling staff of the Xiaoxi Police. Perhaps there will be some unexpected gains..."

"Private detectives?"

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. This might be a good idea.

Private detective firms were more common in Western countries. Many professionals ran their own private detective firms, and many of them were outstanding police officers. After leaving their jobs or retiring, they started working again.

It was just that technology had developed too quickly in recent years. The police relied on a large number of technological means to cooperate in handling cases, including all kinds of surveillance, all kinds of big data information, all kinds of tests, and physical evidence analysis.

This method of investigation was naturally much more systematic and advanced than those private detectives who worked independently.

Without these powerful logistical support, most of the private detectives fell into decline and became specialized in finding cats and dogs.

However, there were also some private detectives who had mastered certain skills and still made a living in this industry.

Yu Tian suddenly felt that it was actually not bad to try their luck with a few private detectives. At the very least, they would work harder than the authorities in handling cases.

Then, he would hire a little more private detectives, which would also have the effect of casting a wide net. The chances of encountering luck would also be higher.

The entourage that had accompanied him to the meeting in Dawn City had already returned to the headquarters. Now, Yu Tian was alone, which made it much more convenient for him.

Yu Tian was not familiar with the mini-bull market. The Wild Fox Secret Service team had also been transferred from other places, so they were also not familiar with the situation in the mini-bull market.

If he wanted to find a suitable private detective, he had to ask the local gangsters in the mini-bull market.

The best local gangsters were naturally the hooligans under the blue underpants and red dragonfly gangs.

The most thing the hooligans did every day was to wander around the streets and pay attention to the trivial things that happened in their territory.

If anything happened, they would immediately report it to their bosses. They hoped that the information would be valuable and that they could get some rewards from their bosses..

Chapter 1275: Chapter 1,274, reward

These hooligans were born to be intelligence officers, and they were all local local tyrants.

Many police officers liked to catch two hooligans and let them act as informants for themselves, providing them with criminal intelligence on the territory under their jurisdiction.

Yu Tian felt that not only could he get blue underpants and red dragonfly to introduce him to good private detectives, but he could also get these two hooligans under the gangs to help him scout for information.

He found a small car without a police logo from the Wild Fox Secret Service Station and rushed to Blue Underpants' territory.

On the way, he called several leaders of blue underpants to inform them of his upcoming arrival and confirm the location of the meeting.

Then, he called Mina and told her the same news.

Mina was hiding in Blue Underpants' territory, a secret residence arranged by Barr himself, and two female assistants were arranged for her.

The main role of the assistants was to run errands, such as shopping for Mina in the supermarket.

They wanted to avoid Mina's appearance outside as much as possible in order to prevent hostile forces from taking the risk of assassinating Mina in blue underpants' territory.

Yu Tian was going to meet the leaders of blue underpants. He felt that he should inform Mina about this matter. As for whether Mina would come and meet him, that was Mina's own business.

Mina was somewhat at risk of exposing her whereabouts when she went out, but after hearing the news of Yu Tian's arrival, she still went out without hesitation.

It didn't take long for Yu Tian to arrive at the meeting place arranged by Blue Underpants.

This was a private house with a single door and courtyard.

The house was a little old, and the decoration was relatively simple. It looked like an ordinary house.

This was a residential neighborhood, surrounded by similar houses. The street was relatively quiet. Except for one or two cars that passed by occasionally, there were hardly any pedestrians.

Yu Tian stopped the car at the roadside in front of the house and looked at the mailbox in front of the house.

The Mailbox was made into the shape of a large pumpkin, and its features were very conspicuous.

This was the agreed location of the Blue Underpants.

At this time, a young Caucasian man walked quickly over from the roadside.

When he reached Yu Tian's side, the young man whispered, "Boss, I'm Mr. Barr's assistant. I'll help you drive the car away."

Yu Tian nodded and handed the car keys to him.

This small detail proved that Barr was still very careful. If there were too many unfamiliar cars parked at the entrance of this house, it would indeed arouse the curiosity and even suspicion of the neighbors.

NOW, this house was Obviously used as a secret gathering place, similar to a safe house.

Barr's arrangements and arrangements were also considered more appropriate.

Yu Tian walked forward. Before he could knock on the door, the door was opened from the inside.

Obviously, the people in the house had been paying attention to the movements outside, so they were able to notice Yu Tian's arrival in time.

After entering the house, Yu Tian found that the leaders of the blue underpants, as well as Mina, were all present.

"Hello, boss. Welcome back."

Batiste, Barr, and the others greeted Yu Tian respectfully. Mina went forward and gave Yu Tian a gentle hug.

This was a very common etiquette in the west. Mina had grown up in the wind country and had long been accustomed to this kind of hugging etiquette.

Only Yu Tian felt slightly uncomfortable.

He let everyone sit down in the living room and then went straight to the point. "I came here this time to ask for a favor from you guys..."

“Boss, please say it. We will go through fire and water without hesitation. ”

The leaders of the blue underpants immediately expressed their loyalty and rubbed their fists as if they were going to fight for Yu Tian.

Yu Tian said helplessly, “There’s no need to be so nervous. It’s not a big deal. I need to find a few private detectives to help investigate a case. ”

“Private detectives?”

The few leaders looked at each other. “It seems that it’s rare to see such creatures nowadays, right?”

Yu Tian frowned and said, “Although this industry is rare now, there should still be a few, right?”

Baptiste Thought for a moment, he said, “I do know a few police consultants. They used to work in a private detective agency. “But now that they have changed careers and have their own main professions, they may not have the time to do private detective work.”

Yu Tian waved his hand. “There’s no time or nothing... give them a reward of one million yuan. Whoever can investigate the matter clearly will get one million yuan. “Even if they don’t get the results, as long as they work hard to investigate, they can be given the salary they deserve!

Baptiste nodded. “I’ll give it a try. I should be able to convince them to serve the boss... So, what exactly does the boss need to investigate?”

“You should all have heard about this...” Yu Tian paused for a moment. “It’s the terrorist attack that happened a few days ago at a hotel...”

“Oh...”

Everyone suddenly understood.

This matter was not exposed on the television news, but it had spread far and wide among the citizens of the mini bull market. It was even spread very exaggeratedly.

Gangsters like blue underpants had always paid more attention to this kind of matter.

Which family had a conflict in their territory, which family’s Big Boss had a conflict, and which family’s people had been replaced by the police..

All these news, big and small, would be spread to the ears of the big shots of the various gangs through various channels.

Such a large-scale armed attack, coupled with the outbreak of high-intensity fire, attracted the attention of all the gangs in the Mini Bull City.

Everyone could not help but start to guess the identity of these armed men, and to find out information from each other, wanting to see if this matter was related to any local gang.

What the gang bosses were most worried about was whether this kind of thing would happen to them or their own gangs.

Sometimes, the gangs were even more intolerant of such unscrupulous crimes than the police.

From a certain point of view, the gangs and the police were also protecting the city's order, but the rules and methods used were not quite the same.

Everyone came to a sudden realization, and Baptiste could not help but say, "So it's about this matter... what exactly does boss want to investigate? Is it the murderer who launched this attack?"

Yu Tian said, Everything has to be investigated, including the murderer who launched the attack, including the whereabouts of the people who were attacked... those peripheral members of your subordinates can also participate in this investigation. If they can obtain important clues and information, I can also give them a heavy reward.

Baptiste nodded and said, "Okay, boss, I will let my subordinates pay attention to this matter..."

"No, not pay attention..

Chapter 1276: Chapter 1,275, action

Yu Tian said seriously, "What I want is for you to mobilize all your forces to investigate this matter with all your might.

Everyone was puzzled.

Barr could not help but ask, "Boss, does this matter have a lot to do with the organization? Can you tell us the specific situation?"

Yu Tian sighed. "There's nothing that we can't tell you... the ones who were attacked this time were a few of our organization's operational branches." Barr suddenly came to a realization. "I see..."

After a slight pause, Barr asked in embarrassment, ‘(Miss Emily should be fine, right? At that time... he seemed to have gone to the beach with us.

Yu Tian shook his head. (‘Emily also disappeared. After you left in the motorboat that day, we were attacked.

Yu Tian said, “This hostile organization is called the Kronin Society. The group of militants who attacked me and the militants who attacked the hotel are the military forces of the Kronin Society. Moreover, they are the most elite operational team in their hands. Their combat strength is very strong.

Barr frowned and said, “There are also more than fifty operational members of our organization who were attacked?”? It was said that there were only a few dozen militants who attacked the hotel. Under the circumstances where their strength was roughly equal, how could they complete the sneak attack so easily and quickly?”

Yu Tian said solemnly, “That’s why they are all true elites... if we let them fight with your blue underpants, Pm afraid that a few people will be able to wipe you all out. ”

Barr said in surprise, “Is it that exaggerated?”

Yu Tian said, I’m not exaggerating. These enemies are all wearing heavy bulletproof equipment with strong defense. “Moreover, their bodies have been specially modified. They have a strong physique and are not afraid of pain. They basically won’t bleed and are also very difficult to get hurt... You Don’t want to fight with them.

Barr was immediately stunned. “How can there be such enemies? Are they still human?”

Yu Tian shook his head. “In short, if you find any relevant clues, don’t act rashly. Just inform me directly.

Barr said seriously, “We will do our best... Boss should have some clues, right? Can you provide them to us so that our investigation can save some time and be more efficient... ”

Yu Tian said, “There are indeed some clues. I will get someone to send the information over... ”

He paused for a moment, yu Tian said again, “Now, the authorities of the mini bull market are also investigating this case. If there is any inconvenience in the process of your investigation, such as being obstructed by the authorities, or being hindered or restricted... there is a police force called the Wild Fox Special Forces. (‘You can ask for their help, or you can share the information with them...

“The Wild Fox Secret Service...”

Everyone in the room nodded.

Yu Tian didn't need to explain too clearly. They all knew the identity of the Wild Fox Secret Service. They should be on the same side.

It wasn't strange for gangs to cooperate with the authorities. Blue underpants had cooperated with the police in some cases in the past. This was called cooperation between the police and the public, striving to be good citizens.

However, in a situation like this, the police were completely on the same side. This was the first time blue underpants had encountered such a situation.

Yu Tian said that they could ask for the help of the Wild Fox Secret Service team instead of asking for the help of the Wild Fox Secret Service team. This meant that the wild fox secret service team completely accepted Yu Tian's orders.

A few minutes later, Yu Tian received the results of the current investigation from No. 12, as well as some information obtained in the course of the investigation.

He casually passed it to the leaders of the blue underpants and Mina.

The main force involved in the investigation was still the Blue

Underpants' people, because Mina's red dragonfly was in a state of war. Even if their peripheral members were not fully involved in the war, it was not convenient for them to wander around and gather intelligence.

Of course, this was not the main reason.

No matter how war was, there would always be some peripheral members who did not care about this kind of thing. Walking around every day was the best thing for them.

Letting them stay at home or in certain fixed places was simply torture for them.

It was better to let them out and let them play the role of gathering intelligence.

However, the biggest problem for the red dragonfly was the location of their territory. It was quite far from the street where the hotel was located, and it was also separated from the territory of a few other gangs.

The few streets by the seaside were basically rich areas, and they had almost no connection with a small gang like the red dragonfly.

Because the territory of the blue underpants was relatively large, and it happened to be adjacent to the streets by the seaside, it was easier and more convenient for their people to go around and gather information.

“Alright, let’s move out immediately! The whereabouts of dozens of our operational personnel are still unknown. Perhaps they are facing torture to extract confessions and are in danger... they are waiting for our rescue.”

Yu Tian glanced at the gang leaders present, he said seriously, “Every member of the organization is the property of the organization. Our organization will not easily give up on every member, including everyone present. Therefore, everyone must act quickly and mobilize all the manpower that can be mobilized. (‘Even if we have to throw money at it, we must throw out some

“Yes, Boss!”

“We will definitely take care of it, Boss.

The gang leaders gladly accepted the order.

Everyone hoped to serve an organization that valued the lives and interests of its members. This would make the members of the organization feel more like they belonged.

This is true for some companies, but it is even more true for the gang members who are on the verge of death.

The gang leaders especially want to be able to receive strong protection and ensure the safety of themselves and their families when they are in trouble.

Therefore, it is a very lucky thing for them to have a strong organization as a backer.

Of course, they also know that they should work hard for the organization and become valuable people to the organization.

If they were just fishing in troubled waters, they would definitely not be valued by the organization.

This was the same as the gang under their leadership. They would not care even if their peripheral members were killed by other forces.

At most, they would take this matter and ask for some benefits from other forces.

After Yu Tian finished giving out tasks, the big shots in blue underpants immediately took action and began to call their subordinates to assign tasks.

Yu Tian did not need to personally ask about the rest of the matters, so he decided to leave first.

However, at this time, Mina blocked his way.. “Yu Tian, where are you staying tonight?”

Chapter 1277: Chapter 1,276, Peeping

Translator: 549690339

Mina seemed to be a little embarrassed, but she didn't have the shyness and flirtatious feeling between a man and a woman.

Yu Tian was a little puzzled and answered, "I have a place to stay tonight... I can stay anywhere.

He had a lot of money now. After going to Dawn City, the assistants naturally prepared cash and change for him. There was no longer a situation where he couldn't even afford to stay in a hotel.

Moreover, he could now openly use his identity to carry out his activities. He did not have to worry about any obstacles in the small matter of smuggling into the country.

Therefore, he still had a credit card that was enough for him to carry out various expenses. Even if he had a large amount of expenses, he could use his credit card to settle them at any time.

He no longer had to worry about the food and accommodation problems that had previously caused him a headache.

Mina hesitated for a moment before finally saying, "If you don't have any other arrangements, why don't you... stay at my place tonight?"

"Ahem, boss, we'll go do some work first."

Batiste, Barr, and the others tactfully got up from the sofa and walked towards the door one after another.

They could make calls to arrange for their subordinates to do work. They could do this kind of work anywhere, even if they were sitting in the car.

At times like this, these gang leaders were as shy as a virgin. They did not dare to stay in the house for a minute. They did not dare to listen to a word.

The boss and his woman were discussing how to sleep at night. How could they dare to listen to this corner.

A few gang leaders practically rushed out of the door. Within a minute, they were all gone.

Mina became even more embarrassed. "That's not what I meant..."

Yu Tian could also tell that Mina did not seem to have any other intentions.

Thus, he asked in puzzlement, “Did you encounter any problems?”

Mina hesitated and said, “Actually, I’m not too sure either, but I have a feeling that someone has been spying on my residence for the past two days. This makes me feel very uneasy...”

Yu Tian frowned and said, “Someone is spying on me? Did you see who it

“No, I didn’t see anything.” Mina said helplessly, “This is just my intuition, a woman’s intuition... but I don’t have any evidence to prove that someone is spying on me. Or rather, they are spying on my residence.”

Yu Tian pondered for a moment, “Whether there is evidence or not, you should move first and change your residence...”

“I just moved to another place yesterday.” Mina said helplessly, “Fortunately, Barr has enough safe houses, so it’s more convenient to change residence. “This is the second time I’ve changed residence. In the past few days, I’ve changed three residences. “But at night, I quietly pulled open the curtains... I still feel like I’m being watched.

“Who could it be? Someone from Ice City’s Hell?”

Yu Tian asked, then, he denied, “It shouldn’t be possible... If Ice City’s hell has their eyes on you, they should take action against you as soon as possible instead of secretly watching you all the time. “This kind of surveillance is completely meaningless to them. On the contrary, it would easily arouse your vigilance and expose their intentions...”

Mina said, “I didn’t do anything special these few days. If someone was really spying on me, they probably wouldn’t know that I’ve already discovered them.

“Moreover, they frequently change their residence. This is reasonable in my current situation. ”

Yu Tian nodded slightly, “So you want me to go to your current residence and help you find these spies?”

Mina nodded, “Yes, there are also safety considerations. If you were by my side, I would feel much more at ease.”

Mina was not too sure how strong Yu Tian was.

However, just based on Yu Tian’s six meridians divine sword, it proved that Yu Tian was not an ordinary person. He was even beyond the capabilities of a normal human.

It was naturally very safe to stay with such a person.

Yu Tian smiled helplessly. "Alright, I'll help you find those people who are spying on you today and see who they are."

It was impossible for Yu Tian to be Mina's personal bodyguard. He could only take advantage of these two days when he had nothing else to do and help Mina solve this problem as soon as possible.

In addition, he was also a little curious about the identity of these people who were following and spying on Mina.

He pondered for a moment and suddenly had an idea. "Since you've already moved a few times, but these spies are still able to follow you, doesn't that mean that they've been following you all along?"

Mina shook her head. "I don't know. When I went out today, I didn't find anyone following me. I can still be sure of that."

Speaking of which, although Mina was a woman, she was also a woman who had grown up in a gang environment.

It was not an exaggeration to say that she was an experienced gangster.

Experienced gangsters could sense that they were being spied on, and they could also sense that they were being followed.

This feeling might not be 100% accurate, but it was still quite reliable.

There were almost no pedestrians on the street outside, and there were no passing vehicles.

It was not easy to follow and monitor a place like this.

Yu Tian observed for a while, but he did not find any suspicious people or vehicles nearby.

In other words, there were no pedestrians or vehicles on this street, and there was no one watching or spying on their house.

Therefore, when Mina said that she did not find anyone following her, she was almost certain that it was true.

But why did she still feel like she was being spied on even though she had moved several times?

Yu Tian believed that Mina would not have the intuition of being spied on for no reason. Intuition was usually something that was found subconsciously, but she could not say it or recall it.

It was better to believe it than not to believe it. There was no harm in being cautious.

Yu Tian did not doubt Mina's words now.

He felt that these spies might not be tracking Mina's whereabouts through tracking. They might have other means that Mina did not notice.

Yu Tian pondered for a while and guessed what these means might be.

So he asked Mina, "Do you have anything that you have to bring with you every time you change your residence?"

Mina said, "That's more... for example, the clothes I'm wearing, I definitely have to bring them with me all the time.

"What about other things? For example, electronic technology such as mobile phones and computers.

"You mean... someone put tracking devices in my belongings?"

Chapter 1278: Chapter 1,277, tracking methods

Translator: 549690339

Nowadays, the integration of the phone was very high. After the outer shell was removed, there was basically an entire phone module inside.

Yu Tian looked at the phone carefully for a while, but he did not find any extra parts on the phone.

If there was a tracking device, it could not be too small, so it should be easily discovered.

Therefore, he shook his head and returned the phone to Mina.

Mina let out a sigh of relief. "I've always carried this phone with me, and I haven't carried out any repairs. There shouldn't be any possibility of someone installing a tracking device.

Yu Tian said, "If it's not a phone, then it must be something else... Where's your assistant?"

Mina quickly said, "The assistant is in the car outside... the car is parked on another street nearby. It's quite a distance away from this safe house.

This operation was consistent with blue underpants 'arrangement. When Yu Tian had just arrived at the safe house, the car had also been driven away by the assistants.

On the roadside outside the house, there were two members of Blue Underpants' gang standing guard for them. When Yu Tian was about to leave, they would naturally inform their assistants to bring the car back.

Yu Tian said to mina, "I'll give you an address. Tell your assistants to bring the car over. Pll arrange for someone to check your car.

"Okay.

Mina agreed without saying anything else.

Checking the entire car was a meticulous job. Not only did it require the help of professionals who were familiar with the car, but the speed of the inspection would not be too fast for one or two people.

Therefore, Yu Tian assigned this task to the Nogitsune Secret Service team.

They had relevant equipment that could detect electronic signals and the like.

Moreover, many of their operational personnel were familiar with the car.

They would often do things like placing tracking devices or bombs on the car.

It was undoubtedly very professional and reliable to let them check the condition of the cars.

At least, it was more reliable than Mina's female assistant and more professional than Yu Tian.

Yu Tian called No. 12 and informed him that a car would be driven to the vicinity of the Wild Fox Secret Service team's base. He asked him to arrange for people to conduct a thorough check on the cars at the fastest speed.

It didn't matter even if the car was torn apart.

Mina also immediately sent the location of the Wild Fox Secret Service team to the female assistant and ordered them to check the car and the things they carried with them.

Next, Yu Tian and Mina began to wait for the results.

An hour later, No. 12 called. The results of the inspection were out, but they didn't find anything.

There were no tracking devices or GPS devices in the car, including the female assistant's cell phone.

As for the clothes and shoes that Mina and the female assistant were wearing, and the bags that they carried, there was no possibility of tracking devices.

Generally speaking, tracking devices could not be placed on the target because the probability of being found was too high.

Although this situation often appeared in spy movies in the past, spies liked to hide the tracking device in the buttons of their clothes or in their shoes.

However, clothes nowadays rarely had those big buttons. Shoes and bags were also very light, so there was basically no room for hiding things.

Women generally paid attention to the details of their personal belongings. If their clothes were slightly dirty or wrinkled, they would easily be discovered by them. If anyone made any changes to these things and hid things inside, it was also very easy for them to find traces of damage.

As long as they checked their own clothes, shoes, and bags, they would basically be able to find out what was hidden inside.

Moreover, it was very difficult for outsiders to have access to such personal items.

This inspection result represented three possibilities.

One was that there was a mole, and there was something wrong with Mina's female assistant.

But this possibility was ruled out by Mina herself, because her female assistant was her classmate. She had been Mina's sidekick since she was very young, just like the maids that were trained since young in ancient times, there was basically no possibility of betrayal.

Mina herself thought that there was nothing wrong with the female assistant, so Yu Tian temporarily ruled out the possibility that there was something wrong with the female assistant.

Another possibility was that the tracker was hidden among other things that Mina was carrying.

For example, work computers, suitcases, and other small items.

There were two ways to rule out this possibility. One way was to have the Nogitsune Secret Service team go to Mina 's residence and conduct a detailed inspection of all the items that they were carrying.

A tracker, which had to continuously send signals, could be easily detected with professional equipment.

This method was more direct.

The other method was to have Mina wait in the safe house.

If the spies continued to chase them into the safe house, it would prove that the problem was Mina herself.

So this was the third possibility. The spies did not put any tracker, but directly tracked Mina's cell phone location.

As long as he knew Mina's cell phone number, it would be very easy to locate Mina.

Yu Tian immediately ordered No. 12 to arrange for someone to go back to the residence with Mina's female assistant to check the items in the residence.

At the same time, he turned on the communicator and contacted Brother Pig.

"If someone used a cell phone number to locate me, do you have a way to track them back?"

Brother pig immediately replied, "Impossible, your phone can not be tracked and located by someone.

When Yu Tian went to dawn city, his assistants brought him new communication equipment, including an enhanced satellite phone and the earphone he wore during meetings, they eliminated the phone Mina bought for him.

The things he used now were all high-end goods from the eastern countries. The phone was not only powerful, but also waterproof and anti-falling. It was very safe.

The same was true for the earphones. Unless he removed the earphones himself, there would not be any quality problems or safety problems. Yu Tian could only smile bitterly at Pig Bro Liang and say, "I'm not talking

Yu Tian could only smile bitterly at Pig Bro Liang and say, "I'm not talking about me, I'm talking about my friend Mina."

"Oh? That Mina was being followed?"

"Yeah..."

Yu Tian gave a rough description of Mina's situation, then said, "I think it's very likely that her cell phone number was directly located by someone."

At this moment.., mina was puzzled by the side and said, "The possibility isn't very high, right? Not many people know my number. Only the higher-ups of red dragonfly and a few friends. "Most people only have my assistant's phone number..."

Yu Tian said, "That means it's possible to trace your assistant's number. You two need to check your phone numbers."

Brother pig smiled and said, "This is simple... I'll get No. 76 to arrange it..

Chapter 1279: Chapter 1,278, the most valuable part

Translator: 549690339

To track a cell phone number, it had to be through a communication service provider.

The spy needed to enter the communication service provider's system and establish a certain signal connection with the cell phone. Then, according to the base station, satellite, and other facilities, they could calculate the time, speed, and distance of the signal transmission and use triangulation to locate it..

Yu Tian roughly understood the principle of this thing. As for how to track it, it was a matter for professionals to move their fingers.

It was not a problem for No. 76 to track the spy in reverse.

She only needed to track the traces that the other party had left in the system of the communication service provider.

Whether it was the internal employees of the communication service provider operating, or the spy invading the server of the communication service provider, tracking the operation of Mina's phone would leave traces.

No. 76 could follow these traces to determine the identity of the operator, or track the IP addresses of the network intruders.

The result was soon out. This kind of intrusion was a piece of cake for No. 76.

The problem was Mina's phone. Someone had indeed hacked into the communication service company's system and located Mina's phone number many times.

With that, the Wild Fox Secret Service Team's mission to check Mina's residence could be canceled.

But Mina was even more confused.

If someone had located her assistant's cell phone number, it would be easier to understand.

The cell phone number she used was basically unknown to outsiders, so how could someone use it to locate her?

Yu Tian also felt that it was a little strange. He suddenly thought of the little fatty named Danny.

Danny was Mina's pursuer, or rather, he was a dog-licker.

Previously, Yu Tian had met Danny by chance at a fast food restaurant. Only then did he find Mina without a phone.

Therefore, he asked Mina with a strange expression, "Do you still remember Danny? The person who was spying on you, could it be Danny... or another one of your pursuers?"

Mina said helplessly, "That's impossible. I didn't tell this cell phone number to those boring men."

Yu Tian said again, "Is that Danny A Geek? Or is there someone among your suitors who is very good at network technology? They can directly search for your number in the communication service provider's information system..."

Mina spread her hands and said, "It's useless to do that because my phone number is not registered with my own ID card. Moreover, there's nothing important for me to bind my phone number to, so the phone number I'm using will be changed every once in a while..."

At this moment, brother pig slowly said, "The situation is very obvious now. There's a traitor in red dragonfly..."

Brother Pig's words immediately caught Yu Tian's attention. ('A traitor in red dragonfly?')

Hearing Yu Tian's words, Mina was also slightly stunned. "You just said that... Red Dragonfly has a traitor? This... that's not possible, right? These people inside red dragonfly have been elders for many years.

Zhu geliang said slowly, "The traitor is in her phone number's contact list... there's nothing impossible about this. After eliminating all the impossibilities, this is the most reasonable explanation. "There's a traitor in red dragonfly. If it's not the leaders, Mina's assistant, or someone else who knows Mina's phone number... this is the only explanation.

Yu Tian thought for a while and realized that there was really no other possibility.

Other than these people, who else would know Mina's phone number?

The spy could only be one or a few of these people.

However, why were these people tracking Mina and spying on her?

A Spy from Ice City's Hell?

"You don't have to think about it..."

Piggy Liang seemed to know what Yu Tian was thinking, then, he said slowly, "If ice city's Hell's people were tracking Mina, they would have attacked her long ago. Mina doesn't have too many guards around her. If they send a few gunmen to her door, they would definitely be able to kill her easily.

Yu Tian said, "Then who do you think these people who are spying on Mina are?"

Piggy Liang laughed, "Do you think so? The reason why they don't attack Mina is because their target isn't Mina. What they want is to find other people through Mina..."

"Other people?"

"Yes, for example, the blue underpants behind Mina. 'h "If the peepers are from the hell of ice city, they might be interested to know who is supporting Mina behind the scenes... but this possibility has already been ruled out, because after a few days, they must already know that the blue underpants are standing behind Mina. 'h "So, there's only one possibility now..."

"Hurry up and come to a conclusion.

Yu Tian was too lazy to think about these problems with the stupid strategist pig liang around.

Pig Liang sighed. "It's not right for you to rely on me like this. You'll understand after thinking for a while... their target is definitely you."

"Me?" Yu Tian was a little surprised by this conclusion, but he felt that it was very reasonable.

Brother Pig Liang said slowly, "Forgive me for being blunt, but this little lover of yours..."

Yu Tian quickly said, "Don't talk nonsense. We are old classmates and friends."

Brother Pig Liang paused for a moment. "Alright, this old classmate of yours... She is actually a worthless nobody. Who would waste so much effort to spy on her? What value could she have? The boss of the Red Dragonfly?"

Yu Tian coughed dryly. "Are you trying to say that the most valuable thing about her is... her relationship with me?"

Piggy Liang said, "That's right. She's... your old classmate. Yu Tian said helplessly, "Then who are these spies?"

Piggy Liang also said helplessly, "You already have the answer. Why are you still asking me?"

Yu Tian said, "Then it must be the clone society."

Piggy Liang said, "Could it be that there's someone else?"

Yu Tian was puzzled. "The Clone Society wants to find me... I can understand that, but... how did they find the clue to Mina?"

Piggy Liang said, "Then it must be related to the traitor. Since the traitor is someone from the Red Dragonfly's inner circle, they must have seen you... perhaps the clone society has already sent your photo to every member and let these people look for you everywhere."

Yu Tian muttered, "That shouldn't be the case... but I killed a spy in the red dragonfly and used sword aura to cut people open..."

Brother pig smiled and said, "That makes more sense. If the leader of the red dragonfly is a member of Kronin, he will definitely report this to the higher-ups and then secretly send your photo back. Your identity will be exposed.."

Yu Tian sighed. "That's really... too coincidental.."

Chapter 1280: Chapter 1,279. They could only run together

Brother pig smiled and said, "What's there to be so coincidental about? Many things may seem like coincidences, but in fact, they're just inevitable under certain conditions. "The Mini Bull Market is a bustling city, so there must be some forces of the clone society here. "There's a member of the clone society hiding within the red dragonfly, so this isn't a very strange thing..."

Yu Tian shook his head repeatedly. "It's too much of a coincidence for such a small probability to appear.

Pig Bro Liang said, "If you hadn't left the headquarters of the red dragonfly the next morning, perhaps the clone society would have organized a team of genetic warriors and come to the red dragonfly to surround you.

Yu Tian was slightly stunned. He realized that this was indeed the case.

After the meeting at the red dragonfly the previous day, that Mole had been able to report back to the KRONNY Society that night.

If he hadn't left the next day, the Kronny society would definitely have had the time to organize a combat team to attack him.

However, what Piggy Liang said was right. This wasn't a coincidence.

Many coincidences were just happening in an orderly fashion.

He was going to Dawn City for a meeting. This was something that had already been confirmed and was bound to happen.

Brother pig said, "There's an even more coincidental situation now... No. 76 has already traced the IP address of the other party and locked onto their location. The person who located Mina's phone happened to be in the mini bull market... Don't you think it's a coincidence?"

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Alright, don't be a coincidence. The person who tracked and monitored Mina should be in the mini bull market..."

"Knock, Knock, Knock!

Someone suddenly knocked on the door of the safe house. Someone shouted from outside, "Boss, there are a lot of cars coming towards our street..."

"Rough..."

Yu Tian immediately realized what had happened.

Now it was even more coincidental. The members of the Clone Society had just happened to come knocking on their door.

It was unknown what method the other party was using to monitor Mina. Yu Tian had only appeared in the safe house for two hours, but the clone society had already come knocking on their door.

How did they move so quickly this time?

Yu Tian did not have time to think. He immediately called out to the people outside the door, "You guys run quickly and get as far away from here as possible!

"Boss, you go first. We'll cover you. "

The two blue underpants members outside the door could be considered core members. They would not hesitate to risk their lives.

It did not mean that these people were stupid and loyal. In order to be loyal to their boss, they would even sacrifice their own lives.

Many people were willing to risk their lives for their boss because they knew how much they would get in return.

The best outcome was that they would survive and receive a huge reward and a bright future.

The worst outcome was that they would die, and their family members would receive a generous pension and reward that they would never earn in their entire lives.

In terms of money, the triad's settling-in expenses had always been quite high. They were much more generous than the soldiers on the battlefield.

Especially the boys who died in the battle to protect their boss, the boss did not dare to neglect them.

So many of his underlings took this matter seriously. If the boss still wanted his underlings to continue working for him next time and to continue taking bullets for him., then he definitely had to fulfill the basic standard of "I will take care of your wife myself, you don't have to worry about it"

Therefore, the boss of the triad usually had many adopted sons, all of which were left behind by his good brothers.

The two core members outside the door also had the mentality of committing suicide. They decided to gamble their future and wealth on this.

Yu Tian did not know what to say to this kind of desperado. He quickly walked to the door and pulled it open.

There were two white men outside the house. They had already taken out their pistols and were facing the street outside the house. Their bodies were full of murderous intent, but they looked very nervous.

At one end of the street, a convoy consisting of over a dozen minivans was rapidly approaching the safe house.

Before the vehicles had completely stopped, the back door was kicked open from the inside. Soldiers jumped out one after another from the back door.

As expected, the people that jumped out from the cars were all fully armed genetic warriors. They were still dressed in the same bulletproof clothing.

Yu Tian anxiously wanted to pull the two blue underpants kids into the house. However, these two kids were already firing at those genetic warriors.

He did not know what these two kids were thinking. Those genetic warriors were clearly wearing bulletproof equipment that covered their entire bodies. Just by looking at their strict appearance, one could tell that they were not people that pistols could deal with.

Moreover, these genetic warriors had loaded more than ten cars, and each car had at least seven or eight people on board. They were all using automatic weapons, rifles, or micro-charge.

With so many people and such powerful firepower, it was not something that the two gangsters could take on head-on.

However, these two fellows with blue underpants were not afraid of death. They took the initiative to provoke these genetic warriors and opened fire.

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment. He was considering whether or not he should run first.

This was not cowardice. This was to lure the enemy away.

The ultimate target of the clone society was Yu Tian. These genetic warriors were all here for Yu Tian.

If Yu Tian immediately ran out and fled along the streets, these genetic warriors should follow him immediately and pursue him.

This way, Mina would be safe in her room.

However, he wasn't sure.

This was because these genetic warriors had previously attacked the hotel where the mouse squad was staying. Other than leaving a dozen bodies at the scene, the rest had been taken hostage by them.

This proved that Kronin would not only attack Yu Tian, but also other people related to Yu Tian and the East Dragon Company.

In the current situation, even if they could not capture Yu Tian, they would not mind capturing Mina.

Moreover, they would definitely not be able to capture Yu Tian, so they would be more likely to capture Mina.

The reason why Kronin did not touch Mina before was because they wanted to use Mina to find Yu Tian.

Now that Yu Tian had shown up and they had launched an attack, Mina and Yu Tian would definitely be alert in the future. They would not be able to find Yu Tian through Mina again.

Therefore, Kronin would definitely take Mina away this time and use her as a hostage to threaten Yu Tian.

In the blink of an eye, Yu Tian had already made a decision in his heart.

He could not run alone. If he did, not only would he not be able to save Mina, but he would also let Mina be easily taken away by Kronin.

Therefore, he had to temporarily retreat back into the house and run with Mina.

And of course, there were the two hotheads in blue shorts in front of him.

Yu Tian stepped forward and grabbed the two boys by the collar, trying to drag them back inside..

Unfortunately, it was already too late. The genetic warriors who had jumped out of the vehicles immediately fired at Yu Tian and the rest.

For a moment, the sounds of gunfire rang out.

Although their weapons were equipped with silencers, with so many guns being used at the same time, the noise they made wasn't small either.

The genetic warriors didn't care about the commotion they caused. All they cared about was firing at Yu Tian and the rest. As they fired, they quickly approached the safe house.

Yu Tian dragged the two brats into the house. In a flash, he had dragged the two brats into the back of the house.

However, it was already too late. The two brats were already dead.

Their bodies were riddled with bullet holes. They had already been riddled with holes by the concentrated firepower of the genetic warriors. It was as if they had become Yu Tian's shields.

Yu Tian did not have the time to feel sorry for these two people, as the genetic warriors were currently attacking the safe house.

This was not the time to shoot a movie. There was still time for him to speak or reminisce about the previous scenes.

He immediately ran towards the living room at the back.

The genetic warriors continued shooting. A small portion of the genetic warriors' weapons were able to penetrate the sturdy walls of the safe house.

Most of the genetic warriors used micro-charge, which was more suitable for fighting on a narrow terrain.

It seemed like they had already made preparations to attack certain buildings before coming here. They had also planned to trap Yu Tian inside a certain building.

Yu Tian flew back to the living room and shouted at Mina, "Quickly get on my

Mina was stunned for a moment and did not come back to her senses.

It had only been a few seconds since Yu Tian opened the door.

Although Mina had realized that the safe house had been attacked, she did not know how serious the attack was and how many attackers there were.

She had never experienced such a big battle before. It was rare for a gang to use a large number of automatic rifles in a battle.

In her case, the sound of ten automatic weapons firing was similar to the noise caused by a hundred automatic weapons.

Thus, Mina was preparing to resist and counterattack according to the normal operation.

She knew that there were some weapons hidden in the safe house and was planning to take out the weapons in the safe house.

She felt that as long as she cooperated well with Yu Tian, even if there were only the two of them, they would definitely be able to hold on until the surrounding reinforcements arrived.

This was a routine operation in a gang battle. As long as there were sufficient weapons and ammunition, and they occupied a suitable terrain, the battle would definitely be in a stalemate for a long time.

The two sentries outside the safe house were not the only ones around. Blue underpants had arranged at least dozens of armed gang members nearby.

This was blue underpants 'territory. If the safe house was attacked, Blue Underpants would definitely have the ability to provide timely support.

Not only were there guards stationed on the nearby streets, but there were also countless soldiers and crabs waiting for their deployment.

These forces could even fight against the police. In the mini-bull market, there were hardly any opponents.

Under normal circumstances, Mina's operation of waiting for reinforcements would definitely not be a problem. Blue underpants also had the ability to provide such support.

Unfortunately, the current situation was not normal. Kronin would once again use genetic warriors to attack Yu Tian. Moreover, the number of genetic warriors was double that of the last time they were at the seaside.

Yu Tian did not have time to explain to Mina at this time. He dashed past Mina like a gust of wind.

Before Mina could understand what was going on, she was already lying on Yu Tian's back.

She hurriedly hugged Yu Tian's neck tightly, but soon realized that she was hugging him too tightly, making it inconvenient for Yu Tian to move.

Thus, she released her grip and supported Yu Tian's shoulders. Then, she placed both her legs on Yu Tian's waist.

The glass window of the front hall had already been shattered. A few grenades flew in from the shattered window.

Yu Tian immediately felt a headache.

Only ten seconds had passed since he opened the door. These genetic warriors had already rushed to the door and thrown grenades, preparing to break through and enter the room.

This speed was truly too fast. Practically, the genetic warriors had gotten out of the car and rearranged their formation slightly. Then, they directly ran toward the safe house.

Without any hesitation or pause, they directly charged toward the safe house without fear of death.

Although the safe house did not have any firepower that could threaten their defense, these genetic warriors were basically fighting with their lives on the line.

The key was that they could indeed afford to use such a desperate tactic. Furthermore, ordinary troops would not be able to withstand it at all.

If not for the fact that their vital parts had been hit, or that they had powerful weapons like anti-material rifles, the genetic warriors would still be able to maintain their original combat strength after being hit, causing the enemy to be utterly defeated.

Yu Tian had originally wanted to have a good fight with these genetic warriors, but unfortunately, he wasn't fully prepared.

He needed at least a set of bulletproof vests that could take a beating in order to engage in close combat with these genetic warriors.

In addition, he still had Mina as a burden, so it was even more impossible for him to fight head-on with these genetic warriors.

He carried Mina on his back and quickly ran to the second floor.

A grenade exploded in the front hall behind him. The genetic warriors had already rushed into the entrance of the house along with the sound of the explosion.

The genetic warriors that entered the house did not have any intention of dispersing their vigilance. Instead, they directly fired in Yu Tian's direction. At the same time, they also chased after Yu Tian with large strides.

This feeling was akin to a soft-money warrior playing a game. It was fine as long as they were brainless and fought head-on.

Yu Tian stomped his feet and quickly disappeared from the first floor, leaving the bullets behind him.

No matter how fast the genetic warrior ran, his speed at climbing the stairs was still inferior to Yu Tian's.

The turn on the stairs did not delay Yu Tian at all. In the blink of an eye, he carried Mina on his back and ran up to the rooftop on the third floor.

The rooftop was very large and spacious. Other than some plants and flowers, there was basically nothing else.

As a safe house and a secret base, it was fine to have plants and flowers as a cover. In a place where no one lived, there were indeed fewer miscellaneous items.

Yu Tian quickly circled around the balcony and discovered that the dozen or so cars driven by the genetic warriors had already surrounded the safe house. The genetic warriors at the front door had already entered the house, leaving only a few people outside to keep watch.

The genetic warriors at the back gate had also gotten out of the car and started charging forward, rushing towards the back gate like a swarm of bees.

Their attack style was similar to a gang fight.

There were slightly fewer genetic warriors on both sides, but there were around ten of them each. This was to prevent Yu Tian from escaping through the windows on both sides.

The encirclement was still quite tight, but Yu Tian did not take it seriously.

Breaking through the encirclement was never a problem for him. Even if he had a woman on his back, breaking through this encirclement was a piece of cake..

Translator: 549690339

From the looks of it, the direction of the main gate was more suitable for breaking through the encirclement.

This was because the genetic warriors at the main gate had already entered the room. There weren't many people guarding outside, only four or five of them.

These four or five people weren't a threat to Yu Tian. He had every chance to take out his metal club and smash their heads into pieces with the fastest speed possible before snatching away their vehicles.

The metal club had yet to open, and Yu Tian was eager to give it a try.

However, he was still carrying Mina on his back. This would somewhat affect his battle, and there was still a certain amount of danger.

If he were to delay for even a moment, the other genetic warriors would rush over immediately to support him. Perhaps, Mina might even get shot.

As such, it was best for him to avoid fighting right now.

At this moment, Piggy Liang also spoke into his earpiece. "Looks like you've been attacked. Use your fastest speed to break out of the encirclement. "Don't delay, don't engage in battle, don't waste time on such messy matters, and don't even try to snatch the enemy's car..."

Yu Tian was slightly stunned. "Why? Why Can't we snatch their car?"

"Because it might be a trap. If they put explosives in the car, robbing the car would be the same as delivering goods to their door."

"That's too crude. You can still play this way..."

"In order to achieve your goal, you always use all sorts of methods... Alright, Hurry up and run. I believe that you're very good at running for your life. "As long as you run to a crowded street or a police station, these enemies will naturally retreat."

Piggy Liang did not say anything to Yu Tian. In this situation, he could not distract Yu Tian too much.

At this time, Yu Tian had already carried Mina to the side of the rooftop. Opposite him was another neighbor's house.

Although the houses here were isolated, they were not luxurious villas after all. The distance between the neighbors was not too far.

There was only a parking corridor between the two houses, about five to six meters away.

An ordinary person could jump over this distance with a run-up. It was even easier for Yu Tian to jump over it, even if he was carrying Mina on his back.

He did not even need a run-up. With a leap, he jumped onto the rooftop of the neighbor's house.

"He's on the rooftop!"

"He jumped over!"

The genetic warriors on the corridor below immediately started shouting. It was as if they had been paying attention to the movements on the rooftop all this time. Any slight movement by Yu Tian would be noticed by them.

Shouting alone was naturally not the style of a genetic warrior. At the same time, over a dozen grenades flew up to the rooftop at the same time.

Looking at the messy pile of grenades flying over from mid-air, it was simply terrifying.

"It's rough!"

Yu Tian did not dare to delay and immediately jumped onto the roof of the next neighbor.

The explosion range of grenades was usually three to five meters, but the shrapnel coverage range was basically 20 meters or more.

If Yu Tian continued to stay on the roof of this house, he would basically be within the shrapnel's killing range.

In a situation like him and Mina, who had no protective equipment at all, it was very easy for them to be injured by the flying shrapnel. After the explosion, it was difficult to ensure that they were unharmed.

He could only leave the rooftop as quickly as possible, as far away from the center of the explosion as possible.

Fortunately, his speed was very fast. Moreover, he had already taken off when the grenades were still in the air.

Therefore, when the grenades exploded, he had already successfully landed on the roof of another house with Mina on his back.

However, he immediately felt danger. It was as if there was a current of air coming toward his back.

Without any time to think, Yu Tian immediately crouched down, turned around, and hugged Mina, pressing her under him.

Immediately after, countless steel pillars flew over their heads, hitting the small house on the rooftop, the glass, all sorts of plants, and potted plants, producing chaotic and messy sounds.

These genetic warriors were using steel ball grenades. This was a type of weapon that was prohibited on the surface because the destructive power of steel ball grenades was too great.

The surface of this type of steel ball grenade was several thousand small steel balls. Once it exploded, it would fly around like bullets, and its destructive range was a full 50 meters.

It was said that within the explosion range of the steel ball grenade, it was impossible for any living thing to survive. It was definitely a nightmarish existence on the battlefield.

On the spacious and open rooftop, the steel ball grenade was definitely a very useful weapon. It was not something that could be easily dodged by lying down.

If Yu Tian had not crouched behind the guardrail on the rooftop of another building, he might have already been blasted into a pockmark. Even if he did not die, he would still be injured.

It seemed like the Kronin society had truly made ample preparations in order to deal with Yu Tian.

Yu Tian did not know what other methods these genetic warriors had. After the explosion, he immediately picked up Mina and rushed to the next target, jumping over to the next rooftop.

After jumping over a few rooftops, the genetic warriors' vehicles started chasing after them.

The vehicles were ultimately faster than Yu Tian. Very quickly, they surpassed Yu Tian's position and stopped beside the house in front of them.

The genetic warriors jumped off the vehicles and started surrounding Yu Tian's position.

The next attack was still a grenade attack, but the method of attack was even more ferocious than before.

Not only did the genetic warrior throw a grenade at Yu Tian's rooftop, he also threw a grenade at the rooftop he was about to pass through.

Even the genetic warriors that were chasing after him joined in the grenade-throwing sport and started using grenades to block Yu Tian 's escape route.

Now, no matter which direction Yu Tian jumped in, he would have to face the large area of damage from the steel ball grenade. Even if he stood at his original position and did not move, he would still be hit by the steel ball grenades.

All the activity space on the rooftop was sealed by the grenades used by the genetic warriors.

Yu Tian could not help but curse in his heart. Then, he could only rush to the second floor of the house.

Hearing the sounds of explosions coming from the rooftop, Yu Tian felt his head ache even more.

The genetic warriors carried a lot of grenades. Furthermore, they had the advantage of having a large number of people on their side, yet they were actually using such a method to bombard Yu Tian with grenades. This made it much more difficult for him to break out from the rooftop.

From the looks of it, the clone society seemed to have a comprehensive grasp of Yu Tian 's information. At the very least, they had a clear understanding of his personal combat abilities.

Yu Tian did not know what channels the clone society had used to learn about him. However, as the conflict between the Donglong Company and the clone society increased, the number of battles he personally participated in increased, it was only a matter of time before the clone society had a complete grasp of his information.

Now, it seemed that the suspect of the executioner was getting stronger and stronger.

Yu Tian even suspected that the hangman sold Lingbo micro-steps to him in order to let the two internal forces in his body conflict and make trouble for himself..

Chapter 1283: Chapter 1,282, seal at all costs

Translator: 549690339

The conflict between two different types of internal energy might be a very serious problem for ancient martial art practitioners.

Although Yu Tian did not know much about the situation in the ancient martial arts world, he did feel the trouble caused by the conflict of internal energy.

If he had not stopped his cultivation in time, the conflict between the two types of internal energy would have limited his ability to use his internal energy even if it did not lead to Qi deviation.

If not for the help of the spirit stone that the research team had given him, Yu Tian might not have been able to use his internal energy to fight, and his combat ability would have been greatly reduced.

Now was not the time for Yu Tian to think about these problems. He still had to think of a way to get out of his current predicament.

He could not count on reinforcements. The Combat Power of the gang in Blue Underpants was definitely not a match for these genetic warriors.

Their weapons could not even break through the defense of the bulletproof vests, nor could they cause any damage to the genetic warriors.

Sending these gangsters over to support them was akin to sending themselves to their deaths.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team might still have the strength to fight. Yu Tian remembered that he had asked them to bring back those anti-material micro-charges a few days ago. There were a total of 300 of them.

Brother Pig probably wouldn't ask the Wild Fox Secret Service team to keep all the anti-material weapons. However, as long as they kept a few dozen of these micro-washers, they would be able to fight evenly with the genetic warriors.

In other words, when they were wearing bulletproof vests, they were even fiercer than the genetic warriors.

This was because the weapons of the genetic warriors might not be able to cause them much damage. However, their weapons were able to guarantee that they would be able to kill the genetic warriors.

However, now that the Wild Fox Secret Service team had all spread out to investigate the case, they would not be able to gather together in a short amount of time.

If they wanted to wait for the Wild Fox Secret Service team to send reinforcements, they would most likely need to wait for an hour.

Yu Tian would not be able to stay here and grind with the genetic warriors for an hour. He would most likely not be able to stand guard in this room for even a minute.

This family was truly unlucky. He had only stayed on the rooftop for a few seconds without making any movements. Immediately, genetic warriors from downstairs rushed into the room and started charging upstairs.

This was because they did not want Yu Tian to rest for even a second.

Yu Tian really wanted to use the metal club to fight against these genetic warriors. Unfortunately, considering Mina on his back, he still endured it.

This was not a place to stay for long.

As soon as the sound of explosions on the rooftop faded, Yu Tian immediately carried Mina and ran up to the rooftop.

The large-scale explosion earlier had indeed restricted his actions of breaking out of the encirclement. However, it had only formed a temporary obstruction to him.

However, this kind of hindrance could stop him for a while, but it could not stop him for a lifetime. After avoiding the explosion, he could continue to break out of the encirclement for a second time.

From the moment the enemy discovered him to the moment when the enemy threw a grenade, to the moment when the grenade exploded, there was at least a few seconds of time in the process.

As long as there was time, Yu Tian could take advantage of this few seconds of time to jump onto another rooftop.

He felt that after the enemy discovered his actions, they would definitely throw grenades again.

However, at that time, even if the grenades continued to catch up, he could still hide on the second floor of another house and temporarily avoid the explosion of the grenades.

If that was the case, he would still not stay in a house for too long. He would only be delayed for a few seconds.

As for the actions of the genetic warriors attacking the interior of the house, they would naturally lose their meaning.

Actually, it wasn't impossible to trap Yu Tian in a house.

As long as these genetic warriors kept throwing grenades at the rooftop, causing the rooftop to explode continuously, Yu Tian wouldn't be able to leave the rooftop.

Then, the genetic warriors downstairs could launch an attack on the house.

However, creating such a continuous explosion on the rooftop would consume a lot of grenades.

Basically, they had to throw a wave of grenades every two to three seconds to ensure that the explosion would not be interrupted. If the explosion was interrupted for a second or two, Yu Tian would have enough time to jump and move.

In addition, to be on the safe side, the genetic warriors had to throw grenades from several directions at the same time.

They had to ensure that the grenades would be able to cover Yu Tian, so that no matter how Yu Tian used the buildings on the rooftop to dodge, it would be impossible for him to dodge.

For example, the small room on the rooftop, which was used as a stairwell, could be used to hide from all the grenades.

If they wanted to threaten every corner of the rooftop, they had to control the time and let a portion of the grenades explode in mid-air at the center of the rooftop.

In this way, the genetic warriors would have to use up over a hundred grenades every minute.

This was simply a method of fighting that was akin to a decisive battle.

Yu Tian felt that the enemy would not fight so extravagantly. Instead, they should consider the possibility of continuing the battle.

However, just as he reached the third floor, he saw two grenades coming toward him.

Damn..

He had never expected that his words would come true. These genetic warriors had actually used such a desperate move.

Regardless of whether the others were on the rooftop or not, the genetic warriors were using grenades to seal off the rooftop.

Yu Tian was helpless. He could only retreat back into his room.

The continuous grenade explosion could not last for too long. This meant that the genetic warriors wanted to end the battle as soon as possible. They had to deal with Yu Tian in this wave.

If they still could not take down Yu Tian after a few minutes, then they definitely would not be able to continue organizing Yu Tian to escape from the rooftop.

Without the grenade explosion, Yu Tian walked on the rooftop as if he was walking on flat ground. These genetic warriors simply would not be able to stop him.

When he jumped all the way to the bustling street, where there were many people, the genetic warriors would not be able to continue chasing him.

As such, Yu Tian had to hold on for a few minutes and defend this house.

When the explosions on the rooftop ended, it would be time for him to retreat.

As it was currently morning and the owner of the house was not at home, Yu Tian did not have to worry about accidentally injuring the innocent.

He placed Mina down by the stairs on the third floor and casually instructed,

“Wait for me here.”

Without waiting for Mina 's reply, he immediately rushed towards the stairs on the second floor.

The genetic warriors downstairs had already rushed to the first floor and were rushing towards the stairs on the second floor.

Yu Tian's movement speed in the narrow space was faster, and his movements were more nimble. He rushed to the second floor before those genetic warriors.

His metal club was placed on the belt of his pants. He lifted his shirt and took it out.

Right at this moment, a genetic warrior appeared on the second floor. Yu Tian dashed over like a ghost and swung his club at an extremely large angle, smashing it viciously on the head of this genetic warrior.

With a muffled bang, the neck of this genetic warrior was smashed backwards by Yu Tian's tremendous strength. The twist of his neck had already exceeded 90 degrees..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1284 - 1,283, Entrapment - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1284 - 1,283, Entrapment

Chapter 1284: Chapter 1,283, Entrapment

He didn't know how much damage this had caused to the genetic warrior's brain, nor did he know if the distortion of his neck could be fatal.

However, this genetic warrior had already fallen backwards. Clearly, he had lost his life.

Yu Tian's strength was not small, especially after he had trained his internal energy. The strength of his muscles had also increased greatly.

The bulletproof helmet of the genetic warrior had already been deformed by his attack. However, Yu Tian felt that he could still improve the way he attacked, such as the angle of attack.

This type of bulletproof helmet was not an ordinary military helmet. Instead, it was a full-body helmet. It completely covered the entire head, and its weight was extremely heavy.

The front of the helmet was made of high-quality bulletproof glass. Moreover, in order to ensure its defensive strength, the thickness of this piece of bulletproof glass was much thicker than ordinary bulletproof glass.

Not mentioning its special material, just its weight alone was several kilograms. It could be considered the strongest defensive part of the helmet.

After all, bulletproof glass was a part of the front defense. It was understandable that the requirements were higher.

After putting on this bulletproof helmet, the genetic warriors no longer had to worry about the front charge.

The rest of the helmet was made of steel, so its defense was not too bad. However, it was still slightly better than the front bulletproof glass.

In order to minimize the weight of the bulletproof helmet, the thickness of each part of the helmet was different.

For example, the sides and the back of the head were slightly longer than the usual motorcycle helmets. The defense was also considered excellent.

However, the top of the head was the weakest part of the helmet.

Normally, the top of the head was the location where it was most unlikely to be hit by bullets.

Yu Tian felt that if he were to directly hit the head of the genetic warrior with a mallet, the killing effect would be even better.

He might even be able to blow out the brain matter and splash it all over the bulletproof glass.

Unfortunately, he did not have the time to try out any other attack plans. Right now, the most important thing was not to kill the enemy, but to stall for time.

After a few minutes, when the explosions on the rooftop had subsided, he could basically run away.

After smashing down the first genetic warrior that appeared, the momentum of the enemy's charge suddenly stopped.

The corpse fell down the stairs, and the genetic warriors behind were temporarily blocked by the corpse.

Although this wasn't a long time, they still had to quickly push the corpse aside to prevent it from getting in the way of the stairs.

Taking advantage of this short period of time, Yu Tian immediately raised the sofa in the living room and smashed it towards the entrance of the stairs.

The sofa wasn't considered a weapon, and it wouldn't have much lethality even if it hit a person.

However, this was a sofa, and it was rather large.

Yu Tian accurately threw the sofa at the stairway, and even knocked it about a meter into the stairway.

The sofa was blocked at the stairway, and the genetic warriors below found it difficult to move it away.

There was some space beside the sofa that normal people could squeeze through.

However, the genetic warriors were fully armed, and their bodies were filled with weapons and ammunition. There was simply no way for them to squeeze through this space.

If they really dared to squeeze through this space, Yu Tian would be able to stand guard at the edge of the stairs. With a single strike of his hammer, it would be even easier than whack-a-mole.

If the genetic warriors wanted to rush up to the second floor, they had to first push this sofa away.

However, it was not an easy task to push the sofa away. This was something that Yu Tian had been using to stall for time. How could he allow them to push it away so easily.

The genetic warriors below were in a mess. They were pushed back by the sofa for a few steps. Then, they hurriedly fired at the sofa, causing it to be riddled with holes.

The sofa was an inanimate object. No matter how much they fired at it, it still stubbornly blocked the stairs.

The genetic warriors' firing was purely because they were worried that Yu Tian would do something behind the sofa.

However, after firing, they realized that it was impossible for Yu Tian to hide behind the sofa. What they should do was to find a way to push the sofa away.

The strength of the genetic warriors wasn't small, and the sofa wasn't particularly heavy. Hence, it wasn't difficult for them to push the sofa away.

However, Yu Tian naturally wouldn't let them succeed so easily.

He immediately increased the difficulty of this game of pushing the sofa away. Casually, he moved another sofa over and placed it behind the first sofa.

This time, the staircase entrance was completely blocked.

Not only was his line of sight blocked by the sofa, Yu Tian could also wrestle with the genetic warriors from two different sofas.

The genetic warriors pushed the sofa up the stairs with all their might. Yu Tian pressed down on the sofa with all his might, making it impossible for them to move.

The genetic warriors immediately felt that something was amiss. They realized that Yu Tian was hiding behind the sofa, blocking them.

Hence, the genetic warriors used the gap between the sofa and the stairs to shoot at the sofa behind them.

However, due to the angle, this shot did not even touch Yu Tian's hair. He was still leisurely standing on the sofa behind them.

The genetic warriors were helpless. Some of them started shouting.

Yu Tian did not understand what these genetic warriors were shouting about. They were not using the international language.

However, very quickly, he understood what these genetic warriors were trying to do.

They started dragging the sofa downstairs.

The stairs were not very spacious. Other than luxurious villas, most people's stairs were only the width of two people walking side by side.

As the genetic warriors were wearing thick bulletproof vests and did not have to worry about Yu Tian shooting at them, the charging mode was very dense.

All of them were huddled together on the stairs. It was even more crowded than a brawl between hooligans.

Now that they had to pull down the stairs, the people behind them could only make way and leave two people in front to drag the sofa.

With a slight movement of the sofa, Yu Tian knew what they were trying to do.

Yu Tian would not let this game end so easily. He stealthily extended his hand from behind the second sofa and grabbed the base of the sofa in front of him.

The genetic warriors below pulled twice. When they realized that the sofa was not moving, they immediately started shouting again, "The sofa is stuck! "

"Idiot! It's not stuck, it must be that person pulling it!

"Shoot him, shoot him to death!"

Yu Tian still could not understand what the people below were shouting about.

However, as the sound of gunshots rang out, he immediately retracted his arm.

"How Rude! Are you bullying me because I don't have a gun?"

Yu Tian did have a gun, and even Mina had a small handgun that was used by the agents.

However, Mina's handgun was obviously not as good as Yu Tian's big revolver. From a certain perspective, the big revolver could no longer be called a handgun. It had to be called a handgun..

Yu Tian had previously thought that his hand cannon could be considered as half an anti-material weapon because the power of this hand cannon was truly astonishing.

He had previously asked Faraday, why did you lousy pirates buy such a powerful weapon? Did you need such an exaggerated weapon in your battle?

There have been many powerful firearms in the history of hot weapons, but they were rarely used on the battlefield.

Many powerful firearms were used for hunting, such as killing an elephant or a bear with a single shot.

Faraday said that the large revolver was mainly used to deal with the difficult-to-break locks, the thick cabin doors, and the control and communication systems of some ships.

In short, the destructive power of the large revolver was basically invincible. Even slightly thinner steel plates could be worn through daily.

Currently, the genetic warriors were relying on their advantage in equipment to completely disregard Yu Tian. They were still squeezing into the narrow space of the stairs to shoot. They were not worried at all about jumping bullets or accidentally injuring their teammates.

Yu Tian decided to give them a surprise. He wanted to let them know that wearing bulletproof vests was not all-powerful.

He waited for the gunshots to stop. Then, he stretched out his arm and fired a shot at the gap in the sofa in front of him.

He did not even need to aim. He could hear that there were people downstairs with just his ears. Furthermore, the two genetic warriors who were dragging the sofa were standing at the edge of the stairs.

The position at the edge was convenient for them to drag the sofa, and it was also convenient for them to shoot upstairs.

However, they did not expect that this would also be convenient for Yu Tian to shoot at them.

With a loud gunshot, the genetic warrior that was dragging the sofa was sent flying and smashed into the bodies of his comrades downstairs.

The power of the large revolver was indeed not small. Moreover, at such a close range, the power was also displayed thoroughly. The bulletproof vest could not withstand it at all.

A large hole had been blasted open at the neck and shoulder of this genetic warrior. His collarbone had almost been destroyed. It seemed as though a large part of his entire person was missing.

The armor on his shoulder was originally quite weak. Yu Tian fired from above, hitting a weak spot that was normally not covered by bullets. Naturally, he was killed with a single shot.

What bulletproof vest? What genetic warrior? In front of this shot, they were almost like paper.

The people downstairs immediately started shouting again.

(‘Throw a grenade!

“Blast him to death!”

Yu Tian still did not understand this sentence, but it seemed somewhat familiar.

Earlier, when he was jumping around on those rooftops, those genetic warriors downstairs were shouting like this.

Thus, Yu Tian immediately understood that this group of brats wanted to throw grenades.

Throwing grenades from such a narrow gap was something that only these genetic warriors could do.

Not only was their bulletproof equipment sturdy, but their physical fitness was also able to withstand the impact of the explosion.

If ordinary people were affected by the shockwave of the explosion, it was very easy for them to suffer internal injuries or even faint from the shock.

However, genetic warriors were much stronger in this aspect. As long as they were not at the center of the explosion, or at a relatively close distance, they would not be affected too much.

Yu Tian watched helplessly as a grenade flew out from the crack. He could only quickly jump towards the corridor beside him.

The grenade exploded in midair. An ordinary person definitely would not have the time to dodge.

However, Yu Tian’s speed was very fast. Before the grenade exploded, he had already hidden behind the corridor.

The sound of an explosion rang out. Several thousand steel balls had blasted the hall on the second floor into a thousand holes.

The impact of the explosion was also very great. One of the sofas had been flipped over, splitting into two tattered halves.

The other sofa had been knocked into the stairway, causing the genetic warriors to squawk and scream.

Even though it wasn't a case of killing 1,000 enemies at the cost of 800, the genetic warriors were still affected by the explosion and were forcefully knocked back to the first floor.

After the explosion, Yu Tian stuck his head out to take a look at the living room on the second floor.

It didn't matter if the sofa was split into two, as it could still be stuffed into the stairs.

There was still furniture on the second floor. Just the living room alone had another part of the sofa, two short single-seater sofas.

There was also a room.

In the room, there was a bed, a wardrobe, a desk... there was even a motorcycle.

Yu Tian had no idea how the owner had driven the motorcycle to the second floor.

He casually moved a large wardrobe to block the entrance of the stairs. At the same time, he broke the railing at the entrance of the stairs.

With this, the entrance of the stairs became a tunnel entrance. The large wardrobe covered the entrance, blocking the entire entrance tightly. It was as if a door had been placed on the tunnel.

The genetic warriors below were dumbfounded again. With great difficulty, they had managed to create an opening in the tunnel. Just as they were about to charge forward, another large wardrobe appeared.

The feeling of the large wardrobe blocking the door was even better. They did not even leave a gap where they could throw grenades.

The genetic warriors shouted for a while before shooting randomly at the large wardrobe again.

Very quickly, the large wardrobe was shot into a pile of tattered pieces.

The wardrobe also had a flaw. Apart from a few pieces of wood, it didn't look like a sofa with sponges or anything else.

After the pieces of wood were shot through, the genetic warriors had a clearer view of the second floor.

Immediately, someone moved closer to the wardrobe, wanting to stuff a grenade into it and blow it up.

Yu Tian saw a figure moving in the bullet hole, and without hesitation, he fired a shot at the wardrobe.

The thin door naturally could not form any obstruction, and the genetic warrior below the wardrobe fell to the ground.

This genetic warrior was even more unlucky. Yu Tian's shot had hit the top of his head, and a large hole had been blown through his bulletproof helmet. His brain matter had splattered all over the bulletproof glass as he wished.

The genetic warriors downstairs immediately counterattacked. However, after Yu Tian fired his shot, he immediately took a few steps back, and the bullets the genetic warriors all shot into the ceiling.

It seemed like the wardrobe could no longer be used. Yu Tian did not have the time to feel regretful and continued smashing things up.

Soon, a desk was piled up, followed by a single sofa.

This time, it was the genetic warriors' turn to have a headache.

It would be more troublesome to drag the bookcase down the stairs, unless it was dismantled into pieces of broken wood.

However, this was not a real problem, as they could smash the wardrobe with bullets.

However, there were still desks and sofas on top of the wardrobe. They still had to continue removing these obstacles.

Normally, this kind of work wouldn't be considered difficult. However, there was still Yu Tian guarding upstairs. Naturally, Yu Tian wouldn't give them the time to properly remove the obstacles.

The genetic warriors downstairs started shouting again.

Yu Tian knew that this was an order from their commander. Unfortunately, he had no way to attack this commander now.

The explosions on the rooftop still did not stop. It seemed that the enemy had an unusually ample supply of grenades..

Chapter 1286: Chapter 1,285: Window Breakthrough

Yu Tian suspected that the genetic warrior's small truck was filled with dozens of boxes of grenades. These were the things that had been specially prepared for him.

Not only was he able to jump around on the roof, but his movement speed was also very fast.

The genetic warrior and Yu Tian had exchanged blows at the seaside. They knew that just relying on a rifle alone might not be enough to pose a threat to Yu Tian.

Grenades were the most suitable weapons to deal with Yu Tian.

Such a method of fighting, regardless of the cost and cost, meant that they were basically clear about Yu Tian's identity. That was why they were so desperate to kill Yu Tian.

If they wanted Yu Tian's life, they naturally had to have some ability.

Yu Tian wasn't in a hurry to leave. In any case, he wouldn't be able to leave for the time being. It would be better for him to spend some time with his enemies at the stairway entrance.

However, the genetic warriors clearly didn't have the patience to waste their time with him. Very quickly, they came up with new tricks.

Yu Tian had just dragged a bed from his room to the corridor when he saw a grenade fly in from the window of the living room.

Clearly, the attack from the entrance of the stairs had suffered a setback. The genetic warriors immediately shifted their target to the window on the second floor.

They had the advantage in numbers. Launching an attack from multiple directions was supposed to be their advantage.

This commander wasn't a stubborn one.

"Damn it! "Yu Tian cursed. Then, he immediately hid in his bedroom.

He knew that now was the time to display his true skills. The genetic warriors would definitely attack from the windows on the second floor.

The height of the second floor wasn't very high. Other than the living room, there were four bedrooms and a toilet. All of them had windows.

As long as one soldier stacked an arhat under the window, another soldier would be able to jump up, grab onto the window on the second floor, and smoothly enter the second floor.

Yu Tian held onto his metal club. He knew that the game of whack-a-mole was about to begin.

There were four bedrooms, a toilet, and a living room. There were a total of six windows.

He would be running back and forth between the six windows, trying his best to play the game of what-a-mole well.

Of course, the enemy might still be able to climb up to the third floor.

Although genetic warriors were not experts at climbing walls, if they brought some simple climbing tools, it would not be difficult for them to climb up to the third floor.

However, as long as the explosions on the third floor did not stop, he did not have to worry about the enemies going up to the third floor.

If the explosions on the third floor suddenly stopped, then he would definitely use his fastest speed to rush up to the rooftop and confront those genetic warriors head-on.

Yu Tian was not afraid of fighting with the enemies. He was only worried about Mina's safety.

However, if there was really no way to ensure Mina's safety, he would not force it.

The sound of an explosion rang out in the living room. The living room was once again in a mess from the explosion.

Yu Tian held his club and was about to rush out of the living room to take a look. However, he heard a gunshot behind him. The windows of this bedroom had been smashed into pieces.

The genetic warriors had finally started to attack from all the windows. Following that, a grenade was thrown into the bedroom.

Yu Tian really wanted to use his internal energy to slap the grenade back. Unfortunately, other than the six meridians godly sword, he had no other way to use his internal energy.

In novels, using internal energy to push the air was a very common move, but unfortunately, he did not know how to do it.

He could only flash back to the corridor.

One end of the corridor led to the living room and the stairwell, and the other end led to the stairwell on the third floor.

This corridor was Yu Tian's final line of defense, and it was also his final escape route.

Taking advantage of the continuous explosions in the bedroom, Yu Tian once again rushed into the living room.

Coincidentally, a genetic warrior jumped in from the window of the living room.

Genetic warriors were still slightly stronger than ordinary people. Climbing the window was a very simple matter for them.

As long as they held on to the window, they could pull themselves up and easily jump into the window.

However, their speed was still inferior to Yu Tian's.

The genetic warrior who had just jumped into the living room only saw a shadow flash before his eyes, and then his head was ruthlessly hit by a club.

This club directly knocked him to the ground, as if the landlady had used a pair of slippers to fan the sauce.

Under Yu Tian's acceleration, the mallet, which weighed several dozen catties, displayed incomparable power. Even the bulletproof helmet let out a painful moan.

Yu Tian did not look at the life and death of this genetic warrior. If he still did not die from this, there was no need for him to continue resisting stubbornly.

He could just leave Mina behind and flee for his life.

This genetic warrior still had a few grenades hanging on his body. These were the things they had specially prepared to deal with Yu Tian.

It was impolite not to reciprocate. Yu Tian immediately took off these grenades, removed the safety latch, and ran toward the corridor.

When he passed by the doors of a few rooms in the corridor, Yu Tian quickly threw a grenade into the room.

Then, he ran all the way to the stairs on the third floor and stood beside Mina.

After a short while, a few more explosions rang out from these rooms.

Previously, there had been explosions in these rooms as well. However, those were grenades thrown in by the enemies from outside the windows.

This was to open up a path for them to attack.

Now, these were the explosions that Yu Tian had given back to them. This was a greeting gift for them to attack.

If a genetic warrior were to jump into a room, these few grenades would be enough to make them drink a pot of wine.

The room wasn't very big. After entering the room, the grenades were equivalent to exploding beneath the feet of these genetic warriors.

If the genetic warriors could discover the grenades in time and lie down immediately, perhaps they could still rely on their body armor and body constitution to withstand the grenades. They would not be killed on the spot by the grenades, and they would not even suffer too serious injuries.

However, if they were not able to lie down in time, this kind of explosion at close range would not be easy to bear.

Even if they were not killed on the spot, they would definitely be blasted to half their lives.

The genetic warriors had to take the grenade head-on. That was in an open area with a certain distance between them.

A narrow room would only make the shockwave of the explosion stronger.

After the explosion, the entire second floor was filled with smoke and dust.

Yu Tian patted Mina's shoulder as a form of consolation. Then, he ran toward the corridor with all his might.

He glanced at the rooms on both sides of the corridor.

The toilet that had been hit the most severely was the one that had been hit by the explosion. Water had already splattered everywhere, and it was in tatters.

Indeed, there was a genetic warrior in the toilet. However, at this moment, it was already in tatters, and it did not look like a human.

The toilet was the place with the smallest space, and the explosion was also the most powerful.

The other few rooms were still fine. Two of them had discovered the bodies of genetic warriors, and they were already lying on the ground, not moving at all.

In another room, the genetic warriors were convulsing. They did not seem to be completely dead. However, they no longer had the ability to move. They would not pose any threat to Yu Tian.

In the other room, there was no one. Yu Tian estimated that if a genetic warrior happened to enter, he might have been blown back downstairs by a grenade..

The genetic warriors who had been blown back downstairs were undoubtedly the luckiest ones. In fact, they wouldn't even be seriously injured.

The only thing he had done in vain was to climb the stairs.

Yu Tian casually put the metal club back on his waist, and then continued to plunder grenades from the genetic warriors 'corpses.

These were the weapons that the genetic warriors used to deal with him. He felt that it would be a good choice to give the grenades back to the genetic warriors.

As for the guns in the hands of the genetic warriors, they were of no use at this time.

The power of these rifles was not enough to penetrate the bulletproof vests of the genetic warriors. Hence, the genetic warriors did not need to worry about accidentally injuring themselves when firing together.

Yu Tian did not need to face other enemies now. These rifles were simply a burden to him.

After looting a few grenades, he suddenly realized that the explosions on the balcony had stopped.

This meant that the enemy's grenades might have been used up. After all, he had already persisted for nearly ten minutes.

However, it was also possible that the enemy had already attacked the rooftop. In order to avoid interfering with the actions of his own people, he had stopped throwing grenades.

Yu Tian did not waste any time. He immediately ran up to the rooftop.

When he reached the rooftop, he saw a few genetic warriors climbing over the guardrail of the rooftop.

Yu Tian wanted to reward them with a few grenades, but he felt that the rooftop was too spacious. It was easy for the genetic warriors to dodge and lie down to protect themselves. The grenades were not very effective against them, he might as well leave them to deal with the enemies that entered the rooms and corridors downstairs.

Thus, he immediately jumped to the side of the enemies and quickly closed in.

These genetic warriors were all positioned very close to each other. This was because they knew that if they were too scattered, they would be easily defeated by Yu Tian.

Previously, Yu Tian had used this tactic on the beach. He would break the necks of the genetic warriors while using their corpses as shields.

Hence, the best strategy for the genetic warriors was to gather together. The moment they saw Yu Tian, they would immediately start firing at him. They would try their best to cover Yu Tian with their firepower.

If Yu Tian really got close to them, they could still pull the grenade and perish together with Yu Tian.

They were all raised by their parents. These genetic warriors would really dare to perish together with Yu Tian.

A few of them detonated the grenade at the same time. Even if Yu Tian had wings, he would not be able to escape.

These genetic warriors did not even have the time to shoot at Yu Tian. Yu Tian had already gotten close to them.

Hence, these genetic warriors immediately decided to go all out.

One after another, they reached out to touch the grenade in front of their chest.

The moment Yu Tian saw this stance, he knew what they were planning to do.

This move was too destructive. However, it wasn't that Yu Tian didn't have a way to deal with it.

Yu Tian wasn't an ordinary person. He still had his ultimate move, the six meridians godly sword.

He immediately waved his arm. Sword Qi shot out from the tip of his fingertip, slashing out like a 40 -meter-long broadsword.

Naturally, his Shang Yang sword wasn't as long as 40 meters. However, in close combat, none of these genetic warriors were spared. Instantly, their heads were sliced off by the sword qi.

Shang Yang sword was not a surgical knife. The cutting process was not that exquisite.

Instead, it was more like a simple and crude axe. Not only was it sharp, its destructive range was also greater.

Wherever this sword Qi shot out, there would be a hole. Wherever it slashed, there would be a large hole.

The genetic warriors whose heads were sliced off by Yu Tian had their entire necks completely disappeared. Even their heads had lost a large part of their chins.

A few of the genetic warriors had been instantly killed. Furthermore, they had died without a sound.

Yu Tian's heart jolted. It seemed like he could take this opportunity to shift the battlefield?

Time was precious, so there was no time to waste.

He immediately returned to the staircase on the third floor and reported to Mina. After that, he swiftly jumped towards another house. The genetic warriors downstairs immediately started shouting.

"Damn it! He ran away!"

"Hurry up and throw the grenades! "

Stopping throwing the grenades was definitely a huge mistake made by the genetic warriors.

As long as there was a few seconds of time, it would be enough for Yu Tian to escape the blockade.

Furthermore, due to the slight hesitation of these genetic warriors, Yu Tian had even jumped over two houses in succession.

This time, the encirclement of the grenades by the genetic warriors was completely destroyed.

If they wanted to stop Yu Tian, they could only continue what they had done previously. They drove to the front of Yu Tian's route, first throwing grenades on the rooftops in front to seal the road, and then throwing grenades on the rooftops in the back to encircle him, once again, they compressed the space of Yu Tian's movements, blocking him in one of the houses.

However, this process would require at least another 10 minutes.

There wasn't much time left for the genetic warriors, as Yu Tian had already heard the sirens. This meant that the police had already arrived.

The first batch of police that arrived was definitely not many, but it represented the strength of the entire bull city police force.

Even if the genetic warriors were able to wipe out the first batch of police, there would be even more police after that. Furthermore, there would be an endless amount of police.

Even if the genetic warriors were able to continue fighting, it would be impossible for them to continue fighting to the death with the police.

This was because the longer this dragged on, the more manpower the police would mobilize, and the weapons and firepower would become even more powerful and ferocious.

If the police were truly angered, the genetic warriors would still have to suffer some losses.

This was a huge loss for them.

This was because the clone society's target was Yu Tian. If they were to fight to the death with the police, they would only allow Yu Tian to escape.

Even if they could defeat the police, such a victory would lose its meaning.

Seeing Yu Tian escape the encirclement, the commander of the genetic warriors knew that there was nothing they could do today.

They spent another ten minutes to catch up to Yu Tian and surround him. Then, they would repeat the earlier attack process and spend another ten minutes with Yu Tian in the residential area

At that time, they would be entangled by the police, which was the biggest problem for them.

This was no longer a question of whether they could win against the police.

That was because retreating in that situation would expose their hideout and even expose more information about the Kronin Society.

If they did not retreat now, they would not be able to escape from the police.

They could only fight to the death with the police in the bull market until they ran out of ammunition and food.

In the end, they could not even surrender. They could only commit suicide and destroy their own bodies.

This was the biggest weakness of the genetic warriors. It was not a problem of their combat ability, but the fact that the clone society was a secret organization. They would not have too much time to fight.

To attack quickly and retreat quickly, this was what rats should do.

Hence, Piggy Liang wasn't nervous about Yu Tian being attacked. He knew that even if Yu Tian couldn't escape, he would definitely be able to stall for some time.

Unless the Clone Society decided to give up on this genetic warrior army, they could only retreat as soon as the police arrived..

The genetic warrior finally stopped pursuing Yu Tian and started retreating.

Yu Tian's pressure immediately decreased.

He searched the surrounding streets for a while, and soon discovered his car and the blue underpants members that had gathered by the roadside.

There were dozens of blue underpants members guarding the nearby streets, but they did not go to support Yu Tian.

Because Piggy Liang did not allow them to send themselves to their deaths, they could only watch Yu Tian's battle from afar.

The Eastern Dragon Company had already arranged for blue underpants to be replaced by a manager. This way, it would be easier for the headquarters to give them orders.

These gangsters were considered the property of the Eastern Dragon Company. Naturally, they could not be wasted.

It would be fine if they could be of some use against the genetic warriors. However, if they could not be of any use at all, there was no need for them to waste their resources on such a battle.

Yu Tian appeared in front of these gangsters with Mina. The assistant who had been guarding outside the safe house immediately came forward to welcome them.

“Boss, it’s great that you are fine! The bosses said that we are not allowed to go near the battlefield. Earlier, they were still asking about your situation...”

Baptiste, Barr, and the other leaders were a little puzzled just now. They did not quite understand the order of the higher-ups not to allow reinforcements. They were wondering if there was another case of rebellion.

However, after hearing the reports from the gang members at the scene, they knew how strong the battle was and how strong the enemy was.

This was no longer something that their gang could interfere with. Other than praying for Yu Tian, they had nothing else to do.

Now that Yu Tian and Mina had returned safely, the few leaders in blue underpants heaved a sigh of relief and immediately reported the situation to their boss.

Yu Tian did not have time to chat with them. He immediately instructed the assistant, “Immediately escort Miss Mina out of here...”

Mina was slightly startled. “What About You? Aren’t you leaving with me?”

Yu Tian said, “I’m going to chase after those people. I Can’t let them run away so easily. “Oh right, after you go back, immediately change to a new cell phone number and pass the old cell phone number to your assistant. “Then, you can move to a new residence. First, ensure your own safety...”

“I understand. ”

Mina knew that her cell phone number had appeared, so she naturally knew how to handle it.

In order not to interrupt her contact with red dragonfly, she could only let her assistant carry her cell phone and temporarily separate from her work.

This way, she could maintain contact with other people and not be tracked by the enemy to her location.

She could wait until the matter of the mole was settled before telling her new cell phone number to the other leaders of red dragonfly.

Yu Tian did not waste any more time. After instructing Mina, he immediately got into his car and headed in the direction of the genetic warriors.

The genetic warriors were also delayed for a while. They had to collect the corpses of their own people.

It was not for the dignity of the dead or the fate of their souls. It was because they could not leave the corpses to the authorities.

There were many secrets on the corpses of genetic warriors. They were related to some of their genetic research techniques. Every corpse that was left behind could be obtained by the authorities.

Even though the probability of such a technique being cracked wasn't high, they would still try their best to take the corpses away or burn them on the spot.

Yu Tian quickly arrived at the residential area where the fight had taken place. At this time, the genetic warriors had just loaded the corpses of their comrades onto their vehicles and were preparing to drive away.

Yu Tian did not rush forward to stop them.

This was because the firepower of the genetic warriors was far stronger than his. He might not be able to stop them.

Therefore, he decided to secretly follow behind these genetic warriors. This way, he could follow the clues and find out where these genetic warriors were hiding and obtain more information and clues.

The genetic warriors acted skillfully and quickly boarded their respective vehicles.

At this time, a police car finally arrived at the intersection of the street and stopped by the roadside.

The siren stopped abruptly. Two policemen got out of the car and leaned against the back of the police car. They looked at the minivans on the street vigilantly and doubtfully.

They had received a report that a fierce gunfight had occurred. However, when they got close to the scene, Yu Tian 's fight had already ended. They did not hear any particularly obvious explosions in the distance, nor did they hear the gunfight that had passed through the silence.

This made them a little confused for a moment.

They looked at the minivans on the road strangely. They planned to use the horn to let these minivans lean against the side of the road for inspection.

However, the genetic warriors did not have the intention to waste their breath on the police officers. The motorcade drove straight in the direction of the police cars.

(‘Hey! You guys...’

The two police officers had already pulled out their handguns. They were about to order the motorcade to stop.

Unexpectedly, more than ten gun muzzles suddenly extended from the driver’s seat of the motorcade. They started shooting fiercely in the direction of the police cars.

The two policemen were caught off guard , and the police cars and people were immediately turned into sieves.

The motorcade of genetic warriors whizzed past them. They didn’t even bother to take another look.

There were also other vehicles passing by on the street, but they were all scared to the point of hiding by the roadside. Only Yu Tian dared to follow behind the motorcade of genetic warriors.

After walking for about ten minutes, the convoy had already left the district where the battle had occurred.

However, they did not slow down, nor did they intend to blend into the bustling traffic of the city. Instead, they headed straight towards the direction of the suburbs.

Yu Tian instantly felt that his tracking would be somewhat troublesome.

If he was in the city, and he blended into other traffic, it would be very difficult for the genetic warrior to discover his tracking.

However, if he were to head to the highway in the suburbs, there would be very little traffic on the road, so his tracking would be very obvious.

Seeing the genetic warriors ‘convoy heading towards the suburbs, Yu Tian could only brace himself and continue to follow.

At the same time, he opened up his communication with brother Pig and told him about his current situation.

"I am now following the genetic warriors 'convoy, but I might not be able to keep an eye on them for too long. They are heading towards the suburbs. Do you have any way to follow them?"

"Follow them first," Piggy Liang said calmly. "I'll think of a way. "

This was a very good opportunity.

Genetic warriors were the top combat power of the Clone Society. They were an extremely important combat power.

Every time a genetic warrior appeared, it was an important clue in the search for the clone society.

However, the time taken for the genetic warriors to launch their attacks the last two times was very short. The evacuation was also very decisive and quick. In addition, Yu Tian was also forced to jump into the sea, so there was no time to track them at all.

This time, Yu Tian finally bit their tails and immediately sent his location to Piggy Liang..

Chapter 1289: Chapter 1,288, interception and destruction

Tracking was usually difficult to accomplish by one person, but Donglong had no way of organizing more people.

Donglong's branch in the mini-bull market had basically been destroyed, and even the final Operation Branch had gone missing.

The only forces they could use now were the Wild Fox Secret Service Team and blue underpants.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team was a combat force, and they were not good at tracking. Blue underpants was even worse.

Let these non-professionals investigate the case and get some information. They might be able to make do with it, and they might be able to get some information.

However, if they were to follow, they would definitely be easily discovered by the enemy.

As such, Yu Tian could only follow by himself for the time being, following behind the Genetic Warrior's motorcade.

Soon, the genetic warrior's convoy entered the suburban highway.

The suburban highway was even wider, and the number of vehicles on the road had also decreased by a lot.

Yu Tian could only slow down once more, increasing the distance between him and the genetic warrior's convoy.

After walking on the suburban highway for over ten minutes, brother Zhu suddenly spoke into Yu Tian's earpiece, "You don't have to follow them anymore..."

"Why?"

"Because they've already discovered you and are prepared to stop you."

Yu Tian was slightly stunned before he suddenly came back to his senses. "You've already set your eyes on them?"

Zhu geliang said, "Yes, I've already set my eyes on them... But if you don't Stop the car, you might run into a little trouble."

"What little trouble..."

Yu Tian was somewhat curious about the trouble that Pig Bro Liang was talking about.

However, Pig Bro Liang chuckled. "You'll know soon enough... I feel that it's not bad for you to run into some trouble. At the very least, you can let your enemies relax their vigilance."

Yu Tian was instantly baffled.

His car was currently passing through a bend. On both sides of the bend were sparse forests.

The bend was not a sharp bend, but a long bend.

As the car gradually turned around, Yu Tian suddenly saw a small van parked in the middle of the road in front of the bend. That was the vehicle used by the genetic warriors.

He immediately understood what the little trouble that Zhu Ge Liang was talking about was.

However, it was a little too late to understand now. Dense gunshots were immediately heard from the trees on the side of the road, and a few grenades that Yu Tian was very familiar with flew out.

Yu Tian's car did not have a bullet-proof function. Hence, he could only hurriedly turn the car around and crash into the forest by the roadside.

This kind of dodging was not very effective. Even with the huge body of the car, it was impossible for it to completely dodge the bullets and grenades.

Yu Tian could only face the front of the car from the co-driver's seat. Then, he car.

The weapons of genetic warriors were not all short bursts. They also had larger caliber rifles with greater power and penetration.

In the blink of an eye, Yu Tian's car had been turned into a hornet's nest. It had almost been flipped over by the explosion of the grenade.

Fortunately, Yu Tian had a good driving habit he did not wear a seatbelt, so he jumped out of the car in time. After jumping out of the car, he slipped into the forest by the roadside.

Dry!

Originally, Yu Tian had a few grenades on him. However, he felt that he did not need them, so he conveniently stuffed them into Mina's hands.

Now that the genetic warriors were throwing grenades at him, he could only watch helplessly.

For the time being, he was unable to get close to them, and he was completely helpless against them.

In a relatively narrow environment, grenades would pose a great threat to fully armed genetic warriors. However, they posed a lesser threat to Yu Tian.

This was because Yu Tian could use the complicated terrain to avoid the shockwaves of the grenades and the shrapnel.

However, now that they were outside, the situation was reversed.

A genetic warrior could easily withstand the shrapnel of the grenades with just a slight dodge.

However, Yu Tian could not withstand the shrapnel. If he did not find a cover, he would definitely be burnt to a crisp.

This type of steel ball grenade had a blast radius of 50 meters. Yu Tian felt that he simply could not find a safe place, so he could only flee frantically into the small forest.

With his speed, it would not be too difficult for him to quickly dodge the range of the grenade.

Furthermore, the small forest could more or less form a barrier, blocking most of the shrapnel.

The moment Yu Tian entered the depths of the forest, those genetic warriors could not do anything to him.

Regardless of whether it was bullets or grenades, they were all restricted in this environment.

Therefore, Yu Tian decided to go around the forest and approach the genetic warriors from the direction of the forest.

However, the moment he entered the depths of the forest, the gunshots and grenade explosions outside immediately disappeared without a trace.

The air seemed to have quieted down instantly.

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment, then immediately ran out of the forest.

Just as he reached the edge of the forest, he saw those genetic warriors already surrounding the minivan.

They were preparing to board the minivan, as if they were about to leave immediately.

At the same time as boarding the minivan, these genetic warriors were also maintaining their vigilance, always paying attention to the movements in Yu Tian's direction.

The moment they saw Yu Tian reveal himself from the edge of the forest, they immediately started firing at him. At the same time, they threw two more grenades at him.

This type of grenade and bullet play left Yu Tian helpless. He could only quickly retreat into the forest.

The goal of these genetic warriors was not to harm him, but merely to disrupt his movements.

When Yu Tian was slightly further away, these genetic warriors casually threw a few grenades at him before quickly getting into the car.

Without waiting for Yu Tian to make any more moves, their minivan immediately sped off.

Yu Tian was instantly dumbfounded.

With this wave of operations, his minivan was completely destroyed.

The genetic warriors knew that it would be very difficult to harm Yu Tian, so they did not all stay behind to set up traps and ambush Yu Tian.

Their goal was only to destroy Yu Tian 's vehicle and stop Yu Tian from continuing to follow him.

The reason why they only left behind a single car was because they had the idea that if they did not succeed, they would die.

If they did not succeed in stopping Yu Tian, the entire car would be prepared to self-destruct here. They would even destroy the vehicle and everything else, while destroying the highway as well.

However, their plan was still very successful. Although Yu Tian wasn't injured, he wasn't able to protect his vehicle.

Now that they had succeeded, this group of genetic warriors immediately got into the car and started running.

Yu Tian looked at the small truck that was disappearing into the distance and could only sigh.

Even if he ran at full speed, his speed couldn't compare to a vehicle that was moving at full speed. His endurance was even worse.

Sighing, Yu Tian spoke into the communicator again, "Alright, my little trouble is over, and they have all escaped.... are you still tracking them now?"

Chapter 1290: Chapter 1,289, had they given up

Piggy Liang had been keeping in contact with Yu Tian the entire time. He chuckled and said, "Don't worry, I've been keeping an eye on them. They won't be able to escape."

Yu Tian asked curiously, "What method are you using to track them?"

Piggy Liang said indifferently, "A satellite, a military reconnaissance satellite of the eastern country.

Yu Tian said with a sudden realization, "Not bad, it's a big move."

"That's a must..." Piggy Liang smiled. "We have to eliminate these genetic warriors. No matter how much resources we spend, it's still worth it."

"That's right."

Yu Tian was also filled with hatred toward these genetic warriors. Their destructive power in the city was simply too great. Furthermore, their combat style was unbridled. Ordinary combat teams were simply not their match.

Previously, in Dusk City, it was Yu Tian who had carried out an unbridled attack against the Kronin Association and the traitors.

Now, in the mini bull market, the Kronin Association had also used this move, similarly causing huge trouble and losses to Yu Tian.

The key was that the Kronin Association's intelligence work was better than Donglong Company's. Yu Tian now felt as though he was passively being beaten up everywhere.

"Oh right..." Yu Tian suddenly thought of something and asked brother pig liang, "How did they find out that I was following them?"

Brother Pig Liang said, "About that... I can tell you now, but you have to be prepared to control yourself and not do anything unnecessary because they are still staring at you..."

Yu Tian's heart moved. "You mean..."

Pizzv Lianz said, "Yes, they used a mini drone to monitor you from above your head... I only found out about this situation after I activated the satellite."

Yu Tian suddenly came to a realization. "No wonder, when we were having a meeting at the safe house previously, we didn't notice that Mina was being followed. So they used a drone."

Brother pig said, "That's right. With the location of the phone and the surveillance of the drones, Mina's every move can be said to be under their noses. "As long as they discover your tracks, they will immediately send out genetic warriors to ambush you..."

Yu Tian was puzzled. "They knew that I would definitely look for Mina? Why didn't they keep an eye on the Wild Fox Secret Service Team?"

Brother Pig smiled. "Perhaps they felt that your relationship with Mina was special... besides, there are too many managers in the Wild Fox Secret Service team, and they don't have that many drones to monitor everyone. The Wild Fox Secret Service team had more than twenty team leaders, and they were divided into dozens of teams to investigate cases every day. Kronin would not be able to keep an eye on so many people.

Moreover, Yu Tian might not have direct contact with the members of the Wild Fox Secret Service team. It was normal for him to direct them through the phone.

Therefore, it was reasonable that Kronin would focus on Mina.

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Mina and I are just old classmates. Where did this messy news come from..."

"Of course it's a mole inside the red dragonfly. You can go and find that mole now. No. 76 has already sent you the location, right?"

Yu Tian took out his phone and looked at it, then said, "Hurry up and get the car to pick me up."

Brother pig smiled and said, "You have to be patient. It'll take at least half an hour to get here from the city... Alright, the Kronin Society's drones have retreated. I have to keep an eye on it and see where it came from."

Yu Tian walked along the highway toward the direction of the mini bull market while asking doubtfully, "The drones have retreated already? They don't want to continue following me?"

Piggy Liang said, "Perhaps the power supply is insufficient, or perhaps they know that they can't do anything to you, so they won't send genetic warriors to deal with you in the future..."

Yu Tian was somewhat disappointed. "They're giving up just like that..."

Brother pig smiled and said, "Their attack this time can be considered as their best effort, and it's also unprecedentedly fierce. However, they still can't do anything to you. "I'm afraid that if they want to take any action against you next time, they'll have to think carefully about what methods they should use..."

Yu Tian sneered and said, "Any methods are useless. If I didn't still have Mina with me, I would have killed them all long ago."

Without any burdens by his side, Yu Tian's movements became even freer.

He could completely move around the room, causing the attacks of the genetic warriors to be unable to keep up with his pace and lock onto his position.

At this moment, Piggy Liang already had a very clear understanding of Yu Tian's combat strength, he smiled. '(That's right. You can be considered a nuclear weapon of the Eastern Dragon Company. Hence, I specially ordered a set of bulletproof vests for you from within the country. When that time comes, it will be even more convenient for you to fight against the genetic warriors.

Yu Tian laughed heartily. "With a bulletproof clothing, I can enter a herd of sheep like a tiger and directly charge at genetic warriors.

Brother Pig Liang said, "You better not be careless... didn't you say that there are also combat experts among genetic warriors? What if a bunch of combat experts were to act shamelessly against you? For example, hugging you and then self-destructing...

Yu Tian said, "I won't let them succeed so easily. Those combat experts of theirs... are no match for me no matter what.

Piggy Liang sighed. "The genetic warriors have ambushed you twice already. I feel that the next time they come, I'm afraid they will send some experts that are on par with you."

Yu Tian shook his head. "Where did so many experts come from? Do you think that true experts can also be mass-produced?"

Brother Pig Liang said, "Actually, just being an expert is nothing. Even if you can't beat them, you can still run away. "Moreover, you're not fighting alone. We'll be more careful and arrange the guards around you... What I'm worried about is that Kroni will go crazy and directly give you a missile...

Yu Tian was shocked. "You're not joking, right?"

Brother pig said indifferently, "Of course, it's not that easy to launch a missile. It's very difficult to launch a missile from outside the border into the territory of the Wind Nation. Unless they control a missile base in the territory of the Wind Nation..."

Yu Tian said with a headache, "It seems that I have to pay attention to hide my whereabouts for a while."

Brother pig said, "Yes, so if there's no need, you should try not to show your face everywhere. "Also, the people you want to contact, you have to keep your whereabouts a secret to avoid being traced by the enemy..."

"It seems like we have to give all the members a safety training. After all, our East Dragon Company is also a secret organization..."

"I'll get my subordinates to arrange for this..."

After walking for two miles, brother Pig Liang reminded him that the convoy that picked him up had arrived.

There were three black commercial vehicles. When they saw Yu Tian walking slowly by the roadside, the convoy immediately slowed down and signaled to Yu Tian with flashing lights. Then, they stopped in front of Yu Tian..

Yu Tian originally thought that the people who came to pick him up should be the Wild Fox Secret Service team, but when he saw these commercial vehicles, he knew that the people who came were blue underpants.

The Wild Fox Secret Service's vehicles were basically painted like police cars, and there were no such comfortable commercial vehicles. After the car door opened, Barr immediately jumped out of the car.

"Boss... "

"Oh, Barr, you're here too...

Yu Tian was a little surprised. A leader like Barr should not be personally involved in such matters.

Barr said respectfully, "Yes, the higher-ups have an order to let me go with the boss to arrest people.

"Arrest people?"

Yu Tian immediately understood what was going on, so he nodded and said,

"Then let's hurry up and leave. We have to hurry. "

A group of gangsters hurriedly got into the car, and the three business cars sped off again.

No. 76 had already sent Yu Tian the address. The target of their capture this time was the person who had hacked into the communication service company's system and located Mina's cell phone.

When they were halfway there, they received another message from the headquarters. The drone that had been monitoring Yu Tian had returned to the mini bull market and finally entered a small villa.

The location of this small villa was exactly where they had located it.

Yu Tian's motorcade sped up. After half an hour, they finally arrived at their destination.

The target location was a small villa. There were many flowers and plants planted in the courtyard. There were also many vines crawling on the walls of the house. It looked like they had been meticulously shot at and repaired.

This neighborhood could be considered a wealthy district. The residents were basically middle-class people with small assets. There were also many similar types of small villas around it. They were all beautifully decorated.

Everyone got out of the car.

Ba Er walked to Yu Tian's side and said in a low voice, "Boss, there seem to be a few gang members across the road.

Yu Tian glanced across the road. On the roadside outside the target villa and on the passageway beside the villa, there were a few dark-skinned workers squatting on the roadside and chatting.

When they saw Yu Tian and the others' cars parked on this side of the road, these dark-skinned men immediately turned their heads in unison and stared blankly at Yu Tian and the others who had just alighted from the car.

Yu Tian did not care about these gang members. When he wanted to arrest someone, even if the police and the army were watching from the side, he would still arrest them. No one would be able to stop him.

Ba Er brought his underlings and quickly followed.

At the same time, the few black workers around the small villa immediately gathered together and walked towards Yu Tian.

"Hey! Buddy, What's the matter?"

The black workers blocked in front of Yu Tian and the others, blocking the road to the small villa.

Without needing Yu Tian and the others to speak, the few blue underpants gang members at the side glared and shouted, "Get lost, you black refugees!"

The blue underpants gang had always had a strong sense of racial discrimination, especially towards those immigrants who had taken away their resources. The white members of the Blue Underpants gang had always hated them.

If Yu Tian was not their boss, their discrimination would have included Yu Tian.

Their discriminatory attitude and tone immediately caused the black members of the gang to be furious.

"Ice City Hell is nothing. When did this become Ice City Hell's territory..." A few of the gang members with Blue Underpants started laughing.

Strictly speaking, this wealthy residential area was also within Ice City Hell's sphere of influence. However, when it came to the real ownership of this territory, it should actually be called the police's territory.

The police would not allow those foul-smelling gang crimes to spread to the wealthy residential areas, especially the wealthy residential areas.

Even this kind of middle-class residential area was also under the strict protection of the police.

Let alone collecting protection fees and selling small pills, even if a gang were to wander around here, they would still be subject to the police's focus.

A big gang like the Ice City Hell would be restricted to doing business and causing trouble in these areas even if they had a good relationship with the police officers in the area.

These few black gang members squatted on the street outside the small villa. Their purpose was self-evident.

They were not here to cause trouble, but to protect the people in the small villa.

Yu Tian snorted coldly and did not waste any more time talking to these little lackeys. He strode forward.

The expressions of the gang members changed, and they immediately reached for their waists.

This was the action of reaching for their guns.

The people in Blue Underpants also hurriedly began to reach for their guns.

The gang conflicts in the mini-bull market generally would not use guns, because wind country was a country that prohibited guns. Fighting was the most common method they used.

Although gangsters relied on violence for a living, they would not resort to violence at any time. They would not kill people at any time.

Unless they encountered a major conflict of interest or something important, they would only have the need to upgrade their means of confrontation.

Now that these gangsters had started to draw their guns, it proved that the people in the small villa were very important to them.

Yu Tian was a little puzzled. Could it be that the Kronin Association was also related to the ice city hell?

There were people from the Kronin Association in the upper echelons of the red dragonfly. Could it be that the ice city hell also had people from the Kronin Association?

Then, wouldn't the Red Dragonfly's action plan against the ice city hell be exposed to the ice city hell?

What would the Kronin Association do in the fight between these two gangs?

Since the Red Dragonfly had already joined Yu Tian, Kronin would definitely not allow the red dragonfly to swallow up ice city hell and grow stronger, right?

However, why did ice city hell not seem to have any movements, nor did it launch any attacks against the red dragonfly.

Why was that?

Yu Tian felt that the matter seemed a little complicated, and he was too lazy to think about it.

Regardless of whether it was the red dragonfly, blue underpants, or ice city hell, they were only fighting some gangs.

The outcome of the gang war was not a big deal to him.

Seeing that the few black workers in front of him wanted to pay, Yu Tian casually waved his hand and knocked them out.

This time, everyone's guns were in vain.

Seeing these black workers lying on the ground, Barr immediately ordered his underlings, "Get everyone into the car."

This wealthy district often had police patrols, so in order to reduce trouble, their actions should be more low-key.

The underlings immediately stuffed the guns back into their waists, then carried these unconscious black workers to the side of the car and stuffed them into the trunk..

Chapter 1292: Chapter 1,291, arrest

Yu Tian originally felt that there was no need to be so cautious, because they now had an open and aboveboard identity in the authorities.

But he suddenly came back to his senses when he thought of the reason why Piggy Liang had asked Blue underpants to accompany him in the arrest, instead of handing the task to the Nogitsune Secret Service team.

It seemed that they did not intend to make an open and aboveboard arrest this time.

They would not hand over the people they had arrested to the police, nor would they go through any official procedures.

This was a private operation, and the people who had been arrested could only go missing in the official records.

Yu Tian pondered in his heart, what was the meaning of this arrangement of brother Zhu Liang.

Perhaps brother Zhu Liang thought that among the officials of the mini-bull market, there must also be people from the Clone Society.

Therefore, Donglong company had to try its best to deal with the Klonian Society on its own and try not to cooperate with the officials too much.

Yu Tian looked at the man in blue shorts hiding the black guy in the trunk of the car. He pondered for a moment and then ordered, "Drive further away and leave a car waiting for me below.

Three commercial cars of the same color parked together was really eye-catching. If they were to be investigated by the police, it would cause unnecessary trouble.

Yu Tian was not afraid of this kind of trouble, but he also felt that it was better to try his best to not worry about it.

Yu Tian could complete the task of arresting people by himself.

He walked to the door of the small villa and listened for a while. Then, he jumped up to the second floor of the villa.

It was a waste of time for Yu Tian to knock on the door or break into it.

Perhaps it was to make it easier for the drones to enter and exit, the window on the second floor was open. Yu Tian directly jumped into the house from the window.

There was a white-skinned man in his thirties or forties in the house. He was sitting on the computer and hurriedly working on something.

Yu Tian's sudden jump into the house surprised the man, but he did not panic.

He seemed to have already expected Yu Tian to come in. He only glanced at Yu

Tian for a moment, then quickly sped up his actions.

This was not strange, because the shouts of the black workers outside the house were a little loud. Other than the habit of the black workers putting on airs, it also had the effect of reminding the man in the house.

Moreover, there were cameras installed outside the villa, so this man could completely see what was happening outside through the cameras.

He had already guessed the purpose of Yu Tian and the others coming over, and had also guessed his fate. He was now busy deleting some information and information on the computer.

However, Yu Tian did not stop him. He only laughed softly and then took out his phone.

There was a photo of the target on the phone. This was taken by No. 76 through the target's own computer camera. It was also the man in front of him.

Target confirmed.

If he was not in a hostile position, Yu Tian would rather admire this kind of dedicated and dedicated people.

Even if he was about to meet with an accident, they would still remember to handle the work at hand as quickly as possible, including destroying all kinds of information that would harm the interests of the organization.

However, this man's actions were meaningless.

No. 76 had already emptied his computer through the internet.

The technical level of both parties was on a completely different level.

Therefore, Yu Tian only needed to capture the person back. There was no need to take anything else.

After verifying the identity, Yu Tian was ready to capture the person.

The middle-aged man suddenly sighed and stopped what he was doing. "It seems that what I'm doing is meaningless."

The brain worker still had some brain power. He understood the current situation so quickly.

Since Yu Tian did not stop him from deleting the files on his computer, it proved that the things on his computer had no effect on Yu Tian.

After understanding this point, the man simply put down the work in his hands.

Yu Tian said indifferently, "There's no rush. You can continue to delete the files. I'll give you time... I can even call you for help."

The man sighed and said, "I won't call for help, and no one can save me."

Yu Tian said, "Don't be so pessimistic. If you don't call for help, how will you know that no one will come to save you?"

The man smiled bitterly and said, "I've seen your battles... No one can save me from you. Even my body might not be able to be taken away."

He had been controlling the drone to track Yu Tian just now, so he was very clear about Yu Tian's terrifying combat strength.

Therefore, when he saw Yu Tian on the surveillance camera at the door, he knew that there was no chance for him to escape.

Thus, he stood up obediently and said, "I can go with you, but I hope that I can call my family and tell them that I'm on a business trip..."

"I told you, you can call them as you wish."

Yu Tian still had the same indifferent attitude.

Calling was just a small matter. Even if the other party called for help, Yu Tian would not care.

He even wanted to see who the other party would contact and what reinforcements they could call.

Now that the other party said that he would call his family, he was even less bothered.

However, when the other party mentioned his family, Yu Tian suddenly felt like he was in a drama.

The continuous battle and killing made him almost forget that every life that died had a family behind it.

That's right. In fact, apart from these special professions and identities, many people were ordinary people.

Including the two gangsters who had warned him at the entrance of the safe house, they were just two kids who wanted to make a fortune.

If it weren't for the special profession of the gangsters, which involved Yu Tian, they would just be two ordinary gangsters.

The white-skinned man in front of them also felt very ordinary.

He didn't look like he had the temperament of a secret profession at all. On the surface, he was just an ordinary Tech Geek.

Perhaps he was just a technician who was paid to work and was hired by a member of the Clone Society.

His life was very ordinary. He just accepted a dangerous mission and wanted to make a fortune.

Perhaps, he didn't have any confidential information about the clone society.

But even so, Yu Tian still had to bring him back for interrogation.

As much information as he could get.

Moreover, such technical and civilian personnel were basically unable to withstand torture.

As long as he brought him back and tortured him, or even threatened him a little, he would be able to tell him everything he knew.

This was not the first time Yu Tian had encountered such a situation. The man had already taken out his phone and started to call his family.

“Dear... Pm preparing to go on a business trip...

(‘I’m afraid it’ll take a few days...”

“I don’t need to bring any luggage, nor do I need clothes. There’s everything there...

“I don’t have anything to bring...

“Must I bring... My tie....

Chapter 1293: Chapter 1292, ruthless character

Yu Tian silently watched the man in front of him talking to his family. He guessed that the person on the other end of the phone should be the man’s wife.

There was nothing to be pitied about. Since he wanted to earn this kind of money, he naturally had to bear this kind of fatal risk.

Even if this man was just an ordinary Tech geek who took up a job of tracking surveillance for the sake of earning money.

But after he saw the target he was tracking, he should have known that he was involved in something dangerous.

The upper echelons of the gang, the secret gathering, the armed men with guns, the unbridled battle, the superman-like Yu Tian..

After seeing so many things, if he still dared to command the drone to track Yu Tian, he would have to bear the consequences.

Yu Tian was expressionless.

No. 76’s voice suddenly rang in his ear, “Boss, his information... he’s divorced a long time ago!

Yu Tian was slightly stunned.

The man continued to talk on the phone, "Alright... As you wish... Then I'll put on the tie you prepared for me..."

The Man's voice was a little strange, and Yu Tian suddenly felt a sense of danger.

He hurriedly leaped and jumped backward toward the window behind him.

"Boom!

Just as Yu Tian jumped out of the window, a deafening explosion immediately sounded in the room.

The huge impact and flames broke through the window, and countless pieces of debris rushed toward Yu Tian.

Yu Tian was in mid-air. He had nowhere to borrow strength, and he could not dodge.

He could only raise his arms to protect his head and face. In an instant, he mobilized his internal force and sent it out of his body according to the defense method of the golden bell shield and iron cloth shirt.

Boom

Explosions sounded one after another, as if something else in the room had been detonated.

The shock wave of the explosion pushed Yu Tian directly across the street.

After knocking on the roof of the commercial car that he was sitting on, the driver in the car was instantly dumbfounded.

Ba Er immediately jumped out of the car and grabbed the roof nervously. "Boss! Are You Okay?"

"I'm fine."

Yu Tian took a deep breath and sat on the roof of the car for two seconds before he gently jumped out.

This kind of explosion was not a steel ball grenade. There were not too many shrapnel, and it did not turn Yu Tian into pockmarks.

However, Yu Tian's location was basically the center of the explosion. He was only a few meters away from the location of the explosives.

The impact of the explosion was unimaginable to a living person.

He said he was fine, but he was not killed by the explosion on the spot.

After all, his physique had exceeded the range of a human being. In addition to the protection of his internal energy, he was able to withstand the explosion.

However, he suffered internal injuries.

Fortunately, he was a godly doctor. It was not difficult for him to treat internal injuries.

Yu Tian forced himself to get into the business car. He only gave an order to retreat and then began to close his eyes to regulate his breathing.

Internal energy had the effect of nourishing the meridians and training the internal organs.

Yu Tian was not in a hurry to inject himself with needles. Instead, he tried his best to calm down the aura in his body.

The explosion just now not only caused his internal organs to suffer a violent shock, but his internal breath was also somewhat chaotic.

He had to first calm his internal breath down and resume normal circulation before he could begin acupuncture treatment.

Piggy Liang was asking about his current situation through his earpiece. Yu Tian replied while he was operating the nameless internal force, "I'm fine."

The biggest benefit of the nameless internal force was that no matter what he was doing, it would not affect his cultivation at the same time.

Piggy Liang immediately heaved a sigh of relief. "It's good that you're really fine. If you're seriously injured, don't hide it from us."

"I'm really fine. I'm a godly doctor, so injuries are not a problem for me. Moreover, this kind of internal injury can be treated faster than external injuries. There won't even be a wound."

"Alright, then hurry up and talk..." Piggy Liang sighed. "I really didn't expect that the technical staff of your cloning skill would be so cruel... It seems that he's not a small character."

"That's right..."

Yu Tian originally thought that this was just a hired temp, or a purely technical personnel and peripheral member.

However, he did not expect that this seemingly ordinary man was also a ruthless character who did not care about his life.

To be able to play the self-destruct skill, it seemed like there was no one else other than those genetic warriors and death warriors.

Although Yu Tian had fought with the clone society many times, he had not really come into contact with many high-level members of the clone society.

For example, the councilman Leon of dusk city was basically a formidable character that could not be interrogated.

As for the people around him, the other councilmen or important figures in the city hall, they were probably only peripheral members of the clone society, or even minor characters who did not even know the name of the Clone Society.

There was also the arms dealer Cui Zhengzhi whom he had captured in hell. He could be considered an official member of the KLONI association, the person in charge of a regional business.

However, Cui Zhengzhi had also died mysteriously- No one knew what methods he had used to commit suicide.

Yu Tian realized that any member with some status in the KLONI association who knew a little about the internal information of the organization would not be easy to deal with.

As for those who were easy to deal with, such as the operational personnel he had interrogated, they basically did not know any secrets about the Kroni Society.

The secret organization, the Kroni Society, was indeed much more professional in keeping secrets than the Donglong Company. Their official members, or rather, important members, would almost never reveal any secrets.

Dealing with the Kroni society seemed to be a long and arduous task.

Yu Tian circulated his nameless internal energy while calmly asking brother pig liang, "When will the bulletproof vest you prepared for me be delivered?"

He now felt that he really needed some defensive equipment in case he ran into any unexpected situations.

Brother Pig Liang smiled and said, "It will be here tonight. It's a good thing for you to start paying attention to your defensive issues. You will definitely be very satisfied with your new equipment."

Yu Tian did not comment. "Whatever. A set of bulletproof vest is enough... the capture operation this time failed. What should we do next?"

"Next... you should rest and recuperate first. The opportunity for the next operation should be here soon."

Piggy Liang said calmly, "As for the failure of the capture this time, it's actually not a big deal. "Based on our previous experience, it's very difficult for us to get any information from the members of the clone society through interrogation, so whether or not we can capture the captives is not the most important thing..."

"So? How do we track down the information of the Clone Society?"

"I think that even if we don't take the initiative to investigate, the Clone Society will take the initiative to find us and try to destroy us. So... you just need to follow the clues and kill your way over.."

Chapter 1294: Chapter 1,293, the equipment had arrived

The East Dragon Company and the Kronin Association were now arch-enemies. Both sides wanted to destroy each other, and both sides would take the initiative to attack the other side's exposed forces.

In comparison, the East Dragon Company had exposed more things, while the Kronin Association's forces were more concealed.

As such, the clone society seemed to have the upper hand now.

However, it didn't matter. Yu Tian could totally deal with whatever came his way.

Just like how these genetic warriors had launched a sneak attack on him, he could also follow the clues and counterattack.

This was especially so now that GE Liang Pig had mobilized military satellites at all costs and had the support of the Eastern countries. Tracking the whereabouts of those genetic warriors was not a problem at all.

As long as those genetic warriors were still active on earth, they would not be able to escape the satellite reconnaissance network that was spread all over the world.

What Yu Tian needed to do now was to wait for the results of the satellite tracking and then lead a team to eliminate these genetic warriors.

In the future, they could also use such methods against the other factions of the clone society.

Donglong company could completely expose some of its branches that seemed important, but were in fact just an empty shell, and use them as bait to attract the attacks of the clone society.

Then, they could set up a counterattack force on the bait, and prepare satellites to track the enemy at any time.

This was equivalent to luring the snake out of its hole.

As long as the clones took action against them, they could also take action against the clones.

The more times the clones took action, the more clues would be exposed, and the more targets East Dragon could counterattack against.

These decoys didn't have to worry about being discovered by Kronen, because they weren't sure how valuable their targets were. After all, there were plenty of opponents waiting for them at their target locations.

The more ambushes East Dragon prepared, the more security they could be considered to have.

Moreover, this was an open plot. East Dragon wanted to express such an attitude: If Pm exposed, will you come?

Come on, let's hurt each other.

Of course, the clone society would not give up the opportunity to attack the East Dragon Corporation, just like the East Dragon Corporation would not give up the opportunity to attack the clone society.

This was war. All the exposed forces were consumables that had to be consumed by each other.

Regardless of whether there was a conspiracy or a trap, everyone would just use their operational personnel to fight. They would just fight, fight, fight.

As long as they won, it was fine. The spoils of war were these people's lives. There was basically no need to consider other values.

This was the essence of war that Piggy Liang believed. They only needed to constantly destroy each other. Everything else was just a detail.

Piggy Liang thought that this was the safest place in the mini-bull market.

After returning to his room, Yu Tian was surprised to find that his injuries seemed to be almost healed.

Other than operating the nameless internal strength, he did not give himself any other treatment. But his internal injuries, which were very serious just now, were already mostly healed.

Could it be that this nameless internal strength... was originally an internal strength used to heal injuries?

Was that why its cultivation efficiency was so low?

Unfortunately, this set of internal strength cultivation method only recorded the cultivation method, and there weren't many other explanations. Yu Tian also couldn't see any clues.

There was no use in blindly thinking about it. His injuries hadn't fully recovered yet, so he could only continue to practice the nameless internal strength in his room.

After a few small cycles, his internal injuries finally recovered, and Yu Tian finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Zhu Ge Liang had not been notified to take action yet, and the bulletproof vest that had been custom-made for him had not been delivered. Yu Tian had nothing else to do at the moment, so he could only continue cultivating

The nameless internal strength was indeed somewhat magical, but it was still a little too slow for the growth of his internal energy cultivation.

Right now, Yu Tian mainly wanted to increase the upper limit and total amount of his internal energy. It was impossible for him to use the mysterious healing function of the nameless internal strength as the main method to practice his internal strength.

Therefore, he began to practice the limbo micro steps again.

The limbo micro steps gained more internal energy, and it was more useful in actual combat.

All the experts had to go through hard practice. Yu Tian did not dare to slack off. He made use of the time to practice the limbo micro steps faster and more skillfully.

Soon, it was dusk. Finally, someone knocked on Yu Tian's door.

Yu Tian's equipment had arrived.

Everything was placed in a serious equipment box. It looked like a holy chest, but it was not as exquisite as the reliefs.

The first thing Yu Tian took out was a helmet. It looked similar to an ordinary motorcycle helmet, and it was also fully covered.

The weight of the helmet was lighter, and it looked a little thin.

However, the thing that brother Pig had prepared for Yu Tian was definitely not a defective product. It was also not inferior to the mass-produced bulletproof helmets of genetic warriors.

Yu Tian put on the helmet and tried it on. It felt very light and did not affect his movements.

Furthermore, the vision of this helmet was very good. The first half of the helmet was made of transparent materials. After putting it on, it did not feel as though he was wearing a helmet.

The only thing that he was not used to was that the transparent part of this helmet was similar to a pair of sunglasses. Hence, after putting it on, his vision felt a little dark.

"Do you think this is just a bulletproof helmet?"

Piggy Liang was doing his job and introducing his new equipment to Yu Tian.

"We can integrate a full set of individual communication systems with a pair of sunglasses. The functions of this helmet of yours are much more powerful. " "What other functions do you have?"

"What other functions do you think there will be on such a big screen in front of your face?"

"HMM, it should be enough to play games..."

“Don’t think about these boring things. Such an expensive screen is not for you to play games, but to provide support for your battles.”. “As long as I give you the information, you can view it directly on the screen. “For example, a map, a route map, or even direct you to fly a plane or a tank...”

“There’s such a function?”

“Of course, I can see everything you can see. I can directly process the image you see on the screen and direct you to operate everything in your line of sight...”

After saying this, Yu Tian saw an additional light circle on the equipment box in his line of sight.

Taking a closer look, it turned out that this circle of light was added by the screen on the helmet’s face.

Yu Tian was instantly amused. “This function... It must have cost a lot of money, right?”

Brother pig said, “Money is nothing. This is the screen projection technology on the new combat equipment of the eastern country. It can not be bought outside. “Even if you buy a product with similar functions, the information processing speed is not as high as a military product. Add in the bulletproof strength, the private customization....

Chapter 1295: Chapter 1,294, fully armed

A club on his waist was worth 100 million. With such a bulletproof helmet that even rich people couldn’t buy, even the richest man in the world wouldn’t be as extravagant as him.

The bulletproof vest was a complete set. It felt a little like a diving suit and felt soft to the touch.

“This is a new type of bulletproof material. It has actually appeared a long time ago.

Brother pig continued to explain, “This material is very bulletproof and earthquake-resistant. It has a stronger defensive effect than those metal and ceramics, and it also has a more perfect protection for the human body. “The only drawback is that this thing can’t be cut with a knife...”

Yu Tian was a little stunned. “It can be bulletproof, but it can’t be cut with a knife

Brother Pig Liang said, "Yes, it's fine even if you use a knife to stab it. It's just that you can't use the sharp edge of the Imife to forcefully pull it..."

Yu Tian said speechlessly, "It's just that it can only be stab-proof and can't be cut."

Brother Pig Liang said, "That's more or less what you mean. It's fine if this thing is lightly pulled, but if you use a knife to forcefully pull it, it will flip over on its own..."

Yu Tian had a headache. "That's a bit troublesome."

Piggy Liang smiled. "It doesn't matter. Since this is the bulletproof equipment I prepared for you, it naturally won't have such an obvious flaw. There's also a layer of bulletproof fiber on its outer layer. "However, this layer of bulletproof fiber isn't very strong. It's mainly used to defend against cuts. "

"Oh..."

"You have to be careful when you use it. If you're attacked by a dense barrage of bullets, the bulletproof fiber on the outer layer will be damaged to a certain extent. "At this time, you have to be careful not to let the enemy slash at the damaged part of the bulletproof vest..."

"I got it."

"The bulletproof fiber on the outer layer can be replaced after it's damaged, and the cost is relatively low. But the inner layer is very expensive to replace, so you have to be careful of sharp weapons like daggers..."

"Don't worry, I can often dodge bullets. Daggers... There aren't many people in this world who can hurt me with a dagger. With this double layer of protection, this bulletproof vest won't be so easily scrapped."

Yu Tian put on the bulletproof vest. The outside of this thing was filled with cold bulletproof fiber, and the inside was a thin bulletproof layer. It felt similar to wearing a set of winter underwear.

Whether it was comfort or flexibility, they were all excellent and had no effect on Yu Tian's movements.

Then, there was a pair of boots.

The boots were also lighter, but they were still heavier than ordinary sports shoes.

"This pair of boots can protect against lightning."

Pig Bro Liang introduced, "There's no special function, just a very good explanation. Even if you stepped on an ordinary infantry mine, you don't have to worry about your legs exploding."

Yu Tian said, "It's okay for me to kick people in it, right?"

Piggy Liang said, "Of course it's okay. As long as you can do it yourself, you can even kick the wall. It's definitely stronger than you think."

"That's good. "

A black helmet, a black tight bulletproof vest, black boots..

He felt like he looked like a killer now.

After thinking for a while, Yu Tian muttered, "I should buy a jacket that motorcyclists usually wear and a motorcycle. That way, it'll look more normal when I go out."

Brother pig said, "Sure, I'll get No. 12 to arrange it for you. You can use the helmet to make a call directly. Besides the satellite communication function, the helmet can also connect to the phone you're using..."

The helmet had many functions, and the control method was also directly through voice.

Yu Tian had used the goggle-style communicator before, and the operating mode was the same as the helmet.

After calling No. 12, Yu Tian took out the last piece of equipment from the equipment box.

It was something like an armguard, about the length of the forearm, and it was very heavy.

The ARMGUARD was made up of two semicircular components. It could be opened and closed, and then the arm could be put on.

Yu Tian was puzzled. "Is this an armguard? Why is there only one?"

Brother pig said, "One is enough. You might not need the function of this armguard. A full set of bulletproof vest is enough."

"What function is the armguard?"

Yu Tian was a little surprised. He looked at the armguard carefully and asked curiously, “How can such a small thing defend against artillery shells?”

Brother Pig Liang smiled and said, “There is a mechanism on the inner side of the ARMGUARD. You will know once you pat it.

Yu Tian looked at it carefully again, but he couldn’t find the so-called mechanism.

He put on the ARMGUARD and stretched out his hand to pat it on the inner side.

With a soft sound, the outer side of the ARMGUARD suddenly flipped open and then unfolded into a small round shield.

“Wow... It’s awesome...”

Yu Tian didn’t know how strong this round shield was, but just the way this shield was opened gave him a feeling of black technology.

Then, he carefully observed the round shield on the arm guard.

The round shield was made of metal, but the body of the shield was very thin. It felt like it would deform if it was bent slightly.

But he knew that it was impossible. Since it was a shield, it must be stronger than the clothes on his body.

The shield was not very big, but it could cover his head and neck completely.

Piggy Liang said, “This Armguard can only be considered as an experiment, similar to a concept car. An ordinary person would not be able to use it, nor would they mass produce it. “However, this design is very convenient to carry, and because of its own material, its strength is also extraordinary. “Its beveled design can remove and deflect a huge impact force. As long as you have enough strength, it is no problem to use it to defend against cannonballs.”

After pausing for a moment, piggy Liang said, “Of course, this thing isn’t very practical. You probably won’t have the chance to use it. I just got it from the Dongfang laboratory...”

Yu Tian smiled and said, “So it’s out of print? I think it’s pretty good. At least it’s quite valuable... how do I put the shield away?” “Just pat the position of the mechanism again.”

Yu Tian patted the mechanism again and put the shield away.

This thing was indeed not very practical, but it did not prevent Yu Tian from wearing it just in case.

What if the enemy really used a missile to bombard him?

This shield should be more durable than a bulletproof vest.

After putting on all the equipment neatly, Yu Tian had an urge to give it a try.

This time, when he fought against the genetic warriors again, he did not have to worry about how many enemies there were.

No matter how many rifles were fired at him, no matter how many grenades were thrown at him, he would not have to dodge them carefully anymore.

It was definitely not a problem for him to fight head-on with the genetic warriors now.

Yu Tian was waiting for the results of the satellite tracking, preparing to attack the genetic warriors..

Chapter 1296: Chapter 1,295, mutual sneak attacks

At 8 pm, Piggy Liang finally contacted Yu Tian again.

“We’re starting!

Yu Tian was practicing the limbo micro-step. Hearing this, he immediately stopped.
“Can we set off now? Where exactly are these genetic warriors hiding?

Piggy Liang said, “Their hiding place isn’t too far away... However, that isn’t the main point.

“Oh? What’s the situation?”

“After those genetic warriors escaped from your tracking, they retreated along the coastline, boarded a ship by the sea, and left the sea...”

“In that case, their nest is no longer in the wind country?”

(‘No, it’s also in the wind country. However, it’s not on the continent of the wind country, but on an island in the south of the wind country.

“On an island? Aren’t they afraid of being discovered if they place their nest on an island?”

“That’s not a small island. Instead, it’s two provinces of wind country.” Piggy Liang said helplessly, “The area there is relatively large. It’s not much smaller than our southern island. ”

“Oh...”Yu Tian came to a sudden realization. “So you’re saying that we should cross the sea to that island and destroy that group of genetic warriors?”

“Yes, I plan to let you cross the sea, but not to destroy that group of genetic warriors. Those genetic warriors aren’t on the island right now... can you guess where they went?”

“Could it be that they’ve returned to the Maverick Market?”

“That’s right, they’ve returned to the vicinity of the Maverick market. There’s also their nest near the maverick market. It’s only about an hour’s drive away from where you are now.”

“Oh? Could it be that they are planning to ambush me?”

Yu Tian was somewhat excited. It would be good for him to have the genetic warriors come and look for him on their own initiative. This way, he would be able to save time traveling back and forth.

Brother Pig Liang said, (‘I feel that they should have this intention... however, I have already said that you should go to that island now, and not wait here for them to ambush you.

“00 to tne Islana to amDusn tnelr strongn01W”

“Yes, but your target shouldn’t be the genetic warriors near the mini bull market, but the stronghold on their island, “Piggy Liang said. “I have a feeling... that your rat squad might be in the stronghold on the island. ”

“Then what are you waiting for? Let’s go.

Yu Tian couldn’t wait to rescue the rat squad.

A whole team, no, a few teams, disappeared just like that. They were either destroyed or captured by the Kronin Society.

This was a disgrace.

It was a disgrace to the DONGLONG company, and it was also a disgrace to Yu Tian.

At that time, the mouse team and the other teams were under his direct command.

Not only did he suffer a sneak attack, but the other teams were all wiped out. It was as if the Kronin society was beating him senseless.

Fortunately, this time, Brother Pig had obtained a satellite. He finally had a chance to counterattack.

He wanted to let the Kronin society have a taste of the power of the Eastern Dragon Company. He wanted to let those genetic warriors have a taste of what it was like to be ambushed.

After pondering for a while, Yu Tian asked brother pig, "Then what about the Wild Fox Secret Service Team's base? If I were to go to the island to save people, I would definitely need to bring over a hundred people to assist me in transporting the injured, right?"

Brother pig said, "You don't have to worry about the safety of the base. A hundred people are enough to defend it. "

Yu Tian said, "How many genetic warriors are there? Is it enough to leave over a hundred people in the base? The combat power of genetic warriors isn't weak. If the number is equal, our people might not be their match.

Brother pig smiled and said, "There are only about a hundred genetic warriors..."

"Then our men might not be able to defend this base."

Yu Tian did not have much confidence in the combat strength of the Wild Fox Secret Service team.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team was made up of various operational branches within the borders of wind country. The quality of their members could be considered uneven.

There were strong and weak operational branches. The stronger ones could fight head-on against the combat forces of the police, while the weaker ones could only deal with some gangsters or ordinary criminal armed gangs.

Donglong company had temporarily integrated these operational branches, and it hadn't been long. They had only gotten familiar with each other for the time being, and it wasn't enough to talk about overall cooperative combat training.

Now, to let them cooperate in combat, it could only be said that they wouldn't hurt their teammates by accident. It was definitely not realistic to let them work well together and display any exquisite tactics.

They were still in the small-team mode, and they could support each other in small teams. This was the most suitable way for them to work together at the moment.

The overall coordination of genetic warriors was much better, not to mention their individual combat strength. They were also much stronger than the Wild Fox Secret Service members.

Yu Tian was somewhat puzzled. "You're not using the 100 or so good members of the base as bait to attract the attention of the Clone Society, are you?"

Piggy Liang laughed. "That's not the case! Don't forget, we still have allies in wind country.

Yu Tian was enlightened. "You want to involve the police force of the Mini Bull Market?" "Police force..."

Piggy Liang sighed. "If the police force encounters genetic warriors, it'll be like sending food to the table. It's impossible to count on them. The helpers I found are from the Military Intelligence Bureau..."

"Does the military intelligence bureau have troops in the mini-bull market?"

"They do now. I've already contacted General Hugo. Their army has already reached the mini-bull market. They're just waiting for the genetic warriors of the clone society to walk into their trap.

"Looks like the clone society will finally be able to bite into a hard bone this time."

Seeing that Piggy Liang had arranged everything properly, Yu Tian finally felt at ease.

"Let's Go!

There was a knock on the door. Number 12 was already waiting outside.

However, number 12 would not go to the island with Yu Tian. He would be stationed at the base and be in charge of commanding the battlefield.

There were 130 to 40 members who set out with Yu Tian. There were a total of eight action squads, which accounted for more than half of the entire wild Fox Secret Service team.

More than 100 people drove more than 20 police cars and left the base in a grandiose manner.

Although Yu Tian had just killed the intelligence officer of the Kloni Society who was hiding in the mini bull market, Zhu Gelang had also checked the situation around the Wild Fox Secret Service team's base through the satellite. So far, he did not find anyone monitoring the wild Fox Secret Service team.

However, for the sake of insurance, Yu Tian and the rest of the team still made a big detour, as if they were going to dusk city.

Two hours later, they finally made it to the beach.

According to the location, they got off the car and walked to a rocky beach by the beach.

There was no dock in this place, and there was no way for a big boat to dock.

Crossing the ocean would definitely require a big boat, so they had to transfer to a big boat that was parked near the beach through the small boat.

The group turned on their flashlights on the beach, and a dozen of them shone brightly into the dark sea..

Chapter 1297: Chapter 1,296, fishing boat

Translator: 549690339

The light of the flashlight was not eye-catching in the vast sea, but it was still very eye-catching in the dark shore.

After the flashlight on the shore lit up, a few lights gradually lit up on the surface of the sea.

The lights were high and low, and under the light, the outline of a big boat could be vaguely seen.

Yu Tian originally had the feeling of a smuggling joint in an old movie. He used a flashlight to signal and then did some sneaky and sneaky business.

However, when the lights on the surface of the sea were turned on, the sneaky feeling disappeared.

After all, they still had the signboard of the police. Although their actions were hidden, they did not need to be as careful as thieves.

Moreover, their contact did not need to be so mysterious. Other than using a flashlight to indicate their location, they could also use their cell phones to confirm their identity.

Currently, the Wild Fox Secret Service team had one commander, two vice captains, and three captains. This was a temporary command system that did not include number 12, the person in charge.

There were two captains, one commander, and one vice captain, who followed Yu Tian. Therefore, Yu Tian did not need to worry about the command and itinerary of the entire team.

The chief captain picked up his cell phone and dialed the number. After confirming his identity with the other side, he ordered the team members to go down to the beach and prepare to board the ship.

Soon, the two motorboats docked.

Fortunately, the large boat was not far from the shore. It did not take too much time to transport them back and forth.

Yu Tian patiently waited for these secret service members to board the ship first. When they were halfway on the ship, he boarded the motorboat with the vice-captain.

When they got close to the large ship, Yu Tian smelled a very strong salty smell.

He noticed that it seemed to be a large-scale ocean-going fishing ship.

After boarding the ship, this point was confirmed. The fishing tools on the fishing ship were still there.

“Where did you get this fishing boat?”

Yu Tian was very puzzled.

The vice-captain reported, “This was arranged by the higher-ups. They said it was a rented fishing boat.

Yu Tian was even more puzzled. “Could it be that our East Dragon Company can’t even find a proper transport boat now?”

This question was a little beyond the vice-captain’s knowledge.

He scratched his head awkwardly and said, “I heard that... This is to make the operation more confidential, so we specially found a fishing ship that has nothing to do with us.

This was indeed enough of a secret.

The travel schedule of the fishing ship was not as regular as that of the freighter. There were clear records of when the freighter departed, what cargo was loaded, which route it took, and what destination it was going to.

The fishing boats would set off to sea whenever they wanted to. They would leave for a few days, or even months, and most of them were untraceable. Sometimes, when something happened to the fishing boats at sea, they could not even find them because they basically did not take any fixed routes.

If Kroni would always pay attention to the movements of the ports and docks, and be on guard against Yu Tian and the Wild Fox Secret Service team going to their island, then the private fishing boats would definitely be the part of the information that they could not grasp.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and asked again, "Then what are the arrangements for our return?"

"It's still this fishing boat. "

"This fishing boat... will he be able to receive us in time?"

"We will leave a small team on the boat, and we will not delay the journey.

The vice-captain answered in a methodical manner. It seemed that all the arrangements had been made long ago, and there was nothing that was left out.

However, Yu Tian always felt that something was not right.

How could such an important military operation be so trivial as to hire a fishing boat.

Was a fishing boat also suitable for military operations?

It was better to set off by boat now. As long as they maintained sufficient secrecy and were not discovered, it would be fine.

However, when they completed their mission and retreated, they might face the pursuit of the enemy, or other kinds of interference.

Would a civilian fishing boat have the ability and courage to face those unexpected situations?

The psychological quality of the captain was not up to par. If they shivered in the rain of bullets, perhaps they would have to suffer together with the fishing boat.

In fact, it was not uncommon for the army to mobilize civilian ships. During wartime, the armies of many countries had mobilized civilian merchant ships and cargo ships to carry their troops across the ocean.

Even small fishing boats and sampans had participated in the heroic event of a million-strong army crossing the river.

However, in this peaceful era, how could ordinary people have the courage to get involved in such matters.

This arrangement by Piggy Liang seemed to be a little too casual.

Accompanied by the vice-captain and the sailors on the ship, Yu Tian sat in the cabin suspiciously and met the captain.

The captain was a slovenly old man. He was not dressed properly and had a full beard.

Yu Tian did not know whether this man had a full beard to begin with, or if it was because he wanted to be the captain that he deliberately had a full beard.

It seemed that everyone who was a captain should have a full beard in order to fit their identity.

“Hello, boss. Welcome to the Mary. It’s my honor to be able to provide services to the police!”

Old Downey warmly shook hands with Yu Tian.

Although the Wild Fox Secret Service team secretly rented a boat, they still showed the police sign when they rented the boat, and explained that the purpose of renting the boat was to carry out a secret operation.

That was why the fishing boat was willing to accept such a sneaky operation arrangement. It went to the seaside to guard in the middle of the night like a smuggler.

Yu Tian shook hands with the captain and asked curiously, “Donny, this doesn’t seem to be the name of a person from the wind nation, right?”

Old Donny smiled and said, “That’s right. I’m from America. I just married a wife from the wind nation, and then I inherited the property of my wife’s family.”

Old Downey looked very proud.

Yu Tian originally thought that the so-called industry should be a large-scale fishing company or something like that.

He didn't expect that the captain was just talking about a ship.

However, he quickly came back to his senses. He was really a little out of touch with the lives of ordinary people.

For ordinary people, such a large fishing ship was enough to be called an industry.

This was a large fishing boat with the ability to sail through the ocean. There were more than ten to twenty workers working on the boat alone.

There were also staff rooms, kitchens, restaurants, warehouses, and fish cabins on the boat... the space was not small.

However, the hundred or so people from the Wild Fox Secret Service team boarded the boat and felt a little crowded.

Many people could only squeeze into the warehouses and fish cabins, barely hiding their tracks.

When the Nogitsune Secret Service team finally boarded the ship, the sailors hung the two motorboats on the side of the ship and set sail silently.

The target was brother's Home Island.

The name of this wind country island was rather strange. It was called Brother's home.

Its exact location should be in the southeast corner of the wind country, across the sea from the wind country road. The distance was about 170 kilometers..

Translator: 549690339

The coastline of his brother's Island was more than 1,000 kilometers long, and there were many harbors. It was very suitable for smuggling and landing.

In order to ensure the stealth of the operation and the suddenness of the attack, the Nogitsune Secret Service team did not intend to openly land on the island this time.

They did not inform any official agencies, nor did they leak their whereabouts in front of any official agencies.

If they could still be detected by the Kronen and knew that they were about to land on the island for a surprise attack, then it could only mean that the Kronen's intelligence ability was so pervasive that they could not guard against it.

The fishing boat broke through the wind and waves and began to move forward at full speed.

Generally speaking, the speed of the fishing boat was at most 20 knots, and at most, it could run more than 40 kilometers per hour.

But this maximum speed was very fuel-intensive. Fishing boats went out to sea to make money. If they went at full speed, they would lose money on fuel.

Therefore, the average fishing boat could only go at most 10 knots.

But now the Mary was not going out to sea to fish, and it was not a time to save fuel. The rent paid by the Wild Fox Secret Service Team was definitely enough for them to go back and forth at full speed.

The Mary was moving at full speed, and its speed far exceeded 20 knots.

Old Downey was very proud, because the Mary used the most popular new engine in the past few years, and its top speed could reach 50 knots.

From departure to arrival at Brother's Island, it would only take two hours at most.

When it was close to Brother's Island, it was just past midnight, which was a good time to smuggle people ashore.

According to the original plan, the Wild Fox Secret Service team left a small team of more than a dozen people on the fishing boat.

These more than a dozen people were not only to protect the fishing boat, but also to ensure that the fishing boat would not drop the ball at a critical time and that the people on the boat would not make any accidents.

The rest of the people all landed, and two small boats came and went to pick them up.

The landing site had already been arranged in the plan. The captain of the Secret Service team sent the location of the landing site directly to the captain, Old Downey.

Old Downey was more familiar with his brother's Island, and he was also very familiar with the situation of the landing site. He chose a location very close to the bay to anchor, so that the Wild Fox Secret Service team's landing distance was less than 100 meters.

The speed of the landing suddenly felt much faster.

After landing, Yu Tian put on his bulletproof helmet and directly turned on the night vision function.

With the same night vision function, the performance of this full-body helmet was much better than the glasses of the soldier system.

Not only was the lighting and image clearer, but it also had the function of intelligent identification, which could identify the flat ground that could be walked on.

This made Yu Tian feel as if he had become the king of the night.

The members of the Wild Fox Secret Service team landed one after another and began to count the number of people and organize their equipment.

They landed in a group of reefs. Behind the group of reefs was a forest, and in the distance was an endless rocky mountain range.

The elder brother's Island was basically filled with undulating mountains. There were also quite a number of high peaks. This kind of terrain took up more than half of the entire island.

The remaining half of the small area was filled with forests, bushes, and other kinds of plants. There was not much space left for humans to live and move around.

The elder brother's Island had a very valiant emperor in history. The greatest value of this emperor was to make the elder brother's Island a place worth visiting.

The elder brother's Island did have many small museums and various tourist resorts along the coast.

But other than that, most of the elder brother's Island was desolate.

This was understandable, because no one wanted to live in the mountains and forests that were difficult to get to.

His island only had two large cities, one on the northeast coast and one on the southwest coast.

With these two cities as the center, the residents of his island were divided into two large living areas, and his island was thus divided into two state provinces.

According to the information obtained from the satellite reconnaissance, the colony was located in the northwest corner of the elder brother's Island. It was not close to any of the provincial capital cities.

On this sparsely populated island, the further away from the city, the easier it would be to cover up the traces of the activities of the secret organization, the colony.

Their nest was not far from the seaside either. One reason was that only the seaside was more suitable for living. The central area of the elder brother's Island was all mountains.

Another reason was that the sea was very convenient for Kronny to move people around. They only needed less than ten minutes to get out to sea.

The landing point that the Wild Fox Secret Service chose was very close to them. It was only about three to four kilometers away.

However, they did not have to worry about Kronny finding out about the landing because there were too many beaches and bays along the coast. It was impossible for Kronny to set up sentry posts at so many places, they had to monitor the entire coastline.

When all the personnel had been accounted for, the Wild Fox Secret Service team quickly set off.

Of course, these jungles by the sea were not suitable for a walk.

There were some small paths in some places, and in some places, they could only find their own way.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team now had a total of more than 100 people who had landed on the island. They were still divided into seven teams according to the original composition of the Operation Division.

It was more convenient to advance in the dark with teams as a unit, and it was not so easy to lose people.

The equipment of the Wild Fox Secret Service team was not bad. All of them were equipped with night vision goggles.

However, their night vision goggles were a little exaggerated. Many of the night vision goggles were civilian versions purchased on the Internet.

It was not that the civilian version could not be used, but the effect of night vision was slightly worse.

Yu Tian even checked their night vision goggles on purpose and found that these things were all knockoffs made by the Eastern countries.

Although the performance was indeed worse, the price was really cheap.

Yu Tian felt that such a product could be given to ordinary operational personnel.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team used quite a lot of eastern equipment, such as bulletproof vests. They were all ceramic bulletproof vests made by the eastern countries.

Not only were their bulletproof properties better than those of most countries' bulletproof vests, but their prices were also a fraction of those rubbish goods.

If they dug deeper, even the clothes, hats, shoes, and socks of the Wild Fox Secret Service team were all eastern goods.

This proved that the counterfeit products of eastern countries were already pervasive.

Of course, now those counterfeit products had their own brands.

No matter if it was a big brand or a small brand, they were all genuine products. There was no counterfeiting or shoddy products.

A group of western workers wearing the eastern country's equipment walked onto the battlefield just like that.

It felt like an invasion from the eastern country.

In fact, the DONGLONG company had the eastern country's background to begin with, and the higher-ups were all eastern people.

This Wild Fox Secret Service team was also the mercenaries of the eastern people.

They wore the police uniforms of the wind nation and swaggered into the islands of the wind nation..

Chapter 1299: Chapter 1,298, high-tech

Yu Tian did not travel with the Wild Fox Special Forces because they were moving too slowly.

Any army needed a vanguard, a scout, and a vanguard.

Right now, Yu Tian was the perfect candidate to be the vanguard.

No one dared to compete with him for this position, and no one had the ability to compete for this position.

Yu Tian didn't even walk into the jungle. Instead, he directly ran along the reefs and cliffs along the shore.

The speed and jumping force brought by the nameless lightness skill, coupled with the nimble movement of the wavy steps, made him feel like a fish in water on the steep terrain of the shore.

His speed was not as fast as a full-speed car, but it was still fifty to sixty kilometers per hour.

A few kilometers was a matter of minutes to him.

The advantage of having Qinggong was that he could ignore the terrain.

Whether it was a cliff or a flat highway, it was about the same for Yu Tian, and the speed of his advance was not much different.

Soon, he was close to the target location of the satellite positioning.

The technical team at headquarters had been paying attention to Yu Tian's movements. At this time, they immediately began to transmit various movement data to Yu Tian.

"One kilometer away from the target..."

The technical staff's prompt sounded in the earpiece. "The target is a small farm. The structure is similar to a small village. There are a total of thirteen buildings..."

The technical staff described the target in words while marking the location of the target on Yu Tian's visor.

The screen displayed a white building logo. There were a total of thirteen

Each sign had a small number next to it, indicating the distance to the meter.

This kind of high-tech assistance made Yu Tian feel like he was going to be invincible.

"There should be surveillance facilities near the target building complex. Please slow down and stay hidden..."

The technician reminded Yu Tian again, and Yu Tian simply ran into the woods by the coast.

There were paths in the woods, which were about one meter wide, barely enough for two people to walk side by side.

Yu Tian did not take these paths. To him, the terrain was not an obstacle, and places with no paths were his favorite.

However, he could not be too far from the paths, because these paths were necessary for the Wild Fox Secret Service Team.

According to the technician's requirements and action plan, he wanted to "Clear the mines "on this path.

Eliminating those surveillance cameras and possible traps was what a sharp soldier should do.

Soon, the technical personnel's voice sounded again.

"Surveillance equipment found... "

Another white sign appeared on the screen. Yu Tian looked at the location of the sign and indeed saw a small camera hidden under the leaves.

It was difficult to find these small things with the naked eye, especially in the dark environment.

But through technical means, it was easy to find these hidden small things.

One reason was the shape of these technological products. They were completely different from the shapes of nature's creations. The lines were too regular and unnatural.

In addition, the material of the technological products was easy to detect.

Yu Tian's helmet had a few simple probes that could detect light, heat, electromagnetic, metal, energy, and so on.

Unless it was an item that had been specially camouflaged, it would be difficult to escape the detection and analysis of the helmet.

He easily pulled out the camera. The next step was to destroy the camera.

Yu Tian was very good at destruction. He even had an iron mallet on his waist that was specially used for violent destruction.

However, destroying the camera was obviously not something that could be done with just one hit. This was equivalent to giving the enemy a reminder. Next, he needed to follow the instructions of the technical personnel.

Yu Tian almost stepped on the white arrows and went around to the back of the camera.

Then, the arrow on the screen prompted him to climb the tree.

This was a piece of cake for him. With a light leap, he jumped onto the tree branch behind the camera.

The technician continued to prompt, “Please follow our instructions and connect to the video circuit of the camera...”

Then, instructions appeared on the screen.

These instructions were very detailed, just like a fool’s lesson. Using a virtual logo, he taught Yu Tian how to connect to the video circuit by hand.

First, he peeled off the outer layer of insulation on the video circuit, exposing the wire.

Yu Tian did not have the relevant tools, but this was not a problem for him.

He rubbed his fingers on the wires and removed the outer layer of plastic.

Then, the technician reminded him to touch a few wires that were left at the bottom of the helmet.

These wires were used to transmit data and charge. The wires were a soft metal that could be molded into any shape like plasticine.

Yu Tian only needed to pull out the wires and lay them on the video connection.

After a few seconds, the technician reminded him again, “Please maintain the connection. We are hacking into the enemy’s network...”

Yu Tian was instantly delighted. They had started hacking into the local network so easily?

However, things like cameras seemed to be connected to the surveillance system and the entire network server.

After waiting for a few minutes, the technician finally spoke again, "The hack was successful. You can disconnect the connection now..."

Following the instructions, Yu Tian removed the connection wire and pulled it out twice. The connection wire automatically retracted back into the helmet. Then, he asked in puzzlement, "Your intrusion was successful just like that?"

The technician said, "We have successfully taken control of the enemy's surveillance system and have established a network connection with their server. "You can now move with ease under the enemy's surveillance. The subsequent network intrusion and Control will continue. This is the work of our technicians at the rear. It will not affect your movements..."

"In other words, the enemy is now blind?" "Yes, you can continue to move forward. "

"That's good.

Yu Tian jumped down from the tree branch with relief and ran in the direction indicated by the arrow on the screen.

After moving forward for more than a hundred meters, the helmet immediately warned him.

("Enemy detected!

An arrow pointed in the direction of the enemy. Yu Tian turned his head slightly, and a human figure marked by white light appeared in front of him.

Yu Tian suspected that if this continued, his observational ability would be greatly weakened in the future.

Because he relied too much on technological equipment, it would cause him to unconsciously change his habit of careful observation.

However, it was impossible for him to give up such convenient technological equipment now and foolishly carry out reconnaissance by himself..

Chapter 1300: Chapter 1,299: Hostages found

Translator: 549690339

This was a very complicated matter.

Yu Tian didn't want to rely too much on technological equipment, as that would cause his own abilities to decline. However, it would be foolish not to use good things.

Human technology was improving, but many of their instincts were deteriorating.

In the past, ordinary people wouldn't be tired even if they walked for tens of miles. Now, ordinary people felt like they couldn't walk even if they went downstairs for a meal, so they had to order takeout.

Relying too much on technology was definitely a terrible situation.

Yu Tian decided that in the future, when he took action during the day, he absolutely did not want so many intelligent reminders and the reminders of technical personnel.

Now that it was night, he could only make do for the time being.

No matter how much the intelligent system and technical personnel reminded him, when it was time for battle, these reminders would not be able to keep up with his speed.

It was not the time to consider these things. Yu Tian still had an enemy waiting for him to deal with.

It was very easy to kill an enemy's sentry post. It was not the first time that Yu Tian had done this kind of thing.

However, this kind of thing had the same problem. After killing the sentry post, how long would it take for the enemy's headquarters to notice that the sentry post was out of contact.

If the sentry post and headquarters sent a signal every few minutes, then after he killed the sentry post, he had to attack the enemy's headquarters within a few minutes.

Otherwise, the enemy would definitely enter the highest level of alert and defense.

How should he deal with this problem?

"You can directly attack the enemy and destroy the enemy.

The technician reminded Yu Tian again, "You just need to ensure that your actions are covert and smooth. The rest of the problems can be handled by us.

("You guys will handle it?"

"Yes, the enemy's communication system has also been hacked by us. All the signals that they send out are under our control. "We can also make the enemy's headquarters 'communication system malfunction and completely cut off their communication with the sentries. We won't suspect that someone has hacked in...

"Alright, then I'll leave the rest to you guys."

Yu Tian was too lazy to figure out how these technicians operated. Since they allowed him to fight without worry, he might as well go all out.

He immediately pounced toward the Sentry.

A gust of wind blew past, and the Sentry's brain was smashed into pieces.

This sentry was not a genetic warrior, but an ordinary person.

Furthermore, he was not wearing any bulletproof equipment, and he did not have any protection on him.

Such an enemy, Yu Tian did not even want to waste a single needle.

After killing the Sentry, Yu Tian continued to approach his target.

Soon, he reached the edge of the forest and saw a small village in front of him.

There were quite a few small villages like this on his brother's Island, especially along the eastern coast.

Many locals did not move to the city, but instead cultivated wasteland in the mountains and forests, engaging in farming and farming.

This kind of life seemed to many easterners to be idyllic, but only the people involved knew how happy they were.

However, no matter what, the scenery on Yu Tian's island was still better than many places.

Yu Tian did not enter the village directly. Instead, he circled around the village.

There was no need to worry about the surveillance cameras anymore. All he wanted to do now was to kill all the sentries outside the enemy's perimeter.

When the Wild Fox Secret Service team arrived, they would immediately surround this small village. They would not let any enemy off.

Yu Tian's movement speed was very fast. It only took him a few minutes to run around the village.

Along the way, he met a few more clone society sentries, but he did not stop for these sentries.

He swept past the sentries like a gust of wind and took their lives in passing. Not a second was wasted on them.

After a few minutes, Yu Tian completed a circle around the village and also took care of a few sentries outside.

There were not many sentry posts, and there were only a few people. It seemed that Kronin was very confident in the surveillance system he had set up.

At this time, the Wild Fox Secret Service team had also rushed to the outskirts of the village.

According to the instructions of the headquarters, the Wild Fox Secret Service team began to spread out and surround the small village.

They already knew that the enemy's surveillance and sentry posts had been taken care of. Now, their job was to surround the village and wait for the attack to start.

For matters like the attack, Yu Tian still had to take the lead.

The technicians and the intelligent system still gave him the most suitable route for the attack. Starting from the edge of the village, buildings were cleared one by one.

Due to Yu Tian's strong personal mobility, this sneak attack was completely led by him.

The Wild Fox Secret Service team was considered a substitute. Only when Yu Tian's actions were exposed and the enemy was ready to counterattack would the wild Fox Secret Service team launch a fierce attack.

However, before Yu Tian's operation was exposed, the entire raid was Yu Tian's personal performance.

He would quietly carry out the massacre and flatten the buildings one by one.

If the operation went smoothly, he might be able to wipe out all the enemies in their sleep.

However, just as Yu Tian was about to launch his operation, the technician suddenly reminded him, "The plan is aborted... "

Yu Tian was stunned for a moment. "What's the situation?"

"The technical team has made a new discovery. Please wait a moment..." "the technician was silent for two seconds before continuing, "The technical team has found the hostages!"

"Hostages?" Yu Tian was instantly energized. "Where are the hostages? Can We confirm their identities?"

“Please wait a moment... we have found a cell in the surveillance system, but we can’t determine the exact location of the cell and the camera just by looking at the video footage. “In addition, the light in the video is very dim, so we can’t determine the identity of the person in the cell for the time being...”

“Are you saying that you don’t know anything other than that there’s a cell in the surveillance system? You Can’t even be sure if this cell is on your brother’s Island?”

“The enemy’s surveillance system is in the same local area network, so we can confirm that the dungeon is in this village. “The dungeon in the video is larger than all the buildings on the ground, so it should be under a building in the village...”

“Oh? Dungeon?”

(‘The possibility of it being a dungeon is very high... However, the enemy’s database didn’t find any information about the dungeon, nor did they find any information about the prisoners... ”

“Have you deduced any information?”

(‘We can see from the video that there are quite a number of prisoners in the dungeon. We believe that... These prisoners are very likely our missing operational personnel. ”

“Then let’s cut to the chase. I’ll go find this dungeon!

Yu Tian rushed out with a big club in his hand..
