

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1351 – 1400

1,350, want to make money - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1351 - 1,350, want to make money

Chapter 1351: Chapter 1,350, want to make money

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian asked Henry about the situation of the David Gang.

The David Gang was a white gang. The gangs controlled by the East Dragon Company in wind country were mostly white gang. This was mainly because the white gang was easier to control.

The gangs of other ethnic groups were not suitable for investment, especially the black gang.

Donglong company had tried to invest in the gang of black workers before, but they found that the gang of black workers could not be controlled at all.

The main reason was that the gang of black workers was very greedy and stupid, and short-sighted.

They did not understand cooperation and give, only know how to ask and demand.

The gang of black workers was either a worker's mentality, if someone invested in them to support them, they put all their hopes on the investors.

They hoped that a fat sheep would be able to let them plunder until they were bald and rely on the investors for their entire lives.

However, they were extremely lazy and could not do their part as migrant workers.

This could be seen from the situation in their hometown.

They guarded the richest land in the world but lived the poorest life in the world. Other than the black gang members, there was no one else.

Otherwise, the black gang members would ostracize other ethnic groups and only treat their investors as fools.

They would accept all the benefits they were given and use all the excuses to get them to do something. They would still have the mentality of taking money for nothing and not working.

For such ethnic groups and gangs, the East Dragon Company believed that under the right conditions, the probability of them betraying them was 99% .

There was also a 1% chance that they were so stupid that they did not know how to betray them.

Therefore, the gangs that the East Dragon Company invested in did not have black gang members. The few gangs that they invested in Dawn City were all white gang members.

The David Gang was the most developed gang among them. There were more than a hundred core members.

In terms of the number of core members, the David Gang was definitely much stronger than a gang like the red dragonfly.

However, the situation of their core members was still a little different from the situation of the red dragonfly gang.

In the David Gang, as long as they officially joined the gang, they would be considered core members.

As for how core these core members were, and how good their quality would be, it was hard to say.

However, the gangsters who could make a living in a place like Dawn City were definitely ruthless people who dared to fight and kill.

Otherwise, they would not be able to survive in Dawn City, a crime capital with terrible security. Not to mention setting up a gang and marking down a piece of territory.

The David Gang, which had a hundred ruthless characters, could be considered a big gang that could be ranked in Dawn City.

The other gangs that the East Dragon Company invested in had less than half the number of members of the David Gang.

However, the strength of a gang could not be solely based on the number of members.

Just like an old saying from the east, "Whether it's a donkey or a horse, you'll know once you pull it out.

Until the time when the gang was in an all-out war, no one knew the combat strength of this gang.

Those small gangs with fewer members were able to survive in a place like Dawn City, which was more of a test of the strength of the gang members.

Of course, there were benefits to having more people.

Yu Tian now had an idea about the group of wooden men. He felt that these hooligans could be used well.

After chatting with Henry for a while, he slowly walked to the hot dog and the red-haired ghost.

The hot dog and the red-haired ghost had a bitter look on their faces. They were thinking about how to avoid pouring so much beer into their stomachs.

Yu Tian laughed out loud. "You two... Don't think too much. This isn't a hongmen banquet, and no one is forcing you to drink all of this beer. If you want to drink more, then drink more. If you don't want to drink, then don't drink. Please do as you please.

As he spoke, Yu Tian sat down in front of the hot dog and the red-haired ghost. He casually picked up a pitcher of beer and drank it all in one gulp.

The beer from abroad was stronger than the beer from home, and it felt more like a drink.

Yu Tian felt that the beer that David brewed for him tasted pretty good, so he downed the second cup in one go.

Seeing this, the hot dog and the red-haired ghost finally let out a sigh of relief. They each picked up their own cups and began to pour the beer into their mouths.

After drinking two cups of cat urine, the hot dog wiped his mouth and asked curiously, "What's the Hongmen Banquet?"

("Hongmen banquet... that's an oriental allusion. You Don't need to care about these questions." Yu Tian smiled and said, "I have a question to ask you... do you want to make a Fortune?"

"Of course!

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost immediately answered and then asked, "Do you have something you want us to do?"

Yu Tian laughed, "That's right, you guys guessed it right. I like to talk to smart people like you.

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost were a little proud. They also thought that they were smart people and could see through Yu Tian's intentions at a glance.

Everyone wanted to make money, but there was no free lunch in the world. Yu Tian wanted to give them a chance to make money, so he naturally had something to ask them.

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost had run errands for people before, so they were quite familiar with this kind of situation.

The two immediately asked, "What do you want us to do? How much money can we get?"

Yu Tian took out his phone and said indifferently, "I want to find a few people in Dawn City. There are photos of them here..."

As he said this, Yu Tian showed the photos on the phone to hot dog and the red-haired ghost.

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost stared at Yu Tian's phone for a long time before saying, "I've never seen these guys before."

Yu Tian said, "That's why I want you to look for these guys. I'll give you 10,000 yuan for each guy you find."

"10,000 yuan?"

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost were immediately tempted.

10,000 yuan was not a small amount of money. If converted to the currency of eastern countries, it would be a few hundred thousand yuan.

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost could not help but look at each other. This was indeed a windfall.

Hot Dog rubbed his hands and said, "There were more than a dozen people in those photos just now..."

Yu Tian said indifferently, "That's right. One person is worth 10,000 yuan. If more than a dozen people were found, it would be more than 100,000 yuan. "If you only found one of them, but when I finally caught him, the others happened to be with him, then it could be considered that you guys found them..."

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost's eyes lit up, and they said one after another, "This rule is too reasonable."

Yu Tian laughed, "I've always been a very reasonable person. The people who help me do things will definitely not be at a disadvantage.

Hot dog blinked his eyes, "Then what if we help you catch these guys and send them to you?"

Yu Tian shook his head. "No need. I don't need you to do anything. If you catch these guys, I can only give you one thousand per person...."

Chapter 1352: Chapter 1,351. Try Your Luck

Translator: 549690339

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost were stunned. "Why? Why is the reward so much less when we helped you catch them?"

Yu Tian smiled. "Because... I need to experience the pleasure of catching people myself.

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost were dumbfounded. The easterners had such a hobby?

Yu Tian glanced at the two of them, he said, "Of course, this is only one of the reasons. The more important reason is that these guys in the photo are dangerous people. They might have very powerful bodyguards by their side..."

Of course, the task of capturing them could not be handed over to these hooligans.

The hooligans were at most just ordinary people. They had not received professional training, and there were very few outstanding people.

They were not comparable to professional operational personnel. They could not even beat those professional operational personnel in a fight.

The mode of operation of the Hooligans was to call a large number of people and then chase and intercept them.

If these hooligans were to catch the traitors, it was very likely that they would alarm the traitors before they made a move.

If the traitors were accompanied by professional bodyguards, then the capture of these hooligans was even less likely to succeed.

If they didn't capture him and let the traitor escape, it would be the same as alerting the enemy, which would only make things more troublesome.

Once the traitor realized that his whereabouts had been leaked, it was very likely that he would directly leave Dawn City and run to an unknown corner.

In the future, it would be even more difficult to find them.

Therefore, Yu Tian would not hand over the task of capturing them to these hooligans. He directly reduced the enthusiasm of the hot dog and the red-haired ghost from the substantial reduction of the reward money.

However, the hot dog and the red-haired ghost were already very satisfied.

Finding a target was 10,000 yuan, and those who were caught along the way could also be paid by the head.

If they captured all the people in these photos, they would be able to get their hands on more than 100,000 yuan happily.

This was a huge windfall for these hooligans.

The hot dog and the red-haired ghost smiled as they put away the photos and left David's bar.

If they wanted to search for people in the entire territory of Dawn City, they couldn't rely on these hooligans alone.

However, the wood people were a relatively large group in Dawn City. The hot dog and the red-haired ghost could mobilize the power of the entire group to help them search.

The men, women, and children in the group were not interested in participating in their gang fights, but they were very enthusiastic about finding people to make money.

Of course, Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost had also made an agreement and agreed on a common goal.

They would announce to the public that they had found a target for 1,000 yuan, which was a pretty good price.

Anyway, the wooden men would just wander around the streets all day, thinking about how to scam and swindle people. Finding people was just a convenient thing for them.

No one would refuse this windfall.

According to Yu Tian's rules, no matter who provided the information, as long as the hot dog and the red-haired ghost sent the information to him, he would pay by the head.

As for how the Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost would deal with the bounty, he would not ask.

The hot dog and the red-haired ghost only needed to give out 1,000 yuan, and the remaining 9,000 yuan was all net profit.

The two people split it 50-50, and each person had 4,000 yuan.

Each person had 4,000 yuan, which was their arithmetic level.

Yu Tian did not comment on this.

After the hot dog and the red-haired ghost left David's bar, Henry could not help but ask Yu Tian, "Mr. Dragon King, do we need our own people to participate in this matter?"

Yu Tian shook his head. "There's no need. We don't have many people. Even if we throw them all on the streets, they won't cover a few streets and alleys. It's better to let them do their own thing..."

The situation of the gangs in Dawn city was different from that in the mini-bull market. They basically didn't have many peripheral members.

For example, in the David Gang, besides about a hundred official members, there were only about a dozen unofficial members who were being investigated.

Once the sincerity of these unofficial members to join the gang was confirmed and their abilities were confirmed, they would immediately become official members.

The manpower resources of the David Gang were only at this level. They could not support more people, and they would not resort to the tricks of peripheral members.

Because there were too many small gangs in dawn city, if those young people who wanted to join the gang could not find a job in the David Gang. They would quickly find another way out. They definitely would not have the patience to become peripheral members, they would slowly waste their lives.

More than a hundred people could fight and kill to fight for a piece of territory.

However, it was basically impossible for them to get results if they were to search for a few traitors in the entire city.

However, Henry said, "This kind of thing actually depends on luck. What If Our Gang members also happen to encounter it?"

Yu Tian smiled and said, "If they also encounter it, I can also give them a reward. However, I hope that they won't delay their proper work just to take this chance."

Henry nodded and said, "I will give them a clear explanation. In fact, the reward is still a small matter. I just feel that when our own people do these things, they should be more diligent. When they discover those traitors, they will not be neglected..."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "Henry, you are the manager of these gangs. You can decide these matters yourself. As long as it doesn't affect your work plan, I don't mind you participating in more work."

Henry said, "It won't affect you. The daily affairs of the gangs are actually not much. The gang members actually spend most of their time idle..."

The biggest benefit of being in a gang was that they didn't have to work hard from nine to five. The small hooligans were usually very idle, which was why they had so much time to wander around the streets.

Letting these idle gang members go out and walk around could be considered as having more eyes.

These gang members would also be more proactive in searching for traitors, because they could directly receive a reward of 10,000 yuan instead of the 1,000 yuan they received from hot dogs and red-haired ghosts.

Therefore, the gang members would not be satisfied with just strolling around on the streets to try their luck. They would take the initiative to look for places where people might be hiding.

For example, a certain apartment had recently moved in with new tenants, and they were very secretive and rarely went out or showed their faces.

Another example was a residence that had not been occupied for a long time. Suddenly, someone moved in.

Even a small restaurant that only regular customers liked to go to suddenly had an unfamiliar guest.

These trivial matters were actually all in the eyes of the gang members.

This was the biggest advantage of the local tyrants.

Henry felt that compared to the wooden people who wandered around, the gang members who had a fixed place of activity were obviously more likely to notice the abnormal situation in their own territory..

Chapter 1353: Chapter 1,352, Oolong

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian found a hotel near David's bar and stayed there for two days.

He waited for two days for news, including news about hot dog and the red-haired ghost, news about the gangs controlled by the East Dragon

Company, and news from the technical department of the headquarters.

Unfortunately, he didn't get anything these two days. News wasn't something that could be obtained immediately.

In the past two days, apart from practicing martial arts, he had nothing else to do.

On the evening of the third day, hot dog finally called. He said that he had found a target.

Yu Tian was instantly excited. He immediately got a few members of the David Gang to get in the car. Then, he sped all the way to the address provided by hot dog.

This was a small independent villa. Those who could afford to live in an independent building in Dawn City were all people who had some property.

Hot Dog, red-haired ghost, and the others were already waiting around the small villa. There were 20 to 30 hooligans following them.

As soon as they saw Yu Tian, hot dog and red-haired ghost came up to him happily.

"Hey, Boss! We finally found a guy. When can you complete the transfer for us..."

"Let me check the goods first."

Yu Tian didn't waste any time. He left everyone behind, including a few members of the David Gang, and quickly walked toward the target villa.

With so many hooligans surrounding the target's address, it was easy for the target to be alerted.

Therefore, he had to speed up the pace of his actions so that the target wouldn't have more opportunities to react.

Yu Tian quickly went around to the back of the small villa, avoiding the sight of hot dog, red-haired ghost, and the others.

The wooden men were a noisy group, and Yu Tian did not want to show them too much.

If he showed his qinggong in front of these people, the next day half of Dawn City would probably know that an Eastern martial artist had used Qinggong to run into someone else's house and captured them.

This kind of thing was no different from being on the news, and Yu Tian did not want to provoke such trouble.

He went around to the back of the villa and observed his surroundings.

This place could be considered a wealthy district. Although the population density of dawn city was very high, the environment of the wealthy residential area was much more relaxed. There were very few cars passing by on the streets.

However, it was only evening now. It was the time for normal people to finish their work and go home. There would always be cars passing by on the streets.

Yu Tian did not want to attract attention. He patiently waited for the two cars to pass behind him. Then, he suddenly jumped up and went up to the second floor of the villa.

The next step was to search.

To prevent accidents, Yu Tian also put on the helmet in his hands.

The search ended very quickly.

In fact, Yu Tian did not need to search for anything. The master bedroom on the second floor was obviously filled with the joyful cries of men and women.

This meant that the owner of the house was engaging in interesting entertainment activities.

The master bedroom was not closed. Perhaps it was too late for the owner of the house, or perhaps there were no outsiders in their villa, so they did not have the habit of closing the door.

Yu Tian stood at the door of the master bedroom apologetically and helped the owner of the house to turn the lights in the bedroom brighter.

The situation in the bedroom was still considered normal. There was only a man and a woman.

The man was about 40 to 50 years old, and the woman was about 20 to 30 years old.

The term 20 to 30 years old was not quite accurate, but the age of the woman was indeed difficult to determine.

“F * ck!”

The owner of the house was obviously shocked.

Anyone who was doing this would be shocked if they suddenly saw a person wearing a motorcycle helmet and fully wrapped up standing at the door of the bedroom.

Yu Tian could understand very well.

The man did not know if there was anything wrong with being scared, but he jumped down from the woman’s back and pounced on the bedside table.

At this time, there was only one thing that he was anxious to do, and that was to immediately pick up a weapon to protect himself.

It was obvious that Yu Tian had broken into his bedroom and could not have come to ask him for directions.

There was a gun in his bedside table. He believed that as long as he got the gun, everything would be safe.

However, Yu Tian did not give him the chance to get the gun. He swung his hand like a flying needle.

The man fell silently on the bedside table and fell unconscious on the carpet.

The woman only came back to her senses at this time. However, she did not scream. Instead, she smiled happily and said, ‘(I like this show...’

It was obvious that she had misunderstood something. However, Yu Tian did not explain to her. Instead, he strode over to the man.

After taking a glance at the man, Yu Tian suddenly felt a pain in his balls.

He seemed to have caught the wrong person.

In other words, the hot dog and the red-haired ghost had mistaken him for someone else.

Yu Tian took out his phone and took out a photo. After comparing it carefully, he finally confirmed that they had made a big mistake. This was not the target he wanted to capture.

This unlucky man had suddenly encountered such a thing at the happiest moment. He would definitely want to kill someone later.

Yu Tian apologized in his heart, but at the same time, he was secretly glad that he did not show his face.

Otherwise, Yu Tian might have to consider whether or not to silence him.

Therefore, there was nothing wrong with the rule that one must wear a helmet when driving. A helmet was a good thing that could ensure the safety of the people.

Yu Tian sighed slightly and planned to leave immediately.

Unexpectedly, the woman in the room suddenly came up and looked at the man lying on the ground. She said in a strange tone, "Did you beat him to death?"

Yu Tian said helplessly, "No, I just fainted."

"Oh.

The woman's tone seemed to be a little regretful. She looked at Yu Tian and said, "Are you here to rob me?"

"No, I just went to the wrong place... I'm sleepwalking, and I often wander around..."

Yu Tian casually found an excuse. It didn't matter whether he could fool her or not, as long as he could express that it was a misunderstanding.

The woman was slightly stunned. She looked at Yu Tian's clothes and said with certainty, "No, you're here to rob me." "I'm really not here to rob... can you put on your clothes and talk?" Yu Tian took a step back with a headache.

This woman's figure was hot, and it was a little eye-piercing.

Yu Tian was not in the mood to appreciate these things. He only planned to calm the woman down a little, and try to make sure that the owner of the house did not call the police after the incident, so as not to cause too much trouble.

Although he was wearing a helmet and did not reveal his face.

However, if a rich man insisted on messing around with this kind of thing, he might really be able to find clues from the wooden figure. At that time, it would bring trouble to him and the David Gang.

Yu Tian watched as the woman put on her pajamas, he explained, "Look, I just accidentally disturbed you guys. I didn't do anything else. I'm not a robber or a thief. I just went to the wrong place... I said that I have sleepwalking. You Can Totally Trust me.

“No, you must be here to rob..))

Chapter 1354: Chapter 1,353, cooperative robbery

Translator: 549690339

The woman put on her pajamas nonchalantly and ignored Yu Tian. She walked straight to the wall at the side of the bedroom and reached out to take down the oil painting hanging on the wall.

Behind the oil painting was a safe that was embedded in the wall.

The woman winked at Yu Tian and said, See this? This is where you ‘re going to rob. Are you interested?”

Yu Tian suddenly had a headache. “I’m really not interested in robbing you, and I won’t force you to give me the password to the safe. You Don’t have to...”

“Do you know how to open a safe? “The woman interrupted Yu Tian’s explanation.

“No... What do you want to Do?”

Yu Tian was a little puzzled. This woman’s behavior seemed to be encouraging him to rob.

Why?

What was the relationship between this woman and this man?

They didn’t look like a couple.

Although it was common for couples in foreign countries to have great differences in age, judging from this woman’s attitude toward this man, it was clear that their relationship was not normal.

The woman didn’t answer Yu Tian’s question. Instead, she began to attack the safe.

She placed her ear on the safe and started to rotate the mechanical lock on the safe door.

While she was busy, she said to Yu Tian, “Fortunately, I know how to pick the lock. This is a mechanical lock. It can be used without power, so it’s more convenient to open it. Give me a moment...

Yu Tian said helplessly, "I have to go. You Can Do your own thing. "

"You can't leave," the woman said. "Even if you leave, there will still be robberies here. These things will still be done by you, and the crime of robbery and murder will still fall on your head. When that time comes, you will get nothing, and you will be a wanted man..."

"Robbery and murder?" Yu Tian frowned. "Do you still intend to kill your

"No, you should be the one to kill him now." The woman giggled. "There are cameras in the living room outside. You can drag him outside and kill him. Then, you can take the money you stole and leave this place..."

Yu Tian was puzzled. "Why would I do that?"

The woman smiled. "Because you will get a lot of money. Then, I will help you get rid of the suspicion and escape from the police. "I will provide false testimony to the police, saying that your accent is very pure, and that you are a genuine local..."

Yu Tian's Feng Guo language had always been sloppy. Although his Feng Guo language had become much more fluent because of the frequent use of it during this period, he still had some accent.

This was a hard wound, and women could even easily remember his characteristics.

If the police were to investigate the case, this would be an obvious clue.

The woman smiled and said, "Even if you are really caught by the police, I will not identify you. You will not have any risk..."

At this moment, the safe door let out a soft sound. The woman opened the safe door with a smile.

There was cash and gold in the safe.

The woman took out two gold bars and tapped them lightly in her hand. Then, she said, "Do you see that? These are all yours. There's at least a million of them..."

Yu Tian sighed. "If I wake your man up now and let him see you open the safe door..."

The woman shrugged. "No, I didn't open this safe, but you did... who do you think Barre would trust more?"

Yu Tian suddenly had a headache.

The woman said proudly, "Or maybe you're planning to kill me and Barre, and then take all these things by yourself... The Things I originally planned for you to take away?"

Yu Tian was even more speechless.

It seemed that no matter what he did, this woman would assign him the crime of robbery and murder.

Of course, he could also wake this barre up and explain it properly.

Anyway, he wasn't here to rob anyway. If he left without anything, it should make Barrett trust him more.

But, what if something happened later?

For example, after he left, the woman would trick Barrett into trusting her and then kill him... wouldn't this mess fall on him?

Even if he was eventually cleared of suspicion of robbery and murder, there would still be a lot of trouble.

At the very least, it would be hard to explain why he broke into a private house.

Yu Tian only wanted to beat up the hot dog and the red-haired ghost. Although it had nothing to do with the hot dog and the red-haired ghost, it was the wrong information from the wooden men that caused him such trouble.

Of course, now was not the time to vent his anger. Yu Tian had to think of a way to deal with this trouble properly. He did not want to let this mess affect his actions in the next few days.

At this time, the woman had already started to take the things in the safe out. She quickly moved the cash and gold bars to the bed and threw a small notebook on the table at the side.

Finally, the woman took out a key with a string from the safe and hung it around her neck.

It seemed that this key was what she wanted to keep for herself.

"Work with me. You can take the cash and gold bars here and find a suitable place to hide them. After a few months, if the police still haven't Found You, you can take them out and live a happy life from now on.

The woman walked to Yu Tian's side with a smile, she pressed her body against Yu Tian's body. "If you're interested in me, you'll have a chance in the future. I admire a strong man like you very much... what was the method you used to knock out Barre just now? Oriental Kung Fu?"

Yu Tian's balls hurt. Although he was wearing a helmet, he still revealed his true colors in front of this woman.

This time, he really had to consider killing her to silence her.

Or should he just do as this woman said?

Yu Tian felt a headache coming on. was he going to be reduced to being a robber?

Moreover, he was going to rob an innocent ordinary person and even kill her to silence her.

At this time, the woman reached out and touched Yu Tian's chest. ('My name is Sarah. What's Your Name... Easterner?"

Yu Tian did not say anything for a long while. Sarah had almost guessed his race.

In Sarah's eyes, only easterners had such amazing kung fu.

Yu Tian had a headache. "How do you know that I'm an Easterner? With my appearance... do I have such obvious characteristics?" Sarah shrugged. "I can smell the Easterner Smell on you. "

"What smell?"

"The oriental smell... is that there is no smell at all. Unlike other races, you don't have any body odor or hair. You Don't even need perfume... Sarah smiled slyly and said, "Also, you are not wearing gloves."

Chapter 1355: Chapter 1354, code book

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian's entire body was wrapped up tightly, but in order to use flying needles and other weapons, as well as the six meridians godly sword, it was not convenient for him to wear gloves.

Therefore, the skin on his hands naturally revealed his race.

Sarah did not neglect this detail. Since she dared to make such a bold plan, she was naturally not slow-witted.

Yu Tian felt that this woman was not easy to deal with. He pondered for a moment and suddenly reached out his hand, patting Sarah on the cloud.

He decided to bring the two people back first.

No matter what, the initiative of the matter should be in his hands. He could not let this woman manipulate and blackmail him at will.

Bringing the two people back and temporarily detaining them would not necessarily lead to their disappearance, nor would it necessarily lead to someone reporting them to the police.

Even if their families and relatives had reported the case, the police would not be able to conduct a high-profile investigation in a short period of time.

As long as there were no deaths in the villa and no signs of robbery, the police would not waste too much energy on this kind of seemingly missing case.

The disappearance of two living people from their own home could be an elopement, or it could be that they had just run away to travel, or it could be for some other reason that was inconvenient for them to be made public.

Many similar situations happened when the police were conducting a large-scale investigation. but the missing people suddenly appeared again. and nothing happened.

Therefore, letting these two people disappear temporarily was the safest choice.

As for when they would be released, that would depend on the situation.

Yu Tian felt that he should at least wait until he had dealt with those traitors.

After knocking Sarah unconscious, Yu Tian put the cash and gold bars back into the safe.

He wanted the scene to look as though it had not been looted. If Barre's family or relatives could open the safe, they had to know that nothing had been lost.

That way, they would not think of robbery and kidnapping.

After putting away the cash and gold, Yu Tian thought of the key that was hanging around Sarah 's neck and the small notebook that she had casually thrown on the desk.

Yu Tian picked up the small notebook on the desk and was about to throw it into the safe, but there was a pattern on the notebook that caught his attention.

This notebook was very ordinary. It didn't have a plastic cover, it was just a very simple soft leather notebook, only the size of a palm.

But on the cover of the notebook, there was a very familiar picture painted on the corner.

A rotting human face?

This was the symbol of the clone society. Yu Tian had seen the clone society soldiers on Demon Island. They all had this armband on their uniforms, and the symbol was this rotting human face.

It had been a long time since Yu Tian had seen this symbol.

Although he had been fighting frequently with the clone society recently, none of the members of the clone society had this symbol on them.

Even those genetic warriors had not foolishly worn such an armband on their shoulders.

It had been too long since he had seen this symbol. Yu Tian had almost forgotten about its existence.

Yu Tian was suddenly amused.

There was actually such a coincidence?

He had not caught the traitor, but he had bumped into a member of the Clone Society?

This guy had recklessly drawn the clone society's symbol on the notebook.

Could it be that there was something special about their organization in this notebook?

Yu Tian immediately opened the notebook and began to look at the contents. He also connected to the helmet's communication connection.

The helmet's communication connection would not be automatically opened all the time. That would mean that Yu Tian would have no privacy at all.

Only when he felt that it was necessary would he connect to the headquarters' command center.

Originally, such a small capture operation did not require the support of the logistics team. However, now that he had obtained something related to the clone society, he naturally needed to have the corresponding records.

After opening the notebook, Yu Tian saw a messy string of letters.

He could not understand the meaning of the letters, and it did not seem to be a word in the international language.

He flipped to a few more pages.

There was not much recorded in the notebook, only about ten or twenty pages with some content.

Each page was a messy string of letters, and there were numbers on the last few pages.

Yu Tian felt that these letters might be some kind of language that used international letters as phonetic notation, or they might just be a kind of password

In short, Yu Tian alone could not decipher their meaning, so he could only hand it over to the technical department at Headquarters.

"This is a kind of password..."

The technical department quickly responded, "We have already passed it to the professionals of the intelligence department, and we are making good use of the time to decipher it.

It would take time to decipher the password, and Yu Tian could not wait any longer.

He lifted the curtains of his bedroom and looked at the sky outside the window.

The Sky had gradually darkened by this time. It was a good time to move the hostages.

He immediately informed the David Gang to drive the car to the back of the villa. He put away his laptop and the key on Sarah's neck and checked the safe while he was at it.

There was nothing else in the safe except cash and gold bars.

There was nothing unusual in the bedroom except for the messy bed after the fight between men and women.

The only thing that needed to be dealt with was the surveillance camera in the villa.

Under the guidance of the technical staff at headquarters, Yu Tian quickly found the machine that stored the surveillance video. Then he erased the video records of the last few days, creating a false impression that the surveillance equipment had recently malfunctioned.

Then, Yu Tian did not delay any further. He carried the two unlucky fellows, Barre and Sara, and walked out of the back door of the villa.

After throwing the two hostages into the car, hot dog and red-haired ghost immediately surrounded him with joy.

“Boss, our reward...”

Although he had made a mistake, Yu Tian had obtained a greater reward.

He naturally would not be stingy with things like the reward.

However, he had to let these idiots know that they had mistaken him for someone else.

Thus, Yu Tian said with a straight face, “You will receive the money transfer immediately, and it will be from two people...”

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost’s faces immediately lit up with joy. The two of them were worth 20,000 yuan, which was enough for them to spend a few days indulging in debauchery.

In fact, they had also seen the two hostages that Yu Tian had captured earlier. One of them was obviously a woman.

The target they were looking for did not have a woman, so the hot dog and red-haired ghost felt that it was already good enough for them to get a bounty for one person.

As for the woman, she could only be a freebie. She was a freebie that they had to take with them after they captured her.

However, now that Yu Tian was so generous to give them two heads, they were naturally a little overjoyed.

But Yu Tian’s expression was not very good, which made them feel a little confused..

Chapter 1356: Chapter 1,355: Unprofessional kidnappers

Translator: 549690339

“Boss... is there anything we did that you’re not satisfied with?” Hot Dog had a good eye and immediately asked Yu Tian humbly.

A profitable business naturally had to be more serious.

Yu Tian said with a straight face, “The information you provided this time was completely wrong. The guy I caught was not the person in the photos at all.

Hot Dog and red-haired ghost were immediately baffled. “But, didn’t you...” “That’s because they happen to be useful to me!

Yu Tian did not explain further, he said seriously, “This time, you guys have hit the jackpot. If you’re lucky, I won’t hold it against you guys. “This is the first time you guys have worked for me, so I can give you an extra reward. “But the next time something goes wrong... I’ll lower the reward!

Lowering the reward was the most fatal thing for hot dog and red-haired ghost.

“We promise that we won’t make any mistakes next time! ”

Hot Dog and red-haired ghost immediately made a promise. “If anyone dares to make a mistake again, we’ll teach them a lesson...”

“Then I’ll be waiting for your good news. Continue to look for those people...

There are still more than a dozen of them. ”

Yu Tian waved his hand. “Hurry up and leave. Don’t stay here for too long.

Hot Dog and the red-haired ghost nodded repeatedly. Then, they led the rest of the people and quickly left. In the blink of an eye, everyone had left.

When they returned, they pondered for a moment and realized that they had actually earned an extra 20,000 yuan.

The people on the arrest list were not missing, but they had earned two more people’s money.

This business was really worth it.

Yu Tian did not bring the hostages back to David’s bar. Such a crowded place was obviously not suitable for the hostages.

The place where Henry arranged to hold the hostages was a repair shop. It mainly repaired and modified motorcycles, and also sold motorcycles.

This was another gang property that the East Dragon Company invested in Dawn City. The name of the gang was Black Jack. It was the name of a poker card, or the name of a kind of poker game.

The boss of the gang was called Denny, but he was not good at playing poker.

Denny used to be a biker, along with his thirty or so gang members.

Bikers were a very strange existence. They clearly did not have any source of income, but they could spend money to make their motorcycles flashy and full of power.

Then, they actually had money to bet on racing cars, a win or loss of tens of thousands of dollars, just like the rich second generation.

However, there were indeed some rich people in Dawn City who loved motorcycle racing. With the involvement of the rich, the bikers could more or less get some money from it.

After Black Jack got the repair shop, his business on motorcycles was naturally closer.

Not only could he save money by modifying his own bike, but he could also help others modify their bikes to earn money.

With his identity as a biker and his network, modifying and selling motorcycle racing cars was a good business.

The repair shop was not small. In the shop, other than the new bikes that were for sale, there were also many old bikes that were being repaired and modified.

However, there were no customers in the shop. This was not the kind of business that required passenger traffic.

Yu Tian's car stopped at the back door of the repair shop. Black Jack's boss, Denny, was already waiting outside the back door.

The people from the David Gang got off the car and began to carry the hostages. They helped Yu Tian send the hostages to the second floor of the repair shop.

The hostages were already tightly wrapped in a large plastic bag by Yu Tian. Other than the people who were carrying the hostages, no one could tell what they were.

The people from the David Gang and Black Jack knew each other. Without much nonsense, the hostage was sent to the second floor.

The second floor was still an office, a warehouse, and the residence of the gang members.

As a stronghold of the gang, the repair shop naturally had ample space.

There was not only an office and a bedroom, but also a suite with two rooms.

Yu Tian dismissed the others and began the interrogation alone.

The focus of the interrogation was naturally on Barre. That woman, Sarah, looked more like a thief.

Yu Tian threw Sarah into the bedroom alone first, then woke barre up. After Barre woke up, he looked at his surroundings and quickly realized that he had been kidnapped.

“Alright, looks like I’ve been kidnapped by you...”

Barre sighed. “I have to say... you’ve done very well. I haven’t even seen your face yet. This is a good thing for both of us. “So now... you can tell me your request. How much do you want?”

Yu Tian laughed. “How much do you think you’re Worth?”

Barre was expressionless. “It’s not very professional of you to ask this. “Didn’t you investigate my assets before you kidnapped me? “Now, you should give me a reasonable figure, and then Pll tell you if I can take out so much cash...”

“Yes, this question of mine is indeed not very professional... “yu Tian said cheerfully, But unfortunately, didn’t I kidnap you to ask for Money?”

Ba Lei was slightly stunned.

Yu Tian continued, “Don’t you find my outfit very familiar?”

“Very familiar? “Ba Lei was a little confused. “You look like this... have I seen you before?”

Yu Tian was a little helpless. He thought that his motorcycle outfit had already been listed as the number one dangerous person in the Kronin Society.

But looking at the current situation, Barre did not seem to have any feelings for his current image.

Could it be that Barre was not a member of the Clone Society?

Of course it was impossible. A normal person would not draw a rotting face on their notebook, and it was so coincidental that it was exactly the same as the symbol of the clone society.

Yu Tian thought to himself, maybe the Clone Society had only released his photo internally, and did not release the image of him wearing a motorcycle helmet to the members of the organization.

After all, there were too many people in this kind of attire, and it was not suitable to be used as a condition to identify him.

Moreover, Kronin would not know the importance of his equipment. He would not know that this bulletproof helmet had become an essential piece of equipment for his operations.

In order to verify this guess, Yu Tian took off his helmet and revealed his true appearance in front of Barre.

“Now, you know why I captured you, right?”

Barre stared at Yu Tian blankly for a while, and the corner of his eyes twitched slightly, then, he said as if nothing had happened, (‘I don’t know what you’re talking about... Don’t waste your time, you just want money. Give me a number, I can satisfy you.’)

Yu Tian smiled. The subtle changes in Barre’s expression could not be hidden from him.

Although he was no expert at Reading People’s expressions, his eyes were so sharp that he could see every hair on Barre’s head..

Chapter 1357: Chapter 1356, decryption

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian no longer had any doubts about Barre’s identity. The only thing left to do was to Pry Open Barre’s mouth.

He was not a professional in this area, but as a doctor, he had a few tricks up his sleeve when it came to inflicting pain on humans.

As for interrogation techniques, he would need the support of the team behind him.

Brother Pig had never been interested in interrogation because he felt that the people who were hiding secrets must be very tight-lipped.

The things that could be casually said were either not of much value or false information.

The worst thing was that even if you spent a lot of effort and finally managed to pry open the target’s mouth, the final result would still be a false information.

That would be even worse.

It wasn’t like Piggy Liang had never encountered such a situation before. He had even been tricked.

Therefore, he believed in the intelligence he had gathered. As for the intelligence he had obtained through interrogation, he would carefully verify it.

He wasn't concerned about Yu Tian's interrogation process. Instead, the contents of the notebook that Yu Tian had obtained had piqued his interest.

The entire process of Yu Tian flipping through the notebook had been recorded. The command center had already sorted out the contents of the notebook into photos and coded them into serial numbers before sending them to the intelligence department.

Cracking passwords was a job that was very familiar to brother Pig, an expert who had come from an intelligence background.

All written passwords had a pattern. As long as one found the pattern, cracking the password was actually a very simple matter.

Of course, there were also some more troublesome passwords that could not be found in plain text.

For example, the private key password, which was often seen in treasure-hunting movies.

This type of password was usually a number. In order to detoxify the password, one had to find the private key to unlock the password.

Generally, this private key was a book. The number on the password corresponded to the page number of the book, as well as the number of lines and letters.

For example, the notebook in Barrett's hand did not seem to be that troublesome. Its secret seemed to lie in the letters themselves.

With modern intelligent software, technicians could easily enter various formulas and try to decipher the letters with different laws.

This was much more efficient than the ancient decoding work.

Piggy Liang only needed to rely on his own experience and keep coming up with some encryption ideas. The technicians could immediately translate the password according to his ideas.

Yu Tian's interrogation had yet to produce any results, but Zhu Guoliang had already found the pattern of the password and deciphered the contents of the notebook.

At dawn, Yu Tian's operations assistant informed Yu Tian of the good news, "Mr. Dragon King, the contents of the notebook have been deciphered... "Boss, I think you don't have to continue interrogating this guy." Brother Pig interrupted and took over Yu Tian's call.

He was still used to calling Yu Tian (boss', which seemed more friendly.

Yu Tian was giving Balay a needle when he heard the news. He was a little surprised. "You guys are so fast? What's on the Notebook?"

Brother pig said calmly, "A bank address, a safe number, a password..."

Yu Tian suddenly thought of the key. "If it's a bank safe, there should be a need for a key, right?"

Brother pig said, "That depends on which bank it is. Some banks will help their customers keep the key. As long as the customer can tell us the safe number and the reserved password..."

Yu Tian smiled. "Looks like we've found something amazing."

Piggy Liang said, "So you can stop the interrogation. Hurry up and go to the bank to get these things back."

Without a doubt, Barre must have placed something very important in the bank's safe.

The importance of these things was naturally far greater than the cash and gold bars. Otherwise, Barre wouldn't have had to go through so much trouble to send them to the bank.

The safe in the bank was obviously much safer than his own safe. This was to ensure that these things would not be accidentally lost.

Yu Tian took out the key, which he had casually taken from Sarah.

He had originally thought that as long as it was related to the Kronin Society, he would bring it back first.

He did not expect that this key seemed to be an extremely important thing.

"This is really a good thing..."

After Yu Tian took out the key, he purposely waved it in front of Barre's eyes and said something to provoke him.

The corners of Barre's eyes twitched again.

This further confirmed Yu Tian and the others' guess that Barre had indeed hidden something very important in the bank's safe.

Yu Tian smiled smugly. "Look, even if you don't say anything, we can still discover your secret... What exactly are you hiding in Fengshou Bank? I'm really looking forward to it..."

By saying the name of Fengshou Bank, it meant that Yu Tian had already deciphered the contents of the notebook.

Barrette's expression immediately changed, but his lips were trembling and he did not know what to say.

Piggy Liang reminded Yu Tian, "Don't waste your time on this guy. Hurry up and go to the bank to get the things back. Remember, don't show yourself. I will arrange for the manager to enter the bank. You can just wait outside the bank."

Yu Tian was, after all, an easterner. With such an identity appearing in the bank and handling the safe business, it was very easy to attract unnecessary trouble.

This situation made Yu Tian very angry, but there was nothing he could do for the time being.

Racial Discrimination was not a problem that could be solved in a few decades. Even if easterners stood at the top of the world, they could not avoid the hostility of the westerners.

This was very different from the treatment that the westerners received in the Easterners.

To change this situation, not only did they have to make the easterners stronger, but they also had to make the easterners stronger.

"I understand. I will wait outside the bank.

Yu Tian knocked Barre unconscious and left the room.

He knew the severity of his actions. If he did not personally take action, Barre and Sara would definitely be unconscious until the next day before they could wake up on their own.

Therefore, there was no need to arrange for people to specially guard them here. They only needed to lock the door and have people watch the door.

Yu Tian had left his motorcycle at David Bar. When he went to capture Barre and Sara, he was in the car of the David Gang.

It was no trouble for him to go out on his own now. Black Jack's repair shop was filled with motorcycles, so Yu Tian could just drive one.

The only drawback was that these motorcycles were too flashy.

Yu Tian found the oldest motorcycle, and it was a motorcycle used by one of Black Jack's gang members as a means of transportation.

However, this damn thing had also been modified. The moment he turned on the accelerator, the exhaust pipe would rumble.

"Damn it, do you have a normal motorcycle?"

Chapter 1358: Chapter 1,357. He had gained a lot

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian finally got on a normal motorcycle. It was a broken little pedal that he had dragged back from the junkyard.

This little pedal had actually been modified. Although it looked old, it ran very fast.

Of course, the biggest benefit was that its broken exhaust pipe would not make any noise, so Yu Tian would not be stared at by the people on the street or chased by the police as soon as he went out.

Following the directions given by the headquarters, Yu Tian finally arrived at the harvest bank in Dawn City.

Henry was already waiting for him at the corner of the street outside the bank.

Yu Tian took out the key and handed it to Henry. "Are you planning to enter by yourself?"

Henry said, "Yes. It's not safe to leave such an important matter to others."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "If you show your face in the bank, there might be some trouble in the future. Even the Kronin will find you..."

There were cameras in the bank. When Henry entered the bank and took away the things in the safe, he would naturally leave behind a video record.

Although it was said that anyone who took this anonymous safe would be taking it for free, and the other members of the clone society might not know the information about this safe, there was still a little risk.

If there were other people in the clone society who knew about the existence of this safe and knew the password of the safe, they would have all sorts of means to get the surveillance video of the bank and then find Henry.

This was naturally a fatal matter.

"I'm not worried about this," Henry said solemnly. "Working for the company, of course, you have to take some risks."

Yu Tian patted his shoulder. "Then go quickly. Take out everything and don't miss a single note."

"As You Command, Mr. Dragon King."

Henry stuffed a few cloth bags into his pockets and quickly walked into the bank.

Because he didn't know how big the safe was or what items were inside, Henry prepared a few more bags so that he couldn't take everything away at once.

Of course, if there weren't many things in the safe, Henry also prepared the corresponding small cloth bags so that his behavior wouldn't be abnormal.

Yu Tian waited outside for half an hour before Henry finally carried the two large cloth bags out of the bank.

Just by looking at the two bulging bags, one could tell that he had gained a lot this time.

Henry walked quickly to Yu Tian's side and handed the bags to Yu Tian, then he handed over the keys to the safe. "Everything is here. The manager of the Bank told me that the safe still has a two-month lease..."

Yu Tian took the bags and found that both of them were quite heavy.

He looked inside the bag. One of the bags was a long rectangular box, and the other bag was full of document bags.

The document bags were full of paper documents, so it was understandable that they were heavy. However, he didn't know what the long rectangular box was. It actually weighed dozens of kilograms.

Could it be gold again?

There were seals on the document bags and the long box also had seals on it. This meant that Henry had not checked the contents of the box. Similarly, he did not know what was inside.

Yu Tian had no intention of checking the contents of the box. He placed the two bags on the small pedals and said to Henry, "Throw away the key. We don't need the remaining two months of the lease anyway..."

(“No, I shouldn’t be handling this key.” Henry still handed the key to Yu Tian, then he said seriously, “You should be on guard against me. If I deliberately left some things in the safe and the key is in my hands, then I can come and take these things away by myself next time...”

Yu Tian laughed, “That’s right, you’re quite cautious...”

Henry said seriously again, “I think as a member of a secret organization, caution is a basic requirement. Even among the members of our company, we should maintain a sense of mutual vigilance and vigilance. This will make the work more secure and also make everyone safer...”

Yu Tian smiled. “That’s right, I was too casual... So, do I have to be on guard against you copying this key?”

Henry nodded. “Yes, you can check if I have a mold hidden on me... but, even if this key is copied, it can’t be used. “The manager in the bank will check the key and then open the safe, and they will watch from the side. “If there is something wrong with the key, or if the lock is not smooth, they will stop you from opening the safe...”

“Then there is no problem...”

Yu Tian put away the key, and then really searched Henry.

The result was naturally nothing.

After the work was done, Yu Tian and Henry left separately.

Yu Tian rode the small pedal and returned to Black Jack’s repair shop.

Although he did not sleep the whole night, Yu Tian was still in high spirits.

He did not care about the still unconscious Barre and Sara. Instead, he wore his helmet and began to check the results of this operation under the records of the command center.

After opening the seals of these document bags, Yu Tian took out the documents one by one.

After flipping through them for a while, Piggy Liang’s voice came through. “It seems that this operation has yielded quite a lot.

“What are these documents?”

Yu Tian was not familiar with the language of wind country, so he could not understand the dense pile of documents.

Piggy Liang said, "These are some equity confirmations and some anonymous corporate bonds..."

"They're worth a lot, right?"

"Such a big bag is definitely worth a lot of money. "Piggy Liang smiled and said, "This might be the majority of the assets of the clone society in wind country, or even the neighboring countries..."

"Then won't their branch in wind country go bankrupt this time?"

"Haha, that must be a big loss. "

"These things are actually so easy to get."

"This is called luck. This barre that you caught might just happen to be their custodian. Even the villa that you broke into just happened to be their stronghold..." "

"Then do we still have to arrange for people to keep an eye on that Villa?"

"I'll get them to make the arrangements. Now, you can put away these documents first. I'll immediately arrange for people to come over and deal with them."

"Okay.

Yu Tian was not interested in looking at these documents in detail. He quickly put away all the documents and put them back into the document bag. Then, he took out the long box, opened the seal, and easily opened it.

Inside the box seemed to be a short sword.

The style of the sword was a little strange. Westerners did use some short swords in ancient battlefields, and they were also famous for their small round shields.

But the body of the short sword was usually wider, so it would not break easily..

Chapter 1359: Chapter 1,358 was a treasure

Translator: 549690339

The body of this short sword was not wide. The overall width of the sword was closer to that of the Longsword used in the eastern modern performances.

Such a weapon was not suitable for use on the battlefield. It could only be used for fighting in the jianghu.

The ancient sword-type weapons unearthed in the Eastern kingdom were also widened and thickened.

And even if they were widened and thickened, swords were usually only expensive accessories and would not be used on the battlefield.

In the end, they were not as durable as long spears and sabers.

Moreover, there was a slight inward curve in the middle of the short sword, which made the middle of the sword appear even narrower and easier to break.

However, the thickness of this short sword was thicker than ordinary swords, and it seemed that it would not break so easily.

Most importantly, this small short sword weighed dozens of kilograms. It was unknown what material it was made of.

Such a heavy material made it feel much stronger.

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. Could This guy be a key metal as well? Otherwise, how could it be so heavy?

Something that could be hidden in a safe by a clone was definitely not trash. Even if the material of this short sword was not key metal, it must be quite extraordinary.

Yu Tian curiously took out the short sword, held the hilt, and waved it in his hand twice.

Soon, he found that there was something wrong with the hilt.

The hilt was abnormally smooth, and the end of it was actually broken.

Yu Tian carefully looked at the broken section. The fracture was very smooth, as if it had been cut by a sharp knife.

If the cross-section of the fracture was not slightly tilted, Yu Tian would have thought that the hilt was originally like this.

Yu Tian was suddenly a little surprised. The hilt of this short sword and the body of the sword were one, and they were all made of such heavy metal.

What kind of thing could cut off such a thick metal hilt in one go?

He stared at the hilt for a while and suddenly realized that this thing was not a short sword, but the spearhead of a long spear.

No wonder he felt that the style of this short sword was a little strange.

If it was considered the spearhead of a long spear, then this kind of strangeness could be explained.

Although a half-meter long spearhead was not very common, there were long weapons of this style.

Just like the eastern ancient MO Dao, the spearhead was much longer than an ordinary long spear.

“A broken spear...

Yu Tian held the tip of the spear and gestured with it a few times. It felt similar to the feeling of waving his big mallet. It was very heavy and powerful. Brother pig said, “It should be an artifact. The color looks very ancient and heavy.

Yu Tian said, “But it’s very heavy. It’s about the same as my big mallet.

“So Heavy? “Brother Pig was a little surprised. “That’s a treasure. The material alone should be worth a lot of money. We can take it back and test it...

“Whether it’s worth money or not is not important. What I care about is whether it’s worth becoming a weapon...

Yu Tian held the broken spear. His hand seemed to have a warm feeling, and the internal energy in his body was also starting to stir.

His hand itched, and he casually chopped the spearhead on the coffee table beside him.

Another thing that shocked him happened. The wooden coffee table was actually split in half by him, and it was directly broken from head to toe.

“Damn, so fierce?”

Although this broken spear was a bit like a short sword, the edge on the tip of the spear was not particularly sharp.

Yu Tian originally thought that with a casual wave of his hand, it would be good enough if he could make a big hole in the coffee table like using an axe.

However, he did not expect this broken spear to be so sharp that it could easily split the coffee table in half. Moreover, the broken surface was so neat that not even a piece of wood was broken.

He looked at the edge of the spear in surprise. It was as smooth as before. There was no sharpness or damage on it.

“This thing... is a treasure...”

Yu Tian was both delighted and curious. “What is this thing? Doesn’t the legendary divine weapon not exist?”

Brother pig sighed. “I don’t know what this thing is either. From a scientific point of view, a metal’s sharpness should not have such a powerful cutting effect. No matter how strong you are... However, our science is just at the beginning stage. Our understanding of energy and matter is very shallow. We don’t even have a thorough understanding of many magical things in nature...”

Yu Tian waved his hand again. This time, he chopped the broken spear at the foot of the metal chair.

The foot of the chair broke with a sound. It was as fragile as tofu.

Such an effect could only be described as cutting iron like mud.

“I want to use this thing as a weapon.”

Yu Tian no longer bothered about the origin of this broken spear.

With such a sharp weapon, he could save a lot of internal force in the future.

If he wanted to cut a secret door or something, he could use this broken spear as a tool.

Of course, he could also use it to replace the big club and directly chop off the turtle shells of those genetic warriors.

Although the actual combat effectiveness of the broken spear still needed to be tested, Yu Tian was very confident in this heavy fellow.

If a fellow that could cut through iron like mud couldn’t be harder than iron, wouldn’t he become a joke.

This was a weapon after all.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment. After all, this was not a short sword. The shaft of the long spear was too smooth and easy to get rid of. It still needed some work.

However, he did not have any good tools in his hands. He could only use the oldest method to tear off a sheet and wrap some strips of cloth around the shaft of the long spear.

In order to ensure that the strips of cloth would not fall off, Yu Tian began to wrap them from the end to the top and wrapped them all the way around the body of the spear, slightly covering the position of a sharp blade.

The effect after the completion looked a little strange. The broken spear was originally very unremarkable.

Now that it was wrapped with a circle of rags, if one did not look carefully, one would think that it was a piece of trash picked up from somewhere.

Hobos would use such sharp weapons that they had picked up, broken knives, or some labor tools.

They would wrap a few rags around them and solemnly put them into their pockets.

When it came time to fight with other hobos, they would take out these self-made weapons. The deterrence and lethality were not small.

Yu Tian was very satisfied with his masterpiece.

He pondered for a moment, found another half of a bed sheet to wrap the spearhead, and then put it on his waist.

Piggy Liang felt a pain in his balls when he saw it. "I'll give you a knife case later. You Don't have to make it so shabby. You look like a homeless person, and your waist is full of weapons..."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "It doesn't matter. I'll find a more loose long coat to cover all these weapons... I think you should think of a way to improve my helmet. I don't want to wear a helmet all day and run around. "

"The helmet can guarantee your safety, but other equipment can't guarantee this level of defense.... "

Chapter 1360: Chapter 1359, more information

Translator: 549690339

"But the helmet is still too troublesome. It feels weird to wear it every day, and it's not convenient to carry it around. "Actually, I don't need the helmet's defense for normal operations that aren't dangerous. I just need to use the communication function on the helmet..."

"Alright, I'll prepare a goggle-style soldier system for you..."

The spectacled soldier system could also integrate many functions, but the lens was smaller than the large screen of the helmet.

As for defensive capabilities, Piggy Liang was not too worried.

With Yu Tian's current skills, unless he was surrounded by large-scale genetic warriors, he would not need something like a bulletproof helmet.

He might not even need a bulletproof vest.

After packing his things, Yu Tian woke up Barre and continued his interrogation.

Barre looked at the pile of documents and the long wooden box used to store the spearhead. His expression instantly became unsightly.

"Damn it, this isn't something you should take. Do you know what the consequences will be for you? You will face endless pursuit..."

Barre knew that he was finished. It was not because he was captured by Yu Tian, but because these things had fallen into Yu Tian's hands.

If he threw away these things, even if Yu Tian could let him go, the Kronin society would not let him go.

There was only one outcome for him, and that was to be sent to participate in the genetic experiment.

He might as well die.

He would rather go through the genetic modification of a genetic warrior with a slim chance of survival and be sent to the battlefield. That way, at least there would not be too much torture during the experiment.

Right now, Barai simply wanted to go all out against Yu Tian, but unfortunately, his body couldn't move at all.

"Endless pursuit..."

Yu Tian was amused. "What you're saying is as if the Clone Society has never ambushed me before.

"That's different from before!" Barai said. "The thing you're taking away now is something that the Elder Council wants! You'll face the Elder Council's pursuit..."

"The Elders Guild..."

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. He had never known what the internal structure of the KLONI guild was like.

Now that he heard the term 'Elders Guild' , his interest was immediately piqued.

Of course, he couldn't act as if he didn't know anything. That would instead make Barre shut up about the Elders Guild.

If he pretended that he already knew about the existence of the Elders Guild, Barre wouldn't have any scruples when he talked about these things.

Hence, he smiled and said, "I don't care about those old things..."

Barre quickly sneered and said, "Ignorant brat, you don't know the powerful power of the Council of elders at all, nor have you seen the true strength of the Knights..."

Knights?

Alright, it was another new term.

These nouns made the clone society seem to have some religious flavor, just like the ancient organization that had existed for many years.

In fact, Piggy Liang had been pondering the meaning of the Klonian Society's existence.

Most organizations existed only for power and money.

For example, the East Dragon Company, they existed only to make money.

Then with money, they could develop a stronger force, and the members of the organization would have a higher status.

Just like the East Dragon Company now, the leaders of various countries would not ignore the influence of their companies.

They could also use the name of the company to participate in international meetings, and let some countries cooperate with them to deal with the Clone Society.

This was the status and influence that members could have when the organization was strong.

Of course, Donglong company was not strong enough yet, not to the extent that it was feared by all countries.

They suffered heavy losses, experienced a rebellion, and even the whereabouts of the previous company president were unknown.

Although Zhu Gelang thought that Uncle Long was temporarily safe, it was still a shame for the DONGLONG company. It also proved that the strength of the DONGLONG company was far from enough, it was to the extent that some countries actually dared to make a move against the leaders of the DONGLONG company.

If the DONGLONG company could become stronger than before, then there wouldn't be a situation where the leaders would go missing and the high-level officials would be arrested by the authorities.

Their weakness was mainly the weakness of the armed forces.

Uncle Long had forcibly turned a secret organization into a financial group that only cared about making money.

This made Donglong company almost lose the deterrence that a secret organization should have.

A financial group was naturally not a match for the state power. The state power could easily destroy a financial group and force them to hand over their property by arresting their high-ranking officials.

However, the state power would never dare to easily attack a secret organization that had armed forces.

Those terrorist activities were a good example.

Without sufficient benefits, no official power would want to let their country fall into such danger and turbulence.

Therefore, Piggy Liang now attached great importance to the development of Donglong Company's armed forces. He felt that this was the fundamental guarantee of a secret organization.

In the past, the East Dragon Corporation did not attach enough importance to the development of the armed forces, which was why so many things had happened now.

If the armed forces were strong enough, Uncle Long would not have disappeared at all, and no country's officials would dare to casually make a move on the top management of the East Dragon Corporation.

This was the difference between a secret organization and a proper company.

Looking back at the clone society, the meaning of their existence was a little strange.

They were crazily raking in money, as if they were doing genetic research.

There was nothing wrong with researching genetic warriors. At the very least, it was to strengthen the armed forces of the organization.

However, spending such a huge price just to obtain some genetic warriors seemed to have no value.

The Eastern Dragon Company and the genetic warriors had exchanged blows several times. Although they were very strong, they were not invincible.

Spending so much money just to create such a group of warriors, and there would not be too many of them, did not seem to be worth it.

With so much money and time, Kronin would be able to develop an even stronger force in other areas.

Just like Yu Tian had done in Damadi, they could control a few small countries and openly have an army.

The number and equipment of an army was far from what hundreds or thousands of genetic warriors could contend with.

With the current technological level of Kronny and the level of the small nuclear power plant they had built on Alcatraz Island, they could create nuclear weapons.

With nuclear weapons, the country they controlled would be safe and the regime would be stable.

This was much more practical and powerful than genetic research.

Of course, the current clone society was not necessarily not secretly controlling a small country.

In short, the purpose of the clone society's genetic research was very strange. It was a very bad deal..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1361 - 1,360, powerful enemies - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1361 - 1,360, powerful enemies

Chapter 1361: Chapter 1,360, powerful enemies

Translator: 549690339

This was the reason why brother Pig had doubts about the clone society.

After earning so much money, wouldn't it be nice to build up his own power?

Why would he spend so much money on genetic research?

Were genetic warriors really that important? Could it be that they wanted to study Superman?

These doubts made brother pig very curious about the internal situation of the clone society.

Yu Tian was also curious about what kind of organization the elders and knights of the Clone Society was. Why did it sound like a religious court of inquiry.

Barre continued to sneer, "The power of the Knights is not something you can resist! I advise you to return the things to me obediently and send me back.

Don't give yourself trouble..."

"Return the things to you? Send You Back? Are you joking with me?" Yu Tian was amused by Barre's whims.

He did not know what kind of organization the knights were. However, just from the name alone, he could tell that this was an operation department. Since they dared to use such a bold and flashy term like "Knights," their combat power should not be too weak.

From Barre's tone, this so-called Knight Regiment should be stronger than those ordinary genetic warriors.

However, Yu Tian didn't take this so-called Knight Regiment to heart.

The methods of the clone society were nothing more than genetic technology. This Knight Regiment was nothing more than an even stronger genetic warrior. In other words, they were the elites of the genetic warriors.

However, so what?

Yu Tian and the genetic warriors could be considered old rivals. It wasn't as if he had never seen a genetic warrior that knew how to fight before, nor was it anything extraordinary.

He chuckled as he looked at Barre. "You better stop dreaming. If you fall into my hands, you can forget about going back. "As for the so-called legion... I'll wait for them to come find me. I'll deal with Your Legion like I dealt with your genetic warriors.

“HMPH. “Barai snorted coldly. “You really don’t know the immensity of Heaven and earth... You haven’t seen the members of the Knights, nor do you know how powerful the knights are. “Don’t think that being able to escape the attacks of the genetic warriors is already impressive. Those genetic warriors aren’t even worth mentioning in front of the Knights.

“You really know how to brag... “yu tian smiled. “Just how powerful is your knights? Tell me. ”

Barai hesitated for a moment, then snorted again. “When they find you, you ‘ll naturally know. ”

Yu Tian shook his head. “I think you’re just bragging, or perhaps you don’t know the details of the knight order at all...”

“How could I not know? I’m a great...

At this point, Barai snorted coldly and did not continue.

He felt that he had said too much.

Although bickering with Yu Tian was enjoyable, when Barre thought of his future fate, his expression immediately became gloomy.

He was not in the mood to argue with Yu Tian anymore, so he simply closed his eyes and did not say anything.

Yu Tian ‘ai could do whatever she wanted to him. In any case, he would be finished sooner or later.

There were quite a number of people in the East Dragon Company who were proficient in interrogation. The team behind Yu Tian immediately saw through Barre’s current state of mind and situation.

With the reminder from the command center, Yu Tian let out a sigh of relief, he said to barre, “You should also know about the recent happenings in the East Dragon Company, right? There are some traitors within our company.

Those traitors have some cooperation with your Kronin Association... ”

“What do you want to say? Do you want me to be a traitor as well? “Barre opened his eyes helplessly.

Yu Tian smiled and said, “That’s right. Now that you’ve lost what you’re holding in your hands, Kroni will definitely punish you severely. “But you can still cooperate with our Eastern Dragon Company. "Our Eastern Dragon Company is very powerful. We can completely guarantee your safety..."

"We can't guarantee it. "Barre shook his head slowly. "You have no idea how powerful the knights are... although I've failed in my duty, I might still have a chance to die. ('However, if I were to betray the clone society, that would be worse than death.

"If you don't tell me how powerful the Knight Order is, how would you know that our Eastern Dragon Company is unable to deal with them? I don't know if the members of the Clone Society have released any information regarding me..."

Yu Tian said confidently, "So many of your genetic warriors ambushed me alone, yet all of them were beaten to a pulp by me. I don't think your knight order can do anything to me.

"I don't know. "Barre said indifferently, "I only know that the genetic warriors attacked you before, but you managed to escape..."

"That wasn't escaping. "Yu Tian said seriously, "At that time, I had other comrades by my side. I had to protect them and send them away from the battlefield... However, even under such circumstances, many of your genetic warriors were killed by me.

"Perhaps you are indeed a powerhouse... "Barre sighed. "However, this is meaningless. In the end, you are only one person, while the knight order has many people. "There aren't many powerhouses of your level in this world. "Even if your Eastern Dragon Company spends a lot of money, you won't be able to gather so many powerhouses... You Aren't a match for the Knight Order."

Yu Tian shook his head and said, "I think you might have overestimated the strength of the knights, or you might have just heard some rumors. "If the knights were really that strong, why didn't Kronin use this strength earlier? "If they were really a team of experts, I'm afraid they would have destroyed our Eastern Dragon company long ago."

"You wouldn't understand... "Barre sighed. "Do you think that the war between us is very important? "Perhaps you think it's very important... but in the eyes of the elders guild, they are not in the mood to pay attention to this kind of war between organizations..."

"Oh? Then what are they concerned about? Who are the people in Your Elders

"I don't know. Even if I knew, I wouldn't tell you. "Barre closed his eyes again.

"Anyway, you're not far from death, and I'm not far from Death..."

“Since you’re about to die, why don’t you give it a try?”

“Give it a try? With what? There’s no chance.” Barre sighed. “The long box is in your hands now, and you won’t return it to me anyway. We can only wait for it to be over...”

“Do you know what’s in the long box and where it came from?”

“I don’t know, and I don’t want to know... That’s what the Elder Council wants. I just got it, and I’m going to hand it over. Your actions will kill me, and you will also kill yourself...”

Barre said weakly, “I’ll advise you one last time, give it back to me, and then we’ll pretend that we never met...”

Chapter 1362: Chapter 1,361, mutiny

Translator: 549690339

Of course, Yu Tian would not return the broken spear to Barre.

Although he did not know the origin of the broken spear, it was obviously a treasure.

How could he spit out the fat he had obtained?

Moreover, under the threat of the Clone Society, he would obediently spit it out?

This was simply a joke.

If the Eastern Dragon Company was afraid of the Clone Society, they would not have taken the initiative to cause trouble for the clone society in the first place.

“I think... “at this time, Brother Pig Liang spoke again. “The Imight group that Barre mentioned should be those ancient martial art practitioners from the west. ”

“I think so too.”

Yu Tian also had this guess.

Only ancient martial art practitioners could be stronger than genetic warriors.

Previously, Zhu Gelang had already discussed this issue with him. There were ancient martial art practitioners in both the east and the west. However, the number of ancient martial art practitioners in the east was much higher than the total number of ancient martial art practitioners in the west.

It was not as if Yu Tian had never fought against ancient martial art practitioners before. He felt that they were not undefeatable targets.

The only problem was that the knights were a group, so there would definitely be more of them.

Brother pig sighed, "Boss, I think you should immediately bring your things back to the country. I'll arrange for someone else to handle the matter of hunting the traitor."

"There's no need. I'll just wait here for their knights to come and find me..." Yu Tian said indifferently, "If there's a condition, I might be able to catch a few high-level captives."

Brother Pig said with a headache, "Don't always think of yourself as a small pawn charging into the battlefield. Such an enemy is too dangerous. You shouldn't be personally involved..."

"Who else can it be but Tian shook his head and said, "The East Dragon Company doesn't have any ancient martial art practitioners. It's too difficult for Cass and the others to fight against ancient martial art practitioners at their level. Letting them carry out my current mission will only make it more dangerous."

"The goal of the Elders Guild and the Knights should be this broken spear in your hand. If you bring it back to the country with you, their attention will definitely not be on the wind country anymore."

"There's no need. Escaping is not the way. "If we retreat now, then we can only retreat in every war with the Kronin Guild in the future. "I can't hide in the country forever. If that's the case, East Dragon Company won't be able to leave the country, and their branches around the world won't be safe either..."

Yu Tian said, "I have to destroy their knights, destroy all the armed forces of the Kronin Guild, and make them lose the capital to fight against us."

As the ancient saying went, it was forbidden to use martial arts to fight.

If Yu Tian disappeared from the clone society's sight, then the clone society would definitely target the other targets of the East Dragon Company.

War could be strategic, but one could not back down.

Brother pig sighed. "These high-end fighters are really troublesome... I have to arrange support for you."

"What support? Has the Operation Department finished their training already?"

“The operation department can be used, but they won’t be of much use in a place like dawn city... I’ll find some ancient martial art practitioners to support you.”

“Ancient martial art practitioners? Those instructors who are responsible for training our Operation Department?”

“More or less, but those instructors are still not strong enough... I’ll make other arrangements. ”

“Then you can make your own arrangements.

Yu Tian did not mind having a few more helpers. If brother Zhu had a way to increase the East Dragon Company’s high-end combat strength, it would be a good thing.

Even if they temporarily hired some ancient martial art practitioners to help, it would at least allow them to establish a cooperative relationship with the East Dragon Company.

With the first cooperation, there would naturally be a second and third time.

In certain matters, the ancient martial art practitioners were indeed more convenient than the movement personnel of the large group.

Next, Yu Tian still had to continue to convince Barre to switch sides and provide him with more information.

Yu Tian felt that he should give Barre a little confidence.

What Barre was worried about was that the strength of the Knights was too strong, and the East Dragon Company was simply unable to resist.

Yu Tian felt that this was because he had never seen his own strength before. Perhaps the Kronin Association had not released the details of Yu Tian’s battle to the public.

Therefore, it was very necessary for Yu Tian to show off in front of Barre.

There were all kinds of metal objects in the room. Yu Tian casually slashed the room with a few sword qis.

Then, he picked up a metal chair leg and slowly cut it into pieces in front of Barre, so that Barre could see it more clearly.

Barre was obviously a little surprised. “This is...”

“This is called sword qi, a high -level technique of eastern ancient martial artists.

Yu Tian threw away the broken chair leg and said, "There are not many eastern ancient martial artists who have mastered this technique. Even among the best ancient martial artists, there are not many who can master this ability."

Barre was silent for a moment. "So, you are considered the top group of eastern ancient martial artists?"

Yu Tian said shamelessly, "Of course. Otherwise, how could I become the leader of the Eastern Dragon Company. "Moreover, our Eastern Dragon Company is a company of the eastern country. We have the strong support of the eastern country's officials. "We will soon gather a large group of eastern ancient martial art practitioners to come here and completely destroy that whatever Knight Order of yours..."

The eastern country had already announced to the world that they would declare the Kroni Association as a terrorist group. The Kroni Association naturally knew about the relationship between the Eastern Dragon Company and the eastern country.

With the official support, it would not be difficult for the East Dragon Company to find some ancient martial art practitioners from within the country to support them.

Barre's expression softened slightly. He did not feel that Yu Tian was bragging.

The most important thing was that Yu Tianlu's sword aura was something he had never heard of before. It also gave him some confidence.

In fact, in his current situation, even if he did not betray the clone society, it was basically a dead end.

There was still a chance of survival if he betrayed them. As long as the East Dragon Company had enough strength to fight against the Knights.

Barre hesitated for a moment, then said, "If you can send me to the eastern country immediately, it's not like I can't cooperate with you..."

The eastern country was naturally the safest country in the world. Moreover, this was a nation-state. The armed forces of foreigners could not survive on the land of the eastern country.

Once the members of the Knight Order set foot on the land of the eastern country, they would be targeted by the relevant authorities.

If they dared to do anything illegal, they would definitely suffer a strong blow from the authorities.

It was reasonable that Barre wanted to seek refuge in the eastern country.

Although it was difficult for the eastern country to become a naturalized citizen, it was not a problem for Barre to live in the eastern country for a long time.

Yu Tian readily agreed, "No problem. I'll immediately get someone to arrange your flight.

Barre said, "After I arrive in the eastern country, I'll still need an absolutely secret residence and an ancient martial art bodyguard...

Yu Tian smiled and said, "Don't even think about an ancient martial art bodyguard... I can arrange for you to stay in the military camp..

Chapter 1363: Chapter 1,362, the origin of the broken spear

Translator: 549690339

It was impossible to use an ancient martial art practitioner as a bodyguard. Any capable ancient martial art practitioner would not have the patience to do this kind of work.

At most, they would take on some short-term missions, such as killing a certain target and snatching a certain item.

Barre wanted to ensure his own safety, so Yu Tian could only throw him into his own training camp.

No matter how powerful the ancient martial art practitioners of the knight order were, they could not run into a place like the training camp and behave atrociously.

Barre thought for a moment, then sighed. "Alright, it should be relatively safe in the military camp.

Yu Tian said, "Our headquarters is already arranging your flight. Can you tell me some useful information now?"

Barre shook his head. "I don't dare to tell you now. I can only tell you after we confirm that it's safe. "When the time comes, I will tell you everything I know, including the information about the headquarters of the Clone Society, the information about wind country, and some information about other countries...

This was a big fish.

Yu Tian said with interest, "It sounds like your position in the Clone Society is quite high?"

Barre said, "Not really. I'm just an assistant to the regional leader... so I know a lot of things." Yu Tian said, "What's with the woman next to you?"

“Which woman?”

“The woman in your room today, Sarah. ” “Oh, Sarah... ” Barre said indifferently, “That’s just a hot woman I just met...”

(‘Just met? After you got this thing?’)

Yu Tian pointed at the broken spear on his waist.

Barre looked at it in confusion, and then suddenly said, “Is this the thing in the Yu Tian nodded and said, “Yes, don’t you know what it is?”

Barre said, “I don’t know. The operation personnel gave it to me. When the boss comes back, he will bring this thing back to the headquarters... ” “This is a broken spear... the part of the spearhead, don’t you know what it is?”

“I really don’t know... ” Barre sighed, “I only know that this thing is very important to the council of Elders.”

“That woman, Sarah...”

Yu Tian briefly explained about Sarah, and then said, “She opened your safe, but she was not interested in anything else. She just wanted to get your key... Barre frowned and said, “You mean... Sara came for this spearhead?”

Yu Tian said, “Of course, she couldn’t have wanted those equity documents and bonds. Those things... I don’t think she has the ability to deal with them.”

Barre thought for a moment and said, “That’s right. I only met Sara after I got this spearhead. She may have wanted this spearhead from the beginning. “It seems that I need to ask Sarah about the origin of this spearhead... ” Yu Tian sighed and walked into the bedroom to bring Sarah out.

After waking Sarah Up, Yu Tian gave her some time to recover.

Sarah soon noticed the long box that had been opened. Her gaze paused for a moment before she pretended not to care.

But that pause was enough for her to see the long box clearly.

Obviously, Sarah knew the box.

Yu Tian did not waste any more time. He took out the broken spear and showed it to them.

“Sarah, I think you can tell me the origin of this thing.

"I don't understand what you mean. Are you talking about the thing in your hand

Sarah was still pretending to be confused.

Yu Tian put on a straight face and said, "Sarah, you are a smart person. You should know that some things can not be hidden. "There are millions of assets in Barre's safe, and you are not even interested. "You only want to get the key to the bank's safe. Obviously, you know the value of this broken spear very well... "

Sarah was silent for a moment, then she shrugged and said, "I just think that the things in the bank's safe must be more valuable, but I don't know what is in the bank's safe.

"You're lying. You've obviously seen this broken spear, and you know its origin. Your Eyes have betrayed you..."

Yu Tian sighed, "I don't have the patience to interrogate you anymore. If you're not willing to tell me these things honestly, then I can only chop you off piece by piece... Let's start with your beautiful long legs.

After saying that, Yu Tian carried the broken spear and walked to Sarah's side, making a pose as if he was going to chop off Sarah's feet.

Sarah was shocked. "Are you serious?"

Yu Tian said, "Is there a lie? I hope to shorten the interrogation process. Let's start with cutting off her arms and legs..."

"Alright, Alright, I'll tell you..." Sarah was a little helpless. "Are you always this cold-blooded towards all beautiful women?"

Yu Tian said, "Yes, I'm in a hurry. I hope you won't Test My Patience. "If you can't Tell Me the origin of this spear, then I have no interest in continuing to ask... anyway, this isn't something very important.

"Alright, Alright, this is indeed not something very important..." Sarah sighed and said, "The spear in your hand is called the Holy Spear. It was originally ours..."

"Yours?"

"Yes, this is the holy relic of our tribe, it has a history of more than a thousand years..."

"What race are you?"

"I'm from the Gigi Tribe..."

"Hahaha..."

Barre suddenly laughed and interrupted the conversation between Yu Tian and Sala.

Yu Tian looked at Barre inexplicably, only then did barre stop smiling and said slowly, "Don't believe this liar. Although I don't know the origin of this spear, it definitely isn't from the Gigi tribe. "

"Oh? How can you be so sure?"Yu Tian was a little puzzled.

Barre said disdainfully, "What sacred relic can the Gigi tribe have? This is a wandering race. They don't have their own land and don 't have any property. They are parasites of this world. Wherever they go, they will live in the same country. "The people of the Gigi tribe are all thieves, robbers, and liars. Other than swindling, they did not create any civilization. It is impossible for them to have any sacred relic that is thousands of years old...

Sala rolled her eyes. "Perhaps you have some misunderstanding about the yogi.

Barre sneered. "What misunderstanding could there be? The entire Western world knows what the yogi did. "If I say that you don't have any sacred objects, then you definitely don't have any sacred objects. "Even if you do, you must have stolen them..."

Sala said helplessly, "Your prejudice is too severe..."

Barre humphed, "This is not prejudice, but the truth. and... I look at you, you don't look like a yogi at all..

Chapter 1364: Chapter 1,363, divine weapons

Translator: 549690339

Sala felt even more helpless. "How am I not like a Gigi?"

"Perhaps your appearance is similar to a Gigi, but your actions do not conform to the habits of a Gigi Woman..."

Following that, Barre began to explain in detail to Yu Tian.

The Ji Ji people were a vagrant race. They had no land and no property. They were always vagrants. This was their survival tradition.

They basically had no opportunity to receive education, didn't work, and no one would hire them to work.

For such a race, their means of livelihood naturally could only be swindled.

The Ji Ji women all wore loose skirts or long robes. This was called their traditional attire, and it was also convenient for them to hide the things they stole in their underpants.

This kind of strange attire naturally made it easy for people to question. If they wanted to catch a thief or search for stolen goods, they would definitely make them lift up their skirts to check.

Thus, the Gigi women thought of another brilliant idea, which was to crazily get pregnant and keep their skirts bulging all the time.

Once someone asked them to lift up their skirts, they would generously lift up their skirts to reveal their bare bodies underneath.

They were wearing nothing but a big, naked belly, which was so hot that it hurt People's eyes.

After a while, the people who caught the thieves had no interest in lifting up their skirts.

In foreign countries, it was often seen that wandering gigi people set up stalls by the roadside, on which were the messy things they stole.

Of course, now that it was a civilized society, they had more convenient means of survival than cheating.

For example, begging.

The Gigi people are wandering all year round. They will openly settle down in some suitable places and then camp out.

Then they will create a mess in the settlement, so that the surrounding residents will be disturbed, so they can only chip in to send them away.

In addition, they can get the official relief funds.

In those Western countries with high welfare, the relief funds are enough for them to survive.

If they were coupled with their crazy pregnancy, the population would continue to expand, and they would be able to receive even more welfare and relief money from the authorities.

In short, the Westerners did not have a good impression of this race, and so did Barre.

Barre sneered at Sarah and said, "You are not from the Gigi race. I can smell the stench of the Gigi people from afar. Even if this broken spear was taken from the Yogi tribe, it has nothing to do with you. You're just an ordinary thief..."

Sala shrugged, "Alright, I'm a thief. The Yogi tribe is also a thief. Even if you took this broken spear from the Yogi Tribe, you're still thieves..."

Barre said calmly, "We're not thieves, we're bandits..."

"Then it's even less worth showing off..."

Yu Tian coughed twice, "I don't care if you're thieves or robbers, and I don't care whose thing this broken spear belongs to. "Anyway, it's already in my hands now, so it's mine. "I just want to know its origin... Sara, you can say it more simply, what is this broken spear?"

Sarah blinked her eyes, "I've said it before, it's a sacred relic of the Gigi tribe." "Be more specific."

"More specific... I don't really know. "h "This broken spear has a long history in the Gigi tribe, maybe it really has a thousand years of history. "But the Gigi people who kept it probably don't know its exact origin.

"Since it's a sacred object, there must be something special about it, right?"

Don't the yogi people have any legends about it?"

"Legends... are not very believable." "Those yogi people said that this was a weapon used by the gods of their race in ancient times. "It was because of the death of the gods that they lost their land and became a wandering race..."

At this point, Barre could not help but snicker, "The Gigi have gods? and weapons? Look at the shape of this broken spear, it is not the type of weapon used by Westerners at all..."

Hearing Barre's words, Yu Tian also came back to his senses.

That's right, the style of this spear had never appeared in the history of Western weapons. Even if someone had specially crafted a unique weapon for themselves, it should not be too different from the western style.

In terms of style, this broken spear was more like an ancient Eastern weapon style.

With this, the origin of the broken spear was even more difficult to understand.

Sara did not argue with Barre. She just shrugged and said, “Anyway, that’s what the lucky people said. They wanted to sell this thing for a good price, but the rich people’s offer was unacceptable... Yu Tian was a little puzzled. “They even sold this broken spear?”

Sara said, “Yes, they had such an intention.”

Yu Tian said in surprise, “Isn’t this their Holy Relic?”

Sara smiled slightly. “The Holy Relic is a holy relic, but when they want to exchange it for a more comfortable RV, the holy relic is not as important as the property...”

Yu Tian asked curiously, “Are those rich people so ignorant? This broken spear is obviously a treasure, but they can’t afford it?”

Sarah said, “(In the eyes of those rich people, this is just a damaged antique.”

Yu Tian shook his head and said, “Putting aside the value of the antique, it is a divine weapon itself...”

Sarah laughed. “It’s not a divine weapon, it’s just relatively sturdy. This kind of alloy is hard, dense, and heavy. Its value should not be low...”

“It’s not as simple as hard... could it be that after so many years, the lucky people have not discovered how sharp this thing is?”

Yu Tian felt a little strange.

This broken spear could cut through iron like mud, and could easily cut through other metals. Even a fool should know that it was a treasure of extraordinary value.

How could those lucky people be so stupid as to sell it?

How could those rich people be reluctant to spend money to buy it?

This really puzzled him.

Sarah was also a little puzzled. “Is it very sharp?”

“Of course...”

With a strange expression, Yu Tian handed the broken spear to Sala. “You try it.

Sala took the broken spear and looked at the messy furniture in the room that Yu Tian had cut with his sword aura. Then, she casually chopped the broken spear on the wooden table next to her.

With a soft sound, the broken spear hit the edge of the wooden table as if it was chopped by a kitchen knife.

The sharp blade of the spear cut into the wood, but it only managed to cut into it.

The hole in the wooden table was only about one centimeter. Even a child with a little strength could cut into it..

Chapter 1365: Chapter 1364, leave

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian's expression suddenly became strange.

Was it just an illusion that he had used this broken spear to Split Gold and Jade?

He had clearly used this thing to easily split the table, and he had even cut iron.

The broken legs of the chairs were still in the corner.

Sarah, on the other hand, remained calm.

This performance of the Broken Spear was the performance of a normal sharp metal weapon. There was nothing strange about it.

If it was used to split wood, it would definitely not be as good as an axe.

Yu Tian took the broken spear, weighed it in his hand, and once again hacked at the wooden table.

This time, he hacked it to the bottom again, splitting the wooden table into two halves.

"Your strength is really great..."

Barre commented on the side, but he did not look surprised.

For an ancient martial arts practitioner, this level of strength was just the basic requirement.

If he did not even have this bit of strength, how could he fight against the Knights.

However, Yu Tian knew very well that he did not use much strength at all.

Moreover, the section of the wooden table that was split open was very neat and smooth. It did not look like it was split open by brute force at all.

Yu Tian's heart became more and more confused.

He casually handed the broken spear to Barai. "You try it."

"Me? I don't need to try, right? I don't have much strength..."

Barai was not interested in showing off his strength, but Yu Tian handed the broken spear to him, so he could not refuse.

He could only take the broken spear and cut the wooden table with all his strength.

The result was not surprising. Barai also only left a small gap on the wooden table.

Yu Tian immediately understood.

There was nothing wrong with the broken spear. It was still a divine weapon.

However, there was something wrong with the user. No one else could unleash the power of the broken spear.

What was the reason?

Yu Tian was a little puzzled. He held the broken spear in his hand and began to examine it carefully.

Just from its appearance, there was nothing special about the broken spear. There was not even a pattern on its surface.

The magic of the spear should lie in its own material.

Even though there was a layer of rags, he could still feel a warm feeling coming from the handle of the spear.

Metal was usually cold, but after holding it for a while, it would transmit some heat.

This wasn't strange.

However, Yu Tian soon discovered something unusual. His internal energy seemed to have entered the broken spear.

Yu Tian's internal energy had been circulating slowly in his body. However, he had just discovered that there seemed to be a trace of internal energy that had entered the broken spear and then emerged from it.

Because the amount of this trace of internal energy was too small and it had not been exhausted, Yu Tian did not notice it for a moment.

Now that he looked carefully, it seemed that his internal energy had also treated the broken spear as a part of his body. He had very willfully passed by the broken spear.

Yu Tian was suddenly a little surprised. His internal energy was actually so disobedient? It actually ran around randomly without his command?

Was this what the broken spear did?

Was this the reason why he was able to display the amazing power of the broken spear?

Could it be that this broken spear was really a product of the east, and that was why it reacted with internal energy?

Or could it be that all kinds of energy could react with it?

Yu Tian tried to pour his internal force into the broken spear, but he found that the internal force flowed smoothly inside the broken spear, as if it had entered an incorporeal space.

But this broken spear clearly had a physical body.

This feeling was somewhat similar to pouring internal force into a spirit stone, except that the space inside the spirit stone was infinite and vast, and the space inside the broken spear was exactly the same size as itself.

No matter what, this was definitely a treasure.

Yu Tian did not continue to check. He wrapped the broken spear with a sheet and put it back on his waist.

The origin of the broken spear was still unclear, but this was not a very important matter.

It was now Yu Tian's weapon. Yu Tian did not care about its origin, as long as it could play a powerful role.

The next step was to think about how to deal with Sarah.

Sarah looked like a thief. She knew something about broken spears, but it was not very valuable.

Before Barre left, Yu Tian could not let Sarah go.

But after Barre left, there was no need for Yu Tian to hold on to Sarah anymore. At that time, he could just find a street corner and throw it away.

After thinking for a while, Yu Tian knocked Sara out again.

It was convenient.

Then, he waited for the headquarters to arrange for someone to accompany Barre to the eastern country.

It was obviously a waste of time to transfer people from the domestic headquarters. The headquarters directly transferred an intelligence officer from Dawn City to accompany Barre back to the country.

The intelligence officers were usually civilians. Even if there were some relatively powerful ones, they were not as professional as the operational personnel.

However, Barre was not an operational personnel. With someone accompanying him, he just needed to keep an eye on him.

The intelligence personnel quickly arrived at the repair shop. Then, Yu Tian brought Barre to the intelligence personnel's car and sent them all the way to the airport.

After watching them board the plane and leave successfully, Yu Tian finally breathed a sigh of relief. Then, he drove back to the repair shop.

Now, he had to deal with this Sarah.

Actually, it was easier to kill her to silence her. However, Yu Tian was not a homicidal maniac. If it was not necessary, he would not kill the innocent.

Yu Tian did not want Sarah to know about the existence of the repair shop. Naturally, he could not let her leave directly. He could only bring her into the car and find a suitable place to leave her behind.

After circling the streets for a long time, Yu Tian did not find any suitable place.

The population density of dawn city was still too high. The streets were basically full of people, and there were people watching everywhere they went.

Yu Tian pondered for a long time and decided to throw Sarah back to the villa in Barre.

She would return to where she came from. This could be considered a satisfactory result.

He quickly rushed to Barre's villa. The villa was still in the same state as when they left yesterday. It seemed that no one had come.

Yu Tian threw Sarah on the bed and woke her up.

“Wow, we’re back again...”Sarah smiled and said, “It seems that you don’t intend to hurt me.

Yu Tian said, “I’m not interested in hurting you. You’re free now. There’s still more than a million dollars in the safe. It’s all yours. Take this money and quickly leave Dawn City...

“More than a million dollars. Alright, the most valuable thing has been taken by you. I can only take some change...

Sarah walked to the safe and opened it skillfully according to the original password.

The safe was still filled with cash and gold bars. No one had touched it.

Sarah began to pack these things and chatted with Yu Tian, “Can you tell me who you are?”

Chapter 1366: Chapter 1365, drone surveillance

Translator: 549690339

“You don’t need to know so much. Just think of us as thieves or robbers like you.”

Yu Tian watched as Sarah packed her things, he said, “It’s not good for you to be involved in this matter. It might even cost you your life. I advise you to disappear for a period of time and stay away from dawn city. Don ‘t get yourself into trouble. ”

“Alright, I know you’re all big gangs. I Won’t argue with you. I’ll leave this place as soon as possible... ”

Sarah obviously did not know what kind of monsters she had encountered. She still looked relaxed and playful.

“You take care of yourself.

Yu Tian did not say anything else.

Easterners liked to say that they would not seek death if they did not seek it. He had already said what he needed to say. This was already considered to be doing his best.

If Sarah did not take his advice to heart and ended up dying because of it, then he did not need to feel any remorse.

Walking out of the villa, Yu Tian hesitated for a moment and then called his action assistant.

“Didn’t you say that you would arrange for people to watch this villa? Why don’t I see anyone around?”

“Yes, Mr. Dragon King. We are already monitoring this villa. However, we did not use manual surveillance because there was no suitable place for the surveillance personnel to hide around this villa. So we used a drone...”

“Oh, not bad, a drone is pretty good.”

Yu Tian suddenly understood.

Using a drone to monitor was much better than using manual surveillance. Moreover, reconnaissance drones used in the city did not need to travel too far,

Moreover, reconnaissance drones used in the city did not need to travel too far, did not need too big of a battery, and did not need to be equipped with weapons, so they could be made smaller and more stealthy.

Then, they could also be camouflaged in color. If they were parked in a corner of a roof, it would be difficult for people to notice them.

Being stealthy was only one of the advantages. Machines had a greater advantage over humans in terms of stability and patience.

The uavs could stay in a fixed position for days and nights without moving at all.

They did not need to eat or sleep, nor did they need to go to the toilet. They could stay hidden until the battery ran out.

If humans wanted to maintain such a long period of concealment and surveillance, it would be very painful.

Even the scouts who had received professional training could not be as excellent as the machines.

In addition, the drones could fly.

When they quietly followed high in the sky above their heads, even if they were prepared, they would not be able to discover them.

Yu Tian had been followed by drones before. He had even been blocked by genetic warriors and had a fierce fight with them.

Using drones to conduct surveillance was undoubtedly the best way to conduct surveillance.

In terms of the manufacturing technology and cost of drones, if the eastern country admitted that they were second, no country would dare to claim that they were first.

If the DONGLONG company wanted to play with such technological methods, they would definitely have an advantage over the Kroni company.

Yu Tian felt that these technology and equipment should have long been distributed to the lower-level members of the company.

For example, the equipment of the operational personnel, the investigative tools of the intelligence personnel, the Super Command Center of the headquarters, the big data and artificial intelligence, and all kinds of advanced working systems..

The donglong company was not short of money to begin with. Throwing this money at the lower-level members of the company could completely improve the efficiency of the entire company, including combat, intelligence, and security.

These were all money that should be spent. There was no need to save them.

The donglong company seemed to be in the process of evolution under the management of Zhu Gelang.

This was probably because Zhu Gelang was an easterner who had lived in the country for a long time.

The eastern country had developed rapidly in the past few decades, especially in information technology and some cutting-edge Technologies.

Although the Western countries had also made progress in cutting-edge technologies, there was still no progress in most civilian areas, such as infrastructure, transportation, network applications, and so on.

Therefore, many parts of the Western countries were very backward. When the eastern people used drones as toys, most westerners still felt that this was a high-end product that only the rich could use.

Any small factory in the eastern countries could produce excellent drones, but the westerners regarded the production of these things as high-tech.

This was a complete reversal of the situation a few decades ago.

Now that the headquarters of the DONGLONG company had moved to the eastern countries, with the support of the strong domestic technology and industrial system, the entire DONGLONG company could be upgraded to a whole new level in all its work equipment.

Yu Tian felt that moving the headquarters to the country was a wise choice.

In the afternoon, the headquarters finally arranged for people to come over and take away the documents such as the stock certificates and bonds. Yu Tian finally relieved a part of his burden.

Following that, Yu Tian returned to the hotel. The environment in the hotel was ultimately more comfortable than the strongholds of the gangs.

Yu Tian did not waste any time. He decided to practice the methods of weapon combat.

There were all kinds of blade techniques and sword techniques in ancient martial arts, as well as some unique weapon combat techniques.

These techniques were relatively superficial in ancient martial arts. As a result, among the secret manuals that Yu Tian had collected, there were very few secret manuals related to fist, foot, Blade, and sword moves.

Ancient martial arts practitioners paid more attention to the way they used their internal energy.

In the so-called martial arts, besides martial arts techniques, the most important thing was to have the ability to practice hard.

Ordinary people did not have strong strength, so no matter how exquisite the moves were, they were just putting on a show. However, ancient martial arts practitioners had strong internal energy. Even if they did not know any fist or foot moves, a casual attack could have a very strong power.

This was the so-called “One strength can defeat ten moves.”

Just like the six meridians divine sword that Yu Tian used, there was no need for any fancy moves. A sword Qi would not be able to withstand any move, and there was no other way except to dodge it.

Every punch and kick of those ancient martial art practitioners had great power, and moves could only be considered minor details to them. Only those swindlers who used the excuse of traditional martial arts liked to make a fuss about moves.

Therefore, Yu Tian only found a few books on moves and techniques among the secret manuals he had collected. Most of them were secret manuals on strange weapons. There was only one fist technique and one sword technique.

He opened these secret manuals and looked at them for a while. He found that these secret manuals were not the same as the martial arts secret manuals that he had imagined.

For example, sword technique. There were no coherent sword techniques on it, nor were there any basic sword moves such as hook, Hook, point, pick, stab, lift, and chop.

The whole chapter was about how to use the sword to attack and block in different postures, including the situation after falling to the ground. There was even a large section on how to hold the sword.

These things looked a bit like looking at the theoretical knowledge of mechanics, as well as the physiological knowledge of the human body.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and found that these secret manuals were actually quite useful. After understanding these theories, he could completely apply this swordsmanship to other similar weapons..

Chapter 1367: Chapter 1,366, Breakthrough

Translator: 549690339

These martial arts moves were not complicated. One could understand them after reading them a few times.

Then, through repeated practice, one could master them skillfully, allowing the body to get used to and remember the posture of exerting force.

Compared to practicing inner strength cultivation methods and Qinggong, the practice of these moves was countless times simpler.

Yu Tian held the broken spear and pondered over various chopping and stabbing methods. He also followed the theories in the secret manual and tried to draw his sword in various postures such as lying down, lying down, squatting down, jumping, and so on.

He found that if he followed the theories in the secret manual, he would be able to exert his strength more smoothly and more in line with the physiological structure of humans.

This gave him the feeling of practicing modern fighting techniques.

However, he felt that it was not important to practice any techniques, as long as they were practical.

These techniques could slightly increase the speed and strength of his attacks, which was of some value.

However, in a real battle, he still had to rely on his own strength and reaction. These techniques and moves could only be used as support. They were just icing on the cake. Inner strength and qinggong cultivation should be the main focus.

After practicing the “Sword technique” for a few hours, Yu Tian felt that he had almost mastered it.

As for the degree of proficiency, he should familiarize himself with the real battle. That way, the effect would be much better than practicing alone.

In the following time, he began to practice the gentle steps of the soaring waves.

Although the gentle steps of the soaring waves only had one level of lightness skill, he Feihong said that there was not much room for improvement.

However, Yu Tian felt that as long as he persisted in practicing, he would definitely gain more gains and insights.

The most important thing was that practicing the gentle steps of the soaring waves could increase his internal energy. That was the most important thing now.

The enemy he was going to face next might be an ancient martial art practitioner with high-end combat strength.

Although he was not afraid of the Elders Guild and the Knights, he could not underestimate this ancient martial art practitioner group too much.

The so-called strategy was to look down on the enemy, but tactically, he still had to pay attention to the enemy.

In order to face the upcoming battle, his internal energy reserves naturally had to be raised as high as possible.

Yu Tian decided to start absorbing the energy in the spirit stone.

He did not know how much energy was stored in the spirit stone, because when he entered the Spirit Stone space, he could not sense where the energy was.

The energy in the spirit stone could not be endless. If all the energy in the spirit stone was sucked out, the spirit stone would very likely shatter.

To Yu Tian, the amount of energy in the spirit stone was actually not important. He did not expect to rely on absorbing the energy of the spirit stone to strengthen himself.

The most important function of the spirit stone was that it could convert the nature of the energy.

Yu Tian did not want to kill the goose that laid the golden egg. He did not want to destroy the only spirit stone just to absorb a little energy.

However, he now felt that the energy in the spirit stone could not be wasted like this. At most, he would be more careful when absorbing the energy.

Once he noticed anything unusual or when the amount of energy that could be absorbed was getting lesser and lesser, he would pour his inner energy into the spirit stone instead.

Absorbing the high-quality energy in the spirit stone would allow him to practice more efficiently. Back then, he had relied on the energy of the Spirit Stone to enter the rudiments of these ancient martial arts.

Just like those xianxia novels said, relying on the cultivation resources of the spirit stones would allow him to improve faster.

After walking for half an hour with the spirit stones in his hand, Yu Tian found that his body was filled with internal energy.

Thus, he quickly stopped connecting with the Lingbo microsteps and began to fuse all kinds of internal energy.

Soon, he found that his body could no longer contain this internal energy.

What kind of state was this? Perfect State?

Yu Tian's heart stirred, and he began the second layer of the nameless inner strength.

The second layer of the nameless inner strength would open up a few new meridians, giving more room for internal energy.

In the past, he had tried to practice the second layer, but those meridians could not be opened up.

Now that his internal energy was full, he could easily enter the second layer of the nameless inner strength.

Yu Tian suddenly realized that this was the first layer of perfection.

If he had known this would happen, he would have taken out the spirit stones earlier to cultivate.

Now that the nameless inner strength had entered the second layer, Yu Tian realized that the internal energy gained through cultivation had also increased a little.

This was because there were a few more meridians through which the internal energy circulated, allowing the internal energy to be obtained from the body to be a little more.

The source of internal energy was actually the human body's own food.

The nutrition and energy provided by food not only supplied the body, but also supplied these internal energy.

Therefore, martial arts experts were more resistant to hunger. After writing down a novel, the heroes in the book could only eat a few meals in total.

Yu Tian continued to hold the spirit stones and train for an entire day. Through the Ling Bo Micro Steps, he had almost completed the second level of the nameless internal strength.

Then, he realized that the total amount of his internal strength had almost doubled. If he had been more careful when using the Shang Yang Sword, he would have been able to shoot out a hundred or so small sword energies without any problem.

If he was only using it to kill enemies, the bullet-like amount of internal strength would have been more than enough.

Yu Tian felt that he was even more powerful than Duan Yu in the TV series. After all, he had never seen Duan Yu shoot out more than a hundred sword energies in a row in the TV series.

Of course, this could also be because the TV cameras were trying to omit those repetitive movements.

But no matter what, according to the attack frequency of two swords per second, the amount of internal energy he had now was enough for him to sustain a high-intensity battle for a minute.

It was just that when he turned the sword energy into a long sword and slashed, it required a little more internal energy. However, a battle with an ancient martial art practitioner was not like cutting a password door. The more internal energy he expended, the less likely he would have a good result.

The next day, Yu Tian 's nameless mental cultivation technique successfully entered the third level, and a few more meridians were opened up.

Then, the reinforcements that brother Zhu had arranged for him arrived.

There were a total of more than ten people in the reinforcement team. Other than the East Dragon Company's own action team, there were three easterners and a middle-aged man with two young men.

The three easterners were all ancient martial art practitioners. Yu Tian could almost guess their identities the moment they met.

The middle-aged man was called Liang Yongde, and the two young men were two brothers, named Meng Nan and Meng Bei respectively.

Yu Tian thought that they were master and disciple, or martial uncle and martial nephew.

However, after they introduced themselves, they found out that these three were all martial brothers, and the older Liang Yongde was their eldest senior brother.

However, Liang Yongde did not introduce their sects and origins. It seemed that he was a little embarrassed to say more.

Being a bodyguard and fighter for others was indeed not a glorious thing for ancient martial art practitioners.

Therefore, ordinary ancient martial art practitioners only wanted to quietly earn money at this time and did not want to publicize their own names.

As the ancient people said, learning civil and martial arts and selling to the imperial family, earning money with one's ability was not shameful.

Yu Tian felt that this needed a process of adaptation. Very soon, ancient martial art practitioners would look at this kind of work normally..

Chapter 1368: Chapter 1,367, new equipment

Translator: 549690339

The main part of the support team was actually the Dong Long Company's own team.

Ancient martial art practitioners were mainly used for high-end combat and confrontation. Other errands and simple missions still required the use of their own team.

This team was still made up of white people, so it would be more convenient to move around in the wind country.

The team leader was called Tiger. According to the information, this team was transferred from America.

Tiger's team had not yet gone to the eastern country to participate in the special training. Because there were still many combat missions to be carried out in the various regional divisions, the special training in the operational divisions could only be arranged in batches.

Because Tiger's team's strength was considered to be the best among the many operational divisions, their previous performance was quite outstanding.

Therefore, leaving them until the end to participate in the special training could also ensure that the current operational strength of the East Dragon Company would not be weakened too much.

Currently, the operational strength of the wind country was basically blank. With the support of the Tiger Squad, Yu Tian could also relax a lot.

Along with the support, new equipment was also sent.

The equipment was transported through other channels because these weapons and ammunition could not normally pass through customs. They could only be delivered through the secret channels of smuggling.

Yu Tian was quickly attracted by the new equipment. This was the first batch of official new equipment from the East Dragon Company.

These new equipment were actually still under testing. However, in order to ensure Yu Tian's mobility, the equipment under test was still sent over.

The new equipment included the bulletproof vest made of new materials, which was the economic version of the one Yu Tian was wearing.

Although they were the economic version, they had better defensive capabilities than the previous ceramic bulletproof vests. Moreover, they were very light and could be worn as underwear.

In this era, bulletproof vests were a complete set, including clothes and pants. The weight was usually very heavy.

This kind of lightweight bulletproof vests had a huge effect on operational personnel, allowing them to move more quickly in battle tactics.

In addition, the new equipment also included a full-body bulletproof helmet, which had the same function as Yu Tian's helmet, except that the material was slightly cheaper and the defensive power was slightly lower.

The helmet's mask only had a lens the size of a windshield. Its field of vision was not as wide as Yu Tian's, and the quality of the display screen was not as high as Yu Tian's.

However, this was enough. After all, they did not use the helmet to watch movies. A simple information prompt was enough for the operational personnel.

In addition to this set of combat protection equipment, there was also a pair of glasses-like individual soldier system.

This was the equipment for them to use in casual operations. After all, full-body bulletproof helmets were not suitable for many scenarios.

In addition, there were all kinds of auxiliary equipment, such as small unmanned reconnaissance aircraft, various detectors... and all kinds of small gadgets that Yu Tian didn't know what they were.

After that, they were equipped with a wider variety of weapons.

Other than anti-material micro-assault rifles, there were also military versions of anti-material sniper rifles.

These were not a problem to use against those BRITTLESKIN tanks and armored vehicles. It was just that they were not very useful in indoor scuffles.

There were also other ordinary guns, such as pistols with silencers, mini-assault rifles that could be hidden in suits..

These weapons were also used in ordinary operations. They could be used to deal with enemies other than genetic warriors.

There were also grenades and rocket launchers. These were the most commonly used and most suitable weapons for individual soldiers.

There were no machine guns, and it was inconvenient for individual soldiers to carry them.

In fact, as long as there was sufficient ammunition, a dozen mini-guns could also be used as machine gun firepower.

The last batch of equipment for the Tiger squad was a few police assault vehicles sent from dusk city.

Headquarters still prepared the uniform of the Wild Fox Secret Service team for the Tiger Squad, as well as the serial number of the Wild Fox Secret Service team, including their identification documents.

In this way, some of their operations in Dawn City would be slightly more convenient.

Although there would be some trouble in law enforcement, at least they would not be treated as terrorists by the authorities.

However, Yu Tian did not plan to let them act openly as the Wild Fox Secret Service team for the time being.

Now that they were in Dawn City, the possibility of directly confronting the genetic warriors was not high.

The tiger squad was mainly used to capture those traitors, so undercover operations were more convenient.

Yu Tian's new equipment had also arrived, including a pair of sunglasses commonly seen in western countries, as well as a new bulletproof vest.

The sunglasses were naturally a single soldier system. Other than not being bulletproof, its functions were as perfect as a helmet.

The new bulletproof vest was similar to the previous one, except that some simple modifications had been made to the style, allowing Yu Tian to have more places to hide his weapons.

Yu Tian could now hide the broken spear and the big club on both sides of his thighs, or he could hide them behind his waist.

Piggy Liang had equipped Yu Tian's two cold weapons with a scabbard and leather case, and added a buckle on the clothes. Yu Tian did not need to put these weapons on his belt anymore.

After putting on the weapons, Yu Tian only needed to wear a loose coat to hide these things well.

Although these changes were not big, they were much more convenient.

In the afternoon, Tiger Squad came in handy.

Hot Dog and red-haired ghost sent another message, saying that they had found the target and that they had not made a mistake this time.

Yu Tian was busy practicing his martial arts and did not go out personally. The task of capturing the target was handed over to Tiger Squad.

Tiger squad had a total of twelve people. Henry had already prepared four commercial vehicles of different colors and styles for them.

The spacious commercial vehicles could not only carry weapons and equipment, but were also very suitable for capturing people and hiding people.

Tiger Squad's operations were now also under the command of the Headquarters Command Center. The new personal equipment could already allow for instant communication on the battlefield and the ability to transmit images, this was a very powerful support for the operation team.

Yu Tian did not need to worry about the entire operation process. He was only watching the operation of the Tiger squad through his glasses while he was training.

Just a few minutes after the tiger squad set out, hot dog and red-haired ghost called again, saying that they had found another target.

They had found two targets in a row. It was unknown whether it was because they were too lucky or because the continuous search over the past few days had finally begun to show results.

Yu Tian did not need to interfere with the rest of the work. The command center directly read the messages he received on his phone and assigned the task to Tiger team.

Tiger team immediately split into two and rushed to the two capture locations without any chaos.

Under the control of the command center at Headquarters, the operation personnel did not need to use their brains or make any difficult decisions. They only needed to follow the instructions to carry out the task..

1369 Chapter 1,368, the changes of Donglong Company

This mode of operation was many times more efficient than before. However, for the command center at Headquarters, the workload was slightly larger, and the need for human resources was also much greater.

According to Piggy Liang's plan, behind every operation team, there would be more than ten technicians and intelligence personnel, as well as an experienced combat commander.

Even in some special operations, experts from all walks of life would be required to participate.

With the support of such a large team, their grasp of the entire operation could reach the level of perfection in every detail.

However, according to this plan, the command center would need a little more staff.

If Donglong company carried out multiple operations in multiple locations at the same time, then the command center would need at least hundreds of behind-the-scenes staff to provide perfect support for these operations teams.

Of course, the simplified version of the behind-the-scenes team was not impossible.

In many movies, when special forces or spy agents were in action, there were only one or two computer experts behind them, providing them with some important information.

Some operations were actually not complicated. There was a pre-planned operation, so the implementation did not require too much interference from the behind-the-scenes team.

Therefore, as long as there were a few technical personnel to provide support, it could greatly improve the work efficiency of the operation personnel and ensure the success of the operation.

However, Donglong company was not short of money. Piggy Liang could completely build the team behind the scenes to be more powerful and perfect.

Even if the operation team did not have any brains, they still had to ensure the success of the operation. Even if they encountered some unexpected situations, they still had the most efficient way to deal with them.

Under the circumstances where they didn't lack money, it wasn't difficult for Donglong Company to build such a huge command center.

Piggy Liang could recruit a large number of talents in the country, and even directly poach people from the eastern country's military.

There weren't many people in the country who were willing to engage in high-risk professions, especially technical talents. Many people had a stable life, and it was impossible for them to risk their lives to join some secret organization.

However, if the income was high enough, and the safety and legality were guaranteed, recruiting talents from the country was a very simple matter.

The headquarters and command center of the Donglong Company were located in the eastern country. The working environment of the entire behind-the-scenes team was very safe, and they even had various cooperation relationships with the authorities, this kind of condition was incomparable to any secret organization.

They were completely capable of building a huge battle command center. The only thing that Piggy Liang had to do was to throw money at them.

Of course, the work of the DONGLONG company was still different from ordinary work. The requirements for confidentiality were relatively high.

In order to ensure the loyalty of its members, every organization had tried every means and means, but they still could not guarantee the loyalty of its members.

Therefore, most of the members of the organization knew very little information, and the entire organization was in a state of secrecy.

Donglong company had a unique advantage in the eastern country, which was that it had a very close relationship with the authorities. They could declare to the members of the command center that this was a top-secret unit of the military, even every staff member would be sent to the military camp to participate in short-term military training before they entered the service.

In this way, the possibility of staff members betraying and leaking secrets was greatly reduced.

After all, the proportion of easterners who were willing to betray their motherland was very low.

Even if there were traitors and spies in the middle, it did not matter. The command center also had its own internal confidentiality system.

Other than providing some technical support, ordinary staff members did not have a clear understanding of the overall situation of the operation, much less the identity of the operation personnel.

At most, they only knew some details of the single operation. It was even worse than after the operation. The police had investigated the situation on the spot, and it did not pose any threat to the safety of the DONGLONG company.

In short, the structure of the DONGLONG company was relatively perfect.

The command center now had a scale of more than a hundred people, which was enough to support ten or so teams to carry out the operation at the same time.

Under special circumstances, it was not impossible for dozens of small teams to start operations at the same time.

It was nothing more than arranging more people for important operations, and fewer people for simple operations.

Some operations could be commanded by the command center as much as possible, and some operations could be commanded by the field commander of the operation team, while the behind-the-scenes team only provided technical and intelligence support.

A command center with more than a hundred people could already display a very powerful force.

However, this was only the beginning. Piggy Liang's goal was to have a command center with a scale of five hundred people. He wanted every operation team to become a pure command execution machine.

The operation of the tiger team was very smooth. They were already very experienced in capturing, and the combat strength of their members was also very good.

With the support of the command center, their operation became very simple.

Their commercial vehicles carried a lot of battlefield support equipment, such as drones, and heat detectors.

The command center directly took over the operation of these support equipment, using drones to scout the target building, and instructed the operation personnel to use heat detection equipment to detect how many people were hidden in the building.

After that, the operation plan was immediately published. Every team member had clear instructions on what to do.

This was a fool-like operation. The team members acted mechanically according to the instructions. There were very clear instructions on what time, what route to follow, and where to go.

Which door to open, which window to open, and what method to use to open it..

What was the situation behind the door, and where the enemy was..

This felt like playing a game with cheats.

An hour later, the two traitors were sent to Black Jack's repair shop.

The members of the tiger team were stupefied. They felt that their years of operational experience were completely useless. Any newbie could do the same as them.

Then, under the command of the headquarters, the tiger team began to interrogate the traitors.

In fact, these traitors were not worth interrogating. They were all businessmen. The assets in their hands were no longer under their control and had been disposed of by the East Dragon Company.

The East Dragon Company's only hope now was to find clues about the leader of the traitors from them.

However, they obviously didn't know this information. After these businessmen were brought to dawn city, they temporarily lay low and waited for new work arrangements.

In the future, they would be assigned to other countries and regions and be responsible for running some small companies and businesses. This was their only value in the traitor organization.

Business talents were not difficult to find, but there were not many business talents who were willing to serve the secret organization.

Otherwise, they would have been abandoned by the traitors.

1370 Chapter 1,369. There were people from the villa

The captives were eventually transferred and locked up. The headquarters thought that the traitor leader would contact them again, and then they could continue to use them to follow the clues.

However, the place Henry prepared for them to be locked up was not very nice.

This time, there were no hotels or separate rooms. They were sent to a cellar of a residential house in the suburbs like they were in prison.

Yu Tian watched the whole process without any interference.

A small team, together with the command center, had arranged everything properly. Yu Tian did not need to worry about anything else.

This was what a secret organization should look like.

Yu Tian felt that the donglong company had started to recover. There were many small things that did not require him, the big boss, to do personally.

What he needed to do now was to raise his strength as soon as possible and prepare to face the challenge of high-end combat strength.

However, there was not much time left for him.

At night, the headquarters finally received news that people had finally arrived at Barre's villa.

According to the footage taken by the drone, two white men had just entered Barre's villa. They had used a key to open the main door and entered through the main door.

The two men looked very ordinary and dressed very normally. They were no different from ordinary citizens.

“This is their Knight Order?”

Yu Tian was a little puzzled. These two men were really too ordinary. With such appearances, it seemed more reasonable to say that they were intelligence officers.

However, the Knight Order was obviously a department of Operations, and it was also a high-end combat force. Even if these people did not have killing intent, they should still have a sharp spirit. At the very least, they looked more vigorous.

The operations assistant replied, “We can’t confirm the identity of these two people, and neither can Barre. Because the appearance of the Knights is no different from that of ordinary people. If we want to know their identity, I’m afraid we can only fight with them...”

In fact, Barre had never met the people of the Knights before, so he was not clear about the specific situation and characteristics of the Knights.

He had only heard about some of the achievements of the Knights, which had happened many years ago.

It was said that when the clone society was just established, they had conflicts with many secret organizations in order to compete for some markets and resources.

After all, the market was limited, and the customers were also limited.

Secret organizations would not engage in fair competition, and many businesses could not accommodate other competitors, especially those that were illegal.

If one wanted to make money and monopolize the business, they would have to see who had the bigger fist and who had the greater influence in the region.

At that time, the Kronin Society did not have any genetic warriors. They did not even have 18:39 professional personnel. They were like a small gang that had just been established.

At that time, the Kronin Society did not have any genetic warriors. They did not even have professional personnel. They were like a small gang that had just been established.

However, they had the knights behind them. They had only relied on the strength of the Knights to directly destroy those secret organizations.

Back then, the strength of these secret organizations was not much weaker than the current DONGLONG company. However, they had been forcefully destroyed by the Knights.

There was not only one secret organization that had been destroyed. There were three or four large and small secret organizations.

It could be said that the knights had single-handedly challenged half of the secret organizations in the world. They had helped the clone society gain a firm foothold in the underground world.

From this situation, the combat strength of the Knights had reached a terrifying level.

In addition, Barre also believed that the knights were not the combat department established by the Clone Society. They should have existed before the clone society was established.

The Clone Society was like a new organization established with the support of the Council of elders and the Knights.

Their relationship with the Elders Guild of the Knights was similar to the relationship between Blue Underpants and the East Dragon Company.

However, the East Dragon Company was a powerful force that many people knew about. However, no one knew about the origins of the Knights Guild and the Elders Guild.

It was said that the Knights Guild only had a single digit number of people in each operation. Usually, there would be three to four to five people.

They only needed information about the target of the operation, and did not need any weapons, equipment, or logistical support. The operation process was completely independent and confidential.

As long as they received the mission and accepted it, they would not leave any survivors. Even the witnesses would not be left alive.

Therefore, the specific situation of the Knights was very mysterious. Even some of the elders of the clone society did not know much about it. They only knew that the clone society had such a force.

After the clone society became powerful, the Knights had disappeared without a trace. They had not participated in the combat missions of the Clone Society for many years. They even seemed to have disappeared.

Barre could only provide so much information. Some things could also be confirmed.

For example, there were indeed many secret organizations that were destroyed more than ten years ago. The structure of the underground world had changed.

The market left by these secret organizations was quite empty, but it was quickly divided up by other forces.

It seemed that the clone society did not have the power to swallow all the markets.

After more than a decade, the secret organizations in the world developed again.

Some weakened until they disappeared.

Some were swallowed, or split up and changed into other forces.

It was basically impossible to find clues about the Clone Society's forces.

It was even more impossible to find clues about the elders of the Knight Order.

Now, other than being able to conclude that the Knight Order's combat strength was indeed extraordinary and that it was most likely an ancient martial art group, there was no other information.

Of course, although Barre could not provide too much information about the knight order, he was still very valuable in other aspects.

He had now safely arrived in the eastern country and was cooperating with the East Dragon Company to harvest the assets of the Clone Society.

As a business assistant, Barre had mainly business intelligence.

With his cooperation, the equity documents and bonds could be smoothly converted into the assets of the East Dragon Company.

However, for Piggy Liang, the most important intelligence in Barre's hands was about the headquarters of the Clone Society.

Barre had never been to the headquarters of the Clone Society, but his immediate superior had.

By coincidence, he knew the itinerary of his superior. The destination on the plane ticket was a small country in black continent.

Barre believed that the headquarters of the clone society was in that small country in black continent.

This was a very important clue.

As the saying went, to catch the ringleader, the best way to destroy the Clone Society was to destroy their headquarters and their leader.

Just like what they had instigated the traitors to do to the East Dragon Company, they had directly destroyed the headquarters of the East Dragon Company.

Piggy Liang had already started to arrange intelligence personnel to follow the clues to the headquarters of the Clone Society.

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1371 - 1,370, monitoring the hotel - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1371 - 1,370, monitoring the hotel

Chapter 1371: Chapter 1,370, monitoring the hotel

Translator: 549690339

Of course, Yu Tian didn't need to worry about the operations of the headquarters.

He was going to investigate the background of the Knights.

Although the two men who entered Barre's villa looked ordinary, it was very likely that they were members of the Knights.

Yu Tian didn't dare to neglect, nor did he dare to give this task to tiger team.

He immediately rode on the small pedal and rushed to Barre's villa.

Naturally, Liang Yongde and the other two ancient martial art practitioners accompanied him.

Henry prepared a very inconspicuous car for them and arranged for a white chauffeur.

The five of them rushed towards Barre's villa, but halfway there, the headquarters sent a message that the two men had come out of Barre's villa.

The intelligence department began to use drones to track the two men. Yu Tian and the others could only follow the instructions of the headquarters to change the route.

Half an hour later, the two men checked into a hotel, and it was a high-class hotel.

Ordinary people would not waste money to check into a high-class hotel, including members of a secret organization. They would not normally let themselves stay in such a conspicuous place.

This proved that the identities of the two men were indeed not ordinary. They should not be low-level members of the Kronian Society.

The command center then hacked into the hotel's network and found the rooms that the two men were staying in.

Yu Tian and the others quickly arrived at the hotel.

However, the command center did not advise them to immediately take action against the other party because the two men were obviously still staying in

Dawn City. There might be a big fish behind them.

Therefore, Yu Tian, Liang Yongde, and the other two men also checked into the hotel and stayed on the same floor as the two men.

One night passed just like that.

Donglong company had already accepted the entire hotel's surveillance system. The two men did not show any abnormal behavior and did not leave the room for the whole night.

Early the next morning, the two men went down to the hotel restaurant like normal people to have breakfast.

While they were eating breakfast, the tiger team members who had been on standby quickly entered their rooms and set up surveillance and listening devices.

The tiger team did not participate in direct combat operations, but it was not too dangerous to do some auxiliary work.

The entire hotel was under the surveillance of the command center, so there was no risk in the process of setting up surveillance and listening devices.

After breakfast time, the two men returned to their rooms.

Next, their every move entered the eyes of the DONGLONG company.

The two men had been staying in their rooms, except for meal time, and did not go out all day.

Their behavior was very strange, there was almost no conversation in the room, only in their respective rooms to exercise alone.

The way they worked out was also very weird. It was like doing yoga, but not as soft as yoga.

They would pose in a very weird and laborious way and then stay still for more than half an hour..

This exercise would eventually make them sweat and look very tired.

But after a short rest, they would move on to the next movement.

All day long, they are doing the same exercises as the human body painting models.

Lunch at noon, dinner at night.

Except for the large amount of food, there is nothing unusual about their behavior.

Obviously, they are not tourists, but they do not look like members of a secret organization with important tasks.

What are they doing in their rooms all day long?

Of course, they could not have come to the hotel to exercise. They could only say that they were waiting for someone or news.

The Intelligence Department at Headquarters analyzed that they must have made contact with the outside world the night they checked into the hotel.

It was just that the DONGLONG company did not have time to set up the surveillance system in the room at that time, so they did not know the specific situation.

However, it could be guessed that they had reported the situation of Barre's villa to their superiors.

According to Barre's confession, the two men had come to meet him and take the key to the bank safe from him.

If anything happened to him, or if he was not in the villa, there would be no delay.

His superiors also knew the password to the villa's safe, and the two men would take the key from the safe by themselves.

As for the information about the safe in the bank, it was his boss' safe to begin with. These two men naturally also knew the number of the safe in the bank.

The only thing they wanted to take away was the broken spear. The other equity documents and bonds had always been kept by Barre's boss. It had nothing to do with these two men.

What Barre had done before was to put the broken spear in the bank safe and then guard the villa to keep the key to the safe.

Now that Barre had gone missing and the two men had found nothing at Barre's villa, they should have guessed that something had happened to Barre.

Therefore, the Kronin society should be investigating the matter of Barre now.

The two men should have been on standby and temporarily stayed in the hotel.

Barrett now only hoped that Kronin would think that he was dead. He handed over his cell phone and Internet account to the East Dragon Company and said that he would not answer any phone calls , or he would contact Kronin in other ways.

Donglong did not force Barre, because it was impossible for Barre to become an undercover agent.

Another Day passed.

The headquarters intelligence department thought that Kronin would have confirmed the theft of the broken spear.

It was not difficult to confirm these things. Barre's boss, as the owner of the safe, could go to the bank and ask to open it even if the key was lost, this would make it easy to confirm whether the safe had been stolen.

Then, they could investigate the bank's surveillance to see who had taken what was in the safe.

But this clue had been cut off by Donglong Company, and the video records of Fengshou Bank had been deleted by the technical department.

The Kronin would have little chance of finding Henry now.

Of course, they had another way, which was to have the bank manager help them with the portrait and draw a picture of Henry.

But it was hard to say how much the bank manager remembered Henry's appearance.

The other clue was to investigate Barre and what had happened in his villa.

This clue was troublesome, but it was not impossible to find it.

There were dozens of people gathered around Barre's villa that day, which would attract the attention of the neighbors.

Kroni would soon target the group of wooden people, and then he would soon find out that Yu Tian was using the wooden people to find the traitors..

Chapter 1372: Chapter 1,371, new reinforcements

Translator: 549690339

The wooden men were a large clan. Yu Tian could use the wooden men to gather information, and so could the clone society.

With the use of money, Yu Tian's deal with the wooden men would soon be known by the Clone Society, and it would also be known by the traitor organization.

The news of Yu Tian's appearance in Dawn City could not be hidden, and Yu Tian did not intend to hide it either. What he wanted now was for the Knights to quickly find him.

The Clone Society should be able to guess the relationship between the David Gang and the East Dragon Company, and Yu Tian did not intend to hide it.

If the clone society wanted to make a move against the David Gang, Yu Tian would be more than happy to do so.

His biggest headache was that the clone society would disappear without a trace, without any news or action.

However, as long as the clone society appeared, they would have a way to follow the clues, track down the Clone Society's action personnel, and deal more damage to the clone society.

Using the worthless gang of David as bait was a lucrative business.

In addition, there were the traitors.

The value of the traitors was not high, because there was no useful information from them.

Compared to the knights, capturing the traitors could be put aside.

Of course, many traitors had been caught in the past two days.

The next day, Tiger squad caught a few more traitors, some of which were provided by their own gangs.

Yu Tian had never expected to catch all the traitors, but this was already a good result.

If the traitors found out about this, it might not be a bad thing.

In any case, the capture operation would be exposed sooner or later. It was just a matter of time.

Those traitors who were lucky enough not to be found might leave Dawn city at the notice of the traitors' organization.

But this would give Donglong more opportunities to catch them.

They were now a group of bait.

As long as the traitors' organization contacted these traitors, Donglong would have a way to continue tracking them.

Now, Donglong's technical department was already full of talents. They had been supplemented by a large number of outstanding talents in the country, and their technical strength had already far surpassed the past.

They could now forge video communications, impersonate any traitor, and communicate with their superiors.

In the past, they had to distinguish whether a member of an organization had been captured or controlled, and they could also check the environment he was in through video. They could see if he could freely leave the room and freely run to a safe place..

But now, the DONGLONG company had already used one of the eastern country's most troublesome civilian technologies video face-changing technology.

This technology had existed for decades and had been developed by the official intelligence department. There would be no more technical flaws.

It was almost impossible for the traitor organization to determine the status of their members through video.

They could only confirm it through offline contact.

The dozen or so traitors hiding in Dawn city might be able to confirm that some of them had been captured because the wooden figures had already received the bounty.

But they couldn't confirm whether the others were safe, such as the few traitors who had provided information to the gang.

If the traitors' organization still wanted to continue to contact these traitors, donglong company could naturally continue to track them through them.

Unless the traitors 'organization gave up on this group of traitors and cut off all contact, then Donglong Company could only look for other clues.

Of course, this wasn't an important matter.

As the East Dragon Company grew stronger and stronger, the traitor organization would eventually become a clown.

The markets and resources they controlled would soon be swallowed up by the East Dragon Company, and their living space would be reduced to very little by other organizations and forces.

In the future, all the East Dragon Company had to do was to clean up and find these traitors and execute them.

Therefore, Yu Tian's focus was still on the clone society.

The company headquarters was investigating the information about the clone society headquarters. Yu Tian 's focus was to deal with the Knights of the Clone Society.

On the third day, the two men who were staying in the hotel still did not take any action.

They ate and exercised in their rooms every day.

The headquarters had asked professionals to analyze it. It seemed to be an ancient western way of exercising.

These two men were most likely western ancient martial arts practitioners, and they were members of the Knights.

Yu Tian could not hold it in any longer. He really wanted to go and kill these two men right away and test the strength of their knights.

However, the intelligence department advised him to be patient. In any case, these two men could not escape.

On the third night, the East Dragon Company sent another operation team to Dawn City.

This time, three teams, more than 30 people, came. They were all teams that had performed very well in the past. They did not receive special training for the time being.

Similarly, they were all equipped with new equipment, from weapons to bulletproof vests, to all kinds of support equipment.

This was very expensive, but it looked very strong.

The operations department of the East Dragon Company could be said to be brand new, except that their ability to fight head-on needed to be improved.

In addition, Yu Tian had another ancient martial art practitioner from the eastern country by his side.

The new ancient martial art practitioner was alone, and his name was Tao Jun..

Tao Jun was relatively young, and he looked a little arrogant. He had the air of a genius youth who looked down on his peers.

However, he still had his basic professional ethics. According to the headquarters' arrangement, he stayed in Yu Tian's hotel.

After meeting Yu Tian, the first thing Tao Jun said was, "With me around, your safety will definitely not be a problem.

Yu Tian suddenly did not know what to say.

He knew that the main purpose of Piggy Liang finding these ancient martial art practitioners was definitely to be his bodyguard.

His safety was the most important issue. As for the other missions, they were just side missions.

Yu Tian was indeed very strong, but Zhu Geliang felt that there were times when the strong were careless. It was safer to have bodyguards by his side.

Yu Tian had bodyguards in the past, but their strength was not enough to handle high-level battles.

Now that the mouse squad was receiving special training in the eastern country, and the Big Guy was left in the mini bull market to be Mina's bodyguard, Zhu Geliang naturally had to prepare stronger protection for Yu Tian.

Although Yu Tian did not know how strong the ancient martial art practitioners around him were, brother Pig Liang would definitely not send someone who was too weak to die here.

The ancient martial art practitioners of the eastern dragon country were more powerful than those in the west, both in quantity and quality.

Yu Tian felt that he now had an overwhelming advantage against the knights. He could beat those knights to the ground at any minute.

On the afternoon of the fourth day, the two men they were watching finally checked out.

They called a taxi, and after checking out, they directly left in the car.

Of course, Yu Tian could not let them go. He immediately got on the small pedal and began to follow them..

Chapter 1373: Chapter 1372, stronghold

Translator: 549690339

Manual tracking was usually easy to detect. It usually required the cooperation of multiple professionals and alternating tracking.

Yu Tian was not professional in tracking, and he did not have any teammates who could cooperate with him.

Therefore, tracking did not need him to do it himself.

Donglong company's drone was already ready. Just as their target got into a taxi and left, the drone followed them from high up in the air.

Yu Tian only needed to ride the small pedal and follow the route suggested by the headquarters.

The distance between him and the target was just right out of his sight, but he would not lose track of them.

Liang Yongde and the others were driving by themselves this time. They also wore Donglong's glasses-type communicators, so they did not have to worry about falling behind Yu Tian.

However, the new Tao Jun refused to take the car. He insisted on squeezing on Yu Tian's small pedal.

Tao Jun said that he had to ensure that Yu Tian was always in his sight so that he could better ensure Yu Tian's safety.

He really thought of himself as Yu Tian's personal bodyguard.

The group of six followed the route instructed by the headquarters and walked through the city at a moderate pace.

In order to prevent any accidents, the headquarters ordered the tiger team to participate in the operation.

They caught up from another direction and followed Yu Tian and the others about a kilometer behind them, in case they needed support.

This time, the tracking took longer than expected. The target left Dawn City and went straight into the suburbs.

Then, they walked almost 100 kilometers in one breath. On the way, they passed by a small town and ran far beyond the jurisdiction of Dawn City.

This distance had already exceeded the maximum range of the small drones, which was a little beyond the control center's expectations.

However, the control center also had a plan in the face of such a situation. In the case that the drones could not track them, they once again used satellites to track them.

The extremely long tracking distance also caused some trouble for Yu Tian. His small pedal had to fill up the road twice before he could be considered to have caught up with the team.

Fortunately, there was satellite tracking along the way, so the target was not lost.

When it was dark, the target taxi drove into a farm, passed through the wheat fields and orchards, and went straight to the farmer's house.

The taxi finally stopped. The two men got out of the car and walked straight into the farmer's house.

But the taxi did not leave.

Not long after, another man came out of the house and drove the taxi straight into the warehouse.

Obviously, the taxi driver had been killed by them.

Taking a taxi and killing the taxi driver at the same time, this style of doing things could be said to be treating human lives like grass.

Yu Tian felt that if he killed these guys, it would be considered as a righteous act to eliminate the harm for the people.

In the end, he could even make use of the Nogitsune Secret Service's reputation to make their actions more legal.

Yu Tian and the rest did not enter the farm directly. According to the command center's Reminder, they stopped a few kilometers away from the farm.

The command center felt that now was not a good time to act. To ensure that the operation was smooth, they had to at least investigate the situation inside the farm.

This farm was obviously a stronghold of the clone society. There might even be a large number of genetic warriors hidden inside.

Therefore, they had to wait for the tiger squad behind them to catch up.

The Tiger Squad had brought drones with them in their cars. The command center decided to use drones to conduct some simple reconnaissance of the farm first.

Yu Tian was somewhat impatient. However, he also knew that it was best to wait until late at night before taking action.

Tiger squad didn't let them wait for long. They quickly rushed over and fired the drone according to the headquarters' instructions.

The surveillance footage was quickly synchronized to Yu Tian's helmet. There would be a battle this time, so Yu Tian brought all his equipment.

The farm was very quiet. Other than the house, there was no other movement in the surroundings.

There were three reconnaissance drones. While they were peeping at the house, they also checked the other buildings of the farm.

There was a simple grain warehouse, a utility room, and an empty stable. There was no sign of anyone hiding.

Everyone was gathered in the house.

The house was a single-story wooden house with an area of two to three hundred square meters.

The drone circled around the wooden house and soon found the target.

At this time, the people in the house were preparing dinner.

The Westerners prepared dinner very quickly. By this time, everyone was on the table.

In addition to the two men they were following, there was an old man and an old woman in the restaurant. They looked like a couple. This should be the owner of the farm.

There were also six young men. It was unknown who they were. They might be the sons of the owner of the farm, but there shouldn't be as many as six.

So, most of them should be helpers or friends.

This was the case for normal families.

But this was the stronghold of the KLONITES. These young men were certainly not helpers or friends.

There was no movement in the other rooms in the wooden house, and most of the rooms had no lights on.

It seemed that everyone was gathered in the dining room.

There were ten people in total, and two of them were old men. There were not many people in this stronghold.

Yu Tian felt that they could immediately launch a surprise attack on this house. Ten enemies would be a piece of cake for him.

However, the headquarters still suggested that they wait until late at night before launching a surprise attack.

They had to prepare for the worst. They had to assume that the ten people in the restaurant were all western ancient martial arts practitioners, including the two old men.

If it were ten ancient martial arts practitioners, Yu Tian's side would probably have a harder time.

This assumption made Yu Tian's balls ache. How could there be such a coincidence? The ten people eating at the table were all ancient martial art practitioners?

However, the action plan formulated by the headquarters was definitely more appropriate. Yu Tian did not want to take the lead in disobeying the headquarters' action orders, lest he would leave a bad example for the tiger squad, this would cause the operation department to not follow orders in the future.

Therefore, they had to wait for the next moment and eat dinner while they were at it.

When it was past 10 O'clock in the evening, the old couple took the lead and went back to their rooms to rest. The others also went back to their rooms.

There were many bedrooms in this residence. Most of the bedrooms had two single beds.

The six young men and two men all stayed in this kind of double room. There were a total of five rooms for ten people.

After another two hours, it was midnight. The command center finally gave the order to act.

The command center was quite clear about Yu Tian's ability. His ability was very suitable for sneaking in and subduing the enemy without making a sound.

In addition, Liang Yongde also had a sneak attack method.

Liang Yongde's method was considered the most common method in wuxia novels. He could use the smoke to subdue the enemy without making a sound..

Chapter 1374: Chapter 1,373, formations

Translator: 549690339

When it came to the use of knockout smoke, Yu Tian's skill in this area was no worse than those people in the pugilistic world.

As a godly doctor, he certainly knew a lot of herbs that could cause people to faint.

However, he didn't have these materials on hand at the moment, so using flying needles was the most convenient method for him.

However, after considering it all, using knockout smoke still had an advantage.

Because if they used the smoke, they did not need to enter the target's room at all, avoiding the possibility of opening the door and windows to wake the target up.

As long as there was a small air hole in the room, they could easily complete the operation of releasing the smoke.

Moreover, the target now had a total of five rooms. Yu Tian and the four eastern ancient martial art practitioners made up exactly five people. Each of them could take a smoke and complete the five rooms at the same time.

Liang Yongde distributed his smoke and each of them held a bamboo tube that was slightly smaller than a cigar.

Tao Jun seemed to be somewhat disdainful of drugging the target, but he seemed to have received a solemn reminder from the headquarters. He helplessly took the bamboo tube and set off with Yu Tian and the others.

They were still a few kilometers away from the farm, but they did not drive.

Firstly, they were worried that driving would alert the target, because they had to drive on the main road in front of the farm. The target might have installed some alarm devices on the road.

Moreover, the sound of the engine of the car and the vibration of the road would be slightly louder, so the target might be able to detect it.

Secondly, the distance of a few kilometers was a piece of cake for the ancient martial art practitioners. They used Qinggong to travel as fast as cars, and it was safer and more concealed.

The five ancient martial art practitioners could directly pass through the orchard and wheat field and directly reach the wooden house in the center of the farm. They did not need to take the main road.

The tiger team temporarily stayed in place to wait for orders, and Yu Tian and the others directly entered the wheat field.

There was also a road in the middle of the wheat field. Through satellite reconnaissance, the command center had directly planned a route for Yu Tian and the others, so that they would not be muddled walking in the wheat field. However, after walking for two kilometers, Yu Tian suddenly realized that the network connection with the headquarters had been cut off. He immediately stopped in his tracks.

"What's Wrong?"

Tao Jun, who was following behind him, immediately became vigilant.

Yu Tian adjusted his helmet and said, "The network connection with the headquarters has been cut off. Where's Yours?"

A few ancient martial art practitioners were slightly stunned and immediately went to check on their own communications.

"Our connection has also been cut off, but the navigation instructions are still there..."

The navigation instructions could be operated offline, and even if the network was cut off, it would not be affected.

However, the network cut-off would result in the inability to communicate with the headquarters, affecting the real-time command on the battlefield.

"Could it be that this place has a signal jammer?"

Yu Tian was somewhat puzzled. A signal jammer would normally only be activated on the battlefield. It was impossible for a small farm to have such a thing open for no reason.

Could it be that this place was a trap, which was why they would block the electronic signals and prevent the enemy from requesting for help?

Yu Tian was not afraid of traps. He felt that with the assistance of this set of equipment, no trap could trap him.

However, there were a few ancient martial art practitioners from the eastern countries by his side. He did not want these ancient martial art practitioners to fall into a very dangerous situation on their first mission.

In addition, it wasn't a good thing to cut off contact with the headquarters.

Without proper information feedback, the headquarters might make some mistakes in judgment and orders.

Therefore, they should retreat first and inform the headquarters of the situation here.

Thus, Yu Tian decisively ordered, "Retreat by the same route."

The ancient martial art practitioners were somewhat puzzled. However, taking money from others and helping others to eliminate disasters, they shouldn't casually question their employer's request.

Retreating was not a ridiculous request.

Therefore, the few of them immediately turned around and began to return along the same path.

After walking for a while, Liang Yongde suddenly stopped and let out a low cry. Something's wrong.

Yu Tian also stopped. "What's Wrong?"

Liang Yongde frowned and said, "This is not the path we just took. That can't be. We clearly followed the navigation route."

Yu Tian was a little puzzled, but he didn't really remember what the path looked like.

He was only focused on following the navigation directions and didn't pay attention to the details along the way.

This habit was usually only found in old Jianghu.

When Old Jianghu entered the action state, they would usually pay attention to some details.

As the old saying goes, details determine success or failure.

The reason why old Jianghu was safe was that they had many good habits and rich Jianghu experience.

At this moment, Tao Jun also said slowly, "It seems like... It's not quite the same as the path we took when we came here.

Yu Tian said with a headache, "Are you sure?"

Tao Jun thought for a moment, "I can be sure. My memory is better. This short circuit is indeed not quite the same as before."

Yu Tian looked at his surroundings. They were all wheat fields. Under the night vision device's vision, they were all green.

He looked at the helmet's network connection again, but there was still no signal.

Yu Tian was immediately puzzled. "What's going on? Are We lost in the wheat fields? How can we get lost with navigation?"

Liang Yongde hesitated for a moment, then said, "This could be... an array formation?"

"Formation?" Yu Tian was a little surprised. "Is there really such a thing as a formation?"

Liang Yongde nodded and said, "Of course there is... the lightness skill that you use is also a way to use a formation. "

When Yu Tian was hurrying on his way, he used some of the steps of the light wave steps. That way, his movement would be faster and more agile.

It was not strange for Liang Yongde, an experienced jianghu person, to see through it at a glance.

Yu Tian was puzzled, Shouldn't formations be something that only the eastern people have?"

The Westerners also had formations, but they were usually hexagrams that were used to summon or worship evil spells.

Liang Yongde sighed, "Many of the Eastern People's things have already been passed on to the public. It is no longer strange for Westerners to learn some eastern ancient martial arts, or things like Secret Arts.

Yu Tian suddenly remembered the ancient martial arts manuals that he had collected from Cui Zhengzhi. He had found them on the USB in Cui Zhengzhi's hands, including the six meridians godly sword.

Since the Kroni Society was able to obtain the six meridians godly sword, they might be able to obtain something like a formation.

To learn the six meridians godly sword, one might need a special physique or a foundation of inner strength. However, things like arrays could be mastered and set up as long as one had the ability to comprehend them.

Therefore, it was not impossible for there to be Westerners in the clone society who had mastered arrays.

Yu Tian immediately felt a headache coming on. He said to Liang Yongde, "Can you determine what kind of array this is?"

Liang Yongde said helplessly, "I've been stupid since I was young. I can't understand things like arrays. I've only encountered it a few times over the years...."

Chapter 1375: Chapter 1,374, walk in a straight line

Translator: 549690339

Liang Yongde didn't know anything about formations, but as an experienced martial artist, he had encountered them a few times over the years.

The other three eastern ancient martial artists also didn't know anything about formations, so no one could tell what kind of formation they had encountered. They weren't even sure if they had really fallen into a formation.

In order to confirm the matter of the formation, the few of them spread their legs and ran more than ten miles forward in one breath. "That's right, this must be a formation... we're lost."

Liang Yongde sighed and finally stopped.

According to the information from the satellite reconnaissance, this wheat field was not as wide as more than ten miles.

They ran for more than ten miles but still could not run out of the range of the wheat field. This was enough to prove that they had fallen into the formation.

Yu Tian suddenly had a headache. The operation hadn't even officially started, but the operation personnel were actually trapped by the array. This was simply the biggest joke in the world.

Moreover, they had been trapped in the wheat field for so long, but the enemy didn't seem to have any reaction, as if they didn't know of their existence.

This situation made them seem even more stupid and funny.

Yu Tian knew almost nothing about formations, and the secret manuals he had collected did not contain anything related to formations. He was almost at his wit's end in the face of his current predicament.

The only thing he could count on were the few ancient martial art practitioners around him.

Although everyone did not understand formations, these ancient martial art practitioners had much more experience in the martial arts world than Yu Tian. With everyone's collective wisdom, it was not necessarily impossible for them to come up with a solution to the problem.

Thus, Yu Tian asked, "Do you have any methods to break the array by force?"

Liang Yongde pondered for a moment and said, "There is a method that we can try. We can burn these wheat fields..."

Yu Tian glanced at the wheat fields around him that were as tall as a person and said helplessly, "If we set fire here, I'm afraid we will be burned to death before we can break the array."

In the past, the wheat was only half the height of a man. However, in recent years, the western countries had planted varieties of high-yielding barley. It was said that the technology was imported from the eastern countries. Any single wheat could grow to more than two meters long, and its branches and leaves were extremely lush, they could completely enjoy the shade under the barley..

Such a wheat field could not only block one's view, but once it caught fire, one would not know where to run to.

Setting a fire was obviously not possible.

Liang Yongde also felt that this method was a little certain. He pondered for a moment. "Otherwise, we can only harvest wheat..."

"This idea of yours is very unrealistic," Tao Jun interjected. "Such a large wheat field, how long do we have to cut it? If we don't cut off all of this wheat field, I'm afraid this array formation can not be broken. "

Liang Yongde sighed. "Yes, there's too much wheat here, it's too lush..." "Will cutting off all the wheat really work?"

Yu Tian felt that this method was a little childish. Was the array formation really that easy to break?

Liang Yongde said, "It should be able to work. Most of the array formations are actually just a smokescreen. Using the terrain and obstacles to create an illusion, causing people to circle around without knowing it..."

Yu Tian said, "So that means that if there's a navigation and a map, we won't be trapped by the formation?"

Liang Yongde said, "I haven't tried it, but it shouldn't be a problem in theory... but our navigation and positioning have obviously been interfered with. The position shown now is definitely very different from the actual position. "

Yu Tian pondered for a moment. "Then... if we can walk in a straight line, can we walk out of this wheat field?"

"In theory, it should be possible," Liang Yongde said, "But I haven't heard of this method. If we can walk in a straight line and walk out of those formations, it feels like it's too child's play.

Tao Jun shook his head repeatedly. "Walking in a straight line definitely won't work. The purpose of the formations is to prevent you from walking in a straight line. Look at the path in the wheat field. It's an arc in itself, and it's also winding..."

The path in the wheat field seemed to be a straight path, but in reality, after walking for more than a hundred meters, the original path was hidden in the wheat field.

This path clearly had an arc. In addition, there were turns on the road, which made it easier for people to turn into a muddle.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and decided that he could only cut the wheat field.

He didn't need to cut all the wheat fields in this area. He just needed to cut a path for himself in a straight line.

It was not difficult to cut the wheat. He could use the six meridians divine sword to cut a large area with a wave of his hand.

Moreover, he was not here to harvest the grain. He only needed to cut down the wheat. The efficiency was much faster than a farmer's harvest.

However, using the six meridians divine sword to cut the wheat did not seem to be very reliable.

His little internal energy could not withstand a few strikes. This was much more expensive than killing people.

Using the broken spear seemed to be a good idea. It did not take him too much energy to chop and chop, but it would take a little more time.

"Then let's get to work. Let's cut a straight line from the wheat field first.

Standing in a daze was not the way. If he wanted to escape, he naturally had to keep trying.

Yu Tian took out the broken spear. He did not look at the road. He randomly identified a direction and chopped in it.

Liang Yongde and the others saw this and could only follow behind Yu Tian.

The broken spear was still extremely sharp. The barley would break as soon as it was grazed. Yu Tian could cut off a large piece of it with a wave of his hand.

Of course, stepping through the wheat field could also create a path. However, such a path was not obvious, so it was not convenient for them to determine whether the path was straight or not.

Yu Tian hacked for a few hundred meters in one breath before finally stopping.

Looking back, he saw that all the barley along the path had been chopped into pieces. The path from which he came was also very conspicuous.

However, when everyone looked carefully at this path, they discovered that it was actually an arc.

The difference between a straight line and an arc was very obvious. A straight line could be seen to the end, and an arc halfway was the end.

“This is weird. I was clearly walking in a straight line just now...”

Yu Tian was a little puzzled. Why did the array affect the human senses?

He was already a few decades old. Could it be that he didn’t even know if he was walking in a straight line?

Wasn’t he like a drunkard?

Tao Jun Sighed. “The array is indeed not so easy to crack. It’s almost impossible to walk in a straight line in the array...”

Liang Yongde said, “Why don’t I try to walk in a straight line blindfolded?”

“Alright.

Yu Tian immediately stepped aside.

It was easy to lose balance while blindfolded. It was even more difficult to walk in a straight line.

Unless someone had specially trained their ability in this area, only then could they walk in a straight line while blindfolded.

Yu Tian had never tried it anyway, so he could only let Liang Yongde try.

Liang Yongde tore off a corner of his clothes and then covered his eyes. He took out a short knife from his body and began to walk in a straight line..

Chapter 1376: Chapter 1,375, high jump and long sight

Translator: 549690339

Liang Yongde also advanced a few hundred meters in one breath, until everyone suddenly saw nothing and walked out of this wheat field. Yu Tian was instantly delighted. The formation had been broken through?

However, the scene before him quickly calmed him down.

Outside the wheat field was still a small path, and on the other side of the small path was still another wheat field.

It was true that they had walked out of this wheat field, but they might not have walked out of the range of the array formation.

Liang Yongde also took off the cloth strips on his eyes at this time and looked at the passage behind him.

The passage he had cut out was still a curved path.

Liang Yongde suddenly felt a little helpless. "This method doesn't seem to work.

Tao Jun said, "I knew it wouldn't work. If the array formation is so easy to break, then it can't be called an array formation.

Yu Tian had a headache. "Then do you have any other methods?"

Tao Jun Thought for a moment. (I only know that most array formations have an array core. Once you find the array core, you will naturally have a way to break the array.

Yu Tian asked, "What does an array core usually look like?"

Tao Jun said, "I don't know either. I read it from some books.

Yu Tian asked curiously, "Have you read books about arrays?"

Tao Jun shook his head and said, "No, it's just some wuxia novels..."

Yu Tian was helpless. You're an ancient martial arts practitioner, but you actually read wuxia novels and even treat the things in wuxia novels as real?

Liang Yongde said at this time, "The theory of the array core is actually not wrong. Many arrays have to adapt to local conditions, so it's inevitable to leave some flaws, or some signs, such as big trees, Big Rocks, and so on..." "What happens after we find these markers? We just have to destroy them?"

Yu Tian couldn't help but think of the scenes in novels. Usually, if the formation core was destroyed, the formation would also be broken.

Liang Yongde shook his head and said, "It's not that simple. It's just that these markers can be used as a reference to break the formation. "

Yu Tian asked again, "How do we break it?"

Liang Yongde could only shake his head helplessly and said, ("I don't know either. I've been stupid since I was young. I can't learn these meticulous calculations... ")

At this time, Tao Jun said again, "The main thing is that this is a wheat field.

We can't find anything that looks like the core of the array... "

"Then your method of finding the core of the array is in vain. "Yu Tian sighed.

"Is there any other way?"

Tao Jun Thought for a moment. "If it can fly, it shouldn't be restricted by the terrain... "

"You're joking, it can fly... "Yu Tian was suddenly stunned again. "It doesn't seem impossible... "

Everyone was an ancient martial art practitioner. Anyone could jump at least a few meters high.

If this formation was just using the wheat field to confuse their line of sight, it would create an illusion in their line of sight. Then, when they jumped into the air, their line of sight would not be affected by the wheat field.

As long as they were in the air and determined the direction of their target, and jumped in this direction every time, they should be able to quickly jump out of the Wheat Field's range and escape from this formation.

Yu Tian explained his idea, and Liang Yongde and the others also felt that it made sense.

Although formations were always mysterious, it was impossible for them to be as mysterious as in novels. They had to walk through the nine palaces eight trigrams steps and follow the prescribed steps to get out.

There had to be other ways to crack it.

For example, burning the wheat field or cutting all the wheat in the field was also a clever way to crack it.

No matter how powerful the formation was, could it withstand such physical destruction?

Similarly, since the wheat field existed in the farm, it would eventually have its own area.

Yu Tian and the others had been circling around the wheat field because they had been affected by some reason.

As long as they had the right direction, they would be able to walk out of the wheat field.

Could it be that this wheat field could still move with them?

Then it wouldn't be called a formation, but rather magic.

There were actually many ways to distinguish directions.

If the stars were bright, they could also use constellations to determine the direction.

If they had a compass on them, perhaps the compass could also play a role.

Now there was nothing. They could jump a little higher, and they could also use landmark objects in the distance to distinguish directions.

In theory, this was also possible.

Yu Tian did not hesitate anymore. He immediately jumped up and easily jumped three to four meters into the air.

He could have jumped even higher, but there was no need.

Because jumping too high was very likely to attract the attention of the enemy.

Now that they were trapped in the formation, Yu Tian was most worried about being discovered by the enemy.

Since there was a formation here, it was not necessarily that there was no one hiding in the periphery to monitor them.

If the enemy discovered that they were trapped in the wheat field, they might have even more strange methods to deal with them.

Therefore, it was also very important to stay hidden before they escaped.

Yu Tian was three to four meters in the air. He immediately looked around quickly, trying to find his starting point.

Things a kilometer away were actually very small. Even a car was only a small dot a kilometer away, not even comparable to an ant.

If it was on the highway, the existence of a car might be more obvious.

But now, it was a farm with complicated scenery, and it was still the middle of the night. The things in the distance were very difficult to see clearly.

The terrain around the farm was relatively flat, at least within the wheat field.

However, outside the wheat field, there were a little more plants and trees.

Yu Tian and the others had hidden the cars and other things behind the trees to avoid being discovered by the people in the farm.

Now, these things had avoided the enemy's sight and also their own.

Yu Tian's short glance did not lead him to his starting point. He only saw that they were surrounded by wheat fields. Their position was almost at the center of the wheat fields.

It did not matter if they did not find their target once. It was already good enough to be able to see the scenery in the distance.

This meant that this array formation was not as mysterious as those illusory arrays in novels. The things outside the array formation could not be seen at all. Even if the two of them were only a few steps away from each other, they would ignore each other.

That would be a little too terrifying.

Yu Tian kept up his efforts and continued to jump high and look far.

The other people did not sit idle either. They also used their qinggong and began to jump on the spot.

As an ancient martial art practitioner, Qinggong was basically a skill that one had to master.

Regardless of the level of Qinggong, it far exceeded the jumping ability of ordinary people.

Very soon, they found a very conspicuous sign.

The manor owner's house was the easiest sign to find. Although the big wooden house was not lit up, there was still a very obvious outline.

As for the place where they set off, the few of them jumped for a long time, but they still did not find it..

Chapter 1377: Chapter 1376 broke out of the formation

Translator: 549690339

The Wheat Field was a little too big after all. If one wanted to walk out of the wheat field, they would have to walk two kilometers in the nearest direction.

It was really difficult to clearly distinguish the scenery two kilometers away.

Moreover, it was still night time. Even with night vision, the colors of the scenery could not be distinguished.

Their vehicles were hidden behind trees. It was almost impossible to distinguish them from the small scenery.

The only reference object that could be used was the enemy's big wooden house.

That was the reference object that was the least likely to be confused.

The next thing to do was to use the big wooden house as a reference object and start jumping off the field.

First, they would determine the location of the big wooden house, then turn 180 degrees and make a super standing long jump in the opposite direction.

In short, it was impossible to run through the wheat field.

As long as one was in the wheat field, it was very easy for them to run in the wrong direction.

Everyone could only learn from the frogs and fleas and began to jump forward.

However, after jumping a few times, everyone found that the location of the big wooden house was no longer directly behind them. "What's going on? It seems to have run off again?"

Yu Tian felt that it was a little strange.

Liang Yongde pondered for a moment. ("I think the method we used should be fine, but... After we confirmed the direction, there seems to be something wrong with the turn.")

"Did you notice anything wrong?"

"The wheat field has always made us lose our direction, and we still have to make a 180-degree turn in the wheat field... could it be that when we turned, we were also affected and turned at the wrong angle?"

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Is there such a possibility? Like a ghost fighting against a wall?"

Tao Jun interjected, "I think there's such a possibility. The magnetic field in this place might be problematic, affecting our cerebellum's ability to distinguish the direction. "Although we saw the location of the wooden house in midair, after we landed, our perception of the direction was already wrong.

Yu Tian frowned and said, "Then what should we do?"

Tao Jun said, "I think that we can't turn around in the wheat field, and we can't do any other superfluous actions. We must keep staring at the direction of the wooden house, and then jump backwards...

Liang Yongde also said, "Yes, keep staring at the reference object, don't look at the surrounding scenery, and don't care about the direction. We only use the reference object as the reference object, and jump backwards all the way back...

Tao Jun said, "That's right. Unless that wooden house of his is also a fantasy and can change its position at any time, otherwise, we definitely won't jump in the wrong direction. "

"Alright, let's jump backwards then."

Yu Tian was a little helpless.

Although there was indeed a way to jump backwards quickly in Qinggong, he was really not used to jumping backwards all the time.

However, there was no better way. They could not jump in the direction of the wooden house for the time being. Who knew if there would be more traps there.

In order to ensure that nothing went wrong, they also discussed the steps of the backwards jump.

The first few moves were to jump on the spot. They first determined the direction of the wooden house and adjusted the direction of their bodies.

Then, he would not move his body anymore. Every time he jumped, he would stare at the wooden house and then move his body backward.

Fortunately, everyone knew Qinggong. After locking the direction in the air, he could move his body and even change the direction in the air.

Otherwise, if he jumped backward based on his sense of direction, he might miss the direction again.

Yu Tian jumped backwards with all his strength. It was not a problem for him to jump more than ten meters in one go.

However, the current situation was that he had to jump high first, then lock the direction to jump backwards. He still needed to stay in the air for a moment.

In this way, his breath would not be able to last that long.

Every time he jumped, it was only a distance of five to six meters.

The other people's situation was similar, but they all jumped slightly further than Yu Tian.

This was especially true for Tao Jun. His Qinggong seemed to be quite special, and he could jump up to two meters more than Yu Tian every time.

However, Yu Tian also had his own advantages. He jumped faster than the others.

This was perhaps the reason why the Lingbo Micro Step was more flexible. His takeoff, as well as determining the direction in the air, and then adjusting the direction, were all faster than the others.

Therefore, in total, his back jump speed was faster than the others.

However, they were still a few kilometers away from the edge of the wheat field. This kind of jump had to be done at least a few hundred times before they could jump out of the wheat field.

Even if everyone was an ancient martial art practitioner, this distance would definitely be extremely tiring.

Yu Tian was the most tired. Although he jumped quickly, he took off more times than everyone else.

After jumping for more than ten minutes, everyone stopped to catch their breath.

This method of jumping backwards was definitely many times more tiring than moving forward normally.

However, the effect was still very good. They clearly felt that they were getting farther and farther away from the wooden house, and the angle of the wooden house was always the same.

After a short rest, everyone continued to jump backwards. Yu Tian was far ahead.

This was the first time an ancient martial art practitioner had taken a collective action, and he was already in such a sorry state. Yu Tian did not know what to say.

After jumping for another ten minutes or so, Yu Tian suddenly realized that he seemed to have jumped out of the wheat field on one side of the scenery on both sides.

He hurriedly looked around.

There was no wheat field around him anymore. There were a few trees not far away. This place was clearly out of the Wheat Field's range.

Yu Tian immediately heaved a sigh of relief.

The others were still tens of meters away from him. Even if they did not need to retreat, they could still walk out of the wheat field.

At the edge of the wheat field, as long as they found a random tree as a reference, it would be easy to escape from the formation.

With a distance of tens of hundreds of meters, they could see the end of the road at a glance, so they would not get lost.

Yu Tian was about to shout and tell the others to stop jumping and run in his direction.

But suddenly, he felt a strong wind behind him.

Was there a sneak attack?

Before he could think about what was going on, Yu Tian immediately used the limbo micro step. He dodged to the side and turned around.

But just as he turned around, another strong wind cut his neck.

Although Yu Tian was fully equipped, it was still impossible for the attacker to hit him easily.

It was a helpless situation to take the enemy's attack head-on.

If he had a choice, he would naturally try his best to avoid all attacks. Yu Tian once again took the limbo micro step and quickly retreated a few meters.

However, the attacker followed him like a shadow and pounced towards him again.

This time, Yu Tian saw the identity of the attacker clearly. It was one of the two men they were following.

There was nothing to say. Since the enemy had already started to sneak attack him, he naturally had to fight first..

Chapter 1378: Chapter 1,377 was ambushed

Translator: 549690339

“Enemy Attack!

Yu Tian immediately warned Liang Yongde and the others. Then, he shot a stream of Sword Qi at the enemy.

The enemy's figure flashed slightly, and he moved half a meter away, dodging Yu Tian's sword qi. At the same time, he brandished his weapon and slashed at Yu Tian's neck.

In the darkness, Yu Tian could not see what kind of weapon the black thing in the man's hand was.

However, judging from its length, it was either a knife or a sword.

Of course, Yu Tian would not take the knife and sword head-on. Since there was such a divine weapon like the broken spear in this world, it was inevitable that other sharp weapons would not appear.

He did not dare to disregard all the weapons just because he was wearing a bulletproof vest.

He could only continue to retreat and avoid the opponent's attack. He casually shot out another stream of sword qi.

However, the enemy seemed to be very sensitive to the existence of sword qi.

The moment he made his move, the enemy immediately dodged his sword Qi. While dodging, the enemy continued to close in on him and continued to attack him.

Yu Tian wanted to increase the distance between them because if he used sword Qi as an attack method, the middle distance would be more advantageous to him.

However, the enemy's speed was not slower than his. No matter how far he jumped, the enemy would be able to quickly catch up and attack him in time, forcing him to have no time to shoot sword qi and continue to dodge.

The limbo micro step was not good at speed to begin with, so dodging the enemy's attack was not a big problem. It was impossible to quickly shake off the enemy.

In the novel, the six meridians divine sword could shoot the enemy until they were in a sorry state. That was because there were six types of sword qi, which could continuously shoot.

Yu Tian only had Shang Yang sword now. After every shot, there would be a pause. No matter how frequently he attacked, there was still a time to catch his breath.

If he had pulled away from the beginning, it would have been fine. He could still calmly control the sword qi and restrict the enemy's movement.

However, now that he was in close combat and the enemy's speed was extremely fast, the moment he stopped shooting the sword qi, the enemy would immediately seize the opportunity to counterattack, forcing him to Dodge.

In this way, his plan to use the sword Qi to build a fire net had failed.

Although Yu Tian had fought with an ancient martial art practitioner once, he Feihong was clearly not as fierce as the current enemy.

This was the first time he was being pressed so tightly by the enemy that he could not even find an opportunity to launch his sword Qi.

Yu Tian decided to give up on using sword Qi as his main fighting method. The enemy should have already figured out his background, so he would be on guard against his sword Qi.

He jumped back to dodge again. Taking advantage of the enemy closing in on him again, he suddenly pulled out the broken spear and hacked at the enemy head-on.

However, the enemy only slightly tilted his body. Still, he brandished his weapon and slashed at Yu Tian 's neck.

This was a stance of mutual destruction.

Yu Tian felt that this slash of his would definitely be able to split the enemy in half. However, this slash at his neck might not necessarily be able to cut off his head.

The enemy was putting his life on the line. It was impossible for him to be merely scratching the itch on his neck.

Yu Tian was wearing a bulletproof vest. The genetic warriors might not know about this, but he feihong had personally experienced it.

This information had definitely been sold to the Clone Society.

If the enemy had not been confident of breaking his bulletproof vest, they would not have used such a desperate move.

Yu Tian was the leader of the Eastern Dragon Company. How could he exchange his life with such a small fry.

He could not take the risk. He could only wave the broken spear and deflect the opponent's weapon.

With a crisp "Ding" sound, the enemy's weapon and the broken spear collided fiercely, but it did not break as Yu Tian had imagined.

Yu Tian had already witnessed the power of the broken spear cutting through iron like mud.

But this time, it did not break the opponent's weapon, which surprised him very much.

It seemed that the other party's weapon was not ordinary either.

Taking advantage of this block, the other party's body was slightly sluggish. Yu Tian immediately gave the other party a fierce kick.

The man was kicked back a few steps by Yu Tian, but he did not seem to be injured. He immediately pounced on Yu Tian, wanting to continue close combat with Yu Tian.

At that moment, someone beside him shouted, "Look at the Dart!"

In the darkness, a bright light flashed and went straight for the man's head.

The man was charging forward. Although his speed was very fast, he was unable to change his posture nimbly.

Seeing that he could not dodge the dart, he suddenly waved the weapon in his hand and forcefully smashed the dart down.

The one who shot the dart was Tao Jun. Yu Tian could tell from his voice.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Yu Tian advanced instead of retreating. He raised the broken spear and hacked at the enemy's head again.

His martial arts might not be outstanding enough, but with the nimble movement of the micro-steps of the soaring waves, the speed and angle of his attack could also be unexpected.

After all, the moves were only small paths. Speed and strength were the decisive factors.

The enemy hurriedly raised his weapon to block, but Yu Tian's attack was more powerful than his opponent's.

His broken spear suddenly pressed forward. Although the enemy was blocked by his weapon, he still managed to pull it hard on his body.

The wound should not be shallow, but the enemy did not make a sound. He only flew back quickly, as if he wanted to escape.

Yu Tian was about to use his sword aura to give him a few more hits when Tao

Jun suddenly shouted, "Good!"

Yu Tian turned his head slightly and saw that Tao Jun was already fighting with the enemy.

Although he could not see the enemy's face clearly, he could guess the enemy's identity.

The two men who were suspected to be members of the knights were naturally together.

One of them had ambushed Yu Tian, and the other was a helper who was preparing to ambush Yu Tian.

As soon as Tao Jun jumped out of the wheat field, he shot a dart. Then, he had no chance to shoot again. The other enemy had already caught up with him.

However, the fight only lasted for one or two seconds before Liang Yongde jumped out of the wheat field.

Seeing that Tao Jun was fighting with the enemy, Liang Yongde silently stabbed the enemy's back with a short knife.

However, the enemy's reaction was extremely fast. The moment he noticed that someone was approaching him, he immediately jumped to the side and instantly jumped a few meters away.

Following that, Meng Nan and Meng Bei also jumped out of the wheat field and stood beside Liang Yongde.

When the two enemies saw this situation, they immediately retreated more than ten meters and stood side by side, facing Yu Tian and the others from afar.

At the edge of the wheat field, it was now a five versus two situation.

Yu Tian's side clearly had the advantage.

Not only did they have more people, but their individual combat strength was also not bad.

After the short exchange of blows just now, Yu Tian could feel that the enemy and himself, as well as Tao Jun, were not much different in skill.

As for Liang Yongde, Meng Nan, Meng Bei, and the two brothers, they had yet to see the depth of their strength..

Chapter 1379: Chapter 1,378: unable to pursue

Translator: 549690339

Generally speaking, although there were differences in the abilities of ancient martial art practitioners, if the level difference was not too great, it would be very difficult to determine who was superior in a short period of time.

If one really wanted to defeat the enemy in two or three moves, or even capture the enemy, then the difference in ability level would have to be a large level, to the extent of crushing the enemy.

Therefore, the few ancient martial art practitioners present, including the enemy and Yu Tian, could not say who was stronger or weaker for the time being.

This would require hundreds of reunions before there would be a result.

Just like the fight between Yu Tian and he feihong, in the end, both sides did not intend to continue fighting.

Because even if the outcome was decided, it was unlikely to capture the other party or destroy the other party.

In fact, he Feihong was better than Yu Tian in internal strength, martial techniques, and battle experience in all aspects.

However, Yu Tian was able to stall for time with He Feihong by relying on his advantage in the micro-steps of the soaring waves.

In the end, when Yu Tian revealed his six meridians divine sword, he feihong knew that he could do nothing to Yu Tian.

This kind of situation was actually normal in the martial arts world.

This was because every ancient martial art practitioner had their own strengths. As long as they could reasonably use their strengths, even if they were slightly weaker, they might not be easily defeated.

If they really wanted to have a showdown, they would usually have to fight until both sides were exhausted, and then consider the comprehensive abilities of both sides.

For example, when both sides were exhausted and could not dodge quickly, if Yu Tian could still fire the Shang Yang Sword, then it would be a sure win.

If Tao Jun still had darts on him, then it would be another big advantage.

If the enemy could still suddenly burst out with that extremely fast attack speed, then Yu Tian basically would not be able to dodge anymore.

In short, the strength of ancient martial art practitioners of the same level could not be measured by data. There were too many small factors that could determine the outcome.

Therefore, Yu Tian's side now had more people, which was an absolute advantage.

It was hard to fight four hands with two fists, and it was hard for a good man to fight against more people. This was the reason.

The enemy clearly understood this reason. When the sneak attack failed, they immediately pulled away from Yu Tian and the others.

However, Yu Tian did not intend to give up so easily. They had originally come for these two knights.

Although they had just jumped out of the wheat field, everyone was still a little tired.

However, one of the enemies had already been slashed by Yu Tian. Their situation was even worse.

Taking advantage of your illness to take your life, this was definitely a famous saying on the battlefield.

Yu Tian did not give the enemy a chance to catch his breath. He pounced on the enemy with his spear and opened the way with another stream of sword aura.

The two enemies seemed to have been prepared for his sword aura. As soon as they saw Yu Tian move to use his sword aura, they immediately moved away.

Yu Tian did not expect the sword aura to hit the target so easily. He felt that as long as he entangled the enemy and the five of them swarmed him, it would be difficult for the enemy to escape.

Tao Jun considered himself Yu Tian's bodyguard. When he saw Yu Tian pounce on the enemy, he immediately followed.

Liang Yongde and the other two naturally did not fall behind. They surrounded the enemy one after another.

When the enemy saw this situation, they naturally understood Yu Tian and the others' plans.

With two against five, they would be at a disadvantage no matter how they fought.

They no longer fought with Yu Tian and the others. They retreated continuously. In an instant, they reached the side of the wheat field and jumped into the wheat field.

Yu Tian and the others were stunned for a moment. Then, they stopped and no one chased after them into the wheat field.

They had just been trapped by the array in the wheat field for more than an hour. Now that they saw the wheat field, they were a little traumatized. Naturally, they could not chase after them in the wheat field.

Yu Tian helplessly gave up the idea of chasing after them. He hesitated for a moment and looked at the network signal of the helmet.

The signal of the helmet showed that there was still no connection. This place was still within the range of the signal shielding.

"Let's go."

Since they could not chase after the enemy, they would first look for the tiger squad and leave the range of the signal shielding.

Although Yu Tian and the others did not know their exact location, they could still tell the direction of the Tiger squad based on the location of the farm's wooden house.

The few of them used their lightness skills and started running quickly.

Soon, they reached the road in front of the farm. After running along the road for a while, they saw their own cars and the two commercial vehicles of Tiger Squad.

Tiger squad had a total of four cars, but there were only two here.

Obviously, they had also discovered the problem of the signal blocking.

The signal blocking was a whole area. It not only naturally affected Yu Tian and the others, but also the tiger squad, including the drones that were carrying out reconnaissance and surveillance missions.

The headquarters' command center would notice this situation, but they had no way of contacting Yu Tian and the others, nor could they give orders to the tiger squad.

Under such circumstances, the first thing the tiger squad had to do was naturally to leave the signal blocking area first, and then contact the headquarters.

Splitting half of the people to look for the signal and leaving half of the people here to support Yu Tian was a very reasonable operation.

Leaving two cars here seemed very normal.

But the only thing that was abnormal was that Yu Tian did not see any figure here.

Were all the members of the Tiger Squad sitting in the cars?

Yu Tian immediately felt that something was not right.

When they were carrying out their mission, the members of the Tiger Squad should have been on guard around them. It was definitely a foolish act to sit in the car.

Following that, Yu Tian smelled a faint scent of blood.

“There’s a problem.

Before Yu Tian could call for a halt, Liang Yongde and the others also stopped in their tracks. They also smelled a faint scent of blood.

After hesitating for a moment, Yu Tian said to Liang Yongde and the others, “You guys wait a moment. I’ll go and check on the situation.

Yu Tian was wearing a full set of bulletproof equipment, so he was not too worried about danger.

It was hard to say for these ancient martial art practitioners.

No matter how good their kung fu was, they were still afraid of kitchen knives. If they were ambushed, a bullet could also kill them.

Liang Yongde hesitated for a moment, then said, “Okay.”

He knew that Yu Tian was wearing a bulletproof vest. Letting Yu Tian go forward to investigate was naturally the best choice.

Moreover, they were only a few dozen meters away from those cars. Even if something happened, they would be able to come in time to support Yu Tian.

Only Tao Jun felt that it was unreasonable for his employer to put himself in danger. He hurriedly said, “Let me go and take a look at the situation first. ”

“No need. I'm wearing a bulletproof vest. There won't be any danger... just carry out the order.”

Yu Tian did not want to waste time arguing, so he directly revealed his identity as the boss.

Tao Jun immediately felt helpless.

Yu Tian did not hesitate anymore and quickly rushed to where they parked the car.

Tao Jun was still worried. He followed closely behind Yu Tian and advanced another ten meters.

Yu Tian soon approached the vehicles and his heart sank.

There were no living people here..

Chapter 1380: Chapter 1,379, another trap

Translator: 549690339

Actually, Yu Tian knew that something had happened from the moment he smelled the blood.

After approaching the vehicles, he didn't hear any movement from any living people, which further confirmed his judgment.

It was impossible for the tiger team to leave this stop.

Soon, Yu Tian found the bodies of several members of the tiger team behind the vehicles.

The members of the Tiger Squad who stayed behind were all killed, and they were killed without firing a single shot.

This place was not far from the center of the Wheat Field. If there was a gunfight, Yu Tian would more or less hear some movements in the wheat field.

Was it those two men who did it just now?

Only the western ancient martial art practitioners of the knight order had such strength.

They should have taken advantage of the fact that Yu Tian and the others were trapped in the wheat field to attack Tiger squad first, then Yu Tian and the others.

Then, what about the members of Tiger Squad who had left?

Were they also attacked?

How did Kronin discover that they were being followed?

Yu Tian's head was full of question marks.

In the current situation, they could only retreat temporarily.

The two knights of the Knight Order ran into the wheat field. Yu Tian and the others did not dare to chase after them, so they could only retreat from this area where the signal was blocked and contact the headquarters.

Although the signal was blocked, the headquarters could still use satellites to observe the situation here. Their intelligence was more comprehensive, and they would have a more reasonable plan of action.

Yu Tian did not check the bodies of the members of the tiger team. He was ready to call Liang Yongde and the others to retreat.

Just as he was about to retreat, he suddenly heard a loud sound. It was as if his head was smashed by a hammer.

Someone Shot Yu Tian in the head.

Although he was wearing a bulletproof helmet, Yu Tian was still sent flying by the shot.

His brain seemed to be filled with a paste, and he felt dizzy.

This was definitely an anti-material weapon.

This was the first time Yu Tian had been shot by a sniper rifle, and he felt very uncomfortable.

Fortunately, his helmet was hard enough, and the anti-material weapon was not able to pierce through his head.

However, things were not over yet. Almost the moment the gunshots rang out, the few cars beside him suddenly burst out with a dazzling light.

With a loud bang, the few cars exploded at the same time.

The flames of the explosion engulfed Yu Tian in an instant, and then threw Yu Tian's body out like a broken plastic bag.

The moment Yu Tian was shot, Tao Jun pounced in Yu Tian's direction.

He did not expect that there would be another big explosion, and he almost crashed into the flames of the explosion.

Of course, he would not be able to crash into it even if he wanted to.

The shockwave of the explosion swept over and flipped Tao Jun to the ground.

The shockwave did not cause much damage to Tao Jun, but the shrapnel and all kinds of metal fragments that the shockwave swept over smashed into Tao Jun's face.

Although Tao Jun instinctively curled up his body and used his arms to protect his head, there was still a piece of metal debris from the car that pierced into his stomach, and blood immediately flowed out.

It could be said that Tao Jun was unlucky. His stomach was already soft and there was no protection from his bones. This piece of shrapnel had already injured his intestines.

Although the physique of an ancient martial art practitioner was shocking, this kind of injury was enough to make him lose his ability to fight.

On the contrary, Yu Tian's condition was slightly better. After rolling on the ground for two rounds, Yu Tian quickly regained his senses.

The bulletproof vest on his body provided him with sufficient protection. The explosion did not hurt him at all.

However, the anti-material sniper rifle had destroyed his helmet.

The side of the helmet had almost been pierced through. All the data displayed on the screen of the visor had disappeared. It was unknown whether the system chip had been destroyed or the violent vibration had destroyed the circuits.

In short, besides having a certain degree of protection, this bulletproof helmet had lost all other functions.

However, the attack was still not over. The enemy simply could not give them a chance to catch their breath, and intense gunshots immediately rang out.

Liang Yongde and Meng Nan and Meng Bei had just collapsed in the explosion when a dense rain of bullets rained down on them.

Lying on the ground was indeed easier to dodge bullets, but this was the situation on the battlefield.

Now that so many bullets were focused on them, lying on the ground could not guarantee their safety.

Liang Yongde did not hesitate and immediately jumped up from the ground.

Although it was easier to get shot if they stood up, they were ancient martial arts practitioners. Each of them had qinggong, so their dodging speed was much faster than ordinary people.

Especially when their strength erupted, Liang Yongde was like a flea, disappearing in an instant.

He directly jumped into the wheat field by the roadside.

Meng Nan and Meng bei did not hesitate and immediately jumped into the wheat field with Liang Yongde.

Although there was a strange array formation in the wheat field, it was still very easy to get out if they were just at the edge.

With the cover of wheat, they were almost like hiding in the jungle. The rain of bullets was no longer a threat to them.

Yu Tian came back to his senses and quickly jumped to Tao Jun's side. He carried Tao Jun in front of him and also jumped into the wheat field.

Carrying someone to perform Qinggong, the speed would be slightly affected.

However, the limbo micro step was very flexible and the movement trajectory was also very erratic. Most of the bullets that were shot at Yu Tian missed, and a few were blocked by Yu Tian's bulletproof vest. They did not cause any harm to Yu Tian.

After jumping into the wheat field, Yu Tian quickly ran a hundred meters deep into the wheat field and put Tao Jun Down.

"You should hurry up and leave. I can't protect you now..."

Tao Jun was in a lot of pain, but he still remembered that he was here to protect Yu Tian.

This was because when Piggy Liang gave them the mission, he said that no mission was more important than Yu Tian's safety.

In this situation, there was no need to mention the mission.

Tao Jun had already seen Yu Tian's skills with his own eyes, as well as the defensive power of the equipment on him. He felt that Yu Tian would definitely be able to escape on his own.

Hence, Tao Jun panted heavily and said, "Although the enemy has set up an ambush outside, don't go deep into the wheat field. You can sneak along the edge of the wheat field and look for other directions to break out of the encirclement.

"There's no rush. I still need to find Liang Yongde and the other two. "

Yu Tian put down Tao Jun not to waste his breath on him, but to treat Tao Jun in a timely manner.

Although he did not carry any medicinal herbs on his body, external injuries like Tao Jun's were mainly for bandaging the wound and stopping the bleeding. The rest was a matter of recovery time.

Treating patients and saving lives was a piece of cake for Yu Tian. He quickly cleaned up Tao Jun 's wound and then a few silver needles stopped Tao Jun from bleeding..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1381 - 1,380, avoid the wheat field - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1381 - 1,380, avoid the wheat field

Chapter 1381: Chapter 1,380, avoid the wheat field

Translator: 549690339

Ancient martial art practitioners had very strong physical qualities, and their inner strength was very helpful to the recovery of the body.

After controlling the wound, Tao Jun's life was no longer in danger.

Even because the wound was treated in time, Tao Jun's physical strength did not suffer too much loss.

However, Yu Tian did not stop there. He needed Tao Jun to recover quickly, or at least be able to keep up with his actions.

Therefore, he had to use his internal strength to treat Tao Jun's injuries.

Previously, Yu Tian had discovered the healing effect of the nameless internal strength. When he was practicing the ACALAN?THA, he had suffered some superficial injuries. It did not take him much effort to get himself back to his normal state.

Now that the nameless internal strength had improved greatly, the healing attribute of his internal strength would naturally have a better effect.

Yu Tian had never tried using his internal strength to treat other people's injuries. He did not know how the effect would be. Now, Tao Jun was a very good test subject.

The wound on Tao Jun's stomach was not a big deal, and it did not affect his movements much.

Most importantly, his intestines had been injured, and a part of his intestines had been cut off by shrapnel.

Normally, such an injury would definitely need to be stitched up on the operating table.

However, Yu Tian did not have the time to perform such a detailed surgery on Tao Jun, so he simply used the nameless internal energy to treat him.

The human body had the ability to recover and heal wounds on its own, but the cells had too little energy, so the recovery was too slow.

Some wounds had not yet recovered, and humans had died because of the effects of the wounds.

Assuming that humans would not die, theoretically any wound could grow and heal on its own.

What Yu Tian needed to do now was to use internal energy to provide energy to the cells to promote their growth and healing.

After the internal energy was injected into Tao Jun's body, it quickly had an effect. The damaged intestines began to grow and heal quickly.

However, the amount of internal energy consumed was a little too much. Human cells looked small, but the amount of energy they could contain was unimaginable.

Tao Jun was still muttering, "Don't go looking for them anymore. It's much easier to escape alone. Hurry up and leave. The enemy might have some other tricks up their sleeves..."

"Alright, let's go."

Yu Tian put away the silver needles and stood up.

The treatment for Tao Jun had consumed more than half of his internal energy. However, without the use of sword aura to fight, the remaining half of his internal energy was enough.

Tao Jun suddenly noticed the abnormality of his wound. It actually did not hurt anymore.

He looked at his belly in surprise. A scar had actually grown on his belly. It was even scabbed.

“What method are you using?”

Tao Jun was shocked.

“I’m a godly doctor. I’ve practiced internal strength that is specially used to treat injuries.

Yu Tian did not explain in detail. He immediately said, “Let’s go and find Liang Yongde and the others.”

Tao Jun stood up. “I think it’s better not to find them. I’ll escort you out of here first.

Yu Tian shook his head and said, “I’m not used to giving up on my teammates. Besides, the enemy’s arrangements can’t be that simple. They should have a backup plan. “It’s best if we act together. At least the two knights don’t dare to attack the five of us at the same time...

“Knights? Those two guys just now? I feel like they’re more like assassins...” Tao Jun could not help but ridicule.

Yu Tian said, “Do you think they’re playing online games? They should be members of the Knights...”

“Knights? What organization?”

Tao Jun did not understand such detailed information.

The mission that these ancient martial art practitioners had accepted was to follow Yu Tian and ensure his safety.

The reason why Zhu Ge Liang had found these ancient martial art practitioners was not for them to carry out a special mission.

He mainly wanted to ensure Yu Tian’s safety, so that Yu Tian would have a few more helpers when fighting against the Knights.

Therefore, Zhu Geliang didn’t give the ancient martial art practitioners too many detailed introductions.

Generally speaking, the hired personnel only needed to know the information related to their own mission.

Other than knowing that the enemy was a terrorist organization called the Clone Society, which was the target of the eastern country's attack, the ancient martial art practitioners didn't know much else.

Yu Tian could only explain simply, "The knight order is the elite combat strength of the Clone Society. We believe that the members of the Knight Order should be western ancient martial art practitioners. "

Tao Jun was suddenly enlightened.

Zhu Ge Liang had already told these ancient martial art practitioners that the enemies they were facing this time should be western ancient martial art practitioners.

Ancient martial art practitioners versus ancient martial art practitioners.

Now it seemed that their main enemy was the knight order.

"Let's go and find Liang Yongde and the others. "

Yu Tian slightly identified the direction and then moved toward the edge of the wheat field.

Although they had entered the wheat field from different positions just now, the distance was not too far.

If they just moved around at the edge of the wheat field, Yu Tian was not worried that he would easily lose his way.

If he was trapped by the formation as soon as he entered the wheat field, then the effect of the formation would be too magical.

After moving a few dozen meters horizontally, the two of them quickly found traces of wheat being trampled.

Yu Tian wanted to shout a few words, but he was worried that the enemy would shoot randomly in his direction.

He was not afraid of ordinary bullets, but Tao Jun did not wear a bulletproof vest.

Of course, he could also make Tao Jun lie down or dodge a little.

However, Liang Yongde and the others did not wear bulletproof vests. Even if they heard Yu Tian's call, they did not dare to respond. They did not even dare to approach Yu Tian.

There would naturally be enemies watching from the periphery. If they noticed any unusual movements, they would definitely fire fiercely into the wheat fields.

These ancient martial arts practitioners did not wear bulletproof vests. If they were slightly careless and were hit by a stray bullet, they might lose their lives.

Fortunately, it was the middle of the night, so their vision was not very clear. In addition, the wheat in the wheat field was very dense, and there was wind blowing from time to time.

As long as they did not shout and kept a low profile in their actions, it would be difficult for the people outside to find their location.

Yu Tian could only follow the tracks of the wheat being trampled and search for the traces of Liang Yongde and the others.

He continued to search for a few hundred meters in the wheat field, but he still did not see Liang Yongde and the others.

Yu Tian was suddenly a little puzzled.

Before entering the wheat field, he was only a few dozen meters away from Liang Yongde and the others. Even after everyone entered the wheat field, they were all moving in the opposite direction. At most, they were only a few hundred meters away from each other.

He had followed the tracks of the wheat trampling for a few hundred meters now, but he still did not see Liang Yongde and the others.

Could it be that they had lost their way again?

How could they lose their way at such a distance of a few hundred meters?

Even if they did not have a good grasp of the direction, the general direction should not be wrong.

After Liang Yongde and the others entered the wheat field, they should have immediately approached him and met up with him.

Could it be that they could run for their lives in other directions? Just as he was puzzled, Yu Tian suddenly heard the sound of a fight coming from ahead..

Chapter 1382: Chapter 1,381, how to play with hidden weapons

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian and Tao Jun did not hesitate at all. They immediately ran in the direction of the sounds of fighting.

In almost a breath's time, the two of them were close to their target.

The few figures in front of them had already fought together and let out a few low cries from time to time.

For a time, it was difficult to tell who was better in the fight. In the darkness, the figures crisscrossed and their positions changed rapidly, making it difficult to tell who was the enemy and who was the friend.

Because of the fight, the wheat in this area had been chopped into pieces. or because of the trampling, many of them had fallen. The fighting area had been flattened into a large area of empty land.

Tao Jun was slightly faster than Yu Tian. He flew out from the wheat bush and immediately saw the figures fighting each other.

It was not difficult to identify the identities of the people fighting each other. They were Liang Yongde and the other two Immortals who had just fought with them.

However, when the five of them fought together, their positions changed very quickly. It made people feel that they could not get involved.

Tao Jun was best at using concealed weapons. Using concealed weapons in such a situation could easily hurt his own people.

However, it was not that Tao Jun could not deal with such a situation. Although he was young, he had a lot of fighting experience.

Hence, Tao Jun shouted again, "Look at the darts!

According to wuxia novels, casting a hidden weapon during a fight was obviously a shameful and demeaning method.

However, when casting a hidden weapon, it would be a lot more open and aboveboard.

Therefore, the heroes in wuxia novels would shout something like "Look at the dart" when casting a hidden weapon.

This strange rule made Yu Tian's balls ache.

What era was this? Would a young man like Tao Jun still be so inflexible?

In a life and death battle, who cared whether he was aboveboard or not?

Tao Jun's loud shout made the two knights immediately take precautions. They moved their bodies reflexively and quickly dodged to the side, distancing themselves from Liang Yongde and the others.

The two knights were very fast. As long as they dodged in time, ordinary hidden weapons would not be able to hit them.

Yu Tian's sword aura was already considered very fast, but if one did not predict it, they would not be able to keep up with the dodging speed of the two knights.

While the two knights quickly dodged the hidden weapons, they also left the battle circle with Liang Yongde and the others to avoid Liang Yongde and the others taking the opportunity to attack.

However, they soon realized that Tao Jun did not use any hidden weapons. It seemed that this shout was just to scare them away.

Tao Jun smiled smugly. His shout just now was to make the enemy retreat. Now that the enemy and friend were clearly separated, it was a good time for him to use hidden weapons.

"Look at the hidden weapons!

This time, it was for real.

Tao Jun let go and threw the hidden weapons in his hands at the two knights like a rainstorm. Like a fisherman casting a net, the hidden weapons covered a distance of several meters.

The two knights had just stabilized themselves. It was the moment of pause when they were dodging. For a moment, there was no way to dodge.

They could only quickly wave the weapons in their hands and form a whirlwind in front of them to block the attack of the hidden weapons.

A dense clanging sound immediately rang out.

This time, Tao Jun had a lot of hidden weapons, but the defense of these two knights was actually watertight, as if they had blocked all the hidden weapons.

If these were bullets, the speed and strength were naturally not something that human strength could block.

However, what Tao Jun used was only a hidden weapon after all, so the speed and strength were still a lot weaker.

However, Tao Jun's methods were not so simple to break.

He snorted coldly and threw out his other arm. In the darkness, there was another sound of air being torn apart. The rain-like hidden weapons were once again thrown at the two knights.

"Let's see how long you can hold on!"

Tao Jun crossed his hands and kept taking out hidden weapons from his waist. He took turns to attack the two knights with his left and right hands.

His hidden weapons were almost non-stop. Wave after wave, he did not give the enemy any chance to stop or Dodge.

Yu Tian was a little surprised. There was actually such a way to use hidden weapons?

Although his flying needles could shoot a few at a time, they were far from Tao Jun's level.

Of course, a method like Tao Jun's to use hidden weapons was definitely not as accurate as Yu Tian's flying needles. It was definitely impossible to accurately hit a particular acupuncture point.

However, in terms of the number and coverage of hidden weapons, it was definitely extremely difficult to dodge.

Especially in such close combat, the enemy simply did not have the time and space to dodge.

However, Yu Tian still had some doubts because Tao Jun's hidden weapon was also a flying needle. This kind of method of mass firing hidden weapons did not seem to be very powerful. Even if a few flying needles hit the enemy, as long as they did not hit a vital acupuncture point., it would not cause too much damage to the enemy.

If a normal person was hit by a needle, it would only cause a little pain at most.

Even if the flying needles hit all over his head and face, as long as they did not hit the acupoints and vital points, it would only look horrifying.

It seemed impossible to defeat the enemy in this way.

After a few breaths of time, Tao Jun finally stopped releasing his hidden weapons.

This kind of hand-to-hand exchange and rapid use of hidden weapons consumed a lot of energy. In just a few short seconds, Tao Jun's arms were already sore and unbearable.

The two enemies did not feel good either.

Their movements of waving their weapons to block the hidden weapons also consumed a lot of energy. The further they went, the slower their movements became.

The last two waves of attacks were clearly not something they could defend against. Large numbers of flying needles were like fish that had slipped through the net, breaking through their defenses one after another.

By the time Tao Jun stopped attacking, more than ten flying needles had already pierced through their bodies.

However, the effects of these flying needles were indeed similar to what Yu Tian had expected there was basically no effect at all.

Most of the flying needles had only pierced into their skin. At most, they would only penetrate half an inch deep into their flesh. They would not be able to cause any harm to them at all.

The two knights took advantage of this time to gently shake their clothes outwards, causing all the flying needles on their bodies to fall off.

In order to avoid accidental injuries, Liang Yongde and the other two knights had already distanced themselves from the two knights by several meters.

When the two knights saw that Yu Tian and the others had gathered together, they knew that they were no match for them, so they immediately retreated.

They originally wanted to sneak attack the two of them while Yu Tian and the others were scattered in the wheat fields.

If the sneak attack succeeded and Liang Yongde and the others were killed, then their strength would basically be on par with Yu Tian and the others in the following battle.

However, their sneak attack did not succeed. Liang Yongde and the other two were also veterans. Not only were they skilled in martial arts, but they were also very experienced when it came to sneak attacks.

Now that it was another five against two situation, the two knights could only helplessly retreat.

However, Tao Jun laughed mischievously. "Little Thieves, you 've been poisoned by me.. Do you still want to escape?"

Chapter 1383: Chapter 1,382, past its expiration date

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian was suddenly enlightened when he heard Tao Jun's words.

This kid had thrown out a few hundred flying needles just now as if he was throwing trash. It turned out that they were all poisoned.

Of course, Poison Needles did not need to pursue any lethality. They only needed to hit the enemy.

There were many lethal toxins in this era. Many chemical compounds only needed an extremely small dose to easily take a person's life.

Even if only the flying needles were used to quench the poison, that little dose was enough.

It was very difficult for ordinary people to obtain all kinds of poisons and chemicals, but an ancient martial arts practitioner like Tao Jun was naturally able to easily obtain all kinds of poisons and all kinds of raw materials to make poisons.

However, what he refined on these flying needles were not lethal poisons, but anesthetics.

This was the practice of poisoning weapons in the martial arts world.

As a conventional backup weapon or concealed weapon, they would not be smeared with lethal poison.

One of the reasons for this was that he was worried about accidentally injuring himself, such as accidentally getting cut by a weapon.

Another reason was that it was to deal with all kinds of different combat situations at any time.

If they suddenly encountered an enemy that needed to be captured alive, but only had a weapon that had been tempered with lethal poison, they would not be able to use it at all.

If Tao Jun used flying needles as his most important weapon, he would not be able to temper the lethal poison on the flying needles. Otherwise, if he encountered enemies that needed to be captured alive, the flying needles would be useless as an attack method.

Therefore, the most suitable poisons to be used as conventional poisons were poisons such as knockout agents and anesthetics.

After paralyzing the enemy, they could consider whether to kill or cut them into pieces. This was much more convenient than using lethal hidden weapons directly, and the scope of application was also much larger.

At this time, Tao Jun felt that the overall situation had been settled. He said to Yu Tian and the others proudly, "Don't underestimate these poisonous needles. Even if two elephants were to take a few needles, they would be paralyzed by me. The two of them won't be able to escape..."

The two knights did not make a sound. They should be able to understand oriental language, but they seemed to be disdainful of arguing with Yu Tian and the others.

They had not spoken a word all this while, and it seemed that they were still preparing to escape into the wheat field at any time.

Yu Tian glanced at the two knights in Puzzlement. It did not seem that these two guys were drugged and were about to fall down.

Just now, one of the Knights had been pulled by his spear. Although he had avoided the vital parts, he had also left a deep wound on his chest.

Theoretically speaking, this kind of wound would definitely affect their combat ability. If there weren't any specialized medical personnel to treat the wound, just the bleeding alone would be enough to kill someone.

However, the knight that had been slashed didn't seem to be injured at all.

According to Yu Tian's experience, this seemed to be a physique that only genetic warriors possessed.

Genetic warriors basically wouldn't bleed. Their wound muscles would contract on their own and even heal quickly. Normal small wounds were basically non-existent to them.

The current condition of this knight seemed to be similar as well. There seemed to be no signs of injury at all.

Yu Tian was somewhat puzzled. Could it be that the members of the Knights were also genetic warriors?

However, hadn't the Knights already existed when the Clone Society had just been established?

At that time, the genetic research of the clone society had yet to begin. The knights they relied on were obviously a group of powerful ancient martial art practitioners. They were much stronger than any genetic warriors.

Now, these two knights also had the characteristics of genetic warriors. Could it be that the Knights had also undergone genetic modification?

This was somewhat illogical.

If the knights were a group of ancient martial art practitioners, there was no need for them to undergo any genetic modification. The power of the western ancient martial art system could completely make them stronger than genetic warriors.

At least among all the genetic warriors Yu Tian had seen, there was no one who could fight him alone.

The reason why ancient martial art practitioners were strong was mainly because they could use energy.

The eastern ancient martial art practitioners called this energy internal force. This was an energy system that could crush ordinary people.

The western ancient martial art practitioners were in a similar situation. They also had their own energy system. The easterners usually called their energy system combat chi.

The origin of the term Dou Qi was unknown. It should have originated from a noun in a novel.

In short, as a noun that needed translation, any name did not matter. The easterners were already used to the term Dou qi.

Whether it was internal energy or Dou qi, they all depended on the existence of the human body.

If the human body had undergone genetic modification and its physiological structure had completely changed, then it would be impossible to accommodate dou qi and internal energy.

Yu Tian had come into contact with quite a few genetic warriors in the past. Those Fellows 'Meridians and acupoints had already been completely messed up, to the point that they no longer had any.

Although such a body was powerful, Yu Tian was certain that those genetic warriors had already lost the possibility of cultivating internal force or Combat

Of course, such a thing was not absolute.

The body structure of a genetic warrior might not necessarily be unable to contain a certain type of energy system. However, the current martial arts system and the various secret manuals that were known were not suitable for genetic warriors.

Unless a genetic warrior created a new training system based on their own body structure.

However, such a thing was basically impossible to happen. Creating a new training system was even more difficult than creating a new computer language.

Therefore, it was impossible for a genetic warrior to become an ancient martial art practitioner.

If these two fellows of the Knight Regiment had undergone genetic modification, it was impossible for them to possess combat aura. Yu Tian immediately began to doubt the identities of these two knights.

“Who are you? Knights? Or genetic warriors?”

Although Yu Tian held onto his weapon, he did not approach these two enemies.

The two enemies did not reply. Ever since the first time they met, they had not spoken.

At this moment, Tao Jun was also a little puzzled. “Why hasn’t the anesthetic taken effect? Could it have expired?”

Poisoning a weapon was not something that could be done once and for all. Some poisons still had an effective period. After a certain period of time, the toxicity would be greatly reduced and the weapon would need to be repoisened.

Generally speaking, the effective period of a lethal poison was quite long. Other anesthetic drugs and the like would easily lose their effectiveness.

The shelf life of this type of poison would not be very precise, just like the shelf life of food.

Some food would still not rot even after the shelf life of the poison had expired.

Some food would rot even before the shelf life of the poison had expired due to improper preservation.

Right now, Tao Jun was suspecting that there was a problem with his own anesthetic.

Yu Tian said slowly, “It shouldn’t be the problem with the anesthetic. They might be genetic warriors, and your anesthetic might not be effective against them...”

Tao Jun was a little surprised. “Genetic Warriors are that fierce? Didn’t they say that they only take a little more hits than ordinary people? How can they still have such powerful skills?”

Liang Yongde also said at this time, “I don’t think they look like ancient martial art practitioners because I didn’t detect the presence of combat aura on their bodies....

Chapter 1384: Chapter 1,383, reinforcement

Translator: 549690339

The greatest characteristic of an ancient martial art practitioner was their internal strength and Dou Qi.

Ordinary martial arts practitioners practiced external martial arts and martial techniques, but because there was no energy in their bodies, they would turn into dregs when they encountered an ancient martial art practitioner.

The existence of energy could allow an ancient martial art practitioner’s strength and speed to far surpass that of an ordinary person. This kind of difference could not be bridged with just martial arts techniques.

Yu Tian suddenly had an idea. “If they are not ancient martial art practitioners... then they must be ordinary martial art practitioners that have undergone genetic modification!

Genetic modification could greatly enhance a human’s physical abilities, including speed and strength.

If these genetic warriors had undergone martial arts combat training, they would indeed have the ability to compete with ancient martial art practitioners.

Yu Tian had encountered a few genetic warriors who knew martial arts. They had even exchanged two moves with him. It was not as if they were completely helpless.

If the two enemies before him had indeed undergone genetic modification and had received advanced martial arts training, then it would explain why they were able to remain in a stalemate with Yu Tian and the others for a period of time.

At this moment, Tao Jun asked in bewilderment, “Are these two guys really genetic warriors? Is the poison resistance of genetic warriors so formidable? My Poison Is...”

“Don’t compare us to those genetic warriors!

An enemy suddenly spoke up, “We are members of the Knight Order. We have only received a little bit of genetic modification...”

Yu Tian asked curiously, "Aren't the members of Your Knight Order all ancient martial art practitioners? After receiving genetic modification... Won't the combat aura that you have painstakingly cultivated be gone?"

Abandoning combat aura and choosing genetic modification instead... in Yu Tian's eyes, this was simply abandoning the root of the problem and chasing after the root of the problem. It was incomprehensible.

The enemy was silent for a moment, then slowly said, "The ancient martial art practitioners that you're talking about are all Sir Knights..."

Yu Tian was even more baffled. "You 're Not Knights? Could it be that there are genetic warriors in Your Knight Order?"

The Knight Order was clearly the top combat power of the Clone Society. Moreover, as a group that had existed since the early days of the Clone Society's establishment, their status was definitely very high.

Genetic warriors were modified from ordinary people. They did not need to train hard and could be mass produced.

Logically speaking, it was impossible for this group of knights to accept genetic warriors. This would obviously be a disgrace to their name.

Even if there were some extremely powerful fellows among the genetic warriors, they could easily form another elite warrior group. There was no need to gather the two different types of creatures, the knights and genetic warriors, together.

The enemy seemed somewhat dissatisfied. "I've said it before, don't put us together with those genetic warriors. "Our strength has been obtained through hard work and training. "Those genetic warriors are merely products of the assembly line. "

Yu Tian laughed. "However, in the end, all of you have received genetic modification. There is no difference in essence between you and those genetic warriors.

The enemy snorted coldly. "We are different from them! "We are the retainers of the Knights. We have accepted the training of the Knights since we were young. We are much stronger than those trash. "It is only because we have not developed battle spirit that we have accepted some genetic modification..." Yu Tian suddenly understood. "So they are just retainers..."

The enemy said disdainfully, "So what if they are retainers? We can still kill you eastern ancient martial artists. If the Lord Knight was here..."

"Aiden, you've said too much to them, "another enemy interrupted his narration.

Aiden snorted coldly. "It's Alright, will. They should have already guessed it..."

Yu Tian laughed heartily. "Yes, we've been fighting for so long, yet there are only two of you here... looks like there are only the two of you with high-end combat strength here. Those outside are all ordinary genetic warriors, right?"

Aiden sneered. "That's right. Indeed, only the two of us here can be considered high-end combat power... However, you can forget about escaping."

Yu Tian pondered for a moment. "It seems that you want to drag us here and wait for reinforcements?"

Aiden was stunned for a moment. Then, he sneered again. "That's right. We want to stall for time. It's too late for you to escape now... Don't forget, you don't even have a car. What else can you use to escape?"

Yu Tian sighed slightly.

He knew that the tiger team was doomed.

There were only twelve people in the tiger team, and because the signal was blocked, they were divided into two teams. One team left alone to search for the signal, contact the headquarters, and the other team stayed to pick up Yu Tian and the others.

Those who stayed were already dead, so how could these two retinues let go of those who left?

Those who had left should be their targets.

Yu Tian and the others had been trapped in the wheat field for more than an hour. This time was enough for the two retinues to clean up the tiger team.

However, Yu Tian felt that he should still have reinforcements.

Although the communication with the headquarters was cut off, the satellite in the sky was still there. The headquarters must have seen what was happening here and would definitely mobilize other operational personnel to provide reinforcements.

The two Squire Knights wanted to delay Yu Tian, but Yu Tian might not be able to stop them.

What happened next was nothing more than to see whose reinforcements were stronger.

The Eastern Dragon Company did not deploy many members of the operation in Dawn City. Other than the tiger squad, there were only about 30 of them.

Such a small force was naturally not enough. Not to mention providing support, even if they encountered those genetic warriors on the periphery, it would be difficult for them to protect themselves.

However, Donglong Company had another trump card in Dawn City, and that was the Military Intelligence Bureau.

Dawn city was the capital of wind country, and also the headquarters of the Military Intelligence Bureau.

General Hugo was personally overseeing Dawn City. The power he could mobilize was definitely not something that Kroni could compare to.

Yu Tian felt that Kroni wouldn't dare to deploy too many genetic warriors around dawn city. Such actions were too dangerous.

If a large number of armed personnel were deployed around Dawn City, it would be very easy for them to be exposed.

The Clone Society should only have deployed a small number of elite forces here, such as the Knights.

It was impossible for them to mobilize a large number of genetic warriors to move around the capital of wind country.

Hence, in front of the large army of the Military Intelligence Bureau, the strength of the clone society could only be considered insignificant.

Even a powerful ancient martial art practitioner would not dare to fight against a large army.

In terms of the support force of both sides, Yu Tian's side was clearly more confident.

He did not mind the two knight Squires stalling for time here.

Therefore, he shrugged and said to the two knight squires, "That's right, we don't have a car, and we can't run out of the range of this farm... However, even if we stay in this wheat field, you can't do anything to us. "

"I know you 're also waiting for backup..."

Aiden sneered, "It doesn't matter, I can give you time. You Can Wait Slowly...."

Chapter 1385: Chapter 1,384, something was not right

Translator: 549690339

After saying these words, Aiden slowly took two steps back. It seemed that he wanted to continue wasting time with Yu Tian.

Yu Tian silently looked at the two knight Squires in front of him and then said, "I'm a little curious, how did you find out that you were being followed? And how did you find out about our situation?"

Aiden chuckled. "Isn't it easy to discover your tracking? There are naturally surveillance cameras around the farm..."

Yu Tian shook his head. "That's not right. You guys should have discovered our tracking long ago. This farm was a trap that you guys specially chose, including those genetic warriors. All of them had long been prepared..."

An ambush like this was unlikely to be a spur-of-the-moment idea.

There were at least a few dozen genetic warriors that had fired at Yu Tian and the others earlier.

If they were to add in the arrangements and ambushes from other directions, Yu Tian felt that the genetic warriors should have dispatched over a hundred people, or even a few hundred people.

This was the usual style of action that Kronin would take against him.

Of course, regardless of how many genetic warriors there were, if they were to rush over from other places to provide reinforcements, they would definitely be a huge fleet.

The satellite surveillance of the Eastern Dragon Company was not only targeting this farm, it was also monitoring the surrounding roads.

If there was a suspicious fleet approaching the farm, the satellite surveillance would definitely discover the abnormality and notify Yu Tian in a timely manner.

However, it was clear that the few hours after Yu Tian and the rest arrived at the farm had been peaceful.

Before they entered the wheat field, their communications had been in normal condition. If there was any news from the headquarters, it was impossible for them not to receive it.

After that, Yu Tian and the rest were only delayed in the wheat field for over an hour. This was the time when their communications were cut off.

If the genetic warriors had set off from somewhere far away when their communication was cut off, all the way to the farm, and then they had to set up an ambush..

This amount of time was definitely not enough, as they had no idea how long the wheat field could trap Yu Tian.

Therefore, the most reliable method was to have the genetic warriors hide around the farm early in the morning and prepare their disguises.

When Yu Tian and the rest entered the wheat field, the signal shield was activated. The two Squire Knights started to ambush the Tiger Squad. The genetic warriors also started to set up an ambush.

After cutting off Yu Tian and the rest's escape route, they started to quietly wait for Yu Tian and the rest to escape.

When Yu Tian and the rest escaped from the wheat field, they were exhausted. The two Squire Knights launched a sneak attack.

However, the sneak attack of the Knight Squires did not succeed. Although Yu Tian and the rest were exhausted, they still had sufficient combat strength.

The sneak attack of the genetic warriors, coupled with the bomb ambush, had been somewhat effective. They had almost failed to deal with Yu Tian and Tao Jun..

The only thing that Yu Tian could not understand was why there were only two knight Squires here.

Two people, and they wanted to deal with Yu Tian and his party of five?

But Yu Tian quickly figured out the reason.

The Kronin Association had indeed discovered their tracking long ago, or they had already guessed that Yu Tian would follow them.

The things in the bank safe had been lost, and something had happened to Barre. This proved that Barre's villa must have been targeted by the East Dragon Company.

Two of the Knight's Squires had entered Barre's villa. The possibility of them being targeted and followed by the East Dragon Company was very high.

Therefore, Kronny would decide to use these two knight's Squires to set up a trap.

They had wasted two to three days in the hotel, waiting for Kronny to make these arrangements.

Two Knight's Squires, plus Kronny's favorite genetic warrior troop, plus this piece of wheat field..

Theoretically speaking, it was enough to take care of Yu Tian and the forces that Yu Tian brought with him.

However, what they didn't expect was that there were actually quite a few ancient martial art practitioners around Yu Tian.

This was something that they only discovered after Yu Tian and the others had been trapped in the wheat field and started using their qinggong to jump out of it.

Obviously, just relying on two Squire Knights wasn't enough to quickly eliminate the five ancient martial art practitioners.

Perhaps those genetic warriors would be able to seal off this farm. Without transportation, it would be difficult for Yu Tian and the others to escape the genetic warriors' pursuit.

However, if Yu Tian and the others hid in the wheat field and waited for reinforcements, there would be many variables in the situation.

Although the clone society was very confident in their ambush this time, they did not want to see any unexpected situations. Hence, they began to mobilize their reinforcements.

However, it was obvious that they could not make it in time. The situation in the wheat field was still five against two.

The two knight Squires could not fight Yu Tian and the others head-on, and they could not do anything to Yu Tian and the others for the time being.

Although the wheat field could trap Yu Tian and the others, it could also provide cover for Yu Tian and the others.

If they really ran into trouble, Yu Tian and the others could simply walk into the depths of the wheat field.

Even if they got lost and trapped again, they could use the method of jumping to get out of the wheat field again.

The array that had been broken once was no longer as terrifying as before.

Therefore, Yu Tian still had the leisure to chat with the two knight Squires. He was just waiting for the rescue force arranged by the headquarters to finish off those genetic warriors at the periphery.

After that, these two knight Squires would only be fish in a barrel.

However, the attitude of these two knight Squires was also calm, as if they were very confident in their reinforcements.

At this time, Liang Yongde suddenly opened his mouth and said, "Don't you guys feel that there's something wrong with these two brats?"

Yu Tian was stunned. "What's Wrong?"

Liang Yongde said, "These two brats ambushed us just now, and they didn't say anything. Why are they suddenly spouting so much nonsense?"

Yu Tian was a little confused. Now that both sides were facing each other, wasn't it normal for them to spout nonsense?

Liang Yongde slowly took two steps forward. "Didn't you notice that when you were spouting nonsense just now, we had already surrounded you?"

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. He realized that Meng Nan and Meng bei had indeed walked to the edge of the open space.

Although they had not completely surrounded the two knight squires, they had also formed a large semi-encirclement.

If the two knight Squires wanted to retreat, Meng Nan, Meng Bei, and Meng Bei would only need to make a leap to stop them for a moment.

At this moment, Yu Tian and the others swarmed forward. Even if the two knight Squires could change their escape route, it would be difficult for them to escape from the pincer attack and encirclement.

However, the strange thing was that the two knight Squires did not seem to sense the danger. They still did not have the intention to run away.

Tao Jun suddenly laughed, "I know what's going on. My anesthetic is still working! They are just trying to hold on without losing consciousness, but they definitely have no way to move agilely! "

"Oh..."

Yu Tian was instantly amused..

Chapter 1386: Chapter 1,385, self-destruct

Translator: 549690339

Although genetic warriors had strong physiques, they were not invulnerable to weapons.

It was not that they would not bleed from injuries. Only those who did not have blood would not bleed.

The genetic warriors only tightened the muscles on their wounds. It was like using a hemostatic clamp to clamp on the blood vessels, restricting the bleeding.

It was not that they were truly unkillable or unkillable from explosions. It was just that their endurance was stronger.

Similarly, the anesthetic wasn't completely ineffective against them. It was just that they were more ruthless than elephants and had a high resistance to the drug.

The reason why they were willing to talk nonsense with Yu Tian wasn't that they didn't want to run, but that they couldn't run.

Yu Tian laughed out loud. "I was wondering why you guys suddenly had such guts. The five of us are here, yet you guys still dare to confront us..."

('Let's not waste time talking to them! Take them down!')

Tao Jun made his move in high spirits.

This time, he did not use any hidden weapons. Instead, he pounced forward with his bare hands. He was prepared to use his fists to smash the two knight Squires to the ground.

Tao Jun's weapons were hidden weapons. Other than hidden weapons, he did not bring any other weapons.

Liang Yongde and the other two had brought weapons, but they were all short knives that were less than half a meter long.

For ancient martial artists, cold weapons were not a necessity. The killing effect of internal force was usually stronger than cold weapons.

However, cold weapons were not completely meaningless. When the opponent used a weapon, those who used their fists would obviously be at a disadvantage.

Therefore, Liang Yongde and the other two still brought their short knives that were convenient to hide close to their bodies. That was why they were not at a disadvantage when comparing weapons with the enemy.

Seeing that everyone suddenly attacked them, the expressions of the two knight Squires instantly changed.

They did indeed feel a little numb. Initially, they wanted to rely on their posturing and nonsense to muddle through until the numbness disappeared.

However, the duration of this anesthetic was much longer than they had imagined. It was impossible to alleviate it in a short period of time.

It was impossible to escape. They did not even have the strength to resist.

Perhaps they still had the strength to fight against a few ordinary people, but against a few ancient martial art practitioners, their strength was similar to that of a kindergarten child.

“Then let’s die together!

The two horsemen roared angrily. They reached out and took a small metal cylinder that looked like a pen from their waist. They bit off the hat on it with one bite.

Without any delay, this thing would explode with one bite.

A dazzling white light flashed. Two balls of fireworks exploded from the open space. Heat waves and unknown explosive debris swept in all directions.

The sound of the explosion was not particularly loud, but the shock wave was not small.

Yu Tian was once again blown up by the explosion. He rolled more than ten meters with the air wave and fell into the dense wheat field.

F * ck!

Yu Tian knew that he was going to be in trouble this time. With such a close explosion, other than him who was wearing bulletproof equipment, the others were probably doomed.

Ancient martial art practitioners were not gods. They could not withstand such a level of hot weapons.

Yu Tian did not expect the knights to carry explosives with them. This was simply unethical.

Weren’t knights the most particular about honor? Could it be that the Knights’ retinue could play this trick?

Self-detonation was an attack that was difficult to guard against.

If the other party only threw out grenades and other weapons, then the ancient martial art practitioners would definitely have the ability to dodge or even kick the weapons away.

If the explosion had been slightly delayed, then everyone would at least have the time to retreat and take some precautions.

But now, the two knight's retinues had instantly self-detonated. The entire process did not even take a second, and Liang Yongde and the others had no time to react at all.

After the heat wave of the explosion passed, Yu Tian immediately ran back.

Flames had already ignited in the empty space. Although the flames were not big, the wheat fields that had been cut off or flattened on the ground, as well as the wheat fields in all directions, had already been ignited.

Yu Tian took a glance at his surroundings and knew that he could not put out the fire.

This place would soon turn into a sea of fire. It would not stop until the entire wheat field was burned. It would be useless even if the fire engines tried to persuade it.

He took another look at the ground.

The two retinues of knights were already dead. Although their bodies were still intact, they had already started to burn. They looked completely black.

Yu Tian hurriedly looked for Liang Yongde and the others.

Liang Yongde and the others surrounded the enemy. At this moment, one had been blown up from the east and the other from the west.

The one closest to Yu Tian was Tao Jun. Yu Tian was the first to notice Tao Jun. he quickly pounced on him and grabbed his pulse.

There was no breathing, no heartbeat, no pulse..

This time, Tao Jun was not so lucky. He was dead.

The first to pounce on him was Tao Jun. he was the closest to the enemy and also the one who had the least chance of surviving.

Yu Tian hurriedly began to look for Liang Yongde, but when he found Liang Yongde, he found that Liang Yongde was also dead.

Liang Yongde's movements were also not slow, and he was unable to escape the central area of the explosion.

The only one left was Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

Yu Tian quickly found Meng Nan in the wheat field and quickly extinguished the flames on his body.

Fortunately, Meng Nan was still alive, but he had already fainted.

Meng Bei's situation was similar, and he had also fallen into a coma.

Meng Nan and Meng Bei didn't directly approach the enemy. In order to prevent the enemy from escaping, they immediately jumped into the enemy's retreat path, wanting to cooperate with everyone to completely seal the enemy within the encirclement.

It was also because of this operation that they were lucky enough to escape.

There were not many wounds on the bodies of the two people. It was because the shockwave from the explosion was too far away that they did not have time to circulate their inner energy to resist and were knocked out by the shock. It was easier for Yu Tian to treat this kind of internal injury without any wounds. He only needed to purely use the nameless inner energy to treat the injury.

In less than half a minute, Yu Tian woke Meng Nan and Meng bei up.

"How are they?"

Meng Nan and Meng bei saw that there was no one else around them, and they immediately had a bad feeling.

Yu Tian shook his head. "There are only the three of US left.

Two Knight Squires replaced two eastern ancient martial arts practitioners. This was a huge gain for the Kroni Society.

The biggest threshold for an eastern ancient martial artist was to cultivate inner strength.

Those with inner strength were ancient martial artists.

Those without inner strength could at most become a fighting master and become the world champion of the group Arena.

It was the same for the western ancient martial artists.

The knight Squires did not cultivate dou qi. They were obviously trash that was about to be eliminated.

The so-called squires meant servants.

They were not qualified to become knights, but they were also very skilled in martial arts. They were far more skilled than ordinary fighters. That was why they were qualified to become knights 'servants.

To genetically modify a Knight's retinue was also the meaning of recycling trash.

Their physiques were stronger than ordinary people, so the success rate of the modification was naturally higher. This was a very good deal for the Clone

Society..

Chapter 1387: Chapter 1,386, artificial ancient martial arts practitioners

Translator: 549690339

The price of hiring a few ancient martial arts practitioners at the East Dragon Company was not small. This was something that Yu Tian could guess even if he did not ask Zhu Ge Liang about the details.

Once an ancient martial arts practitioner made a move, the price would at least start at a million.

This price was not too high for the rich, but ordinary people simply could not afford it.

Of course, ordinary people did not need to hire ancient martial art practitioners to solve problems. Even the rich rarely had the need to hire ancient martial art practitioners to do things.

In addition, people who only had money but did not have the status and channels could not contact ancient martial art practitioners at all.

And even if there were channels to contact ancient martial art practitioners, it was difficult to find ancient martial art practitioners who were willing to accept the employment.

For the ancient martial art practitioners, cultivation was the most important thing. Making money was only an occasional need for them.

There were not many times when there was such a need.

Moreover, the ancient martial art practitioners generally would not act as bodyguards for others, nor would they accept jobs that would take a long time or for an uncertain length of time, because that would delay their own cultivation.

If it was not for the good relationship between the DONGLONG company and the Dongfang country's authorities, with the authorities supporting them in the name of the country's righteousness, it would definitely not be so simple to find a few ancient martial art practitioners to help Yu Tian, it could have been done in just a few days.

But now, in this wheat field, two had actually died at once. Even Yu Tian felt a little pained.

He wasn't pining for the rewards or compensation, but for the ancient martial artist resources.

There were many ancient martial artists who were willing to serve the country, but there might not be many who were willing to accept the employment of the Eastern Dragon Company.

Right now, the resources of ancient martial arts practitioners that they could solicit in their hands were equivalent to one less death.

The lives of two ancient martial arts practitioners were actually exchanged for the lives of two Knight Squires. This was simply a blood loss.

Yu Tian did not know how many knights there were, how many were knights, and how many were Knight Squires.

If the information that these two knight Squires had just revealed was true, then the total number of knight Squires would definitely not be too small.

Yu Tian could basically imagine the origin of these knights and knight retainers. This was a similar situation in many stories.

A secret organization wantonly searched for orphans, and then gave them cruel and arduous knight training. Finally, they trained their warrior power and became so-called knights.

During this training process, there might not be many knights who could train their warrior power, but there would definitely be many knight retainers who were skilled in martial arts.

Although these knights 'retainers could not become knights because they did not cultivate battle spirit, their martial arts were far superior to ordinary people.

Although they could only be considered trash in the Knight Corps, when placed outside, they could all be considered professional fighters or fighters.

These trash might not have been useful in the past. After all, the strength of the human body was limited. No matter how strong a fighter was, it was not as good as hot weapons.

However, after the clone society had developed a gene reagent, the situation was completely different.

If all the knight Squires had undergone genetic modification, they would definitely become a force that could not be underestimated.

The physical fitness of a genetic warrior, coupled with the martial techniques trained by the Knights, was enough for these knight Squires to have the ability to fight against ancient martial artists.

Yu Tian had fought against them just now. Although he felt that these knight Squires were not his match and that he was confident in killing them, this was definitely not a problem that could be solved with just a few moves.

The more skilled the knight squires were with their martial techniques, the more difficult it would be to take them down.

In fact, they only wanted to escape. Yu Tian might not be able to do anything to them.

This was because, based on the performance of their physical fitness, the speed and jumping ability of the genetic warriors did not seem to be any weaker than their qinggong.

They were only slightly weaker in terms of agility and various movement techniques.

For example, the retinue of knights might not be able to leap over roofs or walls. At most, they would have some climbing training, and they would be able to climb over walls that were not very high.

They could run faster than ordinary people and jump higher and farther. It was similar to Yu Tian 's nameless lightness skill. Although they did not have many techniques, they were still very useful.

Such a knight's retinue was already enough to threaten ancient martial art practitioners. If they could reach a certain number, Yu Tian would face a situation that was even more difficult than the siege of genetic warriors back then.

If there were more Knight's retinue, it would probably be able to change the global pattern of the ancient martial art world.

In the ancient martial art world in the past, it was the East's strength that overpowered the west. In the future, it might be the clone society's Knight's retinue that overpowered the entire world.

The individual ability of a knight's retinue was indeed weaker than that of ancient martial art practitioners, but they definitely had the advantage in numbers. The Clone Society could definitely mass produce them.

It might be difficult to train a knight who possessed combat aura. It would even depend on one's talent and comprehension ability.

However, it was simply too easy to just find a few people to receive knight training.

The successful ones would be knights. Even if they were crippled from training, they could still undergo genetic modification.

The Clone Society had developed silently for so many years. The number of Knight's retinues that were trained would definitely be a huge number.

If they trained a hundred people in a year, it would be 1,000 people in ten years.

Those who could survive the knight training would naturally have much stronger physical qualities than ordinary people. Even if there was a failure rate for genetic modification, the failure rate for them would be very low.

Yu Tian was extremely terrified when he thought about such "Artificial ancient martial art practitioners.

The clone society could even do something even more exaggerated. They could even modify genetic warriors first, and then carry out knight training for genetic warriors.

There was no need to train any combat aura. Genetic warriors could not train their combat aura either. They only specialized in training the combat techniques of knights.

They did not require them to reach the level of a Knight's retinue. They only required them to possess a certain level of combat ability

The genetic warriors trained in this manner would not be too much weaker than the Knight's retinue. In fact, some of the talented ones would even be stronger than the Knight's retinue.

Their physical fitness was good, so the effects of their training would naturally be more than that of ordinary people.

Most importantly, such genetic warriors could be trained quickly, and they could win with quantity.

After a single injection of the gene reagent, they would undergo special training for a year and a half. Their combat strength would be extremely powerful.

If one were to think along this line of thought, it would not be long before the genetic warriors Yu Tian would be facing would all be half warriors.

Yu Tian suddenly thought of the various martial arts manuals and various modern combat training manuals he had snatched from the clone society..

He suddenly felt a chill run down his spine. Could it be that the clone society had been planning this for a long time?

If a group of desperadoes with martial arts techniques like this were to carry a “Glory bullet” in their waists..

Yu Tian felt that even if he was fully armed and put on a bulletproof vest and helmet, it would be difficult for him to fight these guys..

Chapter 1388: Chapter 1,387, running with the wind

Translator: 549690339

The fire in the wheat field finally burned out of control and spread in all directions.

Yu Tian’s heart was heavy when he thought of the terrifying operations that the clone society might have carried out from the two knight Squires.

He felt that he had to tell his guess to Piggy Liang, and then he had to speed up the pace of eliminating the clone society. He absolutely could not give the clone society more time to develop.

However, his helmet had been damaged, and Meng Nan and Meng Bei’s goggles were also damaged in the explosion. Even if there was no signal shield on the farm, they had no way to communicate with the headquarters.

For now, they had to survive in the fire and wait for backup.

The fire in the wheat field spread very quickly, especially in the case of wind. It was even comparable to the speed of a human running.

However, the fatal thing in the fire field was not the fire itself, but the thick smoke that covered the sky and the Earth.

Although the wheat did not release toxic chemicals after burning, the thick smoke and ashes that filled the sky were enough to suffocate people to death.

Yu Tian and the other two could only run at full speed to stay away from the fire and try to avoid the direction of the thick smoke.

Fortunately, the ancient martial art practitioners were good at holding their breath. As long as they did not stay in the downwind and the smoke, they would not be killed by the smoke in a short period of time.

However, the trouble did not stop there. The thick smoke in all directions had already blocked their vision. Although they found a gap to breathe in the thick smoke, they felt that they were surrounded by the thick smoke.

Meng Nan jumped up with all his strength. He wanted to confirm his position, but all he could see was the thick smoke. He could not see the scene outside at all.

“We seem to be lost again. There are big fires everywhere. I don’t know how they got here...”

Meng nan wiped the sweat from his forehead. This was all caused by the heat wave of the fire.

The only benefit of the fire was that it increased their visual range.

Their helmets and glasses had been damaged, so they could no longer provide night vision. Just now, they could only use the weak starlight to move around. Now that the wheat field was on fire, it was much brighter.

However, this did not seem to be of much use. No matter how wide their field of vision was, they could only see waves of thick smoke.

Meng bei also used the high jump to check the situation around them, suddenly, he became somewhat anxious. “What’s going on? Why is the fire in front of us? We have always been in the direction of the fire. Even if we are lost, the fire should not have burned all the way to the front and back...”

Yu Tian also felt a headache coming on. He held his helmet in his hands and continuously tapped on it.

By now, he should have reached the center of the wheat field. There was no need to worry about those genetic warriors ambushing them with sniper rifles. The wheat field had been burnt to such a ghastly state. The biggest danger was the fire.

This was the worst-case scenario they had expected.

When they were trapped in the wheat field, they had thought of setting the wheat field on fire. However, that suggestion was rejected by Yu Tian.

Setting a fire would expose their whereabouts, but the most important thing was that once the fire started, they would be trapped in the fire.

The Wheat Field was a maze. If they didn't escape before the fire spread, they would die

Yu Tian looked at the thick smoke and the red-hot sky and quickly thought of a way to escape.

Just now, they had been running with their backs facing the direction of the fire. However, the fire had strangely arrived in front of them and surrounded them.

If they had just lost their way, the fire should have been in a fixed direction. It was impossible for the fire to reach both front and back.

In theory, they could use the direction of the fire as a reference to break out of this maze of wheat fields.

However, the fire was burning so strangely that Yu Tian could not understand it.

Could it be that the fire was also trapped by the formation?

Yu Tian looked at the thick smoke that filled the sky and muttered, "Have you noticed? Not only is the fire burning strangely, but the thick smoke is also very strange..."

Meng nan also muttered, "Yes, the thick smoke is in a mess. The direction of the thick smoke in each area is different... could it be that the thick smoke is also affected by the formation?"

Yu Tian said, "It's not impossible. If this formation not only affects the sense of direction in our heads, but also affects the air flow and magnetic field..."

"That must be it." Meng bei interrupted, "This maze formation must also affect the direction of the wind. Otherwise, the direction of the fire wouldn't be so strange. 'The fire follows the wind. If the wind blows randomly, the fire will definitely burn randomly..."

Yu Tian said, "In that case... the direction of the thick smoke should also indicate a passage? The direction of the airflow or the magnetic field?" Meng bei said, "Why don't we follow the direction of the thick smoke? Since we can't see anything now, we can't just stand here and wait for the fire to come over."

Meng nan also said, "That's right. The thick smoke at least represents the direction of the airflow. If we follow this direction, we should have a chance of getting out of the formation."

Yu Tian said decisively, "Then let's hurry up and leave!"

Running with the wind was the direction. There was no other better way now.

The fire was gradually approaching. Yu Tian and the other two already felt as if they were being roasted.

They did not waste any time. After identifying the direction of the thick smoke in front of them, they immediately followed this direction and stepped into the wheat bushes.

After walking for a few dozen meters, there was another fire blocking their way.

However, the direction of the fire and the thick smoke were also different from before.

Yu Tian and the others immediately changed their direction and continued to run in the direction of the thick smoke.

The fire followed the wind, and the thick smoke followed the airflow.

The few of them ran all the way, and the flames and thick smoke seemed to be chasing behind them.

Yu Tian suddenly realized that as long as they ran in the direction indicated by the thick smoke before the fire completely blocked the path, it would be the same as leaving all the fires behind them.

Regardless of whether they could get out of the maze or not, at least the fire would not be able to catch up to them.

After making a few turns and even going in circles, Yu Tian suddenly realized that the surrounding air had started to cool down.

He looked at the surrounding wheat fields. Although they were slowly burning and spreading, they were far less ferocious than the fire behind them.

Obviously, they had already run faster than the fire.

Yu Tian leaped and jumped three to four meters high. Then, he looked ahead.. The front should have been pitch black, but under the flames that filled the sky, it was now clearly visible. They were close to the edge of the field..

Chapter 1389: Chapter 1388 also used a satellite

Translator: 549690339

After escaping from the array formation in the wheat field once again, Yu Tian suddenly realized that the maze array was actually nothing much.

Although the array formation was indeed a very magical method, there were still many loopholes and methods that could be used to break the array.

It was as if it was a magic trick. After being exposed, he felt that it was nothing extraordinary.

Yu Tian found that he was not far from the edge of the wheat field. With such a small distance, even if he was running madly in the Wheat Field, he could smoothly escape the control of the formation.

Even if there was a slight deviation in his perception of the direction, the direction he was walking in would not deviate too far. It was just that he was a little far from the expected exit position.

Yu Tian put on the helmet again. Although the other functions of the helmet had been damaged, the protective ability was still there.

As long as it was not the place where it had been shot before it was hit again, the helmet could still continue to carry on.

“It seems that we have already left the wheat field, but I don’t know if there is still an ambush outside. I’ll go out and scout the way first...”

“We’d better go out together. “Meng nan suggested, “I don’t think there should be an ambush outside.”

“Oh? How are you sure there’s no ambush outside?”

“There’s not a single tree in this area other than wheat. How can the enemy install surveillance cameras? They’re not gods. How can they know our current location without surveillance...”

Meng Nan’s reasoning was simple, but Yu Tian was slightly stunned. He suddenly realized that something was strange.

There were not many trees around the farm. When the tiger team arrived at the farm, they also checked the surroundings. There were no surveillance cameras on those trees.

This kind of inspection was a routine operation. The tiger team could not let themselves stay under the eyes of the enemy’s surveillance. They would certainly conduct a reconnaissance around the stopping point.

Other than the few trees around, there was no place to hide the cameras.

The KLONI would never hide the camera in the wheat field, which would be covered by the lush wheat.

Other places were too low for the camera, because there was no surveillance angle, and no one could put the camera under their feet.

So, where did the KLONI’s surveillance go?

If the KLONI would have installed a camera on the side of the road a few kilometers away, it was understandable that they found Yu Tian following them to the farm.

But when they arrived at the farm, how did they know exactly what Yu Tian and the others were doing?

As soon as Yu Tian and the others entered the wheat field and began to move,

As soon as Yu Tian and the others entered the wheat field and began to move, Kronny had turned on the signal shield and quickly found the location of Tiger's team.

Tiger's team had split into two teams, but they could be killed silently by them. Neither team had the time to fire a warning shot.

In this situation, it was as if there was an eye watching Yu Tian and the others at all times.

However, the tiger squad did not find any traces of surveillance equipment near their stop.

The East Dragon Company had long been prepared for the surveillance and tracking methods of the Kronin Society. Whether it was the surrounding wireless signal cameras or the remote-controlled unmanned reconnaissance aircraft, the Tiger Squad had all prepared for it.

For example, equipment such as signal detection and satellite observation.

Under such circumstances, what other methods could the clone society use to keep an eye on them?

Yu Tian's heart jolted. Could it be a satellite?

If the East Dragon Company could obtain a reconnaissance satellite, the clone society might be able to obtain a reconnaissance satellite to play with.

If both sides were using satellites to scout, then the sneak attack of Yu Tian and the others would be equivalent to falling into the clone society's trap.

Furthermore, from the way the clone society had withdrawn their genetic warriors, they had long guessed that Donglong was using satellites to scout. However, Donglong did not know that the clone society was using satellites as well.

With one side in the open and the other in the dark, Donglong was clearly at a disadvantage.

Actually, it was not like Ge Liang Pig had not considered this before. However, a reconnaissance satellite was not something that anyone could have just because they wanted to.

This was a military satellite, and only a few superpowers in the world possessed this kind of space weapon.

It wasn't that those small countries didn't have the ability to manufacture and launch it. After all, humans were already developing the moon, so getting a satellite to play with wasn't a particularly difficult thing.

Those small countries had the ability to manufacture their own satellites, and some had launch technology. With just a little cooperation, they could send their own satellites into space.

Unfortunately, the superpowers created a space monopoly and banned the small countries from sending '(Garbage "into space, so as not to affect the entire human space exploration program..

In short, this excuse allowed the entire space to be divided among the superpowers. Those small countries even had to rent civilian satellites, let alone have their own military reconnaissance satellites.

If Kronny wanted to use a reconnaissance satellite, who could he find to rent it? Under what name?

Not to mention that they were a terrorist group, even if they changed their identities, it would be impossible for them to pass the scrutiny of those superpowers.

How could they casually rent military satellites to others.

If it wasn't for the "Deep friendship" between Donglong Company and the eastern country's officials, Zhu Gelang wouldn't have been able to get his hands on a reconnaissance satellite as a trump card.

The possibility that Kroni would have a reconnaissance satellite was basically zero, unless..

They were related to a superpower?

Yu Tian couldn't help but think of the last international meeting. He felt that the coal nation's attitude was very unreasonable, as if they didn't want to take any measures against Kroni.

As soon as Yu Tian and the others entered the wheat field and began to move, Kronny had turned on the signal shield and quickly found the location of Tiger's team.

A normal country would not tolerate the existence of such forces. They were too destructive to social stability.

Countries like the coal nation had a glorious tradition of assassinating their presidents. If the genetic warriors were captured by criminals, their presidents would not have a good life in the future.

The genetic warriors definitely had the ability to attack the presidential guards, but the president of the Coal Nation did not care.

Even if the president of the coal country liked to go against the eastern country, he should not seek death in such a matter.

Yu Tian's heart suddenly became heavier.

Could it be that Kronny was also in cahoots with those coal country freaks? They had obtained the right to use the military reconnaissance satellite from the coal country freaks?

“If Kronny also has a satellite, then our future operations will be in big trouble... Now, we are in big trouble too...”

Yu Tian could not help but look up at the sky.

The sky was filled with thick smoke and ashes after the burning of wheat.

His heart suddenly moved.. If it was a satellite reconnaissance, then under such circumstances, he should not be able to see anything clearly, right?

Chapter 1390: Chapter 1,389, reinforcements arrived

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian brought Meng Nan and Meng Bei and began to slowly approach the edge of the wheat field.

If Kronin had used satellite reconnaissance, then the current situation was actually a good thing for them.

The wheat field had been burnt to such a ghastly state. There was thick smoke and dust everywhere. In the high sky, it had already covered the area outside the wheat field far away.

It was impossible for satellites to observe the situation here. On the contrary, it was more likely for the surveillance cameras to find them.

However, assuming that Kroni would have satellites, Yu Tian felt that they would not use surveillance cameras here.

There was no place around the farm that was suitable for installing surveillance cameras. Normal farms would not install surveillance cameras in the wheat field.

The only place that could install surveillance cameras was the wooden house that they lived in.

However, the drones of the DONGLONG company had already scouted the wooden house, and there were no surveillance cameras outside the wooden house.

Therefore, Yu Tian felt that they could take a gamble and bet that the Kronin would not have any ordinary surveillance cameras around them.

Then, they did not need to hide their actions anymore. They did not need Yu Tian to scout ahead and directly run out of the wheat fields to jump out of the enemy's encirclement.

Of course, in order to prevent the enemy from using artificial scouting to observe the movements in the wheat field, Yu Tian and the rest did not dare to move too fast. They tried their best to avoid crushing the wheat in the wheat field.

Yu Tian guessed that there should be a group of genetic warriors around the wheat field right now. They were holding binoculars and looking into the wheat field.

If they were spotted emerging from the wheat field or walking out of the edge of the wheat field, there would immediately be genetic warriors surrounding them and firing machine guns at them like a rainstorm.

Just now, in order to observe the situation around the wheat field, Yu Tian had even jumped around the wheat field twice, including Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

However, their luck seemed to be pretty good. The enemy had not noticed their movements just now.

If they were to jump out of the wheat field like before, then the genetic warriors would definitely have already set up the encirclement.

Soon, Yu Tian and the other two arrived at the edge of the wheat field, slowing down their pace.

If they were in the middle of the wheat field, even if the enemy discovered them, they would not shoot at them, as the distance was too far.

Even if there were snipers among the genetic warriors, they might not be able to seize the opportunity to shoot.

The shooting skills of genetic warriors had always been average, even if they were snipers.

The reason why Yu Tian had been shot was mainly because he had been standing still for too long, and he had been too close to the ambush location of the genetic warriors.

If he had been in a wheat field, the snipers of the genetic warriors would not have been able to hit him.

Now that the three of them had reached the edge of the wheat field, the snipers posed a much greater threat to them.

However, the snipers were not the main threat. As long as they moved their positions rapidly, these half-baked snipers would not be able to do anything to them.

The main threat was still the random firing of other genetic warriors and the fierce firing of machine guns.

The position at the edge of the wheat field would definitely fall into the range of the enemies.

If they were discovered by the enemies, even if they escaped into the wheat field, they might be hit by stray bullets.

This was a very dangerous situation. Hence, they needed to be even more careful.

After taking a few steps, Yu Tian could vaguely see the end of the wheat field.

He had Meng Nan, Meng Bei, and Meng Bei stop moving forward for the time being. Then, he stealthily moved toward the edge of the wheat field.

He still had bulletproof equipment on him. Even if the enemy focused fire on him, he could basically guarantee his own safety.

Very quickly, Yu Tian reached the edge of the wheat field.

However, he did not walk out of the wheat field. Instead, he squatted down in the wheat field and stealthily opened up some gaps in the wheat field in front of him. Then, he stealthily observed the situation around him.

There seemed to be no one around him. However, Yu Tian knew that there was definitely a genetic warrior hiding in a corner, keeping an eye on the situation outside the wheat field.

Although the wheat field covered a large area, it was impossible for the genetic warriors to surround the entire wheat field. However, setting up a hidden sentry at a certain distance and using binoculars to continuously observe the situation on the road outside the wheat field was still very easy to accomplish.

Yu Tian looked at the environment outside the wheat field and felt that things were a little troublesome.

The terrain around the farm was very flat. Yu Tian simply could not find a route to leave the wheat field.

As long as they ran out of the wheat field, it was equivalent to being exposed to the enemy's eyes. It would not take more than a few seconds for them to be discovered by the enemy.

Then, the enemy would definitely start to drive and chase after them, and use hot weapons to chase after their buttocks.

Although the ancient martial art practitioners ran very fast, their speed and endurance could not be compared to cars. In the surrounding open terrain, they could only become the living targets of hot weapons.

Thinking about such a situation, Yu Tian felt a pain in his balls.

Yu Tian helplessly retreated into the wheat field. He thought to himself, could it be that they could only wait for rescue?

In the current situation, other than hiding in the wheat field, there seemed to be nothing they could do.

It was impossible for them to jump out and face the rain of bullets from the genetic warriors, right?

It would be fine if there were some cover and obstacles around them, such as the forest. The few ancient martial art practitioners could still rely on their own skills to fight against the enemies.

However, in such an environment, the three of them simply did not have the ability to fight against the enemies.

As the saying went, many ants killed an elephant. High-end combat strength was not omnipotent.

However, hiding in the wheat field was not a solution either. The fire behind them would burn down the entire wheat field sooner or later. It was just a matter of time.

Yu Tian looked at the fire behind him again. At this time, he actually hoped that the array in the wheat field could be more powerful. It could affect the airflow and make the fire spread more slowly.

If the wheat field could provide them with one or two hours to hide, the support of the Donglong Company would have definitely arrived.

No matter how many reinforcements the first batch had, they could at least attract the enemy's attention and create an opportunity for them to escape.

Yu Tian sighed helplessly. Just as he was about to retreat back to the wheat field and bring Meng Nan and Meng bei back to the depths of the wheat field, he heard the faint roar of a car engine.

A car had arrived? It seemed to be an entire fleet?

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. Could it be that reinforcements had arrived?

However, the direction seemed to be a little off.

Yu Tian could roughly determine his position. Dawn city was on the north side of the farm, and the highway passed through the west side of the farm, so it was very close to the wheat field.

The wheat field he was currently in was probably on the west side of the wheat field, near the southwest corner.

The convoy he heard came from the south of the farm.

The donglong company didn't have many operational personnel available, and they were all concentrated in Dawn City.

Could it be the Military Intelligence Bureau's troops that came from the south?

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1391 - 1,390, reinforcements from the enemy - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1391 - 1,390, reinforcements from the enemy

Chapter 1391: Chapter 1,390, reinforcements from the enemy

Translator: 549690339

If it was the Military Intelligence Bureau's troops, they should have come from the direction of Dawn City, right?

However, other than Dawn City, it wasn't like the Military Intelligence Bureau had no other troops to mobilize.

This farm was already over a hundred kilometers away from dawn city. It seemed that the military intelligence bureau could mobilize troops from other cities faster than from Dawn City.

Yu Tian stopped in his tracks again, full of hope. Then, he sneaked back to his original observation position and pushed aside the wheat in front of him.

The convoy suddenly stopped in the south.

Yu Tian thought for a moment. There was a fork in the south that led directly to the big wooden house in the farm.

If the convoy was from the Military Intelligence Bureau, they might also head in the direction of the big wooden house and directly attack the enemies there.

After all, the wooden house was an obvious target. Since they couldn't figure out the enemy's location, it would be a good choice to attack the wooden house directly.

This method of attack was somewhat sloppy. There were no scouting, and it didn't matter if there were any ambushes along the way.

However, the Military Intelligence Bureau had only mobilized proper troops. They had the advantage in numbers and equipment. Perhaps they didn't place the genetic warriors in their eyes.

What about the Clone Society?

If the Military Intelligence Bureau's troops were here, why hadn't the genetic warriors launched an attack yet?

Even if they were not prepared for an ambush, they should have fired a warning shot, right?

Yu Tian felt even stranger.

Could it be that the Clone Society's people were here?

There seemed to be quite a number of them in this convoy. The Clone Society had actually deployed so many armed forces around Dawn City?

Did they treat the capital of the wind country as a free public toilet?

After a few seconds of silence, Yu Tian heard the sound of heavy military boots landing on the ground again.

These people were getting out of the vehicle. Judging from the sound, there were at least 30 to 40 people getting out of the vehicle.

Then, the convoy started to move again.

Yu Tian shrank back slightly. At this time, the situation was unclear. It was impossible for him to take the initiative to expose himself and do such a stupid thing as stopping the vehicle to call for help.

Soon, the motorcade sped past the road not far in front of Yu Tian.

Yu Tian lowered his body to hide even more. In order not to overpower the wheat, he even laid on his side.

He raised his head slightly and looked at the motorcade's situation.

The road was only a dozen meters away from this wheat field. Yu Tian could clearly see the vehicles and the uniforms of some soldiers on the vehicles.

Most of the vehicles in the convoy were small container trucks. These enclosed carriages were the most popular means of transporting soldiers for the Kronin Society.

There were also some pickup trucks. Machine guns were mounted on the back of the trucks, and there were also a few soldiers on board.

The uniforms of those soldiers looked very familiar. Yu Tian recognized them at a glance. These guys were all genetic warriors.

They were old friends.

He hadn't expected that the first ones to arrive would actually be the members of the Clone Society. It seemed like they had already prepared more reinforcements. If there was a need, they would be able to rush over to this farm very quickly.

Looking at the vehicles that kept passing by, Yu Tian was somewhat shocked.

The clone society actually had such guts. They dared to hide so many genetic warriors around the capital of wind country. weren't they afraid of being discovered by the authorities?

Although genetic warriors were extremely powerful, if they were surrounded by the military, a few hundred of them would not be enough to defeat them.

These genetic warriors could not possibly run off to engage in guerilla warfare, right?

This was not the graveyard of the empire. Once the genetic warriors were surrounded and pursued by the government, where would they be able to hide?

Thinking of this, Yu Tian suddenly had a bad feeling.

Could Kronin be colluding with the government of the wind nation?

This wasn't impossible. If Kronin was able to collude with the coal nation, then the countries of the western camp would inevitably have some dealings with kronin.

Speaking of which, although the DONGLONG company could openly appear in the eastern countries, in the eyes of the Western countries, the DONGLONG company was only a company with illegal armed forces.

If the DONGLONG company could maintain friendly relations with the officials of these western countries, then they could turn a blind eye to the DONGLONG company's illegal armed forces, just like the hard work of the Yexiu Secret Service Team.

But if there were any problems, the officials would also treat the DONGLONG company as a terrorist group and get rid of it.

Previously, the headquarters of the Donglong Company in dusk city had also been cleaned up by the officials. Even Uncle Long had been secretly arrested by the officials in the Sanyo Country.

The relationship between the Donglong Company and the government of the wind country seemed to be quite friendly. However, if the coal miners were to instigate them from behind, the wind country might not turn against them.

There was no such thing as eternal friends in this world. The absolute enemy's camp was always about benefits.

The fact that the armed forces of the clone society could appear in large numbers in the vicinity of Dawn City seemed to indicate the attitude of the government of the wind country.

At least, the wind country's officials no longer regarded the clone society as an enemy.

Thinking about it this way, General Hugo and his Military Intelligence Bureau might not be reliable allies.

Yu Tian suddenly felt that the situation was a little serious, and the situation seemed to be getting more and more dangerous.

After waiting for the convoy to pass by him, he immediately withdrew and found Meng Nan and Meng bei in the wheat fields.

"The situation seems to be a little strange. Our reinforcements didn't appear, but the enemy's massive reinforcements appeared instead..."

Yu Tian hurriedly explained the situation to Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

Meng Nan and Meng bei were a little surprised. "Could kronin not be a terrorist group? "How can it be like the army and the police, gathering so many people here? "This place is not far from the capital of the windy nation. It's impossible for the officials of the windy nation not to notice such a large number of armed personnel, right?"

Yu Tian said in a deep voice, "That's why I feel that the situation is not right. Perhaps... the Kronin Association has some secret agreement with the officials of the windy nation..."

"The officials of the Windy Nation have a secret agreement with the terrorist groups? They welcome terrorists to the windy nation to wreak havoc?" Meng Nan and Meng bei could not understand at all.

Yu Tian sighed, "Now, the only ones who can really attack the Kronin society as a terrorist group are our eastern country... and the Russian country. In the eyes of the government of the windy nation, the Kronin society... is probably just a big moneybags..."

Meng Nan and Meng bei looked at each other silently, then asked Yu Tian,

"Then what do we do now? Will reinforcements come?"

Yu Tian shook his head slowly. "I'm not sure either. If we only have our own reinforcements... I'm afraid we can't count on them."

The remaining members of the Eastern Dragon Company in Dawn City numbered around 30. They were not enough for a single charge by the genetic warriors..

Chapter 1392: Chapter 1,391, the direction of the breakthrough

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian no longer counted on reinforcements.

Regardless of whether his guesses about the wind nation's officials were correct or not, the current situation was clearly not right.

It had been more than two hours since their operation began.

Donglong company should have noticed the abnormality when the communication had just been cut off. Knowing that the enemy had set up a trap, brother pig would definitely not hesitate at all. He would immediately mobilize all the reinforcements, to ensure Yu Tian's absolute safety.

It would only take more than an hour to travel from Dawn City to this farm. No matter how much they delayed, more than two hours would be enough for their vanguard to arrive.

Now that the farm was surrounded by people from the Kronin Society, the East Dragon Company's people would definitely engage in a firefight if they rushed over.

However, Yu Tian did not hear any gunshots in the surroundings. This situation could already indicate that there was something wrong with the reinforcements.

As such, Yu Tian and the rest could only rely on themselves now.

“Let’s go. We’ll go around to the farm.

Although the highway was right in front of them, Yu Tian knew that it was impossible for the three of them to escape from the highway.

If there had been a slight chance of escaping before, now that the reinforcements from the Kronin Society had arrived, the direction of the highway would be completely sealed off by the genetic warriors.

The moment they stepped onto the road, they would become a target.

Within a radius of a few miles, apart from a few trees on the road, there was no shelter at all.

Not to mention Meng Nan and Meng bei, even Yu Tian, who was wearing a bulletproof vest, would not be able to carry bullets for a few miles.

The only direction that was suitable for them to walk out of the wheat field was the large wooden house in the center of the farm.

If they could run into the big wooden house successfully, they would be able to fight the enemy for a while and perhaps have a chance to escape.

The most difficult thing now was to pass through the wheat field again and reach the east side of the wheat field.

The fire started in the northwest direction of the entire wheat field. It had just spread to the center of the wheat field and had almost blocked them in the maze.

Now, they still had to pass through the wheat field. They could only walk along the southwest edge of the wheat field. They had to go around the wheat field for about half a circle.

This distance was naturally a little longer than directly passing through the wheat field. However, the distance was not the main point.

The main point was to walk along the edge of the wheat field. They did not dare to walk too fast.

There were definitely genetic warriors observing and looking for them in the surroundings. If there were any signs of movement at the edge, they would definitely attract a hail of bullets.

However, if they walked too slowly, they would not be able to make it. If they waited too long, this wheat field would probably be completely burnt.

When the time came, the fire would block their path. They could only hide in a corner and wait for the fire to devour their final hiding place.

They did not need to worry about getting shot while walking in the depths of the wheat field. However, the central area was already covered by the fire. Even the sky was burning red and hot, It did not seem like they could pass through at all.

Due to the formation, the trend of the fire was somewhat strange. It was not necessarily impossible for the central area of the wheat field to have a way out.

However, Yu Tian and the others did not understand this formation. They might walk into a dead end and be surrounded by the fire.

When the enemy did not fire a single shot, they would be burned to death. Wouldn't that be an injustice.

They had gone through great difficulty to walk out of the fire. It was impossible for them to run back and die.

Therefore, choosing a route through the wheat fields was a headache.

Meng bei pondered for a moment, he slapped his thigh and said, "What's the point of thinking so much? Why don't we just charge out and snatch one of their vehicles first. "As long as we can get rid of the enemies at this intersection before the surrounding enemies arrive, we can directly escape along the highway.

Yu Tian shook his head. "It's not that easy to deal with genetic warriors. Furthermore, the two ends of the highway are definitely the places where their defenses are the tightest. The majority of the enemies are probably concentrated at the two ends of the highway. "

Meng bei said ruthlessly, "Then let's fight them in a melee and fight them to the death."

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Fighting them head-on is the final choice. If there's really no way out, the method you mentioned isn't impossible."

Meng Nan also said at this time, "I think... actually, it doesn't matter if we walk a little faster on the edge. Now that there's thick smoke everywhere, they might not be able to discover our movements.

“The thick smoke can’t cover all directions. There’s no smoke on the south and east sides, so they’re basically exposed to the enemy’s eyes. Unless we approach the center of the fire, it’s easy to get lost...”

“How about we wait for the fire to reach the side, and then we run next to it... “By then, there might be no way to run, and all the wheat will be burned. ”

Meng Nan had an idea. “How about we run after the Fire?”

Yu Tian asked curiously, “Why do we run after it?”

“Run from the place where the wheat has been burned, “Meng Nan said. “The fire has been burning for so long. The places where the fire started should have been burned, right? ‘Q “Besides a little spark and a little heat, there shouldn’t be any danger in the place where the fire burned out, right?”

“Heat is not a problem, but the thick smoke in the fire field...”

“Doesn’t the thick smoke follow the wind? The fire burns in the same direction where the wind goes, and the smoke also goes in the same direction... In this formation, the direction of the air flow should always be fixed, right?” “It seems to be like this...

Yu Tian thought for a while and found that the thick smoke did indeed have a fixed direction. Including the direction of the fire, they seemed to be affected by the formation and had a specific pattern.

The fire in the wheat field was very strange, and each wheat field burned in a different direction.

The airflow in the formation was indeed strange. The two wheat fields were adjacent to each other, but one side was burning fiercely, while the other side was completely safe and sound. Not even a wisp of smoke passed through.

The fire started from the place where the two squires exploded. It burned all the way to the center of the Wheat Field, and then started to spread to the surroundings from the center of the Wheat Field.

The way the fire spread was not to push over the entire wheat field, but to spread to the surroundings in a line with a small wheat field as the unit.

Such a big fire looked like the direction of a formation.

If they were proficient in formations, they might be able to come and go freely in this fire.

Of course, Yu Tian and the other two were not proficient in formations.

However, they had just escaped from the formation and used the method of observing the direction of the airflow. This method seemed to be quite effective, at least it was very suitable for this wheat field.

There was no other method at the moment, and the method of following the airflow seemed to be quite good.

Yu Tian looked north at the fire and made up his mind..

Chapter 1393: Chapter 1,392, Breakthrough Plan

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian didn't have any better ideas at the moment, so he decided to try Meng Nan's method.

The fire had already covered the central area of the wheat field, and now it was spreading to the surrounding area.

If they wanted to go around to the place where the fire started, they had to hurry. Otherwise, once the fire sealed off the road, they wouldn't be able to go anywhere.

The three of them started moving along the edge of the wheat field towards the north. They did not dare to move too fast, as they were afraid of being discovered by the genetic warriors.

The fire spread very quickly. From the outside, it spread from the inside to the outside.

Yu Tian and the others had previously charged into the center of the wheat field. After making a detour, they had reached the southwest corner.

Now, they had to return to their original position in the west. The distance was not too far.

Although they didn't walk very fast, they managed to reach their target location before the fire reached the edge of the wheat field.

After passing through the gaps between the wheat fields, Yu Tian saw the wheat field that they were in previously.

The Wheat Field had basically been burned down, but the flames hadn't completely disappeared.

Although the fire was fast and fierce, it was extending all the way to the edge of the wheat field. The fire at the edge of the wheat fields was still very fierce but after burning most of the things that could be burned, only the roots (plants that were difficult to ignite and were relatively resistant to fire) were left with some residual sparks.

The air was naturally very hot, but compared to the feeling of being roasted at the center of the wheat fields, it was much better.

Yu Tian and the others did not dare to walk out of the wheat fields either. The wheat fields were basically completely burned, and it was very easy to expose their figures.

The few of them turned around and began to approach the center of the wheat field.

Since these wheat fields were all arrays, then their current route was to challenge the arrays.

If they were to enter the arrays, then of course, any route would be fine.

The burning of the wheat field was indeed very strange. The wheat field beside them was completely burned, but the wheat field they were in was completely fine.

After walking a few hundred meters toward the center, they finally caught up with the tail of the fire.

The air was even hotter, but they were all ancient martial artists, so the temperature was still bearable.

There was no time to wait for the fire to burn out. Yu Tian and the others identified the direction where the smoke was rolling, then brushed past the edge of the fire and began to go deep into the center of the wheat field.

After walking for a few hundred meters, they found that this method really worked.

The direction in which the fire spread was indeed orderly. Even in the middle of the fire, they could still find a safe place.

Other than the high temperature, there was no other problem.

Especially when they walked along the airflow, the thick smoke would not affect them.

The three of them soon arrived at the center of the Wheat Field, which was the area where the fire was most intense.

After the fire burned through, a large area of empty land was left in the wheat field.

Although the formation had the effect of confusing directions, Yu Tian felt that no matter how hard he tried to distinguish directions, it was impossible for him to get lost in the empty land.

With such a wide field of vision, only a blind person could take the wrong path.

Now that they were in the center of the fire, they did not have to worry about being discovered by the enemy.

Yu Tian and the others directly passed through the open space, looking for a passage that went around the center of the fire.

The fire had spread in all directions, and some of the passages only left a trail of ashes.

After determining the direction, the three of them headed straight east.

Soon, the three of them reached the middle of the fire, feeling as if they were pincer attacked by the fire.

However, now that the three of them had the experience of breaking through the maze, they were confident in how to walk through the fire.

The main reason was that they could not take the wrong path. They could not walk towards the east and then go back to the west.

Therefore, they had to pay attention to maintaining the direction when choosing the route. They could not turn in the same direction continuously and then turn back.

The direction they were going was basically to go left this time and right the next time. They had to try their best to keep moving towards the east.

Judging from the airflow, there were many passages in the wheat field.

Theoretically, they could walk out from any direction. However, in the end, there would only be one exit from these passages.

It was impossible to walk in the direction of the exit. Once they reached the edge of the wheat field, they could directly pass through the wheat field where there were no passages.

This method of moving along the airflow was still reliable. They had passed by the fire many times, but they could still find the way forward.

Walking in the center of the Wheat Field, there was no need to slow down.

The few of them used their qinggong and quickly ran to the front of the fire.

Not long after, the few of them walked out from the center of the wheat field again.

Yu Tian stealthily popped his head out and observed the direction.

This time, he did not dare to jump too high. He only quickly peeked out from the wheat field.

He quickly discovered the location of the big wooden house. It was not far from them.

However, at the same time, he also discovered the enemy. There were over a dozen cars parked in front of the huge wooden house. There were a total of 30 to 40 genetic warriors gathered in front of the huge wooden house.

The few buildings around the huge wooden house were the most eye-catching targets of the farm.

These genetic warriors didn't hide around the huge wooden house either, as there was no need for them to hide. Even if there wasn't a single genetic warrior here, Yu Tian knew that there would definitely be enemies gathered here.

Yu Tian and the other two started approaching the buildings again, all the way to the edge of the wheat field.

Then, the three of them squatted down and quietly pushed away the wheat in front of them, starting to observe the situation outside.

The large wooden house was still over 100 meters away from the wheat field. Even the nearest storage room was about 70 to 80 meters away.

Their current location was at the northwest corner of a few buildings.

If they wanted to attack these buildings, it would be the most dangerous to attack from the front. They would also have to face the most firepower.

Those genetic warriors were basically gathered at the front of the buildings.

If they attacked from the back of the buildings without doors or windows, or from the corners of the buildings, they would be able to slightly avoid those genetic warriors. They would not have to worry about someone shooting at them.

The few of them quietly observed for a while, then retreated a little and started discussing how to act.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment, then took the lead and said, "Our final target is that warehouse. There is a taxi inside..."

("Why don't we just rob the few cars parked bei was somewhat puzzled. "The two cars at the outermost perimeter are only 1+0 to 50 meters away from us. This should be the most likely way to snatch them. "

“It’s useless to just snatch them. We still have to drive them away. “If it’s those cars outside, I’m afraid we’ll be targeted as soon as we get into the cars. “It doesn’t matter if the cars are riddled with bullets. If our people are riddled with bullets as well...”

“But, even if we charge into the warehouse, we can’t avoid being targeted by them, right? The walls of the warehouse can’t even block a few bullets....”

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1394 - 1394: 1,393, risk it all - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1394 - 1394: 1,393, risk it all

Chapter 1394: Chapter 1,393, risk it all

Translator: 549690339

“Therefore, the warehouse is our ultimate goal. We must first break into their house and fight with them to attract their attention...”

Yu Tian scratched his head and said, “If you can hold the enemy off for a while, you should have a chance to sneak into the warehouse, then secretly start the car and break out of the warehouse...”

Meng bei asked curiously, “What About You?”

Yu Tian said, “I’m wearing a bulletproof vest. When the time comes, I can directly kill my way out and jump into your car.

Meng nan sighed, “That’s the only way. We can hit the wall from the back of the warehouse, so our chances of escaping should be higher. We can also avoid the enemies in the front...”

Yu Tian said, “The key is to ensure the safety of the taxi. “The enemies are only blocking this wheat field. There shouldn’t be any enemies on the east side. “As long as the car runs at a high speed and keeps running east, the chances of escaping are still very high. ”

Meng bei said again, “If we run into the buildings, won’t the enemies surround us?”

Meng nan said, “We can go through the roofs. These wooden houses are quite high. It’s night now. The enemies may not be able to detect our movements during the battle.”

Yu Tian nodded and said, “Yes, that depends on whether you can find the right time.

Meng nan said, "I'm mainly worried about whether we can smoothly run into that big wooden house and how long we can hold the enemy in the big wooden house."

Meng bei also sighed and said, "It would be great if we had guns. Now we only have a few cold weapons. My short knives are all broken..."

Meng Nan and Meng Bei had fought with the two knight Squires just now. Although there was no winner, their daggers had lost to each other and were full of holes.

The weapons in the hands of the two knight Squires were not ordinary. Even Yu Tian's broken spear could not cut them off.

Now that he thought about it, Yu Tian suddenly felt a little regretful. After the two knight Squires self-destructed, he should have gone to pick up their weapons.

Even if he couldn't use them, he could still give them to Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

Or he could bring them back and study them to see what materials they were made of.

The weapons of the Knight's retinues should all be mass-produced.

If he understood their materials and manufacturing process, he could also use them to arm the ancient martial art practitioners of the East Dragon Company in the future.

However, Yu Tian was only concerned about saving people at that time, and then a big fire was lit. Everyone was also concerned about escaping from the fire, so they forgot about this weapon.

Yu Tian was silent for a moment, then, he said to Meng Nan and Meng bei, "I don't think you guys have fought with the military and police forces before. In fact, in the interior of the house, hot weapons might not be as useful as cold weapons. Especially for martial artists who are fast and agile, the use of hot weapons is not as free as cold weapons..."

Meng nan said, "(I know. I'm not very worried about fighting with them in the house. I'm mainly worried that they will open fire outside the house, or even set fire to us, using explosives..."

Yu Tian said helplessly, "There's nothing we can do about that. If they don't plan to engage in close combat with us, we can just jump into the warehouse and Gamble on our luck. "Perhaps, we can also run out before the taxi gets destroyed... However, based on my understanding of genetic warriors, they quite like to engage in close combat.

Meng Nan and Meng Bei had never fought with the army before, so they did not know much about the combat habits of genetic warriors.

Genetic warriors liked to rely on their thick skin to charge forward with guns.

If they were in an open environment, they might still be able to maintain some distance from Yu Tian and use the advantage of their guns to kill Yu Tian from a distance.

However, if Yu Tian hid inside the house, they would lose their vision, and their guns might not be able to hit Yu Tian.

Kronin would know more about Yu Tian's equipment. At the very least, he would know that Yu Tian had a certain degree of bulletproof capability.

Shooting at Yu Tian through the walls of the house would basically have no effect. Even if they managed to hit Yu Tian a few times, it would be completely meaningless.

Of course, they could also use grenades or rocket launchers. This was also the combat style that genetic warriors were most used to. However, there was also no guarantee that they would be able to kill Yu Tian.

There might be new combat styles for genetic warriors in the future. However, there would not be too many changes in the short term. Yu Tian felt that the possibility of them charging into the wooden house to engage in a chaotic battle was still very high.

Yu Tian's current combat plan was not very good. However, when it came to fighting with their lives on the line, the most important thing was still to look at their own combat strength.

No matter how good a plan was, there would inevitably be times when there were omissions.

Sometimes, if they put their lives on the line, they could actually find a chance to survive.

There was no need to hesitate too long on the plan. It was enough to have a rough target.

The fire behind them was getting closer and closer. The Wheat Field was really not a place to stay for long.

Yu Tian pulled out his broken spear and then said to Meng Nan and Meng bei, "I'll rush out first. You guys wait for me to attract the fire and then look for an opportunity... if there's an opportunity, you 'd better grab a body armor and put it on. "

"Okay.

Meng nan nodded.

Actually, before they set off, the command center had also advised them to put on bulletproof vests.

However, a few eastern ancient martial art practitioners were very confident in their own skills and felt that they did not need things like bulletproof vests.

Wearing too much would actually be a burden to them. It would affect their ability to carry weapons and concealed weapons with them.

Of course, they weren't stubborn.

If they had to wear bulletproof vests on the battlefield when they arrived at the farm, they wouldn't have to go to battle shirtless.

Unfortunately, they wouldn't have the chance to change their clothes after the operation began.

It wasn't impossible to snatch two bulletproof vests from the battlefield, but they needed a good opportunity and time to put them on.

Yu Tian was the only one who could take a beating, so Yu Tian could only lead the charge and draw fire for Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

The three of them moved in different directions and prepared to enter from two directions in the building complex.

Yu Tian's goal was to go around to the big wooden house to attract the enemy's attention.

Meng Nan and Meng Bei tried to sneak in from the right warehouse where the taxi was parked.

They didn't have any specific tactics. Their ultimate goal was to take the taxi from the warehouse.

But if there was an opportunity, it wasn't impossible to take the taxi from the enemy.

If Meng Nan and Meng Bei's actions were discovered by the enemy, they would first enter the big wooden house and meet up with Yu Tian. Then, they would find an opportunity to enter the warehouse.

If they were lucky, they might drive the taxi out right after the fight started.

In short, any plan that was put on the actual battlefield would have to rely on themselves to adapt to the situation.

Meng Nan and Meng bei slowly retreated and then circled around a few dozen meters away, in the right direction of the building complex.

Yu Tian waited for a while. He estimated that they were almost in position and suddenly moved..

Chapter 1395: Chapter 1,394, a golden opportunity bestowed by the heavens

Translator: 549690339

The world record for the human race's 100 -meter dash had already been broken for ten seconds. Yu Tian's qinggong speed was usually around 50 to 60 kilometers per hour, which was about twice the speed of the world record.

However, under Yu Tian's full-powered sprinting, his speed could still be increased in preparation. After running over the 100 -meter dash, it only took him two to three seconds to catch his breath.

Like an arrow, he shot toward his target, creating a strong wind like a train.

The moment Yu Tian jumped out of the wheat field, at least half of the genetic warriors were alarmed by him.

Without any hesitation, these genetic warriors immediately raised their guns and started shooting.

However, at this moment, Yu Tian had already covered half of the distance.

He was only about 30 to 40 meters away from the nearest storage room.

The reaction speed of these genetic warriors wasn't actually slow. However, raising their weapons and aiming at the target would require at least half a second.

Furthermore, they had already been waiting by the wheat field for half an hour. At this time, they had already relaxed a little. It was impossible for them to maintain a state of concentration.

Yu Tian's speed was so fast that even the muzzles of their guns could not keep up with him.

Gunshots rang out one after another, but only a few managed to hit Yu Tian.

Two or three bullets did not affect Yu Tian's movements at all.

If it was a machine gun firing, causing the bullets to splash toward Yu Tian like water, Yu Tian might even be knocked over by the bullets.

The genetic warrior's pickup truck also had a machine gun, but there was no time to change the muzzle.

Although the machine gunner had been keeping his guard up, there was no time for him to react for two or three seconds.

By the time he changed the muzzle, Yu Tian had already dodged to the back of the storeroom.

The rest of the genetic warriors quickly surrounded the storeroom, and the machine guns finally started venting their anger on the storeroom.

The buildings on the farm were all made of wood. Naturally, the bullets from the machine guns could easily pierce through them.

However, there were a lot of tools in the storeroom. Under the influence of various obstacles, the impact of the machine guns on Yu Tian was limited.

Furthermore, Yu Tian did not stay behind the storeroom for too long. After taking a short breath, he adjusted his direction and immediately dashed towards the direction of the large wooden house.

There were also genetic warriors whose movement speed was quite outstanding. In addition, they were originally located quite close to the large wooden house. At this moment, they instantly blocked Yu Tian's path. The moment they saw Yu Tian's black figure, they started firing. They did not even have the time to determine Yu Tian's identity.

As long as there was the sound of gunfire, they would enter combat mode.

Under any sudden circumstances, firing was their only choice.

The machine gunner immediately changed the muzzle of his gun, throwing the rain of bullets in Yu Tian's direction. He didn't even know if there were his own people blocking the muzzle of his gun.

In the combat habits of genetic warriors, there was basically no need to care about accidental injuries. Normal rifles wouldn't be able to harm them at all.

However, machine gun firing was different.

During the assault on the Wild Fox Secret Service base, the genetic warriors had suffered the consequences of heavy machine guns. Heavy machine guns could definitely break through their bulletproof vests and kill them on the spot.

The moment the machine guns on the pickup truck opened fire, the genetic warriors that were grazed by the bullets were also sent flying.

Fortunately, the caliber of their machine guns was slightly smaller than the heavy machine guns used by the Wild Fox Secret Service. These genetic warriors would not die on the spot.

However, the feeling of being shot by machine guns was definitely not pleasant. Those genetic warriors who were shot by machine guns were either beaten until their bones were broken or they fainted on the spot.

Yu Tian was finally hit by the rain of bullets. However, the advantage of his bulletproof vest was also displayed at this moment.

Even the anti-material sniper rifle could not do anything to Yu Tian. These few machine gun bullets could not do anything to him either.

Yu Tian only felt that he had taken two punches. His body swayed slightly, and then he continued ramming towards the direction of the large wooden house.

A genetic warrior fearlessly blocked his path, crazily pulling the trigger in his hand until the magazine in his hand was completely emptied.

Yu Tian brushed past the genetic warrior, and the broken spear in his hand was raised.

The gray broken spear did not have any blade light, and it silently slashed across the genetic warrior's neck.

There was no gap in the genetic warrior's bulletproof equipment. Even at the neck, there was a high armor collar.

However, this kind of material could not stop the iron-like broken spear.

Yu Tian's figure flashed past quickly. The genetic warrior twisted his neck in the direction Yu Tian had run.

Then, he seemed to see his own buttocks.

How could a person see his own buttocks?

He finally came to a realization. It turned out that his head had fallen off.

Blood spurted out from the headless corpse like a fountain. Even with the unique body structure of genetic warriors, it was still unable to change the situation where blood spurted out from the wound.

The corpse fell straight to the ground.

The rest of the genetic warriors did not have time to be shocked or stunned. They silently chased after Yu Tian and continued firing in the direction where he had disappeared.

Yu Tian finally charged into the large wooden house. The environment inside the house was much safer than outside.

Although the enemies were still firing, their accuracy was not even worth mentioning.

Yu Tian slightly adjusted the direction and rhythm of his advance. In an instant, he disappeared from the large wooden house.

The wooden house was 200 to 300 square meters in size. Even with machine gun fire, it would be difficult to cover every corner of the house.

Coupled with Yu Tian's movement speed, it would be very difficult for the bullets of the genetic warriors to catch up to his position.

There was no point in trying luck. Two or three bullets would not be able to injure Yu Tian at all.

Genetic warriors had never been afraid of death. Without any hesitation, they chased after the hole in the wall that Yu Tian had broken through.

The thirty to forty genetic warriors outside the house had all given up on their outer defenses and surrounded the large wooden house.

At the same time, the genetic warriors on the vehicles immediately called for reinforcements.

Instantly, all the genetic warriors around the farm moved.

They boarded the vehicles and quickly surrounded the large wooden house.

The main target of the clone society was Yu Tian. In their eyes, the other ancient martial art practitioners were targets that they could give up on.

As long as they discovered Yu Tian's whereabouts, the encirclement of the entire farm could be removed. All their manpower would be sent to surround and kill Yu Tian.

Meng Nan and Meng Bei had no idea how decisive the actions of the genetic warriors would be, nor did they know how quickly they would arrive.

Seeing all the genetic warriors surrounding the direction of the big wooden house, they felt that this was simply a heaven-sent opportunity.

They didn't even need to rush into the warehouse to look for the taxi. All they needed to do was to grab a genetic warrior pickup truck from outside.

Of course, there were also machine gunners on two pickup trucks. This was an enemy they had to deal with..

Chapter 1396: Chapter 1,395, seizing the vehicle

Translator: 549690339

It was not difficult to get rid of the machine gunner on the pickup truck, as the machine gunner had already pointed the muzzle in the direction of the large wooden house.

The reason Meng Nan and Meng Bei felt that this was a godsend opportunity was because all the genetic warriors had placed their attention on Yu Tian.

All the genetic warriors had memorized Yu Tian's characteristics. As long as they surrounded and killed Yu Tian, their mission would be a success.

Right now, they couldn't care less about whether there were still people in the wheat field or not. They didn't even care if the enemy slipped away from behind them.

Perhaps they had considered whether the enemy would attack them in batches. However, when they saw Yu Tian, they couldn't care less about anything else

The two brothers jumped out of wheat field at the same time and pounced on the two pickup trucks.

Although they were young, their skills were not inferior to an ordinary ancient martial art practitioner, and their movement speed was the same.

In just one or two seconds, they ran to the side of the pickup truck.

At this time, the machine gunners in the pickup truck had not even noticed their arrival and were still shooting intermittently into the big wooden house.

As long as there was a one in ten thousand chance, they would create some trouble for Yu Tian.

Only two people were left in each pickup truck. One was a machine gunner, and the other was a sub-machine gunner.

There was no driver in any of the cars. The driver and the team commander had already taken their guns to battle.

Meng Nan and Meng bei broke the neck of the machine gunner at the first moment, and then immediately pounced on the sub-machine gunner.

They did not use their knives. When dealing with enemies with bulletproof vests, ordinary cold weapons were completely meaningless.

Just like Yu Tian in the past, they could only use the method of breaking the neck to deal with genetic warriors.

Their skills were not weak. Ordinary genetic warriors were completely unable to retaliate in front of them. The sub-machine gunner did not even have the chance to resist. In the blink of an eye, he was killed by them.

The sound of the machine gun stopped abruptly.

The short pause did not attract the attention of the other genetic warriors.

This was because after Yu Tian entered the large wooden house, the machine gun 's firing was already intermittent.

Furthermore, after the other genetic warriors entered the wooden house in large numbers, the machine gunner would naturally stop firing.

There were more of them, so the random firing of the machine gun posed a greater threat to their own people.

Meng Nan originally wanted to use the machine gun to chase after the genetic warriors'buttocks. However, he had never fired a gun before, and he did not know if he had made any mistakes or not. In fact, he could not even find the trigger of the machine gun.

Killing the enemy was not the most important task right now. The most important task was to snatch the car.

Meng Nan turned his head to take a look. Meng bei had already gotten into the driver's seat and was preparing to start the car.

One car was enough.

Meng Nan did not hesitate and immediately ran toward the pickup truck Meng Bei was in.

However, he did not immediately enter the passenger seat. Instead, he jumped into the truck and started to remove the bulletproof equipment on the genetic warriors.

The genetic warriors were all fully armed. Regardless of whether they were machine gunners or sub-machine gunners, they all had a full set of bulletproof helmets and vests.

Meng Nan took off their helmets, and then started peeling off their bulletproof vests in a flurry.

This type of full-body bulletproof vests was rather troublesome to wear. Meng bei had already started the car, but Meng Nan had yet to take off his bulletproof vests.

Meng bei instantly became anxious. "Hurry up and get in. We'll leave immediately!

"I want to take off their bulletproof vests...

"Forget about the bulletproof vests. Let's make the best use of this opportunity to leave quickly!

Meng bei practically started shouting.

However, the sound of gunfire could be heard all around large wooden house. Even if he shouted, it would not attract the attention of the other genetic warriors.

This was indeed the best chance for them to escape.

If they did not need to consider Yu Tian, they could totally take this opportunity to escape by themselves.

They knew that the main target of the clone society was definitely Yu Tian. If they wanted to escape alone, their chances would be much higher.

But the dignity of the ancient martial art practitioners did not allow them to do such a thing.

The reason why they were willing to accept the mission of the East Dragon Company was more for the sake of the country.

The eastern country's security department had told them some things about the East Dragon Company. They knew that this operation was not to serve some capital, but to fight for the interests of the country.

If they were willing to accept such a mission, they would not be afraid of death.

Yu Tian was something they had to take away.

Even if they had to die for it, it would be a worthwhile death.

People were naturally afraid of death, but under certain circumstances, the eastern people would not care about their own lives at all.

Meng Nan hesitated for a moment and immediately stopped what he was doing.

He picked up two bulletproof helmets and quickly jumped to the front passenger seat.

One level three head per person would at least make him safer.

Meng bei didn't wait for Meng Nan to sit down and immediately rushed out in his pickup truck.

They didn't directly rush in the direction of the big wooden house. Instead, they went around to the back of the house.

There was an empty space behind the house that was over a hundred meters wide. On the other side of the house, there was also a wheat field. There was a small road that could be used by vehicles. No one knew where it led to.

Yu Tian was running around the wooden house at this time. He needed to familiarize himself with the structure of the wooden house.

As for whether there was anyone in the house, this was not important. After all, he could kill anyone he saw.

However, after running around the house, Yu Tian realized that there was no one in the house. The residents that the drone had discovered earlier were no longer in the house.

Perhaps those people were not operational personnel, so they had evacuated early on.

Yu Tian had originally thought that he could still kill a few members of the clone society while he was at it. However, now that he could not meet them, there was nothing he could do about it.

This was not an important matter.

The genetic warriors had already charged into the house from all directions. Yu Tian had just dashed from the bedroom to the corridor when he met the enemy head-on.

Upon seeing Yu Tianhou's first reaction, the genetic warriors immediately fired their guns and threw out the grenades in their hands.

This was their usual routine.

The grenade explosion in the house was naturally extremely powerful.

The enemies and allies were already close to each other. The area of effect of the grenade explosion not only covered Yu Tian, but also the other genetic warriors.

However, the genetic warriors did not care. Being able to die together with Yu Tian was also a victory.

The genetic modification not only changed their bodies, but also their brains.

The thoughts of these low-level genetic warriors were very simple.

However, Yu Tian was no longer in the situation where he did not have any equipment. The grenade could no longer hurt him.

The brave would win in a face-off. Yu Tian did not dodge or dodge at all. Instead, he directly rammed into the group of genetic warriors.

In the narrow corridor, he could not dodge the bullets at all. He could not escape the range of the grenades either.

Ramming into the group of people was actually a better protection for him.

The only thing he needed to overcome was the impact of the bullets on him..

Chapter 1397: Chapter 1,396, evasive action

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian had originally wanted to use his sword aura. This was his strongest combat technique.

The six meridians godly sword was invincible. It could not even block a safety door made of steel, let alone the bulletproof vest of a genetic warrior.

All he needed was a flash of sword aura, and all the genetic warriors blocking the corridor would lose their lives. There was no way for them to dodge.

However, Yu Tian still did not know how long the battle would last. Unless it was absolutely necessary, he should not recklessly use his internal energy.

He simply stomped on the floor, forcefully withstanding the impact of the bullets, and rammed forward with all his strength.

With a loud bang, Yu Tian collided with those genetic warriors.

Subsequently, the grenades behind him exploded one after another, knocking him and those genetic warriors to the ground.

Yu Tian was not injured. He only felt someone forcefully pushing him from behind. The back of his bulletproof helmet crackled from the impact of the shrapnel.

The hidden genetic warriors were also unharmed from the explosion. This was the chaotic fighting method they were used to.

Normal people would not be able to withstand the explosion of the grenades and throw them at close range.

However, they knew that if they wanted to injure Yu Tian with a grenade, they had to throw the grenade under Yu Tian's feet. Furthermore, it was not just one or two grenades.

After all, Yu Tian was the boss of the Eastern Dragon Company. Even if his physical fitness was inferior to that of a genetic warrior, the bulletproof vest he wore was definitely much better than that of a genetic warrior.

If even a genetic warrior could withstand a grenade at close range, Yu Tian would not die so easily.

Therefore, after throwing out the first wave of grenades, the genetic warriors had already prepared the second wave of grenades.

Taking advantage of the moment when everyone was falling into a mess, a few genetic warriors immediately rushed over to hug Yu Tian in a flurry. Then, one by one, they unbuckled the safety of the grenades.

Yu Tian's biggest headache was the movement speed of the ancient martial art warriors, as well as his nimble movements.

Hot weapons were not completely unable to deal with Yu Tian. It was just that most of the time, they were unable to attack Yu Tian.

If Yu Tian was exposed in a wide area, they could use the rain of bullets to grind Yu Tian to death.

When Yu Tian appeared in the room, if they wanted to use grenades to threaten Yu Tian, they could only use the method of self-detonation.

They had to hug Yu Tian and detonate the grenade. Only then would they be able to cause the greatest damage to Yu Tian.

Yu Tian immediately sensed the intentions of the genetic warriors. This group of lunatics who did not care about their lives made him feel an extremely great threat.

With a loud shout, Yu Tian leaped up abruptly. These genetic warriors simply could not hold him back.

Following that, Yu Tian stomped down ruthlessly, stomping down on a genetic warrior until his intestines were pierced through.

With this stomp, he once again dashed forward at high speed, instantly escaping the corridor.

Seeing this, those genetic warriors hurriedly threw the grenades in their hands towards the end of the corridor.

At the end of the corridor was the living room. Yu Tian stepped lightly on the waves and turned around elegantly, perfectly avoiding these grenades.

The sounds of explosions rang out one after another. The few grenades in the living room exploded in mid-air, causing the shrapnel to shoot out like blisters.

However, Yu Tian had already dashed into the dining room. These shrapnel did not even touch the corner of his shirt.

The sound of explosions could be heard from the corridor as well. The genetic warrior that had been trampled to death by Yu Tian did not have the chance to throw the grenade out. Instead, he successfully completed his self-detonation. At the same time, he also gave his comrades beside him a ride.

This explosion did not take the lives of those genetic warriors, but it was enough to knock them out on the spot.

The living room was filled with smoke. The genetic warriors chasing after Yu Tian hurriedly ran out of the corridor, trying to figure out Yu Tian's whereabouts amidst the smoke.

Unexpectedly, Yu Tian suddenly dashed out from the smoke again. The broken spear in his hand slashed left and right, moving as fast as lightning. In an instant, the two genetic warriors in front of him were mocked to the ground.

The rest of the genetic warriors hurriedly knocked the grenade in front of their chests. They did not even have the time to remove the grenade from their bodies.

However, the fuse of the grenade had a delay of a few seconds. This time, Yu Tian did not retreat. Instead, he pounced forward and brandished the broken spear in his hand once again.

Genetic warriors who risked their lives were very dangerous. However, when Yu Tian risked his life, it was even more dangerous.

With the protection of the bulletproof vest, Yu Tian also had the qualifications to risk his life. Even if he made a mistake in his operation, getting hit by the grenade was not a life-threatening matter to him.

He spent a second to kill all these genetic warriors. Then, he continued to move forward, avoiding the center of the explosion.

Another explosion sounded, pushing Yu Tian out of the door of the large wooden house.

Not all the genetic warriors rushed into the house. There were also a few left outside the house to guard against Yu Tian's escape.

When they saw Yu Tian suddenly charging out of the door, they were all stunned. Then, they hurriedly fired their guns.

Yu Tian did not panic. He continued to tread on the waves, dodging the enemy's bullet screen like a snake.

He was about to jump into the house again from the window when he suddenly realized something.

He suddenly turned his head. A pickup truck not far away was speeding toward the back of the big wooden house.

Meng Nan, Meng Bei?

Yu Tian immediately saw Meng bei in the driver's seat. Meng bei was also staring at Yu Tian with his eyes wide open, pleasantly surprised.

Yu Tian finally heaved a sigh of relief. Meng Nan and Meng Bei had succeeded.

They had seized the best opportunity and coordinated perfectly with Yu Tian's actions.

If they didn't leave now, when would they leave?

Yu Tian didn't enter the wooden house again. Although he was confident in killing all these dozens of genetic warriors, there was no need to waste time with these small fries.

The enemy probably still had a few hundred people in this farm. The first wave of reinforcements would most likely arrive in an instant.

Although the large cabin was a battlefield suitable for Yu Tian, the number of enemies gathering was still a problem.

The best choice was to retreat as soon as possible.

Without the slightest hesitation, Yu Tian suddenly turned around and pounced toward the few genetic warriors outside the cabin.

The genetic warriors had just emptied their bullets, so they did not have the time to change their magazines. They took out their grenades at the same time and rushed toward Yu Tian one after another.

Yu Tian sneered in his heart. He was very clear about the intentions of these few desperadoes. They just wanted to hug him and self-destruct.

However, these genetic warriors were simply not qualified to keep Yu Tian. Yu Tian stepped on the waves with light steps. Even many ancient martial art practitioners could not touch his body.

Like a phantom, Yu Tian passed by the genetic warriors and used his broken spear to cut them down one by one.

In the blink of an eye, the heads of the genetic warriors were separated, and they became human meat stalls in front of the big wooden house.

There were only a few genetic warriors, and they could not delay Yu Tian for more than a few seconds.

Before the grenade exploded, Yu Tian jumped out of the empty space in front of the big wooden house and landed in the back of the pickup truck. Then, Yu Tian slammed the roof of the cab and shouted, Speed up and get out of Here!

Chapter 1398: Chapter 1,397-escape

Translator: 549690339

Meng Nan, Meng Bei, and Meng bei originally wanted to go around to the back of the big wooden house and use the car horn to warn Yu Tian to break out.

However, they didn't expect Yu Tian to come out of the big wooden house, and they bumped into each other.

This saved them a lot of time to retreat. Meng Nan, Meng Bei, and Meng bei immediately laughed out loud.

Then, Meng Bei stepped on the accelerator and ran toward the east of the big wooden house as fast as he could.

Their previous plan was to break out of the encirclement from the east side of the farm.

The west side was a highway that led directly to dawn city, but the area around the wheat fields was also the place with the most enemies.

The east side was also a wheat field, and there was also a small road, but they didn't know where it led to.

Before starting the operation, Yu Tian didn't carefully study the terrain around the farm.

Because the command center could provide him with all-round support, he did not need to use his brain on the operation plan. This also made him form a bad habit of relying on the command center for everything.

Now that the communication with the command center was completely cut off, he immediately realized the disadvantages of this nanny-type operation support.

Therefore, in the future, before the operations department of Donglong Company took action, they should still do their homework, understand all the information clearly, and formulate a few emergency plans.

They could not rely on the nanny of the command center to be a mindless chess piece.

Of course, that was in the future.

Now, Yu Tian and the others still had to seize the time to escape, because the first batch of enemy reinforcements had arrived.

The first batch of enemies were also a few pickup trucks, and there was a long convoy in the distance.

They appeared in the right-hand direction of Yu Tian and the others. When they saw the pickup trucks of Yu Tian and the others, the enemy reinforcements did not hesitate at all, nor did they shout to ask for their identities. They immediately began shooting at Yu Tian and the others, they charged at Yu Tian and the others at a slanted angle.

They would not let anyone or any vehicle leave this farm.

The pickup trucks all had machine guns, which were enough to cause a huge amount of damage to other vehicles.

It was inevitable that they would be shot.

Yu Tian knew that the enemy's support would arrive very quickly. Faced with such a situation, he was helpless. He could only shoot at the enemy and Gamble on his luck.

He also had a machine gun in the back of his truck. It was a machine gun versus machine gun battle. It All depended on whose life was stronger.

The sound of gunshots rang out.

Yu Tian's marksmanship had always been sloppy. The marksmanship of genetic warriors was not much better.

However, machine gun shooting did not pay attention to accuracy. As long as one had the strength to withstand the powerful recoil, stabilize the body of the gun, and maintain the general direction of the muzzle, they would be able to unleash the firepower of a machine gun.

Yu Tian was shot over a dozen times in an instant, and the pickup truck was also hit by the Bullets.

Of course, he was not willing to be outdone. He withstood the bullets and launched a counterattack at the enemy.

The bullet curtain sprayed at the enemy, accurately covering the front of the entire cockpit of the enemy, hitting the windshield and the driver in the face.

Yu Tian did not know whether the driver was still alive or not, but the enemy's first pickup truck quickly slanted to the side, losing the ability to chase.

However, Yu Tian didn't feel good either. The enemy was shooting at them from the side, and their entire side was exposed to the enemy's muzzle.

Yu Tian wasn't worried about his own safety. Taking a few bullets wasn't a big deal to him.

However, he was worried about the Meng, Nan, Meng, and Bei Brothers in the driver's seat. If they were shot, the pickup truck wouldn't be able to run.

In addition, the safety of the pickup truck itself was also important.

If the truck was also shot and exploded by the enemy, then they wouldn't be able to run.

However, their luck seemed to be good. The pickup truck didn't show any signs of being damaged by the bullets. Not only did it not slow down, but it quickly increased its speed.

After taking a few bullets, the pickup truck of Yu Tian and the other two slipped into a small path in the wheat field in the east, leaving behind a silhouette of the enemy.

The first wave of shooting ended in a hasty manner.

Under the condition of the high-speed driving of the vehicles, there was not much time left for the two sides to exchange fire.

The other vehicles of the enemy still did not give up chasing and followed them all the way to the small road.

However, the situation was much better than before.

Using the rear of the vehicle to withstand the bullets of the enemy, the probability of the vehicle being damaged was much smaller, and the Meng, Nan, Meng, and Bei in the driver's cab were also much safer.

Although this small road in the wheat field could be opened to traffic, and it could even meet cars, it was not enough for two cars to drive side by side at high speed.

Yu Tian now only needed to face the first car at the rear, and the pressure was immediately reduced.

His machine gun did not stop firing, and the enemies that were chasing him were also firing fiercely at him.

However, the terrain of this small road was a little undulating. Everyone was bouncing around on the back of the car, and the direction of the muzzle was not so easy to control, so the accuracy of the shots was suddenly reduced by a lot.

The chase continued for another two miles. No matter how low the accuracy of the machine guns was, Yu Tian had been shot countless times.

However, the enemies who were chasing him were in a worse state than him.

The enemy machine gunner was knocked down from the pickup truck by him. Furthermore, he was run over by the motorcade behind him. He did not care about his comrades who were lying on the road.

Yu Tian did not know whether that fellow was dead or not. However, the machine gun on the enemy's first car had completely stopped firing.

The windshield of the car had also shattered. The driver had pulled it off and thrown it to the side of the road.

However, the driver was also a genetic warrior. He was also fully armed. Even though he had been shot a few times, he seemed to be fine.

Yu Tian continued to work hard. He focused his firepower on the driver.

After running for a few hundred meters, the driver was still not killed by Yu Tian. However, the enemy's car had stalled.

The front cover of the car had been knocked over, and the car slowly stopped in the middle of the road.

Yu Tian was instantly amused. He suddenly remembered that he should have attacked the enemy's car itself. Destroying the engine of the car was more reliable than killing the enemy in the car.

It was a pity that the machine gun in his hand was not violent enough.

Otherwise, it would not have been impossible to blow up the enemy's car.

The enemy's first car blocked the road, causing a lot of trouble for the entire motorcade behind.

The rear-end collision accidents happened one after another. The entire motorcade's pursuit stopped.

However, the chaos did not last long. The enemy quickly drove into the wheat fields by the roadside, bypassing the abandoned cars and continuing to chase.

However, after such a delay, Yu Tian and the others finally managed to shake off the enemy for some distance. The red-hot machine gun was finally able to catch its breath.

Yu Tian threw down the machine gun and patted the roof of the driver's seat happily. "Our luck is not bad. Continue to speed up and shake off the enemy! "

The car was still moving at high speed, but Meng Bei's anxious voice came from the driver's seat. "Meng Nan is injured. Take a look at his wound.."

Chapter 1399: Chapter 1,398, changing

Translator: 549690339

Meng Nan had already been shot before they entered the wheat field on the east side.

The enemy's volley of bullets on their side finally had an effect.

Meng Nan and Meng Bei did not wear bulletproof vests, and Meng Bei did not even wear a bulletproof helmet.

However, Meng Bei was lucky. He sat in the driver's seat, and Meng Nan took a few bullets for him on the copilot seat.

Meng Nan put on a bullet-proof helmet and was lucky not to be shot in the head by a machine gun.

However, he was still shot twice.

If it was just an ordinary handgun or rifle, taking two bullets would not be fatal for an ancient martial art practitioner.

This was because ancient martial art practitioners had some internal energy protection methods, and their bodies were much sturdier than ordinary people.

In addition, the metal door could more or less block bullets, and it could also form a protective barrier for them.

After being shot twice, they also knew how to simply treat their wounds and seal the flow of blood around the wounds so that they would not lose too much blood.

However, the caliber of machine gun bullets was still a little too big. The body structure of an ancient martial art practitioner was not as abnormal as that of a genetic warrior. Along the way, Meng Nan's blood still made a large area of the passenger seat wet.

Just now, Yu Tian had been shooting fiercely at the enemy, so Meng Nan naturally could not let Yu Tian heal him.

Now that the shooting had stopped, they had to quickly treat their wounds.

Meng Nan opened the passenger door and leaned out half of his body.

Yu Tian grabbed Meng Nan's arm and pulled him into the trunk.

The space in the driver's seat was too small for three people to sit. They could only treat their wounds in the trunk.

The most troublesome part of a gunshot wound was to dig out the bullet. However, some ancient martial art practitioners could use their inner strength to force the bullet out of their bodies.

A young ancient martial art practitioner like Meng Nan did not have enough inner strength. His ability in this aspect was also slightly inferior, so he still needed Yu Tian to provide some assistance.

One of the wounds was on his upper arm and the other on his waist.

The wound on his upper arm was still a small matter, but the wound on his waist had injured his internal organs.

The matter was a little troublesome. Yu Tian first helped Meng Nan remove the bullet, then began to stop the bleeding and suture the wound..

Yu Tian was already familiar with this kind of work. However, he had already treated Meng Nan and Meng bei once before, so the consumption of his internal energy was a little high.

Now that he was dealing with Meng Nan's two gunshot wounds, he could only let the wounds on the outside quickly scab over. He could not let the internal injuries heal quickly.

After dealing with the wounds, Meng Nan looked normal on the surface, but he had temporarily lost his combat ability. He could no longer participate in the intense battle.

However, their focus now was not on the battle, but on maintaining the speed of the car and trying to shake off the enemy in this wheat field as much as possible.

Meng bei was very clear on this point. He had been stepping on the floor oil and charging the entire way.

Yu Tian and Meng Nan jolted like dogs in the back of the car. They did not complain in the slightest.

In fact, it was not so easy to shake off the enemy.

Although they had already pulled away from the enemy, their vehicles and the enemy's vehicles had similar performance, so it was difficult for the distance between them to continue to expand.

Moreover, Meng Bei was not a professional racer, and his driving skills were not enough to completely shake off the enemy.

After walking out of this wheat field, a forest began to appear in front of them.

Fortunately, this was an orchard in the farm. There was still a road to continue forward along the orchard.

Yu Tian had been paying attention to the movements of the enemy behind him. After leaving the wheat field, the road became much more spacious and flat, which made it easier for the enemy team to chase after them.

If the enemy caught up to him again, Yu Tian would have to face at least two machine guns.

However, the situation was not bad now. Because the road was flat, Meng Bei's ordinary driving skills could also move at full speed. They would not be slowed down by the road conditions.

Yu Tian confirmed with Meng bei the remaining amount of fuel in the tank.

Fortunately, the Kronin had filled up all the cars before they took action. The remaining amount of fuel should be enough for them to run another 100 kilometers.

Yu Tian let out a sigh of relief. 100 kilometers should be enough for them to run to the next town.

If they entered the city, the genetic warriors wouldn't have the courage to start a chase and shoot-out with them.

Moreover, the terrain of the city was complicated, so they had a better chance of escaping.

After walking for more than ten miles, their pickup truck finally entered the wide road.

It was already early in the morning. There were no other vehicles on the road. Only their pickup truck was running wildly on the road, as well as the enemies chasing closely behind them.

Yu Tian's spirits were lifted.

In a road chase like this, the main thing was still the performance of the car. Meng bei would basically not have any driving pressure.

As long as they could continue running along the road, they would definitely reach the next town, and that would be their chance to escape.

However, before Yu Tian could be happy for long, the trees on both sides of the road gradually began to appear, and the route forward began to turn.

The rain was cold..

Yu Tian instantly felt that something was amiss.

Among the enemy's fleet, there were definitely some who had better driving skills.

There was no need for any godly drivers. As long as their driving skills were better than Meng Bei's, they would be able to pass through these turns and gradually close the distance between them.

"Meng Bei, quickly change into bulletproof vests! "

There were still two corpses of genetic warriors in the trunk. Meng Nan had already removed the bulletproof vests on their bodies, and he had already put them on neatly.

Now, only Meng Bei was left without any protection.

"I'm driving!

The bulletproof vests of this era were not simple bulletproof vests. Instead, they were full sets of clothes and pants, similar to long johns.

This was especially so for the heavy bulletproof vests that the genetic warriors were wearing. They also included gloves and boots that possessed considerable defensive capabilities.

No matter how good Meng Bei's driving skills were, it was impossible for him to change into these vests while he was driving.

"Let Me Drive! "

Meng Nan crawled back to the front passenger seat and started to take over Meng Bei's position.

On a stretch of straight road, the two of them quickly exchanged positions and did not waste too much time.

Yu Tian could already see the enemy's headlights. Indeed, there were some enemies that were closer to them.

If there were a few more turns, these enemies should be able to catch up to them.

Soon, the battle would start once again. Meng bei made use of this last bit of time to finally put on his full set of bulletproof equipment.

There were also some weapons and ammunition in the trunk. They were mainly machine guns and ammunition boxes for machine guns. Naturally, these were Yu Tian's weapons.

In addition, the enemy's machine gunner had a pistol on him. The sub-machine gunner also had an automatic rifle and a pistol.

These weapons were basically useless. They could not penetrate heavy body armor, let alone cause damage to genetic warriors..

Chapter 1400: Chapter 1,399: abandon the car

Translator: 549690339

The Weapons Meng Nan and Meng bei could use were nothing more than some grenades.

The supply of grenades for genetic warriors had always been sufficient, and the quantity was still sufficient for Meng Nan and Meng Bei to Squander.

Yu Tian did not throw the corpses of the genetic warriors out of the car. These two corpses could be used as a cover, not for humans, but for their weapons and ammunition.

Meng bei lay in the back of the car. This position would allow him to withstand the impact of the bullets on a smaller area.

The only task Yu Tian gave him was to throw grenades.

As the ones who were escaping, throwing grenades would give them an advantage.

Meng bei did not need to use much effort to lie in the back of the car. All he needed to do was to throw the grenades one by one.

Both sides were traveling at high speeds. The grenades would explode a few seconds later, allowing the enemy to catch up on their own.

Moreover, the enemy's motorcade was so long, so it was inevitable that they would be hit a few times.

The woods on both sides of the road became denser and denser, and the road became slightly narrower, becoming two lanes.

There was no need to worry about crashing into cars in the early morning, especially in western countries with a small population. It was even more difficult to bump into other cars on the road at this time.

The only thing to pay attention to was that the road was narrow, and the corners were too fast.

If one's driving skills were not up to standard, it was very easy to crash into the woods by the roadside in this high-speed driving state.

After a few bends, the enemy finally caught up.

The range of the machine gun was even longer than that of the rifle. The enemy could not wait to open fire from a few hundred meters away.

However, Yu Tian did not immediately return fire. He was considering saving his bullets.

The enemy fired a few shots and then stopped firing.

Because there was another bend ahead, Yu Tian and the others disappeared behind the forest in the blink of an eye.

After turning into the forest, there was another section of straight road.

Yu Tian sighed and immediately got ready to shoot.

The enemy's car had just appeared when the machine gun in his hand rang.

However, Yu Tian still did not continue to fire. Instead, he continued to fire long shots.

This way of firing was more accurate, and it also saved more bullets.

However, his marksmanship was still a little lacking. After firing a few times, he still failed to hit his target.

The enemies started firing as well. The two cars in front of them were moving side by side. The two machine guns started firing at Yu Tian at the same time.

The genetic warriors did not care about the consumption of ammunition. The dense rain of bullets soon brushed past Yu Tian, causing him to stagger.

Bang!

Yu Tian felt somewhat helpless. Saving Bullets was equivalent to giving up the initiative. If their attacks were weakened, the enemy's attacks would become stronger. This would increase their chances of getting shot.

There was no other way. Even if it was to protect their pickup truck, Yu Tian had to increase his firepower.

He steadied the muzzle of his gun and pulled the trigger.

The muzzle of the gun once again burst into dazzling sparks, and the bullets scattered to the back.

This time, he learned his lesson. He aimed at the front cover of the enemy's car.

The road was flat, and the vehicles were hardly bumpy. The shooting accuracy of both sides had improved a lot.

Under Yu Tian's continuous attacks, one of the vehicles was finally crippled by him and slowly drove away from the road.

The enemy had learned their lesson this time. When they noticed that the car had stalled, they immediately used the inertia of the car to leave the road so that the cars behind them could continue their pursuit.

Yu Tian suddenly had a headache.

After another turn, the enemy once again approached them by a large margin.

"Prepare a grenade... One!

Yu Tian estimated that the distance was about right, so he decided to use a grenade.

Without hesitation, Meng Bei threw the grenade out of the car. Two to three seconds later, a ball of flame suddenly exploded in front of the enemy's car.

However, the enemy did not slow down. The genetic warrior did not seem to take the explosion seriously at all. Instead, he crashed his head into the flame.

The shrapnel would indeed cause some damage to the car, but it still did not stop the enemy's car. "One more, throw it a little further away."

"No problem.

Although Meng Bei had not received military training, nor had he played with grenades before. But after understanding how to use a grenade, throwing a grenade was still as easy as playing with it.

Throwing a few more meters was a very simple thing for him.

The speed of both parties did not change. This time, the grenade blew up the enemy's pickup truck.

The pickup truck seemed to have been blown up, but unfortunately, it did not fall in the middle of the road. Instead, it crashed into the woods on the side of the road.

The grenade killed one of the enemy's cars, but there were still many enemies chasing after it. Another car quickly filled the gap.

Things were a little troublesome.

In fact, even if they paralyzed the enemy's car in the middle of the road, they could not stop the enemy's pursuit.

The two-lane road on the road was much more spacious than the small road in the wheat field. The enemy could completely bypass the obstacles on the road and continue to maintain their pursuit speed.

Looking at the lights of the convoy in the distance, Yu Tian felt that they might have to blow up all the enemy's vehicles in order to temporarily end the pursuit.

The grenade storage might still be able to work, but Yu Tian did not know how long their pickup truck could last.

They had been getting shot at all this time, so it was hard to guarantee that there wouldn't be any problems.

However, it was useless to think too much now. Yu Tian could only continue to shoot and let Meng bei continue to drop bombs.

The constant explosion of grenades on the road could indeed slow down the enemy's speed, but it wouldn't have much effect on the overall situation.

Bad Things would happen soon.

Yu Tian was firing with all his might when the rear tire of the truck was suddenly hit by the enemy.

The body of the truck suddenly tilted and Yu Tian was almost thrown out of the truck.

Fortunately, he was agile and managed to stabilize his body in time.

However, after the tire was hit, the speed of the pickup truck suddenly decreased by a large margin.

Yu Tian could not help but curse. Then, he quickly leaned over to the side of the truck and used a broken spear to cut off the other side of the tire.

The broken tire was quickly left on the road. The steel rims of the tires began to burst into passionate flames on the road.

"We can't go on like this... we might have to abandon the car!"

Yu Tian continued to fire his machine gun. Then, he shouted loudly at Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

Meng bei also said loudly, “If we abandon the car, so be it. In any case, we can’t outrun them. I’ve wanted to abandon the car for a long time. If we run into the forest by the roadside, they definitely won’t be able to catch up to us...

The car was unable to enter the forest. Ancient martial art practitioners naturally had to run faster than those genetic warriors in the forest. Meng bei was confident that he would be able to get rid of the enemies in the forest.

Meng Nan was slightly more troublesome. His injuries were unable to allow him to run fast for a long period of time.

However, this problem was not difficult to solve. Meng bei felt that even if he were to run with Meng Nan on his back, he would still be able to run faster than those genetic warriors.

Yu Tianzhu ‘s main concern was the surrounding terrain.

If he ran into the forest, would he be able to escape?