

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1401 – 1430

: 1,400, turning back - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters

Chapter 1401 - 1401: 1,400, turning back

Chapter 1401: Chapter 1,400, turning back

Translator: 549690339

When moving in the forest, the ancient martial art warriors indeed had an advantage over the ordinary genetic warriors.

However, Yu Tian did not know how big this forest was, or where they could run through it.

The speed of the genetic warriors might not be as fast as theirs, but their endurance was extremely sufficient.

The ancient martial art warriors relied on Qinggong to maintain their speed and mobility. If their internal energy was exhausted, their qinggong would not be as good.

However, the pursuit of genetic warriors was purely based on physical strength. Their endurance was definitely longer than that of ancient martial art practitioners. Running a marathon was not even a problem for them.

If they kept running in the forest, it would not be a good thing for Yu Tian and the others.

Moreover, this was not a primitive forest. It would be difficult for them to hide in the forest.

Unless the area of the forest was large enough, they would be able to shake off the enemy in a short period of time and make the enemy lose their pursuit direction.

However, the problem was that the forest on both sides of the road was only about a hundred meters wide.

After the genetic warriors entered the forest, they only needed a few dozen people to form a blockade line. Then, like a fishing net, they would be forced to continue moving forward.

After that, the enemies would only need to drive in front of them and set up another blockade line. This would be equivalent to turning them into turtles in a jar.

At that time, Yu Tian might still have a chance to escape, Meng bei might also have a chance, but Meng Nan, who was injured, might be trapped by the enemy.

(‘Hold on a little longer. If we really can’t, we can only enter the forest...

Yu Tian sighed. “Let’s clear out the bullets and grenades as soon as possible and try to cause more damage to the enemy. At that time, the pressure we will face will be less.”

“Alright!

Meng bei increased the pace of throwing the grenades. Yu Tian also began to fire fiercely regardless of the cost. The dense firepower once again slowed down the enemy’s speed.

After rolling the steel ring for more than ten kilometers, Yu Tian’s machine gun bullets were finally used up.

There were still some grenades left. Yu Tian and Meng bei began to throw the grenades wildly again.

After running for another two kilometers, the grenades were almost used up.

The two of them left a few grenades behind and then shouted loudly, asking Meng Nan to prepare to stop the car.

Naturally, they could not slow down at this time. That was equivalent to giving the enemy time to catch up to them.

Meng Nan found his target and suddenly braked. Then, he knocked the pickup truck off the road and hit a big tree on the side of the road.

The brakes came suddenly, but Yu Tian and Meng bei were already prepared. They jumped over the front of the car and directly jumped into the forest due to the inertia of the sudden brakes.

Meng Nan ‘s brakes were quite heavy. The impact of the car was not serious, so there was no possibility of knocking him out.

As soon as the car stopped, he quickly jumped out of the driver’s seat and followed Yu Tian and Meng Bei.

“I’ll Carry You!”

Meng bei did not say anything and carried Meng Nan on his back.

His lightness skill was faster than Yu Tian’s, so he felt that the task of carrying the injured was more suitable for him.

“Let’s Go! ”

Yu Tian followed behind the two of them.

Meng bei was carrying an injured person, so naturally, his speed could not compare to Yu Tian's.

However, Yu Tian could not escape by himself. He still needed to cover the rear for Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

If the enemy caught up, he could still create more time for Meng Nan and Meng bei to escape.

Just as the three of them entered the forest, the genetic warriors'convoy also quickly caught up.

With this, the distance between the two sides instantly shortened by quite a bit.

The genetic warriors alighted from their vehicles one after another. The commander reported the situation to the rear while the rest of them quickly chased after them into the forest.

The distance between the two sides was only about 100 meters. This was already within the range of a normal rifle. The micro-assault rifles and automatic rifles in the hands of the genetic warriors started firing.

Yu Tian and the other two could not run as fast as they could. The main reason was that Meng bei was carrying Meng Nan on his back.

However, with the cover of the forest, the enemy's guns would not affect them much.

The only problem was the speed of the genetic warriors. Speed-type genetic warriors had the ability to catch up to them.

Yu Tian had already pulled out his broken spear. As he ran, he coldly observed the movements behind him.

If he couldn't do it, he would do it. The environment of the forest was suitable for ancient martial art practitioners to fight in.

Even if Yu Tian wasn't wearing a bulletproof vest, he was confident that he could deal with the genetic warriors here. With the bulletproof vest on, he didn't put the genetic warriors in his eyes.

The first batch of genetic warriors chasing into the forest weren't many. There were only 30 to 40 people in total.

Yu Tian started to consider whether he should make a comeback.

Killing 30 to 40 genetic warriors in the forest did not seem to be a troublesome matter.

Perhaps after killing this batch of genetic warriors, the enemy would temporarily lose their target?

Yu Tian hesitated for a moment. He felt that the possibility was not high.

This forest was not wide. The main reason was that it was extending along the road.

If the genetic warriors wanted to chase after them, they had to follow the direction of the road and search through the forest.

Even if they increased their speed in the forest, they wouldn't be able to outrun the enemy's cars. In the end, they would still be surrounded by the enemy.

Unless, after killing this batch of enemies, they brought Meng Nan and Meng bei back.

This might fool the enemy for a while, but when the enemy searched ahead and didn't find them, they would still start to turn around and chase after them.

The enemy would even see through his little trick very quickly and directly start to chase after them.

In addition, Yu Tian was still a little worried about Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

If he turned around and attacked the enemy now, then Meng Nan and Meng bei would be separated from him.

If the enemy did not pursue him, he would still be able to quickly find Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

However, if he were to meet up with Meng Nan and Meng bei while the enemy was pursuing and killing him, it would be extremely troublesome.

Without such a powerful combat power, if Meng Bei were to meet up with a genetic warrior, it would be a huge problem.

Could he protect Meng Nan under the Siege of genetic warriors?

"Don't worry about us!" Meng Nan understood Yu Tian's thoughts, he immediately said, "Since there aren't many enemies, we should try our best to kill them first. This way, we will have a better chance of escaping..." Yu Tian frowned. "Your injuries..."

Meng nan said, "My injuries aren't a problem. Meng bei can protect me." "Yes." Yu Tian nodded. "When necessary, I am not completely incapable of fighting." "h" "Yes." Yu Tian nodded. "Moreover, there are two of us. If you attract the attention of most of the enemies, Meng Nan and I will definitely face less pressure than you."

"That's right. "Meng bei added, "The forest is our home ground. Now that we have bulletproof vests, it will be a piece of cake to deal with them.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment before saying decisively, "Alright, I'll go distract this batch of enemies first.... you guys have to be careful of the self-destruct attacks of the genetic warriors!

Chapter 1402: Chapter 1,401 was not even enough to kill

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian did not have the time to explain too much to Meng Nan and Meng Bei. The real battle still depended on his own experience, and he had to adapt to different situations.

Meng bei quickened his pace, carrying Meng Nan on his back as he quickly ran ahead of the forest.

If he wanted to play hide-and-seek with the enemy or go around to the back of the enemy, he had to first get out of the enemy's sight.

Yu Tian looked at the hazy shadows of the two people leaving and felt slightly relieved.

In such an environment to fight with the enemy, he felt that it was more convenient for him to be alone. He was also more at ease in advancing and retreating. He was more flexible.

With the help of two ancient martial art practitioners, he was actually somewhat restrained. His fighting strength did not increase but decreased instead.

Meng Bei's footsteps soon disappeared. The heavy footsteps of the enemy were approaching without any disguise.

Yu Tian hid behind a slightly thick tree. The broken spear in his hand became dimmer and dimmer in the darkness.

The forest was not dense, but the starlight was very weak tonight. The forest was even darker, and it was all dark.

Yu Tian's helmet had long been damaged, and he had lost the ability to see at night. Although his eyesight was far better than an ordinary person's, he could only see the hazy shadows of the trees in a ten-meter radius in front of him.

This kind of vision could only ensure that he would not run into trees while running, and close combat would not have much of an impact.

However, if he wanted to see the enemy's overall formation from dozens of meters away, he could only rely on his hearing.

Fortunately, the enemy was chasing and not ambushing, so they did not deliberately cover up the sound of their footsteps.

From the sound of their footsteps, it could be seen that the enemy's chasing formation had begun to scatter, spreading out a large net that was dozens of meters wide.

There were around a dozen enemies that were chasing the fastest. They had already separated from the rear team, and were currently only 40 to 50 meters away from Yu Tian.

With such a small distance, for those speed-type genetic warriors, they would only need a few seconds to arrive.

Under the condition that the genetic warriors were fully armed, they were basically able to reach the standard of a sprinting world record.

However, that was the explosive speed of sprinting. Normally, the speed of the pursuers would be slower by at least half.

Therefore, at this distance, Yu Tian estimated that it would take at least ten seconds for the genetic warriors to get close to him.

However, Yu Tian quickly discovered one of the weaknesses of the genetic warriors. Although their hard speed was very fast, they were unable to unleash their full strength in an environment like the forest. This was because if they were to bury their heads in sprinting, they would only end up crashing into trees.

If they wanted to run quickly in such an environment, they would need to have a more flexible movement technique. Not only were their hard speed fast, but they could also be impudent.

The Qinggong that the ancient martial art warriors had painstakingly trained since they were young had now displayed a huge advantage.

This was especially true for Yu Tian's nimble-focused light steps. As he walked through the forest without any delay, his movement speed would not be affected at all.

On the other hand, the genetic warriors were different. The deeper they went into the forest, the slower their movement speed would be.

Yu Tian hid behind the trees. He could even hear the sound of the genetic warriors scraping against the trees.

He was overjoyed. If the genetic warriors only had this much ability, they would only be played by him in the forest.

Under such circumstances, Meng Nan and Meng Bei would definitely be much safer.

He did not have the time to think too much. The genetic warrior had already reached a distance of less than ten meters away from him. Yu Tian was prepared to jump out and launch an attack at any moment.

However, Yu Tian suddenly heard the footsteps of a few genetic warriors stopping abruptly, as if they had stopped abruptly.

Yu Tian was slightly stunned, and then he immediately realized what had happened.

The helmets of genetic warriors also had night vision lenses. Although they were not as clear as night vision goggles, their vision was still better than Yu Tian's.

The huge tree that Yu Tian was hiding under was not thick, and it was unable to completely conceal his figure.

If the light was weak, the genetic warriors might not be able to discover him in time. During high-speed pursuit, those targets that were still wouldn't be able to see him clearly.

However, it was different with night vision equipment. At the very least, they could distinguish between the shadows of the trees and the shadows of the people.

They suddenly stopped. They must have discovered Yu Tian's figure.

The genetic warriors wouldn't confirm the identity of the shadows. If they encountered any suspicious situations, they would immediately open fire.

Therefore, Yu Tian did not hesitate. He immediately flew out from behind the tree and shot in the direction of the enemy.

These genetic warriors had just pressed down on the fuse of the grenade and were about to throw it in the direction of Yu Tian when they suddenly saw Yu Tian flash out from behind the tree. They were instantly shocked.

Yu Tian's speed was extremely fast. He randomly picked a target in the darkness and charged forward.

The distance of over 10 meters was covered in the blink of an eye. He did not even need to dodge in a curve.

These genetic warriors originally wanted to throw grenades to launch a sneak attack. However, Yu Tian had discovered them in time. Naturally, a sneak attack was no longer possible.

They were not in a daze. They immediately threw the grenades under their feet. At the same time, they pulled out the daggers on their bodies and retreated rapidly.

The speed of their retreat was naturally far slower than Yu Tian's surprise attack. Yu Tian's first target had just taken a step when half of his neck was cut off by Yu Tian's broken spear.

Yu Tian did not need to use force to slash. His attack style was similar to that of a cavalry soldier. He only needed to rely on his own speed, hold the broken spear tightly, and brush past the enemy.

The broken spear was sharp to begin with. Coupled with the great strength given by speed, it was easy for it to cut open the enemy's neck.

Yu Tian did not stop. He stepped on Lingbo Weibo and made a strange turn, then continued to pounce on the next enemy.

The enemy roared and swung the dagger in his hand forward with all his might, as if he wanted to use this swing to force Yu Tian back.

Yu Tian did not dodge at all.

Even bullets could not do anything to his bulletproof vest, let alone a dagger.

Once again, he brushed past the enemy, cutting off the enemy's neck.

Then, he moved on to his next target..

The explosion of the grenade finally sounded. The few seconds of delay in the fuse was enough for Yu Tian to kill all the genetic warriors within a 10-meter radius.

These genetic warriors did not fire. At this critical moment of close combat, using a dagger was indeed a wiser choice.

Unfortunately, their daggers did not deal any damage to Yu Tian, and the grenades could not keep up with Yu Tian's speed.

This continued until all these people lost their lives. Not even a single hair on Yu Tian's body was injured.

More than ten meters away, there were other genetic warriors. They started firing in Yu Tian's direction.

However, Yu Tian was already wearing a bulletproof vest. The trees in the forest also had the function of providing cover, so firearms and grenades were naturally less of a threat to him.

After wasting a few more seconds, Yu Tian took care of the remaining genetic warriors one by one.

In such an environment, a dozen genetic warriors were simply not enough for

Yu Tian Sha..

Chapter 1403: Chapter 1,402, the most suitable battlefield

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian had originally wanted to change into the genetic warrior's helmet, but he felt that it wasn't very meaningful.

If it was a gunfight, the night vision system might still be of some use.

However, if it was a close combat battle in the forest, not having the night vision system wouldn't affect him much.

Furthermore, his helmet was sturdier than the genetic warrior's. Other than being shot on the left side, the helmet was slightly deflated, and in other aspects, it was much better than the ordinary bulletproof helmet.

He was also not interested in the weapons of genetic warriors. Both sides had bulletproof equipment. The weapons that genetic warriors carried were all ordinary guns. There were even mini submachine guns with small caliber.

If one wanted to destroy bulletproof equipment, one had to use a large number of guns to continuously fire.

Yu Tian was alone. Naturally, it was impossible for him to execute such an attack. He might as well use a broken spear to be more efficient.

The grenade explosion had already revealed Yu Tian's location. The rest of the genetic warriors swiftly surrounded him in this direction.

Yu Tian did not continue hiding. It was basically impossible for him to launch a sneak attack now.

He started taking the initiative to approach the enemies. Taking advantage of the fact that the enemy formation was still quite scattered, he wanted to kill as many enemies as possible.

There were only a dozen or so genetic warriors left behind. There were not many of them.

These genetic warriors were even slower, and their reactions weren't as fast as the dozen or so genetic warriors from before. Yu Tian was also able to deal with them more easily.

Using the cover of the trees, Yu Tian appeared and disappeared at the side of different enemies. Every time he appeared and attacked, he could easily take a life.

The guns of the genetic warriors didn't have any room for them to display their abilities, and their daggers were no match for Yu Tian.

They were also very self-aware. When they encountered Yu Tian, their first weapon of choice would be grenades.

As long as their grenades could continuously blast Yu Tian, Yu Tian's bulletproof vest would be destroyed sooner or later.

It was a pity that the environment of the forest provided Yu Tian with excellent cover. The genetic warriors had no idea when Yu Tian would appear.

Things like grenades had at least two to three seconds to detonate. If they could not make a prediction, they would not be able to hit their target with grenades.

The grenades in the forest continued to explode. The range of the explosion was around ten meters or even dozens of meters.

However, due to the cover of the trees, the range of the explosion was only theoretical.

Yu Tian moved nimbly in the forest, basically avoiding the range of the grenade explosion.

Out of the twenty or so genetic warriors, none of them were his match.

All the enemies died upon meeting him. They were completely unable to retaliate.

The more Yu Tian fought, the more relaxed he felt. The forest in the middle of the night was definitely the most suitable battlefield for him.

He did not even need to use his eyes to look. He could determine the location of the enemies just by relying on the sound of their voices.

Then, he only needed to approach them at a high speed and conveniently give the enemies a slash.

The advantage of the limbo microstep was undoubtedly revealed. The environment of the forest was completely unobstructed to him. It would only make it impossible for the genetic warriors who relied on numbers to achieve victory to display their advantage in firepower.

The effect of the Limbo micro-step, which Yu Tianping had been training diligently, was also displayed. Such a movement and assault method had little effect on his physical strength.

Qinggong would consume inner energy, but the limbo micro-step itself could increase inner energy. As long as it was not a continuous sprint, Yu Tianping did not need to worry about running out of inner energy.

As long as he maintained a fast and slow movement rhythm, occasionally unleashing an assault speed, the consumption and replenishment of inner energy would basically be the same.

Killing these twenty or so genetic warriors would only take two to three minutes.

After two to three minutes, the forest suddenly quieted down.

Yu Tian did not stop. He started taking the limbo micro-steps and moved to the other side of the forest. At the same time, he used the limbo micro-steps to recover his internal energy.

On the side of the forest that was close to the road, there were already enemy convoys gathering. Through the gaps in the forest, one could see some dazzling headlights.

The genetic warriors started to turn the car around and head in the direction of the forest. At a depth of more than 100 meters, the headlights would be able to pierce through.

When there were enough headlights, Yu Tian 's movements would naturally be exposed under their eyes.

Under such circumstances, no matter which direction Yu Tian ran, they would be able to discover him in time. Furthermore, they would be able to gather their forces and create a greater obstruction for Yu Tian.

There were more people and more cars, so there was still an advantage.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and felt that he should continue to run forward.

He wanted to shift the battlefield and lengthen the enemy's battle line.

No matter how many cars Kloni had, it was impossible for them to light up all the trees along the dozens of highways.

As long as he continued to escape quickly, Kloni's car movements would also have difficulty keeping up with the movements of the battlefield. As such, Yu Tian quickly chased after Meng Nan, Meng Bei, and Meng Bei.

The Kronin Society had yet to discover Yu Tian, but they already knew the location where Yu Tian and the genetic warriors had exchanged blows earlier. Now, they were following the highway and outflanking Yu Tian.

Yu Tian increased his speed, running another kilometer in one breath.

In front of them, the lights of the car could be seen again. The genetic warriors had already started to surround them from the front.

Yu Tian did not discover Meng Nan and Meng Bei. He did not know if they had missed them in the forest, or if they had already run further ahead. Based on Meng Bei's speed, they should have already run a few kilometers away by now.

Of course, this still had to be considered if Meng bei had sufficient internal energy and stamina.

Yu Tian took a look at the forest ahead. The headlights had basically completely penetrated the forest ahead.

If he wanted to break through the blockade ahead, it was basically impossible for him to avoid being discovered by the enemy.

However, the enemy's encirclement formation had yet to be fully deployed. Under the circumstances where the defense line was weak, it would not be difficult for Yu Tian to break through the encirclement.

Furthermore, Yu Tian had already exchanged blows with the genetic warriors earlier in the forest. The combat strength of the genetic warriors was greatly restricted in the forest. He was very confident in breaking through the enemy's blockade.

However, what about after breaking through the blockade?

The clone would probably continue to mobilize the troops behind them and once again set up a blockade line further ahead.

Yu Tian could only charge and break through the encirclement once more, and then repeat the same thing again.

His internal energy was limited, and it was impossible for him to maintain such a speed forever. When his speed slowed down, the encirclement of the enemies would become even tighter, and the trouble he would be in would also increase.

Rather than wasting his internal energy on such a race, it would be better to fight the enemies here.

Yu Tian felt that it wasn't too difficult to deal with a few hundred enemies. With his ability to suppress genetic warriors, it wasn't impossible for him to kill a few hundred of them.

However, it was impossible for him to fight them head-on.

If he continued fighting, the consumption of his internal energy would definitely be even greater. Yu Tian wasn't sure how long he could last.

Unless the battlefield was larger and there was more space for him to maneuver around, giving him a chance to catch his breath while fighting..

Chapter 1404: Chapter 1,403, crossing the road

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian glanced at the road, and his heart skipped a beat.

The opposite side of the road was also a forest, and the situation was similar to this side.

If he crossed the road and ran to the opposite side of the road, wouldn't that be the same as doubling the size of the battlefield?

Yu Tian was instantly overjoyed.

The genetic warriors had to set up two blockade lines, and each of the two blockade lines had to have at least 100 to 200 people each.

However, these two blockade lines were still separated by a distance of two to three kilometers. How many people could remain on these two to three kilometers of road?

There were cars on the road, so the Kronin gang would definitely have an advantage if they were to chase after them.

However, if Yu Tian did not run for his life on the road and instead crossed the road and ran into the forest on the opposite side, the Kronin Gang's convoy would be completely meaningless to him.

The two-lane road was less than ten meters away, and the forest on both sides was only a dozen meters apart. This was a distance that Yu Tian could lift his legs at. The enemy would not be able to stop him at all.

Unless the road was filled with people, but that was impossible.

Yu Tian did not continue to move forward. Instead, he moved closer to the road.

Soon, he was close to the roadside.

There were also some vehicles parked on the road. There was one every few dozen meters, just like a sentry post in a fixed position.

Every vehicle had their headlights on, illuminating the road.

With a road of two to three kilometers, about forty to fifty vehicles would be able to completely grasp the situation on the road, preventing Yu Tian from escaping.

There were machine gunners on the vehicles, and a few genetic warriors beside the vehicles were maintaining their vigilance.

Based on this number, there should be around 200 to 300 genetic warriors stationed on the road.

This number was slightly more than Yu Tian had imagined. The total number of genetic warriors should have exceeded the number of soldiers stationed on the side of the house, perhaps even reaching 700 to 800.

What a huge sum.

Yu Tian was now more and more certain that the Kronin society had some secret dealings with the government of the wind nation.

Crossing the road was not difficult at all. A distance of over 10 meters would not even take a second when Yu Tian was traveling at full speed.

However, Yu Tian's current goal was not just to escape from the encirclement. He did not want to waste his internal energy on constantly escaping.

He had to constantly eliminate his enemies while he was in motion. Only then would he be able to completely resolve the crisis.

If he were to just run for his life, he would sooner or later be exhausted.

He slowly approached the edge of the forest. His target was a pickup truck in the middle of the road.

The trees at the edge of the forest were a little sparse. Genetic warriors equipped with night vision equipment could easily discover his whereabouts.

Therefore, the ambush distance was even further.

When Yu Tian was about 20 meters away from the pickup truck, he stopped.

Further ahead, there seemed to be no more hiding spots.

The genetic warriors beside the pickup truck were constantly observing the surrounding forest. If Yu Tian did not conceal himself, he would be easily discovered by them.

However, the genetic warriors' main focus was not on the forest in front of them. Instead, they were looking into the distance.

Perhaps they believed that Yu Tian would not charge at them and would only sneak out from the middle of the blockade line.

In fact, they believed that Yu Tian would not leave this forest at all. He would only use the cover of the forest to deal with them.

Naturally, even though the genetic warriors were simple-minded, their commander was not an idiot.

The bigger the encirclement, the bigger the loophole.

They had to reduce the encirclement as fast as possible. Only then would they have more confidence in trapping Yu Tian within.

Hence, these genetic warriors on the road had all received strict orders. They had to defend to the death. They could not allow Yu Tian to break through from their side.

However, the orders were still orders. They had still underestimated Yu Tian's combat power. These genetic warriors could not stop Yu Tian at all.

Yu Tian glanced at the trees in front of him. In his mind, he had planned a route for the assault. Then, he suddenly flashed out from behind the trees and pounced toward the road.

The direction of the headlights was toward the road. They did not face the forest in front of them. The genetic warriors' attention was also not on this side. Therefore, they did not discover Yu Tian's figure in time.

When Yu Tian was about to dash out of the forest, finally, a genetic warrior noticed the movement of the Black Shadow on the night vision lens.

Yu Tian's speed was too fast. He was using the speed burst footwork of the light steps of the soaring waves. These footwork techniques consumed more inner energy, but the speed of the burst speed was even faster than the speed of the nameless lightness skill.

At a distance of over twenty meters, Yu Tian did not even need a second.

His first target was the enemy's machine gunner.

Although he felt that in such a close-range battle, no enemy would have the time to lock onto him with the muzzle of their gun.

However, if the machine gunner did not care about the safety of his allies and randomly fired wildly, there was still a chance of hitting Yu Tian.

At such a close distance, being hit by a machine gun from the front, no matter how strong the bulletproof vest was, Yu Tian would definitely not feel good.

Yu Tian was not a masochist. Naturally, he had to deal with the machine gunner, the greatest threat, first.

As Yu Tian's first target, the machine gunner was unable to lock onto Yu Tian within a second.

He did not even have the time to react before he saw his butt with his own eyes.

This move was too fast. Yu Tian effortlessly sliced off the machine gunner's

Head.

Following that, the other genetic warriors fired.

Their fingers were originally on the trigger. Now, their first reaction was naturally to fire. They didn't even have the time to aim at Yu Tian.

The genetic warriors all knew that it would be very difficult for ordinary rifles to injure Yu Tian, unless they were able to hit him continuously for a long period of time.

However, the main purpose of firing at the first moment was not to injure Yu Tian, but to warn the other genetic warriors.

They couldn't count on any communicators. Yu Tian's speed was so fast that they didn't have time to use their communicators and explain their numbers.

Every car had a number. This way, it would be easier for the commander to quickly determine their location, and then they would know where Yu Tian had appeared.

However, the best way was to fire directly. Once they fired, the surrounding genetic warriors would naturally report to the commander and immediately send reinforcements.

They did not expect any reinforcements. By the time reinforcements arrived, they would have already died at Yu Tian's hands.

Therefore, what they needed to do now was to delay Yu Tian's actions as much as possible, creating trouble for Yu Tian.

At the same time as the shots were fired, the genetic warriors pressed the fuse of the grenades on their bodies one after another.

These grenades were hung on their chests, and the safety latches had long been removed. They were only waiting for the fuse to be pressed before starting the explosion process.

The fuse of this era would no longer emit smoke. If one did not observe carefully, one would not know if the fuse had already been activated.

However, Yu Tian's gaze was as sharp as a torch. When he turned around, he instantly noticed the small actions of these genetic warriors..

Chapter 1405: Chapter 1,404, expanding the scope of the battlefield

Translator: 549690339

Self-destruction. Yu Tian had already seen this move before.

He had no interest in playing a game where both sides suffered heavy losses. Grenades could not kill him, but they were too close to the center of the explosion, which would make him feel very uncomfortable.

He would not ask for trouble. Immediately, he jumped off the pickup truck and ran toward the forest on the opposite side.

Seeing this, these genetic warriors hurriedly removed the grenades from their bodies and threw them in Yu Tian's direction.

Although they had the courage to self-detonate, if Yu Tian did not accompany them to play this game, they would not be able to self-detonate.

The detonation of the grenade would take two to three seconds. They still had a chance to throw the grenade out.

However, in the next second, Yu Tian's figure disappeared again.

Yu Tian suddenly turned around, bypassed the pickup truck, and swiftly approached the side of a genetic warrior. The Broken Spear swept past him.

Before he could make any moves, this genetic warrior also lost his life.

Before his body collapsed, Yu Tian continued moving forward, knocking down another genetic warrior.

The remaining two genetic warriors hurriedly touched the grenade on their chests. However, Yu Tian 's speed was still unimaginably fast. He slightly adjusted his direction and continued to brush past them.

They did not even have the chance to press the fuse of the grenade before they were knocked down by Yu Tian consecutively.

If it was a head-on confrontation, Yu Tian was indeed not a match for a few hundred genetic warriors.

However, with only a small number of enemies present, Yu Tian had the chance to break through them one by one.

His current attack style was not a point, but a line.

In a straight line, all the enemies would be killed with a single strike.

In this way of fighting, the sharp broken spear played a huge role.

Yu Tian did not need to use any chop action. He only needed to run as fast as he could and then pass the enemies.

This was what a godly weapon should look like.

Yu Tian sighed in satisfaction and then jumped onto the back of the pickup truck.

The enemies on both sides of the road had already started shooting at him, and the sound of machine guns rang out.

The bullets were too dense, and Yu Tian was inevitably hit by the machine guns.

However, his bulletproof vest had not been damaged yet, so this level of attack would not cause any damage to him.

After jumping into the trunk, Yu Tian put away the broken spear, and then picked up the machine guns of the enemies.

There was still enough time, and Yu Tian could jump into the woods at any time.

But before retreating, Yu Tian decided to kill a few more enemies.

This machine gun was also one of those light machine guns. The caliber of its bullets was similar to ordinary bullets, and it seemed to be common.

The possibility of using a machine gun to kill a genetic warrior was not very high.

However, destroying the enemy's vehicle was still a piece of cake.

Both sides were currently in a fixed position. Under the circumstances where they were shooting at each other, their hit rate was much higher than when they were chasing on the road.

Yu Tian spent two to three seconds to turn the car behind him into a sieve. Then, he immediately jumped out of the pickup truck and began to shoot fiercely at the car in front of him.

This time, his luck was not bad. The bullet seemed to have hit the gas tank of the enemy's car.

Yu Tian looked at the flames under the gas tank of the car, then immediately dropped the machine gun and darted into the woods by the roadside.

The enemy, unwilling to give up, started shooting randomly into the forest. Seemingly knowing that it was impossible to hurt Yu Tian, he could only stop shooting resentfully.

Yu Tian quickly rushed into the depths of the forest. Following that, he heard a violent explosion coming from the road.

The car that had been ignited by the fuel tank finally exploded. There was still some ammunition in the car, so it was inevitable that the car would explode.

The possibility of the explosion injuring those genetic warriors was not high. However, it had caused the enemy to lose at least two vehicles.

Yu Tian slowed down a little and started to allow Ling Bo to recover some of his internal energy.

He had always been full of energy. Staying up for a few days and not sleeping was not a big deal. However, if he continued to fight, his physical energy would still be greatly depleted.

Especially in a fast-paced and intense battle, the consumption of physical strength would not be small, and it would be even more difficult to recover than internal energy.

Therefore, the most important thing for him now was to conserve his physical strength. He should not have too many movements in battle, nor did he need too flashy fighting methods. He only needed to use the combination of the micro-steps of the waves and the broken spear to kill the enemy.

In addition, he also needed to avoid being shot. Although he would not be injured, his body would suffer a certain amount of damage. If it lasted for a long time, it would also consume his physical strength.

He could not sneak attack the enemy's vehicle too frequently.

After entering the other side of the forest, Yu Tian began to run in the same direction he came from.

He did not want the enemy to continue to surround him because Meng Nan and Meng bei were still in that direction.

If he changed the forest and ran back, he could quickly get Meng Nan and Meng bei out of the predicament.

The main target of the clone society was still him. He felt that there was no need for Meng Nan and Meng Bei to accompany him in the predicament.

It was not dangerous for him to be alone. In such an environment, it was more suitable for him to escape quietly.

Of course, he had to clear the enemy below a certain number so that the enemy's encirclement could not be maintained completely. That way, the enemy would not discover the direction in which he broke out of the encirclement.

He had just looked at the end of the forest over there. Beyond the forest was the wilderness. The terrain was basically flat, and there were not many places where he could hide his tracks.

Therefore, it was definitely not safe to run out of the forest directly. He had to sneak into the wilderness after he had shaken off the enemy. That way, the chances of being discovered by the enemy would be smaller.

As for the direction to break out of the encirclement, it was actually not important.

In this wilderness, it was the same no matter which direction he went.

Even if he ran in the direction of the farm, it was impossible for him to run into the enemy's territory.

Therefore, as long as he broke through the encirclement of the enemy, it was one thing to break out of the encirclement no matter which direction he went.

Yu Tian's speed was not fast, because it was not meaningful to break through this blockade quickly. The enemy would soon set up another blockade in front of him.

Therefore, he might as well save his strength and destroy a few more enemies.

He felt that he could still weave back and forth on both sides of the road, constantly changing the battlefield position and making the enemy run for their lives.

As long as the battlefield was large enough, the enemy would not be able to do anything to him.

Even if the number of the enemy was a little more than a thousand, it would still be impossible to trap all of them within a few kilometers.

Yu Tian was not an ordinary fugitive. After the battle just now, he was certain that the blockade line would not be able to trap him at all.

If he did not have dozens of people blocking his entry point, he could even run straight over.

Therefore, he could completely contend with the enemy in the forest and fight.

Then, he could break through the blockade before the enemy's encirclement shrank, change the battlefield, and let the enemy rearrange the encirclement. So repeatedly, Yu Tian felt that he even had a chance to Polish all the enemies..

Chapter 1406: Chapter 1,405. There was nothing he could do about it

Translator: 549690339

Next, Yu Tian started fighting according to his plan.

The first batch of genetic warriors that had just entered the forest were basically his targets.

He didn't waste too much time with the enemy. He quickly cut in from the front, killing his way through the enemy's formation, directly breaking through the blockade line, and once again running into the darkness.

However, in less than two minutes, Yu Tian estimated that the enemy had started moving again. He charged back again, killing through this group once more and taking two lives along the way.

The commander of the genetic warriors suddenly had a headache. He realized that such a blockade was not effective at all. It could only be called a search line.

Previously, the genetic warriors had used a one-line formation to conduct a blanket search of the forest every one meter.

However, the forest was about 100 meters wide. For such a blockade line, more than 100 genetic warriors would be needed.

For 200 or so genetic warriors, at most, they would form a two-column formation.

Although this formation was rather dense, it did not have a depth. Yu Tian could even charge through it in a second.

Then, all the genetic warriors on the blockade line were dumbfounded.

They could only turn around and immediately start chasing Yu Tian.

However, with such a scattered line of soldiers, it would take quite a bit of time for them to quickly gather their strength to chase after Yu Tian.

By the time they gathered a little, Yu Tian had already run out of sight. Or perhaps he had run back from another location and once again pierced through their blockade line.

After going back and forth twice like this, the commander of the genetic warriors knew that this method was completely meaningless to Yu Tian.

He had to make the blockade thicker, and he had to make his troops more concentrated.

After that, the blockade changed into a small squad mode.

There were over ten small squads, each of which had over ten people.

The small squads were separated by a distance of over ten meters. Similarly, there were two large squads, maintaining the same speed of advance as they searched ahead.

This was basically a carpet search. With the help of the headlights, it was impossible for Yu Tian to sneak past them.

However, the commander quickly discovered that this method was also useless against Yu Tian.

The dozen or so people were similarly unable to stop Yu Tian. In fact, when Yu Tian charged over, the damage he caused to the genetic warriors was even greater.

If the formation of the genetic warriors was rather loose, Yu Tian would directly kill them all.

In short, Yu Tian would not tangle with the genetic warriors. He did not even give the genetic warriors time to detonate their grenades.

Every time he launched an assault, Yu Tian would use his fastest speed to break through and leave the genetic warriors behind.

The genetic warriors would also immediately turn around and try their best to catch up to Yu Tian.

Some speed-type genetic warriors were even able to hold onto Yu Tian tightly. However, if they moved in the forest, Yu Tian would definitely be able to leave all the genetic warriors behind.

He was the one with the fastest speed.

Of course, Yu Tian's goal was not just to leave all the enemies behind.

His main goal was to kill the enemies. Even if he could only kill a few enemies with each charge, he would still happily kill them repeatedly.

Just like what Piggy Liang had said, genetic warriors couldn't be endless.

If he killed one more now, the number of genetic warriors East Dragon Company would face in the future would decrease by one.

Furthermore, even if he wanted to successfully break out of the encirclement tonight, he had to kill as many enemies as possible.

After repeatedly exchanging blows, Yu Tian had a rough understanding of the situation of these genetic warriors.

The abilities of most genetic warriors were relatively balanced. Only a small number of genetic warriors had special abilities.

For example, strength-type, speed-type, endurance-type, recovery-type..

Only a small number of genetic warriors were able to keep up with Yu Tian's speed. In each squad, there were at most one or two genetic warriors that specialized in speed. Some squads didn't even have one.

Moreover, not everyone could keep up with Yu Tian's speed. There were also some who were faster and some who were slower.

These genetic warriors chasing after Yu Tian alone was akin to sending themselves to their deaths.

Yu Tian ran for a short distance before a counter-attack came. It was like playing a game. He had gotten a few heads for free.

Coincidentally, the genetic warriors were not afraid of death. Even though they knew that they could not beat Yu Tian, they still chased after him with all their might.

Their teammates would also not be like the ones in the game who would earnestly advise them not to chase, not to be reckless..

Their teammates were also giving chase. It was just that their speed could not keep up.

Yu Tian broke through again and again a few times. Those speed-type genetic warriors were all killed by him by more than a dozen.

The stamina consumption of a full speed assault was a little high for Yu Tian. However, breaking through the blockade line only required a short burst of speed.

Most of the enemies were unable to keep up with his speed. Hence, after he broke through, he was able to slow down his speed and deal with the enemies that were chasing him faster.

After the speed-type genetic warriors were dealt with, the rest of the genetic warriors were still chasing him with all their might. Furthermore, as the speed of each genetic warrior was different, their formation started to lengthen and become extremely loose.

Every time he encountered such a situation, Yu Tian could not help but make a comeback. At the same time, he also allowed the enemy's entire blockade line to fall into chaos along with him.

After successfully destroying a few small squads, the commander of the genetic warriors was dumbfounded.

There were so many of them, yet they were completely unable to do anything to Yu Tian.

Even if they were to intentionally exhaust Yu Tian's stamina, it did not seem to have any effect.

This time, the clone society had gathered a total of over 800 genetic warriors. This was all they could muster in the surrounding areas.

Of course, they could still gather more manpower. However, they did not have enough time, so there was no need to do so.

An enemy that even over 800 genetic warriors were unable to eliminate was not worth 800 more.

The Clone Society had also ambushed Yu Tian twice before. At that time, Yu Tian did not have a bulletproof vest, so the combat power he displayed was not as powerful as it was now.

Hence, they felt that the reason why the previous two attacks had failed was due to the lack of manpower and numbers.

This time, they had prepared 800 genetic warriors. Initially, the Clone Society felt that there was no need to invest all their resources into this.

However, only now did they realize that Yu Tian, who was wearing a full set of equipment, was not someone an ordinary genetic warrior could deal with.

This was especially true in certain special environments, such as forests or other places with complicated environments.

The reason why Yu Tian was able to display such combat strength was firstly because his bulletproof vest was truly able to take a beating, and secondly because his light steps were truly hard to catch.

But most importantly, the broken spear in Yu Tian's hand was able to let Yu Tian kill and injure the enemy effortlessly..

Chapter 1407: Chapter 1,406, stalling for time

Translator: 549690339

The thing that made Kronin's balls ache the most was the fact that Yu Tian's broken spear had been stolen from them.

If Yu Tian had only been able to endure a beating and run fast, then he would have been exhausted to death in this forest sooner or later.

However, with the addition of this broken spear, Yu Tian had an extremely powerful and energy-saving attack method.

Yu Tian had killed dozens of times in the forest, killing a total of over a hundred genetic warriors.

This was something unimaginable for a normal battle.

In the history of war, it wasn't as if there hadn't been a single person who had killed several hundred enemy heroes. However, such a battle required the support of some terrain advantages and weapons.

Yu Tian's cold weapon battle mode could also kill over a hundred people. Only the legendary ancient generals could do this.

The commander of the genetic warriors immediately changed his combat style. He ordered the soldiers to maintain their combat formation and stop chasing after Yu Tian.

They only needed to follow behind Yu Tian and not be completely shaken off.

It was impossible for Yu Tian to maintain his maximum speed. After breaking through the blockade, he would definitely slow down. The genetic warriors could still bite his tail and chase after him.

If Yu Tian turned around and continued charging, the genetic warriors would only use bullets and grenades to exhaust his stamina and destroy the durability of his bulletproof vest.

If Yu Tian continued charging forward, the genetic warriors outside would immediately chase after him along the road and continue setting up interceptions ahead.

This method of action was indeed somewhat exhausting. However, the stamina of the genetic warriors was still pretty good. They were all able to endure this kind of continuous movement.

However, this method was still unable to injure Yu Tian. The commanders of the genetic warriors were very clear in their hearts that they could only exhaust Yu Tian's physical abilities and continue to exert pressure on Yu Tian. The mission of killing Yu Tian was not something they could accomplish.

Not long after, Yu Tian also noticed the abnormality of the enemy.

These genetic warriors seemed to have become "Lazy", and their enthusiasm for chasing after him was no longer as high as before.

Their current actions seemed to be like they were dealing with an errand that their boss had given them. They were dawdling with their work time. As for whether they could complete the mission or not, these genetic warriors didn't seem to care.

Stalling for time?

If they were to delay until daybreak and Yu Tian was still unable to break out of the encirclement, the situation would indeed be extremely disadvantageous for him.

Without the cover of the night, the enemy's pursuit and encirclement of him would become much simpler.

With a clear vision, they would no longer need to spread out their forces in such a large area. They could completely concentrate their forces and accurately pursue and intercept Yu Tian.

The pressure Yu Tian would have to face would naturally increase exponentially.

However, how could Yu Tian allow them to drag out the time until dawn?

Yu Tian would at most dawdle with them for another hour before he had to think of a way to break out of the encirclement.

Currently, what was causing him the greatest trouble was actually not the blockade line formed by the genetic warriors, but the enemy's headlights.

Breaking through the blockade line of the genetic warriors was very easy. Yu Tian even had the spare energy to charge back and forth against their blockade line.

However, those headlights had also formed a blockade line. As long as he broke through this blockade line, the enemies would discover him.

Although the enemy couldn't stop him, they could at least know the direction he was going. They could always lock onto his whereabouts and then set up an interception in front of him again. They would also use the headlights to seal off the enemy.

This arrangement made it impossible for Yu Tian to stop and have a good rest. He was also unable to shake off the enemy behind him.

Not being able to stop and rest was still a small matter. Yu Tian's physical strength was also sufficient to persist.

However, if he could not completely shake off the enemy, it would become somewhat troublesome for him to break out of the encirclement.

Yu Tian did not plan to leave along the road, because on this road, he would definitely not be able to outrun those genetic warriors.

He had to leave from the other end of the forest and enter the wilderness.

However, there were no hidden objects in the wilderness, and his movements would easily be discovered by the enemy. Therefore, he had to have sufficient time to escape the enemy's line of sight until he ran far enough in the wilderness, the enemy would never be able to find him again.

The surrounding wilderness was very flat. To completely escape the enemy's sight, he had to run for at least one to two kilometers, turning his figure into a tiny black dot.

To run this distance, with his average speed, he would need at least two to three minutes.

However, this speed consumed a lot of internal energy, and the speed of the latter would definitely decrease.

If the enemy discovered him within these two to three minutes, they would definitely catch up immediately.

Running in the wilderness, the stamina of the genetic warriors would be more durable.

Even if they couldn't catch up to him at the start, they would slowly catch up to him later.

When the remaining days of internal energy and stamina were exhausted, it would be equivalent to falling into a desperate situation. It was much more dangerous than being in the forest.

In the wilderness, these genetic warriors could even use rifles to kill him.

Hence, these two to three minutes were extremely crucial.

However, the genetic warriors had been chasing behind him the entire time. If the blockade lines on both sides were unable to discover him, they would definitely know that he had run into the wilderness.

As long as the genetic warriors walked out of the forest, they would be able to see his figure running in the wilderness. This would not give him the chance to escape.

Therefore, Yu Tian had to first get rid of the enemies in the forest. At the very least, he had to make sure that the enemies would not be able to figure out which direction he had gone in for a short period of time. Only then would he have the chance to escape.

The headlights along the road were his biggest obstacle.

Once again, Yu Tian broke through the blockade of the genetic warriors. Then, he took a large detour from the forest and started to weave through it again and again.

He started to think about how to get rid of these damnable headlights.

Since the genetic warriors were all maintaining a dense formation, it was much more difficult to deal enough damage to them.

Every time Yu Tian tried to weave, he could only get rid of a few enemies at the periphery, greatly reducing his efficiency.

Just as he was thinking about whether he should cross the road again, a series of gunshots suddenly rang out in front of him.

Yu Tian's heart skipped a beat. Reinforcements had arrived?

However, the gunshots disappeared very quickly. Yu Tian immediately understood. This should be Meng Nan and Meng bei being discovered by the enemy.

If it was reinforcements, the exchange of fire would not have lasted for such a short period of time.

Without sufficient strength, the reinforcements from the Eastern Dragon Company did not have the need to send themselves to their deaths.

However, once they arrived, they would definitely have the strength to fight. They would be able to reach a stalemate with the genetic warriors, and they would also have the ability to escape and retreat.

As such, the gunshots earlier could only have been caused by Meng Nan and Meng Bei.

Yu Tian was somewhat puzzled. It had already been so long, yet Meng Nan and Meng Bei had still not escaped?

Normally speaking, they should have already run over ten li away, completely escaping the pursuit of the genetic warriors.

Could something have happened again?

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1408 - 1408: 1,407, Meng Bei's support - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1408 - 1408: 1,407, Meng Bei's support

Chapter 1408: Chapter 1,407, Meng Bei's support

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian temporarily gave up on the idea of crossing the road and directly ran in the direction of the gunshots.

He didn't run far before he saw the genetic warrior squad in front of him.

The distance between the genetic warrior squads was slightly larger than before. This was because they no longer hoped to intercept Yu Tian. As long as they could discover Yu Tian and maintain the pressure on Yu Tian, it would be fine.

As such, there were only three squads in a single vertical line. The distance between them was around 20 meters.

Moreover, the amount of power they had invested in pursuing Yu Tian was also much smaller. There were only two vertical lines and six squads in total.

The retreat on the highway had maintained a very good coordination with them. Their position had always been on the route illuminated by the headlights. As long as Yu Tian passed through this blockade, he would definitely be discovered by them.

However, this time, the enemy team seemed to be in a mess.

The three teams at the back seemed to be chasing in the opposite direction, while the three teams at the front seemed to be unable to make up their minds and had already stopped advancing.

The commander of the genetic warriors was very clear that Yu Tian was still within the encirclement. However, enemies had suddenly appeared outside the encirclement, and they had even ambushed one of their teams. This caused the commander to be somewhat uncertain.

Could it be that Yu Tian had already passed through the blockade line, yet he had not been discovered by them?

This wasn't completely impossible.

There would always be times when the genetic warriors would be careless, or perhaps Yu Tian would also be able to cleverly hide himself.

In addition, Yu Tian's repeated interferences had also created quite a number of misconceptions for the commander of the genetic warriors.

If Yu Tian had ambushed two teams consecutively and left in two different directions, it would be very easy to cause chaos among the commanders of the genetic warriors.

These two teams would report Yu Tian's movements to the commander, but the timing of their reports would be somewhat different.

Sometimes, when they discovered Yu Tian, they would immediately report to the commander, and Yu Tian would prepare to break through to the east.

Sometimes, after Yu Tian broke through, they would report to the commander that Yu Tian had already gone to the west.

Therefore, the commander had to figure out the sequence of Yu Tian's breakthrough and the exact time of his breakthrough.

This was not a difficult matter to begin with.

However, a small team had just reported to him that Yu Tian had appeared on their east side and ambushed the soldiers behind them. The commander was a little confused.

Just as he was guessing if Yu Tian had secretly broken through the blockade line, another small team reported that Yu Tian had launched an attack from the west.

This was not all. After Yu Tian broke through the first vertical line, he caught up with the second vertical line and launched another attack from behind them.

The squad immediately reported to the commander that Yu Tian had launched an attack from the west.

The commander was immediately thrown into confusion.

He calmed his mind. Fortunately, no matter how strange the situation was, Yu Tian was still running toward the east.

He immediately ordered the genetic warriors to quickly follow him to the east. Then, he ordered the teams that had long been prepared on the highway to head toward the east to intercept him.

After that, the teams on the west side did not retreat from the forest for the time being. Instead, they seized the opportunity to search the east side.

Then, he started to wonder what exactly was going on. Could there be something strange about the area that Yu Tian had left.

Would Yu Tian still hide within this area and launch another attack from the West? Or would he secretly slip away from the west.

If there was a mistake the first time, there would be a second mistake.

If Yu Tian really had a way to catch the loophole in their encirclement, he would quickly disappear from their sight. After their encirclement was completed, they would discover that there was nothing inside the encirclement.

Genetic warriors could be stubborn, but as a commander, he had to pay attention to all the accidents and details.

The commander quickly recalled that there were other ancient martial art practitioners around Yu Tian, but the others seemed to have disappeared for a long time. Why had they reappeared?

Had they escaped and returned to seek death?

This was also why Yu Tian was puzzled. He felt that it was very likely that Meng Nan and Meng Bei were in front of him. However, he did not know why Meng Nan and Meng Bei had returned.

He had to figure out these problems as soon as possible to prevent any accidents from happening.

After ambushing two small teams of genetic warriors, Yu Tian quickly chased after them to the east.

Very quickly, a few small teams of genetic warriors were left behind by him.

Yu Tian ran for a few hundred meters in one breath before glancing behind him. The genetic warriors behind him were not chasing after him with their full strength. They were already far behind him.

There were still genetic warriors in front setting up a blockade line. This action was akin to playing a game.

The genetic warriors behind him needed to control the speed of their pursuit, keeping pace with the convoy on the road.

They wanted to avoid Yu Tian suddenly making a comeback. Without the headlights to control their vision, Yu Tian would easily escape from the gap between their encirclement. This was the worst thing.

Yu Tian was not in a hurry. He knew that the enemy was not in a hurry to catch him. They were just stalling for time and exhausting his stamina.

He slowed down and carefully searched the forest.

They were already out of the range of the headlights. Their vision was filled with the dark shadows of the trees.

“Mr. Yu!”

Before Yu Tian could find the target, Meng Bei’s voice sounded not far away.

Then, a man jumped down from a tree in front of him and ran quickly to Yu Tian.

Yu Tian's helmet did not have night vision. If Meng Bei was hiding in the tree, it would be difficult for Yu Tian to find Meng bei in such an environment and at such a distance.

It was much easier for Meng bei to find Yu Tian. Yu Tian had been jogging at a constant speed. If he did not deliberately rely on the trees to hide his tracks, it would be easy for the night vision equipment to find him.

Naturally, this was also because Yu Tian had intentionally revealed his tracks, waiting for Meng Nan and Meng Bei to take the initiative to discover him.

Hearing Meng Bei's voice, Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. Then, he hurriedly asked, "What's going on? Why did you run back?"

Meng bei replied, "I came to bring you along.

had a headache. "If you guys ran, then so be it. Why did you guys take the initiative to run into the enemy's encirclement? I have my own way to break out of the encirclement. You guys should have left first. Now, it's even more troublesome... Where's Meng Nan?"

"I told him to hide."

"He's hiding alone? What if those genetic warriors discover him?"

"That won't happen. His current position is absolutely safe. He's very far from the forest. "Meng bei was rather confident. "He can hide until daybreak. Once these enemies have retreated, he can return to the highway to hail a car..."

Yu Tian felt slightly relieved. As long as they escaped the encirclement of the genetic warriors and were a few kilometers away, the genetic warriors would not be able to find their tracks.

Even if the clone society used their surveillance satellites, they would not be able to track them in the forest..

Chapter 1409: Chapter 1,408, the road to survival

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian now had a headache over how to bring Meng bei out.

Although the two of them were stronger when they were together, their targets were also larger. It would be more troublesome to escape from the encirclement of the enemy.

However, since things had come to this, he had nothing to complain about. Meng bei was willing to risk his life to come and rescue him. This was originally out of goodwill, so he would definitely try his best to bring Meng bei along to break out of the encirclement.

Fortunately, both of them were not injured, and there were no obstructions in their movements.

The lights from both sides had already slowly gathered. Yu Tian did not have time to think too much. He immediately said to Meng bei, "Follow Me. Let's break out of their encirclement first."

Yu Tian felt that there was no longer a need to waste time with the genetic warriors. It was time for them to officially break through the encirclement.

Earlier, they had attacked the small teams of the genetic warriors on the west side one after another. The west side was also the place where the enemy's strength was the weakest.

Yu Tian decided to once again make a comeback and cross the road.

If he wanted to break through the encirclement, he would have to speed up the speed of moving the battlefield so that the encirclement of the enemy couldn't keep up with his pace.

As long as the enemy made a mistake and lost him, he would be able to make frequent movements so that the enemy would continuously miss him and finally find an opportunity to leave the forest.

However, Yu Tian had just turned around when Meng bei hurriedly called out to him, "Why are you going back?"

Yu Tian said, "We'll break out of the encirclement from the west first, and then we'll circle around the enemy a few more times to find an opportunity to leave this place..."

"Don't Go West, and don't circle around the enemy either. Let's continue heading east... Pve explored the road in the east just now. The terrain in the east is more complicated, so we can easily shake off the enemy.

"You've explored the road in the front? What's the terrain over there?" "There are continuous bends over there, and the area of the forest is larger... "

"Really? How Far Did You Scout?"

Spirit was instantly roused.

Meng bei said solemnly, “Naturally, it’s true. Otherwise, how would I have come back to look for you? The distance I scouted isn’t far, but I’ve climbed up the tree and seen that the forest ahead is getting denser and denser, and the area is getting larger and larger...”

“Let’s Go! ”

Yu Tian did not hesitate any longer. He immediately turned around and dashed toward the east.

If he had known earlier that there would be a better terrain ahead, he would have been too lazy to continue playing hide-and-seek with the genetic warriors.

The blockade of the genetic warriors could not stop him at all. All he had to do was dash over in a single breath.

Although breaking through the encirclement continuously and running continuously would exhaust his stamina even more, he had no other choice. However, as long as he ran into a large-scale forest, there would be nothing that Kroni could do to him.

Yu Tian took the lead, and Meng bei followed closely behind him.

Originally, Meng Bei wanted to take the lead for Yu Tian, but the bulletproof vest on him was not as good as Yu Tian’s bulletproof vest.

At this time, there was no need to pay attention to who was the boss and who was the employee.

Everyone should choose their most suitable position so that they could display their greatest combat strength.

In terms of martial arts, Meng Bei believed that he would not be inferior to Yu Tian.

Whether it was the foundation of his internal energy or the level of his martial arts proficiency, he was more outstanding and more solid than Yu Tian.

Only in terms of Qinggong, both of them had their own unique characteristics. In an environment like the forest, Yu Tian’s Lingbo micro steps still had an advantage.

The biggest difference between the two was mainly due to their equipment.

Just like playing an online game, the difference in levels between the two was not too big. Yu Tian had a full set of godly equipment, while Meng Bei had a full set of trash.

This caused the difference in combat power between the two to be like the difference between heaven and earth.

When they encountered a small team of genetic warriors, Yu Tian brushed past the enemies like a gust of wind. He was able to use his broken spear to kill one or two enemies. Furthermore, he was able to withstand the enemy's bullets and escape into the darkness.

Meng bei didn't have such a powerful and easy attacking method.

If he wanted to kill a few genetic warriors, he had to use his internal energy and smash his enemies to death with his fists and palms.

Or he could rely on his own skills to crush his enemies and break their necks in the crowd.

However, such an attacking method would naturally cause him to stop and delay the time he needed to break out of the encirclement. In fact, it might even cause him to be entangled by the enemies.

If he was bent on breaking out of the encirclement, he would not be able to have any entanglement with the enemies. He could only use his qinggong to charge through the gaps between the small teams.

Hence, following behind Yu Tian was his best choice.

Yu Tian had attracted the attention and firepower of the genetic warriors in front of him. Thus, it would be safer for him to take this opportunity to break through.

The two of them maintained a distance of more than ten meters. One at the front and one at the back. Very quickly, they broke through the blockade line that had just been set up on the east side.

This time, did not intentionally kill or injure the enemy. Instead, he rushed forward at full speed, no longer entangled with the enemy.

After the two of them broke through this blockade line, the genetic warriors that had long been prepared immediately drove to a location a few kilometers ahead and set up a new blockade line.

As for the genetic warriors on the west side, they also immediately ran out of the forest. All of them boarded their vehicles and entered a mobile standby mode along the road.

The genetic warriors had already split into several teams. They took turns setting up a blockade, surrounding and intercepting Yu Tian.

Under the circumstances where they were not chasing after Yu Tian, each blockade team did not need too many people. All they needed was to be able to detect Yu Tian's movements and grasp his tracks.

They were still neither in a hurry nor in a hurry. They followed the established plan to exhaust Yu Tian's stamina.

The commander of the genetic warriors was very willing to continue dealing with Yu Tian. He felt that Yu Tian's actions were akin to fighting a cornered beast. Sooner or later, he would exhaust his strength and fall into his hands.

Even if Yu Tian was able to persist, he wouldn't be able to persist for long.

When the sky brightened, Yu Tian would become a turtle in a jar with nowhere to hide.

In addition, the clone society still had other trump cards in their hands.

After so many exchanges, the clone society had already realized that it would be very difficult to kill Yu Tian with just genetic warriors.

The Knights in their hands were the ones that were truly sufficient to deal with Yu Tian.

What the commander needed to do now was to drag Yu Tian here until the reinforcements of the Knights arrived.

In fact, some people within the clone society had already proposed to use the strength of the Knights to deal with Yu Tian. However, the knights were not something that they could use at will.

Now, because of the broken spear, the Knights finally sent out two knight Squires. Later, they found out that Yu Tian had stolen their things, so they took part in the operation to kill Yu Tian.

They originally thought that the two knight Squires were enough to kill Yu Tian. However, they did not expect that Yu Tian had a few ancient martial art practitioners by his side. The two knight Squires lost their lives just like that.

However, this was also a good thing for some of the high-level management of the Clone Society. The death of the two knight Squires finally caught the attention of the Imights, and they finally began to participate in the operation against Yu Tian.

Whether it was for the broken spear or the Knights'face..

Chapter 1410: Chapter 1,409: All-out attack

Translator: 549690339

It would take time for the Knights to send more people. A few hours would not be enough for them to reach the battlefield.

The genetic warriors were currently trying to stall Yu Tian until dawn.

It would naturally be best if they had a chance to kill Yu Tian. However, even if they did not have a chance to kill Yu Tian, the members of the knights were about to arrive.

That would be Yu Tian's doomsday.

Currently, the genetic warriors did not intend to fight Yu Tian to the death. Hence, the blockade line was set up in a sloppy manner.

Yu Tian had broken through several times in a row, yet they were unable to stop him at all.

Fortunately, they were still able to grasp Yu Tian's movements and know the direction of his breakthrough.

However, after Yu Tian continued to break through several times to the east, the commander of the genetic warriors began to realize that something was amiss.

Yu Tian actually stopped playing the game of back and forth. Instead, he continued to break through to the east a few times.

Every time he broke through the blockade, there would be a few intervals between each time. Almost as soon as the blockade was set up, Yu Tian would quickly brush past them.

There was even a time when he was so fast that before they could even send all their teams into the forest, Yu Tian had already rushed past them.

According to the distance between the blockade lines and the time that Yu Tian had broken through, Yu Tian was running all the way without any pause or rest.

Was he trying to break through?

Did he not want to play Hide-and-seek?

The commander hurriedly opened the electronic map and carefully checked the terrain on the east side.

Then, his expression changed drastically.

Less than ten kilometers to the east, the area of the forest suddenly increased, and the road began to zigzag in the forest, stretching several times. This was an excellent escape route. It was enough for Yu Tian to escape easily.

After being entangled with Yu Tian for an entire night, the commander knew very well that unless Yu Tian wanted to fight them to the death, these genetic warriors would not be able to stop Yu Tian from breaking out of the encirclement.

“Quick, quickly move everyone to the east...”

Just as the commander was about to give orders to his subordinates, he suddenly realized that this arrangement was not appropriate.

If he were to send all the genetic warriors to the east, then Yu Tian would be able to make a feint and break through the encirclement to the west.

At that time, he might not be able to keep up with Yu Tian’s pace. There was a high possibility that he would lose Yu Tian just like that.

Hence, he hurriedly changed his words. “Leave a group of people to the west. Leave another reserve team on the road... HMM, leave a few vehicles behind. It doesn’t need too many. It’s fine as long as we can control our vision.”

Although he felt that Yu Tian was most likely going to break through the encirclement to the east, he still could not gather all his forces to intercept him on the east side.

This was a very thorny problem.

Yu Tian’s actions were like a plot. If he did not deploy enough forces on the east side, it would be very difficult to stop Yu Tian.

However, he had gathered all his forces on the east side, and Yu Tian could run to the west side again.

Regardless of which choice he made, it would be a terrible situation for him.

Every blockade line required at least 100 genetic warriors, so he needed at least two teams of 100 people to block Yu Tian's escape route.

One team would enter the forest and set up a blockade to control his vision.

The other team would wait on the highway and wait for Yu Tian to break through the blockade before continuing to block the west.

This way, the number of soldiers he could place on the east side would only be around 400.

Would 400 soldiers be able to stop Yu Tian?

The commander was not confident. Even if he placed all the genetic warriors on the east side, he was not confident in stopping Yu Tian.

After tormenting himself for an entire night, he had already started to doubt the abilities of the genetic warriors.

However, regardless of whether he could stop them or not, he had to do his best.

As long as he could get Yu Tian to stay behind and continue playing cat and mouse with them in this forest, that would be his victory.

The commander's order was quickly passed down, and the genetic warriors immediately started moving out.

There were a total of 800 genetic warriors that were dispatched tonight. After tormenting himself along the way with Yu Tian, only around 600 of them were left.

Only 200 were left to block Yu Tian's escape route. Only 400 were left to set up a blockade on the east side.

Based on the fact that there were only 100 people per column, they could only set up a total of four blockade lines. The depth of their defense was around 100 meters.

A distance of 100 meters. Under the circumstances where Yu Tian normally used his qinggong, he only needed five to six seconds to fly through.

In fact, when his speed erupted, 2-3 seconds would pass.

That was equivalent to a blink of an eye. It was so fast that the genetic warriors could only see a shadow, and there was no time for them to react.

If they were in the wilderness, even if Yu Tian were to run 100 meters away in the blink of an eye, the genetic warriors could still shoot and give chase.

However, in the forest, the hot weapons were completely helpless against Yu Tian, who was 100 meters away. Even if they wanted to give chase, they could not keep up with Yu Tian's speed.

Of course, it was impossible for them to increase their speed in the forest, and it was also impossible for them to maintain a straight line sprint.

Due to the influence of the trees, Yu Tian's speed would be slightly slower. However, after crossing a distance of 100 meters, it would only take about 10 seconds at most.

What could these genetic warriors do in 10 seconds?

They could shoot, but the genetic warriors were not those veterans who were particularly accurate and fast.

This was especially so in the forest. Even if they were to fire furiously, it would be difficult for them to hit a target that was moving at high speed.

Coupled with Yu Tian's bulletproof equipment, even if he was hit by a few bullets, it would not be a big deal.

The commander did not have the confidence to stop Yu Tian.

Even so, he still had to try his best to think of a way.

He ordered all the genetic warriors to immediately throw grenades into the open space around them after they discovered the situation, causing the 100-meter-deep blockade line to be filled with exploding grenades.

He didn't know if this move would work, but this was the last resort.

Yu Tian and Meng Bei, one at the front and one at the back, rapidly approached the blockade line of the genetic warriors.

This time, the blockade line was set further away, giving the genetic warriors more time to prepare.

All the genetic warriors held the grenades in their hands, one in each hand. They also unplugged the safety latch, not even bothering to use their rifles.

Yu Tian had a premonition of this situation.

When he discovered that the distance between them and the blockade line was even further than before, he realized that the enemy was preparing to use their ultimate move.

He didn't know what methods the genetic warriors were preparing to use, but before this attack, he decided to stop and catch his breath.

The continuous running had consumed a lot of Yu Tian's stamina and inner energy. Meng bei was the same.

Yu Tian's gentle steps still had some effect on restoring inner strength, but Meng Bei's inner strength could only be purely consumed.

The consumption of inner strength was fine, as long as it was not exhausted, it would not affect his movement.

But if too much physical strength was consumed, his movement would be affected..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1411 - 1411: 1,410: Grenade Blockade Line - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1411 - 1411: 1,410: Grenade Blockade Line

Chapter 1411: Chapter 1,410: Grenade Blockade Line

Translator: 549690339

Knowing that the enemy was going to make a small move, Yu Tian decided to stop for a while to recover some of his strength.

At the same time, this sudden pause could also disrupt the enemy's rhythm. Over 400 genetic warriors were waiting in formation. In order to maintain their formation and achieve a perfect blockade effect, they didn't even dare to move forward to search.

However, after waiting quietly on the spot for two minutes, Yu Tian still did not appear.

This caused the commander of the genetic warriors to become somewhat confused.

Could it be that Yu Tian had started to run back?

This was also a good thing. Although the blockade on the west side could not stop Yu Tian, as long as Yu Tian did not run to the east side of the jungle, that would be the best outcome.

The genetic warriors that were slowly advancing on the west side received the order. They scattered their formation slightly, and then began to speed up their search.

If the formation was scattered, it would be easier for the genetic warriors to suffer attacks and losses. However, this would also allow them to have a wider field of vision.

Even without the assistance of the headlights, they would not be able to slip past Yu Tian without being noticed.

As soon as the genetic warriors finished their preparations, Yu Tian and Meng bei started charging towards the east.

This time, the distance Meng Bei was lagging behind slightly increased.

Yu Tian continued charging fearlessly. Meng bei, on the other hand, needed to adapt to the situation of the enemies ahead and choose a more suitable method and route to break through.

The two of them had already mentally prepared themselves. They swiftly charged towards the blockade line.

“We found him!”

With the help of the headlights, the genetic warriors of the first column noticed the Black Shadow in the forest from afar. Without thinking, they threw the grenade toward the empty space in the forest.

Unfortunately, Yu Tian's speed was too fast.

He quickly brushed past the genetic warriors of the first column, leaving the explosion range before the grenade exploded.

However, the genetic warriors of the other columns also threw grenades at the same time.

Without seeing Yu Tian, several hundred people instantly threw grenades all over the forest.

Within a radius of 100 meters, several hundred grenades exploded almost at the same time. The Flames and shrapnel from the explosion immediately covered the area of 100 meters.

Suddenly, a huge flame erupted from the forest.

Yu Tian also saw these grenades flying everywhere. The view provided by the headlights was from both sides.

The terrifying number of grenades made Yu Tian feel danger. It was impossible for him to approach these grenades.

The only safe place in this space was the position of the genetic warriors themselves.

After all, without seeing Yu Tian, it was impossible for the genetic warriors to throw grenades at their own people.

Without thinking, Yu Tian directly crashed into the group of genetic warriors.

When the explosion sounded, Yu Tian had already crashed into the middle of a small group of genetic warriors.

Countless fragments of the explosion had also affected the genetic warriors themselves. Although they were not at the center of the explosion, with so many grenades exploding, the combined power of the shrapnel and the shockwave was extremely huge.

These genetic warriors were blown by the shockwave and the flames, and they were knocked into a mess.

If not for the fact that they were standing close together, they might have already been blown away by the shockwave.

Yu Tian crashed into the middle of the crowd. It was the same as using these genetic warriors as shields.

Other than the chaotic collisions, the explosion of the grenades did not affect Yu Tian at all.

Yu Tian fiercely swung his broken spear and swiftly hacked down a few genetic warriors beside him.

The genetic warriors hurriedly pressed down on the fuse of the grenades on their chests. The 20 or so genetic warriors all intended to perish together with

Yu Tian.

If the 20 or so grenades exploded together, Yu Tian, who was in the midst of the crowd, would definitely not be able to escape.

Even if he was not killed on the spot, he would still suffer some internal injuries.

However, the actions of these genetic warriors were still a little slow. This might be because the explosion of the grenades earlier had delayed the time for them to launch their second attack.

The rest of the genetic warriors were the same. Originally, they had wanted to continue throwing grenades. However, after being blown around by the shockwave of the first wave of grenades, their second wave of attacks had been slightly delayed.

Yu Tian grabbed the two to three second delay from the explosion of the grenade and immediately charged out of the crowd, continuing his assault.

The second wave of grenades had finally been thrown out.

The moment Yu Tian saw the grenades, he immediately charged toward the next column of people.

This group of genetic warriors was similarly fearless. When they saw Yu Tian pouncing toward them, they immediately started detonating the third wave of grenades.

Before Yu Tian could charge into them, he had already noticed their actions of activating the grenade's fuse. He could only hurriedly stop his charge and abruptly run back.

At this moment, the group of genetic warriors from the 2nd column behind him were throwing grenades in Yu Tian's direction. The grenades were practically raining down on his face.

Yu Tian had no way to dodge. The grenades that were about to explode were raining down on him from the front and back. He could only leap up and try his best to jump high into the sky.

This batch of grenades finally did not land on his face. Instead, they landed on the group of genetic warriors from the 3rd column.

The sound of the grenades exploding rang out once again.

This group of genetic warriors from the 3rd column was truly unlucky. Not only had they self-destructed, their allies were also adding fuel to the fire.

The power of the concentrated explosion of 40 to 50 grenades was astonishing. It was not inferior to a cluster grenade.

This was the method used to blow up tanks in the past. Now, it was used to blow up people.

No matter how tough the genetic warriors were, they could not compare to tanks.

In an instant, they were blown up into pieces. All the parts of their bodies were blown out.

The smell of gunpowder in the air seemed to have added a hint of the smell of roasted meat.

A small team was wiped out just like that. Not a single genetic warrior survived.

Therefore, although the genetic warriors were powerful, they could not play much of a role on the battlefield.

There was a limit to how much they could take a beating. The ferocious firepower on the battlefield was much more intense than it was now.

Yu Tianren was in mid-air, and the situation was not good either. Currently, he could jump up to a height of more than ten meters, but the explosion range of the grenades was usually more than twenty meters.

Although the height was not the center of the explosion, there were too many grenades, and the explosion was too fierce. Yu Tian finally suffered.

He felt like he had been hit by a car, and it was under his buttocks.

Being hit by a car was not enough to kill him, but it also made his blood boil and he suffered some minor injuries.

Fortunately, his buttocks were not his head, so he did not suffer a concussion.

Otherwise, a concussion would definitely have very serious consequences when surrounded by enemies.

However, while he was injured, Yu Tian found himself flying out of the encirclement.

The shock wave from the grenade blew him away and directly outside the blockade line..

Chapter 1412: Chapter 1,411, successfully breaking out of the encirclement

Translator: 549690339

This could be considered an unexpected surprise.

Although Yu Tian was slightly injured, he managed to break through the enemy's blockade.

After landing, Yu Tian hesitated for a moment.

There was still Meng bei behind him. Was Meng bei capable of breaking through this blockade?

Meng Bei's bulletproof vest wasn't as tough as his. Furthermore, Meng Bei's body wasn't as tough as a genetic warrior's.

If he had been grazed by the concentrated explosion of the grenade, Yu Tian might have only sustained minor injuries, and the genetic warrior might only have sustained serious injuries. As such, Meng bei might have been on the verge of death from the explosion.

However, Yu Tian could not go back and help Meng bei now. After entering the blockade line of the grenade, the two of them could only take the explosion together.

It was useless for him to go back and help Meng bei now.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment before deciding to continue running forward.

The main target of the genetic warriors was still him. As long as he started running, the genetic warriors would naturally give up on this blockade line and try their best to chase after him, or continue to intercept him.

Hence, Yu Tian shouted loudly, “Kids, come chase after Grandpa! ”

There was basically no point in provoking the genetic warriors. These artificial products might not have much intense emotions.

However, this shout could attract the attention of the genetic warriors. As long as Yu Tian started running, they would definitely catch up to him. Hence, after Yu Tian shouted, he immediately started running towards the east.

His speed wasn’t considered fast, but it was enough for the genetic warriors to not be able to catch up to him.

As he was running, he casually turned his head around to take a look. Indeed, the genetic warriors behind him were already chasing after him.

However, looking at the postures of those genetic warriors, they seemed to have suffered some injuries from the grenade explosion as well. As they ran, they felt somewhat wobbly.

After all, the distance between their various teams was too close. The moment the grenade exploded, no one would be able to escape unscathed.

Those in a better condition could continue chasing after Yu Tian. Those in a worse condition might not even be able to run.

Yu Tian heaved a sigh of relief. This was the result of playing with self-destruction.

If all the genetic warriors were injured, then it would be even more impossible for them to surround him.

Yu Tian’s escape was considered half successful.

As for Meng Bei, Yu Tian felt that as long as he managed to bring the genetic warriors away, Meng bei would be able to escape much more easily.

Actually, Meng Nan and Meng Bei were not in much danger. As long as Yu Tian acted alone, they would be able to escape easily.

In the end, Yu Tian was still the target of the clone society. The others were not worth splitting their forces to chase after.

After Meng Nan and Meng Bei escaped from the encirclement for the first time, they understood this point.

However, protecting Yu Tian was their mission and responsibility. They were too ashamed to do such a thing after leaving their employer behind and escaping for their lives.

After Yu Tian ran for a kilometer in one breath, Meng Bei suddenly appeared in front of him again.

Yu Tian was immediately shocked. "You Brat... Why did you run in front of Meng bei took a deep breath and said, "The explosion in the forest was so powerful, so I took the opportunity to go around the outside of the forest and follow the edge of the forest to catch up to you..."

There were no trees blocking the outside of the forest, so it was naturally much faster to run at full speed than in the forest.

Moreover, Meng Bei's lightness skill was faster than Yu Tian's, so it was very easy for him to run in front of Yu Tian without the trees blocking him.

Yu Tian was a little helpless, and he said as he ran, "Why don't you take this opportunity to directly escape?"

Meng bei said, "I naturally have to come and pick you up. This is the most basic brotherhood of the jianghu... And you don't have to worry that we won't be able to escape. We're about to enter the big forest, and the enemy has no chance to stop us.

However, after a few hundred meters, Meng bei and Yu Tian suddenly changed directions and ran towards the depths of the forest on the right.

"We have already reached the first bend. Ahead is the great forest..."

After the turn, they continued forward. The forest started to become denser, and the area seemed to have widened considerably.

Yu Tian and Meng Bei were starting to feel a little tired, but they could still persevere.

They did not need to pay too much attention to the direction of their escape. As long as they advanced deeper into the forest, they would be able to gradually shake off the genetic warriors.

In a large area of the forest, the genetic warriors had no way of searching for them.

Regardless of whether it was a reconnaissance satellite or a drone, it was very difficult to find their tracks.

After continuing to run for an unknown number of kilometers, Yu Tian and Meng bei finally stopped.

They could no longer see the pursuers behind them. Yu Tian could not even hear the footsteps of the pursuers.

He jumped to the top of the tree and observed the situation behind him. However, he could not even see the headlights of the enemies.

Although the surrounding terrain was roughly flat, there were some ups and downs.

The enemies were several kilometers away from each other. Moreover, there was a forest blocking them. Even the headlights of the entire convoy were dim in the night sky.

Without a doubt, they had already shaken off the enemies behind them. Or perhaps those genetic warriors had already given up on pursuing them, knowing that they could not do anything.

Yu Tian and Meng bei slowed down their pace and started walking slowly through the forest.

After escaping, the first thing they had to do was naturally establish a connection with the headquarters of the Eastern Dragon Company.

Naturally, there would be no signal blocking at their current location. However, Yu Tian and Meng bei did not have a phone on them.

Hence, they had to leave the forest now and find a village or town, or a farm.. As long as there were people, there would naturally be communication tools.

(‘By the way, where is Meng Nan Hiding?’

Yu Tian turned around and asked Meng bei.

Meng bei scratched his head and said, "Probably in the south of us, but I'm not sure about the exact location. "But we don't have to go back to look for him.

He's not in the forest. He should have gone far away by now..."

"Will he be able to walk on his own?"

"He'll definitely be able to walk. His injuries have stabilized. Even if he uses Qinggong once in a while, it won't be a problem." "After daybreak, he can hitch a ride on the highway or find a farm... in short, he's not a child anymore. He'll definitely have a way.

Yu Tian thought about it and felt that Meng bei was right.

As long as Meng Nan's injuries were not too severe, it would not be dangerous for him to walk alone in the wilderness.

After all, this place was not a hopeless terrain like a desert or snow mountain. Ancient martial art practitioners with their own martial arts skills would definitely have no problem surviving in the wilderness. Their survival ability would only be stronger than those experts.

Even if they walked in the wilderness for ten days to half a month, they would not die of thirst or hunger..

Chapter 1413: Chapter 1412: resume contact

Translator: 549690339

Now that they had lost the enemy's pursuit, as long as they continued to widen the distance between the two sides in the dark, they would be able to walk for dozens of kilometers in one breath, and the enemy would have no chance to pursue and search for them.

Even if they waited until dawn, it would be very difficult for the KLONI Society's satellites and drones to find them in such a large area.

Of course, they still had to be careful. If the Kronin Society was unwilling, they would definitely use the drones to try their luck in the surrounding area of dozens of kilometers.

Yu Tian and Meng bei continued walking for another two kilometers before they finally walked out of the jungle.

After all, this was not a primitive forest, so the area of the jungle would not be ridiculously large.

A normal person might take some time to walk through a forest of more than ten kilometers, but for an ancient martial art practitioner, this was just the time it took to eat a meal.

The terrain outside the forest was still flat, just like in the forest. The road was basically flat, and walking was very convenient.

The two of them continued to move forward in the same direction.

The direction they were heading towards was the north. If they continued walking, it was very likely that they would return to Dawn City.

However, returning to Dawn City might not be a good thing. Now, Yu Tian suspected that the wind nation's officials were also colluding with the Kronin Society. Before he understood the situation, it was impossible for him to rashly return to the strongholds in Dawn City.

The most important thing now was to find a place with people nearby.

After arriving on the plain, the two of them sped up and began to use Qinggong to hurry.

At full speed, the two of them could reach a speed of fifty to sixty kilometers per hour. It was slightly slower than driving, but it was already considered a very high speed.

However, it was also a very tiring thing to run like this for an hour. Even if they had enough internal energy, their physical strength would not be able to keep up.

The two of them had to maintain their condition at all times. It was impossible for them to run until they were exhausted. Otherwise, if something unexpected happened, the two of them would be very passive.

Apart from some wild grass and bushes, there was basically nothing else in the wilderness.

Although there were some ups and downs and gullies along the way, they were basically flat and did not pose any obstacles to their progress.

After running for dozens of miles, they passed through a road.

However, Yu Tian did not plan to continue along the road. Although it would be easier to find places like gas stations, it would also be easier for the clones to find them.

Although the genetic warriors seemed to have given up on pursuing them, the clones would definitely still have drones searching in the air. The road would definitely be a place they would not let go.

Yu Tian did not know what kind of rescue measures the eastern Dragon Company would arrange. However, after they circled around the forest, the satellites of the Eastern Dragon Company would definitely not be able to track them anymore.

The Eastern Dragon Company did not have much combat power in the country of wind. It was impossible for them to rashly pull their team over and clash head-on with the genetic warriors.

Their limited strength had to be used on the blade in order to rescue their boss.

Therefore, Yu Tian had to get in touch with Dong Long Company as soon as possible, so that it would be easier for brother pig to make rescue arrangements as soon as possible.

Not long after crossing the road, the two of them discovered a small road.

The muddy road was not paved with cement, and it looked similar to the roads in the farm.

They did not walk far along the path when they saw a wheat field as far as the eye could see.

Yu Tian finally let out a sigh of relief.

If they found the wheat field, they would naturally find the farm and the residents.

The two sped up again and soon passed through the wheat field area. They found a family at the end of the road.

It was the darkest time before dawn. The courtyard of this family was pitch black.

Even with Yu Tian's amazing eyesight, he could only see a blurry shadow.

However, they had finally found the people, which meant that their journey had come to an end for the time being.

"Looks like we're going to be bandits for once... Although we won't Rob Anything.

The two of them quickly approached the courtyard in front of them.

Although it was a courtyard, there were no fences or anything like that. It was just three large houses forming a semicircle, like a courtyard house.

However, these three houses were not connected together. There was a spacious passageway in the middle, and cars could pass through it at will, giving people a more spacious feeling.

The houses were all made of wood. The two rooms on the left and right were either warehouses or utility rooms. This could be clearly seen from the simple structure of the houses.

The one in the middle was a residential house. There were more doors and windows, and the structure was more complicated and beautiful.

There was a corridor in front of the house. This was usually used to cool down, and it had a western style.

Yu Tian walked around the corridor and found that the door was locked, but the windows were open.

It was early in the morning, and Yu Tian did not want to disturb people's dreams.

However, he did not have time to waste. He could not wait until someone woke up before visiting them.

He chose a window and jumped in easily.

Meng bei was left outside the window because Meng bei was only good at fighting and not at the simple method of controlling people like acupoints.

Yu Tian did not want to hurt these civilians. The best way was to let them continue to sleep through acupoints.

Behind the window was a bedroom. Someone was still sleeping inside.

Yu Tian did not make a sound as he entered. The owner of the sleeping house was completely unaware that someone had broken in.

Yu Tian did not turn on the lights because the drones and satellites of the KLONI society might be scouting the surrounding farms.

If at this time, any farm's house had lights on, it would naturally look very suspicious.

Yu Tian knocked out the master in the bedroom in the dark and then went to the other rooms.

Soon, the whole family of four was knocked out by him.

Then, he opened the door and beckoned Meng bei to enter the house.

After closing the doors and windows, and closing the curtains, Yu Tian turned on a few small lamps.

When the doors and windows were closed, the lights of the small lamps would not leak out of the house.

Although the light from the table lamp was weak, it was enough for them to search the house.

Soon, they found a few mobile phones and computers.

Yu Tian tried to call brother pig, but the owner's mobile phone did not have an international call function.

He could only use the internet and enter the Donglong Company's internal communication system.

The call was connected, and Piggy Liang's voice was immediately transmitted over.

"I knew it. You will definitely get rid of those genetic warriors..."

Yu Tian felt somewhat helpless. "So, you didn't plan on sending people to support me from the start?"

"There is still support, but it will take some time..." piggy liang sighed and said, "The situation is somewhat complicated. Don't go to Dawn city now.

Prepare to retreat back to the country.."

Chapter 1414: Chapter 1,413, the tables had turned

Translator: 549690339

"What happened? Did the wind nation officials collude with the Kronin

Although Yu Tian had already made some guesses, he could not be sure.

Brother pig said, "More or less. Although the wind nation officials did not make a clear statement, they will not allow our forces to operate in the territory of the wind nation anymore..." "

"Then can they tolerate the kronin gang doing whatever they want in the wind nation, organizing hundreds or thousands of people to attack and kill us on the

"Naturally, they won't allow it on the surface. They can't tolerate any armed forces moving in their territory. "But now, they're targeting us more. They're turning a blind eye to the Kronin Gang's actions..."

"Targeting US MORE? What have they done?"

"I originally ordered two teams from Dawn City to reinforce you, and I also informed the Military Intelligence Bureau. But the two teams had just set off when they were intercepted by the authorities outside Dawn City. Now, the two teams have taken off their weapons and are being held by the authorities..." "The Nogitsune Secret Service team's ID is no longer useful?"

"It's no longer useful. There's still a squad in Dawn City. I've already ordered them to spread out and hide. "Our Strength in Dawn City is not enough to contend with the authorities' armed forces, unless you really want to launch a large-scale terrorist attack..."

"Victor has taken so many benefits from us, yet he didn't speak up for us on this matter?"

Yu Tian was a little angry. He originally thought that he had the situation under control in wind country, but he didn't expect that two more action squads would be locked up by the authorities.

Could This be another repeat of Twilight City's history?

And then they would massacre Dawn City and even hire the sheep mercenary group to fight a war?

But Dawn City wasn't Twilight City, and the authorities here were even more powerful.

Even if the sheep mercenary group came to help, they probably wouldn't be able to fight against the massive police force and army.

Piggy Liang said helplessly, "Victor is no longer in his position, and his attitude on this matter is very ambiguous. "I don't have any expectations for him anymore. Even if we give him more benefits, he won't help us too much on this matter... at most, he might expel the members of our two teams from the country.

"Then we'll first spend money to ransom them and save them all..."

Talent was the greatest wealth. Yu Tian didn't mind spending a few million or even tens of millions to save the operation personnel safely.

Of course, the price couldn't be too high, and Victor wouldn't ask too much on this matter.

After all, the operation personnel were only at the bottom of the East Dragon Company. If the official price was too excessive, the East Dragon Company wouldn't accept it.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and asked again, "What about the military? What is the attitude of the military? General Hugo should have a good relationship with us, right?"

“General Hugo has been temporarily suspended... I’ve contacted him, and he asked me to tell you to leave Dawn City as soon as possible and leave wind country. We can talk about cooperation in the future.

“Suspended... Fortunately, I didn’t sell my friends for Glory. I’m more reliable than that old Fox Victor.

“General Hugo’s status isn’t low. Even he’s been suspended... This means that the higher-ups of wind country are probably on the side of the Kronin Association. ‘h “Our actions in wind country can only go underground. All the forces on the surface should be evacuated.

Brother pig paused for a moment, he then said, “But fortunately, our branches and institutions in wind country have basically been destroyed by traitors, and there’s nothing left. “We originally planned to reorganize in wind country, and the officials of wind country can’t find our people, so they can’t do anything to us...”

Yu Tian had a headache. “Then we can’t do public activities in wind country in the future? What about opening a company and doing business?”

“Of course there’s no problem in doing business, even if it’s under the name of Donglong Company. “As long as it’s legitimate business and investment, it’s impossible for the government of the windy nation to refuse. “Considering the international influence and official reputation, it’s unlikely that the windy nation will make a move against us in this regard. “Even if they really don’t care about anything and make a move against our company, I still have a way to deal with it...

The world had long entered an era of integration. All industries and countries had countless interests and entanglements with each other.

This kind of thing was a one-time thing. If Westerners did not follow the rules, the eastern countries would naturally have ways to counter it.

Therefore, in the past few decades, the Western world had become much more honest in doing business.

In addition, Donglong Company had now begun to abandon those heavy assets and fixed industries, and then put their funds into industries such as finance and the Internet.

If the country of wind really wanted to brazenly suppress the DONGLONG company, at worst, they would give up the market of the country of wind and start to cause trouble for the country of wind.

As long as the company was strong enough, they didn’t need to put the officials of these countries in their eyes at all.

If the DONGLONG company wanted to target a country with all its strength, the funds and power it could organize would only be stronger than the quantum funds and the like.

War could not only be launched by guns and cannons. Although the DONGLONG company was only a company, it was still quite powerful in the economic field.

If the government of the country of wind offended the Donglong company to death, the Donglong Company would definitely launch an attack against them at all costs.

This kind of method was like a nuclear weapon, and it would definitely be used when necessary.

Even if the wind country was a superpower, the Donglong Company would definitely be able to deal a heavy blow to them.

At that time, the Donglong Company's people would only be able to turn into rats in the wind country. All their activities would have to be done in secret. Once they appeared, they would definitely be captured by the authorities..

Chapter 1415: Chapter 1,414, evacuation plan

Translator: 549690339

Although the situation had not reached that stage yet, the situation did not seem to be much better.

The wind country's officials had already colluded with the Kronin Society. Even if they could not personally attack certain forces of the East Dragon Company, they could still condone the Kronin society to launch a blow against the power of the East Dragon Company.

For example, in Twilight City, which was under the control of the East Dragon Company, Mayor Edward, who stood on the same boat as the East Dragon Company, and his friends.

For example, the gang organizations that had been exposed, the David Gang and Black Jack Gang in Dawn City, and the Blue Underpants and red dragonfly in the mini bull market.

Thinking of this, Yu Tian couldn't help but ask, "As for the Red Dragonfly and Blue Underpants...

Piggy Liang sighed, "It should be more difficult. They are gangsters to begin with, and the authorities can strike them down in a justified manner. If the Kronin Society also wants to intervene, it can be said to be a piece of cake to eliminate these gangsters.

“Then what should they do? Should they also withdraw from the Wind Country?”

“They can’t withdraw. They are just gangsters, and their means of making a living are all in a fixed territory. “If they leave their own territory, it’s the same as losing the meaning of their existence. They have no value to our East Dragon Company anymore.

“Moreover, most of their gang members are locals. It’s unlikely for them to leave their own city, or even wind country...”

Brother pig paused for a moment. “It’s not a problem to arrange for Mina to leave wind country. I can arrange for those gang members who are willing to leave. In the future, we can also arrange for them to do other jobs according to their abilities. However, blue underpants and red dragonfly... including the other gangs that have already been exposed, it’s only a matter of time before they are swallowed up and eliminated.

Without the protection and support of the official forces behind them, the gangs would naturally find it difficult to survive.

Even if the official forces did not make a move against them, the other gangs would not let them off either.

There were only two outcomes for these gang leaders. One was to put up a resistance. Whoever wanted to eliminate them, they would bite off a piece of meat from their opponents no matter what.

After all, they still had some power in their hands. They could create some destruction and chaos in these cities no matter what.

As long as the East Dragon Company provided them with some weapons and equipment, as well as some settlement fees, their destructive power would not be inferior to that of the terrorists.

In the end, they would either be killed by the authorities or other forces, or they would surrender and go to prison. All the forces they had would cease to exist.

There was another outcome, which was to disband the gangs and let the big shots take their assets and leave their cities, or even the windy nation.

After the gangs were disbanded, Kroni would naturally lose interest in them, and the authorities might be too lazy to pursue them.

The gang members did not need to risk their lives anymore. They could find a new boss and continue to be their hooligans for the rest of their lives.

These two results might not allow the gangs to make their own choices.

This was because they did not know that Donglong company had already lost control in wind country. They would still listen to Donglong Company's orders for the time being.

If brother pig arranged for them to launch various attacks, they would naturally not be able to refuse.

Yu Tian was silent for a moment, then said to Piggy Liang, "Inform those gangs about the current situation and let them make their own choices."

Piggy Liang said indifferently, "I've already informed them... let them hide first and wait for orders. As for Mina, I've already informed her to prepare to leave wind country. "

"What did Mina Say?"

"Mina is already an official member of our East Dragon Company. She must obey the company's arrangements and will not be entangled in the red dragonfly matter. "As for the other gang members, I have not given them any other orders for the time being..."

Brother Pig did not actually intend to tell the gang members about the overall situation. He just wanted them to hide their tracks temporarily and not show themselves for the time being.

The gang organization did not have much value in brother Pig's eyes. Rather than arranging for them to escape and letting these forces disband, it was better to temporarily stabilize them.

When the time came, these hidden gang leaders could also play the role of time bombs and create a lot of trouble for the authorities.

Brother Pig felt that only by killing all these gang members would they be able to make the best use of their resources. It would be the most beneficial arrangement for the East Dragon Company.

Disbanding them would be a waste for the East Dragon Company. There would be no benefits at all.

Brother Pig would not care about the lives of those gangsters, but he knew Yu Tian's character.

Yu Tian had not reached the point where he treated human lives like dirt and treated everyone else as pawns. That was why he gave those gangsters the right to choose for themselves.

If brother pig had directly said that he wanted to take those gangsters out and fight them, Yu Tian might not have agreed.

Therefore, Piggy Liang planned to drag this matter out until the enemy forces started to attack them, and then let them come out and fight back.

As for the matter of evacuating, no one else could even think about it.

If they had the ability to escape, it was their own ability. The East Dragon Company would only encourage them to fight and destroy.

Unless they showed their worth, the East Dragon Company would consider a long-term cooperation plan, so that their strength could be preserved.

Only Mina could leave safely in advance. After all, her relationship with Yu Tian was not quite the same, and she had already become an official member of the East Dragon Company.

After chatting a little about the situation of those gangs, brother pig said, "You don't have to worry about the wind country now. You should retreat back to the country first. It will only become more and more dangerous there."

"Danger is not a problem..."

If he had not fallen into the enemy's trap, Yu Tian would not have been chased down in such a sorry state.

If he had been the one to choose the battlefield, or if he had been in a city, Yu

Tian would not have cared about how many enemies there were.

He was not willing to leave the wind nation just like that.

He felt that the members of the Knight Order would definitely come looking for him, because the genetic warriors were not his match at all.

If the clone society wanted to take back the broken spear in his hands, they would have to use the power of the Knights.

He wanted to seize this opportunity and deal with the Knights of the clone society ruthlessly. At the same time, he wanted to see how much strength the Knights could bring out.

After pondering for a moment, Yu Tian said, "I'm not in a hurry to leave wind country. Send me a set of equipment first. My helmet is already damaged, and the bulletproof vest on my body... seems to be quite worn out."

"What do you want to stay in the windy nation for?" "There's nothing for you to stay there, right?" Piggy Liang felt a little helpless. "We're looking for the headquarters of the Clone Society. We've sent a lot of intelligence personnel to the small country in black continent that Barre mentioned. That's your next target....

Chapter 1416: Chapter 1,415. The war was not over yet

Translator: 549690339

When he mentioned the headquarters of the Clone Society, Yu Tian's interest was immediately piqued.

He immediately asked, "Have you found the headquarters of the Clone Society?"

Piggy Liang replied, "We haven't confirmed their location yet, but we did find some traces of their activities in that small black continent country. "Barre's information should be more accurate. The headquarters of the Kronin Society is most likely in that small black continent country..." "What's the name of that small black continent country?"

"Mud Country."

Piggy Liang showed Yu Tian the map.

Yu Tian looked at the location of the mud country. It was also a country close to the sea. It was not far from the F * * King Land. It was just a few steps away from the south coast.

Of course, this was seen from the map.

If it was placed in the actual distance, it would be at least a few thousand kilometers.

The country of mud was surrounded by small countries. The map was broken like a piece of broken glass.

This place originally had a few large countries. Although the country was weak, its land area was also considered large.

The countries of Hei Zhou had always been the symbol of poverty. The people of these countries had always been living their own lives. It was not a big deal to starve a few country bumpkins from time to time.

However, after they were influenced by western democracy, the people who did not have enough to eat began to make trouble.

They wanted democracy, independence, freedom, and most importantly, to have enough to eat.

These countries then disbanded in recent decades and became a few small countries that were torn apart.

Such splitting incidents were not common in the developed countries because everyone could eat their fill and make do with their days.

However, once they fell into poverty and had an economic or other crisis, even the super powers would split.

There were precedents for this kind of thing in history.

Everyone had their own demands. Under the push of some big powers, these black continent countries had finally split into a mess and got into a mess.

The mud country was a country formed by warlords. They occupied some mineral resources and then sold the resources to gain the support of some international forces, stabilizing the regime.

However, selling the country's resources did not make the country rich. Except for a few people in power who could spend money like water, the ordinary people could only earn a living.

This was the lowest standard. In order to maintain the stability of the country, the people in power could only take out a portion of the profits and maintain the standard of not starving people to death.

If the Kronin Society had their headquarters in the country of muu definitely have a close cooperation with the warlord regime in the mud. They even secretly controlled the government and the army

If they wanted to enter the mud country and destroy the headqua KRONNY society, they would have to face the entire army of the

Therefore, the East Dragon Company had to have a precise plan in this matter. There was no need to have meaningless conflicts with the army of the mud country.

They had to take a decapitation action. They had to enter the mud country quickly, destroy the headquarters of the Kronny Society, and then leave quickly.

The basis of this precise action was precise intelligence.

Before obtaining complete intelligence, the DONGLONG company would not take any armed action in the country of mud to avoid alerting the clone society.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment, then, he said, "The operation in the country of mud should not start so soon. You guys settle the intelligence first. "After confirming the location of the headquarters of the Clone Society, I will leave the country of wind and participate in the operation in the country of mud... I will first attract the attention of the clone society in the country of wind. Your intelligence work in the country of mud will also be safer."

Piggy Liang said helplessly, "These are two different things. No matter how much trouble you make in the country of wind, it will not have much effect on our intelligence work. "Moreover, what we are discussing now is not the security of our intelligence work, but your safety. "The government of the country of wind might make a move on you at any time. It is not safe for you to stay in the country of wind..."

"Once you have prepared the equipment for me, I will be much safer. "As long as I carefully conceal my tracks and no longer break into the trap that has a signal jammer set up, Kronen will not have the chance to use so many genetic warriors to encircle and capture me. "If it's only a small number of enemies, they won't have the ability to cause trouble for me..."

"I still feel that there's no need for you to stay in wind country. "

"I feel that it's very necessary. The war isn't over yet. We can't just leave wind country with our tails between our legs. "You should be eyeing those genetic warriors right now, right? "Q "I have to find an opportunity to deal with them. "As for those knights, they should be looking for me as well. Combat isn't a problem. You only need to provide me with sufficient information.

"We can't provide much information in wind country right now..."

"Then Pll go to the mini bull market and lure the Kronin gang into Blue Underpants' territory. Pll let those gangsters be my eyes. Maybe I can set a trap for the Kronin Gang."

Piggy Liang was silent for a moment, then he said, "If you want to go to the mini bull market, it's not impossible... but when it comes to battle, you must obey the command center's orders. When it's time to retreat, you must immediately retreat..."

"Of course, I'm not going to die. When it's time to retreat, I'll naturally retreat too. "

"Alright then, Pll get the command center to set a course of action for you now. Kroni will still be searching for your whereabouts. Send me your current location and don't leave for the time being..."

The mini-bull market was a very suitable battlefield because it was close to the sea. Yu Tian could retreat from the wind country at any time.

Zhu Ge Liang had already prepared a lot of escape routes for Yu Tian. Apart from the merchant ships used for smuggling, he had even obtained a state-of-the-art nuclear submarine from the eastern country.

In addition, there were also the vertical lift fighter planes that sent Yu Tian to the wind country, as well as all kinds of camouflaged support ships.

If these things were not enough, the eastern country's navy would have a free voyage on the high seas.

As long as Yu Tian could enter the sea, it would be impossible for the easterners to stop him unless they were willing to take the risk of starting a war and fall out with the Easterners.

With the current strength of the Easterners, no country was willing to go to war with the Easterners.

In short, under any circumstances, Zhu Geliang had to ensure that Yu Tian could be safely brought out of the mini-bull market.

Donglong company indeed did not have much power in the country of wind, but with the support of the eastern country, they could definitely organize a luxurious support team outside of the country of wind. This was the benefit of having the support of the country, and also the confidence of the eastern people.

After temporarily cutting off the communication, Yu Tian and Meng bei finally relaxed.

After working all night, both of them were a little tired.

Of course, they were also a little hungry.

After entering the house, they only drank some water. Now it was time to eat and sleep..

Chapter 1417: Chapter 1,416, an excuse to live a ignoble life

Translator: 549690339

The food of Westerners was relatively simple. They usually just heated it up and ate it immediately.

Some of them didn't even need to heat it up. They could eat it directly even if it was cold.

For example, bread.

This saved Yu Tian and Meng bei a lot of work. After rummaging around in the refrigerator, they immediately started eating.

After two or three bites, it was unknown whether it was considered a midnight snack or breakfast. The two of them could finally lie down and have a good rest.

There were still many empty rooms in this residential building, enough for the two of them to choose and rest.

They also had plenty of rest time, enough for them to have a good sleep.

The command center had always been paying attention to the movements of the genetic warriors. After obtaining Yu Tian's location, the surveillance satellite would become Yu Tian's sentry post.

As long as there was a fleet of genetic warriors approaching Yu Tian's location, the command center would immediately send out an alert to Yu Tian.

Such a safety measure was already sufficient.

The Problem Now was the clone society. They were obviously unwilling to let Yu Tian go just like that. As such, they did not sleep or rest throughout the early morning. They were still organizing their forces to once again surround

Yu Tian.

However, their current manpower was clearly insufficient. They had no way of sealing off the area within a radius of 100 li.

If Yu Tian was just an ordinary fugitive, then they only needed to set up checkpoints on the highway and use drones to monitor the surrounding open fields. Naturally, they would be able to trap Yu Tian within this area.

Unfortunately, Yu Tian was a powerful ancient martial art practitioner. Even if hundreds of genetic warriors gathered together, they might not be able to stop Yu Tian. If they were to spread out and set up checkpoints, they would be even more helpless against Yu Tian.

However, they had no choice but to spread out and set up a blockade and surveillance on all the intersections.

This way, even if they were unable to stop Yu Tian, they would at least be able to find out which direction Yu Tian had run to.

Thus, in the middle of the night, the genetic warriors who had been fighting for the entire night started to follow the orders of their superiors and spread out to set up a blockade at all the intersections.

At this time, Yu Tian and Meng bei had already fallen asleep peacefully. After the two of them had fallen asleep, Meng Nan finally contacted the command center of the headquarters.

Meng Nan had also found a farm. He had broken into a private house, found a cell phone and a computer, and established contact with the East Dragon Company.

After hearing that Yu Tian and Meng bei had successfully broken out of the encirclement, Meng Nan finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Leaving the battlefield ahead of time had always made him feel like a deserter.

If Yu Tian and Meng Bei had fallen into the enemy's hands because of this, or even lost their lives because of this, he was afraid that he would not be able to live in peace for the rest of his life.

Fortunately, Yu Tian and Meng bei were not weaklings either. Their strength was definitely superior to those genetic warriors. Although the process of them breaking out of the encirclement was not an easy one, it was still not dangerous.

Meng Nan pondered for a moment before asking the operation assistant, ("Where Are They Now?"

The operation assistant replied, "Their current location is about 50 to 60 kilometers away from you."

"That far?" Meng Nan was a little surprised, but then he came to his senses.

If Meng Bei wanted to break out of the encirclement, he would definitely draw the enemy in the opposite direction of Meng Nan's breakout. That way, Meng Nan would be safer.

It was also because Meng Nan's direction of movement was a little off. Otherwise, if everyone were to go their separate ways, they would probably be able to pull apart a distance of nearly 100 kilometers.

"Send me their location. I'll go look for them..."

Meng Nan originally wanted to wait for Yu Tian and Meng Bei to come look for him, but Yu Tian and Meng Bei had been fighting all night. They were probably exhausted and could not move anymore.

The operations assistant was a little surprised. "You're going to meet them?"

"Don't I need to meet them?"

Meng Nan was a little confused. Don't tell me I don't have to participate in the next operation?

Why does it feel like I'm just a bystander?

"Of course not. "The operations assistant quickly said, "You're currently injured, so you don't have the ability to participate in the next operation. Your task is to ensure your own safety and find an opportunity to leave the blockade.

Meng Nan also knew that his condition might become a burden, he could only smile and say, "Actually, if I find them, I can help a little. Although I'm injured, I can still kill a few enemies with my old life..."

"Our Donglong Company doesn't want to see meaningless sacrifices, even if it's external personnel..."

Piggy Liang interrupted the call at this time, he said slowly, '(We are not capital, and we are not foreign capital. "You are an ancient martial art practitioner of our eastern country, a resource of the country, and also a resource of our Eastern Dragon Company. "You should try your best to ensure your own safety. This is also considered to be a contribution to the country..."

Meng Nan was stunned for a moment. There was such a powerful excuse to live a ignoble life.

However, Zhu Ge Liang's words were filled with righteousness, which made him have a good impression of Donglong Company. He was even more certain that Donglong company had a close relationship with the authorities.

Zhu Ge Liang continued, "The command center has already calculated your movement speed... 50 to 60 kilometers. Even if you use Qinggong to travel and don't take any rest on the way, you 'll need at least an hour. "This is still not taking into account the fact that you will have to pass through the forest and other complicated terrain along the way, as well as the possibility of encountering enemies..."

Meng Nan was stunned for a moment. If he were to encounter those genetic warriors along the way, it would be a huge problem for him.

He wasn't as tough as Yu Tian, and he didn't have any divine weapons to ensure his high-efficiency output. Once he was entangled by the genetic warriors, not to mention reuniting with Yu Tian, it would be extremely difficult for him to escape.

Furthermore, he was still in an injured state.

At that time, Yu Tian and Meng bei might have to run over to save him, or he might have lured the genetic warriors to Yu Tian and Meng Bei's hiding place.

As such, Meng Nan realized that he had truly become a burden.

There was no need to think about meeting up. It was better not to cause trouble for Yu Tian and the others.

"I suggest you bring some food and water and sneak into the nearby forest first," Piggy Liang said at this time. "Don't be in a hurry to leave after daybreak. Stay in the forest for a day first. After Yu Tian and Meng bei break out of the encirclement, Kroni will naturally give up on sealing off this area. At that time, you can find a random way to leave this area like a normal person."

If all the genetic warriors were to leave, Meng Nan would naturally be able to swagger out.

There were no problems with the arrangements at the command center. Meng Nan began to collect food and water from the residences.

In fact, not eating or drinking for a few days was not a fatal thing for ancient martial art practitioners.

Therefore, Meng Nan did not need much supplies. He only needed to wear a few mobile phones to facilitate communication with the headquarters.

Although the mobile phone he got did not have the international call function, Donglong Company could arrange for other mobile phones to carry out transmissions in the country of wind. They could also use the network call function.

In short, there was no problem in keeping in touch..

Chapter 1418 - 1418: Chapter 1417, the direction of the breakout

Translator: 549690339

Meng Nan originally wanted to communicate with Yu Tian and Meng bei before leaving the farm, but Yu Tian and Meng bei were sleeping soundly. As a man, there was no need for him to dawdle like this.

After packing his things, Meng Nan quickly disappeared into the wilderness.

There was only an hour left until daybreak. Meng Nan still had to get as far away from the farm as possible.

Before leaving the farm, he had already knocked out the entire family of the farm owner.

However, he could not guarantee how long these people would remain unconscious. If anyone woke up after daybreak, they would definitely call the police.

Now, it was already confirmed that the wind country's officials were colluding with Kroni. The moment the farm owner called the police, it was equivalent to notifying the Kroni Association. Very quickly, those genetic warriors would be provoked.

Therefore, the further Meng Nan was from the farm, the safer he would be.

Then, he could hide in the forest. With the satellites of the Eastern Dragon Company acting as his eyes, those genetic warriors would not be able to find him.

Of course, the most important thing was Yu Tian and Meng Bei's side.

As long as Yu Tian and Meng Bei left the encirclement, the genetic warriors would naturally follow them.

The East Dragon Company's command center stayed up all night. Focusing on the current situation, they began to design various plans for Yu Tian.

The sky quickly brightened.

Ancient martial art practitioners did not need too much sleep. Many internal strength cultivation techniques could allow them to quickly enter a deep sleep state.

Moreover, ancient martial art practitioners used qi to nourish their spirit. Their physical strength and energy far exceeded that of ordinary people. Even if they did not sleep for a few days and nights, it would not be a big deal.

When Yu Tian was sleeping, he could circulate the nameless internal energy. After sleeping for two hours, he could replenish his internal energy. At the same time, he could also use sleep to recover his physical strength.

Meng bei slept for a few hours. After recovering his spirit and physical strength, he started meditating to recover his internal energy.

In comparison, Yu Tian's recovery ability was a little stronger.

He had been fighting genetic warriors all this time, so his energy consumption was much higher than Meng Bei's. However, due to the recovery of the Lingbo micro-steps, his inner energy consumption was lower than Meng Bei's.

Furthermore, he could use the nameless internal energy while he slept. Naturally, his inner energy recovery was much easier.

The physique of an ancient martial art practitioner was far superior to an ordinary person's. Yu Tian and Meng bei could completely recover after a night's sleep. Right now, Meng Bei was the only one who had yet to recover his inner energy to its full state.

The Clone Society had also been busy for the entire night. Finally, the blockade line was set up properly at daybreak.

Not even a fly would be able to fly out. At the very least, it would not allow Yu Tian to slip out from under their noses.

Yu Tian got out of bed unhurriedly, then greeted the command center and had breakfast while he was at it.

The owner of the farm was still not awake. This was one of the benefits of being good at Acupressure. He could completely control the time when the target was unconscious.

Zhu Geliang did not go to sleep. He only took a short nap in the command center.

Yu Tian was still not fully awake, so he could not be completely at ease.

When Yu Tian got up, Zhu Geliang quickly washed his face and opened the communication with Yu Tian.

Yu Tian looked at Zhu Geliang's condition in the video and said, "You can actually go to sleep. The operation can be handed over to the command center. Do you really want to die of exhaustion like Zhuge Liang?"

Zhu geliang said, "If it were any other operation, I would be able to sleep in peace. But now, the leader of the company is personally taking action.

Moreover, he is in a completely disadvantageous situation. How can I Sleep?"

Yu Tian sighed, "Looks like I have to hurry up and break out of the encirclement. Otherwise, you'll die of exhaustion."

Piggy Liang said, "You have to hurry up. Now, the police have already joined in and set up checkpoints on the surrounding roads..."

"Oh? The wind country's officials want to arrest me?"

"That's not true. The officials might not arrest you. But after the police stop you, they'll definitely use all sorts of excuses to delay you, giving Kronin time to set up the encirclement.

(‘Ha... do they think that this will not offend Tian could not help but sneer. “It seems that the actions of our donglong company are not enough. We have not caused the authorities of the country of wind to pay sufficient attention to our existence.

Piggy Liang smiled. “Indeed, we can act a little more violent, but we can not openly flaunt our name... Currently, our strength in the country of wind is still too little. After I make the necessary arrangements, we will give a good performance to the authorities of the country of wind.”

“I will definitely be involved in this matter.

“There is no need for you to show your muscles. Otherwise, everyone will think that our eastern dragon company can only rely on our boss to fight personally... you should quickly get rid of those genetic warriors. Don’t let others chase after your tail.

“What about the route to break out of the encirclement? How did you arrange

(‘The route to break out of the encirclement needs to take a big detour. First, we need to break through to the west. We need to make a move that will allow us to head straight for the coastline... ”

If they wanted to break through the blockade of the clone society, it was impossible for them to do so without the clone society noticing.

Moreover, the clone society had more than one blockade line set up by the authorities. They could determine Yu Tian’s direction based on the position he had broken through.

If they went straight to the maverick market, Kronin would also easily determine Yu Tian’s destination.

Therefore, it was inevitable to go in a circle. The old method of creating a diversion was also necessary.

Moreover, it was nearly a thousand kilometers from dawn city to the Maverick market. It was almost equivalent to running from the north to the south of the windy nation.

It was naturally impossible to cover such a long distance.

Under the circumstances where the authorities were also involved in the encirclement, Yu Tian and Meng bei were unable to use public transportation. It was impossible for them to travel by plane or train, so they could only drive by themselves.

However, they had to take a few fixed roads to drive. If their destination was guessed by Kroni, they would certainly set up various interceptions along the road.

Not only would this waste Yu Tian's time and energy, but it might even bring danger to Yu Tian.

Therefore, he had to make sure that he made enough moves to break out of the encirclement to the west. This circle would also be very large.

There were many places in the wind country that were close to the sea. The west, south, and north were all connected to the sea.

Dawn city was located in the north of the wind country. It was even closer to the west and north coastlines. It was only two to three hundred kilometers away.

It was reasonable to break out of the encirclement to the west.

If they were to break through to the west for the whole day, then at night, Kroni would have reason to believe that Yu Tian had already reached the seaside and left the windy nation easily.

Therefore, if the operation went smoothly, Kroni would completely give up on chasing tomorrow.

As for Yu Tian and Meng bei, they could change their direction during the night and rush directly to the mini-bull market.

There is nothing wrong with a rough breakout route. Now it is time to consider the details of the breakout..

Chapter 1419: Chapter 1418, breaking out of the encirclement openly

Translator: 549690339

There were many routes to break out of the encirclement to the west, including roads and wilderness.

Naturally, the way to break out of the encirclement was to drive a car. Traveling on two legs was too slow and tiring.

The owner of the farm also had a car at home, and there was more than one.

For the farmers, the most practical vehicle was still a pickup truck.

It could carry people and also transport a small amount of goods.

Of course, there were also small trucks used for transportation, but the speed and maneuverability were lower.

Yu Tian and Meng bei chose the pickup truck and found some tools that might be useful on the farm. They threw them into the trunk of the pickup truck.

Surprisingly, they also found a few bicycles.

This was also a very useful thing. Yu Tian also picked two and threw them into the trunk.

Then, there was a small amount of water and food.

It didn't matter if he brought these things with him or not, but if he could bring them with him, he could bring them as much as he could. After all, it wasn't comfortable to be hungry.

Then, there were the cell phones.

The farm owner's cell phones were all charged by them. They were also connected through the Internet, allowing the technical department to crack and encrypt them.

With a few mobile phones in reserve, there was no need to worry about not having any communication tools.

After all the preparations were done, new news came from the command center.

Most of the genetic warriors in the surroundings had gathered together and were rushing toward the farm where Meng Nan was previously.

Evidently, the owner of the farm had already woken up and even called the police.

Meng Nan did not harm the owner of the farm. Instead, he sneaked into the house and knocked out the owners one by one.

As Meng Nan was always wearing night vision equipment, he did not turn on the lights during the operation.

The people in the farm were attacked in the darkness. Some fainted before they could even open their eyes.

There were also people who were woken up by the noise. However, these ordinary people did not have time to react. They were also knocked out by Meng Nan's punch.

The entire farm's residents did not even know who the attacker was.

The Kronin Society naturally knew that this matter was related to Yu Tian. The direction of the farm was naturally the direction where Yu Tian and the others had broken out of the encirclement.

Of course, they also knew that there were two ancient martial art practitioners by Yu Tian's side. They might not have acted together with Yu Tian. It was also possible that they had split up to break out of the encirclement and cover each other, interfering with the genetic warriors' pursuit plans.

As such, the Clone Society had no way of ascertaining the exact identity of the people who had attacked this farm.

However, this was at least a clue, and it could be considered as exposing the whereabouts of Yu Tian and the others.

The Clone Society had also analyzed the current situation of Yu Tian and the others, as well as the action plan they were going to take.

Breaking out of the encirclement overnight was the best choice, because at that time, the Clone Society's outer blockade had yet to be fully formed.

Moreover, the night was more advantageous for Yu Tian and the others to conceal their tracks. The clone society would not know the limits of Yu Tian and the others, nor would they be sure how far they could run in one go.

If they had been moving all this time before dawn, they might have already run out of the encirclement.

Now that they had finally found a clue, the clone society would naturally not give up so easily. They immediately transferred most of their genetic warriors over, including the large number of drones that had already been prepared, they started searching the surroundings of the farm.

This way, it would be much easier for Yu Tian and Meng bei to break out of the encirclement.

A large number of genetic warriors had been transferred away. The remaining small teams of genetic warriors that had set up traps along the way were no match for Yu Tian at all.

In broad daylight, Yu Tian and Meng Bei drove out of the farm openly.

Perhaps the satellites of the clone society would target them, or perhaps they would not.

But that didn't matter. The owner of the farm also drove out early in the morning. Just seeing a car on the road wasn't enough to make the people of the clone society fuss.

The only thing that needed to be paid attention to was the angle of the satellite's camera.

It was very likely that the satellite could see what was inside the car through the front windshield, including the driver's attire and even his face.

For safety reasons, Yu Tian and Meng bei changed into the farmer's coat after being reminded by the command center. They also found two hats to cover their faces slightly.

In this way, it was impossible to determine their identity with just the satellite, unless they directly used the drone to observe or had someone stop the car.

Drones were indeed annoying, but if they sped up, normal drones would not be able to catch up with them, let alone get close to the window to observe them.

Meng bei drove and Yu Tian was ready to fight.

After leaving the farm, the two of them quickly entered the highway and sped north.

It was not normal to drive at such a fast speed, but unfortunately, the surveillance satellites of the Kronin Society did not find them.

The satellites could not keep an eye on every corner at all times, especially now that the Kronin Society's attention was drawn to Meng Nan's location, the satellites' surveillance of other places was much more relaxed.

It was very easy to miss the target if one only took a glance at it after a few minutes.

This was because the current satellites had the ability of intelligent detection. If it was the earliest detection method that was purely photo-taking, it would still require manual analysis of the photos, and the detection efficiency would be even lower.

After ten minutes, the two of them had already run 20 to 30 kilometers. In front of them was the first blockade line set up by the genetic warriors.

A blockade would definitely not be able to stop them. However, as long as Yu Tian drove his car through the road, they would definitely be able to discover him.

Even if Yu Tian did not use the road and chose to walk through the wilderness beside the road, he would still be within the sight of the UAV.

Only by abandoning his car and walking through the forest would he be able to avoid the sight of the Kloni Society and escape the encirclement stealthily.

However, that would be too time-consuming and tiring.

Yu Tian did not care about these blockade lines and sentry posts at all. He planned to charge over directly.

Exposing their tracks was not a problem. In any case, they had originally planned to lure the Kronin Society to the west.

Moreover, after their side was exposed, Meng Nan's side would be completely safe.

The silhouettes of genetic warriors could already be seen on the road ahead.

More than ten genetic warriors, as well as five different types of vehicles.

Such a force was purely an eye-piercing effect. There was no way they could stop Yu Tian.

Hence, these genetic warriors did not have the intention of forcefully stopping him. Instead, they scattered on both sides of the road, and they were separated from each other by a very long distance.

If Yu Tian wanted to charge at the blockade, they would only casually fire a few shots at Yu Tian. They would not approach Yu Tian at all.

Donglong company had already investigated the route of the breakout. These checkpoints were all set up with car-stopping spikes.

Once this thing spread out on the highway, it would be a blockade line against the car.

If the car pierced through this line, all the tires would be gone. Not a single one would be left.

Then, even if the car could continue to move forward, its steering and braking performance would also be greatly reduced.

Not to mention the danger of overturning, at least there is no ability to shake off the pursuit..

Chapter 1420: Chapter 1,419: You Chase Me, I run

Translator: 549690339

Meng bei slowed down his car and stopped in front of the checkpoint.

What Yu Tian meant was to kill all the genetic warriors and then swagger away.

If he didn't kill all the genetic warriors, they would become Yu Tian 's tails. Just like the chase in the wee hours of the morning, they would chase after them relentlessly.

Yu Tian did not have a machine gun on his car. Naturally, it was not a good thing for him to be chased by genetic warriors like this.

He did not want to be beaten all the way, and then his car would be smashed by the genetic warriors. He would abandon his car and walk again.

The car slowly stopped. Those genetic warriors seemed to have relaxed a little.

They were all wearing full combat equipment and carrying guns. They looked a little like policemen.

Normal people would not ask about their identities when they saw their attire.

Other than policemen, who else would dare to set up traps on the Highway?

Normal people would stop their cars and undergo an inspection.

Up till now, Yu Tian and Meng Bei's behavior was considered normal.

The two genetic warriors also surrounded the windows on both sides of their cars.

Although they felt that the person in the truck was unlikely to be Yu Tian, they still did not dare to let down their guard.

When the two genetic warriors were about to get close to the window of the truck, Yu Tian said in a low voice, "Let's do it."

The two of them quickly pushed the helmets on their heads, instantly pushing off the hats they were originally wearing, and instantly putting on the helmets.

At the same time, the two of them used their other hand to forcefully push open the door of the truck, dashing out of the door.

The genetic warriors did not get too close to the car.

However, this was not important. An ancient martial art warrior did not need to use the car door to knock someone down. Even if they did it themselves, it would not be a problem.

The moment the two of them dashed out of the car door, the two genetic warriors were killed by them.

Although the genetic warriors reacted in time, retreating and shooting at the same time.

However, they were too close to each other, and this desperate struggle couldn't even last for a second.

Yu Tian and Meng bei both had bulletproof vests, so it wouldn't be a problem for them to take a few bullets head-on.

Meng bei broke the neck of the genetic warrior, while Yu Tian used the broken spear to easily chop off the entire head of the genetic warrior.

Following that, the two of them didn't stop, and swiftly pounced on the genetic warrior in front of them.

The rest of the genetic warriors started firing as well. However, their targets were not Yu Tian and Meng bei, but the pickup truck that the two of them were driving.

Yu Tian immediately understood the genetic warriors' intentions.

They had no hope of getting rid of Yu Tian. Hence, the most important thing was to destroy Yu Tian's transportation.

Without transportation, Yu Tian could only walk.

This way, his movement speed would be greatly reduced, and he would be easily caught up by the surrounding genetic warriors. Then, they would once again encircle and intercept him.

Of course, it was impossible for Yu Tian to walk along the highway. He would definitely sneak into the forest. Just like in the early morning, he would rely on the terrain of the forest to escape the pursuit of the genetic warriors.

However, it was daytime now. Naturally, it would be much more difficult for Yu Tian to escape than at night.

Moreover, once they entered the forest, the genetic warriors would immediately swarm over and reduce the encirclement to the area of the forest. Then, they would once again engage in a game of hide-and-seek.

Yu Tian knew whether or not Kronin would delay him for no reason. They definitely had a backup plan.

Judging from the matter of the broken spear, Kronin would definitely transfer the members of the Knights over to help. Only the Knights would be able to face Yu Tian head-on.

Yu Tian did not mind fighting against the Knights. However, the battlefield and the timing of the fight should be decided by him. He would not be so foolish as to be trapped in the wilderness by the enemy.

If he wanted to escape from this encirclement, the means of transportation was naturally very important.

Seeing the genetic warriors firing at the pickup truck, Yu Tian immediately burst forth with speed and pounced toward the enemy machine gunners.

Machine guns caused the most damage to the pickup truck, and their attack speed was also the fastest.

If they wanted to protect their pickup truck, the machine gunner would definitely be the first to be eliminated.

The genetic warrior also understood this point. They knew that the machine gunner on their side was the key to completing the mission.

As the machine gunner fired, the pickup truck beneath him moved.

The driver of this truck had been in the truck the whole time. When Yu Tian's pickup truck had just appeared, he had already started the truck, so that he could drive it and escape at any time.

Since they were unable to stop Yu Tian, these genetic warriors had already changed their tactics. They had no intention of fighting Yu Tian to the death. They only planned to split up and flee to stall Yu Tian.

This was also considered a guerilla tactic. The enemy would chase them while they ran. The enemy would run while they chased. In any case, they would try their best to stall and delay.

The pickup truck of the genetic warriors sped forward, wanting to escape from Yu Tian's pursuit and protect this machine gun.

However, the speed of the vehicle that had just started moving was still not fast enough. Compared to Yu Tian's explosive speed, it was completely not worth mentioning.

At a distance of several tens of meters, Yu Tian would not even need a second when his speed was explosive.

If they really wanted to avoid Yu Tian's close combat, they would have to stop at a distance of several hundred meters at the very least.

The genetic warriors had overestimated their reaction time and underestimated Yu Tian's explosive speed. More importantly, Yu Tian had acted too suddenly.

They had never thought that Yu Tian would obediently stop the vehicle and accept their inspection.

This provided them with better shooting conditions, and it also made them lose the chance to escape.

Yu Tian leaped past the machine gunner, and the machine gunner's head flew up.

Then, under the astonished gaze of the sub-machine gunner, he conveniently stabbed the sub-machine gunner.

The broken spear had always been used by Yu Tian as a knife and sword, and it was rarely used to stab.

However, the feeling of stabbing and slashing people was similar. The sharpness of the broken spear was unstoppable. Whether it was used to stab or slash people, it was exceptionally easy.

The only opponent he could match was the weapons used by the two knight Squires Last Night.

Yu Tian did not even have the time to see the style of their weapons. He just forgot about them.

After killing the machine gunner and sub-machine gunner, Yu Tian used his sword aura to kill the pilot in front of him.

The Broken Spear was still too short. Although it could easily pierce through the cockpit, the distance was still not enough.

After losing the pilot, the pickup truck continued moving forward for some distance before stopping due to its slow speed.

Yu Tian immediately turned around and pounced on the other genetic warriors' vehicles.

At this time, Meng Bei had also relied on the defensive power of his bulletproof vest to forcefully kill two genetic warriors. He was currently pouncing towards the third target.

Those genetic warriors were firing while rushing towards their cars. It seemed like they were trying to flee in their cars.

The genetic warriors that escaped would all turn into small tails. This was a very annoying tactic..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 1421 - 1421: Chapter 1,420, self-destruction - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 1421 - 1421: Chapter 1,420, self-destruction

Chapter 1421 - 1421: Chapter 1,420, self-destruction

Translator: 549690339

Naturally, Meng bei would not allow the enemy to escape.

He did not wait for the genetic warrior to open the door of the driver's seat.

Instead, he sped up and rushed behind the genetic warrior, grabbing his head.

However, before he could break the neck of the genetic warrior, the car in front of him suddenly erupted with flames, instantly flipping him over ten meters.

The car exploded, and this was not the only car that exploded. All five cars of the genetic warrior exploded at the same time, and the sound of the explosion rang out in the air.

The power of the explosion was not too great. It was only a few balls of flames that were neither too big nor too small, as well as some messy parts and fragments that burst out.

With the protection of the bulletproof vest, these things were unable to cause any harm to them.

Meng bei leaned against the body of the car. The explosion had caused him to be disoriented, causing his blood and Qi to surge.

However, the genetic warrior standing in front of him had helped him block the shockwave of the explosion. He had only suffered some minor injuries.

Surprisingly, the genetic warrior standing in front of him had not been killed by the explosion. He had only fainted temporarily.

With the physique of a genetic warrior, such a coma would not last for too long.

Soon, this kid would be able to jump up and become a hero again.

Unfortunately, Meng Bei did not give him the chance to do so. He casually snapped his neck.

Yu Tian was not injured. When these vehicles exploded, he had already jumped down from the pickup truck in front of him.

This explosion was barely enough to give him a fright. Then, he immediately became angry.

These genetic warriors were actually playing this game again? Self-destruct?

Previously, it had been a human self-destruct. Now, it was a vehicle self-destruct.

The human self-destruct was aimed at Yu Tian. The vehicle self-destruct was a means of transportation aimed at Yu Tian.

That series of machine gun shots earlier had already turned the pickup truck that Yu Tian and the others had driven into a hornet's nest. Now, the genetic warriors had once again blown up their own vehicles. Even if Yu Tian wanted to change vehicles, there was no way he could change them.

From a certain perspective, these genetic warriors had successfully completed their mission and stopped Yu Tian.

This section of the road was just outside the forest, and the surrounding two kilometers were plains.

Even if Yu Tian wanted to enter the forest, he would have to run for two kilometers.

Of course, that was not the main point. Yu Tian could enter the forest before the reinforcements from the Clone Society arrived.

The main point was that he did not have any means of transportation, so he could only continue playing hide-and-seek with the genetic warriors.

Originally, Yu Tian had wanted to kill the genetic warriors at this checkpoint, then drive to the next checkpoint and continue his journey.

Although this would expose his tracks, in the end, he had left the genetic warriors behind, allowing them to follow him all the way to the west coast.

With the current situation, it would be much harder to reach the west coast.

Yu Tian wanted to curse, but there was no point in cursing these genetic warriors.

Their brains were no longer the same as normal people's. Genetic modification was painful to begin with. Even if an ordinary person succeeded, they would basically be tortured until they went crazy, and most of their brains would be wasted.

Yu Tian could only quickly kill the remaining few genetic warriors.

In the end, he found a small remote control on one of the genetic warriors.

This should be the squad leader of the genetic warriors. If he felt that there was a danger of being wiped out, he would detonate all the vehicles, not leaving a single hair behind for Yu Tian.

Yu Tian helplessly returned to his pickup truck and checked the condition of the vehicles.

The pickup truck had not been destroyed by the machine gun, but it could no longer be started.

After being stunned for a while, Yu Tian could not help but curse, "Luckily, we didn't let them escape..."

If a few of the genetic warriors had escaped, their squad leader would definitely not have detonated the truck.

After Yu Tian and Meng bei discovered that their pickup truck could not be used, they would definitely switch to the genetic warriors' vehicle.

After that, both sides pursued and fought until the other genetic warriors rushed over to support and surround them.

When the time came, the genetic warriors would suddenly detonate all of these vehicles. Yu Tian and Meng Bei, who were sitting in the driver's seat, would definitely suffer the greatest damage from the explosions.

Meng bei might even be blasted to death alive. Yu Tian was probably no better, and injuries were unavoidable.

After that, under the condition of being injured, it would be much easier for these genetic warriors to surround and attack Yu Tian.

In fact, they didn't even need the help of the Knights to take down Yu Tian.

Naturally, the clone society would do anything to get rid of Yu Tian.

To them, self-destruction was basically a normal operation. Yu Tian should have long since been wary of these tricks of theirs.

They did not let the genetic warrior escape, nor did they get into the genetic warrior's car. This was already considered a pretty good result.

"Fortunately, we still have bicycles."

Meng bei walked over from behind Yu Tian. He patted Yu Tian's shoulder and said, "Let's hurry up and go. The speed of a bicycle is not considered slow."

One should not think that a body of flesh and blood was no match for an internal combustion engine. On flat ground, the speed of a bicycle could exceed 200 kilometers per hour.

Yu Tian and Meng bei were both ancient martial art practitioners. It was impossible for a dignified ancient martial art practitioner to be inferior to an ordinary person.

Even if their driving skills were not good and they were unable to display their own strength, they could still rely on their violent pedaling to easily speed up the bicycle to more than 100 kilometers per hour.

Using a bicycle to travel was naturally much easier than running.

The two of them did not hesitate. They put the items that they needed to carry on their backpacks, then stepped on the bicycle and continued on their journey.

Right now, they were competing with Kronin in terms of speed. Yu Tian headed west without any intention of concealing his whereabouts. They were just waiting to see if Kronin would be able to catch up to him.

The next checkpoint was 20 kilometers away. This location was not far from the farm where they were ambushed last night.

It was not the genetic warriors who had set up a blockade on this checkpoint. Instead, it was the police.

The police had set up a three-pronged blockade. On one side, it led to the west coast, and on the other side, it led to the farm from last night, and on the other side, it led to Dawn City.

The officials of wind country didn't seem to have any intention of falling out with Donglong company, so the blockade they set up was very simple.

Two police cars, four police officers, and a barricade.

The four police officers were all ordinary police officers, and they only wore handguns.

This type of police handgun was meaningless to Yu Tian and Meng Bei. Even if they stood where they were and allowed the police officers to shoot all the bullets on their bodies, they would not be able to harm a single hair on their bodies.

The officials of the country of wind were extremely clear-headed. So many genetic warriors were unable to stop Yu Tian, and their police officers were even more powerless.

The officials could indeed mobilize more police and military forces, and it might not be impossible for them to capture Yu Tian. However, they would have to bear a large number of casualties as well.

Perhaps the benefits given by Kronen were not enough, the authorities did not intend to completely fall out with Donglong company, nor did they intend to pay such a high price to capture Yu Tian..

Chapter 1422 - 1422: Chapter 1,421, Mission of cheating

Translator: 549690339

Piggy Liang had also made an analysis of the attitude of the wind country's officials. Falling out with Donglong company would not bring them any benefits.

The reason why they would cooperate with the action of the Clone Society was that the Clone Society had bribed some high-level officials, and the officials could get some benefits from the clone society.

However, these benefits were not big enough to make the government and the DONGLONG company completely hostile.

Therefore, the wind country's government only arrested two of the Donglong Company's action teams and revoked the legal status of the Wild Fox Secret Service team. There were no more actions for the time being.

The government was very clear that capturing some small fish and small shrimps was not a big deal. However, if they took action against Yu Tian, the big boss, it was equivalent to completely falling out with the DONGLONG company.

Previously, the officials of Twilight City had surrounded the headquarters of the Donglong Company and arrested a large number of middle-and high-level managers. This matter could even be said to be a private action by the local authorities.

Moreover, at that time, the Donglong Company's personnel had all surrendered without causing any casualties.

Now that they were in the vicinity of Dawn City, the official attitude represented the attitude of the highest level of the country.

If Yu Tian was an ordinary person like uncle long who had no ability to resist, they might have considered taking him down first and then slowly start a war of words with Donglong Company.

However, Yu Tian was clearly not the type of person to surrender. If the authorities wanted to capture Yu Tian, Yu Tian would naturally resist the law with violence.

Once the war started, whether it was hurting Yu Tian or losing the police and army, it would be a situation that could not be resolved.

Therefore, when the authorities faced Yu Tian, they could only casually use a few policemen to delay the pace of Yu Tian's actions. They did not even have the intention of sending a few more people.

If the authorities wanted to use the army to surround Yu Tian at all costs, Kroni would definitely have to pay a considerable price.

Under such circumstances, it would be very easy to deal with the few policemen who had set up the barricades.

Yu Tian and Meng bei quickly arrived before the police checkpoints. According to the instructions of the command center, the two of them swaggered to pick up the bicycles and then stepped over the obstacles set up by the police.

"Hey! Gentlemen, didn't you see that our police have set up checkpoints here to check? Please take out your passports and cooperate with our inspection..."

The order that the police received was to stop the two Easterners, then slowly check their passports, check their identities, and try to buy as much time as possible.

The higher-ups had repeatedly reminded them that they absolutely could not shoot the two Easterners, and they also had to try their best to avoid conflict with them. They even had to be polite and follow the normal law enforcement procedures to buy time.

Of course, the law enforcement procedures were not set in stone. As long as they could stall for time, their superiors could ignore some flaws in the law enforcement procedures.

The point was that no matter how the law enforcement procedures were messed up, they could not force the two Easterners.

This kind of order was a little strange, but it was not the first time the police had encountered it in their years of work.

There were always some big shots that the police had to make a gesture of arrest, but they couldn't do anything to the other party.

The police wouldn't offend those big shots, but they wouldn't be too careful or too servile.

They were already very skilled at this kind of polite method of finding trouble for the other party.

However, after seeing Yu Tian and Meng Bei's attire, the hearts of the few police officers began to thump.

Meng bei was wearing a bulletproof vest, so the policemen naturally recognized him.

This was a full-body bulletproof vest used by the military, not the simple bulletproof vest used by the police.

Yu Tian also seemed to be wearing a bulletproof vest. Although they couldn't tell what type of bulletproof vest this was, from the messy bullet holes on his jacket, this bulletproof vest was definitely very resistant to being beaten.

Yu Tian and Meng bei both had traces of battle on their bodies. These policemen could even smell the smoke of gunpowder.

How could ordinary policemen like them be able to stop such a fierce person?

A few policemen were a little nervous, and their hands couldn't help but press on the pistols on their waists.

However, they recalled their boss's ridiculous order that they couldn't fight with the other party.

They could not shoot, and they could not have any violent confrontation.

But what if the other party attacked first?

Could they fight back? or could they just stand there and get beaten up?

What if the other party killed all of them?

Seeing Yu Tian and Meng bei swaggering their bikes past the blocking nails, the policemen did not know what to do.

Yu Tian and Meng Bei did not pay attention to the policemen, nor did they show their passports and ID cards. They did not even bother to talk to the policemen.

The two of them swaggered onto their bikes in front of the policemen. The policemen were all stunned.

What should they do?

The policemen looked at each other in dismay.

Stop in front of them? Block their way?

But judging from their current attitude, they didn't seem to be cooperating with the police's law enforcement at all.

Were they going to force it?

But the orders from the higher-ups were not to force it!

How were they supposed to carry out such a ridiculous mission?

Yu Tian and Meng Bei rode their bikes to the front of the two police cars, one on the left and the other on the right.

Then, the two of them casually lifted the hood of the police car.

The hood made a crisp sound, and the lock inside was torn off.

The few police officers were dumbfounded. They did not know what Yu Tian and Meng bei were trying to do.

However, they soon had an answer. Yu Tian and Meng bei each took out a grenade from their bodies, pulled out the safety latch, pressed the fuse, and stuffed it into the hood.

The policemen's expressions changed drastically. They had no time to panic and curse. They could only run away.

They only had the simplest bulletproof vest on them. They could not withstand the explosion at all.

Even if the bulletproof vest could protect their bodies, their heads and limbs were still exposed.

They did not want to be injured or killed. They were just ordinary police officers. They did not even have many chances to shoot at their jobs. Such a dangerous thing was not their responsibility. That was what the police force should do.

Who could care about the mission now? As long as they did not die in the line of duty, they would be lucky.

Fortunately, the grenade explosion still had a few seconds delay. At this critical moment, a few policemen also burst out with unprecedented sprinting speed. In the blink of an eye, they ran more than ten meters away and fell under the road.

The road was dozens of centimeters higher than the ground on both sides. In the absence of shelter, the roadside was the most suitable hiding place.

The sound of explosions soon rang out, and all kinds of debris flew around the road.

A few police officers lay under the road and escaped the disaster.

By the time they got up to look for Yu Tian and Meng Bei, the road ahead was already empty. They couldn't even see their backs..

Chapter 1423: Chapter 1,422, capture failed

Translator: 549690339

The speed of the bicycle was not considered slow. The only trouble was that it had to slow down when turning.

Yu Tian and Meng bei were not professional cyclists. They did not know how to Bend, nor did they know how to use the bicycle to swing the tail.

Fortunately, after passing this fork in the road, there were fewer turns.

This kind of road condition was very suitable for them to move forward quickly, and it was also very suitable for the enemy to pursue them.

The reaction speed of the Kronin society was not slow. When Yu Tian had broken through the first blockade line, they had already begun to mobilize their manpower to chase to the west.

However, their main force had been attracted to the direction where Meng Nan was, and they were still dozens of kilometers away from Yu Tian and Meng

Nan.

At such a distance, they would have to chase for half an hour even on the highway, not to mention that they still had to pass through dozens of kilometers of jungle bends.

It would take a long time to close the gap.

At this time, Yu Tian and Meng bei were already running at a speed of more than 100 kilometers per hour on the straight road.

At this speed, even a drone could not catch up with them. Kronin could only use the reconnaissance satellites to lock onto Yu Tian and Meng Bei's location.

Fortunately, Yu Tian and Meng Bei had been driving on the highway and were not out of the sight of the reconnaissance satellites.

Opening the map and taking a look, Kronny would be able to guess Yu Tian and Meng Bei's destination they were heading toward the northwest coast.

Yu Tian and Meng bei did not conceal their tracks. The direction they were heading in was very clear, and they did not even take a turn.

However, even if Kronny was able to guess Yu Tian's destination, he was helpless against Yu Tian.

Yu Tian and the others were currently less than 200 kilometers away from the west coast. This was a distance of two to three hours at most. Those genetic warriors would not be able to catch up to them in time, much less stop them.

They were leaving openly like this. Even if the Clone Society had guessed their evacuation plan, they were still helpless against them.

The clone society would also not suspect that Yu Tian was faking it. This was because the entire west side of wind country was along the coast. The long coastline was the best choice for Yu Tian to leave wind country.

There were many cities and towns along the coastline. As long as Yu Tian and Meng Bei entered a city, it was equivalent to entering a safe zone.

The complicated terrain in the city made it easy for Yu Tian to escape the tracking of satellites. He could find a crowded shopping mall, change his clothes, and then go out to take a taxi. He could disappear without a trace in the city.

Even if the clone society could continue to track the location of Yu Tian and Meng bei, it was impossible for them to hunt them down in the city.

The government of the windy nation would not allow a war to break out in the city.

If the clone society had not established a cooperative relationship with the government, they could naturally do whatever they wanted in the city.

But now, the friendly relationship with the government had become their restraint.

The government did not allow them to carry out armed operations in the city, so they really did not dare to act rashly.

Otherwise, if they offended the government, the foundation of cooperation that they had previously established would all be in vain.

Moreover, even if the government allowed the genetic warriors to enter the city to fight, they were still not Yu Tian's match.

With the dense streets and buildings in the city as cover, a powerful ancient martial art practitioner like Yu Tian could completely slaughter the genetic warriors into dregs.

The commander of the genetic warrior was very clear that if they continued to pursue at this speed, Yu Tian and Meng Bei would definitely be able to successfully enter the city and hide in the city.

At night, they would be able to swagger away from the coastline.

Satellite surveillance was meaningless as the coastline was too long.

Any location on the coast could allow Yu Tian and Meng bei to quietly enter the sea. The Kroni Society simply had no ability to seal off the entire coast.

Only if the wind nation officials mobilized the navy would it be possible to stop the ships that were evacuating Yu Tian.

However, the wind nation officials would not easily go to the high seas to stop the passing ships. If that were the case, there would be many disputes involved.

Moreover, the methods to stop the ships might not be effective. The donglong company had plenty of ways to quickly take Yu Tian away.

Submarines and seaplanes. As long as they were branded with the name of the eastern country, no country would dare to act recklessly against them.

The commander of the genetic warriors had basically given up all hope.

After struggling for almost a day and night and using so much manpower and resources, they were still unable to capture Yu Tian. In fact, they were even helpless against Yu Tian.

This proved that high-end combat strength was indeed not something that an ordinary combat team could handle.

Although the knights were already on their way to provide support, they were still unable to arrive in time, nor were they able to stop Yu Tian from entering the city in time.

This capture operation could be said to have failed.

However, even if the operation was about to fail, the commander of the genetic warriors wouldn't give up so easily.

He had to continue tracking down Yu Tian. That way, he might still have a chance to lock down Yu Tian's location in the city and provide the knights with information about the operation.

Handing the battle over to the Knights was their last resort. However, the prerequisite was to know Yu Tian's location at the very least.

Three hours later, Yu Tian and Meng bei entered Le City.

Le city was a port city and one of the few large cities in the north of wind country.

The huge city and dense population were the best cover for some special professionals.

The Kronin Society naturally had branches in Le City, and so did the DONGLONG company.

No secret organization would give up on such an important city so easily.

However, the East Dragon Company only had a small amount of intelligence personnel left. The other forces had either been destroyed or evacuated.

The branch of the Kronin Society in Le City was still intact. However, their genetic warrior unit in Le City had already been dispatched, and they were currently chasing after Yu Tian.

At present, the Kronin Society could only mobilize ordinary operation personnel and some intelligence personnel in Le City.

These ordinary people did not have the ability to go out of the city to stop Yu Tian. They could only stay in the city to follow Yu Tian and Meng Bei.

When Yu Tian and Meng Bei rode their bikes into the city, the KLONI Society members who were waiting at the intersection spotted them and immediately followed behind them.

The most flexible means of transportation in the city could only be bicycles and motorcycles. Cars were not only easy to block traffic, but there were also many places that could not be passed through.

Therefore, the means of transportation prepared by these people were also bicycles and motorcycles.

Yu Tian and Meng Bei's bicycle skills were not very good. They had already lost the advantage of speed in the city, so it seemed impossible to get rid of the tracking of these people.

This was a situation that even the KLONI society was excited about.

As long as they did not lose Yu Tian, they still had a chance to kill Yu Tian.

However, the tracking operation didn't go as smoothly as they had imagined.

Yu Tian and Meng Bei didn't know their way around either. When they saw an alley, they went in. Soon, they reached a dead end..

Chapter 1424: Chapter 1423: getting rid of the pursuers

Translator: 549690339

The members of the KLONI Society were a little annoyed. They didn't dare to go into a dead end.

As long as they met Yu Tian, Yu Tian could easily kill them.

They didn't dare to block the outside of the dead end either. This action would also alert Yu Tian.

So they could only scatter around the entrance of the alley and wait patiently for Yu Tian and Meng Bei to come out.

But after waiting for half a minute, they still didn't see Yu Tian.

At this time, the commander's order came again, telling them to immediately take a detour and go to a place across the alley.

Because Yu Tian and Meng Bei had climbed over the wall.

The Dead Alley couldn't trap them at all. They threw away their bicycles that were about to be scrapped, then directly jumped onto the building next to them and went to another street.

Fortunately, the satellites were also cooperating with the tracking, so Kroni would not lose Yu Tian for the time being.

The Operation Personnel Hurriedly took a detour, but when they were about to catch up with Yu Tian and Meng Bei, the two targets entered a shopping mall again.

Yu Tian and Meng bei also knew that they were being tracked, and Donglong Company's satellites were also watching their movements.

They did not take these pursuers to heart, and getting rid of them was a very simple matter.

If those pursuers had just followed them into a dead end, they would have already gotten rid of them.

Now that they were on a crowded street, it would not be good for them to kill people in front of everyone.

The two entered the mall, but they were not in a hurry to get rid of the pursuers. Instead, they planned to change out of their clothes first.

The bulletproof helmet naturally had to be put into the backpack. This kind of thing was too eye-catching in the city, and it was equivalent to providing the pursuers with an obvious tracking feature.

The problem of the clothes was easy to solve. It was enough to put on a loose jacket.

However, the military bulletproof vest that Meng bei was wearing was too bulky, and it felt very strange after putting on the jacket.

Considering that it was unlikely that there would be a fierce gunfight in the city, Meng bei simply took off the bulletproof vest and stuffed it into his backpack.

After changing his clothes and casually putting on a hat, the two of them followed the flow of people to the exit of the mall.

The tracking personnel of the Kronin Society had already chased into the mall and were anxiously looking for Yu Tian and Meng Bei in the mall.

The large shopping mall had multiple exits. In addition to the three-way gate, there was also a small door in the side alley and two entrances and exits in the underground parking lot.

Considering that Yu Tian and Meng bei were both ancient martial arts practitioners, Kronin would think that they might have jumped from a window on the second floor.

Or they might have jumped from the top floor of the shopping mall to a nearby building.

In short, there were many ways to leave the mall. Kronen couldn't just rely on satellites to detect them.

If Yu Tian and Meng bei were among the crowd, the satellites wouldn't be able to identify them at all.

Unless they left by jumping off the building, the satellites would be able to continue tracking them based on this obvious feature.

However, Yu Tian and Meng Bei had no intention of jumping off the building. They directly walked through the mall 's entrance.

There were also two trackers watching at the main entrance. They carefully watched every person who left the mall, not daring to make any mistakes.

Their superiors had already told them that this tracking mission was very important. It was even the most important tracking mission in the history of their organization.

This kind of psychological pressure made the two trackers sweat profusely. They couldn't even hide their identities.

However, they didn't need to hide their identities at this time. Even if they were to follow Yu Tian openly, they had to follow him.

They felt that at this time, Yu Tian wouldn't openly kill people in the city.

If Yu Tian really attacked those pursuers, it might be a good thing. At the very least, the police could start to hunt Yu Tian.

Therefore, it did not seem to be a big deal to let those pursuers brazenly follow behind Yu Tian.

As long as Yu Tian could not escape their tracking, there was no point in discovering the existence of the pursuers.

In fact, both sides had reconnaissance satellites, and both knew that the other party had already discovered their existence. This was originally a tracking on the surface.

The important thing was whether Yu Tian had the ability to find all the pursuers and then shake them off.

This kind of tracking method was a bit shameless, but the Kronin Association had no better way.

Because Yu Tian and Meng Bei's movement speed could suddenly be very fast, in order to keep up with them, the pursuers would eventually be exposed.

When Yu Tian walked out of the shopping mall, he noticed the two pursuers at the main entrance.

The two of them stood on both sides of the entrance, nervously scanning everyone who had left the shopping mall. They did not dare to leave even a single step. Their actions were too obvious.

Soon, they noticed Yu Tian and Meng Bers figures. Then, they impatiently turned on their communicators, ready to inform their teammates.

Yu Tian unhurriedly shot out two flying needles, knocking the two pursuers down.

This was indeed not a suitable place to kill people. In order to avoid causing panic, it was not suitable to put the trackers into a coma.

The two trackers who were hit by the flying needles fell to the ground. They were not unconscious, but their bodies were convulsing violently. It looked like some kind of illness was acting up.

The crowd at the entrance of the shopping mall was in a mess for a moment. However, after seeing that the two trackers were only convulsing on the ground, the crowd heaved a sigh of relief.

As long as no one died, there wouldn't be much chaos.

The two stalkers looked like they were having epilepsy. Although it was strange that both of them were having seizures at the same time, it still didn't scare the crowd away.

The crowd was watching from afar and didn't dare to get too close. They were worried that there would be something like an infectious disease.

Someone called the police, and someone also called an ambulance.

The two pursuers could not speak, their hands and feet could not move. They were even convulsing uncontrollably.

They could only watch as Yu Tian and Meng bei left with the crowd. There was nothing they could do.

Yu Tian and Meng bei flagged down a taxi and rushed to the next destination according to the address given by the command center.

The next destination was still a large shopping mall.

After going around the shopping mall, the two changed their clothes again and flagged down another taxi.

After repeating this twice, all the pursuers were left behind.

Finally, the two found a car in the underground parking lot of a shopping mall.

This was left for them by the intelligence officers of Le City. The car keys were left in the car.

The two drove to the safe house that they had prepared earlier.

Dong Long Company also controlled some gangs in Le City and used the port of Le City to carry out smuggling business.

However, there was no need to use the power of the gangs now. They could not help much in this kind of pursuit. Instead, they would expose their background..

Chapter 1425 - 1425: Chapter 1,424, leaving quietly

Translator: 549690339

The safe house was in an apartment building. The apartment manager was a subordinate intelligence officer of the Donglong Company.

The intelligence officer did not know the identities of Yu Tian and Meng Bei. He only needed to prepare water and food in advance in the safe house and provide the key when Yu Tian checked in.

The other matters had nothing to do with him. The safe house had long been rented out according to the normal procedures. No matter what happened, he would not be blamed.

Yu Tian and Meng bei could rest at ease in the safe house. Then, when the time was right, they could leave Le City.

The Kloni Society was already going crazy.

Yu Tian had disappeared into the huge city. They had no way to continue investigating.

Not to mention them, even if the police issued a wanted notice, it would be difficult to find Yu Tian and Meng bei in a short period of time.

Once night fell, Yu Tian and Meng bei could jump into the sea from any place and leave the windy nation.

Although the Kronin Society had contacted the officials of Le City and asked them to arrange for the marine police to patrol the waters around Le City and try to intercept the ships that were waiting for Yu Tian, these operations might not be effective.

Le city itself was a port city, and a large number of merchant ships and cargo ships entered and left the dock every day.

Yu Tian and Meng bei only needed to jump into the sea near the port. They could swim all the way to the port and hide in a certain cargo ship.

These cargo ships were all filled with containers. Every day, there were thousands of containers coming in and out of the port.

If they wanted to find Yu Tian and Meng bei in these containers, the workload would be terrifyingly heavy.

Theoretically, if they searched through one container after another, there would always be a way to find the person.

However, the port could not give them so much time. Such a search would paralyze the dock. All transportation would be suspended and then blocked on the dock.

The freighters leaning on the dock could not get out of the sea, and the freighters coming in from the outside could not reach the shore. The losses were unimaginable.

Even the customs could only conduct random checks on the cargo. It was not Kronin's turn to look for the person.

In addition, Yu Tian and Meng bei might not leave the dock yet.

They could swim directly to the depths of the sea, all the way to the open sea, and swim to the boats or speedboats that were waiting for them on the periphery.

For ordinary people, this method might not be very reliable.

But Donglong company could prepare complete tools for Yu Tian and Meng bei, such as diving suits and underwater thrusters.

The Coast Guard might not even be able to discover some speedboats, let alone these frogmen.

Hence, if Kronin was unable to locate Yu Tian before nightfall, there was basically no need to continue searching.

The genetic warriors had already chased them to the outskirts of Le City. Several hundred people were at a loss as they looked at this huge city.

Kronin was still unwilling to give up. Until the last moment, they were also unwilling to accept failure.

Several hundred genetic warriors unloaded their equipment, put a few grenades in their pockets, and entered the city.

Even if they were to try their luck, they would still encounter Yu Tian.

The police of Le City had also been mobilized by them. They started setting up checkpoints at the city's entrances and exits.

The genetic warriors and the members of the Clone Society had been deployed to the coastline. If Yu Tian were to leave by sea, they would have a chance to discover his whereabouts.

The arrangements on the surface of the sea could not be lacking either. Apart from the Marine Police, who had started to send out more patrols, the members of the Clone Society were also patrolling the coast in small speedboats.

However, this city was still a little too big, and the coastline was a little too long. The members of the Clone Society were not sure if they would be able to discover Yu Tian.

Night gradually descended, and the members of the Clone Society started to enter a state of high alert.

It was not difficult to seal off a city. There were only a few roads in and out of the city.

Unless Yu Tian left on foot, he could choose any direction.

However, if they wanted to drive away, they would be stopped by the police.

Of course, the police could not stop them. They would only expose their whereabouts.

Yu Tian did not plan to expose his whereabouts this time.

The journey from Le City to the maverick market was thousands of kilometers, and it would take more than ten hours.

If their whereabouts were exposed, Kronin would naturally have all kinds of methods to stop and harass them.

Such a risk was too great, and it was easy for some accidents to happen.

Yu Tian's plan was to wait until they reached the maverick market, then reveal his whereabouts at a leisurely pace.

Then, he would wait for Kroni to come to his door and have a good fight with Kroni.

Before that, he naturally had to ensure that the trip was smooth.

After the sky turned completely dark, Yu Tian and Meng bei finally started to set off.

It was actually still early, and many people were still eating dinner.

The city was still very lively at this time, and this was the best time for entertainment at night.

Those who drank, went to bars, or went on dates with their lovers were all chosen at this time.

This was more convenient than when it was quiet at night, because there were very few pedestrians on the streets at night, which was not good for Yu Tian and Meng bei to hide.

The two soon drove to the north side of Le City, where the command center had chosen a route for them to break out of the siege.

For ordinary people, there were only a few roads out of the city, and there were many places at the edge of the city that were impassable.

For example, there were mountains around the city, or there were only houses without roads.

Not to mention obstacles such as cliffs and cliffs, even a row of houses on the side of the road could block the way of ordinary people.

However, for ancient martial art practitioners, these obstacles were not a problem.

Yu Tian and Meng bei abandoned their vehicles and passed through some residential houses in the darkness. They climbed a small hill that was not too high or too steep and left the city.

The police had set up a stop on the road one kilometer away, but they couldn't even stop their shadows.

For ordinary people, climbing mountains and ridges was a very difficult thing. It didn't take much time and effort, and some hills were simply impossible to climb.

This kind of thing looked like rock climbing, but in fact, it was more difficult, and the distance to climb and cross was even longer.

Other than ancient martial art practitioners, ordinary people really had no way to deal with these obstacles. They could only obediently walk on the road.

The surveillance of the Kronin Association was focused on the sea. They felt that Yu Tian had to leave the wind country by sea. This was a very reasonable choice.

They had never thought that Yu Tian would continue to stay in the wind country and move to other cities.

Such an action would have no meaning for Yu Tian, and Kroni would not have expected it.

Yu Tian and Meng bei passed through the woods at the edge of the city without anyone noticing..

Chapter 1426 - 1426: Chapter 1,425: Equipment Delivery

Translator: 549690339

Yu Tian and Meng bei rested for a whole day. It was the time when they were most energetic.

The two of them performed Qinggong and ran more than ten miles in the wilderness.

In order to prevent being discovered by satellites, they avoided the road and traveled through the jungle.

After they were completely far away from Le City, the two of them finally approached the road and hid in the jungle by the roadside.

There were not many cars leaving the city at night. Even in a bustling city like le city, there were not many cars on the surrounding roads, especially at night.

This was not quite the same as the situation in the eastern countries. Other than having a lower population density than the eastern countries, the Western countries were not as safe as the eastern countries.

The big cities could also have some nightlife and entertainment. In the small cities, there were not many people on the streets at night.

Occasionally, they would see cars, but they would also pass by in a hurry.

If someone stopped a car on the roadside in the wild at this time, normal people would not dare to stop and talk to them.

Yu Tian and Meng bei waited patiently by the roadside for more than ten minutes, and finally, a car slowly approached.

With the reminder from the command center, the two of them quickly walked to the roadside.

The car stopped, and the two of them quickly got into the car.

Without stopping for too long, the car quickly left again and headed east.

An hour later, the car entered a small town.

There were almost no cars or pedestrians on the streets of the small town, and the residents stayed in their houses and did not go out.

Donglong company had already arranged for cars in the small town, and Yu Tian and Meng bei wanted to drive themselves to the mini-bull market.

At this time, there was no need to think about being rounded up. Yu Tian and Meng Bei drove straight south.

A thousand kilometers was at most a dozen hours' journey. One night was enough for them to reach the mini-bull market.

At dawn, the two of them finally arrived at the mini-bull market.

Donglong company had also prepared a safe house for them here. However, it was not the intelligence personnel who were in charge of these tasks, but the people in blue underpants.

Blue Underpants' background had already been clearly understood by the Kronin Association, so Yu Tian's operation in the mini-bull market could be fully involved without any need for any cover-up.

The Safe House prepared by Blue Underpants was a small independent villa, which would make it more convenient for people to enter and gather.

The small villa was located in the wealthy residential area in the city center, which was considered a relatively prosperous area.

Since Yu Tian intended to cause a ruckus in the mini-bull market, he naturally chose to fight in the prosperous urban area. This place was more suitable than the suburbs and the edge of the city for his guerrilla fighting style.

During the day, he still rested. Yu Tian and Meng bei still did not expose their whereabouts.

In the afternoon, a delivery box was delivered to the villa. Yu Tian's new equipment finally arrived.

Although the bulletproof vest was still functional, after so many battles, its defensive ability had been weakened.

The new bulletproof equipment surprised Yu Tian, because it did not include a helmet.

The bulletproof vest was equipped with a hood, which looked similar to an ordinary hoodie.

The material outside the hood looked soft, but it was actually a helmet with a fixed shape.

After the hood was put on, the visor inside the hood could also be pulled down.

The visor was also bulletproof glass with a transparent display screen, the same function as the previous helmet.

This was equivalent to turning the helmet into a portable mode, which could be taken off when not in use, and it would not look special after wearing it.

The pants were still the same as before, the appearance was ordinary, but the inner layer was double-layer bulletproof material.

The other parts were the boots and gloves.

In order to make it convenient for Yu Tian to use flying needles and weapons, the gloves were designed to be bare-fingered and bare-fingered. Two sets of the same bulletproof equipment were delivered this time.

Yu Tian had one set, and Meng Bei had one set.

The cost of making this bulletproof vest was several tens of millions of oriental dollars. The main reason was that the raw materials were relatively scarce, and the manufacturing cost was relatively high.

Donglong company was very wealthy. They did not mind investing in bulletproof equipment, nor did they mind arming all the hired ancient martial art practitioners.

After all, the value of those ancient martial art practitioners was not easy to measure with money. Spending tens of millions to ensure their safety was also a very necessary thing.

It was just that this bulletproof vest was limited by the materials and could not be mass produced.

For example, the bulletproof vest and helmet that Yu Tian had changed into, they still had to pack it back and extract the rare materials inside, then use it to make new equipment.

Meng bei did not refuse to wear the bulletproof vest this time. The Pride of an ancient martial art practitioner was nothing in the face of life and death.

If Liang Yongde and Tao Jun had worn bulletproof equipment before, even the lower-quality bulletproof vest of the other operational personnel would not have been blown up alive by the self-detonation of the two knight Squire.

The low-quality bulletproof vests only lacked a few expensive materials. However, they used the same defensive concept and design as the high-quality bulletproof vests. Their defensive capabilities were not bad, and they were more durable than traditional ceramics and steel plates.

The main reason was that the soft bulletproof vests, which were similar to sponges, would not affect the operation. The ancient martial art practitioners could fully display their combat strength.

The Tiger Squad had used a low-quality bulletproof vest before, but they encountered two knight squires, so they did not let the bulletproof vest play its proper role.

Yu Tian and Meng bei put on their equipment and looked like the black men who often gathered at the ends of the streets. This kind of hooded clothes was the favorite style of those sneaky guys.

Yu Tian had only left a flying needle and a broken spear on his body. The rest of his weapons were packed and sent back to the country.

The Broken Spear was already enough to deal with those genetic warriors. His club had lost its meaning of existence, and could only be sent back to the country as a collection.

Meng bei did not have a suitable weapon. He was not used to using a heavy weapon like the club, and normal weapons were useless against bulletproof vests.

Therefore, he casually picked up a longer kitchen knife in the kitchen and temporarily used it as a weapon.

In fact, he already had his own ideas regarding weapons. The weapons of the two knight Squires were pretty good. If he still had to fight against the Knights this time, he would fight to the death to snatch one back.

At night, a few gang bosses in blue underpants quietly gathered in this small villa. It was still Barr, Baptiste, and the others.

To Yu Tian's surprise, Mina also appeared at the end.

Yu Tian was stunned for a moment. Then, he asked the others to wait in the living room and called Mina into the room alone.

Mina thought that Yu Tian had something to whisper to her, and her face immediately blushed.

Yu Tian did have something to whisper, but it was not what Mina had imagined.

"What's going on? Why are you still in the mini-bull market? Didn't headquarters tell you to leave?"

Yu Tian's expression was very serious.. "Do you know what will happen here?"

Chapter 1427: Chapter 1,426, the unwilling Mina

Translator: 549690339

Mina was a little absent-minded, but she quickly calmed down and quickly replied, "I know that the mini-bull market will soon become a battlefield. "Then why haven't you left yet? Didn't headquarters inform you?"

"I did, but... Headquarters didn't ask me to leave the mini-bull market immediately, so I plan to deal with the red dragonfly first before leaving."

"What other important matters are there for you to deal with personally? 'Q "You should know very well that in a few days, the red dragonfly will disappear from this city, including blue underpants... There's no point in dealing with the red dragonfly.

The Mini Bull Market would soon turn into a pot of porridge. Blue underpants and Red Dragonfly, as subsidiary forces of the East Dragon Company, would inevitably be involved.

The Kronin Association did not put these small gangs in their eyes before, and they would not waste too much manpower and resources to eliminate these gangs.

However, if they were to fight Yu Tian again in the mini-bull market, they would definitely eliminate these two gangs along the way.

Whether it was the authorities or the Kronin Association, it would be very easy to eliminate these two small gangs.

Although Red Dragonfly and blue underpants would not give up without a fight, they would not be able to put up much resistance against the Kronin Gang and the authorities.

Their territory, industries, and private assets would all be cleaned up.

Only a portion of the members would still have a chance of survival if they were properly hidden.

However, Red Dragonfly and blue underpants, these two gangs, could only become the history of the Mini Bull Market in the end.

Mina knew the current situation. The power of the East Dragon Company could no longer exist openly, so she was also very clear about the fate of red dragonfly in the future.

However, she was not willing. Red Dragonfly was her family's business. She had been working hard for the development of red dragonfly for almost half of her life. She could not just watch red dragonfly die.

She originally thought that red dragonfly would be able to regain its life under the support of the East Dragon Company and quickly develop into a first-class gang in the mini-bull market.

At that time, she might be able to leave red dragonfly at ease and hand the entire gang over to Mary and Fernan.

This could also be considered a perfect answer for handing over to the Madan family.

But looking at the current situation, red dragonfly was about to perish in the hands of her leader.

Mina had the feeling of the last emperor and the ruler of a fallen dynasty.

She took a deep breath, she said to Yu Tian, "No matter what, I should send Fernan and Mary away before I leave the mini bull market. "As long as they are still around, the Madan family will still be around. The red dragonfly can also be rebuilt..."

Yu Tian shook his head. "The red dragonfly is gone. There is no possibility of rebuilding it. "This is just a gang, not a dynasty or a religion... I can send your brothers and sisters out of wind country, but I won't help them rebuild the red dragonfly. "

Sending two more people out of the country of wind was not difficult. For Mina's sake, Yu Tian did not mind giving the two siblings a sum of money to start a new life in a new environment.

But rebuilding the red dragonfly was out of the question. This was not something that could be solved with money.

Mary and Fernan did not have any outstanding abilities. The only reason they could become gang leaders was because of their family and identity.

The gang members were not stronger than ordinary people. They were just a little more ruthless.

If they did not have the support of the gang forces and the protection behind them, the gang members would not have the courage to act recklessly.

After the red dragonfly was destroyed, the gang leaders were no different from ordinary people.

It was countless times more difficult for them to establish a gang in a foreign country than starting a business from scratch.

If they had the time and energy, they might as well throw money at the locals and directly control a ready-made gang.

If Mary and Fern wanted to be gangsters in South Africa, Yu Tian could arrange corresponding jobs for them, but it was unlikely to rebuild the red dragonfly.

However, Mina had her own ideas. She knew that rebuilding the red dragonfly was very difficult, but as long as she worked hard enough, it might not be impossible.

She did not continue to dwell on the things in the future. She only planned to do the things in front of her first.

“If possible, I want to bring the other members of the red dragonfly out. In the future, the Madan family will continue to serve the East Dragon Company. These gang members are all excellent helpers...”

“Excellent helpers...”

Yu Tian sighed. What good could a few gang members be.

In terms of military strength, they could not be compared to professional soldiers. In terms of talent, they only had a little experience in fighting gangsters. Other than sending gangsters to other regions to be gangsters, they would not be of much value.

However, Yu Tian did not reject Mina’s request. He said indifferently, “Let’s talk about it after the war in the mini-bull market is over. If they are still alive by then, we can arrange it.

The war in the mini-bull market still required the participation of these gangsters, whether it was as a spy, a force to act, or even just as a bait to attract the attention of the authorities, these gangsters had to stir up trouble in the mini-bull market.

Those who were able to survive by then could be considered to be people with some brains and luck. They also had experience in the cruel gang war. They could be considered as outstanding gangsters in other gangs.

Yu Tian did not chat with Mina in private anymore. He brought Mina back to the living room and officially started the meeting.

First, he asked about the situation of the war with Ice City Hell.

The previous plan had basically succeeded. Through several assassinations on both sides, the red dragonfly eventually dragged the other small gangs into the water. They started to fight with Ice City Hell in the Alliance’s situation.

The means of resistance were always assassinations. The small gang alliance organized people to attack the leader of Ice City Hell, as well as the large waves under the control of Ice City Hell.

The large waves were the first to bear the brunt of the attack. Almost all the leaders, big and small, were killed. The remaining few had also disappeared without a trace.

Ice City Hell was also unable to stay out of it. Once the gangs fell out, there was no evidence at all.

The small gang alliance had determined that this matter was related to ice city hell, so naturally, they targeted the people of Ice City Hell for the assassination.

However, Ice City HelPs people were strong and strong, and the leader's guards were also very strong. The small gang alliance had launched many sneak attacks, but they only killed a few of their small leaders. They didn't cause much damage to ice city hell.

Hell in ice city originally wanted to hide behind the scenes, but at this time, they could only openly participate in the war.

The actions of the small gang alliance also gave them a very good excuse to start the war and take revenge.

They also sent out a large number of people and began to search for the hiding places of these small gang leaders.

Once the leaders of the small gangs went out, they could be targeted by Hell in ice city's spies and then be attacked..

Chapter 1428: Chapter 1,427-new forces enter the war

Translator: 549690339

Since the start of this war, the small gang alliance had suffered heavy casualties. Their main leader had suffered countless casualties, and his fate was not much better than big wave's.

The main reason was that their territory was not big, and they did not have many places to hide.

Hell in ice city had been planning this for a long time, and with big wave's help, they were relatively clear about the background of these small gangs.

This included the secret strongholds of these small gangs, the specific information of the main leaders and some core members of the gangs.

With sufficient intelligence support, the assassination of the small gangs would naturally be very smooth and fast.

Red Dragonfly's situation was slightly better because their leaders were all hiding in blue underpants' territory. At the beginning, it was also very easy for Hell of ice city to find them.

However, they soon found out where the red dragonfly was hiding. This incident brought up the traitor called Bono again.

Bono was a leader of the red dragonfly. At the same time, he was also a low-level member of the Clone Society. He used the human trade to provide experimental subjects for the clone society.

Previously, he had provided information about Yu Tian to the clone society. As a result, Yu Tian had been ambushed by genetic warriors.

However, after his identity was exposed, he could only hide like a mouse in the face of the pursuit of the East Dragon Company.

When the clone society saw that he had lost his value, they casually abandoned him and sent him to contact ice city hell, providing information for ice city hell, and dealing with red dragonflies and blue underpants.

This was a casual arrangement for the Clone Society. Success or failure was not a big deal.

However, Bono was caught by Yu Tian and became a spy for the East Dragon Company.

The East Dragon Company also did not pay much attention to the gang affairs, but the gang administrator of the mini-bull market felt that this was a good opportunity to annex the hell of Ice City.

Moreover, Mina and Yu Tian were very close, so the gang administrator was naturally very concerned about the development of the red dragonfly.

He simply let Bono openly sell the information about the red dragonfly, and told the people of Ice City Hell about their leaders hiding in blue underpants' territory, including the intimate relationship between the Red Dragonfly and blue underpants.

Anyway, this information could not be hidden for long, and Ice City Hell would find out about it sooner or later.

And this was what Bono was supposed to do. If he did not hide it, Kronin would also find out about it.

This information allowed Bono to gain the trust of Ice City's Hell, and it also allowed Blue underpants to get involved in the war ahead of time.

However, Ice City's hell did not want to start a two-pronged war, so they did not attack blue underpants' men for the time being.

They only arranged for their spies to run to blue underpants' territory and look for the whereabouts of the Red Dragonfly's leaders.

However, Blue Underpants felt that this was a good opportunity to attack ice city's hell. While Ice City's hell was being held back by the small gang alliance, it would be easier for them to take care of Ice City's hell.

On the surface, Blue Underpants and Ice City Hell were big gangs with similar strength. However, Blue Underpants was a new force that had risen through the gang wars in recent years. His combat strength was actually a little stronger than ice city hell.

Blue underpants could not wait to join the war, but he lacked some excuses.

Now that Ice City Hell had come to their territory to look for people, it was naturally what blue underpants wanted.

Blue underpants began to deliberately create conflicts, deliberately letting some of the leaders and the red dragonflies appear at the same place, or even openly mingling together.

Although Ice City Hell intentionally avoided blue underpants' people, the gunmen below who carried out the orders could not care too much.

Assassinations were inevitable, and blue underpants' people deliberately wanted to get close to the battlefield, but they could not avoid friendly fire in the end.

Finally, the gunmen of Ice City Hell killed a small leader of blue underpants who was in their way.

Although Ice City Hell wanted to explain and compensate, blue underpants refused to give up. He seized this excuse and began to ask for a sky-high price.

Running to Blue Underpants' territory and killing Blue Underpants' men was definitely an excuse that was worth fighting for.

Ice City Hell could not possibly satisfy blue underpants' unreasonable demands, and blue underpants had finally joined the war.

The morale of the small gang alliance was immediately boosted. They thought that strong reinforcements had come, but they did not know that they would not be able to escape the fate of being eliminated and annexed in the end.

No matter who won or lost between Blue Underpants and Ice City Hell, these small gangs would become history.

At this point in the plan, Red Dragonfly and blue underpants could be considered to be a shoo-in for victory.

Blue underpants had a lot of hidden fighting power. With Bono, the mole, providing intelligence, he had the upper hand in the war with Ice City Hell.

However, the situation quickly changed. Another large gang in the mini-bull market also intervened.

This gang was called the Iron Fist Gang. It might not be the most powerful gang in the mini-bull market, but it could be considered the richest gang.

It was said that the Iron Fist Gang started as an underground boxing match. They had a lot of rich resources and customers.

Later on, they began to monopolize the underground casinos and gobbled up territory. Eventually, they developed into a giant in the mini-bull market.

Originally, the war between Blue Underpants and Ice City Hell had nothing to do with the Iron Fist Gang. However, the Iron Fist Gang had inexplicably joined in and stood on the opposite side of blue underpants.

Their excuse for joining the war was exactly the same as blue underpants'. It was because Blue Underpants had accidentally injured one of their men when he attacked Ice City Hell.

Similarly, they had also offered blue underpants a sky-high compensation.

This kind of insincere negotiation naturally had another purpose. Blue underpants naturally would not fall for their tricks. If they wanted to start a war, they would just come.

Blue underpants had always been very confident in his own combat strength. However, he didn't expect that the Iron Fist Gang's combat strength was actually not weaker than theirs.

The current situation was that the three big gangs, together with a small gang alliance, had become one in the mini bull market.

The big battle hadn't appeared yet. However, once there were more assassinations, it was inevitable that there would be a situation where they would chase and kill on the streets.

In a few days, the people of the mini-bull market started to get nervous. They left for work in a hurry and did not dare to stay on the roadside.

The mini-bull market police had been calling for all parties to calm down two days ago, but suddenly there was no news.

Bono had sent news that the Iron Fist Gang was likely related to the Kronin Society.

However, as Bono knew, the Kronin Society did not support their own gang in the mini-bull market.

The Iron Fist gang might have gotten some benefits from the Kronin gang, or some of the leaders had already been bribed by the Kronin Gang.

If even a small gang leader like Bono could join the Kronin gang, then it was not surprising that some of the upper echelons of the Iron Fist Gang had been recruited by the Kronin Gang.

In addition, even without the instigation of the Kronin Gang, the Iron Fist Gang's participation in this war had its benefits.

Ice City Hell was now under attack from all sides and desperately needed allies and help. The Iron Fist Gang would certainly be able to take advantage of this opportunity to extort money..

Chapter 1429: Chapter 1,428, chaos wasn't enough

Translator: 549690339

In fact, as a third party, the Iron Fist Gang would get enough benefits no matter which faction they joined.

If they stood on blue underpants' side, they would naturally participate in the feast of dividing up the Ice City Hell after the war ended.

This was a safe method. The risk was very low, and the benefits weren't bad.

However, if they stood behind Ice City Hell, they could completely annex blue underpants. This way, the benefits were obviously greater.

Ice City Hell only wanted the Iron Fist gang to quickly participate in the war and help them fight against Blue Underpants. They did not dare to negotiate with them and fight for Blue Underpants' territory.

The Iron Fist Gang was very ambitious. They wanted Blue

Underpants' industry, so they quickly stood behind Ice City Hell.

Blue underpants' pressure doubled, but he was not at a disadvantage yet.

They had a strong momentum of development in the past few years, and they had expanded their forces and members.

They were all spreading out to assassinate Ice City Hell and the upper echelons of the Iron Fist Gang. It was also a very big threat.

Both sides were in a stalemate in this assassination game. They were trying their best to hide their important members while desperately searching for the whereabouts of the other party's upper echelons.

Once they discovered something, they would mobilize the corresponding forces to launch an attack.

If this situation continued to develop, even if Yu Tian did not come to the mini-bull market, this place would sooner or later turn into a pot of porridge.

However, after Yu Tian attracted the flames of war, the armed conflict in the mini-bull market would become even more intense.

After roughly understanding the situation, Yu Tian finally began to speak.

"The situation is very chaotic, but I feel that this kind of chaos is not enough. "The Iron Fist Gang has also chosen to become our enemy. I feel that this is a good thing. "I hope that there will be more enemies. It would be best if all the gangs in the mini bull market can become our enemies."

When Yu Tian said this, the leaders of the blue underpants all revealed puzzled expressions.

However, Yu Tian was still calm and composed. These leaders also listened to him continue to speak in silence.

Yu Tian said calmly, "Our reinforcements will arrive at the Mini Bull Market Tonight. At that time, whether it's Ice City Hell, Iron Fist Gang, or any other gang... in front of our combat team, they are all jumping clowns.

The leaders of the blue underpants immediately became excited.

Their initial development was to rely on the combat team of the Eastern Dragon Company to forcefully fight for territory and resources from other gangs. Only then would they have a chance to survive and have a strong chance to follow up.

They had already seen the abilities of professional combat teams.

Compared to gangs, this was the difference between professional armies and militia.

Yu Tian said, So, I want you to take action immediately and burn the flames of war to every corner of the bull market. Let the bull market know the strength of our Blue Underpants.”

Barr immediately said, “Yes, boss. I will immediately arrange people to attack the leaders of the other gangs.”

Baptiste was a little hesitant. “Boss, is it appropriate to attack so many targets at the same time? “Why don’t we wait until we destroy Ice City, Hell, and the Iron Fist gang before attacking the other gangs? “Our current manpower might not be enough... ”

Yu Tian said indifferently, “I don’t have that much time to waste in the mini-bull market. If possible, I even hope to wipe out all the other gangs in one night. “Your people don’t need to participate in the attack for the time being. You ‘re only responsible for providing information. “If we don’t have enough manpower, we’ll just keep an eye on the main leaders of those gangs. We don’t need to worry about the small fry for the time being.

Baptiste nodded silently. “If we’re only in charge of providing information, it won’t be a big problem. We have enough peripheral members who can assist us. ”

Yu Tian said, “Those who are not suitable to show their faces, just hide well. It’s best for all of you not to go out for the next few days. Try your best to complete all the work over the phone.”

Everyone nodded. “Understood.”

Yu Tian said again, “Alright, that’s all I have to give you. Your manager will discuss the specific work arrangements with all of you over the phone. The information that you have gathered will also be handed over to the manager directly. The reason why I called all of you here today is mainly to prepare a set of equipment for all of you...”

“Equipment?”

The leaders were a little confused, but they soon knew what equipment Yu Tian had prepared for them.

At night, the Dong Long Company’s operational personnel finally arrived at the mini-bull market. At the same time, a large amount of equipment was sent over.

The gang leaders all received bulletproof vests. Although it was only a low-quality bulletproof vests, it was enough to ensure their safety.

The East Dragon Company did not want these gang leaders to die easily, especially before the end of the war. The forces controlled by these gang leaders could provide the east dragon company with sufficient intelligence sources.

The number of bulletproof vests was sufficient. Other than using them for their own use, the gang leaders could also bring some back to their important leaders.

Mina also received several sets of bulletproof vests to ensure the safety of her family members.

There was also a set of extra-large bulletproof vests that were specially prepared for the big guy.

The rest were the equipment of the operation personnel. Other than the bulletproof vests, there were also all kinds of weapons.

As the East Dragon Company was conducting special training for the combat teams, there were not many operational personnel that could be mobilized.

Including the operational personnel that had returned from Dawn City, the total number of personnel that had gathered this time was less than 50.

However, Piggy Liang did not intend to let these combat teams clash head-on with the genetic warriors. Their opponents were merely ordinary gangsters.

Three to four people, or four to five people, forming a small operation team was enough to deal with those gangsters.

These operation personnel were originally more proficient in small-scale battles in the city, including assassinations and other operations.

Now that they were all wearing the new equipment of the East Dragon Company, their combat strength was naturally stronger.

The new equipment was very light. These operational personnel could all dress up and move around in the city more conveniently.

Only the bulletproof helmet was a bit of an eyesore. Before the operation, they could only hide it with their weapons in their backpacks.

These forty to fifty people were divided into more than ten teams. Their task for the next few days was to continuously launch attacks on various targets, causing chaos in the mini bull market.

Creating Chaos could distract the police's attention, making it impossible for them to provide too much help to the Kronin Society.

The rest of the matter was the battle between Yu Tian and the Kronin Society.

The Kronin Society also had an intelligence force in the mini-bull market. However, Yu Tian had sneaked back to the mini-bull market this time. These intelligence personnel might not be able to find any traces of Yu Tian.

Fortunately, Donglong company still had a spy. Bono could also leak the news of Yu Tian's appearance in the mini-bull market to Kronen, so that Yu Tian would not deliberately go out in public..

Chapter 1430: Chapter 1,429: Total Chaos

Translator: 549690339

After the equipment was distributed, the gang leaders and the operation personnel dispersed.

The following operations were all arranged by the command center.

This operation had established a separate command system for the gang members. The function was similar to the internal command system, and the command personnel were still from the command center.

However, the gang members did not have the DONGLONG company's professional combat communication equipment. They only had ordinary mobile phones, so they could only use the command mode of the APP.

The specific operation commands and maps could be seen on the APP, but there was no way to achieve real-time command in battle.

However, this had greatly increased the efficiency of the operation. At least the gang leaders did not have to call to inform their subordinates to take action one by one. All the commands and action reports could be seen on the APP.

Moreover, most of the operations were arranged and ordered by the command center. The gang leaders only needed to do what they were doing well. They did not need to multitask and pay attention to the actions of all the gang members.

The fighters of the East Dragon Company were divided into more than ten teams. The footholds and vehicles were all prepared by the gang members.

They only needed to launch attacks according to the target of the operation.

In the next few days, the underground world of the mini-bull market was in complete chaos.

The big and small gangsters inexplicably encountered all kinds of attacks. In addition to assassinations, there were also strong attacks.

Although the Eastern Dragon Company's operational teams only had four or five people, they relied on the advantage of bulletproof vests to directly attack the headquarters of the gangsters.

The headquarters of the gangsters usually had dozens of people, but they were no match for the professional combat teams.

Their main weapon was handguns, and some gang members did not even have handguns.

Occasionally, there were some automatic weapons, but they were still helpless against the operation personnel of the East Dragon Company.

One night was enough for the East Dragon Company to attack dozens of target locations. Whether it was the gang headquarters or the private residences of the big shots, they were all swept over like the wind.

Apart from hiding, these gang members had no power to resist at all. The entire city was knocked out by the East Dragon Company.

The ones who suffered the most losses were the Iron Fist Gang and the Ice City Hell. Their headquarters were directly wiped out by the East Dragon Company.

The original mode of war was still assassination. If those big shots stayed in the headquarters or had enough guards by their side, they did not have to worry about being attacked by gunmen.

However, the operational personnel of the East Dragon Company didn't care about this. They charged into the headquarters of these gangs as easily as walking into a public toilet.

This type of battle mode was a dimension-reducing blow to the gangs. In just one night, they had suffered heavy losses.

In the next few days, these gang leaders began to hide everywhere, trying their best to hide their whereabouts.

However, the East Dragon Company's actions did not stop. When they could not find anyone, they attacked their important industries, using robbery and arson methods.

The Iron Fist Gang's casino could only be closed down. Otherwise, the East Dragon Company could rob them until they went bankrupt.

Ice City's hell was even worse. With Bono, the mole, their flour business suffered a heavy blow. Even the warehouse was burned down by the East Dragon Company, losing hundreds of millions in one go.

The other gangs were confused. They did not even know the identity of the attacker.

Some people began to suspect blue underpants, but the entire calf market was in a mess. They were not sure who was the real mastermind.

The police finally began to intervene. These gang wars could not be hidden. Everyone in the calf market knew that the underground world had fallen into chaos, and almost no one dared to go out at night.

This made it easier for the police to operate. The patrol routes at night became unusually smooth, and the number of pedestrians that needed to be checked decreased by a lot.

Donglong company immediately switched to a daytime operation.

The citizens had to work and eat during the day. It was impossible for them to stay at home and not go out. This was the best cover for the combat teams.

As long as the combat teams moved fast enough, they could blend in with the crowd and leave before the police arrived at the scene of the fight.

Even if there were occasional confrontations with the police, the police would not dare to fire at the combat teams with all their might.

They would either chase after them and get beaten up, or watch the combat teams leave.

To deal with the bulletproof vests of the combatants, they had to have heavy weapons.

The police also had armored vehicles and heavy machine guns, but they obviously could not use them casually in crowded places.

They might have dared to fire a few shots in places where there were fewer people, but the combat teams would not be entangled with them in such a place.

Donglong company was equivalent to kidnapping the entire bull market. The police were a little wary of these combat teams.

They had already guessed that Donglong company was behind these combat teams. They hurriedly contacted the headquarters of Donglong Company, wanting to use the arrested operational personnel to negotiate with Donglong Company.

However, the Eastern Dragon Company had enough confidence now. Their headquarters was in the eastern country, and there weren't many industries left in the wind country. Those twenty or so operatives weren't enough to be bargaining chips.

Moreover, the chaos in the mini-bull market was caused by the gang war. It had nothing to do with the Eastern Dragon Company.

The officials of the mini-bull market were at their wit's end. They wanted to fall out with the Eastern Dragon Company and forcefully attack the power of the Eastern Dragon Company, but they couldn't find any valuable targets.

The only things they could deal with were the two gangs, blue underpants and red dragonfly.

However, the main members of blue underpants and red dragonfly had scattered and hid in every corner of the bull market. Even if the police had intelligence sources, it would be difficult to catch them all in a short period of time.

Moreover, the East Dragon Company was not without means to guard against the police. Other than using satellites, drones, and street surveillance to guard against various hidden locations, they also hacked into the police's command system.

As long as the police showed signs of mobilizing the police force to arrest them, they would immediately be targeted by countless eyes. There was no possibility of a secret ambush.

The authorities tried to arrest them twice, but all of their efforts were in vain. They suddenly had no idea what to do.

They had a large and prosperous city in their hands. It was impossible for them to put the entire city under martial law.

Donglong company was a barefoot existence on the battlefield of wind country. No matter how they fought, they would not suffer any losses.

The officials of the mini bull market were helpless. They could only request that Dong Long Company not make such a big fuss so that the mini bull market could maintain normal social order.

Dong Long Company's target was almost cleaned up. They simply sold out and slowed down the pace of their actions.

However, the various gangs of the mini bull market were not willing to be beaten up just like that. Revenge at all costs was the usual style of the gangs. They were given time to catch their breath and immediately started fighting back..

