

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 901 – 950

Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 901

Chapter 901 – Chapter 900, Collision Of Ships

Under Ivan's shout, Yu Tian and the others realized that they had not eaten for a long time.

Although everyone was able to endure hunger, there was no need to torture themselves when there was food to eat.

Dozens of people were squeezed in the cabin and the passage. There was no dining table, and there was no way to properly eat. However, it was still more convenient to have a few bites of bread and a few mouthfuls of strong wine.

Yu Tian was not picky and wolfed down the food with everyone.

There was nothing wrong with the taste of the bus. It was just a little too hard. It was like chewing on a tire. No one knew how long it had been stored as dry food.

Ivan and the others' main food was alcohol. All the crew members held a bottle of vodka in their hands and gulped it down one mouthful after another.

As expected, the old Russians were addicted to alcohol. Yu Tian felt a headache just looking at it.

He could not help but drag Ivan over and asked, "Will drinking like this affect the sailing?"

"Of course not," Ivan said confidently. "We Russians will definitely not be defeated by a bottle of vodka. Only the helmsman who drinks two mouthfuls can hold the rudder more firmly."

"If you say that drinking two sips will make the rickshaw run faster, I can still believe it. Driving a submarine doesn't rely on strength, so it requires a lot of delicate operations. Are you sure that you won't make mistakes after drinking?"

"Of course not, we drove here last night like this."

Yu Tian was instantly speechless.

"Don't worry, we are in the middle of the vast sea, so it's much safer than driving in the city. Now we just need to drink in peace and run away."

Ivan took out a small cucumber from his pocket with a smile. He broke off half of it and handed it to Yu Tian.

"Come on, this is my favorite dish to go with wine. It's a famous pickle. I'll give you half now. Isn't that great? Did you know that vodka and pickle go better together in a rainstorm?"

Yu Tian held the pickle in his hand. It felt a little sticky. "How long have you kept this pickled cucumber?" "Uh Pm not too sure."

"Not sure? Where did you get this cucumber?"

"Not sure? Where did you get this cucumber?"

"It's in my pocket. When I left yesterday, I decided to change into a new coat. After all, I hadn't changed that coat for months. Then, last night, I found that there was a pickled cucumber in the new coat!"

Ivan was beaming with joy as he said, "I originally planned to destroy it last night, but after careful consideration, I decided to keep it to entertain my distinguished guests. "Those young men are all eyeing this pickled cucumber of mine. It wasn't easy for me to preserve it until today."

Yu Tian held the half of the cucumber and didn't know what to say.

He had changed his jacket every few months, and there was actually a cucumber hidden in it. This pickled cucumber was probably more than half a year old.

It would have been fine if this thing had been stored in those jars and jars, but could it still be eaten after being in his pocket for so long?

Smelling the sour smell from Ivan's body, Yu Tian felt that the old Russian was indeed very compatible with vodka.

He could only sit down in the narrow cabin with the half of a cucumber in his hand and began to drink slowly.

The Russians drank very quickly. The crew quickly got drunk and even started to sing excitedly.

There were drunkards among the killers, but their alcohol tolerance was much lower than the Russians, especially after starving for a day. After a few mouthfuls, they lay on the aisle, unable to move.

Cass and the Big Guy were not interested in drinking, including General Caro's tiger team. Those soldiers did not dare to drink without General Caro's permission.

Everyone hurriedly took a few bites of the dry and hard bus and drank some water, then leaned against the cabin wall and began to rest.

The storm did not stop. Even though the submarine cut through the brambles and bravely moved forward in the wind and waves, it was still bumpy in the wind and waves and still did not run out of the range of the storm.

Yu Tian had already returned to his room to rest. Ivan also left his post and asked the crew to take over his duty.

The passengers in the submarine squeezed into various cabins and passageways. They had all fallen into a deep sleep.

The few crew members who stayed behind on duty were also somewhat drowsy. They forced themselves to be alert. While observing the situation outside through the periscope, they occasionally whispered a few words.

The cabin was a little quiet, except for some impatient snoring.

After an unknown amount of time, the storm seemed to gradually subside.

A crew member was holding a bottle of wine to his mouth when a loud sound suddenly came from outside the submarine.

The submarine suddenly stopped, and the entire body of the submarine leaned forward.

Yu Tian, who was sleeping soundly, quickly rolled down from the narrow bed. Fortunately, his reaction was quick. With a light jump, he stabilized himself on the floor.

The rest of the people who were resting in the cabin and the corridor were not so lucky. Everyone rolled into a ball. Even if some of the people who reacted quickly stabilized themselves, they were still knocked to the side by others. The crew member who was drinking almost stabbed the bottle into his throat.

"Damn it! What happened? !"

The ship had just regained its balance when Ivan's broken voice sounded in the cabin.

Then, Ivan ran into the cockpit like a gust of wind.

The rest of the crew members were also shocked. They ran out of the lounge and quickly entered their positions.

The submarine was not big, so the crew members did not need to run too far to get into position. They did not have much time to waste.

When Yu Tian ran out of the room, Ivan had already reached his post and was reprimanding his crew members.

"What are you all doing? The sea is so wide, yet you guys are still able to collide with the ship?"

The probability of colliding with a ship in the sea was really not high. Although many ships took the same route, none of them walked with their eyes closed.

In a place like the sea where one could see everything, it was not easy to see other ships from afar. Even if it was a blind man driving randomly or deliberately trying to collide with the other party, it was not easy.

The crew members who were being scolded were crying. "The wind and waves are too high, and it's dark outside!"

"Hurry up and go check on the damage! "

Ivan did not have time to scold them. He turned around and walked out again. "I have to go outside to check on the situation. I don't know what kind of ship I bumped into. "

Yu Tian and the others hurriedly followed. They quickly climbed onto the deck outside the submarine with Ivan.

It was still a violent storm outside. Yu Tian and the others had just emerged when they were drenched by the rain.

Although the storm was smaller than before, the deck was still not a safe place..

Chapter 902 – : Chapter 901, Motherf * Cker

The surrounding sea was pitch-black, and the submarine was still shaking violently in the storm.

Yu Tian and the others could only grab onto the guardrail, trying their best to look around.

The deck of the submarine was not big, and it was much more dangerous than an ordinary ship.

The big waves that were blown up by the strong wind almost directly hit Yu Tian and the others. It felt like they were bathing under a waterfall.

Fortunately, the few people who came up were not mediocre. Although they did not have any protective measures, they would not be swept away by the big waves.

Yu Tian grabbed the railing with one hand and held onto Ivan with the other. He wanted to ensure that this captain would not be swept away by the big waves and end up like his ancestors.

Ivan looked around and then pointed with his big hand. "There!"

Yu Tian looked in the direction of his finger and vaguely saw a black shadow.

The ship was not big. It was pitch black and there was not even a single light on.

"This B * Stard. He left the ship at night and did not even leave a single light

Ivan cursed loudly.

This situation was actually very strange. Yu Tian asked in puzzlement, "What kind of ship is that? Why is there not a single light on the ship?"

The Big Guy behind Yu Tian said in a muffled voice, "It can't be the legendary ghost boat, right?"

Ivan's body immediately trembled. "Ghost Boat? Damn it, how can there be such a thing? I've been traveling on the sea for most of my life, but Pve never touched a thing like a ghost boat?"

"It's not a ghost boat. "Yu Tian shook his head and denied it. "There are people on the boat. I heard their shouts."

Ivan heaved a sigh of relief. "That's right! they probably thought they hit a reef. "

The big guy said, "There are people on the ship? Then why didn't they leave any lights on?"

Ivan wiped the rainwater and seawater off his face and said doubtfully, "Could it be! they're running for their lives too?"

If they wanted to run for their lives, turning off the lights was of course a necessary operation. Whether or not they could avoid being tracked, at least they could not be easily locked onto by the other party from the light source.

"Is there anyone else who needs to run for their lives in such a stormy weather?"

"Maybe, it's pirates."

"This ship isn't big, so it shouldn't be a military ship. It might really be a pirate ship. "

"Then they are really unlucky. They probably thought that they had hit a reef. "

"Hurry up, we have to dive. If we don't want to be targeted, we have to hide quickly. "

After some discussion, Ivan immediately urged everyone to return to the cabin.

The group of people returned to the cockpit wet. The crew immediately came to report the damage to Ivan.

Unfortunately, the pressure shell on the head of the submarine was directly cracked. This kind of high-speed impact was worse than being hit by a cannonball.

However, this situation was not very serious. There were many cabins in the submarine. In such a situation that could not be repaired for the time being, they could also close the cabin door and seal the cabin.

After the cabin was sealed, the submarine would have an additional load and an entire cabin of water. This would definitely have a significant impact on the operation, but it was not considered fatal damage.

"Fortunately, we are not in combat mode right now, and the enemy is not deliberately looking for us! "

After commanding the crew to complete the dive operation, Ivan finally breathed a sigh of relief.

The crew also put down their work and began to discuss in low voices.

"What ship is that?"

"The captain said that it might be a group of pirates, a group of pirates who are running for their lives. "

"Did they discover us? Or did they really treat us as reefs?"

"I don't know, I don't think the pirates are that smart. "

"Even if they suspected that they hit the submarine, they shouldn't have the time to stay and investigate."

"That's right, they have already started to run for their lives."

"Did their ship not sink?"

"I don't think so."

"They are really lucky! uh, a blessing in disguise."

"Follow that pirate ship. "

Ivan suddenly gave the order and ordered the crew loudly, "Keep an eye on the periscope, don't lose them. "

Yu Tian was a little puzzled, "Why are we following the pirate ship?"

Ivan said, "If we can encounter the pirate ship, we must be close to the coast. We have to think of a way to get ashore first, then find a phone and call for help. "

Although the submarine was still able to move, the working equipment on the submarine was basically paralyzed. All operations needed to be done manually.

There wasn't even a sonar to open the way.

Ivan felt that he had returned to the primitive era of navigation. He could only rely on holding a compass to go home.

Although the maintenance staff was still repairing it, there were too many broken equipment in the submarine. There were also too many parts that needed to be replaced. The maintenance capacity on the ship was not enough to support such an excessive amount of repairs.

Under the circumstances, it was the best way to call for help.

Following the pirates to shore was also a good idea.

The pirate ship was also lucky. Although it was hit, it still did not sink.

The pirates on the ship were somewhat baffled. They did not know what had happened.

They were more familiar with the nearby waters. There were no reefs or anything like that here.

As for the possibility of crashing into a submarine in the storm, the captain had thought of that possibility, but he did not have the time to verify it now.

He directed the pirates to repair the leaks while the crew sped to the shore.

They had just robbed a merchant ship and kidnapped a few hostages. They thought everything was going well, but before they could ask their families for ransom, they were targeted by a coast guard ship of unknown nationality.

Fortunately, the storm provided cover, and they were able to escape successfully.

Now they only needed to overcome the threat of the storm and quickly drive the damaged ship home.

As for what exactly they hit, as long as they could go home safely, it didn't matter if they didn't ask for confirmation.

The pirate ship ran all the way, and the submarine followed closely behind.

Everyone's Luck was not bad. The storm gradually lessened.

The submarine and the pirate ship were both injured. Their speed was not very fast, but after half an hour of hard work, Ivan finally saw the coastline.

The dark coastline was boundless. It did not look like an island, but the edge of the continent.

"Damn it, where did we run to!"

Ivan was confused. He quickly took out his nautical chart and began to study it.

People in this era had long been used to the assistance of high-tech equipment. Ivan was not used to the sudden change back to the primitive era.

He studied the nautical chart for a long time, calculating the speed and time, and finally estimated the distance..

Ivan patted his head and wondered, "Are we in the middle of Nowhere?"

Chapter 903 – : Chapter 902, An Unfriendly Place

This was a place rich in pirates, and there was a tendency for the entire population to be soldiers.

The main reason was, of course, poverty and war. The Civil War in this place had lasted for decades, but no result had been achieved, and there was no boss that everyone was convinced of.

This godforsaken place was basically in a state of anarchy, with only large and small forces entrenched in various places.

Due to the chaos of war, the industry, agriculture, and commerce of the Damadi had been completely destroyed. As a result, even food was very scarce in this place.

The commoners did not have a livelihood. They could only fish in the sea and become pirates at the same time.

It was difficult to obtain food in Damadi, but it was very easy to obtain guns.

The flood of guns naturally made Damadi a very dangerous place.

Ivan was a little hesitant. "F * ck land is not a good place. From this place, I'm afraid it will be difficult to borrow a phone or something."

"It doesn't matter, as long as there is a phone in this place." Yu Tian smiled.

"The passengers on your ship are not good people. A place like F * Ck land is quite suitable for their activities. "

Ivan did not know about the things on Demon Island, but when he saw the soldiers under General Caro with guns, he knew that they must have some fighting strength.

Since Yu Tian and the others were willing to go on the island themselves, Ivan naturally had no reason to object.

Without thinking too much, Ivan immediately said, "Okay, I'll go ashore with you. "

The submarine continued to move forward, bypassing the flat coastline and stopping at an area outside the cliff.

No ships would pass by this location, and there would be no activity on the steep coast.

However, the submarine still did not dare to float on the surface of the water. They could only lurk below the surface of the water and use a periscope to observe the movements of the coast, ready to receive the return of the personnel at any time.

Yu Tian and the others still had to swim to the shore on their own. This was a physical task.

Although there were a few killers who were not good at swimming, they did not want to wait in the cabin. Therefore, they joined the landing team and jumped back into the cold sea water.

Perhaps there was no storm on the shore, or perhaps the storm had stopped. It was not difficult to swim to the shore. This kind of exercise was within the limits of what everyone could bear.

After another half an hour, Yu Tian finally brought everyone onto the coastline.

The people who came ashore were still the same people from Demon Island, except for Ivan and Ava.

The group of more than thirty people was very large. Ivan brought the only few electrical appliances in the submarine a flashlight, which barely provided a light source for everyone to move.

The shore here was not a beach. It was full of cliffs and some messy reefs.

Everyone was in a half-swimming and half-climbing state as they slowly advanced along the shore.

However, they were not far from the beach. After walking for about ten minutes, they finally reached the flat beach.

In the distance, it was still dark. The Shadows seemed to be a large forest.

Ivan looked at his Water Ghost Watch. "It's not far from daybreak. It should be the darkest time now. "

"The Darkness is not bad either. It's quite suitable for the operation of so many of us. "

Yu Tian asked Ivan while hurrying on, "Where did those pirates come ashore

Ivan said, "About a few kilometers ahead."

Yu Tian tried his best to look into the distance, but it was still pitch-black ahead.

"There's no light, so I can't see anything. Where did those pirates go?"

Ivan smiled and said, "The coastline isn't straight, so of course I can't see anything. There should be a small dock where they came ashore, or maybe a village or something. "The people of Dama usually fish for food, and there are quite a few fishing villages by the sea. "

"How big are their fishing villages? How many people are there?"

"That's hard to say. Under normal circumstances, there are still a few hundred people! "

Ivan paused for a moment and then asked in puzzlement, "You're not planning to attack their village, are you?"

"What else?" Yu Tian asked in return, "Are you planning to knock on the door one by one and ask who has a phone and who has a cell phone. Then, you will be very friendly and ask them to lend you their phone and pay them a phone bill?"

"UH! "

Ivan was speechless.

The F * cking people would certainly not be so friendly.

It was not a big problem to borrow a phone here, but the cost of making a phone call was definitely not small.

So, if he were to call home here, he would definitely add, "Transfer five million to me. I have to pay the phone bill, or else they won't let me leave."

Ivan knew very well that there was no friendly negotiation in Damadi.

As long as outsiders appeared in Damadi, to the people of Damadi, they were all fat sheep waiting to be slaughtered.

Don't count on their kindness. They couldn't even eat, so how could they count on their kindness.

To be able to let them go after receiving the ransom was already their greatest kindness.

Of course, this was also their rule for sustainable development.

Ivan hesitated for a moment. "But, we only have a few dozen people, and we only have a few dozen guns. Attacking a village seems a little! "

Don't think that just because there was a group of soldiers with guns, they could run to Happy Valley to make an overlord phone call.

The fishermen in Happy Valley would definitely not be threatened by death.

No matter which Fisherman's house they broke into, as long as there was a gunshot or the fishermen screamed, the neighbors would swarm over.

If this didn't calm things down, the entire village would be alarmed and immediately mobilize.

These wandering soldiers didn't need any command or call for help. They could spontaneously surround the intruders and quickly enter the battle.

This kind of spontaneous battle mode was actually more terrifying than the special forces who were ordered to fight.

The Damadi was like a chaotic place in a novel. Almost everyone here could play with guns and had guns. This included every man who could carry a gun, their women, and their mothers.

A village of a few hundred people was equivalent to an armed group of a few hundred people.

Perhaps their combat strength was not as good as a regular army, but with their rich combat experience, their combat strength could not be underestimated.

This kind of situation where everyone was a soldier could give any country a headache. It could make them hesitate between attacking and slaughtering.

If they did not dare to slaughter, then they would never be able to deal with these half-civilian and half-bandit pirates.

The reason why the F * cking pirates had been tormented to such an extent that the entire world was helpless was also because of this awkward situation where their identities could not be determined.

"Therefore, we can only act like pirates and attack their villages. We can control them as if they were hostages before we consider borrowing their phones. "

Yu Tian could not reveal his identity, nor did he represent any power. Naturally, he had no scruples in doing things..

Chapter 904 – Chapter 903, Village

The only thing Ivan was worried about now was whether the thirty or so people Yu Tian had brought with him had the strength to fight against the entire Madi village.

"You don't have to worry about these problems. You're just a captain. Just follow us into the village."

Yu Tian patted Ivan on the shoulder and comforted him briefly.

There wasn't much point in comforting him. The main point was to show off their strength later. Only with great strength could one truly feel at ease.

General Caro was very confident in his tiger squad.

Their skills might not be as comprehensive as those of the special forces. After all, many special forces soldiers had the requirement to be able to go anywhere and do anything.

They had to be able to parachute like the Air Force and sneak in from the shoreline like the Marines.

They also had to be proficient in all kinds of means of transportation. They could fly a plane when they met a plane, drive a tank when they met a tank, and even act as a hacker temporarily when they met a computer. They could fire a missile at any time for fun.

The tiger team did not have the conditions to accept so many training subjects. However, as General Caro's confidant and core force, they definitely had a lot of infantry combat training subjects.

Not only did they adapt to various environments and terrain, but they also had ample training and combat experience.

Not to mention other things, in terms of marksmanship, they were definitely not ordinary soldiers who could be compared.

As for these pirates who loved to shoot, their marksmanship was definitely beyond a few grades.

General Caro's only problem was that he was not familiar with the terrain here.

Without sufficient information, no army would be able to complete the mission perfectly.

"I can't guarantee that no one will escape from these villages, but if we can delay until dawn, we will definitely be able to control a certain area more thoroughly."

When General Caro said these words, everyone had already arrived near the village where the pirates were.

The village was not close to the beach. Although there were many tools on the beach, their place of residence was a few miles away from the beach.

Not far from the beach was a highland. It was not very high, only a few meters high.

This highland looked like a riverbank, full of all kinds of low plants.

Looking inland from this high ground, one could see that there were indeed many residents living here, even more than the hundreds of people Ivan mentioned.

Of course, there was no electric grid in this damn place, and there were basically no electric lights. From the light, no one could determine how many people lived in this plain.

The only lights that could be seen were probably just fire pits and torches.

Judging from the distribution of these lights, the residents here should be living in different villages, in different settlements.

If they moved fast enough, taking down one village alone should not alarm the other villages.

Unless these villages were very close to each other and immediately sent people to check the situation as soon as they heard the commotion.

"This is really bad. There might be at least a few thousand people living in this damn place. There are more than thirty of us! "

Ivan had a headache. If it was just a small isolated village, there was indeed a possibility of controlling the village under a sudden attack.

However, in the current situation, the village was not far from the village. There were other villages and countless residents near each village.

It was not easy to control the people of a village as hostages. It was possible to fall into the vast sea of People's war at any time.

Yu Tian thought for a moment, then smiled and said, "It doesn't matter. It's just some militia. If we can't even deal with the militia! how can we have the face to call ourselves the Tiger Squad?"

General Caro was stunned for a moment, not knowing how to explain.

Their biggest problem now was that they knew nothing about the surrounding terrain.

Even if they wanted to set up a defensive position, they did not know where to put it.

In addition, this extreme darkness was also unable to completely control the people of an entire village. If a few people ran away, no one would know anything.

Yu Tian patted General Caro's shoulder. "Don't underestimate the enemy, but don't imagine that the enemy is too strong. "In the end, they are just a group of militia. Their weapons and equipment are also very backward. They are no match for you. "

General Caro smiled bitterly and said, "You think too highly of us. After all, my tiger squad only has a dozen people. "

"A dozen people are enough. We just need to find a good position. Don't be anxious. We will wait until daybreak before we take action. "

Yu Tian's first order and arrangement was to rest.

There were too many F * cking residents here. The chaotic state of the night raid was not very friendly to them.

Yu Tian decided to wait until daybreak to decide on a plan of attack.

Everyone rested on the high ground for a while. At least sleeping here was more comfortable than sleeping on a submarine.

Patience was needed for everything, and it was the same in war.

When the sky was slightly bright, Yu Tian finally saw the terrain and situation around here clearly.

The back of the high ground was a bit like a basin. The residents here were divided into several villages and lived in groups. Each settlement was far away.

This kind of settlement was a bit like families and tribes. Each village was a small group.

Since the villages and villages could get along peacefully, they should naturally be able to help each other.

If they caused trouble in one village, it would definitely alarm the other villages.

This was definitely not a rational action.

However, Yu Tian did not care.

He quickly chose a target to attack. There was a highland behind the village, and the entrance and exit of the entire village were within the shooting range of the Highland.

"Bring your men to that Highland and control the area of the entire village. Is there any problem?"

Yu Tian threw this question to general caro.

After General Caro observed for a moment, he immediately made a positive guarantee. "As long as the ammunition is sufficient and the enemy does not have any weapons of mass destruction, we will definitely be able to control that village. "

Did the villagers in Damadi have any weapons of mass destruction?

Yu Tian felt that they definitely did not. When they were robbing at sea, they could only use ordinary guns as weapons. Occasionally, they would carry an RPG, which could be said to be a strong deterrent.

For things like rpgs, there was basically no room for them to use them in the mountainous highlands where they could move freely and hide.

Only a fool would be hit by rpgs head-on.

With the faint light of dawn, Yu Tian drew a circle in the air, he said to General Caro, "I'll leave the task of sealing off the village to you. I want to control that village. You must seal off the two exits of the village.. Is there any problem?"

Chapter 905 – : Chapter 904, Infiltrating The Village

"The terrain isn't a problem. The only problem is that we don't have enough ammunition."

According to General Caro's experience, in a direct confrontation like this, it would take at least a hundred rounds of bullets to kill an enemy.

This was the situation where their tiger squad had been fighting in poor countries all year round, so they were relatively frugal in using ammunition.

If they were to encounter the troops of the Great Mao country and the Great Mao country, they would use up thousands of rounds of bullets, as well as dozens of artillery shells and even missiles. If they could eliminate one enemy, it would be considered a great achievement.

If that was the case, there were at least two to three thousand f * cking Madi villagers in the nearby area. According to the standard of the entire Madi people being soldiers, there should be at least a thousand armed men who heard the gunshots and ran over.

The few magazines that the Tiger Squad carried with them were simply not enough.

Yu Tian scratched his head. "Um, have you heard of that! Every bullet kills an enemy. No guns, no cannons, the enemy builds for us!"

Of course, General Caro had heard of these lyrics, but in this era where productivity was extremely developed, the armies of any country no longer had this fine tradition.

He could only sigh and helplessly say, "It's not impossible to fulfill your request! but if that's the case, we definitely won't be able to defend our position and can only run into the mountains and forests to engage in guerilla warfare. "

It was not difficult to kill an enemy with every bullet.

Thousands of enemies swarmed over. Even the slightest bit of marksmanship would not make it big.

However, if they wanted to nurture the battle with battle and obtain weapons and ammunition from the enemies, it would be very difficult for a tiger squad of more than a dozen people to do so.

The charge of more than a thousand people and the sniping of more than a dozen people wouldn't be able to stop them at all.

They wouldn't even give the Tiger squad a chance to reload. They could run in front of the Tiger squad in one breath and kick them to death with their feet.

If they wanted to collect ammunition on the battlefield, they had to be able to withstand at least one or two waves of attacks from the enemy.

In this way, they had to have at least a certain amount of ammunition reserves on their side, or the difference in the number of soldiers was not too big.

The Tiger Squad did not have any of these two conditions.

Their only advantage was that their tactical quality was better than the militants. If they were to engage in mobile warfare and guerrilla warfare, it was not impossible for them to eliminate thousands of militants.

However, guerrilla or mobile tactics did not fit Yu Tian's strategy.

Yu Tian's request was to defend the village entrance, at least for a certain amount of time.

General Caro felt that this request was not necessarily impossible.

"According to our current equipment situation, if the villagers nearby arrive here in batches, I am still confident that I can defend the village entrance for a certain amount of time. I might even be able to collect some ammunition while fighting. "

After a moment of hesitation..., general Caro continued, "But if the villagers nearby gather first and then rush over together to provide reinforcements! I have no other choice. "When the time comes, I can only send you a signal. Everyone, run for your lives as soon as possible so that you won't be entangled by these pirates. You won't even be able to run for your lives

"It shouldn't be possible. After all, they are villagers who live in different villages, so it's unlikely that they have a unified command. "Moreover, as a motley crew of pirates, they have always formed small groups and fought on their own, each commanding their own. "It's hard to imagine that they would gather together and listen to the orders of one person. "

Yu Tian thought for a moment and said, "If they really want to gather together, it will definitely take a lot of time. That little time is enough for us to finish the matter and then retreat from here. "

General Caro also thought for a moment and said, "If your action speed is fast enough, then it won't be a big problem. I will bring the tiger team and try to buy you as much time as possible. "

Yu Tian patted general Caro's shoulder and said, "The pressure doesn't have to be too great. If we really can't hold them off, we can just retreat at worst. "

Fighting a war was something that couldn't be forced. If the situation was really bad, Yu Tian wouldn't force the tiger team to use their lives to stop the enemy. He would just let them keep a lookout.

At worst, they could leave this place and walk a few dozen miles around the coastline, then find another suitable place to attack.

Anyway, Yu Tian was here to borrow a phone. It did not matter who he borrowed it from.

Under the leadership of General Caro, the tiger team quickly rushed to the target highland, setting up a lookout and a defensive position.

Yu Tian led the rest of the people to the village.

The remaining guys were killers who participated in the competition on Demon Island. They were suitable for sneaking into the village to carry out assassinations and kidnappings.

The personal strength of the killers was definitely stronger than the soldiers of the Tiger Squad.

They might not be as effective as the soldiers of the tiger squad on the battlefield. However, when they entered the village, where the terrain was more complicated, their combat strength was much stronger than the soldiers.

The Killers did not have any weapons in their hands, but they did not seem to care about this. They did not even have the intention to ask the soldiers of the Tiger squad for a pistol.

As a killer, guns were only one of their many weapons. Perhaps it was more convenient to use, but it was definitely not something they relied on.

A qualified killer must be proficient in all kinds of killing methods. The more methods one had, the higher one's achievements would be, and the higher one's honor would be.

The sky was slightly bright. Yu Tian led the group to the vicinity of the village and hid in the grass in front of the village.

There were dozens of families in the village. They were not far from each other, and the houses were almost all squeezed together.

The simple houses were even built with branches. Through the gaps between the branches, one could vaguely see the people sleeping in the houses.

However, the sky was not very bright, and the situation inside the houses was not very clear.

Fortunately, such houses were located in the tropics. Otherwise, when winter came, the whole family would freeze to death.

The village was relatively quiet. Only the sound of someone speaking loudly could be faintly heard from the other end of the village.

This should be the pirates who had just returned and were threatening to berate the hostages they had kidnapped.

These voices did not wake up the other villagers, nor did the villagers curiously go over to watch. They seemed to be used to this kind of thing.

Yu Tian observed the village outside for a while, but he did not see any vigilance or vigilance in the village. He did not even see a house dog.

Of course, in a poor and food-poor place, there was basically no energy left to feed a dog.

Moreover, the pirates were mostly active at sea, so dogs were not of much help to them.

This was a good thing for Yu Tian and the others. They could sneak into the village without worrying about alerting the villagers..

Chapter 906 – Chapter 905, Pirate Sentry

Yu Tian led the way into the village. The killers behind him didn't need any instructions. They automatically spread out and surrounded the surrounding houses.

On Demon Island, these killers were probably just cannon fodder and supporting characters. After a match, they basically had no chance of survival. It was difficult for even a dozen people to survive.

Their strength could only be considered average among the many killers on Demon Island.

However, in this F * cking place, they were all killing gods.

Dealing with these pirates was simply a piece of cake for them.

Very soon, a killer sneaked into the first room at the village entrance.

The entire process was silent. From the moment the killer pushed the door open to the moment the killer pushed the door open to the moment he came out, there was not even the slightest bit of noise.

Of course, this was also the reason why the houses in the village were too simple and crude.

The houses here did not have any anti-theft function. The doors were not locked, and there was not even a bolt on the door. It was a completely Free State of entry and exit.

Forget about going through the door, even if he had to force his way into the house through the wall, it would not be a troublesome matter.

After the killer came out of the house, he tiptoed to Yu Tian's side.

"Boss, the people in this room are all taken care of. However, they don't seem to have cell phones or anything like that. I only saw a few rifles in the room. "

Yu Tian scratched his head. "What do you mean by that?"

"I just broke their necks."

The killer made a gesture of slashing his neck, revealing a fierce expression. Killers were used to kill people. They didn't need any hypocritical masks, nor did they need to feel ashamed of their fierceness.

They felt that the more fierce they were, the more they would be appreciated.

Yu Tian originally wanted to criticize the killer, for example, that he was too murderous and shouldn't kill the innocent.

But after thinking about it, there were no kind people in this F * cking place.

The villagers living in this place were all part-time pirates or the Pirates 'logistics team, even if they died, they were not worthy of sympathy and pity.

If a random missile exploded in the middle of the village, not a single person who died would be innocent.

If this killer wanted to kill them, it could not be considered as killing the innocent.

Yu Tian did not bother about the lives of these villagers anymore, he whispered to the big guy who had been following behind him, "Go in and bring out all the guns and ammunition. Whoever wants to use the guns, use them. If no one wants to use them, bring all of them. Later, send them to General Caro and the others. "

"Yes, Boss."

The Big Guy also started to address Yu Tian as boss. He felt that the way the killers addressed him was very appropriate, and Yu Tian himself did not object.

The Big Guy had just moved the guns and ammunition out of the house when a pile of guns and ammunition had already piled up on the open space outside.

The other killers were not willing to be outdone either. They all used their own methods to deal with the villagers who were still sleeping soundly in the house.

However, the results were somewhat regretful. These villagers 'homes were so poor that they didn't even have ordinary furniture and electrical appliances, let alone things like cell phones.

The only thing that could be called electrical appliances here was probably a flashlight.

However, almost all of these villagers 'homes had guns and ammunition. This was their most precious property, their livelihood.

This kind of magical situation could be considered one of the characteristics of this place.

Very quickly, more than a dozen guns and ammunition were collected. It was enough to arm all the killers present.

However, these killers did not seem to have any intention of taking guns. It was unknown whether it was because they felt that using guns was not enough to demonstrate their skill level, or because they felt that guns were not suitable for secret infiltration and assassination.

In short, these guns and ammunition were all thrown on the empty space in the middle of the road. On the other hand, the daggers and other things were all divided up by the killers.

"This won't do. If we accidentally alarm the people in this village, they and their mother will rush out with guns. You Don 't have any guns in your hands, and there aren't many people in our entire team who have guns. Wouldn't that make us all living targets?"

Yu Tian helplessly picked up a gun and held it in his hand. "Those who are good at shooting, come over and take your guns. Everyone, split into two groups. One group will touch the house, and the other group will be on guard. Don't let everyone run around the village. "

Under Yu Tian's call, there were finally a few people who came over to pick up their guns.

The Killers 'marksmanship was actually not bad. At least, they were not inferior to the ordinary soldiers. In fact, many of the killers 'marksmanship could even be considered as sharpshooters.

There was nothing they could do. This was a skill that only a few people could master.

However, the guns that were collected from the villagers 'homes were all old-fashioned semi-automatic rifles. There was not even a pistol or a new-style rifle. It made the killers feel as if they were out of practice.

In fact, the quality of these old-fashioned rifles was not bad. They could even be called world-famous brands.

They had many advantages. For example, their performance was more stable and their quality was more reliable. Then, they were powerful and had a low failure rate. They could adapt to all kinds of messy combat environments.

However, the biggest advantage of these rifles was that they were cheap and cost-effective. Even a poor place like Happy Valley did not have the pressure to buy them. They had almost become an indispensable labor tool for every household.

Of course, they also had disadvantages. For example, the recoil force was greater, the firing speed could not keep up with the times, and the accuracy could not be compared to modern guns.

In addition, they did not have an empty cabin hanger, so the situation of the bullets running out could not be immediately reported back to the shooter. This made people feel even more uncomfortable.

But in any case, this was still a very reliable and powerful gun.

They divided the guns, and the rest were tied up by the big guy and carried on his back.

The bullets, including those, were packed into several bags in a broken backpack, and the rest were carried separately.

They had to have both guns and ammunition, because when the tiger team ran out of bullets, their original weapons could only be used as fire sticks, and they had to replace all of them with these old rifles.

The other killers who did not have guns continued to work, digging things out from the broken houses.

Before long, the entire village was almost half cleared out by them.

Yu Tian had already seen the two pirate sentry posts in the distance, lazily sitting on the chairs in the middle of the village to rest.

They were not standing guard for the village, but were staring at a house in front of them.

This was the best wooden house in the village. The material used for the house was thick and sturdy. The roof was also covered tightly. The door was bolted and locked.

This was a proper house, except that there were no windows.

The sound of a woman crying could be faintly heard from the house. Yu Tian could basically confirm that the person in the house was the hostage captured by the pirates..

Chapter 907 – Chapter 906, Touching The Whistle

The communication between the pirates and the hostages seemed to have ended a long time ago. The surroundings were also silent.

Other than the two sentry posts at the entrance, the other pirates had disappeared without a trace. They should have gone home to rest.

Yu Tian and the others' search did not go smoothly. After searching all the way, they actually did not find a single cell phone.

This meant that the poverty level of this place had indeed reached one of the highest levels in the world.

Although the income of the pirates was very high, most of the pirates were still very poor.

One reason was that the local inflation was very high, and the prices were very high. The majority of the ransom money was in the hands of the pirate leaders, and the small fries basically could not get a share of the money. Facing the ridiculously expensive goods, their share of the money couldn't last for more than a few days.

In addition, after receiving the ransoms, the Pirates liked to Squander. They would usually hold a grand banquet, buy the best wine and food, eat and drink fiercely, and even spend all the ransoms in one go.

Therefore, although they were constantly robbing and kidnapping, and often extorting millions of dollars in international currency, most of the pirates were still living in poverty.

There were also some who were rich. Those pirate leaders usually had luxury cars and villas, but these things would not appear in these seaside villages.

If one wanted to confirm the identity of the pirate leaders, one could usually find some clues from their clothing.

For example, the two pirate sentries who were guarding here did not even have a big gold dog chain on them. One look and one could tell that they were poor underlings. Each time, their dividends and bonuses were the least.

Yu Tian's current goal was to find a cell phone that could make international long-distance calls, or find a tool that could access the internet. A cell phone and a computer would do.

He could not rely on these two underlings to find such things. He could only look for the pirate leader.

"Capture him alive. I want to question him."

Yu Tian gave an order to Cass.

Cass understood and immediately patted an assassin beside him. The two of them crept behind the two pirate sentry posts.

There were very few plants around the village. There was no place to hide in the village.

Cass and Yu Tian could only take advantage of the fact that the sky was not particularly bright. They bent down and slowly moved towards the two pirate sentry posts.

In terms of stealth skills, Cass was still slightly inferior to the assassin beside him.

After all, his main occupation was a monk, and he was not very good at this kind of stealthy actions.

However, the two pirate sentry posts did not guard against a sneak attack from behind. Their attention was focused on the house in front of them.

In other words, they basically could not concentrate and felt like dozing off.

One of the pirates yawned and said lazily to his companion, "Forget it, I'll go and ask my uncle to help me look after it. After being tormented by the storm for the whole night, I'm really tired. "

Another pirate said, "Ask your uncle to cover for You? It's only a few hours, and you still need someone else to cover for you? Don't you know that this requires at least a hundred dollars to solve the problem?"

"A hundred dollars doesn't matter. When we get the ransom, we can at least get a few tens of thousands of dollars. "

"That might not be the case. The few hostages we caught last time were taken away by General Abu. We didn't get a single cent. "

"That's a special case. They said that those hostages are special characters. General Abu didn't ask them for ransom, so we naturally won't get any money.". "This time, the hostages can't be special people again, right? If it's like this every time, who will work at sea in the future?"

"Who knows? Sometimes the hostages aren't worth much. They'll only be given to us for a meal! well, at most we'll find a few chicks to play with." "Last time I went to the city, I met a pretty good chick. Unfortunately, I didn't have any money at that time. This time, after I get paid, I must go over and play with her as soon as possible!"

"Which shop's Girl?"

"That one!"

The two pirates were so engrossed in chatting that they didn't notice that Cass and his partner were getting closer and closer to them.

Cass and his partner each chose a target. With their professional skills, dealing with a target would only take an instant.

No accidents would happen to such ordinary pirates.

Just as Cass and his partner were about to approach, a few gunshots suddenly came from the distance, causing Yu Tian and the others to be startled.

The two pirates also immediately stood up nervously and turned their heads to look into the distance.

When they turned their heads, they immediately noticed Cass and his partner standing behind them.

"F * ck!"

The two pirates were shocked and immediately held the rifles in front of their chests.

Their rifles were held horizontally in front of their chests so that they could carry their guns and shoot in an emergency.

They did not have pistols on them, including the entire pirate village. At least, Yu Tian had not seen pistols here.

The only weapon the two pirates had was the rifle in front of their chests. Their first reaction was to put their fingers on the trigger and turn the muzzle toward the two pirates.

The advantage of a rifle was that it was convenient to shoot. They did not need to aim like a pistol before shooting.

For some veterans who had more combat experience, the first thing to do in a sudden situation was to pull the trigger first and then point the muzzle at the target.

They did not have time to aim first. They did not even have time to distinguish whether the target was an enemy. Everything had to wait until after they fired.

If they were to judge whether the target was a threat first and then carefully aim at the target, it would be too late to shoot at this time.

If they wanted to survive in a jungle or a city, they had to form the habit of shooting first and then aiming.

Moreover, they could not be like the slow shooting in the movies, no matter how many shots they fired, no matter how accurate their marksmanship was.

In this sudden situation of close combat, any shooting technique was not as good as sweeping over all the bullets in a shuttle.

At this time, don't care about the ammunition, don't think about how many bullets there are in a shuttle, and focus on how many enemies to kill.

The veterans had to pull the trigger and throw the rain of bullets at the target.

Because no matter how valuable the bullets were, they were not as valuable as their own lives.

Although these two pirates were just small fries, they had more combat experience than many ordinary soldiers.

Their fingers had already pulled the trigger, and the muzzle was quickly aimed at Cass and his partner.

But Cass and the others were definitely not rookies. At the moment when their stealth was exposed, Cass and the others pounced on the two pirates.

Cass once again displayed his explosive strength as if he was running away from a rabbit. While charging, he also stretched out two large palms and grabbed at the Pirates'rifles..

Chapter 908 – : Chapter 907, Direct Confrontation

"Da Da Da Da!"

Another round of intense gunshots rang out.

This round of gunshots still came from a distance. From the direction, it seemed to be coming from another village nearby.

The two pirate sentry posts in front of them did not have the chance to fire. Cass knocked them into the air, and even their guns were knocked out of their hands.

Cass'partner was not slow either. He flew up and swung the dagger in his hand twice, cutting off half of the two pirates'palms.

Before the two pirates could scream, Cass smashed their heads again, knocking them unconscious on the spot.

At this point, the operation of scratching the tongue was completed.

However, it was useless.

The gunshots from afar had woken up the people in the village. They moved quickly and pushed open the door of the house, running out to check the situation.

At this time, they should stop thinking about sneak attacks and tongue-scratching. It was time to show their real fighting skills.

Fortunately, Yu Tian and the killers with guns were always on alert. They also maintained the formation of covering each other and crossing fire.

A pirate who had just run out of the house was shot in the chest by a killer before he could see what was happening outside. He was sent flying.

"Get ready for battle. Those without guns, come and get your guns! "

Yu Tian did not have to hide anymore. He immediately shouted at the killers who were holding daggers.

Those killers who were holding daggers or even empty-handed immediately ran over and ran to the big guy's side to wait for the distribution of guns.

The Big Guy did not waste any time. He threw the guns on his back to the ground, untied them, and immediately distributed the guns.

The assassins who were in charge of carrying the magazines also immediately threw their backpacks to the ground and threw all the magazines on the ground.

The assassins were busy but did not panic. They each took their guns and magazines and quickly finished arming each of them with a rifle.

Cass and his partner immediately took their guns and ammunition from the two pirates and retreated to the back of the house.

In a short span of ten seconds, two more villagers ran out of the house, but they were immediately killed by the killers who were in charge of guarding the house.

Taking advantage of this little bit of time, Yu Tian and the others had completed their armed and entered their combat positions.

Even Ivan and Ava, who were hiding far behind them, had already gotten their guns early. They lay down in the appropriate positions and were ready to provide support at any time.

Yu Tian and the others had now controlled half of the village. Moreover, there were no survivors in the half of the village behind them. Now, they only needed to focus their attention on the front.

After killing a few villagers in succession, the pirates finally discovered the invasion of Yu Tian and the others. Immediately, someone began to shout in the houses.

These wooden houses that were exposed to the wind did not have any problem with soundproofing. As long as someone was shouting in the house, the entire village could hear what he was shouting.

The people of Damadi had already gotten used to the mode of communication that relied on shouting. All kinds of wails and howls immediately sounded in the remaining half of the village.

Although Yu Tian did not understand what they were shouting, it was nothing more than an enemy attack.

This did not mean much to the killers who had already entered a frontal assault.

While the pirates were shouting, the killers were not idle either.

They began to fire into the wooden houses. This kind of thin and dilapidated wooden houses were impossible to defend against bullets. The pirates hiding in the houses were also in danger of being shot.

The Killers had already raided half of the village. They already had some understanding of the structure of the houses and sleeping habits of the F * cking pirates.

These people basically slept on the ground. They did not even have a bed.

Although the people of Damadan were poor, they were more enthusiastic in giving birth. Almost every house was filled with a large family, and they slept in almost all the space in the house.

The killers fired randomly into the house. More or less, they hit a few targets. The villagers in the house immediately began to curse furiously.

Other than cursing, the villagers also started to counterattack. They swept the bullets in the direction of the Bullets.

This kind of counterattack had little effect. Instead, it revealed their position. They were immediately hit by a few killers through the wall at the same time, happily losing their lives.

However, there were elites among the villagers. There were many pirates with rich combat experience, especially their leader. He had rich combat experience and a keen sense of combat.

The leader shouted and commanded crazily. The young and strong elite pirates immediately rolled out of the houses and crouched in a corner outside the houses. They began to shoot at the killers.

They all knew that hiding in the houses would only lead to death. There was still a chance of survival if they rushed out.

With these elites taking the lead, the other villagers of the pirate reserve force also began to roll out of the houses. They crouched on the sides of the streets of the villages or moved around constantly, using the houses and various obstacles as cover, they began to counterattack and attack Yu Tian and the others.

The pirates living in the houses in the distance were slightly safer. Due to the obstruction of their vision, the killers did not have many chances to hit them.

Using this advantage, dozens of pirates quickly gathered together and began to flank Yu Tian and the others.

Flanking was a very common tactic, especially when there were many people.

Being outflanked was a pain in the ass. There was always a feeling of being pincer attacked from the front and back, or even from the front and back, left and right, regardless of one's head.

When shooting at the enemy, one could always feel a chill behind them, as if the enemy was aiming at them from a certain direction.

In order to prevent being surrounded and pincer attacked, Yu Tian could only command the killers to stretch the battle line on both sides and intercept the two wings of the pirates.

This task could only be handed over to Cass and the big guy. They extended to the two wings respectively and were responsible for blocking the surrounding pirates.

There were not many plants near the village, but there were many kinds of large rocks.

The pirates ran to the outskirts of the village. With the cover of these rocks, they circled from afar and began to slowly form a large encirclement.

The killers were not good at fighting in this kind of position, nor were they familiar with all kinds of tactics and cooperation. But fortunately, their marksmanship was good.

The pirates who wanted to get close to them could not escape the fate of being shot at. Very soon, they left a few corpses on the village road and the outskirts of the village, temporarily giving up on the plan to quickly attack.

Yu Tian was not worried about being completely surrounded. As long as the position he controlled was large enough and deep enough, there was basically no risk of being shot in the back.

Moreover, there was still general Caro and the tiger squad on the high ground outside. The Pirates' encirclement could not be completed at all. Yu Tian could bring his men and evacuate the village at any time.

Therefore, the most important thing now was to look for a cell phone..

Chapter 909 – Chapter 908, Pirates' Weapons

Yu Tian and the pirates weren't the only ones engaged in the battle. The gunshots in the other village had also gradually intensified.

Yu Tian didn't know what was happening over there. Perhaps general caro could see something, but he couldn't contact General Caro now, so he could only be confused.

The situation was unclear. He had to hurry up and finish what he had to do.

There was still half of the village in front that had not been searched, so Yu Tian planned to go over and touch it.

Those pirates who often went out to work might have cell phones. These cell phones were most likely in the wooden houses in front, or on some of the bodies in front.

"Cover me."

Yu Tian ordered the killer who was lying on the ground next to him, and then began to crawl forward on the ground.

His target was a wooden house that had not been searched before. There was a pirate who had run out of the house and was killed.

Moving on such a battlefield, it was indeed safer to lie on the ground.

There were also experienced pirates who had good marksmanship. Yu Tian did not dare to be careless. He walked slowly along the corner of the house.

The sky was getting brighter and brighter. Yu Tian's actions were also easily discovered by the pirates.

At the corner of the house in front, a pirate secretly peeked over and saw Yu Tian.

The assassin behind Yu Tian immediately fired, and the pirate immediately retracted his head.

The assassin did not let him off easily. He fired a few more shots at the corner of the house. As for whether he had penetrated the wall and hit the enemy, Yu Tian did not know.

He still had to continue climbing forward.

There was one of his own people in front of him on the right. It was the killer who had gone to the sentry post with Cass.

He was hiding behind a pile of big rocks, peeping forward from time to time.

This position seemed safe, but because it was too sudden, it was easy for the Pirates to surround him. At that time, a few big rocks would not be able to provide him with cover.

There was still Cass on his right, but the distance was a little far.

Cass'attention was on the outskirts of the village, so he might not be able to take care of his movements in time.

There were also assassins behind him, but the position was not good, so they could not form a perfect cover for him.

The assassin also felt that his position was not very safe. He originally wanted to retreat a little, but seeing that Yu Tian was crawling in his direction, he could only temporarily give up this idea.

Yu Tian was quickly shot by someone. The bullets hit the wooden house next to him, perfectly avoiding his body and missing a single shot.

He snorted and laughed, then increased his speed and continued to crawl forward.

Although the Pirates did not know why Yu Tian had crawled to the front, they were definitely not willing to let him get what he wanted.

Because there were people covering Yu Tian, it was inconvenient for the pirates to carefully aim at Yu Tian, so they immediately arranged for people to ambush Yu Tian from the side.

Someone shouted a few times, and in a few breaths 'time, someone darted out from behind Yu Tian's right side of the house.

The killer who was hiding behind the pile of stones seemed to have expected this, and had been waiting for him for a long time with his rifle.

As soon as the pirate appeared, the assassin shot several times and knocked the pirate to the ground.

Then, the assassin laughed complacently.

However, as soon as he laughed, a black thing flew over his head and fell in front of him.

"F * ck! Grenade!"

The assassins panicked and hurriedly flipped behind the rocks on the side.

Unfortunately, it was still too late. The pirates had thrown the grenades accurately. The grenades exploded almost as soon as they landed on the ground.

No matter how fast the assassin was, he could not outrun the flying shrapnel and the shockwave from the explosion. His entire body was sent flying and he flipped behind the rocks with a somersault.

He could be considered to have reached his destination, but he did not know whether he was dead or alive.

Yu Tian was not far from the location of the killer. He was also affected by the explosion, and his head was filled with buzzing sounds.

In addition, the climate and soil in this place were very dry. The smoke and dust from the explosion was also particularly high. Yu Tian felt that he had become a cultural relic that had just been unearthed.

He was a little surprised that these pirates actually had something like grenades.

Was this weapon suitable for robbery and kidnapping?

He was only here to borrow a phone. He didn't expect it to be so dirty.

After spitting out all the dirt in his mouth, Yu Tian quickly got up.

The dust was a good opportunity. He was going to take this opportunity to quickly get close to the wooden house in front of him.

However, it was not impossible to see in the dust.

After Yu Tian got up, he suddenly saw another figure running out from behind the wooden house on the right.

The person running out from this direction could only be a pirate.

Through the blurry dust cloud, Yu Tian seemed to see a thick and long strange object on the pirate's shoulder.

RPG!

Such a scary word suddenly appeared in Yu Tian's mind.

Pirates must have rpgs, which were almost a necessary weapon for small military organizations and forces.

Rpgs were not a powerful weapon, but they were simple, durable, flexible, and cheap.

They were originally used to deal with vehicles with weak armor, such as tanks, helicopters, armored vehicles, and other fortifications such as blockhouses and buildings.

However, many militants liked to use it to deal with infantrymen, which was a bit scary.

Yu Tian originally wanted to immediately fire a shot at the pirate so that he wouldn't have to care about what he was carrying on his shoulder.

However, he had just gotten up when the enemy was already ready to attack. Perhaps before he could raise his gun, the enemy's RPG had already smashed into his face.

Therefore, the most important thing now was to first avoid the other party's sharp edge and avoid the other party's vision, so that the RPG would not have a chance to hit.

Since Yu Tian could see the indistinct figure of the pirate, the pirate would naturally be able to see him.

He did not need to take any chances, nor did he have the time to think too much.

Therefore, he immediately kicked off and quickly dashed forward.

Yu Tian's explosive power was much stronger than Cass and the big guy. This dash left only an afterimage on the spot.

Sure enough, just as he dashed out from the spot, a wave of air crashed straight into the ground behind him.

Then, the sound of an explosion suddenly sounded behind Yu Tian.

This pirate's target was the ground. Even if Yu Tian could dodge the bullet and not be directly hit by the RPG, he could not avoid the killing range of the RPG explosion on the ground.

This pirate archer was obviously an old hand. He was much more experienced than those idiots who used rpgs as rifles.

If it was an ordinary person, he would definitely be targeted by his rpgs..

Chapter 910 – Chapter 909, The Attacking Yu Tian

Yu Tian was not an ordinary person. People like him, as well as people like Big Cass, had already exceeded the range of ordinary humans.

Even those cannon fodder assassins with some special skills had already exceeded the range of humans in some aspects.

Yu Tian dashed out like a big flea. The RPG explosion only had time to catch up to his afterimage.

This area was already filled with dust. With the addition of the RPG, it was even more dusty. No one could see what was happening inside clearly.

Yu Tian crashed into the small house in front of him in the smoke.

He was greeted with a corpse when he entered the house. The Assassins' blind sniping had killed the villager who had not been able to leave the house in time.

There was an even more unlucky person in the house. He seemed to have been shot to death on the floor before he could even get up.

There were no compartments in this house. There were only a few pieces of wood used to support the house. If one stood at the door and observed for a while, the situation in the house could be clearly seen.

Normally, there should be quite a lot of people in this family. However, other than the corpses of these adults, Yu Tian did not see anyone else in the house.

He looked carefully again and found that someone seemed to have opened an exit in the corner of the house. The people in the house should have gone out through this exit.

The door of this kind of simple house was indeed only symbolic.

One did not have to go through the door to go out. If one did not care about destroying the walls of the house, one could simply open the fence-like wall made of tree branches to open a spacious exit.

There wasn't much furniture in the house. There were only a few colorful plastic bags hanging on the walls, on top of their heads, or in the corners of the house.

There were also some bottles, jars, or mineral water bottles and wine bottles.

Yu Tian didn't know if there were rats in this godforsaken place, but in the environment of the house, the rats might not even be interested in coming over to look for food.

He briefly searched the plastic bags. Inside were mainly some old clothes, some packaged food, and some strange things that he didn't know if they were food or not.

Yu Tian was not interested in the food. He would rather go back to the submarine and gnaw on the hard buses than eat the packaged food from some unknown source.

The only valuable trophies in the house were a rifle that had fallen at the door and the magazine on the corpse.

Yu Tian put away the magazines and decided to leave this room.

The gunshots outside did not stop, but Yu Tian felt that it was not difficult for him to leave safely.

The dense gunshots could only cause some psychological pressure on him, but if he thought about it carefully, Yu Tian realized that the rain of bullets did not pose a threat to him.

This was because he was running too fast. Even if the god of Fire Gatling had its eyes on him, the controller might not be able to catch up to him.

Bullets were indeed faster than people, but the ones controlling and using weapons were still humans. These pirates could not catch up to Yu Tian's speed at all. If they wanted to shoot him, they could only hope to win the lottery.

Since that was the case, Yu Tian immediately made a decision. He simply rushed into the crowd of pirates.

Such a stalemate would waste too much time. The nearby villages also seemed to be exchanging fire. They were stuck here and did not know what was going on.

He should seize the time and quickly finish off this village. Only then would he be able to take the next step according to the situation.

Without hesitation, Yu Tian crashed into the wall of the wooden house.

This wall was made of tree branches, and the construction skills were not as good as the vegetable garden fences in the eastern country.

Yu Tian did not have to worry about destroying the house. He easily knocked down half of the wall and rushed out of the house with the flying tree branches.

He did not stop and continued to run to the Left Front.

On the Left Front was a big guy with a few assassins blocking the enemy. Because the power of the rifle was a little strong, even the big guy, who was known to be invulnerable, did not dare to charge recklessly.

They were in a stalemate with the pirates for a long time. No one broke through the enemy's line.

In fact, the Pirates did not know the exact number of Yu Tian's group. They just felt that there were not many of them.

Therefore, they did not have the courage to launch a frontal assault. Instead, they chose to let some of them go far away.

Even though they had sent out a portion of their men, there were still close to a hundred pirates left in the village.

Yu Tian had just run out a few steps when he saw two pirates lying behind the rubbish heap.

The two pirates were shocked. Because Yu Tian was too fast, the way he appeared was a little like teleporting over.

Although it was safe to lie down, the biggest problem was that he could not move and change the muzzle in time.

The two pirates did not even have time to raise their guns and shoot before they were kicked in the head by Yu Tian.

Yu Tian did not leave any legs. The necks of the two pirates were kicked into a right angle.

Originally, he could have kept them alive, but now he did not have the time to interrogate them. Yu Tian decided to go directly to the pirate leader.

After kicking off the two pirates, Yu Tian continued to move forward without stopping.

The village was not wide, and Yu Tian was very fast. In a few seconds, he rushed into the position where the pirates were.

Many pirates did not have time to react to what was happening, and Yu Tian started shooting behind them.

Yu Tian's golden needles were very accurate, but his marksmanship was somewhat unsatisfactory. Especially when he was shooting while running, he did not know where the bullets would hit.

It just so happened that one of the Pirates was also hit by the random shots.

The pirates hiding behind the cover immediately panicked. They rolled and hid in panic while shouting loudly.

Yu Tian still did not understand what they were shouting about, but he could guess that they were shouting that something had rushed in.

It was definitely not a good thing to be suddenly attacked from the inside, especially the pirates who had exposed their backs to Yu Tian.

A pincer attack from the front and back was definitely a very terrifying thing. The pirates who were alarmed began to fire at Yu Tian.

There were dozens of pirates hiding in the surroundings, and dozens of them fired at random at the same time. For a time, it was extremely lively and loud.

Yu Tian certainly would not let himself be exposed to the muzzle of everyone's guns. He suddenly flashed behind a house and immediately began to run back.

He began to run within the control range of the pirates, from the left side of the village to the right side, and then from the right side to the left side.

He could not shoot properly, and there were not many bullets on his body. Just the guns alone could not cause much substantive damage to the pirates.

But he could still use his fists and legs to kick. This was actually more efficient than those who shot at each other.

In a few minutes, he kicked a dozen or so pirates to death along the way.

The pirates were in a mess..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 911 - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 911

Chapter 911 – Chapter 910, Surrender

The death of more than ten people was not a serious situation, but the chaos caused by Yu Tian was fatal to the pirates.

There was still a group of killers on the other side. The Pirates had to pay attention to blocking the passage in front of them, and they had to be careful of Yu Tian, who appeared and disappeared mysteriously behind them.

A moment of carelessness, Yu Tian suddenly ran behind them and fiercely stretched out his big feet.

Yu Tian's speed was extremely fast. He only stopped after he ran to the cover occasionally.

However, after a short pause, he immediately changed his direction and randomly darted in other directions.

The more he ran, the more excited he became. He even felt that as long as he ran fast enough, the bullets would not be able to catch up to him.

The pirates could not do anything to Yu Tian. Yu Tian even began to jump over the wooden houses and stone walls.

There were indeed some broken walls in the village. This proved that the village was once a house with brick and stone structures.

However, that was decades ago. At that time, the F * Ck was not as poor as it was now. Many people could afford to live in proper houses.

Unfortunately, after many years of war, many villages that had suffered greatly had lost interest in building houses.

Yu Tian leaped and somersaulted behind a wall.

The moment before he landed, he realized that there were seven or eight people hiding behind the wall, and one of them seemed to be the leader of the pirates.

This person was wearing a khaki cowboy hat, sunglasses, and a mask. If it weren't for the color of his skin, the outfit would have looked like a cowboy.

He was also wearing a cowboy-like shirt and vest, with a pistol at his waist this was the first pistol that Yu Tian had seen since he entered the village.

The point was that this man had a big gold dog chain around his neck, which was very similar to the image of the pirate leader that Yu Tian had imagined.

Yu Tian could basically confirm that this person was the leader of this group of pirates, or at least a very high-ranking leader.

[illegible]

There were also camels in the F * Ck land?

There seemed to be quite a few.

Yu Tian didn't know much about the F * Ck land, but he felt that it was a little strange for a creature like camels to appear in a small village by the sea.

His somersault happened to land in the middle of a few camels. It could be considered as a good cover.

The pirates were stunned for a moment before they began to roar loudly.

This fierce roar was enough to scare an average person to the point of peeing. However, it was useless against someone like Yu Tian who took the initiative to come looking for trouble.

"Don't shoot! "

The pirate leader immediately called out to his subordinates. He was indeed the pirate leader of this village. His name was Faraday.

Faraday used the international common language, so Yu Tian could understand him.

Yu Tian had already thrown away his gun because there were no bullets.

In fact, he now felt that using fists to solve problems was more efficient than using guns. Since he was not an ordinary person, he did not need to walk the usual path.

"Don't shoot! Be careful of my camel! "

Faraday shouted loudly and waved his hand anxiously to stop his men from moving.

He knew that Yu Tian did not carry a gun, so he did not panic when he saw Yu Tian jump in.

There were already pirates shouting outside. They said that the enemies who had run in were already out of bullets and had even thrown away their guns.

This was a good situation, but Faraday did not feel particularly relaxed. Because the pirates outside also said that Yu Tian had already kicked several people to death.

This made Faraday have no choice but to treat Yu Tian seriously.

The surrounding pirates all raised their rifles and pointed nervously at Yu Tian and the few camels.

They definitely did not dare to be careless when it came to experts who could kick people to death.

Since the Pirates did not have the intention to shoot, Yu Tian naturally did not have to continue running.

He just happened to be under the cover of these few camels, taking a short break to rest his feet.

So he hid behind the camels, slightly poked out half of his head, and said to the pirates, "Hello! "

Faraday finally saw the enemy's face clearly this time.

He was a little surprised. "Easterners?"

As a pirate, he had seen many Easterners, but most of them were on ships in the sea.

There were not many easterners who had set foot on the Ma di continent, except for those who had been kidnapped by them.

At this moment, Faraday saw an Easterner's face and was puzzled.

"Who are you? Why did you attack our village?"

Are you here to rescue the hostages?

The hostages had just been kidnapped back to the village. Faraday did not think that someone would rush over to rescue them so soon.

He was a little confused about the purpose of Yu Tian and the others' attack.

Although they also had enemies, there should not be any easterners in the enemy's team, nor should there be foreign mercenaries.

F * ck, they were so poor that they would not come here to rob, right?

Various thoughts and guesses kept flashing through Faraday's mind, but they were quickly denied by him.

Yu Tian laughed lightly behind the camel and said slowly, "You don't have to care who I am. In short! you'd better surrender immediately, or I will destroy you. "

"Are you kidding me?"Faraday shouted loudly to encourage himself and his men. "We have hundreds of people, and we will soon surround and destroy you all. Why should I surrender to you?"

"What's the use of hundreds of people? I can destroy all of you with a little time. Oh, but that's not important. The important thing is, if you don't surrender, I can destroy you now."

"Are you kidding me? Do you think I'm an idiot? Now that I have more than ten guns pointed at you, the one who should surrender is you! "

"Looks like it's time to show your real skills. "

Yu Tian sighed and took out his ultimate weapon.

His best attack method was to fly needles into acupuncture points. Naturally, he had to carry some steel needles on his body.

This technique could save people, but it could also kill people. He had already practiced it to perfection.

He originally thought that he did not have the opportunity to use flying needles, but he did not expect that he would have to use flying needles to deal with these dark and dirty guys.

Seeing Yu Tian's action of taking out something, Faraday was suddenly a little nervous.

"What do you want to Do? Don't move around, or I will beat you into a fishing net!

"We usually use the analogy of a hornet's nest!"

Yu Tian casually threw the steel needle out.

He was very familiar with this operation. He could even throw the steel needle while running.

The pirates only saw a blur before Yu Tian's figure disappeared from the camel pile.

This change made them realize that it was not a good time. However, before they could find Yu Tian's position, their companions beside him fell one by one.

In just a few seconds, seven or eight pirates were all lying on the ground..

Chapter 912 – : Chapter 911, Negotiations

Yu Tian did not kill them this time. The pirates who were stabbed in the acupoints only lost control of their bodies and fell to the ground.

However, they were not really injured. Even their consciousness was clear.

The feeling of being clear-headed but unable to move or speak made their hair stand on end.

In addition, Yu Tian did not attack Faraday.

He also needed a Faraday who could speak and move as a hostage to order the other pirates to surrender.

Faraday was already panicking.

Although he had not been attacked yet, his underlings had all fallen in an instant. This process and the result had already frightened him.

This meant that if Yu Tian wanted him to fall as well, he definitely wouldn't be able to escape.

He suspected that he had met a demon or a god.

As the hostages often said, there really was a god and an angel coming to save them.

In his panic, Faraday immediately raised both his arms and didn't move.

He was still a little smart. Since Yu Tian hadn't attacked him, he definitely still had some value and a chance to save his life.

Although pirates were fierce, it did not mean that they were not afraid of death. Facing a powerful opponent, Faraday would not be stupid enough to court death.

Surrendering was not something that could not be accepted.

Yu Tian appeared beside Faraday and smiled at the man who had raised his hand to surrender.

Before Yu Tian could speak, Faraday hurriedly shouted, 'C I surrender, I have already surrendered! "

"That's why you people aren't aware of it! Now, you can ask your little friends around you to surrender as well."

"No problem, I'll immediately ask them to surrender, but! I can't guarantee that they'll definitely listen to me. "

"Aren't you their boss?"

"It's useless even if you're their boss. In such a situation, they definitely won't surrender! "

Faraday was also very helpless.

Under normal circumstances, he would definitely have no problem commanding the pirates under his command. Regardless of whether it was to rob at sea or to engage in battle with other groups.

However, the pirates were not a particularly strict organization after all. His subordinates would not listen to his orders and send themselves to their deaths.

Surrendering was equivalent to putting one's life in the hands of the enemy. One could only rely on the mercy of the enemy to survive.

In a place like this, there was no mercy. Surrendering was basically a dead end.

The other pirates were not in a desperate situation. They even had some advantages. How could they obediently raise their hands and surrender.

Although Yu Tian had created some chaos, it only caused a few more pirates to die and slightly pulled back the battle line.

After all, the Pirates had the advantage in numbers and quickly stabilized the battle situation.

The Assassins did want to come over and cooperate with Yu Tian's actions, but they only had a dozen or so people and didn't have the ability to quickly advance.

Therefore, the battle situation outside was still at a stalemate.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and felt that it wasn't realistic to make all the pirates surrender.

After all, there were close to a hundred pirates in the village, and there were more than a hundred pirates outside. Even if all of them surrendered, the dozen or so assassins would not be able to control them.

That would be even more dangerous.

Hence, Yu Tian changed his mind, he instructed Faraday, "Tell your men to cease fire and withdraw from the village. My men will not harm them and will not pursue them. After they withdraw, I will slowly talk to you. "

Hearing that Yu Tian still wanted to talk to him, Faraday immediately heaved a sigh of relief.

It was not difficult to get the other pirates to withdraw from the village. Faraday's status as a leader was still somewhat useful.

He raised his voice and shouted loudly, "Everyone listen up, cease fire immediately! Cease Fire! "

Someone outside immediately shouted, "What happened?"

"I want to negotiate with them. Cease fire immediately and withdraw from the village. Keep a safe distance from them! "

"No problem, boss. We'll withdraw immediately."

The Pirates didn't want to fight either. After all, people had to die in a war. If the enemy's goal wasn't to destroy them, they didn't care about anything else.

They didn't even care about the hostages who were locked up.

If the hostages were gone, they could be tied up again in the future. If they were dead, they would not be able to eat, drink, and have fun anymore.

The pirates outside immediately started to move and began to quietly retreat in groups of two or three.

Escaping had always been an innate skill. The pirates quickly ran out of the village and escaped the shooting range of the enemy.

The gunshots gradually stopped. Although the killers were a little strange, they did not act rashly for the time being.

Yu Tian also dragged Faraday and pulled him to the front line where they had exchanged fire before. He began to shout at his own people.

"Everyone, stop firing. Don't pursue."

"Boss, what happened?"

Cass and the big guy quickly approached from the two wings.

Because the gunshots had already subsided, and Yu Tian also stood boldly in the middle of the village, the other killers immediately relaxed a lot and surrounded them from the surroundings.

Yu Tian patted Faraday's shoulder and said to the crowd, "There's no need to fight anymore. I've captured their leader. The battle is over. " "Whoa, is this the pirate leader? He doesn't look like a tough guy."

The surrounding assassins began to laugh.

Cass frowned and said, "Although we've already captured their leader, we should still be on guard against their attacks. You guys continue to stay alert in the surroundings. You Don't need to worry about other things."

"Okay, boss Cass."

It was indeed not the time to let down their guard. The assassins dispersed one after another and set up a perimeter around them.

Faraday did not move at all. He only had a kind smile on his face.

How could a vicious pirate have an honest person?

Yu Tian smiled lightly and patted Faraday's shoulder. "What's Your Name?" "Dear customer, my name is Faraday."

"Nice name, it's like a sports car! do you have a sports car? Do you have a Ferrari?"

"I really don't have a sports car!"

"If you don't have one, then so be it. Why Are You So Nervous? Don't tell me that I can come to you guys and rob a sports car?" Yu Tian laughed and said, "Do you have a cell phone?"

"Cell phone? I do."

Faraday hurriedly took out his cell phone.

It was an old-fashioned cell phone. It seemed to be a cheap triple-defense cell phone made in eastern countries.

Nowadays, the mainstream cell phones were all smartphones. This kind of old-fashioned cell phone had long been obsolete, but some small manufacturers still continued to produce it.

Because the technology was mature, the quality of these cheap old-fashioned cell phones was actually quite good. If you were willing to spend money on a slightly more expensive phone, the quality would be more reliable.

With the phone in hand, Yu Tian had no reason to stay.

He waved his hand. "Retreat.."

Chapter 913 – Chapter 912, Hostages

The assassins began to retreat. Since the pirates had retreated to the outside of the village, their retreat was not dangerous. They did not need to cover each other too much.

The slightly troublesome thing was that they needed to bring the unlucky guy who was injured by the grenade.

He was not dead yet. Cass carried him back personally.

As long as he was still breathing, there was no chance for him to die.

Other than the shrapnel on his body and the severe blood loss, the killer's brain was a little concussed.

This was a small problem for Yu Tian.

There was also a killer who was shot in the arm, which was even less important.

In summary, this was a perfect sneak attack, with zero casualties on his side.

Faraday was somewhat baffled. These people charged into his village just to rob a cell phone?

If you had told me earlier, would I have been so reluctant to give up a cell phone?

Faraday wanted to cry.

If you had told me earlier, would I have been so reluctant to give up a cell phone?

Faraday wanted to cry.

The battle just now had killed at least dozens of villagers, many of whom were young men. These were important backup forces for the robbery at sea, as well as important capital for their village.

This loss was too great.

However, Yu Tian did not think that this battle was unnecessary. If they had really politely come to borrow a cell phone, the pirates would probably just capture them like fat sheep.

Before he left, Yu Tian took Faraday's pistol from his body.

It was a revolver. It was very big and looked very powerful.

The other pirates had also looted some guns and ammunition. It would not be a bad thing to bring some with them. If they met with any trouble after leaving the village, they could be considered to have some reliable weapons.

When he passed by the small wooden house where the hostages were held, Yu Tian hesitated for a moment before deciding to take the hostages away.

The hostages who were kidnapped by the F * * King Pirates all ended up in a miserable state. This place never knew what it meant to be kind to a patron.

Before they were redeemed, the hostages would have to suffer a lot, and they might even have to suffer for a few years.

The F * * King People's lives were like grass. It was very easy to lose one's life here.

The door of the cabin could be kicked open with one kick. The wooden door was not the only thing that trapped the hostages.

Of course, the hostages had heard the gunfight just now. Although they thought that it was probably an internal conflict between the pirates or an exchange of fire with other forces, they still had the expectation of being rescued.

After the door was kicked open, the hostages immediately began to observe Yu

Tian and the others standing outside the door.

Although Yu Tian and these killers were a little dirty, they still looked completely different from the image of pirates.

Moreover, these assassins were mostly white, so they didn't look like Motherf * cking pirates.

"Oh my God, are you guys here to save us?"

A woman immediately cried out in surprise.

Yu Tian took a look inside the house. This small house was actually crowded with about twenty people.

There were men and women hostages, but most of them were men, and there were only three women.

Yu Tian sighed and said, "Alright, you are temporarily saved. Come with us. "

"Oh, thank God. "

The women were so happy that they cried. The men also cheered in a low voice.

"Stop wasting time. Hurry up and leave. "

The Big Guy pulled down the broken wooden door and threw it aside. Then, he shouted at the hostages loudly.

If Yu Tian hadn't announced that the hostages had been rescued, these hostages would have thought that they had fallen into the hands of another group of bandits.

The hostages filed out. Cass immediately had two killers lead the way in front and return to the beach from the original way.

They ran into Ivan and Ava who were hiding behind them.

Ivan saw the long group of hostages and his expression immediately fell.

"Boss, our submarine can't hold so many people."

"There seems to be a lot of space in the submarine. If we squeeze together, there shouldn't be a problem with more than a dozen people, right?"

"Boss, we're already overcrowded. This is a small submarine. It can only be considered a medium-sized submarine at most. It's almost the limit of being able to hold 50 people!"

Ivan began to count with his fingers for Yu Tian. The tiger team, together with these killers, had more than 30 people. There were also more than 20 crew members on the submarine.

If Ivan had not brought so few crew members to save money, these killers would not even have the chance to board the ship.

Now, they had to bring 20 hostages, which meant that they were definitely overloaded.

The old submarine was prone to all kinds of failures and problems. It had suffered another electromagnetic pulse attack, and now there was a serious overloading..

Ivan doubted whether he could still drive the submarine back alive.

With a little diving, the submarine might never come out of the water again.

It might be safer to treat the submarine as a yacht and sail on the surface of the water.

But that would certainly expose their whereabouts.

Although the dammed land was far from Alcatraz, a submarine was not a cargo ship, and any appearance of a submarine would attract attention.

If it was only discovered after the event, Ivan did not have to worry too much.

After all, no one knew where this submarine came from.

But if he was surrounded and stopped by other countries, things would be very troublesome.

Although the submarine was very old, it hadn't retired from service. In name, this submarine was still an old Russian warship.

Ivan was using the country's submarine for private work. Even if it didn't cause an international dispute, it would definitely be taken care of by the people above.

"We can't take these hostages. We can only let them think of other ways.

Otherwise, everyone will be finished together. "

Ivan followed behind Yu Tian and advised him very carefully.

Yu Tian scratched his head and said, "What else can they do? Let such a group of unarmed non-combatants walk on their own? "They won't be able to walk more than a few miles. They'll definitely be kidnapped by another group of pirates. "

Ivan shrugged. "Then there's nothing we can do. Hostages are supposed to be kidnapped. "If they're willing to pay! I won't be able to take them away. "The price here is only a few million. I'll have to charge at least tens of millions for a trip. Their money isn't even enough for my gas. "

It was indeed an exaggeration to say that a few million was not enough for the gas bill. However, it was impossible for Ivan to provide submarine services with just a few million.

Yu Tian sighed. "There is an old saying in our eastern country. It is called saving people to the end, delivering Buddha to the west. (I can't just abandon them halfway through saving them, right? "If we leave them in this lousy place, they will soon be discovered by the other F * ck-ers. Wouldn't that be like leaving the tiger's Den and falling into the Wolf's den again?"

Ivan said, "I understand the logic, but we can't take them away."

Yu Tian thought for a moment.. "Can we take a short trip and send them to a safe place nearby?"

Chapter 914 – Chapter 913, Safe Place

"There's no safe place nearby."

Ivan stretched out his hand and drew a circle in the air.

"This coastline, along the road to the south, is the south trampoline. To the north, is the north trampoline. In short, we won't be able to leave the area of the trampoline for a short period of time unless we run directly into the deep sea! then we can only wait for death together."

Yu Tian suddenly had a headache.

At this time, everyone had already walked out of the village.

On the road ahead, General Caro was rushing over.

General Caro was a little anxious. Before he even got close, he had already asked, "Boss, is everything over?"

"Yes, everything is settled."

Yu Tian seemed to have thought of something again. He hurriedly took out his phone from his pocket and handed it to Ivan. "Hurry up and contact your reinforcements."

At this moment, general caro hurriedly said, "If there's nothing else, let's quickly retreat."

Yu Tian said, "What happened? There seems to be people exchanging fire in the nearby villages?"

General Caro said cautiously, "Yes, there's an army. They took advantage of the time when the sky had just turned bright to attack a village on the opposite side. "

The sky was just bright, but the people had not yet woken up. This time was indeed the most convenient time to launch an attack.

In such a situation, the enemy was not on guard, and their own side did not have to fight in the dark, so their control of the battle situation was more stable.

It was just a small village. If they buried their heads in advancing, ten minutes would be enough to clear it out.

Yu Tian asked curiously, "Is the attacking side an army? Could it be that their government army is here to clean up the Pirates?"

If it was the government army, Yu Tian could be at ease and let the hostages go over to seek help. The F * cking government would not do such things as extortion and torture the hostages.

General Caro shook his head. "That's impossible. The F * cking government army doesn't have the strength. Their influence and control area is even less than a larger pirate gang."

"Who could that be? Who else could control the army?"

"Maybe it's other pirates. The larger pirate organizations are more formal. They wear uniform like the regular army, including combat skills and training. "

"So Fierce? How can such pirates be considered pirates?"

"They can be considered warlords, but they also do pirate business. F * cking hell, we can only hope to earn money as pirates."

General Caro shook his head and sighed. He did not have any expectations for this godforsaken place.

Walking out of the village entrance, the tiger team members were already waiting by the roadside.

Everyone looked a little nervous and cautious. They still maintained a formation that was ready to enter battle at any time.

Yu Tian asked again, "How many people are there in that army?"

General Caro said, "There aren't many people, about 500 to 600 people. But they have a tank, three armored vehicles, and many military vehicles! This is already considered strong in the F * Ck."

"So Fierce? Didn't that village have already been wiped out by them?"

Yu Tian was a little surprised. Tanks and armored vehicles had been brought out. This was the rhythm of being invincible in the world.

Although the pirates also had a few rpgs, it was still possible for them to deal with a lone tank and armored vehicle. Against an army that had a little bit of coordination, it would be difficult for them to have a chance to shoot.

Tanks and armored vehicles were definitely nightmarish existences in this godforsaken place. They could also easily wipe out the numerical advantage of any group that only had light weapons.

In fact, this kind of ambush tactic was already very successful. An army of 500 to 600 people already had the numerical advantage.

Even if the village could organize a defense, it would not be able to block the tank's cannonballs and the armored vehicles' charge and sweep.

General Caro sighed. "More or less. That village was completely unguarded and did not organize any resistance. "Those villagers were basically being massacred. They could only run out of the village as soon as possible! When I retreated from the high ground, the attacking side was already clearing out the remaining enemies. "

"Then we have to move faster, don't let them discover us!"

Yu Tian immediately called for everyone to speed up their advance. He had no interest in greeting a pirate army.

General Caro followed closely. "There's no need to be too nervous. The nearby villages seem to be sending reinforcements. If they're all enemies, we might be able to stall for some time. "

"Maybe. We need to find a place to hide while we have the time."

Yu Tian did not have confidence in these poor pirates. Just relying on rifles and a few rpgs, they wanted to deal with tanks and armored vehicles?

What the F * Ck are they thinking.

Those troops might come here very soon.

There were not many plants nearby. Other than some undulations on the terrain and some broken rocks that could be used as cover, there was almost no place to hide.

Yu Tian had a total of forty to fifty people here. It was impossible to hide in such a place.

Even if he was alone, he might not be able to hide from the army's advance and search.

Therefore, he had to quicken his pace and leave this troublesome place.

Yu Tian thought of a suitable place to hide people.

The cliff they landed on was pretty good. There were rocks and reefs below, and it stretched for more than ten miles.

It was half-climbing for people to walk over, and half-swimming. Tanks and armored vehicles could not enter.

If someone were to defend and snipe on the way, the soldiers would not be able to chase after them.

Of course, as long as they reached the bottom of the cliff, there was no chance of being discovered.

They could see the place clearly from the sea, but it was inconvenient to observe from the cliff.

As for the edge of the cliff, who would go there for no reason?

Yu Tian was thinking to himself, but Ivan ran back from the front of the team in a fluster.

"Damn it, this lousy phone, the signal is too bad."

Yu Tian was stunned for a moment. "This godforsaken place! It's normal for the signal to be a little bad. It's already good enough to have a signal. "

Ivan said with a headache, "This kind of lousy signal is almost the same as having no signal. It can't guarantee the continuity of the signal at all. It took a lot of effort to get through, but the line was cut off as soon as the bell rang!

look, there's no signal at all now. "

Yu Tian also felt a headache coming on. "Then what should we do?"

Ivan said, "This kind of phone must be used in the vicinity of the city before it can be used normally. At the very least, it needs to return to the vicinity of that village. Perhaps we can find some signal. "But in this direction, I feel that it's getting further and further away from the source of the signal. "

Yu Tian said helplessly, "We can't go back to the village, right? We might run into the army there. "

As he said that, Yu Tian could not help but turn around and take a look..

Chapter 915 – Chapter 914. There Was No Signal In Damadi

The gunshots in the distance had gradually faded, and the battle seemed to have ended completely.

These sporadic gunshots sounded more like the execution of prisoners.

General Caro said that the villagers nearby might be sending reinforcements, but Yu Tian felt that this kind of thing was not reliable.

After seeing the tanks and armored vehicles, the villagers and pirates who were sending reinforcements would just run away, not considering the matter of reinforcements and fighting.

Only a fool would take the initiative to provoke the tanks.

However, Ivan's phone call had to be made. It was definitely not a smart move to drive an injured submarine across the ocean.

Yu Tian could not bring the entire team back just to make the call.

That damned place was now a high-risk area. If they encountered the army head-on, they might be wiped out.

Bringing Ivan alone to make a phone call?

It was not safe either. Ivan was not a combatant. If something really happened, Yu Tian would not be able to guarantee his safety.

Even if they did not run into the army, if those pirates suddenly turned hostile, Ivan would become Yu Tian's burden.

Pirates had always had the habit of taking hostages. A person like Ivan was just right to be a hostage. He did not have the ability to resist, and his position was very important.

If he lost Ivan, the submarine would probably not be able to go home.

In this way, unless Yu Tian returned alone, he was slightly confident that he could safely make a round trip..

If he had known earlier, he would have made the call when he got the phone.

Yu Tian sighed and said to Ivan, "Give me the phone. I'll go to the village over there and try to make a call."

Ivan said inexplicably, "You want to go back and make a call alone? "This!

how can this work? My friend doesn't know the international common language, and you don't know our Russian. You Can't tell the coordinates here and the situation of the submarine being damaged! "

"You can tell me the coordinates and the situation of the submarine. As for the Russian language! "

Yu Tian pondered for a moment. "I don't plan to contact your friends. I can contact my people. "

Ivan was stunned. "Uh! Your people can repair submarines?"

Yu Tian spread his hands. "These are not problems. We have money. We can find any outstanding maintenance workers and buy any parts that we need. You just need to explain the model of the submarine and the general damage situation. "

Ivan said blankly, "If that's the case, it seems that it's also possible. After all, you even hired such a powerful captain like me! "

"That's it. I'll go make a call. You guys go back to the cliff where you landed earlier! "

Yu Tian glanced at general caro. "You're in charge of managing the entire team. Don't let them run around. Remember to keep quiet while hiding in that place. "

General Caro nodded. "Aren't we returning to the submarine?"

Yu Tian glanced at the hostages, he sighed softly. "There's no need to return to the submarine for the time being. It's already very safe under that Cliff! if there really is something that can't be controlled, then bring our people back to the submarine. There's no need to care about these hostages."

"Alright."

General Caro had no objections.

That cliff was indeed a place that was easy to defend and difficult to attack, and it was also difficult to be noticed by others.

Except for one thing, that place was wet. It might not be very comfortable to rest there.

If something like the high tide happened, then everyone would be even more frustrated. They might even have to continue soaking in the water.

However, looking at the bright sky, General Caro felt that it was not a problem to persist there for the entire day.

Yu Tian put his phone into his pocket and called Cass and the big guy over.

"You guys bring the team and general karo back to the landing point. Take care of those killers and listen to General Karo's arrangements for all the operations! "

"What about you, Boss?"

"I'm going back to the village just now! Well, I have something to take care of. "

"I'll go with Boss. "

Cass and the big guy expressed their stance at the same time.

Yu Tian shook his head and said to Cass, "You have to stay behind to manage those killers. If you weren't here, those lawless guys might not obey General Caro's command. "

Cass was instantly speechless.

The big guy said happily, "Then it's none of my business. I can go back with Boss. "

Yu Tian stared at the big guy for a long time, but he still shook his head and said, "No, you're too big. It's easy to expose your whereabouts and affect my actions. "

The Big Guy suddenly choked.

"That's it. You guys quickly retreat."

Yu Tian hurriedly waved his hand, then pulled Ivan to ask about the details of the need for assistance, and then hurried back to the pirate village.

The terrain near the beach was slightly higher, but after climbing over it, the terrain became even lower.

This terrain was like a visual barrier, very suitable for the team to retreat from the beach.

Under the command of General Caro, the entire team started to run and soon disappeared from Yu Tian's line of sight.

Yu Tian was slightly relieved and began to hurry back to the pirate village.

His running speed was naturally faster than the team with the hostages. In a few minutes, he ran back to the pirate village.

It had only been ten minutes since he left the village. When he came back, there was actually no one in this broken village.

Yu Tian was not in the mood to think about where the pirates had gone. He hurriedly took out his phone and began to make a call.

The signal displayed on the phone was one bar, but after Yu Tian dialed the number, there was no sound coming from the phone.

"This damned place! as expected, there is no signal in this damned place!"

Yu Tian looked around helplessly and wondered in his heart, "This Faraday, what is the use of him buying a phone?"

Although the terrain around the village was undulating, it was still flat. There was only a slightly higher elevation behind the village, which was where General Caro had set up the defense.

According to the tradition of making a phone call, the higher the elevation, the better the signal should be.

Yu Tian sighed and decided to make another trip to the Highland.

The highland was not very high, and it was much easier than climbing mountains.

Yu Tian took less than a minute to run from the Highland to the Highland in one breath.

However, the signal in this damn place did not seem to be enhanced at all.

The signal displayed on the phone was still only one bar.

Yu Tian dialed again. The phone showed that it was calling, but there was still no sound.

"Be patient, it might take some time to connect to the signal!"

Yu Tian waited for a while, and his phone automatically exited the dialing state.

This was already the highest place in the vicinity. If he still couldn't make a call from here, he could only go deeper into the mainland.

Yu Tian helplessly continued dialing, but his phone still didn't respond. After hanging up a few more times, Yu Tian was a little impatient.

He was about to give up when the bell rang..

Chapter 916 – : Chapter 915, Scout

"Ouch!"

Yu Tian was overjoyed. He immediately steadied himself and did not dare to let his phone shake.

He was afraid that his movement would cause the signal to be interrupted.

"Beep! BEEP!"

"Cut!"

The call seemed to be connected, but there was no sound coming from the other end.

"Hello? Uncle Long? Hello?"

There was still no sound coming from the other end of the line.

Yu Tian paused for a moment, then brought his phone closer to take a look.

F * ck! It was cut off again.

Good, very good.

F * ck! As expected of the world-famous poor and chaotic place, even a normal cell phone signal could not be guaranteed.

It was possible that their signal tower had long been dismantled and sold for iron and copper.

No wonder there was not a single cell phone in this broken pirate village. There was no way to use a cell phone in this damn place. Yu Tian did not even know why Faraday had bought this cell phone.

Of course, a cell phone was not a very expensive thing. It was also his freedom if Faraday was willing to buy it back and use it as a toy.

The cell phone was not completely useless. At least when he had something to do in a big city, he did not have to look for a public phone everywhere.

It was hard to say whether there was a public phone in this godforsaken place.

Yu Tian sat down on the high ground helplessly. He was thinking about whether he should go further into the mainland and take a look at his surroundings while he was at it.

A village in the distance was filled with smoke. At the entrance of the village, there was an unusually arrogant tank.

As for the support that General Caro mentioned, the support from the other villages..

Yu Tian did not see anything.

This situation was very reasonable.

After the other villages saw the strength of this army, the wisest choice was to run away, just like Faraday.

Faraday must have run away.

Yu Tian was sure that when Faraday saw the tank, he immediately ran away. Before he even returned, they had already disappeared without a trace.

The army was still dawdling in the village, and no one knew what they were busy with.

However, this was not a particularly strange phenomenon.

Not to mention that they had some special missions, just spreading out an army and gathering an army was already a rather time-consuming matter.

If it wasn't for the strict discipline of the eastern country's army, it would be even more troublesome to gather the army on the battlefield.

What Yu Tian was worried about was the scouting and warning forces that this army had released.

This kind of force was called a scout in ancient times, and they were all very difficult to deal with.

Scouts usually rode horses, so this army's guarding force at the periphery naturally did not lack military vehicles.

The geography of the horse-riding area basically had the feeling of the Gobi Desert.

That was to say, there were no roads and no specific transportation routes.

Apart from some rotten rocks and a few plants, as well as the small highlands that Yu Tian was on, they could basically pass through any vehicle.

Those military vehicles drove to the higher ground near the village, so they could basically see the situation of the nearby villages.

Yu Tian carefully squatted behind a big rock to avoid being discovered by these arrogant scouts.

A military vehicle drove straight in the direction of the pirate village where Yu Tian was. It didn't have any intention of detouring or searching, as if it had already set its eyes on this place.

The military vehicle's speed was much faster than walking. It did not take long for it to reach the outskirts of the village and stop at the entrance of the village.

There were three soldiers on the vehicle, as well as a machine gun. There was also a long bullet chain hanging on it, and it looked murderous.

This kind of military vehicle was quite a threat to ordinary light infantrymen. Its firepower was fierce, and its mobility was strong.

Those who could beat it would not be able to catch up to it, and those who could not beat it would not be able to escape either. It could also be considered a great weapon against those mobs, and it was also a very light tool for scouting.

However, Yu Tian did not put this military vehicle in his eyes. Without any cover, the military vehicle was at most just a fire point that could move quickly. It did not pose much of a threat to him.

Of course, Yu Tian did not need to provoke this kind of thing. He still carefully hid his figure, trying his best not to be discovered by the other party.

The soldiers in the military vehicle observed the village entrance for a few seconds and quickly confirmed that the village was empty.

The machine gunner holding the machine gun inadvertently glanced in Yu Tian's direction. Then, the accelerator of the military vehicle let out a roar and swaggered into the village.

As soon as they entered the village, they saw the corpses in the village.

When Faraday was retreating, he had no time to clean up the mess.

The soldiers in the military vehicle did not seem to be surprised. They indifferently glanced at the corpses and did not get out of the vehicle. They just sat in the military vehicle and slowly walked out of the village.

Then, they did not have any intention of stopping. They sped past Yu Tian's eyes and quickly left the village.

After leaving the village, there was a spacious terrain. The military vehicle continued to drive in the direction of the beach, which was the direction in which General Caro and the others had retreated.

The terrain near the beach was slightly higher. It was convenient to observe the surrounding villages and also to see the situation on the beach.

This was an excellent observation spot for the scouts.

Yu Tian did not hesitate anymore. He immediately took out the large revolver that he had snatched from Faraday.

He could not let this military vehicle reach the beach. That would definitely be a disaster for General Caro and the others.

After taking a slight aim, Yu Tian immediately pulled the trigger.

The range of the pistol was not far. The bullets would lose their aim after flying for dozens of meters. If they could be shot in such a situation, it would be considered a bad time.

In addition, after a certain range, the bullets of the pistol would lose their lethality and even become light. They would not be able to catch up with the speed of a vehicle like a car.

It was like using an ordinary gun to shoot a plane. It looked like he was aiming, but in fact, he couldn't hit it at all.

The military vehicle had already run more than 100 meters away. Yu Tian didn't expect to cause any damage to it at all.

The reason he fired was only to attract the other party's attention.

At this time, he was slightly regretful.

If he had known that there would be a gunfight, he would have brought a rifle back just now.

If he used a rifle to shoot, he might have been able to kill the arrogant machine gunner in the car.

Although Yu Tian's marksmanship was not outstanding, this kind of shooting that was close to a static state was not difficult.

What Yu Tian lacked was the experience of shooting frequently. However, raising the gun to aim, then pulling the trigger, controlling the recoil, and ensuring that the bullet could leave the muzzle smoothly! he had no problems with these operations.

The gunshot sounded like a gunshot.

The result of the gunshot surprised Yu Tian a little.

The recoil of this large revolver was a little too strong, and even the sound of the gunshot was a little scary.

If not for Yu Tian still having the strength, he almost couldn't even hold the handle of the gun..

Chapter 917 – Chapter 916, Seizing The Vehicle

The greater the recoil, the greater the power of the bullet.

The power and range of this shot were beyond Yu Tian's imagination. The military vehicle on the opposite side suddenly exploded.

In the blink of an eye, more than half of the machine gun and machine gunner in the back seat of the military vehicle disappeared.

The machine gun was only left with a support frame, and the machine gunner only had two supporting legs left.

The two soldiers sitting in the driver's seat and the front passenger's seat also did not have a good ending. The fragments of the explosion also shot onto their bodies.

The entire vehicle was silent. The military vehicle also staggered and crashed into the roadside. After hitting a rock, it stopped.

Yu Tian was suddenly a little confused.

Did I do this?

I killed a military vehicle with one shot?

Did I use a handgun? Or a handgun?

What the hell kind of handgun is this? Why is it so powerful?

Is this a weapon that can be used by humans? Isn't Faraday afraid of breaking his wrist playing with this thing?

Yu Tian composed himself and ran out from behind the rock again. He looked at the army gathered in the village.

The commander of this army was right next to the tank. The loud gunshot clearly caught their attention. A group of people were holding binoculars and looking in Yu Tian's direction.

Unfortunately, due to the uneven terrain around them, they could not see anything from their position.

Yu Tian paid more attention to concealment, so he was not discovered by the other party.

The commander quickly put down the binoculars, but he did not give up on scouting for any movements.

Soon, the officers shouted for a while, and two more military vehicles rushed out of the village and flew in Yu Tian's direction.

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and immediately rushed down the high ground.

Since he had already attracted the other party's attention, he could not hope to quietly hide.

At this time, he could either come out and talk to the other party, or he could open fire at the other party, attracting the other party's attention to himself.

Negotiate with the pirate warlords?

Of course, Yu Tian would not do such a stupid thing. He would not even politely borrow a phone from a seemingly peaceful village, so how could he possibly talk to these murderous troops.

Trust was the biggest problem for humans, especially in such a chaotic place.

No one would leave themselves at the mercy of the other party's guns.

Yu Tian quickly ran to the front of the military vehicle. The distance of one to two hundred meters was just a matter of taking a breather.

The three soldiers on the vehicle had already turned into cold corpses, especially the machine gunner. Other than his two legs, the other parts were nowhere to be found.

This military car had no roof or windows. Yu Tian quickly leaned against the driver's door and reached out to twist the key.

The car seemed to be able to start. Other than some metal fragments, the central console did not seem to have suffered any damage.

Yu Tian immediately pulled the corpse from the driver's seat and sat on it.

The co-pilot was also dead. The machine gun had smashed into his body.

Yu Tian picked up the machine gun and took a look. The machine gun was not damaged, but there was no gun frame left, so it could not be used at the back of the car.

This was not a big problem.

With the strength of Yu Tian's two hairy legs and shoulders, even holding a Gatling gun was not a problem. It was not inferior to the terminator at all.

He could totally make use of this machine gun waste.

After starting the engine of the military vehicle, Yu Tian conveniently tore off the windshield.

There were many cracks on the windshield, which affected the line of sight. He might as well tear off the windshield and use it to set up a gun.

After turning the military vehicle around, Yu Tian set up the machine gun in front of him again and aimed at the entrance of the pirate village.

There was enough time for him to check the bullet chain.

Not long after, two military vehicles sped out of the village, one in front and one behind.

The corpses in the village did not stop them either, because there were too many internal conflicts in the F * Ck. It was not uncommon for pirates to have internal conflicts over the distribution of the spoils and then kill their boss.

The goal of the two military vehicles was very clear, which was to find the military vehicles that had come to scout.

Although they were speeding, they could not move fast in this terrain. It would be considered good if they could run for 50 to 60 yards.

Yu Tian waited patiently. When the front of their vehicle appeared, he immediately opened fire with his machine gun.

Fortunately, the machine gun did not malfunction, and it did not disappoint Yu Tian.

The bullets rained down, and in the blink of an eye, the military vehicle that was coming at them was shattered into pieces.

Then there was another boom. The fuel tank of the military vehicle was also detonated by the bullets, and a dazzling flame burst out. The out-of-control military vehicle crashed into the rubble on the side of the road.

The fireball and thick smoke covered the line of sight, and the military vehicle behind immediately dodged to the side.

However, this kind of dodging was still unable to avoid the continuous rain of bullets. Yu Tian slightly pressed the muzzle of his gun, and the rain of bullets was jerked horizontally, splashing onto the military vehicle.

The machine gunner on the military vehicle was almost thrown off the vehicle. There was no time for the machine gunner to counterattack.

Of course, the machine gunner did not have the experience of fighting back.

He heard the sound of the machine gun at the first moment, but he lost his balance in the sudden evasion.

He could not care about the machine gun on the vehicle at the moment. He could only hurriedly jump off the vehicle by the roadside.

It would take him at least two seconds to aim the gun, which was enough time for him to be shot into a sieve.

An experienced veteran would never make such a stupid resistance.

Finally, before Yu Tian's bullets rained down, the machine gunner managed to escape from the car.

However, the two soldiers in the front row were not so lucky. They were instantly torn apart by the metal storm and did not even have time to curse.

It was also a thick smoke and explosion. The military vehicle immediately turned into a fireball. Smoke billowed around the entrance of the village.

Yu Tian finally stopped shooting. He looked up and saw that the machine gunner who had jumped out of the car to escape had already disappeared.

It was unknown which corner the machine gunner had rolled to to save his life, but Yu Tian did not have any thoughts of searching or pursuing him.

He put down the machine gun, stepped on the accelerator lightly, and slowly left the village entrance.

The direction he left was naturally the opposite of General Caro and the others.

Of course, he could not leave too quickly. At the very least, he could not make the other party lose their target in an instant.

Yu Tian drove the car to the highland by the beach and glanced in the direction where General Caro and the others had left.

Fortunately, the team had disappeared.

The hostages had not been tortured to the point of weakness yet, so they had not slowed down the speed of the march.

In addition, the visibility was good during the day, and the speed of the march was slightly faster than at night.

Taking advantage of this gap, Yu Tian checked the remaining fuel capacity of the military vehicle.

Fortunately, although the tank was not full, it was not a problem to run over a hundred kilometers.

The hairy legs in the back seat were thrown away like garbage, but the body in the passenger seat was left behind..

Chapter 918 – Chapter 917, Pursuit

Yu Tian did not have any special hobbies. This corpse was only used as a cushion for his gun.

This was all he could do.

He placed the muzzle of the gun on the corpse, while the butt of the machine gun was placed on the central console.

This way, he could drive while shooting at the back.

Although the accuracy might be a little problematic, the deterrent effect was still not small.

Many bandits liked to use heavy firepower. The killing efficiency and accuracy of that kind of weapon were actually not as good as light weapons. However, the rain of bullets that poured like water could indeed scare the opponent, so much so that they did not even dare to show their heads.

These bandits even dared to provoke the police of some countries, because the ordinary police did not have heavy firepower and had not experienced the test of a rain of bullets.

As long as they scared the police to the ground and did not dare to raise their heads, it was equivalent to suppressing them. They could then proceed to the next step calmly.

When it came to this battlefield, the suppression of firepower was also very important. This machine gun was a pleasant surprise to Yu Tian.

After staring at the village entrance for a while, Yu Tian finally waited for the enemy who was chasing him.

The sound of a handgun might not be taken seriously by the enemy, but the storm of machine gun fire and the explosion of the two military vehicles would definitely alert the army.

Sure enough, this time, the leading vehicle was an armored vehicle.

Sorry, the one behind was still an armored vehicle.

There was a third and a fourth, both military vehicles equipped with machine guns.

Yu Tian didn't even think about it and immediately stepped on the accelerator.

It was time to show his true escape skills.

The speed of the armored vehicle was a hard injury. The heavy body of the vehicle slowed down his speed. He couldn't run too fast no matter what. As for other military vehicles of the same type, Yu Tian didn't think much of them.

Haven't you all heard of the legend of the famous Spring Mountain Chariot God?

Yes, was it the famous Autumn Mountain, the famous spring mountain, or the bright bird mountain?

This was not the main point. Yu Tian had already started to drive his car to escape.

The armored car behind him did not even greet him. It did not even confirm Yu Tian's identity before it immediately fired at Yu Tian.

However, due to the distance and the fact that Yu Tian stepped on the accelerator hard enough, these bullets gently landed behind him.

"The rain is cold!"

Yu Tian wiped the cold sweat off his forehead and held onto the rearview mirror that had been split into two pieces.

After the convoy behind them rushed out of the village entrance, the military vehicles behind them immediately overtook them to the front of the armored vehicles and chased after Yu Tian at full speed.

"Very good, speed of life and death, the Chase has begun!"

Yu Tian stepped on the accelerator with all his might and continued to increase his speed in the bumpy environment.

The exchange of fire was not the main point. His goal was to lure the enemy away from here.

Therefore, although the military vehicle behind him was trying to shoot at him, he still had no intention of retaliating.

There was not much ammunition left in the machine gun on the vehicle. He had to use all of it on the blade.

For example, when the enemy was chasing too close, or when there was a chance to eliminate the enemy.

There were still two military vehicles chasing them from behind. Due to the difference in speed, they quickly left the two armored vehicles behind.

These two military vehicles were quite confident. They might have thought that the two vehicles were enough to destroy Yu Tian.

As for the two burning military vehicles at the entrance of the village, they felt that they had just been ambushed.

They had already seen the situation in Yu Tian's vehicle. There was only Yu Tian in the vehicle.

Since Yu Tian wanted to drive, he naturally could not shoot properly.

Under such circumstances, Yu Tian could not be a match for the two military vehicles.

Moreover, there was not only one machine gunner in the two military vehicles.

Their front and back seats added up to a total of five people in each military vehicle.

Each person had an akana, which was the lowest configuration. They even had snipers and rocket launchers.

The rocket launchers used rpgs, which were as classic as the Akana Rifles.

Especially in a poor place like Madi, rpgs and Akana were a very popular classic combination, which was necessary for both large and small forces.

However, the accuracy of rpgs was never good, especially in this kind of car chase, so it was difficult to have a chance to hit the opponent directly.

Moreover, an RPG had to be calculated according to the root. Every shot was money. This rocket launcher would definitely not carry too much.

The only person who could pose a threat to Yu Tian was the sniper.

However, Yu Tian did not care if there was a sniper behind him.

On this bumpy road, the sniper did not have any room to play.

Because the speed of the car was very fast, the bullets would be affected by the wind after they were fired. The direction of the wind changed at any time, so it was basically impossible to calculate the shooting parameters.

The situation in the movies where the enemy was knocked over by the flying car could only be laughed at in reality.

If he wanted to kill Yu Tian, he could only rely on God and luck.

Therefore, Yu Tian was not worried about his own safety. He just needed to drive carefully.

Before they had gone far, a sharp noise suddenly sounded beside Yu Tian.

Then, a human voice was heard.

"B * Stard! Who Are You? !"

Yu Tian was slightly stunned. Only then did he realize that there was a walkie-talkie hanging on the waist of the corpse.

The voice came from this walkie-talkie.

"Hey! "

Yu Tian happily took off the walkie-talkie, put it to the side of his mouth, and pressed the call button.

"You F * cking bastard, who are you? ! "

The other party immediately scolded back, "We Are General Abu's army, you bastard, you're dead meat."

Yu Tian spat on the walkie-talkie. Then, he realized that this action was meaningless, so he wiped the walkie-talkie on his thigh twice, he continued to curse, "I'm Dija Ultraman. If you F * cking keep chasing me, you'll be even more dead."

"What low-priced super slow!"

"Idiot, it's dija Ultraman. Haven't you heard of Ultraman Tiga?"

"B * stard, I don't care if you're super slow or super fast. If you don't Stop and surrender, we'll blast you to pieces."

"Go ahead, hurry up and fire. Pve been waiting for this for a long time."

Yu Tian continued to provoke them, not taking the enemy's threat seriously at all.

The range of a car-mounted machine gun was usually only a few hundred meters. Yu Tian had just used their machine gun, so the range of this broken machine gun was only about four hundred meters at most.

As for firing when the car was moving, the range was even shorter.

The ammunition consumption of a machine gun was relatively high. If the range was too far and the gun could not hit accurately, it would waste even more ammunition.

For the poor pirates in Ma Tei, other than occasionally needing a machine gun during suppression, they rarely used this kind of thing.

Therefore, they did not need a machine gun with good performance, especially in terms of range.

At the distance between the two sides, there was no weapon that could hurt each other.

Except for the ability to curse if cursing is a form of harm..

Chapter 919 – Chapter 918, No Man'S Land

Swearing was indeed a kind of weapon.

Yu Tian had a lot of eastern country's classic swearing words in his mind, but it was slightly troublesome to translate them into international common language.

So he had to pick those swearing words that did not have swear words, and then carefully translate them for the other party to listen to.

The civilian walkie-talkie was also two to three kilometers away, so Yu Tian did not have to worry about losing the other party.

As he drove, he started to scold the other party.

"I don't know if you're a B * tch, but most b * tches have a voice like yours. "Don't think that you can hide the fact that you're a B * Tch just because you've tanned yourself to the color of dog SH * t. "Now that I hear your voice, I immediately feel superior in terms of intelligence. Please pretend to be a human and try your best to act like one. Don't let me easily see through that your brain is full of dried black dog shit!"

Not only was the F * * King land economically poor, but its culture and language were also very poor.

After all, this place was previously colonized. When it first became independent, it didn't even have its own language and Mandarin.

In the end, they finally got the Mandarin out, but in terms of culture, it was ultimately inferior to the eastern language that had been passed down for thousands of years.

In just a few minutes, Yu Tian had already scolded the other party until smoke was coming out of his ears.

"Shut up! You Bastard! We will definitely not let you off today! Just you wait, when your fuel runs out, I will make you kneel down and lick my ass! "

"Hehe, wait until my fuel runs out? Can you guys hold on for that long? Do you think that just because you look like a black stool, you can be as eternal as a

Yu Tian did not care about the other party's threat, he was still mocking and sarcastic.

They had already chased for about twenty kilometers, and it took them about ten minutes.

The ground in the vicinity was basically covered in a layer of hard soil covered with gravel. Although the terrain was relatively flat, and it was enough for vehicles to run at speed, there were many potholes on the road, and the road was extremely bumpy.

Although military vehicles were more suited to the terrain than ordinary cars, it was still unavoidable for them to be bumpy.

Yu Tian was already on the verge of falling apart from the bumpy ride. The two military vehicles that were chasing after him were naturally in an even worse state.

In terms of physical fitness, Yu Tian was definitely much stronger than those black fellows. If even he was knocked into such a state, the fate of the pursuers could be imagined.

If these guys continued to chase after them, Yu Tian wouldn't even need to deal with them. They would have to lie down on their own.

This result didn't need to be delayed until the fuel ran out.

Yu Tian was very confident that the guys behind him wouldn't be able to hold on for that long.

At this time, Yu Tian had already left the coastline far away and was heading inland.

He did not know where he had run to or which route he had taken.

Along the way, he took out his phone from time to time to take a look to see if the cell phone signal would be slightly better when he was close to the inland.

Unfortunately, the signal on the phone had completely disappeared.

It seemed that there was no need for the cell phone signal to exist after leaving a population gathering place like the village.

Looking at the terrain along the way, Yu Tian suspected that he had gone in the wrong direction and had already entered deep into the no-man's-land.

In addition, he suddenly thought of something.

Of course, pirates needed pirate ships, and there must be satellite phones on the pirate ships.

In fact, he didn't need to look for mobile phone signals at all. He just needed to find those pirate ships.

The pirate ships shouldn't be too far away from the pirate village. He should circle back to the vicinity of the pirate village and look around the beaches.

The pirate ships should be hidden in some small bays or parked on the surface of the nearby sea.

Of course, there would be people guarding the pirate ships, but the people guarding the ships couldn't stop Yu Tian from seizing the ships, let alone stopping Yu Tian from snatching the satellite phone.

Just like Yu Tian storming into the pirate village and snatching Faraday's cell phone, it was an absolute suppression of force.

The benefits of seizing the pirate ship were not only the satellite phone. Yu Tian could also send the hostages onto the pirate ship, allowing them to escape on their own and wait for the rescue of a certain warship.

As long as they did not run into the route that the pirates often robbed, they could hide anywhere in the vast sea.

Then, Yu Tian didn't need to take a submarine home anymore.

He just needed to get a pirate ship and run to a safe high-seas area. Then, he would ask Uncle Long to contact a passing cargo ship and pick him and his new underlings up.

He would also get everyone a new passport.

As for Ivan and his submarine, they might be delayed for two days. But when the rescue arrived and the repairs were completed, they could return safely.

This could be considered to have completed the task of receiving them, and everyone was happy.

"That's right, that's the arrangement! As long as we snatch two pirate ships from him, then we can advance and retreat freely."

Yu Tian stepped on the accelerator a few times, preparing to shake off the enemy behind him.

It was bound to be a big detour, so he had to take the enemy further away from the coastline.

But after running for more than ten minutes, Yu Tian found that he seemed to be running into the desert.

The coarse sand on the ground grew more and more, and the bumps became less and less. The military vehicles also found it more strenuous to run.

Along the way, he could see a lot of sand dunes, and plants almost disappeared.

Was the inland area a desert? Or was it blocked by a desert?

Yu Tian suddenly felt a little helpless. God knows how big the desert was. He did not want to go to a place like the desert to seek death.

Now, he naturally could not continue to move further inland. He could only adjust his direction again and start to move closer to the coastline.

However, after moving forward for a few minutes, Yu Tian found that he still ran into the desert. It seemed that this place was far away from the coastline.

In other words, the direction in which the coastline extended was not what he had imagined.

Of course, this place could only be considered half desert and half desert. There was both hard soil and sand.

However, this kind of terrain was not enough to make people feel uncomfortable in the car.

Yu Tian looked at the rearview mirror again. The two military vehicles behind him were still in pursuit. They refused to let go no matter what.

Moreover, because the road was no longer so bumpy, the soldiers on the vehicles were also much more energetic.

They had originally been lying in the vehicles half-dead. Now, they had regained their composure. They got up from the vehicles and began to randomly fire at Yu Tian with Aya in their hands.

Sporadic gunshots could be faintly heard from behind, but Yu Tian did not care.

Because Aya's shooting range was still far from reaching him, those soldiers firing randomly was only a kind of habitual intimidation.

But then, the sniper rifle also rang.

The bullet hit the back of Yu Tian's car, making a crisp metallic sound.

Although the bullet did not hit Yu Tian, nor did it cause any damage to the car, it immediately made Yu Tian take it seriously..

Chapter 920 – Chapter 919, Entering The Desert

More and more sand dunes appeared in front of him, and the sand grains on the road began to thicken.

The rapidly rotating wheels began to sink into the sand grains, and the speed of the military vehicles also began to slow down.

Yu Tian looked at the speedometer and found that the current speed was less than 60 km/h.

This was a very dangerous speed.

Although the pursuer was still far away from Yu Tian, the gradually decreasing speed had given the sniper a lot of confidence. He began to attempt to shoot at Yu Tian.

The next two or three shots hit Yu Tian's car, making a crisp ping-pong sound and sending out sparks.

The person in the walkie-talkie started to laugh wildly. "Kid, you're going to die soon! Hurry up and pray to your God. I hope you won't get shot so quickly and die. I still want to continue playing the chase game with you!"

Yu Tian immediately replied, "Is that so, idiot? Do you think that your black feces can keep up with me?"

"Don't worry, Ill catch up to your broken car very soon and cut your throat with a knife. "

"What the F * Ck do you want to eat? With your skills, you think you can keep up with me?"

Yu Tian laughed coldly and did not say anything else.

The decrease in the speed of the car would indeed bring him some danger, but this danger would disappear very soon.

Because the drop in speed was a matter for both parties, the speed drop of the pursuer would be even more serious than his.

Yu Tian was the only one in the car, and there were five people in both military vehicles.

The body of the pursuer was heavier, and the wheels would sink deeper into the sand, so the speed would be slower.

Driving in the desert was actually a very delicate thing, and it was difficult for drivers who had not walked in the sand to imagine some of the details.

After entering the sand, Yu Tian had not let go of the accelerator.

Once the speed of the car slowed down, it would only get slower and slower. Eventually, it would even sink into the soft sand and be unable to move.

Slowing down and stepping on the brakes was definitely a very troublesome thing in the desert.

Even when going downhill, it was necessary to step on the accelerator gently.

One could imagine how big of an obstacle the sand would cause to the car.

In this terrain, Yu Tian is much more likely to lose the pursuers.

However, the environment of the desert has many disadvantages and dangers.

Driving in this place consumes too much gas. If you go too deep into the desert, Yu Tian may not be able to drive the car out again.

If you end up walking in the desert, it will really be a suicide mission.

In addition, although these military vehicles had a certain off-road capability, they were not four-wheel-drive vehicles. They could suddenly get stuck in the sand at any time and be unable to pull their legs out.

Moreover, these cheap military vehicles, which were bought from God knows where, were old and worn, and had poor performance. They might suddenly break down while climbing the slope.

These accidents could pose a danger to him.

If his military vehicle had an accident first, then he would be almost like a turtle in a jar.

The other party only needed to suppress him with the sniper so that he could not set up the machine gun. Then, they would drive the car closer and use the machine gun to shoot at him. Then, he would be finished.

Of course, this kind of unfortunate thing could happen to both sides.

Yu Tian had already entered the desert. He could only try his luck with the other party.

The most important thing now was to first shake off the other party and avoid the attack range of the sniper rifle.

There were more and more sand dunes in front of him, so Yu Tian simply went around to the back of the sand dunes. With the cover of the sand dunes, he escaped from the other party's sight.

Of course, this would not be able to shake off the other party's pursuit. The tracks left behind by the tires were a very obvious trail.

However, taking a detour would lower the speed of the car. This situation would have a greater impact on the pursuers behind him.

After going around a few sand dunes, Yu Tian found that he had finally entered the desert.

In front of him was an endless stretch of earthy yellow sand. The blue sky and the horizon bordered each other, and the blue and yellow were distinct.

The desert was high up in the sky and the ground was far away. He could see the scenery more than ten miles away at a glance, and he was instantly at ease.

There were still sand dunes in the distance, but they were not worth mentioning in this vast sea of sand.

Yu Tian stepped on the accelerator and sped toward the sea of sand in front of him.

So what if it was a desert? How could the mysterious King be trapped by the desert?

After running for two kilometers, Yu Tian finally looked back.

It was very strange that the pursuers behind him did not catch up.

They were originally only a few hundred meters apart. Even if they gradually pulled apart the distance, it would not exceed a kilometer for the time being.

However, now that Yu Tian had run for two kilometers, the pursuers behind him were still nowhere to be seen. This made him feel a little strange.

Could it be that the other party was taking a detour? Did they want to intercept him in front of him?

Yu Tian slowly shook his head. This assumption did not exist.

This was a desert, not a place with complicated roads.

The direction they were heading in was a straight line, or an extremely large arc.

Taking a detour to intercept them would only make them fall further down the road.

Furthermore, Yu Tian did not have a specific destination. After he was out of their sight, he could change his direction at any time, making their interception a joke.

Yu Tian felt that although these people were black, they were not stupid enough to take a detour.

Therefore, they must have broken down on the way.

However, breaking down was not a very high probability.

Even if it was an old and broken-down car, the probability of it breaking down was not very high.

Two cars breaking down at the same time?

This was even lower than the probability of the couple falling into the gutter at the same time.

Yu Tian began to think whether he should take this opportunity to change the route and completely shake off the two pursuing military vehicles.

However, looking at the ruts left behind on the sand, Yu Tian felt that the probability of completely shaking off the other party was not high. At most, it would just increase the distance between them.

At the same time, Yu Tian was also a little curious.

What exactly happened to the two military vehicles that were chasing after him?

He could not suppress his curiosity and decided to stay behind to observe.

Therefore, he drove the car to a pile of sand dunes and avoided the sight of the distance. Then, he got out of the car and climbed onto the sand dunes to secretly observe the movements of the road he came from.

After waiting for a long time, a military vehicle finally appeared from the side of the sand dunes in the distance and appeared in Yu Tian's field of vision.

Following that, a second military vehicle appeared behind it.

It turned out that they had not lost track of it. They had just walked a little slower.

How many people were overloaded on the vehicle? How could the impact of the load be so great?

Yu Tian had never tried overloading in the desert, so he did not dare to make a hasty conclusion.

However, an idea suddenly flashed through his mind. He thought of a possibility that the other party had slowed down.

Because the dune had been winding a little, the other party had to be much more careful when going through the bends..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 921 - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 921

Chapter 921 – Chapter 920, Ambush And Counter-Attack

In addition to pursuing, the pursuer also had to consider the possibility of being ambushed and counter-attacked.

Behind those sand dunes was a good ambush point.

If Yu Tian set up a machine gun behind the sand dunes and waited for the opponent to appear before suddenly opening fire, he would certainly be fruitful.

That kind of situation was similar to when he blew up two military vehicles in the pirate village.

This kind of sneak attack was very difficult to guard against, unless one got out of the vehicle and walked slowly, carefully exploring the way.

This would naturally delay a lot of time.

Thinking of this, Yu Tian suddenly felt a joy in his heart. Why didn't he simply give them an attack?

It would also prevent them from waiting for a long time.

Previously, because the terrain had always been relatively flat, Yu Tian could not find an opportunity to ambush and stop the enemy.

Now that he was surrounded by sand dunes, wouldn't it be a waste if he did not seize this opportunity to ambush them?

Yu Tian thought for a moment and immediately climbed down from the sand dune. Then, he continued to drive around the sand dune in front of him. After walking for a few hundred meters, he returned to the vicinity of the original sand dune.

He hid the car behind the sand dune and hid himself on an adjacent hill.

He carried the machine gun onto the sand dune, along with the heavy bullet chain.

The heavy gun and ammunition were not Yu Tian's problem. What really made him uncomfortable was the temperature in the desert.

It was the middle of the morning. The Sun was high in the sky, and the sand dune was shockingly hot.

Every grain of sand here was bursting with heat. Even the machine gun was so hot that it could fry an egg.

Yu Tian hid the machine gun on the sand dune. He didn't even want to reach for the gun.

He wondered if the bullets would explode in the Sun.

At least there was some wind in the moving car. Lying on the sand dune was like curing meat.

Sighing, Yu Tian peeked out half of his head and looked at the road.

During the time he took a detour to ambush, the pursuer's car had already arrived in front of him.

It was not difficult to follow the tracks, so the pursuer did not waste any time to hesitate.

However, when they approached the sand dune, they slowly stopped the vehicle again.

There was no other way. Yu Tian's tracks had already circled behind the sand dune.

In order to avoid being ambushed, they could only slow down and scout ahead of time.

"What's the point of chasing like this? That Kid has long disappeared without a trace. "

Some soldiers in the car started to complain.

"There's no reply from the walkie-talkie either. I'm afraid that Kid has long run out of the communication range of the walkie-talkie and is several kilometers away. "

"What a F * cking thing. It's impossible for us to catch up with him like this."

"We've already lost the target. Let's go back and report. "

"Do you want to be whipped by General Abu?"

"Let's continue chasing, but we can't keep chasing like this. We have to think of something. "

"I think he might have changed his direction. It's impossible for him to run into the desert like this. "

"It's useless to guess which direction he changed his direction. You Can't guess which direction he ran to, or you have to follow the tracks."

"But we can at least chase faster."

"We can't. Unless you want to die, I won't joke about my own life. Just like Muhammad and the others, I'll die outside that broken village and become a pile of minced meat! "

"There's no need to discuss anymore. Let's get out of the car and explore."

The soldiers chatted for a while in the car. After wasting another two minutes, they slowly got out of the car and went behind the sand dune where the tracks had disappeared.

Although the few soldiers who were scouting the way complained, they were still very cautious when scouting the way.

They even walked carefully, as if they were afraid that Yu Tian had planted a mine on the road.

When they passed by the sand dunes, they craned their heads to make sure that there was nothing unusual after the sand dunes, then they relaxed a little and waved at the vehicles behind them.

The two military vehicles began to move forward slowly. A few soldiers who were scouting the way continued to walk towards the corner of the next sand dune.

Yu Tian was sunbathing on the sand dune. Looking at these soldiers who were dawdling, he felt helpless.

He did not plan to make a move against these soldiers who were scouting the way because these guys who were carrying Akkadian rifles basically would not pose any threat to him.

His focus was on the two military vehicles at the back. The military vehicles had machine guns, a sniper, and rocket launchers. These were the things that could threaten him.

Yu Tian had already set his eyes on them from afar.

As long as he got rid of these two military vehicles, Yu Tian would be considered to have a complete victory. There was no need to tangle with the soldiers who were scouting the path.

He patiently waited for the soldiers who were scouting the path to pass in front of him, and patiently waited for the two military vehicles to slowly walk under his nose.

The people in the two military vehicles were also looking around, but they did not find Yu Tian who was hiding on the sand dune.

At this time, Yu Tian had already lowered his head, secretly calculating the speed and distance of their advance.

After estimating that the position was about right, he secretly peeked out to take a look.

At this time, the two military vehicles had already turned the corner and were using the rear of the vehicles to point in Yu Tian's direction.

Perhaps it was because they did not encounter Yu Tian's ambush along the way, and the ruts that were far away had also misled them. The few soldiers on the vehicles actually did not pay attention to the situation behind them anymore.

They were still not dead?

Yu Tian suddenly stood up with a machine gun in his hand..

Without saying anything else, he fired!

Without any delay, intense gunshots rang out.

No one would have thought that Yu Tian would climb to the top of the sand dune with a machine gun in his hand, and no one would have thought that Yu Tian would be able to fire with a machine gun.

This unexpected surprise did not give the people in the military vehicle any time to react. The three people in the back car were instantly killed.

The soldiers in the front car also reacted immediately. The machine gunner turned around while holding the machine gun. The rocket launcher hurriedly carried the RPG. The driver immediately refueled and dodged to the side..

However, all of these reactions were not faster than the speed of the muzzle of Yu Tian's gun. He only raised the muzzle slightly, and the rain of bullets quickly covered the military vehicle in front.

All the struggles were in vain. These soldiers and their military vehicle were all smashed into pieces by Yu Tian.

All of this happened within two to three seconds. It was so fast that it was suffocating.

Now, there were only four pursuers left. Four lucky ones with Akka in their hands were scouting the way in front.

They fell to the ground the moment the gunshots were heard and rolled around in the sand, looking for a hidden terrain.

When they realized that the target of the gunshots was not them, they immediately turned around and turned their guns toward Yu Tian.

After this action, the two military vehicles had been repeatedly cleaned by Yu Tian and turned into two fireballs.

Yu Tian did not want to give up. He pointed his machine gun at the soldiers who were scouting the way..

Chapter 922 – Chapter 921, The Exchange Of Fire Between The Pirates

As these soldiers were slightly further away and lying in a more concealed position, Yu Tian did not deliberately aim at them.

But even so, there was still one unlucky person who was hit by a stray bullet and lost half of his head immediately.

The power of machine gun bullets could not be underestimated. The remaining three soldiers were so scared that they did not even dare to raise their heads.

They were like ostriches, burying their heads deep in the sand, afraid that Yu Tian would discover them.

The strange scene of them hugging the machine gun and shooting was deeply imprinted in their minds. It was much more impressive than those sci-fi movies.

Yu Tian shot out all the bullets and casually threw away the machine gun. Then, he ran to his military vehicle.

The remaining three soldiers were not difficult to deal with. Even if Yu Tian did not have the large revolver, he could easily deal with them with steel needles.

However, he did not think it was necessary.

The soldiers who had lost their vehicles could no longer catch up to him, so there was no need for him to waste time here.

He ran back to the car like a gust of wind. Yu Tian immediately drove the car to retreat.

After taking a detour, Yu Tian started to return in the same direction he came from.

After leaving the sand dune, there were still sporadic gunshots behind him.

These were the three soldiers venting their anger. They had no way of dealing with Yu Tian who had gone far away.

After speeding for a while, Yu Tian finally walked out of the desert. Suddenly, he felt an inexplicable coolness on his body.

This was not a psychological effect. The temperature outside the desert was indeed lower. Even the wind blowing from the front was much cooler.

After leaving the desert, Yu Tian did not return by the same route.

One reason was that he was worried that he would run into those armored vehicles on the way back. Who knew if those armored vehicles would also continue to chase after him.

Another reason was that he wanted to go around the coastline and look for those pirate ships along the way.

Yu Tian was not familiar with the terrain of the Damadi and did not know how far he was from the coastline. However, when he escaped from the pirate village, the coastline was on his right.

Therefore, when he returned now, the direction started to deviate to the front left. Even if there was some terrain that could not allow vehicles to pass, he would try to go around to the left.

He felt that as long as the general direction was right, he would not get lost.

Looking at the remaining oil in the oil meter, it was definitely enough to return to the pirate village.

Although there was no one chasing him, Yu Tian's speed was still not slow. He continued to travel on the bumpy road.

Not long after, Yu Tian found the coastline as expected.

There was no beach on the coastline here. Just like where they landed before, it was a cliff.

There were not many plants by the sea, but there were a lot of boulders. The terrain was bumpy, and it was not convenient for cars to travel along the coast.

Yu Tian could only leave the coastline and stop along the way. From time to time, he would get off the car and go to the coast to observe if there were pirate ships docked nearby.

Although the pirates might not park their ships so far away, it was not impossible for them to hide for the sake of convenience.

Not far away, Yu Tian suddenly heard the faint sound of gunfire coming from the front.

He was slightly stunned and hurriedly stopped the car.

After listening carefully for a while, he heard that most of the gunshots seemed to be coming from the seaside. He did not know who was exchanging fire.

The situation was unclear. It was definitely not a rational action to continue driving forward.

Yu Tian immediately parked his car behind a big rock by the side of the road and covered the body of the car slightly. Then, he strode toward the beach.

When he reached the edge of the cliff, Yu Tian continued to follow the edge of the cliff toward the direction of the gunshots.

The terrain ahead began to sink. After walking for hundreds of meters, Yu Tian saw the battle site in front of him.

The coast below was full of rocks, like the reefs that were exposed after the tide rose and fell.

This terrain extended for several kilometers and extended to the surface of the sea further away, forming a small bay with this side.

There were two groups of people fighting, or three or four groups of people.

In short, one of the groups was in a uniform green military uniform, so it was easy to confirm their identity. They were the army that was chasing Yu Tian.

The other group had more people, but their clothes were more mixed.

Some of them wore green uniforms, but most of them wore casual clothes or were shirtless.

Although there were more people, this mixed army did not have a unified command. Some people were organizing their positions to fight the other side, while others were retreating, and a large number of them ran away.

Looking at the battlefield situation, the army with fewer people had the advantage.

It was not because the military quality of the army was better, but because they were confident in winning in terms of morale.

Their enemies were all thinking about how to escape, and they basically did not have the will to fight.

However, the terrain was too complicated, and it was not easy to walk. Hence, the battle situation was in a stalemate.

Yu Tian took a closer look and suddenly noticed the pirate leader Faraday.

Faraday was also in the camp of the ragtag army. He was retreating with dozens of his underlings.

Their retreating speed was not fast either. They had to guard against the enemy's attacks and climb up and down the messy rocks. They could not move fast at all.

This kind of retreating speed was not much easier than attacking a fortress.

Yu Tian was puzzled. How did Faraday get entangled with this army? Didn't he run away a long time ago?

When Yu Tian returned to the pirate village, Faraday had already run away. At that time, the invading army was still cleaning up the battlefield.

It was not strange for Faraday to run here. It was his freedom to run wherever he wanted, but! why did that army chase him here?

Could it be! because they were chasing him? Then, the two armored vehicles just happened to meet Faraday?

Thinking about it, Yu Tian felt that it was really possible.

It was indeed the case.

After Faraday discovered general Abu's army, he knew that he was no match for them.

All these years, general Abu had been running rampant in this area, bullying the "Kind" because his strength had an overwhelming advantage in this area.

Faraday had never thought of making an enemy out of general Abu.

Although the nearby villages had a tradition of helping each other, no one would be foolish enough to send themselves to their deaths if they encountered an enemy they could not defeat.

It was said that husband and wife were birds in the same forest, flying separately in the face of disaster.

If this was the case, then there was no need to talk about the relationship between the villages.

Faraday immediately fled with his men. He would not have any contact with general Abu's army until he knew the reason for his sudden attack on the neighboring village.

After leaving the village, Faraday quickly met with people from other villages. This was the so-called "Great Minds think alike."

Chapter 923 – Chapter 9

There was nothing wrong with Faraday and the others' actions. When they encountered a powerful and threatening force, they should naturally run first as a sign of respect, and then find someone to ask about the specific situation.

This was the safest way.

The people of several villages gathered together and began to slowly retreat.

They originally wanted to go to the seaside to hide for a day, but general Abu's convoy suddenly caught up and attacked them without saying a word.

This time, these unlucky people had no choice.

In order to survive, they could only start to fight back.

It was impossible to surrender. Once they were disarmed and controlled, they would end up worse than slaves.

Faraday and the others could only quickly retreat to this complicated terrain of the coast, so at least they didn't have to face the tanks and armored vehicles.

However, they suffered heavy losses along the way. The villagers of each village added up to thousands of people, but half of them died.

This time, there was no need to even negotiate. It was obvious that general Abu wanted to eliminate them.

Other than putting up a desperate resistance, the only way to survive was to sail out to sea.

This stretch of the coast was where the pirates hid their ships.

Boarding the ships was not a problem. The biggest problem was that it was impossible for the several hundred of them to all board the ships.

Every pirate had their families with them. No one wanted to leave their families here and let the enemy slaughter them.

Yu Tian even saw some women carrying dolls on their backs and Akka in their hands. They were shot through by the enemy as they fled in a hurry.

If such a scene happened in a peaceful country, it would definitely become a hot news item. However, it didn't seem strange in this godforsaken place.

Yu Tian didn't have time to sigh. He was thinking about whether he should go find Faraday and steal a pirate ship from him.

However, the current situation did not seem to be a good time to rob.

The battle below was raging. Faraday definitely did not have the time to accept his robbery. He did not even have the time to say a few more words.

However, Yu Tianyi was bold, especially in such a complicated terrain. He did not need to care about the so-called rain of bullets.

He immediately ran towards the battlefield and approached Faraday.

This terrain full of rocks and reefs did not have much of an impact on Yu Tian. He could still maintain his running speed.

After a few jumps, he went down the slope and then rushed into the pile of rocks on the shore.

Yu Tian went up and down. The pirates and villagers soon discovered him.

However, Yu Tian was alone. He did not carry Aya on his back. He did not look threatening at all. The pirates did not have any hostility toward him. They were just curious about where this foreigner came from and what he wanted to do when he ran into the battlefield.

Yu Tian did not pay attention to the pirates along the way. As he ran along the road, he searched for Faraday in the crowd.

He had a good eye and soon found Faraday among the chaotic crowd.

Faraday was still wearing his trademark cowboy hat. Even when he was running for his life, he did not give up easily.

"Hey! Faraday!"

Yu Tian greeted him happily, as if he had bumped into an old friend while shopping.

Faraday looked up in confusion. When he saw Yu Tian clearly, he was immediately baffled.

Yu Tian was of course his enemy. Not only did he kill half of his village, but he also took away his phone and pistol.

However, this enemy was really a little strange.

Previously, Yu Tian had used steel needles to take down a group of Faraday's men. Faraday thought that his men had died just like that.

However, after the incident, Faraday found the steel needles on his men's bodies. After removing the steel needles, the men returned to normal.

Faraday had never heard of such a strange method.

He even suspected that Yu Tian was not human.

Just as Faraday was hesitating whether to let his subordinates open fire and kill Yu Tian on the spot, Yu Tian suddenly jumped in front of him.

Faraday was instantly shocked. Among the pirates around him, there were also people who had suffered from Yu Tian's steel needles. They were also shocked and hurriedly picked up Ah Ka.

"You, what are you doing? Didn't I already give you my phone? And my pistol, you took them all!"

Faraday quickly reached out to stop his men from making a ruckus. He was worried that Yu Tianyi would be unhappy and give them a pile of steel needles. If that happened, they would be in big trouble.

Yu Tianyi laughed and went forward to hook his arm around Faraday's shoulder. "Why are you so stingy? It's just a phone! Don't you still have a pirate ship?"

"Pirate ship? Yes, I do have a ship! "

Faraday's face suddenly stiffened. "Damn it, what do you want? Do you want my ship?"

"What do you mean your ship? Pm just borrowing it."

As Yu Tian spoke, he took out the phone that he had snatched earlier, he stuffed it into Faraday's pocket. "Look, Pm returning your phone now. It's not difficult to borrow it again. Can you lend me the Pirate Ship Now?"

"Impossible, if I give you the ship, we'll be dead for sure! "

Faraday shouted excitedly.

Yu Tian patted his shoulder. "Don't be so excited. It's just a loan of a ship. What do you mean by Dead or Alive? It's not that serious."

Faraday said with a bitter face, "How is it not serious? We're running for Our Lives Now! If you take the ship away, how can we run for Our Lives? General

Abu's men are all convoys. How can we outrun him on land?"

"That doesn't matter. I can board the boat with you first and then lend the boat to me when you are safe."

"No, no, we can't board the boat at all.". "I only have one boat, but there are more than a hundred people now. There is no way we can carry so many people on the boat.". "I originally had a few motorboats on my boat, but there was a storm last night, and all the motorboats were lost!"

"Then what do you want to Do? Wait until most of the people are dead before you board the boat?"

"UH! "

Faraday was having a headache. He did not know what to do now.

The current situation was that they could not win the fight, and they could not escape.

Even if they retreated all the way to the side of the boat, they might not be able to board the boat successfully. After boarding the boat, they might not be able to sail smoothly.

If they wanted to board the boat and sail safely, at least some of them would have to stay behind to stop the enemy, and they would have to stop them for a period of time.

Those who stayed behind would basically die without a doubt.

Who would willingly stay behind to stop the enemy?

In the current situation, they could only wait at the shore while fighting and retreating.

As for what to do next, Faraday had not thought it through clearly. At this moment, someone in the distance started cursing.

"Faraday, you coward! Do you want us to die here together! Do you think you can escape by running like this?"

Chapter 924 – Chapter 923, Escape

Yu Tian didn't understand what these pirates were shouting about. He only understood Faraday's words.

Faraday came back to his senses, he immediately shouted to his subordinates, "You bunch of bastards are still here to watch the show? Boss is talking about something. are the small fries qualified to listen? Hurry up and set up a defense on the rocks for me. Cover the people in front and retreat!"

The pirates at the side immediately came to their senses and scattered, looking at the big rocks climbing up.

Fleeing for their lives naturally could not be done in a swarm, especially when they were bitten by the enemy's tail.

No matter how fast people ran, they could not outrun bullets. Leaving their backs to the enemy was basically no different from leaving their lives to the enemy.

Therefore, the pirates could only cross cover and gradually retreat. This was the safest way to retreat.

However, the enemy's morale was high, and they were in hot pursuit. It was impossible for them to shake off the enemy with this method of cross-retreat. Someone had to stay behind to cover the rear, and only then would the others have a chance to escape.

There were bound to be deaths in war, and a portion of those who went on the battlefield would always be sacrificed.

Faraday had the courage to cut off a soldier's wrist, and the pirates were also able to accept the operation of a gecko cutting off its tail.

But the question was, who would be the one to cut off the tail?

Even the regular armies of many countries might not be willing to obey such an order, let alone an organization like the Pirates, who gathered together to make money.

Therefore, the pirates in these villages could only pull each other back. If anyone dared to escape alone, they would be shot to death by their own people without waiting for the enemy to catch up.

This was how they ran all the way here.

The pirates under Faraday didn't need to command. They climbed onto the surrounding reefs, found suitable shooting and hidden positions, and then began to counterattack the enemy.

In fact, the individual combat strength of the pirates wasn't too bad. At least they had more actual combat experience than many armies, and their courage was also much greater on the battlefield.

They knew that they should first stealthily poke their heads out from behind the reef to observe the movements of the enemy, and then find the target they should shoot at and the route they should seal. Only then did they unhurriedly raise their guns and fire a few shots.

The Pirates' marksmanship wasn't too bad. At the very least, under such circumstances, they wouldn't casually waste their bullets. They wouldn't randomly fire a whole shuttle of bullets.

Soldiers who could do such a thing usually felt that the burden on their bodies was too heavy. That was why they wanted to exhaust their bullets as much as possible.

This was usually because their side had the advantage. Their logistics were strong and their supplies were sufficient. They only needed to attack and did not need to defend.

The pirates did not enjoy the treatment of a large country's logistics. Naturally, they would not waste their ammunition.

There were only three types of situations where they fired: suppression, intimidation, and emergency situations where they engaged in close combat.

After these pirates laid on the reef, they began to fire intermittently. They even moved a few steps from time to time to change their shooting position.

Although the firing frequency wasn't high, it still slightly suppressed the enemy, immediately slowing down the enemy's attack.

Although General Abu's army was strong, they did not have much of an advantage in terms of light infantry.

In essence, his army was still a group of pirates. It was just that their equipment was slightly better, and their training was slightly more.

Being slightly better meant that there were a few more sniper rifles and light machine guns in the team.

The other soldiers still had one akka each.

Perhaps their Akka was a little newer, and the quality was a little better, including the quality of the bullets.

Speaking of this, it was necessary to spread some basic knowledge.

Although Akka was famous around the world and was very popular in many poor countries, in fact, the manufacturers had long been different, and the quality was also different.

Of course, the technology of this kind of gun was already mature, and there were not too many obstacles in production. The Akka that was produced basically did not have to worry too much about the quality problem, and under normal circumstances, it would not affect normal use.

The thing that was truly problematic was the bullets.

The eastern country once had a history of over a hundred years of decline. At that time, they encountered foreign invaders, and even the ability to produce weapons was almost non-existent.

Weapons were still alright. After all, they were not the things that had the most wear and tear. However, the consumption of ammunition was an astronomical figure.

Hence, there was something called a reload bullet. It was to pick up the shell that had been shot and reload it with the primer of the Gunpowder Bullet.

The production process was still relatively primitive. It was basically manual work. It was completely dependent on one's personal skills and proficiency.

Therefore, it was common to see bullets jammed, unable to fire, and even hand grenades with rotten eggs in such historical movies and TV shows..

If such a situation were to be seen in modern movies and TV shows, it would definitely be a comedy scene.

However, it was not uncommon in that era.

In fact, even in modern times, many backward countries did not have the ability to produce ammunition. The bullets they produced were really not reliable.

Not to mention the reloaded bullets, even if the original ones were fresh, they had to consider whether the manufacturers were reliable.

After all, this was a fatal thing. Once the bullets jammed, it could be a life.

However, the truth was that many bullets were not reliable. Those inexplicable manufacturers did not care about these occasional quality problems.

Who Didn't have a defective product in their production line?

Therefore, for a powerful warlord force like general Abu, the bullets they used were basically all from the stock of the Russian state.

As long as they weren't expired, they were definitely more reliable than some random bullets.

On the other hand, for the pirates like Faraday, the source of their weapons was somewhat unreliable.

Not only were they expensive, but the quality was also unreliable.

After less than two minutes, Yu Tian saw a swearing pirate lying behind the reef and withdrawing his bullets.

After such a delay, the enemy had at least one or two more firepower points, which in turn suppressed their own side. They even took the opportunity to push forward a few reefs.

In addition, one side attacked aggressively while the other side fled in a panic. This advantage and disadvantage would only become greater and greater.

In the end, there might even be a situation where they would flee.

This was a battlefield. Although it was only a very small battlefield, to many people, it was a very complicated thing.

Although Yu Tian was not familiar with the battlefield, he had a lot of strange knowledge.

With a little thought, he understood Faraday's current situation.

If this situation continued, Faraday wouldn't even be able to get close to his ship, let alone board it.

When they reached the side of the ship, even the ship would be blown up by the enemy.

Although general Abu didn't seem to use rpgs, Yu Tian believed that they must have brought a lot of them.

They were just waiting for the time when they needed to use them..

Chapter 925 – Chapter 924, Terms Of Trade

Yu Tian was only here to borrow the ship. He didn't have to care about Faraday's group of pirates.

But looking at the situation now, it was impossible for Faraday to hand over the ship to him. He wouldn't even tell him where the ship was hidden.

These ships were the Pirates'last hope of escape. Even if Yu Tian threatened Faraday with his life, it would be useless.

"Alright Faraday, I know you're in trouble now. You're not in the mood to discuss the matter of borrowing a ship with me!"

Yu Tian still hooked his arm around Faraday's shoulder and did not let him leave.

Faraday was helpless, but he did not dare to do anything to a strange expert like him, he could only say, "Honorable Oriental man, there's no need to mention the matter of borrowing a ship. Do you have anything else? "I still have a war to fight here. If you don't have anything else, Don't disturb me. "My brothers are still waiting for me to command the battle situation. In the future, if there's a chance, I'll invite you to visit our ship."

"Alright, looks like you've indeed encountered some problems that you can't solve! "

Yu Tian scratched his head. "However, if I can help you guys solve these enemies, can you find me two ships here?"

"What are you talking about? You want to help us deal with the enemies? Are you sure you can kill General Abu's army? Are you only one person? Are you kidding me?"

Faraday was in disbelief. He could not help but look around. There was nothing strange in the distance.

Yu Tian was alone. He did not bring his army. He did not even bring his men who attacked the pirate village.

Faraday was initially pleasantly surprised. However, when he saw the commotion around him, he was immediately disappointed.

He thought that Yu Tian had brought an army with him. However, there was nothing around him now.

"Yes, I am alone!"

Yu Tian patted Faraday's shoulder. He still had a relaxed smile on his face.

"What's wrong with being alone? Do you still doubt my strength?"

As he said that., Yu Tian stretched out his hand and drew a circle around him. "Even if I'm alone, I can wipe out all of you. Do you know what it means to catch the head of the enemy first? Do you know what it means to take the head of an enemy general in an army? I can catch that General Abu, just like I caught you this morning. "

Faraday was stunned.

Yu Tian's words sounded very reliable. Since he could capture Faraday, he could naturally capture General Abu.

This was a very reasonable matter.

"Ha, my dear Easterner, as long as you can capture General Abu, or make General Abu's army retreat, lending you a few ships is definitely a small problem! "

Faraday was dancing with excitement. "I have a ship over there, and my neighbors have a few ships. I can guarantee that you can choose any ship you want, including the sailors on the ship."

Yu Tian was amused. Why would such a broken ship need sailors? Was he worried that he wouldn't return the ship if he borrowed it?

However, these were all small matters. Yu Tian borrowed the ship mainly for the satellite phone. Next, he planned to find a safe and peaceful country nearby, sneak in, and then transfer back home.

Or he could go to the high seas and wait for Uncle Long to send someone to pick him up.

After this, it would be useless for him to take these broken ships.

Was it possible that he, a mysterious king, needed to scam and abduct someone else's broken ship?

Yu Tian sighed, he gently patted Faraday's shoulder. "Poverty limits your imagination! but it doesn't matter. In short, our deal is this: I will help you solve the problem of these pursuers, and you will lend me the ship for a few days! Yes, including the sailors on the ship, as well as you captains, lend me a few days. "

"No problem, as long as you!"

Faraday was about to pat his chest and make a promise, but Yu Tian had already left him behind and ran back.

"UH! "

Faraday was stunned for a moment. "Are the Easterners in a hurry? They should be able to solve the problem before lunch, right? That way, we can go back to the village and have a good meal!"

Actually, it was not difficult to solve this army.

Capturing the leader first was a strategy that was well-known to women and children in the Easterners.

However, to many foreigners, this strategy was still a very strategic strategy.

It was not until modern times that they came up with the term "Decapitation tactic. ".

These foreigners were complacent because of this. They thought that they had grasped the secrets of war, but they did not know that these things had long been played by the ancients.

Now, what Yu Tian wanted to do was to behead them.

He couldn't go against an entire army, but against general Abu and the guards around him, it wouldn't be a problem.

According to his observation on the high ground on the cliff, General Abu didn't seem to be in this part of the coast.

There were indeed a few commanders on the coast, but Yu Tian was sure that general Abu wasn't among them.

General Abu's figure was very easy to recognize. He was an extremely large fatty.

Just now, when this army was still slaughtering in the village, Yu Tian had already met general Abu.

He was standing next to the tank, constantly giving orders to his subordinates.

Without much reference, Yu Tian could determine his identity.

The fattest person in the army was definitely the leader of the entire army.

This deduction was more than 90% correct.

Since general Abu had not stepped onto the coast, he must have stayed close to the coast with his tanks and armored vehicles.

As the leader of the army, he could not be too far away from his main force.

The F * Ck of the army was basically not organized and disciplined. Once the leader was not around, his subordinates would definitely start to wander off, and even cause trouble.

As long as there was such a condition, the boss would definitely personally keep an eye on the underlings' work.

Yu Tian returned to the cliff and carefully observed again.

Finally, he found the figure of General Abu at the back of the army.

The burly figure was far away from the battlefield, using binoculars to observe the situation on the battlefield.

There were also guards beside him, helping him carry the walkie-talkie and letting him command his army remotely at any time.

Although Yu Tian's eyesight was very good, it took him half a day to confirm general Abu's identity.

Then, he began to think about how to bypass the battlefield and get close to General Abu's position.

Driving the military vehicle and going around a large circle to get close to general Abu from the rear of this army, this should be the safest and most convenient route.

Although he needed to take a detour, this place was not far from the battlefield, and the area affected by the battlefield was not particularly large. Taking a detour actually did not take much time.

Yu Tian quickly descended from the cliff and rushed toward his military vehicle..

Chapter 926 – Chapter 925, Innocent Passers-By

Yu Tian began to take a detour. He did not feel very tired driving a detour, nor did it take him much time.

He circled around the battlefield from a distance, drew a large arc, and circled back to the battlefield.

Fortunately, the terrain here was basically flat. There were no fixed roads, so he could walk freely in all directions.

Although many places were not very convenient for vehicles to pass through, there were always places nearby that could be bypassed.

Very quickly, he completed this circle and returned to the vicinity of the battlefield.

From Afar, he could see the awe-inspiring tank. There were two soldiers sitting on top of the tank.

Behind the tank, he could vaguely see a long convoy. However, from Yu Tian's angle, he could only see some of the roofs of the convoy.

The position of the tank was slightly higher, and the line of sight was also better. It was equivalent to being in an alert position.

The two soldiers on top should be general Abu's guards. At this time, they were in charge of the lookout, which was equivalent to a sentry post.

Yu Tian hurriedly turned the car around and drove the military vehicle to a relatively low-lying area nearby, avoiding the sentry on the tank.

Then, he decided to get off the car and walk.

Driving the military vehicle would save time and effort, but it would be too ostentatious.

Moreover, this military vehicle was originally general Abu's property. The moment the soldiers saw this military vehicle, they would immediately judge him as an enemy who had stolen the military vehicle.

In that case, they might just be shooting at him with machine guns, unless Yu

Tian was an immortal who had a chance of survival.

Therefore, Yu Tian could only walk.

It was much better to walk, at least he looked like a harmless passerby.

Of course, in this godforsaken place, there might not be such creatures as passersby at all.

Those who lived here were either pirates or another group of pirates. There would not be an innocent person.

However, an unarmed person walking alone on the road would not be shot to death for no reason.

Yu Tian stuffed the big revolver on his back, so he looked much more innocent.

He felt that even if general Abu's men liked to kill passersby for no reason, they would not shoot him with machine guns. It would be a waste.

If he only used Aya, he still had enough time to react and escape in time.

He slowly walked towards the direction of the tank and carefully observed the movements of the two sentries.

If the two sentries really carried Aya towards him, then it would be better for him to turn around and run for his life.

This terrain was actually very unsuitable for his movements. There were basically no obstructions nearby that could be concealed. If he wanted to get close to the other party, he would inevitably be exposed to the other party's line of sight.

However, this also had a benefit. General Abu did not need to set up a defensive force here, and he did not need to worry that someone would launch a surprise attack from this direction.

The sentries on the tank soon saw Yu Tian, and they immediately stood up from the top of the tank out of curiosity.

However, Yu Tian was still a few hundred meters away from them, so they didn't take any measures. They just shouted behind them and reported to General Abu.

After that, a few people slowly walked out from behind the tank. The One walking in front was general Abu, the extra-large fatty.

Yu Tian maintained his unhurried pace and slowly approached General Abu.

General Abu Glanced at him a few times and walked back to the tank. He didn't seem to be interested in him.

But after a while, a few more soldiers walked out from behind the tank. They seemed to have come specially to wait for Yu Tian.

Yu Tian guessed in his heart that general Abu must have given an order: bring that Kid to me.

Or something similar.

General Abu might not take a passerby seriously, but he definitely wouldn't let him off so easily.

There was a battle going on here, and someone dared to approach. This was a very strange thing in itself. General Abu had to capture them to ask about the situation.

Therefore, before he met General Abu, Yu Tian shouldn't be killed by those soldiers.

This time, it was a sure thing.

Yu Tian let out a sigh of relief, and a faint smile appeared on his face.

He dared to put the mysterious king close to him? He simply did not know how to write the word 'death'.

Yu Tian was very confident in dealing with these ordinary people, or in other words, ordinary fighting experts and grandmasters.

Just like that, he smiled and easily walked to the front of the tank.

A few soldiers surrounded him with Akka rifles.

"Who are you?"

The soldiers saw Yu Tian's eastern face, so they used the international language to ask him questions.

The people of Damadi had been colonized for many years, so the people of Damadi had generally mastered the international language.

Other than their strange accents, they had no problems communicating.

Yu Tian still remembered a joke. It said that when a leader of a unit went abroad for an inspection, he would say with envy that all foreigners could speak foreign languages. It was so sharp.

This joke was actually very old-fashioned. It was not funny at all.

Its meaning was nothing more than that foreigners should speak a foreign language.

Due to colonial and historical reasons, many countries were more popularized with the international language. This was not worthy of envy. It also did not represent how high their educational level was.

For example, in a place as poor as Damadi, everyone could speak the international language, but there were very few who could read.

This was different from the education level of the eastern countries.

Yu Tian also knew the international language, which was a side effect of education. He originally thought that he would never be able to use it in this lifetime, but in the end, he still had the opportunity to use it.

He smiled at the soldiers and said, "Hello, everyone, I'm here to look for general Abu. "

"Stop, don't move!"

The soldiers were not intimidated by Yu Tian's smiling expression. Some of them continued to maintain their vigilance, while others lowered their guns and began to search him.

As guards, their operations were basically passable.

Regardless of Yu Tian's identity, they first had to eliminate the potential danger on Yu Tian's body.

Very quickly, the soldiers took the big revolver from Yu Tian's body.

This was expected, and Yu Tian did not panic at all.

In this godforsaken place, who would not carry some weapons on their horses?

The soldier who searched him wasn't too surprised. He just casually put the large revolver on his belt.

"Who are you? Why are you looking for general Abu?"

Someone among the soldiers continued to interrogate him.

Yu Tian looked at the soldier who questioned him. This person was slightly older and seemed to be the leader of these soldiers. He might be a sergeant or a lieutenant.

However, Yu Tian had no way to determine his identity from his appearance.

These damn pirate troops did not even have anything that could prove their military rank. Other than high-ranking officers, all the soldiers wore the same attire: simple green military uniforms..

Chapter 927 – Chapter 926, The Speed Of The Surprise Attack

Just by looking at the uniforms of the soldiers, one could already understand how poor this godforsaken place was.

The more poor and chaotic a place was, the more militaristic it was.

The warlord forces were most willing to spend money on their own troops.

That was their capital to settle down and survive.

However, militaristic warfare did not mean that it was a waste.

General Abu was not wealthy. The investment of the army was a bottomless pit. If he did not save a little, he could go bankrupt at any time.

Therefore, in terms of military uniforms, general Abu would not waste a single cent.

It was enough to have a military uniform to wear. What Bicycle, watch, military rank epaulets..

Yu Tian could understand.

He no longer paid attention to the military uniforms of these soldiers. He continued to smile and said, "It is obvious that I am a foreigner. If a foreigner comes to your general, they will definitely want to discuss business."

The soldiers let out a sigh of relief.

That's right, foreigners could not possibly come to Tamar to seize territory, and no foreigner would be interested in this barren land.

Even because of mutual constraints, foreigners could not even set up a port or base in Tamar.

There were quite a number of foreigners who came to discuss business.

The main business here in Tamar was robbery and kidnapping. These pirates and warlords needed some intermediaries to help them collect ransoms and negotiate, to help them get the ransoms smoothly.

Yu Tian was alone now. His only pistol had been seized, so he was basically no longer a threat.

The head soldier felt that it was time to bring him to general Abu.

Of course, the most basic precautions still had to be taken.

"Come with us."

The head soldier took a step back and waved at Yu Tian with Aya.

The other soldiers also spread out a little, forming a posture of escorting Yu Tian.

Yu Tian glanced at these soldiers without batting an eyelid.

The muzzles of these soldiers were basically pointed towards the ground, and their fingers were all away from the trigger. This was to prevent the muzzles from going off and killing this business partner of his.

It seemed that the soldiers had already let down their guard.

Yu Tian did not bat an eyelid and slowly walked forward.

After going around to the back of the tank, one could see a row of military vehicles parked below, as well as the battlefield on the distant coast.

General Abu was not standing behind the tank. The soldiers carried Yu Tian forward.

Behind the tank was an armored vehicle. The front of the vehicle was facing the tank, and the rear of the vehicle was facing the coastline.

When he went around to the back of the armored vehicle, Yu Tian realized that general Abu was sitting in the armored vehicle.

The trunk of the armored vehicle had been modified to look like an office. There was a sofa, a liquor cabinet, and general Abu.

General Abu sat on the sofa facing the door. Beside him was a wine cabinet and a small bar counter.

Near the door of the vehicle were two small sofas. One on the left and one on the right. They could barely fit four people.

The armored vehicle was originally used to transport soldiers. After being modified by General Abu, it could only be used as a command vehicle.

It was not a problem to use it as a command vehicle, but this kind of army that was close to the primitive state did not really need a high-tech command vehicle.

General Abu had a walkie-talkie with him and a loudspeaker, so he basically solved all the command problems.

Of course, as the warlord leader, General Abu's territory wasn't small, and he definitely had more than one army.

He had at least one army to defend his base.

Therefore, General Abu's office had a satellite phone.

Yu Tianyi was delighted. This was truly a waste of time.

After searching for so long, he finally found it here.

This was also good. He didn't need to rush to find Faraday to ask for the boat for the time being.

The soldiers reported the situation to general Abu in the local dialect. Then, general Abu sat in the armored car and asked Yu Tianyi in a pompous manner.

"Oriental Man, what business do you want to talk to me about? What identity did you bring here?"

"My identity! "

Yu Tian pondered for a moment and then slowly said, "Have you heard of the East Dragon Company?"

"East Dragon Company? What East Dragon Company? I have never heard of this name. "

"It seems that your level is still too low. Well, then, you should have heard of the ancient name demon snake, right?"

"Magic snake? You Mean Magic Snake? Hahaha! "

General Abu laughed loudly. "Of course I've heard of magic snake, but this company has long ceased to exist. "You still want to use magic snake as a signboard? "Before you become a swindler, you should do your homework properly and understand the general situation of the world. Don't casually pull a tiger skin and use it as your banner! forget it, I have no interest in communicating with swindlers like you. "

General Abu waved his hand and ordered the soldiers outside the door, "Drag him down and kill him! Oh No, save a bullet and slit his throat."

"General Abu, you really are!"

Yu Tian smiled bitterly and sighed again. Then he suddenly said, "Ignorant!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Yu Tian jumped up and rammed straight into the armored car.

"F * ck!"

The surrounding soldiers only had time to curse before they watched Yu Tian fly into the car with an afterimage.

This was really a day-to-day defense and night-to-night defense. House thieves! No, it was..

Forget it.

In short, these soldiers could only raise their guns one after another and surround the armored car.

However, their speed was too slow. By the time they surrounded the car door and took a closer look, Yu Tian had already sat on the sofa that belonged to General Abu.

General Abu was sitting on the floor in front of the sofa stupidly. He did not know what had happened at that moment.

Yu Tian sat on the sofa and lowered his body slightly to hide behind General Abu.

General Abu's tall and sturdy body had now become his best cover.

The soldiers outside did not dare to shoot at all. Even if Yu Tian did not hide behind general Abu, they did not dare to shoot casually.

This was an armored vehicle. The bullets of the AKKA rifle could not penetrate the body of the vehicle.

If they fired at the inside of the vehicle, all the bullets would become Ricochet.

In the narrow environment of the vehicle, the danger of Ricochet was magnified countless times.

As long as someone fired, as long as one bullet did not hit Yu Tian, general Abu, who was also in the vehicle, was basically dead.

The soldiers looked at each other, not knowing what to do.

As guards, it was a capital crime to let their boss be held hostage.

If general Abu survived, he would definitely let them taste the whip.

That sour feeling..

Or! why not kill General Abu and the Orientals Now?

The soldiers looked at each other.

In fact, they knew very well that no one had the guts.

General Abu could not die..

Chapter 928 – Chapter 927, Deterrence

They couldn't let General Abu die. If general Abu died, their fate would definitely be worse.

General Abu was their boss, but below the boss, there were the second and third brothers..

If general Abu died, these second and third brothers would definitely kill these guards and Bury General Abu in order to express their loyalty and fight for the position of successor.

Killing General Abu was definitely a ridiculous idea.

The soldiers didn't even dare to think about it for too long, afraid that they would accidentally blurt it out.

Yu Tian patted general Abu's head and shouted at the soldiers outside the door, "Hey! Don't just stand there in a daze. Hurry up and get away from me. Don't stand in front of the door and be an eyesore!"

"Get out of the car and stay away from our general Abu, or we will shoot you to death!"

Although the soldiers were panicking, they still refused to admit it.

They hoped to use the traditional tricks to scare the enemy so that the enemy would surrender and take the initiative to become a hostage.

Unfortunately, this trick didn't work on Yu Tian.

Yu Tian grabbed general Abu's fat neck and said fiercely, "Come on, shoot him.

If you don't dare to shoot General Abu to death, I can help you break his neck. "

"Let's talk it out. Don't hurt General Abu! "

"You Devil! "

"You're a liar. You said you were here to discuss business!"

"I can't trust the Easterners anymore. Easterners are all liars! "

Yu Tian couldn't help but laugh when he heard the soldiers cursing outside the door.

He felt that he was simply bullying these black pirates in terms of intelligence.

Oh, no, this was an army. At least on the surface, it was still an army.

He sighed and patted general Abu's head again. "Don't say such nonsense. Get Out of my way, or else!"

Yu Tian casually slapped the wine cabinet on the side. The sturdy solid wood wine cabinet was immediately shattered into pieces. Wood fragments flew all over the ground, and the entire wine cabinet collapsed.

General Abu immediately screamed, "Ah, my wine cabinet! Oh No, it's my thigh!

Many of the splashing wood fragments pierced into general Abu's leg.

In fact, general Abu didn't feel much pain. His fat body had basically blocked the pain nerves on the surface.

The wine cabinet was smashed into pieces by Yu Tian. This was what made him feel the most heartache.

Yu Tian impatiently gave him a slap on the face.

"F * ck! If you continue to talk nonsense, do you believe that I will slap your brain out?"

After the demonstration of smashing the wine cabinet, everyone believed that Yu Tian had the ability to easily slap general Abu's brain out.

General Abu immediately stopped howling and shouted at the soldiers outside the door, "Get lost quickly, a bunch of trash!"

They were indeed trash. They actually allowed the enemy to sneak into the car under their noses and even took their boss hostage.

General Abu did not hate Yu Tian now, but the group of trash guards outside the door.

After being scolded by General Abu, the soldiers immediately retreated in embarrassment and did not dare to say another word.

Yu Tian laughed out loud, "That's more like it. Why are you acting so unreasonable in front of me? Sit down obediently and discuss business with me properly. Only then will you have the right to live. "

General Abu had finally regained his senses. He wiped the sawdust off his legs and did not seem to care about these small injuries.

Then, he said slowly, "Eastern Guy, you broke my wine cabinet! "

Yu Tian slapped his face again. "It's just a broken liquor cabinet. How much is it worth? You're a general. Don't F * cking talk nonsense with me."

General Abu was stunned for a moment, then, he continued to speak slowly, "Easterner, what exactly do you want to talk to me about? Do you know that you won't have a good ending if you do this. Even if you kill me, you will not be able to escape. My Army will definitely continue to hunt you down and take revenge for me! " slap!

Yu Tian slapped him again. This time, the slap was a little heavier, causing general Abu's huge body to sway to one side.

"Don't talk nonsense with me. The army in your hands can not threaten me. If I was afraid of Your Army, would I still come looking for you? After killing you, I still have a way to escape unscathed."

"Did you come here just to kill me? Then why aren't you taking action?" "Hehehe!"

Yu Tian laughed. This general Abu was a little tougher than he had imagined.

He gently patted general Abu's head and said indifferently, "Don't worry, I'm not here to kill you. Your Head is of no use to me. If I come over! I might really be able to discuss some business with you."

General Abu heaved a sigh of relief. Since Yu Tian did not want his head, then things would be much easier.

Money? Guns? Territory?

If those things were given out, he could still snatch them back.

It did not matter.

General Abu said calmly, "Alright, Oriental man, what exactly do you want? I can pay a reasonable price in exchange for you! can you let go of my neck first? "It's very uncomfortable for you to pinch my soft flesh like this. I can't even talk to you properly. "

Yu Tian laughed again and pushed general Abu to the side.

General Abu slowly turned his body around and faced Yu Tian with his face.

This felt much more normal.

Yu Tian leisurely crossed his legs and casually picked up an unbroken wine bottle from the cabinet next to him.

"Rum? Your Hobby is quite suitable for your identity!"

Yu Tian sighed softly and stretched out a finger to flick the bottle.

The bottle cap flew away just like that.

This small performance shocked General Abu once again. He realized that Yu Tian's powerful force was not something that he could resist.

Yu Tian chuckled. "So, you should understand! if I were still sitting in this carriage, you would definitely not be able to escape alive. "

General Abu wiped his sweat and said, "Alright, Alright. You've won against the Oriental Man. Tell me your request. "

Yu Tian drank a mouthful of wine and said indifferently, "First, order your army to cease fire and retreat. Disengage from those pirates. "

General Abu was silent for a moment before shouting loudly at the soldiers outside.

"Order the army to stop chasing and retreat. Set up a defense around me and maintain vigilance! "

A ceasefire was not a problem. General Abu was sure that the pirates did not have the courage to retaliate and would not cause any damage to his army.

As long as his army stopped firing and retreated, the pirates would thank the heavens and escape without looking back.

These were small matters. As long as his troops were strong, he could come again at any time..

Chapter 929 – Chapter 928, Making A Phone Call

When General Abu gave orders to his subordinates, he used the international language.

This was so that Yu Tian could understand his words and be at ease with him.

Yu Tian smiled slightly. This general Abu could be considered to have some brains.

After all, it was easier to talk to someone with some brains.

However, now was not the time to talk to General Abu.

Yu Tian felt that he should talk to uncle long first and solve the most fundamental problem.

There was a satellite phone on the table. Yu Tian grabbed it casually.

The satellite phone was easy to recognize. Its appearance was very different from an ordinary mobile phone. The most prominent feature was the thick antenna outside.

Yu Tian was immediately in a good mood after he got the satellite phone.

This time, he could at least get through to the phone, right?

After the phone was turned on, it needed to be connected to the satellite. This operation should have been done outdoors because there was an object overhead that would affect the communication signal.

However, it was not necessarily impossible to make a phone call indoors. Moreover, in order to hide in the armored vehicle and use the phone safely, general Abu had also installed an antenna on the roof of the armored vehicle to strengthen the signal, this way, there was no need to worry about the signal problem.

This was also convenient for Yu Tian. If he had to run out to look for the signal even after making a phone call, then he could only take general Abu and run further away to avoid being ambushed by the soldiers.

The call was finally connected. Uncle Long quickly picked up the phone.

"Uncle Long?" "Number One?"

"UH! It's me."

Yu Tian felt a little awkward about the code name number one.

However, Uncle Long was still quite happy. "Where are you now? Why haven't you contacted Us All Night?"

"About this matter! it's really like a child without a mother. It's a long story! "

For a moment, Yu Tian didn't know where to begin.

He looked at general Abu, who was sitting on the ground next to him. General Abu was currently in a daze.

Yu Tian was not sure if general Abu could understand the eastern language, so it was not convenient for him to explain too much to uncle long over the phone.

Therefore, he cut to the chase. "I'm in Damadi now. The coordinates are probably! "

The longitude and latitude were calculated by Ivan. As for whether it was accurate or not, Yu Tian did not know either.

But it did not matter. Uncle long immediately said, "I'll have someone track your signal right away. Is this a satellite phone?"

"Yes. "

"Okay, we'll keep talking. The technical staff will be able to lock onto your location very soon. "

"That's good. Pm not sure if I remembered the coordinates wrongly!"

Yu Tian laughed dryly, then he said, "I'll arrange something for you now! First, send someone to pick us up. There are a lot of people here, probably! uh, in short, the previous means of transportation couldn't fit. Then, our vehicle also had some problems. You have to arrange for someone to come and fix it."

"The vehicle has a problem? Just throw it away. This isn't our problem. Even if we are responsible, we can pay compensation directly."

"It's not a matter of compensation or not. They are fine! Well, isn't it? It's easy to explain if it's damaged, but we can't just throw it away. This kind of crime can be big or small. We have to treat our partners fairly. We can't just use money to solve the problem. "

"I understand, I'll arrange for repairs! how much damage is it exactly?" "Basically! all the electronic components on it are damaged. "

"It's so serious! I understand, electromagnetic pulse! This is my mistake, I didn't consider these details. "

The nuclear explosion last night had become big news, Uncle Long naturally understood what was going on very quickly.

Yu Tian smiled and said, "It's not your fault. I had forgotten to think about this at that time. Who knew that they had such a high-level thing in that lousy place! "

Small-scale nuclear power facilities were high-tech products, so they were naturally worth a lot. Uncle Long had never considered that there would be such a thing on Demon Island.

Yu Tian simply forgot about this matter.

After explaining the current situation to Uncle Long, Yu Tian put the satellite phone back into his pocket.

The next thing he needed to do was to wait for rescue. With the strength of the East Dragon Company, they didn't need to care about these small-time pirates.

However, Yu Tian wasn't in a hurry to evacuate from here. He was already in a retired state, so it didn't matter where he went.

Since he had come to Damaidi, he decided to stay here for a few days.

He thought of it as a trip to see the local customs and broaden his horizons.

He moved a little to the side and gave up half of the big sofa. Then, he patted the sofa and said to General Abu, "Come, General Abu, sit down and talk. Let's talk about business. "

General Abu looked up at Yu Tian and slowly moved his butt onto the sofa.

Fortunately, the sofa was big enough. Although General Abu occupied more than half of the country, he still left enough space for Yu Tian.

After sitting down, General Abu took out a box of cigars from under the cabinet next to him.

Then, the two of them lit a cigar and started to smoke.

The atmosphere seemed to have become harmonious.

The gunshots outside had also subsided. It could be imagined that General Abu's army and the Pirates had gradually separated from each other.

General Abu took two deep puffs of his cigar and took the initiative to ask, "Sir are you an Easterner?"

An Easterner and an Easterner were two completely different words in the international language. An Easterner referred to the eastern country, and an Easterner referred to all the countries in the eastern region.

Easterners were a very honorable status. In fact, general Abu also knew a little about the eastern language.

For example, Lei Hou, who was seven, and so on.

"That's right, I'm an Easterner."

Yu Tian was slightly proud.

General Abu coughed twice and then said, "How should I address you?"

Yu Tian thought for a moment. "You can call me! Boss Yu."

"Then, why is boss Yu looking for me? It Can't be just to save those lowlifes, right.

"Of course not. I saved those pirates mainly because I could still get them to do something for me. Otherwise, I would have killed them long ago."

Yu Tian explained with a smile, "Actually, when you attacked that village, I was also in the next village! robbing. " "Oh, that was you!"

General Abu suddenly understood.

He had just checked the situation in Faraday village. Many pirates had died, and half of the villagers had their necks cut off in their sleep.

However, there were no outsiders 'corpses left in the village.

This result surprised general Abu a little. An organization that could do such a thing was definitely not weak..

Chapter 930 – Chapter 929, Making Friends

Assassinating half of the villagers on their beds was a terrifying ability.

It was not difficult to assassinate a family. To be able to assassinate half of the village meant that Yu Tian had at least one professional team that was good at assassination and infiltration.

This should not be an ordinary special forces unit.

Although general Abu did not have a special forces unit, he had a better understanding of the special forces.

The special forces were indeed more comprehensive, but they might not be able to carry out this kind of assassination. For them, it was much easier to raid the village than to assassinate.

To do this kind of thing, the killer was the most professional.

But, who could have a whole killer army?

Then, there was a gunfight in Faraday's village, and the enemy did not leave any bodies.

This result was a bit of a nightmare. General Abu had never seen such a strong fighting force.

After discovering the details of the battle, General Abu was a bit regretful.

He felt that sending people to chase Yu Tian was a wrong decision.

The military vehicles sent out never returned, and general Abu suspected that they had been ambushed.

Those soldiers might have already died, or they might have been captured. However, he did not pursue this matter anymore. If he did, it would appear that he could not afford to lose.

Wasn't it just a few vehicles and a few soldiers? I, the great general Abu, do not care about this little thing at all!

General Abu pretended to shrug his shoulders indifferently and changed the topic again. "Alright, Boss Yu, your strength has already been recognized by me. Please state your purpose for coming here."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "My purpose for coming here is actually very simple. I just want to make a few friends in F * Ck land!"

"Make friends?"

"That's right, make friends! En, by the way, invest some money in my friends. "

Upon hearing this topic, general Abu's interest was immediately piqued.

F * Ck land was a F * cking place that no businessman would be willing to invest in. There was nothing worth investing in here either.

There were indeed a few mines, but investing in mines was a business with a large investment and a long cycle.

A place like the godforsaken place where warlords fought was not suitable for long-term investment.

Perhaps they had just signed an agreement with this warlord today, and they had paid for the money, equipment, and mines..

But before they could sell the mines for money, the warlord who had signed the agreement might have already been killed.

Sometimes it was killed by the enemy, and sometimes it was killed by his own subordinates.

In any case, the agreement signed previously was invalid, and the investment of those merchants was also confiscated.

It was no problem for them to continue to open the mine. If they paid again and signed the agreement again, this lousy business would become a bottomless pit.

Under such circumstances, it was simply impossible for anyone to consider investing in F * * King horse town. Unless Happy Valley was able to end this chaotic war between warlords, society would be a little more normal and stable.

Therefore, Happy Valley became poorer and poorer. General Abu was also extremely poor.

He wished that he could make his soldiers eat dirt every day to maintain their lives.

When General Abu heard that Yu Tian wanted to invest, he was so excited that his balls hurt.

"What industry does boss Yu want to invest in? How Big Is he going to invest?"

"Industry? No, no, no, Pm not interested in doing business in F * cking hell.

What I want to invest in is not an industry, but an individual. "

"An individual. "

"That's right. For example, if I think highly of you, General Abu, I can invest in you. I can buy weapons and equipment for you, Support Your Army, and let you expand your territory!"

"Then what do you need? If you invest in me, what benefits do you want from

"Benefits? I don't need benefits. As long as you can become stronger, it will be the greatest benefit for me."

"Hahaha, Boss Yu's words! you can actually be more honest. An investment will definitely require a return. This is a very reasonable thing. "If you don't ask for a return, I really don't dare to accept your investment!"

General Abu was not an idiot. Investment was not something that could be taken for free. At least, before one had considerable strength, it was not a wise act to buy the assets of others for free.

In the past, there were some small warlords who liked to do such things. For example, they would take money and not do anything. They would forcefully seize the assets of those mining companies..

These small warlords who did not have the slightest bit of integrity did not have a good ending. They were either assassinated or betrayed by their subordinates, adding a few negative examples to the chaotic legend of Damadan.

Force could indeed conquer capital, but capital could also buy force and eliminate force.

These two things were similar to the relationship between water and fire. Water could extinguish fire, but if the fire was big enough, it could also boil water dry.

Before the power reached a certain level, general Abu did not want to provoke those big assets.

Especially someone like Yu Tian, who had a big mouth and had a considerable amount of armed forces under him.

If Yu Tian was able to negotiate with him and negotiate with him, he would be more at ease.

This was a very strange situation. Yu Tian was clearly alone and surrounded by general Abu's army, but General Abu always felt that he was at a disadvantage and felt threatened.

This had a lot to do with Yu Tian's aura.

General Abu felt that Yu Tian's aura was extraordinary, even though Yu Tian had a dirty and smelly feeling.

"Hahaha!"

Yu Tian laughed and put his hand on general Abu's shoulder again, he said calmly, "General Abu, you don't have to think too much. I really don't plan to get any benefits from you. "What the F * CK is there for investors to be concerned about in this place? "Even if there are some minerals, I have no interest in developing them. There are many places in this world where mining can make money! "

General Abu suddenly became even more curious. "Then what exactly do you want?",

"What I want is not important to you at all. It's even easier than asking you to treat me to a meal. "

"Alright, maybe it's really as you said. The price I paid isn't that high! but what exactly is it? I feel that as partners, we should be honest with each other,

Yu Tian was silent for a moment before he slowly said, "Although it's still too early to discuss this matter, I can still let you know in advance. What I Want! "

Yu Tian used his hand to draw a circle around him. "Perhaps at some point, I will borrow some soldiers from you. "

"Borrow soldiers? That's really a small matter! the most worthless thing in the F * Ck is human lives."

General Abu heaved a sigh of relief, then asked with some doubt, "Could it be that boss Yu has some enemies in the F * ck?"

Yu Tian smiled and said, "No, not the F * Ck. My goal is the Sea of stars! I am a person who wants to maintain world peace.."

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 931 - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 931

Chapter 931 – Chapter 930, The God Of Wealth

Of course, General Abu did not believe in the idea of maintaining world peace. However, if Yu Tian only wanted to borrow troops from him, it was not a difficult thing for him to do.

As long as there was money, there would be a source of troops in the war zone.

He did not care who Yu Tian's enemies were, nor did he care if these enemies were in the war zone.

In any case, if Yu Tian only had a simple request like borrowing troops, he could completely satisfy it. However, he would definitely not interfere in Yu Tian's war.

Especially those powerful opponents, he would definitely not casually provoke them.

In this way, Yu Tian's so-called investment was purely equivalent to giving him money.

As for the small matter of borrowing troops, it was simply not a price to him.

What he was most concerned about now was how much money Yu Tian planned to give him.

Oh, no, he should be asking Yu Tian about the scale of the investment.

"The scale of the investment?"

Yu Tian chuckled a few times. "In the early stages, about 100 million is no problem. If you develop fast enough, this amount of money will also arrive faster. As long as you really have such a need, the next few hundred million, or even a few billion, will not be a problem. "

The safe evacuation of a submarine had already cost 50 million, so the wealthy donglong company naturally didn't care about the initial investment of 100 million.

But for general Abu, this was a huge sum of money.

Although pirates kidnapped and often demanded millions and tens of millions of ransom, such good things didn't always happen.

As the strength of each country's escort grew stronger and stronger, the pirate profession had become more and more difficult to muddle through.

Just like yesterday when Faraday went out to rob, he had just finished his job when he ran into a certain country's coast guard. He had almost been completely wiped out and was buried in the storm.

This was all due to luck. They had finally taken back a batch of hostages.

However, even if they successfully kidnapped the hostages, it still depended on whether the hostages were valuable or not. If they ran into worthless hostages, they would either kill the hostages or just take some money and let them go.

Negotiations were a very long and difficult process for a hostage that could be extorted into millions of dollars.

Therefore, some hostages would be held for a few years because there was no progress in the negotiations over the past few years.

Therefore, the pirate industry basically did not open for three years.

General Abu had to support an entire army. Just by relying on the income from robbery and kidnapping, he could not make ends meet.

Yu Tian asked for 100 million, and he almost went crazy with joy.

How many people could meet such a god of wealth?

General Abu wanted to hug Yu Tian and kiss him.

He said cautiously, "If you tell me about the demon snake now, I will definitely believe that you are not bragging. "

Yu Tian shook his head. "The demon snake is already history. What I want to tell you now is the East Dragon. "If you don't know about the East Dragon, you should go and ask around. This is a more vibrant organization that has stood up from the remains of the magic snake. "

General Abu said, "I will go and find out. Then! Boss Yu, when will your initial investment be received?"

"Give me the account number and I can transfer ten million to you immediately. This is something that can be solved with a phone call. "

Now was not the time to be stingy. Ten million in cash was not a lot. Yu Tian needed to reassure general Abu so that he could gain the basic trust of the cooperation.

General Abu rubbed his hands and said with an embarrassed smile, "Ten million! My team is a little big. Ten million is really not enough. "

Yu Tian said with a smile, "If you can spend this ten million reasonably today,

I can transfer it to your second account immediately. "

General Abu quickly said, "What do you mean by spending it reasonably?"

"It means that you can use the 10 million to buy military equipment, recruit soldiers, and expand your influence, instead of spending it on drinking and going abroad to buy personal assets!"

"Of course I won't do such a stupid thing, abandoning my own army and going abroad to become a rich man?" "That's no different from a tiger whose teeth have been pulled out." "I won't leave my army. I Won't leave the F * Ck. I love this country. I want to bring peace to this country. I want this country to become orderly, prosperous and strong!"

"Alright, I believe that you may have such a lofty ideal. But now, you'd better think about how to strengthen yourself and not be destroyed by other warlords. "

"Uh, as long as I have money, of course I can become stronger. I plan to!"

General Abu was about to brag about his plan when an officer ran to the door of the armored vehicle, he reported loudly, "General Abu, our army has been gathered and we have set up a defensive position around this area."

General Abu waved his hand. "What about our enemies?"

"Of course, those lowlifes don't dare to launch a counterattack against us. They only dare to hide behind those reefs. However! They don't seem to have any plans to escape. They might think that we have given up on attacking. "

"Give up on attacking? Yes, we are going to give up on attacking. On account of Boss Yu, we will let them live today!"

General Abu's face was filled with joy when he thought of Yu Tian's investment. At this time, he could not be bothered to eliminate Faraday's wandering soldiers.

Yu Tian coughed lightly. "General Abu, do you mind if I ask why you attacked these villages?"

General Abu scratched his thick neck. "Actually, it's nothing much. It's just a small business. "A businessman came to me and said that a few of his friends had gotten lost nearby. "He wanted me to help him rescue his friends and gave me three million!"

Then, general Abu patted his chest again. "Of course, money is just a small problem. I, Abu, admire such loyal friends the most, just like your eastern country's Mr. Lei!"

"Mr. Lei? I'm afraid you have some misunderstanding. Mr. Lei's behavior has nothing to do with loyalty. "

"UH, in short, it's people like you, Boss Yu, who are good people! "general abu said awkwardly, "So Pve decided to help him save his friends. Even if they have become corpses, I will find them! "

"And then? Did you find them?"

"Uh, not yet, but someone told me that the villagers nearby recently kidnapped a group of foreigners. The foreigners he described looked basically the same as the people I was looking for. "So I'm sure that these good friends must have been kidnapped by a few nearby villages. After my investigation, the person who kidnapped them is very likely to be Abdullah!"

"So, you attacked his village?"

"Yes, I gave them a chance a few days ago and asked them to hand over the people! "

Chapter 932 – : Chapter 931, Genetic Warriors

General Abu was a little angry. "That thief, Abdullah, doesn't know what's good for him. He actually refused to admit that he kidnapped my good friends. This is really infuriating!"

Yu Tian said helplessly, "Then what happened? After you attacked their village, did you find the hostages?"

General Abu was stunned. "No! The hostages must have been hidden by them. They must have hidden them in other villages or in these caves by the sea. "There are many caves by the sea. I know that they have hidden the boat nearby!"

Yu Tian sighed. "You massacred an entire village just for these few hostages? This is really too barbaric. Haven't you thought of developing them into your army?"

General Abu smiled embarrassedly. "I won't lack an army, just a few villagers! we have always done things like this. Fighting and death are very common. Just like you, Boss Yu! didn't you also massacre half of the village?"

"UH!"

Yu Tian was a little speechless for a moment.

That's right. In order to borrow a phone, he also forcefully killed half of the villagers.

However, he didn't have any other good ideas in that situation. He couldn't bring dozens of people and dozens of guns and then go to Faraday to negotiate, right?

If he did not show his strength, he would not even have the chance to talk.

Of course, when he decided to attack Faraday's village, he did not put the lives of these people in his eyes.

F * ck, the lives of people were not valuable. This concept seemed to have quietly penetrated into his consciousness, so much so that when he did these things, he did not have the slightest compassion for life.

Including the fact that he blew up the entire demon island and even caused a nuclear explosion, these were all very cold-blooded actions.

Since he was such a person, why should he pretend to be compassionate at this time?

Yu Tian sighed. "Alright, you're right. We're not people who live in a peaceful society, and we don't need mercy in battle! However, there's no need to fight anymore. "It's just a few hostages. I'll go ask Faraday and the others. If the hostages are really in their hands, I'll definitely have a way to get them back. "

"That's great. Boss YU is indeed a very capable and powerful person. "

General Abu patted the sofa happily. Then, he took out a small paper bag from under the cabinet and took out a photo from it. He handed it to Yu Tian.

"This is a photo of those good friends. They are all very strong. They are much stronger than US motherfuckers. It's very easy to recognize them. "

Yu Tian took the photo and took a look.

There were five big men in the photo. Three of them were black, and two of them were white.

These people were all abnormally strong. They were much stronger than the people from the gym.

Yu Tian was able to see through these people with a single glance genetic warriors.

Previously, he had met such people on Demon Island. Their muscle structure had already exceeded the limits of normal people. Their entire body shape seemed somewhat abnormal.

As the saying went, an expert would see the door, while an outsider would watch the show.

When ordinary people saw such muscular men, they would only think that they were strong. However, in Yu Tian's eyes, who had seen genetic warriors before, these people's characteristics were too obvious.

When these genetic warriors stood together, a murderous aura emanated from their bodies.

In the eyes of ordinary people, these people only appeared to have a dark and fierce expression on their faces.

However, in Yu Tian's eyes, this kind of gaze and expression was definitely someone who was used to seeing death.

In the eyes of general Abu, who had lived in war all year round, the murderous aura on their bodies seemed very normal.

There were people like this everywhere in the F * Ck land. They were already used to it. They didn't find anything strange about it, nor did they care too much about the details of their temperament.

Yu Tian sighed. Genetic Warriors?

Could it be that the claws of the clone society had also reached the F * Ck land?

He kept the photo and pretended to ask casually, "What kind of business does your businessman friend Do? Why would a friend get lost in this F * Ck land?"

General Abu said, "My businessman friend is in the arms business. As for his friends! I heard that they passed by this place on a boat and had an accident.

They could only dock nearby. I didn't expect that they were kidnapped by those lowlifes.
"

"Oh! Okay, I'll go and ask those villagers. Your Place! Well, give me your account number first. I want to make the first investment in you. "

"No problem, dear boss Yu. You're My Angel!"

With a call back, the transfer operation was completed immediately. Uncle

Long didn 't even ask Yu Tian what he wanted the money for.

General BU also called to check his bank account and was immediately overjoyed.

With the technology of this era, there was basically no delay in bank transfers. Even cross-border transfers could be completed quickly.

A transfer of 10 million easily conquered general Abu.

The current Yu Tian was already general Abu's most honorable guest.

As for the matter of Yu Tian blowing up a few of his military vehicles..

That was nothing. How many worn-out second-hand military vehicles could be worth tens of thousands of dollars?

As for the soldiers who died in battle..

Human lives were even less valuable.

When everything could be measured with money, the power of capital began to be successful.

It could easily destroy a country and destroy the soul of a nation.

Accompanied by General Abu, Yu Tian finally got off the armored vehicle safely and was ready to go to Faraday.

Although Yu Tian had shown his powerful personal force, General Abu was still very worried about his safety.

He was now the father of General Abu's financier, the biggest investor and supporter of General Abu. He was even closer than general Abu's grandfather. General Abu absolutely could not allow any mishaps to happen to Yu Tian.

General Abu very carefully deployed his own guards to accompany Yu Tian.

"You must ensure boss Yu's safety. If boss Yu loses a hair, you don't have to come back. "Also, you have to tell those lowlives that boss Yu is my best friend.

If they dare to be rude to boss Yu, I will definitely pursue them to the end. Even if they escape to the sea, it will be useless. "

It was hard to say whether these words would be able to intimidate Faraday and the others, but the soldiers under general Abu immediately became extremely respectful towards Yu Tian.

Yu Tian felt as if he was a big boss walking into a clubhouse.

Leading a small team of more than ten guards and soldiers, Yu Tian began to move towards the reefs by the shore.

The beach in front of him was a little quiet. The pirates hid within the reefs and did not move at all..

Chapter 933 – Chapter 932, Whereabouts

In the rubble by the beach, Faraday and the others were gathered together to discuss their next move.

Some people suggested that they should take the opportunity to retreat immediately. There were many caves under the nearby cliffs. Their original plan was to hide in these caves.

As long as they entered the caves, they could quickly hide in the depths of the caves or use the special environment of the caves to easily defend themselves.

However, this was not the best method. If general Abu really did not let them go, then they only needed to block the army outside the cave. In a few days, they would starve the Pirates to death.

If they were not forced, they did not want to hide in the cave.

"So, I think we should take advantage of the gap between the ceasefire and send someone over to talk to General Abu!"

"That's right. I think you're quite suitable for negotiation."

"I can't. I'm not eloquent."

"Faraday is eloquent."

"The key is that we have to figure out why general Abu suddenly stopped attacking. Is he planning to stop the war and withdraw his troops, or is he just taking a break?"

"From the looks of it, they don't seem to have any intention of withdrawing their troops. "

"Actually, I think that General Abu is being held hostage! " Faraday hesitated for a moment, and finally voiced his opinion.

Then, he explained Yu Tian's matter to everyone.

The other pirate leaders sneered. They didn't quite believe that Yu Tian would enter the enemy camp alone, and then hold general Abu hostage under the watchful eyes of the heavily guarded guards. This sounded like a plot from a movie.

Faraday was somewhat disdainful of these country bumpkins 'shallow knowledge.

"Do you know what it means to capture the head of the enemy first? Do you know what it means to take the head of an enemy general in the midst of an army? At that time, I pointed more than a dozen guns at that oriental man. With a wave of his hand, he made all of my subordinates lie down!"

Faraday began to tell the other pirate leaders about his personal experience. He felt that the current situation was definitely because Yu Tian had already taken control of General Abu.

He was very confident in Yu Tian's personal strength.

At this moment, the Pirates in charge of guarding suddenly ran over and shouted, "Leader! Someone is coming from the other side! "

"Oh? Someone is coming from the other side? Isn't it an attack?"

The pirate leaders were slightly surprised. They climbed onto the reef one by one, poked their heads out from behind the reef, and secretly looked forward.

On the shore, Yu Tian was swaggering towards them with more than a dozen guards.

More than a dozen people were not considered a lot. This was clearly a gesture that was about to start a negotiation.

The pirates hiding around did not shoot at them. Those with a bit of brains would not stir up trouble at such a time of ceasefire.

Faraday saw Yu Tian's figure from afar and immediately heaved a sigh of relief.

It was now obvious that General Abu's sudden ceasefire and retreat was all thanks to this easterner.

Faraday immediately climbed up from behind the reef and went up to the top of the reef. He happily waved his hand and said, "Easterner! My dear friend, you're finally back. Pve been worried about you!"

Yu Tian did not like the term Easterner. He felt that he should teach Faraday a good lesson later.

For example, he could steal his phone or his boat again.

Soon, Yu Tian arrived in front of Faraday and the others.

These pirate leaders appeared from behind the reef one after another and surrounded them with their underlings.

The guards and pirates were on guard against each other. The guns in their hands couldn't help but be raised.

Yu Tian didn't want a misfire to happen at this time, so he shouted, "Everyone, put your guns away and step back. "

The guards were more obedient. When they heard Yu Tian's words, they immediately took a few steps back and put down their guns.

The pirate leaders did not want to have a conflict, so they also shouted for their men to step back.

After chasing these small fries ten meters away, the atmosphere became much more relaxed.

Faraday could not wait to ask, "Brother from the east, what does general Abu Mean? Is he planning to retreat?"

Yu Tian said indifferently, "Of course. I have already promised you that I will definitely solve the problem of these pursuers. General Abu will not attack you again. "

Faraday and the other pirate leaders could not help but be overjoyed.

"Don't be happy yet. I have something to settle with you guys."

Yu Tian took out the photos of those genetic warriors and displayed them in front of everyone. He asked, "Who has these people?"

The moment Abdullah saw the photos, he immediately wailed, "God damn it, these bastards are really not with me. I haven't even seen them before! "

General Abu had sent people to ask about this matter before, and Abdullah had always said that he did not know anything about it.

However, General Abu did not believe him. Instead, he was certain that this matter was related to him. He turned around and brought his army to look for him.

For the strong, they did not need any reason to suspect the weak. It was the same for those who were wronged.

Because of this matter, the village that Abdullah was in had almost been wiped out. Only a few dozen people had managed to escape.

If not for his quick-witted mind, he would have fled the moment he saw General Abu's army. The people of his village would have all died.

However, even if he had fallen into such a situation, Abdullah still refused to admit that he had kidnapped these genetic warriors.

Yu Tian felt that he was not lying.

Yu Tian turned his head and looked at the other pirate leaders. These leaders immediately shook their heads, indicating that they had never seen the people in the photo. The kidnapping or disappearance of these people had nothing to do with them.

Only Faraday stared at the photo for a long time, hesitating to speak.

Yu Tian noticed Faraday's strange behavior and immediately said, "Faraday, if you have something to say, just say it. Don't hesitate!"

Faraday hesitated and said, "I. . . Think Pve seen them before."

Yu Tian said solemnly, "Continue."

Faraday said slowly, "Uh, that was a few days ago. That evening, we had just finished work and returned home. We saw a few strangers by the beach! "

"They were very strong, and there were two white people! They were obviously foreigners. You would never see so many strong men gathered together. "

"So, I think we should be able to catch them! ahem, you know, foreigners are very rich. We like to bring foreigners back to the village as guests. "

"But they don't seem to like us. As soon as they see us, they turn around and run away. "

"Then, I started to lead my men to chase after them. After that, they fled into the cave!"

At this point, Faraday seemed to have some regrets. He spread his hands and said, "I really just want to invite them back as guests.."

Chapter 934 – : Chapter 933: Go See General Abu

The people of Damadi were very enthusiastic, especially foreigners.

When they saw foreigners, they wanted to take them home as guests, and they were so enthusiastic that they wouldn't let anyone leave.

Faraday was the same. He was very dedicated in entertaining guests.

It was clearly time to get off work and was about to go home, but when he saw a few foreigners on the way, he immediately decided to start working overtime.

When he said this, it was completely justified.

Yu Tian did not have the time to condemn their F * cking hobby. He asked, "And then, they hid in the cave?"

Faraday scratched his head. "It should be."

"What do you mean it should be?"

"Anyway, they haven't come out since they entered the cave. I even sent people to guard the cave for two days, but I haven't seen them come out. "Therefore, I feel that they should still be in the cave, but there is a high possibility that they are already dead!"

"Dead? is the cave here very dangerous?"

Yu Tian felt somewhat regretful. A dead genetic warrior wouldn't have much value anymore. He wasn't interested in genetic technology, nor would he study the corpses of genetic warriors.

Faraday said, "In the cave! It's fine. The main reason is that some of the caves are too complicated. If we go too deep and get lost! We will definitely starve to death in there."

Yu Tian had a headache. "Didn't you send someone to chase them into the caves?' ,

"Yes, we did. We went in at that time, but we couldn't catch up with them. Then, we couldn't find them."

"Are you locals not familiar with these caves?"

"It's alright. If we didn't go too deep, we would probably be familiar with the route. However, there are many forks in the caves. It's very difficult to find a few people hiding in there! "

Faraday thought for a while and said, "If we want to thoroughly search those caves, Pm afraid we won't be able to use a few hundred people here. There are too many forks in there!"

"Alright, I got it."

Yu Tian stepped forward and hooked his arm around Faraday's shoulder. "Let's go and discuss with general Abu about how to arrange the search and rescue. "

Faraday was shocked. "You want me to go and see General Abu Now?"

Yu Tian teased, "Yeah, why? Are you worried that General Abu Will Shoot

Faraday said righteously, "Of course Pm worried. We were still fighting just now. Now that I, as the boss, have taken the initiative to send myself to his doorstep, what if he suddenly decides to behead me? "Then wouldn't my brothers be leaderless and be at his mercy?"

"You're not the only boss on your side. What's the use of killing you alone?

would it affect the battle situation? If general Abu wanted to kill you, he wouldn't have stopped firing just now. "

Yu Tian was helpless against the intelligence and courage of these pirates.

If they were to fall on the eastern battlefield, they would only be played around by the military.

If general Abu wanted to kill the leaders of these pirates, it would be too easy. He would directly call for the Pirates to surrender. As long as they could hand over their leader, the other small fries would be able to keep their lives.

Once this plot was out, in less than a minute, Faraday and the others would be shot to death and dumped in front of the corpse formation.

Yu Tian could not be bothered to explain these things to Faraday, he said to Faraday, "Cut the crap. If I wanted to take your life, I would have killed you long ago. There's no need to wait until now! come with me, I can guarantee your safety. If you don't follow me! You'll have to bear the consequences." After saying this, Yu Tian walked back on his own and no longer had any intention of paying attention to Faraday.

Faraday was a little hesitant.

The other pirate leaders beside him became anxious, they immediately urged Faraday, "Hurry up and go over. General Abu wants to see you. Can you still hide? What if he attacks again? Quickly take this opportunity to talk to general Abu."

Faraday said with a bitter face, "When did general Abu say he wants to see

The other leaders said, "Your friend said that he wanted to bring you over. Isn't it just general Abu who wants to see you? Don't worry, go ahead. General Abu has already sent the guards to your friend. Your Friend will definitely guarantee your safety. "

"You guys make it sound so easy. Why aren't you guys going?"

"Your eastern friend didn't ask us to go either. How would we dare to just casually join in the fun?"

"You guys are too shameless. You actually want me to go on an adventure alone! "

Faraday glanced at Yu Tian's back and made up his mind. Then, he immediately followed him.

He felt that what Yu Tian said was right. Whether it was general Abu or Yu Tian, it was not difficult to kill him, and there was no need to play so many tricks.

Moreover, looking at the current situation, the reason General Abu went all out was for those foreigners, and it was not aimed at Faraday.

The most important thing for him now was to cooperate with general Abu to find people. Hiding would be useless.

Thus, he quickly caught up with Yu Tian and smiled apologetically. "Brother Dong Fang, don't go so fast! I'll go with you to see General Abu. I believe in you. You can definitely guarantee my safety."

Yu Tian patted his shoulder and said meaningfully, "As long as you obediently listen to me, you'll definitely live a safe and comfortable life."

Faraday immediately patted his chest and said, "Brother Oriental, don't worry. I will definitely follow your orders. I will definitely help you properly handle the matter of borrowing the ship! "

Although Faraday had already realized that Yu Tian was more powerful than he had imagined, he would not be completely loyal to Yu Tian with just a few words.

This was not only because Yu Tian was not strong enough, but also because these pirates were not willing to submit to others. Otherwise, they would have already submitted to general Abu. This would not have happened.

The pirates preferred to be self-employed. They were free to move freely and were self-sufficient.

They would rather pay a poll tax to general Abu than become an army under General Abu. They would be under General Abu's command and work for general Abu.

In fact, Faraday and the others already had the idea of moving. If general Abu really had any excessive requests, they would immediately take the villagers away from general Abu's territory after this matter was over.

Pirates could just find a small island to hide and live on.

Faraday and the others 'biggest problem was that they lacked enough ships.

It was a very expensive thing to have enough ships, or large enough.

Faraday was letting his imagination run wild as he slowly followed Yu Tian to general Abu's temporary camp.

General Abu had been waiting for a long time. As soon as he saw Yu Tian, he cheerfully welcomed him..

Chapter 935 – Chapter 934: Establish A Search And Rescue Team

General Abu was very concerned about Yu Tian's safety. When he saw the god of wealth return safely, his smile was filled with sincerity.

Then, he saw Faraday who was following behind Yu Tian. After being slightly stunned, his face immediately fell.

"Faraday? You Did This?"

Yu Tian had just said that he was going to help general Abu take the hostages. Now that he had brought Faraday back, wasn't the meaning of this self-evident?

General Abu immediately guessed that the hostage matter was related to Faraday.

Without waiting for Yu Tian to explain the situation, he immediately ordered his subordinates beside him, "Hurry up and Hang Faraday. I want to give him a good thrashing!"

Faraday was instantly frightened. "What did I do? I didn't do anything!"

"Do you think I'll believe your nonsense? There's no point in quibbling! I'll hang you up first and then slowly interrogate you!"

General Abu snorted coldly and urged his subordinates, "Stop dawdling. Hurry up and tie him up!"

The soldiers immediately surrounded him with fierce expressions.

Faraday could only take a step back and call out to Yu Tian for help.

"Brother from the east, my dear brother from the east, you said that you would guarantee my safety! "

Yu Tian was also somewhat helpless. These warlord pirates actually did not follow the rules of the martial arts world. How could they suddenly capture the other party's boss during a negotiation.

He could only take a few steps forward and block Faraday's path. With a straight face, he said, "General Abu, Faraday is my guest now."

General Abu was stunned for a moment. Then, he hesitated and said, "But,

Faraday kidnapped my friends! " "How much are your friends worth?"

"Uh, about that!"

General Abu was even more hesitant. These hostages were only worth three million. Compared to Yu Tian, they were not even worth mentioning.

Of course, he had no reason to offend Yu Tian for this three million.

He could only smile sheepishly and say, "This is not a matter of money. How tacky is it to mention money? We are just friends! ahem, of course, any friend is not as important as boss Yu. Boss Yu is my best friend! Since Faraday is boss Yu's guest, he is also my guest. Ahem, ahem, I just wanted to joke with Faraday just now! "

Yu Tian smiled indifferently and said, "Alright, let's not talk about this nonsense. The reason I called Faraday over is to discuss with you about your missing friends. "

"Missing? "General Abu asked curiously, "What do you mean? How did they disappear?"

Yu Tian sighed and told him about Faraday.

General Abu heard that Faraday had chased those people into the cave and they had not come out. He was confused.

He glared at Faraday fiercely, thinking that he might not be able to get the three million.

Faraday just chuckled and did not think that he had done anything too excessive.

The F * cking pirates were always like this. When they saw foreigners, they were like hunting dogs that had seen their prey. How could they let them go so easily.

They had to chase after them. As for the consequences, who would care. If they had to blame, they could only blame the foreigners. They had to run into the maze-like cave.

Wouldn't it be nice to be captured obediently and then go to the pirate village as a guest?

"Alright, since things have already developed to this state, there's no point in dwelling on the cause and effect. "

Yu Tian clapped his hands to attract the attention of general Abu and Faraday. "What we need to do now is to work together and think of a way to find those missing foreigners. "

General Abu rubbed his big chin, he asked doubtfully, "Boss Yu! are you also interested in participating in this rescue? "Actually, this matter isn't very important to me. If boss Yu has time, you can go to my city to take a look. We can also discuss the following cooperation! "

Finding these foreigners was only a business worth three million yuan. Compared to Yu Tian's investment of hundreds of millions, general Abu didn't think much of it.

If finding those foreigners was a piece of cake, general Abu could have done it while he was at it.

But now that the matter had become so troublesome, general Abu lost interest in continuing.

Originally, he should have extorted Farah for the first sum of money and made him pay for it.

But for Yu Tian's sake, he couldn't care less about such a small amount of money.

He generously put his arm around Yu Tian's shoulder, he smiled and said, "Why don't we go back to Kannima Now? That's my city. I want to hold a Grand Banquet for you, and then I'll take you to take a good look at my territory. "

Yu Tian laughed and said, "There's no need to rush. I definitely want to take a look at your city. However, I still have to look for those missing foreigners.

After all, our eastern country is a country with traditional virtues and qualities. I personally have a very humanitarian spirit. How can I just stand by and do nothing when faced with such an accident?"

General Abu thought to himself, 'I don't believe you.'

However, on the surface, general Abu still gave him a thumbs up. "Boss Yu, you eastern people are very particular! What do you mean by that? Eastern people are all Mr. Lei. "

"UH! "

Yu Tian did not know how to respond.

Culture was something that was difficult to understand even for non-easterners.

He could only not continue this topic, he continued, "As for the plan to rescue these missing people, I have also thought about it. Each of you will send some people to form a search and rescue team to go to the caves where the foreigners went missing and search for their traces! "

"No problem, "general Abu promised. "I will leave a small team behind and let them be in charge of the search and rescue."

Leaving a small team of soldiers in this place was not a big deal, and it did not affect general Abu Much.

If they really found the people, he would be able to earn three million more.

Thinking of this, general Abu cast a glance at Faraday.

Faraday immediately understood and patted his chest, "Boss Yu, don't worry. I will definitely bring my brothers to cooperate with General Abu's Search. "

He also changed the way he addressed Yu Tian. Even general Abu treated Yu Tian as a distinguished guest. How could he still dare to yell at the Eastern Brothers.

Hearing his attitude, Yu Tian smiled slightly, "Very good, but I'm afraid that your small number of people is not enough. The few villages around you all need to send people. No matter what, you need to gather a team of two to three hundred people. "

"UH! "

Faraday's expression became a little awkward..

Chapter 936 – : Chapter 935. There Must Be Rules In Doing Things

Search and rescue work had always been a time-consuming matter, especially in these complicated caves by the sea. If they were to find some reckless people, they might not even be able to find them in half a month.

It was not a problem to let Faraday and the other pirates do some work, but the problem was that the pirates also had to earn money to eat. If most of their manpower was put into this search and rescue work, who would solve the problem of making a living?

If they could not find those foreigners after searching for ten days to half a month, should they continue to search?

Faraday was a little conflicted.

General Abu was very strong. Faraday and the pirates could not refuse Yu Tian's request.

Faraday began to consider whether he should pretend to agree first, and then wait for general Abu's large forces to withdraw before secretly escaping with the villagers and fleeing far away from general Abu's territory.

This was a thought that he had had before. If general Abu made any excessive requests, he would definitely make plans to escape.

However, what made Faraday feel conflicted was that Yu Tian asking the pirates to send people out to participate in the search and rescue work was not particularly excessive.

Although this operation would make the pirates feel a little uncomfortable, it would not cause any serious damage. It was something that could be endured for a while.

This made Faraday not know what to do.

Yu Tian looked at Faraday's constipated expression and guessed what he was thinking. He smiled and said, "Don't worry, I Won't let you do it for free."

Faraday was a little surprised. "Oh? I don't quite understand? What does boss Yu mean by this?"

Yu Tian said, "Although those foreigners were chased into the cave by you, this matter can not be blamed on you. It has nothing to do with your neighbors. "Therefore, if you send people to participate in the search and rescue work, you will definitely get some compensation. "

"Compensation?"Faraday said embarrassedly, "Dear boss Yu, may I ask how much we can get in total?"

Yu Tian cupped his chin and said thoughtfully, "Of course, the compensation can't be too little. After all, a group of guests that you invite back from the sea usually cost a few million!"

Faraday nodded repeatedly when he heard that, and his eyes narrowed with laughter.

Yu Tian said again, "However, if you go and invite them, you'll have to take some risks, and it'll take a long time to negotiate!"

Faraday smiled sheepishly and said, "The negotiation is still alright. Usually, we'll entrust it to the intermediary to negotiate. We can continue working on our own!"

Yu Tian nodded. "Mm, then! the reward of three million should be about right. "

Faraday immediately asked again, "This three million reward, is it only available if we find those foreigners?"

Yu Tian said, "Mm, even if we don't find them, we can't let you work for nothing! I think a million is also necessary. "

Faraday's expression immediately became interesting. "Oh, respected

Easterner, dear boss Yu! What you said is really too reasonable. You Easterners are indeed like the rumors, all of you have the noble character of Mr. Lei. You never bully others. You only know how to convince others with virtue and reason!"

Faraday was so full of flattery that he almost forgot that Yu Tian had killed half of his village just to borrow a cell phone.

Yu Tian interrupted his nonsense with a pained expression. Since you also think that this matter is very reasonable, then go back and discuss with your neighbors now to see how to organize a search and rescue team. "

"Yes, my boss!"

Faraday quickly agreed.

"Go, you guys discuss this matter. If there are any problems, you can bring them over to find me."

Yu Tian waved his hand, and Faraday immediately ran to the beach.

When Faraday gradually walked away..., general Abu said in puzzlement, "Boss Yu is only going to the cave to find a few people. How can he use so much money. "If you want to arrange for these lowlives to do things, you just have to feed them. Why do you need a reward?"

Yu Tian smiled and said, "Of course, the reward is also necessary. As the saying goes, there must be a brave man under the heavy reward. There is a big difference in work efficiency between having a reward and not having a reward. "In addition, I don't need to pay this reward. Don't you still have the reward of three million?"

General Abu said helplessly, "Yes, the reward for finding the person is indeed three million. But that's only after we find the person and deliver him safely. If we can't find the person, then we definitely won't get the reward. "

Yu Tian said indifferently, "It doesn't matter. It's only three million. Even if we really can't find the person, I can still pay this reward. It Won't go to the extent of letting you guys work in vain. "

General Abu hurriedly smiled and said, "That's not necessary. Boss Yu is my best friend. I helped boss Yu to do such a small thing, so how can I talk about the reward?". "And those lowlives! Pve always felt that it's reasonable to let them do some things. At most, I'll just feed them a few meals. There's no need to spend money at all."

Yu Tian laughed lightly and said, "The reward still has to be given! General Abu, you should remember that if you really have any lofty ideals, if you want to become a powerhouse in this piece of land, you must have a set of reasonable rules, and you must also abide by these rules yourself. "Any stable regime has a stable order. It's impossible to use force to coerce others to do things for you. "According to our eastern country's saying, after you hit it with a stick, you have to give it two sweet dates. "Just like here, if you want the camel to walk fast, you have to let it drink enough water."

General Abu laughed awkwardly. "I understand the logic, but now! the conditions are not that good. "

"It doesn't matter. I can create conditions for you.". "This is all about money, but it just so happens that money isn't my problem. "If you really have the ability, I can provide you with enough funds. I can even guarantee that you'll become the President! "

Yu Tian said it lightly, but General Abu's heart immediately became alive.

He patted his chest excitedly and said, "No problem, as long as your investment is big enough, I will definitely conquer the entire F * ck! "

Yu Tian shook his head. "This is not just an investment problem, it is more dependent on your own ability. "If your method is not correct, even if the world's most powerful country used all of its income to support you, your position might not be stable! of course, this is a big problem, we will talk about it slowly later. "The problem we need to solve now is to find these missing foreigners. "

"Okay, Boss Yu, I'll definitely give you my full support on what you want to do."

General Abu readily agreed. Then, he asked in puzzlement, "I just don't understand why boss Yu is so concerned about these missing foreigners.. "

Chapter 937 – Chapter 936, The Person In Charge Of The Rescue Mission

The problem that Yu Tian truly cared about was naturally not the life or death of these genetic warriors. In fact, he didn't even care about their whereabouts.

His target was the person behind this group of genetic warriors, the merchant who had offered a reward of 3,000,000 yuan to General Abu.

According to General Abu, this was an arms dealer.

Naturally, arms dealers could not be compared to ordinary merchants. Although in a place like Ma Di, arms dealers could not be considered a rare thing.

However, for a merchant to be able to control such a business channel, he was definitely not a kind person.

To be able to involve these missing genetic warriors, he was definitely not an ordinary power or organization.

Yu Tian felt that this matter might have something to do with the Clone Society.

His target was not those genetic warriors, but this arms dealer and the power behind the arms dealer.

Yu Tian sighed and said to general abu, "These matters have nothing to do with you guys. You Don't need to pay too much attention to them for now. When I feel that I need to tell you something, I will naturally tell you in detail! "

"Alright."

Although General Abu was a little curious, he didn't ask any more questions.

He now felt that Yu Tian's identity was very unusual. It wasn't as simple as just having money.

The name demon snake was already very well-known in general Abu's heart. He felt that the East Dragon company that Yu Tian was talking about should also be a large international force on the same level.

This was indeed not something that a small warlord like him could be concerned about.

Yu Tian said, "In short, tell that arms dealer what happened here first. "Yes, just tell him the whereabouts of those few people. "There's no need to go into too much detail, much less mention me. Just tell him that these few people were chased into the cave by Faraday. Now, we need to organize rescue teams to go down and look for them. "Then, ask him to provide some material assistance, such as search and rescue equipment, even medical supplies, dry food, and water!"

"Okay, this can be provided."

General Abu was still very good at making conditions.

Yu Tian smiled slightly and said, "These are all trivial matters. The most important thing is that you have to call that arms dealer over, or he has to send someone over to personally participate in and command this rescue operation. "

General Abu pondered for a moment. "This isn't a big problem. Now that I've found the whereabouts of those foreigners, I'm not sure if I can definitely find them from the cave. "I can ask him for a portion of the reward, then reject the rest of the work and let him come over to organize the rescue!"

Speaking up to this point, general Abu's eyes lit up. "If that's the case, I can at least ask for a reward of a million, right? After all, for this matter, I fought a fierce battle, and the losses aren't small."

Yu Tian smiled and said, "That's right. Moreover, you've completed half of this mission. After finding the whereabouts of those people, it's not too much to ask for a reward of a million or so. As for the rest of the work, you don't have the confidence to complete it anyway. Just provide him with the clues and let him do it himself. As for the salary of hiring Faraday and the others to search and rescue, he should also pay for it himself. "In this way, regardless of whether or not we manage to rescue him, your remuneration will not be low. "

Abu said happily, "This method is not bad. Since we have put in the effort, we should definitely be paid. "As for the outcome of the matter, this is not something that we can control. "In a situation like this, his people ran into the cave by themselves. Who can guarantee that they will definitely find them. "We can't ignore my hard work and not pay me just because we didn't find them!" "Exactly. "

Yu Tian patted general Abu?????? on the shoulder. "Then, hurry up and contact that arms dealer. Remember, don't talk too much with him, and don't mention me."

General Abu returned to the armored vehicle cheerfully.

Next, there was another important thing, which was to eat.

General Abu's convoy had brought dry rations. It was a relatively simple thing to just eat.

The pirates were slightly more troublesome. They hurriedly escaped from the village without bringing anything.

Fortunately, the war had stopped now. Everyone could pack up and return to the village first.

There were still many things to do. Besides eating, they had to clean up the battlefield and collect the corpses for the whole day.

Whether it was the pirates or general Abu's army, they all had things to do.

However, these trivial matters were for the small fries. The big shots still had enough time to sit down and slowly discuss their important matters.

This kind of discussion was not troublesome. Under the leadership of General Abu, the several pirate villages quickly agreed on the arrangements for the search and rescue work.

General Abu left a small team with only a dozen or so people, indicating that he valued participation.

They were not the main force of the search and rescue work, nor did they participate in the distribution of rewards.

The remaining pirates gathered a total of 200 people and used them to enter the cave to search for the whereabouts of the missing people. Another 100 people were gathered to support logistics, such as drinking water and eating.

As for the remuneration, it would be distributed according to the proportion of people sent by each family.

In addition, Yu Tian also set a time for their work, which was to search for half a month at most.

If they still couldn't find the person after half a month, everyone would give up on the search and stop wasting time on this matter, delaying the main business.

Then, the search and rescue work wouldn't start right away.

General Abu had already contacted the arms dealer. It would take two days for the other party to send people over.

So, they only needed to make some preparations for the search for the time being. It would take two days for them to officially enter the cave.

After confirming these things, general Abu was ready to return to Kamnima. He wanted to bring the army back to the base to reduce the trouble and consumption of supplies.

General Abu also invited Yu Tian to return to Kanimar, but Yu Tian had his own things to do for the time being, so he only left general Abu's satellite phone.

Faraday and the others began to busy themselves with cleaning up their village, while Yu Tian drove the broken military vehicle back to the beach.

Seeing Yu Tian return in such a grand manner, General Karo and the others were immediately surprised. Yu Tian could only tell them the general story.

"So, now this coast, including this entire area, is completely safe. "Today, we don't have to sleep on the beach, nor do we have to squeeze into that narrow cabin. We'll settle down in their pirate village at night. "

Yu Tian estimated, then he said, "Tonight! at the latest tomorrow morning, our rescue ship will arrive. As for the submarine maintenance ship, it will arrive by tomorrow afternoon at the latest. Everyone just needs to rest in peace.. "

Chapter 938 – Chapter 937, The Banquet

Yu Tian brought the people back to Faraday's village and prepared to rest here at night.

This place, which had just fought during the day, didn't seem too abnormal after Faraday's first round of cleaning up.

The main reason was that these villages were really too poor, and each household basically didn't have much. Whether it was furniture or appliances, pots and pans, bottles and jars.

Everyone fought and fought, but they only broke the walls of some houses.

However, these houses were already tattered, and with a few bullet holes added, they were almost no different from before.

Settling down in the village was not mainly for accommodation. Sleeping in such a tattered house was not much different from sleeping outdoors. Especially in a place with a good climate and environment, sleeping in the open air was more comfortable.

Moreover, this damned place was especially suitable for sleeping in the open air because there were no mosquitoes at night.

Perhaps it was because there was a lack of plants and water nearby, or because this damned place was so poor that even mosquitoes were unwilling to come.

The main purpose of living in the village was to solve the problem of food.

The submarine did not lack food and water supplies. Even if Yu Tian's team had more than a dozen hostages, they could still ensure an adequate supply for a long period of time.

Not to mention the reinforcement ships that would arrive here soon. The supplies they carried would definitely be more abundant.

However, these were not what Yu Tian wanted. Yu Tian just wanted to eat two warm meals.

Those big rebar, vodka, and those hairy cucumbers were not Yu Tian's dishes.

He would rather roast two fish on the beach than eat those dry rations.

Faraday naturally had to do his best to satisfy Yu Tian's request.

Feasting and holding banquets was the glorious tradition of the F * cking pirates. It was also an activity that they were very enthusiastic about.

Before the sky turned dark, dozens of bonfires were lit on the beach. Countless figures began to come and go, preparing for the banquet.

A few leaders of the pirate villages personally came out and brought their villagers to busy themselves, participating in the banquet that hosted Yu Tian and the others.

This was a very grand banquet. Not to mention the food prepared for the banquet, just the fuel and firewood needed to prepare these bonfires was a huge project.

There weren't many plants nearby. The pirates didn't even have enough to build houses, and they still needed to cut and transport them from other places.

To gather the firewood needed for these bonfires, many houses had already been demolished.

Fortunately, many people had died during the day, and many of the houses were now empty.

No one objected to the demolition of these ownerless houses.

The food was naturally prepared by these pirate villages. It was mainly fish, rice, and bread.

Fish was easy to understand. These people who lived by the sea naturally had fish as their main food.

This was called living off the mountain and living off the water.

However, the combination of rice and bread was something that Yu Tian could not understand. This was a completely different food culture.

The bread looked like an antique that had been collected for a long time. It was dry and hard, and it was not much better than those large buses.

However, these people actually put the bread on the fire and roasted it. He did not know what it would taste like when it was roasted.

The rice was also a little strange. It was mixed with all sorts of messy things, including some plants and meat. There were even noodles-like things.

The entire mixture had turned into a black color. No one knew if it was soy sauce or other strange things.

However, it didn't matter. This food was prepared for those low-level pirates. As distinguished guests of the pirate village, Yu Tian and the others naturally had to enjoy higher-grade food.

Very soon, Faraday delivered the high-class food.

Yu Tian was speechless when he saw the high-class food. These damn things were actually packaged food, and they were also very rubbish packaged food. He even saw instant noodles from the eastern countries.

The familiar packaging and color, as well as the logo and words..

Could it be that he came all the way here to eat a feast just to eat some rubbish food that no one in the country ate?

Forget it.

Yu Tianxin thought that it would be better to eat some local specialties, such as roasting two sea fish or something. At the very least, it would be more natural.

For people who lived by the sea, there was still enough seafood.

However, the taste still depended on one's own cooking methods.

The truly good ingredients only required the simplest cooking method and the simplest ingredients.

Yu tianxin only used some salt and used the simplest barbecue method. After this operation, he was still able to eat some authentic food.

Another important food was wine.

Faraday couldn't get any fresh food, but wine could still be used as a packaging product.

The reason why the F * cking pirates could live in poverty was mainly because they loved good wine. The most valuable thing at the banquet was all kinds of famous wine.

There was actually a genuine lafite in this godforsaken place. Moreover, it was a 1982 bottle. If it was paired with a bottle of 1982 sprite, it would definitely be a top-notch enjoyment.

Of course, good wine had its own favorites. For example, general Abu preferred rum. Faraday preferred tequila, vodka, and Erguotou.

There were other pirates who liked Chivas whiskey, brandy, and beer and red wine.

The MOTHERF * cker pirates might be really poor, but they had a large collection of fine wine. They seemed to be very willing to spend their money on fine wine and banquets.

This strange phenomenon seemed a little strange to the Easterners, but it was ultimately just a concept of consumption.

It was just like some black guys who were already poor but had a large collection of branded clothes at home. Every time they went out, they had to dress up beautifully, it was as if this was the only way to show their worth. Compared to these people, eating and drinking was a very reasonable way of life.

The Way of the banquet was more casual, but the gathering areas of the big and small men were still separated.

Other than the few pirate leaders like Faraday, the only people who could surround Yu Tian were general caro, the big guy, Cass, Ivan, and a few others.

After a round of eating and drinking, these people quickly became drunk. Other than Yu Tian, the only ones who could stay awake were the big guy and Cass.

From this result, it could be seen that the alcohol tolerance was also closely related to one's combat ability.

A drunk person would sleep on the beach. Without considering the high tide, it would not be difficult to sleep in this place.

Yu Tian also planned to go to the beach to wash up and then find a random place on the beach to make up for the night. At this time, a white woman came up with a bottle of wine..

Chapter 939 – Chapter 938, Lisa

There were no white people in the pirate village, nor were there any women in Yu Tian's team. There was only one type of white woman who could appear here, and that was the hostages that Yu Tian had saved.

"Hello, Gentlemen! Hello, Mr. Yu."

The white woman first nodded to Cass and the big guy, then solemnly bowed to Yu Tian.

This was a very ancient etiquette, like the court etiquette of the Western countries in the Middle Ages.

It was the kind of female etiquette where she lifted the corner of her skirt and bent her knees to bow.

This kind of etiquette was basically not seen in modern society, and Yu Tian had only seen it in movies.

This made him feel a little strange.

"Hello, Ma'am."

Yu Tian reflexively greeted the Caucasian woman, then looked at the woman carefully.

This woman looked quite beautiful. Although her body was a little dirty, one could see that her clothes were very elegant.

If this was before she was kidnapped, she would definitely be a beauty with elegant makeup.

Unfortunately, she was now a hostage in distress.

Yu Tian could not tell her exact age, but he was sure that she was no longer a young girl. She was probably in her thirties, or even more than thirty years old.

If a woman was good at taking care of herself, then she would be in her thirties, forties, or even fifties. The difference in appearance would not be too big, and it would be difficult to determine her exact age.

The woman sat down on the sand beside Yu Tian and said to Yu Tian with a smile, "Hello, Mr. Yu. My name is Lisa. Thank you very much for saving me."

"Oh, you're welcome. It was just a passing thing."

Yu Tian shook his head indifferently.

Because the pirates here were no longer a threat to them, Yu Tian lent the satellite phones to the hostages when he returned to the seaside. He asked them to contact their families and report that they were safe.

As for how to send the hostages back, this was actually a more troublesome matter.

Although there was an international airport in Damadan, due to the war between warlords, it would take a lot of time to send the hostages on the plane. The various parties involved in the coordination and various procedures were very complicated.

A slightly simpler method would be to put them on a freighter heading to their previous destination.

It would be better to have their families contact a freighter that had passed by recently. It would also be better to have the freighter treat them as people who had encountered a shipwreck and rescue them. This would be much more convenient than setting off in Tamar.

The easiest way would be to put them on a warship or a ship of the Coast Guard.

This was not a troublesome matter for Yu Tian. He was fully capable of mobilizing the warships of some countries.

However, he did not want to go through so much trouble, nor did he want to expose his whereabouts.

Therefore, these hostages could only stay in the pirate village for the time being, waiting for a cargo ship to pass by this area of the sea two days later.

"No matter what, we are very grateful to you. If it weren't for you, we might have to stay in this F * cking place for a long time, enduring all kinds of terrible treatment and environment! "

Lisa was still sincerely thanking him.

Yu Tian laughed, "No need to be so polite. Our eastern country calls this kind of thing fate. You just happened to run into me, and I just happened to save you. It was just a very coincidental thing. "

"Fate? "Lisa suddenly said, "Yes, this is God's will!"

"God? Maybe. He may have arranged a good time for you to meet US after you were kidnapped. But we easterners are not under his control, Haha!"

Yu Tian laughed.

Lisa also laughed. "Yes, I know you easterners don't believe in any religion!

uh, I mean, you don't believe in any religion."

"More or less. We actually believe in any religion and all gods, but! it's hard to explain this to you foreigners. It's a cultural difference."

"I understand a little!"

Lisa chuckled a few times, then she changed the topic. "Actually, I'm very confused now. Why does Mr. Yu get along so well with these pirates. "You only attacked these pirate villages in the morning. Why do you seem to have become very close friends now?"

"Well! it's very simple. There's no problem in this world that money can't solve. I gave them enough money, so of course, everyone can become good friends. "

"Is it just because of the money? Mr. Yu shouldn't be an ordinary person,

Lisa did not quite believe Yu Tian's words.

The pirates in the godforsaken land were vicious and greedy. Rich people were just fat sheep in their eyes, and they could not be honored guests.

Money could not buy peace and respect. Only a strong force could make the enemy be respectful.

Lisa looked at the bonfire not far away. There were Tiger Squad soldiers and a group of strange-looking killers beside them.

This was definitely not something that an ordinary person could have.

Yu Tian laughed and reached out to put his hand on Lisa's shoulder, pulling her into his embrace. "What? Lady Lisa is very interested in me? If that's the case, I don't mind spending the night with you. "

Lisa smiled slightly. "I am indeed very interested in Mr. Yu. If Mr. Yu really has such a thought, I wouldn't mind."

After saying that, Lisa took the opportunity to lie in Yu Tian's arms.

Yu Tian scratched his head. "You look like an experienced woman! What are you trying to do to me?"

"I just want to make friends with Mr. Yu."

"Make friends?"

Yu Tian sighed. "It's not a problem to make friends, but before you make friends, you should first introduce yourself."

Lisa blinked and said softly, "My Name Is Lisa. For the time being! I'm just an ordinary businessman. "

Yu Tian spread his hands. "Look at you. You Don't even want to tell me your identity. How can we make friends?"

"I'm indeed just an ordinary businessman now. In the future! I don't know

yet. "

Lisa was silent for a moment before she said, "Mr. Yu, why don't you leave a contact number? Perhaps the next time we contact each other, I can introduce myself again. "
"No problem, I can leave a email address for you!"

"Email address?"

"Yes, email address. That's the one Pve used the longest. It's not as easy to change as a phone number."

"Alright, I'll contact you through e-mail!"

Lisa took Yu Tian's e-mail address and left gracefully.

Yu Tian held his chin and pondered for a while. He felt that this woman's identity was not simple.

However, Lisa was unwilling to reveal it, and Yu Tian could not get anything out of her.

Yu Tian pondered for a while, but he did not think about Lisa's matter anymore.

There weren't many things in the world that really mattered to him..

Chapter 940 – Chapter 939: Freedom To Go Or Stay

Chapter 940: Chapter 939: freedom to go or stay

The Pirates'banquet lasted until midnight before the crowd gradually dispersed.

There were also some people who slept on the beach. After all, this place was not cold.

The Pirates did not arrange a sentry post. Without the need to take hostages, they felt that there was no need to arrange a sentry post.

However, General Caro arranged for the tiger squad to take turns to keep watch. Although there were no more enemies in this area, it was still necessary to have a sense of safety in the open air.

As for the killers, General Caro had no intention of arranging for them to keep watch at night. It was better to leave this kind of work to the disciplinary forces.

After sleeping until midnight, the rescue ship arrived.

Yu Tian was a little surprised. Originally, after the rescue ship had rushed to the nearby sea area, it would wait until daybreak before disembarking to prevent any accidents from happening in the dark.

However, perhaps because uncle long thought that he was currently in deep trouble, he urged him to hurry up. The rescue ship did not dare to delay any longer and immediately contacted him after arriving at the Damadi Sea area.

After confirming the location, the rescue ship soon discovered the beach that was burning with a bonfire.

Not long after, the two motorboats sailed from the darkness to the beach.

Many people were woken up by the motorboats, especially the killers, who woke up from their sleep with great vigilance.

Yu Tian had already brought people to welcome them.

The two motorboats docked. A middle-aged man jumped down from the motorboat in front of them and walked quickly to Yu Tian.

"Hello, No. 1, No. 55 reporting for duty."

The person who came used the language of the eastern country and raised his hand in a very solemn manner.

This raised-hand salute was somewhat similar to a military salute, but it lacked a solemn and murderous aura. This was also something new that Uncle Long had added after sorting out the demon snake.

Upon hearing the name and code name, Yu Tian knew that this man was an internal member of the Eastern Dragon, and not a temporary hired helper like Ivan.

He was a serious ally.

"You 're welcome. "

Yu Tian was not used to military salutes, so he could only nod in response.

Then, he immediately asked, "What ship did you come on?"

No. 55 said, "A frigate."

Yu Tian was a little surprised. "A warship?"

No. 55 said, "Yes, it's just a warship that has been disarmed and has been registered as a civilian use. It's now a legal fishing ship."

Yu Tian sighed inwardly. This uncle long really knew how to play around. He actually got a military ship.

This thing was obviously not suitable for fishing. Even if the weapon system was disarmed, it was obviously used to cause trouble.

Although the frigate was the smallest among the military ships, it was at least a ship. It was still much larger than those "Boats. "It could easily carry dozens of crew members.

If they hid some weapons on the ship, they could basically do whatever they wanted.

Considering the chaotic situation in the sea area, only a warship of this level dared to approach the coastline so boldly and pick up Yu Tian and the others from here.

However, Yu Tian did not plan to leave now because it was already very late at night. He simply let No. 55 anchor on the sea temporarily and rest for the night.

The next day, when the sky was bright, Yu Tian asked No. 55 and general caro to arrange for the hostages to board the ship.

In addition, there were also the killers brought out from DeviPs Island.

Yu Tian asked Cass to gather them, intending to ask them about their next step.

"Everyone ran from DeviPs Island to hell together. We can be considered to be in the same boat and fought together. "Now that my ship is here, our journey has come to an end for the time being. "You can return to civilization with the ship at any time and return to the place you are familiar with. "Now, I will give you two choices. One is to take the ship home and I will cover the travel expenses. "The other is to work for me in the future and stay with me in Happy Valley for the time being. "

The Assassins were silent.

Yu Tian smiled and said, "If you have any questions, you can ask me directly. We have fought together before, so there's no need to hide your thoughts. "

The assassins looked at each other, as if they wanted to see how the others would choose.

Finally, someone asked, "Dear boss Yu, I want to ask, if we stay, what kind of work will you arrange for us and how much income we can get. "

Yu Tian said, "The specific work! will definitely have to be arranged according to your specialties. As for the salary and income, you will usually have a base salary, and there will be allowances during missions. The pay won't be worse than your previous jobs. "

In fact, the income of ordinary assassins was not high. It was rare for them to be able to carry out a mission that was worth millions.

Moreover, missions with high rewards were very difficult. Usually, it was not something that these lone wolves could handle.

These ordinary assassins usually only took on small businesses. Their targets were basically ordinary people, or ordinary rich people.

After deducting the fees of some intermediaries and the cost of the operation, they could only get tens of thousands, or at most hundreds of thousands.

Moreover, this industry had become increasingly difficult in the past two years, and the business was also becoming less and less. Many assassins could not even receive business for half a year, and could not even open a business.

Therefore, some assassins began to set up stalls, while others went to be the thugs of those gangs. There were also others like them, who were tricked into participating in the deadly killing game on Demon Island.

Now that they heard that Yu Tian intended to provide them with jobs, many assassins were somewhat tempted.

After all, they did not know any other skills other than killing people. Having a powerful boss to hire them for a long period of time was much more stable than having to look for missions everywhere.

Of course, there were also some assassins who had their own life plans and were having a good time.

They wanted to go home and enjoy a free life.

Immediately, an assassin brought them up. "Dear boss Yu, thank you very much for bringing us out of Demon Island. However, now that I have managed to escape with great difficulty, I have lost the courage to continue fighting. "I want to go back to my hometown and open a small tavern! "

"No problem. I'm not a pirate, and I have no intention of kidnapping you. "You can go wherever you want. If you want to go home, you can board the ship today. I promise to send you back to a safe port. If you're short of money, you can get enough cash from the captain. "

"Thank you for your generosity!"

A few assassins bowed one after another. There was even a bearded man who ran up and kissed Yu Tian's instep.

This kind of awkward etiquette made Yu Tian very uncomfortable, but he could still respect the customs of others and accept it without batting an eyelid.

After confirming the assassins who were going to leave, there were still nine remaining assassins.

Of course, their identities in the future could not be called assassins anymore.

Yu Tian asked Cass to form a team with them, just like the tiger team.

The name of the team was similar to the tiger team. It was called the mouse team..

I Have 108 Older Sisters #Chapter 941 - Read I Have 108 Older Sisters Chapter 941

Chapter 941 – Chapter 940, Farewell

After confirming the matter of the mouse squad, Yu Tian sent the killers who were about to leave onto the ship.

At the same time, the hostages also left. When they left, they thanked Yu Tian profusely and left their contact details, hoping that they would have the chance to repay Yu Tian in the future.

Yu Tian didn't mind hearing these words. He felt that he basically didn't have the chance to use these ordinary people.

After sending everyone onto the ship, Yu Tian still needed to move some supplies from the ship, mainly weapons and ammunition.

No. 55 did hide a lot of weapons on the ship, but Yu Tian didn't need many things.

First of all, the Tiger squad needed to replenish some ammunition, as well as grenades, which were easy to carry.

Originally, it was best to use the AKKA rifle in Damadi, because the people here basically used the AKKA rifle, so it was more convenient to replenish ammunition.

However, the members of the Tiger squad were not used to the old-fashioned AKKA rifle. They were not satisfied with its range and accuracy.

Therefore, they could only replenish their ammunition for the time being. As long as they did not encounter a high-intensity battle, the few magazines on their bodies were enough.

Considering that this was general Abu's territory, Yu Tian felt that the possibility of danger and the enemy appearing was not high. Therefore, they did not need to store too many weapons and ammunition.

If he encountered any accidents and used up all his bullets, he could ask these pirates or general Abu for some akas.

In addition, the newly established mouse squad also needed to be equipped with some equipment.

These killers were also not interested in akas, but when necessary, they could make do with it.

Their main demand was handguns, which they could carry around with them.

As for the AKA rifles, they had no interest in carrying them. They were all thrown into the military vehicle that Yu Tian had gotten.

Only one assassin had special requirements, and he also asked for a sniper rifle.

There were assassins who were good at sniping, and this kind of thing was quite common.

The weapon number 55 brought also happened to have a sniper rifle, and there were several different models, which were enough for him to choose a weapon that he was satisfied with.

Finally, there were some communication devices that Yu Tian needed, such as the tablet computer and headset that he wanted.

These were all donglong company's special products, and their performance was much stronger than some civilian products that were purchased on the market.

After settling these matters, number 55 began to set up a ship to evacuate.

Although he did not quite understand why Yu Tian still stayed in a lousy place like Happy Valley, he still carried out Yu Tian's orders according to the rules. Not long after the rescue ship left, the submarine rescue ship also arrived at Damadi.

This was a professional submarine rescue ship, and it was a professional rescue team from the Russian Federation.

After the two sides met, Ivan discovered that the people on this rescue ship were the friends that he had originally planned to call over to help.

Therefore, although the world was very big, the circle was sometimes very small.

Donglong company had a lot of weapons and supplies, as well as some technical support from the Russians. They were considered long-term partners.

Therefore, it was not strange that the rescue ships and submarines came from the same military unit.

The maintenance work of the weapons and equipment in the same national system was naturally very familiar.

The maintenance work went very smoothly. That night, they completed the basic repairs.

After that, Ivan bade farewell to Yu Tian and began to return to the Russian state.

More repair work still needed to be completed after they returned.

After sending the submarine away, Yu Tian's work was done.

Thus, that night, he contacted General Abu and prepared to pull the team into the city to rest for two days.

The next day, when the sky was just beginning to brighten, a few military trucks arrived at the pirate village.

This convoy set off in the middle of the night.

The people of Damadi would not have been so diligent, but Yu Tian was an important guest of general Abu, so general Abu did not dare to waste his time.

Fortunately, the terrain along the road was flat, and nothing happened in the dark.

With the tiger team and the mouse team in the car, the group began to bumpy toward Kandama.

Kannima was not too far away from the pirate village. Without a highway, it took them three to four hours to reach the place.

After arriving at Kannima, Yu Tian was slightly disappointed.

This was a very small city. The residents were at most tens of thousands of people, which was equivalent to a small town in an eastern country.

There were no high-rise buildings here. Almost all the residents were bungalows. The only high-rise buildings here were small villas with two to three floors.

But overall, Kannima was much better than those pirate villages. At least the residents here could live in normal houses.

In addition, there were a few shops in the city that could provide some basic necessities and luxury items that pirates liked, such as cigars and red wine.

Those who could open shops in such a place were not simple people.

General Abu had his own mansion. It was a three-story villa with a large courtyard.

Perhaps it was because the land was not valuable, but almost all the residents of Kannima had their own courtyards.

Although Kannima did not have high-rise buildings and did not have a large population, these courtyards took up a lot of land. It was comparable to the size of a large county in an eastern country.

There were no ordinary residents near General Abu's residence. The neighbors Yu Tian saw along the road were basically all subordinates of General Abu. They were all wearing green military uniforms.

This was for the sake of safety. If the neighbors living around him were not under his control, then it would be very easy to be assassinated.

In addition, General Abu's army was placed in the city, or rather, the soldiers' home was in Kannima.

Other than the soldiers guarding the outskirts of the city, there were also many soldiers in green uniforms wandering around the streets. This was a military city, similar to the feeling of an ancient military town.

When they reached the entrance of General Abu's villa, there were many sentry posts and fortifications in and out of the courtyard. There were dozens of soldiers on duty here.

With such strict security measures, it could be seen that general Abu actually did not feel safe.

Perhaps he had been assassinated or beheaded before, or perhaps his rights had been obtained through beheading, so he paid special attention to security issues.

The courtyard door was very spacious, and military trucks could be driven directly into the courtyard.

After entering the courtyard, it felt similar to entering a military camp, surrounded by fully armed soldiers.

Someone informed General Abu, and general Abu hurriedly came out to welcome him.

Seeing the two small teams brought by Yu Tian, general Abu was immediately full of praise.

As expected, they were the armed forces of a large company. Their spirit and temperament were indeed different..

Chapter 942 – Chapter 941, Meeting

During the bumpy journey, the Tiger Squad and the mouse squad were on the verge of falling apart.

In terms of adaptability, they were not as good as this bunch of random soldiers.

However, in terms of spirit and temperament, they were indeed much better than the random soldiers.

It was not that they were too good. After the bumpy journey, even if they wanted to be good, they could not be good.

The main reason was that General Abu's military appearance was too terrible. They were basically the kind of army that could not walk in a formation and could not even differentiate between left and right.

It was better when they were on the battlefield. It was mainly to test their marksmanship and combat experience.

However, when it came to walking in a formation and looking at their military appearance, the F * cking army was a mess.

The soldiers under General Abu were considered decent. At the very least, they were willing to stand guard here obediently.

"Boss Yu! My dear brother!"

General Abu came down from the steps with a smile.

Yu Tian did not know when his relationship with General Abu had become brothers, but this was not a bad thing.

Therefore, he also went up to welcome him with a smile and began to put his arm around General Abu's shoulder.

"Oh right, let me introduce you to a few friends."

Yu Tian started to introduce the people behind him to General Abu.

"This is General Caro. He is a soldier with rich commanding experience. He is very familiar with modern wars and battlefields. "

General Abu's eyes lit up. "My dear brother, are you going to arrange an instructor for my army?"

Yu Tian laughed. "If you feel that there's a need, I can arrange it for you." Of course, letting General Caro be an instructor was a little overkill.

The miscellaneous troops under general Abu could not undergo much complicated training, and they were not suitable for general Caro's training methods.

After all, the army in Damadi was still in the Second World War era, and it was not even as good as the Second World War era. General Caro had always served in the army with modern high-tech equipment, so his military ideology was completely different.

If general Abu really wanted to bring up training, General Caro could only send out his tiger squad as instructors to teach these random soldiers simple formations and some simple tactical moves.

General Caro felt that such a matter did not have much meaning.

However, General Abu was very interested.

Similarly, the big guy also piqued his interest. He always felt that the big guy had a familiar feeling, but he could not tell exactly what it felt like.

This was because he still did not know about the genetic warriors.

Yu Tian smiled and patted the Big Guy's shoulder. He said to general abu,

"About this! His name is big guy. He is my bodyguard."

"Not bad. He looks very strong! "general Abu kept praising him. "But, dear boss Yu, you're already very strong. Do you still need a bodyguard?"

Yu Tian shrugged. "Don't you think that with such a strong bodyguard by your side, you'll look much more awe-inspiring when you go out?"

"That's right. What you said makes sense."

General Abu did not mind. In this F * cking place, bringing troops and weapons out was the most impressive thing.

Yu Tian continued to introduce Cass. "This is Cass, my! assistant."

"Assistant?"

"Yes, after all, I'm a businessman. I need some assistants to handle business matters. "

"AH, yes, of course boss Yu needs assistants."

General Abu nodded with a smile.

He didn't believe the identity that Yu Tian had introduced. He clearly felt the killing intent from Cass. How could such a person be a civilian.

"Okay! "Yu Tian hooked his arm around general Abu's shoulder again. "I've introduced everything that needs to be introduced. Those people behind are my guards in military uniforms and my assistant team in civilian clothes. Please arrange a place for them to rest."

Okay!

General Abu quickly agreed.

His villa was very big, and there were plenty of rooms for people to rest in.

The Sun was fierce outside, so Yu Tian and his group could not adapt to the climate like the locals. They had already been exposed to the sun.

After exchanging a few pleasantries, Yu Tian quickly brought them into the villa.

The villa was not as luxurious as Yu Tian had imagined. It was just that the hall was slightly bigger, and then a beautiful crystal lamp was installed.

There were many rooms in the villa, many of which were in the form of dormitories. A room could easily accommodate seven or eight people.

General Abu asked the servants to bring the tiger and mouse teams to the room to rest, while he invited Yu Tian and the others to the second floor.

The eastern countries usually served tea to their guests, while the Western countries treated their guests with a little more complicated. Alcohol, drinks, coffee, or tea, anything could be served.

General Abu's way of receiving guests was wine.

There was a special reception room on the second floor. Naturally, there was a wine cabinet and a small bar counter inside.

Yu Tian and the others sat down on the sofa. General Abu personally brought a few wine bottles and wine glasses to them.

In this small reception room, other than Yu Tian and the few guests and general Abu, there were no other subordinates of General Abu.

It was obvious that general Abu did not have any subordinates that he trusted.

For a warlord like him, all his connections and resources were usually in his own hands.

In this way, he could prevent his subordinates from rebelling to the greatest extent.

On the surface, rebelling was relatively simple. All he needed to do was to organize people and kill his boss.

However, in reality, it was a very troublesome matter to take over the forces that his boss had left behind.

Not to mention whether the others would be convinced or not, just the people who provided all kinds of weapons, equipment, and supplies for this faction were beyond the control of the rebels.

To redevelop their own channels and gain trust, including the cheap price and the way of trading on credit! These were all relatively troublesome matters.

He didn't want his subordinates to get involved in the relationships and friends that general Abu had made with these businessmen.

Especially Yu Tian, who was a god of wealth, he wouldn't let his subordinates have too many opportunities to get in touch with him.

This was similar to doing sales business. Every business person had their own relationships and connections. Once they changed jobs, many of their relationships and connections would be taken away by him.

Yu Tian could understand this situation, and he didn't have the idea of looking for other agents for the time being.

To be able to grow into a warlord, general Abu certainly had a certain level of ability.

Not everyone could be the boss.

Yu Tian was not interested in cultivating talents, and he would not help those small figures achieve great things.

Investment, of course, had to be invested in worthy targets, investing in those who were the best in the industry. The investment had already achieved results, and there were quite a lot of potential targets.

General Roman Abramovich is a good choice..

Chapter 943 – : Chapter 942, General Abu'S Situation

After drinking a few glasses of wine, general Abu started to get down to business.

"Yesterday, I contacted my arms supplier and placed an order for two main battle tanks. It might cost around five million!"

Speaking up to this point, general Abu paused for a moment, wanting to see Yu Tian's reaction.

In Hell, tanks were definitely the overlord of the army.

A small pirate like Faraday would definitely not be able to afford something like a tank.

Not to mention the price of a tank that was a few million per vehicle, the training of the drivers, the consumption of fuel and ammunition, and the daily maintenance, these were all huge expenses.

This kind of expense made even some big warlords feel a little pained, not to mention those small pirates and small warlords.

Under normal circumstances, the pirate's loot, including valuable goods and valuable hostages, was only worth a few million at most.

This income seemed to be quite high, but such a business might not happen once in a few years.

Especially now that countries were cracking down on pirates and often used warships to escort cargo ships, it was even more difficult to earn this money.

Therefore, many far-sighted warlords had given up on the pirate business and started to use other methods to develop their forces, including some economic construction.

Those small forces were miserable. The pirate business was getting worse and worse, and they didn't have the conditions to do economic construction.

They were so poor that they couldn't even afford an army, let alone buy tanks, the king of land warfare.

General Abu's situation wasn't much better.

He wasn't a major warlord. The only tank he had was an old antique that had been eliminated from a small third-rate country.

Although this thing made him awe-inspiring in his own territory, it wasn't enough in front of other forces.

A few rpgs could only deal with a tank. At most, it could scare the enemy. If he really went on the battlefield, he could do it at a small price.

Therefore, he really needed two main battle tanks to deal with the increasingly serious threats from the surrounding forces.

Yu Tian had spent the past two days cramming for information on the forces in the MOTHERF * cker region. He also roughly understood general Abu's current situation. He also understood that General Abu was eager to purchase the main battle tanks.

He nodded indifferently and said, "The main battle tanks are not bad. This is a very reasonable demand. What kind of tanks did you order?"

General Abu heaved a sigh of relief. He was worried that Yu Tian would not be satisfied with his use of funds and thus cut off his investment.

He continued, "I originally had my eyes on the 99 style of the eastern country. This is the tank with the highest performance-to-price ratio. However, my arms supplier said that this thing was very difficult to obtain. On the contrary, he could obtain the M-1 type tank. However, I feel that the M-1 tank is too expensive. It's almost two to three times more expensive than the 99 type. Furthermore, it's said to be very ineffective in the desert region. There are also many kinds of defects! "

"So, what kind of tank did you order?"

"I don't know yet."

"You don't Know?"

General Abu rubbed his hands in a dilemma. "That's right. My arms supplier said that he wanted to ask around again to see if there were any retired second-hand goods. "

Yu Tian was amused. "So, this order of yours, estimated at five million, you still don't know what the specific goods are?"

General Abu Smiled embarrassedly. "As long as it's a modern main battle tank, it's fine. I don't expect to get a world-class product. "

Yu Tian said, "Even if it's a castrated version?"

General abu said, "If castrated isn't too powerful, it's actually acceptable. As long as the firepower and armor are enough!"

"This kind of trash is meaningless. "

Yu Tian shook his head. "Among the forces around you, there's a guy named Ahmed!"

Ahmed was a warlord that was even more powerful than general Abu. The military weapons in his hands were on a completely different level from general Abu's forces.

If it wasn't for the fact that the place where General Abu was located was too barren, he would have already annexed general Abu's forces.

But now, general Abu's situation couldn't be considered safe.

How could he allow others to sleep beside his bed? Sooner or later, Ahmed would sweep away all the small warlords around him.

General Abu smiled bitterly and said, "Yes, Ahmed. We all call him the big hippo. He's a very powerful guy. "

Yu Tian said, "Do you think it's meaningful for you to buy two garbage tanks to face such an enemy?"

General Abu said helplessly, "This! is better than nothing. I only have one old tank now!"

Yu Tian sighed and said, "You're showing a lack of confidence. Don't forget that you still have my support. If I give you 100 million directly, how many main battle tanks can you buy?"

General Abu had one eye. "That's at least 20 tanks."

"20 pieces of trash?"

"UH! "

General Abu was speechless.

Money alone was useless. He had to find a way to supply weapons.

General Abu had always been poor. His main weapons were the Akkadian rifles and ammunition. There were also some so-called "Heavy weapons" like RPGs. He didn't buy many of them.

There was no need to mention military vehicles. It was basically a matter of painting a layer of paint on civilian vehicles.

The only tanks and a few armored vehicles were antiques from an unknown era.

With his purchasing ability, he naturally could not attract a large arms dealer, let alone get a price that he was satisfied with.

Yu Tian rubbed his head and said, "You can say goodbye to that arms supplier of yours. From now on, I will provide the weapons here. "

General Abu was a little surprised. "Boss Yu is also in the arms business?"

Yu Tian said, "I don't do arms business, but I can find high-quality supply channels! "

Since uncle long could contact the submarines of the Maoists, he could naturally find more suppliers in the Maoists.

The old Maoists had gone through a split in the past and formed the current Maoists, the second Maoists, the third Maoists, the fourth Maoists, and other countries.

Although the economy of those countries was not very developed, they had inherited a lot of weapons and equipment from the old Russian state. Among them, there were many excellent quality products.

Not to mention the good quality, the key was that the price was very cheap, even to the extent of selling waste products.

Their biggest problem was to find enough buyers to dispose of these things.

If they skipped the arms dealers in the middle and directly took the goods from the Russians, 100 million was enough to arm a terrifying force.

Thinking of this, Yu Tian took out his phone and called Uncle Long.

"I want to buy a batch of weapons and equipment from the Russians, including tanks, armored vehicles, and all kinds of cannons!"

Uncle Long was a little surprised.. "Who are you going to wage war on?"

Chapter 944 – Chapter 943: Benevolence And Righteousness Exist When A Business Transaction Fails

Buying weapons and equipment was still a small matter. Hundreds of millions and billions of dollars were also small matters. However, starting a war was not a small matter.

Although the East Dragon Company was powerful and Yu Tian had a good relationship with the leaders of many large countries, starting a war involved too many forces and interests.

Uncle Long didn't want to interfere with Yu Tian's affairs, but when it came to starting a war, he felt that he should at least ask and give Yu Tian some advice.

"Yu Tian, it's best that we don't get too involved in this F * cking place. Although that place was completely deserted, it occupied an important shipping route. No country's leader was willing to see that place fall into the hands of other countries, even our so-called friends."

"I know. I don't plan to interfere too much for the time being. I just want to cultivate a powerful friend here."

"Even if it's behind the scenes, it will attract the attention of other countries. Paper can't cover fire. If other countries find out that our donglong company is behind the scenes, we will also face a lot of trouble."

"I know, I know! I Won't make a big deal out of it. "Yu Tian said helplessly, "I just want to plant a flag here and do some business. No one will care about these small things."

"Do some business?"Uncle Long was a little puzzled. "What's the meaning of that? There are so many countries and regions in the world. where isn't business better than fucking?"

Yu Tian said, "About that, don't worry about it for the time being. I have my own plans. Help me contact weapons and equipment now. Also, it's best to arrange some technical training personnel. "

Uncle Long Sighed. "Alright, these are just small matters. I'll contact them immediately! I hope you won't suddenly unify the F * Ck."

"It won't be that bad. I don't want to be the target of public criticism and have no interest in playing the game of Nation Building. "

After hanging up the phone, Yu Tian looked at general Abu again.

General Abu's face was already full of joy. "My dear eastern brother, do you want to build a complete mechanized army for me?"

Yu Tian said, "That's right. Since you want to be a warlord, you naturally have to build a strong army. What's the point of just relying on the Akkadian rifle?" General Abu grinned for a while and said, "The weapons of the old Russians are indeed useful. I just don't know if I can buy them. I heard that there are many things that can be sold to us."

"You don't have to worry about these things."

Yu Tian waved his hand. "In short, you don't have to contact the arms dealer that you contacted before. In the future, leave the problems of weapons and ammunition to me to solve. "The most important thing for you now is to organize your army. "Take those old, weak, and disabled people to manage public security. Then, pick out those who are more intelligent and prepare to learn how to use new weapons and equipment. "Also, those elite forces with rich combat experience. You can slightly increase their treatment and equip them with more comprehensive infantry equipment! "

"Okay, okay, okay!"

General Abu nodded repeatedly. "Then, I'll use the 10 million funds from the beginning to reward the soldiers and reorganize the Army?"

Yu Tian said, "Yes, you can ask General Caro about the management of the army. The most important thing in a modern army is discipline, and general caro is very good at this."

"Okay, okay!"

General Abu continued to nod, then hesitated for a moment and said, "But, my arms supplier! He may be rushing to Khanima this afternoon. Is there a need for me to talk to him about this?"

"He will come to Khanima this afternoon? What is he doing here?"

"Uh he is looking for the missing foreigners. "General Abu explained, "He didn't come personally, but sent his representative here. "

"Oh he's Your Arms Supplier?"

Yu Tian suddenly understood, then he smiled and said, "Since that's the case, you still have to treat him well. Our eastern country has an old saying, "If a deal doesn't go through, Justice Will Prevail. ". "Even if you guys don't do business in the future, you can still be friends who help each other!" General Abu scratched his head, not understanding Yu Tian's meaning.

However, he still had to follow the god of wealth's orders.

Moreover, General Abu did not have the intention to completely cut ties with his arms suppliers.

If something happened to Yu Tian and the promise could not be fulfilled, general Abu would have to leave a way out for himself.

Hence, general Abu pretended to be enlightened and said, "Then I should entertain him properly! "

Yu Tian smiled and said, "That's right, you can hold a banquet tonight. I'll treat this guest well with you."

General Abu scratched his head again. "Then, do I need to introduce you to Yu Tian said, "Of course you should introduce your friend to him, but my identity! I'm just your good friend. You Don't need to say so much about other things. "

"Okay."

Although general Abu couldn't figure out Yu Tian's purpose, he still agreed readily.

He also didn't want the arms dealer to know about Yu Tian's matter, including Yu Tian's investment in him and the matter of Yu Tian supplying arms to him.

He also needed to find another suitable excuse to temporarily cancel the previous order for tanks.

He just said that there was a sudden problem with the funds, and it would take another one or two months.

Anyway, he often had problems with his funds, so the other party wouldn't find it strange.

As for whether Yu Tian would be able to get him tanks and other heavy weapons after the delay of one or two months, this matter was already known.

By then, if Yu Tian was unreliable, he could still continue to order tanks.

In any case, Yu Tian's ten million had already been transferred to his account, so he could spend it slowly.

Everyone chatted for a while in the reception room. Then, general Abu began to arrange for Yu Tian and the others to return to their rooms to rest.

After returning to their rooms, general Abu even very considerately sent over a few black girls.

Unfortunately, Yu Tian and the others were not interested in any of them, so they all returned the black girls.

After returning to his room, Yu Tian discovered that this place could actually bathe. There was a shower head and a large bathtub in the room.

Happy Valley was a country with relatively poor water resources. To be able to bathe in such a place was indeed a very comfortable enjoyment.

After taking a shower, everyone had a good rest.

From Demon Island to Happy Valley, everyone had not slept soundly these days, including last night when they slept on the beach.

After a nap, the dinner was ready to begin..

Chapter 945 – Chapter 944, The Banquet

The venue for the banquet was the hall on the first floor. After arranging the tables and chairs in this huge living room, Yu Tian suddenly felt as if he had returned to the dining hall.

Besides Yu Tian and his entourage of more than twenty people, there were also some military officers under General Abu. There seemed to be more than a dozen people present at the banquet.

Dozens of people entered the living room intermittently, instantly making the living room seem much livelier.

Yu Tian followed the maid down to the living room and found that everyone else had already arrived.

Perhaps it was because they had taken a bath, General Caro and the others all looked a little radiant.

Including the clothes that everyone was wearing, they had also been washed by the maid. After that, they were quickly dried under the scorching sun and put on new clothes. For a time, everyone looked much cleaner and more energetic.

The officers under General Abu were even more energetic. They were basically all dressed in neat suits and polished leather shoes.

From the way they dressed, it was clear how much they valued the banquet and Yu Tian and the others.

General Abu was already waiting in the living room. As soon as he saw Yu Tian, he greeted him cheerfully.

Yu Tian looked around the living room and asked General Abu in a low voice,

"Where are your arms dealer customers?"

General Abu said, "They should still be taking a shower upstairs. I have already asked the maid to invite them. "

"Oh.

Yu Tian nodded and was then led to his seat by General Abu.

There were all large rectangular wooden tables here. Each table could fit more than ten people. It was very similar to the atmosphere in the canteen.

However, they were all decent people. Naturally, it was impossible for more than a dozen people to squeeze into one table.

Just like Yu Tian and general Abu's table, there was only general Abu himself, Yu Tian, general caro, the Big Guy, and Cass.

Other than that, general Abu did not arrange any subordinates to sit with him.

General Abu sat at the master's seat at one end of the long table. On the left side was Yu Tian, the big guy, and Cass.

On the right was General Caro and the two empty seats.

The empty seats were naturally reserved for the arms dealers.

The wine and food were quickly served by the maids. The food here was naturally much more sumptuous than in the pirate village. There were no packaged food, much less things like instant noodles and spicy strips.

If general Abu used things like spicy strips to entertain foreign guests, especially the Easterners, it would definitely be a joke.

The main dishes were all meat, mainly roast mutton, beef and chicken, as well as all kinds of sea fish.

The main dishes were rice and all kinds of cakes. In addition, there were things like fruit and vegetable salad, most of which were bananas.

It seemed that the tropical regions were rich in bananas, so the food there was also banana rice, banana cakes, and even banana wine.

Of course, it was definitely not banana wine that was used to entertain guests. No matter how poor general Abu was, he could still collect some famous wines.

For example, Erguotou.

This feeling made Yu Tian feel strange. However, the fact that such a poor place could produce such a sumptuous food showed general Abu's sincerity and their love for the banquet.

The dishes and wine were served very quickly. However, as there were still guests who had not been served, Yu Tian and the others did not start cooking. They only chatted with General Abu.

The topic that General Abu was most interested in was the military matters that General Caro had mentioned.

After chatting for more than ten minutes, the representative of the arms dealer still did not appear.

Yu Tian was suddenly a little puzzled. Could it be that the representative of the arms dealer had drowned in the bathtub?

General Abu was also a little impatient. He called the maids again and asked them to hurry the guests to take their seats.

Just like that, after waiting for a few more minutes, the representative of the arms dealer finally appeared.

What surprised Yu Tian was that the representative of the arms dealer was actually a yellow man.

Including the female companion he brought, she was also a yellow man.

Then there were the few followers behind him. Other than a white man, the others seemed to be local black men.

"I'm sorry to have kept you waiting. "

The arms dealer representative bowed slightly and expressed his apology to general Abu, but Yu Tian could not see any apology on his face.

Just by looking at his bow, Yu Tian had basically confirmed his nationality.

The countries that liked to bow were mainly the two countries in the eastern region, Bang Bang Country and Gouzi country.

Gouzi country's bow posture was quite stiff. It was usually very forceful and very serious.

When they bowed, they felt like they were using the iron head technique to knock coconuts. It was very fierce.

Bang Bang Country was the best country in the universe. When they bowed, they naturally had to have the bearing of the strongest country in the universe. They were calm and unhurried.

Therefore, when they bowed, they were slightly more relaxed. They had a very feminine aura.

In addition to the special accent of the two countries, Yu Tian could easily identify the nationality of the arms dealer representatives.

This was a bang bang.

Yu Tian was secretly happy in his heart.

In his impression, Bang Bang was definitely one of the easiest groups to deal with in the world. There were very few hard bones.

If he wanted to find out his background and the relationship between the arms dealer he represented and Kroni, he could basically use torture to get a confession.

However, he was now in general Abu's territory. If Yu Tian wanted to make a move on this bang bang, he had to consider general Abu's attitude.

Before he completely subdued general Abu, Yu Tian could not openly deal with General Abu's partners and destroy General Abu's existing network.

However, as long as he didn't do it openly, it wouldn't be a problem to take care of this bang bang in the dark.

Yu Tian thought about it and felt that when this bang bang participated in the search and rescue work, it would be a very good opportunity to strike. "Come, come, come. Park, let me introduce you. This is my good friend, Mr.

hi!"

After Bang Bang and his female companion took their seats, general bu began to introduce them to each other with a smile on his face.

As a small warlord, general Abu was more friendly and polite to all his collaborators.

Bang Bang also looked very polite, but there was a sense of superiority hidden in his eyes.

After all, he was a citizen of the universe's strongest country. Coming to this world's first-rate poor country, his sense of superiority was definitely not small.

General Abu continued to introduce Bang Bang to Yu Tian. "Mr. Yu, this is Mr. Park, Bang Bang's citizen. "

"Nice to meet you. "

Park Guochang nodded lightly at Yu Tian. Then, he handed Yu Tian a business card with both hands. He was still very courteous.

There were no messy titles on the business card. There was only a name and contact information.

Yu Tian glanced at the business card. The name on it was written in the Eastern Kingdom: Park Guochang.

"Park Guochang! What a good name.. "

Chapter 946 – Chapter 945, The Backward Oriental Country

Bang Bang country's language and writing had a lot of defects. The phonetic writing, coupled with the simple and poor pronunciation of the language, caused their simple words to be unable to express many meanings.

Therefore, bang bang country could never leave the oriental language.

Especially in the aspect of names, if they left the oriental language, Bang Bang people would not even know what their names were.

That was why the bangbangers could only use the oriental language for their names.

Of course, Park Guochang knew the special meaning of his name in the oriental language, so when he saw the playful smile on Yu Tian's face, he immediately felt a little displeased.

The banquet began, and everyone began to eat, drink, and chat casually.

Park Guochang also pretended to chat casually with Yu Tian and said, "Mr. Yu is an Oriental?"

"Yes."

Yu Tian was also quite willing to chat with Park Guochang. He felt that perhaps by chatting, he could reveal Park Guochang's background.

Park Guochang asked again, "What kind of business is Mr. Yu Doing?"

Yu Tian said calmly, "I'm just doing a little business. I'm doing a little of everything. It's just a small business to make a living."

"A small business? Like clothes, socks, shoes, and hats? The cheap clothing industry of the eastern country seems to be particularly developed. I've seen the clothes made by the eastern country in many poor countries! "

Park Guochang laughed. "The small merchants of the eastern country are really all over the world. To actually meet an oriental in a small place like this, it's really quite a rare thing."

Yu Tian said indifferently, "Is it very rare?"? Not really. After all, the eastern country was vast and had a large population. It was very normal for it to appear anywhere in the world. However, your bang bang country only has a few people. To be able to appear in a place like Ma di is already very rare."

Park Guochang was a little disdainful. "Although our bang bang country doesn't have a large population, our technology and commerce are very advanced. What's so rare about being able to do business all over the world. For example, our online games are very popular all over the world! Oh, right, do you have a computer in your hometown? Your Eastern country should only have access to the internet in big cities like the capital, right?"

The capital of Bang Bang country accounted for almost half of the population of the country, so Park Guochang believed that the population of the eastern country was also concentrated in those big cities.

As for the small cities with no people, they were naturally poor and rural.

Therefore, the easterners in the small cities definitely had not seen the exciting and interesting online games or the rich content of the Internet.

Yu Tiandun found it funny, he said casually, "That's right, the eastern country basically can't see the Internet. "I only learned about the internet after I went abroad. In China, I only saw computers in the capital, and they were very old-fashioned computers that were as big as televisions!"

Park Guochang could not help but laugh. "That's really backward. Does your oriental country have LCD screens? There should still be some in the capital, but the price might be very expensive. "

Yu Tian said, "I've never seen LCD screens in China. In fact, even if you want to use the most old-fashioned computers and networks in China, you still have to fill out application forms and queue for days and nights. After all, there are too many people who want to use computers and networks. "

Park Guochang sighed, he said rather sympathetically, "That's really difficult. I heard that in the eastern country, other than a few big cities, many places are very poor. I didn't expect you to be so poor! you're not just a little worse than our great bang country. "

Yu Tian smiled and said, "Yeah, you're indeed quite poor. In order to go to the big cities to surf the Internet, I have to ride a horse for a few days and nights. " Park Guochang said in surprise, "A few days and nights? You have to walk for so long? Oh, that's right. Although your Dongfang country is very poor, its territory is still very large. If you don't have any means of transportation, it will indeed take a lot of time to travel! well, when there's an opportunity in the future, I'll go to your Dongfang country to take a look. Perhaps I can even invest in developing public transportation! "

Yu Tian said, "I don't recommend you to go to the eastern country. That place is really too poor and backward. You might not be able to adapt to the lifestyle there in the past! "

Park Guochang sighed. "That's right. There are indeed many obstacles in the way of life in backward areas. "Just like some countries I've been to, those shops can't use credit cards and can only use cash. "But the consumption there is very cheap. They can't even change a large amount of paper money!"

"Yeah, yeah, it's super troublesome!"

Yu Tian couldn't stop smiling.

General Caro was a little puzzled. "Boss, is your eastern country so backward? I've been to the eastern country too. That place is clearly!"

Yu Tian quickly interrupted him. "You're going to a big city. A big city is naturally more prosperous. "

Park Guochang also said, "Of course. After all, the eastern country is also a big country. With the strength of the whole country, we can always create a few international cities. Just like in Damadi, we can also see some luxurious cars and mansions in the capital. Rich people can also enjoy cigars and fine wine! "

General Caro immediately shut up. He knew that Yu Tian was definitely talking nonsense, but he could not understand the purpose of Yu Tian's nonsense.

General Abu was also a little puzzled. "Are the eastern countries very backward? I think their weapons are still very powerful."

Park Guochang said disdainfully, "Military affairs can only represent a part of a country's strength. For example, the old Russians. "Although the old Russians' weapons are also very powerful, their economy is not good. Many of their citizens are living in extreme hardship and poverty. "It's the same situation in the eastern countries. Although their weapons are not bad! they are still a few levels lower than our bang bang country. "

General Abu said, "Although I have never been to the eastern countries, I know that there are many enterprises in the eastern countries that invest all over the world. It doesn't look like they don't have money. "

Park Guochang shook his head and said, "This doesn't mean anything. Those rich easterners have already joined the foreigners and can no longer be considered Easterners. "Just like our boss, he was originally a great person. "But now, he is already a glorious and beautiful person!"

Yu Tian suddenly understood and said, "So your boss is a beautiful person. No wonder he can get some cash weapons and equipment from a beautiful country! you must have a lot of friends in a beautiful country, right? Otherwise, you wouldn't be able to easily get those heavy weapons and equipment out! "

"Of course."

Park Guochang said proudly, "What we're doing isn't some small business, and we're not just doing business in a small place like this. "Our shipments are very large, so our relationship with the beautiful nation's officials!. HMM, why are you asking about this?"

Chapter 947 – : Chapter 946, Reasonable Remuneration

Park Kuo-chang suddenly became alert.

Although what he said was not particularly confidential and was almost public to many of his partners and clients, it was impossible for these things to be casually revealed to outsiders.

He was very curious as to how he and Yu Tian were able to talk about these topics.

Yu Tian smiled and said, "Actually, I also have thoughts of going to pretty country to develop. After all, that place is relatively rich, and many businesses are easier to do than that poor place."

Park Guochang nodded and said, "That's right. For small businesses like yours, it's better to go to a developed country like pretty country. After all, the business environment there is very safe, and the economy is developed. "If there is a heaven in this world, the beautiful country is a real heaven. "After my green card is obtained, I will also immigrate to the beautiful country and become a great and free beautiful person."

"So Mr. Park is going to be a beautiful person soon. Congratulations, Congratulations!"
Yu Tian smiled and said, "Maybe we will have a chance to cooperate soon. "

Park Guochang said indifferently, "Maybe, but I'm not interested in those small businesses. Even if I immigrate to a beautiful country, I may still continue my current job and often travel between Damadi and beautiful country. "

Yu Tian said with a smile, "It's business. There's no need to always be trapped in the same industry.". "If you have spare time, Mr. Park can consider setting up another side business. We still have a lot of opportunities to cooperate. "Even in this place, we have many opportunities for cooperation. "

Park Guochang seemed to be a little interested. "Do you have any other good projects in this place?"

Yu Tian said, "Of course, but there's no rush to discuss these for the time being! I heard that Mr. Park is here mainly to look for a few missing!

tourists?"

"Tourists? Yes, they're indeed a few foreign tourists!"

"That's good. I happen to have a few employees who are more experienced in search and rescue, and they've even done professional rescue work before. ". "Although their abilities may not be comparable to those top-notch rescue teams, compared to those people who only know how to shoot! they're definitely very professional. "

Yu Tian's words caused Park Guochang's eyes to light up.

That's right, this damn place was really backward. All kinds of talents were very scarce, and many industries and talents were completely blank.

The most popular occupation in this place was piracy. The people of Damadi were best at fighting, and they were also good at the relatively backward and primitive wars. They didn't even understand high-tech weapons.

Under such circumstances, it was impossible for Park Guochang to organize a professional search and rescue team.

At most, he could only hire a group of coolies.

In addition, General Abu had given up the search and rescue mission. He only gave him a clue and said that he didn't have the ability to search and rescue, and he wasn't confident in finding people.

Therefore, Park Guochang really needed some experienced professionals to help him organize and arrange the search and rescue work.

He did not have such talents under him.

As an assistant under an arms dealer, a regional salesman, Park Guochang could only use a few bodyguards.

Moreover, the arms business in the entire Ma di region was not big, and Park Guochang's boss did not hire too many people in the Ma di region.

Other than a few sales assistants, their team only hired a few local bodyguards, drivers, and servants.

These people did not have any experience or skills in search and rescue.

Park Guochang was having a headache about how to carry out the search and rescue work. Yu Tian came to him himself.

This was really a pleasant surprise.

Although Park Guochang was secretly happy, he still appeared very calm on the surface.

He pretended to think for a moment, then he said indifferently, "Mr. Yu is right. Professionals are definitely more efficient than locals. "Coincidentally, I also need to recruit some people locally. If Mr. Yu wants to participate in our search and rescue work, I would certainly welcome it. "

Yu Tian smiled. "Then, regarding the remuneration!"

Of course, what Yu Tian cared about was not the reward, but being interested in the reward was the normal attitude of a businessman.

Park Guochang had already expected Yu Tian's question, he said calmly, "Mr.

Yu should already know that I had previously discussed the reward with General Abu. If you can find the person and deliver him to me safely, then you can receive a total reward of three million. "General Abu has already provided a relatively clear clue and took away one million of the total bounty. "So, if you can find them, dead or alive, I can give you the remaining two million yuan."

Yu Tian smiled. "Very reasonable."

Park Guochang added, "But if you can't find the missing people, I can only give you some hard work. "

"How much is that?"

"I'm expected to stay here for about half a month. I can take out 50,000 yuan a day to pay the wages of all the people who participated in the search, as well as the consumption of various materials and tools."

Park kuo-chang gave a big slap.

Yu Tian did some calculations. For 15 days, 50,000 Yuan a day, which was only 750,000 yuan, was less than a million yuan.

Counting the number of pirates who participated in the search, there were hundreds of them. On average, each person could get more than 100 yuan per day.

If they went out to consume some resources, including food, each person could only get a few tens of yuan.

To Yu Tian, this was a small business.

However, in F * ck, a few tens of yuan per day was already a lot of international currency. The income of many civilians here was only a few yuan per day.

Even in the eastern country, a few tens of dollars a day in international currency was considered a pretty good salary, even higher than the income of many ordinary jobs.

Of course, the search and rescue work was very tiring, and there was also a certain amount of danger. Whether anyone was willing to do it was another matter.

Moreover, that was the situation in the eastern country. If the easterners went out to work, it would not be at this price.

In short, Park Guochang felt that this salary was very reasonable. It was almost at the level of the developed countries like the beautiful country.

Yu Tian did not waste his breath on this price. Instead, he pretended to be very happy and said, "Then it's settled. When you decide to set off, let me know. I'll bring a team with you. "

Park Guochang said, "There's no need for further notice. Our Bang Bang Country has a famous saying, 'saving people is like putting out a fire'! So, Pve decided to set off tomorrow morning. I Won't waste any more time.."

Chapter 948 – : Chapter 947, The Cave

Yu Tian smiled.

Well, the famous sayings of the Bang Bang Nation were really good. All the famous sayings in the universe could be from the Bang Bang Nation.

It was also good to set off tomorrow morning. Yu Tian could also have a good night's rest.

As expected, saving people was like putting out a fire. Park Guochang did not delay for even a minute a€” tonight's banquet was also very important, so it could not be delayed.

The next day, Yu Tian got up early and had breakfast with his subordinates in high spirits.

Park Guochang had not gotten up yet, and he did not waste any time last night either. He was busy exercising with his female companion the whole night.

Yu Tian finally understood why he was so late for the banquet last night. Park Guochang was indeed a person who cherished his time. Even when he was taking a shower, he had to seize the time to do something.

Yu Tian couldn't stay idle either. Taking advantage of this little free time, he made some simple arrangements for his subordinates.

General Caro and the tiger squad were left behind by him to help general Abu reorganize the Army.

He didn't care about other training for the time being. He wanted to improve the discipline of the army first.

After the weapons and equipment were sent over, he would train them to use the new equipment.

As for the mouse squad, Big Guy, and Cass, they still accompanied Yu Tian back to the beach, ready to participate in the search and rescue work of Park Guochang.

Then, Yu Tian asked for two military vehicles from general Abu and threw them to the mouse squad.

There were nine people in the mouse squad, and eight of these two military vehicles sat in them. The extra one felt a little crowded, so he sat in Yu Tian's car.

Yu Tian was still driving the broken military vehicle that he had stolen. With the addition of the Big Guy and Cass, it was just right for four people to sit in.

Although the appearance of this stolen military vehicle was shabby, it seemed to be of good quality. It had been tormented by Yu Tian for a few hundred kilometers over the past few days, and there hadn't been any problems.

Although general Abu still had many military vehicles with a complete appearance, those second-hand goods might still have some problems.

Therefore, Yu Tian felt that it was better to use this broken-down vehicle. At least he was familiar with it and felt more at ease.

Everything was ready. The next thing was to wait for Park Guochang to get up.

It was already late in the morning when Park Guochang finally got up with his female companion.

The two of them were still glowing, and they also brought their neatly dressed attendants.

Park Guochang had his own vehicle, and they drove two off-road vehicles for civilian use.

Although these two off-road vehicles looked quite old, they weren't too old on the whole, and didn't look shabby at all.

Park Guochang and the others simply ate something, and they didn't have the face to make Yu Tian wait any longer. The group finally set off on the road.

Yu Tian was familiar with the roads, and he ran as fast as he could. After a few hours, they successfully arrived at the pirate village of Faraday.

The sound of the car startled the entire village. Fortunately, the pirates all knew Yu Tian and did not cause any misunderstandings.

Faraday hurriedly came out to welcome him. A small group of soldiers left behind by General Abu also appeared.

"Dear boss, you're finally here! "

After not seeing him for just a day, Faraday was as enthusiastic as if he had seen his own dead father.

"Go and inform the other leaders. Gather at the beach. The search and rescue operation is about to begin. Let's discuss the specific work arrangements. "

Yu Tian did not have time to waste with Faraday. He had to follow the warm habits of the F * cking Madi people and chat with them until the sky turned dark.

Of course, the prerequisite was that they did not treat themselves as pirates, nor did they treat their guests as hostages.

Faraday immediately took action. Riding on his camel, he shouted loudly, urging his subordinates to start running.

After another half an hour, the pirate leader finally gathered his men. Only then did Yu Tian and Park Guochang set off towards the beach.

After walking for another half an hour, the vast and mighty group finally arrived at the beach where Yu Tian and the rest had landed.

The cave where those genetic warriors had disappeared was not far from the cliff where Yu Tian and the rest had landed.

The entrance of the cave was at the bottom of the cliff. There was still half an hour's journey from the beach.

This was an extremely troublesome matter.

Below the cliff was the surface of the sea, as well as reefs of various sizes.

The journey from the entrance of the cave to the beach was the same. Walking was more difficult, and there was not even a place for one to step on.

Some places had to wade in the water, or even swim.

Therefore, according to the plan that Yu Tian, Faraday, and the others had discussed before, they could only use the pirate ship as a means of transportation. It was used to quickly transport the personnel involved in the search and rescue work, as well as some large-scale tools and equipment.

In addition to the pirate ship, there were also some small boats that the villagers used to fish, which could also be used to transport personnel.

In addition, the pirate ships were equipped with speedboats. This was an essential tool for robbery and escape. It was also a tool that the pirates used to land.

These ships were waiting on the surface of the sea near the beach. For the past two days, they had been fishing while waiting for work to start.

Faraday called over a few speedboats with a satellite phone. Yu Tian wanted to take Park Guochang to the cave entrance to check out the situation first.

The capacity of the speedboats was not large. Other than a few pirate leaders and sailors, they only brought Yu Tian, Park Guochang, and one of his white attendants.

After circling around the edge of the cliff for half a circle, Park Guochang finally saw the entrance of the cave.

There was a reef outside the entrance of the cave. On it, there were a dozen or so pirates that were either squatting or sitting.

This had been arranged beforehand. In order to prevent those genetic warriors from suddenly coming out of the cave and disappearing without a trace.

Half of the cave entrance was in the water. If one piloted it carefully, the speedboat could enter directly.

The other half was made of stone. The overall surface was relatively flat, and one could enter the cave directly on foot.

The depths of the cave were pitch black. If one wanted to enter the cave to search and rescue, they would need to have sufficient lighting equipment, mining lamps, flashlights, and the like.

Faraday and the others had already prepared quite a number of these tools.

Park Guochang did not have the intention of personally entering the cave to search and rescue, but since he was already here, he had to at least take a look inside the cave to understand the situation of the cave.

So Faraday drove the speedboat to the entrance of the cave, leaned against the shore, and began to call for everyone to get off the boat.

Park Guochang obviously lacked the ability to move. With the help of Faraday and the others, he clumsily landed on the shore.

His white entourage was much more agile. They quickly landed on the shore, turned on their flashlights, and began to observe the situation in the cave.

The entrance of the cave was not very wide. When the flashlights shone on it, only wet rocks could be seen.

After everyone had landed on the shore, Faraday began to lead everyone deeper into the cave.

There were no forks in the road ahead, and the terrain was smoother. After walking for more than ten minutes, the road ahead began to go uphill, and it seemed that they had reached the end of the cave.

However, this could only be considered the entrance of the cave, and the journey to explore the cave had just begun.

When they reached the top of the slope, they found a large crack slanting down on the side. This was the true entrance of the cave..

Chapter 949 – : Chapter 948, Lumberjack

When Park Guochang walked to the side of the crack, he finally stopped.

He held his flashlight and looked into the crack for a while. Then, he asked in puzzlement, "How did they get into this place?"

The "They" Park Guochang was referring to was naturally those genetic warriors.

"UH, this matter is actually a misunderstanding!"

Faraday laughed awkwardly, then, he explained, "I originally wanted to invite them back as guests, but their vigilance was too high. As soon as they saw someone, they started running. They couldn't even stop screaming, so they ran all the way into the cave!"

"How Big Is it down here?"

"It's very big, unfathomable, and bottomless! in any case, we have never reached the end of this cave."

"No matter how big the cave is, it has an end. You just haven't tried hard to explore it."

Park Guochang didn't plan to go deeper into the cave. He turned to Yu Tian and said, "I'll leave this matter to you. You should have a complete search and rescue plan, right?"

Yu Tian said, "Of course, there's a search and rescue plan, but there's another problem that needs you to solve."

Park Guochang said, "What problem? Is It related to the equipment?"

Yu Tian said, "There's no need for special equipment for the time being, but!

because those few tourists were chased into this cave, they might still be worried about being chased by the pirates. "Although we're going down to search for them now, if they're still deliberately hiding, it'll be very difficult for us to find them."

"Is there a difference? The cave is full of stone walls, where else can they hide?" Asked Park Guochang, puzzled

"Of course there's a difference," said Yu Tian. "We can't just rely on ourselves to search for them. "Most importantly, we have to shout loudly. "There are many forks in the cave, and the terrain is very complicated. Only sound is not restricted, and it can spread to every fork and crack!"

Faraday quickly echoed, "Yes, yes. If we enter the cave to save people, we will definitely call out loudly. If they can answer, we will definitely be able to find them faster. "

Yu Tian added, "So, you should at least tell us the names of those tourists, as well as other information that can confirm their identities. "This way, when we shout, we can dispel their doubts and make them respond to us."

Park Guochang?? thought for a moment. "Okay, their names are! Sam, Jack, Mike, Martin!"

"Is there anything else? Just calling their names might not make them trust us.

After all, names are very easy to find from some missing persons lists. "

"There's no such problem. Their names can not appear on some missing persons 'lists!"

Without realizing it, Park Guochang had revealed some information. The identities of these missing persons were very unusual.

However, the rescuers were only a group of pirates, not some police.

No one would care about the secret identities of the missing persons. Everyone only cared about how much the missing persons were worth.

Therefore, after Yu Tian expressed his doubts for a moment, he said, "Alright, if you can only provide a name, we can also give it a try. But if there is more information or some secret signals that you communicate with each other, it will be more convenient. "

Park Guochang thought for a moment. "Alright, you can call them like this!

lumberjack 22 is here to look for you! "

"Lumberjack 22! "

Yu Tian repeated this strange noun carefully and felt that he had discovered something interesting again.

Lumberjack 22. This was clearly some kind of code name.

It could be Park Guochang code name, or more likely, his boss's code name.

Since there was number 22, then there must be more than one lumberjack.

There might be a number one, a number two..

There might be a number twenty-three, a number twenty-four..

Of course, this number might not be arranged in order. There might not be twenty-one lumberjacks at the front, and the Lumberjacks at the back might not start from number twenty-three.

However, the total number of lumberjacks was definitely not small.

If the number was small, then there was no need to use numbers as the serial number. Using a few strange nouns as code names would be more concealed and safer than numbers.

Although Yu Tian still did not understand what the lumberjacks represented, since there were lumberjacks, there might be carpenters or other code names.

Yu Tian had always believed that there was a connection between the genetic warriors and the clone society. Thus, this code name might be some code names that the clone society used internally.

These questions could not be answered for the time being, but Yu Tian was not in a hurry.

Everyone returned to the entrance of the cave through the same route and took a speedboat back to the beach.

As soon as they went ashore, the female companion that Park Guochang brought called out "Oppa"and quickly ran to Park Guochang's side and began to babble.

Yu Tian did not understand bat language, nor did he care about what this woman said.

He began to arrange the exploration work for Faraday and the others.

"According to the previous plan, you can begin to enter the cave and search.

Remember their secret signal, 20! uh, lumberjack 22! "

"The most important thing is to make sure to mark the path, don't act alone, don't let the situation occur where you haven't found the target and your own people get lost again. "

"Also, make sure to prepare sufficient food and water, rope and weapons, each team must prepare a set! "

After giving some detailed instructions, Yu Tian waved his hand for Faraday and the others to start moving.

At this moment, Park Guochang found Yu Tian again.

"Are you familiar with the pirates here? Let them find a place for me to rest first. It's too uncomfortable to stay out in the sun all the time."

Yu Tian turned his head to look at the Bang Bang woman. She was holding a sun umbrella, but she still looked weak from the sun.

This kind of weather was indeed unbearable for most people, especially for women. The slightest bit of sunlight would make them afraid of turning them into charcoal.

Except for women who were already very dark, such as the damnable women.

However, the pirate village nearby was really simple and crude. There wasn't even a decent wooden house.

Yu Tian thought for a moment, then pointed at the cliff and said, "There are some small woods on the cliff. There should be a suitable place to rest."

Park Guochang frowned and said, "Don't they have houses here? Don't tell me these pirate leaders don't even have a villa?"

Yu Tian shrugged. "Even if they have a villa, they wouldn't build it near this Godforsaken Beach. "

"If they don't have a villa, they should have an ordinary house, right?"

"Believe me, that forest is definitely much more comfortable than their house.."

Chapter 950 – Chapter 949 Was All Tied Up

Hearing was false, seeing was believing.

Yu Tian's advice didn't have much effect. In the end, Park Guochang still drove his own car and personally ran around the nearby pirate village.

After half an hour, he returned to the beach dejectedly and parked his car in front of Yu Tian.

"This really is a godforsaken place. There isn't even a house that can live in."

Yu Tian shrugged. "So, if you want to find a place to rest, it's best to go to the top of the cliff. There are at least some trees there. If you look carefully, you should be able to find a place to enjoy the cool. "Moreover, the sea breeze there is also stronger. It's much cooler than in the village."

Piao Guochang looked in the direction of the pirate village unwillingly, then turned his head to look at the opposite Cliff.

It was not difficult to get to the top of the cliff from the beach, but there were a lot of rocks on the road leading to the top of the cliff. Vehicles could not pass through, so they could only rely on walking and climbing.

There was no way to take a detour, because in front of the cliff was a huge drop in the sea, and behind it was a few miles of high ground.

Walking directly from the beach was the most convenient route.

The Bang Bang woman looked in the direction of the cliff from the front passenger seat, she immediately complained, "Oppa, are we still going to climb the mountain? What if there is no suitable place to rest when we reach the top of the mountain? Then wouldn't we have wasted our trip? It would be better! if we just sit in the car and blow the air conditioner."

Park Guochang said with a straight face, "How much fuel do you think we have? The search and rescue work might last for half a month. Do you plan to sit in the car and blow the air conditioner all the time? Do you think fuel is cheap? What if we don't have enough fuel when we go back?"

Of course, there weren't gas stations everywhere in Damadan. In most cases, they had to bring a few barrels of gasoline to go to remote areas.

Burning gasoline and blowing the air conditioner was secondary. The main thing was that it was more troublesome to replenish the fuel.

Park Guochang still wanted to find a suitable place to rest. He could not stay in the car forever.

Bang Bang pouted and said coquettishly, "Oppa, why don't we go back to Kannima? The rooms there are much more comfortable. Moreover, the round trip is not very far. It's only a few hours away."

"Do we have to go back and forth like this every day?"

"We don't have to come here every day. Anyway, the work can be handed over to these farmers. We can come back when there is news."

"No, if the boss finds out about this, he will definitely think that I'm a waste." "Moreover, this is only the first day of the search and rescue operation. I Can't go back to Kanima now. This is too irresponsible." "I'll have to stay at the seaside for at least two days! Before I can find a suitable reason to go back. "

Park Guochang hesitated for a moment. In the end, he turned off the car, opened the car door, and got out of the car.

He held up the thick sun umbrella and said to Yu Tian, "Mr. Yu, take your people and accompany me to the mountain. It's best to bring some labor tools.

If there's a need, I'll build a straw shed on the mountain!"

Park Guochang decided to go to the cliff to find a place to rest.

He had watched some survival shows in the wilderness and felt that it was still very comfortable to build an awning with branches and leaves.

Especially at the seaside, when the sea breeze blew, it felt like a vacation.

Bang Bang Girl also got out of the car and reluctantly held up the Sun umbrella.

Park Guochang's followers also started to move. They all carried big and small bags from the car, which contained some travel and camping tools.

Yu Tian did not reject Park Guochang's request. This request could be said to be exactly what he wanted.

After calling Big Guy and Cass, and bringing along the mouse team, the group tidied up a little and began to move up the cliff.

Although this part of the road was not very long, the road was not easy to walk on. It was still a little more strenuous than climbing more than a dozen flights of stairs.

By the time they reached the top of the cliff, Park Guochang and his female companion were already sweating profusely.

From this, it could be seen that those who were racing against time to do something like that usually did not have the required physical strength.

Yu Tian looked around and found that although there were a few trees here, the trees were not tall and there was not enough shade.

Resting in such a place was no different from being directly exposed to the hot sun.

Even if he wanted to build a straw hut, he could not find the raw materials.

The Bang Bang girl immediately complained, "Look, Oppa, there's nothing up there. We've come all this way for nothing. "

Park Guochang wiped his sweat and said unhappily, "You talk too much nonsense. We've only just come up. What are you in a hurry for? If we keep walking forward, there will be a suitable resting place. "

Yu Tian did not understand what the two were talking about, so he just called everyone to continue moving forward.

Park Guochang took two deep breaths and immediately followed them.

The terrain on the top of the cliff was not smooth. The road was full of protruding rocks or some potholes.

An ordinary person would not be able to walk fast in such a place, especially when they were accompanied by women.

Everyone slowly walked to a big rock. Park Guochang and Bang Bang Girl were badly burned by the Sun.

Yu Tian stopped in his tracks and jumped onto the rock. He stood on the top of the rock and looked into the distance.

There was a good place ahead. There were dozens of tall trees growing luxuriously. The shade of the trees was thick and connected.

"Mr. Park, I found a good place."

Yu Tian revealed a meaningful smile.

Park Guochang was overjoyed. "Then what are we waiting for? Let's go."

They continued forward and finally arrived at the "Oasis "at the top of the cliff.

This place was actually quite far from the seaside, but due to the surrounding terrain, the sea breeze was not light.

Park Guochang was very satisfied with this place, he happily said to Yu Tian, "Very good. We'll rest here and sleep here at night. "This place is not far from the cave. If you have any news, come here and inform me. Food and water will also be sent here. "Also, get those pirates to catch a few sea fish and send them over. They want fresh! "

Yu Tian smiled and turned to face Cass and the others. "Tie them up."

Cass and the mouse squad killers were already mentally prepared. When Yu Tian gave the order, everyone immediately pounced on Park Guochang's followers like wolves and tigers.

Park Guochang brought four followers. Regardless of quantity or combat strength, they were no match for the mouse squad.

They had just put down their backpacks. Before they could understand what was going on, they were pounced on by the mouse squad and fell to the ground. Their mouths were covered in mud.

Then, the assassins took out messy ropes and tied these followers up firmly.

Bang Bang Girl finally began to scream..