

Chapter 117

"The Black Moon Pack?" Allison asked as she paid attention.

Everyone knew about that pack. Because of that pack's head Alpha and his winning history, that pack was always in the discussion of other packs.

In two years, that pack grew larger in size than before. People began to say that the pack's Alpha was enraged at something. That was why, one by one, he began to destroy every pack around it.

That Alpha was a dreadful man, and every wolf trembled just thought of his presence.

Due to the fact that he never attended any pack meetings, no one was aware of his true background. They could only speculate that it was an angry young man, who had the crown in his head and ruled the werewolf world with his dominant aura.

Allison recalled that Ethan had mentioned in the pack meetings that the Alpha had turned him down a few times when Ethan tried to approach him as if he had no interest in any alignment.

Of course, it was true. He did not require any allies. In fact, other packs needed his alliance.

That was why Ethan worked extremely hard for a number of months in order to finally get the opportunity to meet him and present his pack to him.

"It will come as a complete shock to every pack. Everyone was attempting to get in touch with him, but you were the only one who could. We are proud of you." Beta Glen praised Ethan with a warm grin.

Allison looked at her father. At first, he was angry with Ethan for a few months because of the rejection. But again, Ethan had the manipulation power. He convinced him to his side and melted his father's heart once again.

Her father caught her gaze. She looked away from him unhurriedly.

Her bond with her parents had changed, especially with her father. She did not engage in much conversation with them. Even though they attempted to have a conversation with her, she did not engage in idle chatter with them.

It was not a lie that Allison really moved on in her life.

She made the decision to accept the circumstances and started thinking of herself as a Luna. She did not want love anymore. She would never accept Ethan in her heart either. The place would remain empty forever.

She let Ryan go from her heart so that if one day he came in front of her, she would not break down in front of him.

She prepared herself really well, which surprised her too. She believed it was her destiny, and she had no choice but to follow it.

At the age of twenty, she had reached the point of maturity where she could handle any circumstance that arose around her.

"He is a business tycoon. His visit might be beneficial to our pack business." Ethan's delta spoke out.

It would be a really hectic situation for all of the people in the pack house.

Because everybody was already planning a wedding for Ethan and Allison, and the wedding was only around the corner. The event is scheduled to take place the following month. The whole pack was already busy on that.

"How many people do you think will come?" That was Ella's question.

"We extended an invitation to his family. We have no way of knowing who he will bring along with him. But his officials are coming for sure." Wade replied.

"Then who will run his pack in his absence?"

"He has a large number of subsidiary Alphas that are capable of running the pack according to his directions. His pack is huge. About five packs have been combined into one larger pack." Ethan responded.

Allison was listening to them. She would have to act like Luna in front of the visitors who were going to be there. For that, she needed to learn about them first.

"I heard his Beta's wife has a great power in the pack. She usually joins meetings. So she can come here too."

The discussion went on for hours.

At night, everyone sat at the dining table. The dinner was served and they began to eat.

Allison could feel Ethan's gaze over her. She avoided his eyes. It did not go unnoticed by others.

They could see the distance between the couple.

"Allison, what is your thought about tomorrow?" Alpha Neil asked her.

She lifted her head and replied,

"I think we should pay attention to their liking. It is important that each of the guest rooms is prepared according to the guests' preferences. We should focus on their food too. This is the first they are coming here so they must be very careful about our every move. Therefore, we should not give them any opportunities to experience feelings of dissatisfaction."

"You are right."

"Yeah, Uncle." She replied. When Ethan became the head Alpha, she started referring to him as uncle and Luna Ella as aunt.

Because they were no longer the head Alpha and Luna, they instructed her to stop addressing them according to their ranks.

"You have to come earlier tomorrow. You are this pack's soon-to-be Luna. You have to be on time." Ella said.

"Don't worry, I will be on time, and I will see to the arrangements too."

"That's my daughter-in-law." Ella complimented.

Allison gave her a small smile and turned attention to her plate.

After dinner, Allison and her parents headed to leave the house.

Ethan told them that he would drop them. But she turned him down before Allison's parents had a chance to agree with him.

"We can go by ourselves. We have our own car. You don't have to waste your time. Just focus on your work."

Because it had become Ethan's habit to hear things like that from her, he did not take offense to the things that she said.

He was going to say something, but then his phone rang, so he decided to take the call first.

He received the call and brought the phone up to his ear.

"Yes?" He said. Allison could not hear the other person's voice.

"Oh! It's a good thing. Additionally, we are looking forward to meeting her. Don't worry. No, no, we won't have any trouble with that at all."

He hang up the phone and said,

"The head Alpha of the Black Moon pack is coming with his soon-to-be Luna."
