Chapter 191

Allison opened her eyes. She experienced discomfort in her neck as well as her arm. She turned her head and noticed that there were other people in the room.

Her parents, Alpha Neil, Ella, Linus, Teresa, and the elder witch Aurelia, were all looking at her.

"Allison, are you okay?" Joey asked her daughter as she was sitting beside her on the bed.

continue talking as she cleared her throat.

"Yes, Mom." She attempted to speak, but her voice came out raspy. It was difficult for her to

She wanted to sit up, but Teresa came to her and held her hand. "Didn't you hear Linus? You need

"Don't talk too much. You need to take some rest." Linus instructed her.

to take a rest."

"But-"

she fell unconscious.

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath. She was able to recall what had taken place before

"Everyone is okay now, my child." Alpha Neil assured her.

She did not believe that she had to spend her years in lies. It was that evil witch's plan to make Ryan and her apart from each other.

She opened her eyes when she remembered how Aurelia and Ryan killed Georgiana.

She turned to Aurelia and said,

"Grandm-"

"Call me, Aurelia. You are safe, dear. Every danger has left your head. Your forehead is clear now. There is no mark of pain, but only happiness."

"Dad"

Allison felt tears rolling out of her eyes. She smiled at her lightly. "Thanks, Aurelia. You helped us."

my rank to a higher level than I had ever imagined. I am thankful to him for giving me a new life."

She shook her head. "All thanks to our Almighty Alpha. He gave me power. He helped me grow Ryn's parents felt proud of their son when they heard Aurelia.

Glen came over to her before sitting down next to her.

her back so that she could lean against it and sit comfortably.

Allison looked around the room as if she were searching for someone.

"Dad, your hand!"

This time, she sat up. No one stopped her. Her mother helped her as she placed a pillow behind Glen placed his hand on her head. Allison noticed that a bandage was wrapped around his arm.

To stop her tears from falling, she bit her bottom lip. As the realization dawned on her that she had been completely mistaken about him this whole time, she lowered her head. But he was actually thinking only about her safety.

meals with you both." She said and sobbed.

"I am sorry, Dad. I talked so rudely with you and Mom. I was so impolite that I stopped having

"It's just a small wound. It will be fine. Don't worry, my princess."

Joey shook her head as she also cried for her daughter. Glen held Allison's hand and saw her wounded wrist.

"I should say sorry to you, Allison. Because of me, you have to bear so many things. I was scared. I thought I would lose you. Forgive your Dad."

"No, Dad. You did nothing wrong. You did those things just to save your daughter. If I were in your place, I would have done the same."

Glen exited the room once he had finished his conversation with Allison. He was making his way

Joey joined the hug. Others turned emotional as a result of witnessing them.

Allison hugged her father and rested her head on his shoulder.

When he entered the hall, everyone's attention was immediately drawn to him.

to the living room when he suddenly stopped in front of a hall where the bar was situated.

Others stood up to leave, but Ryan lifted his hand to stop them.

"Can I have a talk with you, Alpha?" He asked Ryan politely.

He could see Ryan and his officials having drinks there.

They acknowledged his statement with a nod and then moved to another side so that Glen could have a private conversation with him.

Ryan was sitting on a stool while grabbing a glass that was on a counter.

Glen walked to Ryan and stood next to him.

"Hmm. You think right. He is my Theta. But he is also my bartender, who knows what drinks I

"When we were students, I used to work in bars to earn money. He thought I was really good at

"You all can stay here. The hall is big enough." Ryan said to them without looking at them.

"But he is..."

like. Isn't it, Vernon?" Ryan said to Glen and, lastly, asked Vernon.

"Alpha, I wanted to talk to you."

Ryan turned to him and asked,

"About what?"

attention to Vernon.

prepared by Vernon.

"No need." Glen said.

to sit on.

I did.

him.

Vernon dropped another ice cube on it.

Glen looked at the man who was actually the Theta of the Black Moon Pack.

"Meet my personal bartender, Vernon." Ryan spoke out to Glen.

it."

Glen was amazed to hear that. He gave him a nod and switched his attention to Ryan.

Vernon smiled at Ryan and nodded his head. He turned to Glen and responded,

Glen could not remain in eye contact with him. He lowered his head and started to speak,

"I would like to apologize to you. I am aware that I am not deserving of your pardon. I was knowledge about it, I would have never come between you two."

sole intention was to try to save the life of my daughter."

always rude to you. But I only wanted you to stay away from my daughter since I was alerted from the beginning. I had no idea that you were going to end up being her mate. If I had a single

"Is that so? But I believe that you have too much pride to hand over your daughter to me. Didn't you always feel that I was worthless? Just because you learned about my real identity, so yo-"

Glen interrupted him by looking at him and shaking his head. "No, never. If that were in my mind,

I would have offered her hand to you when you returned this pack as the head Alpha of the Black

Moon pack. Believe me when I say that I never intended to cause harm to anyone and that my

Ryan took another sip of his drink before setting his glass down on the counter and turning his mercilessly for parting your daughter from me." Ryan said and turned his head to Glen.

Glen gulped but stared at him. Glen was presented with a fresh glass of wine that had been

"Drink." Ryan remarked as he motioned with his head toward the stool that was available for him

"Glen Clark, you don't know how many times I thought to return this pack and kill you

Ryan continued to speak,

"Your daughter caught my eye the moment I returned this pack. When Ethan rejected your who did not fear anything. You separated two mates."

Glen's face turned pale. "I destroyed her life. Punish me."

of the counter, it did not fall to the ground.

Glen sat next to Ryan and grabbed the glass. He looked at Ryan.

I saved her that night in the forest. I forced her to move on in her life. I gave her new hope to come out of her sorrow. I did everything that could make her fall in love with me. I wanted her to daughter, I found that she was my fated mate. But I did not force the mate bond on her. Since I had come here while concealing my scent, she could not feel the bond or recognize her mate. But love me with her heart, not be forced by fate or greed. But what did you do? You showed me her Glen's hand came dangerously close to dropping the glass; it made a clicking sound. But because weakest side, which I really hate. You made me believe that she did not deserve a wolf like me

"That's not needed anymore. As I told you, I thought of killing you, but when I heard what Georgiana did, I understood that it was not your fault."

Glen parted his lips as they quivered. "It's not Allison's fault either. Please don't hurt her; hurt me instead."

He then turned to Owen, who was talking with Max and Colin. They were not far from them anymore. When they heard the sound of glass being clinked, they moved closer. They heard everything.

"Tsk! You and your daughter share a lot of similarities, which is really great to see. When I informed your daughter about my previous plan, your daughter told me the same." Ryan said to

"Owen, what award should we give to Mr. Clark and his daughter?"

Owen thought for a moment and replied,

"The most kind person in the wor-"
"Shut up, Owen. Don't help him in t

"Shut up, Owen. Don't help him in teasing his father-in-law." Gamma Colin interrupted Owen.

"Father-in-law?" Glen asked as he was stunned to hear that.

"So you still have a problem with your daughter being with me?" Ryan questioned him.

Glen stood up and shook his head. "No, Alpha. It's the best news."

Ryan chugged down the drink, then said to him,

"It's her fate. She was destined to be my Luna from the beginning."