

Chapter 223

"So beautiful!"

Allison caught herself concentrating on the details of the home's interior. Scented candles provided illumination throughout the entire house, which was decorated with the petals of roses.

Her sense of smell was fascinated by the aroma of those candles and roses, which gave off a scent that was reminiscent of paradise.

"You liked it?" She heard Ryan's whispers in her ear.

She turned around with a bright smile and replied,

"Ryan, it's so beautiful. You planned all of this for me? Why didn't you tell me?"

He wrapped his arms around her waist and smiled at her.

"It was a surprise, baby."

She took a few moments to take in her surroundings before saying,

"Then I should also give you some surprises."

He moved his head down while he was pulling her closer to him. He nuzzled her nose with his.

"You don't have to give me any surprises, my love. Because you are a present to me from the Moon Goddess. I don't want anything in my life except you. I don't care about anything else in this world as long as you are in it with me. You are such a blessing in my life."

She felt her eyes become teary upon hearing his words.

She wrapped her hands around his neck. "Ryan, I have made so many mistakes in the past. You are still in love to this extent! It's hard for me to believe that the Moon Goddess created you for me."

He lifted his hands to her cheeks and wiped her tears away with his thumbs, which had just landed on her cheeks.

"I know it's not a tear of sadness, but you know I can't see you crying."

She showed her appreciation for him by hugging him and nodding her head. He hugged her tightly and stroked her back.

When she broke the hug and turned, she walked around the house.

"Is this your house?" She asked him.

After removing her high heels, she walked barefoot on the flower petals. When the delicate petal made contact with her foot, the sensation was very calming.

"Yeah. One of my houses."

She turned her head toward him. "Houses? Do you have another house?"

"Yeah. I bought villas in every pack after winning it. From each of them, you can see a good view, and they are all in a less crowded area."

"Oh, wow."

Saying that, she proceeded to a flower vase, which caught her attention.

She touched the vase and smelled the flowers inside.

"Ryan, I was think-"

A set of arms suddenly wrapped around her waist and pulled her attention away from what she was saying.

"What were you thinking?" Ryan asked as his lips touched her ear.

She gulped and could not say anything. She felt him licking her earlobe. When he sucked her earlobe, she gasped.

He turned her around and pushed her against the wall behind her.

"I couldn't tell you how you look in this bridal dress."

She looked into his eyes. His gaze was traveling across her to examine her features.

"You are the most beautiful woman in my world. You have the appearance of a powerful and breathtakingly gorgeous woman."

She blushed after hearing him. "Thank you." She let out a soft tone.

He leaned on her neck and started to kiss. He moved her ear to her ear and whispered,

"But I would love to break you underneath me tonight."

With his words, his arms tightened around her waist.

She felt a shiver all over her body from his deep tone and the meaning of his words.

He moved to her neck once again, then began to leave butterfly kisses. He gave her a small bite on the collarbone, and she reacted by grabbing both of his arms.

He made a slight movement and gazed at her face.

He smirked at her and said,

"I always try to protect you from myself. But who can save you from me now? Welcome to my den, Allison."

Before she could respond, he leaned in and smashed his lips on hers.

It was a heated kiss. He kissed her hungrily. She kissed him back. His hands began to explore her entire body as he moved them over her clothing. They halted on the back chain of her bridal gown. He only needed one pull to open the chain all the way.

She parted her lip in surprise, and he inserted his tongue into her mouth. While his hands traveled down her bare back, his tongue teased her and played with her.

His mind messed with the desire to have her. All these times, he only controlled himself, but tonight, he would not do that.

After a moment, he pulled away from the kiss and lifted her into his arms. She had a flushed face as she continued to stare at him.

He proceeded up the stairs and entered the bedroom after opening the door.

She looked at the room, and she could not be more surprised.

The whole room was full of candles, just like downstairs. But what drew attention was the bucket that was full of flowers and also contained something else. Alongside the flowers were arranged a variety of flavored condoms.

She was placed on the bed by Ryan. She diverted her gaze to avoid meeting his. He chuckled at her shyness.

He removed his coat and hurled it on the ground after tossing it off. He unbuttoned his shirt one by one.

"I love your shyness, but I would love it if you-"

She interrupted him by lifting her hands for him. "Come here."

He was stunned. He got in bed and leaned down on her.

She grabbed the shirt and pulled it down from his shoulders. She knew what he wanted to say.

She was shocked when she saw there was no wound in his right arm.

It healed so fast like magic!

He kissed her and took off her long dress from her body.

His eyes widened when they fell on her body. She was wearing hot red lingerie, which drove his mind crazy.

Allison noticed his expression and bit her bottom lip. She bought it when she went shopping with Teresa. She was confident enough to wear it.

But now, the way he was looking at her body, she wanted to hide somewhere.

"Allison, you have no idea what is going through my mind right now. I will destroy you tonight in every possible way."
