

Chapter 267 You Had A Mate?

The next few days, Rose was busy with her daily life. Arvan was also busy with his pack work. After the forest incident, he rarely came to the university. He could not understand his sudden feelings for Rose. Lina and others came to the university daily. Lina tried to humiliate Rose every time she saw her because Arvan started to distance himself from her. Lina knew it was all because of Rose.

Today Rose and Arvan both came to the university. After all the classes, Rose was busy talking with Alice and Delilah. They were planning to go to a party. Tonight, one of their seniors named Robin arranged a party for everyone, so he invited them too. Alice was the main reason for being there. She and Vector were party people. They liked to go to parties together. So that was why Robin invited Alice and her friends.

"I think I can go today." Rose said.

"That's a relief. Otherwise, I would have to call Aunt Selena for that." Alice said.

"I can also come." Delilah said.

"That's my girl." Alice said happily.

"I am happy that we three can go somewhere together again. Otherwise, after that ball party, we never went anywhere together." Rose said and sighed.

"Now let's go. We need to decide on our clothes for tonight." Alice said.

"Yeah, we should leave now." Delilah said.

Rose nodded and went outside the university. She saw Arvan and Lina talking about something. Arvan was leaning on his car and looking serious. Beside them were Liam and Rita. They were bickering about something like a cute couple. Henry and Vector were watching something on their phones. They were always together, living together in the pack house, together studying at the same university. All of them were like soulmates.

Rose looked away from them.

"Let's go, I will drop you both off today." Alice said and was about to go to the parking lot for her car but stopped when she saw a black Porsche stop in front of her.

Rose and Delilah were also stunned. Everyone was looking at the car. It was not like nobody used this type of expensive car in their pack. Even Arvan and Liam had the best additional cars. But everyone was looking for the owner because they had not seen the car before. Looked like someone new had come to their university.

Alice stepped back and moved to Rose and Delilah. A man opened the door and got out of the car.

Rose was surprised when she saw who came out of the car.

"Blaze?"

Blaze moved toward her and smiled. "We met again."

"What are you doing here?" Rose asked.

Everyone was watching them, including Arvan.

Arvan looked mad. 'Why did he come here? Did he get my permission to come into my pack? I didn't give him any approval to enter my pack without having my permission.' Arvan thought.

He stood straight from leaning and headed to Blaze.

"Alpha Blaze Viotto, What a pleasant surprise!" He said.

Blaze looked at him and didn't stop smiling.

"Alpha Arvan. I never thought we would meet here. By the way, nice to meet you again." They shook hands.

Everyone in the university was shocked when they heard the new guy's name.

"Blaze Viotto? Isn't he the Alpha of the Blue Moon pack?" Everyone started whispering. They were looking at the two rival alphas talking humbly to each other. But they knew nobody liked each other. They even glanced at Lina. Lina didn't believe her ex mate had come again.

"Actually, I was passing the road when I saw your territory, I thought why not come and visit? Is it okay with you if I visit your pack, Alpha? I mean I read all of your laws, it says it's okay for the other Alphas to visit your pack." Blaze cleared the thing that Arvan should not have any problem because it was not under his law.

Arvan was looking at him indifferently.

"No no, why would he have any problem? You came to our pack, and we are happy. Let's go to the pack house to visit." Liam said. He tried to control the situation.

"No. I have someone special and I have to give her some of my precious time. But I will go there another day." Blaze told Liam and looked at Rose.

Rose was confused about everything.

"I came here to pick you up, let's go." Blaze told Rose without looking at Arvan.

Rose wanted to ask when they planned to hang out but when she saw Arvan turn his head to find out the answer, she nodded at Blaze.

She looked at Alice and Delilah. "I am going now but I will come to the party tonight."

"What party?" Blaze asked.

Robin was there too. When he heard about his party, he jovially came to them and said, "Alpha Blaze, it's a party from me. I will be happy if you come to my party tonight. If you have time, please consider my invitation."

Blaze glanced at Rose and replied to Robin, "I will come for sure."

Robin was pleased. It would be one of the most memorable parties in the university's history. Because never ever did the Alpha and his rival Alpha attend any party together. He nodded gladly. Arvan glared at him. He lowered his head and walked out from there in fear that Arvan would kill him.

Rose went to the car and sat in the back seat while Blaze went to sit with her. The car drove away and Arvan looked at the car before it was lost to sight.

Lina came to him and whispered, "I think he doesn't want Rose but me, Arvan. I am feeling scared. What if he wants me back?"

Arvan looked at Lina. When he heard that, he somehow felt relaxed. He didn't know why he was feeling this.

Meanwhile, Rose and Blaze were sitting in a silent car. Rose broke the silence and asked, "Blaze, why did you come to pick me up? We never had planned to go anywhere."

"Didn't I tell you that I would come back for you?" Blaze asked.

"But Blaze, I told you I could give you nothing. You can find a good woman for you. You are perfect, but not me."

Blaze didn't reply to her back, he looked outside from the window.

After some time, the car stopped in front of a restaurant. It was one of the best restaurants in their pack. Rose had never come here but she wanted to.

Blaze came out of the car and opened the door for Rose. Rose got down from the car and thanked him.

They entered the restaurant and sat at a private table.

"You even reserved a table? How did you know that you would find me at the university?" Rose asked while looking around the restaurant.

"I know many things about you. I told you that I have my own way. When I like something, I make my own way for it." Blaze replied.

Rose didn't ask more. This man always talked like this and shut her mouth.

Blaze ordered some good dishes from the menu. When their order was served, they started to eat. Blaze asked her, "Do you like someone?"

Rose paused but quickly regained herself. "Liked."

"What do you mean?" Blaze asked.

"I liked someone. It was too fast for someone to like but I think I loved him. He never tried to understand my feelings. I know he had his girlfriend but-" Rose stopped and thought about past memories.

"But what?"

Rose thought that Blaze was a gentle man. If he came here just to meet her then he had the right to know about her rejection but she could not take her mate's name. She didn't want to make things more difficult for her.

"But he was my mate."

Blaze frowned at her. "Then what happened?"

"He rejected me." Rose replied immediately.

"Why does it look the same as my own story? My mate also rejected me for her boyfriend. Don't tell me your mate is my ex mate's boyfriend." Blaze said jokingly.

Rose's eyes widened. She looked at Blaze and saw he was smirking at her as if he knew everything.

Then he laughed. "I was just kidding, relax."

Rose sighed and was relieved that Blaze didn't know about her and Arvan.

They talked about many other things. When it was time to pay the bill, Rose insisted on paying the bill herself. But Blaze didn't let her pay the bill.

They stood up and walked out of the restaurant. They went to his car and sat on their seats.

Blaze turned his head to Rose. He asked for her phone. Rose didn't know if she should give her phone to him or not, but she gave it to him.

"I am dropping you at your house. When you get ready just call me, and I will come to pick you up and we will go to the party together."
