

Chapter 30

"Don't trust me, Allison."

Allison opened her immediately. She was shocked, mostly horrified.

What happened to her?? Did she just almost let him kiss her? If he did not back away, they might have kissed already.

'What is wrong with me?' She thought.

She looked at Ryan. He was looking at her. His eyes were cold.

'He must be thinking of me as a shameless girl.'

Her eyes became teary. She turned her head to another side. She wiped the corner of her eyes.

"Why are you crying?" He asked.

She was speechless. Should she reply to him? She stood up.

"Nothing." Then she stood beside the door.

She glanced at him. He was staring at her.

"Go and take a rest. You should sleep."

She opened the door wide and left the rooftop.

She was mad at herself. Every time she met Ryan, something happened.

She could blame him for the classroom, but what about today? How could she let go of her selfrespect like that?

She was going downstairs when her eyes fell on Ethan.

She tightened her fists. She wanted to give him a punch.

'All of this is happening because of him.'

"Allison"

Ethan called her.

She walked past him. Ethan followed her behind.

"Allison, listen to me."

"Stay. Away." She muttered angrily.

"Where are you going?"

"You don't have to know."

Everyone was staring at them. They were surprised that their Alpha who never behaved so desperately to any girl was running over a girl.

Allison emerged from the entrance. She began to walk in the direction of the bus stop.

Ethan grabbed her hand. "Stop."

"How dare you touch me?" She roared and snatched her hand.

Ethan took a deep breath. "Okay, calm down. I am not touching you."

"Shut up. And don't follow me."

She continued to walk again. She felt he no longer followed her.

She went to the bus stop and sat down on a bench, waiting for a bus.

She was moving her legs while sitting. She was very nervous. She did not know why.

"I have to stay away from Ryan. I can't go around him. Whenever he comes in front of me, I feel strange."

She bit her lips. She rested her chin on her palms. A bus came and people started to fill the bus. She stood up and went inside the bus.

She sat beside a window. A middle aged woman sat beside her. She observed Allison's expression.

"Are you upset?"

"Huh?"

Allison turned her head to her. The woman smiled at her. "Is something bothering you, kid?"

The woman's green eyes were very attractive.

Allison understood that she was a witch.

"I am just confused." She said and turned back to the window to see outside.

"Why?"

"I am not feeling good."

"Is it about your wolf?"

Allison turned to her and asked, "How do you know?"

"We can see many things." The woman replied.

Green eyes turned dark, she let out,

"Your wolf does not look good to me. She is in anguish. She felt some pain that broke her totally."

Allison lowered her head when she heard that.

"But she will recover soon."

Allison heard her again. It was true because she took Doctor Linus's potion.

"Yeah, I have a potion for omegas."

The woman looked perplexed. "A potion?"

"Yeah, my doctor told me that would help me."

She shook her head. "There is no potion in the world that can give you back your wolf but your mate."

"Mate?"

The woman nodded. "Yeah. Only a mate can save her mate's wolf. I can see, she is recovering well. Though she is weak, she will be fine soon. All you have to do is, stay beside him."

Allison stared at her blankly. She whispered,

"But my mate rejected me."

The woman was stunned. "How can this be possible?"

Allison did not reply to her. She had nothing to say.

"I think the mate bond has not broken yet. Because I can see you have a mate."

Allison's eyes widened. She could not be more shocked.

The woman patted her back. "Kid, don't worry too much. Your wolf needs her mate as well as you. So try to stay close to him. It will give your wolf strength. It will help her to recover fastly."

At that time the bus stopped. It was Allison's house area. She stood up slowly. But her mind was full of confusion.

She smiled at the woman. "Bye Aunt."

"Stay blessed."

"Thanks."

She got down from the bus and started to walk. She was confused about what the woman said to her.

She tried to remember when she first felt her wolf response after the rejection.

But that morning she did not meet Ethan or did she? Was he there somewhere?

She met him when she went to Doctor Linus. She felt pain in her heart. Was it also a response?

Today she felt it again. Today Ethan was there in the hall too.

Allison closed her eyes and shook her head.

"No, no. This is nonsense. Mate bonds haven't broken yet? How can it be possible?"

She headed to Teresa's house as she was guessing about everything.

"But if it's not true then how did my wolf react?"

She tried to shove her all thoughts and reached Teresa's house.

"Allison, Dear. How are you?" Teresa's mother asked.

"Fine, Aunt. How about you?"

"All good. But your best friend suddenly got sick."

"Yeah, I came to see her."

Teresa's mother nodded and told her to go to Teresa's room to meet her.

Teresa was using her phone when Allison went to her room.

Teresa was stunned that she came so early. Allison hugged her and asked about her condition.

They talked about Teresa's health. Teresa asked her what happened to her.

Allison could not restrain herself to tell her everything.

"You mean your mate is helping your wolf to recover?"

"The witch woman said so."

"How can we believe her?"

"She told me about my wolf without me telling her anything. She is a witch so obviously she was trying to help me."

Teresa nodded her head. She thought for a moment and advised her,

"That means you will have to spend some time with Ethan from now on if you want to recover your wolf."

Chapter 31

"That means you will have to spend some time with Ethan from now on if you want to recover your wolf."

Allison lay down on the bed. She closed her eyes.

"I don't want it, Teresa."

"I have just seen some pictures. They are saying something else huh." She waved her phone close to Allison's face.

Allison opened her eyes and rolled them.

"He asked me for forgiveness."

"What?"

"Yeah."

"You didn't say that to me."

"How can I? You were not at the school."

"Tell me what happened. Tell me everything."

Allison sat up and told her about everything.

Including what happened with Ryan.

"You mean Alpha Ethan is apologizing to you and wishes to earn your forgiveness."

"Yeah."

"And his brother Ryan tried to get close to you. You almost let him kiss you?"

"Y-Yeah."

"THAT BASTARD!"

Allison sighed. She knew she would get this reaction.

"Allison, stay away from him. I am warning you. He is a playboy."

"I am not that close to him either. But it's just I don't know what is going wrong with me."

"Nothing is happening. He is using his charms on you."

"His charms?"

"Yes, his charms. He is using his tricks to get you. You know how Playboys usually use tricks to trap girls. He is doing that."

"Really?" Allison asked and glanced at the blank wall.

"Yeah, Honey. Come here. I will protect you from him. He is not good for you." Teresa pouted and hugged her as if Allison was a kid.

"Whatever. Drop this topic. Tell me about you. Are you still in contact with that Max?"

Teresa was silent. Allison looked at her.

"What? Do you really believe him?"

"I don't think he is like Ryan. Ryan came from abroad but Max was always here. We saw him before. He is a good boy."

"Wait a minute. When did this happen? How long have you been observing him?"

"Just a few years."

"Oh my god!! You didn't tell me!"

"I was confused. He was just a crush. I thought I would never get to talk to him, you know. If the chance is so low then why would I dream of it? So I didn't tell you."

Allison nodded her head. "If you really like him. Then please be careful, okay? I don't want you to end up like me. Your birthday is also coming."

"I will wait for my mate. I know Max does not like me. We are just friends."

"But you like him."

"As you say, I can't feel the pain like you. So it would be better if I wait for my fate."

Allison smiled. "You are not foolish like your best friend."

They talked for hours. Allison had lunch at Teresa's house. Teresa's mother called Allison's mother and told her that Allison would be at their house till evening.

"I am so sorry, Hailey. She can't."

"Why Joey?"

"Allison has to go to the pack house."

Teresa's mother was stunned. "Pack house? Is everything okay?"

"Yeah, everything is okay. But she has to join the training course from today."

"It's a nice thing. Don't worry I will send her soon."

"Thanks a lot, Hailey. Let's meet one day and talk more peacefully."

"Yeah, you are right. It's been a long time since we have seen each other."

They talked for a while then Teresa's mother went to Teresa's room.

"Allison, you have to go now. Your mother told me you have to go to the pack house."

"Pack house?"

Allison almost forgot about training. But she planned to cancel it.

"It's okay, I can go tomorrow-"

"NO!"

Teresa spoke out loudly.

Allison turned to her. Teresa smiled at her awkwardly.

"You have to go, remember? You have to go. Your wolf wants to train. Am I right?"

Teresa gestured to her in front of her mother and tried to remind Allison about her wolf.

Allison understood what she was saying. She nodded her head. "Oh, yeah. My wolf... wants to go training."

She said goodbye to Teresa and her mother then left the house.

She took a cab to go to the pack house directly.

When she arrived in the area, it was already afternoon.

She paid the driver and did not get out of the cab immediately. She took a deep breath.

"Madam, we are here. You can-"

"I know I know. I am leaving."

She got down and headed to the pack house. The pack house's area was really big. No one could enter any car without Alpha's permission. So she could not take the cab inside.

When she reached the pack house, guards recognized her and smiled at her, she smiled back at them.

They were old guards. They had known her since she was a child.

She entered the pack house, Luna was sitting on the couch, talking with someone on her phone.

When she saw Allison she stood up.

"Yes, yes. She is here. Now let me talk to her. Your time is over." She chuckled and hung on.

"Come here, Dear. I was just talking to your mother." Allison smiled and walked to her. She felt awkward coming here alone. She always came with her mother. She just came here last night. Now again she came back.

"I came here for training, Luna."

"I know that. Take a rest first then go to the training hall."

"No, it's okay. I am totally fine to go there."

"As you wish. But don't think of going back before dinner."

"Dinner? It would be too late."

"One of our drivers will send you home. So no worries."

Allison could not deny her. She nodded and headed to the training hall.

The pack was enormous, like a palace. There was a pair of stairs that led to going upstairs and then connected together. It was a duplex bungalow. Inside the house, there were numerous hall rooms, including a ballroom.

She entered the training area. She expected a large number of pack fighters to train there.

However, she was shocked to see that there was no one in the training hall. She took a step forward to have a look around. But she came to a halt as she heard Ethan's voice from behind her.

"Welcome to your first day of training."
