

Chapter10

1

Rose

The faint beeping sound slowly gets louder with each beep. A white ceiling came into my view when I peeked through my eyelids,

Quickly squinting as the brightness hurt my eyes,

"I think she is waking up; get the doctor!"

The voice was deep but soothing sounding. Opening my eyes again but a little slower. I noticed the light wasn't so bright,

"I turned them down, so they don't hurt your eyes again," That voice came again,

I let my eyes scan the ceiling; rolling my head to the side, I saw a man standing there; he was a good-looking man, Tall, with broad shoulders and dark brown hair; the sides were shaved, and the top pulled back. I could see the outline of a tattoo on one side,

"Hey there,"

I went to slide away from him but bumped into a railing. Worry instantly filled his face. Holding his hands up,

"It is okay. I'm not going to hurt you,"

He did not make a move to grab me or touch me. I could feel myself taking fast, deep breaths in. My head was beginning to spin,

"I'm not going to do anything to you, but I need you to calm down a bit. You are going to pass out if we can't get your breathing to slow down,"

"Whe.. where am I." My voice was crackly, my throat felt scratchy,

Moving slowly, he grabbed a cup from the side table, "Here, take a sip," He held the cup up to me. Keeping my eye on him, I leaned forward, drawing a little water through the straw. The coolness washed down my throat, relieving the dryness I felt,

Pulling back quickly, he set the cup back down, turning to look at me. I couldn't figure out why he was looking at me like that,

"Um," I squeaked out,

The door opened as he was about to say something,

"AH, yes, she is awake. That good news,"

A tall, blond-haired lady came to stand on the side of me. She looked down and smiled. The warmth that came off her made me feel a little at ease,

"I'm Dr. Mary, I'm glad to see you are awake. How are you feeling? Any pain or numbness? Dizziness?"

"Um, I'm not," I gave a side glance to the man, but he was still sitting there, eyes locked on me. Moving my eyes back to the doctor, I saw she still had that smile. Glancing over at the man and then back to me,

Realization ached in her eyes,

"I am so sorry. Please excuse my manners. This is our Alpha Jaxson," She held her hand out towards the men,

My eyes moved to look at him. He smiled at me. He held his hand out to me,

"You can call me Jaxson or Jax,"

I didn't move to take his hand. Why would an Alpha shake a lowly Omega hand,

"I.. I.. Ro."

I couldn't even find my words,

"Rose?" He said my name, more like a statement than a question,

Nodding my head but then wincing as it made pain rip through it, I squeezed my eyes shut,

"Rose, hey, I need you to open your eyes," The doctor's voice came as I felt hands on my face. Opening my eyes, she was right over me,

"What hurts?" She asked as she shined a light in my eyes,

"Head," The pounding was killing me,

"Just your head? What type of pain? Like a throbbing or a slight headache?"

"Pounding, Like a drum,"

She nodded,

I shut my eyes, willing it to stop,

I felt a giant hand touch my head. I could feel sparks all down my cheek. I inched a little as I was not ready for someone to touch me,

The pain started to let up. The longer the hand stayed there,

Opening my eyes, I was met with light blue eyes looking down at me, "How does it feel now?" He asked,

"It's better,"

Giving a nod, he pulled his hands back, then took his seat again,

"Thanks, Alpha," The doctor said to him. I looked at her, confused at how he was able to get the pain to stop,

"Okay, Let me get you some pain medicine,"

She spun, shooing out of the room quickly,

Looking back at the man, Jaxson, I think he said his name was,

"Um, Thank you," I said lowly, looking down at my hands,

"It is not trouble. I like helping,"

Looking up, He was staring at me, studying me,

"My name is Rose," I told him. He smiled.

"Yes, I know, "

"Oh," Yeah, dummy, he already said that I looked down at the bed and that when I realized my leg was in a case,

"Your leg was in bad shape,"

Flashes of being dragged through the wood filled my mind. My body began to shake as I could feel his teeth sinking into my flesh,

"Hey, hey, Look at me," Hands held my face, tipping it up. Blue eyes looked right into mine,

"You are safe, no one will hurt you here,"

"I.. I.. ca." I stutter out,

"Can't what, princess?" He kept his eye locked with mine. I felt myself go into a trance,

"Breath for me,"

With his words, I took a breath in,

"Let it out, nice and slow,"

Doing as he said, I could feel myself calming down,

"There you go, good girl. Keep breathing like that, nice and easy, "

After about five minutes of following what he said, I felt my heart wasn't pounding so hard in my chest that I thought it would pop out,

The door opened as the lady came back in. One look at me, she rushed to my side,

"What happened?"

"She got a little worried," The man answered, "But I was able to calm her down; she is good now, Right?" He looked at me,

"Yes," I blew out a breath, "Yes, Thank you again,"

"Alright, since you have an IV in, I'm going to push this medicine through it. It will kick in faster, and then we can go over everything,"

She stuck the needle in the tube. She wasn't kidding. I felt that work instantly,

"Ok, Now, let us talk about your injuries,"

My eyes snapped to look at her,

"I have repaired what could be on your leg. It has to heal the rest of the way on its own. As for your back, I cleaned the open wounds, so you shouldn't get an infection at all. You had broken ribs. You had lost a lot of blood, so we gave you a transfusion. It will take some time for you to heal, as your wolf has been weakened."

I dropped my eyes, not wanting to meet hers,

"Dr. Mary, would you mind giving us a minute?"

"Certainly, Alpha,"

I heard the door shut,

"Dr. Mary is a little much. She doesn't beat around the bush and is straightforward,"

I didn't say anything. I just kept my head down. I wanted to go back to my room and hide,

"Maybe we should start with where you are and how you got here. I'm sure that will help you not be so confused with all this,"

"Okay," I whispered,

"Like Dr. Mary said, I'm Jaxson. I'm the Alpha here at Blue Moon Pack. I found you injured in the woods and brought you to my pack for help,"

"Oh, um, so we are not at Black Stone?"

"No, Princess, we are not,"

I should feel some relief about that, but panic filled me instead. What about the Alpha? Will he get mad? Will he let the boy hurt me again,

"No need to worry about Alpha Ron,"

Snapping my eyes to him,

"I, Uh, does he know I'm here? He doesn't like it when I leave the pack house. I don't want to make him mad,"

I quickly stutter out,

"Alpha Ron does know you are here. He is not to be worried about. You will not return there, so don't fret about it. You are safe here. No one will ever hurt you again,"

"But,"

He shook his head,

"Rose. I know what he was doing, I know they mistreated you, I know who hurt you. If I didn't find you when I did, you would have died,"

I could see his anger building. I recoiled back into the bed, not wanting to receive his punishment,

His face softened when he saw me pushing myself into the bed,

He moved to touch me, I cringed, "Please don't," I squeezed my eyes shut,

Warm hands cupped my face, making me open my eyes. Pain showed in his eyes,

"I will not hurt you, I never will, I could never hurt my mate,"
