

Chapter20

Ron

Swinging open the door, I strolled in, sitting in front of the desk. "What is it you wanted?" I asked Harrison.

I had been going back and forth, getting the st I wanted from that dam witch. She seemed to be dragging her feet.

She told me no at first when I asked who we would be taking something from. But after a little convincing from me, she decided to go along with it. Now, it's been a few days, and she still has nothing I could use to get my property back.

"I got a call from the council from some Elder Luke. He had Corey in custody, and Rose is in the care of Alpha Jaxson under Sancutary."

Boiling hot anger filled me at hearing those words. How dare she claim that! I couldn't care less about Corey. He wasnt the important one here. That was the little bh.

"Dad? Did you hear?"

Taking a breath. Getting myself in control.

Chapter20

"Yes. Did he say why she is claiming that?"

He looked down at the desk.

"He spoke about how she was severely beaten and had been unconscious for days. But before she passed out from her injuries, she claimed sanctuary to Alpha Jaxson. Witnesses are saying they heard her words."

I know that had to be the dam Alpha. She wouldn't say anything about that. She had been kept here away from others and was not learning any more than what her parents taught her. So, she would not know to claim that,

"What else did he say?"

"Nothing, just that Corey is returning with him for a trial. He admitted to causing harm to Rose that night."

Pinching between my brows, this is a mess. Yes, they can give him a harsh punishment for harming another pack member, but now I need to figure out how to deal with this sanctuary crap.

"Let him go. We need to focus on getting her out of there."

"Dad, dont get me wrong, I enjoy all that we do with her, but cant we just pick another Omega to replace her? You said it yourself: we are not strong enough to take Jaxson on."

I'm rubbing my lower lip. I guess I'm going to have to tell him. I have been keeping this secret for years, but I will have to share it now for this to work.

"Rose isn't who you think she is. She is not an omega,"

He frowned as he looked over at his brother, who now had taken an interest in the conversation,

"Okay? If she is not an omega, then who is she?"

"Rose is the daughter of an Alpha. Alpha Bennet from the Moonlight Pack."

He jerked his head back, "Moonlight that pack was wiped out years ago by rogues. I was a kid when it happened."

"Yes. You are right, but others do not know that a few lived, and so did the Alpha and Luna, along with their daughter."

"Wait. So, how is omega? and how did she get here?" Landon asked.

"Because I had her parents denounce themselves when it took them in. there for it made her an omega as he parents dropped to that when they gave up their titles,"

Chapter 20

Both of them looked at me—confusion on their faces.

"Why?" Harrison asked.

"Because there is something about the Moonlight pack that not many know. And when they needed somewhere to go, I make sure to take them in,"

"And what is it that no one knows?"

"Every Alpha heir will be a Moon Born. And their pup will be granted gifts from the moon goddess herself."

"You think that Rose is a Moon Born?" Harrison asked.

"Why have we never heard of this Moon Born before?" Landon asked.

"Because it is not something they teach you. I learned it from my father. Its knowledge gets passed down through the packs, not in a classroom."

"Are you sure she is this Moon Born? I mean, she didn't seem special in any way. She was always weak and an easy target."

Nodding my head, "Yes, she is. Her father was one

Chapter20

as well."

"What would he sparkle when he sweat?" Landon laughed out as he sat back shaking his head,

"He could see what was going to happen before it happened."

"Like the future?"

"No. in a fight he could see your moves before you made them,"

"Well then how did the rogues take down their pack if he had that ability?" Harrison asked.

"Because some little birdie told those rogues how to defeat them."

Both boys looked at each other then to me,

"You were that little birdie?"

Noding my head.

"Yes i was, I wanted that daughter as the last few Alphas all had boys she is the first in over a decaced to be born a female. and i wanted her so i played my hand and came out on top. then went her parents died she was left. another hurtle out of my way."

Harrison sat back as he got a smirk on his face.

Chapter20

"Her parents didnt died by a rogue did they? I always wonder cause i dont remember one happening."

Landon snapped his head towards me,

"You killed her parents?"

Ad

"Like i said I wanted her. there was nothing going to keep me from having her, even now I will get her back."

"What do you want her for? you are mated to mom." Landon asked as he held a worry look.

"She is not for me. I wanted her for Harrison and you. Both of you are Alpha blood mix that with another Alpha blood the pups will be the strongest around."

"You want us to wait?" Both said at the same time,

"What am i to do with Morgan? She is of Alpha Blood."

"No she is not."

I knew that little secret about ALpha Marcus, his daughter Morgan was not his. he took her on when he found his mate she was already pregnant with Morgan. Morgans father is actual a rogue.

"She not?"

Shaking my head "No. She is not his actual daughter. he adopted her before she was born."

"They why pair us to gather?"

Shrugging my shoulders,

"Money. His pack is very weathly and we are struggling, "

"Dad i dont understand this at all." Harrison got up as he started to pace.

"Irs simple Harrison, You take Morgan as your Luna, she is well verse in that area she will make a good one. But your pups will come from Rose. as well as Landons pups, he came mate who ever but pups only with Rose. Im doing this to keep our bloodline alive and strong so others can not take all this away from us."

"So you want us to bed the same female?" Landon asked.

"Yes. i need both of you to have pure pups this will keep the ranks strong."

I sit back clasping my hands to gather resting them on my leg, as i watch them two mull around all this information i just gave them. I have worked hard to keep her hidden and so no one knew she was here. I will not give up now when im so close to having what i worked for,

Harrison walked over sitting back down.

"Dad. I dont know about this. I mean its all kinda," "Messed up." Landon finished for him,

I raised my brows at them, "Messed up?"

"Yeah i mean, you want us to bed the same female." "I didnt say at the same time." I clipped at them both,

"But still that's odd. and what about my mate? Once i mark my mate she would feel pain. Of course i haven't found her yet but still."

Chapter20

Rolling my eyes at him,

"It will not last for ever the pain will pass quickly." I scoff at him,

Landon jumped out running out of the office.
Harrison just starred at me.

I know this is a lot for them but in time they will understand why i did this when we become the strongest ranked wolves they will me thanking me for what i did. I do not feel bad about my choices i made, I did these for the pack that's what Alphas do.
