

Chapter25

Jaxson

Wayne had reached out to several covens. All said the same thing. They didn't know of Alpha Ron and had no interest in working with mutts.

"We may have to look at the low-level places for ones who aren't in a coven,"

He was nodding his head.

"I thought of that too. Someone from there won't be too picky about who they work for as long as they get paid."

"Why don't you get a group together? We will have them scout a few places."

"How many do you want?"

"Maybe four. I don't want to send out the wrong idea to any of them. Get a picture of Alpha Ron and have them ask around if they saw him. But nothing more."

"On it."

Just as he stood up, there was a soft knock on the door.

"Come in, Rose," I call out. I know it was her. Her scent hit my nose as soon as she knocked.

The door slowly opened as his little head pooped through the crack.

Standing up, I crossed the room.

"Hey, Ms Rose. How are you?" Wayne asked her as I pulled the door the rest of the way open for her.

"Hello. Beta Wayne. im good. Thank you. How about you?"

"You can call me Wayne. Ms Rose."

"Well. When you start calling me Rose, I will call you Wayne." She smirked at him.

His shoulder dropped. "Alright. Rose, it is."

She smiled at him. "Thank you, Wayne."

He shook his head as he stepped past her. "I'm Sorry, duty calls." He gestured with his hand. "Have a good day."

She watched him walk out. There was something in her eyes as she watched him.

Shutting the door, I took her hand, leading her to the sitting area.

"I thought you were still with Harley?"

"Oh, she had something to do, so I thought I would come find you."

I felt warmth spread through me. She came to find me.

"Im glad you did. Everything alright? How's the leg feeling?"

Smiling, she nodded her head.

"Yes. Um, the leg is good. im able to walk a little farther each day. And im not having as much pain at night."

She was still limp, but I noticed it was getting better.

She was biting her cheek. as she looked at her fingers.

"Rose, is there something wrong.?"

Her eyes lifted to mine. "I wanted to ask something, " her voice wavered a bit.

"Twinkles, you can ask me anything."

She chuckled at my nic name. She always does when I call her that.

"Do you think?" She trailed off, biting her cheek again. "You know what, never mind."

Taking her head in mine. "Rose, what is it?" I was starting to get worried seeing her like this.

"Do you think Wayne would ever cheat on Harley?" She spit it out so fast it took a minute to sink in.

Chapter25

Her eyes held mine. I saw fear in them as if she had asked the wrong thing.

Jumping up. "Forget it, asked that," She started to take a step when my arm shot out, wrapping around her waist and pulling her back down.

She let out a yelp when she landed on my lap.

"Jaxson!" She was pushing against my chest with her tiny little hands. But her wiggling wasn't helping.

"Stop wiggling Twinkles." My voice was deep and rough, making her freeze instantly; my hands tightened on her hips.

"Now you asked me a question. How are you going to run off before I even answer it?"

"I... Um. " She fumbled over her words.

"I will answer it, but tell me firstly, what makes you ask?"

She went to wiggle again, but when I gave her a slight squeeze on her hips, she froze again.

"Harley. she ugh. she saw him with someone."

I frowned.

"Wayne? he was with someone?"

"She told me she saw him hugging another female."

Chapter25

"Well, that does not sound like Wayne. he has been about Harley since they found one another. Did she happen to know who the female was?"

Ad

She nodded her head. "She said her name was Candy,"

I let out a groan hearing that name. I pinched the bridge of my nose.

"Do you know her?" She asked me.

"Yes. she is a pack member. She is his ex as well. When he and Harley found out they were mates, he dumped her for Harley. She wasn't happy about that, and it caused some problems. I threatened to exile her from the pack if she didn't stop and respect his decision."

"Oh." She looked down.

"What did Harley all say?"

"Um. Well, it was the night they were to go to dinner. She went to look for him. She said she found him with his arms around the female."

Letting out a sigh, "Let me guess. She didnt confront them."

Shaking her head,

Taking a deep breath.

"That is what she used to do: find little ways always to touch him. Or she would fake a trip, and he would help or catch her. She even snuck into his room, leaving her panties in there for Harley to find."

She covered her mouth with her hand.

"But no. He wouldn't cheat. He loves Harley. They are perfect together. Im sure it was a misunderstanding. But Harley should talk to him about it."

She bobbed her head.

"I told her that after she mixed something in his body wash."

Chapter25

Snapping my head up. "His pink hair?"

She nodded.

"What was in the body wash?"

She shrugged. "I do not know, but I was worried for him. That's when I asked her, and she finally told me."

I laughed,

She slapped my chest,

"Jaxson, it's not funny. She could have turned him into something or all his hair fall out,"

"Well, servers him right. He should have when and told her what happened. Harley isn't someone to cross. That's why she is a good Female Beta. She holds her ground and can't let people off lightly. Poor Wayne will have to suffer her wrath."

I laughed harder as a picture of him sporting another bright hair color.

"You are horrible," She pushed on my chest. Letting myself fall back against the back cushion of the couch. She was still on my lap.

She squinted her eyes a bit. Her pupils grew big and wide.

"Rose?" I sat up.

Her eyes turned black as she looked at me.

Chapter25

Cupping her cheeks when she didnt say anything.
"Rose, talk to me. What's wrong?"

"Mate," she said, but it wasn't Rose's soft voice.

My wolf left out a rumble of affection hearing those words. She leaned in closer as her nose touched my forehead. I heard her breathe in.

"Yes, mate." I nuzzled my nose in her neck. She let out a soft breath, relaxing against me. My heart soared at the contact. Sure, we have touched hands or hugged, but nothing like this. My wolf rolled over in my head.

Her jasmine scent suddenly got stronger. I couldn't help but wrap my arms around her, pulling her tighter against me.

"Mine," I growl out.

Suddenly, her body went rigid in my arms. Pulling back, I saw her eyes had gone back to normal. Her breath was a little fast,

"Rose." She was staring right at me. She seemed lost or in deep thought, and her eyes had a far-off look.

She blinked a few times but then seemed to snap out of it.

"Hey. Hey, it's okay."

I cupped her face.

Chapter25

"Breath, Rose."

She did as I said. When her body seemed to relax, her breathing slowed down.

"Rose, are you okay?"

Giving me a slight nod. "Yeah, I think so."

"Im not sure what happened." She sounded confused.

I smiled. Knowing it was her wolf that had surfaced means she is getting stronger. Soon, if her wolf starts coming forward, she will be able to shift.

"Rose. That was your wolf. She surfaced."

She just looked at me with big eyes

"My Wolf?"
