

Chapter30

Jaxson

I wasted no time getting back to the pack house. The thought of her in that much pain was killing me. My wolf wanted to be with her next to her. I was worried about her, so I had Wayne reach out to Elder Luke. I needed to know if this was normal or not. After he told us about her being a moon-born, I admit I don't know anything about the topic; it's just what he told us. Maybe this is normal. Perhaps it wasn't, but I needed to find out. I should have contacted him when she first went into heat, but I thought it would be like all the others.

Rushing through the door of the pack house, I passed several members. I didn't speak to them. They could see I was in a hurry.

Her scent hit me head-on as soon as I opened the door to my apartment. Her sweet fragrance filled the whole area. I was down the hall in front of her door within seconds, Slamming the door open, my eyes scanned the room. It was empty. I had to stop momentarily as her scent was twice as strong here. My wolf howled in my head at the smell of his mate.

A noise from the bathroom broke me out of my trance. I snapped my head towards the half-opened door. Three steps, and I was swinging it open all the way.

Harley was kneeling by the tub. Where my sweet little mate was lying, water up to her chest. Her flushed face rolled to the side as her eyes met mine. I could see the pain on her face. She was so pale-looking. She looked exhausted.

"Harley out."

I spoke as I moved closer. She jumped up, stepping back as I took her spot kneeling next to the tub.

"Jaxs." She whispered. I cupped her face. I could feel the heat coming off her body as she leaned into my touch. A soft moan left her lips at the contact.

"My sweet Rose." I placed a kiss on her forehead.

Her skin felt like fire.

"Make it stop, Jaxs, please." She whimpered.

Pulling back, I looked at her.

"Rose, are you sure? I would hate to take this from you when your mind is clouded. I do not want you to regret your decision afterward."

Her little hand gripped my wrist.

Chapter30

"Im sure, Jax. I trust you, Only you. Please. Make it go away."

Pressing my forehead to hers, "Alright, love."

Without another word, I reached in, scooping her up and lifting her from the tub. I grabbed a towel to dry her off. Once I was done, I picked her up again, carrying her to the bed. I laid her down as I began to pull my clothes off till I was completely naked. Her eyes roamed all over, and she bit her bottom lip.

"Like what you see, Twinkles."

Her face reddened even more than it was as she widened when she got caught staring.

Crawling on the bed, I hovered over her, my hand placed next to her body, caging her in.

"You can stare all you want, Twinkles. It's all yours."

I could hear her heartbeat pick up. I know this is her first time i know i have to go slow. But how she looks at me right now will make that hard to do.

Leaning closer so our lips were only inches apart,

"Last change, Rose. If you dont want this, tell me now, or I won't be able to stop once I start."

I wanted to give her the option. I never want to hurt her or make her feel regretful in any way. I would take all I have to pull away if she didnt want to. A small part wanted this, but the other wanted nothing more than to protect her and not cause her pain.

Her eyes locked with mine. She suddenly leaned up, pressing her lips to mine. Her hands slid up my arms, wrapping around my neck.

"I want this. Jaxs. I want you." She said as she pulled back,

That was all it took to break the last of my control, and I smashed my lips to hers in a hungry and demanding kiss.

Ron

Sitting here, I stared at the little bottle on my desk when there was a knock on the door.

"Come in," I called out. I grab the bottle and place it in the top drawer.

The door opened as one of the scouts I had watching that Alpha stepped in. He came to the front of the desk, bowing his head.

"Alpha."

"You have information for me?"

He nodded his head.

"I do."

Chapter30

Leaning back, I laced my fingers together, resting them on my chest.

"Well, let's hear it."

"The Alpha has left the pack for three days. He and his Beta were staying at a house across the territory, But today, he suddenly returned to the pack house. Without his Beta."

That odd.

"What were they doing away from the pack house? Were they alone?"

"Yes. Alpha, only he and his Beta stayed. We followed them when they would go for a run or spar outside. I did catch some of the conversions. Something about the Alphas mate being in heat."

I shot from my chair.

"What did you say?"

"Um, That the ALpha mate was in heat." He scampered out.

"fk!" I slammed my fist on the desk. She was in heat. I began to pace. If she is in heat, that means her wolf is getting stronger,

"But maybe she is out now 'cause he returned this afternoon."

Stopping, I turn to look at him.

"You said only he returned, right?"

He nodded his head. "Yes. The Beta stayed behind."

Hmm. Why would his Beta not follow? As far as I know, Jaxs goes nowhere without his Beta. I need to know what he stayed back.

"Go back and see if you can find out why he stayed back. If he has left, sneak into that house and see what you can find, but do not get caught by his patrols. If you do, you are on your own."

"Alpha?"

Chapter30

I looked at him. He had a confused look.

"What? You did not understand your orders?"

"No. Alpha, but um, you want me to cross pack borders without permission, and this is ALpha Jax pack we are talking about."

I cross my arms over my chest.

"If you can not handle it, I will find someone else, and you can leave my pack. I need warriors, and if you are too afraid to carry out those orders, then I do not need a weak warrior in my pack."

He stiffened at my words.

"No, Alpha. I can handle it. I won't let you down. I will return when I have more information for you."

With that, he spun around, darting out of the room.

Dam! I punched the wall. I was worried about this. It would be perfect for Harrison if she was here and went into the heat. I need to get this girl back here, But I also need to figure out how to control her wolf. If she is getting strong, then she will not follow my orders,

All this time planning and keeping her hidden away and under my control all my work. And that dam Alpha slips in and takes her right out from under my nose.

Harrison and Landon still have not spoken to me.

Chapter30

But in time, they will understand what I am doing is for the greater good and the pack's survival. Every Alpha must make choices they dont want to; that's why there are Alphas. If you dont have a strong baseline, the pack will crumble. I will not let that happen i worked to hard and to long for this to all just get thrown away of someone to mess with my plan.

I will get her back, and she will give my son's pups to strengthen our bloodlines. I dont care what i have to do, but i will get her back.
