Chapter 111

WARNING WARNING!!!

'Just screw off!!'

Countless warning notifications appeared in front of Arthur as the skill was being prepared inside the Spatial Passage . It didn't take a long time to be readied but it even that small amount of time is precious for him as the enemy won't let him prepare when they see it .

Rizaki, previously named Rinotsu, a skill Arthur received when he arrived at the Itas continent in Astria . From the moment he received he was never able to use it even when completing the two requirements . 1 million intelligence and the use of Spatial Magic were easy to achieve when he possessed countless corpses but albeit achieving them, he wasn't able to use it .

Just like that mysterious scepter that he found with Zodiak, this skill is extremely unique . When it was used in the fight back then, although it was done by a very weak individual, the damage was unimaginable . It was precisely this skill that destroyed the twenty mountains .

The skill transformed into Rizaki but he still could use a simplified version of the skill which is Rinotsu with the help of Wind Attribute .

Arthur knew that using Rinotsu would deal damage to the surroundings but it would most likely not hurt any of those three even if by chance it did, the damage won't allow him to escape as he needed them completely unable to chase after him if he survived the impact, that is .

Rinotsu relied on Wind Attribute, by compressing a certain volume of air into a volume way smaller than its original size then suddenly letting go of that compressed air, it'll create a devastating explosion . A simple Rinotsu managed to rip off his whole arm and injure him here and there so Rizaki must at least deal twice the damage .

Rizaki(U)(Active) : Compress a volume of a certain attribute(No attributes currently) or pure Nether Energy into a small ball then open the ball and create an explosion .

WARNING: Can hurt the user .

Cost: 150 Mental Power (Lost permanently)

Cooldown : 1 Week .

Silence ruled the area as the chains tightened around Arthur and the cube made of black bones was also decreasing in size . Arthur was suffocating, even breathing became harder but all of this was totally futile as he was wholly concentrating on finishing Rizaki .

'ting!'

A small sound was heard by Arthur, it was the signal he was waiting for . He lifted his head and gazed at an empty air not far away from him . His actions were obviously noticed by Kilan, Aborak, and Jizung but all they saw was empty air and nothing else .

They inspected it with their Godly Sense but they still felt nothing, the only conclusion they could come up with is that Arthur was messing with them . After all, if they, people almost at the Peak of the God Realm couldn't feel anything from that area, then obviously nothing was there .

"Hmpf! Captured yet you still dare to mess with us?"

A long green lance appeared near Jizung, the old man floated next to Arthur and struck the green lance into his chest . The move was ruthless, what's more, is that the lance was purely made of condensed poison that was created by the gigantic Black Cobra .

Jizung was expecting a painful shout or at least something from Arthur after he struck with his poison, after all, the poison was very lethal and painful . It would melt the skin then the bones and muscles, it was a slow yet agonizing process . The moment the poison entered his body, it was definite that he will die, the question is when?

Jizung had total control of the poison, if he wanted, he could kill Arthur right now but he couldn't, it's not just him that needed Arthur if he killed him now, he had to deal with an angry Lich King and a howling White Tiger .

The strike of Jizung was indeed painful but for Arthur, who disabled the feeling of pain, it only managed to take a big chunk of his Health . Blood flowed from the huge hole created by the lance . The green weapon was melting on Arthur skin and very soon, all the chains were dyed red .

"Don't kill him . "

Aborak noticed the situation and saw how Arthur's body was filled with holes and slashes, it was a miracle that he was still awake and alive . He had to say something to stop the enraged Jizung as unlike him, he didn't want to kill nor torture Arthur, he needed him for something else .

Kilan kept a calm attitude and merely gazed at what's happening, a smile was hanging on his face as he stared at Arthur, even he, had his own agenda and wanted something from Arthur .

WARNING! You have dropped to the Deity Realm!

'As expected huh?'

After using so many skills that permanently took his Mental Power, it's bound to drop him a whole Realm as, to begin with, he was only at the Immortal Realm 2nd Grade .

Arthur turned his head and coldly gazed at Jizung whilst speaking at last .

"See you at hell . "

Immediately after he muttered those words, a blinding flash covered the whole area, not just where Aborak and co, but the light stretched for thousands of miles .

"Senior Bai, what is the meaning of this?"

Whilst Granny Shishu was trying to get an answer on why Bai Lingyue forcefully took her with him, the bright light suddenly appeared and even managed to force both of them to close their eyes .

Bai Lingyue's hands turned blurry and in just a second, a shield as big as a mountain appeared, the shield strongly resembled the one that Gobu used but it was way more majestic . The shield was golden and managed to block the flash for Shishu and him .

"I'm saving you from that . "

With a serious expression, Bai Lingyue channeled his power to try and block what's about to come . The distance Arthur crossed was not short when he escaped from the city . Yet even the people from the city saw a flash at the horizon, it didn't reach them but they still saw a flash that resembled a divine punishment .

The light was just the beginning, what followed was the true hell . As the flash blinded Aborak and co, they couldn't see what's happening, but them being ancient experts, each one of them took their most precious treasures to block whatever is going to attack them . Their fear from the Heavenly Arrow was present and even though Arthur was just in the Immortal Realm, the power he showed off is at the very least at the peak of the Divine Realm .

The closest ones to the impact were Jizung and Arthur, followed by Aborak and Kilan . No sound came at the beginning as winds whistled and a heavenly explosion occurred . Arthur felt his Meridians burning and Dantian shaking heavily, he could feel his body being sent flying far away but he still could feel the explosion following him .

He was not the only one that was flung far away, Jizung and co were sent flying, each took out a Godly defensive treasure yet all of them were injured with no exception .

Because Aborak was a Lich and with mysterious treasures, he was the one who managed to stabilize himself but he still couldn't stop his body from being pushed by a terrifying force .

"Thi-this is not someone at the Immortal Realm could do "

. . . .

Lucy, who was riding the Spirit Boat and escaping to the designed destination, turned her head as she saw a bright flash cover the sky and ground . It was blinding and bright, she couldn't focus her pupils on them . What followed that was an explosion that made the flying Spirit Boat shake .

Because the Boat's speed was extremely fast, she was not hurt by the explosion but some winds still reached her and made the boat shake violently, it even made it deviate from its direction and almost made it crash into a tall mountain .

Dust and wind were twirling everywhere and an ear-deafening explosion rang in every person who was near the explosion . Even people at the cities heard that explosion . It was not wrong to call it a divine punishment carried by a true God who was angry at someone who disobeyed or ridiculed him .

Blood flowed out from Lucy's ears as she covered them, there was no serious damage but the constant ringing sound was still present inside her head, no matter how much Nether Energy she channeled, she couldn't get rid of the ringing sound .

For a couple of seconds, she couldn't hear a sound, it's as if she literally became deaf . For people who were in close proximity to the explosion, such as Aborak and Kilan . Their Meridians were heavily injured by the sheer force of the sound waves emitted from the explosion but that was nothing compared to the damage they sustained from the explosions .

At a far away place from the explosion, the middle-aged man from before, who was reminiscing his time with Zodiak was awoken from his deep thoughts . He gazed at the North while frowning .

Although the distance was unimaginably great, he still was able to see what was happening, the bright flash followed by the explosion and the deafening sound waves . His frown deepened and after a while, he sighed and muttered .

"Too many guests cause trouble nowadays . . . seriously, they can't keep themselves at check . "

Then he waved his hand in annoyance and closed his eyes to rest as he couldn't bother with it anymore .

Although it was only a wave of his hand, an invisible barrier was conjured around the whole perimeter of the explosion, it completely blocked it and stopped it from advancing any further . No matter how much force was behind the explosion, it couldn't penetrate the barrier or even shake it . This was a good thing for the nearby cities or travelers but a bad thing for the ones inside the barrier as the explosion multiplied because it couldn't expand further . It's like it had a mind of its own .

Shishu gazed at the surroundings and saw the destruction of ancient mountains, rivers turned into white fog and the ground was no more . If it wasn't for the big golden shield that Bai was using to defend, she would have been heavily injured if not killed .

"After all . . . who are you really, friend Arthur . . "

Whilst using all his Nether Energy to block the incoming damage, Bai Lingyue was trying to guess Arthur's identity, to cause this much destruction with his attack, even someone such as him can't do that . What's more surprising is that a crack formed at the far right edge of the golden shield it was a small one but it stretched for a couple of meters . This made Azure Bai gasp and hold more admiration and curiosity for the couple, especially Arthur .

An hour has passed and the explosion didn't stop, the intensity decreased by a fair amount and it was possible for the likes of Aborak and co to move inside it but only while using defensive treasures and with a slow speed .

As for Arthur, he was currently layed on the ground with a huge pool of blood under him, his eyes weree tightly closed and he appeared like a dead person . It was a gory and horrifying sight . He didn't have his lower half and his left arm, moreover, he didn't appear to be breathing .

Arthur was quite lucky as he was flung at the edges of the bottom pit, his body struck the invisible barrier in the explosion and he luckily landed on a small land that wasn't annihilated by the explosion .

Anyone that saw him would definitely think he's dead . The fortunate thing, even when he's unconscious or half dead, the recovery was still present and steam came out of his stomach as his body was healing itself on its own . Slowly but surely, his waist and legs were being healed and created from nothingness .

. . . .

After three full hours, the explosions stopped and what was left was only a deep and dark pit that no one could measure how deep it was . It was like a bottomless abyss, cold and chilling was emitted from it and the more you dive deeper the more uneasy and fearful you feel .

All that Aborak, Kilan and the rest could see was total darkness, there was no longer any mountains, rivers or valleys . The mysterious barrier that blocked the explosion from expanding was a spheric shape so from afar, you could see a gigantic dark hole that covered at the very least a thousand mile .

Arthur was not the only one that was hurt, Aborak lost his skeletal left arm and Kilan was better off as he covered himself with some special white fur that deflected most of the damage, apart from cuts and wounds here and there, nothing was done to him .

As for Jizung, blood flowed from his forehead and made his face look creepier and scary . He had an ugly expression as he roared loudly, one of his Meridians was permanently burned to a crisp by the pure Nether Energy and he dropped 2 Grades . It couldn't be worse, literally .

His body was full of blood and he was stinking of the usual blood stench . It has been 1 hour since he recovered a bit and since that time, he never stopped searching for Arthur as he knew that even the user couldn't escape unscathed from such explosion .

The place was filled with dust and it was very hard to see but with their Godly Sense, it's pretty easy to search for living beings . Jizung tried probing what's deep into the bottom abyss but he felt nothing except an extremely chill and a sense of fear . He was not the only one that was searching for Arthur, Aborak and Kilan were contacting each other and searching everywhere .

After what he did to them, there is no way they were going to give up chasing right now . Although they were endlessly searching, their searching speed was too slow because of their injuries, someone like Jizung was slowly floating in the air . He would even stop for a couple of seconds to cough mouthfuls of blood .

Chapter 112

Time was tight for someone like Jizung, who was searching for Arthur . He should be resting and recovering from his injuries and not expending Nether Energy and using multiple techniques to find Arthur .

The reason is, if he didn't kill Arthur or at least torture him to his heart's will, he(Arthur) will become a knot in his heart, like a demon that stops him from advancing any further in cultivation .

He already dropped two whole grades so it's obvious that his clan will suffer a lot, in fact, it may even be kicked out as most of the elders disappeared and he became too weakened because of the explosion .

The only one who was almost unscathed is Granny Shishu and Azure Bai, who used the golden shield . Kilan was also managed to avoid danger, he was currently flying with high speed with Aborak on his left . Both of them used techniques to locate Arthur .

Since the area of the explosion was within the range of their techniques, it didn't take them long to find his location, it was to the far north of the bottomless abyss . Jizung was slower than them as he couldn't use high-levelled tracking techniques or else he might drop more grades, his Nether Energy is already depleted so using more techniques would make things much worse .

The situation is becoming worse for the unconscious Arthur as there was no sign of him waking up any time soon . His body was still healing itself but unless someone forcefully tried to wake him up then he would remain like that .

The first person who found Arthur was the Lich King and Kilan . They didn't recklessly dive ahead and strike him as it was too idiotic after what happened .

He was layed unconscious with a pool of blood under him, he looked in a very miserable state yet the two of them stayed far away and simply stared at him .

"What do you think we should do? He looks unconscious . "

Kilan questioned his friend as he was not brave enough to go and restrain him again after what happened, no matter if he's unconscious or not, he's a dangerous man that should not be underestimated .

"He's at the Deity Realm? Perhaps he's trying to make us get close again let's restrain him from here . "

Aborak pondered for then made some strange seals in the air, black gas came out of his sleeves and suddenly, two ugly looking beasts appeared out of nowhere . They resembled a griffin but they were much smaller, more or less the size of a lion . They were jet black including their skin and they had a foul stench .

The two beasts flew toward Arthur intending to restrain him . Kilan took out a long white chain from his storage and threw it toward the Griffin, the chain had two shackles which are used to lock someone's limbs .

Each one of the two griffins bit the end of the chain and flew toward Arthur . Surprisingly, they were met with no resistance when they put the shackles and wrapped the chains around him yet a second time today but all of this made Aborak and Kilan frown even more .

It would have been fine if some kind of mechanism was activated but nothing happening made them worry even more .

Very soon, the griffin flew again while restraining Arthur between them in mid-air, slowly but surely they were making their way toward the two .

At such a time, a green beams came from the South, it was Jizung in a very haggard state, blood was flowing out from the forehead and his face almost dyed with blood yet he didn't seem to mind it as his eyes were focused on Arthur who was held in mid-air .

"FOUND YOU!"

Without even minding Aborak and Kilan, Jizung madly rushed at Arthur and attacked . Multiple small green snakes twirled in the air and flew toward the unconscious Arthur .

The old man showed no mercy and his actions were too sudden, by the time Aborak and Kilan reacted, it was too late to stop the snakes from reaching Arthur, even for strong figures like them, to begin with, even that godly teleportation needed at least a second or so to activate yet they didn't have such precious time to block the snakes .

Unlike Jizung, they didn't want to deal with Arthur immediately, there were too many questions they needed to ask and things needed to check before killing him so Jizung's actions were too rush from their point of view .

At such a desperate time, just when the snakes were going to invade Arthur's mind and soul and slowly poison him to death and cause him unimaginable pain, a blue light suddenly appeared .

A fist-sized white pearl appeared out of nowhere in front of Arthur's chest, it glowed with a blue light and it pulsated every now and then . The pearl sudden appearance was surprising but what was even more shocking is that all the snakes with no exception were burned into a crisp by a blinding white flash .

Jizung's face turned paler when he saw that, he retreated repeatedly from that white flash until he was near Aborak and Kilan . The fear from that blinding flash from earlier was still engraved inside of him, never to be forgotten so when he saw a similar light, he couldn't help but back off and feel afraid .

If another similar explosion occurred, it's without a doubt that he'll perish and it's unlikely that neither Aborak nor Kilan would spend their Nether Energy or treasures to protect him, after all, they were friends on public but in reality, they were bitter enemies albeit not fighting .

After throbbing for half a minute, the pearl glowed with a blue light constantly until the pearl transformed into a miniature figure . If you look closely, you would notice that it's a pretty woman with long blond hair and two alluring blue eyes .

In a matter of seconds, her size became that of a normal human as her size increased, one could see the unmatched beauty, whether it's her curvy body or two snowballs in her chest area, everything about her would make any man love stricken .

Although she only wore a golden piece that did not cover anything but her lower regions and some of her chest, that only made her more pretty . It was, in fact, the Holy Goddess Delia that was sealed by Zodiak .

The famous Bloody Day was the day she lost her freedom and was sealed by Zodiak into this pearl but it came at a cost, she lost her freedom but what was surprising is that every day, her power increased by several folds . It's only been a short time but she advanced from the God Realm 6th Grade to the peak of the God Realm .

Normally, it would have taken her at the very least a century to advance a grade or two if she's lucky but in less than a year, she advanced 3 whole grades .

She didn't know what Zodiak did but she was both happy and depressed . Happiness because of her rise in strength and depression because she literally became the toy of a human .

Zodiak made sure that no matter how strong she became, she has to obey Arthur's words and he also added missions for her to follow and she absolutely cannot disobey .

The main mission is to protect Arthur and Lucy but she had to put priority to Arthur . In case of a life and death situation, she would automatically be summoned to protect him so when the green snakes attacked, the pearl came out of Arthur's storage and started to function like Zodiak planned .

'Argg!! A Holy Goddess like is me a slave! How can that be! If the Holy Order heard of this then I would be burned to death by the Holy Fire as punishment . . . '

If she didn't protect Arthur then she would die alongside him and that is something she certainly did not want to happen .

Seeing that there were only three enemies, one only at the 6th Grade and the two others at the 8th Grade, it didn't look that bad for her as she was at the Peak of the God Realm, moreover, the Lich used death energy mainly and that's something a Holy goddess can easily block or destroy .

Holy magic has always been the weakness of evil magic in general, whether it's darkness, dark or death magic, there was also other magics that are weak against Holy attribute but just like Holy magic is strong against those, it is very weak to Fire especially and Lightning secondly .

Delia turned her head and saw the miserable state of Arthur, with bloody injuries and slashes all over, his state couldn't be worse, he was on the verge of death .

"Gosh, what kind of man requires a woman to save his ass . . . "

As a Holy Goddess, she was supposed to be kind and polite but since she was sealed, her mouth became rotten and she never ceased insulting Zodiak and especially Arthur, her new master .

Fortunately, her new master was an idiot who didn't know how to use the pearl or else it would have been disastrous .

'Hmpf! If he dares touch my body, I'll smite him and erase him for existence!'

She always thought he would try to make a move and force things but she never was summoned since she was sealed which was surprising . She couldn't see what's happening outside but at least, inside of the pearl was a comfortable space and every day that passes, she became much more powerful .

Delia raised her hand toward Arthur's figure and healed his wounds, although it was not instantaneous, his lower half was healing at much faster pace, moreover, the chain that was put around his waist was shaking violently as [Holy Light] was trying to break it .

Seeing that her Holy magic couldn't break the white chain and the shackles around his two arms, Delia frowned, her focus shifted from the chain to the two griffins that were holding the two ends of it .

With a wave of her hand, countless Holy Bullets the size of a thumb struck the two griffins and once they penetrated deep into their bodies, the bullets started burning their corpses easily .

After merely 10 seconds, the two griffins vanished without a trace . With no support, Arthur's body should have fallen but Holy Light surrounded him and at the same time that it was healing him, it made his body floated steadily and a barrier was created all around him, blocking any incoming attacks .

Now that Delia was certain that Arthur would not die, she turned her head to look at the astonished Aborak and the rest . It was obvious she was looking down on them, not because she was higher Grade than them but just because she was an arrogant person and she considered anything that has to do with evil magic as something corrupted . It's to be expected as she was a Holy Goddess .

Arthur was safe right now but the white chain was still wrapped around him and even the Holy Light wasn't able to burn it or destroy it .

"What are you gazing at me for? Hurry up and get rid of this damnable chain!"

Her crisp voice awakened the three of them, they were just too shocked by her sudden appearance, no matter if she's at the Peak of the God Realm they should have at least sensed her from a mile yet no one suspected anything .

"A goddess from the Holy Order at the Underwork?"

Kilan was acknowledgeable about the strong factions and the Holy Order was one of the main ones, it's just that it's practically impossible to find any of its followers in the Underworld as this place is considered enemy territory for them, moreover, she's protecting Arthur? This matter was getting more and more confusing and complicated .

"It doesn't matter if she's from the Holy Order or not, we're already their enemy so whether we kill her or not, nothing will change . "

Aborak spoke coldly as his lifeless eyes were fixated on Delia, he can fight her but he prefers not too, after he remained silent for a couple of seconds, he resumed speaking .

" . . . I'm going back, it's futile to waste more energy in fighting another God, moreover one that is stronger than us . "

With that, Aborak stared at Arthur one final time before he turned around to leave but before he did so, Kilan held his shoulder and said

"You're leaving just like that? After all, that man has done to you and us?"

Jizung was also dumbstruck by Aborak's sudden retreat, seeing that Kilan tried to stop him, he joined the conversation and said

"Lich King, that man not only destroyed the banquet, he hurt people of your Race and humiliated you, how can you leave just like that?"

It was one thing that his friend was Kilan but Aborak didn't like the fact that Jizung reprimanded him and tried to stop him . With eyes full of thick killing intent, he stared at old man Jizung and retorted

"Whether I leave or not is none of your business, try to use me again and we'll see what happens . "

After saying that, Aborak disappeared into a black beam that flew toward the East . It was obvious that Jizung was injured and couldn't find Delia alone so he wanted to use Kilan and Aborak to fight with him and grasp an opportunity to finish Arthur but his plan was clearly seen by the Lich King .

Kilan was also aware of what Jizung was planning but unlike Aborak, he was not going to let Arthur go for certain reasons . After Aborak's figure disappeared, he sighed and stared at Delia whilst showing a creepy smile .

"So it's Holy Goddess, It's a pleasure to meet a beautiful goddess, I wonder what business you have in such a lowly world like the Underworld?"

Kilan didn't attack immediately and replied to Delia's question with another question . Although she was at the Peak of the God Realm, he was not worried about getting killed as he had something up his sleeves, moreover, he is considered strong even for someone at the 8th Grade God Realm . You could easily deduce that by the fact that he was unscathed by Rizaki .

'So it's the Underworld? No wonder that I don't like the atmosphere '

Just as Delia was going to speak again, two beams appeared from the horizon . It was actually Bai Lingyue and Granny Shishu, they were the farthest from Arthur so it took them a bit more time to arrive .

They were first confused by the situation but after seeing Delia in front of Arthur and the Holy Light covering him, it's obvious that she's his comrade . Even the calm Bai frowned as he saw Arthur with a Holy Goddess .

"Jizung, what's the situation?"

Despite knowing more or less what happened, Shishu still asked Jizung to ascertain her assumptions .

"Just as you see, I was going to kill that bastard but this unknown goddess appeared out of nowhere, no one could sense where she came from . "

As he was replying to Shishu, Jizung was looking at Arthur and trying to find a golden opportunity to strike with a deadly attack to finish it once and for all .

As for Shishu, seeing Arthur unconscious, she started to have doubts and hesitation . She didn't interfere earlier but this time it was different .

'If I capture him alive, I can trade him for Miya with that silver-haired woman perhaps . . '

Suddenly, Granny Shishu appeared a couple of meters near Kilan and Jizung and stared intensely at Delia . An illusory and big Lightning Fox emerged from her back and emitted ferocious aura all around itself .

Purple Lightning started raging as the fox appeared, what followed is the White Tiger behind Kilan and the Black Cobra behind Jizung . All of them prepared themselves as they were going to face Delia . They didn't know how strong she was but a one Grade difference in the God Realm is a very big deal .

Bai Lingyue was unhappy with Granny's sudden change in actions but even though they were friends, he can't forcefully stop her, he just stayed at the back and silently watched .

Delia wasn't happy either, fighting Jizung and Kilan is no problem but adding Lightning if not favorable for her but she can't escape in such situation, fighting would be the best .

Unlike the illusory images from those three, no beast or anything appeared behind Delia, instead, two big and golden wings spread out from her back, making her look even more majestic . The aura around her became several times more overwhelming and she emitted a blue brilliance . A blue whip appeared in her hand and there were some water drops surroundings it .

Chapter 113

The first one to strike was Delia who swung her whip . Coupled with her power Holy Magic, the whip was mainly for Water-attribute and fortunately, Delia was good at using this attribute . It was not the point that it is the same as her Holy Magic but it's not that far off .

Since she was against three enemies, she whipped the air three times, creating 5-meter long water snakes that twirled around in a weird manner .

Not only were these three water snakes big, they spat Holy Light balls at Shishu and co . The sound of the whip hitting the air was loud and crisp . The first attack of Delia was just a show-off, after sending the snakes she disappeared from her position and transformed into a bright light that dived toward Granny Shishu .

For her, dealing with the lightning is the most important thing . For someone like her, she could easily make Arthur fly far from here but then she would be unable to save him if someone unexpected attacked him so the only thing she could do is let him close to her and keep an eye on him .

The good thing is that his body was fully healed and he only wore torn clothes . No knows when but he was suddenly golden pants . Delia couldn't just let him have his lower body naked in such situation . She hated him but not to the point of loathing, he was just an enemy of the Holy Church and she was summoned to kill him . There was the slave thing but there were several conditions that were complicated that gave her a big headache so she didn't try to humiliate him or anything of the sort .

No matter how strong the water snakes were, they were easily deflected with a wave of Kilan's hand . With merely his pure Nether Energy, he dissipated the three snakes as if they were nothing but simple snakes but Delia was not fazed by this .

Her whip whistled in the air as it struck Granny Shishu who already took out a purple ribbon from her storage and clashed it with the whip . What she didn't expect is despite Delia using mainly Holy Magic, she couldn't deflect the whip .

Shishu was forced to retreat a few steps but that was the end, Delia grasped this opportunity and with a wave of her gracious hand, the long whip instantly wrapped around Shishu's arm . After successfully doing that, Delia flung her whip and sent the old woman flying with high-speed toward the ground .

Her attack was simply but deadly . Lightning may be the weakness of Holy Magic but she was at the peak of the God Realm and she would probably breakthrough in the next few months, the difference between their strength is too big .

As Delia sent Shishu flying and crashing into the ground, Kilan appeared to her left and used a curved white blade to slash at her neck . He was still smiling creepily but the killing intent he emitted was too thick and overwhelming .

Even Delia was surprised by such a killing intent . The Holy Goddess raised her hand and a bright white shield instantly appeared, it looked very durable and impenetrable .

Soon, the curved white blade struck the white shield and caused it to have multiple cracks but fortunately for Delia, the shield didn't break .

Seeing the result, Kilan was not surprised or depressed, he performed a weird movement technique and his figure began turning blurry but before he could completely vanish, Delia's fast whip came striking at his head with amazing momentum, what's more is that the whip became like a straight weapon and at its tip was a sharp water edge . Although it was only water, it had pink-ish color and the aura emanated from that small tip was not something to underestimate .

Kilan didn't lag behind as he performed strange seals in mid-air and held his blade horizontally to block the whip . In reality, the curved blade didn't clash with the whip, it was the big white tiger behind Kilan that moved and used its gigantic and long sharp claws to clash with the incoming whip .

The wind whistled and ringing resounded in the surroundings when the clash occurred, the claws were able to block the whip and even after a couple of seconds, the whip didn't manage to break the claws .

Kilan smirked and his figure began blurring yet again but as he was staring at Delia's expression, he was astonished to see her sneering and showing a playful smile .

"N . . "

Before he could mutter a single word, the big wings behind Delia finally moved, they flapped just one time but that alone created a bright flash and an overwhelming pressure, it was like a mountain was pressing on Kilan . With a speed even greater than Shishu, his figure crashed into the ground and destroyed huge boulders, he even went deeper into the ground and created a hole .

"Ah too easy, come on at least fight back a bit . "

Delia was grunting as she was not pleased, she showed her wings but she didn't fight seriously as none of them pushed her to do that, she was depressed as she was eager to see how strong she became . She didn't fight for a long time but it was obvious that her prowess increased multiple times .

As she was feeling ecstatic, she suddenly remembered Jizung who didn't attack, her sense soon caught him a couple of meters Arthur, he was laughing madly and a long saber was in his left hand, he was already prepared to stab Arthur's heart .

Even after seeing him so close to Arthur, Delia was not the least bit worried or anxious . Her wings flapped a second time and this time, no bright flash or pressure was emitted from her but she suddenly appeared next to old man Jizung .

The clan master was terrified by the sudden appearance of this Goddess, he was so close to his target yet he was blocked by her . He was not recovering and every time he used Nether Energy or moved around, his state worsened . As he saw death coming so he gave up on retreating and was willing to seriously injure himself and in return at least kill Arthur .

All of Jizung's skin turned green and the Black Cobra behind him hissed loudly, it shrunk in rapid speed and merged with him . His eyes turned jet black and his skin became dark green with gas coming out of it .

"Scram!"

Delia was not here to see the show of him sacrificing himself to hurt Arthur . A 2-meter long spear made from Holy Light was created by her, she held the spear and throw it at him whilst her wings flapped yet another time .

Her throw was strengthened due to the power of her wings, the spear transformed into a white straight line of multiple meters and its speed was not something Jizung could cope with .

He was happy with his new transformation but before he could even use a technique or a treasure to block the spear, it had already stabbed his stomach and came out of his back, not only that, but he was flung with it far off from where Arthur was .

While the spear was still stabbed in him, Jizung coughed blood endlessly, after being flung more than 500 meters, the spear vanished and reappeared in Delia's hand .

Shishu and Kilan had already got up from the ground and flew to the same level as Delia . Both of them stared at the Holy Goddess with fear and anticipation .

Granny Shishu was already regretting her actions but it was too late to back off, the only thing she could do is fight seriously . Kilan also knew he was no match for Delia even if he fought with Shishu, the only way for them to defeat her is to fight seriously .

White fur that resembled a coat was taken out by Kilan, he wore it and covered his whole body, at the same time, the white tiger behind him merged with his body and soon, cracking sounds were heard as Kilan's appearance changed dramatically .

From his humanoid figure, he transformed into a large white tiger with yellow eyes . The pressure around Kilan intensified, he growled once but the sound was deep and terrifying . His two yellow eyes gazed at Delia with contempt and anger, killing intent never ceased being emitted from this two frightful eyes .

As for Granny Shishu, she didn't transform into a purple Fox but her whole demeanor changed from raging lightning to complete calmness . From head to toe, she was covered in purple lightning, her eyebrows were longer and purple too . Dual purple blades were held by her two hands and although Lightning struck her from above, no loud noise resounded, which was weird .

"Hoooo, so you're finally being serious? But isn't it a bit late?"

As Delia said that, she glanced at Jizung who could barely flight, he was literally on the brink of death, another attack from her and he'll certainly die but it doesn't look like these two would let her do so .

Since both of them turned serious then Delia had to fight seriously too . Her wings started flapping and soon, what looked like rain but weren't started falling all around her . It was countless little white sparks that made her look even more majestic and beautiful but prettiness wasn't their function .

The sparks enveloped the whole area, including Shishu and Kilan who were dumbfounded by this .

"A high-leveled Holy Domain . . . "

Shishu mumbled those words but she didn't back off, instead, she was the one to attack, whilst spontaneously slashing with her two blades at Delia, purple lightning sparks enveloped her and shot off toward Arthur .

Kilan did the same and leaped at Delia with his new body, he didn't use any skill and purely relied on his physical strength but what's surprising is that he was faster than Shishu .

Seeing both of them come at once, Delia was unfazed, her whip somehow transformed into a long golden blue spear that had some white feathers at its, the feathers resembled her wings .

Her wings flapped non-stop as she swept with the spear toward both of them and merely a sweep was enough to create a mind-boggling water-wave that covered the sky and made the area a bit dark .

The big water wave clashed with the lightning and the white tiger but it did nothing more than slowing their charge for a couple of seconds .

The fight started and Holy light coupled with mysterious water attacks raged all around the area . The fight was in mid-air but since their fight shifted out of the bottomless abyss, destruction occurred everywhere and mountains were flattened by monstrous water waves or lightning strikes .

Since they were in her domain, Delia could attack from anywhere she wants and can create Holy Light attacks that strike them from the back . It was a disadvantage to fight two versus one but she overwhelmed both of them and in a matter of minutes, Shishu was panting heavily and Kilan had an ugly wound in his back .

As for Delia, she only suffered minor injuries and the worst one was a frontal slash from Kilan's long claws yet even this was healed in a matter of seconds by the little white sparks .

Bai Lingyue was not at the back anymore, nobody knew when but he had long since disappeared from the area, maybe he had gone back or went off to a specific location . He could do nothing to help Arthur and although it's a bit interesting to watch a fight between gods, he was not in the mood for it after all that happened .

The more the fight lasted, the better the situation turned for Delia, she had more Nether Energy reserve thanks to the pearl and was stronger, so the injuries for Kilan became more numerous and Shishu's figure began blurring and some Lightning was being removed from her body every second, it was obvious that she could not maintain this form too long because of Delia relentless and strong attacks .

Just as Delia's spear clashed with the dual blades of Shishu, the Holy Goddess hurt a slashing sound from behind . Because she immersed in the fight, she didn't focus much on Arthur but she didn't completely ignore him too, moreover, some of her sense was locked in Jizung at the back so nothing should have happened, or so she thought .

With an angry sweep with her spear, Shishu was flung a hundred meters away and Delia hastily turned around only to see the bloodied Meyzu stabbing Arthur with his blood red long sword .

Meyzu's state was even worse than Jizung and the reason she didn't sense him was that he's dead, it seems he used all his remaining Soul Essence and lifespan to push himself to remain unnoticed and sneak attack Arthur, which turned to be successful .

After he stabbed Arthur, he grinned madly and fell from the sky with an evil grin hanging on his face . His blood red sword was still stabbed into Arthur back and came out of his chest . In just a few seconds, all the blood in Arthur's body was absorbed by Meyzu's sword, he literally turned white and by the time Delia appeared beside him and started using the full potential of her domain to heal him, he was already on the brink of death .

Delia was so angry and depressed, she didn't particularly care about Arthur as a person but his death meant hers too so how couldn't she feel depressed?

No matter how she healed and even after the sword was taken out, Arthur's wounds didn't seem like it was healing and he didn't have any drop of blood . Normally, his heart should have stopped beating but miraculously, it was beating very slowly . Delia could feel it but she didn't know why he didn't die .

As she was frowning, a sound of a crackling chain was heard inside of her head, not only her but even Shishu and Kilan who were surprised by this turn of events .

The first thought that struck them was that it's the sound of the white chains wrapped around Arthur's was tightening or causing this sound but after a simple glance, it was apparent that it wasn't the source of the crackling chains .

After hearing this sound for half a minute, a loud heart thumping sound was added and it was even louder than the previous sound, the weird thing is that they heard it inside their heads and no matter what they did, it couldn't be stopped or removed .

The heart thumping was getting slower until it finally stopped after one full minute, as for the crackling chains, it became louder until Kilan started howling loudly and Shishu clutched her ears . Even Delia was no exception but she didn't do anything and merely gazed at Arthur .

No one knew where that sound came from but one thing for sure, if it didn't stop then they'll seriously be injured . Their meridians started shaking from the sound and they felt as if they would turn mad at any second .

If one looked at Arthur's consciousness, they would see that the bright light which was his soul which was wrapped with tight black and purple chains was now being released . The crackling chains sound was indeed because of those chains as they were being slowly released from the soul . Previously, they were tightly held around his soul but after his heart stopped beating, the chains were being released and his soul was emitting a blinding light . It's like the blinding light of the sun was present in the consciousness of Arthur .

Chapter 114

From North to South, from East to West, every inch, every corner of the Underworld was suddenly covered by a cold Sense . Every living being felt it, it's like they were watched by something or someone, it gave them the chills and some even fainted because they were too weak, besides fainting, nothing dangerous happened to them .

At the quite and grand palace, the middle-aged man who blocked Arthur's Rizaki was awakened by the sense, he felt it clearly and he knew he was probed and discovered .

He stood up and probed the whole Underworld but he still felt nothing . He then shifted his sense to where Arthur and co but he was surprised to see that all of them were present except the supposedly dead Arthur .

Going back to where Arthur, Delia, and the rest were . The white tiger Kilan and Shishu were mind boggled and in total disbelief . The reason for this was because Arthur, who was supposed to have died is now calmly floating above Delia .

Even the Holy Goddess was confused and stunned, the crackling of chains ended by seeing Arthur completely healed and fully awake startled her .

Everyone present looked at Arthur with confusion and astonishment but the target of all attention didn't even spare them a glance .

He stayed silent for a long time and gazed at a specific distance whilst being lost in thought . No one dared to disturb him for some reason, the feeling, and demeanor around him was completely different from the previous Arthur, it could be said that they are two different people . While the previous one was aggressive and had a hint of arrogance or maybe overconfidence, this one was calm, too calm and serene .

It's like he was another being and didn't even hold them in his eyes, even a goddess such as Delia felt that he was way superior to her .

Even after a long time, no one dared to move or speak, they just floated there silently without doing anything .

Suddenly, the spirit sense arrived and covered the whole Underworld . No one was able to know who was the source of it but those three, it's because this was their only guess .

He transformed in such a short time and his behavior coupled with the serene but domineering aura around him ascertained their guesses to a hundred percent .

Anyone who knows Arthur would surely know that this person was not him, he had his appearance but it was not him .

At the majestic palace in the far South of the Underworld, the surprised middle-aged man was perplexed and felt unease so he was going to personally leave this palace after a very long time and go check Delia and the others as it was the most suspicious place because Arthur disappeared .

However, just as he was going to teleport and arrive next to the three gods, the silent Arthur finally spoke with a slow but crisp voice .

"You didn't repent enough to leave that palace and it is still not the time for you to show up . "

It was only a sentence but the meaning behind it made the middle-aged man freeze . An invisible pressure pressed down on him and didn't even let him move a muscle, even breathing was very hard, much less move .

'H-how did he know? How? Who is he!'

A lot of thoughts and questions surged him but they were left unanswered, he couldn't do a thing as the pressure was too strong, it's like the whole sky or the whole world was pressed on him .

Not only Arthur's voice rang inside his ears, it was also heard by the present gods near him, they didn't know his meaning and were left even more confused .

After dealing with that middle-aged man, 'Arthur' no longer paid attention to him . When he stretched his sense earlier, he easily found what he was looking for .

As silence ruled the place once again, something happened yet again . In front of Arthur, an unconscious Saly appeared, she didn't have any injuries and appeared to be simply sleeping .

"Hold her . "

Two words from 'Arthur' were enough for Delia to snap out of her daze and unconsciously follow his order and hold the sleeping Saly in her arms . For no apparent reasoning, she was afraid of the present Arthur and didn't dare mock him or even disobey his words .

For the first time since he arrived, 'Arthur' glanced at Kilan and Shishu but after glancing for less than a second, he didn't bother with them anymore .

Kilan no longer could hold it and be going to act but after blinking his eyes once, Delia and 'Arthur' disappeared into thin air . No matter how much he tried and probed with his Godly Sense, he didn't find any trace of them .

"H-how could this be, I couldn't even move "

Kilan was shocked as he really couldn't move in 'Arthur's presence, it's like he was an ant or even less than that and if he dared stand out, he would be erased from existence .

Granny Shishu was silent but you could notice her sleeve shaking a bit . A single glance that didn't even last a second was enough to cause her to feel terror . He had a calm attitude and was not particularly angry or aggressive toward her but she still felt an overwhelming pressure that suffocated her .

"I'm going back . "

Without minding Kilan anymore, the old woman turned around left . As for Kilan, he didn't give up and continued roaming the area to find 'Arthur' and Delia .

What he didn't know is that 'Arthur' appeared in a secluded cave near the Abyss Valley . Lucy didn't arrive yet as the distance between the cave and the banquet was too far but that didn't stop him from teleporting her and the two hostages next to him .

Lucy, who was still riding the Spirit Boat and heading to her destination, was startled by the sudden change of environment, by the time she came back to her senses . Arthur and Delia were in front of her, what was even more joyful is that little Saly was sleeping in Delia's arms .

"Saly!"

Without hesitation, Lucy dashed to Delia and took Saly from her arms while hugging the little girl tightly, she was extremely happy to see her only daughter alive and well .

She checked her with her conditions but she seemed to be in perfect shape . After confirming it again, she shifted her attention to the calm Arthur . Just one look and Lucy was sure that he was not the real Arthur . She didn't want to jump into conclusions so she asked him

"Who are you?"

The cold and serene eyes of 'Arthur' softened when he looked at Lucy, he didn't have much time left yet he still replied to her .

"I'm no one . Time is tight and the Underworld is not safe at all, albeit facing the leaders, there are things lurking here much more dangerous than you think . After 10 days, there should be strong spatial fluctuation and there would be one who is green, that one will lead you 'home' . Don't stay here any longer . "

After saying that, 'Arthur' gazed at the roof but in reality, he was gazing at the gloomy gray sky of the Underworld .

'It's too early, way too early for me to appear . This is not good . '

Hearing this, Lucy seemed to have thought of something so she said after some hesitation .

"Are you Senior Zodiak?"

Her question made 'Arthur' frown for a second, he then laughed and spoke

"Hahaha, I'm not that geezer, I'm no one, really no one "

Lucy wasn't willing to give up so she retorted with another question

"If you're no one then where's Arthur and why are you possessing his body?"

'Arthur' wanted to scream some words to her but he held back and calmly replied to her without feeling annoyed by her endless bombardment of questions .

"Your dear lover is safe and sound, he's sleeping and he should be waking up soon . "

What no one saw is that inside Arthur's consciousness, the bright soul that was like the sun was slowly blurring and the intense light was diminishing .

Thicker and longer chains appeared and started to wrap themselves around the bright soul, making it return to its normal size .

'It's almost time huh? I guess I'll help him one last time . '

'Arthur' used a special Energy to help Arthur and make his breakthrough to the Immortal Realm yet again, some changes were made to his body . After doing that, he seemed to have become tired so he silently walked toward Lucy and softly said

"It's time to part, I'm sleepy so I'm going to rest for a bit . . . just a bit . "

As he said that, he leaned on Lucy and closed his eyes . Obviously, Lucy still had tons of questions but she knew none of them would get answered so she sat at a corner while Arthur was leaning on her shoulder, a smile was hanging on her breathtaking face as she stroked Saly's fluffy ears and gazed at the sleeping Arthur .

Delia, Lissandra, and Miya gazed at what happened with surprise and confusion, too many things happened, especially for Delia, so she wasn't able to fully comprehend what happened . One thing for sure is that the Arthur that was awake just a moment ago was not the real one .

The Holy Goddess walked near Lissandra and Miya and used Holy Light to create white shackles that bound them to the wall, restraining them completely, then she stood silently near them without making a word . For now, she's Arthur's servant and slave and she can't fight back, after what she witnessed, there is no courage left for her to rebel .

At the white and empty palace, the middle-aged man was finally able to move after 'Arthur' fell asleep . Cold sweat ran down his back and his body couldn't help but shake for a second .

He didn't dare leave the palace and went back to his usual place and sat cross-legged, after a couple of seconds, the aura around him change and he seemed to have gone into a deep sleep . The only sound that could be heard is the whistling of the wind in this big and empty palace that was devoid of any object or living being .

. . . Earth, the original place Arthur lived in before dying, a lot of things changed on this planet, including its main system . Countless companies fell and many rose .

Money became much more valuable but there is another currency that also became valuable and it's items, magic items .

About a month ago, weird and mysterious caves appeared all around the planet, whether it's in Africa, Asia or even the north pole . These places were called dungeons by the government as they strongly resembled them .

In fact, these dungeons had weak and strong monsters in them . Albeit the sudden appearance of these dungeons, nothing major happened, the monsters were aggressive but they never left the dungeons and it's not obligatory to enter it but almost every person wanted to enter the dungeons .

Not all people were lucky, life has always been unfair, some people thought that God blessed them with the dungeons so they can rise further and discover more things . Just like they walked on the moon, people wanted to aim higher and further and this was like a blessing for them .

Some rare people gained abilities on Earth, it a very meager amount of people but they still existed . All the abilities defied physics and science, ranging from fireballs to wind tornado . The public was surprised and those people that had special abilities became famous and rich in just a month .

They would explore dungeons and gain magical items that would be sold for millions of dollars if not more . So like that, a unique government was created and ruled by those people and in just a week, this government became international and welcomed any person with abilities . . .

'International Hero Organization' A . K . A 'IHO' is the name of the company that is ruled by those special peoples . Some even had abilities which were only average and allowed them to have a bit more physical strength than normal humans but they were still regarded highly and valued .

What's more is by going to the dungeon, these people can become stronger, the only bothersome thing is that leveling is just too hard, only one month and passed yet the highest level is just 28 .

Auctions were organized almost every week in any city that had a dungeon and rich people would fight to buy one or two magical items . Many important people, despite not having any powers still had a high status such as officials and filthy rich people .

Before Arthur died, he was a very famous businessman, he was originally from the Philippines but somehow he managed to go to South Korea and build a good life there . Not only was he very rich, he had many successful companies whether it's cosmetic companies, electronic companies . It's no wonder his wife was greedy about his money .

He even had a special brand called 'LobiSoft' and it specialized in selling computers, TVs and such . It was his main company and the one which had the most income . Now that he was declared dead, all his companies, restaurants, everything he owned was currently the properties of his wife Claudia . Being the CEO of all these companies, he had the most shares so even after his death, no one from the other shareholders could take over the CEO seat .

His wife was merciless as she fired or 'dealt' with any person that was opposing her in any way and just like that . She became the known CEO of LobiSoft and the other companies . Claudia didn't marry a second man but that didn't mean she was still single .

Secretly, she dated many men or used some to satisfy her 'desires' . This woman, who Arthur couldn't wait to kill was living peacefully and happily and enjoying her life to its fullest .

As if life couldn't get any better, Claudia was fortunate enough to gain an ability like the special people but her ability was shallow and useless in fighting .

Wicked Mouth(Passive) : +25 Intelligence; In an argument with another party, no matter what you say, you have 25% chance of winning over the other party and 0 . 5% of making him/her blindly trust you .

The second effect has a cooldown of 10 days if it's activated .

Despite having a shitty ability, Claudia was still invited to IHO and with an enormous amount of money investment and coupled with her high status, she was able to win a good position in this company .

She had many backings, from government officials she seduced to other famous companies . For example, currently, Claudia was sitting in a VIP room at a 5-star hotel in the US .

She sipped from the expensive red wine in her hand as she stared at the break-taking view in front of her . The room was at the top of the sky-high building and the room was luxurious and have anything that a person needs, even a jacuzzi .

Claudia was only wearing a violet robe that covered less than half of her body, she was practically naked . Just a while ago, she was on the bed with a middle-aged man who was the CEO of a powerful company in the US .

"Hahaha, although it's only 0.5%, it's the second time that it's activated in just a month. Maybe the watching gods are with me?"

As she played with the transparent glass of wine in her hand, Claudia gazed at the night sky full of stars and playfully smiled whilst saying

"It's all thanks to you, Arthur, though it's a shame you died too early . . . there were some things you hid from me that I cannot find . . . a real shame indeed. sigh"

After she finished talking, she walked toward the bed and leaned her naked body on top of the man. Her voluptuous body and two mountains peaks pressed on the man and woke him up from his sleep.

"I'm still not satisfied. "

Like that, the two of them continued doing their business . . .

It's been two days since Arthur fell asleep yet he didn't wake up. Lucy was not worried about his condition as his body fully recovered, moreover, Saly had finally woken up.

She didn't know what Lissandra did but after Delia slapped her a few times, the miserable woman confessed and told her the way to get rid of the sleeping magic she used on little Saly.

On the course of these two days, apart from staying with Arthur, Lucy happily chatted with Saly and even played with her. What's more surprising is that the little girl liked Delia a lot and would often ask her to perform some things with her Holy Magic.

Delia could ignore the little girl but since she's Arthur's daughter, she couldn't refuse, moreover, she didn't have any reason to refuse. At least taking care of a little girl is better than being stuck at the pearl. She sensed that the tremendous and fast increase in strength which usually occurred every day had slowed down but it was still existent.

At this pace, she guessed that she would break-through in about three to four months and if she's inside the pearl, two months or less would be more than enough.

"When will father wake up?"

It has been some time since Saly started calling Arthur 'father' and Lucy 'mom', since they already considered her like their own daughter, they were more pleased to hear her call them that.

While combing Saly's brown hair which had grown a bit since the first time they met, Lucy showed a soft smile and said while looking at the sleeping Arthur next to her.

"It won't be long, don't worry. "

Saly nodded her head silently but after a couple of seconds, she hugged Lucy and said in a low voice.

"I, I'm sorry, I caused you a lot of troubles . . . sniff "

Very soon, Lucy's clothes were wet from Saly's clothes but she didn't mind, she hugged the little girl back while repeatedly telling her that it's not her fault as it really wasn't.

Lissandra was in another part of the cave as it was carved by Delia, she made many rooms and a cell for Lissandra .

Miya stayed in one of the rooms, despite the fact that she was free from her shackles, she couldn't leave yet as Lucy didn't let her, since Lucy didn't let her go then Delia did not either and put a strong seal outside of her room to imprison her .

Lucy heard from Delia that Zodiak forcefully made her(Delia) Arthur's servant and she had to protect him with her life otherwise she would die, even disobeying him is not an option . As for Lucy, Zodiak only said that she had to try and obey her and she could still refuse but the Holy Goddess didn't dare as she felt that Lucy is more cold and ruthless than Arthur and angering her would be a disaster .

Lucy did not bother with Lissandra for the time being but she didn't ignore her either, after making sure she cut both of her arms and sealed her legs with her ice .

The sight was gory and Lissandra's shrieking was too loud but Delia blocked the sound so Saly couldn't hear, even she wouldn't be able to do that to someone so when she saw Lucy doing that with an expressionless face, she really felt a bit of fear despite knowing she's stronger .

Lissandra sat there silently, she was first arrogant and tried threatening Lucy with her clan but it was futile so she switched from threatening to try to make a deal . After countless tries, she apologized for what she did but it was still useless as Lucy turned a deaf ear to her . Apologizing would not work now and not ever, especially after what they had to go through to capture Saly .

If Arthur didn't bring her back then maybe this pest wouldn't have given them their daughter's location and would have to bargain her life out of this place .

Apologizing turned into begging when her arms were cut off and legs were frozen yet it still didn't work . Delia made sure she shattered Lissandra's Dantian, making her a mortal and destroying her Meridians .

...

Late that night, Arthur finally woke up from his long sleep . His headache a bit and he felt a bit dizzy but after a couple of seconds, he managed to see his wife's figure beside him .

"Emmm, L, Lucy?"

His voice was not too loud but it instantly woke up the sleeping Lucy, she didn't respond to him and jumped in his arms . Nothing made her happier than seeing her own daughter alive and well and her husband waking up from that long sleep . Thoughts like 'What if he never wakes up' or 'What if it's not him' surged her many times but each time she would shrug them off and hope for the best .

"Mnnnn"

Saly moved her small body as she leaned on Lucy's leg and used her thigh as a pillow but when Lucy hugged Arthur, that soft pillow disappeared so the little girl couldn't help but sit up and rub her sleepy eyes while looking at the two in front of her .

It did take her a few seconds to realize what's happening when she saw Arthur smiling at her, she exclaimed .

"Father!"

A lovely smile blossomed on her face as she jumped between Lucy and Arthur and hugged them both, her head was buried in her father's chest . Even after some time, the girl didn't let go of Arthur and she felt that he would disappear if she did so .

While wrapping his left arm around Lucy and Saly hugging him, Arthur leaned on the pillow positioned vertically behind him and checked his surroundings .

"Where are we? I can't remember what happened after the explosion . . . "

Just as he said that, Delia entered the room and happened to hear his question but before she could ask anything, a dark spear came flying at her .

It was easily blocked by her but she was still surprised by the sudden aggressiveness of Arthur, she looked at him with confusion before Lucy finally explained the situation .

"It's fine, she's not an enemy, she helped us . "

Listening to Lucy, Arthur frowned and still didn't restrain his killing intent as he stared intensely at Delia, who barely had any clothes on her .

"Not an enemy? She's the bitch who almost killed us . Wasn't she sealed by Senior Zodiak?"

Delia was expecting to hear him apologize for his thoughtless attack but was met with a harsh insult .

"You . . . what did you just call me? Hmpf! You should listen to your wife and thank me because if not for ME, YOU would have died . hmpf!"

After saying that, Delia left the room without speaking further, she was pretty angry since her kindness was met with insult and ungratefulness, she began even regretting not humiliating him or letting him die and die with him as it's better than being treated like this, after all, she's a goddess and not a mortal .

"I don't know what happened when I left but you suddenly . . . "

Lucy started to explain what she saw and she didn't miss any detail, she even told him the words the unknown person who used his body said .

Saly already fell asleep while hugging him and Lucy continued explained the events from two days ago .

Chapter 116

The next day, Arthur and Lucy accompanied by Delia went to where Lissandra was imprisoned as it was time for revenge and punishment . From the second they caught her, they were never going to let her live, even after torturing her and planning to exchange her for Saly, they would have found a way to secretly kill her .

As she saw the main person who captured her and caused her to become a mortal, Lissandra froze and started shaking . She didn't have her godly and mighty demeanor and instead, she stared with fear toward Lucy and Arthur .

"Y, You already got your daughter back and I apologized many times, w-what e . . . else do you want?"

Lissandra tried to look composed and calm but her body betrayed her as it was shaking non-stop . In the past, she was a very strong figure but facing death and being reduced to a weak mortal completely changed her attitude .

Arthur could kill her and possess her and albeit not having her Dantian, he's still gaining a meager amount of stats but the most important is that but the fact that she has a portion of Zodiac's powers .

He walked near Lissandra and crouched, his actions were not aggressive but just seeing him approach her made the terrified Lissandra shiver faster .

Arthur didn't attack her or anything of the sort, he just snatched the dark book from her waist . If she still had some Nether Energy, she still could have used it but now she's but a weak mortal, even Saly could kill her .

Book of the Damned (Second Part)

A simple appraisal allowed him to know what the book is . When he found Zodiac, he found the book of the damned with him, of course, he absorbed it and it gave him two cheat skills .

He also knew that he didn't absorb the whole book as when the seal for the Overgod of Knowledge was lifted, the system clearly stated that he still didn't absorb the whole book which left him confused at first but after some thoughts, he guessed that there is missing pages or another part .

Arthur wasn't rush and didn't absorb the book immediately, he stored it in his ring and shifted his attention to Lissandra, who dipped her head down and didn't dare stare at him .

'She's seriously like another person '

Lucy also told him that she's like another person and seeing her reverting back to being a mortal and her fearful attitude, he didn't suspect that it was all an act .

What she did was unforgivable yet he found it quite hard to kill her right now . He's a cold-blooded killer but since they adopted Saly and Lucy became his wife, he no longer cared about killing and was much more merciful . There were parts of him that relentlessly urged him to skin her alive than kill her but a small part of him insisted that he let her live .

Arthur scratched the back of his head as he looked at her with a somewhat helpless gaze then he turned his head and looked at Lucy whilst saying

"What do you think we should do?"

Hearing Arthur says that Lucy stared at Lissandra's frozen legs and the empty space where her arms should have been, she shook her head and said .

"I already vented my anger on her, you can kill her or throw her into a pit, what you want to do, I'll support you . "

Arthur nodded back at her and transformed into a small black whirlpool that vanished in just a split second .

Arthur only possessed Lissandra for a couple of seconds but her body already started recovering, the two arms were already halfway grown right now . He didn't activate any healing but there were many passives gained from self-recovery of the ancient beasts and so on that can be activated in a humanoid body that was doing the work .

By the time Arthur left Lissandra's body, her arms were fully grown and healed, it's like she never lost them . The only evidence that she didn't have any is that the sleeves and the whole arm part of her clothes vanished so both her arms were not covered with anything .

There were two kinds of possessing Arthur could do . The possessing of the dead corpses and the possessing of living creatures . He could only possess weak creatures but if he leaves their body again, they would still regain control of their body .

There is the forceful possessing but the cost was too great so it would only use in case of emergencies . Actually, Arthur planned a lot to make his ex-wife's life a leaving hell, with his possessing, he would every person she trusts betray her, they would act against her, he would literally make her feel real despair but that plan won't start until he manages to arrive on Earth .

Lissandra felt as she blacked out for a short time, by the time she woke up, she found that her arm was fully grown . She wasn't surprised because they are back but why they are back? From their look, it was obvious that they loathed her to death so she was confused but she didn't speak and remained silent .

Even if her power is back, she still wouldn't dare escape in the presence of Lucy and the rest, especially when Delia is next to her . The Holy Goddess was even stronger than Jizung, much less Lissandra so she lost all her courage from the moment her she became a mortal .

"Alright, let's start the questions . There is only one rule, I ask, you answer, if I feel you're lying, I'll cut your arms off . If you don't answer, I'll cut your both your arms . If you take time to answer, I'll cut off your arms . Oh, and one more thing, I can heal them immediately so be prepared . "

Lissandra nodded her head and replied with a shaky voice

"Y, yes yes . I'll answer I'll answer . "

From her fear, Lissandra couldn't help but repeat the words more than one time so Arthur could hear her and not just cut-off arms left and right because he heard no answer .

"First question; How did you go to Astria and how did you come back here?"

Lissandra didn't waste any second and replied instantly and didn't dare tell any lies .

"I-it's with the help rare spatial stone and a special energy people at the God Realm have . . . it, it's the same thing for coming back . "

Arthur remained silent for a while before asking another question .

"What is the book you were holding and where did you find it?"

"A, ah, it-it's, n-no I mean I found it in a cave at the western continent of Astria . It was within a dark temple which held the Dark Magic . It's a tool for attacking and defending and despite being at the God Realm, I, I . . I couldn't fully use it and can only spawn some creatures or conjure a fog that makes any object wither . "

Lissandra disclosed everything she knew about the book, her life was already doomed so maybe if she told the whole truth, there is still a chance she can live . She still wanted to live despite becoming a mortal, she didn't give up yet .

"Are you the part of Medusa?"

Lissandra nodded continuously and responded

"Yey yes! In fact, it's me who created it for the purpose of finding other dark temples . "

"Have you found any dark temples then?"

"I didn't personally search as even with my God Sense, I couldn't sense them but my subordinates found 8 other temples scattered in the four continents but none of them had anything special . "

"You'll tell me the full details of their location later . Where do I find those spatial stones and what do they look like?"

This time, it was Delia who replied before Lissandra could .

"It's an old stone that absorbed too much spatial matter in the void and managed to fall in a world . It's very random and extremely difficult to find it . If you want to go back, then you better use special spatial doors or spatial turbulence but the latter choice will lead you to a random place, even a desolate world or a destroyed one, it could also throw you into the void . "

Seeing that she wasn't able to answer, Lissandra face paled, although Arthur got the answer he wanted, she still felt afraid as she was not who replied but it appeared that she was too afraid and her worries were needless .

"Do you know of any way to go back to Astria besides the spatial stones?"

"In fact, traveling between worlds is easy if you're at the Immortal Realm . At this age, almost all worlds have spatial doors that lead to different precise worlds, it's just that the Underworld is unique and no one knows the frequency of the world . Astria is also a very, very remote world, even my summoning took some time, usually, it's instantaneous . "

Arthur was confused by those new words but he didn't ask about them currently, he needed to go back to Astria with Lucy quickly as he too knew that they'll not last long . They offended everyone in the Underworld and sooner or later, they'll find him .

He continued asking Lissandra for a whole hour before he left that dark room with Delia and Lucy . Most of his questions were answered and he didn't need to cut off her arms even a single time .

"You said that the one who possessed me said that we can go back after 7 days through a green spatial turbulence?"

"Yes . His tone sounded like he was confident about it and was sure that it'll lead us 'home' . "

Lucy recounted every word the 'person' said but Arthur was still hesitant . He didn't like the fact that someone possessed him, it felt strange and uncomfortable .

"We'll check that then, it's our only choice currently . "

"En!"

Lucy just nodded and followed him, as for Delia, she remained silent but after some time, as if something was ushering her to talk, she finally spoke .

"What about that abominable existence? Shall I burn her?"

"Let her be, we need her for now . "

Delia didn't like the fact that Arthur let Lissandra live, the Holy Goddesses regarded everything evil as their enemy, including Lissandra so she wanted to purify her by burning her with her Holy Light .

Even Arthur is considered evil but since he's her master, she couldn't act against him or she would instantly die . While gritting her teeth and showing an annoyed expression that didn't suit her mesmerizing face, she retorted .

". . . Why? You already asked her everything you needed to know, moreover, I can answer if you still have anymore . "

Arthur ignored her and went to his and Lucy's room where Saly was currently at . Delia could only stare at him begrudgingly for a moment before turning around and walk away but she was stopped by his voice .

"You were captured just like her and sealed to become my slave, I spared your life and let you live so why shouldn't I spare hers too? Moreover, I make the decisions and not you, If I say you let her live then you do so . The day you become free, you can do whatever you want but for now . You . are . my . slave . "

With that, Arthur no longer paid attention to Delia and sat on the bed with Lucy . He took the book and finally absorbed it to see what's going to happen .

Chapter 117

You have absorbed Book of the Damned (Part 2)

You have fully absorbed The Book of the Damned

Faster than Death: Range increased from 50 to 150 meters .

Death Binding: The effect is now increased by 5 seconds .

Death Touch: absorbing corpses in the Immortal Realm or above will allow you to gain 1% from their Mental Power

You gained a new skill(passive) : Death Manipulation: Summon The Book of the Damned and used it as a mean to attack or defend .

Can only use 10% of the book's capacity .

To unlock more functions of the Book of the Damned, the user(Arthur) have to be in a higher-Realm .

It's to be expected that the results of absorbing the book would be like this but Arthur felt a bit disappointed as he only gained one skill .

With a thought, the dark and ancient book appeared in front of him, floating . He didn't know how Lissandra controlled her book but after hearing some of her answers, he found it rather easy to control the book in such way .

All he had to do is open the book and in its pages, there are pictures of certain creatures and some details about them, for example, their attacks, weaknesses and so .

In total, Arthur was able to use 3 creatures . One was a creepy and zombie-looking hand which is mainly to absorb incoming attacks and store it as temporary Energy . That temporary Energy can be used with 'Radiun', it's also a monster that can be summoned from the book . It's a two-headed bone lizard with a black flaming tail . The stored energy would make him 20% more powerful .

Moreover, Raduin is an attack-monster and is at the peak of the Immortal Realm at the very least, its power will increase when the user is at a higher-Realm .

The monster lasts forever until Arthur falls unconscious, dies or his connection with the monster is cut-off forcefully by an exterior pressure or anything of the sort .

Last but not least, 'Death Golem', its strength is unusually weak, to the point of not matching even a Deity Realm person but its defense is almost unpenetrable by any individual at the Divine Realm or less .

Seeing the new strong creatures, Arthur was absolutely sure that under the God Realm, he's the strongest albeit not reaching the Divine Realm yet .

After a couple of minutes checking the new skills and such, Arthur heard a ting and knew it was a signal . It was unknown why it occurred now and even he was hella confused but he didn't think too much about it .

With a wave of his hand, a blue lightning fog formed in the room and after only a few seconds . A huge wolf's figure was created from the blue fog, unlike his previous appearance, Astrith was bigger and looked more domineering .

With two pointed fangs coming out of his upper mouth and a surprisingly smooth blue fur, he looked like a legendary beast and not just a lightning beast .

"This one greets master . "

Astrith performed a bow with his huge bow and dropped his head toward Arthur to show his respect . His body was made of out of lightning but unlike last time, there was now blue fur .

"Is this your new cover?"

"This one doesn't know exactly, however, this one isn't using anything . This one thinks that he evolved after master grew stronger . "

"Um! Good to have you back . "

Arthur nodded and checked Astrith with his appraisal only to be wide eyes from astonishment . He was supposed to be Astrith's master but the blue wolf was at the peak of the Divine Realm . He even checked multiple times but the result remained the same .

Logically, his Realm is not a bug or mistakes it's just that a servant's power is based on his master's . Arthur may be an Immortal 4th Grade but his strength is of a God Realm, even Lucy .

With Rizaki, he could even reach the peak of the God Realm but that move is too dangerous, he hoped not to be forced to use it a second time . Death Binding could have saved him if he activated at the moment of death but what of Lucy was nearby? If he lived and she died because of him then he would rather die with her .

With Randuin, Astrith, Delia and the Death Golem, Arthur pretty much has his own squad that has godly strength .

He is confident that if all of them ganged up on Jizung or Meyzu, they would probably be able to kill him, especially if he and Lucy prepare the Heavenly Arrow before fighting . Albeit wanting to try that, he wasn't going to as it was almost time to depart .

..

Saly woke up and was overjoyed to see Astrith, she jumped on him and wanted to ride him outside but was strictly forbidden by Lucy but Delia, fortunately, stepped in and proposed to join them so Lucy could only sigh and accept after seeing Saly's puppy eyes .

"Seriously, I can't reject her when she does that to me . . . "

As Lucy was sitting on Arthur's lap and getting her hair combed by him, she complained about Saly's puppy eyes that made her heart unable to be strict .

"Hahaha, It's okay to let her play once in a while, she's been through a lot after all . "

Unlike Lucy, Arthur was easy-going with Saly and always let her do whatever she wants if it's not dangerous . Seeing Astrith going with her, he knew it would be safe and the God Realm individuals won't find this place today or tomorrow as it's filled with illusion techniques laid by Delia and some old talismans of Zodiak .

However, after seeing Lucy refuse, he couldn't speak up as gave up his own rights the moment he married her . If it's about decision-making, he would make all of them but if it's about Saly or simple things, Lucy was the ruler . He couldn't even retort or he will be ditched for a day or two or she would pinch him very hard THEN ditch him for a week .

Between ditching or not ditching, of course, he would pick the latter so he shut his mouth and agreed with Lucy .

"Hmpf! You're always easy with her, as her father, you should be stricter . What if she comes back with a man someday, you'll still accept him like that? Hmpf!"

Arthur laughed it off and heartily replied

"Hahaha, she's still young, how would she bring a man home, moreover . Where would she bring it from? We're in the middle of nowhere "

Lucy didn't speak and merely snorted and remained silent . She liked having her hair caressed and combed by him so she just laid on her back on his chest and relaxed . They were still not out of the danger but they are temporarily safe so she wanted to enjoy her time with him . Having all the important and serious matters sorted out, she felt extremely relaxed and happy .

The next day, Arthur and co departed for the Abyss Valley . Their destination was a very dangerous place and on the way, they met many dangerous beasts, even some godly ones but they were all pushed away or killed by Delia or Arthur's new bodyguards .

A black rocky Death Golem with the height of 4 meters, a two-headed lizard, and a blue wolf was flying around Arthur and Lucy .

Saly was riding Astrith and Delia was flying next to her . On the shoulders of the golem was the poor Miya who was forcefully taken from her clan by the cruel Arthur who she despised to the bone .

She didn't know why he decided to take her with them but she couldn't resist or flee as it was impossible in their presence . As for Lissandra, Arthur told Delia to seal her in the white pearl for the moment, it was only a temporary solution as the pearl would kick her out sooner or later .

After a couple of hours spent flying, they finally arrived near the spatial fluctuations . The reason they didn't use a Spirit Boat is that it's very sensitive to spatial magic and even a bit of it can destroy it so Arthur decided to keep it hidden for the time being .

"It's going to get dangerous from now on, better stick close to me to avoid any incidents . "

Delia spoke as she gestured to Astrith and Arthur to come closer . The blue furry wolf shrunk in size until it was the size of a normal wolf, Saly was still riding him . Arthur and Lucy who were riding also got next to Delia . Miya was miserably thrown by the golem toward Delia, who waved her hand and made Miya stop her fast air charging .

"You was it necessary?"

Miya was a very calm person, even after what has been to her, she never snapped in anger or shouted but this time she was unable to hold her emotions in check and raised her voice a bit . She quickly realized it and turned red from embarrassment . She resented Arthur so much, she saw he was not a bad person but she really wanted to strangle him right now .

The 5 of them were surrounded by Delia's Holy Light . When she was sure everyone was protected, the Holy Goddess proceeded toward the spatial fluctuations .

The mysterious person said 'Green' so they searched for a green spatial fluctuation but it was hard . There were thousands of them, one the size of a fingernail and the other the size of a mountain . Some were colorless and some were blood red but none was green .

. . . .

"It appears there is no green colored spatial fluctuation and it's dangerous to head further as it would invade the territories of ancient beasts . "

"So?"

Arthur didn't appear to care as they had Delia but the Holy Goddess showed an annoyed look and explained .

"I may be your servant for now but I'm not going to head for my death if you want to die then go by yourself . These territories are ruled by Sovereign Beasts and above, even ten of me can't beat or block them, much me alone . What's more is that the evil Energy here is more concentrated than any other place, if we head deeper, it'll weaken me and I'll be unable to protect you with my Holy Light . "

Hearing this, Arthur felt depressed as they found no sign of the green colored spatial fluctuation and the situation is getting dangerous by the second . At such an important and desperate moment, the silent Saly pointed at the far distance and exclaimed .

"It's a green one, a green!"

She wasn't smart enough to understand the whole process of the going back to Astria but at least she knew that they were looking for a green portal of some kind so when she noticed green she spoke .

The green spatial fluctuation was about a kilometer or two at most from their distance and since it was surrounded by many other ones, it was hard to see it, it's a miracle Saly somehow discovered it .

"It's indeed a green one but is it the right one?"

Delia was still not willing to take the risk of diving there and then passing the wrong one, she was quite hesitant .

"Wrong or not, we'll still try it, now go and stop wasting time . "

Arthur didn't hesitate as he gave Delia a direct order she can't disobey . Whilst gritting her teeth, the Holy Goddess spread her white and breath-taking wings, they flapped multiple times and the Holy Light around them became brighter and more powerful .

The speed they were advancing at was a bit faster but Delia's Energy was expanding at an unbelievable pace as she was using Holy Magic in such an environment, it's like trying to ignite a fire inside water .

Not long after, the 6 of them reached the green spatial fluctuation . It was the size of a 2-meter door and the width of two normal humans .

So as they do not get separated, they held hands and Astrith went back to Arthur's consciousness . Just as they were ready to enter the blurry green portal, a terrifyingly loud noise resounded in their ears to the point of almost making them deaf .

When Arthur turned his head to look, he was dumbstruck to see a gigantic dsungaripterus, its wingspan is at the very least 50 meters . It was opening its mouth and ready to devour all of them in one ago .

Fortunately, the Holy Goddess noticed it before them and stepped ahead while her wings flapped and a flash of blue light was emitted from them .

Some kind of cubic blue barrier was formed in front of her but it was instantly shattered after holding no more than a second . Delia was struck by the creature and her left wing was torn off forcefully while the right one had some of its feathers fall .

Arthur grabbed Delia's hand and formed a Dark Magic while jumping to the portal along with the three others .

It was fortunate enough that the creature couldn't fit in the portal but its angry screeching was heard even after they passed the spatial fluctuation .

What laid in front of them was a dark space with countless flashing stars and planets all around, they seemed to be in some kind of tunnel that led to a specific world .

The road was silent and after just two minutes, another portal was at the end of the tunnel . Since the distance was too far, they could only see a spatial fluctuation but couldn't see what type of world it was .

Arthur was going to breathe a sigh of relief when suddenly, Zodiac's skeletal corpse appeared in front of him, his two lifeless eyes flashed with a purple light . The skeleton forcefully grabbed Arthur's arm and said

"I don't know what happened but just in case, I put a seal into my corpse so It would forcefully bring you to Astria when you're going back from the Underworld, if you're hearing this it means the place you're going to is not Astria, it may even be more dangerous than the Underworld so I thought it'll be good if I helped you a bit . "

Before Arthur could react or even utter a word, the skeleton dragged him out of the tunnel and opened another tunnel on its own, the tunnel was endless and you could not see the end of it . Before any of the people present could react, Arthur was no longer seen and the tunnel created by the skeleton disappeared .

Lucy's face paled as she heard what Zodiak said, just like the others . The things she feared was what kind of world would they go to? The man said 'Home' but Astria was their home .

'Unless?'

Just as a thought struck Lucy, their surroundings flashed and by the next second, a semi-dead Holy Goddess, a small beast girl and half-demon silver-haired woman and a wide-eyed green haired girl along with a two-headed lizard that appeared out of nowhere, appeared in a very narrow alley .

The place reeked of a foul stench, it seemed like piss and just a couple meters of them was a gray cubic box that emitted a more horrible smell .

All of them stared at the end of the alley as they heard people speaking and the sound of countless footsteps, what's more, surprising is the presence of a four-wheeled gray or black boxes that were moving on their own

Chapter 118

"Hey you fucker, move the fucking car or I'll go there and beat the shit out of you!"

A muscular man driving a black BMW was yelling at an old man who was blocking the road with his slow car, apparently, it stopped midway and wouldn't move no matter how much he tried . Other people were annoyed too but didn't yell like the muscular man they just glared at the poor old man .

When Lucy sensed the muscular man and all the others, she was surprised to see that they all are weak, just simple mortals like in Astria, perhaps a bit weaker .

She couldn't use appraise but with her sense, it was easy to probe them . Delia was half-conscious and floating behind Lucy with the help of Miya . One of her wings was nowhere to be seen and the other one seemed to be withering .

"W-we are we?"

Miya was surprised by the sky-high buildings and the cars, it's the first time she saw things like these . The only one who immediately recognized the place is Lucy .

Arthur told her many things about Earth and when she saw his moments, although it was blurry, she managed to get a glimpse of some of the advanced technologies in here .

"It's Earth . "

Lucy's tone was of absolute certainty so Miya didn't doubt her but Delia did . Although she was half-conscious, she could still speak and hear so when she heard an unfamiliar name of a world, she was alarmed .

"E-Earth? cough There is no such world with that name . "

"There is and we are in it . It's Arthur's former home before he . . ---, it's his real home . "

The little Saly gazed at the multiple cloth shops and the different types of cars . Everything was so different from Astria of the Underworld .

Unlike the Underworld, Earth had almost no Nether Energy but there was Mana and the concentration of Mana here is more than Astria but if it is like this, how come no one from the present people discovered it in the past?

Arthur clearly told Lucy that Mana was just a thing in stories or games on Earth but there is a huge amount of it here so she started having doubts about the world .

'Perhaps it's not the same world? Just a small resemblance?'

The muscular man kept shouting but none of them comprehended what he was speaking, they just stared at the surroundings from the narrow alley .

Lucy scanned the area around them but except buildings of all sorts and kinds, those cubic cars and countless people, there were no empty places .

She stretched her sense further and managed to find an empty building which was actually a desolate factory . A dark talisman appeared from her storage, without hesitation, Lucy threw it on the ground and by the next second, she and the rest were teleported to the factory .

It was one of the few teleport talismans Arthur did . With the help of Zodiak's notes and some experiments, he managed to create some of them and passed all of them to Lucy since he doesn't need them .

In such a new world with no one who could comprehend the language and no home to live in, this was the best place she could find for the time being .

"Lay her down on this . "

With a wave of her hand, a luxurious bed was taken out of her storage ring . Miya moved Delia on the bed without an opposition, she was the weakest out of all of them except Lucy and she knew they were in a strange world so the best thing she could do now is stick with them .

The double-headed lizard stayed close to Lucy and Saly and merely scanned the surroundings whilst remaining silent . Its mission is to protect both of them, especially Saly and unlike them, it had an ability to turn invisible so no human could see it . If it wants, it could pass undetected by people at the Divine Realm or less .

It looked ferocious with its body made of bones and its black flaming tail and long sharp fangs, it was a monstrosity but none of them was afraid of it as they were used to seeing monsters, however, if any of the humans in earth saw it, they would freak out and might even pass out .

Lucy walked near the sweating Delia who was on the brink of death and passed her 4 kinds of Potions . Each was high-quality and each did something . Arthur was not stingy and in fact, he gave Lucy astronomical amounts of potions, talisman, and other things . She had storage rings inside her personal storage rings that had weapons, armors, and artifacts . It was useless to use them but he insisted on her having them in case of emergencies such as this one .

"Drink all of them . "

Delia gazed at Lucy for sometime before she nodded and drank the potions but it was done with great difficulty so Miya stepped in and gave her a hand . The Holy Goddesses was in a terrible state, it was fortunate that her Dantian or Meridians were not broken or destroyed by that attack but it would take her some time to recover as her wings were torn off . She would recover to her full strength in a couple of months but to regrow the wing it would at least take a decade if not a century .

The potions were quite effective as Delia's face color regained some of its redness . She definitely looked much better and she could finally move a bit . She sat up on the bed and leaned on a big cushion behind her .

"So you said we're on Earth?"

Her question was obviously directed at Lucy, who only nodded in response . Delia pondered for a bit before asking another question

"You also said your husband was from here but you offered no explanation about the important stuff . Is it a dangerous world? Are there other gods? Sovereigns? Or perhaps more powerful beings? Seeing the strength of your husbands and his connections, I feel uneasy when I know that I'm in his world right now . "

While checking the empty factory and the dust all over, Lucy kept scanning the place while replying to the curious Delia .

"As far as I know, it's not a dangerous world . Arthur told me that all of the humans here are mortals and there is no such thing as magic or cultivation, they rely on science and live peacefully with no wars whatsoever . It's basically a paradise on the surface . "

As Delia was going to breathe a sigh of relief, the last sentence shook her a bit .

"On the surface ?"

"Yes . Humans here may be weak but they have numbers and advanced technology that can deal damage to even high-leveled people . I don't know if they can hurt a god-like you but I think that's far-fetched, what's more, bothersome is that despite being weak, they are intelligent and cunning, the world is corrupted by money and power, just like any other world . "

Delia remained silent as she pondered about what Lucy said, if there is no threat to them then it's fine but it'll be quite bothersome if there are other aggressive gods, especially if this small world belongs to one as most gods don't like anyone who invades their territory .

After sorting things out inside her head, Delia nodded and added .

"I never heard of this world and I have gone to countless worlds, being summoned or going intentionally . I can feel some Holy Magic in the surroundings but it's almost non-existent as far Holy believers, there is none here so there is only one explanation . It's either a private world of a mighty god or reclusive one, or it's a deserted world or in a worst-case scenario, it's an abandoned world . "

This time, it was the calm Miya who asked, she wanted to go back to the Underworld and hearing the word 'abandoned' made her despair a bit .

"Yes, abandoned . An abandoned a world is a place where the gods deemed useless and fruitless, it's a discarded world that was sent away from the other worlds . There are many reasons to abandon the world, no mana source or similar Energy or if it's going to extinguish itself soon, it's corrupted or poisoned by a strong poison that could destroy it etc "

Silent ruled the place as all of them were worried about what's about to happen . Only Lucy remained calm and said after a long silence

"Either way, we have to adjust until Arthur is back or we find a way to go back where he is but the best solution, for now, is to remain here, I know he will come here . "

Earth was not a big place compared to Astria or the Underworld, in fact, it's too small . For someone like Lucy or Delia, it could be crossed in one hour, literally . A few dozen kilometers a second is their normal speed, so crossing the Earth or traveling from a country to another is done in a few seconds .

Later that night, after ascertaining no one saw them . Lucy and the rest went to a forest a few hundred miles away from that city . Lucy couldn't understand the language but because her intelligence was astronomically high and with the help of the system . Hearing a bit allowed to her understand a few words such as Hi and Thanks .

The system said it was Korean language and like the language in the Underworld, learning it with the system's help the intelligence stats is very easy .

Lucy built a normal house with the earth magic, it was only temporary as they needed a place currently . Delia was recovering quickly with the help of the potion albeit the meager presence of the Nether Energy . Saly was feeling down because Arthur was not here so Lucy stayed with her and comforted her . She just woke up a few days ago and didn't enjoy her father's presence enough and yet they are separated again in less than a week .

She didn't cry and held in here and she knew the situation was complicated, she was intelligent enough to understand that crying right now won't do anything good so she obediently stayed in the house with her mother .

She would go with lizard and roam the forest . Except for a few deers, she didn't see anything dangerous, moreover, the deer was very weak and caught by her in a flash .

She had enough food in her storage to live for a few years but she still liked hunting so she brought a deer back and roasted it to eat with the others . Although they were a bit depressed, eating a good meal raised their morale a bit .

Even Delia, a god, ate with them even though she could live without eating . Most gods if not all would usually eat, not to because they were hungry as they obviously didn't feel hungry but because it was tasty . Some food was even priceless and legendary chefs were respected in higher-Realms .

Chapter 119

In South Korea, where Lucy and the rest were teleported to, there was only one dungeon and it's located in its capital Séoul . Actually, almost every dungeon that spawned was precisely in the capital of a certain city except very few peculiar and mysterious dungeons that either cannot be entered or have insanely strong creatures that no one could beat .

It was not just the special people with new abilities that went to the dungeon . Several governments didn't just stay still and decided to send soldiers with guns and bombs to dive deeper into the dungeon but none of them succeeded .

Guns were effective, so bombed, in fact, against the weak monsters such as slimes or goblins, an accurate gunshot in the skull would kill them but that was only for weak monsters .

Hobgoblin was completely unaffected by bullets and only special thick and fast bullets from a huge machine gun or destructive C4 but these are not endless and each group of soldiers can only carry a certain amount of them .

What's more is that each floor of the dungeons have a boss of some kind and these bosses cannot be killed by bombs or whatnot, only people with special abilities can manage them as they have superhuman strength .

Such a famous people like the flame emperor or the indestructible had their fame rise in the past months and each time they went to the dungeon, they would come back with new items or miraculous objects .

It's been a week since Lucy and co appeared in South Korea and after passing a week in the deep forest with no news and only resting, it was finally time to move . Delia recuperated a bit and was able to move freely but her she didn't fully recover . Arthur didn't show up and they only thing they would do is explore the forest or just sit at the small earth house all day .

Lucy decided to go the city and check things as they can't just stay there forever, what if Arthur comes back after a month or even a year? She decided that she must prepare things for him, prepare them thoroughly so when he comes, he doesn't need to bother with small things .

One thing was for sure, she must search for Claudia, his ex-wife, she remembered her face and looking for her won't be too hard as Earth is just too small . She can't search the whole Earth but Delia can and the Goddess would obey her orders so when Delia was able to move and use Nether Energy, Lucy told her to search for Claudia .

Obviously, Delia didn't know who Claudia is or her appearance and no matter how strong she is, she can't find someone she doesn't know . Lucy thought things through and gave Delia a special talisman .

It was practically useless in battles but it a small part of one's memories can be imprinted in it and the next person who injects any kind of Energy in it, they will automatically see that memory .

The bad thing is that you can only imprint a memory of no longer than 5 seconds but even a second was enough for Lucy . After imprinting Claudia's appearance, she passed the talisman to Delia who injected Mana in it and saw the memory .

"So it's her that I need to find? Just who is she for you to use such desperate means to find her?"

Lucy coldly looked at her and retorted

"Just find her and stop asking questions . "

"Hai Hai! I'm not even treated like a Goddess anymore, it's truly not fair . "

Despite complaining like that, Delia spread her sense all over the planet, not missing a single inch and in less than a minute, she found the target .

"I found three people with that appearance with one who has 95% resemblance to the memory, she's also the closest to us, exactly 7400 kilometers from here . "

"Then take me to where she is and cover our presence completely . "

Delia didn't like the fact that Lucy didn't even say 'Please' and straight out ordered her but she didn't dare refuse . She didn't fully recover and she heard from Miya the other day that Lucy was able to fight against Lissandra, who was also a God .

She may be able to use Godly powers right now but losing her wing made her greatly weakened and in a proper life and death battle, she probably wouldn't last against Lucy . What's more is that she knew Lucy's character more or less, and she knew that she would achieve her means one way or another, even if it means killing her or forcing her to do things for her .

Holy Light covered her and Lucy and by the next second, they appeared next to a sky-high building in the middle of Séoul . The building was made of transparent glass that cost several thousand dollars a piece and a luxurious pool was on the rooftop . There was also an 'H' sign that Lucy didn't understand but her focus was not on that .

Sitting on a chair near the pool was a middle-aged woman who wore a red bikini and laid on her stomach . The woman was enjoying the sun and sometime she would drink from a cocktail next to her .

"It's her?"

Because the woman was laid on her stomach with her head down, Lucy couldn't see her appearance but her instinct told her that she's definitely Claudia .

"The one in the shameful looking clothes, the red ones . "

The two of them were floating not far from Claudia and with Delia's Holy Light, no one could detect them . Despite feeling unstoppable hatred for the woman in her vision, Lucy held her killing intent from leaking out . After staring at Claudia for a couple of minutes, she coldly smiled and mumbled

"Fine then, our roads finally crossed and hell shall fall upon you . . . but not yet, not just yet . . . I'll let you enjoy life until he comes reaping your soul . . . I'll just prepare things for him, just like a good wife would do . "

After saying that, Lucy no longer bothered with Claudia and flew away from the buildings . She descended in a deserted alley and wore the mask she bought from the 'Treasure Pavillon' . Her hair became dark but her appearance was only altered a bit, as to not attract too much attention . She still looked as pretty as ever but only slightly worse than her normal appearance, she purposely did that so that Arthur would notice her when he comes .

Sitting around and waiting for him is not doable anymore, she would do her best to make things better and easier for him . First thing is learning to live in here, slowly gaining fame and approaching Claudia, doing it abruptly and kidnapping her then torturing her is too plain and not satisfying enough . If Arthur ever wanted to do that when he comes back, Lucy would even prepare the room for him to do to her what he wants, nothing sexual of course or it's him who would be punished not Claudia .

'You better not cheat on me whenever you are or . . . Hmpf!'

While wearing black leather clothes, a brown jacket, Lucy left the alley and headed to the main street . She had gold but it didn't appear that it was the currency used in here . There were many people who wore gold rings or jewelry but most of them were fake . In the past week, she traveled around and managed to comprehend the Korean language but she still didn't master it yet . As for Delia, she knew a couple of words, even a God can't learn that quickly unless they have an ability like Arthur .

Delia didn't bother changing her appearance but only wore some clothes but they were still too eye-catching as they were golden .

"What are you doing? Change your appearance!"

Lucy snapped at her but Delia just shrugged her shoulders and said

"They can't see me so why bother? Moreover, changing my appearance is a disgrace to all gods! They should kneel before me instead of me changing my appearance . "

"I said change your appearance and stop hiding your presence, now! I don't need you if you're just going to hold me back . "

Lucy was going to seek fame and attention but she didn't want it that way . Delia told her that there were hundreds of dungeons here but all of them were low-leveled for beings like her . There were also some strong people but they're still ants for a Goddess like her .

"Sigh This is bullying!"

Delia stomped her feet and her figure flashed for a second before her clothes changed to a purple dress that covered a small part of her body . Her figure was as voluptuous and alluring as ever, with two snow peaks on her chest area and her beautiful curves .

She obviously didn't change her appearance but Lucy didn't insist further as she knew how stubborn Delia was, it's fine as long as she gets rid of that single piece of cloth she was wearing . It literally only covered her nipples and lower body part, nothing else apart from that, even the calm Miya would turn red when she focuses on her cloth .

"Where are you going? I'll just teleport us there . "

Delia didn't like the fact that she was walking alongside mortals and some of the men would sometimes gaze at her with perverted eyes, she couldn't help but cover her chest and change her purple dress into more appropriate clothes . Lucy was also breathtaking but compared to Delia's true appearance, she was ignored by them, which was a fortunate thing .

What was good is that unlike Astria, people on Earth didn't openly gaze at them or try to talk to them, apart from a few daring men, none stared for more than a couple of seconds .

Lucy didn't fully know all the shops or merchants in here but she saw a shop that sells jewelry and gold in general so she and Delia headed there to see if the gold she has could be traded for money .

Money in here was iron or bronze coins or mostly paper bills that looked odd and had some characters and a picture on them from time to time . She remembers 3 of those money bills and each of them had a number of them, obviously, each number indicated the value of the paper .

There were 1,000 Won, 10,000 Won, 5,000 Won and 50,000 Won, there was also a rare 100,000 Won that she didn't see often . Lucy could very easily steal money from any bypasser with them not noticing a thing but it was degrading to rob when she had so many golds .

The shop they entered displayed various golden rings with diamonds and stuff on them, there were necklaces or earrings too .

The shop had a few middle-aged women gazing at the products and the receptionist was standing next to an old lady and showing a diamond necklace to her .

'Ring ring ring'

When the shop door was opened, a ringing sound was made . It was a mechanism the shop owner put so any customer could be heard when they left or entered the shop .

Seeing two gorgeous looking ladies, one of the employees dashed to them while rubbing his hands . A greedy smile was plastered on his ugly face as he looked at Lucy and Delia . It was obvious from their appearances that they are not poor and have a good background, so he wanted to grasp this chance and sell a few expensive stuff . It was their shop's lucky day as the old lady on the corner was also a well-known rich individual who spent money on jewelry as she adored them .

Chapter 120

Lucy didn't waste time contemplating the displayed items . There were some exclusive and good-looking rings or diamonds but none of them caught her interest as she had countless ones like them if not better in her storage .

Arthur possessed thousands and thousands of people, he wasn't too interested in their storages as they were weak so it's unlikely they had any legendary weapon but Lucy was fond of checking the storage rings and taking all their treasures . It was her small hobby that she never missed a storage ring a victim wore .

It could be said that her fortune was literally priceless, the mountains of gold and useless things for her were everywhere in the storage, especially in Arthur's since his storage ring was special .

She liked collecting the treasures not because of the gold or diamonds but for the weapons, armors and all the weird stuff . Although her storage wasn't that big compared to Arthur, she still had hundreds of rings inside her main one and each had a specific thing .

Lucy's goal in coming here was clear, she wanted money, not the kind used on Astria but the one used on Earth . With just the gold Arthur gave her, she could easily become a millionaire if not richer but the problem was; Would the country or this shop more precisely be able to give her the value of the gold she currently had?

She was not stupid enough to show all of her gold and even if she did, the shop would be destroyed by it, literally . For now, taking one or two diamonds would be enough, she didn't need that much money, just enough to buy a normal house in Séoul .

"Dear customer, please tell me if you are looking for anything specific, our shop has any kind of jewelry and even rare pendants . "

The ugly employee arrived next to Lucy and Delia who was behind her . No matter how much he tried to put up a friendly smile, it still looked disgusting as he originally looked way ugly with a big deformed nose and some broken teeth .

Lucy didn't judge people based on their appearances but she caught him gazing at them somewhat lustfully when they just entered the building, fortunately, she noticed that or else she would have thought he was just ugly but a kind person .

As it is the job of the employees here, they have to appeal to the customers, especially the special ones and Gun was trying his best to do that .

Seeing the appearance of the new customers, he didn't miss the opportunity and walked next to them and respectfully said that but to his surprise, Lucy didn't as much as give the displayed goods a single glance .

"I want to sell things . "

Lucy was able to talk Korean but her accent was a bit weird and she would stutter sometimes as it was completely different from the one used in Astria or even the Underworld .

Gun was not very pleased with what heard as customers who come to buy or to sell in two different categories . He didn't hate or dislike Lucy for what she said, he just felt disappointed for he expected to sell expensive things to these two pretty ladies .

This shop mainly sold and there was rarely any person who comes to sell if some come, they would show a fake gold ring or show a bronze ring and yells 'It's a magic ring!' .

This is a famous shop was this rule of buying good jewelry was just for show, this happening maybe occurred one or twice at most in a year's time .

If people wanted to sell gold or jewelry, they should just go to a gold bank or a normal jewelry store and not come here to show some lowly rings or fake gold .

While trying to maintain his happy mood but failing to do so, Gun still nodded to Lucy and replied

"Of course of course, what would you like to sell?"

With an expressionless face, Lucy took out a fist-sized purple diamond that had a breathtaking luster inside it . Its appearance looked alluring and by no means did it look fake, the sudden appearance of the diamond surprised Gun who was expecting just a gold ring or some casual thing .

The lady was special but taking out a diamond out of nowhere and a fist-sized one would surprise anyone .

"T,Th--this is?"

It was as clear as the sun that the object she took out was a purple diamond yet the employee still asked which made Lucy frown . Such is just one of countless she had but it didn't have a great value compared to the nail-sized but special ones, the reason she took out this was because she thought it'll fetch her a good price because its appearance would draw anyone and attract their greed and attention .

It took her a second to think of the needed words than with the usual weird accent, she retorted while still frowning

"It's a diamond . Are you going to buy or not?"

Lucy was not attracted to this store and on Earth, there were countless of them, being famous is not something that she cared about . Moreover, she didn't want to play games or just stand there and watch their surprise .

Gun was not able to react as he couldn't make that decision, he was not a professional to check if the thing is real or not and even he was, he can't put an exact value for it, just its size was enough to raise the price by at least ten times .

Just as he was going to call the store's manager, an old but unhappy voice rang out in the shop .

"It's a fake . "

The origin of the voice was a man in his 50's, he wore casual work clothes and looked at the purple diamond for sometime before he continued talking with the old woman from before . He held a nice-looking necklace in his hand and showed the small but shiny diamonds around it to the woman on his right .

"Seriously, why are we sinking so low just for you to trade some random diamonds?"

Delia just followed Lucy because she was ordered to and even Arthur repeatedly warned her to protect his wife and daughter when they were in the cave .

She didn't pay attention when coming here as her mind was troubled about the loss of a wing and her weakening . What she just said was transmitted telepathically inside Lucy's head so only she could hear it .

Lucy ignored Delia and stared coldly at the man who just talked, she displeased and in a bad mood from the start due to missing Arthur and having to waste time doing this and hearing that a priceless diamond in this world is called fake triggered her . If it were in Astria, she would have at least crippled him if not mercilessly killed .

She naturally loathed men except for Arthur and liars above all were bad from her point of view . To begin with, she was never a kind person and killing is a casual thing in high-Realms, even in Astria but it appears that such thing is prohibited in this world . There was a strict law and even hurting a person is punishable . She came to learn this when she saw a young woman get assaulted by hoodlums but quickly rescued by blue-clothed men with special long black sticks that emitted a weak intensity of lightning . That man was dragged out into a car and escorted somewhere .

Without speaking a word, Lucy stored back the diamond without minding Gun's dumbstruck look as he could not believe that the diamond disappeared into thin air, for a second he thought that he was definitely hallucinating and thought back to the drugs he tried last night at the bar .

On the right side of Lucy was a sturdy wooden table of high quality, it was the reception desk . There was some papers on it and a pen but nothing besides that . Lucy stretched her hand toward it and in less than 10 seconds, a lot of small-sized diamonds appeared on the table .

"How about this?"

Lucy showed a small-sized and transparent diamond to the old man whilst speaking with cold and chilling tone, it was clear she was unhappy .

The thing is, diamonds or gold are usually mistaken for fake ones and unless one is professional or use a special material, they can ascertain if it's real or fake but for someone like the manager, who was experienced with diamonds and such, he immediately knew that the small diamond she just showed him is genuine .

He previously stated that the fist-sized diamond is purple and he wasn't lying, it's just that that kind of diamond is unheard of on Earth, perhaps it never appeared so for him, despite the shining and alluring appearance, it looked fake .

Before the man could speak or react, Lucy picked another diamond a bit bigger in size and showed him again

"Or this?"

This process was done a few time until the man was left speechless . This time, Lucy purposely chose diamonds that were made from the same material as the ones displayed on this store so there is no way he could say they are fake . She just wanted to smack his face for what he said .

"Are they all fake?"

A dozen diamonds were put on the reception desk, all the customers looked at them with disbelief, they didn't know if they were real or not but such a big amount of diamonds if not common, unless one had a special background, they couldn't just take them out so their only guess was that it was fake but the old man thought the total opposite . His mouth was half-open and he completely forgot about the old woman next to him .

"cough Ehm . . . cough These are real . "

Lucy didn't bother with him after hearing that, the diamonds were collected in a split second and disappeared into her sleeve . After a final snort, she turned around and left the store with Delia, who couldn't be happier after leaving such a boring place . Gods spend most of their time cultivating in a peaceful room, some are more lively but not to the point of going out of their way to exchange gold for money in a lower-Realm .

The old man was not able to react in time and by the time he and snapped out of it, the ringing sound of the material that he put rang in his ears and all he could see was the fading figures of the two ladies .

What depressed him even more was that the old woman he was trying to persuade a second ago also left the shop in a hurry, maybe she was angry he ignored her a second ago but if so then her reaction was too extreme as he only ignored her a for a few seconds, it's not a big deal, at least to him .

While trying to follow the two ladies, the old woman who was wearing expensive but good-looking noble clothes called for Delia and Lucy with an anxious voice

"Wait please . "

Lucy was angry on the shop manager but she didn't have any negative feelings toward the woman, she just regarded her as a normal citizen and ignored her when she saw her at the shop but the woman called for her, she turned around to respond .

If it was a man, maybe she would have ignored him as his intentions are clear but what about this lady? She couldn't be thinking of robbing her, right? It's practically impossible with that old body of hers .

Seeing that Lucy turned around to face her and stopped walking, Lady Sinyu was elated . Her eyes were sharp and she was a fan of jewelry, she collected lots of them and one look at the diamonds was enough for her to ascertain her guess . She didn't see the purple diamond as her back was facing Lucy when it was shown but she didn't miss the other ones and she was immediately interested by them .

"Thank you for waiting . I'm Fan Sinyu, they call me Lady Sinyu . I saw your diamonds and I must say that I'm interested in them, how about it, are you still willing to sell some of them?"

Looking at the respectful and excited voice of Lady Sinyu coupled with the small bow she performed and her expensive clothes, Lucy knew she had a respectable and high status or else she would not go around searching for expensive jewelry .

"If you propose a fair price, I'm willing to sell all of them . "

Sinyu's old eyes flashed for a second when she heard that, she thought Lucy showed those diamonds only to prove the manager was wrong but it didn't appear to be the case .

"If that's the case then why don't we go to a quiet place to discuss this?"

In response to the old woman, Lucy nodded and followed her . Soon the three entered a white Bentley Mulsanne grand limousine, it was a luxurious and eye-catching car .

Lady Sinyu sat at the opposite side of Delia and Lucy and was surprised to see their beauty, previously she was to engrossed into the diamonds that she didn't focus much but now that she had a look, she was stunned .

Delia was still as bored as ever and wanted to end things quickly but it didn't appear to be the case . The good thing was that the car was too comfortable, so she layed there and crossed her arms which made her two snowballs jiggle a bit to the point of almost exploding out of her clothes as they were too tight for some odd reason .

Suddenly, as if she remembered an insignificant but had to be said thing, she transmitted to Lucy a message .

'I just can't understand why would you waste time on this for those useless money bills . I can create them easily you know '
