

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 121

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 121-At this moment, strong emotions were welling up in Ryan's heart.

He should have told her earlier about his suppressed fear, and of the intense possessiveness and longing he had for Audrey!

Audrey chuckled softly. "I admit that when I decided to give up on Nathan, I had thoughts of rebellion. Thus, I drank that spiked drink. I wanted to fulfil his wish and sleep with someone else! But in the end, I couldn't do it! I still have Anne and Harper. Although Anne isn't my biological mother, she still did her best to raise me. She just didn't know how to approach me, so she could only stand cautiously at a distance with Harper and wait for me to come closer! Therefore, I considered Nathan to be the first love in my life!" Finally, Ryan heard the fluctuating emotions in Audrey's tone.

Audrey paused for a moment, and her tone turned chilly as she went on to say, "I was wrong! My persistence in Nathan's love killed Anne, Harper, me, and my child! But I'm not the only one at fault! I want everyone who caused their deaths to pay the price! I want to take revenge with my own hands! But I'm still too weak now. I need the Lambert family to lend me their strength." "I understand you, Audrey, but since I've already registered our marriage, I haven't thought about divorce. I'm sorry, but I lied to you. I didn't marry you for your child. What I've wanted from the beginning to the end is only you!" Ryan's voice lowered as he called out her name. He removed his glasses and pinched the bridge of his nose.

On the other end of the phone, there was a long silence from Audrey.

For over a decade, Ryan had loved her silently from a corner where Audrey couldn't see.

He had even helped Franklin Group because of his love for Audrey.

In the end, he suppressed his desires, which had turned into something dark because of his love for Audrey. He wished only for her happiness.

"I didn't marry you out of guilt, Audrey, but because over these years, I've loved the smart, wise, timid, yet resilient you. I'm infatuated with your smile, your tears, and every expression of yours. I'm not good at expressing emotions, but I need you to know that I love you.

"Audrey, your life isn't just about hatred. It also has me, who has always loved you." Ryan grabbed onto the curtain that was blocking his view.

Audrey remained silent on the other end of the phone and hung up afterward.

When Ryan heard the sound of the call ending, he closed his eyes for a moment. Then, he put his glasses back on and moved the curtain away before stepping out of the private area of the plane. He handed the phone back to Edward, who was waiting in front of the door.

Edward placed the phone back in his suit. He followed behind Ryan and said, "Mr. Lambert has already left. Ms. Cecilia will come to pick you up today. Mr. Lambert wanted you to return to the Lambert Residence with Ms. Cecilia." Ryan looked up and saw Cecilia smiling and waving at him in front of the black car.

Meanwhile, Audrey sat by the bedside while gripping tightly onto her phone. She wiped her tears with a tissue.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 122

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 122-She could no longer love another person, because her heart was filled only with hatred.

"Do you hate them?" A voice came from the doorway.

Audrey turned to see an elderly gentleman, roughly George's age, standing at the door with a kind smile. He held a tray with a bowl of chicken soup.

She recognised him as the retired old butler of the Lambert family.

Julian, who worked alongside Ryan, mentioned that this retired old butler, Stephen Smith, had been retired for many years. He had been managing the farm on the outskirts on behalf of George.

"What?" Audrey looked at Stephen with a puzzled expression.

Stephen walked over to Audrey with a smile and placed the small table on the bed before placing the bowl of chicken soup in front of her.

“Ms. Audrey, what I’m trying to say is that, you need to hold onto your feelings of anger to confront challenges with determination! Avoiding trouble and enduring difficulties is not the way of the Lambert family! We believe in seeking revenge.

Forgiveness is something only God does!” Audrey didn’t understand. “If that’s the case, why haven’t the Lambert family retaliated against the Yeomans family?” “Haven’t they? Otherwise, why would the people of Sayeno Town be struggling in poverty? Allowing them to witness the prosperity of the world while they remain trapped at the bottom, despite their efforts to break free. Isn’t that more intriguing than simply ending their lives?” Realisation suddenly dawned on Audrey.

So, the Lambert family had actually spared her.

In recent years, Sayeno Town had become poorer, and it seemed that there were no more students. there going to college.

Stephen smiled faintly. “Ms. Audrey, from now on, I will be responsible for you and your child’s life.” Audrey widened her eyes and placed her hand over her stomach. “Didn’t you guys need my kidney?” “Ms. Audrey, that was just Mr. Lambert’s test for you. Ms. Wanda only has some mental issues and doesn’t need a kidney transplant.” During the ride back to the Lambert Residence, Cecilia glanced at Julian, who was driving in the front row. Then, she turned to Ryan, who had his eyes closed and said, “I met Ms. Yeomans in Ruplana.” Ryan turned his head to Cecilia and gazed at her with glum eyes.

Cecilia smiled. “I heard that Ms. Yeomans got into trouble. I thought you might not know what I told her to pass on to you yet! Mr. Lambert, let’s work together!

212 “You need the identity of a Shaw family son–in–law to stand firm in Lambert Corporation, and I need an heir of the Lambert family as a husband to compete with my eldest sister and second sister for Shaw Corporation. We can both get what we need! Fake marriage doesn’t matter.” Ryan looked at Cecilia’s smiling face without saying a word.

“My eldest sister has the support of my uncle’s family, and my second sister has my mother’s support. Only I find it difficult to obtain the inheritance of the Shaw family!

Therefore, I can only get the support of a strong family like the Lambert family.” Ryan’s tone was calm as he replied, “I am not interested in supporting the Shaw family, and I am not interested in getting involved in the property dispute within the Shaw family.

“The Lambert family is influential in Mythracia, so I don’t need the identity of a Shaw family son-in-law to stand firm in Lambert Corporation!”

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 123

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 123-Ryan’s eyes narrowed deeply, but they showed no hint of emotion. “Are you threatening me?” “Me? Mr. Lambert, how could I? Whether you’re willing to cooperate with me or not, I won’t disclose this matter to anyone else. You can trust my integrity.” Meanwhile, Nathan, dressed in sterile clothing, held Amelia’s hand tightly. His eyes were red with pain as he whispered to her, “The baby is gone! Sweetie, can you wake up now? I made a mistake, but only this once. Please don’t torture me like this! Once you wake up, we’ll get married right away! While I do remember some fragments of my memory, you are still the one whom I love the most! Please.” As Nathan felt Amelia’s fingers move, he suddenly stood up. “Amelia! Sweetie!” Amelia’s eyelashes trembled for a long time before she slowly opened her eyes.

She murmured something, but it was barely audible through the oxygen mask.

Nathan hurriedly released Amelia’s hand. He turned around and shouted, “Doctor! Doctor! She’s awake! She’s awake!” Amelia, who was lying in the hospital bed, struggled to raise her hand and grabbed Nathan’s hand. Tears streamed down her face. “Nathan, don’t leave me!” Four years later at the airport arrival lounge, Amelia’s multitude of fans crowded the exit. They were ready to greet her as she arrived.

After three years of preparation and filming, “Post Apocalypse 3” was finally released at the end of the previous year and became a blockbuster, grossing 2.5 billion dollars. This propelled Amelia to international stardom, with countless endorsements and fan followings.

Amelia's posters could be seen everywhere in the airport.

Nathan leaned against the railing and watched as Amelia's excited fans eagerly awaited her arrival. They were all tiptoeing to get a glimpse inside. Then, he impatiently sent a message to Amelia.

"I'll be waiting for you in the underground parking lot to avoid the crowd." After sending the message, Nathan locked his phone and walked away.

However, just as Nathan walked a few steps further, his attention was drawn to a woman with long, wavy hair. She wore a mask, a black sports jacket, a pair of black leggings, and white shoes. She effortlessly pulled a suitcase behind her with one hand while her other hand carried a child dressed in matching outfits.

The little girl, who nestled against the woman's shoulder, also wore a mask. Her petite frame stood straight while her round eyes darted around, as if she was searching for someone.

Audrey, standing five feet and six inches tall, exuded elegance with her slender frame and fair complexion. She stood out even in a simple black outfit, and her mask accentuated her captivating eyes, leaving onlookers to ponder her beauty.

"Wow! Is she a single mom? She's so cool." "This mom is amazing. She's so slim, yet she can carry a child with one hand and drag such a big suitcase with the other!"

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 124

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 124-"Her figure clearly indicates that she works out regularly!" The young fans who came to pick Amelia up were very much into charming looks. They couldn't help but take out their phones to take pictures of Audrey and her daughter.

Nathan's feet seemed to be glued to the spot. It wasn't until the figure was about to disappear from his sight that he snapped out of it. He pushed past the people blocking his way and hastily caught up.

As Audrey got out of the elevator, her phone continued to ring nonstop.

Audrey took Lily to a nearby cafe and ordered a cup of hot milk and a cake before removing her mask.

“Lily, sweetheart, sit here for a moment. I need to take a call.” “Okay!” Lily obediently held the cup of milk and took a few sips. A layer of cream was stained around her lip, and it made her look as if she had a little mustache.

Audrey grabbed a tissue and wiped Lily’s mouth as she listened to the person on the other end of the call. The person in the phone sounded anxious.

“We need the founder of Evergreen Biotech to attend the hearing over here in Meplaria. Otherwise, they’ll take measures against all our projects, and it’ll affect our relationship with the Meplaria government. Boss, are you still going to refuse them?” Audrey chuckled coldly. “After all these years, they still haven’t come up with anything new! Sending you there is already giving them face. We’ve cooperated with plenty of hospitals and universities in Meplaria over the years. They clearly want to snatch our technology but are holding a hearing to appear fair. Ha!” “I heard rumors saying that their intelligence network has found out your identity.

Boss, you better. be careful these days.” Audrey lifted her coffee cup. “If they really found out my identity, they would contact me directly and not just talk to you. We’ve long since gotten tired of the bluffing trick! At the hearing on the 29th, tell them that if they continue to harass us and use the same tactics they used to suppress other tech companies against Evergreen Biotech, we will terminate all cooperation with Meplaria’s hospitals. and schools, as well as withdraw from the Meplaria market!” The person on the other end of the call chuckled. “There’s another thing that’s quite interesting. Franklin Group from Sheysea City wants to cooperate with us.

Boss, what do you think?” Audrey frowned. “Hold off on that and don’t reply to them yet. Has Lambert Corporation responded?” “Not yet. I’ll have someone contact Lambert Corporation again.” “Alright. Thank you!” After hanging up the call, Audrey looked at Lily, who was almost finished with her cake. She reached out and pinched the little girl’s cheek. “Wait here for a moment. We’ll head out after I go to the restroom.” Lily nodded obediently. “Don’t worry, mommy! I’ll be good!” Audrey took out her tablet and played cartoons for Lily. Feeling uneasy, she left some money for the staff and asked them to keep an eye on Lily before heading to the restroom.

Lily sat in her chair and watched cartoons with her glass of milk while swaying her legs. Suddenly, she glanced up and spotted Ryan walking outside the cafe.

He was surrounded by a crowd and talking on the phone.

She immediately jumped off her chair and ran after Ryan.

“Daddy!” Ryan, who was on the phone, was suddenly embraced by the little girl that came out of nowhere. He then looked down.

“Daddy!” Lily looked up at Ryan as he called out to him.

“Whose child is this?” Julian and the other Lambert Corporation executives looked around, but no parents seemed to be chasing after her.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 125

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 125-After hanging up the call, Ryan picked up Lily, who seemed small but felt heavy in his arms.

“Are you lost, little one? Where are your parents?” Ryan asked.

Lily hugged Ryan’s neck tightly. “My mommy went to the restroom! I saw you as soon as I looked up! Daddy, am I smart? Actually, mommy didn’t want me to come back with her. I insisted on coming to find you, Daddy! Mommy said I don’t have a daddy. She’s lying. I’m no stone!” Lily was barely four years old, and she spoke without a clear point, jumping from one topic to another. Though her words lacked coherence, Ryan sensed that the child had never seen her father before.

“Lily!” Hearing Audrey’s call, Lily turned to wave at Audrey while she was still clinging onto Ryan. “Mommy!

Their eyes met.

Ryan froze, and Audrey was equally stunned.

Four years had passed, and Ryan seemed unchanged, yet somehow different.

His cheeks were thinner, and his features were more deeply defined. There was a sharpness in him that wasn't there four years ago.

"Ms. Audrey?" Julian glanced at Audrey, who had arrived breathlessly, and then at Ryan, who was holding Lily with a bright smile. His eyes widened.

Before returning home, Audrey had thought about meeting Ryan. But she hadn't expected it to happen so soon, and certainly not like this.

Audrey hadn't forgotten Ryan's confession over the phone four years ago. Nor had she forgotten George's hope that Ryan would marry one of the Shaw family's daughters.

Ryan's fiancée was known as Cecilia to the outside world, and Audrey didn't want to cause any trouble for Ryan.

The cafe servant chased after Audrey with her suitcase and apologized. "I'm sorry, miss. The child ran out when I was delivering coffee to another table! I'm really sorry!" Audrey regained her composure and took the suitcase. She then approached Ryan with a smile. "Long time no see." Ryan stared at Audrey, and the corner of his lips quirked up as well. "Long time indeed." "Lily, let me hold you. Don't trouble..." Audrey struggled with what to call Ryan.

Putting aside Lily's relationship with Ryan, Audrey was actually considered Ryan's junior according to their external seniority.

Shouldn't Lily call Ryan grandpa then?

But Audrey found it difficult to address him as that. "Don't trouble Mr. Lambert!" Lily had always been a good child. Apart from stubbornly wanting to find her father, she was very obedient.

go "Sir, should I have the driver wait?" Julian asked.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 126

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 126-"Tell the driver to go back and wait for my call," Ryan said and effortlessly took Audrey's suitcase from her hands. With one arm holding the child and the other pulling the suitcase, he looked at Audrey and said, "Lead the way!" Lily carefully observed Audrey's expression while her tiny hands tightly gripped the back of Ryan's coat.

Audrey had no choice but to follow Ryan to the parking lot.

Audrey and Ryan had outstanding looks, and the little one in Ryan's arms exuded irresistible charm. Despite the fact that Ryan exuded a down-to-earth demeanor in his suit, he held the child and carried Audrey's luggage as if attentively caring for his wife. Together, the trio drew countless glances wherever they walked.

After Ryan, Audrey, and the child left, the executives of Lambert Corporation couldn't help but inquire of Julian.

"What's going on? Wasn't Mr. Lambert engaged to the Shaw family? How come his child is so big already?" "Yeah! I didn't hear anything about Mr. Lambert getting married! Who's that beautiful woman?" "What beautiful woman? They even have a child together! That's the boss's wife! They look so perfect together." Gossip was human nature, even for these high-ranking executives of Lambert Corporation.

"This is Mr. Lambert's private matter, and I'm not very clear about it! If you're interested, you can wait for Mr. Lambert to come back and ask him yourself," Julian said with a smile.

As they walked out, a few executives remarked, "Oh well! I'd rather not! The last time I asked Mr. Lambert when he and M Cecilia were going to get engaged so we could share the joy, he sent me to Affina for two months. I almost couldn't make it back!" Nathan stood still as he watched Ryan and Audrey leave with the child. His breathing became rapid, and he leaned against the wall while almost losing his balance.

Considering the child's age, did Audrey manage to save the child when she fell back then?

No, he had gone to the hospital and asked, and the doctor said the child hadn't made it.

For some reason, Nathan felt a sense of relief.

For years, Nathan had been tormented almost daily by the memory of Audrey losing the child.

Especially as time passed and more memories of Audrey came flooding back.

Yes, after four years, Nathan recalled many fragments of his time with Audrey, but they were just fragments, not a complete picture of their life together.

Like the summer when he and Audrey returned to Eastville and stayed at Anne's house.

He recalled memories of Anne that day he knelt by her grave. He could barely stand up from crying.

He had promised Audrey that he would treat Anne as his own mother.

However, he pushed Anne away and caused her death.

He wanted to apologize to Audrey, but because of the child, he didn't even dare to see her.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 127

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 127-Though it was just a tiny fragment in Nathan's memory of over twenty years, it was enough to fill him with overwhelming regret.

He even prayed to the heavens, begging not to recall the past, not to restore any memories.

He feared remembering the moments Audrey had constantly brought up in front of him. He feared that he had truly loved Audrey, loved her to the extent of forsaking everything. If he remembered everything, then what he had done for her after she woke up wouldn't count for anything!

Audrey took the car keys from the driver at the airport parking lot while Ryan had already secured Lily in her car seat and fastened her seatbelt.

With her long eyelashes, Lily blinked her eyes and whispered to Ryan, "Daddy, why does mommy make me call you Mr. Lambert? Did you make her angry?"

Mommy is easy to coax. My big brother taught me that if mommy gets mad, I should..." Lily grabbed Ryan's index finger and pinky, then rubbed her chubby face toward them.

“This way, mommy won’t be mad,” Lily whispered to Ryan..

Ryan’s eyes welled up at how obedient and gentle Lily was. He controlled his emotions and stroked the little one’s head. “Okay, I understand!” Knowing that Ryan had taken her words to heart, Lily yawned and rubbed her eyes.

No one told Ryan that his and Audrey’s child was still alive. He thought his child was gone.

When he first met Lily, he assumed she was Audrey’s adopted child due to not being able to handle the pain of losing theirs.

Now he was certain she was their child.

Ryan pinched Lily’s chubby cheeks with his long, slender fingers. “Are you tired? Take a nap.” “I’ll drive,” Audrey said to Ryan.

After closing the car door, Ryan took the keys from Audrey’s hand. “I’ll drive. You rest first. There are many things I need to ask you.” “Mr. Lambert,” Audrey murmured as she glanced into the car. She saw Lily press her chubby face against the car window, as her eyes blinked. She looked at her now and then at Ryan. Audrey smiled at Lily and then turned to Ryan.

“We’ll drop you off first.” “Audrey, we need to talk. For the sake of the child.” Ryan’s breathing turned slightly heavier. He leaned closer to Audrey.

Audrey’s throat tightened. She nodded. “Okay.” The car pulled out of the airport parking lot. Audrey glanced at Lily in her seat, who had fallen asleep with her head cocked and her eyes closed. The child’s chubby cheeks were pressed against the seat. Her dark, dense eyelashes were long and curved.

“Who’s taking care of our son overseas?” Ryan asked upon hearing that.

As for Wanda, both children called her Wandflower.

Perhaps due to their blood ties, Wanda really liked Lily and Dallas

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 128

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 128-Unlike Dallas, Lily wasn’t as reserved. The little girl was sweet-mouthed, talkative, and exceptionally adorable.

Every year, George would bring Wanda overseas to visit the two children.

Whenever the children were around, Wanda's smile would be more frequent than usual.

So later on, George often arranged for Stephen to take Lily and Dallas to live with him and Wanda in cities with pleasant climates for some time.

Although Lily didn't know about Audrey's relationship with George and Wanda, Dallas was sensitive enough to guess that they were family.

Feeling George and Wanda's unconditional affection, the two children naturally grew fond of them.

But Audrey dared not appear in front of Wanda. Each time, she would only watch Wanda and Lily play from a distance with content.

Realization finally dawned on Ryan.

Over the years, Wanda's mental state had fluctuated. George, following the advice of a psychologist, started letting Wanda care for some small animals.

Later on, he often took Wanda abroad, claiming it was to unwind in favorable climates. It turned out that he was actually taking Wanda to meet his two children.

Audrey gently tugged on the hem of her shirt. "Mr. Lambert Senior has always believed that the child is Nathan's, and I didn't explain it either. Mr. Lambert Senior hasn't been well these years, and I'm worried he wouldn't be able to handle knowing that the two children are yours." George held the Lambert family's honor in high regard. Audrey had only sensed this after spending more time with him.

Ryan subconsciously tightened his grip on the steering wheel. His lips were pressed together.

He could tell what Audrey said meant something else.

"Are you responding to my confession from four years ago, or do you want a divorce?" Ryan pierced through Audrey's veiled words.

“Your fiancée is Ms. Cecilia. I’m concerned that our marital situation not being resolved quickly will affect you.” This was also one of Audrey’s purposes for returning.

However, she hadn’t expected to meet Ryan with their child at the airport.

Exiting the highway, Ryan signaled and parked the car on the side of the road.

He rested one hand on the steering wheel and turned to look at Audrey. “The engagement with the Shaw family was merely a verbal agreement between the elders. We didn’t even have an engagement ceremony. The reason didn’t deny this was simply to maintain a cooperative relationship with Cecilia!”

His cold, reserved features seemed to harbor aggressive and blunt attack.

Audrey’s heart raced suddenly. “Ryan!”

The kiss overwhelmed her. It made her scalp tingle and her mind go blank.

It wasn’t until Audrey almost suffocated and her tongue ached that Ryan released her lips.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 129

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 129-Audrey panted heavily. The confined space of the car seemingly filled only with her breathing and heartbeat. Her palms were sweaty.

He kneaded the back of Audrey’s neck and kissed her swollen lips again lightly.

“Audrey, my desire for you goes beyond your imagination, even more so than Nathan’s initially! I’ve been restraining myself. I don’t want to intrude on your life, and I especially don’t want to frighten you! But ever since that night, it’s like I’ve broken through some kind of barrier, and my desire can no longer be restrained, it’s even getting wilder and wilder. Therefore, I can’t let you go.” The intense heartbeat left Audrey numb. She stared at the man in front of her, with his tall nose and sharp features.

The man who had always been cold and quiet with little to say was now using the most straightforward way to tell her about his uncontrollable desires. It was hard for her not to panic.

“I... I came back for Aunt Anne and Harper.” Audrey’s voice trembled slightly.

Ryan responded, “I know. I support everything you do, and I’ve never intervened in the past four years, but don’t push me away! Don’t leave my sight again.” Audrey held onto Ryan’s sturdy wrist. “Let’s go back first. Lily is asleep. It’s not safe to stay by the roadside.” Ryan looked back at Lily, who was asleep in the child seat. He reached out to touch Lily’s slightly cold little feet, then took off his suit jacket and covered her legs with it before restarting the car.

When the car stopped under the landmark flat building in Mythravia’s downtown area, Audrey was a bit surprised. “Where are we?” Ryan unbuckled Audrey’s seatbelt. “I don’t usually stay here. You and the child can stay here temporarily. It’s more suitable for you to stay here than in a hotel.

You’ll have a housekeeper to take care of your meals, and I’ll feel more at ease.” Audrey grabbed his wrist. “Ryan, after I finish a few things in Mythravia, I’ll take the child to Sheysea City. We won’t stay here for long. Wouldn’t it be too much trouble?” “If you’re not staying here for long, what’s the trouble?” Ryan asked in return.

Following that, Audrey watched as Ryan carefully wrapped Lily, who was sleeping soundly, in his suit jacket. Then, he picked up the little one, and pulled the suitcase. She had no choice but to follow him upstairs.

After laying Lily on the soft big bed and covering her with a blanket, Ryan came out of the bedroom and saw Audrey on the balcony outside the windows while making a call. He went to the kitchen to pour her a glass of water.

It was George on the other end of the phone.

“I bumped into Mr. Lambert when I came out of the airport. I’m at Mr. Lambert’s place now,” Audrey honestly told George.

After a moment of silence on the other end of the line, George spoke in a calm tone, “That’s fine. You’ll be joining Lambert Corporation after you’ve taken care of Sheysca City. There’s still plenty of room for you and Ryan to work together.

Besides, he's also your uncle. When Wanda and I are gone, we'll need the two of you to support each other." Audrey clutched her cell phone tightly. She was too guilty to respond.

"Okay!" Audrey replied.

This was the first time in many years that George had invited Audrey to dinner.

She felt nervous.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 130

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 130-Audrey's breath quickened. She responded softly, "Okay." After hanging up the phone, a smile couldn't help but creep onto her face as she came in from the balcony. Her tone still carried the remnants of nervousness from her conversation with George as she said with a smile, "Mr. Lambert Senior said I could have dinner with him tomorrow." Audrey had just finished speaking when Ryan's phone rang.

He answered it. It was a call from Lambert Residence, and Paige informed him that George wanted him to come back the next day for dinner.

"Okay. I got it. I'll be back on time tomorrow." After hanging up the call, Ryan gestured for Audrey to sit down. "I'll be going back to the Lambert residence for dinner tomorrow too!" Audrey paused. She walked over slowly. "I'll remind Lily not to address you improperly." "And what do you plan to have my child call me?" Ryan countered.

"I'll have her call you Mr. Lambert, is that okay?" Audrey regretted after saying that and bit her lip.

All these years, Audrey could face everyone with ease, except for Ryan.

Perhaps it was because she had two children with Ryan after being drugged and she always felt guilty.

Especially having the child call him Mr. Lambert.

"That's fine!" Audrey didn't expect Ryan to agree so readily.

“Thank you,” Audrey said gratefully.

Ryan walked up to Audrey and leaned against the back of the sofa. When Audrey tried to move back, he grabbed her wrist and pulled her closer. He caressed her delicate wrist.

His deep gaze met Audrey’s eyes. “I know you haven’t figured out how to handle the relationship between us yet. I know your conditions for returning to the Lambert family. You go to Sheysea City first and take care of your business. As for the Lambert family, I’ll announce my departure from them after Lambert Corporation stabilizes.” Audrey widened her eyes. “Don’t!” Ryan said calmly, “I’ve always been wanted to do this for many years, but because Mr. Lambert Senior didn’t relent and let you return to the Lambert family, it didn’t happen. It’s not a good thing to say, but I had originally planned to bring you back to the Lambert family after Mr. Lambert Senior passed away.

Now that he’s accepted you back, I should separate from the Lambert family.

However, Lambert Corporation has been coordinating with domestic semiconductor companies for the past four years. The company had just managed to overcome lithography and chip technology. I can’t leave Lambert Corporation just yet.

Ryan gently pulled Audrey toward him.

Audrey remained silent.

“Audrey, you still have feelings for me,” Ryan said with conviction.
