Meeting The One For Me Chapter 131-“Mommy.” Lily’s sleepy voice called out.

The living room was too bright and it caused Lily to squint. She reached out toward Audrey and asked to be held.

Audrey snapped back to reality and quickly walked over to Lily. She scooped her up in her arms. “You’re awake. Are you hungry?” Ryan followed suit and approached them. He gently stroked Lily’s little head before naturally wrapping his arm around Audrey’s shoulder. “Lily, what would you like to eat?” The little one wriggled in Audrey’s arms and reached out to Ryan. Her eyes sparkled like a sunflower seeking sunlight. “Daddy! I want a hug!” Ryan took Lily from Audrey’s arms and the little one wrapped her arms around his neck. She showed no intention of letting go.

He stroked Lily’s back gently and then carried her toward the kitchen. “Would you like some milk first?” “Yes!” Lily chirped.

Ryan, still wearing his vest, skillfully heated up some milk with one hand while holding the soft, white bundle of joy in the other. The contrast was stark, but the scene exuded warmth and tenderness.

Audrey stood by the open kitchen counter with her eyes slightly red. She couldn’t even understand how Lily knew Ryan was her father. Was it because of their blood relation?

After heating the milk, Ryan poured it into a large cup and carried it out of the kitchen.

1 Lily didn’t hesitate to praise him and gave him two thumbs up. Then, she sweetly offered to massage Ryan’s shoulders. “Daddy, you’re great! Let me massage you!” Lily had completely different personalities from Audrey, and Ryan.

She was like a little sun, full of energy, sweetness, and easily endeared herself to everyone.

Ryan couldn’t even bear to put Lily down. He let her sit on his lap while she sipped on her milk.

“Isn’t Lambert Corporation having a press conference today? I’ll take care of Lily. If you’re busy, you can go first,” Audrey said.

“I’m not busy. I’ll stay with you and Lily today.” Ryan had his gaze fixed on the little one who seemed ready to dive into her milk cup. She drank it without any fuss. She seemed very obedient and easy to care for.

“You can spend time with Lily. I saw some ingredients in the fridge. Should I cook something for us to eat together?” Audrey suggested.

“I’ll do it!” Ryan smiled..

Audrey watched as Lily sat comfortably in Audrey watched as Lily sat comfortably in Ryan’s arms and showed no sign of wanting to leave. She smiled and said, “You stay with Lily.”

The photo was taken in the afternoon.

Audrey was sitting cross–legged on the lush green lawn while holding a child on each side. The dazzling warm light of the setting sun outlined the delicate and beautiful smiles of the two children and her. Even the fuzz on their faces was clearly visible in the sunlight.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 132

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 132-In front of the three of them lay a Labrador retriever, sticking its tongue out at the camera with a carefree expression.

Next to Audrey, there was a black blob painted with watercolor pens. Before Ryan could ask, Lily pointed at the blob and said, “That’s you, daddy!” Ryan turned to see Lily’s bright eyes. She seemed to be waiting for his praise.

He was momentarily speechless but eventually smiled and said, “Um, you did a great job!” The little girl’s smile grew even wider. She turned to Ryan and said, “I knew it!

Even Dallas said I did a great job, but he said I shouldn’t draw anymore next time! Dallas also won’t let me ask anything about you. He said it’ll make mommy sad. Daddy, did you make mommy angry? Is that why Dallas won’t let me ask anything about you?” Ryan didn’t know how to explain to Lily. He squeezed her little hand. “Maybe a little!” “Mommy is very soft–hearted. Daddy, as long as you act cute to her, she will hug and kiss you! Daddy, will you live with me and Dallas in the future?” Lily looked at Ryan earnestly and asked.

Ryan smiled and asked, “Of course!. Lily, did you miss me a lot before?” The little girl nodded heavily. “When mommy spanks me, I miss you the most!” “Is it because you want me to protect you?” Lily nodded heavily again. “I have a neighbor named Elsa who lives next door.

Every time her mommy spanks her, her dad will hold her and call her a little angel, then take her to buy lots of snacks. I envy her. But it’s okay! I found my daddy!” #

“Lily, how did you know I am your dad at the airport?” Ryan asked.

Lily was easily drawn into conversation by Ryan. “Dallas told me! Dallas is very clever. Everyone says Dallas is a child prodigy who can surpass even William Sidis, the famous genius. After Dallas found mommy’s marriage registration information, we knew who our dad was! Dallas showed me your photos, and I secretly searched for your news online. I look at them every day, so I know my dad is very amazing!” The little girl exposed Audrey and Dallas’s conscious efforts while praising her dad. She revealed everything to Ryan, even Audrey’s phone number.

“Dallas told me that mommy is even more amazing than you. She’s the founder of Evergreen Biotech!” Ryan was stunned.

Three years ago, a biotech company called Evergreen Biotech came out of nowhere and made breakthroughs in cutting–edge biotechnology such as gene delivery stem cell culture technology, tissue regeneration technology, in vivo remodeling CAR–T technology, molecular switches, and other cutting–edge biological technologies. The company had cooperated with dozens of renowned hospitals both locally and abroad in applying these technologies in the medical field.

Because of the advanced genetic technology, it gained worldwide fame for a time.

Naturally, this non–Meplaria–owned Evergreen Biotech was inevitably targeted by Meplaria.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 133

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 133-Evergreen Biotech had come so far that external pressures were mounting. This time, the research on living robots gave Meplaria a major leverage to demand that Evergreen Biotech hand over its technology in terms of the technical feasibility and ethical risks of the endeavor.

On the 29th of this month, Evergreen Biotech would attend the Meplaria hearing. The news which was released a few days ago caused a stir internationally.

Although Evergreen Biotech was registered in Ruplana, the fact that the founder and actual controlling person was a local was no secret.

However, no one knew who the founder of Evergreen Biotech really was.

It turned out it was Audrey.

Ryan pushed his glasses and chuckled softly, as if it was within his expectations.

Audrey was never ordinary. She was a rare genius in biology. Moreover, she had the support of the Lambert family for the past four years. The sudden emergence of Evergreen Biotech, followed by Meplaria adding it to the list of sanctioned companies, was not surprising.

“Dinner’s ready,” Audrey called out.

Ryan walked into the dining room with Lily in his arms and saw Audrey had cooked egg noodles, with enticing sesame oil aroma. Lily’s plate already had the vegetables finely chopped.” Ryan set Lily down and brought the noodles from the kitchen to the table. As he did, he saw Lily prop herself up on the chair and climb onto the stool with effort.

The chubby little girl looked at the egg noodles in front of her and then pointed at Audrey who was in the kitchen with a thumbs-up. “Mommy, you’re amazing!” Ryan couldn’t help but chuckle. He asked Audrey, “Is Lily always so lively?” Audrey smiled and nodded. “Yes, her personality is completely different from Dallas’s and doesn’t resemble ours much either.” As Audrey finished speaking, her voice trailed off. She looked at Ryan, but he was already sitting next to Lily with his cutlery. She, too, walked out of the dining room and sat down on the other side of Lily.

After dinner, Lily took out her story books and wanted Ryan to tell her stories.

Simultaneously, Lambert Corporation press conference drew to a close.

The news of Lambert Corporation and its affiliated companies in the domestic semiconductor field overcoming the challenges of lithography and chips had exploded across international media, dominating headlines and discussions.

Just as Ryan had initially decided to abandon cooperation with foreign countries and instead invest heavily in domestic independent research and development, Lambert Corporation would be facing enormous challenges for the next three to five years.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 134

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 134-Lily had barely seen Ryan before she started clinging to him. She insisted on Ryan putting her to bed at night.

Audrey sat on the couch while browsing through the news online.

Not only mainstream media but also social media were discussing the news of the domestic breakthrough in chip and lithography machine technology.

As she read, a smile unconsciously crept onto her lips.

Indeed, keeping control of technology in one's own hands was crucial.

It was already past ten o'clock when Audrey pushed open the bedroom door and saw that Ryan was already asleep with Lily in his arms. She quietly covered them both with a blanket before slipping out of the master bedroom.

The next morning, Audrey woke up to find Ryan had already gone to the office.

He left a note for Lily, saying they were to meet at Lambert Residence in the afternoon.

After finishing her morning exercise and catching up on international news, Audrey locked her phone screen and went to the master bedroom. She pulled back the curtains and leaned over to kiss Lily's soft and warm face. Brushing aside Lily's stray hair, Audrey whispered, "Lily, wake up. It's time." The little one rubbed her eyes and sat up. She was not fully awake yet. Still, she reached out for a hug.

Audrey held Lily in her arms and felt the warmth of her little body against hers.

Lily wrapped her arms around Audrey's neck tightly and said in a sweet voice, "Good morning, Mommy." "1 Audrey gently stroked Lily's back. "Good morning! Time to get up, wash up, and have breakfast. We're going to Lambert Residence today." Lily straightened her back and rubbed her eyes. "Will I meet Wandflower and Mr.

Lambert Senior?" The name Wandflower she mentioned was Audrey's birth mother, Wanda.

Audrey unbuttoned Lily's pajamas and whispered, "Yes, you will! But Lily, remember, besides me taking you to see Mr. Lambert Senior and Wandflower, you have to pretend you don't know them if you see them outside, okay? Also, when you meet your dad later at Lambert Residence, don't call him daddy." Lily nodded obediently. "I know. Daddy told me everything last night! Mr.

Lambert Senior likes the both of you and he loves me and Dallas even more.

But for some reason, Mr. Lambert Senior can't allow both of you to be together.

Until the two of you solve that reason, I have to keep the fact that I'm daddy's child a secret so the both of you can solve that reason as soon as possible and avoid trouble!" Audrey was surprised to find that while she was still worrying about how to explain things to Lily, Ryan had already taught Lily everything the previous night.

She pinched Lily's cheek. "Right! Lily, you're so smart!"

"I've brought the drawing Dallas and I did together for Wandflower and Mr.

Lambert Senior!

Mommy, what are you going to give Wandflower?" Lily pondered as she sat obediently while allowing Audrey to dress her.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 135

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 135-Audrey smoothed the little girl's hair out of her collar. Lily's eyes suddenly lit up.

"I've got it, mommy! Back when Grandpa Stephen took me and Dallas to stay with Mr. Lambert Senior and Wandflower, I noticed that Wandflower really likes flowers! Mommy, can we buy beautiful flowers for Wandflower?" Audrey recalled that George had mentioned Wanda's love for flowers.

"Sounds good! Then let's hurry up and get ready. After breakfast, we'll head out." Audrey stroked Lily's head gently.

"Okay!" Lily hopped off the bed. She took the step stool Ryan had given her the night before, then brushed her teeth and washed her face before sitting down at the breakfast table to eat.

As Audrey made a phone call on the balcony, Lily seized the opportunity to video call Dallas using her smartwatch.

The video call quickly connected, and a face identical to Lily's appeared on the small screen.

However, the boy on the other end wore a serious expression as he tapped away at a laptop keyboard. When he noticed Lily, he coolly said, "Speak!" Lily glanced at Audrey on the balcony and then whispered, "Dallas, I saw daddy yesterday. He was the one who tucked me in and told me bedtime stories..." In the brief interval while Audrey was on the phone, Lily had already shared everything from the previous night with Dallas.

With a face full of happiness, Lily continued, "Dallas, daddy's hug is really different from mommy's! His arms are strong! Dallas, I don't think he's a bad person!" Dallas kept his serious expression and replied, "As the saying goes, know people by face, not by heart. You need to protect mommy well. If anything happens, contact me immediately!" "I know, Dallas. We're going to pick out flowers for Wandflower later! I have to go! I'll drink my milk and get ready. Next time I see you, I'll be as tall as you!" After ending the video call, Lily quickly finished her milk, rinsed her mouth while standing on the step stool, then smoothly slipped into her pumpkin hoodie. She even remembered to pack her pumpkin backpack and sun hat before sitting obediently on the couch while patiently waiting for Audrey.

Lily saw Audrey pacing around with a light smile as she talked on the phone.

She took a picture of Audrey with her smartwatch. Following the instructions Ryan had taught her the previous night, she added his WhatsApp contact using his phone number.

Observing Lily's efficient preparations and her bright, innocent face, along with her packed water bottle, Audrey exaggeratedly exclaimed, "Wow, Lily, are you all ready by yourself? Even your water bottle is prepared!" Lily jumped off the couch. "Of course, I'm your cutest daughter! Let's go!" "Let's go!" Audrey patted Lily's head.

She decided to take Lily there and try their luck.

"Mommy, come and look! This flower is so beautiful!"

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 136

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 136-Audrey also walked over and rubbed Lily's head.

With her small hand holding o Audrey's Index finger, Lily pointed to the peony flowers on the high table and smiled, "Mommy, if Wandflower saw such beautiful flowers, she would be very happy!"

"Sir, is this pot of flowers for sale?" Audrey asked with a light smile.

The old man, Phillip, glanced at Audrey and smiled gently, "Are you familiar with this flower? Or are you just buying it for your child to play with? This flower is not easy to take care of." "I only know that this flower is a peony," Audrey answered honestly, "and it's not for the child to play with. It's for someone... my family. The elders in my family love flowers, so today I came with my daughter to pick a flower as a gift for them." "This flower is indeed a peony, but it has a very nice name, called Silver Thread.

There is no pot of Silver Thread in the whole country that is more beautiful than mine!" Phillip smiled and said, "I've raised it with great effort." "I wonder if you are willing to part with it?" Audrey asked politely.

“Sir, this pot of flowers must be your treasure, so you’re here accompanying it, right? Our Wandflower will take care of the flowers, so you can be rest assured!” Lily puffed up her little chest and showed Phillip her phone watch. “I will often take photos of the flowers and send them to you!” Phillip was amused by this less than four-year-old little girl and said to her, “Is that so? Then this flower is a bit expensive, can your mom afford it?” Lily tugged on Audrey’s hand and asked, “Mommy, do you have enough money?” Audrey smiled and said, “Don’t worry!” “Sir, may I ask how much it costs?” Audrey asked.

“If you have money, donate twenty thousand to charity. If not, donate as much as you can! I’ll give you the flower!” Phillip stood up and took a handkerchief to wipe the flower pot... “Sir, this isn’t appropriate,” Audrey said puzzledly.

Phillip smiled and said, “The doctor said I won’t live for another two months. I don’t have children or grandchildren. Hearing what your little girl said about your family taking good care of flowers and plants, I feel relieved to entrust this pot of flowers to you.” Lily looked confused, blinking her big black eyes, not understanding what it meant to not live for another two months.

“Little girl, we agreed that you will take photos for me, right?” Phillip bent down and smiled at Lily.

Lily nodded and said, “Okay sir! Don’t worry.” Saying that, Lily opened her phone watch and said, “Sir, give me your phone number!” Audrey donated fifty thousand dollars via mobile phone in front of Phillip.

Phillip glanced at Audrey with some surprise, and the smile in the corners of his eyes deepened, “It seems... I didn’t choose the wrong person for it.”

Carol was first surprised to see Audrey, then she was surprised again when she saw the less than four-year-old next to Audrey.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 137

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 137-The sunglasses concealed Amelia’s anxious expression, especially when she saw the child, her grip tightened subconsciously, inadvertently causing pain to Carol, who then regained her senses.

Encountering each other unexpectedly here, Audrey didn’t avoid it either.

Regardless of why the Franklin family allowed her to stay with them back then, they did take her in after all.

Although Nathan's parents were often busy with business and rarely at home, she always received a gift from them whenever they returned during the holidays.

Later, their estrangement was also because of Nathan.

Her last memory of meeting Carol was not very pleasant.

At that time, Carol hysterically accused Audrey of not letting go of her son anymore, saying that her son had lost his memory, and begged Audrey not to disturb Nathan's life anymore. She also felt that Amelia's identity was not worthy of her son and ordered Audrey to find a way to make Amelia leave Nathan, as a repayment for the years of sheltering her.

At that time, Carol probably took out all her resentment of Audrey because Nathan was out of her control.

Audrey led Lily forward, smiling and greeting, "Hello, Aunt Carol." Lily looked up at Carol and bowed seriously. She said sweetly, "Hello, Grandma!" Something came to Carol's mind as she suddenly widened her eyes. She tightened her grip on Amelia's hand and looked up at Audrey in shock.

"This child..." Nathan spoke first, his throat rolling, "is yours? Did you give birth to her?" Upon hearing this, Lily became a little upset and said, "Of course, I was born mommy. Otherwise, can daddy give birth to children?" Amelia was surprised and asked, "Amelia, are you married?" "Yeah." Audrey smiled gracefully, holding Lily's hand, "If there's nothing else, then we won't disturb you anymore." As they passed by, Amelia saw the flowers in Audrey's arms.

"Wait!" Amelia stopped Audrey, "Sorry, Audrey, Aunt Carol has been looking for this Silver Thread for a long time. We came here today specifically to buy this flower. Can you please let it go? We're really sorry... Aunt Carol came all the way from Sheysea City...."

Audrey looked at Amelia with a smile that was not quite a smile and said, "You seem to really like snatching things from me, huh!" Hearing the hidden meaning in Audrey's words, Nathan stepped forward to comfort Amelia, go, we'll find another one! First come first serve, and we came late." "Let it Audrey didn't wait for Amelia to finish speaking and had already walked out with her child.

"Mom!" Nathan interrupted Carol's words, gently supporting her.

yours Amelia's eyes turned red, turning to look at the backs of Audrey and her daughter, feeling immense fear and unease in her heart.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 138

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 138-This unease was stronger than when Amelia first learned that Nathan had regained some of his memories.

"Audrey is already married. Maybe the little girl is just tall for her age," Amelia restrained her rapid breathing, stabilized her emotions, and supported Carol on the other side. "I'm sorry, Aunt Carol, we came a step too late and couldn't buy the Silver Thread you liked. I will continue to look for a seller who is willing to sell it." Carol didn't have the heart to care about flowers now. Her mind was full of the little girl who had been with Audrey just now.

That little girl looked so much like Audrey when she was young!

If that little girl is really Nathan's child, then... how could she let her granddaughter wander outside?

Audrey drove to the entrance of the Lambert family's old mansion with Lily, turned around to look at the well-behaved Lily sitting in the safety seat.

Lily immediately raised both hands above her head joyfully and made a heart shape to Audrey, saying, "Mommy, love you!" Amused by her daughter, Audrey gathered courage and lightly stepped on the gas pedal. She drove the car to the door, lowering the window and pressing the doorbell.

The intercom connected.

"Hello, who is it?" "Hello, I'm... Audrey. I made an appointment with Mr. Lambert Senior to visit him with my daughter today." "Okay, please wait, I'll open the door for you." Soon, two extremely beautiful iron gates slowly opened.

At the end of the road was a building that looked like a castle.

“Wow... Mr. Lambert Senior really didn't lie. Their family really has a big castle!” Lily exclaimed in admiration.

Audrey drove into the Lambert Residence at a slow speed, her hands on the steering wheel covered in sweat.

After more than a decade, she was about to face her birth mother again. She didn't know if Wanda would recognize her.

In reality, Audrey was conflicted. She didn't really want Wanda to recognize her.

She would rather Wanda just think of her as Lily's mother, so she wouldn't recall the painful past at Sayeno Town.

George was dressed very casually in home clothes, leaning on a cane, and being assisted by Paige as he led Wanda out of the inner residence, reading to get Lily and Audrey.

Actually, letting Audrey meet Wanda was a bit risky.

After all, Wanda's mental state had only just stabilized in the past two years.

However, George saw Audrey's excellence and effort, and he also saw her affection for Wanda.

He was old now and would eventually pass away soon...

George turned his head to ask, “What's going on?”

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 139

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 139-“Sir, Ms. Yeomans' on the phone...” “The servant handed the phone to George.

“Aren't you supposed to come over for dinner?” George asked.

“Mr. Lambert Senior, thank you for giving me this opportunity,” Audrey's voice choked with emotion. “When I saw the two iron gates at the entrance of the Lambert Residence open, I knew... you have opened the way for me to reunite with my mother. I truly, truly love her! I also yearn to be by her side, but... I'm taking a risk! I don't want to remind her of the hellish life in Sayeno Town again!

"I'm sorry!" Audrey's car was stopped on the roadside. There were tears streaming down her face as she held the phone.

In reality, she was already very happy when she saw those two gates open.

George pursed his lips and turned to see Wanda smiling as she took Lily down from the electric car. The little girl hugged Wanda's legs tightly, looking up with an affectionate expression on her chubby face, rubbing against Wanda, expressing her longing.

Lily also pointed to the Silver Thread pot and showed it to Wanda, saying that she knew Wanda liked flowers. She had specially picked it with her mom in the morning and thought Wanda would like it. She eagerly sought Wanda's praise.

The servants accompanying them outside all smiled along.

"It's comforting to see you think so much for Wanda," George said solemnly, "but it's not your fault! I was the one who lost my daughter first, giving the bad guys an opportunity. If it weren't for you.. Wanda wouldn't have been able to escape from that place. She might not even be alive now." These words came straight from George's heart, even though he had never told anyone before.

In Sayeno Town, they treated his daughter like a breeding animal, and it was impossible to take her for prenatal checkups.

He could never forget the conjoined twins in his daughter's belly. If she had given birth naturally in that dungeon, she might have lost her life long ago.

"You go and handle the matters in Sheysea City. I'll take care of Lily. After you finish, come back. We'll have a good family meal together!" George spoke gently, without the sternness he had towards Audrey before.

Audrey bit her lip and replied, "Okay!" After hanging up the phone, Audrey wiped away her tears, took a deep breath, and started the car.

She thought of the little girl who had been with Audrey.

She couldn't help but mention Audrey during the dinner with Nathan.

At the dinner table, Carol looked anxious.

Seeing Nathan tightly pursing his lips and not speaking, Carol knew there was indeed something going on.

“That little girl, she’s really yours!” Carol stood up. “No! Our family’s child cannot be left outside.” The thought of that soft and adorable little girl standing in front of her, politely saying “hello, Grandma,” made Carol’s heart melt.

It turned out that such a lovely little girl was her own granddaughter.

Although she and Audrey didn’t end their last meeting gracefully, but... for her granddaughter, she was willing to apologize to Audrey.

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 140

Meeting The One For Me Chapter 140-Audrey was just one woman, taking care of Lily all by herself. Who knew how much suffering her granddaughter might face.

“I don’t have Audrey’s contact information,” Nathan said, standing up as well and looking at his mother. “Mom, whether this child is adopted by Audrey or is her biological child, for Audrey, this child is her only family in this world. I won’t steal her child away!” “Are you doing this for Amelia?” Carol grabbed Nathan’s arm. “Are you worried that Amelia won’t accept this child? Nathan, I never liked Amelia. It’s only because you insisted on her that I agreed to let you be together. If she can’t accept this child...” “It’s not about Amelia, Mom, can’t you stop making everything about Amelia!” Nathan was getting annoyed by his mother’s words. “Isn’t Amelia good to you?” “Good to me? Then marry her and give me a grandson soon! That’s real goodness!” Carol sat angrily on the chair. “You said you couldn’t live without her, so your father and I had no choice but to agree. So, when are you going to get married and have children? If you can’t get married and have children, what’s the point of your relationship?” In Carol’s heart, Amelia was not as good as Audrey back then.

Although Audrey didn’t have a great background, as long as Wanda was the heir to the Lambert Corporation, Wanda would help the Franklin family.

As for Amelia, apart from having no parents, the Murray family always caused trouble, and she had to ask Nathan to clean up after them.

“Mom, this is a decision made by Amelia and me together. Don’t always blame everything on Amelia! Nathan stood up. “I came to Mythravia this time to discuss cooperation with the person in charge from Evergreen Biotech’s Cascadia region. Let’s put other things aside for now. After the cooperation is settled, then I will be in the mood to deal with other things!” After speaking, Nathan walked out.

“Nathan!” Carol couldn’t stop her son. Feeling frustrated, she asked the maid to remove all the dishes. and went upstairs to her bedroom alone, feeling sulky.

Nathan stepped on the gas pedal and drove the car out. Feeling irritated, he stopped by the roadside, got out of the car, and lit a cigarette in front of the car.

Until the ground was littered with cigarette butts, Nathan dialed a phone number he hadn’t dialed in four years with hesitation.

“Sorry, the phone number you dialed is invalid, please verify...” Nathan then called Joseph’s phone.

On the other end of the phone, Joseph seemed to be eating, his voice muffled, “You didn’t call me just to ask for Audrey’s contact information, right?” Nathan was stunned. “Did my mom call you?” “I just hung up on her!” Joseph sighed. “I really don’t have Audrey’s contact information! Besides, you’re divorced, can’t you stop bothering her?”

Joseph was surprised. “Didn’t Audrey lose her child when she was in the hospital?”

find out!” After hanging up the phone, Nathan stubbed out the cigarette and got back into the car.
